The Christmas Tree

I am a Christmas tree. I am not the kind that is all aglow one day in the year and then is cast aside and forgotten. I am a sturdy evergreen which took root in this community long ago, grew as it grew slowly, then flourished in its days of prosperity until now I stand as a landmark for the community throughout the year. But as a Christmas tree I bear upon my branches gifts for all of you. My gifts are these: News—all the news for all the people all the time; clean news, wholesome news, news of hope and not of despair; the kind of news that you can read and talk over around the family circle; Ideals and Faith and Courage—ideals toward which to strive to make our community a better place in which to live, faith in the essential righteousness and honesty of our people, courage in upholding the cause of justice and condemning the wrong; Leadership and Progressiveness and Service—leadership in those causes which make for the good of our community, progressiveness in seeing beyond the immediate need and the immediate fulfillment of that need; service to the community in protecting its people from danger and fraud and sorrow. These gifts I bear for all of you—for your schools, your churches, your public institutions, your homes, your children and for each and every one of you as individuals. All these gifts that are freely yours to have throughout the year, I offer you again at this glad season of peace on earth, good will and happiness to all. For I am a Christmas tree. I am your HOME PAPER.

H. B. Murphy Is Host
At Venison Supper

Through the courtesy of H. B. Murphy, members of the local Knights of Pythias Lodge were very pleasantly entertained at a venison supper at their hall Monday evening.

Mr. Murphy has the reputation of being one of Chelsea's most successful businessmen, and, true to form, returned again this season with a prize deer.

Through his unselfish desire to let the home town boys in on some of the pleasure of a hunting expedition, he announced his intention of being host to the K. of P. Lodge at an event of this kind.

Invitations were issued last week to all members of the order, and when the supper hour arrived Monday evening seventy men were present to partake of the sumptuous banquet which was prepared by Mr. Murphy and a committee appointed by him. The menu consisted of venison, mashed potatoes and brown gravy, bread and butter, celery, pickles, coffee and ice cream.

Following the banquet Ellsworth Hoppe acted as toastmaster, and after making a few remarks called upon H. D. Witherell for a short talk.

Mr. Witherell took for his subject "The True Spirit of Pythianism," eulogizing the unselfish spirit of the host in providing a social event of this nature for the lodge. Conrad Lehman also gave a short talk.

The committee which assisted Mr. Murphy in preparation and serving the banquet were O. D. Luick, Joseph Wright, John Frymuth, Albert Winans and Roy Dillon.

AWARDED $1500. DAMAGES
Mrs. Rachel Morofsky of Chelsea was awarded $1500 by the circuit court jury in Ann Arbor, Monday, for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on US-12 near Ann Arbor last summer. The defendants were Holmes Motor Sales, Joseph Carvell and Otis Ware, all of Battle Creek.

Mason Whipple Injured
When Struck By Auto

Mason Whipple, of Lima, suffered a broken hip and Wm. R. Lancy received slight injuries about eight o'clock Sunday evening when they were struck by an automobile driven by David Fay, of Jackson, as they were standing near the pavement at Lima Center.

Immediately preceding the accident the car in which Mr. Whipple and his daughter, Mrs. Adolph Seitz, were driving, was struck by a car driven by John Reule, of Jackson, as they turned onto the Lima road from US-12. Mr. Whipple was taken to University hospital, Ann Arbor.

ASSOCIATIONChance For Veterans
To Work On Census

Information received by Herbert J. McKune Post, No. 31 of The American Legion quotes a letter from Congressman Louis Ludlow of Indiana to O. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the Legion, calling attention to the fact that honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, or marines, and widows of such, are to be given preference in obtaining positions as census enumerators.

"Any veteran, or veteran's wife, or widow who desires appointment may secure an application blank by writing to Wm. M. Stewart, the director of the census, Washington, D. C.," the post official said. "Veterans should be careful to state their military service when they make out the blanks."

The letter from Congressman Ludlow to the national commander points out two paragraphs from the instructions to supervisors sent out by the Census Bureau, as follows:

"Par. 68. Appointment of enumerators non-political. All appointments should be made solely with reference to the fitness of the person appointed and without reference to the political party affiliations."

"Par. 69. Military service: In making appointments preference must be given whenever possible, to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, or marines, and widows of such, and to the wives of injured soldiers, sailors, and marines, who themselves are not qualified, but whose wives are qualified to hold such positions."

Congressman Ludlow said approximately 100,000 enumerators will be chosen to take the census throughout the country. The rates of pay will be such that an enumerator of average industry can earn from $5 to $8 per day during the period of enumeration. It is reasonable to expect, according to Ludlow, that under a reasonable interpretation of the instructions of the Secretary of Commerce, as set forth, 50,000 or more of these positions will be available to veterans and widows.

When the application blanks are received from the veterans and widows by Mr. Stewart, he will refer those that meet his approval to the census supervisors of the various census districts who have authority to select the enumerators and notice of appointments will be sent by the supervisors to the applicants.

METHODIST HOME

J. Reed Giddings received a visit Sunday from his son, Kenneth E. Giddings, of Saginaw.

Mrs. George Lockwood and Miss Stabile of Ypsilanti were callers at the Home Sunday. Mrs. Lockwood is a member of the Board of Managers and has a deep interest in all matters pertaining thereto.

Mrs. Bernice Parks' many friends will be pained to learn that she is in the hospital at Ann Arbor for observation and treatment.

Mrs. George Bangs is again at the tables after an absence of some weeks. We are glad to see her improved condition.

