A NORTH LAKE BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

With All Its Contents Consisting Of Farm Crops, Quantity Of Wool
And Other Articles—
Heavy Loss

The large barn on the farm of William Eisenbeiser of North Lake, was burned to the ground between one and two o'clock Friday afternoon. At the time of the outbreak of the blaze Mr. and Mrs. Eisenbeiser were in Ann Arbor at the county fair. Their son was at home and hearing a loud explosion he soon discovered the barn was in flames.

The young man used his telephone and called for assistance and the community pumper started for the farm as soon as it could be manned by the fire fighters in Chelsea. When the truck and men arrived at the farm the roof had been burned off and their services were used to save adjoining buildings.

Mr. Eisenbeiser informs The Standard that the building was a solid mass of flames almost as soon as the report of the explosion was heard by the members of the family who were in the house. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

The barn was 40x100, with 18 foot posts, and full basement. The silo adjoining the barn was burned also. The contents of the barn consisted of 400 bushels of last year's oat crop, the wheat and oat crops of this year, a quantity of hay, 3,000 pounds of wool, some farm tools, and the harnesses that were in the basement.

Mr. Eisenbeiser places the loss at $12,000. The barn was insured for $4,500 and the contents were well covered by insurance. There is another barn on the premises that was out of range of the flames.

Mr. Eisenbeiser expects to get out timber for a new barn from the woods on the premises the coming winter and will build next spring.

CHELSEA YOUNG PEOPLE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Three young people, residents of Chelsea, were injured in a collision between two cars on the Plymouth road about four miles north of Ann Arbor Sunday evening. The occupants of the Chelsea auto were George Atkinson, 16, and Miss Ruth Graub, 15. They were returning home from Plymouth where she had taken a young lady home after she had spent several days with Chelsea friends. Miss Graub was quite badly injured about her face, head and legs. Mr. Atkinson was thrown violently against the steering wheel and his chest was badly bruised. Mr. Weinberg was considerably bruised up. All three were taken to the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment. The young man returned home Monday and Miss Graub was taken to the home of her cousin in Ann Arbor, where she will remain for several days.

The car that did the damage to the Atkinson auto was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pitner of Chicago. The Atkinson car had been stopped full stop on the paved way when they were struck by the Pitner machine, which was zigzagging on the highway. Both cars were badly damaged and it is estimated that the repair bill on the Atkinson car will be about $500.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitner are colored people and they were also taken to the U. of M. hospital for treatment.

KIWANIS CONVENTION TO START SEPTEMBER 12

Kiwanis delegates of all clubs in the Michigan district will meet in annual convention at Benton Harbor, September 12 and 13.

A feature of the convention will be a special exhibit made up of displays of Kiwanis activities of this district and of all Kiwanis International.

District officers will be elected and policies for 1929 outlined. It is expected that a large delegation will represent the Chelsea Kiwanis club at the convention. Extensive plans are being made for the entertainment of delegates and visitors and the days will be crowded full.

ANOTHER BAND CONCERT NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Chelsea business men do not believe in "short weights" in band concerts any more than they do in merchandise and there will be another band concert next Wednesday night. When the series of band concerts for the summer were proposed, it was agreed there should be ten and money was raised to pay for them. Fortunately out of the ten nights we have had but one rainy period when the band could not appear and to make up for that one and to "give good measure, pressed down and running over" it has been decided to have the band give another concert.

Tell your neighbors and invite your friends. Leoan Graham of Detroit spent the week-end and Labor Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham.

ST. MARY SCHOOL OPENED TO-DAY

St. Mary school will open Thursday morning at nine o'clock. Exceptionally good courses in music are being offered this year, and the regular curriculum will include singing, theory of music and orchestration.

The equipment in the science laboratory has been enlarged to accommodate pupils registering in the scientific department. Arrangements have been made with the latest librarian to procure a "Travelling Library" for the current school year. In this way supplementary readers will be provided for the primary and grammar grades, and together with the books that have been purchased by the school, will, in an inferior way, replace the library which was destroyed by fire a few years ago.

Thus, every advantage has been supplied to make the current school year pleasant and educationally successful.

FIRE AT SYLVAN ESTATES

The community fire truck was called out about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by fire in the large barn on the Sylvan Estates. The blaze was put out by the use of fire extinguishers that were in the club-house and in the barn. B. B. Turnbull and Dorn Rogers who were out on the links playing golf, responded to the alarm and assisted the employees of the club in the work. The firemen were met by an attendant from the club grounds at the Walsh farm on the Waterloo road and informed that the fire had been subdued. The fire ladders turned around and the pumper was in the garage in less than a half hour after the alarm had been received.

CHELSEA'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS STARTED OFF ON TUESDAY

Every Department Crowded To Overflowing—Overflow Room Provided For High School Students

The Chelsea public schools opened Tuesday morning with an enrollment in excess of last year, the total number of pupils attending being 437. Every department is crowded to its utmost and in the High school there were more pupils presented themselves than there were seats with the result that an overflow room has been provided for about 20 students. Every teacher was on hand and teachers and pupils all seemed to be glad to be back to school. With a corps of competent teachers and with a school building filled with happy boys and girls, the year ought to be one of the most successful in the history of our school.

Parents and guardians should cooperate in every way possible.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED LAST THURSDAY

The marriage of Miss Alice Schanz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schanz, of Chelsea, and George Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Atkinson of Gregory, took place August 30th, at St. Mary church, Rev. Fr. Henry VanDyke officiating. The altars were beautifully decorated with garden flowers and the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Marie Hoffman. Miss Schanz was attired in a dress of old rose crepe with hat to match, while her bridesmaid, Miss Aileen Madden, was gowned in blue crepe with a tan colored hat. Both wore corsages of mixed flowers. The groom was attended by Kenneth Schanz, brother of the bride. A wedding breakfast was served to the relatives immediately after the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents, at West Middle street. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's school and the groom is a student of the Ypsilanti, Mich. and Mrs. Atkinson will make their home in Chelsea.

IMPROVED SERVICE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

W. J. Murphy, superintendent of the D. J. & C. electric line informed Mr. L. Burkhardt on Wednesday for the safety and convenience of the pupils who attend the Chelsea schools, residing along the line, that if enough requests for the service were made the company would put on a special morning local car between Ann Arbor and Chelsea, that would arrive here at 8:15. The car would turn off the loop at the M. E. school's entrance to Ann Arbor which would be an east bound local. The car after school hours east bound would be about five o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McWatters and sons, of Detroit, were guests over the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Spear. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McDewitt and children of Charlotte, North Carolina, who spent last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schenk, left Monday for the Soo where they will visit her brother, Clayton Schenk and family. Mrs. J. W. Schenk accompanied them and will remain for a week's visit.

THE BAND ENTERTAINED AND WAS ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

The Chelsea band, consisting of twenty members, gave a concert at the Jewish Center, Lehman Lake, Sunday afternoon. The members of the band were accompanied by their wives. At the close of the concert, a four-course dinner was served.

The members of the band are to be commended for this fine spirit of service. Their program was greatly enjoyed by the merry group at the Center and those in charge of the camp are very grateful for this kindly demonstration of neighborliness.

The camp will soon be closed for the season and our friends from the city will bear with them the best wishes of the people of this section and they will always remember the many courtesies shown them by Chelsea people. Next year the camp will be enlarged for the accommodation of more people.

MORE BASEBALL

The All Stars, having overwhelmingly defeated the Methodists by a 9 to 1 score last Tuesday evening, will endeavor to further their claim to greatness by taking on a team from St. Mary's school in a regulation game Sunday—regulation ball, regulation number of innings and regulation rules.

LOCK UP REPEATING CRIMINALS

Recently three robbers attempted to hold up a branch of an important bank in a northern California city. During the robbery one of them shot and killed a teller who did not obey orders with sufficient alacrity to satisfy the thug.

Fortunately the three were captured when the car in which they were escaping crashed into a truck. And the fact appeared that all of them were old offenders with continuous records for felonies in Pacific Coast cities.

The record of the killer embraced an eight year sentence for robbery, an escape from prison and identification for a previous bank holdup. He was also wanted for robbery in Los Angeles.

The second member of the trio had to his credit conviction for assault with a deadly weapon, an arrest as a bank robbery suspect, and an escape from authorities while being taken to answer for the charge.

The third thug, not to be outdone, had demonstrated his ability by an arrest for attempted burglary, a sentence on another burglary charge, an arrest for robbery and another arrest.

Laws similar to the Baumes-Laws in New York state would mean life imprisonment for confirmed criminals of this type, upon fourth conviction for a felony. They could not be turned loose, time after time, on a helpless public.

Anti-pistol legislation, which would prohibit the law-abiding citizen from owning a gun on the theory that such measures would tend to prevent crime, would in no way deter this type of lawbreakers from dealing death and destruction while perpetrating their unlawful acts. Let us tighten up the laws affecting criminals rather than those affecting the home owner or lover of sports.

