Tower Creamery Co. Opens for Operation

Equipment for operation of the plant of the newly organized Tower Creamery Co. has all been installed and milk is now being received, the first receipts having been accepted on Monday of this week. New routes are being organized daily and it is expected daily receipts of milk will reach at least 10,000 pounds next week.

M. H. Kerr, state inspector, made an inspection of the plant on Monday and during his tour of the creamery made the statement that the local company would have one of the best creamery plants in the state. In a letter to Mr. MacKinnon, head of the company, he commented as follows: "Please find enclosed copy of inspection of your new plant which I certainly am very proud of, and, as I stated while at your place, the townspeople of Chelsea should stand back of this new proposition 100 per cent. I will call on you in the near future and see how you are progressing. With kindest regards, I remain Yours very respectfully, M. H. Kerr."

Although few people took the matter seriously when Herbert Hoover made a statement in a campaign speech last fall that if the Democrats were elected grass would grow in the streets of the cities of our country, such a state of affairs has been found to be true in Chelsea.

While roaming idly about Main street one day during the past week Al Richards discovered a healthy growth of clover coming forth from a crack in the pavement. Being an ardent Republican it immediately came to Mr. Richards' mind that the prediction made by Mr. Hoover had come true, at least in Chelsea. Inasmuch as Mr. Richards was unable to identify the variety of the clover he found he decided to call it NIRA in honor of President Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Act, and how that there is no more grass growing in our streets Chelsea will also push forward in cooperation with Mr. Roosevelt and let by-gones be by-gones!

80th Anniversary and Homecoming at M. E. Church Sunday

An invitation is extended to everyone to attend the 80th anniversary and homecoming at the local Methodist church, on Sunday, August 6th. A very interesting program has been arranged and former members and friends of the church are expected to take part in the celebration. At the morning service at 10 o'clock former pastors are expected to be present and take part. Rev. C. S. Risley, a former pastor, will deliver the sermon.

From 12 to 2 o'clock the ladies of the church will serve a public chicken dinner.

In the afternoon, commencing as near 1:30 as possible, a public rally will be held, and in this service will be crowded a real program of music and a message from Dr. Frederick B. Fisher of the Ann Arbor Methodist church, formerly Bishop of India. The Junior American Legion Band will furnish special music at the afternoon rally, under the direction of Wesley Smith.

DR. FREDERICK FISHER

Everyone in the community is invited to bear Dr. Fisher of Ann Arbor, Sunday afternoon at the homecoming. He will give the principal address.

Brief History of the Church

The Methodist Episcopal Church of Chelsea was organized in 1853 by Rev. B. A. Hedger, who was then preaching in Lima. Rev. Ebenezer Steel was the first regular preacher. Services were first held in the old brick house located between the residence of J. Schenk and Mrs. George P. Glazier. The first Sunday school was organized in 1854, Silas Sargent being the first superintendent. May 12th, 1857, a Miss Society was organized to raise money for building a church. On April 18, 1860 the name of the society was changed to the Ladies' Saving Circle of Chelsea and later became the Ladies' Aid Society. Under the pastorate of S. E. Stringham, in 1857-58 the ground for the church and parsonage was donated by Elisha Congdon. It was completed and dedicated September 18, 1859. This church stood forty years and four months to a day when it was burned, January 8, 1899. The present edifice was begun the year the old one burned and was dedicated February 25, 1900. The pipe organ was dedicated on the first anniversary of the building of the church.

SHEEP BREEDERS ELECT

TOMMY WILKINSON INJURED

Tommy Wilkinson is in University hospital, Ann Arbor, suffering from injuries received last Thursday evening when the car in which he was riding, driven by Gerald Madden, swerved from the road as they were turning by the Kusterer farm on the Manchester road. Mr. Wilkinson was thrown against the windshield and sustained seven fractures of his right arm, one a compound fracture.

WILL BUILD NEW OFFICE

H. S. Holmes, in order to keep his force of men employed at all times, announces that work has been started on a new garage and office addition at the Chelsea Milling Co. The addition, which will be on the north side of the mill, will be two stories, 25x30. All of the work will be done by men who are now employed by Mr. Holmes.

