Ingham Legislator Is Kiwanis Speaker

Vernon J. Brown of Mason, member of the State Legislature and publisher of the Ingham County News, addressed a joint meeting of the Ann Arbor and Chelsea Kiwanis clubs at Sylvan Estates Monday evening. A number of local men, not members of the Kiwanis club, also attended the meeting.

Mr. Brown dealt very little upon the subject of state politics. He defended the legislature in the matter of the length of the last session and assailed the press of Michigan for their criticism of this particular branch of the state government. He explained that a large majority of the assembly went to Lansing last January with no knowledge of the duties they were elected to perform and this condition alone accounted for considerable delay in accomplishing their duties. Furthermore, he stated, problems which had never confronted a session of the legislature were presented upon this session for their consideration, including the emergency banking laws, welfare funds, new methods of taxation levies, the beer bill, etc.

The speaker discussed at length the objectives of the newly created Legislative Council, which body was made possible through an act passed by the last session of the legislature, and of which Mr. Brown is a member. This Council has under consideration many changes in the fundamental principles of the Michigan State government which will be formulated into workable and constitutional changes before they are presented to the regular session in 1939 for their consideration.

Previous to the dinner and program a ball game was played between the Ann Arbor and Chelsea Kiwanis clubs. The outcome of the game revealed that the teams were evenly matched, the game ending with a tie score of nine runs each.

Agencies Working To Prevent Unjust Increase In Prices

Washington—The agencies through which the legion of consumers now turned into actual buyers throughout the country will get protection from unwarranted price raising are exerting themselves in a manner to gain wide appreciation from many civic and women's organizations. In the NRA the Consumers' Advisory Board fights valiantly any suggestion at price hearings that bears upon unfair price fixing, inasmuch as codes of some of the industries are handled by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the same zealous care is taken by the consumers' council of A. A. to safeguard the farm recovery program from being jeopardized by unreasonable prices.

The same steps which were taken to prevent gouging on bread prices from offsetting farm benefits are being followed in checking the price structure under codes of fair competition already in operation. The consumer staff of economists has completed the first phase of a study of textile prices, summarized as follows:

1. Examples of apparently unreasonable profit-taking have been detected.
2. Vast majority of the trade, however, deserves praise for fair play.
3. Wide disparity exists in billing merchants for increases above contract prices attributable to processing taxes and employment costs.
4. Highly competitive nature of retail textile business, plus willingness of merchants to cooperate, has afforded consumers strong protection against price gouging.
5. Instances found in which manufacturers voluntarily absorbed part of processing tax cost.
6. Increase in farmers' purchasing power, still far short of A. A. A's goal, nevertheless reflecting itself in improved demand for cotton goods.

Proceeding on the basis of the price increases being the primary charges to get industry back on full time, the Consumers' Advisory Board of NRA is exercising due caution in reaching conclusions as to whether retail costs are exorbitant. In very many cases there is evidence that the President's admonition to business management to "give first consideration to the improvement of operating figures by greatly increased sales to be expected from the rising power of the public" is not being followed. Through the thousands of local boards business men are being reminded that this course defeats the purpose of the recovery program; for one thing, and that it is extremely poor judgment for another. The President's statement on signing NRA continued, "This is good economics and good business." Merchants as well as manufacturers are being told that the goal is resumption of normal conditions, and profiteering is no more permissible than is racketeering.

Hostilities being a guard against gouging, the Board is educating consumers through the multitude of organizations with which it has established contact, in budgeting for the family and in quality buying.

Harry Benoit, 21, of Detroit, was sentenced in circuit court on Saturday by Judge George W. Sample to serve from 2 1/2 to 5 years in Jackson prison for stealing cattle from the farm of Homer Stoffer in Lyndon township on August 2.

Benoit and a companion, Charles Leonard, 26, are members of a gang of cattle thieves who have been operating in several counties in southern Michigan. The latter recently received a similar sentence in Gratiot county.

