These girls are going out for the purpose of discussing certain phases of student interest and securing student reaction. Twenty-five girls will go out on this task.

The committee in charge of this work is as follows: Kathryn Hindelang, Chelsea; Winifred McDowell, Detroit; Martha Dana, Dundee.

So far as is known, this college is the first to use this method of sending out advisors. Houses which are not included in the forty-eight may secure the services of an advisor by request.

ANNUAL 4-H CLUB SHOW TO BE HELD SATURDAY

The annual 4-H Club Show, sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club, will be held at Sylvan town hall on Saturday of this week. All exhibits will be in place at 10:30 in the morning, and will be on display until 8:00 p. m.

Exhibits included in Saturday's show include the products of Food Study, Canning, Potato, Poultry, Livestock, Garden, Corn, Bean and Forest Ranger Clubs of the Chelsea area.

Each club will be responsible for its own decorations, and a champion club ribbon will be awarded to the club that has the best and most attractive exhibit. There will be no judging contests, according to Arthur E. Hagen, county club agent.

On Monday evening, November 30, a banquet will be served for 4-H club members and their parents, with the Kiwanis club cooperating in the semipractical dinner. Kiwanians will furnish the meat course, ice cream and coffee, and 4-H club families will bring sandwiches and other dishes.

A good program will be given following the banquet, achievement certificates will be awarded, and local champions for each club in each year's work will be announced.

Clubs participating in the event are the Lyndon 4-H club, Industrial 3-in-1 club, Clearwater 4-H Forest Ranger Station, Busy 2-in-1 club and Lima 4-H club.

The annual showing of the achievements of 4-H clubs in this area has been an outstanding event for several years, and it is expected the display will equal or perhaps excel the showing of other years.

Department of State
Michigan

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 25— Nearly 700,000 copies of the various books and pamphlets published by the Department of State, will be distributed this year.

Before the end of the year, the department will have published 23 different books. Under state laws, the Secretary of State is charged with the publication and distribution of books and pamphlets dealing with various laws. Prior to the 1931 session of the legislature, these pamphlets were distributed free of charge but the present law requires the department to sell the publications at cost. The cost in most instances, except for the legislative manual and Public Acts, runs from five to 15 cents.

Most in demand is the pamphlet containing motor vehicle laws and it is expected that 635,000 copies will be distributed before the end of the fiscal year. Interest in schools will require 26,000 pamphlets containing laws on schools and education.

The most expensive publication put out by the department is the legislative manual. This year it cost $18,200, to print 16,000 copies, while the Public Acts cost $14,400 to print 13,000 copies. A large part of this money is returned to the state through sales of the books.

Other publications are the Local Acts of 1931, reports of the County Superintendents of the Poor, reports of Sheriffs, report of the building and loan division and compilations of laws on the following subjects:

Insurance, banking, highways and bridges, cities, public health, schools, elections, corporations, housing, villages, aeronautics, railroads, and publications.

The final item is the Constitution of the State of Michigan and the annual demand for the state's basic law requires about 3,000 copies.

Michigan Can Enter Corn At Grain Show

For the first time since the corn borer quarantine became effective in Michigan, farmers of the State will exhibit ear corn at the National Hay and Grain Show, at Chicago, November 28 to December 5, as arrangements have been made to treat all show samples before they go to the Show.

The heat treatment which is used kills any borers that are inside the corn cobs. Corn samples to be exhibited should be sent to E. G. Brewer, Springfield, Ohio, who superintends the operation for the federal government. The treatment is free and the owner of the corn pays only the cost of sending the sample to Springfield.

Before the quarantine regulations stopped the exhibiting of Michigan corn at shows outside the State, farmers used to win many prizes at Chicago. The farm crops department at Michigan State College believes that Michigan exhibitors will again bring home their share of ribbons and prize checks.

Michigan has always been a heavy winner in the small grains and seed classes at the Chicago show. One year, farmers from this State won nine out of the first ten prizes on beans. Alfalfa seed from the Wolverine State now makes the exhibitors from the west take special care with their exhibits if they want to stay in the blue ribbon class.

Entries for the Hay and Grain Show can be made through the county agricultural agents, the farm crops department at Michigan State College, or the secretary of the Hay and Grain Show.

Get Used to Draft:
Don't guard against a draft that only lasts a minute. You are bound to be in them at times, and if totally unused to a draft it is almost certain to mean trouble.