AGRICULTURE AND THE TARIFF

The recurrent statement that the farmer suffers from the protective tariff is disproven by the facts. It is held by free trade and low tariff advocates that farmers must buy in a protected market and sell in a ruinous unprotected market. An examination of the tariff laws shows the reverse of this to be true.

Practically everything necessary to agriculture is sold in a free market. The list of articles is illuminating. It includes plows, harrows, reapers, threshing machines, cultivators, cotton gins, wagons and other machinery.

Animals imported for breeding purposes come under this duty-free provision as do binding twine, all material for fertilizer, building materials, etc.

The second supposition is equally unsound. Farm products protected by customs duties include almonds, grapes, bacon, beef, oranges, tobacco, wool, prunes, hay, flax, wheat, cattle, butter and a long list of equally important produce.

It may be that the duties in some cases are too low and need revision upward. Certainly, a cure for low duties that afford insufficient protection from foreign, low wage scale countries, is not to drop all duties, and all protection.

The tariff, instead of impoverishing the farmer, has done much to insure his prosperity, by helping him get the necessities of his business at low prices and sell them at good prices.

OUR LEISURE HOURS

America must look forward to definite instruction in amusement and leisure as well as instruction in how to be practical if it is to become a truly efficient nation, declares the Woman's Home Companion this month.

"Looking back on summer vacations we see our pitiful inability to use our leisure wisely," says the article. "Comic papers, as usual, ahead of the philosophers, long ago saw the follies and futilities of vacationists. The bathing suit beauty who lolls in the sand instead of going into the water, the idiot who wears himself out playing cowboy on a dude ranch, the man who stays in town while the family is away, spending his evenings in poker and dissipation—every one is characteristic."

And it is not just a summer phenomenon. All the year around in millions of homes, leisure is being abused and wasted. Reading cheap literature, to kill time, over-exercising one day a week, and taking no exercise whatever on other days, talking by the hour on petty topics which could be settled in a minute by turning to a reference book, all are forms of abusing leisure.

"Few of us have ever learned the secret of the valuable activity known as loafing, just sitting quietly in reverie, which often brings subconsciously a stimulant to subsequent work."

"The machine age is forcing more leisure upon us and it will be an appalling weight unless we know how to employ it."

Try Chelsea first.

WHY DO TOURISTS LITTER THE ROAD SIDES?

Picnickers along the highway and tourists who eat their lunch along the way all too often show their bringing up or else forget the first principles of common decency and leave the place where they dined littered up with discarded papers, lunch boxes, refuse from their lunches and other trash that makes the place not only unsightly but wholly unfit for others that may come along and might want to enjoy the friendly shade of a good picnic spot. The result of such carelessness can be noted along any highway, and oftentimes along by-roads as well and thereby the friendly shade of some stately tree is made useless because of the disregard of some people for the comfort and pleasure of others.

As we have motored through the country and observed how some tourists and city dwellers litter up the roadsides we have been constrained to suggest that the country dwellers return the "compliment" and in the fall when the rush of farm work is over they get up a party of three or four or a dozen cars and motor to the city—most any city will do—and when it is time to eat just pull up in front of some city home, take possession of the lawn outside the walk and proceed to enjoy a feast. After all had been served the papers and refuse from the meal should be left on the lawn while the merry crowd returns to their cars and drive off. And why not? Would it be any worse for country folk to litter the lawn of some city dweller than it is for the rural communities to be made a dumping place for tin cans, empty bottles, wrapping paper, egg shells and countless other left-overs after a picnic dinner?

Country people are glad to have the people from the city visit their communities; but they would be doubly glad if they would not litter up the roadsides with the refuse from their lunch baskets.

IT MAY CHANGE

TELEPHONES AS AIDS TO CIVILIZATION

In standards of service and in size, our telephone industry leads the rest of the world by a tremendous margin. There are 18,400,000 telephones in the United States, 60 per cent of all the instruments in the world. In comparison South America has but 1.5 per cent of the world's total and Asia but 3.3 per cent. Europe, which follows us, has the comparatively low mark of 27.6 per cent. In 1925 there were but 22,400,000 calls in the United States alone. The second country, Germany, had but 2,088,499, 000 in the same period of time.

It is not illogical to suppose that this telephone supremacy of ours is in a large measure, responsible for our world leadership in many lines. Our modern social state, business and industry would be impossible without adequate telephone facilities. The telephone industry has made an important contribution to civilization and prosperity.

The Corn is Turning Ripe!

Golden ears of corn, sweet, juicy, wholesome, that's what hungry folks enjoy around this season of the year. And here's a new way to enjoy fresh corn—in one of those easy one-dish dinners:

Meat-Corn Casserole

- 1 cup cooked corn cut from cob
- 1 pound chopped beef
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 cup stock (or canned beef broth)
- 1 large whole tomato
- Salt and paprika
- Bread crumbs

Brown onion in butter, add the flour and brown it. Add beef stock, rub and stir till smooth and add seasoning. Pack corn and meat in layers in buttered baking dish with crumbs between each layer. Pour the sauce over all. Dot the top with crumbs and place the whole tomato, cored and peeled, in the center. Bake covered for 1-2 hour and uncovered for 20 minutes.

WHAT IT COSTS TO GOVERN US

By PROF. M. H. HUNTER
Dept. of Economics, Univ. of Illinois

The Sales Tax

THE sales tax was first seriously considered after the World-war. Many individuals thought it desirable to reduce incomes and profits from the high tax rates to which they were subject. One possible substitute which was widely advocated was a general sales tax, that is, a tax of 1 per cent upon every sale, to be paid by the one making the sale. It was claimed that this would produce an adequate revenue, and would be great, and consequently would offer but little incentive for evasion.

The proposal succeeded in evoking considerable discussion, but was not adopted. After a full of some years, the discussion is being revived and so many are again urging the adoption of the general sales tax that its weaknesses deserve mention.

A tax upon every sale would fall with very different weight upon industries of different forms of output. In one industry, all the processes of production, from securing the raw material to selling the finished product may be under one ownership and management, and with a sales tax would involve but one levy.

In an industry made up of various stages, each under a different owner, involving a sale from one to the next, many taxes would be levied and the total tax burden would consequently be much greater. This unfair distribution might tend to an inefficient reorganization of many industries and to the abolishment of economically desirable middlemen.

A general sales tax would undoubtedly fall much more severely upon some types of business than upon others. The tax is upon turnover or gross sales rather than upon net receipts and in different businesses the relation between gross sales and net receipts is very different. Suppose one man in a retail grocery store makes a retail grocery. In order to make a fair return on the investment the grocer will have to sell many times the volume of goods that the jeweler will have to sell, since his margin of profit is much smaller. The tax, however, would be upon volume of sales, an unfair discrimination against the grocer.

It has been assumed that the tax will in the end rest upon the final purchaser, in which case it is a tax on expenditure. A man with a wife and four children spends $5,000 a year in rent, food, clothing and education—necessities. A bachelor spends $5,000 a year upon cabarets, theaters and fancy clothes, yet the tax upon each will be the same. It is difficult to square such a condition with one's sense of justice.

Aids Giants in Big Flag Race

EVERY year produces at least one outstanding pitching sensation in the major leagues and it keeps going at his present pace, Larry Benton of the New York Giants should annex the honors for the present year of 1928.

Benton has turned in a surprisingly remarkable record so far this season and is undoubtedly the main reason why the Giants are so near to the top in the National league pennant chase. Secured by John McGraw from Boston in a trade for Kent Greenfield last year, Larry has become the mainstay of the New York staff and the "Gotham" faithful are hailing him as the equal of Matthews, Plunk, McGinnity, Brown, Walsh, Alexander, Johnson and others of that rank.

Larry Benton.

Whether he's really that good is hard to say, but a glance at the young man's records during the present campaign speaks wonders for him.

One reason for Benton's success is the way he takes care of himself. He is always in bed by 10:30 p. m. and his other habits are just as regular. When asked why he enforced his rigid training rules, he replied: "That's no effort. I like to live regularly."

Benton explains that his reason for chasing flies the day after he pitches is to loosen up his leg muscles which always become stiffened after a hard ball game.

"Legs," he says, "are as important in pitching as arms. The chasing of flies relieves the stiffness. Then my arms having rested I pitched to the batters the next day so as to gradually bring the muscles around again. I don't know that my system is the proper one, but it has worked out all right for me."

President Barnard in Favor of Later Opening

President Barnard of the American League has expressed himself as agreeable to next year's opening in the fall, being set for April 16, as the National league managers desire. Indeed, he says that date was tentatively agreed upon by the American league club owners some time ago. That means, presumably, that it is all set, and that the big leagues will start in 1929 on April 16. Naturally, the minors will arrange their programs to correspond. And we can venture that the first two weeks of April will be held for baseball fever weather men is inclined to best that way.

