THE "ROGERS" MEMORIAL HIGHWAY" IS THE NAME PROPOSED FOR NEW HIGHWAY PROJECT

Extending From The Ohio State Line To Lansing—Two Hundred Men Vote
To Extend This Compliment To Frank Rogers, Michigan's Efficient And Popular Highway Commissioner—Chelsea Keeps Her Promise And Entertains Her Guests Royally—The Bountiful Dinner Served
By High School Students Praised By Everyone Present.

When the Chelsea delegation attended the good roads meeting at Clinton the promoters of the project were promised a royal welcome, a good dinner, and the enthusiastic and united support of the people of this section should they decide to hold a similar meeting here. At the meeting at Manchester a week later the slogan was "On to Chelsea," and on Monday night Chelsea people demonstrated their ability and their desire to keep a pledge with their neighbors,
with the result that the largest meeting of the campaign thus far was held at the High school gym and in point of enthusiasm and "pep" the gathering has not been surpassed.

Delegations were present from Ogden, Palmyra, Hillbrow, Tecumseh, Clinton, Manchester, Bridgewater, Sharon, Stockbridge and it would be difficult to summon together a more enthusiastic or optimistic company of men than gathered about the handsomer arranged tables spread in the gym. Two hundred men partook of the bountiful dinner so faultlessly served by the young people of the High school and everyone present was generous in their praise of the "feed" and the manner in which our young people served the large company. The dinner was a credit to the local committee having the affair in charge, to the school and to the whole community,
and our guests will always remember their visit here with a great deal of pleasure.

President Edwin Braun presided at the meeting which followed the dinner and explained briefly its purpose and told of the goal toward which the organization was striving. He introduced J. H. Boyd and to whom "the call" was a surprise. Mr. Boyd told of the effort that was put forth to secure the assistance of the state with reference to M-92 and he assured the gathering that he was in sympathy with the movement and he administered his hearers to keep everlastingly at the job if they wished to succeed. He suggested that a delegation of 200 or more men visit Lansing to make their request for the new highway known and the suggestion met with hearty applause. Otto Luick, a member of the Washtenaw Road Commission, was called upon and he told of a conversation he had recently with Mr. Rogers regarding the proposed new road. He also expressed himself as being in favor of the project and promised his support to the movement.

The chairman called for the naming of Chelsea's members of the committee and L. P. Vogel announced the selection of Vance Ogden, George W.
Beckwith and John Young. Stockbridge's delegation, numbering upward of 50, also announced its committee members—W. G. Reeves, W.
J. Dancer and Casper Glenn. Howard
S. Holmes was called upon and Mr.
Holmes stated that he had not been present at the previous meetings and asked to have in detail so all might know more about the movement. His request was granted and Mr. Braun and Perry Hayden of Tecumseh explained the plan and what had been done thus far. The delegation from Ogden was asked to select a member for the general committee and Phly
Crocker was named for that section.
O. D. Parker of Ogden made some very interesting remarks in which he told how the people of his section were the pioneer hard surfaced road
builders of Lenawee county.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Niehaus and the pupils of the High school for their efforts in making the gathering a success. During the serving of the dinner a number of "peppy" songs were sung under the direction of Mr. Nie-haus with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano.
Just before adjournment a member of the Manchester delegation moved that it was the sense of the meeting that proposed the highway should be known and designated as "The Rogers Memorial Highway," in honor of Michigan's efficient and popular highway commissioner, who has given to the state and the cause of good roads the best years of his life. The motion was unanimously carried by a rising vote.

There will be a meeting at Palmyra
next Monday night, and on November 12th a final round-up meeting will be held at Tecumseh.

The meeting closed with singing the following song, especially arranged for the occasion by Mr. Niehaus:
I wake up in the morning with good roads on my mind
Hi Ho the Merrio, from Mason to the
line
Let us call it Rogers Memorial would be fine
Hi Ho the Merrio, from Mason to the
line
Just like the roosters we keep crowing
We've started something and let's keep it going Pull for Rogers highway, it's up to me and you
Hi Ho the Merrio, we're going to see it through.

The regular meeting of the Chelsea common council was held in their rooms in the town hall Monday evening.

The board of trustees entered into a contract with George W. Champe of Toledo for drawing plans for the sanitary sewer system. Mr. Champe will start at once drawing two plans for the proposed system; one of which will be for a pumping system, and the other for a flowage system. Both sets are to be submitted to the state authorities for their approval and the construction will be done under the plan that the state board recommends.

The council will construct the west side main trunk line sewer first, building the east side trunk line and the laterals lines later. Under the present proposition the surface water system that is in use now will not be disturbed nor neither connected with the sanitary lines to be constructed.

Mr. Champe is to start the surveys to the entire system at once, supervise the letting of the contracts, and inspection of the work as it progresses.
The council may start the construction of the west trunk line this fall.
However, this will depend upon the decision of the state board.

ought to have been hanged months

the two strong financial institutions of this village.

ADD ANOTHER VICTORY FOR CHELSEA HIGH

The Local Team Triumphed over Tecumseh Last Friday Afternoon
Before An Immense Crowd

The largest ever assembled in Chelsea to witness a foot ball game
gathered at Holmes' field last Friday afternoon when Tecumseh's fast High school team came to meet the Chelsea boys. The occasion was a gala day for Chelsea. The business places displayed their flags during the forenoon hours and many of the stores closed at 2:45 for the game. The Chelsea band was present to enliven the game with stirring music and the members of the band rendered a real community service in their presence. It was a fine compliment to our school and the members of the band are to be commended for their interest. Their presence and the inspiring music they rendered gave the affair a real university aspect and everybody in the crowd joined heartily in the spirit of the day. Tecumseh was accompanied with a number of lively "rooters" who were doomed to disappointment as they witnessed their team go down to defeat.

