Chelsea Boy Scouts Hold Court Of Honor

Chelsea's Boy Scouts made a good showing last Friday evening, when they held their first public court of honor at the high school auditorium. Parents and friends united with the boys to form a good crowd for the occasion.

The principal business of the evening was the award of badges to those scouts who by their activity and interests in scouting have qualified for advanced rank.

Rev. A. E. Potts presided as chairman of the court, and was assisted by Oscar Schneider, M. H. McGaffigan, and Scoutmaster A. K. Richards. Second class badges were awarded to Paul Rogers, Bennie Bacon, Hubert Jves, Eldine Hawley, Robert Williams, and to Charles, James and Nicholas Panaritas. First class badges were presented to Manning Richards and Kenneth Gilbert, while the following scouts qualified for merit badges: Herbert Wallace, pathfinding, firemanship, electricity and plumbing; Manning Richards, swimming, pathfinding and handicraft; Andros Gulde, first aid, wood carving, first aid to animals, and carpentry; Foster Beisel, electricity, scholarship, cycling, farm-home planning and basketry; Glenwood Novess, pathfinding and firemanship; and Thomas Alexander, personal health and plumbing. Bud Gulde was also awarded the rank of Star Scout.

The various patrols of the local troop entertained the audience with a program of stunts and demonstrations of scoutcraft, including first aid, Indian sign language, flag signalling, knot tying and other interesting activities. After the award of badges, troop 15 of Ann Arbor conducted an impressive candle ceremony for the investiture of new tenderfoot scouts. Scout Executive Wallace F. Watt spoke briefly to the parents, and led in the singing of scout camp songs. It is planned to conduct similar courts about every six weeks during the winter and spring.

Sylvan Fire Burns Over Large Tract

Fire, which was discovered about 10 o'clock Sunday morning in the southwest section of Sylvan township, did considerable damage to property in that locality.

The blaze started on the south side of Goose lake, spreading over about 150 acres of timber and pasture land. The Chelsea and Grass Lake fire departments were called, but were unable to render assistance due to the lack of water. Farmers and other helpers fought the fire all day before the flames were extinguished. Burned area included property owned by Joseph Canpla, known as the Erastus Cooper farm; Herman W. Hayes, Oscar Widmayer, Wm. Kruse and the W. D. Alber farm.

The damage was mostly to timber and fences.

TAXES TAKE SIXTEEN PER CENT OF EVERY DOLLAR

Speaking of taxes—and who is not?—the tax collector now demands from each of us one day's labor out of each week. All of us, men, women and children, earn yearly around 80 billion dollars. Our tax bill is nearly 13 billion—one-sixth of our total earning capacity.

Look at taxes in another way. One person out of 11 who are gainfully employed is a public employee. Not so long ago we required only one person out of each 22 to perform the services which we demanded of government. A few more of our demands, and it will be one out of ten; then one out of nine, and so on and on. When will we stop saying, "The Government ought to do this, and that, and the other thing?"

Most people think the corporations and the rich pay the taxes. This fallacy, more than any other single thing, is responsible for our increasing tax burden. I once observed how skillfully one million dollars was extracted from state legislature by the argument that most of the money would be paid by the railroads, anyway. The state, the argument ran, would be getting a dollar's worth of university buildings for 50 cents.

But the naked truth is that every man and woman who ate a meal in that state, who bought a suit of clothes, or who lived in a house, helped to pay the dollars which the legislators thought they were taking out of the hide of the railroads.

The railroads simply collected it from the people who shipped freight or bought goods which some one else had shipped.

Another fallacy is that everything from the Government is free. Free seeds, it used to be; now free publications, free advice, free help, free this and that. Such a ghastly joke!

There is no such thing as free government, any more than there is free rent, free clothing, or free groceries. Government costs real money. Every self-supporting citizen shares his income with the million-odd men and women now on government pay rolls. A gentleman, visiting Washington hired an old darky to drive him around to see the sights. The darky grew enthusiastic. He waved his arm at the Botanical Gardens, the museums, the parks and monuments, and said to my friend, "Jest think. It's all free. It don't cost nobody nothin'. The Government pays for it."

Taxes are hidden in everything we buy. The landlord passes on part of his taxes in the bill for our rent; the baker wraps them up with the bread he sells us. The insurance company includes them in its premiums. Bills from the butcher and milkman include a tax as surely as if the postman brought a notice from the tax office.

