SUNDAY HUNTING MAY RECEIVE DEATH BLOW
AT SPRING ELECTIONWashtenaw County Voters Will Decide
Question April 1: If Carried, New Law Will Benefit Farmers.

Whether or not lovers of the hunting sport will be permitted to roam over the hills and vales in quest of "big game", on Sunday, will be decided at the regular spring election which will be held Monday, April 1.

At the January meeting of the Board of Supervisors a resolution was passed placing the matter in the hands of the voters of the county. This action is in accord with Local Act Number 9 of the State of Michigan, approved June 1, 1927 by the legislature, giving each county the right to decide this question.

That hunters of our own county, as well as those invading the county from large cities nearby have exceeded their rights cannot be denied. As a whole, the farmers have been fair with hunters who were willing to approach them in the right way and ask for permission to hunt on the premises.

In innumerable cases, however, hunters have been known to take advantage of the farmers in so many ways that they have found it necessary to take steps to stop Sunday hunting entirely, which will give them a little peace at least one day a week.

When hunters will invade the rural districts, cut and tear down fences, shoot poultry and livestock and trespass promiscuously over property without permission, it must be expected some step will be taken to curb the practice.

Notice of the form of special ballot which will be submitted will be found on another page of the Standard in this issue.

Extreme Temperatures
Reported Wednesday

With minimum temperatures of 10 degrees below to a maximum of 40 degrees below reported, this vicinity was visited by the coldest weather of the winter Wednesday morning. All thermometer readings, of course, are not expected to be absolutely authentic, as a temperature variation of 25 degrees within a radius of a very few miles would indicate defective thermometers rather than climatic differences. However, the mercury thermometer at the Michigan Central depot, which is supposed to be correct, registered 18 below.

Chester garages reported a record business of towing in cars with frozen radiators as few people were prepared for the extreme sub-zero weather, although warnings were broadcast Tuesday evening telling people that the cold wave was on the way.

Joseph Policht, David
Reed Sentenced Mon.

Judge George W. Sample on Monday sentenced Joseph Policht to the Lonia reformatory for a period of from one to ten years, and David Reed was given a sentence of from four to ten years in the same institution.

The two men were convicted on a charge of stealing an automobile belonging to Mr. Schrok from the streets of Chelsea on February 3.

CARRY ON CLASS ENJOY
OUT-DOOR PARTY SATURDAY

Members of the Carry On class of the M. E. Sunday school and their ladies, to the number of twenty-five, enjoyed a ski and toboggan party at Sylvan Estates Country Club last Saturday evening. Following two or three hours of the out-doors fun, light refreshments were served the party in the club house.

American Legion
Again Victorious

At a very closely played game of volleyball in the high school gymnasium Monday evening the American Legion team defeated the Masonic organization 4 out of 6 games.

The Masonic team played the game to win but proved the weaker team of the two, as the score indicated. History had nothing to do with this game, as with the Chelsea Standard Hi-Lights, but the Legion just simply went over and brought home the bacon.

Monday night the Legion again plays the Chelsea Standard Hi-Lights and it certainly looks as though this will be a hard fought game.

BOTH PARTIES FAIL

AT MONDAY CAUCUS

Twenty-five Voters Gather for Meeting Called Tuesday Evening: No Action or Interest Displayed.

A caucus, conspicuous for the lack of interest and action, was held in the Sylvan town hall Tuesday evening, or rather, was supposed to have been held. Out of the seven or eight hundred voters in the village, about twenty-five manifested enough interest to turn out for what was supposed to be a caucus to place tickets in the field for the election March 11.

The Independent party, which was supposed to call a caucus at 7:30, had no leader present to call the meeting, and "silence reigned in the courtroom" until a few minutes after eight o'clock, when, after a "whispering campaign" among a few leaders of the People's party, Jabez Bacon, chairman of the party committee, called the meeting appointed, sworn in, and a motion to order. Tellers and a secretary were adjourn was in order, leaving the vast audience of lookers-on in wonderment as to just what had transpired during the few minutes of the whispering conference.

It is reported that party committees are busily engaged in an effort to place two tickets in the field, so it may be possible that Chelsea voters will yet have a chance to cast a vote for their favorite leader on March 11.

Popular Young Couple
Married Wednesday

A very pretty home wedding took place February 20 at four o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gentner, when their daughter, Lottie, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman C. Klingler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Klingler of Grass Lake. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Potts of Chelsea. The wedding march was played by Miss Elsie Pfizenmaier of Chelsea.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Stanley Addison of Jackson, sister of the groom, and Walter Klingler of Jackson, attended his brother.

The bride was lovely in a rose beige crepe and carried ophelia, roses and freesias. The matron of honor wore a beige crepe and carried butterfly roses and freesias.

The house was very prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white.

After the ceremony a lovely three course wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives by six friends of the bride and groom.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea high school with the class of 1920. She has been the guest of honor at several social functions in the past three weeks. The groom is employed at Jackson as an electrician at the M. C. R. R.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, they will be at home to their friends at 910 Norfolk avenue, Jackson.

CONSUMERS POWER
FRANCHISE WILL BE VOTED UPON APRIL 1

If Franchise Is Granted, Rural Patrons Will Have Advantage Of Electricity Within Eight Months.

A special meeting of the Sylvan township board was held in the town hall last Friday afternoon, at which time the Consumers Power Company, of Jackson, presented an application for a thirty year franchise to supply electricity to farmers in the township. The ordinance for the grant of the franchise appears in this issue of The Standard. The franchise will have to be submitted to voters at the regular election April 1.

The Consumers Power Company representative informed the board that they would start the line at the E. J. Weinberg farm, following US-12 to the Chelsea-Manchester road, follow that road to Manchester, Branch line will be built from this line, as well as from their main line which follows the old Poland road.