Chelsea received the first kick-off and at once began the march for a touchdown. By running the ends, hitting the line and parring for long gains Chelsea advanced the ball to Tecumseh's 15-yard line. From there Steger plunged through right tackle for the first touchdown. He attempted for extra point but failed.
On the next kick-off the Fahrner-Steiner combination, that has made the "dead man play" famous, succeeded beautifully. Steiner raced 60 yards for the second touchdown. The kick for point also went wide.

Toward the last of the first quarter
Tecumseh got one of the two breaks which were responsible for their two touchdowns. A pass was intercepted and the Tecumseh man ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

The quarter ended, Chelsea 12, Tecumseh 6.

In the second quarter Chelsea worked the ball down the field by a series of successful passes. With a first down and three yards to go for a third touchdown, three attempts were necessary and on the last down Fahrner slipped through left tackle for the touchdown.

Tecumseh, taking advantage of another break made their second and last touchdown. This was the result of a recovered fumble.
The score at the half was 18-13.

In the third quarter Chelsea scored six more points. Fahrner hit the center of the line like a cannon ball and kept on going for 35 yards, ending up between the goal posts. The score at the end of the third quarter was Chelsea 24, Tecumseh 13.

In the final period, Chelsea could not be stopped. The ball was advanced to the Tecumseh 20-yard line. Fahrner attempting a left-end run fumbled, recovered the ball on the 25-yard line and tore through the whole Tecumseh team for his third touchdown. The kick for the extra point was good.

Chelsea received the kick-off and the ball was carried back to the 50-yard line. Two passes, Fahrner to Weber and Fahrner to Steger, brought the ball up to the 30-yard line. On the next play Staffan taking the ball around left end made the last touchdown.

The final score, Chelsea 37, Tecumseh, 13.

Johnny Adrien and "Bull" Barbour showed the Tecumseh line some real foot ball. Adrien played the whole game against a 240 pounder and he more than held his own.

The two Irwin brothers at guard and H. Holmes at center spoiled most of Tecumseh's attempts through the line. Steiner and McLaughlin on the ends both played a fine game on the defense as well as on the offensive.

The entire line held like a stone wall.
Weber, Steger, Staffan and Fahrner behind the line were responsible for the failure of Tecumseh's passes and runs.

In the last quarter D. Holmes and J. Griffin were substituted for D. Irwin and H. Holmes. These were Chelsea's only substitutions.

The school wishes to express their appreciation to the business men for closing their doors and coming out and boosting the team. The school also desires to extend thanks to the band for their fine selections.
On October 26th the boys tackle Ann Arbor here on the home field. Everyone come. Show Ann Arbor what real spirit is.

O. B. McLaughlin who conducts the American service station at the corner of Orchard and Main streets is having a 1000 watt flood light installed at the station. When the work is completed Mr. McLaughlin will have one of the most modern and complete gas and oil
serving plants in Washtenaw county.

FLAPPER'S LURE TOO MUCH FOR AVIATOR

A Boston woman teacher told this one about Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd:

"When the aviator had been invited to dine at a girls' school before his lecture, the principal called all the seniors together and then told them: 'Commander Byrd is a southern gentleman. I want you to take particular pains with your manners. Also I do not want you to make a hole in your potatoes and put your gravy in it at dinner this evening.'"

As the pretty young things went into the dining room, one of them pulled the sleeve of the aviator's tunic and whispered, "Do us a favor?"

Mr. Byrd smilingly nodded his consent, and she whispered:

"When you make a hole in your potatoes and put your gravy into it."

He nodded again, and when the gravy was passed he solemnly pressed down the gravy into the center of his potatoes and filled the hole with the rich, brown sauce.

For a second there was a silence of astonishment. Then the favor seeker giggled and the game was up.

Highway of Ice

As an experiment in Russia recently, logging operations were conducted over a two-mile road of ice, rather than the usual covering of snow, and it was found that the animals could draw much greater loads on the ice than on the snow owing to the absence of resistance which is offered by the softer snow. Something over 350,000 cubic feet of wood were transported during a three-month period, and in this work one-horse sleds were used, having a width between runners of 3.25 feet. Because of the reduced friction, as compared with haulage over snow, the animals were able to draw anywhere from six to eight times their own weight. Besides effecting a considerable saving in the cost of logging operations, the ice roads made it possible to cut down the number of draft animals ordinarily required.

Emperor Raises Rice

The emperor of Japan is daily eating upland rice grown by his own hands in the palace grounds as a means of encouraging Japanese farmers to undertake the cultivation of dry rice farming to a greater extent.

Most of the soil of Japan adaptable for paddy fields is already under cultivation, but it is not sufficient to grow the rice consumed by the nation.

Last fall the emperor experimented with rice grown by the dry method, and finds it so palatable that he is eating it exclusively at present.—Exchange.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS OF STATE GATHER

Teachers in the various Sunday schools of Michigan, regardless of their denominational differences, are invited to attend one of the Regional conventions held this year in Michigan. One at Potoskey, October 24-26, the other at Adrian, October 29-30.

Opportunity will be provided for the parents, teachers and officers in the rural and small town communities to meet in personal conferences leaders who will be prepared to help them in their quest of materials and suggestions to improve the Sunday school work of their respective areas.

No registration fee is being charged. Lodging and breakfast are free to all visiting delegates. It is expected that several will avail themselves of this unusual privilege.

