Arthur Weber Weds Miss Egan, Manchester

The marriage of Miss Marie Leone Egan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Egan, of Manchester, to Arthur Edward Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber, of Sylvan township, was solemnized at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church, Manchester.

Before the altar, which was attractively decorated with summer flowers and lighted with white tapers, the marriage service was read by Rev. Joseph V. Pfeffer, while music during the mass was sung by the bride's uncle, Ambrose Kirk and his daughters, Mary and Dorothy.

The bride was charming in a gown of poudre blue chiffon, with a white picture hat, and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and forget-me-nots. Miss Doris Seckinger, of Clarks Lake, niece of the groom, as maid of honor, was attired in pink silk crepe, her white hat trimmed with pink to harmonize with her gown. She carried Biardiff roses and white bebe chrysanthemums. Wilfred Egan of Detroit, brother of the bride, performed the duties of best man.

Following the ceremony, a two-course wedding breakfast was served to eighty guests at the home of the bride's parents, white roses and blue forget-me-nots forming the table decorations.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy, Adrian, and for the past two years was a successful teacher in School District No. 7, Sylvan.

On their return from a motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Weber will be at home to their friends on the groom's farm in Sylvan township.

Those from this vicinity who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hummel, and Edward Doll.

The Fellowship club of the local church will serve a free lunch at 6 o'clock. The evening session will be held at 7:30.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend both sessions.

Brucker Signs Bill To Sell Cement Plant

Governor Wilbur M. Brucker put the finishing touches to the final step in disposal of the state owned cement plant at Four Mile Lake on Saturday when he signed the bill, directing the state administrative board to sell the plant by 1934.

The plant was purchased about eight years ago during the administration of Alex Groesbeck and has been the center of political controversy since that time, being one of the principle issues in the Green-Groesbeck campaign in 1926.

Closing of the plant was ordered a few weeks ago, when price-cutting by independent companies brought cement prices below cost of production at the local plant.

At one o'clock a three-course luncheon was served at tables attractively decorated with vases of Talisman roses, while bowls of snapdragons and daisies were placed about the house. Individual cakes in the pastel colors, green, peach, pink and lavender, were mounted with tiny glass horseshoes, bearing the names and the date of the wedding.

PONTIAC MAN INJURED

William Donahue, 24, of Pontiac, is at Chelsea Private hospital, suffering from injuries sustained Monday morning when his car ran into the ditch about two miles east of Chelsea, and was overturned, pinning him underneath. He received bruises about the head and his right leg and side were badly bruised.

Spend - And Save Money

Not so long ago a famous personage advised the American public "to spend." Another equally noted man retorted with the advice "save." Perhaps both were right, but the better policy would seem to be "spend wisely in order to save."

Spending wisely simply means to use your money for those things that you need, as the condition of your purse may warrant—and at the same time, to buy only those articles that have actually proved their quality and worth. By purchasing merchandise that gives the greatest value for the money, you secure the longest service and so save the price of a repurchase.

Thrift is a virtue, but so is wise investment. The advertising in this paper is a reliable guide as to where and when to get the utmost value for your money.

Advertising is a safe and trustworthy guide to sound investment. It has proved its reliability. You buy advertised wares every day—consciously or unconsciously. You buy by name because you know that the advertised article has served you well in the past, and will continue to do so in the future.

Read the advertisements, that you may spend wisely—and save.

The pages of this newspaper carry the advertisements of reliable merchants and reliable manufacturers. Read them—take advantage of the opportunities they offer.

Commendable Work Carried On By Legion

So many favorable comments have been heard about Chelsea during the past two weeks concerning the very creditable manner in which the local American Legion conducted the Decoration Day services, and the splendid work they are doing in keeping up the graves of deceased G. A. R. veterans and veterans of other wars, that a list of Legion activities have been compiled for the benefit of those interested.

G. A. R. iron markers in Oak Grove and Mt. Olivet cemeteries have been painted, as has the cannon and cannon balls. Twenty-seven new G. A. R. markers have also been placed. New headstones have been placed on the graves of LaVerne Yettah, Edmond Ross, Chas. Lamberton, George Richards and Uriah Streeter, in the local cemetery.

In Vermont cemetery, a headstone has been placed on the grave of Fred Heselichwerdt, and two G. A. R. markers and two American Legion markers have been installed. Headstones have been placed on graves of Wm. Warner and Peter Young in Maple Grove cemetery.

One headstone has been placed on the grave of Jonas Freer, veteran of the war of 1812, in Lima Center cemetery, and seven new G. A. R. markers have been placed in that cemetery.

Headstones have been placed on the graves of Chas. Lown and Monteville McNeil in the North Lake cemetery, and one G. A. R. marker has been placed there. Two G. A. R. markers have been placed in Mt. Calvary cemetery, and one in the Francisco cemetery.

The local Legion post is doing this work in eleven cemeteries in this community.

Money necessary for the expense of G. A. R. markers was furnished by the W. R. C. and American Legion, other expense being paid by the Legion. The sum of $110 received from the three townships and the village of Chelsea was expended for Decoration Day expenses only.

Will Present Diplomas To Graduates Tonight

Class Day exercises last evening at the public school auditorium opened the program for commencement week of the Class of 1931, Chelsea high school. Each number was well rendered. In addition to the program given in the Standard last week, an account of the Washington trip was given by Dudley Holmes and Kenneth Beach.