Girl Is Best Shot

Miss Alice Ethel Johnston, 22, of Duluth, Minn., is town's best shot at the traps and recently added to her laurels, the championship of 14 Central states. Miss Ethel in Chicago completed against the best women shots in 14 states. She broke 181 targets out of a possible 200, which gave her the title.

Nation's Public Schools Must Set Moral as Well as Educational Standards

By DR. MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH, Ex-Governor of Pennsylvania.

The hope of tomorrow lies in the public schools. What's needed is not that the schools should teach arithmetic—but teach being honest. Not that the schools should teach to parse—but to behave.

The American people went into a jazz spree after the war. We bought things whether or not we had money to pay for them. We became the most extravagant people the world has ever known.

But when men become extravagant and wasteful their morals decay. When Sweden gave physical examination to its young men of military age last May, only 8 per cent were rejected. In the United States, at the beginning of the World war, 27 per cent were rejected—and with a much lower physical requirement. The explanation is that for a generation the Swedish youth has been given careful physical instruction in the schools.

Any child who buys an education at the cost of health pays a price too high either for the individual or the state. We haven't yet seriously approached that problem.

What are we doing to solve our Americanism problem? All immigrants who don't learn English in five years should be sent back.

Our churches are losing membership—not on their rolls, but in their pews. The home has failed to take up its share of the moral problem. It's not a boy-and-girl problem we face, but a mother-and-father problem. And now in the schools you've got to set the moral as well as the educational standards. America is suffering for need of great spiritual leadership.

Future of British Nation Periled by Unwise Course of Government

By DEAN INGE, London, England.

The "bungalow system" of modern life is responsible for small families and threatens the nation's future. The government is taking the cream of the working classes and educating them at the expense of the taxpayers, so that eventually they will be able to take the bread out of the mouths of professional men's sons.

That is not the way to fulfill one's duty toward the next generation. Those classes which are the best are not reproducing their kind. The better class of artisan is also diminishing in numbers.

Mr. Chamberlain, minister for health, stated that during the nine years' existence of this arm of the government remarkable progress has been made.

The general death rate of this country has fallen from 14 per 1,000 to 12.3 per thousand, and infant mortality has dropped from 89 per thousand to 70 per 1,000 in 1927.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Ann Arbor—The public schools of this city will open on Monday, September 10, for the school year 1928-29.

Dexter—The annual Labor Day picnic, under the auspices of St. Joseph's parish, was held Monday in Richard Smith, Woodlawn, Park. A chicken dinner was served at 11 a. m. Addresses were delivered by Senator R. S. Copeland of New York, State Banking Commissioner R. E. Reichert, Fr. John Conlway and Carl A. Lehman of Ann Arbor. A basketball game was played at 4 o'clock between Dexter and Milan teams.

Brighton—The chalet which was held here recently was good so far as the programs that were given by the talent. Financially it was a failure. Evidently the public has lost interest in this form of entertainment.

Stockbridge—A great improvement has been made in the appearance of the public square during the past week. The unsightly railing on the south and east sides has been removed and the street sides plowed and neatly harrowed. A difference in opinion on what is the best way to leave the south and east sides has caused delay in the plan to use posts and cable in place of the old railing. —Brief-Sun.

Fowlerville—Mrs. Ruby Snell who drowned her six year old son the first of June because she loved him, was pronounced insane by the council of reputable physicians and was committed by Probate Judge Lyons to the psychopathic hospital at Ann Arbor where she remained until August 19 when she was pronounced cured and returned to her home. The citizens were not quite satisfied with the proceedings and entered a protest and she was taken to Howell and bound over to circuit court which convenes in September, without bail. —Review.

Manchester—Workmen are making good progress in razing buildings on Railroad street that were built in the early years of the village and were used for workshops then and since for various purposes. One of them was constructed over 60 years ago on Exchange place where Charles Seckinger's store now stands. It was first used for a clothing store and afterwards by the late Wm. Kirchgessner for a saloon and bakery and was removed by him before building the brick block in connection with Conrad Lahn. The buildings are being razed in order to use the site for a large garage for Frank Tihb. —Enterprise.

Jackson—Deputy Sheriff Esple, still confined to the hospital as the result of the knifing affray at Vandercook Lake last Saturday night, was unable to appear against W. A. Bledsoe, the alleged wielder of the knife, when the latter appeared for trial Friday morning. Consequently Bledsoe, who is being held under $10,000 bail, was returned to the jail to await trial which was set over until September 7. —Tribune.

South Lyon—Miss Grace Challis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Challis, of Ypsilanti, leaves in January to do missionary work in India. She will teach in a girls' school in Baroda. —Herald.

Manchester—The Washtenaw county road commissioners are advertising for bids for the improvement of one mile of highway on the county line road running south from the Watkins farm.

Tecumseh—The Bidwell stock farm, which had been in possession of the Bidwell family for many years until about a year ago when R. J. Bidwell of San Francisco sold the property to E. B. T. Schumacher of Detroit, has again changed ownership. Joseph R. Leeman of Detroit, taking possession Monday. The deal, Mr. Schumacher informs us, involves $100,000, although the transaction is really an exchange. Mr. Schumacher becoming owner of a large Detroit apartment house. —Herald.

Pineckney—The work of pouring the concrete for the main street paving after considerable delay, started last Thursday. The pavement is progressing at the rate of about 250 feet per day but it is expected that more will be laid after the work gets under headway. The work started at the east village limits and by Tuesday had reached the residence of Wirt Hender. A twenty-foot strip will be laid down the middle of the street first and the outside strips laid later. —Dispatch.

Mason—Premium lists for the Ing-ham county fair to be held at Mason on September 20, 21, and 22 will be in the mails early next week according to V. J. Brown, secretary of the agricultural society. Plans are rapidly maturing and judging from the demand for exhibition space the coming event will prove itself one of the best agricultural shows ever staged in the county. —News.

Saline—Supplying rooms for tourists along U. S. 112 is becoming a thriving business, no less than six signs bidding for the trade being displayed between Saline and Ypsilanti. —Observer.

Ann Arbor Rotary Club Helps Child Of French Soldier Killed In Battle

The $87.50 donated each year by the Ann Arbor Rotary club for the maintenance of a French child whose father was killed in the war, accomplishes much more than might be reasonably expected, according to Dean John R. Effinger, who returned the first of this week from a year's stay in Europe.

While in the southern part of France, near the Spanish border, Dean Effinger took it upon himself to look up the child. He reported that the family, which consists of mother, grandmother, and child, lived in none-to-clean quarters, but that the condition was explained when it was understood that the earning power of the mother when working eight or nine hours a day, seven days in the week, amounted in a whole year to only slightly more than the stipend sent by the club. Her average daily wage is around nine francs, or at the present rate of exchange, 36 cents, he said.

The child was not there at the time of the visit, having been threatened with tuberculosis and sent to another location temporarily. The change apparently was beneficial, according to the mother.

Dean Effinger emphasized the fact that while $87.50 was not considered much of a sum in the yearly budget of the average Ann Arbor family it constitutes almost half the income of the French families he visited. In fact, he asserted that the native thereabouts termed the members of the far-away Ann Arbor club "American Barons" because of the wealth which they felt Rotarians here must possess in order to donate $87.50 each year to the cause. —Ann Arbor Daily News.

MAKING A NATIONAL AIRPLANE TOUR

Perhaps no more unique and appropriate method of introducing a new periodical has been devised than that now being utilized by Macfadden Publications, Inc., in connection with their new magazine "Flying Stories," the first issue of which will appear on October 23rd.

Being a magazine of fiction, romance and adventure with a background of aeronautics in its various phases it is entirely fitting that word of its coming should reach the distributors in the big selling centers by plane. Accordingly, one of the subjects discussed upon each landing by J. E. Williamson, sales promotion manager for the Macfadden organization who is now touring the country in the company's big Lockheed monoplane, is the coming of the flying magazine, a publication which there is a large public demand. A sort of combined "Message to Garcia" and Paul-Revere's ride, the individuality of this manner of announcement makes a notable impression wherever the Macfadden sales representative drops down out of the sky.

None Are So Blind

By MARIE MARSH

(Copyright.)

NOAH JENKINS assuredly was not blind to the charms of the young women who attended classes with him at Winton college, but the distraction had not been sufficiently disturbing to impair the seriousness of his work during the first three years of his college course. Then came psychology 4, when for the first time he and little Mary Jefferson were listed in the same class. As far as he was concerned, she was the one perfectly distracting and fascinating of all the 500-odd coeds enrolled there.

Mary had proved more and more disturbing and distracting as the term had progressed, and Noah found himself taking notes mechanically without any idea in his head of what Doctor Gregory was explaining.

Then one day Doctor Gregory posted on the bulletin board outside the classroom, a list of students with whom he would like to confer. On such lists were usually written the students whose midterm tests had shown that their prospects of getting through the final examinations were not the most promising. On this list were the names of Noah Jenkins and Mary Jefferson.