IF YOU WOULD BE POPULAR

Before you start along the road to popularity, you must have six things packed ready to take with you:

1. Unselfishness, a willingness to forget self in the interest of others.

2. Sincere friendliness toward people of all ages.

Decent Day's Work

If at the end of the day you can say that you have caused no unhappiness to anyone you have met, that you have lessened no one's belief in life or man kind, that you have helped the discouraged and added nothing to the vanity of the ostentatious, then you have done a decent day's work.

Future Fur Farms

The fur farming industry is certainly coming more and more to the fore in all branches and new animals are being added to the list right along. No doubt the future will see the bulk of the export of furs taken from fur farms and this will include all animals from the silver fox to rabbits.

BUT ONE MAN

In commenting upon an article recently in the Michigan State Digest in which it was stated that Hon. Frank F. Rogers would probably not be a candidate again for state highway commissioner, Editor O'Brien of the Iron River Reporter, says Lou Burridge should be Mr. Rogers' successor. Mr. O'Brien is far from right. Burridge might be satisfactory highway overseer for some portion of the state, but to load him up with the responsibility of the entire highway department would be an imposition upon Mr. Burridge, as well as the state of Michigan.

Almost since the organization of the highway department there has been associated with Mr. Rogers a highway engineer named G. C. Dillman. Up from the ranks of surveyor in the department, he has climbed to the position of deputy state highway commissioner, ranking next in authority in the department with Mr. Rogers.

To those who have had business with the department, it is generally known that Mr. Dillman, outside of Mr. Rogers, knows more about Michigan roads and road building than any other man in the state. He is possessed of executive ability and he knows what he is doing all the time.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Rogers may continue for another term at least the remarkable work he has been doing for Michigan in road building, but if he has decided to retire from the work he has given the best years of his life to, there is no better successor for the place than Deputy Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman. —Northville Record.

When Mr. Rogers feels that he must relinquish the responsibilities of the office he has filled so faithfully and efficiently for many years, the people of the state will demand that an experienced man shall succeed him, and no one is better qualified than Mr. Dillman to carry on the splendid work of the state highway department.

WHY TARIFF IS NECESSARY

In an editorial on tariff, the McDowell Recorder, Welsh West Virginia shows the industrial difficulties that have resulted from low duties. Commenting on the Underwood Tariff Law that severely cut prospective duties on all iron and steel products, it says:

"In the spring of 1914, Belgian iron bars and Belgian tin plate were sold successfully in Pittsburgh in competition with American made bars and American plate. In other words it was possible for Belgian, German and English iron and steel makers to produce their goods, ship them across the ocean and pay the railroad freight from Boston, Baltimore or New York City to Pittsburgh, and sell them in competition with American made goods."

"Why?" "Simply because the iron makers of those countries live on a lower plane, have fewer comforts of life than the American, and practically none of the luxuries."

"No man, who has traveled in Europe, to say nothing of Asia, fails to come back with a heightened appreciation of American institutions, and American social life. The protective tariff is the bulwark of these institutions industrially."

Destroy, or materially change our protective tariff system and you will find American workmen and American manufacturing enterprises sorely affected.

A CENTURY OF ROAD BUILDING

Recently the hundredth anniversary of an American railroad, one of the first in the world, was celebrated. It brought public attention to the miracle of progress and service accomplished by our transportation system in little more than a lifetime.

The first railroad operated over a few miles of track, and to the people of the time it seemed the ultimate that inventive and mechanical genius would provide. Slow and inefficient it was, it marked a new era of business and national life. For the first time a form of land travel came into being that was an improvement over the horse and wagon and the oxcart. It was the beginning of the end of isolation for towns and whole gigantic territories.

The roaring transcontinental monsters of today are the great descendants of the first train and they are an imperishable tribute to the spirit and vision of America.

The thousands of miles of track that cover the nation are the arteries of prosperity and national solidity. The last century is a blazing page in the history of transportation and economic and social progress.

BUILDING MODERN ROADS

The ever-present question of maintenance is paramount in all road building plans and activities. In the long run, maintenance commonly requires more work and more money than the original building of the highway.

The perfect highway is one that gives a fine, smooth, waterproof surface that wears well and can, when it becomes necessary, be repaired at low cost. Community ties too often build cheap highways that become "white elephants," carelessly taking money from the treasury.

The era of good roads is here, and it is increasingly apparent that they must be built, or the section without them will estrange from civilization. A recent trend in building hard surfaced roads to more or less isolated districts, is to oil macadam roads or surface old gravel and macadam highways with a wearing surface of asphaltic concrete.

When roads are built, surfaces should be used that do not require undue expenditure for maintenance.

FRIEND OF THE COURT MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

In her annual report to the county board of supervisors Mrs. Marie Peel, as friend of the circuit court submitted the following facts:

From October 1, 1927 to October 1, this year, 111 divorce applications involving 168 children, were filed in circuit court, according to the report. Fifteen applications were withdrawn and one was dismissed by the court. There were 32 children involved in the cases discontinued and dismissed.

Investigations were made in all of the cases where divorce action has been started. Mrs. Peel reported, and in addition she investigated 70 additional cases. This latter classification concerns possible breaking up of families of domestic trouble of any nature of difficulties growing out of divorce action, such as the refusal of custodial parent to comply with the court order granting the other parent the privilege of visiting children.

Evidence that the alimony account is assuming large proportions also is found in Mrs. Peel's report which shows that there are 148 accounts in this fund and since January 10, 1928, her office has collected $32,542.26. Deducted from this is $300.10 for sheriff's and attachment fees.

Mrs. Peel's department received $713.72 from the office from which the alimony account was transferred and following are the monthly receipts since then:

January, $1,022.20; February $2,734.00; March, $4,206.60; April, $3,706.50; May, $3,908.00; June, $3,925.50; July, $4,670.76; August, $3,691.06; September, $3,719.75.