Business is interested in reducing taxes, not alone selfishly, because business, after all, simply collects taxes from the consumers of things. Business sees money wasted which might be used by individuals to get those things which would give greater happiness and contentment—house furnishings, or a trip to Europe, a new carpet sweeper, or a set of books. Business sees clearly that it is the consumer of things who pays, and because that consumer does not know that he pays, that he is apt to advocate and urge an expenditure which he would never favor if he knew that it was to be paid out of his pocket.

When the individual understands clearly that he pays the bill, he will consider more carefully increased government appropriations and services. If each man who signs a petition or writes a letter to a congressman or state legislator, urging a public expenditure, were required by law to enclose his check for his part of the expense, there would be sharper scrutiny of such proposed activities.—Merle Thorpe, Editor Nation's Business.

ADVERTISING AND ADVERTISING

This is the age of publicity and he who employs the best medium for reaching the buying public achieves the greatest success.

For many years newspapers furnished the only means for carrying messages to the buying public. Later, magazines and other periodicals entered the field, then circulars, and finally the radio.

Volume advertisers employ advertising experts who are constantly on the job studying the subject, and will they may for they annually spend hundreds of millions of dollars to create and stimulate buying.

These experts are generally agreed that no medium of publicity approaches the newspaper which enters the home and is read by every member of the family, and often by neighbors who are not subscribers. As a result of their studies circulars have been discarded as of little value. The radio as an advertising medium has seen its peak. A recent survey showed that 60 per cent of the radio audience turns the dial onto something else when an advertising talk is on. You cannot turn off the home town paper.

You can throw it away but you never do until you have read it throughout. Ask any rural mail carrier what the mail patrons do with purely advertising matter that patrons have not written in for. He will tell you that they are invariably thrown away at the box or on the way to the home, which shows conclusively that that kind of advertising has no appeal.

The merchant who reasons that he is so well known that he does not need to advertise is courting a visit from the sheriff. Older readers will recall St. Jacob's Oil, a remedy that was in the medicine cabinet of nearly every home in America thirty years ago. It had been placed there by the excellence of the product, aided by a great and intelligent campaign of newspaper advertising that extended over a period of many years. We can visualize their ads even at this late date. Finally, the original owners sold but to some concern for a large sum of money. The new owners of St. Jacob's Oil reasoned that the product was so well known that further advertising was throwing money away, and by discontinuing the use of newspaper space they could effect a saving of something like two million dollars per year, the sum the former owners had been spending to keep their product before the public. What happened? Sales immediately began to fall off and in a few years St. Jacob's Oil became but a memory with the old timers. The owners, of course, went to the wall. Countless others have met with the same experience, and yet others, who persist in following in those footsteps, will meet the same fate.

Newspaper advertising brings a buyer and seller together at less expense and with much greater effect than any other medium. Why not use it?—Congressman Harold Knutson, Pioneer Journal, Wadena, Minnesota.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MASON—Ingham county voters decided that the register of deeds office belongs to a woman. Mrs. Susan E. Leonard who refused to seek another term will be succeeded January 1st by Ethel L. Phillips, deputy city clerk of Lansing.—News.

TECUMSEH—The Keeney Orchards west of Tecumseh on M-50, are producing half a crop of apples this year, as compared to the yield in 1929, according to J. R. Keeney. This year's yield, Mr. Keeney said, will amount to about 7,000 bushels. The Keeney Orchards comprise about 55 acres of bearing trees. There is also 40 acres in young trees.—Herald.

SALINE—The Washtenaw County Brotherhood of Christian Laymen are inaugurating an evangelistic campaign in the county beginning at Saline on November 10. The Brotherhood has secured the Rev. Charles Stedman of Detroit, a pastor evangelist of wide experience and unusual ability, for leadership in this campaign.—Observer.

HOWELL—Real estate in Livingston County was pledged as security for mortgage loans totalling $26,564 during the month of October, according to figures compiled by Register of Deeds, Frank D. Bush. In October, 1929, loans totalled $49,044.58 or nearly twice as much as the total for this year.—Republican-Press.

GRASS LAKE—During the past three weeks about 200 books have been deposited in the Grass Lake High School Library, through the offices of the county library. These books are for the use of townspeople as well as of students and may be withdrawn from the library under the same rules which apply to the students.—News.