Production Control Enters Second Stage

The second stage in the wheat production control campaign in Washtenaw county is under way. Hundreds of farmers have sent in the census cards indicating their desire to sign applications to participate in the cash benefits of the wheat production control campaign.

Applications are being mailed to all farmers who expressed a desire to co-operate. No applications will be received after September 25. County Agent Osler announces that farmers desiring to sign applications can obtain one from the following places: Ypsilanti Farm Bureau, Ypsilanti Sacco Grain Company Elevator; Peoples Bank; and Union Bank, Manchester; Farmers and Merchants Bank; Commercial and Savings Bank; Chelsea; Dexter Savings Bank; Dexter; Agricultural Extension Office, Court House, Ann Arbor; and Saline Mercantile Company, Saline.

Applications are to be made out in triplicate, one being sent to Washington, one remaining in the county office, and one going to the wheat grower. Each farmer is asked to make a map of his farm showing the fields, acres and crops grown in 1938. Records also must contain a thrasher's certificate together with a report of production and disposal of wheat crops for the years of 1937-38. Mr. Osler reports that farmers have said that the filling out of the blanks was not as complicated as they had anticipated.

Mr. Osler announces that he will be in the extension office, Court House, Ann Arbor, during the week from 8:00 to 12:00 a. m. and in the evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. to assist persons who want help in making out their applications. ## It's Smart to Buy Tires Now

Now...

Is the time to buy tires. Prices may go higher. If they do, it will actually cost you money to use old tires. And with fall and winter weather and wet and slippery roads just around the corner, it's a good idea to have the protection of safe new tires all around. And remember this—the wear is slower in winter than it is in summer—the tires you buy now will give you full protection all winter and you will still have good tires for next spring and summer to withstand the ravages of hot summer roads. We carry the complete line of Goodyear tires—Speedway, Pathfinder and All-Weather. At the price you wish to pay we have a Goodyear tire. Why not come in today and talk it over!

HEALTH and HYGIENE
(Smallpox)

Smallpox is a constantly threatening disease which if allowed to spread can cause a great deal of havoc, not only to the health but to the schools and business life of a community. The disease in Michigan has occurred in epidemic form a number of times, each outbreak being followed by a general decrease in infection. Universal vaccination will control the disease, but vaccination seems to be governed largely by the fear which is aroused from impending epidemics.

In a recent series of observations it was found that only about 15 per cent of the people applying for work at a state institution had been vaccinated recently enough to warrant employment. Generally, the population is not well protected against an epidemic of virulent smallpox. Since there is no law to compel us to protect ourselves against smallpox by vaccination, it remains for each individual to secure this protection, and that of his community, against epidemics of this disease.

The low incidence of smallpox in sections where vaccination is compulsory is shown in a report from Porto Rico and the State of Washington. They have about equal populations, but the island possesses in 10 years had 137 cases of smallpox while Washington had 24,183 in the same period. Greater New York City and the State of Ohio are about equal in population, but the city had 224 cases in 10 years, while Ohio has had more than 50,000 cases. New York and Porto Rico have compulsory vaccination laws. In the city of Los Angeles the laws were abolished in 1921, and just five years later an epidemic swept the city that cost 164 lives and $652,000.

In one of the recent journals, a public health officer published his experience with 100 cases of smallpox occurring in one community. Of the 100 cases, only six of the patients had been vaccinated previously. A woman, aged 60, had two vaccination scars, the more recent having been acquired 47 years before. She had the disease very mildly. A man, aged 44, had been successfully vaccinated eight years previously, but he had a well-defined eruption. A very slight eruption occurred on a man aged 50, who had been vaccinated 30 years before. A woman, aged 84, had been vaccinated more than 70 years before the exposure, and she had rather severe smallpox. There were five adult patients seriously ill with the confluent type. There were no deaths directly attributable to smallpox, but two people died from chronic disease influenced by smallpox. There was not a single fatality or any serious consequence from the vaccination of 10,000 men, women and children in this community.