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, the address to be delivered by Dr. W. D. Henderson, director of the extension division of the University of Michigan.

Thirty-seven graduates will receive diplomas, presented by Supt. Edwin L. Clark.

Sunday Marks Close Of St. Mary's School Year

Commencement exercises of St. Mary's high school will be held Sunday evening, June 14, at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's church.

The address, "Catholic Education," will be delivered by Rev. Allen J. Babcock, assistant in charge of Catholic students, Ann Arbor.

Rev. Henry Van Dyke will confer the diplomas. Eight students will be graduated.

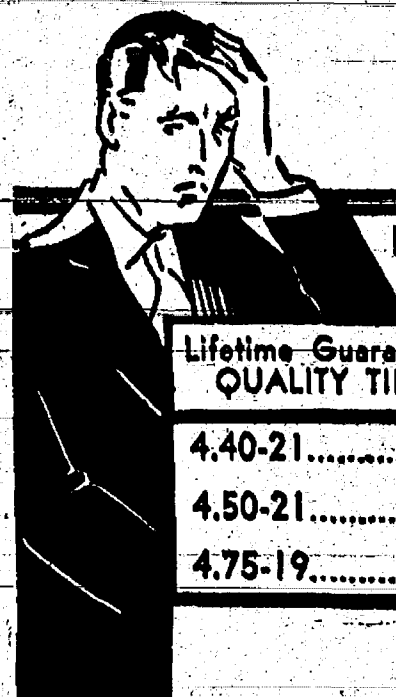

CORRECTION

The Standard wishes to correct the news item printed last week in which the impression might be taken to mean that J. A. Conlan was responsible for the accident at Ten Mile Road and Greenfield, Detroit, when his car collided with a car driven by Norman Stark of Royal Oak, when Mr. Stark's mother was killed and Mrs. Conlan was painfully injured. Neither Mr. Conlan or Mr. Stark were held responsible for the accident, the stop street being poorly marked, and the view from both highways being obstructed by trees. Mrs. Conlan is recovering very satisfactorily from the effects of her injuries and returned to her home here last week.

CELEBRATES 81st BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hathaway were pleasantly surprised on Sunday when a number of their relatives arrived to celebrate the former's 81st birthday. A delicious dinner was served, a feature of which was the prettily decorated birthday cake with 81 candles. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Hathaway of Williamston, Mr. and Mrs. Dorr Hathaway and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Otis of Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miner of Leslie.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATIONTelephone Co. Tells Of Michigan's Advantages

The June issue of The Michigan Bell, a publication issued monthly by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., carried an editorial entitled "What a State," telling of the wonderful points of Michigan as a state in which to live and to visit. The editorial, in its entirety, is as follows:

Michigan is a great state! Great in extent and in scenic beauty. Great in its natural resources and its industries. Great in its history, its traditions, and the character and spirit of its citizens.

Consider its mines and forests; its fertile fields and its productive orchards and vineyards; think of its beautiful lakes and streams; its diversified industries and its splendid educational institutions.

Michigan is a good place in which to live! Here Nature is kind. We are not visited with flood, drought or other disasters to any degree. Nowhere else can people work more profitably nor under better conditions than in Michigan.

And no state has more to offer to the tourist, whether from outside or within the state, than has Michigan. Our Company, through the advertising columns of the Michigan press, has steadily called attention to the advantages of Michigan as a vacation land.

We hold that it is in the interest of every citizen and every individual in Michigan, first, to contemplate and appreciate the privileges and advantages of working and playing in Michigan; and second, to call the attention of others, both in and out of the state, to those facts, continuously and by every proper means that will contribute to the pleasure and profit of every individual, every business and every community.

Michigan is a great state to live in and a great state to visit!

Lindbergh's Next Day
A Middle Age Danger
Russia Sells Matches
Religious Agitation

Lindbergh remembers the question that Napoleon used to his marshals when they reported a victory: "What did you do the next day?" This is "the next day" for Lindbergh, and he intends to fly, with his wife, to Japan and China over the Pacific ocean. "Because" his wife is going, Colonel Lindbergh will fly over a northern narrow stretch of the Pacific, no "middle of the ocean, and no matter what happens" this time. And he will fly a ship that can land on water.

Mortimer L. Schiff, partner in Kuhn, Loeb & Co., generous in many philanthropies, and only last month elected national head of the Boy Scouts, died suddenly of heart disease. It is another warning to men of middle age that strenuous exercise, added to strenuous mental work, is dangerous. Mr. Schiff, the day before his death, had played golf for several hours, working hard at his play, as at everything else.

Men past fifty should learn to take life calmly.

Countries of Europe, especially England, are wondering how they can avoid competition and dumping of cheap Russian goods, and, at the same time, eagerly accept money that Russia spends in purchase of machinery and raw materials.

This country, a little more virtuous, or, perhaps, more foolish than the others, has cut down Russian purchases in this country by more than half within a year. That may be high morality, but it is poor business.

It will take more than words or dislike of bolshevik theories, to conquer Russia's industrial campaign, backed by able producers and good salesmen.

For instance, when United States soldiers look closely at the little box of matches supplied by the government, they will see written in small type, "Made in Russia."

