FALL PLOUGHING

It's time to start your fall ploughing—it will be an easier and better job if you use a new Oliver plow—No. 9XX for the tractor; No. 26 for rolling or hilly ground; No. 41 Slog, or No. 51 high lift for level ground; No. 99 walking —the all-purpose plow.

Genuine Oliver plows are leaders everywhere. They satisfy because they do better work, and cost less to operate (lower price repairs). Samples of each style on our floor for your selection.

REMEMBER! We are sole agents for Oliver and have the only Genuine Oliver Repairs in this territory. Genuine Oliver repairs fit better and wear better. They cost no more!
When quality merchandise can be sold for less we will be first to lower the price—is our sincere pledge to you.

$250 BOY SCOUT DRIVE STILL SHORT OF GOAL; CAMPAIGN CONTINUED

Members of Local Troop Have Meeting With Executive; Special Camp Announced

Business men behind the drive to raise $250 for Boy Scout activities in Chelsea the coming year said today that while satisfactory progress was being made, the campaign is still considerably short of its goal. Several members of the committee have been out of the city part of the week and their reports probably will not be available until Saturday.

That considerable impetus to the Scout movement among local boys has been created by the interest shown in their work was evidenced by activities in the camp this week.

Foster Beissel, Ren Hutzel, Chas.
Nicholas and James Panarites, Harold Kiltz, Glenwood and Philip Novoss, Dudley Foster, Paul Rogers, M.
McGaffigan, Kenneth Gilbert, L. Dean Hawley and Herbert Wallace, members of Troop 1, Chelsea Boy Scouts, spent Monday evening at Johnson Lake. Wallace Watt, scout executive, was present, also Louis Loigosh of Ann Arbor who rendered a war song in Chinese and translated it.

Nearly all the members passed tests in cooking and fire-building. Games and swimming were enjoyed and the meeting closed with the reading of the Scout oath, laws and benediction.

A special three-day Boy Scout camp has been announced for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 22 to 24, at Camp Newkirk near Dexter.
The camp will be for the benefit of farm boys who were unable to attend the regular camp session.

The program will include a majority of the features of the regular camp session. The Scouts will be given opportunity to learn the requirements for second and first class Scout tests and the various merit badges. An experienced staff will be in charge, with Scout Executive Wallace F. Watt at its head.

The cost of the camp for the three days has been set at two dollars per boy. Boys who attended the regular session will be eligible. Application may be made to Boy Scout headquarters, 324 E. Huron St., Ann Arbor.

Brucker Postpones Visit to August 23

The appearance in Chelsea of Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, which was originally scheduled for August 14, and then postponed, is now expected to take place Saturday, August 23.

According to reports from Ann Arbor, the candidate will make a two-day campaign in Washtenaw county, beginning with a speech at Ypsilanti on August 22. The following day he will speak in Chelsea, Ann Arbor and other places.

F. B. DeVine, Ann Arbor attorney, who is in charge of arrangements, has announced that the Brucker party will carry with it a band around the circuit.

Other Washtenaw towns on the itinerary are Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, Bridgewater and Saline.

Reunions Continue to Lead Social Events

The annual reunion of the Twamley families was held in Eisenbless grove Saturday, August 9. It was a lovely day and was enjoyed by all present. A bountiful dinner was served at noon. The afternoon was spent in playing ball and swimming in North Lake. There were members present from Royal Oak, Highland Park, Detroit, Dearborn, Romulus, Milan, Ypsilanti and Webster. The day was also made the occasion for celebrating Mrs. Ella Burkhardt's birthday anniversary.

The twenty-fourth annual reunion of the Easton family was held at Bartlett's grove, Pleasant Lake, Jackson county, August 10. A pot luck dinner was served. There were 84 in attendance, the oldest being 84 and the youngest six weeks. Dr. M. S.
Gregory of Oklahoma City gave an interesting talk on the Easton descendants. Those present were from Jackson, Lake Odessa, Grand Blanc, Detroit, Pontiac, Albion, Homer, Rives
Junction, Munith, Coldwater, Lima,
St. Johns, Goodrich, Kalamazoo and Oklahoma City, Okla.