BROOKLYN—Bert Thompson, who has for some time past been missing chickens caught what he believes to be the marauder Tuesday night when his trap sprung on a 15 pound opossum. The big fellow showed plenty sharp teeth and a fighting spirit before being dispatched. Leon Billmeyer and other coon hunters of this locality say that the opossum are getting thick and that they caught one or more nearly every night they were out hunting in the season just closed.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars
Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

WINTER IS HERE

The anticipation of having huckleberries, strawberries, melons and garden flowers for Christmas was high on Tuesday night when old man winter swept down upon this part of the country, apparently in earnest. Some huckleberry bushes were in full bloom, a second crop of self-seeded oats was heading, and flowers of many kinds, including roses, could be frequently seen in this vicinity up to that time. However, all the beauty of these unusual features resulting from an exceptionally warm fall, were put to an end when temperatures suddenly dropped to below freezing Tuesday night, followed by snow flurries on Wednesday.

Suggested Improvement

The voice of the people would be much more effective as a chorus instead of a medley.—Capper's Weekly.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Ardea Loveland was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, November 19, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Glenn Rentschler of Waterloo. Fourteen friends greeted her upon her arrival and helped her to most enjoyably celebrate her birthday anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated with bouquets of pink and white chrysanthemums and phlox. Games, music and singing were diversions of the evening. The honored guest was presented with many lovely gifts. Luncheon was served by the hostess, Harley Loveland and Lorraine Walz assisting. The guests departed, reporting a very fine time and also wishing Miss Loveland many more happy birthdays.

GET YOUR GUN!

During the past week residents near Crooked and Cavanaugh Lakes were tempted to get out the old rifle and take a shot at two buck deer which were sighted in that vicinity. However, shooting of deer in this county is prohibited so the fleet-footed bucks are safe, at least from law-abiding citizens. If the good hiding places of our lake territory attract this game in large numbers an effort will be made to have the hunting laws amended to permit hunting for deer here next fall! (The theory has been offered that perhaps the two animals sighted had escaped from the Ford park at Dearborn).

SPECIAL MEETING

A meeting will be held at Freedom town hall on Thursday, December 3, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of reorganizing the Pleasant Lake Grange. Miss Jennie Buell, State Lecturer, of Ann Arbor, will be present. John Kalmback, of Chelsea, will give a talk on "Organization Work." H. S. Oiler, county agent, will show moving pictures of interesting subjects. There will be other features on the program. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

William Lindemann,
Fred W. Notter,
Committee.

"Wake Up" Is Huge Community Success

A very receptive and enthusiastic audience was in attendance at the dramatic production of "Wake Up," presented at the public school auditorium November 19 and 20 by Olive Chapter, No. 108, O. E. S.

The plot of "Wake Up," brought out the aims of the local business and professional men as well as taxpayers and home-owners. It not only contained modern-business ideals but also plenty of comedy and romance.

Austin Falst, as the black-face comedian Henry Horatio Andrew Jackson, kept the crowd roaring with laughter from beginning to end. Jack Weber as Keith Stone, Margaret Henschelwerdt as Virginia Stevens, Jay Weinberg in the role of Richard Crane and Madeleine Bollere as Nancy Doud, very capably carried out the romantic theme. Rev. Albert E. Rotta as the blustering millionaire, H. H. Doud, was one of the outstanding stars. P. E. Storms portrayed to perfection the character of the faithful employee of Stone's Grocery.

George Atkinson, as Jake the fruit vendor, Mrs. Marie Shaver as the officious wife, Donald Dancer, her henpecked husband, and Mrs. Helen Plank as Mrs. Jones, with her two children, Helen and Jackie, played by Vivian and Royal McBride, all carried out their individual parts with unusual ability and naturalness. The Directors' meeting in the second scene, was a peppy success due to the ability of the business men to act naturally and the appearance of getting a big "kick" out of it. Jerry Niehaus as Goldberg, Harold Spaulding as Taylor, J. A. Park as Wilson, George Atkinson as "Anderson," Wilbur Hinderer as Stewart and L. T. Freeman as Wolf the chairman, are to be congratulated on the parts they played in making the scene a success.

And last but not least should be mentioned Donald Adam, who made a good farmer, Tom Kinzie as Tony the Post of the lovers, and Florence Yager, a beautiful society matron. Each member of the cast is to be congratulated.

The opening number "The Children's Pageant" was a most pleasing picture of animated childhood, as the kiddies so attentively listened to the cleverly read story, "Millions of Cats." Mrs. Matilda Hinderer made a most attractive "Story Lady" and kept the attention of her young audience to the last line of her story.

Other specialties such as the Girls' Chorus were very enthusiastically applauded and especially the "Blushing Beauties" who received encore after encore.

