Local Delegates Go To K. of P. Convention

John Frymuth, as delegate from Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 102, and Mrs. Otto D. Luick, representing Chelsea Temple No. 117, Pythian Sisters, are in attendance at the annual convention of the grand lodge of the order and the grand temple of the Pythian Sisters of Michigan, being held this week in Kalamazoo.

Presiding during grand lodge sessions is Grand Chancellor Commander Alfred Henes, Marquette. Officers will be elected today.

Several past chancellors of Michigan lodges received the grand lodge degree during the ritualistic sessions of the convention. Past grand chancellors participated in a banquet Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday evening a Pythian Veterans banquet took place.

Golf, a tour of the city and inspection of Kalamazoo's new city hall, were included in the recreational program.

Agnes Gorman Weds Prominent Musician

Of interest to her many friends in Chelsea and vicinity is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Agnes H. Gorman, of New York City, daughter of Mrs. Nellie E. Gorman, of Ann Arbor, and the late Congressman James S. Gorman, who on August 17 became the bride of Jean Jacques Marquis, of Chateau de Chateaufort, Montreux on Lake Geneva, Switzerland.

The ceremony was performed in New York City.

The bride spent her childhood days in Chelsea, graduating from Chelsea high school. Later she completed a course at the University of Michigan, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. For several years she has been a successful social worker in New York City.

Mr. Marquis, who received his musical education in London, Berlin and Paris, is well known in the musical world in European cities and in New York City as a talented musician and composer.

Mr. and Mrs. Marquis will make their home on South Mountain road, New York City.

STORES WILL NOT CLOSE
The matter of asking local stores to close next Tuesday on account of the American Legion convention in Detroit, has been dropped. Sentiment among the merchants was not in favor of such action.

ROAST BEEF SUPPER

The Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church will serve a roast beef supper at the church, Thursday evening, Sept. 17, from 3:30 until all are served. Price 40c.

Unfounded Rumors Cause Much Alarm

During the past few weeks many unfounded rumors have been circulated in Chelsea and vicinity to the effect that infantile paralysis existed here. According to local health officers there are no cases of this disease in Chelsea or Sylvan township. Any one who is inclined to start idle rumors is asked to refrain from such action until they ascertain the truth of their statements.

The situation is being closely watched by local physicians and if an outbreak of the disease should occur in the community, proper action would be taken by them to prevent the spreading of that disease. In the meantime, give every consideration to the health of your children, and in case of any illness, call a physician.

R. E. Kalmbach Weds At Home of Mrs. Rutan

On Saturday, September 12, Dr. Lydia L. Lightfoot, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Lightfoot of St. Paul, Minn., became the bride of Dr. R. E. Kalmbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kalmbach of Chelsea. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. A. Griffith at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Carl M. Rutan, Jackson.

Only immediate members of both families were present.

The bride is Professor of Physical Education for Women at Michigan State College, East Lansing. She received her B. A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and her M. D. degree from Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania. She is a member of Phi Mu sorority and of a number of scholastic honorary societies including Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Delta and Alpha Sigma Nu.

Dr. Kalmbach was graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1925 and is at present engaged in the practice of medicine in Lansing.

Dr. and Mrs. Kalmbach will be at home to their friends at 412 Everett street, Lansing, after their return from an automobile trip to northern Michigan.

Buss-Eiseman Wedding Solemnized Tuesday

A lovely wedding took place Tuesday, September 15, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Buss of Manchester, when their daughter, Miss Martha, became the bride of Harold A. Eiseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eiseman of Freedom, Mich.

H. S. Von Rague of Manchester read the double ring service in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom.

Miss Lillian Buss, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Alfred Eiseman, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. John Buss played Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party entered. Miss Amanda Buss sang "Love You Truly" before the ceremony.

The bride was gown in lace trimmed peach chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of opelia roses, while her sister was gown in pale green chiffon, carrying pink roses. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white.

