Political Payrolls Tilted To Former Prosperity Heights

By V. J. Brown

The action of the legislature during its 1933 session in striking from the statutes a large number of salaries fixed by previous legislatures is already recognized as having been a wise move. There are a number of salaries fixed by the constitution which are beyond reach of the legislature. Then there are a number where bills introduced to strike the statutory salaries and place the compensation of officials before each session when the biennial budget is being prepared failed of passage. In practically every instance where the fixed salary was not stricken, the present incumbents have gone back to the high levels which prevailed before the special session of 1932 decreed reductions ranging from 10 per cent to 25 per cent.

The constitution provides salaries of $2500 each for the secretary of state, auditor general and state treasurer while the statutes set up for the creation of the state administrative board provide additional pay in the sum of $2500 each. The governor is entitled to draw $5000 and the attorney general $5000. Each of the incumbents in 1932 following the action of the legislature and the recommendation of the governor voluntarily reduced their pay checks to $4500. Governor Wilbur M. Brucker setting the example by taking a voluntary cut to $4000. Under the new deal all these salaries are now back to their boom time levels.

Webster Pearce, former superintendent of public instruction, was entitled under the law to a salary of $5000 but he voluntarily thought that too much to extract from the pockets of the hard-pressed taxpayers of Michigan so he took a voluntary cut of 25 per cent and ordered his check drawn for the remainder of his term at the rate of $3750. Paul F. Voelker assumed office July 1 and about the first official act he performed was to order his pay boosted to the top figure which might legally be drawn. He is now being paid at the rate of $500 a month or $20 per day or $6000 per year, any way one prefers to figure it.

Back to $7500
Grover C. Dillman also could have insisted that his pay check be drawn at the statutory rate of $7500 set by a profligate legislature back in the halcyon days when property owners still had incomes from which taxes might be paid. Realizing the distress of the taxpayer and the condition of the treasury in the spring of 1932 Mr. Dillman voluntarily reduced his salary to $6750 with years of experience. (Continued on page two)

Democrats Of County To Picnic Saturday

Arrangements have been completed for a county-wide picnic, sponsored by the Women's Democratic club of the county, which will be held Saturday afternoon and evening of August 12, at Stevens grove, Whitmore Lake.

The picnic is open to all interested and Washtenaw families are invited to attend and join with the gathering in a basket supper. Each family is requested to take its own sandwiches, dishes and silver, and a dish of food to pass.

The picnic will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with the speaking program at 4, the basket luncheon at 5:30 and dancing in the pavilion from 7 to 9 o'clock. Swimming and other sports will be enjoyed.

William L. Walt, county chairman, will preside for the program and addresses will be given by Governor William A. Cavanaugh, Congressman John C. Lehr, of Monroe, George J. Burke, president of the Washtenaw Bar Association, Murray Van Waggoner, state highway commissioner, and Horatio J. Abbott, national committee man and newly appointed collector of internal revenue for Michigan. It is expected that most of the state officers will be present. John Hoey of Dexter will render solos.

Mrs. J. Edward McKenna of Chelsea is a member of the committee of arrangements.

POORE RESIGNS

The resignation of E. Y. Poore, who has served as superintendent of the Chelsea public schools for the past year, was accepted by the Board of Education at an adjourned meeting which was held Friday night. A new superintendent will be employed by the Board before the beginning of the school year.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

The Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church will have a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Quirk of Lima on Thursday, August 17. Ice cream, cake, frankfurters, rolls and coffee will be served. Everyone invited.

Twilight Ball Season Will Close Friday

Chelsea's Twilight Ball season will come to a close on Friday evening of this week. The six teams entered in the league have played good baseball during the season and have provided good entertainment for the large crowds which have attended the games.

Plans are being made for a post season game, which will be played Friday evening, August 18. As will be seen by the standings the Trojans are easily carrying away the pennant and an All-Star team, to be selected by popular ballot of baseball fans, will play the winning team on that date, the game to start at 6:15 sharp.

A ballot to be used in voting for the most popular players in the league outside the Trojan line-up, is printed below. A ballot box will be placed in Kolb's Restaurant and all of the votes must be in the box by 7 o'clock Monday evening so the All-Star team can get together for some practice.

Names of the players of both teams will be published in next week's Standard.