MEETING OF SUPERVISED TEACHERS

The first meeting of the Chelsea group was held at Luick school with Miss Agnes Young as hostess. There were 25 teachers present, Miss Cora L. Haas, commissioner; Mrs. Marion Wetzel, county nurse; and Mrs. Mildred Robinson, supervisor.

After the welcome by the hostess and announcements by Mrs. Wetzel and Miss Haas regarding the year's work, the secretary, Dorothy Luick, was chosen for the year.

Methods and devices for Primary reading were discussed, each contributing what she found most effective in her own school.

Due to the outcome of the standardized tests given last year, stress will be placed on reading this year. Mrs. Robinson prepared some helps in remedial reading for the teachers of her group and conducted a class to illustrate one phase of the work. The demonstration showed how and what can be done toward reaching our goal, "Better Readers for Our Country."

POSTAL CARD SOCIAL

Don't forget that on Friday evening, October 19, the postal card social for the benefit of the Sylvan Center school will be held at the Colonial Inn, Sylvan. Ladies are requested to bring postal cards cut in two, one-half to be sold to the highest bidder and the other to be kept until all cards are sold. It will then be the duty of the gentlemen who have bought cards to match cards with the ladies. A short program will be given by pupils of the school. Lunch will be served to those buying cards and their partners. Lunch will be sold to those not buying cards.

You don't Stop BUYING FOOD in cold weather!

Why stop protecting it because the weather is colder outdoors? The kitchen remains at about the same temperature in winter and summer, it's never safe to set perishable food on a pantry shelf or a windowledge to "keep."

In fact, there is usually MORE food in the house, fine roasts, thick juicy steaks, rich yellow butter, fresh milk and cream—energy building food that active bodies demand during the wintry weather.

Only constant dry cold can really protect—And ONLY a

Vogel & Wurster

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

Methodist Home

On Sunday last Paul V. Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. Carey Cole and three children, Raymond, Virginia and Robert, of Detroit visited the former's mother, Mrs. Hutchins and spent a few hours with her very pleasantly. Mrs. Kitt Sheppard of Litchfield, Michigan, niece of Mrs. Dora Davis, visited her Tuesday. It was her first visit to the Home and she expressed herself as greatly pleased with its general appearance.

Because of the many additions to the Home family since its earlier arrangements the space for holding religious services and social gatherings has been over crowded with the large chairs used in therein. But now by the generous gift of Mrs. Louisa Souls who is ever on the alert with helpful dollars, our assembly room has an entirely new outfit of leather-seated chairs that are a great convenience supplying a long felt need, and a gratification to all. The purchase was made from Mr. Hindelang, dealer in furniture and hardware where liberal consideration was greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Broderick, living near Ann Arbor, called at the Home recently, taking Miss Abbey Carey home with them to spend the day.

Miss Wright and Miss Dumdum of Ypsilanti called on Mrs. Robtoy on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Smith of Detroit called on Mrs. Smith's aunt, Mrs. Wolf, last week. Mrs. Gage was cheered by a visit from her daughter, Mrs. Monnee, her granddaughter, Mrs. Randall and great grandson baby, Bob, from Tecumseh last Friday.

A spirited Marathon was staged at an unassuming hour on Thursday last, the scene being the spacious basement of the Home with two brave women as chasers, the chase, a more man, on burglary intent. So far as known he is still living but the result may be different if a return engagement is attempted as the nurse has armed herself with a loaded cane and there is fire in her eye. While the recent experience of the efficient housekeeper in the wild and woolly west gives her license to shoot to kill. The doors are now decorated with heavy bolts to bar intrusion that the family may rest in peace.

The Rev. Mr. Wurzel of Ann Arbor came to the Home on Sunday accompanied by the two Herli brothers, students at the university from their native Syria. They dressed in their costume and gave an interesting talk as to their costumes and illustrated their type of instrumental music.

The Big Blue Limousine

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

WHEN the Cartlons pulled into the touring camp their first thought was for the blue limousine. Had it arrived about them? A survey of the small, grassy park set on the hill-top revealed no sign of it among the few cars scattered about.

Not that there was any hope to be gotten out of that. It had happened before that they had gone to bed assured that they had eluded their camp follower only to find in the morning it had arrived sometime during the night.

"But if they were really pursuing us, mother," had insisted Julie Cartlon, "they would make some effort to become acquainted. But they don't. They keep by themselves."

The trouble was that ever since Mrs. Cartlon had realized that her little girl was growing into an extremely pretty woman she had suffered from the complex that her daughter would be the natural prey of all members of the other sex. And there had been certain circumstances that justified her fears.

Of course, Julie's father absolutely scouted the idea that any car had deliberately pursued them.

And now he pointed out the probability of their having turned off on another road. "They've just been taking a trunk route like the rest of us," he explained, hammering in a last stake. "Haven't seen them all day, have we? Well—"

"Daddy," Julie grabbed her father's arm. "There it is now—the blue limousine!"

In a cloud of dust from the gravel driveway arrived the huge car of ancient vintage for all its recent coat of azure paint. Hardly had it stopped before the long-legged youth with whose appearance they had grown so familiar stepped out, cast his gaze toward a more level ground farthest from the Cartlon car, and indicated the spot in his father in the driver's seat with a gesture.

"Well," said Mr. Cartlon, very firmly, "these touring camps are free to all and as I've done nothing to put anyone on my trail, they're welcome to track me to Hudson bay—if I go that far. And for anything I've seen to the contrary, that young man doesn't even know our Julie exists!"

