CHELSEA DEFEATED HOWELL ON FRIDAY

Local Team Had A Walk Away And Won By A Score Of 19 To 0—Another Game Friday.

Friday afternoon saw the Chelsea High football team in action for the first game of the season. Chelsea has a veteran backfield with Capt. Fairner at quarter, Weber at full back and Steger and Staffan as halves. "Fritz" Steiner who has played end for three years is Chelsea's own Oosterbaan. McLaughlin on the left flank is new to the end position, but he got through like a veteran. Barbour and Irwin at tackles, Schiller and D. Holmes at guards and H. Holmes as center, formed an impenetrable defense.

The coaches, Spaulding and Dagwell, deserve credit for the splendid team they have turned out this year. However, this team has not been developed in one year, but is the product of Coach Spaulding's labors for the last three years plus the assistance of Coach Dagwell this year.

Howell was outclassed at all times in the game and only once did they appear dangerous.

Chelsea started a running and plunging attack with the first kick-off, and did not let up until the final whistle. On account of the high wind Chelsea did not use an aerial attack as was expected by many.

The ball was in Howell territory at all times except in the last quarter, when by a passing attack Howell worked the ball within five yards of the goal. At the last moment, however, the line stiffened and held. Chelsea regained the ball.

The team certainly looks good now and a successful season is in view. Next Friday the team plays Northville on the home field. We hope that our local supporters will turn out in as great or greater numbers.

The following is the assessment made by County Drain Commissioner, C. J. Deake: Sylvan, at large, $375.00; Mrs. Joseph L. Sibley, $375.00; George Crafts, $125.00; Michigan Central Railroad Company, $625.00.

COUNTY RED CROSS ASKS FOR FUNDS

The Porto Rico relief fund for Washtenaw county has been set at $700 by the national Red Cross headquarters, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Helen Goodrich Campbell, executive secretary of Washtenaw county chapter of the Red Cross. Of this amount, $30 has been subscribed.

With at least $5,000,000 needed for relief work in the stricken area, according to a dispatch from the national headquarters, all citizens are urged to contribute to the fund to aid in alleviating the condition of these people in Porto Rico.—Ann Arbor Daily News.

Mrs. A. L. Steger has been appointed branch chairman for Chelsea and she will gladly receive any contributions the people of this section desire to make.

The need is very great both in Porto Rico and in Florida and the American Red Cross is the only agency to which the people of the stricken areas may turn to for assistance. Chelsea has always responded generously to every call for help, so let us not fail in this great crisis which has befallen our neighbors to the south. Contributions may be left at either of the Chelsea banks.

A LIMA BOY SUSTAINED SERIOUS INJURY SATURDAY

Caught In A Moving Belt And Drawn On A Revolving Pulley—Badly Bruised.

Leonard Satterthwaite, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Satterthwaite, of Lima, met with a distressing accident Saturday evening.

The boy was assisting in filling the silo at the home of Emanuel Bristol, and the men, wishing to complete the work, continued until seven o'clock in the evening. When leaving the barn the boy was caught in the belt which had been thrown off the engine and he was carried to the pulley on the cutting machine.

His right leg was fractured in three places, he sustained a compound fracture just above the ankle and a single one between knee and hip. The cutting machine had to be moved before the boy could be removed from the position to which the belt had carried him. Chelsea physicians were called and first aid was given the lad. He was taken to the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor where he will probably be detained for the next two months.

For more than sixty-five years her home has been in Chelsea and she was a member of St. Paul's church. She was united in marriage with George Mast, in January, 1864. Mr. Mast died in March, 1916.

CHELSEA ALL-STARS DEFEATED DEXTER AGAIN

The Chelsea All-Stars journeyed over to Dexter last Sunday afternoon to meet the Dexter Independents in a game of ball, but the contest proved to be a "chewing match" as well as an exhibition of base ball. But in spite of the argument the All-Stars won to the score of 14 to 10.

KIWANIS WILL PLANT 5,000 ACRE TRACT

Michigan Kiwanis Clubs Dedicated Large Forestry Project Saturday—Chelsea Represented.