MILAN—The opening of the new highway will cut off about two miles from the trip between Milan and Ann Arbor and will make the trip to Ypsilanti about the same as over the old road. According to the report from the county engineer's office, work on the new traffic signs for the road is being rushed and will be erected within a short time.—Leader.

SOUTH LYON—Village treasurer Arnold Lukache made the return of village taxes this week, the amount being $597.13 out of a total of $12,959. This is only a returned tax percentage of 4.6 per cent, and strange to relate the amount is $150 lower than last year, when over 700 was returned. This compared well with some sections of Oakland county where the returned tax is sometimes as high as 50 per cent.—Herald.

DEXTER—With the appointment of the members of the various committees this week, active plans for the observance of Thanksgiving day in St. Joseph's Auditorium under the auspices of members of St. Joseph's church, are being completed.—Leader.

STOCKBRIDGE—The J. L. Smith Store, meats and groceries, was rifled of the contents of the cash register, about $45.00, last Saturday afternoon, November 1. The robbers have been identified as the same pair who robbed a garage at Chelsea last week.—Brief-Sun.

FOWLerville—Geo. L. Adams, prominent newspaper man of Livingston county, formerly editor of the Fowlerville Review for more than 50 years, passed away Monday evening, Nov. 8, at the age of 75. He was one of the oldest members of the Michigan Press Association and a prominent member of the Methodist church of Fowlerville for practically his entire residence in that city. A short time ago the newspaper of which he was then the editor celebrated its 50th anniversary.

Amos and Andy Coming To Michigan, Jackson

Amos and Andy are on the screen at last. These famous radio entertainers who have thrilled and amused millions of Americans during the past two years come to the Michigan Theatre, Jackson in their first all-talking picture "Check and Double Check" for one solid week opening Sunday matinee, November 16. The engagement, based on what the picture has been doing in other theatres throughout the country, promises to eclipse all other pictures in the point of attendance.

A story of Harlem, built around the same characters and situations made familiar to every American by radio broadcast, is the material out of which Radio Pictures shaped the Amos 'n' Andy picture. The air stars are themselves supported by a "white face" cast including Sue Carol, Irene Rich, Ralf Harold, Charles Morton, Edward Martindel and Rita LaRoy.

The rich comedy and compelling pathos which has won the heart of millions by radio holds first place in the screen production, with Morton and Miss Carol providing an undertone of romance. Madame Queen, Ruby Taylor, Kingfish and all the other magnificent character creations of Amos 'n' Andy are upon the screen.

The same painstaking care with which Amos 'n' Andy shape every episode in their adventures via radio, was given by Director Mel Brown in the production of "Check and Double Check." Aimed directly at the millions already captivated by radio, it has done the seemingly impossible and spread their popularity even farther.

The doors of the Michigan Theatre will open daily at 12:30 with shows at 1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00 and 9:00, with box office closing at 9:45. There will positively be no advance in prices for the Jackson engagement.

I guess I'm fussy about Hot Water

When a girl is going to school every day she's got to be mighty careful about her appearance. That takes an awful lot of washing, especially if you skip rope and play tag as often as I do. But I simply can't wash with cold water. It gives me the shivers! Hot water is different. It's really fun to lather up 'til you're all creamy and rinse yourself with hot water. You feel so clean. Besides, teacher says that hot water cleans two to twenty times as fast as cold water. Yes, I guess I'm fussy about hot water. I guess I'll always be that way.

Is the water always hot in your home?

Install a self-operating Gas Water Heater and settle the hot water problem, once and for all! Have instant hot water—all you want at any hour—for a few pennies per day per person. Make it easy for your children to keep clean. Phone our water-heating department for full information.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—My great ambition is to sing over the radio. Do you think a teacher could make anything out of my voice?

Ans.—Probably a teacher could make a nice wad of money out of it if you have it.

Ques.—Is there any record as to who is the oldest person in the world. If so, who is it, and where?

Ans.—The oldest person in the world is a Turkish woman living in Constantinople named Fatima Harum, who is 168 years old. She is the granddaughter of a woman who lived to be 178 years old. Fatima is hale and hearty, and bids fair to surpass her grandmother in longevity of life. Fatima well remembers when the declaration of independence was declared by the United States.