The army needed matches, and asked for bids. And the lowest bid, 25 percent lower than an American bid, came from Russian matchmakers.

Under the law, according to Major Harry of the quartermaster department, the army is compelled to accept the lowest bid.

There is reason to believe that the sudden violent outbreak of anti-Catholic hostility in Spain, Italy and elsewhere will be overcome by conciliatory measures.

In Italy the Pope has forbidden all Catholic processions and demonstrations of any kind outside of churches and forbidden the official Vatican organ, Osservatore Romano, to publish hostile comment on the Fascist government.

Mussolini, on his part, has forbidden the Italian press to continue the publication of news articles and editorials calculated to foment anti-Catholic hatred.

Good news of the wheat crop in Texas—enormous crops. And that, as usual, was bad news for wheat growers. Under our intelligent system of agriculture and marketing, good crops in wheat or cotton mean trouble and poor prices for farmers.

Gen. William Mitchell, head of our air forces in the big war, has just made an inspection and trial of the autogyro, or "almost straight-up-and-down flying machine." That machine, with a speed of 120 miles an hour, represents a remarkable improvement in flying, says General Mitchell. He flew one of the machines, and is amazed at its various good qualities, ease in maneuvering and ability to rise almost vertically.

Americans might envy the people of Iceland, with no army, no navy, no fleet, everybody at work. Their important city, Reykjavik, has piped water from a hot spring two miles away and uses the water to heat public buildings, and the people own the hot water.

If it were here, some private company would have a water on that hot water, selling it to the city and explaining that cities must not engage in business.

However, we have many things that the Icelanders have not, and some day we may add to our possessions the ability to manage our own natural monopolies. It is a long way off, but it will come.

Frau Lanny Barth's husband left her, five years ago, leaving also her idiot and crippled child. She lost her work, the institution caring for the child sent it back because she could not pay. She walked with the child to the edge of a lake, sat thinking on a bench for a while, wondering how she could support the child.

They she walked into the water, "and," she told the court, "I held his head under water until he died. What else was there to do?"

The court having investigated her statements and verified her desperate efforts to earn money to support the child, acquitted her without comment. It did not snicker, and no one has answered her question: "What else was there to do?"

This is not a good world for a workless mother with an idiot child. (© 1931, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The Japanese interpret the symbolism of the lotus as "the symbol of triumph over self; of extinction of the fires of passion; of abnegation and self-control." The flower is the token of all that is best in man and woman. It is the Buddhist emblem of death.

Any Road Signs Are Defaced By Motorists

Following is a bulletin of recent defacement of road signs by motorists issued by the Board of County Commissioners:

Sometimes in driving along the various highways of the county can be seen certain signs placed for the use of motorists. These signs are of various shapes, sizes, and colors, and are placed in various locations. Some are defaced by motorists, either by painting over them, or by tearing them down, or by otherwise destroying them. This is a very serious matter, as it is the duty of the Board of County Commissioners to maintain the highway in a safe condition, and to provide for the safety of the motorists. It is therefore requested that motorists refrain from defacing or destroying any road signs, and that they report any such defacement to the proper authorities.

STATE NEWS

Ernest Baxter, 47 years old, and Milton Greenwald, 38, both of Chicago, were drowned while fishing in Ackley Lake, near Paw Paw. Their bodies were recovered eight hours after their overturned boat was seen by Fay Morland, electrician employed at a power house. Their boat is believed to have struck an abutment separating Ackley and Maple Lakes. The men had been occupying cottages at Ackley Lake several months. They were unemployed. Greenwald leaves a wife and two children, Baxter a son.

D. S. R. service in Oakland County was inaugurated when a Detroit street car traversed the route through Farmington, Pleasant Ridge and Royal Oak. The car was the first to operate under the new agreement whereby Detroit Street Railways will give transportation service to the north Woodward avenue district. Royal Oak purchased four miles of right-of-way and necessary equipment from the Eastern Michigan Railways to co-operate with the D. S. R. in the service.

Leon Gillette, escaped prisoner from the Lake County Jail at Baldwin, died in a hospital following amputation of his leg when he fell under the wheels of a freight train near Hart in attempting to escape from the district. Gillette's death came despite the sacrifice of his companion, Fred Williams, who voluntarily surrendered to authorities that he might summon medical assistance for the injured man. The men had been arrested on charges of robbing freight cars.

Michigan Happenings

There are to be no finger bowls in Jackson prison. O. B. Fuller, auditor general decided this question definitely at Lansing when he blue-penciled an item of $6 in the monthly expense voucher of the institution. The itemized account showed the money had been used for finger bowls. "What?" asked the auditor general. "Is it true that the prisoners must dip their dirty fingers after eating?" An investigation revealed that the bowls were to be used in the home of Warden Harry Jackson. But Fuller vetoed the item anyway.

Spearing parties led by William Hodgson, conservation officer of Lapeer, on four successive nights recently, took 143 dogfish and eight gar pike from Lake Nepešing, Lapeer County. A party conducted by Harry Platte, Allegan, reported taking 87 dogfish from Silver Lake, Allegan County; and four spearing parties supervised by Charles F. Merrifield, conservation officer, Grand Rapids, caught 81 dogfish in Reeds Lake. Similar reports are being received by the fish division from officers in other parts of the State.