Chelsea People Are Responding To NIRA

According to H. D. Witherell, local postmaster, Chelsea business men and residents are responding loyally to the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Letters were presented to each employer and business man which were sent out from Washington last week and distributed by the postmasters of the country, and Mr. Witherell states that he believes Chelsea's response will be 100 per cent.

Although the provisions of the Act do not apply to many Chelsea business men, inasmuch as exception is made for those not employing more than two people in towns of less than 2500 population, most of the business men will support the measure to the best of their ability.

Local industries and merchants who come under the requirements of this emergency act will abide by the codes of their respective groups when they are presented and accepted by Gen. Johnson, administrator of the Act.

State Board Offers To Sell Cement Plant

Chelsea's famous state-owned cement plant, which has been honored with front page position in many newspapers and which has been a favorite political football for several years, is again brought to the attention of news readers through advertisements in several Michigan papers, offering the plant for sale.

The advertisement which bears the signature of B. J. Abbott, secretary of the State Administrative Board, offers the plant, together with all land, equipment and buildings and sundry properties. Sealed bids must be in Mr. Abbott's office by 10 o'clock Friday morning, August 4, 1933.

An act passed by the 1931 legislature allows the administrative board to sell the plant, and sale will become compulsory after June 30, 1934, unless action to the contrary is taken by a session of the legislature before the plant is sold.

According to reports, several bids are being placed with the Administrative Board, most of the offers being based upon the junk value of the outfit. It is reported, however, that an Ann Arbor group are making a better offer for the plant with the idea in mind of operating the plant for the manufacture of fertilizer and cement. It is doubtful if the state will sell the plant at any figure which will be offered at this time.

Three Local Boys Are Sought By Officers

Alec Dow, 10, Henry Carr, 12, and Robert Savage, 9, disappeared early Tuesday evening from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dow, on US-52 in Lima township. Deputy Sheriff George Atkinson, with Ann Arbor parties, searched for them until midnight, continuing the search on Wednesday but no trace of their whereabouts has been discovered.

The former is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow, while the Carr and Savage boys are wards of the Court, of Detroit, who were being cared for at the Dow home.

MARSH-RUSSELL WEDDING

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Laurotta L. Marsh, daughter of Meredith Marsh of Ann Arbor, and William E. Russell, son of Mrs. Elmer E. Smith of Lima township, which took place Saturday evening, July 29, in Bowling Green, Ohio. The attendants were Miss Ethel Marsh, sister of the bride, and John Pinaire of Miami, Florida. The bride was gowned in pink crepe with white accessories, while her sister wore a dress of white crepe.

The groom is employed in the highway department of the University laboratory. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will make their home on West Liberty St., Ann Arbor.

CAV. LAKE GRANGE MEETS

H. S. Osler, County Agent, was present at the meeting of Cavanaugh Lake Grange held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schweinfurth, and explained the provisions of the wheat acreage reduction as planned by the federal government.

While the Grange was in session they received a telephone message from the Monroe County Grange extending an invitation to local Grangers to attend the Grange picnic of that county which will be held at Raisinville on Friday, August 11.

State Master C. B. Bramble of Lansing, and National Master Lewis Tabor of Columbus, Ohio, will be present and speak at the picnic.

DOGS KILL SHEEP

Two sheep were killed by dogs and nine were injured last Friday on the farm of Otto Lucht in Lima township. Mr. Lucht succeeded in killing two of the dogs. Justice Ernest Adams was called to appraise the loss.

Shocking Record Is Written By Legislature

FUTURE GENERATIONS WILL BE ASTOUNDED BY REVELATIONS OF 1933 SESSIONS

Bribery Charges Added To Lobbying And Political Patronage Disgraced The State Of Michigan, Citizens Disgusted By Disclosures.

By V. J. Brown
Last week the discussion was upon the subject of lobbying as it is carried on at the state capitol. Fortune indeed that the chapter devoted to this subject was written before the final adjournment of the legislature was taken, or rather it might be more accurate to say that it is fortunate the chapter was written before the events of Monday and Tuesday which preceded the final adjournment. Otherwise there might have crept into the text some of the bitterness which marked those closing hours and some of the charges and counter charges which the journals of the house and senate of those two days contain.

