Many Activities In Political Campaign

Following in the footsteps of State and National leaders, county candidates are carrying on a fast and furious battle as the date for election draws near. Rallies and tours are being staged during the last week of the campaign, each candidate making his or her plea for a share of the estimated 40,000,000 votes which will be cast throughout the nation next Tuesday.

On Wednesday of this week Democratic candidates of the county were in Chelsea on tour, arriving about 11 o'clock. Wm. A. Comstock, candidate for governor, was unable to join the party here as had been previously advertised, and John C. Lehr of Monroe, candidate for congress, was the speaker. Mr. Lehr vigorously attacked the present governmental administration and urged the election of the entire Democratic ticket.

A Republican rally was held at the public school auditorium Wednesday evening. Attorney Frank B. DeVine of Ann Arbor presided at the meeting, introducing the county candidates. Milton J. Hoyer of the Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Hoyer defended the policies of the present administration and told the advantages of returning Republican candidates to office.

A county tour will be conducted by Republican candidates on Saturday of this week, making a last-minute bid for support. Congressman Earl C. Michener and A. L. Moore, candidate for State senator, will speak. A band will precede the candidates on the tour and will present a musical program at the corner of Main and Middle streets from 11:30 to 12 o'clock, when the candidates will arrive. Following the speeches the entire party will dine in the basement of the Congregational church, the dinner to be served by the Ladies' Guild of the church.

In the meantime political orations continue to drown out the static on the radio, allowing less time for crooners, whether for better or otherwise—nevertheless, do not forget that next Tuesday, November 8th, is the date of the election which will decide the policies of government—go to the polls and vote!

Public Library Notes

One of the outstanding items of interest in the recent Child Study club convention, held in Pontiac, was the Chelsea Public Library Project. The report was received with such enthusiasm that the local staff felt greatly repaid for all the time and effort that has been put into the work.

The cooperation and patronage of the public has made it very much worthwhile and in the eight months of its progress and growth nearly 5,000 books have been loaned to its patrons. Recent books that have been added to the shelves are as follows: Bright Skin—Julia Peterkin. Peking Picnic—Ann Bridge. Lark Ascending—Mazo de La Roche. During the next two weeks selections will be made for more additions. If there are any suggestions or recommendations concerning which you are interested, will you leave your list at the library so that the book committee may include your selection in the new list.

YOUTH ON TREK TO LANSING
The Allied Youth of America will stage a big parade into Lansing on Saturday. Automobiles from all the surrounding cities and towns will congregate at East Lansing at 1:30 and then proceed to the State Capitol Building where a big demonstration will be staged in favor of retaining the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution. Young folks of this community are urged to join the procession. For information call 280.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

The attention of the electors of Sylvan is called to the opening of and closing the polls in precincts No. 1 and 2 for the General Election to be held on Tuesday, November 8, 1932. In accordance with the state laws the polls will open at 7 o'clock in the forenoon and remain open until 6 o'clock in the evening. All voters who are in line at the closing hour, by provisions of the statutes, will be entitled to cast their ballots.

Mrs. Henry Ewald and son, Floyd and Misses Lois and Dorothy Grabbil of Detroit attended a dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grabbil, given in honor of her father, A. P. White, who celebrated his 80th birthday anniversary. Mr. White is a civil war veteran, having served in Co. K, 20th Illinois Infantry.

ST. MARY'S DANCE

St. Mary's will hold their third dance, Friday night, Nov. 4. The Stevedores have been engaged for the occasion. Come and enjoy a pleasant dance.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY EVENTS

The American Legion has completed its plans for the Armistice Day celebration along the lines that were begun a year ago. Just as in 1931, there will be a large parade of floats followed by a supper and dance at the High School Gym. Another feature of the day which is not strictly sponsored by the Legion is the football game between Manchester and Chelsea High Schools. Last year a game was played between picked teams of men from these two towns, but, since the regular high school schedule called for a game on this day, the Legion decided not to arrange any other football game.