A three-year suit against the Detroit and Mackinac Railway ended at Bay City when $155,000 damages were awarded the Federal Gravel Company and the Michigan Gravel Company. Evidence was produced in court that the Alpena Gravel Company was organized by the railway company, both companies having the same officers, and that discriminatory rate schedules existed against the suing companies. The Alpena company was restrained from use of the railway property without payment.

Six Wolverine men were fined at Charlevoix for killing an elk in the State game preserve in Cheboygan County. Conservation officers said it was the first case in Michigan in which anyone was arrested for hunting elk. The men, William Dunbar, Jonathan Babcock, Rate Babcock, Gerald Wood, Orley Wood and Ray Farmer, were fined $50 and costs of $15 each. Their automobile and two rifles were confiscated. They pleaded guilty.

Maxine Mott, 8 years old, died from burns suffered at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mott, at Vineyard Lake, near Cambridge Junction. Flames filled the kitchen when Mrs. Mott sought to fill the tank of a gasoline stove. She collapsed while carrying out Yvonne, 3 years old. Yvonne and her mother were severely but not fatally burned. The fire was extinguished by Mrs. Mott's father, William West.

Crushed by a 50-gallon drum of oil, which struck her when her father rolled it from a truck at their home in Flint, Barbara June Armistead, 2 years old, died soon afterward in St. Joseph's Hospital. Henry B. Ormiston, the father, had placed the child on the seat of the truck when he prepared to unload the barrel. The child jumped from the truck as the barrel dropped to the ground. The mother witnessed the accident.

Practically all recruits summoned for the State Police training course beginning July 1 are high school graduates, according to Oscar G. Olander at Lansing. It is expected that about 25 of the 30 summoned will become troopers at the end of the three-month course. "Applications for enlistment have been very numerous," says Olander, and only men between the ages of 22 and 30 are eligible.

Landing on the roof of a house in Home Acres, a suburb, when his parachute split after he had leaped from a plane at 3,000 feet, R. K. Branch, a parachute jumper giving an exhibition before several thousand spectators at Grand Rapids Airport, suffered two sprained ankles. A second parachute would not open because the first cut his velocity.

The attempt of Arthur Brose of Detroit to crank his automobile while it was in gear resulted in injuries to Brose and extensive damages to the porch of a house. The automobile knocked Brose down, climbed the curb and struck the house. The driver was treated at Receiving Hospital.

Sheriff's officers are posting notices of a dog quarantine, effective throughout Lenawee County until Aug. 24. Dogs must be kept chained or otherwise confined at home unless vaccinated.

Edward Page of Saginaw was killed when a large tile he was loading on a truck slipped and struck him on the head.

Margaret Hill, Battle Creek College senior, had $100 pinned on her diploma when she graduated. She got it for teaching the college president to clog dance. A year ago she overheard President Paul L. Voelker remark he would give $100 to know how to clog. "Peggy" taught him.

Department of State Michigan

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN
Frank D. Fitzgerald, Sec'y of State

Money received under the new malt tax law is being turned over to the state treasury as fast as it is collected and will be released by the administrative board for care of the state's tubercular patients, Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald has announced.

Under rules of the department of state, grocery trucks in which the delivery of malt is an incidental activity will not be required to secure a $25 license. Every retail store handling malt or wort will be required to secure a license. Where a large number of stores are owned and operated by one company, each store will be required to secure a license.

Another rule of interest is that malt tax stamps, issued under the old law, can be redeemed and exchanged for new stamps. In cases where the old stamps have been affixed to cans, inspectors of the department will be authorized to issue new stamps upon proper examination. Stamps are now available at the following offices of the secretary of state: Lansing, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Saginaw, Flint and Marquette.

From letters reaching the department of state, many persons do not know exactly when they must secure a new automobile driver's license under the provisions of the 1931 law. All persons who secured their present driver's license before Jan. 1, 1925 must reregister prior to Nov. 1, 1931 while persons securing licenses prior to Jan. 1, 1928 have until May 1, 1932 to reregister. The new law increases the fee to $1, of which 15 cents is returned to the county or municipality. Because of this feature of the law, the department has taken a definite stand against an additional notary fee of 25 cents being imposed by local officials.

Annual corporation privilege tax blanks for 1931 will be distributed by the department of state late this month so that corporations may return the reports during July or August. There are 18,000 corporations in Michigan, subject to the tax.

The powers and duties of the secretary of state in supervising elections were greatly increased by amendments to the general election law adopted by the 1931 legislature. All election forms, notices and ballots must now be prepared and drafted by the department of state. The new law also empowers the secretary of state to investigate or cause local authorities to investigate alleged frauds or irregularities in elections.

On June 1, 1931 there were 79,000 fewer private automobiles in operation in Michigan than on the same date a year ago, department of state records show. At the same time the number of commercial cars in operation was 19,000 less than in 1930. This has reduced the state's fees from the weight tax $1,222,300 below receipts for the first five months of 1930. The main reason for this reduction is the economic depression which has prevented many persons who own automobiles, from purchasing 1931 licenses.