An elaborate three-course dinner was served after the ceremony. The young couple left on a honeymoon through the east, and will be home after October 1.

Methodist Conference Convenes In Detroit

The annual Detroit Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened Tuesday evening in the Central Methodist church, Detroit, the sessions to continue for a week.

Among the chief speakers at the conference, which embraces the Eastern region of the Lower Peninsula and the entire Upper Peninsula of Michigan, will be the Rev. William Fraser McDowell, senior bishop of the church, and resident bishop in the Washington, D. C. area, who will deliver an address on Friday evening.

Eight clergymen are to be named as delegates to attend the Quadrennial General Conference of the church in 1932. Assignment of ministers to posts throughout the conference will be made at the close of the sessions on Monday.

Rev. Harry Felton, pastor of the Chelsea church, left Wednesday to attend the conference.

HAND CONCERT SATURDAY

The last band concert of the season will be given in Chelsea Saturday night by the Chelsea High School band. This will be the last of a series of five concerts to be presented this summer by this popular musical organization of high school girls and boys, under the direction of Wesley Smith.

Rail Road Jack Will Address Kiwanians

The eminent personage, Harry Cooper, better known throughout the world as "Rail Road Jack", will be the guest speaker at a ladies' night event of the local Kiwanis club next Monday night.

"Jack" was a visitor at the Standard office, Wednesday evening, and gave a short exhibition of his exceptional wit and humor in the hope that his cause would be helped along with a bit of publicity. He claims, among hundreds of other things, that he is the world's wisest guy in his particular line (which has not yet been named).

Next Monday's appearance will not be Jack's first appearance in Chelsea. On several previous visits he has revealed his greatness at street corner receptions. Because no seats were provided by the reception committee on these occasions his audience, with no exceptions, were always in "good standing." During one of his visits to Chelsea, through the courtesy of Supt. Gallup, he addressed children of the public schools.

During the past year Jack has appeared on the programs of radio broadcasting stations WGN, Chicago Tribune, WTMJ, Milwaukee Journal, and WELI, Battle Creek Inquirer News.

In an effort to find out if Jack's memory is as good as he claims, we asked him to tell us in one second's time the day of the week when we were married. After telling him the year, month and date when the said (and) event occurred, we were informed the correct day of the week that the matrimonial venture began.

Jack then asked us to name some great men in history, whereupon he proceeded to give us the date of their birth, marriage, death and important events of their lives which, to the best of our knowledge, were correct in every case.

He claims to have 10,000 dates stored in his cranium about 5,000 people in history. According to his version of his mental state, he claims that he was born as dumb as the average person, but after years of conscientious study he has acquired this superknowledge. Jack says he never married and consequently has always been happy. He leads a simple life, sleeps in the open, and has never used tobacco or liquor, although he is a heavy drinker of dairy products.

John Kalmbach Injured When Struck By Auto

John Kalmbach, Chelsea attorney, was injured Friday evening about 8:30, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Oscar Eschelbach, of Manchester. Having parked his car on the west side of Main street, Mr. Kalmbach was crossing the thoroughfare when the accident occurred.

He sustained cuts about his forehead and injuries to his left knee cap, also several bruises. After being given treatment at Chelsea Private hospital he was taken to his home, where he is reported as recovering nicely.

Mr. Eschelbach was traveling at a slow rate of speed when the accident occurred.

Red Cross Conference In Ann Arbor Sept. 21

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross extends to all members and friends of the Red Cross a cordial invitation to attend the regional conference to be held in Ann Arbor on September 21.

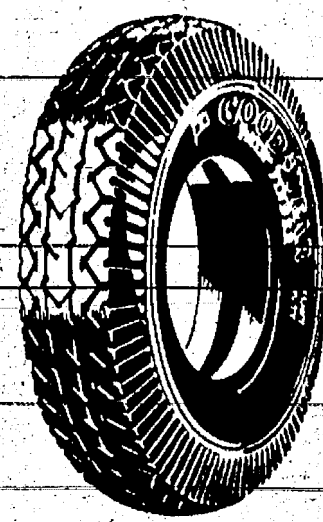

Sessions will be held in the Masonic Temple, S. 4th Ave., the morning session beginning promptly at 9:30 Eastern Standard time.