It is once more strongly urged by the committee in charge of floats that every public spirited citizen take some part in the parade either by helping to arrange a float for the business with which he or she is connected or else by entering a private float.

The time scheduled for the various events is as follows:
1:30—Parade.
3:15—Football game.
5:00—Supper.
8:30—Dance.

Will Survey New Federal Aid Road

R. K. MacDuff's survey party, now engaged in making a preliminary survey of the Ann Arbor North Belt, will complete the survey the latter part of this week and will then move to Chelsea and start the preliminary survey of the highway from Chelsea to Gregory. This project has recently been added to the Federal Aid system, although no construction has as yet been authorized.

The region between Chelsea and Gregory is very hilly and interspersed with lakes and peat deposits. In order to determine the exact location, a careful preliminary survey must be made, having in mind that the cost of construction of this project must be kept to a minimum, that satisfactory alignment must be secured and to develop to best advantage the attractive scenery available.

Large Crowd Attends First Health Program

A crowd of about 350 persons, including children of various ages and many adults, attended the first of a series of health programs sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. This program was held at the High School Auditorium on Tuesday evening of this week with Dr. Yoder of the State Hospital near Ypsilanti as the speaker. Dr. Yoder has achieved considerable fame as a lecturer on subjects related to youth and on this occasion took as his topic the things that promote health in the minds of adolescents.

He stated in his introductory remarks that his speech would be neither a feast nor a luncheon but only an intellectual sandwich. However, from the many remarks of praise which were heard at the close of the lecture it is apparent that Dr. Yoder created an intense desire on the part of his hearers for a larger sampling of what he had to offer. It is possible that he will be heard in a second lecture during the winter of spring, and it is also likely that he will return to Chelsea for an address to the students of the high school at some time during the school year. Dr. Yoder pointed out that some of the worst mistakes of youth are traceable to such factors as blind selfishness, lack of a well-rounded personality, failure to be courageous in emergencies and the absence of a religious attitude.

He stated that the principal job of the school is not to teach reading, writing, arithmetic, and other subjects that are offered in the school, but to train children in such a way that they will be able to stand firmly on their own feet in times of stress and to take their place in organized society. He stated that the only individual who can ever be happy in this world is the person who is able to adjust himself or herself to whatever may come their way.

The health campaign of which Dr. Yoder's lecture was a part, is a county wide campaign organized through the Kiwanis Club and through the efforts of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. The township of Lyndon, Lima and Sylvan are included in the territory which the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea is supervising for the carrying out of this health campaign. Each member of the Club is responsible for one or more of the rural districts and will endeavor by cooperation with the teachers and officers of the districts to make plans whereby practical instruction in public health may be received without cost. Other central programs similar to the one held this week will be arranged for Chelsea and all of the people of the outlying communities will be invited to attend these central meetings.

HERE'S AN OFFER
When Wm. Hafner, who resides one mile west of Chelsea, went to his corn field on Wednesday he discovered that someone had stolen about ten bushels of corn which he had husked last week. According to Mr. Hafner, the thief was very particular as he had sorted the corn, taking only the best. He states that if the culprit will report at once he will give him another ten bushels of corn to make sure that he has ample cornmeal for the winter's use, and no questions will be asked. Here's a good offer—there will no doubt be a big rush to take advantage of the offer.

OBSERVE LADIES' NIGHT
Ladies' Night was observed at the monthly meeting of the Methodist Fellowship club, held Wednesday evening in the church dining room. Following the scrub lunch supper at 7 o'clock, an enjoyable entertainment was given including a talk by Mrs. Mildred Mayer of Munith and special musical numbers.

HOSTS TO OFFICIAL BOARD

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES--National, State and County--KEEP THEM ON THE JOB!

Albert J. Rapp

Republican Candidate for Re-Election to the Office of Prosecuting
Attorney

Albert J. Rapp was elected to the office of prosecutor by the people of Washtenaw county.

Since qualifying for that office every minute of his time has been devoted to the people who by their votes elevated him to that office.

