Legion Christmas Party Well Attended

A Christmas party, the equal of which has never been witnessed in Chelsea before, was staged at the public school auditorium last Friday evening by the American Legion local post.

Old Santa Claus himself was there to make the occasion merrier and with the four hundred and seven children, all of which were twelve years of age or under, a very enjoyable evening was spent. All entertainment and presents were furnished to the youngsters through the courtesy of the members of the Legion who were assisted by the Sunshine Girls of Jackson and the Sunshine Twins, together with a male quartet composed of Paul Niehaus, Paul Barbour, Austin Faist and J. Fred Barrels. Stories were told by the Sunshine Girls to the kiddies, a song by the Twins, and several numbers were rendered by the quartet.

The gymnasium was fittingly decorated with five Christmas trees and a large number of balloons. The trees were placed around the edge of the hall, two to the north, two to the south and one on the stage. All were gayly trimmed with ornaments and brilliantly lighted.

After the entertainment, which was especially for children of this age, Santa Claus distributed the things he had prepared for the youngsters, each receiving a sack filled with candy, an orange, a popcorn ball and several kinds of nuts, a balloon, and a jig saw puzzle.

Before leaving this group of over four hundred children, many parents, friends, and forty Legionaires, Santa Claus gave his promise that he would try to be on hand again next year.

It is hoped that through the continued cooperation of the public and The American Legion that this event may be an annual affair. Surely it has been the means of making many children happy at this season of the year who might otherwise have been forgotten and neglected by necessity of the times.

Schlossers Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Schlosser celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary on Monday by entertaining a number of relatives and friends at a Christmas gathering at their home in Lima township. The rooms were prettily decorated in the yuletide colors, with a Christmas tree. After a sumptuous dinner, the exchange of gifts was enjoyed and the afternoon was spent with music and games.

The guests included their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Schlosser and Mrs. Ella Winters of Saunemin, Ill.; Jean and Tedra Wulfe of Stockton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pritchard and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayevy, B. H. Gray of Chelsea and Mrs. E. S. Kennedy of Ann Arbor.

BEGINNERS HOLD PARTY

The Beginners class of St. Paul's Sunday school held their annual Christmas party Saturday afternoon at the schoolhouse in the rear of the church. A Santa Claus with gifts for the children was a special feature. The children brought Christmas cookies which were distributed to the shut-ins on Saturday evening.

At the close of the party the children were invited to the home of Mrs. P. G. Schable, who served a dainty lunch in celebration of the fourth birthday anniversary of her son, Paul G. A cake with four pink candles centered the table. A short program was given.

DRAMA-SERMON AT M. E.

On Sunday evening another popular "Drama-Sermon" will be presented at the M. E. church, entitled "The Road to Yesterday and Tomorrow."

These "Drama-Sermons" combine the visual and vocal. The slides are made from the motion picture of the subject and about them are built up the story and sermon, emphasis being given the religious elements.

Sixty or more slides will be used and these have received the wide endorsement from ministers of all denominations.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The next meeting of the Girl Scouts will be held at 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening, January 3, at the home of Jane McGuffin. The girls are to bring their supper in a box for a box social. Let's see how artistic we girls can be. A prize will be given for the most attractively wrapped box. Come! Happy New Year, Girl Scouts.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Milburn S. Embury, who died one year ago today, December 22, 1932: We often sit and think of you, and speak of how you died, To think you could not say good-bye before you closed your eyes; For all of us you did your best, and may God grant eternal rest.

His loving wife and children, Robert, Mary and Eleanor.

Local School District Secures CWA Funds

CWA funds for extensive repair work on the Chelsea public school buildings have been tentatively allotted and although all details of the project have not been completed, it is expected work will be well under way within a few days.

A few painters and carpenters have been assigned to work in the grade school building, where the larger portion of the funds will be spent.

Due to a lack of complete details in the matter the Board of Education is not in position at this time to release further information but they expect to prepare a detailed announcement of their plans for publication next week.

Dexter, Manchester and Saline have also secured CWA funds for school improvements which have also been started.