Yet in his heart the man was puzzled. There was surely more than coincidence in the fact that night after night the limousine had camped in their company. Regardless of how many times a day they passed it only to be passed in turn, always they had been together for the overnight stay. The next few days, however, could not show if there was actual intention behind all this. Did the blue limousine carry time their departure with that of the Cartlons who were remaining over for several days to take in side trips? There was little doubt but that they, the Cartlons, were the object of an insatiable pursuit.

On the second night, the blue limousine was still there, but the Cartlons, spending two days in another city, were unaware of the fact. The third night the car was gone, but not all of the equipment, hinting at expedition similar to their own on the part of the limousine's owners.

On the following morning, Mr. Cartlon, rising early for a speedy getaway, saw the long-legged young man come out of his tent, look around a bit, then start pitching out the bags.

"Yet it is doubtful if he would have done what he did, had not he observed, half an hour later, his daughter Julie stunting over from the pump in the young man's company. Had there really been other opportunities for them to meet? Had his wife been right, after all?

Throwing down the tent pole he was dismounting, he strode over to the blue limousine and addressed the young man's father. "Sort of funny how you people are trailing us," he said.

The other man looked sheepish, then grinned. With a cautious glance in the direction of his wife's tent, he came over to Cartlon and whispered in his ear.

"Say, I'm glad of a chance to tell you all about it. It was my wife's idea. We've been doing this motor camping business for fifteen years—been everywhere. Got so there was no kink in it, going the same old places. So Abby suggested we get a thrill by not knowing where we would land. Last year we took every third concrete road, but this summer she says, 'Let's follow the first camping party we see after pulling out of Athol camp.' And it was you. He haven't meant to be a nuisance. My son is just getting over an illness and his fiancée is off teaching in a girl's camp, so we brought him along. He's kind of disgusted with his mother's idea, but you sure have taken us into a fine country!"

When Julie's father told her, she sniffed. "That nice young man told me all about it this morning," she said. "And, by the way, Dad, Niles wrote me that if I don't come home pretty soon to get the ring he has just bought me, he'll drive here after me!"

Mr. Cartlon threw up his hands. "Never!" he cried. "Being chased by a prewar limousine is bad enough, but that rattle trap flivver of Niles'—nothing doing. We start for home tomorrow!"

WASHTENAW COUNTY COUNCIL P. T. A. MEET

A banquet will be held Tuesday evening, October 23, 7:00 o'clock in the evening at the Masonic Temple, Ann Arbor, for the autumn meeting of the Washtenaw county P. T. A. council.

Guest speakers will be Mr. H. A. Tape of the Normal College faculty and principal of Lincoln consolidated school who will speak on "A Closer Relationship between Parent-Teacher Associations in the County" and Mr. Charles Reinhart of the rural education department of the state of Michigan who will speak on "The Standardization of Rural Schools."

Since roll call will include all associations in Washtenaw county it is hoped that every association will be represented. Every P. T. A. member is cordially invited and it is hoped that every president will respond to roll call.

The treasurer of the county council will be at the door to receive the annual dues of $1.55 from each rural association.

Tickets for the banquet will be 75 cents.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION NEXT MONTH

The annual Washtenaw Sunday school convention will be held at the First Presbyterian church Ann Arbor, on Thursday, November 15th. The program committee held a meeting at the home of E. O. Loveland, Ann Arbor, Thursday evening. The committee has worked out plans so that each department of the Sunday school will be taken up and discussed and all will have a chance to take part in the discussion.

State, county and local workers will be on hand to help make it a profitable day. Miss Lela Linder, superintendent of the young peoples' division, of the Washtenaw County Council of Religious Education, called a meeting the same evening to plan for the big county wide young people's meet which is to be held Wednesday evening, November 14th at the Deciples of Christ church, Ann Arbor, starting with a banquet at 6:30, followed by songs, games and speeches. Reserve the dates.

OF INTEREST TO SYLVAN VOTERS

Mr. Hoover and Food Distribution in Europe

In 1915 Mr. Hoover was appointed Food Distributor by President Wilson to aid the suffering people of European nations who were deprived of the food supplies by the demands of the World War.

He had charge of a fund of Three Hundred Millions of dollars contributed by America, England and France. Mr. Hoover bought food in America to ship to England, France and the Scandinavian countries, except to reship the produce from the latter countries into the Scandinavian countries and Germany to feed the people there.

England refused to lift the blockade and it was very difficult to get food into Germany. France also was unwilling that the blockade should be raised. These two countries were bound to starve the German people to complete submission to the allies. But Mr. Hoover insisted on getting food into Belgium and Germany as well as the other countries, and the English and French finally gave way, and food under the direction of Mr. Hoover was reshipped into the countries needing it.

Last month Dr. Hess, Mayor of Wiesbaden, Germany, was in Detroit and in commenting on America, he said: (speaking of the charge against America by many Europeans that we were the land of "Dollar chasers") "Dollar chasers?" he said. "In Germany it is gold; in England it is sterling; in France it is franc. But in America we find the great wealth that fights and forgives, which forgives and forgets. You poured out your wealth to the needy and oppressed and we in Germany benefited. It was different from what we expected, that it was almost beyond understanding."

Mr. Hoover's work in Europe during those trying times was almost super-human, and if the people of those countries, fed by Mr. Hoover Food Distributor, could vote in the coming election, there would be no doubt about his success.

He is a man of great executive ability and experience, and with knowledge of national and international affairs, the people of the United States take no chances of free trade, panics and hard times, if by their vote they place him in the White House.