Petitions Presented

for More Street Work

Petitions were presented to the council at their regular meeting Monday evening, asking for black top surfacing of Orchard and Summit streets. A petition asking for the curbing of East street from Park to East Middle was also presented. All the petitions were placed on file for further consideration at a later meeting.

W. T. Rye, Monroe contractor who was awarded the work of surfacing East Middle, Park, South and East field streets, expects to bring his equipment to Chelsea next week and to start work immediately on East Middle street. Several weeks' time will be required to complete the surfacing of these four streets. Local labor will be employed on the project.

The council also took action to extend the time for payment of village taxes to September 1th.

STOFER BARN BURNS

A large barn on the farm of Mrs. Minerva Stofer in Lyndon township was destroyed by fire about 11:30 Saturday forenoon, together with the contents, consisting of a large quantity of hay and grain, and several farm implements. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have caused the fire.

The Chelsea fire department responded to a call and succeeded in saving another barn and the outbuildings. The loss is covered by insurance.

Committee Chosen To Reduce Acreage Of Wheat Seeding

Julius Bradenitz, Saline township, Edw. Foster, Ypsilanti township, Frank Gelger, Salem township, Fred Blumhardt, Bridgewater township, Carl Mast, Webster township, John Schmidt, Ann Arbor township, and George McCalla, Ypsilanti township, are the men chosen in Washtenaw county as members of the organization committee to begin the work of reducing the wheat acreage in this county as requested by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

This committee will be charged with explaining to Washtenaw farmers and business men how the plan will work and how the people of this county will benefit from its operation.

The purpose of the wheat production plan is to insure the farmer a price for his wheat which is equal in purchasing power to that of the 1914 wheat crop. This can be obtained only by reducing the production of wheat to a point that guarantees a generous supply for the needs of the people of the United States but that does not create an enormous oversupply to demoralize the domestic and the world wheat markets.

There is no danger of reducing the supply of wheat below the amount needed for food and all other purposes. The United States now has a carryover of old wheat of 360,000,000 bushels. This mountain of wheat has overhung prospective rises in the market and avalanches from it have overwhelmed upward price movements.

An admittedly short crop in 1933, a knowledge that the federal government is pledged to assist wheat farmers, and public speculation in wheat futures caused the recent gain in grain prices. A drop of 80 cents a bushel in prices in two days from the high point is ample evidence of the panic that seizes speculators when they stop to think what will happen when the avalanche of unneeded wheat starts pouring into the market.

The Washtenaw county committee believes that every wheat grower is entitled to a stabilized market for his product and that all business men in this section will benefit from the increased purchasing power that better prices will bring to our farm people. The plan of the federal government to aid farmers does not single them out for undue benefits. Farmers have carried the burden of supplying the nation's food during a period when they saw their debts increasing with every crop year. A bountiful supply of every food stuff has moved into the nation's market through years when mortgage foreclosures were ever present threats.

Meetings will be held in every wheat growing community in this county and at these meetings members of the organization committee will explain what the government asks and how it promises to reward those who cooperate. Permanent local committees and a county association will be chosen later by wheat growers to supervise the federal plan in Washtenaw county.

Dexter Sells Meat Market To A. Duerr

Mr. Duerr has been in the employ of the Loeffler & Son meat market for a number of years. His many local friends wish him well in his new business venture.

lance in developing Michigan's highway system to his credit. A county drain commissioner was elected to the office last April and one of his first official acts was to order his pay check drawn at the full rate of $7500. Every effort was made during the session to reach the five republican members of the public utilities commission. Not only were their salaries considered to be excessive but it was also believed that three good men could do as good or better a job. Politics prevailed however by reason of the fact that a few democrats yielded to offers of patronage and joined the standard republicans in saving their "pup". The commission stood as it existed before the "new deal" took hold. At one time the commissioners accepted a slight reduction from their $7000 salary scale. Now they are back and blithely signing checks for their own pay at top notch figures.