It is a good thing for any community to "get together" occasionally for a good laugh, and the Worthy Matron of Olive Chapter, 108, O. E. S., Mrs. Helen Lindemann, and her committee wish to thank each and every one who had a part in making this program a success.

Especially should the following be mentioned: Hindelang Hardware Co., Chelsea Hardware Co., Kolb's Restaurant, the musicians and the entire cast.

WHAT A CANE!

Art Collins is sporting a hand carved walking stick made and presented to him by an old friend, Frank Abele, of Jackson, Mich.

The cane was made from a hickory sapling with only the help of a pocket knife and bears, in addition to Mr. Collins' name and the year, the following characters and figures: Major Hoople and his stein; Andy Gump and Tilly; a bathing beauty; a snake; an alligator; two turtles; two cranes; ten pike and four frogs.

Quite a curiosity, and more so from the fact that Mr. Abele is a telegraph operator and not an artist.

The cane is on display in the show window of A. E. Winans & Son.

Thanksgiving Day

A Proclamation by the Governor

The last Thursday in November has been set aside by time honored custom as Thanksgiving Day to demonstrate the gratitude of a thankful people to Almighty God for the blessings which He has bestowed.

In periods of abundance it is natural to contemplate our material possessions with thankfulness. In periods of meagerness it becomes a test of honest appreciation.

We have much to be thankful for—our lives and health, our national peace and security, and the opportunity to serve our fellow man in greater measure than before.

We have gained a better understanding of human values and we have learned lessons of confessed humility. We have come to evaluate our spiritual possessions, without which our material wealth is of no avail. We have again highly resolved to heed the still, small voice which counsels the building of national conscience through unselfishness. We have learned the tremendous value of such neglected intangibles as confidence and faith. We have set out to cultivate greater peace and balance in our economic and social relationships.

Therefore, as a day for the people of this Commonwealth to observe in such manner that all may have cause for thankfulness, I, Wilbur M. Brucker, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate Thursday, November 26, 1931, that this day may indeed be a day of Thanksgiving for all our people.

I bespeak its observance by all our citizens in a spirit of prayer and praise, assembled in their respective places of worship or in their homes, for the purpose of gratefully acknowledging and returning thanks to Divine Providence for life, health, peace, and guidance.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this 23rd day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-sixth.

Wilbur M. Brucker,
Governor.
Frank D. Fitzgerald,
Secretary of State.

Set Farmers Week Dates At College

Selection of the dates February 1 to 5 for one of the largest meetings of farmers in the United States, and a general plan for the daily programs has been announced by the Farmers Week Committee at Michigan State College.

The activities, this year will be continued throughout the five days and full programs will be held on Friday, which in previous years has been "get away day." Morning and early afternoon sessions will be devoted to department meetings, and general programs and features will occupy the other hours.

Nearly all of the agricultural clans in Michigan schedule their annual meetings to be held at East Lansing during the week. This year will be no exception, and crops, soils, fruit, livestock, economic and social groups will gather to discuss their special problems.

Last year's experience with crowds which were too large to find places in Demonstration Hall has led to the scheduling of two similar entertainment programs to be held on succeeding nights. These features are planned for Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

P. T. A. MEETS

The Parent-Teacher Association of School District No. 4, Lima was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lindauer.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Elmer E. Smith and Mrs. Fred Kennedy, opened by singing "Battle Hymn of the Republic," with Mrs. Mina Wiseman as accompanist.

A reading, "Thanksgiving Gratitude," was given by Mrs. Walter Beutler, followed by a piano and harmonica duet by Chester Kennedy and Janet Ward.

A reading, "Thanksgiving Day," by Mrs. Kennedy and singing of "Old Black Joe" concluded the program. Following this, the hostesses served refreshments.

FARMERS' CLUB WILL MEET

The Western Washington Farmers' club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Metcalf, Friday, December 4th. Supper will be served at 7:30.

MANCHESTER — Many people speak in very complimentary terms of the Manchester-Chelsea blacktop highway, and are wondering what effect the cold weather will have upon it. If it stands the freezing and thawing of next spring it will help to solve the road rots problem as the construction cost is much less than concrete. This road should be made wider and probably will be if it proves practical.—Enterprise.

1931 HEALTH DRIVE BEGINS
ON THANKSGIVING DAY

With better health for all Michigan as their goal, millions of tiny coaches, each drawn by a quartet of diminutive horses, will journey across Michigan between Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

The tiny horses and coaches are part of the old-time coaching scene on the 1931 tuberculosis Christmas seals which will be sent out this week by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and affiliated local societies.