Geo. J. Crowell, John Grahame, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehman attended the reunion of the 20th Michigan Infantry which was held in Motor Rapids last week. The reunion will be held in Chelsea next year. Mr. Crowell was elected president and L. E. Sparks, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

GOOD RECORDS MADE IN PRODUCING PORK

That Michigan farmers are able to step up in the front ranks when awards are made for the growing of pork on a production basis is indicated by early reports of the pig crop contest made to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

The best results already reported are those obtained by E. N. Easton, Saline. Mr. Easton has already marketed the five litters of pigs which he had entered in the contest. Those litters contained 43 pigs which weighed 8,680 pounds.

The pigs, which averaged more than two hundred pounds in weight at six months of age, were of such good quality that they brought a premium of 20 cents per hundred weight above the day's market. They were raised from purebred Poland China sows.

Thirty-one Michigan farmers have entered in the pig crop contest this year, and the winner will designate the Michigan Champion Swine Grower for 1928. Cash awards will also be given to the leaders in this contest.

The early reports show that good brood-stock, proper feeding practices, proper sanitation, and adequate control of internal parasites are needed to put the grower up among the winners in a pig crop contest.

OAKLAND TO SHOW MANY NEW MODELS

An entire new line of Oakland All-American sixes, embodying exclusive style and performance features consistent with the pioneering achievements of the Oakland Motor Car Company, will go on display in the very near future. W. A. Harper of the Harper Sales & Service announced today. While no details will be disclosed until the public showing, the new Oakland is distinctly original and different from any car now on the market, Mr. Harper stated.

"Popular features of the first All-American six will be combined, in this latest offering, with a host of refinements in performance and body design that will make the car an outstanding attraction on the highways and boulevards of America during the coming months," he said.

MICHIGAN MILK PRODUCERS TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association will be held at East Lansing on Friday, November 2nd, 1928. This is a later date than the annual meeting is usually held, due to an arrangement made last year which would allow the delegates to get their fall work more nearly finished before attending the meeting.

The meeting this year should be as interesting as usual. The Association has shown greater growth during the past year than during any year since its formation period. About three thousand additional dairymen have become members.

Northville—After continuous service for over a quarter of a century as village clerk of Northville, Thomas Murdock this week resigned the office to give his entire time to the position he has in the Northville Drug Store. The rapid growth of the business of the village, the vast amount of detailed work involved in keeping the records and the extra time that the clerkship position now requires necessitated the action he has taken. He states that he was unable to do the work of his regular position and carry on all the clerical duties of the village government.—Record.

Compensation

You cannot wrong without suffering wrong. The exclusive to fashionable life does not see that he excludes himself from enjoyment to the attempt to appropriate it. The exclusionist in religion does not see that he shuts the door of heaven on himself, in striving to shut out others. Treat men as pawns and ninings and you shall suffer as well as they. If you leave out their heart you shall lose your own. — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Youth Will Be Served

By MARIE MARSH
(Copyright.)

"GOSH!" said Mrs. Gleason, pushing her small feet painfully into smaller dancing slippers. "Excuse me, Tom, for saying 'gosh,' but honestly I'd rather scrub floors than to go to that dance."
Tom Gleason looked sympathetically from his post before the cliffhanger, where he was struggling with the studs of his evening shirt. "I suppose we've got to go."
"Oh, I suppose so," said the young wife, now carefully brushing the collar of Tom's evening coat as it lay on the bed. "Housework and the twins are nothing to compare with what I have to undergo for that younger set. I promised to chaperone them. Grace Hayes will meet us at the clubhouse and will be back for the night. Your brother, I suppose, will be there and he'll want the other spins' room. I thought once we'd pull off a match with them."
"Them?" echoed Tom, sincerely. "They're just like the rest of the younger set. Crazy for excitement—they'll never settle down and have real happiness the way we did."
So the Gleasons, clad in their best, went to the dance at the country club, leaving the slumbering twins in the custody of the maid of all work, who also slumbered in her room.
An hour later Jim Gleason tried the front door of the Gleason suburban home, found it locked and made an unceremonious entrance through a partly open front window. He found a pair of slippers and a smoking jacket of his brother's in a downstairs hall closet. A frowning expedition in the kitchen resulted in some evidence of his sister-in-law's baking and some of his brother's apples with his apples. He filled his pockets with the three on a fresh log and sat down to enjoy the comforts of home.
At 10:30 he heard a knock at the front door and opened it to see Grace Hayes, in day clothes with an overnight bag in her hand.
"I thought you'd be at the dance," she said.
"No," drawled Jim. "I can't stand the pace. I said I might come, but it was only for an excuse to spend the night here. How these married people want to gab about as they do I can't see. With a home like this—have a cruller and an apple," he interrupted.
"Gee, if I had a little house like this and a wife, believe me, I'd stay at home! But then we're different."

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

By T. E. STEWARD
WNU Service

Cucumber
ALTHOUGH Africa has given us most of the known species of the genus "Cucumis," to which both the melon and the cucumber belong, the common cucumber of everyday use is a native of northern India, where it grows in a wild state at the foot of the Himalaya mountains in Sikkim, home of the famous Indian nation of the Sikhs. The wild plants found there are almost exact counterparts of the cultivated cucumber, the only difference being that some of the fruits are sweet and some bitter, as is the case with the wild watermelons of Africa, which, nevertheless, are admittedly true watermelons.
Cucumbers have been cultivated by man for at least three thousand years, as is shown by the fact that in Arabic one variety has a name of Turalian origin, older than the Sanskrit.
It was introduced into China in the second century before Christ when the ambassador, Chang-Kien, returned from Bactriana. Toward the west the species had spread more rapidly. The ancient Greeks raised cucumbers under the name sikos, which is still found as sikos in modern Greek. The Romans called this plant cucumis, giving the root for the modern English name.
It has sometimes been said that the cucumber was the kitchenschium, an Egyptian fruit which the Israelites borrowed when they were in the desert, but no evidence exists that cucumbers were raised in Egypt that long ago.
One species of cucumber known botanically as the West Indian cherry, is possibly of American origin. It has been found growing outside cultivation in many parts of tropical America, especially Jamaica, other West Indian islands, and in Brazil and the Argentine. Although many botanists have accepted this small, prickly cucumber as a native of tropical America, others have challenged this conclusion. They point out that most other species of cucumbers come from Africa and show that this plant is known only along the coasts of America in districts that carried on a brisk slave trade. From this they deduce that the prickly tropical cucumber was introduced from the Dark Continent, found the country to its liking and began growing wild before botanists noticed it.

