FAREWELL RECEPTION IS GIVEN FOR PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. Albert E. Potts, who are leaving today for their new home in Grand Rapids, where Mr. Potts will assume the pastorate of the Plymouth Congregational church, were tendered a farewell reception last Thursday evening in the church dining room. Christmas decorations adorned the tables where a supper was served at 6:30 with covers for 150.

F. E. Storms was toastmaster of the evening and brief talks were given as follows:

D. Edward Beach, representing the Church Board.

Rev. Henry W. Lenz, pastor Salem church, Francisco.

Rev. Fred Matthews of the Methodist church.

E. Y. Moore, superintendent of public schools.

Mrs. J. N. Dancer, representing the Ladies' Guild.

E. W. Eaton, representing the Sunday school.

Herbert D. Witherell.

Roger Hinderer, in behalf of his class.

Mivian McBride, representing the children.

Two vocal solos, "Because" and "The Old Refrain" by Miss Katharine Fletcher with Miss Nina Belle Winters as accompanist, and a piano solo by Miss Frances Kantelner were features of the program which was concluded with a talk by Mr. Orlaf of Island Lake.

During his six years' pastorate in Chelsea, Rev. and Mrs. Potts have made many friends who wish them much success in their new field of endeavor.

Young Men Attempt Hold Up Here Saturday

While driving toward Chelsea on Washington street Saturday afternoon about four o'clock, Elmer Koebbe was confronted by two men who stepped from their parked car and threatened him with pistols. Instead of stopping, Mr. Koebbe speeded up and escaped safely. He reported the incident to local officers who promptly notified the sheriff's department in Ann Arbor. A report of the attempted hold-up was then broadcast from state police headquarters in Lansing, but no trace of the men could be found. The men were reported as being about 20 years of age and were driving either a Dodge coach or sedan.

"Henry's Wedding" to be Staged Jan. 19-20

"Henry's Wedding," the big three-act comedy of married life and old time 1890 styles is to be staged on Jan. 19 and 20 at the Public School Auditorium and under the sponsorship of the O. E. S. Without question this is one of the outstanding community productions of the year and promises to be a hit from start to finish.

"Henry's Wedding" has been staged throughout America with unusual success in many towns, and it is with great pride that the O. E. S. is able to announce the staging of same in this city.

"Henry's Wedding" is a story of a bachelor bridegroom of 55 getting married for the first time to a widow of 49 who has been married three times. The story deals with the trials and tribulations of the bachelor bridegroom attempting matrimony for the first time when his young nephew, Jack, does not want him to get married because it will cut him out of $100,000 bequest in his grandfather's will. After many funny and ridiculous situations, both the nephew and Uncle Henry are able to get married.

The high spot of the production is the Beans and Bolls of Grandma's time portrayed by 40 prominent men in the city who will show exactly how the chick and flappers of 1890 dressed and danced. This specialty will all be costumed in the famous old styles of 1890 when the people drank pink lemonade at picnics and rode in buggies drawn by horses.

Another outstanding feature is the Colored Brethren and Sisters of the Mystic Shrine composed of approximately 40 of the cities most prominent men and women singers. This group sing a number of old time negro minstrel and spiritualistic songs. In addition to this there are a number of high school choruses which round out the production as a big success.

Chaplain McLain to Speak at M. E. Church

Dr. Richard W. McLain, Chaplain of Michigan State Prison, Jackson, will be the special speaker at the Methodist church, Sunday evening. His message will come out of his experience on the "inside of prison life," based on the psychology of the criminal, and should be of interest to every person in the community.

Chaplain McLain addressed the Fellowship club about a year ago and those who heard him urged his return, whereby the whole community might hear him. The pastor would like to make this Community Night and invites everybody to hear this man with a thrilling message that relates to the breakdown of social life. Every young person of high school age is especially urged to be present.

LEON CLARK

Leon Clark, 38, died Monday afternoon, Jan. 2, at his home in Lyndon township, following a week's illness of pneumonia. Department of State
WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 4.—While the pamphlet to be issued by the Department of State containing the act passed by the Second Extra Session of 1932, will conform in size and form to the Compiled Laws of 1929 and the Public Acts of 1931, the pamphlet will not be bound in book form.

Conforming with the law, which requires the Department of State to publish acts of the legislature, the pamphlet will be issued immediately, but because of the limited demand for copies of the act, the pamphlet will be issued with stiff paper covers instead of the usual cloth binding.