The largest reforestation project ever promoted by a civic group was dedicated last Friday and Saturday when active work of planting 5,577 acres of Norway Pine in the Huron National Forest near East Tawas was started. The first planting was along the road which skirts the AuSable river and the ceremonies were participated in by United States forest service officials, state forestry authorities, U. of M. and State college professors, beside representatives from every Kiwanis club in Michigan. The Chelsea club was represented by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Witherell, who were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCune.

Mr. G. Schreck, supervisor of the Huron National Forest, in speaking of the project said the task undertaken by the Kiwanis Clubs of the state is the largest ever undertaken by a civic body. Some idea of the size of the project may be gained when it is stated that the area to be planted encompassed approximately eight square miles. The planting necessitates the furloughing of 5,577 miles, a distance equivalent to one-fifth of the circumference of the earth. Twelve men and twenty teams have been ploughing furloughs since June 1. One hundred men will assist in the planting when the work begins, September 22 and fifty men will be kept busy on the project for a period of ten weeks.

All who were present when the planting was begun had the opportunity of planting a memorial tree in their own square and each tree will carry the name of the one who planted it on a metal tag until it is harvested in 80 or 100 years. These particular trees were planted along the old Thompson tote trail.

The East Michigan Tourist association which several years ago inaugurated an annual forestry excursion to cement interest in reforestation and to give those interested a chance to see the progress made, has abandoned its tour this year to co-operate with the Kiwanis clubs. One of the features of the gathering was a dinner at McCullum banks in the forest. The dinner was served in the light of huge campfires on Friday evening.

Those who attended the dedication and planting gathered at East Tawas after lunch on Friday where a caravan was formed for a trip to the forest nursery, Federal plantings in the forest, the Consumers Power Co.'s plantations, the Five Channels dam, the power plant and fish ladder, winding up at McCullum banks for dinner.

ESTEEMED WOMAN DIES AFTER WEEKS ILLNESS

Mrs. Joseph L. Sibley, aged 63, passed away Saturday afternoon, September 22, at her home on East street, after an illness of but one week. Mrs. Sibley, whose maiden name was Alma M. Baldwin, was a life long resident of Sylvan township where she was born, October 14, 1864, the daughter of Milo and Minta (Fenn) Baldwin. She was united in marriage, November 2, 1893, to Joseph L. Sibley and they resided on the farm in Sylvan township until 1894, when they moved to Chelsea. The widower and several cousins are the only surviving relatives. Funeral services were held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. A. E. Potts officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

AUTO JUMPED THE TRACK

A Falcon coach being driven west on U. S. 12 Sunday night about seven o'clock by Bennett Parker, colored, of Jackson was bumped into from the rear and Parker, losing control of his car found himself and his auto across the electric railway tracks and down the embankment at the pond on the "Watts" farm. The wrecker from Mohrlock's Garage pulled the car back into the highway Monday morning and fortunately it was not seriously damaged.

Parker said that the fellow who hit him did not stop to offer any assistance or apologies.

BOY KILLED ON TERRITORIAL ROAD TUESDAY

Robert Brand, a nine-year old boy whose home was in Detroit, and who had been spending the summer at the home of Mrs. James Armstrong, who resides north of Dexter, was killed Monday afternoon when he was struck by a passing auto driven by Ralph Wheeler and thrown to the ground with such force that his neck was broken. The boy was returning from a rural school near the Armstrong farm when he ran in front of the car. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brand of Detroit.

"WHISPERING" CAMPAIGNS

We are hearing a lot these days about "whispering campaigns" as though they were something entirely new, something heretofore unheard of, but in reality they are not new. We have had them since the days of the lowly Nazarene came to show men how to live, and we will probably always have them as long as men are men and women are women. We had them in the days of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, McKinley, Bryan, Wilson, and even Roosevelt was the victim of a "whispering" campaign.

Every local community has had its "whispering campaigns" when good men and women who aspire to positions of service in the community have been cruelly assailed, and about the best way to silence these "whisperers" is to ignore them entirely.
Governor Albert E. Smith, the democratic candidate for president, is not helping his cause any by trying to run down some of the reports that are being cruelly circulated concerning him. "The whisperers" caused a lot of literature to be circulated attacking Herbert Hoover, his opponent, before the Kansas City convention placed him in nomination as a candidate for the presidency, but he has been wise enough thus far to ignore them. And really that is the wisest course to pursue. Somehow lies can and do travel much faster than the truth.