Results of this devotion to the trust which was placed in him were an actual 1892 conviction secured on 1,088 warrants issued.

Fines and costs totalling over $40,000.00 were assessed due to this accomplishment.

The criminal docket has been brought up to date for the first time in Washtenaw county in many years.

AND HE HAS DONE THIS UNDER AN EXPENDITURE BELOW THE BUDGET ALLOWED.

He asks reelection on this record.

Surely there is no reason for a change now. More than ever Mr. Rapp should be retained. You would not make a change in your own private organization if you were fortunate enough to have a man devoted to the success of an enterprise belonging to you.

A new and inexperienced man in troublesome, panicky times is a luxury. In any kind of business management, knowledge of ways and means, cutting the corners to reduce expense, sacrificing his private affairs for those who have trusted him, have earned for Albert J. Rapp, another term as prosecutor.

It is easy to blame the "other fellow." It is easy to make promises. It is easy to say what will be done by electing a "certain man" but another story--

JAY G. PRAY

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE for Re-Election to the Office of Probate Judge

The administration of the affairs of the Probate Office comes into closer contact with the people than that of any other county office, and experience in handling these affairs is of great value to the public. The widow and the orphan depend upon the careful, painstaking work of the Probate Judge in conserving their estates; this has been the aim of Judge Pray and will continue to be, if he is re-elected.

A large number of boys and girls who have gotten into trouble in one way and another are brought into the Probate Court. It is the practice of this Court to study each case carefully and to adjust, if possible, their trouble by placing them with some character-building organization best fitted to correct their mistakes without any was disturbing them in their school or social life. In most cases the plan has been a success.

In times such as we are now passing through, a much greater demand is made upon the office of the Judge of Probate in all lines of service. The time in which to settle estates is prolonged. Transient is on the increase. The number of indigent is steadily mounting. Families have been disorganized and homes broken up by the depression. I am sure that the thinking public is aware of this situation and will want to maintain the present administration.

VOTE FOR MOORE FOR SENATOR

No Man Could Save More
-Regardless of His Party Label-

HERE are two straight-from-the-shoulder FACTS that you will want to know before voting on November 8th.

First--Cornelius W. Tuomy, the present Drain Commissioner, has spent LESS for drain construction than any drain Commissioner for 30 years. He hasn't spent one cent to build new drains during his entire term of office.

Second--He has reduced the traveling expenses of his office 82 per cent in the past two years.

If you believe (as Mr. Tuomy believes) that the only way to reduce taxes is by refusing to spend public money, then you owe it to yourself and to your neighbors to re-elect him.

Party politics may well be thrown into the discard when you have a man who HAS PROVED by cold figures what he will do. In the office of Drain Commissioner it makes little difference what a man's politics are--his respect for the public purse is the big thing.

Re-elect Drain Commissioner

TUOMY

Why Pack Deserves
a Second Term

After a man has been initiated into the legislature by having served his first term, his constituents have an investment in him. He is no longer a novice. He has made influential friendships. He knows the ropes. He is in a position to do things for them.

In the legislature, as in any organization, a brand new man cannot hope to get very far his first term. He must gain the friendship and confidence of his colleagues first. Unless he is a member of the dominant party, he is more than ever handicapped.

Mr. Pack's record during his first term was a good one--not brilliant but solid. You have an investment in his experience during his first term. Let him earn dividends for you on your investment by sending him back once more. He has earned a second term. Give it to him.

RE-ELECT

Philip C. Pack
State Representative

Four years ago President Hoover promised to work for agriculture and provide a farm cooperative organization that would enable the farmer to get their own production.

That kept and today there are thousands of farm cooperatives functioning successfully, and the farmer is profiting and will profit much more in the future.

He promised tariff protection for American products and kept that promise and is now receiving from eight to eighteen cents more for wheat of the same grade than neighboring farmers across the Canadian border. That applies also to corn, to other farm products. While American products are too low they are higher than the same products in any other country.