The seal design also includes a cheery "Christmas Greetings" and the double-barred cross, emblem of the anti-tuberculosis movement.

Christmas seals provide tuberculosis protection and prevention for the communities in which they are bought. Among the health services financed from the sale of seals are: Clinics to discover active cases of tuberculosis, nurses for special tuberculosis work, education in the prevention, symptoms and treatment of tuberculosis, and activities for betterment of child health.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—To decide an argument will you please answer in the question column how long we have had the parcel post system?

Ans.—The Act of Congress authorizing the establishment of a parcel post system went into effect January 1, 1913.

Ques.—Can you tell me what became of Pontius Pilate, who sentenced our Lord to be crucified?

Ans.—Pilate killed himself in the year A. D. 41.

Ques.—What started the World War?

Ans.—There was considerable unrest in the Balkan States for several years following the annexation by Austria-Hungary of two Serbian provinces. July 23, 1914, Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort were assassinated by unknown parties, but Austria-Hungary accused Serbia with the crime and demanded satisfaction from that government. Serbia denied having any part in it, and on July 28, 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war on Serbia. Russia then began to mobilize its army for the protection of Serbia. Then Germany declared war on Russia on Aug. 1, 1914, and two days later declared war on France. Then it was a succession of events that drew the other powers into the conflict.

Ques.—Will you please answer in the question and answer column of your paper what is the length of a cubit in our measure?

Ans.—A cubit is a little over eighteen inches. In Biblical times this was determined from the point of the elbow of one's arm to the tip of the middle finger.

Ques.—Why does water bubble when it boils?

Ans.—When we heat water to the boiling point it sets free gases of the atmosphere which have been held in solution in the water, such as nitrogen, oxygen and carbon dioxide. These gases are more dense in water than in the atmosphere, hence when we boil water they expand and escape in the atmosphere, producing the bubbles which rise to the surface.

Ques.—I have a hay stack that measures 30 feet long, 15 feet wide and 20 feet high. Can you tell me how many tons there are in it? Also how do you figure it?

Ans.—There are nine tons in the stack. Multiply the length by the width by half the height, and divide the whole by 500. Thus: 30 feet long by 15 feet wide by 10 feet high equals 4,500 feet. This divided by 500 equals 9 tons.

Ques.—How many Indians were there in this country at the time of the Revolutionary War? And how many are there at the present time?

Ans.—At the time of the Revolutionary War there was no census of the Indian population. Henry Knox, who was secretary of war in Washington's cabinet, estimated the number of Indians in this country at 100,000. The present Indian population is now 340,000.

Ques.—Will you please tell me how to pronounce "Orleans" in New Orleans?

Ans.—With accent on the first syllable it is pronounced just as though it was spelled "Or-le-anz."

Ques.—How old is the Prince of Wales? And is he married?

Ans.—The Prince of Wales is 37 years old and unmarried.

Ques.—Kindly tell me in your question column what is a sheep?

Ans.—A sheep is a domestic animal covered with wool.

Ques.—I would like to ask you if the British Parliament is "wet" or "dry"?

Ques.—Will you please answer what is the record in altitude for aviators, and by whom it is held?

WILLIAMSTON—Plans for the decoration of the streets of Williamston for the Christmas season were discussed and a committee appointed for the purpose at a meeting of the business men of Williamston which was held at the town hall last Monday evening. C. V. King was named chairman of the meeting and Theo. Thompson, secretary.—Enterprise.

SOUTH LYON—Some one with childish sense of humor broke the glass in the fire alarm system at the city hall and turned in a false alarm at midnight Wednesday. The thing was done early in the evening. Hallowe'en, and nothing was about it, but we understand this false alarm will not be treated lightly, if the offender is caught. Herald.

Fighting at 15 Below
What Ails U. S.?
A Mind Diseased
Magic in Words

Be glad that you are not in the Japanese or Chinese army fighting in northern Manchuria, where Japan has just captured Tsitsihar, the Manchurian capital.

War is bad enough at best, but war with a temperature of 15 degrees below zero is difficult to imagine. The Japanese and Chinese have been fighting within the zone of Russian influence and that may start more news of an unpleasant kind, unless Russia is very wise.

What is the matter with us? It is for "high finance" that know everything in 1929 to say.

What should be done to make conditions better? We should be told by those that are elected and paid to govern the country and make laws for it.

"Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?"

"Yes," replies Cornell university. Mental trouble is due partly to certain elements of the brain, the "colloids" becoming too watery or too thick.

Drugs have been discovered that remedy both these conditions, an important step in the treatment of insanity. In one case a man who had been in a stupor for eight months was brought to his senses in four minutes.