V. J. BROWN

Recently there fell into the hands of this writer a volume containing the public documents of the state senate of Michigan for the year 1938. No reader of that volume can fail to be impressed with the importance of the matters then under consideration and the degree of serious deliberation given those matters by the various committees and commissions entrusted with their solution.

The reader of the record of the state legislature of 1938, 25 years hence, a half-century hence or a hundred years in the future will stand aghast at what that record discloses.

Committee Frank
The report of the house committee appointed to investigate open charges of lobbying, discusses the question with frankness. That record will show that open offers of money for votes for and against pending legislation were more common than decent citizens care to admit. The very fact that this record shows that certain senators and representatives were openly offered cash which was promptly refused naturally leads one to suspect that these money-passing lobbyists must have found some takers somewhere else they would not have become so bold. That the very legislation thus openly opposed with offers of money eventually failed of passage over the veto of the governor is certainly disturbing in its sinister setting.

Then, too, there is that matter concerning the activity of one Isaiah Leebove. He is referred to in the report as one whose "desires are evil and whose purposes are malevolent." This report, lobby and Leebove subjects alike, are made a part of the official journal of the house of representatives of the great state of Michigan in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three.

The report, as it appears in the official journal for future generations to read, states: "The governor saw fit to present himself before the committee in defense of Mr. Leebove." Testimony of the governor, quoted in the report and the journal, has the governor confessing that "He (Leebove) is a friend of mine." A student of state history a century from now will also learn that the same Isaiah Leebove was a generous contributor to the campaign funds of William A. Comstock in at least two of his presidential candidacies and that following his election in 1892 William A. Comstock persistently refused to make a disclosure of the sources of such campaign contributions or the purposes for which the money was spent, as required by law.

Contradictory Report
After quoting what the governor testified to under oath, the report uses the word "however" in a significant way and proceeds to disclose other testimony of a contradictory character.

Earlier in the session the governor in addressing a body made the statement that the "new deal" administration was making history. It was and is. But what a history!

One may quote freely from this historic report because it so happens that the resolution which led to the appointment of the lobby investigating committee was offered by a democratic member of the house, its chairman is a democrat and a majority of its members are democrats. The issue is not and never has been one of political play. Rather it grew out of an outraged decency still existing among the vast majority of the membership of the legislature.

This chapter on lobbying is assuming a length never intended and yet there is more that ought to be said.

Economy Measures Passed
So-called economy measures introduced on the first day of the session as the result of a commission appointed by act of the 1932 special session, numbered 98. Of this number 63 passed both houses and eight were supplanted by other bills which passed or their purpose was accomplished by other means. Two were very properly vetoed by the governor because in the course of their passage they became loaded with amendments of an entirely different character. This makes a net of 69 out of a possible 98, a batting average of .704 which is good in any league.

What happened to the remainder? Well about an even half-dozen had to do with removing statutory salaries for judicial and quasi-judicial county and district officials and in reducing statutory charges for circuit and supreme court judges. Most of these bills in modified form finally emerged from the judiciary committee of the house and were passed. They went to the waiting pigeon-holes prepared for them by the judiciary committee in the senate and they too are there to make history while taxpayers still continue to dig up for boom time salary checks.

Revision of the statutes governing the department of labor and industry, intended to merge and solidify departmental activities and cut down on personnel, were lost because of the demands for democratic patronage while similar measures intended to cut severely into the number engaged in the work of the public utilities commission met a similar fate because the republicans still held forth in that department and partisan supporters did not care to vote to dislodge them. The taxpayer still pays in both these instances.

Then too there is that $75,000 saving which would have been made possible by the adoption of the commission recommendations regarding a reduced personnel and reduced pay for senate and house session employees. The house passed the bill after many attempts but the patronage givers sent the measure to its death in the senate. Even the promises of the senate that the measure would be dug up during the final days of the session and passed in time to head off patronage extravagance in 1935 were not kept. The measure, too, will add to history in the making.

Still more history was made. Never before did the entire membership of the senate return for the final adjournment and never before did 96 members of the house show up for roll call on that day. Every district this side of the straits was represented except the Alpena district and only illness prevented Rep. Cameron from answering "here". One member traveled more than 600 miles to be present to vote against the governor's bundle of vetoes.