The method of vaccination as now advocated by the United States Department of Health is quite simple and harmless. With improved technique and absolute purity of the vaccine as compared with 20 or 25 years ago, there can be no danger in vaccination. It is a much more simple procedure than in the days of our grandparents.

How long does a single vaccination protect one? From careful observation it has been found that 10 years is about the limit of security obtained from one inoculation. Those who were vaccinated in infancy, again at school age, and once in early adult life usually are protected for all time, but, when exposed to the disease, even these individuals should be vaccinated. It is becoming the practice of a large group of thinking citizens to be vaccinated every five years. With such a simple means of prevention at hand, it is folly, or worse, not to make full use of it.

Turks Love Their Pigeons

The love the Turks show for pigeons is remarkable. These birds are encouraged to nest in the nooks and crannies of many beautiful mosques in Istanbul and other places, regard less of the amount of damage they do, which is said to be considerable. Spel holes are left for the pigeons in many walls. Each year during the Bayram holiday Mosques goers and others make it a point to provide the pigeons with a great feast, especially in front of the courtyards of the Eyoub and Bayazid mosques. During this time old women stationed in the courtyards of the mosques sell millet for about a penny a cupful, which is a very high price for many of the poor people who buy it to feed to the much-admired birds.

Terns Like Their Woodwork

Noddy terns like to sit on wood so well that they will lay and hatch eggs on a piece of board if they can't build a nest of twigs and bits of wood, according to an official of the Smithsonian Institution. The terns, he declares, used to build their nests in the trees, but hurricanes have left many of the small islands bare.

Honorable Language

The word "honorable" means conferring respect, and is used in reference to such languages as the Chinese and the Japanese, which contain a certain class of epithets used in address to signify august, reverend, venerable, etc.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you please give in figures the longest distance ever measured by man?

Ans.—The longest distance ever measured by man is the distance from the earth to the most distant nebula known to man, which is nine hundred quintillion miles. To write this in figures, write "900" and add eighteen ciphers, pointing off every third cipher.

Ques.—When a dear friend makes me a promise and then breaks it, what should I do?

Ans.—Just have that "dear friend" make you another one.

Ques.—I wish to ask in your good paper if all the States ratified the 18th Amendment before it was made a part of the Constitution?

Ans.—No. Rhode Island and Connecticut refused to ratify the 18th Amendment.

Ques.—How can one tell which is the right and left bank of a stream?

Ans.—The right bank is to your right as you look downstream—the direction the current is flowing. The left bank then, of course, would be on your left-hand side.

Ques.—I wish to ask you what was the date of Robert G. Ingersoll's death?

Ans.—Robert G. Ingersoll died on July 21, 1899.

Ques.—Who won the World's series baseball games in 1928? Were there any home runs made? If so, who made them?

Ans.—In 1928 the New York Yankees defeated the St. Louis Cardinals four straight games in the world's series. In the series home runs were made as follows: Gehrig, 4; Ruth, 3; Bottomly, 1; Meusel, 1.

Ques.—In visiting a foreign country, is there any fee attached in getting an American passport?

Ans.—Yes. There is a fee of $10 for execution and $9 for the passport.

Ques.—When did the United States begin using the small size paper currency? Also is the old size outlawed or is it still good?

Ans.—The "new series" currency (small size) was first put into circulation in July, 1929. The value of the old size or old-series currency is not affected by the new size money. While these notes have been cancelled, they are good until they are redeemed at the Treasury or a Federal Reserve bank.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you please answer who was the hardest-hitting prize fighter in the world?

Ans.—This is a matter of opinion. Many will tell you that John L. Sullivan was the hardest hitting fighter. Likewise Jack Dempsey has his following. The quick knock-outs of these two pugilists must be given some consideration in forming an opinion. Notwithstanding this, it is our opinion that Bob Fitzsimmons was the hardest-hitting fighter.

Ques.—What has become of the alcohol-gasoline project which was claimed to give much more power and less consumption per mile to automobiles?

