Board of Education Cuts Teaching Staff To Balance Budget

At the last regular monthly meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education, an effort was made to formulate plans for the school year of 1933-34 which would allow the school to operate for a nine-month term and still maintain all of the services necessary to keep the high school on the accredited lists of the State University, the State Department of Education, and the North Central Association.

The Board recognizes that in order to accomplish this purpose it must make a great reduction in operating expenses since several thousand dollars will undoubtedly be cut out from the income ordinarily received. There are certain fixed charges which cannot be greatly reduced if the school is operated at all but every possible effort will be made to economize wherever careful management makes economy possible. It is only in the matter of salaries that any considerable reductions can be made. Upon the recommendation of the Superintendent, the Board of Education has voted to operate the high school with a staff of teachers two less in number than the present staff. In order to accomplish this purpose, it will be necessary to drop out of the course of study a few elective subjects. It will also be necessary for the Superintendent to put in practically a full day of actual classroom teaching in addition to his other duties.

If all of the staff who have been re-appointed by the Board agree to accept the appointments, the staff of teachers for next year will be as follows:

High School—Principal and teacher of Social Studies—Miss Leah Hazard, A. B.

High School teacher of English and Latin—Miss Alma Cash, A. B., A. M.

High School teacher of English and Speech—Miss Virginia Barrus, A. B.

High School teacher of Mathematics—John L. Cross, A. B.

High School teacher of Science and Dean of Boys—Howard Thompson, A. B.

(According to the present plan, Superintendent Poore will handle the overflow work in the Social Studies department and all of the business courses. It should be noted that the reduction of the high school teaching staff makes it necessary that every high school teacher, including the Superintendent, teach six classes daily. This is the maximum teaching load permitted by any accrediting agency. It should also be noted that these five teachers and the Superintendent will carry all of the work of the upper six grades, namely, grades seven to twelve.)

Teacher of the Sixth Grade—Mrs. Marjorie Oids.

Teacher of the Fifth Grade—Mrs. Martha Seaks.

Teacher of the Fourth Grade—Mrs. Bertha Steiner.

Teacher of the Third Grade—Miss Florence Yager.

Teacher of the Second Grade—Miss Madeleine Boilore.

Teacher of the First Grade—Mrs. E. R. Dancer.

Teacher of the Kindergarten—Mrs. Ruth Sheehan.

Special Teacher of Music and Art—Miss Dorothy Wilson, B. M.

The Board has voted to enter into contracts with the thirteen teachers listed above on terms which will allow a termination of their employment upon 30 days written notice. This policy is in keeping with the general policies now practiced in Michigan and places the Board in a position to meet unexpected emergencies through loss of income.

We are advised that the members of the Board of Education feel that the schools should be maintained for a nine-month term if possible and that reductions should be made in the teaching staff rather than in the length of the school year.

GIVES DEMONSTRATION

Mr. McKinnon, head of the creamery company, was also present at the meeting and stated that organization work is progressing rapidly and that they expect to start alterations in the building in the near future. A number of local business men and farmers were present at the meeting as guests of the Kiwanians.

H. S. Osler Injured When Autos Collide

H. S. Osler, county agricultural agent and director of 4-H club work in the county, is confined to his home on R. F. D. No. 2, Ann Arbor, with a slight fracture of the skull, sustained early Saturday evening in an automobile collision at the intersection of Broadway and Plymouth road, near Ann Arbor.

The accident occurred when Mr. Osler, with his two sons and Donald Winters of the University forestry department, were enroute to a forestry meeting in Dixboro. Another car cut in front of the Osler machine and Mr. Osler and Winters were thrown out and beneath the other vehicle.

Mr. Osler was taken to an Ann Arbor hospital, where an X-ray revealed a slight fracture. His condition is reported favorable. The other occupants were uninjured.