Patronage Whip Cracks
Sixty-seven votes are required in the house and 22 in the senate to override an executive veto. In the senate the required number was secured without trouble but even the most determined efforts made in the house failed because the administration cracked the whip and threatened any who strayed from the reservation. It was openly declared that patronage would be taken away from any who dared oppose the governor. The official purveyor of political jobs, Commissioner Debo, was right on hand, too, to watch the roll calls.

One member who has a brother in a soft job and a lot of friends on the payrolls, turned tail at the last moment and voted "no" along with the others who had said less about how they were intending to vote. When evidence of weakening showed, William M. Donnelly, temporarily assuming the role of party spokesman, also assumed the role of a modern Legree and swung the party whip with biting sarcasm and with no attempt to conceal his purpose or the threats being made. Again history was made.

State Payroll Grows
During the session some weeks ago a certain bill was pending which if adopted would have severely cut into the revenues of an important state department. A ranking member of the committee to which this bill had been committed openly boasts that he secured good jobs for eight of his constituents as pay for keeping the bill from coming to the floor of the house—another bit of history. It is a known fact that jobs have been dealt in as freely as sweets in a candy shop. Rumors of barbers and trades with prison paroles as the consideration are also rife. The story of what lobbying really means and what it has cost the taxpayers in the past and what it will cost in the future might be extended to pages of type. The practice of swapping votes is nothing new but it must be confessed that during the session just closed it reached heights heretofore unattained. Within the next 60 days the fact-seeking taxpayers will be able to discover on the payrolls of this state more job holders than at any previous time in history.

Orphans and Dog Racing
History was made in another respect. It has long been the practice to swap votes on bills. In fact, most local measures and most bills of a minor character ride through on vote-swapping combinations. But here is the ace of all. A measure was introduced to close the present state school for dependent and neglected children at Coldwater. Experiments carried on over a period of years have proved that the children can be better cared for in the homes of citizens of this state at less expense to the taxpayer than at the institution. It was proposed that an available building near Ann Arbor be acquired and that it be used merely as a receiving home where children would be readily available to the clinics held in connection with University hospital and made ready for reception into boarding homes. Out of these selected homes they would be readily assimilated into local public schools. Sociologists are agreed that such a plan is much better for the children. The figures prove it cheaper for the state. The vacated Coldwater institution was to be used as an overflow from Lapeer and Wajahmaga institutions, the higher grade inmates thus gaining greater advantages.

What prevented the passage of this measure? It passed the senate but it could not be pried loose from the committee which held it in the house. Inquiry disclosed the startling fact that a trade had been made between a senate member who for selfish purposes desired its defeat and a house member who wanted certain concessions on the horse-and-dog racing bill. Did anyone ever before hear of children being traded outright for dogs and race track gamblers? It has been done and that makes more history.

Something was said above about the economy program. The budget for general purposes was reduced more than one-third below the 1932 special session figures when 15 per cent was topped off. The totals are more than $10,000,000 below those of 1931. This looks encouraging but when the $12,000,000 for welfare relief and the $15,000,000 school aid and the old age pension measure and the cost of administering the beer bill and the sales tax measure and the newly created bureau to protect bondholders and similar agencies and other new ventures into governmental activities are counted in, the savings made are swept away as before a tropical typhoon.

The budget and its application to the various departments and institutions including the university and the colleges will be discussed in a later issue.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 2—Investigation of applications for gasoline tax refunds resulted in a sentence of $35 fine or 30 days imprisonment being imposed on a Cheboygan commercial fisherman. He was given 60 days in which to pay the fine. The sentence followed testimony that refunds were being applied for on more gasoline than had been purchased.

The mortgage and land contract "moratorium" acts adopted by the Michigan legislature are to be tested in court. These laws provide that circuit judges under proper safeguards may delay foreclosures until March 1, 1935. Attorneys for the Union Joint Land Bank of Detroit, a federal loan organization, indicated in a suit filed in Macomb county, that they will seek to have the acts declared unconstitutional, claiming that both national and state constitutions are violated.