Noah passed a group of four or five girls of his acquaintance as he made his way at the appointed time to the office of Doctor Gregory.

"Poor Noah," laughed the senior in the group. "He's got to confer with old Greg. And Noah has pulled such good marks right through his course. Wouldn't it be a crime if Gregory stuck him? But then anyone might know that he couldn't shine in psychology."

"I don't see why," protested Mary Jefferson.

"He's a nice boy," soothed one of Mary's class mates.

"Yes," echoed the senior, "but such ties!"

"And socks," added a junior. "The only time he looks decent is at one of the formal dances," amplified the senior, "for then he has to wear black."

"Just lacks taste," said the junior with finality.

Mary Jefferson had listened to this vivisection of Noah's character with concentrated embarrassment.

The fact was that Mary had become disturbed and distressed over the manifest lack of taste on the part of Noah. He had tried to propose to her one afternoon two months before. She might have accepted had he worn subdued colors, but he had worn raspberry socks, with a green shirt, and round his neck was tied a cravat of purple and yellow. Mary's esthetic nature had pulled her off from the shoals of sentimentality and she had refused.

Meanwhile Noah Jenkins had gone to see Doctor Gregory—odd, good-natured, wise old Doctor Gregory.

Millard Harvey and family spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harvey.

THE HADLEY FAMILY REUNION

The eleventh Hadley reunion was held Saturday, August 25, at North Lake. The day was ideal. Commencing at ten o'clock and continuing until the noon hour, guests assembled from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Webster, Boulder, Col., Oakland, Calif., Detroit, Jackson, Stockbridge, Gregory, Danville, Flint, Tecumseh and Dearborn.

A bountiful dinner was served. Eighty-one sat at the table, after which they adjourned to the grove where short exercises were held.

Here of others took place at that time. Some recitation and short talks were given. At the close the youngest one of the family, little Curtis Wolff of Flint, repeated the 23rd Psalm. All adjourned to the dining hall where ice cream and cake were served. Then all returned to their homes to meet again next year at the same time and place.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO GET SAFETY PROGRAM

Safety work in 780 public schools in lower Michigan will begin as soon as schools open, under the direction of the Detroit Automobile club, according to H. O. Rounds, of the club's safety and traffic division.

Pledge cards for the school safety clubs with membership buttons will be signed by the children who promise not to play in the street, to stop and look both ways when crossing a street, to face traffic when walking on a highway, to refuse rides offered by strangers and to obey instructions of the school patrol when on duty.

Safety work in the schools is well organized and consists in exercises designed to educate children to involuntary caution, and since this work was begun there has been an appreciable decrease in the number of accidents affecting children in the public schools, according to statistics.

Shelby—Oceana county's 1928 crop of cherries will be one of the largest ever harvested.

Corn Brings More Money "on the Hoof"

THE best authorities agree that "hogging down" corn is a profitable practice. Run out temporary fences through your corn and turn in your hogs. They are the best of harvesters—never miss an ear. You save the cost of husking, hauling, cribbing and feeding and get your hogs to market quicker and in better condition.

And for these temporary fences, as well as for permanent fences, use RED TOP steel posts. These can be driven at the rate of 200 to 300 a day, through the hardest soil, by one man using the One Man Driver. Are easily withdrawn and re-driven in a new location.

Red Top Steel Fence Posts

You will save a lot of fence making and repairing time every year if you repair old fences and make new ones with RED TOP Steel Posts. Any fence erected on RED TOP is there sound and secure for many years of service and enables you to practice the modern program of crop diversification and clear more money from your farm.

Stop in and handle a RED TOP post. Let us show you why it is a better steel post.

Long Distance Rates Are Surprisingly Low For Instance:

for $1.25

or less, between 4:30 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.,

You can call the following points and talk for THREE MINUTES for the rates shown. Rates to other points are proportionately low.

From Chelsea To	Day Station-to-Station Rate
Columbus, Ohio	$1.15
Findlay, Ohio	.65
Cleveland, Ohio	.60
Alpena, Mich.	1.15
Connersville, Ind.	1.15
Hamilton, Ohio	1.20
Lafayette, Ind.	1.00
Ludington, Mich.	1.05
Michigan City, Ind.	1.00

The rates quoted are Station-to-Station Day rates, effective 4:30 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

Evening Station-to-Station rates are effective 7:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., and Night Station-to-Station rates, 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

A Station-to-Station call is one made to a certain telephone rather than to some person in particular.

If you do not know the number of the distant telephone, give the operator the name and address and specify that you will talk with "anyone" who answers at the called telephone.

A Person-to-Person call, because more work is involved, costs more than a Station-to-Station call. The rate on a Person-to-Person call is the same at all hours.

Methodist Home

The hanging gardens of Babylon may have surpassed ours in variety but thanks to Mrs. McAdam and Mrs. Andrews, ours on the upper decks, are surprisingly beautiful.

The latest addition to the Home family was in the arrival on Friday, of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, of the Detroit conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Liscomb, their little daughter, Roberta, and Mrs. Sherrin, all of Detroit, with their mother, Mrs. Rippincott of Romeo, called on the Home contingent on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen received a supply of orange blossom honey last week, which they generously divided with the Home family. It was sent them by a nephew, who has a large apiary that yields many tons of sweetness every year. During one part of the season the bees are kept in the orange ranch and for another, moved to the sage ranch, thus collecting the different brands of honey.

Mrs. Iona Gorton is suffering from a relapse of the poisoning, from the severe attack of last fall.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Irene Wilcox returned from a two weeks visit with a sister at Grass Lake.

Mrs. Jennie Walker and daughters,

Mrs. Johnstone and Miss Walker of Chicago, Chicago's largest suburb, visited their cousin, Mrs. Brabb, on a return drive from Boston last week. Miss Walker has been a teacher in Chicago schools for several years and is doing post-graduate work at Harvard during vacations.

Mrs. Jimmie Graham of Detroit, visited Mrs. MacGregor and other Home friends on Thursday.

Mrs. William Gustin of Detroit, spent some time with her friend, Mrs. Louise Miles, on Thursday.

Mrs. Julia Price of Lawton, and Mrs. Clements of Kalamazoo, were guests of Mrs. Ella Snowden on Friday, the visitors bringing a beautiful supply of gladiolas for their hostess.

Superintendent W. J. Balmer is spending a week at Sault Ste. Marie, in company with his brother ministers, in attendance of the annual Detroit conference.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Burch of Trenton, were called to the Home by the severe illness of Mrs. Buotch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Leo Chapman of Canton, Ohio, were surprise guests of their aunt, Mrs. Brabb, on Sunday.

Mrs. Fayram's callers were her niece, Mrs. Ethel Needlewoor, and two daughters from Farmington.

Mrs. Lois Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Parker and daughter, Fowlerville, with Miss Celia Quantrell of East Lansing, came with filled baskets to feast their kinswoman, Mrs. Elvira Green, on Sunday.

On Friday, Mrs. Martha Wheeler's granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Allerman, with husband and children, Harold, Lucille, Mary and Frank, jr., were her welcome visitors, coming from St. Clair.

Since coming to the Home, more than a year ago, Mrs. Frances Pool has been doing active work for the Home department of the local Sunday school. Starting with twelve members she now has twenty-seven, throughout the village and from their small dues, has turned into the treasury more than $15.00 during the present year. She has made more than 250 calls in homes not otherwise connected with the church and the literature distributed is religiously educational.

Mr. and Mrs. Crance and Mrs. J. Rose of Brainerd, Minnesota, called, on Sunday. Mrs. Crance was a nurse in the Home about three years ago, her name at that time being Miss Coshaw.

Prof. Charles Stocking of Ann Arbor, called on his mother, Mrs. Mary Stocking, recently.

A new feature here for religious educational work is the organization of a Foreign Missionary Society, to be officered and attended in the Home, but the auxiliary will be under the jurisdiction of the local church. A preliminary meeting was called on Friday, with Mrs. Brabb as temporary chairman and Miss Brown as secretary. Arrangements were fully discussed and permanent officers elected. These are: President, Mrs. W. J. Balmer; vice presidents, Miss Alice Brown and Mrs. Carrie Gowling; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Minnie Hyde Wilson; recording secretary, Mrs. S. E. MacGregor; treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Reed. Committees will be appointed and regular monthly meetings begin with the conference year, on the second Tuesday in October. No outside work will be undertaken during the coming year as this is something of a venture and instituted in the interest of many who are unable to leave the Home, but anxious to do something along missionary lines. Ladies gave their names as charter members and more will be added. Any ladies outside the Home who care to join, will be most cordially welcomed, only the regular dues being required for the entire year.

Mr. Hubbard's Labor Day Callers were a granddaughter, Mrs. Wallace Hart, with her husband and children.

Mrs. Atwood McAndrew and daughter, Miss Lorinda, of Ypsilanti, called on their mother, Mrs. L. C. Brabb, on Saturday.