The new Buick is the new Style

If you want beauty—if you want luxury—if you want up-to-the-minute smartness—there's only one choice... the choice of America... the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher....

From one end of the country to another—in New York, in Miami, in Chicago, in Los Angeles and all towns between—overwhelming praise for the distinctive beauty of the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Thrilling new lines—graceful contours—gently rounded steel panels at sides and hood, the most expensive steel panel work employed on any automobile in the world—lend matchless charm and beauty to the Buick silhouette.

All agree that here is a new style—a new mode—an entirely different and original interpretation of motor car beauty, forecasting the trend of smart body-design for months to come.

Vivid new colors—smartly contrasting chrome-plated headlamps and cowl-lamps—striking new radiator, fender and bumper design—impart added dash and distinction.

And all are voicing their approval in steadily mounting demand—a demand several times greater than the demand for any other automobile that makes even the slightest bid for comparison with this new Buick!

And wonderful new interiors—with new adjustable front seats and full-width rear seats—new velvet mohair upholstery—and the most attractive hardware and trim—all combine to form ensembles of rare and distinguished artistry. It's the new style—the new mode—in motor cars!

IN CHANCERY

Mable Van Sickle, A. C. Van Sickle, Wm. Van Sickle, Fred C. Wheeler, Chas. Van Sickle, Thos. Van Sickle, Plaintiffs.

vs.

Henry Van Houghton, Defendant.

Present, HON. GEORGE W. SAMPLE, Circuit Judge.

In this case it appearing by bill of complaint duly verified, presented and filed to the satisfaction of the court that Henry Van Houghton, his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns are necessary and proper parties to the above entitled cause and are interested in the subject matter thereof therein and where parties appear in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Washtenaw having at some time claimed rights therein interest or estate in the subject matter of said cause, or some portion of it, or as having been or charge of the same, or as having conveyed or released the same, and who might at any time under the provisions of law or effect of such law, or claims of several claimants attempt to claim or be entitled to claim benefits therefrom, and further appearing that the satisfaction of said court, said above named parties are clear of their whereabouts unknown to said plaintiffs, and after diligent search and inquiry they have been unable to ascertain the name or where any of them or their heirs reside, or whether such interests as they may or might have therein have been disposed of by will or otherwise, and that said defendants cannot be personally served with process; therefore on motion of Cleveland & Burke, attorneys for said plaintiffs, it is ordered, that the appearance of said defendants, within three months from the date of this order, and that in case of their appearance they cause their answer to the bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof served upon the attorneys for the plaintiffs within fifteen days after service upon them of their attorneys of a copy of said bill of complaint, and that in default thereof, said bill be taken by each of said defendants, and it is further ordered that said plaintiffs shall cause a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard within forty days from this date, a newspaper printed, and published in said county of Washtenaw, and circulated therein, and that such publication be continued therein once in each week for six successive weeks, and that said plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be personally served upon said defendants and upon each of them at least twenty days before the time prescribed for their appearance.

REPUBLICANS OPEN CAMPAIGN HERE TUESDAY EVENING

The republican meeting which was held in the Sylvan Town hall, Tuesday evening was well attended by the women and men electors residing in this vicinity.

John Kalmbach was the presiding officer and all of the candidates for the county offices were present and occupied positions on the stage. The Chelsea band furnished music for the occasion.

The first speaker of the evening introduced by the presiding officer was State Senator Charles A. Sink of Ann Arbor. The Senator discussed in a comprehensive manner the state and county issues and was frequently given hearty cheers. At the close of Mr. Sink's remarks a musical selection was rendered by the band.

Mr. Kalmbach next introduced Lee N. Brown of Ypsilanti who announced that on Friday, October 26th a caravan of 100 or more autos with Gov. Fred W. Green and other prominent speakers, accompanied by a band would visit Chelsea for a grand rally and that the hour for their appearance would be made public at a later date.

Mr. Kalmbach next presented Hon. H. Wirt Nenkirk of Ann Arbor, who as the principal speaker of the evening in a masterly manner presented to the audience the national issues of the day. Mr. Nenkirk dwelt on the so-called farm relief bill and explained the situation that it would have created; if it had become a national law. With many facts that showed that it would have been a benefit to a states and a detriment to the farm-farmers of the west and southern states of the thirty-six states of the union. The Judge also discussed very understandingly the prohibition question. Very frequently during the address the speaker was given loud and hearty cheers.

The meeting closed by the band rendering "America" and many in the audience joining in singing the national song.

Before the assembly was called to order, cards for a Hoover-Green club handed out and were readily signed by both ladies and gentlemen in attendance.

FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Susan Royce Allyn, widow of the late James Allyn, and a former resident of Chelsea, died Sunday, October 14, at her home in Santa Ana, California. Mrs. Allyn was the daughter of Thomas T. and Martha Boyce, and was born in Sylvan township, August 10, 1849. She was united in marriage to James Allyn who died several years ago. Mrs. Allyn had been a resident of California for about 31 years. Her only surviving relative is a nephew, Royal Royce, of Jackson. Funeral services were held at her home, Monday evening and the body will be brought to Chelsea for interment in Oak Grove cemetery. W. K. Guerin of Chelsea is a brother-in-law of the deceased.