Ques.—Is it true that there was once a candidate for president of the United States who received a majority of the votes cast and yet was not elected? Who was it and when?

Ans.—Yes Samuel J. Tilden received a majority of the popular vote east in 1876, but the special electoral commission appointed by Congress threw out the Florida electors and declared Hayes elected.

Ques.—Can you tell me in your question department what an "inferiority complex" is? Also what is a "superiority complex"?

Ans.—An "inferiority complex" is more clearly defined when we say that a person inherently feels himself incapable of doing certain things has an "inferiority complex." The opposite state or attitude of mind is termed a "superiority complex."

Ques.—How old was Washington when he was made commander-in-chief of the Virginia forces?

Ans.—When George Washington was made commander-in-chief of the Virginia forces he was only 28 years old.

Ques.—What was it that elected Grover Cleveland to the presidency so suddenly after the Republicans had been in control of the government for so many years?

Ans.—It is believed that the most important thing that swept Grover Cleveland into office was the eloquent hour alliteration of Dr. Blanchard in a Republican speech when he branded the Democratic party with "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." It was too late for the Republican party to repudiate Blanchard's utterances, and despite the fact that the wife of Blaine, Cleveland's opponent was a Catholic, Cleveland was literally swept into office.

Ques.—What causes cancer and how can it be cured?

Ans.—In all the years of research no one has definitely found the cause, nor has any definite cure been discovered.

Ques.—Will you please answer in your question box which is the oldest city in the western hemisphere?

Ans.—The oldest native city which has been continuously inhabited is Mexico City. The oldest city which was settled by Europeans, is Santo Domingo, the capital of the Dominican Republic.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you kindly state in the query and answer department of your paper which is the correct expression—"I have watered the cows" or "I gave the cows water"?

Ans.—Both of these expressions are correct. The dictionary defines the transitive verb "water" as "to supply water for drink"; therefore, it is equally correct with "I gave water to the cows."

Ques.—Will you please tell me on what day of the week was Nov. 5, 1841?

Ans.—Nov. 5, 1841, was on Friday. Ques.—Can you tell me who was the smallest person in the world?

Ans.—John Behrmann, a German, now claims that distinction, being 2 feet and five inches tall.

Ques.—Who was it that coined the phrase "Almighty Dollar"?

Ans.—The phrase is credited to Washington Irving. He used it twice in his "Creole Village," which was published in England in 1837.

Chelsea Takes First Defeat Of Season

By Alvin Schillo

Last Friday the people of Chelsea had the pleasure of witnessing one of the best football games ever played in Chelsea, when Chelsea Hi played St. John's of Jackson at Holmes field, the local team losing by a score of 13 to 6. Both participating teams walked on the field without a defeat chalked up against them for this season.

Chelsea received the opening kickoff, but fumbled the ball. St. John's recovered and immediately took advantage of this break and pushed a fake place kick for the extra point but failed.

This looked bad for the home team, but they tightened up and held them scoreless until the second quarter when St. John's shot a thirty yard pass which brought them their second touchdown. This time they made the extra point by a place kick.

There was no scoring done in the third quarter but in the last quarter Chelsea came back with the old punch and through successive line plays and a pass to Eisenbeiser, they brought the ball up to St. John's one yard line. Schneider was then given the ball but the line he hit was like a stone wall. They again lined up, this time giving it to Holmes, who took it straight through his own left guard for Chelsea's lone touchdown. The point after touchdown was missed.

This was a hard fought game all the way through. Chelsea's line seemed to be equally as strong as St. John's but the backfield lacked the punch that St. John's had when they needed it.

Touchdowns 1
1st downs on line plays 9
1st downs on passes 0
Completed passes 3
Incompleted passes 5
Penalties 15 yds. 30 yds.
Points after touchdowns 0

Next Friday Chelsea plays its last league game, with Saline. This defeat with St. John's does not hurt Chelsea's standing in the Huron Valley League, however.

SCHOOL NOTES

Tuesday, November 11th was celebrated in the high school in a manner fitting the occasion. The group sang patriotic songs; Margaret Hosel-schwerdt read "In Flanders Field" and "America's Answer". Mr. Clark expressed some very fitting sentiments and the assembly closed by singing "America".

The boys and girls from the kindergarten to the sixth grade held chapel in the session hall Wednesday. Rather a treat for them to make the trip over from the grade building to the high school.