Exceeds Budget

Patrick Henry O'Brien was a warm advocate of the "new deal". Even at the inaugural ceremony he could not refrain from making a speech on its possible benign influence upon the happiness of the people of Michigan. His was the first of the department's 100 per cent democratic. Even the old messenger who had worked faithfully during all previous regimes and whose pittance was too small to permit him accumulating a competence, was thrown out on his back car in his old age and told to go. Again it may be said that about the first official act of the new incumbent was to scan the payroll with disfavor and order all salaries of his chief assistants as well as his own back to the top figures. He immediately demanded $5000 while his son was let down in second place at $4500. A year ago it cost Michigan taxpayers close to $81,000 a year to pay off its department of lawyers. Today the schedule calls for an annual expenditure of $115,000 in salaries alone. How this is to be accomplished on a budget set by the legislature at a total for all purposes of $117,000 with only $75,000 provided for salaries, is a question. Of course, being the atorney general, Mr. O'Brien has the chance to make his own rulings and already he has displayed a master hand at bending legal opinions to suit the occasion.

Samuel Metzger is another gent who lost no time in padding his own paycheck. He was elevated from a small town farm produce shipper to become director of agriculture. His predecessor had voluntarily submitted to a cut of 25 per cent from his statutory salary of $5000—but the newcomer ignored this and demanded that his checks be drawn at the rate set when farmers received something for what they produced. In order to accomplish something to boast about this was the first of the department's 100 per cent democratic. Even the old messenger who had worked faithfully during all previous regimes and whose pittance was too small to permit him accumulating a competence, was thrown out on his back meals for farmers who came to Lansing to transact business with his department. Any farmer who as yet has not received that free meal at the hands of the hospitable Mr. Metzger should date him up at once.

Not Nira Policy

Most of the state officials who have tilted their salaries attempted an alibi that the move was in keeping with the president's Nira ideas. They evidently have forgotten that most of the president's efforts have been directed toward providing a living wage for the actual workers. While a few high officials are peeling off generous slices from the treasury roll, there are about 10,000 ordinary employees—clerks, stenographers, accountants, bookkeepers, janitors and watchmen, nurses, keepers and highway workers—who still continue to get along on the low wages set by the economy commission and the 1933 budget.

Certainly none of these officials are led to believe the distress of the state has been cured. Certainly they do not know and cannot claim ignorance of the fact that, in order to pay the salaries provided before June 1 and during 1932, the state treasurer was forced to dip into trust funds and special purpose revenues to pay running expenses and meet the payrolls. In fact such inroads had been made up on these special purpose and trust funds that on July 1 last when orders were issued to return to prosperity salary schedules, the general fund of the state was in the red to the extent of $15,000,000. The hard-pressed workman who is forced to pay a tax on milk and bread and on shoes and clothing and on school books he is forced to purchase for the sustenance of wife and children and the farmer who is told he must pay a sales tax on seeds and fertilizers and crop and on foods for his animals, will not need be reminded that large banks of his hard-earned wages and a lot of the meager returns from low priced produce are going to keep up fancy salaries for state officials who last fall were weeping on the necks of voters and telling them how to vote.

Same Savings

It should be stated here in justice to at least two of the state officials that while their own salaries have been tilted the total cost for their entire departments are lowered. The fact that no tax sales are in prospect before 1935 has permitted Auditor General Stack to cut out some employees while certain shifts in methods and short cuts in efficiency has enabled Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, to accomplish some savings, the former cutting his total annual expense from $236,265 to $215,965 and the former reducing his annual outlay of wages by about $3000. The payroll in the office of Governor William A. Comstock for the two weeks just ended amounts to $861 as contrasted with $720 paid out for Governor Wilbur M. Brucker's staff during the same period a year ago. The utilities commission payrolls have increased at the rate of $24,000 annually, the excuse for this being that the work of the department has been increased.

At least it can be said that the regents of the University of Michigan have done a fairer job of adjusting salaries than the department heads at Lansing have done for themselves. The budget of that institution was subjected to the most drastic cut of any state institution. It was the largest of any and presented the largest salaries paid anywhere in the state. Naturally it was able to stand a more severe cut with less danger to its continued service than any of the smaller colleges.

Take it on Chin

In direct contrast with the politically minded and suddenly elevated department heads at Lansing, the higher paid members of the faculty at the university "took it on the chin" as it were. Instead of swinging the political axe against the helpless necks of ineffectual stenographers and clerks and leaving them without a decent meal check in order that the "chief" might enjoy his royal emoluments, the regents turned about. They attacked the problem from the other end. In order to whip their budget into balance and keep their faculty force intact, the higher-ups were asked to accept a slash of 20 per cent while others were asked to take a leave of absence until times get better. All above $7500 are being cut one-fifth while all employees below $1500 are not being disturbed. Above $1500, the first $2000 is given an eight per cent cut, the second $2000 is clipped to the tune of 12 per cent and the third $2000 is reduced by 15 per cent.