Sault Ste. Marie's street car system will be discontinued within a short time, because of lack of patronage, it has been announced. Ordinarily the severity of the winters forces a majority of car owners to store their automobiles for at least three months. Then the traction line enjoys its best patronage and makes up the deficit of the summer months. Last winter tax automobiles were laid up due to the mild weather, and the traction company suffered accordingly. It is expected buses will supplant the street cars.

Herman Huneke's first parachute jump ended in his death near Richmond, when his parachute failed to open. Huneke, a cook in the 17th Squadron at Selfridge Field, obtained a leave and came here to make a flight with Stewart Weeks, a commercial flier. Weeks said Huneke told him he was experienced in parachute jumping and asked him to go up, but that his actions during the flight indicated he had not jumped before. About 100 spectators saw Huneke jump from an altitude of 2,000 feet.

"New Iso-Vis Highly Satisfactory in FORD"

Reports A.A.A.

RESULTS of Indianapolis Speedway Tests certified by American Automobile Assn.

- 1 New Iso-Vis did not thin out from dilution.
- 2 During entire 9,000 mile tests, all parts of engine and chassis were lubricated effectively.
- 3 Less than 1 quart of oil—Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy)—was used in 1,000 miles at 30 m. p. h.
- 4 Carbon formed was only 6.75 grams per cylinder at 30 m. p. h. using Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy).
- 5 The cylinder wear was too little to measure.

These certified facts tell a remarkable story of the outstanding lubrication New Iso-Vis delivers. And the fine condition of the engine of this Ford after the severe tests it went through is further positive proof.

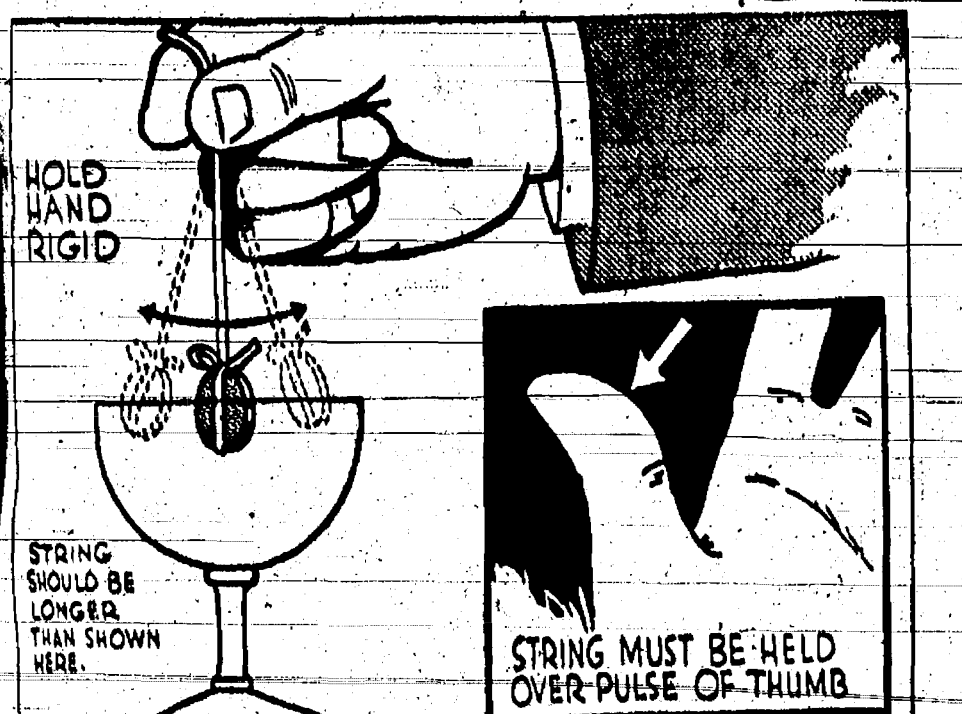

No other motor oil has ever given such a public demonstration of its lubricating ability. New Iso-Vis is the only motor oil that will not thin out from dilution. Give your car this constant protection. Change your oil this week and change to New Iso-Vis.

New ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL

New Polarine also is refined by our new process—giving it an efficiency which is exceeded only by New Iso-Vis. The price is 25c a quart.

TRICKS OF MAGIC EXPLAINED BY WILLIAM LINDHORST

Take a string around a quarter and hold the quarter suspended over and slightly inside a glass. Grasp the string between the index finger and the thumb, and place it directly over the pulse of the thumb. Hold your hand perfectly rigid, and the quarter will begin to swing to and fro like a pendulum. The quarter will swing to the side of the glass, and it will strike the number closest to the hour of the day. If the time should be twenty minutes past the hour, the quarter will strike twice. It is necessary to hold the string over the pulse of the thumb, as this is the motivating force controlling the movement of the quarter.

Safety Glass

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions.

Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost.

The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner.

Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.