The Senior girls are giving a general card party Thursday, November 13 in the gymnasium. It was changed from a bridge and 500 party to a general card party.

Chelsea Scouts Will Attend Camp Reunion

Scoutmaster A. K. Richards of Troop 1, Chelsea, has received an invitation for his scouts to attend the annual Camp Newkirk reunion, to be held Saturday evening, November 16, at Ann Arbor. This is the reunion held each year of all scouts who have attended the scout camp near Dexter. According to present plans the boys will all have a swim at the new Intramural pool immediately following the Minnesota game, after which they will eat any place they desire.

All scouts will assemble at the Ann Arbor high school, corner State and Huron streets, at seven-thirty for the program of the evening.

The program, as announced by Scout Executive Wallace Watt, will be of interest to all scouts, leaders and friends, whether they have attended camp or not. Included in the list of events will be camp songs led by "Rusty" Moore, camp movies, taken at Camp Newkirk this past summer, a number of stunts put on by the boys, including the famous one by Bill Jacobs, and two reels of a comedy screen.

The highlight of the evening will be the awarding of Camp Newkirk emblems to all the boys who were in camp this past summer.

This reunion will include all scouts, whether campers or not, from both Livingston and Washtenaw counties, and leaders in charge are confident that this will be the biggest and best reunion ever held by the local council.

HENRY GIESKE

Henry Gieske, life-long resident of Washtenaw county, died Wednesday afternoon, November 12, at his home in Sylvan.

Mr. Gieske was born February 15, 1867, in Manchester township, the son of Herman and Katherine (Schleight) Gieske, and attended the public school at Manchester.

December 31, 1881, he was united in marriage to Miss Katherine Olden-jug and for nearly fifty years they have lived in the present home. In 1899, Mr. Gieske united with the Salem Methodist church, and he also was a member of the I. O. O. F. of Chelsea and of Cavanaugh Lake Grange.

He is survived by the widow, one sister, Mrs. H. H. Dean, of Hanover, Ont., two brothers, John Gieske, of Manchester township and William, of Downer, Calif., and a half-brother, Frank Gieske of Chelsea.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at Salem church, Rev. Henry W. Lenz officiating, with interment in Salem cemetery.

Soils Should Have Good Humus Supply

A committee of Michigan farmers and county agricultural agents in a meeting at Michigan State College to consider ways of hastening the improvement of Michigan soils recommended that more emphasis be placed on the need for increasing the organic matter contained in soils.

Reports made at the meeting showed that soils which do not have an adequate supply of organic matter suffer more severely from adverse conditions, such as drought, than soils which contain a liberal supply of humus. The decaying organic matter in the soil apparently acts as an absorbent and aids the soil in retaining moisture.

It has also been found that the activities of bacteria are greatest in soils with a high organic matter content, and experiments have shown that better results are obtained from the use of fertilizer and lime when the soil humus content is high.

The members of the committee, Eli Lindsey, Doster; James Redpath, Kalamazoo; R. V. Tanner, Jackson; Fred W. Johnston, Paw Paw; A. B. Love, Saginaw, and H. L. Barnum, Lake City, also recommended that Michigan State College continue the local leader method of soils extension work. Members of the college soils department state that 1,500 Michigan farmers received training in soil improvement through this means of instruction last year.

The use of sweet clover as a green manure crop is recommended for increasing the amount of organic matter in the soil. A catch crop of sweet clover plowed down in the spring once during each crop rotation will maintain the soil's humus content.

Plan Greater Radio Program At College

A home-makers program from 3:00 to 3:40 p. m. Eastern Standard time, daily except Sunday, and a program from 7:30 to 8:00 a. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday, of special interest to owners of livestock are announced as an extension of the home and farm news broadcast from station WKAR, Michigan State College. The afternoon program will be given from November 17 to December 19, and the livestock program from November 17 to December 12.

The two special programs will be added to the regular noon broadcast which features short talks on topics of interest to farm men and women. The market and weather reports will still be given at noon.

The home-makers program will include material prepared by "Aunt Sammy" of the bureau of home economics, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, given during the first ten minutes of the period; a daily radio music class conducted by Josephine Kackley, M. S. C. music department; and a series of 10 minute lectures on household problems given by members of the home economics department of the college.