C. F. Awtell and sister, Miss Ellen Awtell, together with Mr. and Mrs. V. Coughlin, all of Holloway, were callers on Miss Esther Fish, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ackerman and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, all of Detroit, called on the former's mother, Mrs. Sarah Ackerman, Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Riddle is visiting her relatives in Dearborn.

Arthur, Lyle and Cecil Champion and Frances Wall of Detroit were callers at the Home, Sunday evening. They brought a large supply of Christmas cards for the use of the family.

The gift was from the Circle of the Nardin-Park church of that city. The grounds of the Home are not very appropriate for spooners as there are too many looking from the windows and laughing at their antics. The loving couples attract more attention than they imagine.

Mrs. H. Walter Haller of Ann Arbor and Mrs. S. S. Bradley of New York City were callers on Miss Elizabeth McArthur, Wednesday.

We are pleased to notice that Mrs. Amelia Lewis is some improved so she is around.

Mrs. Robtoy's visitors Sunday were Mrs. Wm. Riggs and daughter, Audrey, of Belleville; Miss Stella Wright of Ypsilanti and Miss Helen Turner of Moorville.

Saline—The business men of this village at a meeting held last week, appointed a committee to perfect a plan for the purpose of organizing a credit bureau.

Christmas Furniture

There is no gift that has more intrinsic value or that gives more pleasure and satisfaction than good furniture; and there is no place in Michigan where you can get as much quality furniture for your money as you can at Chas. Wuerth & Co. We have no competition! We don't want you to accept this statement; we want you to test it. Learn about construction; learn about quality; examine our furniture—then you will recognize real furniture values! "How can you do it?" "What's wrong with it?" "How can you sell furniture so much cheaper than other stores?" We are asked these questions a dozen times a day. Believe your eyes we are doing it and doing it every day—better furniture for less money! We are factory representatives; we buy in large quantities direct; we sell for cash at short profits, and results are proving to us that our policy is sound. We cater to no class; Ann Arbor's wealthy people as well as those of more moderate means are finding that they can get the best of Wuerth's without paying the penalty of exclusiveness.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I have a few questions which have been arguing over for the week or two, and it has been decided to leave the answer to your department for a decision. (1) What are the directions when one is directly over the North Pole? (2) How does one know when they are directly over the North Pole? (3) When was the compass first put into actual use, and who was the inventor? (4) Why do teachers claim that Christopher Columbus discovered America when he never saw the mainland of North America? (5) Why is religion always a main topic in social conversation? (6) Does the dry law better the country?

Ans.—(1) When standing directly over the magnetic North Pole all directions are south. If outside that particular circle the needle will point to the Pole, which, of course, will be north, and its right angles will be east and west. (2) To determine the exact spot of the North Pole it is necessary to have a compass. (3) The compass as now used became a recognized and practical instrument in 1250 during the time of King Earl Bigor of Sweden, but the inventor's name is unknown. It is a well-grounded belief that the Chinese were the earliest inventors of the compass about the 500 B. C. (4) Christopher Columbus is credited with the discovery of America because the Bahama Islands, where he landed, is a part of the American continent, even though it was not the mainland. (5) Religion is not always a subject of social conversation. It is something that cannot be proved pro or con, and is a matter of belief according to the acceptance and interpretation of the Bible. (6) Whether the dry law is better for the country is a matter of personal opinion.

Ques.—Will you please answer if Sinclair was imprisoned for his part in the oil scandal? If so, can you tell me what the sentence was?

Ans.—Sinclair spent three months in jail last spring and early summer for contempt of court because he refused to answer certain questions propounded to him by the Senate investigating committee concerning the oil scandal.

Ques.—If you are so informal about telling me what I can clean out my head with, as it is all stopped up.

Ans.—Use a vacuum cleaner.

Ques.—I am curious to know why a "baker's dozen" is thirteen. Can you please answer this week?

Ans.—Because of the stringent laws enacted a few centuries ago that regulated the baking and selling of bread, the bakers gave an extra loaf for each dozen in order to avoid all risk of incurring the heavy fine for short measure. This stringent law was passed in England because London bakers were brought into disrepute for short weights and measures.

Ques.—Can you tell me if England is the only country where auto drivers keep the left side of the road?

Ans.—No.—There are 43 nations and colonies whose auto drivers use the left side of the road as their right of way, while sixty countries and colonies favor the right side. England, Sweden, Czechoslovakia and Austria are the leading countries in which auto drivers turn to the left in meeting others. All the countries in the Western Hemisphere keep to the right (except British Honduras, Panama, Paraguay, Argentina, Uruguay and Prince Edward Island in Canada). The Far East follows the British almost unanimously—China, Japan, Siam and even the Philippines. Generally, as a country drives, so drives the colony or protectorate. Nearly all the British colonies follow the mother country's lead. The exceptions are Iraq, Palestine, Canada and British Guiana. Most French colonies keep to the right with France, but Angola has the left driving rule, while Portugal has the right.

Ques.—Who are the members of Hoover's cabinet and how many of them are Quakers?

Ans.—There are no Quakers in Hoover's cabinet. The members are as follows: Secretary of State Stimson, Presbyterian; Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Presbyterian; Secretary of Commerce Lamont, Presbyterian; Secretary of War Hurley, Catholic; Attorney-General Mitchell, Presbyterian; Postmaster-General Brown, Congregationalist; Secretary of the Navy Adams, Universalist; Secretary of Labor News.

Davis, Baptist; Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Methodist. Secretary of the Interior Wilbur is not affiliated with any church.