The fourteenth Paul reunion was held at Emanuel Sodi's grove, Pleasant Lake, Sunday, August 10, 1930.
There were 135 persons present. The afternoon was spent in playing games,

Chelsea Standard Enters 60th Year

With this issue the Standard enters its sixtieth year.

For 59 years, fifty-two times a year, someone has regularly looked up the forms in whose metal faces were carved the chronicles of a community, and started the weekly press run—first on a Washington hand press and now on a two-revolution cylinder.

It was in 1871 that Andrew Allison came over from Grass Lake and founded the Chelsea Herald. Henry P.
Baldwin was governor of Michigan.
The state house in Lansing was a two-story brick affair which had cost the state $22,042. Michigan boasted a population of 1,184,282.

Folks who dropped in to "chin" with Editor Allison over the first forms probably found their topic of conversation in "reconstruction," for the South was now emerging from the shambles of war and the entire land was in the process of readjustment.
Down in Washington, Grant of Shiloh smoked stogies in the executive mansion and mighty Blaine was speaker of the House.

Such was the American scene, but Editor Allison probably gave little thought to what part he might have been destined to play in history. A Washington hand press was not conducive to abstract speculations. You had to keep your mind on the business in hand. Imagine the motions involved in printing a single sheet.
First you placed the form on a movable platform, then you grabbed a huge roller made of glycerin, glue and molasses, upon the surface of which you had artistically spread a coat of ink. (If you were worth your salt, you could make the roller in your own shop. The modern printer doesn't even know what they are made of.)

This roller you carefully rolled over the type. Then you dropped the roller and got busy on a crank which brought the platform and type form under the press proper. Then you dropped the crank, grabbed a horizontal lever which applied the "squeeze" and pulled for your life. If you released it too fast, the conblasted lever contraption fell apart and rolled all over the shop. Now you cranked the platform out again, removed the sheet and, assuming that your ink had been mixed just right, the "squeeze" just about so, and the ink evenly distributed, you had a pretty good specimen of printing. The first hundred years were always the hardest.

When the historic Washington was replaced with an improved press is not known, but in 1885 Mr. Allison sold the Herald to Thos. Holmes and it eventually came into the possession of Thos. Mingay, who was well known throughout Michigan.

In 1889 a competitor arose. Wm.
Emmert, Jr., founded the Standard, which was printed at Main and Park streets. In 1891 O. T. Hoover purchased the Standard and later sold to Glenn Stinson, who bought out the Herald and consolidated the two papers in 1905.

A third paper, The Tribune, appeared in 1907 and was eventually absorbed in the present Standard.

Mr. Stinson disposed of the consolidated paper to O. T. Hoover, who actively operated it with A. W. Wilkinson as an associate until 1916, when Mr. Hoover bought his partner's interest and continued as owner until 1920, when the present proprietor assumed control.

County Democratic Convention Sept. 13

The county Democratic convention will be held Saturday evening, Sept.
13, in the court room of the County court house at Ann Arbor, William L.
Waltz, county chairman, announced last week. Plans for the gathering have not been announced.

IT MIGHT SNOW

Saturday afternoon the heavens opened and the rain descended.
"Goosh, that feels good," said a man standing at the corner of Main and Middle, as he bared his head and let the water trickle down the wrinkles in his neck. "How long is it since the last rain, anyway?"
"Darned if I know," his companion, an old settler, replied. "They was a big rain back in—let's see, now. Seems like a fellow name of Noah—"

A third man suddenly recollected something. "Say, I remember reading something about rain. Do you remember the Galveston flood?"
A World War veteran waved a deprecatory hand.
"Them rains you're talking about were just tolerable dew," he said.
"The last time it really rained was that week I was in the trenches.
It rained all year that week. Yes, sir." Any way it rained.

LEGION WINS SECOND GAME BY SHUT-OUT; FINAL TILT MONDAY

Odd Fellows Lose 4-0 After Taking First in "Little World Series" for Standard Trophy

That most exhilarating scene—two baseball teams lined up for battle and a championship hanging on the outcome of a single game is about to be served up for the edification of ball bugs Monday evening when the Legion and Odd Fellows meet in the final and deciding game of the Twilight League season.

Tuesday evening the Legion brought home the bacon, sweeping their opponents, 4-0. Van Giesen, as usual, was on the mound for the Odd Fellows and Ed Miller was the leading man in the veterans' cast. In the first game of the final series, the Odd Fellows won 7 to 1 when their opponents distinguished themselves by a long string of errors.