YOUR INDIVIDUAL INTEREST

An important part of your business during the next few weeks should be politics. The election in November is of supreme importance to the agricultural and industrial interests of the country. Not only should you be interested in the presidency, but you should make a most determined effort to see that men are sent to congress who recognize that these two great industries are essential factors in the prosperity and advancement of the nation.
Every citizen has a personal interest in politics this fall because the next congress may enact legislation which will have a vital effect upon our business affairs. We are all interested in general business conditions, in crops, in expansion or contraction, in buying power, in financial developments, and we try to keep a close watch of every item that will influence this national balance sheet. We can only hope to accomplish the safety of American prosperity by watching close those we choose to represent us in the national halls of legislation.

FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER

Some of the readers will, doubtless, be disappointed not being able to read the particulars concerning the disappearance of a man and women from Chelsea during the past week, the former leaving his wife and three children and the latter leaving her husband and a little daughter about two years old, and who, according to all reports, had been in each others' company a good deal of late.
We did not leave the story out of the paper because we had any regard or concern about the feelings of the run-aways, but because the wife and children and husband and little girl still remain in Chelsea and will continue to remain here, the children to associate with other children of the village and the deceived and cruelly treated wife and husband will continue to be citizens of this community.
They deserve the sympathy of the community in their great sorrow—a sorrow more poignant and crushing than had death made its silent visit to these homes.

ISN'T IT FUNNY

Isn't it funny that a man who thinks he is a business man will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress, shave with an advertised razor, and advertised soap, and put on advertised underwear, advertised hose, shirt, collar, tie and shoes, seat himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, drink advertised coffee, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigar, and then go to his place of business and turn down advertising on the ground that it doesn't pay? Isn't it funny that if he goes to buy a cake of soap, or his wife tells him to bring home a can of baking powder there are but about two names of these articles he can think of, and he learned these only through reading advertisements? It is funny, and yet it is pathetic to think a man can do all these things and then be stubborn enough to argue that advertising doesn't pay.

The Michigan Central announces an excursion to Niagara Falls, N. Y., for Saturday, September 29th. The train will leave Chelsea at 10:30, eastern standard time, and will arrive at Niagara Falls Sunday morning at 7:30. Excursionists will have a whole day at the falls.

The Mysterious One

By DUFORD JENNE

"BETTY, you must go to the dance—just think—at the Green Lane Inn, with our employers paying the bill!" one of the girls in the room urged.

Betty's dark eyes were wistful, but she shook her head. "I'm short a man," she said mournfully. Her eyes brightened. "I might ask the Hermit—He's handsome even if odd."

The girls laughed, and one went on to say: "Why, do I, Betty! There's some dark mystery in his life, and perhaps you could find out what it is and tell us."

"Well, there is," another girl volunteered. "Mrs. McCarty said he has hardly stepped out of his room except in the evening, and then he comes back with about every newspaper published in the city. Go ahead, Betty, ask him. He's sweet on you."

"I happen to be late in getting to my meals and so is he; that's the reason why we meet so often—"

"But not the reason why you sit and chat so long," one of the girls objected. "Ask him, Betty. It's a girl's party, you know."

Deane Norton, certainly was something of a mystery, but he was an attractive one. Betty often longed as she chatted with him to tease him out of his solemn self. And she knew, on her part, what his glance at her meant—a glance half tender, half wistful.

According to his usual custom, the "Hermit" was about the last to appear at Mrs. McCarty's dining-room table; and Betty was waiting for him. His pleasant face brightened as he saw her. "Good evening, Little Brown Girl. I am glad you are as lazy as I am—and always late for dinner."

"So your trouble is laziness—like mine?" she questioned. He looked at her sharply, as if seeking some purpose she might have in asking such a question. She in turn was a bit startled at the sudden sternness in his face.

"There is something wrong about this man of mystery," Betty told herself. "And I must find out what it is."

"So she told him about the dance. His first interest was keen, she could see, then he seemed to remember something."

"I should like to go—I certainly should—but—" He hesitated. She prodded him. "You are a regular hermit, Mr. Norton. Do come out of your cell and be human—with me—for one evening."

"Be human for one evening," he muttered doubtfully. "I'd like to. Yes, I'll go."

She made her preparations for the dance happily. She liked to think of being with him—and the thought gave her independent soul a start. Was she falling in love with her man of mystery?