He promised protection for American industry and American wages and kept that promise when he secured the passage of a Democratic House of Representatives. A Democratic Vice-President is too low they are higher than the same products in any other country.

He has continuously requested the Congress for authority to work out a reorganization of governmental departments, the elimination of those not essential to the welfare of the people, or that duplicate the work of other departments. A Democratic Vice-President is too low they are higher than the same products in any other country.

President Hoover kept every promise he made to the people when he received their votes years ago, and--

In addition to keeping his promise to the people, since the close of the Civil War, has met the situation squarely; has planned for a safe road to better conditions.

Knowing the re-election of Hoover means better prices for farm products, more jobs for the unemployed, less cost of living, financial and industrial recovery, we urge the people of this community to elect Hoover.

Michener

To represent you capably and conscientiously all the time.

To vote in Congress as the majority of his constituents desire on controversial questions.

His seniority has given Mr. Michener a position of dominant influence in Congress. When he speaks, his colleagues listen. When you ask him to do something for you in Washington, your mission is handled by a man to whom all doors are open. Only two other Congressmen out of nearly 600 are senior to Mr. Michener. This district is fortunate in being represented by a man who is so influential, so capable--so worthy of re-election next Tuesday.

Jacob B. Andres

Sheriff of Washtenaw County
HE SUBMITS THE FOLLOWING RECORD

Inaugurates Report System
Sheriff Andres inaugurated a modern report system that has materially aided officers, law enforcement agencies and institutions in their work. These reports provide a detailed record of his department's activities and are open for public inspection.

Department Activities
The budget of the sheriff's office for the year Oct. 1, 1931, to Oct. 1, 1932 was $28,000.00. Sheriff Andres operated the department for $25,823.75, a SAVING of $2,176.25! Even with increased work, Sheriff Andres has been able to give the county a businesslike administration seldom equaled.

Sheriff Solves Crimes

Sheriff Andres and his department have been responsible for the solution of many crimes which have shocked the state. Apprehension of the slayer of Mrs. Hudson of Dearborn, bringing to justice the guilty ones in the Coby murder case, and the manner in which the "torch" murder case was handled are matters of local and state history.

Saves Money for County and Individuals

By eliminating the notarial fee of 25c, Sheriff Andres saved automobile drivers $3,390.25 on the 15,409 driver's licenses issued by his department since May 1, 1931. As a member of the Michigan Sheriff's association, he aided in obtaining legislation giving officers a mileage expense of 10 cents per mile--which means a saving to Washtenaw taxpayers of from $1,200 to $2,000 yearly.

The Honor List

By a Senior

Recently an honor list has been installed in the Chelsea High School. Ribbons are worn by the members on which are written the words, C. H. S. Honor List. The purpose of having this list is to allow privileges to only such persons as are really sincere in being fine citizens and in showing effort toward good scholarship. If this were not so, no one could have any privileges because some persons would constantly take advantage of their freedom.

A few weeks ago a trust was placed on the student body to the extent that they were given unlimited privileges. We found that many could not assume responsibility for themselves. As a result of this, we have the Honor List. Now all students, who would take undue advantage of privileges have none at all.

If one has been fortunate enough to get his name on the Honor List that does not mean that his name may not be removed. Therefore, I think a person whose name is on the list should observe two very important things: 1. Never allow himself to abuse his privileges, i.e. never exercise his rights as an honor student more than necessary for his continued effort toward good citizenship and good scholarship. 2. Hold himself entirely responsible for his own good conduct. 3. Master each step of his work thoroughly.

On the other hand, one who is not a member of the Honor List might do well to consider the following: 1. Consider the viewpoint of the instructors. Have they reason to believe in his sincerity or have they not? If not, why not, and how can he remedy the situation? 2. Go to each instructor and find out who has anything against your personal conduct or who criticizes your degree of effort, and why he does so. 3. Guard personal habits. A non-member is constantly being watched. Therefore, if his actions are as they should be, the instructors will no doubt soon discover it, for as an old maxim says: "Actions speak louder than words." 4. By his sincerity and faithfulness to his work, he can convince his teachers that he is really doing his level best to obtain good scholarship.