It will be necessary for the power company to secure permission from the state highway department and the county road commissioners in order to get their poles along the highways which are under their control. It will take about eight months for the construction of the proposed lines, at an estimated cost of $1,000.00 per mile.

Last Friday evening twenty-two residents of the Chelsea-Manchester and adjacent roads met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pritchard and all were in favor of a hook-up with the new electrical system.

Chat 'n Seau Hold
Valentine Party

Mrs. M. W. McClure was hostess to the members of the Chat 'n Seau at a delightful Valentine party given Tuesday at her home on West Middle street. Thirty guests were present.

A profusion of hearts and cupid's decorated the rooms, while the small tables at which the guests were seated were lighted with red candles in crystal holders, tied with red and white tulle.

A buffet lunch was served, the large table being centered with a bowl of red carnations. Partners for the supper were chosen by the matching of hearts containing the names of lovers.

Following the supper an interesting account of her trip to California was given by Mrs. J. Howard Boyd, after which games furnished the amusement for an enjoyable evening.

The February committee assisting Mrs. McClure were Mrs. A. E. Potts, Mrs. Paul Belser and Miss Nina Belle Wurster.

Brotherhood Meets
At Sharon Church

The Washtenaw County Brotherhood held its regular meeting at the Sharon Evangelical church February 17. The meeting was called to order by the vice president. Prayer by Wm. Koebbe.

The ladies' orchestra of the church rendered some very fine numbers, both afternoon and evening, which were appreciated by all. A very fine talk was given by Rev. Harper, pastor of the M. E. church, Manchester, after which the ladies of the church entertained with a fine lunch.

The evening session opened with song service led by the Brotherhood chorister, after which Prof. Braum of the U. of M. gave a very fine lecture which all appreciated very much.

A good crowd was present. Sharon has reason to be very proud of its fine place of worship.

The next regular meeting of the Brotherhood will be held in Christ's church, Ann Arbor, some time in March.

NEW TAXES PROPOSED

In more than two score states legislative sessions are being held this winter and in each of these states lawmakers are hunting new sources of income, something untouched in the past on which a tax may be levied. In most of these states the same old idea is being employed to plan a new tax, pile it on something in evidence, something prosperous. Thus far in not one of the states has it been suggested that the question of taxation be taken up for study in a scientific manner with a view to revising the entire taxation plan in the light of experience and in a manner suited to modern business, economic and social conditions. The states are trying to put further additions on the old and unbalanced structure, some radical ideas are under construction as usual, ideas that amount to penalizing good management and successful ideas of business, ideas business men will be forced to oppose vigorously.

In Kansas there is under consideration a general sales tax of one mill on the gross amount of sales of all kinds of property and on all incomes in excess of $1000. Another plan is a 10 per cent tax on tobacco and cosmetics. In Indiana there has been proposed a state license to engage in business or professional life, with a more costly license for business houses with ownership located in other states, the license to be heavily increased as the number of places of business is increased. That is an attack on the chain store operation, an effort to collect a discriminatory tax under the guise of license, something the courts may not regard with favor if it is tried.

All forms of government require and should have adequate income to meet real needs, but taxation burdens should be fashioned with wisdom, applied justly, cause the least burden to business possible and never be discriminatory or unjust. But many taxation laws are written on some sudden impulse, there is lack of scientific adjustment and full understanding, therefore results are not always good.

ALIMONY AND JUSTICE

Alimony has become a national curse. It is helping break up homes and tends to popularize divorce by making it financially profitable, so a learned jurist in Chicago declared recently at the conclusion of a divorce hearing. A woman of wealth sought a large weekly sum for alimony from the man she was suing for divorce. The court gave her alimony of $5 per week, made the statements above, and declared henceforth only nominal alimony awards would be made in his court, save when real needs were shown.

This is something relatively new, a radical departure from customs long observed in divorce courts. In some places the amount of alimony has been fixed at the maximum it was possible to wring from the man, at times a permanent alimony has been ordered. The Chicago court declared that policy entirely wrong, no longer to be sanctioned by orders his court might issue. There have been some strange orders made in divorce courts when emotions were roused and impulses developed under the spell of contention in the trials. The Chicago jurist feels the time has come to call a halt, get a finer insight into the questions at issue, that justice may be more nearly evenhanded when the decrees are written.

BIG BUSINESS ETHICS

Julius Rosenwald, big merchant, financier, philanthropist and humanitarian of Chicago, has joined the Rockefeller crowd in seeking to oust Col. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, for being implicated in the aftermath of the Teapot Dome oil scandal. He went into the fight because he considers it a campaign for business cleanliness.

His action is most unusual. He is not a stockholder in the company but he is one of the directors of Big Business, and considers the course pursued by Col. Stewart tended to rod Big Business of public confidence. That is a conspicuous illustration of Big Business demanding high standards of business rectitude and openly fighting one accused of using the wrong idea in dealing with the public and the government. Mr. Rosenwald has asked his friends, and that includes many influential people, to help oust Col. Stewart that his quick condemnation may be a warning to others and a clear statement of the world of the position of Big Business.

Mr. Rosenwald has announced as a sort of golden text in his plea to his friends that profits are not the only indication of the health of Big Business. He insists Col. Stewart's tactics were a reflection on all other men in high places in the business world. That is a charge Col. Stewart may find it troublesome to answer, and put out of the way.

Another evidence that one gets a part, at least, of one's punishment right here in this old vale of tears and laughter is that the aged millionaires who want beautiful young wives generally get 'em.

We should think the supreme test of the influence of mind over matter would come when a brave girl tries to think her legs aren't a bit cold, even when the thermometer's below zero.