The program will include as speakers, Dr. Douglas Griesemer, National Director Red Cross and Public Information, and Mr. Lewis H. Kilpatrick, Asst. National Director of War Services.

A $1.00 luncheon will be served at 12:00 noon at the place of meeting. Reservation may be made through the American Red Cross office, Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Ann Arbor.

MRS. OTTO LUCK INJURED

Mrs. Otto P. Luick, who was in attendance at the Pythian Sisters convention at Kalamazoo, was injured Tuesday evening while en route from that city to the home of her cousin, Mrs. May Gardner, residing near Bradley. The accident happened about 6:30 at a point on US-131 a few miles south of Plainwell when the automobile in which she was riding with Miss Bernice Gardner overturned into the ditch, to avoid colliding with a south bound car which had turned out to pass a vehicle. Mrs. Luick sustained several bruises, but was able to return to her home here Wednesday, where she is reported as resting comfortably.

Lansing, Mich.—Of the 336 laws passed by the 1931 legislature and signed by the governor, 225 will become effective Sept. 18. The others took effect upon approval of the governor. The state constitution provides est effect on a majority of Michigan citizens is that making Eastern time official in all parts of the state. After Sept. 18, railroads, courts and other public agencies in all parts of Michigan will operate on Eastern Time.

One law will not become effective as its operation has been delayed by the filing with the Department of State of the requisite number of signatures on petitions calling for a referendum in November, 1932. This is the act prohibiting the sale or serving in public places of colored oleomargarine.A new activity of the Department of State will start on Sept. 18 by virtue of the law providing for the licensing of airplanes. This law provides that all Michigan-owned planes as well as commercial planes owned outside the state but operating in Michigan, must pay a weight tax and re-

TECUMSEH—Owners of property who refuse to install necessary plumbing to permit the village to meter water used by tenants of business and residential property here will be denied the right of water until such a time as the proper plumbing is installed, the village council, in regular session Tuesday evening, ruled. The order to meter all water and to abolish the old "flat rate" charge was made by the council more than two months ago and at that time property owners were informed that they would be given 60 days in which to comply with the ruling.—Herald.

SALINE—Two fire sirens were ordered by the councilmen at their meeting in the city hall Tuesday night. Some time ago sirens from different companies were tested but it was found that the 1-1-2 horse power size was not powerful enough. Officials were of the opinion that a city the size of Saline could not be properly equipped with a machine of less strength than 5 horse power of two more machines of 1-1-2 horse, of the size as those tested, at different sections of the city.—Observer.

BRIGHTON—Ella Snowzels, a ten year old girl and ward of the St. Vincent de Paul's orphanage in Detroit, who was living with her sisters at the home of Frank Maas, near Howell, was kidnapped by an unidentified man Monday night, who approached her as she was sitting under a tree, threw his coat over her head and dragged her down the road. When the man attempted to break into an unoccupied house, the girl broke away and escaped in safety to a neighbor's house. Officers have a good description of the man and are looking for him.—Argus.

SOUTH LYON—Mrs. Richard Kinney returned last Thursday night from a month's stay at the Kinney cottage at Crooked Lake, near Atlanta. Mrs. Kinney tells us that deer seem to be plentiful this season and she saw forty or more while she was in the north, one being a white fawn. Beaver, too, seemed to be plentiful around the lake and their activity proved most interesting.—Herald.

WAYNE—A move by Washtenaw county citizens was started Thursday afternoon in which it is hoped that the State Police barracks located here will be moved to Washtenaw county. The action being taken by the citizens will be in the form of a petition, it is said. A move to have the barracks moved last year was blocked when local citizens protested. Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor citizens claim that there will be no satisfactory protection until the local detachment of police has been transferred there.—Review.