Forty-eight States in the Union are Involved in This Depression

This Depression is nation-wide. As a matter of fact it is world-wide. So it's everybody's job to do something about it. For that reason we don't think it is at all presumptuous for this one store (which is only one of many) to take upon itself a share of the responsibility of bringing about better times. This can be done if merchants everywhere sell more merchandise so that more people may have more jobs replacing that merchandise. Merchants and stores can help materially, for they sell all of the people's merchandise needs. About 90 percent of our purchases are made in the United States. There are very few states that are not represented in some way by the goods we sell. So the efforts of merchants to get dollars into circulation should be a real factor in bringing back prosperity. We don't believe people will part with their money for selfish motives. What the people want is MORE than their money's worth. And we are really doing everything in our power to give it to them. Not because we're unselfish either, but because our business is inextricably bound up in the success of our country—for which reason we are

WAYNE—The Wayne tax rate for 1931 will be $17.00 per thousand dollars assessed valuation. The rate last year was $16.00 per thousand. The new rate was set at the meeting of the commission Tuesday night.—Review.

MUNITH—Mrs. Lizzie Riggs announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Rodena Rowe to Kenneth Riley of Rome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Riley of this place. They were married Friday evening, May 29 at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. Frank Hartley. The attendants were Miss Ellis Higgs and Duane Lantis, both of this place.

SALINE—Paul Clement, Britton farmer, recently figured his cost on the production of corn for the 1930 season and found that it was 26 cents per bushel, an unusual figure when it is considered that the government average cost per acre on farms with similar yields was $20.06 when Mr. Clement's cost was only $10.41.—Observer.

BROOKLYN—Bronze marker plates are being placed in Highland cemetery for Mrs. A. W. Brooks and A. J. Whitney Weir by Mr. Brooks and Mrs. Weir. The markers will be the first to be installed here under the new plan of placing them almost even with the ground surface so that they will not be kept like a lawn.—Exponent.

MILAN—The largest class ever to be graduated from Milan high school and the largest class to be graduated this year from any of the smaller high schools in the county will receive the diplomas next Thursday night at the annual commencement exercises. Forty-seven members of the class have completed their work in the local high school and have made a high scholastic record that is seldom seen in a high school graduating class.—Leader.

DUNDEE—The members of the village council at their June meeting, Monday evening, set the tax rate for the coming year, at nineteen mills on the dollar, an increase of 3 mills over last year.—Reporter.

NORTHVILLE—The daughters of three ministers of Northville and Novi will graduate as members of the 1931 class of Northville high school. They are Mary Ellen Barbour, daughter of the Rev. W. Robcoe Barbour, pastor of the local Baptist church, Joyce Thompson, daughter of the Rev. R. O. Thompson of the Novi Baptist church and Miriam Richards, daughter of the Rev. William Richards of the Northville Methodist Episcopal church.—Record.

MANCHESTER—Country roads are being improved now and by vacation time will be in fine shape and we advise our readers to use them in order to get a better knowledge of what our Michigan farmers are doing this year in the determination to grow better crops. They will be delighted and encouraged by the inspection and some of them may wish that they were doing as well.—Enterprise.

MANCHESTER—Crossing the Memorial bridge a few days ago we glanced down at the water flowing over the dam and noticed fish flopping where the water had become so low that they could not swim. We called the miller and he caught them in his hand.—Enterprise.

TECUMSEH—Fifty-eight seniors received diplomas last week Thursday evening at the final commencement program which was held in the high school auditorium.—Herald.

TECUMSEH—Edward Escoline, pastor of the Friends church, plans to hold street meetings on the main four corners each Saturday evening during the months of June, July and August.—Herald.

SOUTH LYON—Work has started on a new bridge about two and three-quarters miles east of South Lyon, near the McFadden farm. Doing away with the old narrow bridge will be a welcome improvement to motorists. Our local Board of Commerce was instrumental in getting this done.—Herald.

Camp Newkirk Will Open On June 21st

Camp Newkirk, the Boy Scout camp at Dexter for boys of Livingston and Washtenaw counties, will open for the summer season on June 21. The camp will be operated for six weeks this season, and enrollment will be limited to 125 boys at any one time. Following the practice of last season, boys from 9 to 12, will be accepted at Camp Newkirk's Cub camp, which will be run at the same time as the Scout camp, but under separate direction.

Camp Newkirk has for several years been noted for the superior quality of leadership it accords. This season will prove no exception to the rule. Wallace F. Watt, Scout Executive for Washtenaw and Livingston counties, will again act as camp director; Rev. John H. Shilling will have general charge of Cubs and of the business administration of the camp; Russell H. "Rusty" Moore will again be in charge of swimming, life-saving, safety and the general health of the campers; Robert R. Shaw will supervise hikes, over-night camps, and the program of special activities; while a large corps of junior officers will assist in handling the details of the program.

Local scoutmasters have been invited to accompany their scouts while the latter are in camp. The scout camp plan is to have boys from individual troops camp with members of their own troop, under their own regular leaders, rather than placing them in charge of strangers who do not know their special needs. It is hoped that this year will see the largest number of scoutmasters present in the history of Camp Newkirk.

The food department always looms large in importance where growing, hungry boys are involved, and camp officials are pleased to announce that Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howard will again be on hand to dispense the viands, for which they have become justly famed.

In contrast with previous years, the camp has had constant upkeep this year, with Lawrence Doyen as custodian. Practically all of the tents are erected, and much work is completed in preparation for the opening of camp, which in past years has had to be done at the last minute. Over 1000 trees have been planted this spring on the camp site, and many other improvements have been made. The cost of the camp will remain at $8.00 per week, the same as last year. In order that the full amount of time may be given to distinctly scout activities, a special group of boys will be engaged to take care of washing dishes and peeling vegetables rather than requiring all of the campers to assist in this work.