We often get up in the morning feeling like a Christian Scientist and go to bed at night feeling like a blood transfusion.

Our memory goes back to the time when about the only bad habit a nice girl had was biting her fingernails.

Nothing can be lumpier than lumpy mashed potatoes.

"MOTHER MACHREE" COMING TO PRINCESS NEXT WEEK

When Fox Films executives decided to make a screen version of "Mother Machree," Rida Johnson Young's heart-grIPPING story of mother-love, it was announced that no reasonable expense would be spared in efforts to supply the necessary Irish back-grounds.

With this thought uppermost John Ford's special camera crew was instructed to "dig into the heart of Ireland and come home with the goods."

In order to accomplish this it was necessary to follow the life history of Ellen McHugh, as typified by Belle Bennett. Ford's camera crew proceeded to Dublin, made all incidental arrangements with the Irish Free State officials, and then chartered special Rolls-Royce motor cars to take them to the Atlantic coast of Galway in the West of Ireland.

Here, starting with a tiny cottage—the home of Ellen McHugh—the company worked many days laying the foundations for this gripping narrative. Scenes also were filmed at Dublin, the port of embarkation on the East coast.

"Mother Machree" includes in its cast Victor McLaglen, Ted McNamara, Constance Howard, Neil Hamilton, Eulalie Jensen, Pat Somerset, Rodney Hildebrand, William Platt, Philippe De Lacey and others, and will be shown at the Princess Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, February 27 and 28.

Question And Answer Dept.

NOTICE—If your question does not appear below, it is because it is awaiting its turn, and will be published eventually.

Ques.—What does "Bonanza" really mean, and how did it come into general use?

Ans.—"Bonanza" is strictly a popular Americanism. The term was applied originally to the discovery of a rich vein of ore in a mine. It came into general use in connection with the Comstock lode in Nevada, where a number of rich deposits were found. Now it is used in speaking of any successful enterprise or good fortune.

Ques.—Can you tell me how often the president of Brazil is elected? And whether he is elected through an electoral college? Also what is the official language of the Brazil Republic?

Ans.—The president of Brazil is elected by popular vote for a term of four years. He may succeed himself for another four years, after which he must retire. The language of the country and that taught in the schools is Portuguese.

Ques.—Please answer in your question column why "John Bull" is applied to the English people. Your answer will settle some argument if you will publish this.

Ans.—The term "John Bull" originated in 1712 when Arbuthnot published his satire, "The History of John Bull," to intensify the feeling against the war with France and to ridicule the Duke of Marlborough.

Ques.—In using Roman numerals to specify a given number like V means 5, X means 10, C means 100, D, 500, and M, 1,000, etc., what does it mean if one of these numerals has a line drawn across the top of it, for instance if the letter M has a line over it and how many does it represent?

Ans.—The Roman system came into use with the ascendancy of the Romans. They employed several letters to represent numerical values. If a letter has a line drawn over it, the value of that letter is multiplied by 1,000. For instance, M means 1,000, but M with a line over it means 1,000,000, or in other words, 1,000,000.

Ques.—May I ask you if Benjamin Franklin was the inventor of printing?

Ans.—The art of printing was discovered by the Chinese, so far as is known by history. Books were published by the Chinese about 1150 B. C. but it is not known how the printing was done. Chinese history records the invention of printing from movable type in A. D. 400.

Ques.—Can you tell me what became of Aaron Burr after he killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel? Also what became of his only daughter?