Child Study Clubs Seek To Aid Schools

The local Child Study club has received copy of a letter sent by the Michigan Child Study Association to the Governor of Michigan, asking that some action be taken to aid schools of the state in the crisis which now threatens the educational structure unless some revenue is provided. The letter follows:

Dear Sir:

The Michigan Child Study Association, a state organization of interested mothers, in a meeting of the state executive board held in East Lansing, Thursday, April 13, expressed their resentment of the laxity and inattention of the legislature toward matters of such vital importance as the present day problems require.

We beseech your body to give due thought and consideration and prompt action to a conserving program for our schools.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Matthew R. Rapp,
Chairman of Publicity.

DRAMA—"THE DUST OF THE ROAD"—AT M. E. CHURCH

At the Methodist church, Sunday night, a group of young people from the Presbyterian church, Ann Arbor, under the leadership of Mrs. Klaer, will present an interesting drama, entitled "The Dust of the Road," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman. The cast includes: Prudence Steele, Pauline Woodward, Peter Steele, Gardner Colman; the uncle, Joseph Ackerman; the tramp, Bill Norton. The play depicts the temptation for worldly gain of an ambitious couple. In the end, however, they were saved from dishonor by the convincing protest of the tramp. He teaches them to see the beauties rather than only the "dust of the road." This is well worth seeing—do not miss it.

DISCUSS BEER, BETTING BILLS

Legislature Has Unusual List of Bills For Consideration.

By Elton R. Eaton.
Lansing, Mich., April 19.—Beer, gambling and races—strange and almost unbelievable as it is, these seem to be the major questions just at present before a legislature that has in its hands the welfare of nearly five millions of people.

Beer legislation has come as a direct result of the vote of the people. In some of the larger newspapers there has been an indirect criticism of the legislature because it has insisted on taking its time with this important bill. Members of both the house and senate realize that the state is sorely in need of the money that it will bring into the state treasury. But these same legislators, or at least some of them, realize too that untold damage that careless legislation can bring upon the state.

The beer bill as originally introduced gave to villages and cities absolutely no control over the operations of these places. It could not specify the number, their location or their method of doing business. The bill went so far as to place members of the liquor commission to be appointed under its provisions beyond the reach of the law. They could not be held for any criminal act or they could not be sued in any civil action. One senator pointed out that if this provision was permitted to stand, the members of the commission could retain themselves all of the income from the beer business in the state.

The senate passed some seventy or more amendments to the bill. Some of these evils were corrected. Others were not. An effort by Dr. J. T. Upjohn, veteran senator from the Kalamazoo-St. Joseph district, to amend the bill so that a closing hour could be fixed at night and to prevent girls from selling beer, found no favor. It is a pretty safe prediction that another determined effort will be made to add similar amendments to the bill in the house.

While there is a disposition on the part of some to let any kind of a beer bill pass, there is a general desire to have a bill passed that will permit the beer business in the state to be conducted in a respectable and orderly way, one that will not bring the criticism that was heaped upon the old-time saloon.

Governor Comstock has made it clear that he will veto any beer bill that does not provide the state with plenty of regulatory power. His statement was inspired when it was brought to his attention that the senate had attached an amendment to the beer bill which, if passed, would do away with all enforcement laws the state passed in 1917. It is a fairly safe prediction to make that the state will have some sort of a beer bill by May first.

Representative Don E. Sias of Midland has been made chairman of the special legislative committee that will conduct an immediate investigation into the prices of farm machinery and the advisability of the state entering into the manufacturing of machinery that is used on farms. The Sias resolution calling for this investigation was passed by both the house and senate without an objection. Chairman Sias stated following its adoption that he planned to have the investigation started immediately and he hoped that he would be able to make available to the legislature the data he secured from his inquiry before the present session adjourned. Serving on the commission of inquiry with Chairman Sias are Representatives John Strange of Eaton county, Edwin Babcock of Branch county and Senators Neal Lameroux of Kent county and Jay Towne of Jackson county.

