THE Advertisements

printed for your convenience

Suppose all the advertisers in your favorite newspaper should stop advertising for a week. What inconvenience would result! How much telephoning and shopping around to get the answers to such questions as: "What's playing at the theatre? When will that new vacuum-cleaner be on sale? Who is offering shoe-bargains? Where can I buy that dry shampoo Emily told me about?" The answers to these questions, and to hundreds of similar ones that people ask every day, are news. VITAL news. You're really interested to learn that a certain store is selling a product you need for a price you can afford to pay. Furthermore, the advertisements save your time, for you can read them quickly. They save your energy, for you can read them at home and plan just what to buy and where to buy. And they save your money, by enabling you to adjust your needs to the limitations of your budget. In short, they are pocketbook editorials, condensing and interpreting for you the merchandise news of the day.

LEGION NEWS

(Important)
It has been necessary for the Legion Unemployment Committee to change the tentative arrangements which it has been following, to be more compatible with present conditions, and suggestions which have been brought to their attention by the general public.
In the first place it has been necessary to abandon the 35c per hour basic rate which was established, inasmuch as men are being employed for less, and in some instances more, depending largely on the nature of work. It has also been brought to the Committee's attention of the desirability of hiring one's own labor for any work provided. This also must be conceded.
It is not the purpose of the American Legion or its Committee to put any barriers or obstacles in the way of employer or employee, but more to act as a clearing-house and put forth all its efforts to make a closer contact between the two, and to suggest and urge that all work possible be provided regardless of who does it or at what price, although the primary object is for those now unemployed.
The Committee wishes to make this request, however: That you use the blank coupon found on another page of this issue and mail to the Legion Unemployment Committee, Box 436, advising the approximate number of hours that you are furnishing to someone. If no coupon is available, phone Committee Headquarters, 280-W, between 7:30 and 9:00 p. m. any night except Sunday, or Kolb's Restaurant, phone 265, at any time.
We feel sure this procedure will meet with the public's approval and that they will do their bit in keeping us informed. It will also be a decided pleasure for the Committee to be able to make a satisfactory report from Chelsea to its National Headquarters, and we believe the public as well as the Legion will have that peace of mind in knowing that they have contributed their share towards a deed well done.
Regardless of the nature or the size of the job, if it is work to help the unemployed, give the Committee a break, and let them know how many hours you are contributing.
Unemployment Committee.

Michigan Department of State

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—The Department of State has recommended that the special session of the legislature be allowed to make minor changes in laws governing non-profit corporations.

The corporation act of 1921 made it mandatory that non-profit corporations lose their charters if they did not report every three years and the department now is unable to reinstate these charters when past errors have been rectified.

Under the present laws, all organizations, incorporated for non-profit purposes, must make annual reports starting in 1933 with the payment of a $2 filing fee. The new law also requires that educational and ecclesiastical corporations, which were exempted previously, make annual reports.

Under the new law, the state in 1933 for the first time, will have a complete and accurate list of all corporations.

A manual of instructions for all election officials in the state is being prepared by the Department of State and will be ready for distribution within a few weeks. The instruction book is intended to contain information on all points that may be raised regarding the state's new election laws. The book will be furnished to election officials free of charge.

All persons who secured their motor vehicle drivers' licenses between January 1, 1925 and January 1, 1928 have only about two weeks in which to secure new licenses. Applications should be made to local police or sheriff's departments. About 1,000 applicants are being received daily by the Department of State.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I desire to ask in your question column what is the middle name of Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York?

Ans.—The name of the governor of New York is "Franklin Delano Roosevelt." The name is pronounced "Del-a-no," with accent on the first syllable.

Ques.—How many people in the United States die a natural death?

Ans.—We don't know. It depends upon how many doctors were employed.

Ques.—Will you be kind enough to answer how "Old Glory," as applied to the United States flag, originated?

Ans.—Historians are not agreed on the origin of "Old Glory," as applied to the American flag. One states that it was first applied by William Dwyer in 1851, a sailing captain who lived in Salem, Mass.

Ques.—Can you tell me if the soy beans originated in America or Europe?

Ans.—The soy beans originated in Manchuria, where this vegetable has a history dating back more than 5,000 years. The beans were introduced into America about the end of the eighteenth century.

Ques.—May I ask you what is a kitchenette?

Ans.—A kitchenette is any pee-wee place or corner where they take things out of cans and put them on a plate.

