Scout Court Of Honor To Be Held Tonight

All Boy Scouts of Livingston and Washtenaw counties have been invited to attend the final court of honor for 1931, which will be held this evening, December 31, at Ann Arbor high school gymnasium. This will give an extra opportunity for any Scout in the entire Washtenaw Council to enter the new year as an advanced Scout. A special program has been arranged which will be of interest not only to Scouts and leaders, but also to fathers and mothers and friends of the boys. The court will open at 8 o'clock.

Following the court of honor, a New Year's party will be held for all Scouts and their parents and girl friends. This has been arranged on account of the great success of the Hallowe'en party this fall, and by request of parents and leaders, as well as the boys themselves. The Fowlerville Scout orchestra and an Ann Arbor Scout orchestra will furnish music for dancing, while a program of games and stunts has been arranged to last until midnight, when the New Year will be ushered in with due ceremony. A charge of twenty cents per person will be made to cover the cost of this party. Local Scouts are making plans to be present to enjoy the fun.

This is most gratifying financial statement in view of the fact that the tax rate was reduced 25 percent this year, the amount collected being $7.50 per thousand assessed valuation.

Michigan Villages Reduce 1931 Taxes

Of 149 reporting, 101 Michigan villages reduced their 1931 taxes as against 1930, according to a compilation recently completed by the Michigan Municipal League and now being prepared for distribution.

Tax reductions in 55 of the 101 villages exceeded 10 percent; 47 of these 55 made reductions exceeding 15 percent; 29 exceeded 20 percent; 12 exceeded 30 percent, and 3 exceeded 50 percent. Most of the villages which did not show tax reductions either made the same levy or increased small amounts, with the exception of a few which were forced to increase to cover heavy debt charges.

The tabulation includes 1929 taxes, as well as 1930 and 1931, indicating that during the year from 1929 to 1930 just 75 of the 149 reduced their tax revenues. Forty villages of the 75 made reductions of more than 10 percent in that year, and a somewhat larger proportion of the reductions were in the higher brackets, compared with 1931 reductions.

The data shows that 81 of the 149 villages reduced assessments in 1930 under those of 1929, and in 1931 reductions were made by 108 of the villages.

Besides the information on tax revenues and assessed valuations for the three years, the compilation also includes the per capita cost of government in the municipalities reporting. The total tax levy of the 149 villages in 1931 is $3,000,910, of which 22 of the larger villages levied approximately $2,000,000 or nearly two-thirds of the total.

In discussing the information in the bulletin, Director Harold D. Smith of the Municipal League, calls attention to the fact that in the absence of uniform methods of accounting and reporting variations may exist in the information, yet the analysis indicates a definite downward trend in village taxes in response to demands for tax reduction.

EXHIBITS BREAK

Frank Leach was proudly exhibiting a "freak fowl" in Chelsea on Wednesday. The bird is a cross between a Rhode Island Red chicken and a turkey, having a turkey head, with the body of a chicken, except it is larger. Mr. Leach says he has two roosters and a hen of the cross-breed and that they will weigh 10 to 12 pounds each. He plans to keep one rooster and the hen in an effort to raise a giant strain of birds (to be named later). The other rooster will grace the Leach dinner table on New Year's day—we are expecting to hear Frank "rowing" like a turkey on Saturday.

RECEIVES UNIQUE GIFT

Miss Elizabeth Depew was the recipient of a unique Christmas box, received from her nephew, Harlan Depew, and his wife, of Palmetto, Pa., who recently returned from an auto trip through the South. The box contained Florida fruit, Georgia peaches, South Carolina common holly, North Carolina common holly, Virginia trailing fern, Washington, D. C. candy, Pennsylvania Narcissus bulbs,

HONOR ANNA MAYER

Mrs. Otto Mayer was hostess at an enjoyable party given Monday evening at her home in Sharon township, for the pleasure of her sister, Miss Anna Mayer, who is home for the Christmas holidays. Progressive 500 furnished the diversion, with four tables in play, after which refreshments were served. Miss Mayer left Wednesday morning to resume her duties as teacher in the Chassell schools.