OBSERVED POETS' NIGHT

Monday was "Poets' Night" at the meeting of the S. P. I. which was held at the home of Mrs. Blanche Palmer. Poems from Will Carleton were given in response to roll call, after which each member gave a history of the life of a poet, with one of his poems. The program follows: Alfred Tennyson—"The Land of Story Books"; Mrs. Olga Strider; William Wadsworth—"My Heart Leaps Up"; Mrs. Alberta Schroder; Henry Van Dyke—"Work"; Lettie Kaecher; John Keats—"Ode to Autumn"; Mrs. Blanche Palmer; James Whitcomb Riley—"The Old Tramp"; Mrs. Mary Podas; Piano solo—"The Sunshine of a Smile"; Mrs. Olga Strider; Sir Walter Scott—"My Native Land"; Mrs. Mary Schneider; Oliver Wendell Holmes—"The Chambered Nautilus"; Mrs. Katherine Kustner.

Longfellow—"The Arrow and the Song"; Amanda Koch; Edgar Allan Poe—"The Raven"; Mrs. J. Scott McConnell—"Sunset"; Lillie Wackenhut; Guessing authors' names concluded the program.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Stafford were Jackson visitors Sunday.

CONGREGATIONAL C. E.
GAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

The Congregational Christian Endeavor tendered its annual banquet on Friday evening, October 19th, at the church parlors. The members of the local high school foot ball squad were guests of the occasion which, for them, was a fitting celebration of the victory over Tecumseh on the same day. A bountiful dinner was served by the Congregational Brotherhood in the artistically decorated parlors.

A fine program had been arranged by Rev. A. E. Potts and members of a committee. Mr. Moel, a U. of M. law student and president of the university C. E. being the chief speaker. Rowena Brooks, Pauline Jones and Margaret Haselschwerdt gave three short talks on life and activities at the Olivet college summer train school which they with seven other local young people attended for ten days this summer. The young folks spent an evening full of pleasure and gathered a good deal of wisdom from the fluent speaker, Mr. Moel.

GIVEN HAPPY SURPRISE

M. H. McGaffigan, who was injured in an auto accident last week, and whose car was wrecked at the time, received the great surprise of his life Thursday morning when he was presented with a handsome new Buick car by the employees of the Michigan cement plant, of which industry he is superintendent. Words failed to express his deep appreciation for the gift and especially the kindly spirit which prompted "his men" to raise a fund sufficient for its purchase.

The boys of Chelsea are requested not to ride their bicycles on the sidewalks. There is an ordinance forbidding this practice and the village marshal has asked The Standard to publish this warning. Arrests will follow if the practice is continued.

OTTO D. LUICK RE-ELECTED ROAD COMMISSIONER

By vote of 17 to 12, Otto D. Luick, of Chelsea, was re-elected a member of the Washtenaw county road commission at a session of the board of supervisors on Tuesday, and he was also voted a salary increase of $200 a year. Party lines were sharply drawn in the contest, supporters of A. J. Brown of Ann Arbor making a stubborn contest for their candidate.

When the votes were counted Mr. Luick had a majority of five, three of his democratic friends giving him their support.

Mr. Luick's election is not only a compliment to him as a man and an official, but it is a distinct honor to this section of the county to have a member of the commission. His friends are extending their hearty congratulations.

BEING LAUGHED AT

It is, Goldsmith, or at least I think it is, who speaks of the frightened boy going home through a black woods at night.

"Whistling aloud to keep his courage up."

Bulster is generally an outgrowth of fear. It is a camouflage to conceal a man's real feelings. Cynicism and insolence are more often than otherwise the disguise of self-consciousness and sensitiveness.

I think, very likely the main reason for this is that we want to simulate virtues or characteristics which we do not have, and are afraid of being laughed at if our friends discover our lack. And if there is one thing more than another which youth cannot meet or endure it is laughter.

"The fellows would laugh at me," clinches any argument in favor of granting a youthful request.

When Jolce was editor of our college paper he ridiculed everything that was being done for the control of student conduct and advocated all sorts of revolts and irregularities.

I had thought I knew him pretty well during his first years in college, and he had struck me as a shy sensitive boy with high ideals and a distinct sense of honor. He dropped in to the office one day, and we got on to his principles as presented in the July.

"I can't believe that you actually think the things you are writing," I said to him. "If you do you are an entirely different fellow from what you were last year and before. What's the cause of it all?"

He hesitated a moment. "I'm awfully sensitive," he explained, "and the thing that I cannot bear is the thought that if I stand for things that are conventional and right, people may laugh at me and call me a mollycoddle. I can't stand ridicule."

"What are you going to do when you get out of college?" I inquired. "I'm going to be a lawyer."

I inquired, "Well, you'd better get used to being laughed at early in life," I said, "or some day they'll laugh you out of court."

The marriage of Miss Gladys Jane Forner and Mr. William G. Kolb took place in St. Thomas church, Ann Arbor at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning—both of Chelsea.

"The purpose of the 18th amendment is to protect the American home. A sacred obligation is imposed on the president to secure its honest enforcement and to eliminate the abuses which have grown up around it; I wish it to succeed."—Herbert Hoover.

Little White Lies

We all lie a little when we tell stories about ourselves, because we want to seem more colorful, important and attractive than we feel ourselves to be. We like to tell stories that reflect us as we wish we were. We would like to be so, and, indeed, we often picture ourselves as when we are alone. Hence our stories, our colorful anecdotes, our white lies told as truth.—Thyris N. Winslow in Smart Set Magazine.