A record crowd saw the last game and the Standard is informed that rubber guard lines will be thrown about the diamond Monday night to keep the crowd back, the rubber to be furnished by the head-line writer of the Standard, who will re-melt some of his head-line type for the purpose.

In case of rain Monday night, the decisive game will be played Tuesday.

Economy Baler Team Forfeits Chelsea Game

The Independents' scheduled game with the Ann Arbor Economy Balers last Sunday failed to materialize—to the abundant disgust of the local boys, who felt their Sunday wasted because of expectations that the game would be forthcoming. The Ann Arbor team failed to show up.

Next Sunday it is hoped that the Jackson Collegians will be on hand for a game here. The Chelsea management had not been given definite assurance today that the other team would be here but it is believed that they will come. Now that cooler weather has set in, the Sunday afternoon games ought to be an attractive way to spend part of the week-end for local fans.

On the 24th the Independents will play Dexter and on the 31st the feminine version of the national game will be exemplified when the Bloomer Girls come here to play.

Webb-Engle Marriage Rites Set For Today

The marriage of Miss Lucy Jan-nette Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
George Webb of Dexter township, and Mr. S. Lyle Engle, son of Mrs. Katherine Engle of Ann Arbor, will be solemnized at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at North Lake Methodist church, Rev. Harvey Pearce of Flint performing the ceremony.

Miss Margaret Thompson of Grand Rapids will attend the bride as maid of honor, while Frank Engle, brother of the groom, will officiate as best man. The wedding march from Lohengrin will be played by Mrs.
Reuben Steinbach of Jackson. The bride will be given in marriage by her father.

Miss Webb has chosen for her wedding a dress of egg shell flat crepe, made princess style, and her crepe veil, which was imported from Belgium, will be caught with orange blossoms. She will carry a shower bouquet of white roses and gypsophila.
Miss Thompson will wear a gown of light green crepe, and will carry pink roses.

Gladioli and ferns, interspersed with white candles, will form the church decorations. Following the ceremony a three-course dinner will be served at the home of the bride's parents, the guests including about 22 immediate relatives of the bridal couple.

The bride, who graduated from Chelsea high school, class of 1927, and Michigan State Normal, class of 1930, will continue her duties as teacher in Dexter township. The groom, who was a student at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, is now employed as a pharmacist in Ann Arbor.

On their return from a motor trip to northern Michigan and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Engle will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

ARTZ FAMILY REUNION

The Artz family reunion will be held Saturday, August 16, 1930, at Bartlett's grove, Pleasant Lake. Pot luck dinner. Alice Waltz, secretary.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold an ice cream social on the lawn of the Ann Arbor Dairy Co. Saturday evening, August 16.

INDUSTRIAL THREE-IN-ONE
NEWS ITEMS

The Industrial Three-in-One 4-H Club played a return baseball game with the Lyndon 4-H Club at Guy Barton's, Lyndon Center, on Friday evening, August 8.

After a very exciting game the score was 5 to 0 in favor of the Industrial Three-in-One Club.

The canning club girls who went to Dexter to Camp Newkirk have returned and reported that it was the largest group of 4-H girls that have been in camp there yet. The main features on the program were Music Appreciation, Basket Weaving and Swimming. On their last night in camp the girls held a candle lighting ceremony.

Miss Ella Bidwell entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Slater and Miss Florence Carter of Detroit Saturday.

Mrs. Amanda Randall of Kendallville, Ind., and Mrs. Ralph Kimmel of Ypsilanti were callers on Miss Almida Beach Friday.

Mrs. Burton Howe, son Edward and daughter Genevieve and Mrs. Needham, all of Detroit, were callers on their aunt, Mrs. Mary Howe, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moser and grandson of Toledo called on Mrs. Elizabeth Filer Saturday.

Mrs. Caroline Drake entertained her daughter, Miss Fannie Drake, of Ann Arbor over the week-end.

Mrs. Phoebe French returned to the Home Sunday after a four-weeks' visit at the home of her son in Pontiac and at other points.

Mrs. Francis Suter is spending a few days at her old home in River Rouge.