Only once before in Michigan's history has a special session adjourned after passing but a single piece of legislation. This was the Extra Session of 1932 when the legislature adjourned the Michigan Fuel Administration act.

The legislature last week transacted no other business besides approving the bill introduced by Rep. Oscar Hull of Detroit, providing for the issuance of tax delinquency bonds in the amount of $20,000,000 to allow Detroit to meet bond and interest obligations. In general the act provides for the issuance of tax delinquency bonds up to four-fifths of one percent of the assessed valuation of any municipality when that municipality has exceeded the legal limit of its indebtedness or when the tax delinquency exceeds 30 per cent in any one year.

One bookstore installed in the Department of State shortly before the present state capital was formally opened January 1, 1879, was moved for the first time in 54 years last week.

As workmen were paving the heavy concrete driveway between the two buildings, the pages were from the December 20, 1878, issue of the Free Press, a predecessor of the Free Press, City Record, Eagle. The date shows that the bookstore was installed 12 days before the formal opening of the capitol.

The blackened pages fail to show any items of unusual state interest. Besides advertisements of department stores, sewing machines and medicines, a few news stories are legible. One tells of prohibition speeches being made in Hastings, Greenville, St. Johns, Holly and Marshall by John R. Clark. Another concerns trout fishing on the Truckee River while a third recounts a speech made in the United States Senate by Senator James G. Blaine.

FRANCISCO

Regular sessions in the public school were resumed Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Reno Richardson and family of Michigan Center were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Richardson. Wilbert Willy, who is recovering from his recent illness is able to be about and leave the house. He was in Chelsea on business recently.

Bald Davidson of South Francisco who has been ill for a couple of weeks was removed to Mercy hospital in Jackson, Saturday, when his case became alarming. Pneumonia developed following an attack of flu and pleurisy.

Francisco friends of Mrs. Mary Hoppo Gage of Chelsea were saddened by her death in Chelsea hospital Saturday afternoon, following a serious and complicated case of flu.

There was a fine New Year's dinner served at Salem M. E. church on Monday, enjoyed by the usual big crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman of Jackson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bohne.

The Neighborhood Pedro club met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman. All prizes went to Mrs. Herman Bohne and Neil Kalmbach and consolation gifts to Mrs. Charles Kalmbach and Carl Sander.

Misses Stella and Mildred Bohne returned from a week's visit with relatives and friends in Chicago.

Several from here attended the funeral services at Salem M. E. church Sunday for August Hoppo, who died after a short illness.

METHODIST HOME

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Boyce of Tecumseh were guests of Miss Abbie Carey, Tuesday. They were accompanied by the Misses Lulu and Julia (Hennrich) of Adrian.

Miss Edith Warner left Thursday for a week's visit at her old home in Adrian. The patients for whom she cares for so efficiently are looking forward to her return.

A company of young people from the Preston church in Detroit visited the Home Tuesday evening and entertained the family with an enjoyable program in the auditorium. They were accompanied by their pastor, Rev. C. L. Caulkins.

Miss Eleanor Lixey, who was seriously burned a couple of weeks ago, is again at her accustomed place. The Misses Winnie, Marequita and Alice Wallin of Detroit were callers on the Ypsilanti membership in the Home, Friday. They remembered Miss Almada Beach's 38th birthday with a beautiful plant.

Mrs. Robert Oliver of Detroit spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Adie Cook.

Thursday afternoon Miss Emma Leeman received a call from her cousin, Mrs. H. W. Hayes and her daughter, Miss Mildred Hayes of Selma.

Miss Jennie Daniels returned Sunday from her week's visit with her sister in Gregory.

Mrs. Frances Post expects to leave in a day or so for a two weeks' visit with relatives in Pontiac and other places in Oakland county.

There were during the year of 1932 ten deaths among the members of the Home. This number is slightly under the average for the past five years, as there have been 60 in that time.

Mrs. Dorothy Colgrove and her daughter Janet, who have been spending their vacation with their parents in Jackson, Tuesday.

A choice company of 17 girls from the Edgar Guest Troop of Girl Scouts of Detroit paid the Home a friendly call Monday. The family enjoyed their program given in the auditorium.

Mrs. Alice B. Chapin has returned from an over-Christmas and several days' visit with her son Howard and family in Ypsilanti. She also was a Detroit visitor.