Explaining Ghosts

It is said by some that the haunting of ruins by ghosts, which appears to have been a universal superstition in ancient times, was due to the belief that a ghost preferred a house to haunt if it could obtain one, and that it selected a deserted or ruined habitation because there were no longer amulets or charms to keep it out.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you please answer in your question department when the Hamilton-Burr duel took place?

Ans.—The duel between Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr occurred on July 11, 1804.

Ques.—Why are brunettes more intelligent than blondes?

Ans.—We do not know that they are. We only know that not many brunettes are "light-headed."

Ques.—I would like to ask in your Query and Answer column if the Americans paid their respects to the tomb of Lafayette while they were in France during the world war?

Ans.—Yes. Col. Stanton made an address at Lafayette's tomb immediately following the arrival of American troops in France. It was there he made use of that famous expression, "Lafayette, we are here," which resounded around the world.

Ques.—At a big circus in a large city I saw a mermaid in one of the side shows. Is there such a thing as a mermaid?

Ans.—There are no real mermaids. All mermaids exhibited in shows from the Palmy days of P. T. Barnum to the present day are fakes. Mermaids are mythical beings supposed to exist in the sea, having the form of a woman above the waist and that of a fish below. Seals, walrus and sea cows seen dimly at a distance give the likeness of human beings. The sea cows stand up in weedy shallows along the coast of East Africa and nurse their young at the breast and gave this apparition. The fertile imagination of seafaring people probably invented many of the "mermaid" stories just to amuse children.

Ques.—If we are nearer the center of the earth than at a point on the equator does that mean that the Mississippi flows uphill?

Ans.—It all depends upon what is understood by "uphill" or "downhill." In measuring elevations and depressions on the earth we start with mean sea level. The surface of water at rest is a level surface as that phrase is generally understood. It is true that a point at sea level on the equator is considerably farther from the center of the earth than it is here, due to the flattened form of the earth from Pole to Pole. We do not measure elevations from the center of the earth, but from the mean sea level, which is not the same distance from the center of the earth at all points.

Ques.—Which one is the Lord supposed to answer when one prays for rain on a certain day and another one prays for it not to rain on that day?

Ans.—Now you have us stuck. Our "devil" says he guesses the Lord starts the rain, and then when halfway down he drags it back.

Ques.—If a person riding on a flat car going 40 miles an hour jumps up three feet in the air will he come down in the same place from where he jumped?

Ans.—No. Because of the friction of the air he would come down slightly farther to the rear than from where he jumped. The friction of the air would hold him back to that extent.

Ques.—Does Ireland have a language of its own or do they have English as their official language?