George Hunt entertained his daughter, Miss Alice Hunt, of Oak Park, Ill., over Sunday.

Miss Hunt is engaged in evangelistic work in Chicago and on Monday afternoon gave a very interesting description of her work to a gathering of members of the home.

John O'Connell is in a very weakened condition and is confined to his bed altogether. Sunday his two daughters of Birmingham, Mrs. Jessie Laidlaw and Mrs. Esther Barton, visited with him.

Sunday Mrs. Margaret Riddle received a visit from her daughter, Mrs. Ida Brownley, of Detroit and she returned with her for an indefinite visit.

Mrs. Addie Cook returned from her visit at Jackson. Her sister and husband, Rev. B. Reeve of that city and daughter came with her.

Mrs. Dorothy Colegrove finished her term at the summer school in Ypsilanti last week and she and Dr. Balmer went to Pt. Huron for a few days' visit.

Members of the home propose to keep in touch with the rest of the world with ten radios in the building. They do not let any jazz music, baseball games or sermons get away from them. Their age seems to whet their appetites for such attractions.

Mrs. Mabel Chevelier writes from California that she is enjoying her stay in that state but that she has a longing to get back to "Michigan My Michigan."

Mrs. Jennie (Cranston) Wood passed away Thursday, Aug. 7, after a lingering illness of several weeks' duration. She was born in Livingston county, Mich., Oct. 20, 1847. In July, 1864, she married Joseph M. Wood, who died in July, 1908. She entered the Home Aug. 8, 1915. Services were held in the auditorium Saturday morning conducted by Dr. Balmer. Mrs. Colegrove singing the good old hymn, "Auld With Me." Interment was in Forest Hill cemetery at Ann Arbor. Her sister, Mrs. Ella Higbee, of Grand Rapids and a number of the grandchildren were in attendance.

Mrs. Francis Pool returned Saturday from a month's visit at Pontiac, Romeo and other places.

Mrs. Emma Bedan entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Parish and two children of Midland.

Mrs. Hollapater writes from Missouri, where she is spending her vacation, that her brother is very low and fears are entertained for his recovery.

Mrs. R. J. Bromley of Pontiac visited Sunday afternoon with Miss Harriett Carhart.

Miss Knaggs of Lapier probably will be the next addition to the family circle. She is expected here next month.

News received from D. B. York is that he has so far recovered from his serious illness and operation that he can visit his office. His recovery is good news to all the family.

Miss Rhea Rhinehart was called to her home Monday by the serious illness of her mother.

Mrs. Jennie Wood, who passed away last week, has been in the home for over 15 years. She was the fifty-third member admitted to the list of 235 received. She had seen more than 180 new members welcomed, of whom only 79 are here at present.

LIMA CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Luick and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gross left Monday morning on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands.

SLAT'S DIARY

Friday—well pa and ma including I and Ant Emmy went to a church wedding to see a girl married which pa is a very good friend to pa and paloned him 20 $ to carry on the affair with. The bride was a beautiful girl in her white dress and shoes and stockings and had a big bowkay of roses and the bride made looked very aggressive to. the groom was all so there and done his part to make it a very successful gathering all round.

Saturday—ma is mad. Pa's cuzon like called up tonite and sed How woud we like to have dinner with him and ma smiled and sed Why all rite I gess and he sed all rite I will be sure and be over to your house about 6 but dont go to no Xtry trouble for me. Ma was all set to go to a swell dinner. But diddnt.

Sunday. The preacher and his wife stopped in this p. m. to speak to us. I think they was looking to see if me and pa was at home on acct. we was sent at church this a. m. He shuk hands with Ma and sed Please pardon my Glove. I looked at them but I couldnt see nothing wrong with them.

Monday—I sold my ball bat to Pug Stevens today. I ast him seventy 5 cents for it but he offered me only thirty cents for it and I am to good of a business man to let forty 5 cents stand between me and a deal in cents.

Tuesday—Elly is dum. Today she ast Bisters what was a Epock and he diddnt I ast her why she sed and she I sed she was just reading about a Epock making mashine and wondered what they cost. And also what is it they make.

Wednesday—Jane got very ensting this p. m. I was looking to her out in the hamock and I ast her what I woud half to give her to kiss her and she sed Cloroform. Ennyhow what woud she do with Cloroform if I had gave it to her.