Other material included in this program will be talks on the care of flowers and house plants given by the department of floriculture on Tuesdays; instructions on the care of floors, floor finishes, and coverings; a reading by a member of the public speaking department each week; five talks given by members of the State Department of Public Instruction; and a weekly lecture on the activities of the federal government in enforcing the national food and drug laws.

Problems of livestock feeding which have been complicated this year by the drought conditions of the past summer will receive a great deal of attention in the program for livestock owners. Both the dairy husbandry and the animal husbandry departments of the College will contribute speakers to this program. Consideration will be given to the feeding of dairy and beef cattle, swine, horses, and sheep.

Station WKAR operates on a frequency of 1040 kilocycles and a wave length of 288.3 meters. Listeners are invited to write to any of the speakers for additional information upon any subject discussed or for information on any farm or home topic.

Politics Goes to Sleep
Sixteen Billions a Year
Selskie Gave a Party
A Surprise for Smith

The voting and the nuisance are out of the way, heaven be praised, and the people can attend to real business far removed from politics.

Whether the election suited you or not, comfort yourself with the thought that nothing is important except what the people themselves do. If the 123,000,000 will get to work without waiting for the new year or a millennium and keep their courage, we shall get out of our temporary difficulties.

Politicians get jobs, but don't do much. By the time they get over the excitement of being elected, it's time to be elected again.

Have you any idea what crime costs the nation? The total amount is $10,000,000,000 a year. There are about one million professional criminals in the country, including the crop of prohibition supercriminals.

The government could pension them at the rate of $10,000 a year each, break even financially and save the lives taken by the criminals. Or the chief criminals could be profitably pensioned at $1,000,000 a year each, leaving plenty for small fry.

It costs the nation $10,000,000,000 to take care of 1,000,000 criminals. And $5,000,000,000, less than one-third of the crime bill, is the amount spent on 50,000,000 children in their parks, their schools, their playgrounds, and all welfare work.

That's a very nice picture of American civilization.

Observe crime, working on a small scale. John Pasell, twenty-five-year-old racketeer, called "The Age" went to the hospital in Newark, N. J., with his head cut open, said he had fallen and asked to remain overnight, although doctors said he might go home.

Later three gunmen walked up to his private room. One held the nurse, while the other two shot Pasell to death in his bed. They left, threatening to kill anybody that interfered. Nobody interfered.

Marvelous wonderful amazing, far beyond the adjectives of any writer of circus advertising was the crowning of little Selskie I as emperor of Abyssinia at Addis Ababa.

The emperor, you must know, is a direct result of the visit that the queen of Sheba paid to King Solomon. She had a baby when she came home. That baby is Selskie's ancestor.

This may be mentioned, as Sheba has been dead 2,000 years and more.

The emperor and his wife, powerful, heavy woman, sat up all night waiting. In the morning they washed and meanwhile the supply of water was cut off from everybody else in Addis Ababa, that it might be kept pure for the monarchs.

Abyssinian princes wear silk, satin, gold, and corseted, shields of plumed, cross hide and medieval swords hundreds of years old. Six snow white horses arranged the emperor in a carriage that once belonged to the German kaiser.

Sydney Smith, British wit, fairly well satisfied with himself as is customary with British wits and non-wits asked this question:

"In the four quarters of the globe, who reads an American book, or goes to an American play, or looks at an American picture or statue?"

The witty Smith would be surprised if he could come back. He would find all London going to American plays, musicals and others, and he would find the pictures of John Sargent, an American, selling for more than any British artist's picture ever sold for within a century of his death, and he would read in the morning newspapers that the Nobel prize for literature, worth $46,350, goes to Sinclair Lewis, an American. He would also learn that Mr. Lewis' books, their author still alive, have sold 2,000,000 copies and are popular with "highbrows" in England, Sweden, Germany and elsewhere.

You know that France and England can't agree on the question of armament. France tells the nations she needs more ships than Italy, as she fronts on the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, Italy on the Mediterranean only.

Mussolini replies in substance, "Italy was a great nation when you were nothing, and we don't mean to take second place."

Mussolini and his government vogue sur un vulcan "are crawling on top of a volcano," as the famous French bull has it.

A million conspiracies and hatreds are plotting the dictator's downfall. Prominent Italians, professors, former government officials, scientists and others have recently been arrested in connection with one conspiracy.

