Camp For Children Is Opened At North Lake

A camp for tuberculosis prevention and for undernourished children, known as the Wayne County Christmas Seal Camp, located on the property known as the Richard Webb farm at North Lake, was officially opened Thursday afternoon, July 2. Open house was held during the day, with Mrs. Clark C. Hyatt, chairman of the camp committee, in charge, and at 2:30 a brief flag-raising ceremony took place.

Activities at the camp started on Monday, when 50 boys, ranging from 10 to 15 years of age, arrived for a month's stay, after which the boy campers will be replaced by 50 girls. The farmhouse on the property has been remodeled, a new cottage has been erected, and the two-year lease, together with the camp equipment and operating expenses are paid from funds raised by the annual sale of Christmas seals. Cots and kitchen utensils are furnished by the Detroit board of education.

Water sports, hiking and nature study are features of the outdoor program, which is under the direction of William E. Masterson, of the department of special education in Detroit schools. Children who have been exposed to tuberculosis or are undernourished are sent to the camp through the recommendation of school authorities and physicians.

Mrs. Hyatt cordially invites the public to visit the camp.

Organization Meeting Held By 4-H Directors

The new board of directors of the Washtenaw County Council of 4-H clubs, which was elected at the annual convention on June 10, held their organization meeting Wednesday evening, July 1, at the agricultural extension office. Ernest Girbach, vice president, Cora Blumhardt, secretary, and Gordon Bradbury, treasurer. The other member of the board is Dorothy Zimmerman.

Most important of the business transacted was the decision to abolish the county 4-H camps for this year, and in their place hold an all day and evening round-up at some campsite for all the 4-H boys and girls in the county.

All of the members of this board are older 4-H club members. Four out of five of them are acting as leaders in local clubs.

JACOB LEHMAN INJURED

Jacob Lehman is confined to his home on South Main street as a result of injuries received Thursday noon while loading hay on the farm of Harry A. Prudden, south of the village. The load tipped over and he was thrown to the ground, striking on his head and shoulders. Fortunately, no bones were broken, but he was badly bruised.

SUN STROKE FATAL

Emory Gregosky, 64 years of age, suffered a sun-stroke Thursday afternoon while working in the hay field at his home in Lyndon township, from the effects of which he expired about 6 o'clock the same day. He is survived by the widow. The body was taken to Detroit, where funeral services were held and interment was made.

NOW'S YOUR CHANCE!

Jacob Hummel assumed the office of Justice of the Peace last Saturday, being one of the four men who act in that capacity in Sylvan. "Take" is ready to fulfill the promise that some of his friends made when he was nominated to the office last spring—that he would perform the marriage ceremony for the first applicants free of charge.

Annual School Meeting Will Be Held Monday

An official notice of the fall for the annual school meeting of School District No. 3 fr. Sylvan and Lima, will be found on another page of this issue of the Standard. The terms of three members of the board of education, who were elected at a special meeting held recently, expire at this time. The terms for which three officers will be elected next Monday evening are for one, two and three years.

J. L. Fletcher, M. J. Dunkel and David Mohrlock are the officers whose terms expire, L. P. Vogel and George W. Walworth being the remaining members of the board. The meeting for Monday evening is called for 7:30, at the public school auditorium. Annual meetings will also be conducted in rural districts next Monday evening.

Drowning Lad Rescued At Cavanaugh Lake

Robert Fahrner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fahrner of Sylvan, narrowly escaped death by drowning at Cavanaugh Lake last Thursday evening, when he became exhausted in an attempt to swim to a diving dock located on the east side of the lake.

Realizing that he could not reach his destination, Fahrner called for help and Albert Winans and a friend from Ann Arbor, who were on the diving dock, went to his rescue. At the same time, Ed Miller, of Chelsea, who was standing on the shore near that point, dashed to the rescue, discharging only his shoes, and succeeded in holding the drowning lad until John Thierman, of Columbus, Ohio, Boy Scout, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chandler, joined him and together they got Fahrner to shallow water and were assisted in getting him to shore by a young lady in a boat.

Although he was unconscious at the time he was brought ashore, Robert regained consciousness immediately. He suffered severely from the shock, but it is reported that he is recovering satisfactorily.