Coleman C. Vaughan, director of the building and loan division of the Department of State, pointed out that court action can be avoided if both borrower and mortgage holder understand the new laws. "If the borrower is able to make the rental payments required by the court, the building and loan associations should be glad to withhold foreclosure proceedings as long as sufficient income is received to protect the mortgage security," Mr. Vaughan informed the Michigan associations.

Michigan's new motor vehicle operators' "financial responsibility" law is not a compulsory insurance law but is intended to restrain careless, irresponsible drivers who have no regard for the safety of other highway users. Upon receipt of certification that a judgment of $300 or more has not been satisfied, the Secretary of State, under the law, is required to suspend the operator's license and use of license plates. These can only be reinstated by furnishing proof that the judgment has been met and by establishing future financial responsibility up to $10,000 in case of two deaths from traffic accidents and $1,000 responsibility for property damage. This responsibility can be established in four ways—by depositing $10,000 with the state treasurer; by adequate motor-vehicle liability insurance; by surety bond; or by a personal bond with two sureties who each own sufficient Michigan property to meet the bond.

BROOKLYN—On Tuesday the Hart and Howell Co. received a carload of popcorn from one of their storage elevators at Circleville, Kansas. They were notified Saturday that the remainder of the corn in this storage was burned in a fire that destroyed the elevator. Their record showed 155,000 pounds of corn in the storage which was fully insured. Leonard Best is now on a trip to the place for the company.—Exponent.

DEXTER—Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Thompson and daughter Peggy Ann have closed their home in Lake Orion and have moved to the Thompson home on 5th street where they will reside. Mr. Thompson will be employed in the leader office and began his work there this week.—Leader.

AS SILENT AS A PAINTED SHIP UPON A Painted Ocean
NO WONDER all is calm and serene in the household where there is a GAS refrigerator.
For GAS refrigeration is absolutely silent. Ice cubes to cool your beverages are frozen as quietly as nature refrigerators are air cooled they cost even less to operate.
And certainly no one worries about the cost of GAS refrigeration. This type of automatic refrigeration has always been most economical. Now that the new GAS refrigerators are air cooled they cost even less to operate.
Come in and discuss this with us. Inspect the various models and their new features. There is one to suit every need. No obligation.

CAN BANKS BE "Too Careful" ABOUT LOANS

Some people who have vainly sought bank loans complain, at times, that banks are "too conservative". They forget that the loan they seek is the money belonging to depositors, and that the welfare of the entire community rests largely on how the banker handles this money.

Rev. and Mrs. Clark Adams and daughter of Kinderhook visited Mrs. Adams' mother last week. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Runney of Detroit were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Vicary.

The general public should be informed and interested concerning the effect of these changes. The State of Michigan, by statute, requires rural school districts to pay as much as $60 per year for pupils attending high school in another district.

The annual tuition rate for non-resident students was reduced in the high school from $60 to $50 and in the elementary school from $35 to $30.

The salaries set for the secretary and treasurer for 1933-34 are $200 and $100, respectively. Assuming that the old custom will be followed, census taking will cost $35.

We have here a difference of $140, which represents what it cost the district last year to have the services of a full-time clerk.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total $335.00. General Control $9,898.28, Instruction $12,450.70, Operation of School Plant $3,804.65, Pupil Charges $68.10, Maintenance $1,023.62, Auxiliary $0.00, Agencies and Miscellaneous $1,092.56, Debt Service $3,170.00, Capital Outlay $773.37.

Below are given the various budget classifications of school expense, with the actual figures for 1932-33 set opposite the estimated costs for 1933-34.

Parades Thru Chelsea

The Standard Oil Company, in the interest of their New Super Fuel, Standard Red-Crown, conducted an elaborate road parade through Chelsea Wednesday afternoon.

Knickerbocker, local agent, directed the route and led the stream of highly decorated equipment through the town. The exhibits consisted of a lead car announcing the Super Fuel and following this car a huge float with a mounted car illustrating Standard Service at the Pump. Behind this float came a huge sound amplifying truck which delivered snappy music and short announcements relative to the New Super Fuel. Following the sound equipment were ten large Standard delivery trucks, each carrying banners portraying in banners on the side different reasons why New Standard Red Crown is the Super Fuel.

