Secretary of State

Lansing.—The financial responsibility law which becomes effective October 17, is intended to protect persons and property from the acts of irresponsible persons on the highways. From scores of letters sent to the Department of State, it is evident that many motorists believe the new statute makes automobile insurance compulsory.

The law proposes to keep off the highways reckless drivers, who are involved in accidents or who fail to observe highway laws, and may not affect the vast majority of Michigan automobile drivers. Similar laws are now in effect in 20 states and several provinces of Canada.

After conviction of a major violation of motor-vehicle laws or after failing to satisfy a judgment of $300 or more growing out of a traffic accident, the motorist's license and all registration certificates of the automobile are suspended. In order to reinstate the license, the motorist must settle the judgment in the manner specified in the law and also must furnish the Secretary of State with proof of his financial responsibility to meet the costs of any future highway accidents.

This can be done in three ways. The motorist may deposit $11,000 with the state. He may file a surety bond or a real estate bond with two sureties providing for a maximum of $10,000 for personal injuries or death and a maximum of $1,000 for property damage; or the motorist may file a certificate showing that he carries motor vehicle liability insurance for the necessary amounts.

The sub-committee of the Legislative Council studying highway finance laws, recommended last week that changes in the method of financing highway construction and maintenance be made by the forth-coming special session of the legislature. The sub-committee declared that this work should be left to the 1935 session of the legislature.

The legislature may be called into special session within a few weeks if the federal government finds some plan of financing the state's institutional building program. Michigan embarked on an extensive program in 1929; reduced appropriations drastically in 1931 and then halted the program completely this year. Legislative action is necessary to alter the state law regarding state indebtedness.

OUR NEIGHBORS

CHARLOTTE.—Mrs. B. P. Moyer and daughter, Margery Chandler, and Mrs. J. H. Rand were in Ann Arbor Monday arranging for Miss Chandler to enter the University of Michigan to study for her Master Degree. She graduated from Olivet college in June.

TECUMSEH.—Green Lane Academy, a tiny tot school operated by Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, was officially opened last Monday morning. The school is located about two miles southeast of Tecumseh and has an enrollment of 20 pupils of kindergarten and pre-kindergarten age.

MASON.—A huge rock, believed to be a meteoric fragment, was found last week embedded in the soil of a field on the J. J. Fuller farm, two miles south and a mile west of Mason. The rock is about five feet in diameter and has the appearance of lava. Scattered about over an area of 20 feet in each direction of the with the state. He may file a surety bond or a real estate bond with two on display at the office of the Ingham County News. Mr. Fuller struck the rock while plowing. The top of the rock was just beneath the surface of the ground. It was not there when the oats were sowed last spring.

MANCHESTER.—For the third consecutive year, Clinton residents must get along without a corporation tax. This in view of the fact that their bank has been closed the past seven months, in which nearly all the corporation money was held. It is also a fact that with the regular receipts from the electric light and water plants the village treasurer has been able to meet all bills, and when the bank opened Monday he received the eight percent available and paid off $1200 indebtedness on the water works bonds.

PLYMOUTH.—As far as any one knows, J. H. Walton, aged 81 years, who resides at 365 Rose street, Plymouth, is the oldest man in this locality to ever take out a fishing license. The other day he walked in to see Maxwell Moon and asked to have a fishing license granted him. As Mr. Moon took down the data required by the state, the age was stated and to his surprise it was 81 years. Mr. Walton has for years been an ardent follower of Isaac Walton, there is no question about that, but he does not claim relationship to the famous fishing authority.

MILAN.—Peter Swick, one of the four surviving veterans of the Civil war in this vicinity, passed away on Thursday morning.

MILAN.—Flooded basements and clogged sewers and the necessity for night crews to clear away the water from the streets of Milan resulted from a severe electrical storm and cloud burst Tuesday night. Showers had been prevalent during a greater part of the day, but shortly after dark, thunder and lightning and a high wind were followed by torrents of rain that fairly flooded the entire community. In several sections of town limbs were blown from the high trees and considerable damage was done to the stately maples and elms. As far as can be learned no financial damage was done other than the inconvenience of flooded basements.