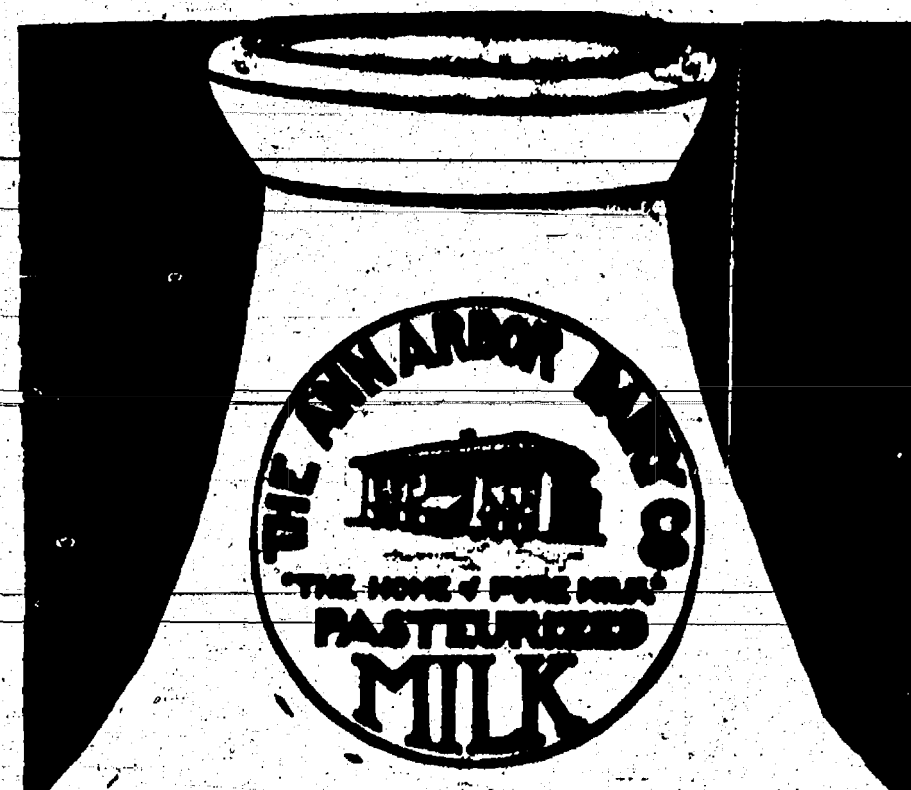

Ans.—Irish or Irish Gaelic is the native language of Ireland. It is closely related to the Celtic languages still spoken, in parts of Wales and Scotland. An attempt was made by the Irish Free State to resurrect Irish as the national Irish language, but most of the people have spoken English so long that it was only with the greatest difficulty they could learn to speak the Gaelic tongue. English, therefore, is the official tongue.

Ques.—I find that the initials "V. D. B." appear on some of the 1909 Lincoln pennies. What do the initials stand for, and why aren't they on all of the pennies?

Ans.—The letters "V. D. B." are the initials of Victor David Brenner, a noted medalist and sculptor. These initials appeared only on some of the first pennies coined. This part of the design was later withdrawn.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

The church festival is an attempt to cash pie into piety. Money seems to be the balance weight that levels the social scales. Try consulting the children more, and you will need to command them less. If we are wise enough to keep our thoughts young, our hearts will never grow old. The important thing to remember about any action is what we will try to forget about it. Now-a-days: The hand that once rocked the cradle is beginning to rock the whole world.

Mistakes Will Happen

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.) (WNU Service.)

NOTHING could have been simpler than the original error made by the newspaper man who had the stand at the corner of Broadway in the seventies. He had confused two of the books ordered by patrons and delivered them that morning to the wrong apartments.

Nancy Cromer received a recent novel entitled "Heartstrings" in place of "Ever Ready" and Owen Stanley got the latter instead of the former.

And Nancy being an omnivorous reader, decided to gobble up as much of "Heartstrings" as she could before the mistake was rectified. The plot unfolding was fearfully exciting and the book itself was a gem of the binding art. Exquisite mauve leather with letterings of old silver. The author was a new one even to Nancy's well-posted brain. She couldn't recall having read anything by Owen Stanley and knew it must be a first attempt.

"Stanley—Owen Stanley, you've got a small fortune and a reputation in 'Heartstrings,'" she thought. "Especially if one Nancy Cromer can persuade you to let her do the scenario for the films." Nancy was not really conceited but she knew her value as a writer. Her first two scenarios were undoubted successes.

And Owen Stanley, a trifle annoyed that the mistake had been made, wrapped up "Ever Ready" and took it back to the book stand. The lovely volume he had especially bound was to be presented to Cora Masters, the young lady who he hoped would accept him now that he had promise of being successful.

"You could get your own book if you just call at No. 19," the book man informed Stanley. "I'm sorry I mixed them up."

And Stanley, because he really wanted to see his brain child in its mauve raiment, decided to stop and ask for it. He also took along the other book.

Nancy opened the door herself, the volume still in her hand. "Oh, dear," she said when she caught sight of the book in her caller's hand. "I was hoping I could have finished this story before anyone came to get it. I couldn't sleep a wink if I didn't know how it ends."