A sister of the late Miss Sarah Cooley was a caller one day last week. Mrs. Charlotte Lathrop. She was accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Thomas and Emory Tappan of East Lansing. Later in the week Mrs. Emory Tappan visited the Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Church and their daughter of Adrian called on Mrs. Hannah Hennrich. They were accompanied by Mrs. Helen Hennrich of the same city.

Mrs. Washen, who was expected to join the family circle last month, has had to postpone his entrance and will probably not be here before spring.

Mrs. Lansing of Oakley is expected here the present week to take her place in the family. Then Mrs. Pugh of the Jefferson Avenue Methodist church is expected soon thereafter. She will probably be followed by Mrs. Owen of Detroit. Mrs. Owen is a sister of Miss Ella Gage, who is a member of the board of managers of the Home. They are daughters of the late Rev. Rodney Gage, who was a member of the Detroit conference at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper of Detroit visited with Mrs. Laura Gorton Saturday.

Unwise Laws Reduce
State Chicory Crop

The production of chicory, a profitable farm industry which is almost entirely confined to Michigan, has suffered from restrictive legislative acts which apparently are unwarranted, according to the latest scientific discoveries of the merits of chicory when blended with coffee.

The use of chicory for this purpose goes back many years, and this plant is the only one of the many which has been tried that continues to be demanded by consumers. European countries use a large amount of chicory to blend with coffee and a part of the Michigan crop also goes to the southern states.

Chicory obtained its bad name and suffered from restrictive laws against its use because popular rumors attributed various types of illnesses and diseases to its use. Careful investigations made recently have disproved those rumors. Experiments made by the chemistry and home economics sections at Michigan State college show that a beverage made with chicory alone has no more effect on respiratory metabolism than an equal amount of clear water.

A report of these and other trials made to test the merits of chicory have been assembled in a bulletin by the farm crops department at Michigan State college, because this department believes that the acreage devoted to this crop could be profitably expanded if the popular misconceptions of chicory could be corrected and a wider market for the product created. The crop is grown under contract and the chicory roots are processed in Michigan plants.

The bulletin, Extension Bulletin No. 127, will be sent to anyone requesting it from the bulletin clerk at the college.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—How long does it take turtle eggs to hatch?

Ans.—The incubation period of turtle eggs depends upon the specie. The eggs of the most turtle which is common to North America require thirteen months and six days for incubation.

Ques.—I am told that bees have considerable pride. Is that a fact or is it juxy-honey?

Ans.—Try "knocking" their nest and we believe you will find it to be a fact.

Ques.—What specie of snakes are the largest in the world? Also are the Python and the Boa Constrictor poisonous snakes?

Ans.—The Python and the Boa Constrictor are the two largest snakes in the world of the non-poisonous specie. They attain a length of 20 feet and kill their prey by constriction. The king cobra is nearly as large, some attaining a length of 18 feet, and their strike is deadly poison.

Ques.—I want to ask you how fast can an ostrich travel?

Ans.—A full-grown ostrich which will average about 250 pounds in weight, have been known to speed at the rate of 72 miles an hour.

Ques.—What race of people predominates in Palestine? Is it the Jews?

Ans.—The Arabs predominate in Palestine, with a total population of 600,000. The Jewish population is second with 165,000.

Ques.—What is the world's record for a speedboat and who holds it?

Ans.—The world's record for a speedboat is 124.99 miles an hour established last summer by Gus Wood in his "Miss America."

Ques.—Can you answer in your question column what is the present population of Sweden?

Ans.—In 1930 the population of Sweden was 6,162,440. There has been no census taken since that time.

Ques.—I was born on December 31, 1898. Will you please tell me what day of the week I was born on?

Ans.—You were born on Saturday, but as you were born on the last day of the week, the last day of the month, the last month of the year and within two years of the last year of the century, you came near not being born at all.

Ques.—Will you please tell me in your good question department how long a furlong is? And also how did it come to be called a "furlong"?

Ans.—In the days when the ox was used to plow the fields the average team of oxen could plow a furrow for a distance of 220 yards without stopping to rest. "Furrow" and "long" was corrupted into "furlong"—220 yards.

Ques.—I wish to ask you if Canadians in this country are classed as foreigners?

Ans.—Technically Canadians are foreigners, because they are not citizens of the United States. But they are not foreigners in the sense that Europeans are held. The people of Canada are so similar to the people of the United States in appearance, language, customs, etc. that they are not referred to whatever as foreigners.