Ans.—Scientists are still working on the combination of alcohol and gasoline as a fuel, notwithstanding the blending of these two agents resulted in the testing of these two mixtures by the Bureau of Standards in co-operation with the Automobile Association, have not proved entirely satisfactory. These tests showed that using a 10 per cent blend resulted in nearly a 5 per cent loss of power and an increase of 4 per cent in fuel consumption, with conventional types of autos. The tests proved the reverse when used in tractors.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer in your paper the size of Lake Champlain?

Ans.—Lake Champlain, which lies between New York and Vermont, has an area of 436 square miles.

Ques.—When were the airplanes and the hydroplanes invented?

Ans.—The airplane was invented in 1903, and the hydroplane was invented in 1911.

Ques.—What should one's corn crop yield this year?

Ans.—We don't know. But sixty gallons to the acre wouldn't be bad.

Gasoline From Natural Gas

It has long been the practice to extract gasoline from natural gas. It is a very active and volatile gasoline which owes its properties to its butane and propane. For years this gasoline was mixed with petroleum gasoline to produce an excellent automobile fuel. When the farmers of petroleum developed "cracking" processes to meet the growing demand for motor fuel they found that they were generating much butane and propane on their own account. Natural gasoline being too rich for mixture with the cracked fuel, it became necessary to remove its butane and propane. Since 1927 the two have been shipped in steel bottles, tank cars, tank wagons and even in short pipe lines.

THE SEEPIESS

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOL

Happenings In The Elementary Grades

Kindergarten—There are twenty-six little ones started. They are very interested in the activities. New equipment has been ordered, and is being awaited with great anticipation.

First Grade—We are starting this new year in with a "bang" by having an enrollment of twenty-nine. Sixteen of these are girls, while thirteen are boys. Robbie Faber and Edsel Page come to us from Ann Arbor. Flo Ann Longworth is also a new pupil. We already know several new, lovely words including "mother," "daddy," "baby," and "home." Today, we found out how tall we have grown and how much we weigh. We hope that our mothers will come and see how happy we are.

Second Grade—Our enrollment exceeds that of any other grade, for we have thirty-four, seventeen of which are girls and seventeen boys. We are enjoying stories in our new Elson Readers. Our room is freshly decorated with a newly colored border of waxed maple leaves around the blackboards. What is more, we waxed the leaves ourselves. The other day we made a most delightful journey with the raindrops and saw many odd sights.

Third Grade—We can boast of twenty-seven pupils in our grade, fourteen girls and thirteen boys. We possess new number books in which we hope to make great progress. Next week will find us studying about Indians. We expect to make an Indian Teepee and some Indian costumes for ourselves.

Fourth Grade—Marvin Wolf and Donald Clark are our new boys. We have twenty-six boys and girls in all. Our new Arithmetic books are a real incentive for studying, and the new music books will help to make the year more enjoyable. Everybody seems exceptionally happy and eager to work.

Fifth Grade—The fifth grade claims twenty-four pupils on its enrollment sheet. Barbara Carpenter of Highland Park and Clarence Foster of Waterloo moved to Chelsea last summer and have joined our group. We are looking forward to a happy and profitable year together.

Sixth Grade—There were 33 pupils enrolled in the sixth grade on Monday. Since then Sampson Walker has enrolled, making a total of 34. We have been quite interested in bringing in the larvae of moths and butterflies. We have one chrysalis of the black swallow tail butterfly and expect to have several more by the end of the week. The larvae feed on carrot leaves. Everyone is enjoying the nice new arithmetic books.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Sept. 11—Grace Kiss.
Sept. 15—Dorothy Beach.
Sept. 17—Paul Pilemeier.
Sept. 18—Tom Walworth, Clara Schenk.
Sept. 19—Marceline Leitch.
Sept. 22—Margaret Merkel.

We're Afraid

Mish Cash, giving the English assignment for tomorrow said that everyone should bring "Long" to class. Do you suppose she meant Huey?