Ques.—State police gathered in a couple of passenger cars and one large truck loaded with booze near Saline at a late hour Monday night. It is said to have been one of the biggest hauls of the year. —Observer.

Ques.—At a meeting held Saturday afternoon it was decided to discontinue services at the Irwin school house, Sharon, and the services will be held instead at the German Lutheran church, the same to be a community church. Services will start Sunday, December 22, and will be conducted by Dr. Martin, Ann Arbor. It is hoped the meetings will prove of interest to the people of the community and that there will be a large attendance at the opening meeting.

St. Mary's Rally And Win From Grass Lake

St. Mary's opened their 1929-30 season Monday night by defeating the strong Grass Lake American Legion five in a game at St. Mary's hall. St. Mary's led 6-3 at the half and the Legion rallied in the second half to gain a 12-10 lead, making it a very close and exciting game.

The club showed their real stuff when Hoffman came through with five points and Stager two. Wheeler, Stager and Eder played a brilliant defensive game. Tuttle and Kousch displayed their usual fast brand of basketball which aided the team to a victory. The game was exciting and thrilling from the start until Faber discharged the gun at the close.

St. Mary's club plays Manchester next Sunday. Manager Kolb predicts a fast and interesting game. Van's five will play a fast preliminary game at 2:30.

In the preliminary Monday night Van's five lost a hard fought battle to the Grass Lake Celtics. The Lakers were larger and more experienced but due to the excellent defense of Chelsea they were only leading by one point at the half. Winans and Dancer played a wonderful offensive game as well as defensive, but a few lucky shots by Grass Lake forced out a 16-14 score with Grass Lake in the lead. With plenty of scoring opportunities, Chelsea had hard luck on their shots and Grass Lake won. W. Alexander and N. Mayer, playing a nice defensive game, held their men scoreless.

Potts and Conk alternating at right guard proved themselves valuable. Chelsea showed superiority in pass-work and defense but hard luck lost them the game. This is the first time in three years of rivalry that Chelsea has lost to the Celtics, the previous games Chelsea winning by a one-point margin.

Bank At Britton Is Open For Business

With a complete new list of stockholders and directors, the People's State Savings Bank of Britton, which institution closed its doors recently, reopened for business last week Wednesday.

Reorganization of the bank with Edward Frensdorf of Hudson, as president, was announced on Monday of last week. It was also made known at that time that the capital stock of the institution had been purchased by six men, including Mr. Frensdorf, Guy E. Nemire and Kenneth D. Hall of Tecumseh, W. E. Swick of Macon, John J. Walper of Toledo, and John L. Underwood of Britton. At a meeting of the stockholders, Mr. Frensdorf, Mr. Nemire, Mr. Swick, Mr. Walper and Mr. Underwood were named as directors and the directors in turn elected Mr. Frensdorf president and Mr. Nemire vice president.

CHARLES BACHMAN

Charles Bachman, a former resident of Chelsea, died Monday, December 16, at his home in Grand Rapids.

Mr. Bachman had been ill for several days, with heart trouble, and his death came suddenly while he was preparing the morning meal.

He was born June 3, 1866, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bachman, and left Chelsea about 30 years ago, spending several years in the western states.

He is survived by one brother, Seymour Bachman, of South Bend, Washington, and one sister, Mrs. Otis Everhard, of Compton, Calif. Mr. Bachman was a cousin of Mrs. Florence Howlett, of Chelsea, and had many friends here.

SCHOOL NOTES

Tuesday, December 17, our Seniors conducted a chapel period. George Staffan, Jr., announced the numbers. The high school sang two numbers, after which Bernadine Moore read from the Scripture. Mrs. Niehaus played two piano numbers, then "Jerry" Niehaus sang and played his own accompaniment on a guitar. Mr. and Mrs. Niehaus then gave two duet selections. Katharine Fletcher, accompanied at the piano by Mabel Huston, played two Christmas pieces on the marimba. All in all, we had a musically good program.

The final Washtenaw county spelling contest is over. The Chelsea public schools were splendidly represented by the third, fourth and fifth grades which were the only grades from Chelsea to enroll.

In the district contest, Chelsea contestants were all triumphant; Marian Ashfall winning first place in fifth grade, Janet Haselswerdt in fourth grade, and Barbara Schrader in third grade.

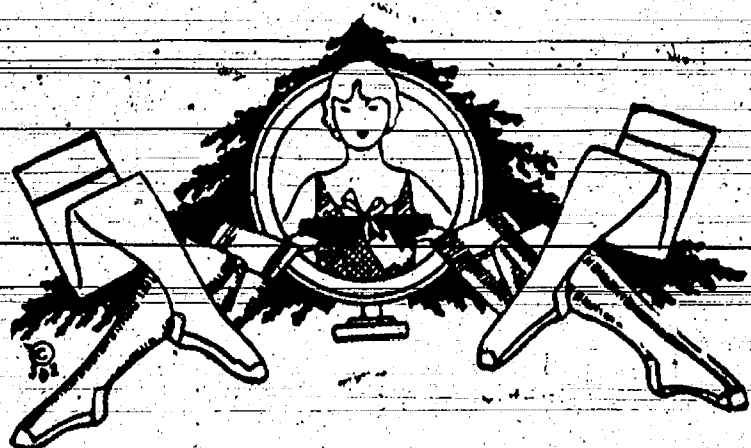

The final contest was held last Saturday in Ann Arbor, and again Chelsea carried off honors. Marian Ashfall of the fifth grade won first place and was awarded a gold medal, and Janet Haselswerdt of the fourth grade won second place and was awarded a silver medal.