The county project for rural school repairs is also well under way and workmen are being assigned daily. Practically every rural school in the county will benefit from these funds.

Large Crowd Attends Midnight Service

Midnight Christmas services at St. Mary's church attracted the largest crowd ever in attendance on such an occasion.

The altars were beautifully decorated with poinsettias, while the scene depicting the Holy Family, the Infant in the crib, with the Wise Men and the Shepherds, was a beautiful feature.

Solemn mass was sung by the Burg choir of five voices, Celebrant Father Andrews, passionate priest, of Detroit, delivering the Christmas sermon.

Holy Communion was distributed by the pastor, Rev. Henry Van Dyke, assisted by Rev. Francis Kolb of the Chelsea parish.

Women's Union Holds Christmas Party

The Women's Union of St. Paul's church were entertained last Thursday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Grabowski for their Christmas party.

Christmas songs and devotionals by Mrs. H. E. Paul opened the program which was given as follows:

Poem—"Christmas Voices"—Mrs. John Metzger.

Reading—"Will the Lepers Have Any Christmas?"—Mrs. Martha Weinmann.

Solos—"There's a Song in the Air"—Mrs. Paul F. Niehaus.

Christmas Story—Mrs. LaRue Shaver.

Reading—"His Christmas Tree"—Mrs. Paul.

Twenty-five members were present, and baskets of provisions were given to the Red Cross for Christmas delivery to the needy.

The meeting closed with a pot luck supper.

DANCE!

A Holiday Dance will be held at the public school gym, under auspices of the Trojans, on Friday night, December 29. A special feature will be a balloon drop, when 300 balloons will be released. Music by Art Winters' orchestra. Admission: Couples 50c, gents 35c, ladies 15c.

New Year's GREETINGS

As the old year passes into history we find much to be thankful for, particularly our patrons who have been so loyal to us. To all these patrons and to the people in general we extend best wishes for the season at hand and express the hope that 1934 will be the best year you have ever known.

Christmas Season Is Enjoyable One

This Christmastime has been an enjoyable season in Chelsea. It has been made so by the fact that everyone, in some way has entered into the spirit of the season in a way that it has been the means of bringing joy to the hearts of everyone, and the fact that no one was forgotten when it came to distribution of food and toys is a source of real satisfaction.

Churches and Sunday schools, under capable direction of their leaders, put forth real effort to render services which were enjoyed by the throngs attending these services; the American Legion played Santa Claus to four hundred kiddies of the community, which was a commendable act, to say the least; clubs and lodges and individuals all joined in the spirit of the season to do their bit.

Twenty-seven baskets, containing food for a Christmas dinner, toys and in some cases articles of clothing, were distributed by the local Red Cross to needy families in Chelsea and vicinity. The toys were furnished by the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Kiwanis club.

Decorative displays which were perfected with glowing lights have made the town a real showplace in Christmas colors, more beautiful than ever before.

Added to all this is the encouraging report from local business places that this year's Christmas sales far exceeded those of the previous year, some reporting that their volume of sales was the greatest since the year 1929.

All in all, it has been a happy Christmas season for Chelsea and the surrounding community and the New Year is approached with expressions of encouraging optimism and new hope for a brighter future in every line of endeavor.

Celebrate Sixty-first Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Jenks quietly celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary on Monday at their home in Lima township, an event which comparatively few people are privileged to enjoy. They received several cards and gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

Mr. Jenks has spent his entire life on the farm where he was born March 4, 1851, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denison R. Jenks; and to this home on December 25, 1872, he brought his bride, who was formerly Harriet Tallman of Sharon. Mrs. Jenks was born September 9, 1850, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Tallman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenks wish to thank their many friends for the kind remembrances.

CAVANAUGH LAKE ORANGE

BLENNINGS If here I have not earthly wealth, I'll make the most of what I've got, And never fret nor grieve nor mourn, Nor envy my good neighbor's lot. Love blesses poor unworthy me, For more than justly I deserve, For faith is witnessing each day, There's more and more in the reserve. Oh, the invisible content, Through summer sun and winter snow, May God forgive whose days go by And never a Thanksgiving show. There's joy in faith and you may have An inner peace earth cannot give. When life on earth with faith and love come, You will then begin to live. —Arthur Carlton, M. E. Home.