Ques.—Are there any people on the planet Mars? If so, can you tell me if they are anything like the people on the Earth?

Ans.—While scientists have found that the weather conditions on Mars is adequate for the generation of human life there, and maintain the belief there is no telescope as yet has been powerful enough to detect it, it is not thought they would be like people on the Earth, because Mars being so much larger than the Earth the gravitation is much less and therefore the inhabitants would be exceedingly light in weight. They would be able to jump hundreds of feet in the air and come floating down like a feather. There is now a telescope now in the making which is expected to detect human life, if there is any, on Mars.

Ques.—What per cent of the Veterans of the Spanish-American War are drawing pensions and what amount are they allowed?

Ans.—It is impossible to answer this question accurately, because the percentage of pensioners varies from time to time. Also the amounts they receive varies according to their station in the service and the degree of disability or other reasons for application.

The Old Curry-Comb

by A. J. Dunlap

The tapping of the curry-comb
Foretold another day
Of labor in the fields of corn,
Or meadows rich with hay.
It told of tangled manes made straight,
Of sweaty coats made clean,
Of breakfast for the sorrel colts,
Old Dolly, Pet and Queen.

It was an unassuming thing
About the dear old home,
But still it served the old farm well—
The old bent curry-comb.
It sang a song of cheerfulness
To horses and to men,
I would my jaded soul could hear
Its music once again.

Resolutions

By some very careful listening we were able to catch a few of the New Year Resolutions that a few of our seniors made. Let's see how well they keep them.

1. Norman Beeman, resolve to quit waving my hair.
1. Louis Byerath, resolve to (never) dance again with Leona Weinburg.
1. Kate Staffan, resolve to give the student congress full authority to tell me what I should do.
1. Ed Steiner, resolve to divide my girl friends with those less fortunate.
1. Anna Grau, resolve to refrain from pestering a certain junior boy.
1. Verna Adams, resolve to quit fooling around and really do some studying.
1. Gob Hutzler, resolve to get in earlier mornings.
1. Marian Goodell, resolve to grow up.
1. Robert Allshouse, resolve to "keep" all money turned into the Senior Class.

Vital Statistics

ED. STEINER
Birthday—March 30. Age—17.
Residence—Chelsea, Mich.
Description—Black wavy hair, brown eyes, six feet two inches tall.
Schools—Chelsea.
Activities—Journalism, Museum Clubs, Football and Basketball.
Favorite Study—History.
Favorite Amusement—Telling bed-time stories.
Favorite Sport—Football.
Best Friend—Betty. Co-ed.
Something He Does Fairly Well—Talks in his sleep. Tries to beat the bell to school and usually comes in late.
What a man.
Most Interesting Experience—At least here's one who isn't so modest. He tells us he ran out of gas twice in one night—feature his embarrassment.

ANNA GRAU
Birthday—Aug. 13. Age—16.
Residence—Chelsea.
Description—Blonde hair, blue eyes, dimples, which present themselves for your amusement; five feet four inches tall.
Schools—Rogers Corners and Chelsea Public Schools.
Activities—Museum Club.
Favorite Study—American Literature.
Favorite Amusement—Music.
Favorite Sport—Tennis.
Best Friend—A certain little boy what am I saying?
Something She Does Fairly Well—Breaking equipment in the chemistry laboratory.
Most Thrilling Experience—Getting chased while on a Treasure Hunt at North Lake.

Congratulations

Congrats, Seniors—on your dance, the 26th. It went over big and you certainly had a grand crowd. Here's hoping all the rest of your activities go over in the same manner.

From the Scrapbook

JUST FOR TODAY

1. Just for today I will try to live through this day only, not to tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do some things for 12 hours that would appall me if I had to keep them up for a lifetime.

2. Just for today I will be happy. This assumes that what Abraham Lincoln said is true that "most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be." Happiness is from within; it is not a matter of externals.

3. Just for today I will try to adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my family, my business, and my luck as they come and fit myself to them.

4. Just for today I will take care of my body. I will exercise it, earn for it and nourish it; not abuse it nor neglect it, so that it will be a perfect machine for my bidding.

5. Just for today I will try to strengthen my mind. I will learn something useful. I will not be a fatal loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

6. Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do some good turn and not get found out. I will do at least two things I don't want to do, as William James suggests, just for exercise.

7. Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, as humbly as possible, talk low, act calmly, be liberal with praise, and not at all, nor find fault with anything and not try to regulate nor move anyone.

8. Just for today I will have a project. I will write down what I expect to do every hour. I may not do it exactly, but I will have it. It will eliminate two pests, hurry and inaction.

9. Just for today I will have a quiet half hour all by myself and relax in this half hour sometimes I will think of God, as we do not get a true perspective to my life.

10. Just for today I will be unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to be happy, to enjoy what is beautiful, love and to believe that those I love me.

—Hugh Barret Dobbs.

The Toreadors

Has an honest about "The Toreadors" the name of an operetta that is being given Jan. 18 at eight o'clock at the High School Auditorium. There cast of 60 students, every one and in a gorgeous Spanish costume, and see this coming operetta which tells of singing, dancing, and a bull fight.

A number of students of the public and elementary and high schools have given Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 3 o'clock. Any adult or high school student may attend this performance, paying the regular admission.

NORTH LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Hong and children of Norvell Lake week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fuller.

Mary Hank has been ill the past week.

Mrs. M. Mayer of Munnich spent last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McDaniels.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisenbeiser were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Harold Spaulding.

Mrs. E. W. Mielis entertained the young people of her Sunday school class Tuesday evening, Dec. 20. Following program games were played.

Rev. F. Merckend, pastor of the church, made a call to the neighborhood this week.

Miss Lauretta invited several of her friends to her home Saturday evening, to watch the old year out.

Miss Mary Hill has recovered from her recent illness.

Charlotte and Reinhardt of Detroit spent the day vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Norvell, Couper.

Elementary News

Kindergarten

Mrs. Sheehan states that she has very few children to work with. It must be this cold that is making the rounds. She hopes that they will all recover by next week.

First Grade

More people absent, Dear! Dear! I wonder if those people that are absent know that they are missing the new books that are being used? We say that they are very good books. Tuesday seemed to be Toy Day for them, for they all had some toy in school which Santa brought them. And those dolls. Better hang on to them, girls!

Second Grade

The second graders are glad to have Miss Hutzler back with them again.

Fourth Grade

The fourth graders are giving their attention to their month, with a study of our thrift here, Benjamin Franklin.

David Bette is about to leave them for Grand Rapids. Good to you, David!

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade are studying the life of Thomas Jefferson this week.

June Wilkinson brought us an interesting collection of shells to look at this morning. They had been gathered in Elkhart.

Our January picture study will be "The Aurora" by Guido Reni.

Ye Ol' Snooper's Column

Here's a belated "Happy New Year" to you—hope you won't be offended 'cause we weren't here last week. We'll make up for lost time. See if we don't.

"The Toreadors," an operetta, is to be given Jan. 18 in the Chelsea High Auditorium. There is a cast of 60 players and they are to be dressed in Spanish costumes.

Jan. 6, our team invades the alumni—it should prove to be a very interesting game. Let's all turn out and see the best team win.

The Sophomores are working on their play, "Nothing But the Truth," in hopes to have it ready by the 22nd of February.

The Snooper will have to stop now as it was one of her resolutions to make this column short and snappy.

Chelsea High has acquired quite a few "Clark Gables" that is if those "turtle-necked" sweaters mean anything. A few of those who Santa favored with the above are the Wallace boys (Hap and Don), Pete Allshouse and Manning Richards. You're doing fine boys—keep it up and you'll have the whole school wearing 'em.

Among those from here who attended the Olympic races in Detroit Monday evening were Miss Eleanor Gillbert, Mr. and Mrs. George Ward and Miss Polly Rodman. The Olympic skating team, which has been practicing at Island Lake for several weeks, participated in the races.

NORTH LAKE CHURCH

The week of prayer from Jan. 1 to 8, is being observed by prayer meetings during the week. Services will be held as follows: Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Allan; Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Frazier; Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eisenbeiser, and Friday evening at the Country Club.

Sunday, Jan. 8

10:45 Sunday School, "People of the Lesson: Facing His Task."

11:45 Service by the pastor. Subject: "The Unconquered Gospel." Special music by the young people's choir.

7:30 Evening Worship, "The Memorial of the Lord" is the subject of the lesson. Young people's choir, under the leadership of Jim Allan, will sing. Everyone start the New Year by attending these services.