It was weeks ago when the prediction was made in this letter that payless pay days were near at hand for the employees of the state of Michigan unless immediate and drastic action of some kind was taken. The crisis is now at hand. While beer bills, betting bills and other measures of a similar nature have been forced to the front ranks in legislative deliberations, there has been under consideration in committee rooms and elsewhere the financial plight of the state. The deficit left as a heritage from the last administration plus the constantly and rapidly decreasing revenues of the state have brought about the emergency sooner than expected. State officials have advised the legislature that unless there is forthcoming some new revenues at once, there is little prospect of a pay day next week.

The University of Michigan and the Michigan State college at last know what it really means to face a group of axe-wielders who really know how to use these tools. The legislature has made it quite evident to these two educational institutions as well as all the others in the state that it meant what it said when the order was issued to "cut." People drawing pay checks made out by the state seem to have the idea that there is an unlimited supply of money somewhere and that the state government has direct access to it. Therefore it is hard for them to realize that they too have got to economize just like everybody else.

The special legislative commission that Representatives Vernon J. Brown and Gus Hartman served on, tried to impress this fact upon state institutions and employees. Some saw the handwriting on the wall. Others did not, and those that did not are just now beginning to realize that taxpayers who can no longer pay taxes cannot pay salaries and expenses of university teachers and officials of the same amount they have always had. The ways and means committee of the house plans a reduction that really amounts to something in the operating costs of the state's educational institutions. Just now friends of the schools are running over to Lansing each day in an effort to prevent just drastic cuts as have been proposed, but from the sentiment expressed by members of the legislature, their efforts will be useless. One member of the house stated that the University had had three vice-presidents drawing salaries as high as $18,000 a year at one time.

Members of the Michigan state senate have been placed in an unfair light before the people by certain of the metropolitan newspapers. If one was to believe some of the material appearing in many of the larger dailies they would have the idea that the senate is a body composed of obstructionists and know-nothings. This is far from the truth say legislative observers. True there have been differences of opinion among the senators. However it can be honestly said that Michigan has never had a group of men in the upper house, who are more anxious and willing to serve the best interests of the state than most of the present membership of the senate. Of course these are one or two members who do not measure up to this high general standard. There are few ties to special interests and no selfish group has any strange hold on the senate. They are mostly careful in the legislative steps they have taken and time and again they have demonstrated the fact that their one purpose is to serve the best interests of the state. Unfortunately through propaganda in some of the daily newspapers, the taxpayers have gained an entirely different idea of the senate.

While the Moore delinquent tax bill that glorified the non-taxpayer and made a boob out of the man who paid his taxes is as dead as a door-nail, most of the members of the legislature realize that something should be done to assist the worthy property-holder who is having difficulty in paying his taxes. The Moore bill that was hustled through the senate without proper time being taken for its consideration, met a different fate in the house. Now the house members have passed a delinquent tax bill that really means something and gives just consideration to the man who is trying to assist his government. The house proposes in the bill it has enacted to spread over a period of years all unpaid taxes, providing the taxes of 1933 are paid. This idea is generally regarded as being entirely fair to the man who is trying to keep his property although he has been unable to pay his taxes during the past two or three years. The Moore bill, designed of special benefit to the real estate promoter and sub-divisor, would enable these promoters to hold the land they had taken back from the purchasers without paying taxes on it for several years to come. Then when the back tax was spread it could be charged against the property and with the coming of better business, the lots would again be sold and the buyer would have to pay the back taxes as well as the prevailing tax. It was this feature in the Moore bill that led to its rapid execution in the house.

The house of representatives has during its long history been most fortunate in selecting its speakers. Some seem to have a way of finding men for this exalted honor of outstanding pleasing personality as well as executive ability. The Hon. Fred Ming, who held the post for many years, was of this type. Many thought when he did not return last year that it would be hard to fill his place, but time has proven this not to be the case. The house has this year as its speaker Hon. Martin J. Bradley, a product of the Upper Peninsula who is proving to be the same sort of an ideal speaker that the representatives have always had a habit of selecting. Speaker Bradley has won the respect and esteem of all of the members of the house.

He will go down in Michigan history as another chief executive officer of the lower branch of the legislature entirely worthy of the high honor bestowed upon him.