Drastic as this appears at first, a careful analysis will disclose that a professor drawing $9000 before the reduction will now receive exactly $8,000—a little less than a ten per cent reduction. A professor previously drawing a salary of $3500 will now receive $3340 while one previously receiving $6500 will hereafter receive only $4615.

Hard Task Ahead

Other institutions have as difficult a task before them as have the regents. Hospital heads have an especially troublesome job—to retain their personnel and keep the tables of their institutions supplied with food. The budgets set for them must be adhered to. They have no statutory salaries to hide behind. If wages outside are increased in keeping with the Nira program it may be possible that the purpose for which the governor may first be forced to call a special session will be that of increasing the wages set for employees of institutions and to provide food and clothing for the unfortunate wards of the state.

At least it can be said that the members of the state administrative board, each of whom have seen to it that they have received their own, cannot very well turn a deaf ear toward the pleas which are almost certain to come from institution heads.

Beer Figures Lacking

No figures are yet easily obtainable regarding the free methods adopted by the beer control commission in helping themselves to the revenues obtained from the tax on 3.2 beverages. The beer bill which finally run the gauntlet of controversy which raged in house and senate and in the office of the governor during its turbulent passage, places the responsibility for fixing the salary of the chief of staff only. All other employees have their salaries and their emoluments set by the commission and rumors are that they are paid plenty. Until some reports are filed it will be impossible to determine just how much is being paid or just how generous the commission is in the matter of expense accounts.

The sales tax commission also has a free hand in dipping into the rich treasuries of that new revenue measure. It is expected that when the reports of that body are available there may be some startling discoveries. Perhaps the greed with which the members of this commission are seeking every possible article or piece of intangible personal property which they can claim is being sold at retail may be induced by a desire to have plenty of money to spend on their respective departments and to be certain that there are no payless pay days.

Michigan
Department of State

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Frank D. Fitzgerald
Secretary of State

Lansing, Mich.—Definite knowledge of the amount of emergency welfare relief funds which will be available to the various counties from the $12,000,000 appropriation in the sales tax act, will be available sometime next week, according to members of the finance committee of the state administrative board.

First reports and applications for license must be filed with the board of tax administration by August 15. Several days must elapse before these figures are tabulated. If the first month's proceeds exceed $2,600,000 the additional amount will be set aside for the use of primary schools which were given a supplementary appropriation of $15,000,000 if the sales tax collections will bear that burden.

The Michigan Department of State is the first state department in Michigan to fall in line with President Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Program. In a telegram to the President, Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald said:

"The Michigan Department of State will do everything possible in aiding NRA to success."

Salaries and wages at the present time come under NRA provisions for "white collar" workers and additional jobs will be created by a more extensive use of the department's system of staggered employment.

The Department of State will not add a single employee to its payrolls for the administration of the new "chain store" tax.

The average person estimates there are five or six chains of stores operating in the state. Already the department has received applications for licenses from more than 50 chains.

Motorists entering Michigan to establish residence or accept employment must purchase Michigan license plates, according to rulings by the Attorney General and the Department of State.

The state law permits the use of plates from other states for not more than ninety days. This provision is designed to encourage tourists and visitors. When persons live in neighboring states and commute into Michigan daily to make their livelihood here, however, they are not classed as tourists and must pay the Michigan license fee. The same rule applies to those coming into the state to reside. The Department of State gives such owners ten days to comply.

SOUTH LYONS—The longest

mortgage ever recorded on the books of the Livingston county Register of Deeds was accepted for filing at Howell, July 25th. The mortgage given by the American Aggregates Corporation (owners of the Green Oak gravel pit) called for recording of 228 pages of printed descriptions totalling about 91,000 words. The tax was quoted at $1,462.50, paid in Wayne county. Filing fee in Livingston county was $136.50. The mortgage is given by the Aggregates Corporation to the Huntington National Bank of Columbus as co-trustee. The amount of the mortgage is given as one million five hundred thousand dollars, with $1,245,000.00 listed as properties in the State of Michigan. P. D. Coppock signed the papers for the mortgage corporation.—Herald.