Thursday—Ant Emmy ast me a sticker today. She sed why dussent I tention over strike twice in the same identickie place. After I studied a long time the only thing I cud figer out was that it dont need to strike but once in the same place. Becos the place has went.

OUR NEIGHBORS

DUNDEE—The Tri-County Grange Association which comprises Lenawee, Washtenaw and Monroe counties are planning a huge picnic to be held at Washington Lake, Lenawee county, on Labor Day. Irving Knapp of Monroe county is president of the organization. Arrangements are being made to entertain upwards of 1,000 persons at this first annual picnic of the association which was organized at a meeting held at the Raisinville Grange Hall at Grape in April of this year. It boasts a membership of 5,000.

BRIGHTON—Real estate mortgage loans in Livingston county during the month of July were nearly four times larger than for the month of June, according to figures compiled by Registrar of Deeds Frank D. Bush. The total for July was $50,916.49, while loans during the previous month amounted to only $15,988.49. The July total is the highest since November, 1929, when loans totalled $73,862.

DEXTER—Plans for the annual Labor Day picnic of St. Joseph's church on Monday, September 1, are being rapidly completed. A feature will be a home-coming celebration. Invitations are being mailed to all former residents whose addresses are known.—Leader.

DEXTER—The public schools in this village for the coming year will open Tuesday, September.

BROOKLYN—The annual picnic of the business men and farmers of this vicinity will be held Thursday, August 21.

GRASS LAKE—The project for the water system for the village for which a special election was authorized by the council Monday of last week was defeated by twelve votes for the required two-thirds majority. Two hundred and ninety votes were cast, with 175 in favor and 119 against.

TECUMSEH—The annual mid-summer meeting and picnic of the Lenawee County Historical Society will be held on the lawn at St. Peter's Episcopal church Thursday, August 14. St. Peter's church holds the distinction of being the oldest church west of the Allegheny Mountains that has held continuous services since its founding in 1833, and it seems fitting that this meeting of the society be held in the first town to be the home of white settlers in Lenawee, as well as the first church to be built in the county.—Herald.

MASON—The annual county fair will be held in the city commencing Wednesday, September 22, and closing Saturday, September 25. The Ingham county board of supervisors have appropriated $750 to aid in meeting expenses of the fair.

GREGORY—Rev. L. S. Slaybaugh, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been unanimously invited to retain the pastorate for another year. Rev. Slaybaugh has held the pastorate of this church for the last two years.

JACKSON—Orders have been received at the Michigan state prison to make 1,500,000 sets of automobile license plates for 1931, it is announced by Warden Harry Jackson. The new plates will be black background with red numerals, a decidedly different appearing plate than this year's. The size of the plates will be the same as this year's which is slightly smaller than those of a year ago.—Tribune.

INKSTER—Petitions bearing the signatures of 458 tax payers of Inkster asking that a special election be held to determine whether the village be dissolved, were filed with Freda B. Kurtzell, village clerk, Friday by Charles R. Lawrence and Thomas A.

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE is gas-tight and dust-tight because it is riveted

YEARS after you've installed a Torrid Zone you can bank the fire for the night with complete assurance that the air from the registers upstairs is as clean, as untainted by gas or dust, as the day the furnace was bought.

For just as the water-tank is sealed water-tight by hot-riveting and cold-calking, so the steel Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight. Gas, smoke and dust-tight to keep the woodwork gleaming, the walls and ceilings clean, the curtains bright, gas, smoke and dust-tight to shield the family from unpleasant and even dangerous fumes.

The Torrid Zone produces from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel than other furnaces. That's something to your coal bin! The deep fire-pot uses less fuel and secures better combustion. The oversized radiator takes more of the heat from the smoke and gases before they go up the chimney.

Humidity and ventilation become important health problems when the temperature is low, the windows closed, and the furnace going. The Torrid Zone humidifier has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside.

the casing and because rapid evaporation is also important, it is positioned directly above the firing doors where it gets the most heat.

Proper air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs your Torrid Zone according to the Standard Code.

Come in and see why this is the most efficient furnace that science has developed and why it makes a warm air system the most desirable.