G., of the British army, with divisional headquarters at New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Twenty-seven depots were set up in leading cities throughout the United States, and a number of sub-depots in smaller centers, each having a small military personnel working in conjunction with local civilian committees. These missions were established by act of congress passed in June, 1917.

FIRST NIGHT AUTO RACING AT ANN ARBOR FRIDAY

Ann Arbor, Sept. 28.—The first night auto racing in Michigan will be held on the half-mile track at the fair grounds here Friday night, Sept. 29, starting at 8 o'clock. The fair association has the only night lighted track in the state. The races will be sanctioned by the A. A. A. and the drivers will be from Indianapolis, California, Detroit, Chicago and from the east. Most of the pilots are former drivers at the Indianapolis 500 mile auto race so the character of the show can be imagined.

Three years ago the Washtenaw Fair association allowed a day time auto race to be held by an unsanctioned promoter and a boy was hurt with a resultant $35,000 damage suit against the fair and the driving club.

For the race Friday night the Michigan Speedway Ass'n has been chosen to conduct the speed battles. As an indication of the character of the race W. D. Edens of Detroit, who each year runs the big 500 mile race at Indianapolis and who is in charge of the Harmsworth boat races will be here to conduct the auto races.

In addition to 50 miles of racing, which will be featured by the presence of the two seater type of race car as well as the single seater, there will be a special stock car race for stripped cars in the slow price field. For this event the No. 10 Ford V-8 in which Fred Frame won at Elgin three weeks ago has already been entered.

In California where night auto racing has brought out tremendous crowds spectators are thrilled by the spectacle.

The Ann Arbor night plant was built under instruction from U. of M. engineers. Another added feature will be the presence at the race of the entire U. of M. football squad this year.

The price of admission has been placed at 55c and a crowd of 10,000 is expected. The gates will open at 6 o'clock. The first race starts at 8 o'clock.

Presidential Shrines

New Hampshire, the Granite state, is the twelfth state to hold a Presidential shrine. Five Presidents are buried in Ohio, six in Virginia, five in New York, three in Tennessee, two in Massachusetts and one each in Illinois, New Hampshire, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana, New Jersey and Vermont. Of the twenty-nine Presidents, whose tombs are national shrines, only one rests in the capital of the United States. Woodrow Wilson rests in the National Cathedral at Washington. Tombs of the other twenty-eight vary from simple graves to edifices costing more than a half million dollars.

Chevrolet gives most miles per gallon

CHEVROLET No argument about the camel. When it comes to miles per gallon, there's nothing in all the Gobi desert—or Sahara—or anywhere else—that can beat him. No argument about Chevrolet, either. It's the most economical form of full-size transportation on wheels. You can travel a long, long way in a Chevrolet Six without a single stop for gas or oil. In fact, you can get more miles out of a gallon of gas in a Chevrolet, than you can get in any other full-size car. The best proof of this is the way Chevrolet is being preferred by leading national business firms. These firms know their mileage figures. And today, Chevrolet is their first choice by an overwhelming count. Chevrolet is also first choice of the American public by the widest margin in history.

Chelsea Scores First Victory of Season

Chelsea won their first game from Saline by a 32-6 victory. Chelsea won the toss up and Novess chose to receive. The kick-off was run back by Wallace. The ball was played deep into Saline territory when Novess was forced to kick. The point was practically blocked and Saline lost possession of the ball.

The ball was played back and forth in Saline territory. At the end of the first quarter Chelsea had possession of the ball and they were threatening Saline's goal line. After three successive line smashes Chelsea scored, West going through tackle. He fumbled the ball, Nick Panarites recovering for the touchdown.

Chelsea played by far the better game. The second quarter, Chelsea scored 20 more points. Jim Panarites took the honor by taking out the last man of the season. Jim stepped on him.

In the third quarter Saline scored a touchdown. In the last quarter West made a beautiful run for the other touchdown.

Chelsea has a good start for this year's championship.

This and That Column

Was It Bud Gulde? Sure enough making his evening call. Does he stop on Madison Park or Jefferson? Is it Madison. Fooled it was not Middle!

Helen Baxter takes biology. 4th year. Does she do biology or does she look at a Senior boy?

Jim Panarites looks worried. Perhaps he has been "waisting" too many nickles trying to get 288-J.