Prof. Stocking came again on Labor Day, accompanied by his two sons and they took Mrs. Stocking, Mrs. Soules and Mrs. Wheeler for a long and enjoyable auto ride.

Mrs. Dorothy Colegrove and daughter, Janet, returned to the Home on Saturday, and will remain until the opening of the Normal College in Ypsilanti, where Mrs. Colegrove will be a sorority hostess for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hedrick and daughter, Miss Edna, of Hallway, were Sunday callers on Miss Esther Fish. Miss Fish was also a dinner guest with Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Giles and family, of Plymouth, at Bruin Lake, on Sunday.

The adjourned August meeting of the Home Missionary Society, of Chelsea, met in the parlors of the Home on Tuesday, with the largest gathering of the year. Mrs. F. J. Walker was chairman and leader and this being the program devoted to temperance, a speaker from the state W. C. T. U. had been expected but following the devotionals, Miss Alice Brown of the Home, gave a 15-minute paper on answering most convincingly in the negative, the important question: "Is Prohibition a Failure?" This was followed by an equally interesting paper by Mrs. Frances Pool, with the published statements of many state presidents of the W. C. T. U. in the south, which makes it seem uncertain that democracy will reap a solid south because more than ever before, the women of the country are to be reckoned with. Refreshments were served by the Home family to the 60 people in the parlors and the meeting closed with community singing of national airs.

Mrs. C. Kaynor of Adrian, was a caller on Miss Esther Fish on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Reed returned in time to vote, on Tuesday, after spending three weeks in Detroit and Saginaw.

Last band concert of the season next Wednesday night.

GREEN AND ROBISON LEAD IN THE COUNTY

A Light Vote Was Polled Throughout Washtenaw County At Tuesday's Election

Gov. Fred W. Green's victory over George W. Welsh in Ann Arbor and the rest of the county for the gubernatorial nomination, although impressive, was not accomplished with as large a majority as that which the Ionia man had over Alex J. Groesbeck two years ago, an analysis of Tuesday's vote shows.

James W. Robison, who won the feature contest on the county ticket by defeating five opponents to gain the republican nomination as sheriff, had a larger majority over his nearest competitor than did Dick Elliott when he ran against George V. Cook, Saline, two years ago. Elliott beat Cook in that sheriff's race by less than 100 votes.

Gov. Green beat Welsh in Ann Arbor by about 4 to 1, polling 2,013 votes against his opponent's 556. In the gubernatorial race two years ago the vote in Ann Arbor was: Green, 2,025; Groesbeck, 1,338; Ypsilanti again went heavily for the incumbent, giving him 980 votes while Welsh was getting 148. Green beat Groesbeck in this city two years ago by a vote of 1,889 to 541.

The vote in the townships two years ago was heavier than this fall, Green getting 3,358 votes in the rural precincts while Groesbeck polled 953. The total vote on Green and Groesbeck two years ago was: Green, 7,282; Groesbeck, 2,832. This fall Green carried the rural districts by a vote of 1,553 to 586 to give him the grand total of 4,506 against Welsh's 1,289.

Robison was not able to garner the votes that Elliott did two years ago in the latter's home city, Ypsilanti, when he beat Cook there 1,841 to 570. Robison's majority in that city over Gillespie in Tuesday's primary was not much more than 100 votes, the former sheriff getting 330 to Gillespie's 215.

In Ann Arbor, Robison made a greater impression than did Elliott two years ago when he carried this city against Cook by a vote of 1,521 to 1,480. Robison beat Gillespie here Tuesday 856 to 687. Elliott was beaten badly in the townships two years ago when Cook polled 1,899 votes to his 1,529 and in the primary Tuesday both Robison and Gillespie lost the rural precincts to Lee Davidson of Manchester. Davidson got 536 votes, Robison 360 and Gillespie 376. Luron D. Dickinson, seeking nomination for another term as lieutenant governor, won practically all sections of the county against his two opponents, Fred L. Woodworth and George E. McArthur. Dickinson carried Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and lost two rural precincts to McArthur who finished third. The total vote on this office was: Dickinson, 2,271; Woodworth, 1,423; and McArthur, 1,316.—Ann Arbor Daily News.

NORTH LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoffer and daughter, Irene, spent Sunday and Monday in Ohio.

School opened Tuesday in the North Lake district with Arthur Benoit of Howell, as teacher.

Miss Mildred McDaniels returned to Detroit Monday, to resume her work as assistant grade room principal at Eastern High school.

Miss Lucy Webb visited Miss Mildred Cooper at Lexington over the week-end.

Alvin Rheinhardt has returned to his home in Detroit.

Among the pupils from this vicinity who are attending high schools near by are: Miss Dora Hopkins, third year pupil at Howell; Jack Gilbert Eleanor Gilbert, Doris and Warren Eisenbeiser, second year pupils at Chelsea; Constance Delsenroth and Bernice Hall, first year pupils at Dexter.

Rev. W. I. Frances will preach his farewell sermon Sunday, Sept. 9, at 11:45.

William Noble and Miss Orpha Noble are visiting relatives in Detroit.

A barn, 40x100 feet, on the farm of William Eisenbeiser burned Friday afternoon. The fire, which was probably due to spontaneous combustion, was so well under way when discovered that the efforts of the Chelsea fire department and a large number of volunteers were of no avail. The contents destroyed were 70 tons of hay, 1,500 bushels of oats, 3,000 pounds of wool. The live stock and tools were saved. The barn was built about 40 years ago by William Stevenson and was one of the strongest structures of its kind in the community.

VACATIONS ARE OVER --- LET'S ALL GO TO WORK

Labor Day usually closes the vacation season. The school bells ring on Tuesday morning and parents who have enjoyed a vacation of a few weeks at some lake or in motoring through the country feel that they must be at home in time for school, because every good citizen desires that their children start school on time.

The summer has been a delightful one and the vacation has been one of great enjoyment. New places have been visited, new friends have been made or we have enjoyed going back to the old home town and renewing acquaintances with the friends of former years. But no matter how much we may have enjoyed our vacation there is always pleasure in getting back home. In fact, the enjoyment of our vacation is enhanced by the joy we feel when we return to the quiet and familiar scenes of our own home and fireside.

Many Chelsea families have enjoyed delightful vacation trips this season and it has been Chelsea's privilege to entertain more summer visitors than usual during the summer. A great many people have come to this section to enjoy our lakes and to spend a few weeks out in the open, and they have made Chelsea their shopping center, a fact our merchants have appreciated. So, taking it all in, it has been a delightful summer for Chelsea people.

Now we must get back to work—back on the job at school, in the shop, the home and the store, because all play and no work is not good for us. The village stores are showing new fall merchandise and the cool nights and morning suggest the early approach of fall. With the proper effort and co-operation, all working together in harmony, the fall business ought to be good both for the farmer and the village merchant. The interests of town and country are closely allied and they will go up or down together. Let's resolve to make Chelsea and the surrounding country take a forward step this fall.

Men With Ideas and Positive Character Needed to Lead the World to Peace

By RAMSAY MACDONALD, Ex-British Prime Minister.

Secretary of State Kellogg's proposal that the nations sign a treaty outlawing war does not include everything. The gesture Mr. Kellogg wants us to take is not a final thing. We have been too giggling—too panicky. We have written too many Oxford university essays on disarmament—those nice essay school boys write in order to get degrees. No foreign office or foreign minister writes essays like that.

A man who is going to lead the world in peace is not going to be a man who sits in his chair—who writes essays and proves by verbal formula where dangers and difficulties lie. The virtue of gestures is that you should not shilly-shally about it.

MANAGER KANE'S

CAREER VARIED

Pilot Was Jockey, Singer and Saxophone Player.

Eddie Kane, who handles the business affairs of the very good little ## lightweight champion, Sammy Mandell, has been, at various times in his ## career, a jockey, a singer and hooper, a ## fancy billiard crack and a saxophone player of great skill.

When he was in England several years ago he was given entire to another racket but he it said in justice to him, he didn't accept.

Kane was enjoying a sociable evening in the Surrey hotel bar with a party of friends and they were joined by another group which included a rather stunning woman.

The lady took a liking to Kane and proceeded to engage him in heavy conversation, which was not to his liking.

He kept one ear on the conversation of the others and yessed her.

She asked him if he knew a number of persons in Chicago and New York and after he had told her that he knew each one of them well she told him quietly:

"You come with us tonight. We know a good spot you're in. The first glance I took at you I spotted you as a dip."

Kane tells a story about the first time he took Sammy Mandell out on the road. They went to a swell hotel and Sammy tried out a new fancy shower, but when he finished he couldn't find any towels on the rack so he picked up the bath mat which was folded on the side of the tub. He gave himself a brisk rub and then shouted out to Kane:

"Gee, these towels are stiff. They're great for a rubdown but I can't get it in my ears."