Large Crowds Hear Isham Band Concerts

Large crowds were in Chelsea last Friday night and last night to hear the open air band concerts given by Isham's Band, and sponsored by a number of Chelsea business men. The concerts will continue each Wednesday evening during July and August.

A special feature of the concert for next Wednesday evening will be a trumpet solo by George Austin of Saine, one of three members of the band who reside out of the Chelsea territory.

EISEMANN REUNION

Eighteen families were represented at the third Eisemann reunion held Sunday at the vacant farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Christ. Horning, in Freedom township.

About 75 members were present. Michael Schiller, 71, of Freedom being the oldest member in attendance, and Doris and Donald, 18-months-old children of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Eschelbach of Ann Arbor, the youngest.

A picnic dinner was served at one o'clock, and officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—Wm. Eisemann, Freedom.

Secretary—Julius Schiller, Ann Arbor.

Treasurer—Bertha Kaufmann, of Freedom.

After the business meeting the group was entertained by George Durkee, who rendered several humorous selections from Edgar Guest. A ball game and horse shoes furnished amusement for the men.

The next reunion will be held the first Sunday in July, 1932, the place to be decided by the committee.

FIRE DAMAGES WAREHOUSE

The Chelsea fire department was called to the Co-Op warehouse last Friday morning when a blaze was discovered in that building. The fire had not gained much headway and was quickly extinguished, the loss being estimated at from $400 to $600. The damage was confined mostly to the siding and roof, and about 14 tons of wool which had been stored on the second floor by L. B. Lawrence was badly water soaked. The origin of the fire was not determined.

LOSES FINGER

Clarence Trinkle of Lima township met with an accident Saturday noon, causing the loss of one of his fingers. As he jumped from a load of hay, his ring caught on the hay loader, throwing his entire weight on the finger and breaking it in three places. It was amputated at Chelsea Private hospital.

Many Chelsea Scouts Attend Camp Newkirk

There are a number of Scouts from Chelsea, Troop 1, among the 118 Scouts and officials enrolled for the second period of two weeks at Camp Newkirk, Boy Scout camp located near Dexter. These Scouts are John Bruner, Benny Bacon, Bob Williams, Royal McBride and Foster Beissel.

A number of interesting events are on the week's program, chief of which is a Scout field meet with Camp Kankakee, Wolverine Council Scout camp located at Lake Washington in the Irish Hills. Events will include first aid, signalling, fire-building, knot tying, archery and nature study.

Interesting classes are being held this week in taxidermy, archery, marksmanship, axe-throwing and other more distinctly Scout activities such as first aid, tracking, and signalling. Swimming and life-saving, under the leadership of Russel Moore is making fine progress.

Cubs are also enrolled at Camp Newkirk, boys between the ages of 9 and 12, and a special program of activities is planned for them.

The annual Wilderness Camp, under the leadership of Larry Spitzer, will open at Lake City next week. This is for advanced Scouts who are experienced campers. The fee is $10 for a period, including transportation. Registration for both the Wilderness Camp and Camp Newkirk should be made at Scout headquarters, 324 E. Huron St., Ann Arbor. The fee at Camp Newkirk is $8.00 per week.

Annual Home Coming Held At Salem Church

Many former members and friends attended the Home Coming which was an enjoyable affair at Salem M. E. church last Sunday.

After Sunday school, the morning service followed, two former pastors, the Rev. Fred Ross of Henrietta, O., and Rev. H. Bau of Ann Arbor, assisting the pastor, Rev. Henry Lenz, who preached the sermon.

A sumptuous dinner was served at noon by the ladies of the church, to about 250 guests from far and near.

The afternoon session was well attended, the program consisting of an address by Rev. Fred Ross; solo by J. W. Weist, of Toledo, O.; duet, by Rev. and Mrs. Ross; a large repertoire by the Waterloo Band, and also by Mrs. P. M. Broesamle's orchestra.

THIRTY-FOUR YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 6, 1907

Many of the residents of Chelsea spent the Fourth of July at Cavanaugh and North Lake.

The following Chelsea residents received third grade certificates at the recent teachers' examination, which was held in Ann Arbor: Mabel L. Fletcher, Bertha Spaulding, Maggie Miller, Lucy Leach, Edna Reeve, Fannie Reilly and Fred Feldkamp.