We know that recently a very "wacky" social affair was held at home on Park street. We think there might have been an out of town guest, because we saw a pretty red car parked nearby. What we would like to know is who won the prize.

Elementary News

First Grade
The first grade are making A-B-C books, which they find very interesting. For these books, letters are cut from colored paper, with pretty pictures to illustrate them. For nature study, a small bull-head, which was captured from a nearby lake, is now on exhibit in their classroom. Also they have a small snapping turtle and a toad. The big event of this week is the study of maple, oak, and poplar leaves. The little folks are learning to distinguish their difference. One of the little folks brought Mrs. Dancer a beautiful white rose.

What Name?

The Journalism Staff and several outside visitors of the club have expressed the desire to have a new name for the school paper.

We are going to have a contest, open to the four upper grades. The one who suggests the best name will receive the honor and one dollar.

The day to start will be announced in study hall Monday. Be thinking of what you want your school paper named.

Come on, exert your originality, and give our paper an appropriate name!

Will Serve Banquet

The Seniors, early in the month, accepted an invitation to serve a banquet for the Rural Mail Carriers Association on Saturday evening, September 30. The proceeds will be added to our trip fund.

An Invitation

The Journalism Staff extends an invitation to the newcomers of Chelsea public school to visit its meeting on Tuesday evening at four o'clock in Room 24. More contributors will be welcome.

Where to Use Soft Pedal

Think twice before you speak, but don't speak twice as much because of the delay.

Building of New Tennis Court Is In Progress

The new tennis court which is being built on the school grounds will probably be finished in a week or so. All those who live in Chelsea or attend school here are welcome to use the court.

We hope that spring will find the skilled players teaching the beginners how to play. Then perhaps we can have a real tournament.

First Social Event

Last Friday night the social side of our school year was begun. The seniors started in a good big way and here's hoping they continue their success. The ticket sales were good, according to the senior president, and we think the year's begun kays. But while the music was playing, as only those colored Stevedores can play it, and the blue spotlight was darting here and there bringing couples into the light of its ray did you notice that nearly all our newer students were there and taken care of very well by several persons?

While the orchestra played "Sophisticated Lady", how nicely a couple consisting of a senior with a somewhat of a Swedish name, and her escort, danced?

The apparently unknown young man who was in company with one of our very dignified seniors?

The freshman boy who during the intermission sat with four upper-classman girls?

Who the four juniors surrounding a very pretty brunette young lady were?

That three of the faculty were present, other than our superintendent?

That due to our victory with Saline (probably) many of the football squad were there "with bells on"?

Who the spotlight was on continually during the playing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart"?

That a Junior boy disappointed everyone if they expected him to take a very new member of the Sophomore class?

Habits of the "Hoot Owl"

Usually called the "hoot owl", the barred owl also may be seen in open spaces, or in groves of timber bordering streams and lakes. Much maligned for its food habits, it does occasionally take toll of poultry or game birds, but these are transgressions of individual and not of the species.

Expansion of Mercury
Mercury expands under heat. At its volume, for every 100 degrees Fahrenheit increase in temperature

MA AND ME

When the sunlight shadows lengthen,
And the twilight paints the sky;
While the balmy air of evening
Stiles every moan and sigh,
Often on the front veranda,
Shaded by an old elm tree,
We have sat and talked of blessings
That have come to Ma an' Me.

Few have been our days of sorrow,
Few the days of anxious cares;
Never once have lost our bearings,
Never once did we despair.
All our plans, and all our efforts,
All our prayer, and all our pleas,
Giving Him our best endeavor,
God has blessed us, Ma an' Me.

Three score years and more have witnessed
God's amazing love and care;
Seen His power, felt the uplift,
As the weightier loads Ma bore.
So tonight on the veranda,
Shaded by an old elm tree,
Here we meditate and wonder
At His love, for Ma an' Me.

—Arthur Carlton, M. E. Home.

No "He" Duds for Females

Women in Minneapolis, Minn., are prohibited from adopting the mannish mode of trousers. An ordinance, passed in 1877, specifies that "no person shall appear on any street, or in any public or exposed place in the city in a state of nudity, or in any dress not becoming to his or her sex."

"The Vinegar Bible"

"The Vinegar Bible" is one of the curious editions of the English Bible which appeared in 1717. It is so named from the heading of the twelfth chapter of St. Luke, which reads the "parable of the vineyard" instead of the "parable of the fig tree."