"This will never do, my dear, this will never do," she warned herself as she dressed. He was chatty and amusing and interesting on the way to the dance until they reached the main subway downtown; then he seemed to grow silent and uneasy. She was puzzled. When they reached the inn, however, he mellowed again; and soon she was having one of the happiest times of her life. The girls plainly admired him.

Then came the scene of disaster. He and she were busy chatting at one of the tables when Betty discovered that three men had grouped themselves about them. One flashed a silver badge, and said quietly to Norton: "Hello, we have you. Advise you to come quietly."

Norton started. His face wore a look of infinite disgust, and he said with deep despair: "Oh, d—!" Then he turned to her. "Betty, I'm due for the police station. Have one of the girls take you home."

Betty's heart was pounding. "What does this mean?"

"This friend of yours is Ellen, young lady, a murderer. We have been hunting him for a month," one of the detectives said.

"A murderer? I don't believe it. I'm going with you," Betty said. "We intend to take you," the officer said curtly. "You may know something."

Norton remonstrated, but quit they went through a staring crowd. An automobile whirled them rapidly to the police station, and Betty found herself beside Norton facing a cold-eyed officer at the desk. The moment the officer saw Norton he stared and said with some disgust:

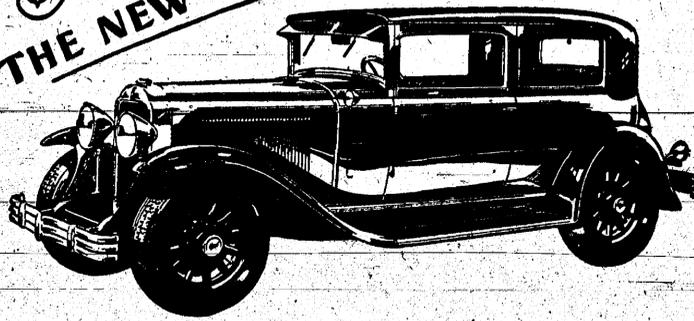

"You here again?" "Don't blame me. Because I happen to look something like that confounded Ellen your dumb city cops have arrested me four times. I hid up in a boarding house in hopes that they would nab this Ellen, and then I could come out and live like a human being. I was at a dance tonight, and these chaps spotted me."

The officer at the desk grinned. "Young man, I'll have the commissioner make out a letter for you, so if you are nabbed again you'll be safe. Now look—he turned to the detective: "I've had him in here before, and I don't want to see him again. Take them back—and see if you can't learn the difference between a thug and a gentleman."

Betty slipped her hand into Norton's, and she felt his strong hand press hers. Her man of mystery was not much of a mystery after all, but he was her man just the same.

Rosa Ponselle, prima donna and dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., who is to inaugurate the semi-centenary choral union concert series in Hill auditorium, Wednesday evening, October 10; has built a most interesting program for this occasion, consisting of arias and songs.

High School Student Council Important in the Formation of Citizenship

By R. R. CROMWELL, High School Principal, Peoria, Ill. The student council is a necessary agent of administration in a large modern high school. Self-preservation of our democracy demands that the high school stress citizenship above all other objectives, and prominent leaders and leading educators recommend that we try to develop civil responsibility.

Mere Instilling of Book Knowledge Not First Principle of Education

By AGNES BOYSEN, Minneapolis School Principal. Educators are not satisfied with the work of many of our graduates. Some of these boys and girls go out into the world and do not succeed. In fact, some are absolute failures. Emphasis must be placed on honesty rather than accuracy, the knowledge of how to serve rather than the acquiring of mere information, and the desire to serve rather than a certain number of 100 per cent averages.

Superintendents, principals, teachers and pupils must unite in this common interest and must sacrifice, if necessary, the old traditional standards of gaining much useless information. Academic subject-matter may be the means to the end, but never the end in itself.

GREAT ROUND-UP ON HISTORIC KING RANCH

14,000 Steers and 500 Cowboys Take Part.

Kingsville, Texas.—During the last two or three weeks the great King ranch of 1,200,000 acres has been the scene of one of the greatest cattle round-ups that has taken place in Texas for many years. It consisted of cutting out of the vast herds more than 14,000 head of two and three-year-old steers and driving them to the railroad loading pens for shipment to pastures in Oklahoma. There they will be fattened, and later in the season they will be sent to the St. Louis market.