Deputy Sheriff Staffan went to Ann Arbor on Sunday and arrested Chas. Brant, who was accused of stealing some clothing and various other articles from the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McLaren of Lima. The man was taken before Justice B. B. Turnbull, where he pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of sixty days in the county jail.

Ralph Staebler, a 7-year-old boy living at Birkett, near Dexter, got angry at his brothers Tuesday and told them that the next time they saw him he would be dead. He started toward the Huron river. Not returning, a search was made and his body was found lying in six feet of water.

The market: Wheat, 70c; rye, 26c; oats, 20c; beans, 40c; butter, 6c; eggs, 7c; strawberries, 5c quart; new potatoes, 75c per bu.; wool, 15c.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 11, 1907

Rev. Fr. Considine on Tuesday of this week celebrated the 25th anniversary (or his silver jubilee) of service in the priesthood. For nearly 22 years he has been pastor of St. Mary's church in Chelsea. He was ordained to the priesthood in Detroit, and for two years was assistant to Rev. Fr. Savage. Twenty visiting priests from various parts of the state attended the services on Tuesday. On behalf of the members of the parish Jacob Hummel presented a golden chalice valued at $350. Galbraith Gorman, on behalf of the young men of the church presented a check for $100. The Ladies' Sodality and the children presented a large basket of flowers, which contained two purses, one of which contained $100 in gold and the other $25 in gold.

The annual meeting of School District No. 3 fr., Sylvan and Lima, was held in the town hall on Monday evening. The annual report was read by the secretary, which showed a cash balance on hand of $2,675.40. The total receipts were $11,707.30. Of this sum, $4,000 was raised by direct tax. The total expenditures, with the balance on hand, was $11,707.30.

The neighbors of Philip Schweinfurth met at his home in Sylvan last Thursday and assisted in raising the frame for a new barn.

Born, on Wednesday, July 10, 1907 to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, a son. D. C. McLaren is having an extensive addition built to his warehouse located on the north side of the M. C. tracks.

Carpenters have commenced work for the new residence for the Sisters of St. Dominic, who have charge of St. Mary's school.

Miss Susie Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rowe of Waterloo, died at the home of her parents on Wednesday evening. She was taken ill Sunday evening. She was 22 years of age.

J. G. Webster is having a cottage built on his lot at Crooked Lake.

2 Meals Day, Plenty Water, Helps Stomach

Unlike other medicine, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisonous waste which caused gas and other stomach trouble. Just ONE spoonful relieves gas, sour stomach and sick headache. Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! Henry H. Fenn, Druggist.

PINKNEY—A man and woman were in town last Friday getting members for the Association Opposed to Prohibition and also circulating a petition to permit the sale of light wines and beer in Michigan. It costs $1.00 to join this organization. About a dozen signers were secured to the petition but getting a dollar a head from them was another matter. We understand only two of the signers coughed up the dollar.—Dispatch.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW

Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich.—Representatives of the Michigan Department of State, the Michigan Utilities Commission and the Michigan Department of Public Safety this week are attending the conference on uniform traffic regulations at French Lick, Ind. This is the second of a series of meetings intended to produce laws so that motorists and truck drivers will be subject to the same regulations on trips extending from one state to another.

In Michigan the Department of State allowed motorists until March 1 to secure 1931 automobile license plates. In Ohio where the same time limit was not in force, many Michigan motorists were inconvenienced, the department was informed, by police questioning regarding 1930 plates during the month of February. This question of reciprocal courtesy is being urged strongly by the Michigan delegation.

Besides Michigan the conference is being attended by Representatives from Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and West Virginia. When an agreement has been reached on all questions, the legislatures of all states involved will be asked to adopt uniform laws.

Lansing, Mich.—Since the new automobile drivers' registration and license law became effective this spring, the Department of State has returned $4,410.45 to the various county and city license offices, records show. This refund represents the 15 per cent allowed the cities and counties by state law, for receiving the applications and the department believes that because of the law, local examining agencies should not make an additional 25-cent notary charge.

SALINE—What has become of those folk who said last summer the reason we had no electrical storms was because the radio was removing all the electricity from the atmosphere?—Observer.