TUCUMSEH—The early history of the milling business in Tecumseh was told to members of the Tecumseh Rotary club on Tuesday by Perry Hayden, president of the 'Wm. Hayden Milling Co. Mr. Hayden traced the history of the first mill here in the early 1800's until 1935, when the Globe mill, now the Hayden mill, was founded. He also showed members a stone, recently removed from the old mill by Henry Ford employees that bears the date of 1837. The old mill recently was given to Mr. Ford by the Hayden and the automobile manufacturer is building a new factory on the site.—Herald.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Why do they always refer to a ship as feminine—that is, they call a ship "she," and never "he"?

Ans.—We don't know. We submitted the question to one man, however, who said "they call a ship 'she' because they were so hard to steer."

Ques.—I would like to know out of curiosity if Aguinaldo, the Filipino who led the insurrection against the United States many years ago, is still living? If so, what is he doing? And how old is he now?

Ans.—Emilio Aguinaldo is still living in the Philippine Islands, where he is peacefully fighting for Philippine independence. He is 60 years old.

Ques.—Can you tell me what is meant by the words "gold certificates" on some of the United States money, while on some other money it doesn't appear?

Ans.—Gold certificates represent actual gold or bullion that is held in the treasury of the United States for their redemption on demand. Bills not marked "gold certificates" are redeemable in silver coin or bullion or may be used as a medium of exchange for all commodities within the borders of the United States.

Ques.—I was born in Germany and came to this country with my parents when I was 4 years old. A few years later my father was killed, but he had not been naturalized as a citizen. I lived here continuously until now I am 24 years old. Am I a citizen of the United States or a citizen of Germany?

Ans.—You are a citizen of Germany. Inasmuch as your father had not taken out naturalization papers you are considered as alien and must follow the regular procedure of naturalization.

Ques.—What is the object of the Smithsonian Institution? Who founded it, owns it and governs it, and where is it located?

Ans.—James Smithsonian, an Englishman, who died in 1826, left in his will $500,000 to found an institution "to bear his name and to increase the diffusion of knowledge among men." It was founded in 1846 according to the terms of the will, at Washington, D. C. It was named the Smithsonian Institution, and it is governed by a board of regents consisting of the vice-president, the chief justice of the Supreme Court, three members of the Senate, three from the House of Representatives and six private individuals named by Congress. The Institution belongs to the United States.

Ques.—Is it true that both Alexander Hamilton and his son were killed in duels? If so, can you tell me if they were killed at the same time?

Ans.—Yes, both were killed in duels. Alexander Hamilton was killed by Vice-President Burr, but three years before this "duel of honor" Philip Hamilton, a son, who was 20 years old, was killed by George Eckker, a New York lawyer, in a duel which grew out of a quarrel in a theater. Both duels occurred near the same spot, but were three years apart.

Ques.—I am told that the boundary line between the United States and Russia in the Bering Straits passes through an island. If that is true, can you tell me which country owns the island?

Ans.—Both the United States and Russia have jurisdiction respectively on their side of the imaginary line.

The narrowest part of the Straits is 65 miles wide, and the boundary line and island are midway, which accounts for the line passing through it.

Ques.—Where can I find in the Bible this saying: "Every tub shall stand on its own bottom?"

Ans.—This old proverb does not occur in the Bible at all. Its origin is lost in antiquity. However, John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" uses this expression, which is slightly different: "Every vat must stand upon his bottom."

Ques.—What causes nervousness?

Ans.—A healthy nerve is always ready to carry a message just as soon as it is given one. If for any reason the body is in poor condition, the nerves sometimes get too anxious for orders, like a race horse which wants to start off instantly the order is given. This makes what we call nervousness. This makes us fidgety, grumpy, sometimes orders are taken. When the muscles when none have been sent which makes one twitch and tremble.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Phelps and children of Stockbridge called on Mrs. Lefe Smith Sunday.

Mrs. Schuyler Foster and daughter Lucy called on Mrs. Homer Hoyd on Sunday.