FORCED, TRAPPED BY COMMA, TO BE FREED

Tiny Mark Proves Will to Be a Fraud.

Albany, N. Y.—Sent to Sing Sing two years ago, George Starin Cowles, gray-haired Yankee architect, who forgot to tip the tail of a comma from the letterhead on which he forged a will naming himself the largest beneficiary of the estate of his uncle, is soon to receive a conditional pardon.

State Court Justice Tompkins of Sing Sing sentenced Cowles to serve eight to sixteen years, recommended that the sentence be commuted. District Attorney Arthur Rowland of Westchester and Special District Attorney Sidney A. Syme of Mount Vernon, who prosecuted Cowles, have concurred in the recommendation.

"I am glad that the ends of justice have been served in the Cowles case," Justice Tompkins explained.

Plotted for Years.—For years, according to the plea for clemency made by Cowles' lawyer, who was client was sentenced, the Yankee architect plotted to steal the fortune of his uncle, Edwin A. Oliver, part owner of the Yonkers Statesman and—water of a humorous column—the birth of the idea, the attorney said—came when Cowles discovered that his grandfather, John W. Oliver, instead of leaving him $250,000, named Edwin A. Oliver, his son, as chief beneficiary.

At that time Cowles was engaged to marry Nellie Drummond, daughter of a Yonkers business man. The wedding was postponed while Cowles brooded over devices to gain the money he felt was rightfully his. Then the younger Oliver died and Cowles discovered that only a small part of the fortune had been left to him.

Studied Long at Library.—He studied days and nights at the New York public library and finally succeeded in procuring a will which, he said, was Oliver's last testament. The genuine will also was filed.

In preparing the fraudulent will, Cowles cut off the name of the printer of the legal sheet, but inadvertently left the tail of a comma. Further investigation showed that the blank on which the fake will was drawn had been printed in October, 1924, while the will was dated a month earlier. Cowles' accomplice, Miss Drummond, at whose home he had been living for years, and William Weeks, Oliver's attorney, confessed they had witnessed the fraudulent will and Cowles pleaded guilty of forgery. Weeks and Miss Drummond were freed.

After he had been in prison several months, the real Oliver's will was produced and revealed bequests of only $25,000, instead of the $250,000 Cowles had expected would be his. To Cowles, who left $3,807, but he never received a cent because of his legal expenses in contesting the real will.

Huge Helium Discovery Makes Gas Plentiful

Doyle, Kan.—The discovery of new helium gas fields which have a high helium content, together with improvements in the method of extraction, has placed this gas on the open market for the first time.

Helium, used chiefly for floating balloons from the penny toys to American dirigibles like the Los Angeles, has until now been under government control. Besides the field at Fort Worth, Texas, which has been supplying the government with 500,000 cubic feet of helium a month, a new one is now being opened at Amarillo, Texas. This new field will provide practically an unlimited supply, certainly enough for the needs of the War and Navy departments, according to officials of the bureau of mines.

This gas, besides floating balloons, lessens considerably the danger of explosion work by shortening the compression time and reducing the number of cases of "bends" and also makes it possible for deep-sea divers to work safely at much greater depths. Since it is available commercially it is being used in metallurgy and for filling radio tubes and glow lamps. Other uses are developing as the supply becomes generally available.

Just Italian Football; Reads Like Real War

Rome.—"In the name of Italy, in the name of august Rome, by command of the duke, strong in a faith which wavers not, conjoined as it is with a faith in the destiny of the new Italy, our magnificent lads fought a stern battle, won a hard, a long-fought and a glorious victory. The great heart of Rome kept them erect, a heart that beat with agony, but never with despair even in the darkest moments when a gloomy shadow of defeat hung over them."

This quotation from one of the 100-page papers is extracted from a description of a football match between Italy and Hungary, and it means that Italy beat Hungary by four goals to three after Hungary had led half time.

Another Metal Is Born of Factory Waste Heaps

London.—Out of waste heaps where worthless ore had been previously dumped a new metal, called beryllium, has been extracted. This new metal is about a third lighter than aluminum, much harder, and has about four times the elasticity. Salt water does not corrode it, nor will liquids or flames. Its light gray color takes a polish like steel.

MICHIGAN KIWANIS TO PLANT MANY TREES

The greatest co-operative re-forestation project ever attempted in this country will be officially inaugurated September 21 and 22 when Kiwanians from all over Michigan together with U. S. and state forestry experts will gather at McCullom's Banks in the Michigan National Forest. Michigan Kiwanis Clubs are planting 5,377 acres of trees in this section. The acreage utilized will be known as the Michigan Kiwanis Forest.

Some idea of the vastness of the project may be gained when it is stated that the project necessitates the furlowing of more than 5,000 miles, a distance greater than one-fifth of the earth's circumference. Twelve teams and 20 men, under the direction of R. G. Schreck, Michigan National Forest supervisor, have been occupied since June 1 in getting the acreage into shape for the planting.

The plan for the planting was originated by Harry B. Black, Flint, lieutenant governor of Michigan Kiwanis. He enlisted the co-operation of R. G. Schreck, Michigan National Forest, and U. S. Forestry Service officials.

Kiwanians from all over Michigan will make up a caravan which will gather at McCullom's Banks on September 21. For those who desire to camp out at night the forestry service has made arrangements for their accommodations. Others will be accommodated at hotels in East Tawas, Tawas City and Oscoda, and for the campers who desire to do so the East Tawas State park and the Tawas City Tourist park will be available.

The dedication exercises will cover a two-day period. A Forestry dinner will be served to those present at McCullom's Banks on the evening of the 21st by the East Michigan Tourist Association and the Northeastern Michigan Development bureau.

The Chelsea Kiwanis Club was the first one in the state to turn in its report on this project and every member of the local club contributed his full share, making a 100 per cent record. It is expected that a number of Chelsea men will attend this gathering.

Town's Odd Name

Anox is the curious name of a quaint town in the extreme northwest corner of Canada, in British Columbia, on Observatory Island, near the Portland Canal. It is the center of a great mining industry, including the largest copper mine in the British empire, in which are nine miles of underground workings.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men University of Illinois

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

We were all surprised a few years ago when Walter and Grace were married. They were quite children at the time; they had known each other only a few weeks, and their acquaintance had in no sense been intimate. Their marriage had been a matter of sudden impulse, and they had gone off without announcement or knowledge of their friends. They were headstrong, both of them, each determined to have what he wanted without regard to right or reason. They stayed on through college, as many young people do, after they were married, and graduated. No one seemed to concern himself as to whether they were getting on together or otherwise.

The newspaper, last night, announced that she was suing for divorce. Their brief romance was at an end. Cruelty was the ground she alleged. Neither one had ever realized the real meaning of marriage, and the only way they could see out of the muddle they had made of life was divorce, and divorce seldom solves marital difficulties.

There is a great deal being said these days in favor of making divorce easier, so that those who rush impetuously and thoughtlessly into the most sacred and binding relationship which exists between human beings may with less difficulty throw off the responsibilities and the obligations which they have assumed, the more readily to take on others.

Graham was telling me the other day that he had entered into a contract to sell a certain guaranteed product next summer. I am not at all impressed with Graham's qualifications as a salesman and I frankly said so to him.

"Well, you see," he explained to me, "I'm not of age, and I don't have to keep the contract if I don't like the work. It isn't difficult to get out of the thing."

I had not so looked upon a business obligation, but I presume I am a little old-fashioned, nor have I so thought of marriage. It has always seemed to me a binding contract, a contract entered into for life, and seldom legitimately broken excepting by death.

Those who go into marriage with the idea that if it is not pleasing they may not be bound are not likely to find happiness. (© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

IMPROVED AND ADDITIONAL INTERURBAN SERVICE

All D. J. & C. Trains Now Routed Through The New Detroit Sub-Way—Better Service

All trains operated over the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago electric railway are now routed in and out of Detroit through the new subway on Michigan avenue, thereby reducing the former running time which adds materially to the convenience and the comfort of the patrons of the line. The present management of the lines is making every effort to improve the service and to operate its cars for the convenience of the traveling public. In a recent statement issued by the company it is stated, "The Detroit, Jackson & Chicago railway is a home enterprise, paying heavy taxes to state, county, and municipality throughout its entire length, contributing as it does in a large measure toward the maintenance of schools, roads, county as well as village institutions, that make for good homes and citizenship. We have confidence in what we have to offer."

Upon that basis the management solicits the patronage of the public which it must receive if the lines continue to operate. To the residents and villages and cities along its lines this is a vital matter. Towns in other sections of the state where electric lines have been abandoned regret their loss greatly, but they did not realize their obligation to the operating company until it was too late.

This section of Michigan is greatly favored by having this line and it naturally follows if we expect to have the service maintained we must give the enterprise our support.

GENERAL ALLENBY TO ATTEND LEGION CONVENTION

Headed by Field Marshal Viscount Allenby of Great Britain, liberator of Jerusalem and the Holy Land from Turkish domination, a distinguished array of American and foreign leaders will be the American Legion's guests at its tenth annual convention at San Antonio October 8 to 12.