The shipping of these cattle from stations on the railroad which borders the King ranch for more than sixty miles will require nearly two weeks of constant loading. The cattle will all go to stock pens and the shipments are being made by railroads. But for the fact that practically all of the cattle upon the great ranch which belongs to the estate of the late Mrs. Henrietta M. King are now of blooded stock and are comparatively tame, the round-up operations would equal in interest those of the old ranch days in this section. The cattle were scattered over a vast area of the ranch. More than 500 cowboys were employed in rounding them up. Then came the work of cutting out the two and three-year-olds. Day after day the expert cowboys, most of whom are Mexicans, rode through the masses of bellowing animals and dexterously singled out those that were intended for shipment. These were concentrated and finally brought together in one great bellowing herd.

Not Like Old Days. In the old days there would have been much more excitement and possibly some casualties in the round-up of the wild longhorns with which the ranch was stocked. In the far reaches of the domain were still to be found a few of these relics. Two old-time longhorns were gathered in the round-up of one of the more isolated parts of the ranch a few days ago. They were cut out and placed in a corral, where they will be held pending shipment to a zoo or museum.

Many spectators sat upon the fences of the loading pens and watched the milling cattle as they were driven into the loading chutes. Among these idlers were a number of veterans of the range. Some of these men had lived in this part of south Texas since the early ranching days when Capt. Richard King, who purchased the land that now comprises this vast estate, was a veritable feudal lord, not only of his own domain but of practically all that territory lying between Corpus Christi and the Rio Grande. He and Mrs. King were the first white settlers of the lower Gulf coast country. They went through a long period of hardships during which they were forced to make a constant fight against poverty and marauding bands of Indians and outlaws.

The present ranch home is magnificent in size and appointments. It was erected at a cost of $150,000. It contains many guest rooms and there is seldom a time when most of them are not occupied. The old King ranch house was burned more than fifteen years ago and with it Texas lost a landmark known from one end of the country to the other. Built like a fort, with cannons protecting the approach, it represented a period in Texas history that has passed but still is remembered by many now living.

It was in the '50s when Captain King built the fortress, which stood for many years defying Indians and cattle thieves and bands of Mexican outlaws. Because life was so uncertain in those times he mounted two cannons in front of the house, more for the moral effect than for use. Yet there came times when the cannons were the only representatives of law and order left in the country to help the captain and his wife maintain their home against organized bands of desperadoes.

Once Steamboat Captain. King was a steamboat captain before he came to Texas. For years he commanded a boat on the Mississippi river, and just before he acquired the nucleus of his famous ranch he was running his own boat on the Rio Grande. At old Fort Brown Captain King met Henrietta Chamberlain, the daughter of a Presbyterian minister who was chaplain of the fort. Captain King and the chaplain's daughter were married and went to make their home in the wilderness in 1852. He had bought a large tract of grazing land from the state at cents an acre. He stocked it with cattle from the surrounding ranches. It was not difficult to stock a ranch in those days, for cattle were so cheap that they were killed as a regular business for their hides and tallow.

Such were the events of the early days in Texas, when the King ranch was established. In spite of the unsettled condition of the times, however, or perhaps because of them, Captain King slowly began to add to his ranch.

All of the land was stocked with Texas longhorn cattle. There was no thoroughbred stock in the whole ranching country. Captain King died in 1885. At that time he was the largest cattle owner in Texas.

After the death of Captain King, Mrs. King made Robert J. Kleberg, her son-in-law, the manager of the property. He has remained in that position ever since.

COUNTY 4-H CLUBS WIN IN SHEEP EXHIBIT

And Carry Off Many Honors At The Michigan State Fair—Some Fine Specimens.

The Washtenaw county sheep club exhibit at the state fair in Detroit held its usual position in the front ranks, legal 4-H club exhibitors winning second on champion ewe and first on breeder's young flock, first on Delaine Record association special and five first places on individuals.

The Washtenaw Duroc Jersey and Poland China 4-H pig club herds again were considered the best of the state show, these exhibits winning practically all of the first and seconds in those classes and first on both herds.