A free booklet describes it in detail. It burns soft coal, coke, hard coal, oil, lignite or gas, with greater efficiency than any other furnace. We'll furnish plans and estimates for an installation if you like. Free engineering service is furnished from factory for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

LENNOX Torrid Zone STEEL FURNACES

The Standard Code for installing a warm air heater, adopted by the National Warm Air Heating Association and written by its research engineers, is our code.

Conservation Chiefs Seek Big Park Area

Lansing—A series of state parks with shady wooded acres, long lines of bathing beaches and all other facilities for outdoor recreation, all within easy reach of two millions of Michigan's people, is a dream that may reach actuality.

A survey of the area forming a 50-mile radius around Detroit has been authorized by the Conservation Commission. This survey will inquire into every possible park site and promising sites will be considered with a view to development.

While the state now has 6 parks, only a few of them are located in the southeastern part of the state. The parks in Oakland, Livingston, Macomb and St. Clair counties are already over-crowded. The total area of the parks in this vicinity is approximately 1,600 acres. It is urged that the state have no less than 50,000 acres within a radius of 50 miles of Detroit to accommodate Lansing, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Owosso, Flint, Saginaw and a score of smaller municipalities.

State to Distribute Game Law Digest

Lansing—The digest of game laws in Michigan for the 1930-1931 season will be distributed by the Department of Conservation throughout the state this month.

The digest will list the hunting and trapping seasons and the limits, various license regulations, and all special regulations relating to closed hunting areas.

The digests will be distributed to all county clerks, other license agents and conservation officers.

FIGHT RIVER POLLUTION

Lansing—To further alleviate the pollution condition of the Tittabawassee River, the board of directors of the Dow Chemical Company of Midland has voted $125,000 for construction of an additional 165 acre evaporation pond.

Free criticism is as unknown as free trade.—Oscar Wilde.

R. Collins Opens New Highway Restaurant

Collins' new restaurant, as charming a stopping place as the motorist will find in a day's run, opened for business Sunday at U. S. 12 and Wilkinson road. The attractive location accounted for a liberal patronage the opening day, which undoubtedly will show a steady increase.

Mr. Collins has spared no pains or ingenuity to create a first-class establishment. He has installed his own water system, with electric pump, and a modern heating plant is to be put in soon. One of the interesting features that will be noticed alike for their beauty and comfort, are the French type of windows which are used throughout. The entire window can be thrown open to the cooling breezes without. In addition, the attractive dining room is equipped with a large suction fan, by which it is possible to thoroughly renovate the atmosphere of the room in a few minutes.

In addition to the dining room proper, with its sixteen tables, several more tables are available on the screen porch, making an admirable setting for a summer luncheon. Mr. Collins has erected an attractive electric light display for the front, which when completed will have more than a hundred lights.

The restaurant is located 85 feet from each of the intersecting roads at this point, giving it unlimited parking space. Five hundred cars can easily be taken care of. When the paving or grading operations are completed there will be a driveway around the building to take care of trucks, leaving the entire front for patrons.

County Fair to Show Real Outlaw Horses

There is a lot of difference between a wild range broncho and an outlaw bucking horse, according to Geo. V. Adams, manager of the rodeo, which will be presented during the Washington county fair at Ann Arbor.

The wild range broncho, according to his statement, is just a wild unbroken range horse and in the west-in states there are thousands of them running at large. Most of them are branded and belong or did belong to some one before range horses got so low in price.

These horses will nearly all buck when they are first saddled. They may become bad bucking horses or they may submit at once to the will of man. If one of these animals is of a high strong disposition and happens to buck off his first rider, he is apt to become an outlaw and forever afterward defy all efforts at subjugation.

There will be a whole herd of outlaw buckers with the rodeo at Ann Arbor as well as a large number of range bronchos shipped in from the Adams ranch in Dakota which will be ridden here for the first time.

Lakes of Kalkaska County Being Studied

Lansing—Detailed studies of the lakes in Kalkaska county are being carried on by the Institute of Fisheries Research of the University Museum, Ann Arbor. The sixty or more larger lakes are being studied with regard to fish population, "weed-beds" and bottom conditions. In waters where there are no fish an attempt is being made to find out why. Similarly, in lakes where fish are abundant, the party is trying to learn what conditions are responsible for the productivity.