Mrs. Homer Hoyd visited Mrs. Frank Gramer, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Griffin have rented apartments in Chelsea and expect to move there in the near future.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. Homer Hoyd was given a happy surprise last Wednesday, August 2 when a number of her friends gathered at her home to help her celebrate her birthday. Those present were Mrs. Luella Lamb and son of Detroit, Mrs. Anna Anson and daughter of Chicago, Mrs. Edith Weber and daughter Dorothy of Chelsea, Mrs. Lefe Smith and grandson of Sylvan. The dinner was served on the lawn. The table was centered with a birthday cake from Mrs. Lamb. Mrs. Hoyd was well remembered by absent friends with letters, cards and flowers. The afternoon was spent in a social way, pictures being taken of the three generations present. The guests departed for their homes wishing Mrs. Hoyd many returns of the day.

A tribute to the old friends: There is to the old friends, true, who share in all that we do, and have learned all our ways. Through many yesterdays. Theirs are the hearts that share. All that we meet or care; Theirs are the eyes that see. Though grave our faults may be; The good that lies below, That's why we love them so!

Yale Lock Safety

A degree of safety is provided by the regular shape of the key for Yale locks, so that no two keys will fit the same lock. The notches of the average key run in-out-in-eight depths, so that there are five notches, and the number of different keys possible is eight to the power of five, i. e., 32,768. The notches are cut automatically to the required depth and the pins in the plug are made afterward to correspond. Still a further number of key changes is obtained by milling grooves lengthwise on the sides of the keys to correspond with similar grooves in the keyway in the plug. By varying the shape and location of these grooves a great range of key changes is made possible.

Our Part in Government

TODAY men of all nations are evidencing deep interest in the affairs of their respective governments. This progressive attitude has undoubtedly resulted from the ceaseless, though not always recognized, influence of the wonderful Christian teaching that in the eight or nine centuries ago, the world did not mean that every person as a citizen can have assigned to him a special public duty. However, to every one comes the privilege, as well as the duty, of being a supporter of right government, and this is indeed a high office. To each citizen come opportunities to support a righteous government through intelligent thinking. Through the cultivation and exercise of such qualities of thought as are implied by the words "understanding," "wisdom," "civility," and "loyalty," the individual can prepare himself to be a useful citizen in his community.

Christian Science enables one to regard those subjects in their true light. As men begin to grasp the truth concerning God's government, and to prove their understanding by bettering individual thinking, they find themselves willing and ready to accept the responsibilities of useful citizenship.

Many opportunities are thus made available by spiritual understanding. This understanding includes intelligent comprehension, enlightenment, alertness. One who through Christian Science seeks to understand the government, its purposes, methods, and aims, has an intelligent stand and whereby to measure its acts. He is not misled by false propaganda or by personal influence. He casts his ballot on the side of integrity, sound sense, and progress. In this way he rises above the limitations of a merely material sense of government and begins to demonstrate the truth concerning real government, for he has learned the spiritual nature of man, an intelligent son of an all-wise God, the perfect Mind.

Charity, too, is an open door to opportunities for service. It may be described as a true sense of love. Charity is the attitude which rejoices in the certainty of the ultimate triumph of good, even when evil seems threatening. To charity, evil is only a deceiving false sense which may be progressively replaced with the true sense of being as spiritual. When charity governs thought, the citizen may look critically upon his government in a helpful way. He may turn the searchlight of critical inspection on the nation's functioning, and by keeping a glow in his own thought the light of wisdom, fairness, patience, and love he will be able to see not only the errors to be eradicated, but the good already accomplished.

Many doors to service are opened by the qualities expressed in the word "citizenship." Citizenship, as a way of living, has to do with such opportunities as come to the thinker in the usual walks of life, in the home, the school, or the shop. Citizenship means bringing to bear upon those activities the influence of a high idealism. It means practicality. Jesus' Golden Rule, "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." For the student of Christian Science to be a good citizen he must practice the truth discovered and founded by Mary Baker Eddy. That this religion is the Science of Jesus' teachings has been proved many times by the works which its students have done and are doing through the spiritual laws of standing in God's law. He who practices Christian Science in ways small or great, is well prepared to take his place as a servant of mankind. Speaking of "a knowledge of the Science of Being," Mrs. Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 128): "It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity." Surely, one so equipped can turn a strong subject to the right attitude of civic government. The doorway to the highest service is opened through the power for good in prayer. Prayer founds thought on the divinely substantial Rock, Christ, the true idea of God, the strong foundation for the superstructure of harmonious living. True prayer awakes and the Christian Scientist turns to pray availing not alone for the good of himself, but for the whole world. Christian Science, prayer is fervent, reverent, unselfish, it is spiritual vision. Prayer is that mental attitude which rests on the conviction that God Love is the only cause and creator, and that every real effect is Godlike. Prayer breaks the mesmerism of hereditary material sense, and through the mist it reveals God's power, governed by God. Through prayer consciousness is filled with the living facts of being; it is replaced with unselfish love; it is replaced with brotherhood, just with peace, and ignorance with wisdom.