Ques.—I am writing to ask you when a woman becomes legally of age. Is it 18 years or is it 21 years?

Ans.—A person becomes of age when he or she attains full personal rights under the state law in which they live. Each state fixes its own limit. In some states women attain their majority at 18, while in others it is 21.

Ques.—Is Major Andrew of Revolutionary War fame buried in America? If so, where?

Ans.—Major Andrew, the British spy who was shot by the colonists, was originally buried in America. In 1821 his remains were entombed in Westminster Abbey in England, where a tablet to his memory was placed in the abbey by order of the British government.

Ques.—Since there are no differentials on railroad car wheels how can they go around curves when the outside wheels must travel farther than the inside wheels?

Ans.—The outside wheels slip a little according to the sharpness of the curve. This slipping is what causes "flat" wheels sometimes found on cars.

Ques.—Why is iron and other metal that is cast into molds called "pigs"?

Ans.—Originally iron was cast into molds of sand and the ingots were called "pigs" because of their supposed resemblance when first cast to a litter of pigs in the nest of a sow. The molten metal ran from the smelting furnace into a straight channel which had lateral branches at definite intervals. Workmen called the metal in the large mold the sow and pigs, and after it was broken up into pieces, the smaller ingots were known simply as pigs.

Ques.—Can you tell me how much it costs to get a copyright?

Ans.—The fee for a copyright of a published work has been $3 since July 1, 1908.

Ques.—Are lions and tigers found together in the same forests and jungles in Africa?

Ans.—No. In the first place there are no tigers in Africa. Tigers are natives of Asia only. Neither lions nor tigers are found in the forests or jungles. They live chiefly in rocky places, on sandy plains where there are thorn-thickets, and in the tall grasses and reeds along the banks of rivers. The tiger is sometimes found in the forests, but it prefers the grassy plains.

Law Makers Use Pruning Knife

State Legislature Out To Force General Tax Reduction.

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—When the live session of the special legislature ends, no one in Michigan can say that members of the house or senate have not endeavored to serve the best interests of the taxpayers of the state for if they had their way there would be such substantial reductions in state expenses that even the severest critic of public expenditures would be thoroughly satisfied. They would go way beyond anything that the Governor has recommended. In fact, they have done so wherever possible. The building fund for the ensuing year has been slashed an additional twenty-five per cent on top of the fifteen per cent asked by the Governor. Many of the higher-up salaries will be reduced much more than fifteen per cent by the time the legislature is through with some of the bills now before it.

There is a general feeling of restraint upon the part of the legislators. The refusal of the attorney general's office to prepare only such bills as come from the Governor's office has resulted in some members of the house preparing their own bills which seek to make more substantial cuts in salaries, expenses and maintenance funds than those that have been recommended.

Another newspaper publisher during the past few days stepped into the spotlight. Representative Len Peligier, of Nashville, has introduced a bill into the house which would require banks to insure all deposits. He contends that the man or woman who puts money into a savings account should have the same protection as granted public funds.

The legislature has made progress with its banking legislation. The bill permitting closed banks to open under a depositors' agreement providing 85 per cent sign it, is apparently on the way to become a law. The statute at present requires that 95 per cent of the depositors sign in to permit a closed bank to re-open. A number of banks are now operating under agreements of this kind, the largest one being in Ypsilanti.

Representative Vern Brown, in his campaign for reduction of salaries as well as the decrease in the number of state employees, forced a resolution last week in the number of employees carried on the Chelsea cement plant payroll. This plant was closed over a year ago and Representative Brown discovered that it still maintained a yearly payroll of over $41,000. When he brought this matter to light, it was immediately cut in half.

Senator Chester Howell, publisher of the Channing Argus, is not letting up in his demands for a complete public review of an itemized report of the state personnel and salaries.

Coupled with the salary question has come the problem of state owned automobiles. Members of the legislature before the present week is over will know just how many cars the various departments are using and what the state is paying to keep these cars in operation.

Most important of all, and the bill providing the greatest amount of difficulty, is the measure which seeks to divide the weight tax among the various counties.

Twice this bill has been called back by Governor Bruckner and altered in an effort to have it give more general satisfaction. How to frame the bill so that it will give the most relief is the question now being agreed upon.

Until some sort of an agreement can be reached upon many of these pending measures, there seems to be little prospect of immediate adjournment.