Mussolini is well aware of conditions, but fears them not at all, apparently believing in his "star," as Napoleon and others believed in theirs. He and his government live in danger every day, as he drives his own car through the streets of Rome, unprotected, relying on the terror that his name and face inspire. MAY USE NEW LICENSE TAGS

The new 1937 license plates may be used on new automobiles purchased now, according to an announcement by Gov. Fred W. Green on Monday of this week. This concession is made in an effort to stimulate the purchase of new cars, thus increasing factory schedules and aiding in relief for unemployed, according to the governor.

"Pillagers" Plain People

The librarians of the Newbody Institute say: "The records of the Mayflower compact are silent as to the place of origin of most of the immigrants, and, in fact, I have found one in which a definite place name is given. It would appear that nearly all of the immigrants were plain people, i. e., artisans, who would be unlikely to have left estates."

NEEDS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE ON INCREASE, SAYS CHAIRMAN PAYNE

Disaster Relief and Service to War Veterans Make Heavy Demands—First Aid on Highways New Plan.

Demands upon the public services that the American Red Cross is organized to give are increasingly heavy, and will continue to be so in the future, John Barton Payne, chairman, has announced.

The two major services of the society—service to war veterans and their dependents, and relief in disasters—show each year a greater number of persons helped by the Red Cross.

Penal legislation passed recently for World War Veterans, and increased allotments to all Spanish-American War Veterans, have given to Chapters and the national society many thousands of additional cases to handle, Judge Payne said.

In the past year help was given in 108 disasters. Ninety of these were in the United States, twelve in foreign possessions and six were in foreign countries.

Health activities of the Red Cross also are being extended, especially in the rural communities where all health authorities agree the greatest need exists. Red Cross, with 794 nurses in its employ, is the greatest employer of public health nurses in rural areas in the United States.

In its campaign against accidental deaths, begun twenty years ago with life saving and first aid programs, the Red Cross now has adopted an additional program—that of combating the huge toll of life from automobile accidents on the highways.

Expenditures of the Red Cross in the past year were $4,254,766.34, of which $1,205,151.09 was spent in disaster relief, the chairman pointed out.

"The Red Cross depends upon the public for its support, through their memberships enrolled each year in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day," Judge Payne said.

"We do not receive any support from the Government, or through other taxation, although as the President of the United States is president of the society, and one-third of its governing members are representatives of U. S. Departments, it ranks as a semi-governmental agency."

"By joining as a member in the local Red Cross Chapter, once each year, during the annual Roll Call, every citizen will have a part in carrying on this great humanitarian task."

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental death, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 31,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation-wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through the emergency stations. A number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y., park system, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 734 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternal visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal system, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Comfort Kits Sent 40,000 Service Men by Red Cross

Gay patterned crocheted bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, on foreign service, as Christmas remembrances.

The little gift bags are donated and packed by women in Red Cross Chapters all over the country. They are despatched by Army transport in the early autumn in order to reach the foreign ports and posts of the U. S. services in time to be hung on the Christmas trees. Giving the remembrances from home is the outgrowth of a plan adopted by the Red Cross prior to the World War when so many National Guard regiments were on the Mexican border.

Assets of the University of Michigan have increased more than $8,000,000 during the last year, according to Shirley W. Smith, vice-president and treasurer of the university. An increase in the value of real estate and buildings owned by the university was largely responsible for the raise. However, the university lost 258 students, according to Ira M. Michigan Happenings

Billy Lou, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Edgell of Traverse City, was burned to death when the family home was destroyed by an explosion of coal gas and the resultant fire. Mr. Edgell was awakened by the smell of gas generated by a stove in a downstairs room of the house. As he left his bed to open a door for ventilation, an explosion rent the house. Others succeeded in winning their way to safety, but Billy Lou apparently was overcome by gas as she struggled to make her way down stairs.

Michigan stood firmly Republican again in the recent election with all of the party's state and congressional ticket victorious by decisive margins in an election marked by a demonstration of superiority in rural and urban voting strength. It was the rural vote that gave the Republican ticket its huge majority. United States Senator James Couzens winning over Thomas E. Weadock by nearly 400,000, and Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker defeating William A. Comstock for the governorship by more than 110,000.