Former Governor Fred W. Green of Ionia appeared before a house committee the other day and urged the enactment of a bill which will permit betting on horse races in Michigan. A group of Detroit sportsmen are interested in having the betting bill passed.

A Detroit representative thinks the florists of the state are able to pay a license fee of $10 per year to do business in addition to the other taxes they pay. He has introduced into the house a bill to this effect. Its introduction is a florist.

Michigan Department of State

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich., April 19.—The 1934 motor vehicle license plates will have black block numerals on a canary yellow background, it was announced by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald. The year and the word Michigan will be at the top of the plate. In order to prevent the counterfeiting and reprinting of plates of previous years the year will be divided so that the top line of the plate will read "19 Michigan-34."

In the last nine months, articles of incorporation have been granted 26 breweries, according to records of the Department of State. Most of the applications have been received in the last two weeks since the question of legalizing the manufacture and sale of beer has been under consideration by the legislature.

Many other corporations licensed to manufacture or sell malt or malt products, have made application to change their charters to permit them to handle beer. While most of the applications have come from the Detroit area, the brewery applications are well scattered over both Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

The past two months also have shown a marked increase in applications for incorporation of companies seeking to conduct investment businesses and companies seeking to sell both men's and women's clothing.

At the present time nine half-rate permits are being sold by Department of State branch offices to one full-rate 1933 motor vehicle license plates.

At the time the half-rate permits were placed on sale, the ratio for the first week was approximately three permits to one 1933 license plate; but the demand for permits has been comparatively steady so that department executives estimate that the present ratio is nine to one.

It is estimated that slightly more than 300,000 half-rate permits have been sold. The department originally purchased 800,000 blank permits. A second order of 100,000 additional permits was placed so that at the present time 900,000 permits have been sent to the branch offices.

Do Motor Trucks and Buses really pay taxes?

Heavy duty motor trucks and passenger bus owners complain they are heavily taxed. Signs are displayed on giant motor vehicles: "This truck pays $1950 per year in taxes."

Gasoline and weight fees are not taxes

They are simply payments for part of the expense of building and keeping up concrete roads which cost the real taxpayers approximately SEVENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS annually to maintain, exclusive of city streets.

One-third of this money is spent solely to build and maintain roads strong enough to stand heavy motor bus and truck traffic.

These giants of the highways actually contribute a pitifully small share of the enormous burden now being carried by owners of pleasure cars and light trucks.

Railroads are the heavy taxpayers

Motor transport pays practically nothing in the form of taxes to help defray the cost of government.

The railroads of this state are paying approximately TEN MILLION DOLLARS PER YEAR toward this cost. They are using no publicly owned property in the conduct of their business. RAILROADS PAY AS HIGH AS $2800 PER MILE PER YEAR IN TAXES.

How long will the taxpayers of this state stand for this discrimination?

Facts On Finance

AMOUNTS received from local property taxes for school expenses have decreased approximately 25 per cent during the past three years (from 1929-30 to 1932-33). Questionnaire reports to State Department of Public Instruction from 200 cities and villages in Michigan (exclusive of Detroit) show an average reduction of 17 per cent in tax rates during these years (1929-30 to 1932-33). In these same cities and villages more than 15 per cent of the taxable property has been removed from the tax rolls and 40 to 50 per cent of the assessed taxes remain uncollected. The amount of tax levied for schools in these cities has been reduced by 20 per cent.

The second major source of public school revenue, the Primary School Fund, has decreased approximately 10 per cent. This means that the per capita distribution was reduced from $1.92 per child in 1930 to $1.54 per child in 1932.

Anticipated receipts for 1933-34 from the two major sources of revenue are:

1) Primary School Fund $18,000,000
2) Property tax (provided 5 mills is allocated to public schools, less a 10-2-3 per cent tax discount) 25,000,000

Total $43,000,000

Operating costs (not including debt service) during the year 1932-33 were $4,120,000, which gave a per pupil cost of $88.18. During 1930-31, these operating costs were $37,070,000, with a per pupil cost of $89. In 1933-34 there will be at least 1,018,000 children in the public schools of Michigan and at the low level of per pupil cost of 1932-33, the sum of $89,475,000 will be required to keep these children in school for the entire school year.