First Colored Bishop
Edward Thomas Pembrey was the first colored bishop in the United States. He was consecrated September 28, 1913.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer what is the value of the Capital at Washington, D. C.? When was the work begun on it and when was it finished?

Ans.—The capital building at Washington, D. C. was begun in 1798. President Washington laid the cornerstone on Sept. 18 of that year. It was finished in 1811. It was burned by the British in 1814, but was immediately restored and completed in 1827 at a cost of $2,500,000. In 1851 extensions on the two wings were begun and completed in 1869. The dome was added and completed in 1865. The building is valued at $15,000,000.

Ques.—How is it known just how much a ship weighs?

Ans.—A ship's weight is determined by the amount of water displaced by the vessel. If a vessel is floating in equilibrium in still water, the weight of the water she displaces equals the weight of the ship with everything on board. To get the weight, the displacement in cubic feet when floating in salt water divided by 35 (88 if fresh water) gives the total weight of a ship and her cargo in tons, as 35 cubic feet of salt water weighs one ton.

Ques.—I would like to know what the "Monroe doctrine" means?

Ans.—The Monroe doctrine was enunciated by President Monroe in 1823 in his message to Congress. The President said: "That the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power." It protects all governments on this hemisphere from invasion by any European power.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you please state in your question and answer column of your good paper what are the National holidays of the United States?

Ans.—There are no National holidays in the United States, notwithstanding that it is commonly believed (erroneously) that the Fourth of July and Armistice Day are national holidays. While these two days are observed in every state in the United States, they are legal holidays only, as Congress has passed no law establishing holidays for the whole country.

Ques.—How can I tell the difference between poison-ivy and poison oak? Or are they the same? What's the treatment?

Ans.—They are not the same, although they are often confused because of their similar appearance. Poison-ivy is usually found in the eastern half of the United States and Canada, while the poison oak is more prevalent in the Southern states. Each has three leaves; the leaves of the ivy are either smooth or few-toothed, while those of the oak are notched, resembling oak leaves. If you have been poisoned by either, an application of potassium permanganate is recommended for relief. Calcium chloride sprinkled on the plants while they are wet with dew will kill the plants.

Ques.—If you know so much will you please tell me where I can get a wife?

Ans.—There are lots of them right here, but we advise you not to try for any of them.

Ques.—Does Yale college have the largest stadium in the world? Or is Columbia college in New York the largest?

Ans.—Neither one. The largest stadium in the world is Soldier's Field in Chicago.

Ques.—What is meant by "Mason and Dixon line?"

Ans.—The Mason and Dixon line is the boundary between Pennsylvania and Maryland. It was so named because it was surveyed by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon. Prior to the Civil War this line was extended as a dividing line between the free and slave states.

Our Friends, the Germs,
Aid in Countless Ways

Colds, influenza, diphtheria, even tuberculosis are generally regarded as the work of malevolent germs, and one is apt to regard all the tribe as inimical to man's well-being, says a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine.

The opposite is really true. Germs are one of man's most beneficent agents and assist him in a thousand ways. They are the active factor in yeast, without which bread would be almost unobtainable. They give that appetizing flavor to good cheese and their distinctive aromas to wines and spirits. They give tenderness to meat, help in the maturing of tobacco, and in the making of linen and leather.

Germs cultures are used by corporations in the purification of sewage—the very opposite process from what one might imagine—and they fertilize the soil, nourish plants, and ripen fruit.

Mucky Egg Producers
There have been 9,344,000 eggs counted in the body of a cod; 7,038,200 in a sturgeon and 3,500,000 in a halibut.

Oil on the Waters
One of the minor troubles of the world is the nuisance of the oil on the surface of the navigable waters caused by the discharge from oil-burning steamers. It is destructive to the fish and birds alike. The World's Progress becomes smothered with the oil and it interferes with their progress and in addition to this the oil drifts into the bathing beaches. This problem has been successfully met in the case of a California yacht club whose mooring basin was found to collect this oil. A raft with a paddle wheel driven by a motor was placed at the entrance of the basin and its operation kept the oil from drifting in.