How Did She Know?

Mr. Kincaid (Bookkeeping Class): What is an oral contract? Brilliant post-graduate! It is one that isn't written.

He Couldn't "Take It"

Mr. Kincaid, in biology class: Can anyone take biology first hour? Worried Frosh: I can't take it.

OUR NEIGHBORS

NORTHVILLE—The Federal Fish Hatchery located here for over 40 years will operate under a limited force, the bureau of fisheries having reconsidered its recent decision to close the last institution of its kind in this state following a deluge of letters from the Michigan members of congress and many private citizens who protested the proposed closing. Record.

MILAN—It has been known for some time that race horses are temperamental, but little has ever been said of their habits. After what occurred on the streets of Milan last Monday noon, some are of the opinion that not unlike the temperamental artists, the race horses have taken to smoking cigarettes. But perhaps that is more conjecture. Last Monday noon, a truck with two race horses, evidently coming from one of the nearby county fairs, rounded the corner of Dexter and County streets on US-23. As the truck turned the corner, the straw in the truck broke into flames. Only the quick work of gas station attendants saved the horses and the truck. No cause could be given for the starting of the blaze and one guess is as good as another. Leader.

CHARLOTTE—The largest number of trains passing over the Michigan Central in recent years was the record made from midnight Sunday until midnight Monday, the total being 45. There were eight sections of No. 30, carrying people to the world's fair, and practically all trains, both east and west bound, were run in at least two sections. Train No. 40, east bound, was run in four sections both Sunday and Monday. No. 16 east bound was run in three sections as was No. 15, west bound. Above total includes freight trains but due to its being Sunday, when freight traffic is usually light, the bulk of the trains were passenger. (Albion Recorder)—Republican-Tribune.

SCHOOL DAYS

School days, school days,
Good old golden rule days;
Readin' and writin' and rithmetic,
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick.
You were my queen in calico,
I was your bashful barefoot beau;
You wrote on my slate
"I love you Joe,"
When we were a couple of kids.

Another One
School days, school days,
Good old stolen "chew" days;
Paper wads, "rasers," and bits of chalk
Followed by oceans of "cessant" talk.
You were my girl friend in silks and lace,
On me, your sweetie, you had a case;
You wrote on my sliker
What I couldn't erase,
When we were a couple of kids.

Senior Statistics

At last the Seniors have reached the last lap of their goal, for which they have been earnestly striving. The year was opened with an enrollment of thirty-two members, with a new member, Barbara Bleecker. The group elected the following students for their class officers:

President—Milo Taber.
Vice President—Donald Rank.
Secretary—Barbara Bleecker.
Treasurer—Roger Hinderer.
Supt. Bleecker was elected class sponsor, of which he kindly accepted. We are in great hopes that this year will be both a full and prosperous one.

Junior Jabber

Did you know—or have you heard? That there are actually 49 pupils enrolled in the Junior Class? That there were 48 pupils in our Sophomore Class last year, and though two students have failed to answer the "ding" ding! this year that we still have three new ones to make up for the loss?

That we are very proud of such a record? Don't you think we have reasons to be proud?

That the new Juniors are Miss Dorothy Boyce, Miss Shirley Carpenter and Allen Broesamle?

That on Wednesday night the Juniors had a class meeting? At this meeting Miss Hazard was chosen as our class sponsor; Ruth Bareis, class president; Nicholas Panarites, vice-president.

That although the remaining officer has not been chosen we believe that the Juniors are perhaps trying to live up to the motto: "Make Haste Slowly."

Sophomore Send-off

Our Sophomore class history thus far can be put in a nutshell. It is very small but yet important during our high school days. On September 14 a class meeting was held. The newly elected officers were as follows: President—Jean Bleecker.

Vice Pres.—Moritz Brueckner.
Sec. and Treas.—Viola Krumm.
The new Sophomores are as follows: Jean Bleecker, LaRue Wolf, Ruth Strachan, John McGarvey, Mildred Hartman, Earl Kalmbach.