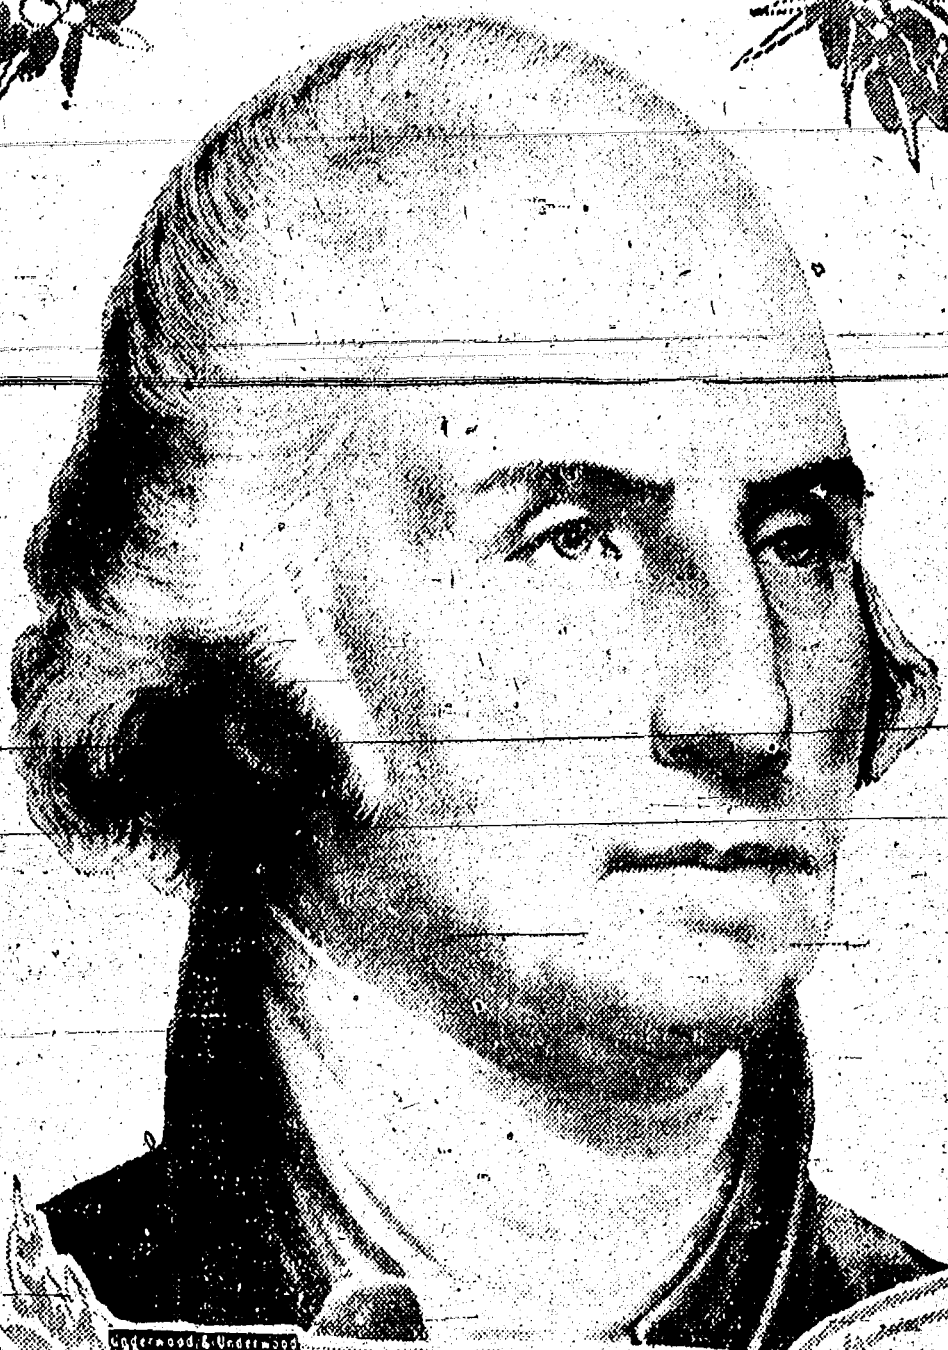

Ans.—Aaron Burr killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel in 1804. In 1807 he was arrested for conspiracy, but was acquitted. He went to England and after a few years he was ordered to leave that country because he was endeavoring to promote a filibustering expedition. In 1812 he returned to America and resumed the practice of law in New York. His only daughter, Theodosia, had married Joseph Alston, the governor of South Carolina. Desiring to see her father after the long separation, she left for Charleston in an old sailing schooner for New York. The ship was never heard of again. It is supposed it was wrecked in a storm off Cape Hatteras and was captured by pirates and crew members annihilated.

Ques.—Will you please answer in your question column who originated the 10-cent stores? Where was the first one located?

Ans.—Frank W. Woolworth first

BORN Feb 22 1732

George Washington DIED Dec 14 1799

"O Son of Virginia, thy memory divine,
Forever will halo this country of thine,
Not here alone in the battle's wild strife,
But here in every detail of thy life,
So noble, unselfish, heroic, and true,
A God-given gift to thy country were you;
And lovingly, tenderly guarding thy shrine,
Columbia points proudly, and says: 'He is mine.'
Eliza W. Durbin

conceived the idea of the 5c and 10c stores when he started to work for a Watertown, N. Y., merchant in 1878. In 1890, with the backing of the Watertown merchant young Woolworth opened a 5c and 10c store in Lancaster, Pa. A third of his entire stock was sold out on the opening day. Then he started other stores throughout the country. The rest is well known history.

Ques.—Why is the evil spirit sometimes called "devil" and sometimes called "Satan"?

Ans.—They are referred to differently because of the different versions of the Bible. The Hebrew Satan of the Old Testament was translated by the Septuagint as Greek, meaning an accuser, slanderer, devil. In the Vulgate Satan was substituted for Devil. In Jewish and Christian theology both these names have reference to the personal supreme spirit of evil and unrighteousness, the tempter and spiritual enemy of mankind.

Ques.—Who was Lincoln's first sweetheart? Who did Lincoln marry, and were there any children from this union?

Ans.—There are no authentic records as to who was Lincoln's first sweetheart. Lincoln married Mary Todd in 1842, and he had children. Robert T. was the oldest.

Ques.—To settle an argument please print correct answers in your Question and Answer column of your paper. A says first cousins cannot be legally married in the state of Kentucky, and return to Michigan to reside, without being molested by law. B says they may. Which is right?

Ans.—States recognize and honor the laws of other states, even though it is unlawful for cousins to marry in the state in which such marriages are forbidden.

Tramp Unable to See Idea of Wasting Pic

A tramp called at a motion picture studio, begging for something to eat. "Just beginning to enjoy life again," said the tramp, "I'll see that you eat."

"Now, when I give the signal, you stand this custard pie from the window sill, and run around the house. A policeman will chase you, and when he is about to catch you, you throw the pie at him."

"Take careful aim, and, if possible, hit him in the face."

At the given signal, the tramp approached the pie, and disappeared behind the house. In a little while a policeman came close, and cornered him.

The director shouted: "Throw the pie, throw the pie!" The tramp threw the pie. The policeman stopped and then he roared: "Why didn't you throw the pie? Where is it?"

The tramp, wiping his mouth with his coat sleeve, answered: "When I see my hands on a pie, I eat it."

"Where again, pard?" said the tramp, "where's my pants?"

English Castle Once Had Merman Prisoner

A curious legend is associated with a castle on the Suffolk coast, England, which recently came under the merrymen's hammer.

Fishermen are said to have captured a merman not far from the castle, and the interesting monster, so runs the legend, was imprisoned in the castle tower, and an attempt was made to fatten and humanize him.

The merman, however, was a "jiffy" sort of subject, and one dark night, when the efforts to tame him seemed about to be crowned with success, he escaped by some mysterious means from his prison, and was seen hurrying south of the castle.