This still means a shortage of at least $24,475,000 to operate the public schools of Michigan on the basis indicated above—that is, a reduction to the per capita cost of 1932-33. Without additional revenue, therefore, the public schools can provide its present services in 1933-34 for only a little over half of the year.

Student Government

Monday morning, during activities of a new step was taken in the evolution of our student self-government.

The week preceding spring vacation, vote was taken as to whether the school should be composed of solely students or should contain entirely of students. The vote was 98 to 05 in favor of an all-student body. The matter was again brought up for reconsideration, due to the close vote of the preceding assembly. There was a large majority in favor of a combined court of teachers and students. The student congress then assigned the task of selecting court officials and determining legal procedure, by a vote of the student body.

A proposal was made by Anna Geddes that the court be entirely composed of students, with one faculty advisor present, i.e., that all court cases should be filled by students, and all court procedure should be based on by students alone, with a faculty member present to give legal advice when called upon by students. Various comments were made on this plan. Marion Goodell suggested that the student body vote to instruct the student congress to carry out this proposal. Thereupon, the students voted to instruct the student congress to accept this plan.

Mr. Moore then quoted extracts from an article, which appeared in the press last week to the effect that our various plans of student government do not work out as well as we should. We should make new plans and try to make them a success. He called for a show of hands for all who would sincerely co-operate with students and faculty in the effort to try on student government successfully. He received a good showing of hands.

Mr. Thompson then addressed the assembly, urging that the effort to try on student government be taken seriously, and further that the most able students, not the most popular, be elected to carry on the various branches of the student government.

Hither and Yon

It seems as though this column will be empty without a little bit news about Belleville. So here is a little article about their school play, "Charm School." There was a matinee and evening performance and the play was a huge success, dramatically and financially.

The Situation In The Public Schools

THE public schools of Michigan are facing an immediate and critical emergency. The economic depression has greatly reduced the financial resources of the schools. The demands of an increasingly complex economic world, together with the present problem of unemployment are tremendously increasing the responsibilities of the schools. In some localities, destructive retrenchments are being adopted which threaten to change entirely the character of public education throughout the state. The following are some of the conditions which prevail:

Classics are being increased beyond the best educational service to children. Essential activities of the school are being suspended.

Training for sound health and wholesome living is being reduced or eliminated.

Opportunities for a High School Education are being denied an increasing number of boys and girls.

Kindergartens are being discontinued.

Music and arts, with their contribution to community life, are disappearing from the school program.

Subjects which give preparation for home making and citizenship are being dropped from the curriculum.

Special education for the handicapped is threatened with drastic curtailment.

Supplementary educational services—the playgrounds and the libraries—are already curtailed or in jeopardy. School terms are being shortened. Some schools have closed.

Prospective reductions in school revenues spell disaster to a system of education which has been built up in Michigan over a period of a hundred years. The very existence of the schools is seriously threatened. The situation is most critical.

An Apology

Due to the fact that I reached the Standard Office too late to read the proof of the April 6 issue of Seepeess, several errors were in evidence. They were errors of grammar and of punctuation.

One error was made in the article, "Vive le Seepeess." The last sentence read like this: "Al" that school spirit of yours by showing the staff your interest in them and have read as follows: "Al" that school spirit of yours by showing the staff that you are interested.

I think Ye Ol' Snooper must have gone to sleep for a couple of months. At least, she gives me that impression. She said the Freshman play would come off on Feb. 27. Now, that's all wrong. She meant to write April 27. So you can still buy your ticket and see the show.

Another error in the same article was one on punctuation. "Nifty Nan" one of them "high flitten" vaudeville actresses is faulty. "Nifty Nan" one of them high flitten vaudeville actresses is correct.

English students, take heed: I hope that this will never happen again.