Freshman Facts

The Freshman class began their school years with forty-two members. They have had their class meeting and elected the following officers:

President—Harold Bleecker.
Vice President—Eileen Adam.
Secretary—Muriel Martin.
Treasurer—Harley Prudden.

Football Team Is Working Hard

Chelsea High football team is working hard for its first game. Coach Spaulding has had the boys scrimmaging each night.

The squad lost three boys: J. Howe, M. Howe and L. Tisch, due to ineligibility. Although the starting lineup is not definitely known the loss of these men will be severely felt.

The Chelsea squad is adopting a new system and may not flash any brilliant plays but the boys will be in there fighting.

Chelsea has a large squad, including many Sophomores and Freshmen who lack experience. The backfield is fairly well set but as yet the line has not taken any definite character. The squad will assure a good game and asks your support at the first game to be played in Saline on Friday, Sept. 22.

Editorial

A school is no better than its students. Almost without exception those schools that have become famous as halls of learning and culture have achieved this reputation through the work and accomplishments of its students—some before graduation, some after. Schools gain reputations not from efficient teachers or elaborate materials for instruction, but from the attitudes and activities of their students.

Interscholastic activities offer an excellent means for developing good will and should by all means be encouraged. Athletic contests, debates, scholastic contests, and social events are places for display of hospitality, friendliness and sportsmanship. Not only must those qualities be displayed to visitors, they are most necessary to the conduct of a "good school." As we welcome the new year let us plan to improve upon our school attitude. If necessary, let us turn over a "new leaf," a leaf which reveals COOPERATION in great big letters!

BIG PARTY

Well folks, the social season has now begun to commence! The first big event of this here season will be a big shindig that will be given by nothing else than that there famous highfalutin Senior Class of 1934! The orchestra for this here occasion will be that famous horn tutin man from the big city of Ann Arbor, none other than "Russ Howard" and his "Stevendores". The funds of this here affair will go towards the "Washington Trip" and from what I heered they seems to be agoin' there in spite of everything. Well folks, I reckon that all there is to say, 'cept that it'll cost the men folks 35c and the lady folks 15c, and if some of youse guys feels flush and feel that you want to tote a female with you, why that'll cost youse 50c. Hope to see youse at the party.

Oh, That Hickory Stick

On the first day of school the principal came into the Junior class room and said, "Are there any Juniors in here who have not enrolled? If there are, come outside and I'll take care of you."

At the close of an announcement that all ninth grade boys should meet in Mr. Cross' room, Roger Hinderer arose and walked out of the study hall.

Lost, One Seat!

Miss Hazard, who was earnestly taking roll; Jim, have you a seat? If not, please find one.

No St. Petersburg

The name of St. Petersburg, Russia, was changed to Petrograd September 1, 1914; and from Petrograd to Leningrad January 21, 1924.

An Old Salt Producer

For antiquity of industry, Middlewich, England, probably holds the record. Relics collected there for a museum prove that salt manufacturing has been the chief business of Middlewich since the days of the Roman occupation.

BROOKLYN—J. F. Daugherty

tells the Exponent that he stood looking out over his fields of tall corn the other day when he heard music in the air. At first he thought it came from one of the usual auto parades, but no horn blaring car came around the curve in the highway cement. Then he looked higher and saw an airplane sailing over at no great height. Above the drone of the motor came the music. He became conscious that some up-to-date aviator had installed a radio and loud-speaker.—Exponent.

Don't judge its performance by its moderate price
COMPARE it with ANY CAR

"If YOU want $3000 performance for a third of that cost, go get an Oldsmobile!" writes an enthusiastic owner who has long owned high priced cars. He simply confirms the opinion of thousands of people. For the modest price of the Six and Straight Eight leaves you totally unprepared for the breath-taking performance of these two Style Leaders! This is a challenging statement. We don't ask you to believe it. But we do urge you to test it—yourself! Compare Oldsmobile with any car. We are glad to rest our case on that—and that alone!