The result of the systematic study of the 1,437 words included in the contest list is invaluable to those girls and boys who participated. None had to be urged to study—the thrill of winning was impetus enough.

Severe Storm Sweeps Over This Section

This section of the country was visited by one of the worst pre-Christmas storms in its history. Wednesday, December 18, dawned with a heavy snowfall. In the morning, and later in the day, the storm developed into a blizzard of terrific proportions, and by nightfall traffic was practically paralyzed on country roads, as well as on the streets about town. Buses and trains were running far behind schedule. Telephone and telegraph companies report great damages to their poles in this section.

Snow was still falling this morning, although the wind had abated somewhat. Drifts about town are three and four feet deep, and according to reports the country roads are practically impassable.

Although the storm seems rather severe, it will help to bring Christmas cheer to many families for it will give much-needed employment to thousands of men in clearing city streets, as well as the country highways, of snow.

Of Indian Derivation
The "Piscuora Deep" was so named from the U. S. S. TUCARORA, the vessel under the command of Captain Belknap, which made an expedition to the Pacific for the purpose of studying the ocean bed. The maximum depth was recorded by the TUCARORA in 1874. The name itself is of Indian derivation and literally means "hemp gatherers."

NEWS WEEKLY AND CURIOSITIES

The RIGHT KIND OF A CHRISTMAS TREE
by MARTHA BANNING THOMAS

HERE'S a yellow, spotted horse,
And a pleasant lady tiger
And a pretty doll, of course,
With an elephant beside her,
And a trumpet trimmed with red,
And a silver cup with handles,
And boys of gingerbread,
And about a hundred candles,
And old Santa very fat,
In his eyes a merry twinkle,
And a funny fur-trimmed hat,
And a set of bells that tinkle,
As he moves about the tree
Hanging presents on the branches,
Here's a Noah's Ark that's wet,
And a furry bear that dances,
And a rabbit in a coat,
And a lamb that really gambols,
And a handsome nanny goat,
And a large red cow that gambles,
And a huge rubber ball,
And a tool chest very handy,
And that's not really all,
For there's ever so much candy,
And an eager little boy
In very small pajamas,
His blue eyes wide with joy
As he looks at horns and hammers,
And pop corn chains all clinging
To branches thick and then
The Christmas bells a-tingling
The old songs out again!

If anyone has any information or knows the address of their descendants, please communicate with the dispatch office.

Dispatch.—Santa Claus is going to visit every home in Milan and vicinity during the holidays and spread Christmas cheer in every corner of the community. This is the plan of the American Legion, who this year are again conducting the Community Christmas. Many of the poor and needy families have already been reported to the committee in charge of the work and every one is cooperating with the service men in the hopes that not a single family will be neglected.

Powerville.—A south Handy farmer has been annoyed for the past three years by a badger digging numerous burrows in his fields. Mr. Westphal has been unable to catch him, until one morning last week on going to his trap found Mr. Badger caught. Upon placing the animal on a pair of scales it was found he weighed twenty-three pounds.

Flage on Merchant Vessels.—By an ancient rule of the sea merchant ships fly two flags, on the foremast is the flag of the port to which the ship is bound, and on the stern mast the flag of the ship's country is flown.

Michigan Happenings

A dispatch received at Calumet, stated that Rev. Ulrich Kreutzen, of Calumet, now in China, arrived at Hankow from Tayeh, Hupoh province, apparently none the worse for three weeks spent as the prisoner of bandits, who had held him for ransom. Mr. Kreutzen, freed on payment of $600 in gold after the bandits had demanded from $5,000 to $10,000, on pain of torture and death, said his captors were members of a powerful communist organization. The bandits, he said, had connections throughout the Yangtsi valley with headquarters at Hankow.

The U. S. Department of Justice at Washington, D. C., announced that it had requested the War Department to turn over Camp Custer, near Battle Creek, to it for temporary use to receive competition in the United States Reformatory for first offenders at Chillicothe, O. The Department said that the Chillicothe Reformatory was intended to accommodate 1,300 young men prisoners and already 1,800 had been assigned to the institution. The government is now erecting new buildings at Chillicothe and wishes to use Camp Custer until the construction is completed.

How'd you like to be the father of a couple of football captains? Professor F. E. Robinson, head of the commerce department at Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant, is the father of two members of this year's football squad. One of the team captured this year's eleven, while the other is the captain-elect for next season. The father spoke at a recent banquet at which announcement was made of the election of the second of the Robinson family to lead Central State in football.

Fire, believed to have started in the kitchen, destroyed the Northville Hotel and Cafe. The loss was estimated at about $50,000. The hotel building is a two-story frame structure, was located at Main and Center streets, where it had stood for more than 30 years. It was one of the most popular hotels in Wayne county many years ago, when it was known as the Ambler House, and was a gathering place for Detroiters. It since had been remodeled and its name changed.

Bitten by a tarantula while shopping in a grocery store last June, Mrs. Victoria E. Rice of Battle Creek, brought suit in Circuit Court against the Kroger Grocery Company, claiming damages of $5,000. Negligence on the part of the employees of the store is charged by the woman in her bill of complaint. She charges the spider dropped from a bunch of bananas, stinging her twice on the right arm and that she suffered severely from shock as the result.

Plans are being completed for digging a new oil well in the northeast section of the city of Olathe, it was announced by a group of business men who are financing the project. The contract for digging was let to the Delbert Forney Company of Muskogee, and the work is expected to be completed by January 1. E. E. Hampton, president of the Olathe Development Company, the owners, announced.