MILAN.—High oil production record for 1932 raised Michigan's rating among the oil-producing states to ninth place, a report issued by the U. S. Bureau of Mines to the Department of Conservation indicates. The report lists 19 states as productive of oil. Within a year Michigan increased its ranking from 18th place among these states. During the first 10 months of the year Michigan wells produced 5,766,000 barrels of crude oil, as compared with 5,725,000 barrels for the entire year 1931 and 5,928,000 barrels in 1930.—Leader.

HOWELL.—Deprived of his income by the depression, a mill worker of foreign birth returned to his native land, a small country in central Europe.

In a recent letter to a friend here, he describes the restrictions, regulations, censorship, and general interference in private affairs over there which is making life intolerable to him. "I had rather live in America a year, with only one day's work, than spend my life here at a steady job."—St. John's Republican-News.

MILAN.—The last item has been written. History has been made and chronicled and perhaps some of the most important news items of the history of Milan have been chronicled in the fifty-first volume of The Milan Leader. With this issue, the home town newspaper goes into a new volume and starts the fifty-second year of service to the community.—Leader.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Multiply the Returns on Your Investments

Many are the manufactured products in which you have already invested your money—your refrigerator; the electricity in your home; flour, baking powder, sugar in your pantry; sheer hostery; floors of oak, to mention only a few. Advertisements help you to receive greater satisfaction from these possessions, as well as pointing out the efficient way to make new purchases. They tell you of new desserts to make in your refrigerator... new conveniences to attach to your electric sockets... finer cakes, biscuits, puddings, to make with good things in your pantry... soaps to safeguard the delicate hosiery; wax to protect the fine floors.

If a product is advertised, you can be sure of its quality anywhere you buy it... sure it will live up to its promise... and sure that its maker will aid you to prolong its usefulness. Hardly a family in the neighborhood but has been enjoying the grippe. Some have been very ill.

McIntosh school was closed this week on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Kalmbach.

Clay Ineligible to Senate

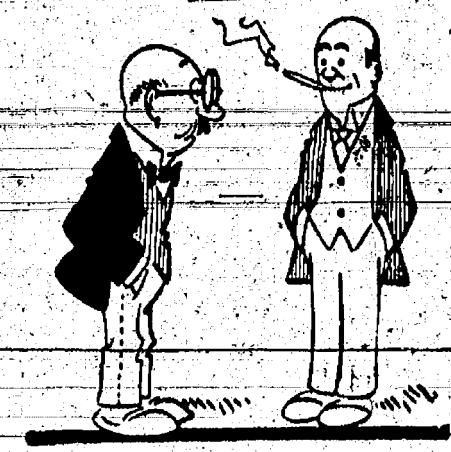

It has been claimed for many years that Henry Clay was the only man in history who served in the United States senate before he was thirty years of age. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of John Ashbur, who resigned. Clay entered upon his duties on November 19, 1806, and was not thirty until the April following, but he kept his mouth shut and, apparently to one else thought of questioning his age. Clay was later secretary of state under John Quincy Adams and twice defeated for the Presidency by Andrew Jackson in 1824 and by James K. Polk in 1844.

INSOMNIA CURE

"What's the best cure for insomnia you know of?"
"Sleep."

ODD CAMPAIGN

"Be wise in making a novel campaign, isn't he?"
"Yes, he's passing out good cigars."

HUSBAND WAS MARVEL

"Edison was a wonderful inventor, wasn't he?"
"You might think so until you'd heard my husband."

SOMETHING OF A NA

"Isn't your wife a little noisy?"
"Well, she's something of a na."

PROOF OF WORK

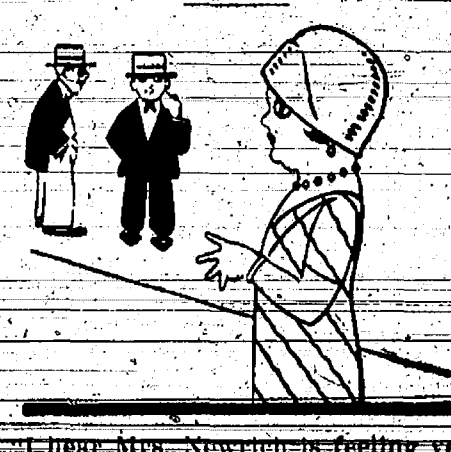

"Did Percy ever really work?"
"He told me that he had moving pictures taken of himself while brushing his own hat to prove it."