Ontario's Gold in Veins
Down Deep in the Ground

Ontario's gold is found in veins of white quartz, which dip sharply and deeply into the ground. No one knows how far down some of them go—say, a mile or more. The term "vein" is misleading; a vein in mining is not a tube, but a flat plane. Till a layer creaks on an angle and cut it in half and one will have a rough diagram of a gold mine. The filling is a vein imbedded in the barren waste of dough. Once a vein is discovered, it may be easy to follow. The bright white quartz stands sharply out against the darker country rock. One may, or may not see gold in it.

Once a vein has been discovered and its richness, dip, and direction established, deep gold mining is more of an industrial than a speculative enterprise—a simple engineering problem of how to extract the gold most cheaply. The big Ontario mines usually have their work blocked out (once openings are actually cut through to the vein) three to five years in advance. They can actually plan ten years' work ahead and they therefore can make capital investments in heavy machinery and permanent equipment.

at Six Sextillion Tons

The weight of the earth has been computed by scientists at approximately six sextillion tons (six followed by 21 zeroes). The mass of the earth is found by comparing its gravitational attraction on a small sphere at its surface with that of a large sphere of known mass on the same small sphere. This attractive force satisfies the law of gravitation, namely that the force produced on a given small body is proportional to the mass of the attracting body, divided by the square of the distance of its center. If then the forces produced and the distances are known, we can find the ratio of the masses. Boys and Braun independently found the mass to be 5.98 times 10 to the twenty-first power, metric tons. This is the mass of a body with a volume equal to that of the earth, and with a density equal to 5,527 times that of water.

Foot-Propelled Rowboat

The art as a means of propelling a small boat was devised centuries ago and has held its place despite the repeated efforts made to displace it with something that might prove more desirable. Many contrivances have been offered but small boats continue to be moved by the use of oars. Another contraption is a mechanical device which is collapsible for easy transportation and it may be readily secured to the stern of any boat. It has a propeller and in appearance is much like the outboard motor but it is operated by foot power so that the hands and arms of the operator are free, which is a decided advantage if he desires to devote his attention to fishing.

Birth of Polo Game

Polo is believed to have originated in Persia more than 2,000 years ago and quickly came into popularity in Turkistan, Tibet, Japan and India. What name was given it by the Persians and the others is effaced by time. But the Tibetans called it polo, meaning ball, and when the sport was revived in the Nineteenth century, the English changed "polu" to polo. There is little coherent polo history from the dawn of the Christian era until its entry into India by way of Manipur in the Sixteenth century. It is established, however, that there were at least 13 different forms of polo, each peculiar to the nation in which it was played.

Colors Easiest on Eyes

American investigators find that there is less fatigue of the eye for yellow light than for red, blue and green. They also find that visual acuity and speed of vision and, in fact, all the visual functions are at their best under yellow light. A German investigator, found the same thing. He found that visual acuity and speed of vision are greater for yellow light than for green, red, white or blue. He is of the opinion that blue and red lights are the colors most fatiguing to the eye. Other German investigators have obtained the same results.

Martha's Vineyard

A most point in regard to Martha's Vineyard has been definitely settled. The name of the island is spelled with its apostrophe on official United States maps. The Massachusetts board on place names, backed by historical evidence that Bartholomew Gosnold, who landed on the island in 1602, christened it "Martha's Vineyard" in honor of Martha, his wife, persuaded the United States geographic board to conquer its passion for simplification, and the federal body ruled that the spelling, "Martha's," is correct.

The Klondike

The Klondike is a district in Yukon territory, northwestern Canada, whose limits are rather indefinite. The south of the Klondike river, which empties into the Yukon river from the east, and has several tributaries, as well as the Indian river, a second branch of the Yukon, flowing into it some distance above the Klondike. The richer gold-bearing gravels in this area are found along the creeks tributary to these two rivers, in an area of about 800 square miles.