A person who studies faithfully, thoroughly, honestly, and to the best of his ability, and who makes his conduct such that others can do likewise, need not fear his name will be removed from the list or that he may not become a member. He can say, "I have studied, I have achieved, I have mastered and I have done my best to enable others to do the same." He cannot fail for he has the spirit of success within him—mastery of citizenship.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

The Turkey Hop, first dance of the season, will be given by the senior class, Nov. 18. The public as well as the alumni are cordially invited. Further announcements of this affair will be made at a later date.

Honor List

(Points compiled by Mr. Poore)

1. Membership in the Honor List is based on two points, namely: personal conduct and personal effort, or in other words, citizenship and application.
2. The only reason for placing a person on the list is the unanimous belief of the teachers that this person can be trusted.
3. A few persons were placed on the list when it was begun simply because of high scholarship, but this high scholarship will not keep a person on the list unless that person is a good citizen.
4. The person with low scholarship can become a member of the list as easily as anyone else, provided this person is doing his best.
5. Honor List members have unlimited privileges and are trusted completely.
6. Non-members are constantly watched by the teachers, so far as possible.

Museum Club

Much interest has been aroused among the members of the Museum club concerning the collecting of Indian relics. Two valuable collections have been loaned to the museum by Bryce Richards and Tom Walworth. Among the material collected we have Indian tomahawks, peace pipes, war clubs, buckskin spindle, skinning knives, and a varied collection of arrows. These relics have been unearthed in the region about Chelsea. They interest because of the fact that they reveal something of the life of the Red Man who lived here before the coming of our forefathers.

The Superintendent's Column

Last week an article, written by a girl of the senior class, appeared in this paper. She criticized the new system of individual teaching that has been introduced into Chelsea High School this year. She argued for a return to the older custom of daily class discussions under the teacher's leadership.

It happens that last year the Hamtramck High School turned from the traditional discussion method to the individualized unit system which Chelsea now uses. Recently a Mother wrote to the Detroit News, criticizing the method. In the issue of last Sunday a student in Detroit answered her objections as follows:

Hamtramck High School
To the Editor: I wish to offer a few lines of explanation of the question of the new system of teaching at Hamtramck High School to the mother who asked about it in your issue of Oct. 19.

I graduated from the Wilbur Wright Cooperative High School last June. During my last year the individual system of teaching was instituted in the school. We were given our work in units and allowed to finish it when we believed we cared to finish. Receptions were in a form of an explanation by the teacher and were given only when demanded. We were expected to find our own mistakes before we handed in the unit and had to pass an examination before we were allowed to continue and had to get a passing mark.

As our school is a training school for preparing men for the industrial field, the system of teaching brought forth qualities of leadership, honor, initiative, stick-to-it-iveness and other such qualities which must be developed in order to have a man succeed in the business world. Therefore, why not start young in developing these traits? They are not brought to the front so forcibly under the old system of teaching.

A Mother asked if a child learns by working under this system. I attended Central High for three years and I learned as much in two years in the Wilbur Wright school as I learned at Central in three.

Nothing can develop honorable traits more easily than the individual system of teaching. A teacher cannot develop these traits in each individual. It is only human that the students copy, as the world is made up of people who depend on the rest of the world for an existence, and so in a school, there are some who copy.

Library News

The library club was favored with a very interesting book report by Alice Osborne, "Barriers" by Rex Beach. There will be no regular meeting of the library club this next week due to the fact that the entire period will be devoted to a demonstration of how to circulate books going out for daily, over-night and weekly use. This demonstration will be continued until every member has had the opportunity of charging out each type of book.

We expect to have new curtains for the elementary library soon. Watch for them! Special library periods have been arranged for the kindergartners and first graders. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons are being set aside for the purpose of taking these pupils to the library. They will be shown the books and have stories read to them.