In the sheep division, a yearling ram of Paul Reichert, a ewe two years old and less than three owned by John Haab, a yearling two of Waldemare Buss and a ewe lamb owned by John Haab, all took first prizes. Washtenaw also was awarded first place for having the best flock entered by county clubs, and won second on champion ewe. The Delaine Record association special awarded for eight Delaines shown by one county also went to Washtenaw and a fine wool wether lamb owned by John Haab took first in its class.

Other places in the sheep division were won by Washtenaw 4-H club members as follows: Aged ram owned by John Haab, ram exhibited by Waldemare Buss, third place; ewe two years old and less than three owned by Waldemare Buss, ewe lamb owned by John Haab, second; ram lamb exhibited by Gregory Seckinger, yearling ewe entered by John Haab, ewe lamb shown by Waldemare Buss, fifth place; ram lamb of Olney Outwater and a ewe two years old and less than three owned by Leonard Satterthwaite, sixth.

In the hog division, Duroc Jersey junior sow pigs owned by Dean Gordon, Harvey Eberle and Jack Arend of Washtenaw placed first, second, third and seventh, respectively. The Washtenaw Duroc Jersey herd placed first and in the open classes, Dean Gordon's sow pigs won first and second places.

Poland China junior bear pigs of Rex Gleason and Ernest Girbach won first and second places in this class, and junior sows of Rex Gleason and Ernest Girbach won first, second and fourth prizes. The Poland China herd of Washtenaw took first prize and in the open classes Ernest Girbach's sow pig placed sixth and his sow pig eighth.

Third and fourth places among the Berkshires were won by Warren Pinkbeiner with his two junior sow pigs. Wade Scudder's junior bear pig placed third among the Chester Whites and Chester White herd from this county held the same position. Daily News.

MOVING VAN RUNS 1,255 MILES IN 56 HOURS, 33 MINUTES

Speed has entered into the movement of household goods across the country. Even trucks are making record-breaking runs.

Making only one stop for gas and oil, a truckload of furniture consigned from Ann Arbor, Michigan, to Orlando, Florida, recently negotiated the 1,255 miles between the two cities in 56 hours and 33 minutes, the time being officially checked at both points. The average speed was slightly better than 22 miles an hour, and the gasoline consumption was 9.7 miles to the gallon.

The moving van, mounted on a two-ton Graham Brothers truck, was in charge of two men who alternated driving. The route was by way of Cincinnati, Knoxville, Atlanta and Gainesville, Florida.

The trip was made without a single mishap to the truck or contents, according to C. W. Williams of the Leslie Cartage Company, of Ann Arbor, one of the drivers. On reaching Orlando, another load of furniture was picked up for the return journey.

BOTH WHIPPET LINES POPULAR

When the Whippet Six was introduced by the Willys-Overland company in the early summer, equipped with seven-bearing crankshaft and other features found in the higher priced cars, there was an instant response from the buying public. This demand has resulted in a sales volume that exceeded the original estimates of company sales executives.

Since its introduction, however, the performance of the Whippet Six has been as important a factor as the notably low prices of the various models in increasing the demand for the car.

The Hart Motor Sales, local agents for the Whippet line, have an announcement in to-day's Standard that all should read.

HUDSON-ESSEX ARE IN DEMAND

Maintaining its position as one of the world's largest six cylinder cars, the Hudson Motor Car Co. is now at the threshold of a quarter million Hudson and Essex cars for the 1928 season. Officials say that the fall demand for cars is universally active, not only in the United States, but in Canada and the world markets where Hudson-Exsex has long occupied a strong position.

HOW ADVERTISING HELPED AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURERS

Advertising has been more consistently used by automobile dealers than by almost any other industry and the results obtained are made apparent in Farm and Fireside, which states statistics from 1914 to 1926.

"The country in 1914 manufactured 543,897 passenger automobiles," says the magazine, "while in 1926 the production was 3,986,938 cars."

"Expenditures for advertising to help sell the automobiles increased from more than two million to more than eleven million dollars. The advertising cost per car, however, declined from $4.29 to $2.90.

"The average wholesale price of the modern car was $18.00 less than that of the 1914 machine, and beyond this the new cars are vastly better in value."

Prices of other commodities says the article, show similar advantages to the public in the way of better values in nationally advertised, standardized products, especially in household appliances and foodstuffs.

OUR ENGLISH SPEECH

It is more and more a matter of amazement to me to hear how generally we misuse the English language. I am not at all a pedagogue, but that the illiterate do so; they have had little teaching, perhaps, and that not the best, and they hear daily and hourly far more incorrect speech than they do otherwise. We should expect them to blunder.