Scouts who are planning to attend the camp this season are requested to notify their scoutmasters, who will make reservation for them. Parents or boys of cub age may communicate directly with scout headquarters, 924 E. Huron St., phone 7215, Ann Arbor.

IN MEMORY OF THE CLASS OF 1931

By Rev. A. E. Potts

The busy years of High School days have passed away. There's prophecy in every boy and girl we truly say. Now through the Narrows that connect the seas of Time—that was and Time—that is to be. Our ships must sail along. Some steamers at full speed ahead. No tramps—no hope that limp along. Bearing many a mark of struggle with the Main. May all be fleet, whose helmamen view with mild surprise. The battered sails and signs of weathered storm.

Yes, out through the Narrows sail we all. For open seas of fleeting time and God's Eternal years! We pray for passage long aboard a buoyant barge. Her graceful lines all made to cut the waves. Her mastered speed be like a skater's skill. That skims the ice, a thing of air and wing. Her sails be crimson-hued by ruddy suns. And be at home on all the seven seas. But we are not alone on open sea. A mystic convoy comes to meet—and guide to be. Each bears the mark of one designer's hand. The captain of the convoy great. Doffing turns our prow toward the land of promised fame. He stands upon the convoy's deck and hails us. With an old familiar name. So may we sail upon life seas. Thirty-seven all gleaming ships with convoys bright. Until we all shall find at last a port of light.

One person was killed near Monroe when two cars collided head-on in a field where they had been driving to avoid the accident. The dead man is Otto Hoelzer, 43, Belle Harbor. Hoelzer, with his wife and child, drove into a field to avoid hitting a car coming towards him on the wrong side of Telegraph road. The other driver made the same move. Three occupants of the other car were slightly injured.

Two suits have been filed in Circuit Court at Coldwater for $5,000 each against H. E. Taylor, proprietor of a filling station by Walter Kenyon and Earl C. Gifford, senior members of the Branch County Board of Highway Commissioners. The suit grows out of an advertisement signed by Taylor, in which he is alleged to have uttered remarks which reflected upon the ability of the commissioners.

HOWARD CITY—Forrest Rank ran onto a peculiar circumstance the other night while fishing. He found a dead trout, about nine inches in length. He investigated to find what had killed the fish, thinking that someone had hooked it. He found that the trout had tried to swallow a crab, and the crab became lodged in the fish's mouth and was the cause of the death of both.—Record.

STAND ASIDE, THERE

However unreasonable customers are, business men have found that it pays to go the limit to please a customer.

A woman entered a grocer's shop and asked for some good cheese. The grocer showed her some which did not please her. She wanted some particularly "lively" cheese. He showed her the remainder of his stock, but she wasn't satisfied. She wanted it still more lively.

At last the grocer, losing patience, called sarcastically to his assistant, "John, fetch me No. 7 and let it in."

Music of the Farm

by A. J. Dunlap

They talk about the music of the far off
Of songs the winding river sings across
I've heard the echo in the hills of breezes
And heard the prima donna sing with roses in her hair.
But when I want a harmony that's full of homely charm,
Then I recall the music of the dear old peaceful farm—
The mellow songs of meadow larks that rose to meet the day.
Commingled with the distant bawl of cattle
The distant meowing of a horse and barking
All tangled with the cry of sheep and squeal
Of hungry pigs.
Then over all I hear a voice half full of wild alarm
That pierces like a trumpet blaze the quiet of the farm.
And everywhere it bears the news through orchard, field and glade—
Behind the salt barrel in the bin, the speckled hen has laid.

Why We Behave Like Human Beings

By GEORGE DORSEY, Ph.D., LL.D.

"People Don't Do Such Things"

THERE is no knowing man without knowing men. "Everybody's doing it" and "People don't do such things" are collective reactions biologically useful in herds and early human society, but they persist in countless forms today and extend their influence to such unimportant biologic factors in modern life as ruffles on skirts and creases in trousers.

"People don't" become potent factors in modifying the environment to which individuals are conditioned to respond. Almost before the youngster has learned to respond to the facts of life, he is compelled to learn adjustment to the fancies of life. Human behavior as adjustment is meaningless without understanding the power of social environment to enforce its limited responses upon the newcomers. Society does not easily change its mind, because to change is to acknowledge defeat; it hates to run. Its mind being its entire body and tied up with emotion, it vents its hate on "Don'ts" and much of its energy in enforcing obedience.

But there is almost no limit to the pressure that a normal individual can stand if the pressure is applied gradually; we get calloused; to odors, sights, sounds, and bondage of trappings, and the harness by which we draw our burdens. And well for us that we can become accustomed to the burdens of things, people, and situations that we must bear. But man is not by nature a beast of burden or fitted by nature to keep his nose to a grindstone. And the man so yoked or chained is one more human being lost for activities that might be human.

As one recalls some of the monstrous situations under which human beings have lived and live their lives, one marvels at man's meekness and complacency. It can only be explained by that quality of flesh to become calloused to situations that if faced suddenly would provoke blisters and revolt.