NORTHVILLE—For the protection of its depositors, the Lapham State Savings bank voluntarily closed its doors here Tuesday morning, June 30. By unanimous vote the board of directors Monday evening, following an afternoon conference with state banking department officials, it was decided to suspend business. Failure of the bank to open as usual Tuesday morning came as a stunning and unexpected blow to the people of Northville.—Record.

FAMILY FOOD BILL REPORTED TO HAVE DECLINED 18 PERCENT

The weekly food bill of the average family is 18 percent lower this year than in 1930.

Moreover, the budget of the average family shows a greater saving in food than in any other necessity, according to Albert H. Morrill, President of Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, second largest chain grocery system, which has just completed a survey and comparison of food prices.

Official reports indicate that during the past year clothing has declined in price 18.7 percent, housing has declined 7.4 percent, fuel and light have declined 3.7 percent.

Kroger's investigation shows that food prices in their stores are 18 percent lower than a year ago.

This means that the weekly budget of $10, which last year bought 90 lbs. of food, today will buy 110 lbs. of similar food.

The average family has benefited by this lower cost in two ways: they are using this year better foods and different foods and more certain kinds of foods, or they are spending 18 percent less for the same kinds of foods they used last year.

For instance, a family which might have used oleomargarine is now using butter in baking a cake two eggs are used this year where one was used last year; for salads, where slaw was used last year perhaps lettuce and tomatoes and other vegetables are used now.

In the same manner, a family with a weekly food budget of $20 a year ago can buy the same food today for $16.40.

A family budget of $30 a week last year can be reduced this year to $24.00 and will purchase the same quantity of food.

A definite idea of how food prices have declined may be obtained from the following specific items included in the Kroger survey:

Article	Percent Decline
Bread	17
Butter	45.00
Eggs	40
Cheese	34
Pork Sausage	65
Pork Chops	6
Smoked Hams	40
Shoulder of Lamb	50
Beef Steak	38.1
Chuck Roasts	36.00
Meat for Loaf	40.00
Spare-ribs	54

BRIGHTON—The work of paving U. S. 28 from Whitmore Lake to the intersection of U. S. 10, one mile east of Brighton, is being rapidly pushed to completion. A single ten foot strip was laid from the point where the paving ends at Whitmore to a point a few rods south of the Huron river near the Hollister school house. Then the paving machine was moved back to the place of beginning and the second ten foot strip started. It has now worked its way north to the old Field farm, a short distance past the Iygen Country Club's golf course.—Argus.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Why are taxes going higher when everything else is going down?

Ans.—We don't know. Our devil says it's because it takes so much more to feed the bootleggers in our prisons.

Ques.—Why is a caucus given the name of "caucus"?

Ans.—This is a term derived before the American Revolution from meetings held by callers of ships in so-called calk-houses of Boston, for the purpose of resisting the British and eventually controlling the city. The British sympathizers applied the term "calk-hus" in ridicule. John Adams first used the term "caucus" in his diary in 1793. Since then it has been applied to political parties or legislative assemblies in which plans for future action are discussed or decided upon.

Ques.—Can you tell me who the cave dwellers were?

Ans.—The cave-dwellers were a prehistoric race that lived in caves and caverns. Very little is known of this peculiar race of people. The only information obtainable is from the remains left in the places of their habitation—New Mexico, Arizona, Mexico and Utah. They are long extinct, thought to have been extinguished by the Apache Indians.

Ques.—When do "dog days" start? And why are they called "dog days"?

Ans.—"Dog days" is a period of about forty days that were set aside by the ancients as the hottest period of the year. It usually occurred when Sirius, the dog star, rose in conjunction with the sun, which was about July 1. Owing to the precession of the equinoxes the time is now different, and is usually counted from July 3 to Aug. 11, the time being twenty days prior to the heliacal rising and twenty days after.

Ques.—Can horns be prevented from growing on a calf instead of waiting until it is grown up to be dehorned?

Ans.—Yes. When the calf is about four or five days old and the horn button begins to develop, an application of caustic potash will prevent horn growth. It requires only a few minutes to make the application, after which a scab forms, but this falls off in about a month, and the horns never grow on the smooth poll that remains.