REMEMBER

Remembering is one thing—forgetting is another. Sometimes it is better to remember to forget and again at the proper time it is better to forget to remember. Nought of that—the moral of this story is to remember not to forget—(our locker keys, by the way—not to mention our books, pencils, pens and what have you!)

Chelsea Plays Milan

Chelsea High School will engage Milan in a Huron League Valley game Friday afternoon. So far this year Milan has not as yet been defeated in league games. The Chelsea boys promise you they will put up a good battle, so come out and cheer your team to victory.

Hallowe'en Festivities of Kindergarten, First and Second Grades

Monday, I was very fortunate on visiting these three grades at the time of their Hallowe'en parties. And oh, what fun! And good things to eat? I almost thought some of them would have indignation. While in the kindergarten I was very startled when a group of masked children paraded about the room singing a Hallowe'en song. On seeing Miss Holmby by the door I guessed that they must be second graders.

All of the rooms were decorated with pumpkins, witches, owls, etc. On this particular day the kindergarten had as their guest, Mrs. Richards, and the First Graders' guest was Mrs. Miller.

Third Grade:
I think I should have made myself right at home in here Monday, for they had a little house in one corner of the room. I am sure I would have loved a delightful story for that's what they were listening to. There were so many pumpkins and squash in the cornstarch by the door. I am sure they would have all made very delicious pies.

Fourth Grade:
The Girls' and Boys' Council of the Fourth Grade have been called upon to decide many questions thus far concerning conduct in the halls, on the playground and in the room. Their decisions are always based on Good Citizenship.

On November 8, the Grade will conduct an election in the room. Fifth Grade:
The Fifth Grade have been studying about the teeth and their care the past week. The pupils are making very attractive posters illustrating the above.

In language they are preparing to dramatize the story "Harmoson."

Their room had another pretty plant given to them, this week by Betty Leitch.

Sixth Grade:
Mr. Thompson was in their room last week with a microscope with which he illustrated cells to the pupils. The sixth grade girls are starting a sewing class. As yet we are not informed of any boys wishing to join this class. They have had the fortune to have a piece of Irish linen which is posted on their bulletin board. They are gathering plants for their room which they are decorating with blue. The spelling honor roll for this week is as follows: Jim Daniels, Barbara Schroder, Bernice Leach, Vivian McBride, Margaret Oesterle, Gertrude Hale, Winifred Palmer, Eva Ablon.

It Must Be Great To Be Popular

We now present a few of the famous personages seen at "Ye All High Party" Monday night: Mr. Thompson as Little Lord Fauntleroy? (Johnny to you); Miss Hazard as "Matilda" at her first party; Miss Barrus as a blind lady with a tin cup (she received five pennies for which she extends her thanks); Miss Cash as a very charming witch—did you notice the shoes? Mildred Beeman acted a wee-bit shy (it must have been that hat); Jean Lapp and Alice Osborne made a charming captain and first mate, respectively, and the rest of the crew consisted of Luella Huston, Johanna Bruckner, Ruth Falst, Jean Irwin, Dorothy Shenk, Leona Weinberg and Kathryn Staffan. There were others attired in everything from beach pajamas to overalls. The "hunter" was only Bob Huston in disguise, and can you figure it—he forgot his gun. Our party wouldn't have been complete without at least one impersonation of Amos or Andy, and Moritz Bruckner did very well, too well in fact. Marian Goodell was dressed as a "little girl" and was overheard that she was "cute as a bug's ear." Betty Wise had on red shoes which, by the way, created quite a sensation among all (except those who were color-blind). A few of those who didn't "dress-up" were Andros Gulde, Leo Weiss, Gert Hindelang, Louis Hyerart, Mr. Thayer, and Mr. Cross—but that wasn't necessary 'cause they're funny enough as "is." A grand time was had by all, and there were many sleepy and sheepish looks observed the next day.