"It must be an extraordinarily good tale," he said.

"It's one of the best I've read for ages," Nancy told him.

"Well—I don't want to be responsible for your losing sleep," said Stanley. "How long will it take you to finish it. Shall I call back about five?"

"Oh," breathed Nancy gratefully. "It's too good of you. I will give you a cup of tea and toasted muffins when you come."

Stanley grinned his thanks and went off. His footsteps were light. Such praise as had been his was worth any amount of advertising. Somehow his heart beat less strenuously in the direction of Cora.

He had a bite of lunch, and went back to his rooms.

His telephone rang.

"Is this Mr. Stanley," came a very nice feminine voice. "I am Nancy Cromer and would like to talk about your book 'Heartstrings' which has come to my notice in rather unusual circumstances. I was wondering if you have placed the film rights."

"Well not exactly—though there are some dickerings going on."

"I do so want to make the scenario—it's the chance of my life. I've done two 'Tigers' Teeth' and 'Smiley Hears'—and they've both gone well."

"That's rather a tall order, considering I don't know you."

"I was hoping," suggested the girl, "that you could come over and get acquainted with me. I don't live far away—just at No. 19 on your street."

It didn't take a Napoleon brain to figure out that the girl to whom his book had been delivered by mistake and this fair one of the telephone were one and the same. He had a sudden but definite feeling that he would never propose to Cora.

"I could run over about five," he said and smiled to himself.

"Oh, dear, I have an engagement at five. Could you come about five-thirty?"

Stanley agreed, pleased that she desired to have her ten alone with the man who had asked for the return of his book.

They had a splendid tea time, chatting about things in general but mostly finding one another decidedly the very nicest person in the world. And not having thought about names or anything so commonplace Stanley took his departure promptly at five-thirty with his mauve-bound book in his pocket.

He went down in the elevator then dashed up the stairs again so as not to be a minute late for his five-thirty appointment.

Opening the door, Nancy smiled. "Did you forget anything?" she asked. "Why no," said Stanley. "I have an engagement with Nancy Cromer to talk over scenario rights to my book. I suppose you don't want to break it."

And he stepped in, laughing like a young boy at his own foolishness. "Oh, is it really true?" gasped Nancy. "How lovely."

Cora did not get the book bound in mauve.

Chevrolet connecting rods are matched in sets of six to within one-quarter ounce, and are individually fitted by hand to the crankshaft. Bearings are of babbit-metal cast into the rods under heavy air pressure and at 800 degrees Fahrenheit.

Possessing the basic goodness of sound design and fine manufacture

CHEVROLET From the selection of raw materials to the completion of the finished Chevrolet product, each process of building, assembling and checking the Chevrolet Six is marked by extreme care and precision. An exhaustive system of test and inspection makes certain that every part meets specified dimensions exactly. Many of these parts are held to limits of one ten-thousandth of an inch. No manufacturer in the industry uses more care or precision in building and testing than Chevrolet.

Just as every part of the car is soundly built, every feature is soundly designed.

In planning the motor, Chevrolet engineers were not content to offer the public anything less than tried and proved design. They knew that the only satisfactory way to get smooth, flexible power in a car is to use at least six cylinders. So they adopted the six-cylinder engine without compromise. And this is what you get in today's Chevrolet Six.

As a result of this sound designing and sound manufacturing, you can buy a Chevrolet and know you are getting a genuinely good automobile—soundly designed, soundly built, basically and technically right.

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $475 to $675

Brilliant is the outlook for evening gowns, especially when it comes to the beaded and sequin-covered dresses which Paris is exploiting with considerable enthusiasm. The gown to the left in the picture is literally covered with sequins. So is its matching wrap with the long flowing sleeves. Movie stars will recognize at a glance that it is pretty Laura La Plante who is wearing the daintily beaded gown.