Ques.—What was the name of the first person born of English parents in America? And what was the year?

Ans.—Virginia Dare was the first child born of English parents in America. She was born in 1587.

Ques.—In states where they have a capital punishment law why are most of the executions set at sunrise?

Ans.—The custom originated in prehistoric times when sunworshippers offered human sacrifices at sunrise. In modern times there are several good reasons for selecting this early hour. Persons condemned to death in the army were shot as early as possible on the specified day, which was usually as light enough for the firing squad to see and take aim. Again, the unpleasant task is performed when it will interfere least with prison routine, and most of them are asleep. In many cases, for this reason, the executions are made shortly after midnight of the specified day.

Ques.—When one graduates why is it called "commencement"?

Ans.—"Commencement" is meant to indicate a fuller life after graduation.

Ques.—How many men and how many years did it take to build the Chinese wall? What was it built for? How long is it? When was it built?

Ans.—Anything else? The Great Chinese Wall was built 214 B. C., to 224 B. C.—just ten years. It took one million, five hundred thousand men to build it, which is one thousand and five hundred miles long. It was built to protect the country from the marauding raids of the Tartars.

Ques.—Will you please answer if the common house cat is a descendant of the wild cat?

Ans.—No. The wild cat is not the origin of our common house cat, for the reason that the latter has no tendency to return to the type of the wild cat, even after being isolated from settlements for some time. Besides, there are no evidences that the wild kind has ever been domesticated, and the wild cat of today still retain identical features of those that existed many centuries ago.

Ques.—I wish to ask in your prized question and answer column why tame geese and ducks do not fly like the wild kind?

Ans.—This is because tame geese and ducks have been domesticated so long they have almost lost their ability to fly any great distance. It is very probable their ability to fly high and long could be developed by careful selective breeding.

Pioneer Woman Flyer
Dr. Bessie Hatch of Santa Ana, Calif., was the first woman to fly an airplane in the United States. She flew at Mineola, Long Island, in 1910.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND
Those who try to succeed by being smooth, end in getting treated rough.
Blessed is the man whose business deals do not kill his ideals.
America is the land where a brave boy can begin at zero and emerge a hero.
When you feel called upon to pick up a hammer, try to build something with it.
Gambling is the game where some get something for nothing, and others get nothing for something.
We are curious beings. We build a home to stay in,
and then go into debt for a car to get out of it.

Ox-Eye Daisy Not Wanted

Ox-eye daisies, not native to America, were brought into a garden of Yosemite years ago, but since they have begun to crowd out native species, strenuous attempts have been made to deport them as undesirable from Yosemite National park.

Great Pyramids' Stone

The Egyptian pyramids were built of a hard, rough-hewn limestone, but large blocks of granite were also used, especially on the outside. The stone was taken from quarries in the cliffs which line the Nile valley in its lower reaches.

Michigan Happenings

Twenty-four hours after he had thrown Frank Sinkov, 64-year-old farmer, into a creek to die, Harold Rex, 26, a farm hand, was sentenced by Judge Royal A. Hawley, of Stanton, to life in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson. Rex pleaded guilty.

but Judge Hawley ordered the taking of testimony to determine the degree of guilt, which was placed at first degree murder. Rex pled Sinkov with drink, lured him to the creek, overpowered him and threw him into the water after binding his hands. Rex believed he would inherit Sinkov's property.

Federal Station WXYZ applied to the Federal radio commission for authority to increase its power to 5,000 watts. Authority is also asked to change the location of transmitter to a point outside of Detroit to be determined. Under the allocation of power ruling Michigan is entitled to another 5,000 watt station. WJW and WJR both have applications to increase to 50,000 watts. None of the requests will be acted upon until the members of the commission return to Washington in the autumn.

Radio Station WJR applied to the Federal Radio Commission recently for permission to build and operate a television transmitter. The hearing will be held in Washington during the autumn, the members of the commission being away from Washington for the summer. This is the second proposal for television rights to go to Washington from Detroit, WXYZ having made a similar request several weeks ago. Both stations have been studying the subject for many months.