No cure-all has been discovered, but everything may be hoped for, since it is possible to cure psychosis by allowing the victim to be bitten by mosquitoes bearing malaria germs.

There is magic in words, much in a name, despite Shakespeare's saying about the rose.

Edgar Cayce, his wife, Gertrude, and their secretary, arrested as fortune tellers, were told, "You must not pretend to tell fortunes, because you can't."

"Things looked dark," but Mr. Edgar Cayce knows the use of language. He told the court: "I am no fortune teller; I'm a psychic diagnostician."

Instantly he, his wife, Gertrude, and their secretary were set free to diagnose psychically to their hearts' content.

When a lady had asked: "Is this the right time to make certain investments?" the psychic gave her a psychic answer. The law couldn't object to that.

Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborne, head of the American Museum of Natural History, discovers a "definite plan" in evolution. He says that evolution is in itself a creative process. It is not made up of accidental "jumps" from one form of life to another.

That can be believed. When you see books in a library, small pamphlets, gigantic volumes, all sizes, shapes and kinds, you don't attribute the different forms to accident. You say: "An intelligent printer made them and an intelligent librarian arranged them."

Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Tunney announce the arrival of a son, their first child.

Mr. Tunney, as you know, was heavyweight champion of the world until he got about two million dollars, "enough to guarantee economic security," as he called it, and retired from pugilism to attend to things more interesting and important.

Fugueists will watch with interest the career of the new Tunney. He ought to be a useful American citizen, having the greatest of all possessions, a very good and intelligent mother.

Prof. W. F. Floyd, British scientist who invented smokeless powder, among other things, is dead at eighty-one. He died alone and hungry, having lived on bread and water for several months.

"When he is forsaken, withered and shaken."

What can an old man do but die?

Convicts of Sing Sing, fighting hard against eleven naval militiamen, but the latter by a score of 33 to 0 in a football game. The Sing Sing captain, "Red" Hope, who still has fifty-nine years to serve, yelled persistently, "No slugging in the scrummages," advice not taken too seriously. Two naval militiamen were carried from the field on stretchers.

The warden, Mr. Lawes, promotes football as a character-builder.

Cries from the 2,000 convicts looking on of "slug him!" and "gang him!" indicated an inclination to build character on a firm foundation.

John D. Rockefeller, arriving in Florida's sunshine, which is "his cure" every year, meets an Associated Press reporter cheerfully, and asked how he feels, replies: "Read that," handing the reporter a poem beginning:

"We'll slug of the better things, my friend,
And we'll think of the better ways;
We'll trust tomorrow to heal our sorrow

As beauty has healed today's."

Mr. Rockefeller well and strong at ninety-two years of age, plays a sure game of golf, never missing his ball, always making his short drives in a straight line, cures his health partly to Florida sunshine, partly to his own interior sunshine.

SET COST $100,000
A motion picture set furnished with Oriental "props" valued at $100,000 was used at Universal City for a number of scenes for "East of Borneo," the Far Eastern drama which comes to the Princess Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 1 and 2, with Rose Hobart and Charles Bickford in the leading roles.

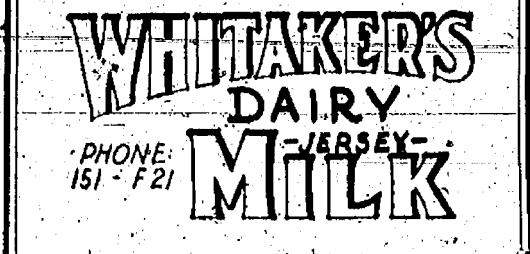

The setting of the story is in the East Indies, and the exterior scenes were actually photographed in Java, Sumatra and the Malay Straits. "Interiors" were filmed at the studio, and this particular setting, representing the interior of an old palace, found the studio property men gathering many rare old Oriental pieces.

The prize of the collection was a bronze Buddha standing nine feet in height, and valued at $25,000. Other smaller statues and statuettes were scattered about the set, and Lal Chand Mehra, noted East Indian technical advisor, declared that the "White Buddha," a small marble statue used in the picture, was one of the finest pieces he had ever seen.

In addition to the statuary there was a great array of real Oriental furniture, the most valuable piece being a long ebony bench inlaid with

"Who wouldn't have discovered America if he had a ship? I ask you, professor. I'll bet Columbus couldn't get Whitaker's milk when he landed. He was outta luck, wasn't he?" A glass of milk before the shopping trip prevents that "tired out" feeling.

mother-of-pearl. Rugs and draperies which were used also represented a small fortune, and sterling silver was used for table services.