The castle is stated to have been built about the twelfth century, and the imposing Norman keep with its square towers, battlements and other features of the old chapel remain, an ancient structure still lending to the dream.

Headlight We would be several thousand miles nearer the millennium if people expended as much energy trying to prevent disasters as they expend trying to explain them and place the responsibility.

SICK TEN YEARS. KONJOLA BRINGS SPEEDY RELIEF

"Just Beginning To Enjoy Life Again" Says Lady Made Well By New Medicine.

What astonishing victories Konjola, the new medicine, achieves over those obstinate cases that have defied and resisted every other medicine and treatment tried. "Thousands of cases of such triumphs might be cited, but the one of Mrs. L. Plimpton, 3111 Forest Avenue, Ann Arbor, is typical of the results that this master medicine brings.

"For more than ten years I was sick with 'stomach, liver and kidney troubles,' Mrs. Plimpton writes, 'and in that time I found absolutely no relief until I tried this splendid new Konjola. My food did not digest; I had gas pains, heart pressure, dizzy spells, headaches, bilious attacks and black specks danced before my eyes. The kidney condition got me up frequently at night, and the loss of proper nourishment and sleep caused my general health to fall rapidly. But Konjola changed all this. When the very first bottle gave me fine results I could scarcely realize that my long search for health had been rewarded. Day by day I grew better, and as my organs were restored to normal health I felt just what I needed. I feel just what I needed, and to Konjola goes all the credit. I shall never cease to marvel at what Konjola did in my desperate case."

Konjola is sold in Chelsea at Barry's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Building America

America would have been discovered had there been no Columbus; but there could have been no United States had it not been for the tens of thousands of peasants, artisans, mechanics, sailors and adventurers—common men and women—who braved the danger of long ocean voyages, cut down the forests, cleared the land, built the towns, drove back the Indians, and pushed the line of peaceful homesteads across the American continent until it touched the Pacific Ocean. Charles A. Beard.

Australian Emblems

The Australian flag is a blue ensign, the description of which is as follows: The Union Jack in the top left-hand corner; in the center of the lower canton next the staff and flying direct to the hoist of the St. George's cross in the Union Jack, a white seven-pointed star (representing the six states and the territories of the Commonwealth); in the fly, five smaller white stars representing the Southern cross. A red flag, carrying the same markings, is used by the Australian merchant shipping.

EXTENSION WORK BRIEFS

The Washtenaw county 4-H club exhibit, which was shown at the state potato show in connection with Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, won 4th place. The corn exhibit, exhibited by Kenneth and Edward Klein-smith of the Salem Junior Farmers' club, won 1st and 2nd places in 4-H club classes. Bruce Spike of the Koro-Kare club won third place on his corn exhibit.

The American Short Horn Breeders' association have increased their appropriation for prize money to the 4-H club boys and girls showing Shorthorn cattle at county and state fairs during 1929. Their 1928 premiums were $3 per animal. Their estimate for 1929 premiums is approximately $10 for each animal shown.

The state 4-H club leaders are planning a 4-H tour to the National Dairy Show, which will be held at St. Louis during the month of October. Each county will be given the privilege of sending from one to three, or four, 4-H dairy club members, according to the number of dairy club members enrolled in the county. Washtenaw county will be given the privilege of sending three boys on this trip.

The Washtenaw County Holstein Breeders' association are again offering the trip to the National Dairy Show to the outstanding Holstein club member of the county. Dean Gordon, Saline township, won the trip in 1928. Other trips will be offered provided local finances for them can be arranged.

The 4-H handicraft, clothing and rope tying clubs of Washtenaw county will officially close their seasons work during the last week of March when representatives of the state 4-H club office will be in the county to judge local exhibits. At that time all of the boys and girls will have all of their work that they have done on exhibit at community meetings, where programs will be given, and the state folks will select local champions in each branch of work. The local champions will compete for county championship Friday, May 2nd, at the county achievement meeting. All county champions will be given an opportunity to go to Michigan State College for Club Week in July. They will also compete with other county champions from all over the state for state championship. State champions are given scholarships at Michigan State College which are valued at $50.00 for the first year, while they attend Michigan State College, and $45.00 the second year provided they maintain a certain grade during the first year.

Several of the 4-H clubs of Washtenaw county are working hard on the music appreciation project, which is carried on in connection with the 4-H club work. There are two projects offered—one is a repetition of the work that was done last year, and is given to all 4-H club members who desire it, and who did not carry it on last year. The second year project is outlined for all who carried the work on last year, and who wish to continue it this year. Any one who did not carry on the work last year may enter both first and second year contests, if they wish.

The contest will close with the county achievement meeting, which will be held in connection with the county school field day on May 3rd. Any one wishing information on the music appreciation project may secure it by writing, or calling, at the agricultural extension office, Court House, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The 4-H club leaders of Washtenaw county will have an opportunity to secure information of an entirely new type to them at the 4-H club conference this coming spring. Tentative plans are being made for a conference on May 11. The program will include singing, instruction in what songs to use at 4-H club meetings and how to lead singing. Parliamentary practice will be taken up in a regular mock meeting. Programs of work for the clubs of Washtenaw county will be built up by suggestions that all of the leaders will bring with them. Plans are being made to get some state or nationally known recreation leader to conduct a recreation class.

This meeting will be open to both summer and winter club leaders. George Starr of the horticultural department of the Michigan State college is working on a new commercial 4-H garden club project for Washtenaw county. It will be outlined so that any club member who follows his suggestions will be able to profit by his experiences both financially and educationally.

Prof. Starr's plan is to make the required acreage large enough so that the boy or girl may grow enough crop to produce revenue but at the same time small enough that the average club member can do his own work.