Michigan's one-buck deer law will remain unchanged during the present administration, the conservation commission decided at a meeting in Lansing. The decision was reached unanimously after P. E. Lovjoy, director of game, reported a survey has shown that bucks continue to thrive in spite of the fact that they are now the only legal target during the late season gunning of the two-week deer season.

Gordon Guyette, 2-year-old son of F. Guyette, of Vernon, near Owosso, was crushed to death under the automobile driven by Floyd Smith, father of Orion Smith, also 2, who was with the victim. The two boys were riding on their sleds behind another car which turned out when meeting Mr. Smith, jerking the two boys into the path of the approaching car. The Smith boy escaped with minor injuries.

Clarence Twaddell, of Tawas, near Marquette, was killed when a growler saw broke. One fragment struck Twaddell in the forehead, fracturing his skull, while others placed his upper arm and shoulder.

A law that would bar any hunter to kill another from obtaining a hunting license, will be sought by the Michigan Conservation Association, when the next Legislature meets.

Machine guns have been placed in a variety of the old and new Michigan State Police, according to H. Jackson announced at Jackson. While there have been no instances of trouble, installation of the guns was considered advisable as a precautionary measure, the Mice, gnawing on matches, are said to have caused the fire which destroyed the Charles Harger farm home in Algonue, near Coldwater, which drove the occupants into a near-severe night and only in sleeping garments. The home, a landmark, was destroyed.

Jack Cornell, 20, and Stanley Brosey, 21, both of Chicago, were sentenced at Ithaca, by Justice Howard A. Potter to $21 fines or 15 days in jail after they had pleaded guilty of killing pheasants out of season. They choose the jail sentence.

Crushed under a loaded hay rack, Olson Boller, 34 years old, was killed in the yard of a neighbor's mill south of Marion. Boller went there recently from Flint. He leaves the wife and three children.

Hard for Robots and Men We Need Submarines Letting Convicts Read A New Standard Lady

Science piles prodigy on prodigy, miracle on miracle, so rapidly that it thins the average brain.

Professor Partridge, only twenty-six years old, in New York university's chemistry department, is developing a lithium atom bomb. A little while ago you couldn't have got a pound for a million dollars. Lithium is a metal so light that it floats even on kerosene.

Some things float on water,
you know, will not float on kerosene.
Professor McElvish of New York university demonstrates a robot, a mechanical man, with an electric kump in place of eyes, a radio tube in place of a brain, relays and magnets for lungs.

However, it can be shown that no robot can ever develop any new idea.
He who wishes to avoid robot competition should devote himself to developing new ideas and working them out.

From Seattle, the Pacific Aeronautics
Research foundation plans, for next May, a nonstop flight across the Pacific.

Men have flown from Europe to South America, from London to India, across the Atlantic repeatedly, over the North and South poles.
The Pacific alone remains to be conquered.

And only a few years ago Lord Northcliffe offered $50,000 to any one that would fly the English channel.

The Brooklyn navy yard starts work on a new submarine, the V-7, keeping at work 725 men that would have been discharged. This encourages the people to think we may have some intelligent interest in national defense.
Submarines with modern engines can go around the world without taking fuel, traveling on the surface, as they do in peace. A good fleet of really big submarines with heavy guns, knocked down-fighting planes, high speed and long sailing range would do a great deal for peace if they could be sent to visit every important port in the world.
Those well prepared have peace.
The unprepared have war.

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison wise man, says: "I shall let my convicts read in newspapers accounts of the outbreak in the Auburn peniten-entiary. There will be a good deal of buzzing when they read them. But the effect on their morale of withholding the newspapers would be worse than allowing them to see them."

That's an intelligent man. The crazy might be ruling yet had they known enough to let the people know the facts.
Information and discussion supply
a great safety valve.

The warden of Auburn prison, captured by convicts in rebellion, said the convicts of whom many are devoted to the cause of knowledge that if they failed, they would agree to go to the electric chair. In this case, at least, capital punishment did not deter men from murder.

The United States bureau of standards says the ideal woman is now "the perfect 34," not the "perfect 30" of days before the "boyish figure."

If your bust is 36, your waist should measure 31 inches, hips 39 inches.
Thirty-four bust, 28-inch waist, 37-inch hips, is the "standard lady," according to the bureau, which, however, knows nothing about it.

Abraham Lincoln's mother wasn't a "standard 34" nor was "Barth with the big feet," mother of Christening.
For a clock model, the "perfect 34" is ideal, perhaps.

For an efficient mother, which is what counts, bigger busts, bigger waists, bigger hips.

Somebody supposed to be an expert says that the United States will manufacture in 1930, 1,000,000 fewer automobiles than in 1929.

That prediction, probably mistaken, is not creditable to the people's intelligence.
Many things a family can do without, but no family, properly organized can do without a good automobile.

The country, apparently, is still doing business "Big Steel." Wall Street's name for the United States Steel corporation, shows unfilled orders for steel tonnage increased by 38,788 tons last month.

The company has a total of unfilled orders amounting to 4,125,845 tons, which does not look much like a "panic."

"As a sheep before her shearers is dumb," That's from the Bible.
"As a lamb after its shearer is dumb" may soon be the news in Wall Street. It depends on the rapidly with which the lambs go back for another shearing.

They always do go back, which is what makes brokers' seats worth $500,000 apiece, and will some day make them worth $1,000,000 apiece.