40 - 20 - 10 Days Ago

Sept. 23.—We played our first football game with Dundee—we lost, but we don't mind just once.
Oct. 13.—Ah-ha!—we're not so bad after all. We beat Saline 6-0.
Oct. 24.—Just another day—the same old thing happening. Tomorrow the second team will play Stockbridge. We wonder how many blow-outs there'll be? Ahem!

Make this 25c Test
Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Get a 25c test box of BU-KETS, the bladder physic, from any drug store. After four days if you are not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. BU-KETS containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., acts pleasantly and effectively on the bladder similar to castor oil on bowels. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. J. V. Burg, Druggist. adv.

VOTE "NO" On the Proposed Prohibition Amendment To the State Constitution

Unless You Wish To

"Open the Door Wide to the Greatest Opportunity For Political Graft, Corruption, and Bribery The State Has Ever Witnessed"

Declares Professor Horace L. Wilgus, of the University of Michigan Law School.
Professor Wilgus says further:

- 1 The proposed amendment impliedly authorizes the UNLIMITED MANUFACTURE of intoxicating liquor, for the POWER OF CONTROL EXTENDS ONLY TO THE TRAFFIC IN, AND NOT TO THE MANUFACTURE OF, LIQUORS.
- 2 It would give the MAKING of intoxicating liquor in this state a constitutional basis, such as it never before has had, and in direct conflict with the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.
- 3 It would repeal all existing enforcement laws and leave the manufacture of liquor free, and the traffic uncontrolled, by state law, until the legislature created the proposed commission, which it MAY create, but is not REQUIRED to create.
- 4 Giving such a commission power to make regulations and impose penalties would conflict with Art. V, Sec. 1, of the present state constitution, which vests all legislative power in the legislature. This power cannot be delegated. Endless litigation would result.
- 5 Until such a commission is created and regulations are prescribed by it, and penalties provided for violations, the traffic in liquor would violate no state law, whether sold to children, drunkards, or any one else, in a saloon or elsewhere, and no constable, sheriff, policeman, or state trooper could arrest any one for so doing, and no court could try any case or impose any penalty.
- 6 The proposed amendment provides for an excise only on the TRAFFIC in, and not the manufacture of intoxicating liquor.
- 7 Since all former local option laws have been repealed, no county could, under the proposed amendment, prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor within its territory, unless the Legislature enacted law providing the procedure. And it is not mandatory upon the legislature to do this.
- 8 The commission could define "intoxicating liquor" differently from the definition in the Federal act, thus creating further conflicts.
- 9 The proposed amendment is designed to bring back and legalize the whole liquor business and to obstruct the National prohibition in the state and to nullify it so far as possible.
- 10 It withdraws all state aid in enforcing National prohibition. Violation of the National act will not be a state offense, under the jurisdiction of state officers, but a lawful act under state law.

James Barch Chosen Head of Voice Dept. University of Georgia

An interesting and complimentary article appeared in the Sept. 25th issue of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, telling of the appointment of James B. Barch to head of the Voice Department of the University of Georgia. Mr. Barch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hammond of Chelsea. The article follows:

Increased fame has come to Augusta through the announcement from Athens of Sept. 21 that James B. Barch of Augusta had been chosen to head the Voice Department of the University of Georgia, which is being instituted for the first time this season.

The selection of Barch by Hugh Hodgson, head of the Department of Music at the University, came after a conference in Athens. The fact that James Barch was chosen for this position above a score of other vocal instructors shows him for the artist that he is, and reflects credit upon Augusta where he has been engaged in his musical career for a long period of years. It is pointed out that while Barch's principal work will be to teach voice in the Demosthenian Hall, University of Georgia, he also will assist Hodgson with the Glee Club work of the University.