Man's inheritance is all right and is his only inherently valuable asset. It is human behavior—individual, communal, national—that can be changed, but not by cut-and-dried programs of social reform; not by reformers, codes, ideals, or by our present "system" of education. Life itself is not systematized or standardized; it wants to live, it wants to enjoy life. It has a pain sense; it responds to love; above all, it can learn. We start with that equipment. Herein lies the significance of the new conception of human behavior; the importance of the task that confronts the new psychology.

Organized society is—or should be—interested in socially serviceable behavior. Its problem is to control behavior for social ends and at the same time give the individual freedom to express and develop his innate capacities for normal behavior. This cannot be brought about by change; there will be delinquents, abnormal, sub-normal, as long as breeding grounds for such are regarded as normal by-products of social organization.

Rational conduct is a dream. But conduct freed of sordidness, of equal, or of haunting fears, of ungoverned tempers, should be the possible fate of every normal child. We can at least make this a better world for children to be born into, and so alter their environment that they need not learn to lie, steal, murder, or commit rape of bigamy, to succeed.

The seemingly infinitely large universe is made up of the seemingly infinitely small units of electrons. The universe is what it is because of the nature of their behavior under the drive of energy. That same energy drives us. The units of our social universe are human individuals; it can be molded only as the individuals themselves are molded. Living beings are not elements, but reaction systems; their behavior can be molded. Ours is already set; but it is not necessary that we condition our children to the mold in which we hardened.

In the whole history of human thought there has been voiced only one rule of conduct of the slightest value as a standard for human behavior. It is applicable to individuals, families, communities, cities, states and nations: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

But note that you and I as individuals can never get a start on putting the Golden Rule into practice until we have set our own house in order. When we strip our unethical and infantile hang-overs of behavior of their veneer of rationalization we are likely to be astounded, as Watson points out, at our "susceptibility to flattery, weakness, inadequacy, or lack of knowledge, jealousy, fear of rivals, fear of being made the scapegoat," and proneness to hurl criticism upon others to escape it ourselves. The first step in setting our house in order is to remove the beam from our own eyes.

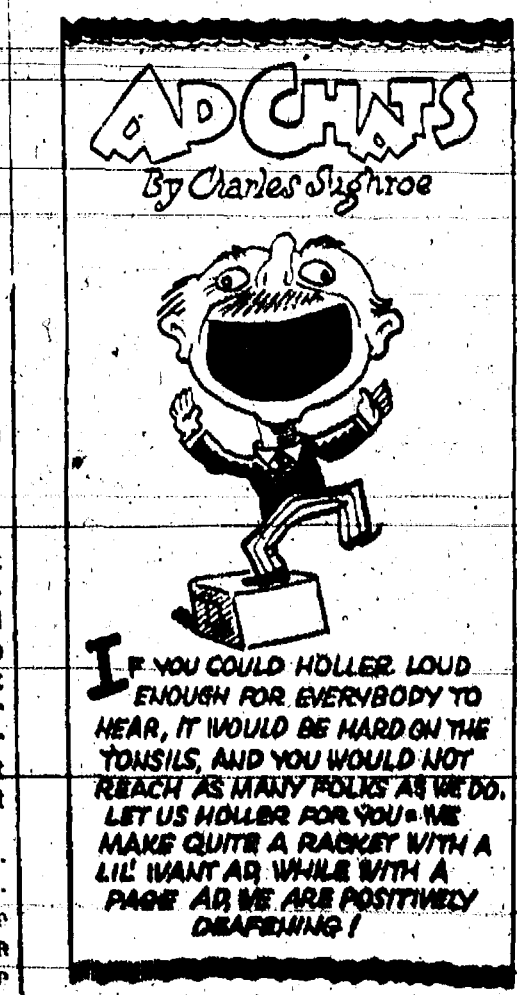

When human society starts to practice the Golden Rule, it will lay a foundation for civilization which no flood of passion can shake. Any other conditioning of our inherent nature leaves us as we are—with an animal nature modified only by man-made devices to satisfy living impulses as old as life itself. Man is the product of evolution; humanity must be the goal of human endeavor.

Gravel roads in front of homes throughout Macomb county will be sprayed with a light road oil to eliminate the dust nuisance, at least as far as 100,000 gallons of this special light oil will go. The Macomb county road commission has advertised for bids on the oil. A small quantity of the oil was purchased and placed on a road for experimental purposes. It was found satisfactory. The county highway system comprises 180 miles of gravel roads.

Baby chicks, ducks and turkeys of almost every known color and breed were on display at the recent fourth annual Michigan Baby Chick Show at East Lansing. The show was sponsored by the poultry department of Michigan State College in the interest of better poultry breeding and culture. Officials said entries were more numerous this year than at any previous show, and that the show was the largest of its kind in the world.

The work of planting 75,000 pine seedlings along State highways in Cheboygan County has been started by Jack MacAlpine, county superintendent of State highway maintenance. To minimize the danger of the trees being stolen by Christmas tree hunters, he plans to have the branches on the side away from the road removed. The roadside beauty will not be impaired, but the trees will not be suitable for Christmas purposes.

The Village of Inkster will be without lights and police protection for at least two, and perhaps five years. The action was taken as an economy measure by which it is hoped to re-establish the credit standing of the village, which at present is in debt $30,000 to banks and the Detroit Edison Co. The Detroit Edison Co. is holding village notes for payment of electric lighting for the last six months.