Mr. John Y. F. Moffat, representing the United States at Geneva, signed

MICHIGAN NEWS

Miss Lydia Winn, one of Michigan's oldest residents, recently celebrated her 102nd birthday at the Duttonia home in Marshall. She received telegrams of congratulations from both President Hoover and Governor Green. Miss Winn is able to sit up a part of each day, although a broken hip which she suffered after she was 100 years old keeps her in bed a good share of the time. Miss Winn suffered a broken hip at the age of 97, but fully recovered from its effects.
It was broken again a year ago last summer.

By teaching of the three R's, citizenship and cleanliness in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson, where five classrooms are being provided for daily prison schools, Harry H.
Jackson, warden, hopes to accomplish the reform of hundreds of men delivered by the state as "criminals."
Illiterates will be taught to write.
Aliens will be educated as to the importance of the American Constitution, and others who owe their downfall to drink or drugs, will be taught to avoid these evils.

old, entered the Michigan State Pris-

When Every Day Is Christmas

By Jane Grey Syme

EVERY day is Christmas
To the happy heart who knows
The joy of loving service,
And the art of blessing foes;
Whose right hand never knoweth
The left hand's kindly deeds,
Who gathers fruit of unselfed love
Through meeting human needs.

Every day is Christmas
To the happy heart who knows
Spring buds and flowers are forming
'Neath frozen, shimmering snows;
Who sees behind sin's coat of mail
God's child, divinely free; Whose life is "peace, good will toward men,"
Who loves humanity.

Sincere
Good Wishes

To those who have favored us with their patronage large or small, during the past year and to all the people of our entire community. We thank you most heartily for your 1929 patronage and look forward in pleasant anticipation of continuing our pleasant relations with each of you on through the New Year.

After Santa's Visit

MARY had a way of accomplishing the impossible.
She could think of more different things to do about a situation than anyone else in the world. At least Dick thought so. But now came a time when even she had to give up. There would be no Christmas tree for little Betty and Joe. There couldn't be.

In the first place they lived in a rattier barren town far from Christmas trees. They neither grew nor were sold within a hundred miles.
This was the family's first winter in the place, as Dick had been sent out by his New York firm on an engineering job.

Dick had been so busy he scarcely had a moment at home. His job had reached a critical point. Putting it through meant everything—moving away from the town, more money, better chances for bigger work. Then the day before Christmas he had thought about the tree. Mary said quietly she had been trying to get one everywhere, but had failed. "Leave it to me, Dick," she smiled. "Somehow we'll have a tree for the children, if it's no more than a feather duster-trimmed with popcorn."

He came in very late Christmas eve.
The house was dark and quiet. Mary was asleep so he asked no questions about the tree.
Next morning he was awakened by screams and squalors of the children.
They were out doors. Dick ran to the window to see what was the matter. There a sight met his eyes that he would never forget.
The children and Mary were dancing around the loveliest tree he had ever seen in his life. It was not spruce, pine, fir or hemlock. It was, or had been until
this transformation,
a scraggy old apple tree. Now it looked like something out of fairyland. Mary had cut up yards and yards of paper and crinkled it and thrown it over the bare branches. It looked like snow.
Presents hung from every limb. There were even a few candles. The children shrieked with joy at it.
"No man," said Dick solemnly to himself, "ought to dare to fall with a wife like Mary."
Then he dressed and ran down to about happily with the children.

THE PRINCE of PEACE

In every new-born little child,
In every soul that finds the light,
In every truth that comes to men,
In every conquest of the right,
In every sigh of human love,
That comfort brings to hearts forlorn,
Again the angels wake their songs,
Again the Prince of Peace is born.
And they who hope, and work with cheer,
And bear in patience what they must,
And wait for sorrow's far-off fruit,
And fill their lives with lowly trust,
Their eyes made clear from films of sin,
By faith's pure love, and love's increase,
Shall always see the star that lights
The birthplace of the Prince of Peace.
And they whose loving wills are one,
With that sweet life which is the law,
I round about their feet shall shine
A light that angels never saw,
And they who cherish child-like hearts,
And keep their natures fresh as morn,
Shall every day hear angels sing,
"Today the Prince of Peace is born."

CHRISTMAS WONDER

by PATIENCE EDEN

If there is no wonder in Christmas, then there is no Christmas! Wonder is another name for the holiest, brightest, merriest, most sacred season of the year.

Wonder that fills the heart as light and music filled the sky that cold frosty night of the first Christmas, when angels hovered over the fields beyond Bethlehem, and gave the humble shepherds assurance of good cheer.

Wonder which the Wise Men felt as they silently followed the star to the door of the place where Mary had laid her child.

Wonder of the dumb beasts which stood in the stable of the inn.

The sweet wonder of Mary herself as she bent soft eyes on the beautiful babe, born in poverty and heir to all the ages.

Wonder of all, high and low, who found their way to the manger, bringing gifts and adoration.

And in our time, wonder of the world we live in.

Wonder and gratitude for the loyalty of friends and the unquenchable courage of hearts that bear all things with fortitude.

Wonder and gratitude for our own opportunities and responsibilities, which open up larger vistas for a fuller life.

Wonder—Christmas wonder which includes the miracle of The Christ Child nearly two thousand years ago, and now!

Merry Christmas!

Football Squad Shares Honors With Standard In National Publicity

The December 7th issue of the Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly trade paper published by the Western Newspaper Union, circulation of which extends to every newspaper office in the United States, contained an article talking of the special football section in the November 28th issue of The Standard. The article, in part, as it appeared in The Auxiliary, follows: Chelsea is one of the many towns in Michigan that is mighty proud of the record made by the high school football squad in the season just closed. A concrete example of this feeling was demonstrated in The Chelsea Standard, issue of November 28th. Eighteen of the leading business firms in Chelsea used two pages of the Standard in that issue to offer their congratulations to the team.