Nat. M. Washer, general convention chairman, has announced that definite acceptances have been received of the Legion's invitation, extended by National Commander Edward E. Spafford, from Lord Allenby, who will be accompanied by Lady Allenby, Major Georges Scapina, France's war-blinded member of the chamber of Deputies, General John J. Pershing, commander of the A. E. F. and honorary national commander of the Legion; Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the flying colonel; Judge Keresaw M. Landis, czar of baseball.

CHEVROLET MAKING GREAT SALES RECORD

Further entrenching itself in its position as the world's foremost automobile producer, the Chevrolet Motor Company last week reached a new milestone in its manufacturing history. With production and sales continuing at a record September clip, the millionth car of 1928 came off the assembly line at Flint last Tuesday afternoon.

Due to the high September production schedule necessary to meet an unusually heavy fall demand, no formal ceremonies marked the occasion although W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, R. H. Grant, vice president in charge of sales, C. F. Barth, vice president in charge of manufacturing and other Chevrolet officials were present.

The record making car was a coach, one of the most popular models in the line.

MICHIGAN CITIES ARE GETTING IN LINE

Three more Michigan cities have promised the department of conservation, stream pollution division, that they will soon take steps to remedy the condition that now exists. Bay City and Saginaw, two of the largest municipalities that empty their sewage into the Saginaw river, have indicated their intention of going forward with the solution of their problem.

Saginaw will submit their plans for a sewer system change and sewage disposal plant as soon as the city finds it possible to do so, while Bay City is to engage a consulting engineer to make a study of that city's requirements at once.

Saginaw expects to have sewer system and disposal plans in by September 15.

MT. HOPE SCHOOL REUNION

The third reunion of the Mt. Hope school was held August 25 at the school with a good attendance. A short program was given and the following officers elected: President, A. W. The next reunion will be held the last Saturday in August, 1929.

Imperfect Bricks

Usually bricks in a wall that get powdery and waste away have been underburned and are exceedingly soft and therefore susceptible to crumbling or wasting away due to disintegration. If the number of such bricks in a wall is small, they may be removed and replaced by others which have been burned hard enough to resist weathering conditions.

His silence spelled His Guilt, and yet...

HER face was deathly white. Her heart seemed to stop beating as she stared in horrified disbelief at the letter clutched in her trembling hand. A letter to Dave, her husband—from a strange woman—asking for money! Oh, it couldn't—couldn't be true!

And yet—who was this woman? Why had she written Dave this letter? Was there, after all, some romantic episode in her husband's life that he had kept hidden from her? Surely there had been some terrible mistake. Surely Dave could explain.

But that night, when she quietly handed him the letter, Dave sat with bowed head, in stony silence—his face a mask, to hide what?

Torn between love and suspicion, between hope and despair, between faith and disillusion—she searched her breaking heart in a piteous attempt to learn what she had done to deserve this crucifixion. All she had loved and lived for seemed to lay in crumbling ruins at her feet. God knew she loved Dave, no matter what he had done. And yet—

COUNTY TEACHERS TO MEET NEXT SATURDAY

All Rural Teachers Are Urged To Be Present For Conference With County Commissioner

Miss Cora Haas, county school commissioner, has issued a call for a meeting of the rural teachers to be held in Ann Arbor Saturday, the 8th, in order that all may know something of the plans for the coming year. "Your presence at this meeting is essential since the first unit of the county program, primary reading, will be presented at this time by Mr. Norton of Ginn & Co. Supplies for the year will also be distributed. "The health work will again correlate with the hygiene classes. Mrs. Wetzel, county school nurse, will be present to outline the objectives for the year and also to present the first unit. I would suggest that you delay the organization of your hygiene classes until after the Institute, for this reason."

DETROITER CAUGHT WITH BOOZE IN HIS CAR

Frank Moulis, 31, of Detroit, was lodged in the county jail late Saturday afternoon to await arraignment on a charge of transporting liquor following his arrest by State Trooper N. H. Modders, attached to the Paw Paw station of the department of public safety, after an automobile crash on U. S. 12 near Chelsea.

Moulis, according to the state trooper, was the driver of a car going west on U. S. 12 which collided head-on with an automobile driven by Cecil Donnelly, Battle Creek, when the Detroit attempted to pass a truck operated by Clyde Oberlin, Eaton Rapids.

Donnelly's car was wrecked and he and two Battle Creek girls, Vivian Repsher and Rachel Crane, occupants of his car, were injured, sustaining cuts and bruises. They were taken to a Chelsea hospital for treatment.

Two quarts of alleged wine and a case of beer were found in Moulis' car, officers said, and he was locked up on a liquor charge.—Daily News.

PRIMARY SCHOOL FUND $20,583,851, A RECORD

Michigan's primary school fund this year reached $20,583,851.98, the largest amount ever collected by the state. Of this amount $788,645.87 represents the balance of 1926 and $802,244.72 the balance of 1927, while regular collections this year reached $18,992,281.39.

The increase in the 1928 fund over that of previous years was caused by the heavy tax paid by large corporations; O. B. Fuller, auditor-general, said. Corporations paid a greater part of the state taxes last year than ever before.

For the first time in the history of the state, so-called poor school districts this year will get the benefit of a five per cent distribution of the specific tax awarded them by the 1925 legislature. Following the enactment of this measure, Wayne county protested the statute before the Supreme court. The court recently ruled in favor of the state.

EXHIBITED ANCIENT AUTO. AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Jack Blanchard, of Dexter had on exhibition in the auto-department at the county fair in Ann Arbor last week a Dureyva roadster that attracted considerable attention. The car was designed by Charles Dureyva of Saginaw, who claimed that it would give service the year around. It resembled a buggy, having high carriage wheels, hard rubber tires and was of the friction drive type. The car was purchased by the late Dr. H. F. Sigler of Pinckney, who was one of the first owners of an automobile in that section. Dr. Sigler, after many attempts to drive the car over the hills and bad roads in that part of the country, finally stored it in his barn where it remained until about a year ago when Mr. Blanchard bought it as a relic. The present owner says the machine still runs but that he has not taken any long trips with it yet. The former owner purchased the machine in 1910.

ROAD COMMISSION BUYS GRAVEL PIT

The county road commission has purchased a six-acre gravel-pit on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. William Otto, of Lyndon. The gravel will be used on the north territorial road that is now being constructed as a county maintained highway. The contractor who is grading the road, has the grading nearly completed from Lyndon Center to the Thomas-Murphy farm.

After Fifteen Years

By CHARLES TILTON

(Copyright)

"DID you order the window shades, Sally?" asked Miss Ruth Diller when she returned from a visit to Chicago.

"The very day you left, dear. While I waited for all the lower rooms. You said the others could be turned and used another year. I am expecting them any day now."

"I hope they will send a man to hang them," remarked Miss Ruth as she walked complacently through the fine old house where they lived together. There was a strange look on the elder Miss Diller's face. Occasionally she brushed her snowy hair back with a thin, nervous hand.

"Ruth!" suddenly cried Sally, pointing at her sister's left hand.

"What is the matter?" demanded Ruth with a conscious smile.

"Where—did you get this ring?" asked Sally in a muffled tone.

"Judge Bronson placed it there, my dear," said Ruth proudly.

"And you are going to marry him?"

"Certainly—in the spring. Of course you will live with us, Sally, dear."

"Perhaps," said Sally seriously, but she kissed her sister and wished her happiness with a fervor prompted by the deep love they bore for each other. As Ruth went upstairs to put away her things Sally sat in the parlor window and looked out at flower gardens, where they had worked together. Judge Bronson had been an old sweetheart of Ruth's, but a lover's quarrel had separated them and he had married another girl and lost her. Lately he had renewed his courtship of the elder Miss Diller.

The next morning Judge Bronson came with his big automobile and carried Ruth away for the day. Sally smilingly refused to go with them. "I am expecting the man from Latham's," she explained.

Sally was crying—a lonely little figure in a gray house truck, with a mist of brown hair lightly dusted with white. Then the doorbell rang sharply.

Sally opened the door to find that the man from Latham's had at last arrived. He was bringing a roll of window shades.

Sally went into the big living room, where the sun was shining, plants were blooming and goldfish and canaries lived happily in the pleasant environment.

"Here I am," said the pleasant voice of the man from Latham's, "all ready to begin work."

"You might start in the front room," said Sally, coming out into the big hall, where he waited. "Have you a stepladder?"

"Everything ready," said the man briskly, with a sharp side glance at Sally that made her uneasy.

She stood in the doorway and watched him narrow, and then with growing interest. He looked different from other workmen. His clothes were handsome and well-cut, like Judge Bronson's. He removed his coat and hung it over a chair, revealing a spotless white negligee shirt, with a handsome silk scarf, and as he lifted his hand to adjust the ladder she glimpsed a platinum watch on his wrist.