Four Telephone Employees Awarded 1931 Vail Medal

Michigan Bell Telephone Company employees honored for action in emergencies that resulted in saving lives. 1—Everett K. Monroe, cable splicer, Pontiac; 2—Mrs. Celia S. Schroeder, night operator, Roseville; 3—Charles G. Enos, cable splicer, Detroit; 4—Fred Collins, lineman, Detroit.

VAIL MEDAL GIVEN FOUR IN MICHIGAN

UNUSUAL ACTS OF SERVICE BY TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES TOLD IN CITATIONS

Theodore N. Vail medals in bronze will be awarded four employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company—three men and a woman—for outstanding acts of service in moments of extreme emergency during 1931. It is announced by Birch Foraker, president of the Company and chairman of the Michigan Committee of Vail Medal Awards. They are Everett K. Monroe, Pontiac cable splicer; Mrs. Celia S. Schroeder, Roseville night operator; and Fred Collins, lineman, and Charles G. Enos, cable splicer, both of Detroit.

Each was instrumental in saving a life, and is cited for exhibiting unusual initiative and prompt action.

Two of the men, Monroe and Enos, restored consciousness to persons in danger of death from drowning, by application of methods learned in Telephone Company First Aid classes. Collins rescued a woman from a burning building, and Mrs. Schroeder was instrumental in saving a man from asphyxiation.

Awards of the medal in bronze, silver and gold are made under a fund created twelve years ago in memory of Theodore N. Vail whose life-work was devoted to the development of universal telephone service and who instituted into the Bell System many of its high ideals of service. The silver and gold medals are national awards. Since the establishment of the fund, 52 bronze medals have been awarded Michigan people, 48 to employees of the Michigan Bell Company and four to employees of connecting telephone companies. Two silver medals have been awarded Michigan people, both connecting company employees.

Everett K. Monroe is cited for his part in saving the life of a woman while bathing in Cass lake, near Pontiac, July 2. Seeing the woman in distress and hearing her cries for help, he rushed to her assistance, carried her to shore and applied artificial respiration. Twice it was necessary to resort to the treatment for long intervals before normal breathing was restored.

The interest of Mrs. Celia S. Schroeder, night telephone operator at Roseville, was aroused by the excited request of a woman for a number in a neighboring town, May 9. She learned that the mother was absent from home and that the child's father was attempting suicide by gas asphyxiation. Mrs. Schroeder instructed a companion operator to ascertain the address of the family, from the central office records, and supplied the information to the police, who reached the home in time to prevent the tragedy.

Fred Collins, while on his way to work December 9, saw a two-story apartment building on fire. Unable to arouse the occupants, he forced the front door, but was driven back by dense smoke. He struggled to the roof of an adjoining one-story structure and tried to enter the burning building through a second-story window, but again was driven back. He then saw a woman frantically trying to force open a front window on the second floor and, climbing to the porch roof, tore loose a screen, smashed in the window, and helped the partially overcome woman to the ground. Learning from her that another woman was trapped in a rear apartment, he was on his way to aid the latter when the fire department arrived and saved her by means of ladders.

Charles G. Enos is cited for initiative, courage and prompt action in helping save two persons from drowning. Enos and a friend were swimming in Martin's Drain, at St. Clair Shores, June 20, when they saw a boat with six people overturned in deep water. Three were drowned almost immediately and one boy saved himself. Enos and his companion swam some distance to the two others, a woman and her baby, who were struggling frantically, and took them to shore. Aided by others, Enos applied artificial respiration, and the woman and her baby were revived and recovered.

Letters of commendation for noteworthy acts of public service also were authorized by the Michigan committee of award for Clarence L. Tucker, engineering assistant, Detroit; George A. Behm, maintenance man, Roseville; Charles H. Stewart, maintenance man, Detroit; Robert L. Miller, installer, Ann Arbor; Clair H. Hopner, repairman, Petoskey; M. H. Deha, repairman, Mt. Clemens; and Burton C. Stalker, testman, and William A. White, repairman, both of Birmingham.

SCHOOL NOTES

Tuesday morning, April 5, we were highly entertained by Frank Storms, who took us on a very interesting trip to Florida. The trip was so vividly told that it was very easy to imagine one's self with him.

We left Chelsea Sunday morning and took three days to reach Florida because we stopped at quite a few places of interest. Among them was the Cumberland Gap, from which we saw Saddle Mountain. We then crossed a portion of three Southern States.