Bat Tribe Members of Animal Kingdom

Bats are animals, not birds. They suckle their young at the breast and are classed by zoologists as flying mammals. There are more than 250 species and subspecies of bats in North America alone. Some of the typical species are: blood-sucking Vampires and others are fruit eaters, although nearly all the bats of the United States and farther north are insectivorous. Usually the female gives birth to one young, but cases of twins are not uncommon. One authority says on this subject: "They never make any nests or even attempt to fix over the crannies where they hide, and where the little bats are born. These helpless little things are not left at home at the mercy of foraging rats and mice. When the old bat flies off into the twilight the youngsters often go with her, clinging about her neck. At times she deposits them on the branch of a tree, where they hang, sheltered by the leaves."

Novel Coined Phrase
The Jewish people are not often referred to as children of the ghetto, although the expression is the title of a very well-known novel by Israel Zangwill. Zangwill, a successful English novelist, wrote "Children of the Ghetto," a study of modern Jewish life, in 1902. He died in 1923. Ghetto means the Jewish quarter in a European city. Ghettos have not existed, except in Russia and Poland, for about fifty years. Jewish people now living may have had grandfathers who were children of the ghetto but are not in any sense children of the ghetto themselves.

Methodist Home

Simon Ulrey passed away very suddenly last Thursday. He was at his accustomed work, dropped his tools, raised his hands to his head and fell to the floor. He could not be revived nor did he regain consciousness again.

He was born in Allen county, Indiana, May 28, 1852. In 1872 he was married to Miss Mary J. Emerich. They moved to Michigan in 1886, settling in Saginaw, where she died in February, 1920. He came to the Home January 21, 1926. By his unselfish and willing disposition to aid his fellow members, he had endeared himself to every member. His departure has cast a gloom over the whole household. The sympathy of the whole family is extended to his sister-in-law, Miss Nancy Emerich, who depended so much on "Simon." The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the parlor, conducted by the Revs. P. L. Walker and W. J. Balmer. Interment in Forest Lawn cemetery, Saginaw. He leaves a brother in Ohio and one in New Haven, Indiana. Neither of them were able to be present on account of feebleness due to old age. A nephew and two nieces from Saginaw were present.

Mrs. Irene (De Camp) Wilcox passed away Saturday last. She was born in Webster township, Washtenaw county, January 12, 1855. She married David E. Wilcox in December 1872. He died in 1907. She came to the Home June 20, 1925. She was a woman of very amiable disposition and had endeared herself to a very large circle of friends, both in the Home and in Chelsea where she formerly lived. A short service was held in the parlor and the remains taken to Mason where her husband is buried. She leaves a brother in Mason and a sister in Grass Lake.

Mrs. Ackerman of Ferndale, spent a week visiting in the Home, leaving Sunday. She expressed the intention of joining the family circle in the near future.

Mrs. Canfield, of Pontiac, has been stopping at the Home for several days. She expressed satisfaction with the company and surroundings, and hopes to soon be a member of the family.

Dr. and Mrs. Balmer had a visit from two daughters and a granddaughter, Sunday. Mrs. Lanson of Port Huron and Mrs. Colegrove and daughter of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Della Smith and her son Marshall of Jackson, spent some time with her cousin, Mrs. E. R. Reed, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alvin Umstead of Chelsea, called on Mrs. Frances Pool and other friends in the Home. She was accompanied by Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. Mary Carson entertained company from Pontiac, Sunday.

Mrs. Myra Gage entertained friends from outside, Sunday afternoon.

Since the Home was founded, in 1906, with only one couple, there have been admitted five hundred and five old people. The average age of those admitted was a trifle above seventy-five. The average length of life in the Home has been slightly less than six years. The shortest stay has been a single month, while the longest has been nineteen and a half years. The management feel proud of the record.

C. H. S. BASKET BALL

Last Friday the boys defeated the Ann Arbor Reserves 22-10. This is the first time in three years that Chelsea has been able to do this. Ann Arbor was beaten from the first minute of play. Chelsea was playing inspired basketball and the city team was lost. The team improves with each game and we wish that the season was a little longer. At the half the score was 15-4 Chelsea.

In the second half Chelsea held Ann Arbor down to one basket. However, they scored four free throws. In the closing minutes of play Rob Fahner and "Flash" Griffin were substituted for Staffan and "Arn" Fahner. The final score was 22-10 Chelsea.

Thursday night at 7:00 o'clock the Varsity and Reserves play the two teams from Ypsil. This is the last home game of the season and your last chance to see the stars of this year play.

In a very spectacular game last Friday evening the high school girls brought the teachers and alumni down to defeat. The girls' opponents appeared on the floor dressed in foot ball equipment, and believed they were going to "lay-out" a few of the girls. They were sadly mistaken. Before they could get started the girls worked the ball past them, and put it through the basket.

The game ended with a score of 24-18. The teachers and alumni were defeated again.

C. H. S. reaped another victory Monday night when she mowed down Manchester. The boys played hard and deserved a victory. Manchester hardly provided opposition in the first half and the half ended 14-3, Chelsea. Chelsea began the second half with a shooting attack that could not be stopped, and the score quickly mounted. Manchester scored 9 more points and the game ended 31-12.

Monday night at Manchester the Reserves again came out victorious. Manchester proved to be easy for the boys in spite of the strange floor. They held Manchester down to three points in the first half and scored 10 themselves. They played a fast game and their opponents hadn't a chance.

The substitutes played the last half of the last quarter and they held Manchester scoreless. The final score was 24-6, Chelsea.

Thursday night the Reserves tackled the Ypsil Reserves. Everyone come and see them win their last game.