SOME DULLNESS GONE

Mr. Dubb—This party is horribly dull. I guess I'll go home.
Miss Sweet—That would remove some of the dullness, I'm sure.

OSTRACISM TOOK

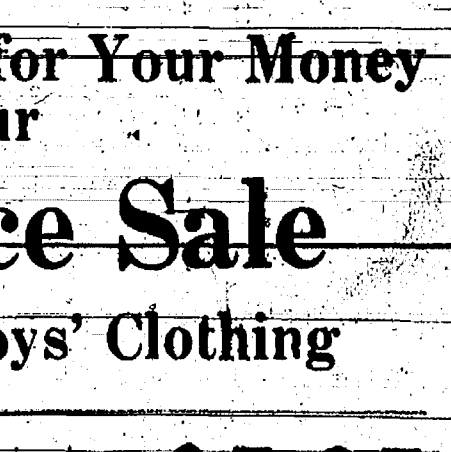

"I hear Mrs. Nowrich is feeling very bad on account of her being ostracized at a summer resort."
"Did it make?"

"Where did you get the black eye?"
"I flew right across the ether lane of a prize fight they were broadcasting."

DANGERS OF THE AIR

"Where did you get the black eye?"
"I flew right across the ether lane of a prize fight they were broadcasting."

ROTHSCHILD'S MAXIMS

The following maxims were hung in Baron Rothschild's bank, and he took particular delight in impressing their importance on ambitious young workers:

Attend carefully to details of your business;

Be prompt in all things;

Consider well, then decide positively;

Dare to do right, fear to do wrong;

Endure trials patiently;

Dare to do right, fear to do wrong;

Endure trials patiently;

Fight life's battles bravely, manfully;

Go not into the society of the vicious;

Hold integrity sacred;

Injure not another's reputation nor business;

Join hands only with the virtuous;

Keep your mind from evil thoughts;

Lie not for any consideration;

Make few acquaintances;

Never try to appear what you are not;

Observe good manners;

Pay your debts promptly;

Question not the veracity of a friend;

Respect the counsel of your parents;

Sacrifice money rather than principles;

Touch not, taste not, handle not intoxicating drinks;

Use your leisure time for improvement;

Venture not upon the threshold of wrong;

Watch carefully over your passions;

Extend to every one a kindly salutation;

Yield not to discouragement;

Zestously labor for the right.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

The United States has 11,306,353 single and 26,170,756 married women.

There are now 612 women in the United States licensed to fly aircraft.

A European Federation of Women's Clubs is being organized in Berlin, Germany.

There is no legal restriction against a woman becoming President of the United States.

Eight women hold positions of city officials in various municipalities in Massachusetts.

More than 30,000 women in the United States are taking an active interest in raising the standards of motion pictures.

Korean women of the Island of Salsu, do the work while the men stay at home keeping house. The occupation of the women is fishing.

About two and a half times as many married women in the United States earn their living today as did thirty years ago.

Although there are estimated to be more than 22,000 taxicabs operated in New York city, there is only one woman-taxi driver. She is Miss Leona M. Marsh.

My Next Door Neighbor

My next door neighbor is a friend,
A friend of mine is he,
Though viewpoint views may differ,
We agree to disagree.

The language which he speaks, perhaps
I may not understand,
Yet, when I knock upon his door,
He greets me with both hands.

When he is sick I come across,
And try to bring good cheer,
Though he were born across the sea,
No seas between us here.

He may be Orthodox or Jew,
Protestant, French or Greek,
He is my neighbor and as such
On equal terms we meet.

He's neither Dago, Wop nor Hunk,
He's just my brother man,
The out of joint may be his tongue,
Our hearts, they understand.

A little gate in our back yard,
Swings both ways at a time,
And through that gate our kindnesses
And courtesies combine.

Some day, by blest example, and
The power of love divine,
His viewpoint view of things will change
As love one day changed mine.

Birds of a Feather

By JANE OSBORN

There was always something cheerful about the atmosphere of O'Grady's store that stood on one of the corners where the state highway crossed the old Main street of the village called North Hill.

There were always plenty of people waiting for the bus, young men who bought cigarettes as an excuse to hang around a hour or more, other men occasionally talking politics, girls sitting at the tables giggling over their ice cream. If you had been a resident of North Hill and had a son you would have taken it for granted probably that he would occasionally join the loiterers at O'Grady's.