In order to appreciate Florida a little better it might be interesting to remember that Florida was discovered by Ponce de Leon in 1513. We saw a number of the old buildings that were still standing besides visiting Tarpon Springs, Edward Bok Sanctuary, some very beautiful sights in Lakeland, and many other points of interest.

After visiting Florida it is very easy to see why it is called the "Play Ground of America."

We are indebted to Mr. Storms and appreciate very much his taking us with him.

Through the courtesy of Rev. Reed of Waterloo we were very pleasantly entertained Tuesday morning.

The Chapel exercises were opened by Rev. Reed, who read the Scripture, after which he introduced a quartet of men from Wheaton College, who entertained us with the following program:

The quartet first sang a number. Then one of the members led the assembly by singing a new kind of Smiles—"You can smile when you can't say a word. You can smile when you cannot be heard. You can smile when it's cloudy or fair. You can smile anytime, anywhere."

Another member played a piano solo and then the quartet sang another song. The program was closed with two solos played on a French horn.

We closed our Chapel period by singing a few songs, led by Miss Knoelk.

Retaining Proven Bull for Future Is Prudent

Some years ago Mr. W. A. Dryden, one of the leading breeders of Short-horn cattle in Ontario, made a comment that bears just as directly on dairy cattle improvement as on beef.

"We will never make the improvement we should make," said Mr. Dryden, "until we have more proven sires. Plenty of our best sires are sold to the butcher after one or two years' use and before we really know just what their progeny will be." At that time Mr. Dryden had a couple of bulls that he had used in his own herd, loaned to neighboring breeders. He was watching their offspring and should they prove exceptionally good, the sire was right at hand to be used to his full for the improvement of the Short-horn breed.

"Dairyman of the Scandinavian countries have long had a system of close exchange that enables them to hold sires until their daughters have been tested in production. Good sires are then retained for service as long as they are active and the result has been a remarkably rapid increase in the average milk production per cow in these countries. And we, in Canada, continue with the hit-and-miss plan, or lack of plan, that has always been the rule on this continent and every year good bulls go to the block."

The FOD SURGEON Says

Speaking of the weather, if the D. is any indication, there's plenty of moisture over the country, with just a touch of drought in Kansas.

The big "bonus of contention" in Congress right now is whether to pay $2,000,000,000 in cash to world war veterans. There seems to be at least two principal factions—those who are in favor of it and those who don't see how they can get any of it.

The Philippines may get their independence in another ten years. After waiting 30 years they probably feel like saying, "No rush, Uncle Sam, that's ten years with freedom in sight."

Joe Joseph Stamp, the economic advisor to the British government says, "The general situation in America is better now than it was a few months ago, but what is wanted is a revival of confidence." And he doesn't mean the kind of a revival that leaves a lot of backsliders, either.

There's a big campaign over the country for improved sanitation for hogs. Which recalls the story of the ill-farmer who kept his hogs under the kitchen and when told that it was an unhealthful practice, replied, "Well, damn, we ain't had a sick hog in ten years."

The price of onions has jumped from two cents a pound six months ago to about twelve cents at present. The experts tell us there is no mystery in this onion-bull market. It's just more evidence that "in onions there is strength."

"I notice where they found that sun pots cause them terrible noises on the radio," comments the hired man.

First War, Then Billions
Platinum in Alaska
Dangerous Taxation
Thought, Not Noise

When the next war starts the United States government, before jumping into the game, will perhaps turn back to the cost of our late war. Figures published show that the relief of veterans costs the country now a thousand million dollars a year. Two billion more are called for by the pending bonus bill.

The veterans' relief consumed 41 percent of the 1931 income tax and will consume more than all of the income tax of 1932. As years pass the cost will increase. Veterans' relief will amount to $2,000,000,000 a year ten years from now. It costs taxpayers today more than the army and navy combined.

Every dollar that the government owes the veterans should be paid today.

But veteran relief bills should be borne in mind when the next war comes.

On the Kodiak island, off the coast of Alaska, live the Kodiak bears, biggest in the world. A few go to shoot them and have the pleasure of telling about it afterward.

Southwest of Kodiak island lies Chirikof island, and if news from there is verified, thousands will rush to Chirikof for one going to Kodiak.

Jack McCord is believed to have discovered on Chirikof deposits of platinum, more precious than gold.