VILLAGE FINANCES IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

On Tuesday of this week, village officials received a highway maintenance reward check for $1819.70 from the State, covering the period from July 1, 1930 to July 1, 1931 for maintenance of that part of highway M-92 from the north village limits to the D. J. & C. right-of-way. Another check for the period from July 1, 1931 to September 18, 1931, which will amount to about $300, will be received by the village within the next few days. The amount is figured at the rate of $2,000 per mile, there being .66 mile within the village limits.

Village finances are in exceptionally good condition at this time. With the check received on Tuesday, the treasury shows a balance of $9,059.59 in the general fund, and $6,060.00 in the sinking fund. The latter fund is being created by transferring $600 each month from the general fund and will be used to retire sewer bonds, of which $7,000.00 mature April 1, 1932. In addition to the above balance, about $1,000.00 is due the village from property owners as their portion of the cost of curbing projects completed this year.

This is most gratifying financial statement in view of the fact that the tax rate was reduced 25 percent this year, the amount collected being $7.50 per thousand assessed valuation.

Hinderers Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinderer were guests of honor at a surprise family party given Sunday at their home on the Manchester road, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Twenty-eight guests were present, from Jackson, Detroit, Ann Arbor and Chelsea.

A chop suey dinner was served at tables decorated in pink, green and silver. A feature of the dinner was a beautiful pyramid wedding cake, trimmed in silver and centered with smilax, Tea roses and baby breath decorated the room. Mr. and Mrs. Hinderer were presented with a silver console set.

SPEARING SEASON LIMITED TO JANUARY AND FEBRUARY

While spearing this winter will be permitted on a greater number of lakes than in previous years, the season will remain open only for a two-month period.

In 1930 winter spearing was permitted on inland lakes "as long as the lakes were frozen over." This year, however, the season is open only during the months of January and February on all inland waters.

Fish which may be taken this year are carp, sheepshead, suckers, mullet, redhorse, lake trout, smelt, pike (great northern), grass pike and pickerel, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilchard, dogfish and garpike.

The use of a jack or artificial light for spearing is prohibited.

WILL PRESENT PAGEANT

A Candle-Lighting Pageant for the New Year will be the special feature at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Each century will be represented by a character from that century, and those taking part will dress to represent the characters portrayed.

A candle will be given to everyone in attendance and at a given time it is expected that four hundred candles will be burning. The music will be rendered at different intervals. To see it will be an inspiration to miss it will be a disappointment.

Dr. Fred B. Fisher and Prof. W. D. Henderson, two fighting prohibitionists, will speak at the meeting, and a plan will be outlined for an effective fight against wet propaganda which is being broadcast.

The slogan of the organization is "Two million enrolls before the big political campaigns." Christmas Day Report On Seal Sale Cheering

The "whole-hearted, generous response" of Michigan people to the 1931 sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals promises a continuation of necessary tuberculosis work during 1932, according to the Christmas Day report of Harry D. Bennett, treasurer of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

While not at the present time equal to last year's mark, there is every indication that the funds from the present campaign will reach the level of previous years, Mr. Bennett declares. "The people of Michigan apparently realize that with every added day of worry and stress the tuberculosis problem increases," he continued. "For many people next year will be a critical time, and we must be prepared to cope with this hidden disease. For this reason many people are denying themselves to keep the tuberculosis fight going."

"Letters arrive almost daily in expression of goodwill and sacrifice for the work. Many people who were unable to give last year have sent money and promises of additional support, realizing the great need for tuberculosis work. Others are keeping the seals until they can spare something from other needs for this purpose. This is the true Christmas spirit—the desire to help others less fortunate."

Although the public campaign ended Christmas day, thousands of people still have an opportunity to aid the success of the 1931 Christmas seal sale, Mr. Bennett advises. "Those who still have seals will make 1932 a happier year for the tuberculous by giving whatever they can. It is never too late to give health to those who are losing it, and no amount is too small use against Michigan's greatest health menace."

Sale of the seals in Chelsea is in charge of the Kiwanis club, Paul F. Nichols, secretary.

Michigan
Department of State*WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 30.—The extension of time for the purchase of 1932 license plates to March 1, 1932, was granted by the Secretary of State purely as a relief measure to help those who, due to economic conditions, would be unable to secure plates on January 1.