James Barch was chosen for this position upon his outstanding ability to sing, to teach, and to act, his accomplishments having been manifest through his work at the University of Georgia summer school and the summer opera there for the last three years. He assisted materially with the Opera season each of the years he has been connected with it, not only as an artist, but also his ability as a conductor. He was at times called upon to take charge of an opera rehearsal without a minute's advance notice. How well he succeeded can be seen by the fact that last Spring James Barch was offered through the director of the Summer School, Dr. Joseph H. Stewart, and upon recommendation of George Polson Granberry, of New York, the Vocal Department of the University Summer School, with Mrs. Barch as his accompanist.

Barch's connection proved a big asset to the Summer School from its start. This department had the largest enrollment in its history. Five of his pupils were chosen to sing solo parts in the Operas, which brought down the Metropolitan Opera stars for the stela roles.

A paragraph from a recent letter of Miss Rountree to James Barch, her former voice instructor says: "Queenie Marlo's criticism of my voice was almost identical with yours. Only you never identified with yours. Only you never identified with yours. Only you never identified with yours."

"The things she said about my high tones were identical to the things you had said about them. She also advised a use of the same vocal exercises that you had suggested."

The tendering of this position at the University to James Barch will cause no surprise in Augusta, where his artistry has been recognized since he came to Augusta to pursue his musical career, and where he married an Augusta girl, Miss Mabel Abnathay, who is a pianist of recognized ability, greatly augments her husband's work.

Barch's voice is a rich bass baritone. On addition to his private voice instruction here he has been much in demand for concerts, both here and in other places. "At the present time he directs the choirs of the Reid Memorial and Cullen churches here, and formerly directed the church choirs of St. James and the Second Baptist, before coming to Augusta. He directed choral work in Michigan and Ohio."

Not infrequently James Barch appeared as a featured vocalist of radio programs. While in Athens during the summer he sang over the radio station at the State Agricultural College, which was relayed through Station WSB, Atlanta. Because of the very favorable impression he made, he was tendered a staff position, and will sing weekly over the Agricultural station, relaying through WSB. He has also sung over other leading radio stations, including WTV.

Barch is a member of the New York Singing Teachers Association, of New York, and his name has appeared upon the limited list of American Teachers of Singing of the New Music Press, New York city. He has taken part in the following operas: Faust, Bianca, The Barber of Seville, Cavalleria Rusticana, Tannhauser, The Bohemian Girl, Don Quixote, Mignon, Romeo and Juliette, La Traviata and Madam Butterfly. His name has appeared upon the list with which artists as Elda Vittori, Melvina Panamora, Jane Carroll, Dimitri Onofrie, Henri Scott, Ross Morgan, William Phillips, Ethel Fox, Robert Norton, Howard Lamary, Edgar Laughlin, Queenie Marlo, Bernice, Schalkers, Frances Curlei and Fred Patton.

It will be of pleasurable interest to Augustans to know that his position with the University of Georgia will not remove James Barch from Augusta entirely. He plans to divide his time between Augusta and Athens, spending half the week at each place unless demands of his work at the University keep him there more than he anticipates at present.

The paper says editorially: The honor that has come to Professor James B. Barch in being selected to head the voice department at the University of Georgia is a highly deserved one. He was director of voice at the recent session of the summer school at the university and, with Mrs. Barch as accompanist, handled the position with such ability and distinction that Prof. Hugh Hodgson, director of music, asked him to direct the voice department for the entire university, which will consist in teaching voice in Demosthenian Hall and at the same time assisting with the glee club.

The fact that Prof. Barch is gracious at all times, is liberal with his great talent in assisting in church and civic work and thinks and acts in terms of the community are qualities which have endeared him to Augustans, who are proud that we have in our midst a man of such great talent. The wonderful assistance that Prof. Barch has given to revival meetings and all forms of church work has endeared him to the church folk of this community very much.

And as we think of Mr. Barch we think also of his very talented and gracious wife, Mrs. Mabel Abnathay Barch who as a pianist and accompanist of her husband, helps to make the great success that is theirs.

ENTERTAINS S. S. CLASS
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Eaton entertained his Sunday school class of the Congregational church at a Halloween party at their home on Friday evening. The evening was spent in games and stunts. Delicious refreshments were served.