It was a fortunate day for the United States when Seward bought Alaska for $8,000,000. Russian was tired of the place, having killed off the sea otters that supplied the finest fur for Russian noblemen's coats.

There is no knowing how many hundreds of times we may get back our $8,000,000 from Alaska's treasures, besides mining a great empire for our territory.

Money must come from somewhere, and it seems ungracious to attack any of the "good ideas" that congressmen dig up. It may seem especially strange to utter anything but praise of taxes on Wall Street transactions, since many have an idea that Wall Street gambling is largely responsible for our troubles.

Nevertheless, there is no doubt that the peace of mind of millions, and what is far more important, the values of bonds and other securities held by savings banks and life insurance companies, depend a great deal on the prices at which securities are quoted on the stock exchange.

The threat of inflation has caused values to fall off about $3,000,000,000 already. If that situation is really as dangerous as is alleged, Mr. Mills, head of the treasury, will know how to make the facts clear to congressmen.

Several hundred young Columbia students went on strike because the editor of the college paper was a polard. Plaid and ogre flow. Young men and women carried signs "Strike for free press." A liberal university. One young gentleman carried this sign: "Thing out loud." The important part is the thinking. The loudness is less important.

The difficulty is that there is a good deal of noise, not very much thinking.

The rich, if we have any left, are grieved by the suggestion that three quarters of all their income be taken from them in the way of taxation, might find comfort in reading some details of the French revolution in the Puy-de-Dome section. A certain ardent revolutionist named Meyrand "had the audacity to suggest to the judges that he knew no law which made it necessary to condemn a citizen to death because he was rich."

Meyrand was considered a good sans-culotte by revolutionists generally, but he was immediately put in jail because he objected to sentencing a citizen to death because he was rich.

We haven't reached that stage in the United States yet. So let the rich cheer up.

A little while ago Marcelino managed to send a faint signal across the Atlantic ocean. Now he and everybody else can talk around the world. Television interests him today. He says: "I expect soon to be able to see my family in New York while I speak with them by wireless telephone."

Business may be bad, but progress never ceases. That should encourage us.

Shall we some day talk to the planet Mars by radio and at the same time study the Martians by television? It is not unthinkable, since the ether unites Mars and the earth and radio operates through the ether.

In a pasteboard box in Kansas City, with hot-water bottles around it, lies a small male human being weighing exactly one pound. Doctors think he will live.

This smallest baby, born too soon, somewhat undernourished, has extraordinary vitality and absorbs liquid from an eye-dropper.

All mothers will be intensely interested in the child. All Wall Street will say is: "It reminds you of Roosevelt dividends and values."

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE" HEARD AND SEEN FIRST TIME

For forty-four years Robert Louis Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" has been the leading mystery thriller of the stage, with its awesome struggle between the beautiful and hideous in a man's soul.

Today, after two generations of use in thrilling audiences, it is brought to the talking screen for the first time with "Freddie March in the title role. Paramount's vivid dramatization of this classic is the feature picture at the Princess theatre next week Tuesday and Wednesday, April 19-20.

Under the direction of Rouben Mamoulian, director of "City Streets," March will lend his own personality to the Jekyll-Hyde role, although following the examples laid down by Richard Mansfield in first assuming the stage part and of John Barrymore in the first film portrayal.

As a play, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" has attained more success, written a famous critic, than the original Stevenson story. The reason for this, says the critic, is due to the fact that the theme presents unlimited possibilities for an actor and because seeing the transitions from Hyde to Jekyll are more realistic than merely reading of them.

Since Mansfield first stepped upon the stage as Jekyll and Hyde on May 9, 1887, the play has been a popular and much-used vehicle.

The great actor was responsible for the first dramatization of the Stevenson story, which was written as a play at Mansfield's request by Thomas Russell Sullivan.

Mansfield has left a vivid description of his feelings on the night when he first presented the play in Boston. He wrote: "That night in the third act, where, as Hyde, I grasped the position, swallowed it, with the awful agony of transformation and rose pale and erect, the visualized embodiment of Jekyll—an agony of apprehension seized me and I suffered a lifetime in the silence in which the curtain fell. In another instant I realized that silence was a tribute of awe and terror, inspired by the reality of the scene, for through the canvases screen came a muffled roar which was the sweetest sound I ever heard in my life, and I breathed again."