All who are financially able should buy their plates as usual, prior to January 1, or as soon thereafter as possible, and should not take advantage of this extension which was granted primarily as an aid to the less fortunate.

Although few citizens realize that the Department of State is one of Michigan's major revenue-producing agencies, department records show that $1,465,350 were collected for the first eleven months of 1931.

Among the outstanding highlights of the past year is the fact that with no building and loan associations with assets of $165,261,540—operating in Michigan under the supervision of the department, not one of these associations closed its doors because of adverse economic conditions. Indications are that all will "come through" in fine shape.

The gasoline tax was the biggest revenue producer of the department, $22,010,367 being collected during the first eleven months of 1931. Motor vehicle weight taxes took second place with $20,182,886. From corporation privilege and franchise fees, the department turned $7,028,886 into the treasury. The new operators' and chauffeurs license law yielded $772,558 while the old law, in effect but a few months last spring produced $22,051.

From the bait tax the state received $50,173, all of which by law must be used to pay the state's share of caring for tuberculars. The automobile title division collected $466,527; while licensing of private detectives yielded $2,000. Department investigators added $146,188 to the state's revenues through enforcement of laws regarding use of foreign license plates and compelling truck owners to pay proper fees on the correct weights of their vehicles, and $76,322 from malt tax enforcement.

The New Leaf

By CHARLES F. WADSWORTH

KENTON MARSAYE sat in a big leather chair in his club looking over the evening paper.

As he finished and folded it up a cartoon on the front page. It was a year turning a leaf of a big book. At the top of the page was "January 1," and the rest of the page was blank except for a question mark in the center.

Marsaye looked at it momentarily and tugged the paper aside.

"A new leaf!" he said to himself contemplatively. "Hooy!"

Walking to the window, he looked down upon the street. He seemed restless. To friends who spoke to him and wished him a happy New Year he returned an unenthusiastic reply almost casual.

Seating himself again he lay up the paper and noted the cartoon. The paper lay across his knee as he went into a thoughtful mood.

"People think a big leaf always brings over a new leaf of New Year's was his comment to himself. "But why should I turn over a new leaf? I am not a swindler nor a cheat."

A caricature of a man in a suit and tie, holding a briefcase, stands behind a desk, looking at a large open book with a single leaf on its cover.

"That you, Sally?"

He seems to respect me, and I'd like others to do the same.

When we got to the last part of my soliloquy he seemed more thoughtful.

A whole volume of things popped into his mind.

There was Leland, his bookkeeper whom he had criticized constantly the morning he was late. Last week Leland had taken the censure without a word, but Marsaye had learned later that Leland's wife had been ill and it had been necessary for him to be at home for a while. But Leland had not been given a chance to explain.

Ought to have done so, I suppose.

Then there was Mrs. Melting, who elected his office. He had invited her out for a seeming neglect. She had quickly taken the plunge. Now Marsaye knew that she had had trouble in her arm and it had been painless to her to do as well as she had.

In how things are sometimes, I don't know anything about it.

The time Mrs. Melting, with tears in her eyes, had asked to go home after he had upbraided her for not taking care of the house.

After the re-writing of several letters, he had thought a streak of carelessness which he could not tolerate. He had not known that the girl had had a nervous quarrel with her young man which affected her almost to the point of incompetence. But he knew now.

Plan Ways To Amuse Farmers Week Crowd

To avoid disappointing thousands of visitors, two feature programs on successive nights, February 3 and 4, during Farmers Week, have been arranged by the Michigan State College program committee which hopes that the people who attend Wednesday night's entertainment will not attempt to go Thursday night also.

A band concert, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Eastern Standard time, will be given each night by the College cadet band. The band enjoys the reputation of being one of the best in American colleges.

Other features which will be the same each night are a livestock parade, an act by a dog trained to handle livestock, the exhibition of a high school horse, a sheep shearing contest, and a milking contest in which college girls will attempt to persuade cows that experts are milking them.

Pulling contests between some of the best teams of horses in this section will be given each night, but the heavy teams are scheduled one night and the lightweight horses for the next.

Exhibitions by students in the athletic and military departments will vary each night. The speakers will change each night, and different vocal music will be provided for each program.