Michigan grain growers, especially those who raise wheat, are needlessly anxious over recent attacks of lice on grain, according to Prof. R. H. Pettit, head of the entomology department at Michigan State College in East Lansing. Prof. Pettit said that there is "no need to worry," and assured grain growers that little damage will result. The lice are known as the northern grain lice, or bud-louse of apple. It is harmless on apples, but migrates to grass in April.

Witnesses to the crash said they believed the dog had interfered with his operation of the plane in some manner.

The United States government has stepped in to relieve the housing situation at Otego. Two families of finches have pre-empted two mail boxes, belonging to Ward Willette and D. McKee, on West Orleans street. The mail carrier on the route, agreed he could deliver mail into the hands of the Willette and McKee families instead of using the mail boxes until the finches were grown. Each mail box now houses the parents and four babies.

A rearing pond for blue-gills has been completed by the Otego and Plainwell chapters of the Izaak Walton League and it is being filled now with fry from a nearby lake. This has been the principal project of the two chapters for this season. The Otego and Plainwell sportsmen, living only three miles apart, work together in most of their undertakings. Joint meetings are held monthly, in Otego one time and in Plainwell the next. Feeding stations for birds are maintained by the chapters in the winter months.

Lightning struck four sides of a house in Battle Creek—the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ackley. Sturgis recently had one visitor that never expected to be in that city. The visitor, a Chicago policeman, hitched a ride from Jack Krotzer in Chicago. "Just keep on riding," he told Krotzer, as he fell asleep. "It's too hot to walk." Krotzer continued to Sturgis. There he awakened his passenger. The officer, when last seen, was wondering if his superiors will believe the story when he reports at headquarters in Chicago.

ANN'S A Born Doubter. She Refused To Believe That Any Refrigerator Could Be---Different

But When the Demonstrator Told Her There Were No Pulleys Or Belts Or Fans Or Gears To Get Out Of Order, ANN, Too, Was CONVINCED!

"I've waited ten years for a Really Feminine refrigerator," she said

ANN DAVIS is the cleverest housekeeper in our set. It's positively uncanny what she can do with left-overs. And her budget is so well-behaved that it frequently yields a surplus for gloves or a new hat. She's a French chef and a Scotch banker rolled into one!

That's why I begged her to help me select a new electric refrigerator. "They're all alike," Ann insisted, "noisy, troublesome current-eaters." "But I've heard some perfectly amazing things about the new Servel Hermetic," I told her. "At club, yesterday, that's all we talked about."

Ann's a born doubter. She refused to believe that any refrigerator could be different. But she warmed up quickly at sight of the trim, compact cabinets in the display room. "This looks promising," she whispered, probably thinking of her own step-saving efficiency kitchen.

HERMETICALLY SEALED AT THE FACTORY

And when the demonstrator told us that pulleys, gears, fans, belts, valves, fuses, heating elements and all the troublesome parts of old-fashioned refrigerators had been entirely removed from the new Servel Hermetic, Ann became almost dramatic.

"She grabbed my arm," Ruth," she said, "at last some bright refrigerator designer has realized that what we women want is a refrigerator that doesn't require a poly-technical education or a chest of tools to operate."

"There are about one-third less moving parts," the man went on, "and all of them are out of the way in the base of the cabinet—sealed forever in a bath of oil."

"Which means," Ann chirped in, "that we shall never again have to bother about oiling motors."

"Exactly!" the man said.

SIMPLE - COMPACT - SILENT

I happened to think of the dreadful noise that our old-fashioned refrigerator always made—just like a pre-war river. "I'd like to hear the Servel Hermetic running," I said.

"It is running," the demonstrator said, as he handed me a tray of crystal-clear ice cubes by way of evidence. "But you can't hear it," because, when the Servel engineers discarded all those old trouble-making parts, they banished vibration and noise, too."

"It's really wonderful," Ann proceeded, budget-minded, as ever, "but it must be expensive."

GUARANTEED AGAINST
KITCHEN REPAIRS

"As a matter of fact," the demonstrator replied, "the prices of the Servel Hermetic are so reasonable that you can buy more refrigeration, size for size and dollar for dollar, than ever before."

"It requires less electric current," and a strong guarantee protects you during its entire period against any expense for repairs or replacement of parts."