Great Lakes' Tide

There is a slight tidal movement on the Great Lakes, but so slight as to be unnoticeable so far as navigation or ordinary observation are concerned. The noticeable changes in the lake levels are due to anomalous conditions.

Cricket Takes Its Name

From Stick or Cric Used

Cricket seems to be originally a purely English game, and takes its name from the clubbed stick, or cric, first used to hit the ball. In an old book of the Twelfth century there is a picture of a woman bowling to a man with a wooden club in his hand, while several "holders" stand round, but there are no wickets. And we certainly shouldn't call a game cricket unless there are two rows of stumps in the ground. Still the game was played originally without wickets, and it was another game, called "stool-ball," that suggested to those early players that it would be fun to have something behind the batsman to hit in stool-ball, the bowler tried to hit the stool with the ball, while the batsman hit it away if he could. So before long attacks—sometimes two, sometimes three, perhaps the three legs of the stool—were used as wickets, and cricket became much more like cricket, as we think of it.

Even two hundred years ago, the shape of a cricket bat was almost the same shape as a cudgel, the wickets were two very short stumps, and the runs were scored by notches cut in a stick. —Montreal Herald.

Snakes Do Swaying Dance

When Music Is Provided

Snakes are not "charmed" by music, as such, despite the fact that from earliest times in eastern countries, as in India, many men have claimed the power to make snakes emerge and dance by playing on a pipe. Certainly, when the snake-charmer lifts the lid of a basket and plays a few notes the snake does raise its head and sway from side to side. But a snake behaves in exactly the same way when any loud, high-pitched sound (musical or otherwise) is made near it—simply because it has been disturbed. And the "swaying dance" is also the natural movement of the reptile following its disturbance, through any cause. The reason why a pipe in particular seems to affect the reptile is because it has a high-pitched note. Snakes have an excellent ear and therefore their power of hearing is limited. Low-pitched sounds such as soft music, or the beating of a drum, do not disturb them.

Termite Queens Lay Many Eggs

The termites, from a small insect, increase in size as the colony grows and thus becomes abundant, until in some cases it reaches the size of a small potato, or more than three inches in length. At this stage she is fed entirely by the workers. The female queen is the champion of all forms of life in reproduction. Termites have been known to produce eggs at the rate of 80 a minute for long periods, or at the rate of 80, 400 a day. This enables the termite colony to withstand such extensive damage so quickly after becoming once established. The termite is a wood-eater and lives on and digests cellulose. Certain animals, such as the goat and the mouse, can digest cellulose owing to certain secretions in their stomach juices.

Origin of Steeplechase

Steeplechasing, in which the competing horses have to jump hedges ("fences," in horse-racing language) and ditches originated in Ireland. The first recorded race of this kind took place in 1752, from the church of Buttontown (County Cork) to the church of St. Leger, four and a half miles away. The name steeplechase, however, was not bestowed upon the sport until 1803, when a party of Irish fox-hunters arranged to race in a straight line towards a church steeple visible in the distance. The sport assumed its existing form, over more or less artificial obstacles, about one hundred years ago.

Source of Gold

Most of the world's gold has its primary source a "lode" or vein of quartz. Much of it still remains in the quartz and mines must be sunk deep into the earth to get it out. The great bulk of gold produced in North America comes from such mines: Alaska, Montana, king of the low-cost producers; the mines dotted along California's great network of veins on the mother lode and in Grana Valley; the famous Homestake mine in South Dakota, and the Ontario mines. Much gold, on the other hand, has been mined out of its original quartz.

Oldest Church, Smallest School

The "Peterskirchelein" standing on a crack a quarter of a mile above an old town on the River Inn, looks back on 1,000 years of existence. It is the oldest church in the Inn Valley. A half-mile higher up in the Bavarian Alps are the "Astenhofs," which are among the most elevated farms in Germany. They have belonged to the same families for centuries. The pastor of the "Peterskirchelein" is also the teacher for the children of these farms. His school is the smallest in the country.

Stirred Fear of India

Japan's defeat of Russia in the early part of this century set all Asia agog. If Japan with 35,000,000 had been able to defeat a European power, what might India with 300,000,000 not do? If every Indian spent a penny a day at the same time, a pool big enough to drown every Englishman in India would be made, they reasoned.