But if you had had a daughter you would have passed on to her the unwritten law that girls didn't hang about O'Grady's. They went there for ice cream, or to buy a paper of candy, or a quart of milk. But having made their purchase or eaten their ice cream they left. Even boys who spent too much time at O'Grady's were looked upon as loafers and loafers.

It was at O'Grady's that Lois Ganger first saw Malcolm Kent. She had gone to buy bird seed and Malcolm was with the loafers leaning against the tobacco counter. Lois cast a glance in that direction just to see who was there and naturally enough noticed Kent. He was a stranger and looked so different from the usual O'Grady frequenter, she assumed that he was waiting for a bus.

But when a day or so later she went to O'Grady's with her little sister to get an ice cream cone and noticed again the stranger, rather well-dressed young man leaning there beside the cigarette counter apparently looking very much at home, she concluded that he had got the O'Grady habit.

"Who is the good-looking stranger that's been hanging around O'Grady's lately?" Lois asked that evening at supper.

Lois tried to look motherly, while her older brother informed the family that the loiterer was named Malcolm Kent and that he was a cousin or something of the Robinsons who had a big farm out beyond the creek. "You further announced that he had met the young man, liked him and if there was no family objection, would bring him around to supper."

"He can't be much account," observed Lois mother, "it's his way of hanging around O'Grady's."

"Still, just because he goes there isn't any sign he's like the other O'Grady loafers," Lois said.

"Birds of a feather flock together," pronounced her mother.

"You're right," said the uncle. "Every time I've been in there he was having the time of his life."

Still it was agreed to permit Tom to bring the young man to supper. And that was where Lois met him.

Malcolm called again two nights later and when he was told that Tom was not at home he asked whether he might see Miss Lois. Yes, he had actually come to see her. He had an idea that Tom wouldn't be home.

Almost every night at supper when Malcolm wasn't present Lois' family spent some time in discussing Mr. Kent. He had said something about having had some sort of a job on a newspaper. But certainly he couldn't be doing any news gathering and here at North Hill. And always Lois' mother would observe that birds of a feather flock together. It was a matter of common talk that he spent more than half his waking hours at O'Grady's.

Then, one Saturday afternoon, Malcolm and Lois went walking down country lanes in the mellow autumn sunshine, and Malcolm asked Lois to be his wife.

"I think I'd like to, but I don't know how my family will feel about it. They know you aren't working, and you spend so much time at O'Grady's."

"Just because I hang around O'Grady's doesn't mean that I'm like other O'Grady habitués, does it?" asked Malcolm with a mystifying smile.

"Only mother says that birds of a feather flock together."

"Well, it happens that the reason why this bird flocks around O'Grady's is because he is of an entirely different feather."

Lois told him in a rather hurt tone, that she hadn't the least idea what he was talking about. "It seems to me that if you really care enough about me to want to marry me, you wouldn't hang out there all the time that you'd be making plans to do something some time."

So Malcolm explained, but he made Lois promise not to tell the others until he left. He had written a novel—a darned good novel, too, Malcolm frankly admitted. "But, you see, I've always been something of a book worm, never spent enough time talking with the kind of birds that stick around O'Grady's. And there are chapters in that book of mine that need the kind of talk you get at O'Grady's. Come out to see the Robinsons one day and happened in at O'Grady's. It was just the sort of thing I needed—the publishers have accepted the book—that is, when I put in a bit more first-hand work on those chapters. And now I've got my regular job on my paper. Book reviewing, you know—I've been carrying on as usual while I've been away."

And Lois was satisfied.

Will Rogers Finally Kills a Man in Movie

For the first time in his career on the screen, Will Rogers shoots and kills a man in his latest picture, "Too Busy To Work," said to give the distinguished comedian and humorist unusual opportunities for the introduction of his whimsical wit.

Rogers appears in the role of a lovable vagabond whose main object in life is to find his wife and daughter who were stolen from him while he was fighting at the front. Marian Nixon has the leading feminine role.

The film starts at the Princess Theatre on Friday, Jan. 6, for an engagement of two days.

ROBINS MAKE DEBUT

W. J. Ritterskamp, local gardener, reports that he saw what he believes to be the first robin of the new year to visit the vicinity of Chelsea. He saw the robin in Wilkinson's orchard just south of the village limits. If we next get a report of dandelions blooming in back yards we will believe that spring is following closely upon the heels of the predicted prosperity that is "just around the corner."