Well, to make a short story shorter, Ann, the old skeptic, has added a new Servel Hermetic to her dream of a kitchen. And I'm beginning to learn (with the aid of Simplified Refrigeration) her method of making the household budget do all sorts of fancy tricks. We're both so pleased!

The Servel Hermetic is on display at Dillon & Tuttle Barber Shop.

Up in the Air—Ocean Rome Sends Bad News A Great U. S. Flyer Cash for Three Things

Men deal with two oceans, one above the other, of water and of air. In one, we die if submerged too long. In the other, fishes die. For centuries men have been familiar with the ocean of water, inventing legends about it, diving into it for pearls, sailing over it for commerce, and recently men have explored it in diving bells.

Now Professor Piccard, courageous scientist, takes his "diving bell" in the other direction, upward. In an air-tight round ball, supplied with oxygen for artificial breathing, attached to a balloon, Professor Piccard went up to investigate the stratosphere, near the top of our air ocean. He broke the record for height by 12,000 feet, going up 52,000 feet, and risking his life. If the balloon had not come down, he and his assistant, Charles Kipfer, must have suffocated. They had a narrow escape as it was.

For the first time the scientific "diving bell" went up through the layer of clouds, storms and changing temperatures that lies close to the earth, at the "bottom" of our air-ocean. Higher up the temperature fell to 135 degrees below zero, still "warm" as compared to absolute zero outside of our atmosphere; more than 400 degrees below zero.

In the upper air a wind blows steadily from the east, caused by the earth's movement. No storms or clouds up there.

And far up the sun and stars shine in a sky jet black, due to the fact that there is no dust in that high atmosphere. Without dust, so plentiful on the "bottom" of the air, the sky would be always black, there would be no rainfall, and we should probably not be here.

Professor Piccard will have interesting things to tell his fellow scientists, who look upon his escape from death as a miracle.

No monument will be built to him, of course, because he only went up in the interest of science. If he had gone up to kill somebody or destroy a whole city he would have a large monument.

News from Rome continues bad. The fact that for three months the pope has refused to receive an ambassador from the Fascist government, while Mussolini has refused to receive the nuncio sent by the pope, indicates strained relations between the governments of Italy and the Vatican City. Outbreaks against the pope and the Catholic religion continue. A picture of Pope Pius was publicly trampled on by Fascist students. The pope is publicly called a traitor by the mob and Catholic books are burned.

Captain Hawks, champion American flyer, had his breakfast in London, luncheon in Berlin, and dinner in Paris.

The crowd welcoming him at Le Bourget, the Paris flying field, called him "America's meteor man." He flew from London to Berlin in 3 hours and 15 minutes, spent an hour and twenty-seven minutes in Berlin, plenty of time for luncheon, and flew from Berlin to Paris for his dinner in 3 hours and 5 minutes.

Good times or bad, men will find money for three things—drinking, gambling, smoking. And the worst of the three is gambling.

The Irish sweepstakes, to help to build Irish hospitals, total amount $12,500,000. Hospitals will get more than $3,000,000, gambling about $9,000,000; expenses will eat the rest. There will be many prizes of $150,000, also $75,000 and $50,000, and smaller prizes, totalling 4,000 prizes in all.

Five millions have bought tickets, and whether they win or lose they are a little nearer to the certainty that they will never make any permanent success. Gambling prevents that.

The queen of England recently celebrated her sixty-fourth birthday, and the British Empire rejoices at her good health. Well it may. Queen Mary attends to her business and sets a good example, from her old-fashioned hats to her old-fashioned shoes, from her kindly, but always dignified expression to the long skirts that come down to her ankles.

Others may be foolish; she never will be, and she will make no concession to foolishness.

An English lady who had devoted her life to horse racing orders her relatives to cremate her body and scatter the ashes on the racetrack. She liked to think of the "thundering hoofs" coming down the stretch to victory over her dust. She might no longer see or hear them, but perhaps she could feel them.

Ward Randall, twelve years old, of Whitehall, Ill., wins the American spelling championship. The word "foulard" was too much for the boy next to him.

Correct spelling, easy for some, impossible for others, is an inborn talent, as is music. One of the best spellers in the world was Leo Ashley Grace, formerly of Plainfield, N. J. He could spell "ophthalmic" when barely three years of age, and never made a mistake.