An Order for Christmas

Elizabeth Hart
in Copper Farm

My Order for Christmas?

Oh, yes, it is billed—

I hope every item

Is carefully filled.

It is quite a jumble—

I really admit.

For when one is started

Who knows where to quit?

And storm I ordered,

With sleds, skates and toys.

A houseful of cousins,

Aunts, uncles—and noise.

Roast turkey, and holly,

And greetings most gay—

With the spirit of Christmas

To hallow the day.

JOE'S CHRISTMAS DAY

By Anna
Porter Johnson

MY Grandpa says on Christmas Day

He wants all and things put away.

The house must be check-full of boys

And girls, and games, and fun, and noise.

One time I said to him quite low,

"Say Grandpa, may I bring home Joe?"

In all his life, I heard Joe say,

"He's never had a Christmas Day!"

Grandpa just squeezed my hand so tight,

And shut his eyes like it was night,

And then he rolled down his cheek—

I guess my Grandpa's eyes are weak.

"Why, bless your heart, of course you may.

We'll give him a great Christmas Day!

Bring all the girls and boys you know,

And don't forget to bring home Joe!"

When I told Joe, his face got red,

And while he and then he rubbed his head

And blinked his eyes and shook all through.

He couldn't think 'twas really true.

But when we got to Grandpa's—say,

He surely had a Christmas Day!

My Grandpa knows new things to do—

He said he'd be Joe's Grandpa, too!

HELLO, 1930!

We are ready for you and feel happy over the opportunities we believe you hold. Be good to our friends—provide them with health and happiness and prosperity and we'll be happy. Friends, everywhere, we thank you and wish you well.

The Season's Greetings

Merry Christmas -- 1929

And now comes Christmas with all its attendant surprises, joys, smiles and words of cheer. How glad we are that it is here! It affords us the welcome opportunity for a heart-to-heart good-will message to our friends.

We turn aside from the cares and the problems of the work-a-day life and think only of our friends and what they have meant to us. And as we do so our hearts are filled with gratitude and thanksgiving.

Chief among the assets of this business we list the friends we have made in the years past. The loyalty, the good-will and the constant faithfulness of these friends accounts for the progress we have made.

Feeling as we do, there is nothing too good we can wish for you during the happy yuletide. May pleasant memories cluster about you, may your happiness be complete and of sufficient volume to last you through all the days of the New Year. We thank you one and all!

Babe of Bethlehem

By William C. Campbell
In Los Angeles Times

*WE COME adoring, as of yore
The Wise Men came, and ever more,
As time rolls on, a greater throng
Shall join the angels' joyous song:
For unto us this day is born—
In lowly manger most forlorn—
Of sinless Mary, full of grace,
The sweetest babe of radiant face
This sad, old world e'er looked upon,
For He was God and man in one,
The Prince of Peace, the Light, the Way
And hope of all for aye and aye.*

Heart's Desire

I WISH we had some youngsters,
But we ain't;
We'd like to have somebody
Daub and paint
His initials on the wagon shed,
Shave his little sister's head—
But we ain't.

It would surely be a pleasure
Havin' them,
A-fixin' Christmas presents
All for them,
A-makin' ships and what-me-nots,
Little frocks with polka dots,
And entertainin' little tots,
Just for them.

Seems some folks that have them
Rather'd not,
And some, the worse they are,
The more they've got.
Funny how this life is made,
Some of sunshine, some of shade,
But poorly mixed for some who've Prayed
A lot.

Oh, wish we had some kiddies
But we ain't;
I suppose we've not a reason
For complainin',
But to see you buyin' toys
For your laughin' girls and boys, Seems we ought to share your joys
But we ain't.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

“MERRY CHRISTMAS, grand-father!”—a deep, young voice called out merrily. “Same to you, Billy,” the answer came back; “and a great many more of them, too!”

“Gee! I like that last, grandfater. It—it sort of adds the right touch to the other. You—you would never hear a modern say that, would you?” Here Billy paused.

“Do you know,” he went on in a moment, “that sets me thinking that after all the old ways were not bad?”

“Well, Billy, the old days were good days and we were not the slow, dumb crowd—some of the moderns think we were. But the new days are good days, and I am glad I lived to see this age.”

“Why, Billy?” the old man grow excited as he went on, “this generation has accomplished wonders. Think of the facts that have been done of late. And there are as many heroes as ever before. This year I have been clipping news items from the papers about heroic deeds, and I have a record here of nearly a hundred deeds of sacrifice and heroism. I don't think any age could have beat that very much.”

Billy's eager blue eyes glistened. Bashfully he reached out his hand and put it over the worn old hand that lay on the arm of the chair. “Thanks, grandfater,” he acknowledged huskily. “You're right. We may seem to be a hurrying, rather selfish crowd now-a-days, but—hitt, when it comes to the real test, we can deliver the goods. And in spite of the masks we wear we've got a lot of sentiment left.”

“Christmas answers that, Billy,” the old man said slowly. “We need only look around us to see that men and women are just as they always were—and, maybe, just a little bit better.”

Christmas Poem

By FOLGER MCKINSEY

BEHIND the bangles on the tree a fairy sits and sings
And if you closely look you'll see it has exquisite wings.
Its little eyes are sunny bright,
And laughingly they glow,
To help the very lovely light
That kisses all below.