Ye Ol' Snooper's Scoop

Did you ever hear of such a person as a "Mail Order Bride"? The Freshman Class presents a play by that name on April 27.

And here's a secret. The Seniors are working on their play, "The Thirteenth Chair." This play is to be given sometime in the middle of May. Start saving your pennies so you can come.

All you students that have a desire to join the Journalism Club next year will soon have a chance to qualify when your class edits its issue of the paper. Those students of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes whose articles come up to the standard set by the present members will be asked to join the club. The Seepeess staff hopes that these candidates will accept membership.

Hol hui! What do you say to another vacation to catch up on the sleep we lost during the last one.

With no more news, time or space—Ye Ol' Snooper's retreats gracefully.

Notice!

Due to the fact that the Freshman play is so near at hand, the Sophomore class will edit the next issue of "Seepeess." The staff wishes you success, Sophies. Come around any time for help (if you happen to need it). Remember, Tuesday noon is the "dead line" for news.

Kindergarten

The kindergarten people wish to thank the sixth grade for fixing up their dolls for them. They redressed the dolls as well as repainted the faces to make them seem like new. The boys rebuilt the furniture which the girls afterward fixed to fit their tastes. They are very grateful to the sixth graders.

First Grade

The first graders have now turned Japanese. They are studying their habits and customs and have likewise decorated their room with Japanese lanterns.

The kiddies are still thinking about Easter and the Easter Bunny. Monday, one of the girls brought her Easter things to school.

They have a cocoon in their room and they are patiently awaiting the results.

Second Grade

The second graders are all happy to be back at work after a lovely Easter vacation.

They are also studying about the Japanese people. Miss Bollers read "The Japanese Twins," which was very interesting.

The children have made kites and learned how to fly them. Of course, this took place before and during vacation. They wish to thank Robert Stricker for the loan of the book, "Tales Told in Holland," and Father for his help.

Supplementary educational services—the playgrounds and the libraries—are already curtailed or in jeopardy. School terms are being shortened. Some schools have closed.

Prospective reductions in school revenues spell disaster to a system of education which has been built up in Michigan over a period of a hundred years. The very existence of the schools is seriously threatened. The situation is most critical.

Fourth Grade

The fourth graders are learning the May Polo Frolic during their activity period each day. Mrs. Sheehan has invited them to give it in the kindergarten sometime in May.

The May Queen will be chosen on the first of May by the girls and boys. The qualities which she must possess are: kindness, thoughtfulness, unselfishness and purity.

We are learning Alfred Lord Tennyson's poem "The May Queen," a poem which will be sent to the mother of the girl chosen queen on the day before her coronation.

Just one more scarlet fever patient is under quarantine and she will soon be back. We have missed you Betty Ruth.

Robert Abdon returned Monday after an absence of four weeks. We appreciate the flowers and plants which Theodore Combs has brought from time to time for our room and for our sick friends.

Sixth Grade

The sixth graders have suddenly become authors. They are starting to write the play of "The Golden River." They are painting the plant covers and have a new window box which adds to the attractiveness of the room.

Jean Barkley and John Fletcher are the only pupils that did not return after Easter vacation. The sixth graders made New Year's resolutions in January which they sealed. Tuesday, they opened them to see whether they had kept them or not.

In art work they made a booklet on the ideal home. On the cover they put a copy of "Let me live in my house by the side of the road."

We are hoping that Jim Daniels will learn to walk up and down stairs without falling down as it might prove disastrous sometime.

Several of the pupils of the sixth grade are interested in stamp collections. They have some worth while collections, too. Three of them belong to the Stamp Club.

They are studying about plants in nature study. In connection with this they read the life of Hubert.

Twenty-one of the pupils took library books home over vacation to do special reading.

Mail Order Brides

Nick Henshaw, a rancher, is worried because his son, a college graduate, prefers writing plays to riding the range and his daughter neglects housework to compose poetry.

Nick finds a mail order filled out by two of his ranch hands. The order calls for two wives. In desperation Nick changes the order to three wives and signs his son's name.