Through the narrowness and presence of mind of their mother, four children were saved from their burning home. Addy Halford of Portland, had left for his work at a gasoline station and Mrs. Halford, leaving her four children asleep in bed, had started to visit a neighbor next door when she discovered the top of the house in flames. She ran back into the house, that was rapidly filling with smoke and fire, awoke the children and carried them outside just as the roof fell in.

When the automobile in which he was riding side-swiped a wagon, near Big Rapids, Frank S. Chesley, Grand Rapids automobile dealer and a partner in an accounting firm, was injured fatally. The wagon, driven by Carl Stephan of Reed City, was without lights, officials reported. Chesley died of a skull fracture soon after being admitted to a hospital. His companion, the driver of the car, A. R. Donaldson, also of Grand Rapids, was hurt slightly.

A lone bandit obtained $3,200 in a holdup of the State Bank at Montgomery. The bandit, a man about 25, entered the bank just before closing time. He ordered W. G. Lash, cashier, and Mrs. Lawrence Hayes, assistant cashier, to face the wall. The gunman then stripped the cash box of $300 and rifled the safe of $2,400 more. He drove south from Montgomery in escaping, in a car bearing an Indiana license.

Wrecking of Macomb County's 48-year-old courthouse at Mt. Clemens, to make way for a new 12-story county building, is under way. County offices are being moved into store rooms throughout the downtown section. The wrecking is to be completed in 30 days. Construction work will be started this winter if possible, so the building may be completed late next summer.

If the "wages of sin are death," 10 members of the congregation of the Central Methodist church in Pontiac, hope that one sinner does not go unpaid. He is the person who entered the vestibule of the church during services and left with 10 overcoats. The members shivered and shook their way into the police station and two detectives were assigned to the task of seeking the culprit.

For cutting down a tree to rob a beehive of honey, four men were fined a total of $70.00 at Mt. Clemens by Alton H. Noe, justice of the peace. The four were placed on probation for a year. They are Albert Green, Newton Gasset, and Harvey and Joe Welch, all of Macomb County. The farmer who caused their arrest was Louis Schultz, Chesterfield Township.

One-year-old Vincent Giannone, is recovering in Detroit Receiving hospital from a midnight operation which resulted in the removal of a peanut from his throat. The boy, while at play in his home, swallowed the peanut unchoked. Shortly before midnight his repeated crying alarmed his parents, who took him to the hospital.

Marlon, 3-year-old daughter of Charles Laing of Marshall Township, near Battle Creek, was killed instantly when a shotgun in the kitchen of the home fell and was discharged. The charge entered her side. She knickered over the gun while playing.

Using a loaded gun as a club to strike a wounded rabbit proved fatal to Thomas Taylor, 23 years old, of Detroit, while hunting near Hillsdale. The gun discharged into his chest, and he was killed almost instantly.

School days appear over for six boys and girls in District No. 3, Lake County, near Muskegon, unless some means can be found to relieve the distressed financial condition of the district. There is no money; the district is in debt; the school is closed and no one can be found who will serve on the school board. At a recent meeting no one would take the job of treasurer, while the director resigned and turned the books over to the township board. There is over $1,000 due teachers for back pay.

STATE NEWS

The 19,000 acres embraced in Williamston Township in Ingham County have been selected by the Isaac Walton League as the field for an intensive effort at game preservation, which will be the subject of state and national scrutiny by wild life conservationists. It has been tentatively agreed to institute new methods of keeping tabs on hunters, building better natural game coverage and keeping in constant touch with the amount of game in the area. Feeding and sheltering the game, particularly game birds, in winter weather is planned.

From the twisted bodies of two elderly bachelors, John C. Crawford and John McGibbon, found in a Manitowish Island shack, and from a baking powder tin full of what is thought to be arsenic, the Sault Ste. Marie police are reconstructing the details of one of the most pathetic tragedies in the island's history. Crawford, his mind dulled by illness, apparently mistook the arsenic for baking powder in his feeble efforts to prepare a meal for his old friend McGibbon, who had come to stay with him in his sickness. Both were dead when found.

Harold Smead, the fallen Michigan State football leader, has a prized possession given him as a gesture of friendship by the University of Michigan gridiron squad. When Michigan and State battled to a scoreless tie, spectators including sports writers, knew nothing of the presentation of the blanket to Smead as he wrenched the game from his wheel chair. This is believed to be the first time that an athlete of a rival institution ever has received one of the prized Michigan blankets.