What manner of workman was this? He worked faster and more efficiently than anyone she had ever seen, and soon all the lower shades were hung and found to fit perfectly and to run up and down with remarkable smoothness.

"Don't you ever do anything except hang window shades?" she inquired, as they returned to the parlor so that he could get his coat and hat.

"I wish I had nothing else to do!" he laughed, and his laugh made her sit up, with a strained look on her tear-stained face.

"Have you ever been here before—for Latham's?" she asked.

"No—not for Latham's—for myself."

"Yourself? Who are you?" There was a sharp note in her voice almost of fear—yet there was a silvery thread of hope in it.

"I am Latham's. Bought out the big place several years ago. I am the big chief there—but lately we've had a strike among our workmen, and among some of our drivers. So I called for volunteers to break the strike, and I've led them. It's coming out all right—the men are coming back to work next week. When your order came in last week I made up my mind that no one but the highest salaried officer of the company should do the work! Here I am, Sally Diller."

"Oh!" she said again when she regained consciousness, and pushed away the wet towel with which he was dabbing her face. He bent over her with a worried look until Sally sat up straight on the sofa and stared at him.

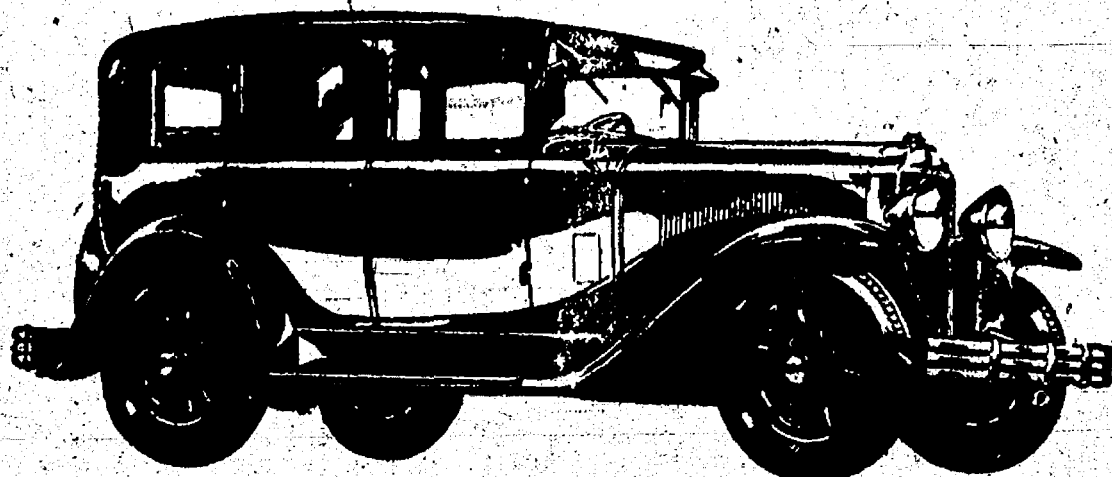

"It cannot be," she whispered, a strange smile tingling her lips.

"It is," he assured her. "You will believe me when I say I am Dick Wallace. I remind you that I sat on this very sofa and asked you to marry me—and it was in the very self-same place we quarreled and I obeyed you, and went away. I was a fool to do that!"

"I didn't really mean it," whispered Sally. "I didn't know you at first, you have changed so—but now I know it is you because I am so glad to have you near. Fifteen years is a long time."

"Too long to wait any longer," said the man from Latham's. "When will you marry me, Sally?"

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

hardware and fittings—the many appointments of luxury and convenience—are all of the richest quality; and the bracing of the bodies, which imparts strength and durability and freedom from squeaks and rattles, is the most efficient and effective known to motor car practice.

$1,300,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

In dashing beauty—as in fleet, powerful performance—the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.

It is more than handsome, more than luxurious—it marks a thrilling turning point in body design. And the motoring public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. The velvet upholstery in the closed models—the

ANN ARBOR'S NEW FURNITURE STORE OPENS TO-DAY

The Handicraft Furniture Company, 337 East Liberty street, Ann Arbor, will have a formal opening of its handsome new store to-day and the people of this section are invited to attend. The opening will continue until 9:00 p. m. tonight to afford all an opportunity to visit the store and to inspect the wonderful assortment of furniture and rugs on display.

The building has recently been enlarged and improved until it is now regarded as Ann Arbor's largest and foremost furniture store. Nothing has been spared in the remodeling of the building to make it attractive and convenient and a visit through the spacious rooms will afford you a great deal of pleasure. Saturday, following the opening, a fall sale will be inaugurated during which many attractive bargains will be offered.

A POPULAR APPOINTMENT

James M. (Bingo) Brown, dean of men at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, successor to Thomas W. Bigger, as chairman of the state boxing commission, is not expected to return from a vacation motor trip through the east until shortly before the opening of college, September 20. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, according to friends, left on the trip soon after the close of the summer session and planned to make an extended visit with relatives at Herkimer, N. Y.

is not expected that the duties of the new post will interfere with his activities to Normal college. Mr. Brown is a graduate of Colgate university with a bachelor of science degree and also has taken graduate work at Harvard university and University of Michigan. While at Colgate he was a star athlete.

His first position of importance was that of instructor in physical education at Herkimer, N. Y. Later he was appointed director of athletics of University of Detroit, and remained in that capacity for four years. He came to Ypsilanti in the fall of 1923 as director of athletics and head coach of football, later devoting more of his time to boxing, swimming and intramural instruction.

He continued to assist in the coaching of varsity teams under Elton J. Ryerson until Sept. 1927, when he was appointed to the office of dean of men, which position he now holds. Mr. Brown served in the 139th infantry during the World war and is commander of the Ypsilanti post of the American Legion. He is chairman of the local Boy Scout council and an honor president of the inter-fraternity council at the Normal college and a member of the Kiwanis club.

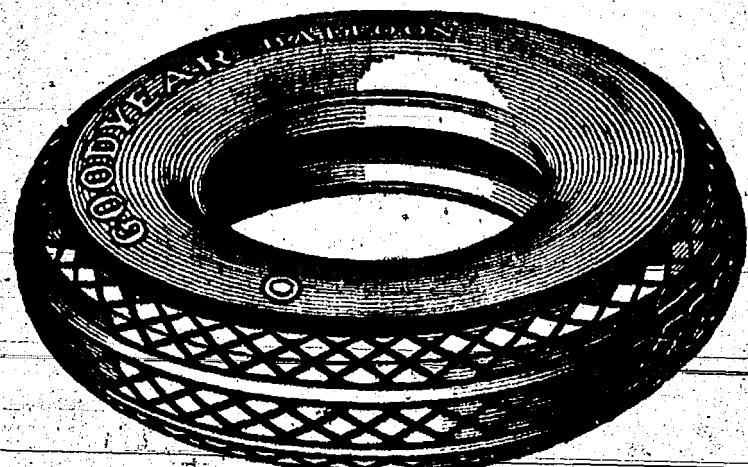

"Bingo" is affectionately noted on the Normal college campus as a natural leader of men. He is a forceful and decidedly popular speaker and takes a leading part among students in fostering many of the outstanding campus events.

Intelligence

Intelligence is an inherited characteristic which grows by year in childhood and is fully developed about sixteen or seventeen years of age. It may continue to grow through study and experience, but not by the measure of a brain cell can you increase your "intelligence." Many grown-ups and some of them successful as the world counts success. If tested scientifically would find that their "intelligence" was no more than that of their scholarly son of twelve.—Glasgow Herald

CHERRY TIME.

Let us marshal our cherry recipes while the cherries are with us, so that we may serve them in a variety of ways.

Fifteen Minute Cherry Pudding.—Take one cupful of flour, add one teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt and milk to make a drop batter. Butter custard cups and drop in a spoonful of the batter, then a good tablespoonful of canned cherries and the juice; cover with another spoonful of the batter, leaving room for the pudding to swell. Set in a pan of boiling water and cover. Cook fifteen minutes. Turn out and serve with cream and sugar. This will make four good sized puddings or six small ones.

Poor Man's Cherry Pudding.—Slightly thicken one pint of cherries with a tablespoonful of flour mixed with some of the juice, bring to boiling point and cover, with the following:

One cupful of flour, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar and one-half cupful of milk. Cover with this mixture and bake. Serve with cream.

Cherry Fritters.—Take one cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of milk, one beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of butter and one-half cupful of more or cherries. Mix the batter and fold in the cherries. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and cook until brown. Serve with a sauce made from the cherry juice.

Cherry Conserve.—Take two quarts of cherries, one pound of blanched almonds, eight cupfuls of sugar, just enough water to melt and make a syrup, three oranges peeled. Make a straw of the sugar and water, and add the fruit; cook until thick. Add the nuts just a few minutes before taking off the fire. Pour into glasses, and seal with paraffin when cold.