It is those who have had training who amaze and disappoint me—the high school graduate who has had twelve years of formal drill in English and who comes often from a home in which English is correctly spoken—or should be—and the college graduate who has had four additional years of drill in English and an association with those who should use correct speech even if they do not. These at least should be adept enough in the management of their native tongue to be constantly into egregious blunders.

I listened today to a man who has had an excellent home training, his father and mother both having graduated from college—and he, himself, has had seven years of collegiate and professional experience since he left the high school—enough certainly to teach him something. He connected his hearers to "play-off" certain practices; he "suspicioned" that other things were going to happen; he spoke of the foolishness of doing "those kind" of things, and spoke of some one who had been "pen-illed" for the committing of some indiscretion. He ended by saying that "everyone should do their best." Now all these errors are simple but quite apparent if one would give them even a slight consideration, and being recognized they might be avoided.

Why do we speak so badly? Because we have never come to a realization of the fact that correct speech is of any vital importance. When people tell me that they cannot spell or remember people's names, or get up in the morning, I know very well that they have never realized with any keenness the real importance and value of these things. If a man could realize that he was losing prestige and social standing and money through the crudeness of his speech, he would set himself assiduously to correcting it.

FOWLerville FAIR TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

All of the buildings on the fair grounds are wearing new fall coats of exposition white, the grounds have been put in front-lawn condition and everything is in ship shape for the 42nd annual fair to be held October 3rd to 6th.

Last year, for the first time, a Saturday fair was announced, this gave city residents and students an opportunity to attend and proved to be such a success that the same arrangement will be repeated this year, three active days being Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fowlerville always features a strong agricultural and stock show, but has gained a state wide reputation because of the brand of race programs and ball games put on each year. Much of the success of the two events are due to the late dates of the fair; the management admit. At this time the Major league season has closed and the big time players are available, all ways there are in the line-up players like Embree, Yeash, Manion, Whitcomb, Woodall, and last, but not least the local heroes, Gehring and Messinger.

Being the last fair in Michigan makes it the roundup of the best horses racing in Michigan circuits, and last year saw horses from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Canada racing here. The track record was broken at both the trotting and pacing gait in 1927. The race program this year will be especially interesting to all lovers of the fleet footers. There will be three events each day, beginning with Wednesday. There will also be a very interesting base ball tournament with strong teams in the contest each day.

EXPERTS TELL FARMER HOW TO BOOST PROFITS

After a summer's tour abroad, 27 noted agricultural experts are convinced that the American farmer, champion of mass production, can increase both his income and profits if he will adopt the art of intensive cultivation as they saw it practiced in Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Holland and the British Isles.

"Europe has a shortage of land and a surplus of labor; America has an abundance of land and a shortage of labor," the experts report through the Agricultural and Scientific Bureau. "Therefore, the European farmer has concentrated upon increasing his crop per man. They have made an art of intensive cultivation. We have made a business of mass production."

The experts offer eight suggestions for increasing the income and profits of the American farmer. They are: (1) adopt European methods of intensive cultivation, (2) strive for higher per-acre production, (3) restore soil fertility by crop rotation and use of fertilizers, (4) produce only crops for which a farm is best fitted according to soil, climate and markets, (5) restore unprofitable marginal lands to pasture or forest, (6) adopt methods advocated by experiment stations, (7) stimulate closer contact between educational, industrial and agricultural forces of the nation, (8) boost farmers' cooperatives.—Ashland (O.) UNCLE SAM NEEDS PILOTS FOR NAVY PLANES

According to a report from the Navy Recruiting station in Detroit, Michigan, Uncle Sam will require the services of more than 250 trained aviation pilots to assist him in the operation of his "ages of war" and battle planes for the coming year. The fine skill necessary for the operation of planes in fast war maneuvers, being catapulted from the decks of speeding ships and landing in restricted areas, has made the requirements for aviation pilot very rigid. In addition to the above, 3,000 radiomen will be required to handle messages for him, 1,500 cooks to prepare food for his men and 3,766 hospital corpsmen to care for his sick.

THE melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year— Housecleaning time is here again to rob the home of cheer. The furniture is yanked around, the rugs are taken up— Poor 'dad feels like a homeless or, at least, a chastened pup.