Cooper Tires

Go As Far As You Like!

Cooper Armored Cord Construction Greatly

Increases
TIRE LIFE

A tire is said to flex or bend more than 1,000,000 times during every thousand miles. With ordinary tires this causes a smashing, grinding battle of internal friction and heat within the carcass which causes more tire trouble than all the bad roads in existence.

COOPER TIRES---

are built by the renowned Armored-Cord Construction principle by which every one of the thousands of cords are ARMORED with a coating of tough live rubber.

This prevents tire trouble by eliminating internal friction. And adds GREATER STRENGTH-FLEXIBILITY-SAFETY.

Origin of Barbed Wire

In the United States, barbed wire for fencing was originally suggested to meet conditions existing in the western states, by reason of the large cattle-raising industry in sections where timber was scarce. Farmers set themselves to find a way by which wire could be used without being destroyed by the animals it was intended to confine, and barbed wire was not unreasonably suggested itself. So immediately did this device find favor with the farmers of the United States, and, in fact, all over the world, that the manufacture of wire was revolutionized. The practical beginning of the industry was in the patents issued to Joseph F. Glidden of DeKalb, Ill., in 1874 for barbed fence wire, and during the same year to Joseph F. Glidden and Phineas W. Vaughan for a machine to manufacture it.

Words Used by Criminals

Foreign words are often corrupted both in spelling and pronunciation when used by criminals, but nevertheless serve admirably the purpose for which they are intended. Thus, a confederate for two comes from the French confederer, a girl, is from the French fille, a daughter; "hush" (now a colloquial expression) is from the Turkish hush, empty; gold, money, is from the German gold or the Dutch goud; and gonol, a thief, is taken without change from the Hebrew. Booze is possibly from one of two Dutch words, boze, a drinking cup, or buizen, to drink; Chow, food, is from the Chinese.

Erosion's Effect

The process of land depreciation by erosion has never been adequately understood. Our original wealth in soil resources has served to prevent any general realization of the fact that all land is not permanently fixed in the hills. Unrestrained soil erosion is rapidly building a new empire of worn-out land in America—land stripped of its rich surface layer down to poor subsoil and land silted behind the possibility of practical reclamation.

Meaning of "Heathen"

The word "heathen" or "pagan" commonly means adherents to polytheism or the practice of idolatry, especially among rude or uncivilized peoples. An atheist is a person who denies the existence of God or a supreme intelligent being; he could scarcely be called a heathen, as in strict use the latter term is limited to members of a nation or race that have not abandoned their original creeds.

Woman Was Originator of Father's Day Observance

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., was the originator of Father's day. She began her movement back in 1910, as a tribute to her own father, William J. Smart, a U. S. A. It veteran, who had reared his own motherless group alone. Mrs. Dodd drew up a petition addressed to the ministerial association of her home city urging such constructive teaching from the pulpit as would point out the importance of a father's place in the home.

Newspapers helped to launch the movement but did not treat the subject seriously. Congressman J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania and later Congressman Snell of New York introduced resolutions in congress to set aside a father's day for a national observance, but nothing came of their efforts.

Then the National Greeting Card association and the folklore dealers of the nation came to the rescue. Their efforts made Father's day—the third Sunday in June—a day of nationwide observance.

BURSTING wheat bins pictured above indicate how the carryover of wheat in the United States has increased since 1920. From 1920 to 1932 the carryover was about normal and a big grain elevator capacity of slightly more than 100 million bushels was sufficient for supplies from year to year. Since 1928, however, the carryover has increased rapidly. In 1928 it was nearly 800 million bushels, in 1930 it was nearly 800 million bushels, it was over 800 million bushels in 1931 and in 1932 it reached a new peak of more than 800 million bushels. Secretary Wallace has estimated that even with our short crop this year, the carryover will still be above normal a year from now because of the present large carryover, the lack of export demand and reduced feeding and, unless something is done to check it, the carryover is likely to jump again to around 800 million bushels in 1933.