The girls of course had to add one more win to the honor of Chelsea. Hi teams last Monday. This time the Purple and Gold winners kept the Manchester girls down the same as they had done in a previous game between them but by a far less margin of winning. The girls from here were very much inconvenienced by the terribly small floor that Manchester had, and it took them about half of the game to get their plays to conform with the size of the hall. The score at the half was Manchester 3, Chelsea 6. In the last part our girls put more baskets in than did Manchester, and Chelsea had 15 to her credit, with a score of 12 for Manchester.

Altering a Sundial

I was in the Old world garden of a friend near a sleepy Huntingdonshire town when I made the discovery, says a writer in the London Chronicle. Seeing an old sundial, I went across, as all humans would, and compared the time shown with my watch. I was startled to find that the sundial registered the correct time. My friend, full of wisdom, explained that as a sundial could, anywhere, only be read in the summer time, he decided to have his corrected for British summer time. The idea was bright enough, no doubt, but to me the action had rather the air of meddling with eternal things.

United States Motto

"E pluribus unum," the Latin phrase that has become our national motto, originally occurred in a poem entitled "Moeonia," supposed by some to have been written by Virgil. It literally means, "one from many," or "from many one." According to the Pathfinder Magazine, the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776 appointed Franklin, John Adams and Jefferson a committee to choose a device for the seal of the United States of America, and this committee suggested Eugene Pierre Du Sable, a West Indian Frenchman living in Philadelphia, who had some reputation as an artist and he submitted a device containing the above phrase. Usually, however, the motto is attributed to Jefferson.

Fuel system of the new Ford—has been designed for reliability and long service

The practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel,terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service.

Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after the important little details of your car when you have the car oiled and greased. A thorough, periodic check-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

Farm Science Dear to Heart of Washington

George Washington, in whose honor our inimitable national capital was named, wanted more than all else to look as the leading farmer and agriculturist of the New World. His hobby was scientific farming. Of all the books in his extensive library, those which related to agriculture were most read.

Our first President cherished the desire to spend his days at Mount Vernon, where he could experiment with seeds and plants imported from foreign fields. He wished to solve the perplexing problems of the Virginia farmer. He aspired to develop Mount Vernon into the finest plantation that struck root in the western hemisphere, according to George H. Davis, writing in the Washington Star.

Excellent American architects who have made careful studies of the construction of Mount Vernon's mansion say that the house as completed by Washington was built to withstand seven to eight centuries of service. The frame of the home consisted of hand-hewn white oak timbers which were joined together with wooden dowels, pins instead of spikes. The construction was built to endure as long as the rack of ages. Some of the spindle walls date back to the days of Augustine Washington. It is probable that 700 years from now the mansion will still be standing as a cradle of history and shrine of patriotism.

Symptoms of Masonry.

Perhaps at some time or other when you have visited Mount Vernon you have been impressed by the methodical arrangement of the house spinning house, kitchen, office, gardener's house, seed and trellis house, apprentice shop, laundry, smokehouse and other outbuildings. History believes that George Washington, the leading Mason of his day, designed the layout of his estate buildings to represent the outlines of Masonic symbols. The modern architect who files his plans for Mount Vernon may be able to recognize the numerous insignia scattered in structures of brick and stone.

Even though Mount Vernon were not the former home of one of the world's greatest generals and one of America's most beloved Presidents, it would still merit historical preservation as an example of superior Colonial architecture and an illustration of successful scientific farming. George Washington devoted many years of study and effort to the perfection of his Potomac plantation. He built his so well and wisely that modern planners and designers do not err when they copy some of his schemes and arrangements. In the Chicago suburbs an American millionaire has a remarkably fine reproduction of Mount Vernon on his country estate. It fronts on one of the "Gold Coast" highways, speckled with the best homes which American architecture can devise and build. The simulation of Mount Vernon is outstanding among the mansions, many of which cost double and treble as much.

It was from his half-brother Lawrence that George Washington inherited the 2,500-acre homestead which was later a part of spacious Mount Vernon. George subsequently purchased the interest of Lawrence's wife in the estate and at the age of twenty-one became the sole owner and proprietor of one of the Old Dominion's finest plantations. The young landlord purchased adjoining acres until he finally possessed a plantation of 8,000 acres. One-half of the area consisted of timber.

Five Farms on Estate.

George Washington divided his fields and forests into five farms, which he designated as Mansion Home farm, River farm, Union farm, Dogue Run farm, and Muddy Hole farm. He placed a foreman in charge of each farm, with a manager over-seeing the entire enterprise. The manager was responsible to Washington and reported in detail every Saturday.

Do not gain the incorrect impression that George Washington was a "front porch farmer" because he hired an agricultural manager to look after his farming interests. Washington was called away from home so frequently that it was imperative that he keep some one on the estate to look after his interests. While our first President was at home he worked as hard as any farm hand. His day began at sunrise, when he fared forth to see that his farm hands were at their stations on time. After breakfasting at 7, Washington would spend the morning riding over his farming fields, seeing to it in person that his orders were faithfully executed. He also kept all the farming records and accounts, wrote the daily happenings in special agricultural diaries and generally took charge of the business affairs of the great plantation.

Mount Vernon Flour Famous.

George Washington remodeled and improved the old grist mill at Mount Vernon and developed a profitable system of marketing the wheat and other bread grains which he raised and made into flour or baked ship biscuits. A creek, a tributary of the Potomac, provided the power to turn the cumbersome millwheel and also served as a waterway for navigation. Sailing ships from the seven seas came up the river and creek from the Atlantic and moored at Washington's mill wharf, where they loaded cargoes of flour and our reined biscuits. When the prices of wheat and flour were low Washington had his colored cooks bake stupendous supplies of ship biscuits which were packed in barrels and sold to the mariners as nutritious provisions.