Complications arise when the mail order brides arrive at the Ruby Heart Ranch, followed by the son and daughter of the head of the mail order house. Finally Mr. Hamilton, the head of the company, arrives, as does Rob Henshaw's wife, whom he has married several years before at a supposed to be mock ceremony. He had not seen the girl since that time. Nick consoles one of the mail order brides and finally proposes to her. One accepts the attentions of a ranch hand and one returns to the mail order house.

The most difficult thing most women find about learning to use an electric range is that it does not have to be watched, and that they can use less water and less heat. Being freed from the necessity of basting a roast every little while, not having to peek into the oven, not needing to wonder whether "the fire" is hot enough, yet not too hot. That freedom from the kitchen is the hardest part to become accustomed to when you first get an electric.

Being able to put food into the oven, set the temperature control to maintain whatever degree of heat is wanted, set the time control (as you would an alarm clock) to have the oven start heating at whatever hour you choose—it all seems too easy to be true!

OTHER WOMAN—OR WIFE?

According to "The Animal Kingdom," RKO-Radio Picture, a man may be married to a woman and she yet be "the other woman." And the woman he wasn't married to be in reality his wife.

Leslie Howard is the husband and Ann Harding and Myrna Loy are the two women. Miss Loy plays the wife who has no spiritual or intellectual affinity with her husband but has physical allure for him, and Miss Harding plays "the other woman," whose bond is of a deeper order.

Phillip Barry is at his best as author of "The Animal Kingdom," now a photoplay which Edward H. Griffith directed. It's showing at the Princess Theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 23-24.

HAVE SUCCESSFUL YEAR
The Lyndon Home Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. Clarice Clark in September, to organize for the club work. Officers were elected as follows: Miss Mary Boyce, chairman; Mrs. Helen Clark, secy.-treas.; Mrs. Clarice Clark and Mrs. Mabel Conk, leaders. It was voted upon to call the group the "Jolly Neighbors Sewing Club."

The club met each month to take up the lessons the leaders brought back. The first lesson was color harmony and choosing of fabrics. Drafting of patterns and the use of sewing machine attachments were the next lessons. Mr. and Mrs. Howe of Ann Arbor gave a very interesting demonstration on the use of sewing machine attachments. Much interest was shown.

Collars and fitting of dresses brought many comments on this lesson. There were many different collar patterns displayed. Round button holes and set-in pockets was a worth while lesson. Judging of dresses was very interesting. Mrs. Emma Goodwin and Mrs. Helen Clark were chosen as delegates at the style show on Achievement Day.

Twenty members were enrolled in the club of which 14 finished the work. Several social events were held during the club year, among them being a Christmas party which was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark for the members and their families. Much good was derived from the work in the club. It was voted upon to take up sewing for the coming year.

Dramatic Finish of "King Kong"

Militarists claim that a fleet of airships could conquer New York in a few hours; but who could say how long it would take for a squadron of long-biting planes to capture a fifty-foot ape perched atop a thousand-foot building in New York?

Why, he could pluck the airplanes out of the sky and crush them in his great hand! His thick, hairy hide would resist their bullets; his ten-million-year-old body would die slowly! Besides, at his feet lay the beautiful blonde girl who had aroused in his savage heart a tender, protective emotion. He might fall and crush her! Or he might topple from his peak and wreak havoc on the streets below!

How to kill "King Kong," the strangest protector, admirer and champion a woman ever had, and the greatest menace New York or any other civilized spot on the globe has ever known?

This is the fantastic climax of "King Kong," RKO-Radio's spectacular production of Edgar Wallace's last story, the idea for which was conceived by Wallace and Merian C. Cooper. Fay Wray plays the Beauty who roused the Beast and Robert Armstrong and Bruce Cabot play the intrepid adventurers who accomplish the astounding feat of capturing the 15-ton prehistoric creature and shipping him to civilization for a new thrill!

The Majestic Theatre, Ann Arbor, presents this Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack Production for one week, starting Saturday, April 22, and claims it is the very latest achievement in movie production miracles.