This noon and Saturday at that, the time dad calls his own— But mother says, "Go beat those rugs!" and dad lets out a groan! And as he turns and walks away, I hear him say, "God Darn!" For every dog will have his day, and every worm will turn!

As mother goes about her task with cloth and broom and mop, Poor father beats, and beats, and beats. He doesn't dare to stop. This time in Spring as well as Fall— expenditure of force— Till father's ire begins to rise in favor of divorce!

He packs his bag and gets his hat and, starting down the stairs, He hears the doorbell. "Who is that?" And mentally he swears. As mother's voice says, "Yes, come in!" he has to hesitate. And soon he learns the Hoover man has come to demonstrate!

And now here once a tragedy was eminently near— No trace of dust or argument are in the atmosphere; Where raven perched, now sits the dove, who nevertmore shall roam— While dad and mother sing its praise, The Hoover cleans the home!

Increase Your Wheat Yield By Preventing Smut

This is what the U. S. Department of Agriculture says about copper carbonate for treating wheat.

- 1—It does not injure germination.
- 2—Seed may be treated whenever convenient and stored without injury, while the wet methods do not permit this.
- 3—Dusted seed may be planted any time in dry or moist soil.
- 4—Very little expense or labor is required to treat seed for large acreages.
- 5—Copper carbonate protects stored grain from attacks by weevils, rats and mice.

DIRECTIONS—Two ounces of copper carbonate to each bushel of wheat. Mix well and sow when ready.

You can get this treatment for wheat smut at the Rexal Drug Store as we have a large supply on hand at 30 cents pound.

A few more pint and half gallon Kerr wide mouth jars at cost.

Whippet 4 Wins Gruelling Climb

Unusual Performance Against High Priced Cars in Mountain Test

In a recent mountain climbing contest staged to the summit of Tlaidaghton Mountain, the Whippet four was the only car to climb to the peak of the mountain with four passengers. Rules of the contest demanded that each car be locked in second gear and make the start from the valley thousands of feet below the top of the mountain. The cars were started at intervals of ten minutes and one by one they halted by the roadside, unable to negotiate the total distance with their loaded cars. But the Whippet, once it got under way, made the climb, and at the finish like its motor was running smoothly, showing no signs of strain and no indication of overheating.

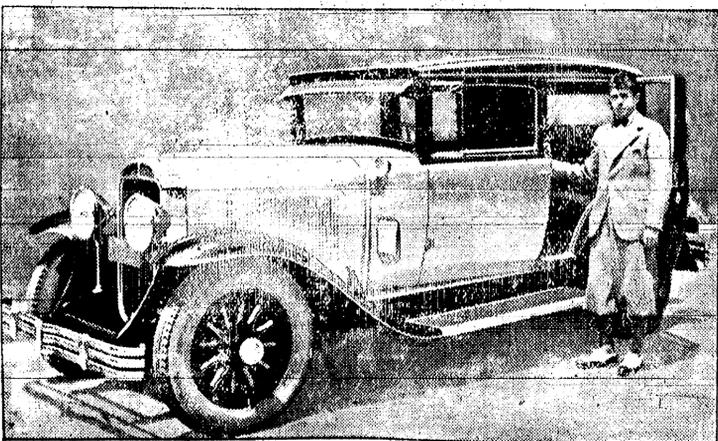

Despite the fact that several of the cars entered were six cylinder models of other makes, the Whippet four was the only car to climb to the peak of the mountain with four passengers. Rules of the contest demanded that each car be locked in second gear and make the start from the valley thousands of feet below the top of the mountain. The cars were started at intervals of ten minutes and one by one they halted by the roadside, unable to negotiate the total distance with their loaded cars. But the Whippet, once it got under way, made the climb, and at the finish like its motor was running smoothly, showing no signs of strain and no indication of overheating.

The Whippet Four, now selling at greatly reduced prices, provides an array of advanced mechanical features, perfected and proved by hundreds of millions of miles of owner use under widely varying conditions. Notable among these superiorities are full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain, big four-wheel brakes, unsurpassed economy, and remarkable speed and liveliness. Window reveals, full crown fenders, et-type visors and other refinements enhance the beauty and style of the perfect Whippet, making it a car you will always be proud to drive.