The Mount Vernon flour mills produced a fine quality product. Its fame gained such importance in the British Isles that the English custom officers eventually passed all of Washington's flour on the basis of its weight and label without opening and examining each shipment. Washington's diaries record that at times he sold as many as 1,000 barrels of flour in one cargo.

Bein' Scrubbed by Dad

"There's lots of things my Dad can do
That Mother can't, I know—
But she can do one thing or two
Where he don't stand a show
Of ever learnin' Mother's way,
If he'd try, years and years.
But he is worst of all, I'd say,
At scribbin' out my ears!

"He'll look at me, and say 'Come here,
And let me scrub that face!
And then he'll look behind an ear
'And say, 'Now there's a place
I think we surely ought to scrub—
And then his fun begins.
For every time he starts to rub,
He nearly always grins.

"I know I make an awful face,
But, golly, so would he.
If I could make him take my place
And be scrubbed hard like me,
If I could hold him by the chin,
If he holds on to mine,
I'd scrub his skin till it was thin—
I'd make it burn and shine.

"And then when I had chased the dirt
Of all that I could see,
I'd pinch his cheeks until it hurt—
Just like he does to me!
And then I'd grin and say, like Dad,
'I guess you're clean enough.'
And then I know that he'd be glad,
'Cause I would treat him rough."

Provides Splendid View

The newly constructed railway of the recently opened, ten miles from Ann Arbor to the Toledo and Erie Canal, provides a splendid view of the river and the surrounding country. The passenger is taken some 5,000 feet above sea level within an hour, since he can walk on to a platform, which is about 7,000 feet high. The view from there is one of the most beautiful in the American Alps.

Movements of Waves

Roughness of waters depends to a large extent upon prevailing weather conditions as well as configuration of the coastline and of the ocean bed. The ocean as a whole is, not necessarily rougher than a small body of water forming a sea. Many inland lakes may become extremely rough during a prevailing storm. For instance, the English channel, a narrow and partially inclosed body of water, is known to be one of the roughest in the world. Undoubtedly waves attain a greater height in the open ocean during a storm.

Scot First Brought

Navel Orange North

The United States owes the successful introduction of the navel orange to the late William Saunders, horticulturist. It is not certain, however, that the trees which were introduced by Mr. Saunders were the first which had been brought to the United States.

though they were the first to come into successful bearing. The late Thomas Hogg of New York, in an account published in 1888, stated that about 1835 a wealthy Scotch planter in Brazil determined to transport his slaves and remove with them to the United States. He settled on an island in middle or southern Florida and then returned to Brazil and secured a collection of plants for introduction, which he consigned to Mr. Hogg, who at that time conducted a nursery at the corner of Broadway and Twenty-third street, New York city. Among these plants were several navel orange trees. After the plants had been held in a green house for a year, in order to allow them to recover from the effects of the long sea voyage which they had undergone, they were forwarded to the owner in Florida. During the Seminole war the owner was charged with giving aid and comfort to the enemy, and the entire collection of plants was destroyed by the United States troops. The owner then moved to Haiti.

Nature Will Out

The gods were once disputing whether it was possible for a living being to change its nature. Jupiter said "Yes," but Venus said "No."

So, to try the question, Jupiter turned a cat into a maiden, and gave her to a young man for a wife. The wedding was duly performed, and the young couple sat down to the wedding feast.

"So," said Jupiter to Venus, "show me how she behaves. Who could tell that yesterday she was but a cat?"

"Wait a minute," replied Venus, and let loose a mouse into the room. No sooner did the bride see this than she jumped up from her seat and tried to pounce upon the mouse. "Ah, you see," said Venus, "nature will out."—Aesop.

French City Supplies

Perfumes of Quality

The little town of Grasse of 10,000 inhabitants, picturesquely situated on the French Riviera, is the greatest center in the world for the making of scents and perfumes.

During the past year the quantity of flowers used for the making of perfumes reached the total of 10,000,000 pounds. Included were orange blossoms, violets, jasmine, roses, tuberoses, carnations, cassia, mimosa, tiglonette and wallflowers. Thirty thousand pounds of roses are required for a single quart of essence of rose.

Called the "City of Scents," Grasse began its perfume making away back in the sixteenth century, when Queen Catherine de Medici sent an expert to Grasse with the purpose of "founding a laboratory." The city's busiest period is from May to July. Then visitors are shown great shallow vats of liquid lard or some other equally basic preparation, upon which large quantities of flowers are laid, so that the greasy substance underneath may absorb any essence coming from these floral heaps.

When this process takes place the mass of fat is boiled down and other liquids are mixed with it, liquids having special properties for strengthening and retaining the particular perfume desired. Then comes the time to bottle, pack and transport the fragrant scents. No less than 400 factories are engaged in scent making in Grasse, which gives employment to 50 per cent of the population.

Far From Perfect

"Why don't you call me a donkey and have done with it? You've hinted at it long enough," said the pecked husband.

"It wouldn't be quite true," replied Mrs. Meek.

"I suppose not. I haven't ears long enough for that animal."

"Oh, yes, you have. You don't need longer ears."

"What do I need then?"

"Two more legs and a better voice."

EYESIGHT

Optical Progress

It was not so many years ago, after all, when a person of limited means and in need of glasses was simply "out of luck". Spectacles were only for those who could pay the price—and they were mighty crude things at that.

Today, corrected curve lenses of marvelous accuracy, and with a wide field of vision, are available at prices anyone can afford.

Tinted lenses and bifocals are adding their bit to the comfort of spectacle wearers, while frames and mountings reflecting modern tendencies and design make possible the selection of styles to match one's individuality.

We are equipped with the most modern instruments for examining eyes and carry a