"Are we benefited by praying?" asks Mrs. Eddy on page 8 of Science and Health and her immediate answer is, "Yes, the desire which goes forth hungering after righteousness is blessed of our Father, and it does not return into a void." As men universally learn so to pray, the mental atmosphere of the whole world will be infused with loving-kindness, and all can then enter the angelic rejoicing, recorded by the Revelation, "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Flying Dutchman Fable Hooked Up With Piracy

The Flying Dutchman, which is fabled to appear during tempestuous weather off the Cape of Good Hope, is considered an omen of ill luck. The tradition, as stated by Sir Walter Scott, is "that she was originally a vessel loaded with great wealth on board of which some horrid act of murder and piracy had been committed; that the plague broke out among the wicked crew, who had perpetrated the crime, and that they called in vain from port to port, offering, as the price of shelter, the whole of their ill-gotten wealth; that they were excluded from every harbor for fear of the contagion which was devouring them; and that as a punishment for their crimes, the apparition of the ship continues to haunt those seas in which the catastrophe took place."

According to another story, the Flying Dutchman was a ship whose captain met with contrary winds while trying to round the cape on his return from the East Indies in 1800. Advised to put back, he swore he would round it in spite of God and the devil, even if he strove until judgment day. He was taken at his word, and his ship still struggles in vain against head winds, and brings disaster on all who see her. Captain Marryat's "The Phantom Ship" is founded on this legend.

First Post Office Set Up at Boston in 1639

The first date of importance in the story of the North American post office is 1639. In that year the General Court of Massachusetts ordered "that notice be given that Richard Fairbanks, his house in Boston, is the place appointed for all letters, which are brought from beyond the seas, or are sent thither, to be left with him and he is to take care that they are to be delivered or sent, according to direction, and he is allowed for every letter a penny and he must answer all messages through his neglect of this kind."

A postal system was established in 1639. "The Colonial law required every planter to provide a messenger to convey the dispatches, as they arrived, to the next plantation, and so on, on pain of forfeiting a hog's head of tobacco for default." In 1673 the government of New York established a mail to go monthly to Boston. The General Court of Hartford enacted laws in 1674 to regulate the postal services in Connecticut. William Penn set up a post office at Philadelphia in July, 1681, and opened mail routes between that city and the larger towns of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Animals 500,000,000 Years Ago

A strange fossil of a hitherto unknown primitive creature that perished possibly 500,000,000 years ago has been described by the Smithsonian Institution. There are strong indications that it is the earliest example whose form has been preserved in the rocks of that great order of animals which includes the corals, jellyfishes, and sea anemones, as well as such weird sea creatures as the Portuguese man-of-war. This member of the tangled lines of evolution is found extending back to the very horizon of life on earth—the Lower Cambrian geological period, in whose rocks are found the first fossil organisms which definitely can be identified as animals. This order is that of the Coelenterata, described by zoologists as the third most primitive division of the animal kingdom. Below them are only the single-celled protists, and these evidently organized colonies of cells, the sponges.—Boston Globe.

Civil War Finances

The British government did not finance either side during the Civil War, though both sides sold bonds in Britain and other foreign countries. The Confederates had hoped to finance their operations through the sale of cotton, but the blockade interfered with this plan. British subscribers to the Blander Bonds for the Confederacy in 1863 lost millions of dollars. Dewey's Financial History of the United States states that while the war lasted, but little foreign capital was transferred to the United States, but when peace was established European funds were rapidly turned westward and government bonds were sold abroad in large quantities until the agitation began for the payment of bonds in currency instead of gold.

Queer. Four hundred years ago the intelligent classes thought they knew more than the intelligent classes now think they know.