Each bangle has its fairy true, and each of them; you see,
Is part and parcel of the love and life of Christmas glee.
For fairy things are life and love
So delicate and fine,
That guided by a grace above
With heavenly grace they shine.

On Christmas night when candle rays are thrown around the room
To make the tree a loveliness amid encircling gloom,
'Tis jolly fun to watch and wait
To see the fairies gleam,
Open their little thrones of state
Like little stars of dream.

But afterwards they slowly fade, and one by one they go
To slumberland and slumberland across the Christmas snow.
But every time they light the tree
They'll surely shine and sing
Behind the lovely ornaments
That on the branches swing.

When the Message of CHRISTMAS BELLS

sounds out in gladness through the frosty air our own best wishes go along to you for a Christmas time of unalloyed pleasure among friends and loved ones.

IT AIN'T THE GIFT

"I AIN'T the gift-a feller gift, It ain't the shape nor size, 'Tat sets the heart in beatin' an' puts sunshine in the eye."
"It ain't the value of the thing, Nor how it's wrapped nor tied, It's something else inside from this That makes you glad inside."
"It's knowin' that it represents A love both deep an' true That comes carryin' in the leaves An' 'nights to slip to you."
"It's knowin' that they love you, An' that all you've done is bring Joy-joy 'n' 'nights 'n' all the things They really long to say."
"So it ain't the gift-a feller gift, Nor how it's wrapped nor tied, It's knowin' that folks love you That makes you glad inside."

"Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

by W. H. Moore

"PIPE, and a book, and a broad arm-chair. Small fingers that deeply curl and crook. In mine as I'm sitting contentedly there. In the shadows and lights of the ingle nook. The life in her corner, at myointed ease. The street noises distantly whine and drone. 'Tis the hour for commiseration and reveries. When, horror of horrors, there jangles the phone."
"Who is it? What! Says Claus Well, I declare! So long since I've heard from you. . . I don't know when. . . You're both of us busy, I'm here and you're there. . . But I'm awfully glad to hear from you again."
"What's that? You're in trouble. . . so many in need. . . So many who're helpless and hopeless and ill. . . And as you want help. . . and I'm certain, indeed, . . . It is true, 'n' I'll mail you a five-dollar bill."
"What's that? There's a widow with five little ones Whom only the pittance of charity keeps! And that it because naked poverty runs While self-satisfied charity sluggishly creeps. Now listen a minute: I'm ready to give. As much as I can when I know where and when The money is going. These people must live. And so I'll increase that five dollars to ten."
"And now there's another! A man old and blind And his feeble old wife in a garret bare; What is there for these that Old Santa can find To lighten the hopelessness settled there? Now wait: I've been thoughtful and careless, unkind. . . But stopped in selfishness up to my neck. . . Now I'll send what your message has brought to my mind. . . First thing in the morning I'll send you a check."

The Christmas Pie

By MARY BLAIR in Rural New Yorker

"TOMMY'S mother made a pie, A Christmas pie she baked, And Tommy thought that pie the best At which he ever looked. It was of pumpkin yellow, . . . And glistened for some pop, And Tommy thought that that big pie Was too good to be kept. So he journeyed to the pantry, . . . When his mother was that night, To see if he could not partake Of just a tiny bite. He stuck one finger in it, To taste of just one nick, And then the other followed To get another lick. But he heard his mother coming, And with a stifled cry, He turned to run but tripped and fell, Right in the pumpkin pie. Arrived the Christmas dinner, A different pumpkin pie. But where was Tommy's portion? He had no pumpkin pie. So listen all ye children, From this moral Tommy swerved, 'If you would eat of Christmas pie, Just wait 'til it is served.'"

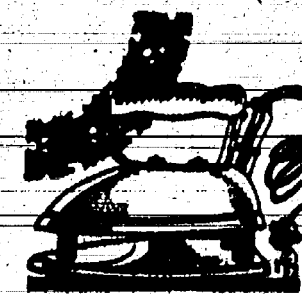

ESCAPED CONVICT GIVEN PARDON FOLLOWING INJURY

The balance Edward Fines owes society has been charged off the books. With the approval of Governor Green and Arthur D. Wood, pardon commissioner, a discharge was issued Friday showing he has completed his prison sentence, although he actually served one year of a ten year term. Fines was convicted in Flint, in 1918, for manslaughter following an altercation with knives in which his opponent was fatally wounded. He was sentenced to Ionia reformatory. A year later he escaped. It is believed he remained for several years in the vicinity of Ionia. At any rate, he finally turned up in an Ann Arbor hospital, an automobile accident necessitating the amputation of both legs and an arm. Fines now is at the Washtenaw county poor farm.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

A recent issue of the Stockton (California) Daily Evening Record contained an article telling of the appointment to a Rhodes scholarship for three years at Oxford of Harry R. Hoppe, a former Sylvan resident. The item follows:

Harry R. Hoppe, '29, University of California, son of R. D. Hoppe, well-known railroad construction engineer, has been named a candidate for appointment to a Rhodes scholarship for three years at Oxford. This appointment has been made by reason of the student's enviable record in the college of letters and science. Students nominated for this honor have been chosen on the basis of intelligence as displayed in scholastic standing and conversation, their personal qualifications and moral standing. A final test will be given in December to definitely determine the appointments to be made.

When Donald Van Hoever, of Kalamazoo, stopped on U. He changed his mind, however, when three men got out of the car, stuck a gun in his face and relieved him of $25.

Charles Phaylan of Scottville can thank his hound for his life. Phaylan was aroused at 4 o'clock one morning by his dog frantically pawing at the bedclothes and licking his face.