Miss Ruth Jordan, recently of the "Follow Through" Company was one of the featured attractions of the parade. Miss Jordan, with the beautiful flashing smile, easily carried the honors of the elaborate caravan. The Standard Oil Company's Advertising Representative stated that it was necessary to get a Super Girl to team up with a Super Fuel.

The Standard Oil Company is justly proud of this new motor fuel. They claim it the greatest advance in gasoline that has ever been offered the motorist by any petroleum product marketer, or manufacturer. With higher octane rating plus the addition of tetraethyl lead it brings up the anti-knock quality to a height that is unsurpassed by any gasoline selling at the regular price. This gasoline also is seasonally adjusted for maximum power in any temperature or climate; does not contain gum or sulphur impurities. It's the claim of the Standard Oil Company that it is a fact that this New Super Fuel that he'll continue to use it from then on.

Self-Opening Parachute
 Persons who are likely to make use of the parachute are compelled to learn how to operate them. After the plunge into the atmosphere and when free of the airplane, there is a cord which must be pulled in order to release the big bag which fills with air and permits the gentle descent to the earth. There is always a possibility that under the excitement of the moment the cord may not be pulled and disaster is the result. One design has a timing apparatus built into the parachute by which the opening process is automatically taken care of. Adjustment may be made to have the operation take place at any desired distance and the human element is eliminated entirely. The device is also said to be of great value where mail matter or supplies of any character are to be dropped, for the exact spot of the landing can be accurately regulated.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I want to ask you if the United States owns and operates its own printing-plant at Washington? Also how many people work there?

Ans.—Yes, the government owns a printing plant at Washington. This plant grew out of a small concern that was acquired in 1860. Slightly over 5,000 persons are on the payroll, which is about $10,000,000 annually.

Ques.—Can you tell me, if it is known how large the universe is or can it be learned?

Ans.—The largest and most powerful telescope created by man is limited in its scope, and there is no way of ascertaining the apparent infinity of space. The group of stars which we can see through these telescopes, arching from one horizon to the other, and which astronomers call "the galaxy", covers a distance of about 300,000 light-years. In other words, the arch described, taking in the stars known to be farthest away which can be seen, the distance from horizon to horizon is one quintillion, 764 quadrillion miles apart.

Ques.—Is it necessary for a man who has taken out his first papers to remain continuously in the United States for five years in order to become a citizen?

Ans.—Yes. However, "continuously" is construed more liberally than a reading of the law suggests. It is possible for an individual to leave the United States if proper arrangements are made for return. Nevertheless, six months' absence is considered to have broken the continuity of residence, unless a reasonable cause can be presented for not having returned earlier.

Ques.—What nationality is J. Pierpont Morgan? And where was he born?

Ans.—J. Pierpont Morgan is of Welsh descent. He was born at Livingston, N. Y., and his father was born at Hartford, Conn.

Ques.—What are the college colors for the University of Pennsylvania?

Ans.—University of Pennsylvania colors are Red and Blue.

Ques.—Are the trade relations between the United States and Canada mutually beneficial? Or do these relations conflict?

Ans.—There is very little competition in trade relations. Canada is the most important foreign market of the United States, and the United States takes about 40 per cent of the Canadian exports, while Canada takes about 15 per cent of our exports. Most of the imports from Canada are in raw materials, while most of the Canadian imports from the United States are in finished products.

Ques.—What makes the brains of a human better than the brains of an animal?

Ans.—Because there is a difference in the number of cells of gray matter. The fewer the cells, the less intelligence they have. The human has the greatest number, and therefore most intelligent. The brains of the higher animals, such as elephants, horses, dogs and monkeys, have the same type of brains as humans, but contain fewer of these cells.

Ques.—How fast does a man fall in making a parachute jump? Is the speed increased as he nears the earth?

Ans.—The velocity of the fall depends upon the jumper's weight, and also the air conditions. From the moment the parachute opens, the speed is the same all the way down if the complete drop is made through quiet air.

Ques.—Can you answer why carbon forms in the cylinders of an automobile?

Ans.—This is a case of incomplete combustion. This is because there is too little air or for some other reason not all the carbon of the motor fuel gets burned up. Some of it is deposited as a solid crust in the cylinders, on the head of the piston and on the walls of the explosion chamber.