FRANCISCO Walter Gardner was home to spend the Christmas season with his family. He is employed in Detroit on a OWA job as lineman. Those who joined the family circle at Mrs. Bertha Benter's were Raymond Hamill and family and Miss Sarah Benter of Jackson and Floyd Bawa and family of Lydon. Mrs. Charles Bachelbach, who has been critically ill following an attack of flu, is reported slightly improved. The Christmas exercises given by the pupils of the public and Sunday schools were excellent and the young people are to be complimented in the success of their efforts. Mr. and Mrs. Truman Lehman entertained Sunday at a family Christmas dinner. Those present were Henry Kalmbach, Chester Notten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kalmbach of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoppe and little son Diekie, and Rev. and Mrs. Henry Lens. In honor of Miss Margaret Benter's birthday, her mother, Mrs. Carrie Benter, entertained Sunday, the following: Christopher Benter of Jackson, the honor guest, of South Francisco, and Morgan Bach of Sharon. Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell were (Monday) Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cady of Napoleon. Truman Lehman and family spent Monday at Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Lehman's, where a family reunion of the Lehman brothers and sisters was held. Miss Nelda Bohrer of Flint and Miss Lorraine Bohrer of Jackson were home to spend the holidays with their parents. Those present at the family dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wolfe and Henry Bohne, were Charles Moore and family of Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wolfe of South Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Milton G. Bohner and in the afternoon, Walter Bohne and family came from the Lehman family dinner and spent a few hours. Dinner was also served the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bohne entertained their children and granddaughter on Christmas Day. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kalmbach of Chelsea visited Mrs. Martha Keeler and family Monday. Most of the homes are prettily decorated in Christmas effects and lighted evenings by electric lights in varied colors.

NORTH FRANCISCO Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henry Lehman entertained the Lehman family for Christmas dinner, the outstanding feature of the occasion being that the children and grandchildren of Henry Lehman, Sr. were all present with the exception of but one, Roland Lehman and wife of Michigan Center. Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Walter Riemenschneider spent Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. P. Taylor of Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Riemenschneider entertained relatives for dinner on Sunday. Several families of this locality enjoyed the program at Francisco church Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hayes spent Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erb Notten. Mr. and Mrs. James Richards entertained their children and families on Sunday for Christmas dinner. The children and grandchildren and families of Henry Benter gathered at the old home for their usual Christmas dinner. The program at the Salem Methodist church was enjoyed by a full house. The church was beautifully decorated. This vicinity was well represented at the Palmer schoolhouse Saturday evening when a very nice program was given under directions of the teacher, Mrs. Alta Lehman. Mr. and Mrs. P. Riemenschneider were entertained at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure, for Christmas dinner.

Let the car speak for itself. HUNDREDS of thousands of people now own and drive Ford V-8 cars. Some neighbor or friend of yours has one. If we told you what we think of the car, you might say we are prejudiced, so we let the car and its owner tell you. Economy of operation is one of the first points they will emphasize—the owner will boast of it and the car will prove it. The 1934 car is even better than the 1933—and that was our best car up to its time. The new car is more beautiful—faster—more powerful—gives more miles to the gallon—better oil economy—is easier riding—cheaper to own and operate than any car we ever built. You owe it to yourself and your pocketbook to ask our Ford Dealer to let you see this car, and let you drive it for yourself. At the wheel of the car you will be sure to reach a right decision. The Ford V-8 will tell you its own story. NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

PROMISE GOOD TIME Readers of the Chelsea Standard will see in another part of this issue an announcement of the third Trojan dance. This will take place on the evening of Friday, December 29, 1933. It was said once before following the second Trojan dance that the Trojans know how to give a dance. It has been several years at least since a more beautiful dance was held. It was not simply a money-making idea. Many people thought that it would be just "another dance". They were mistaken. The dance for the 29th of December promises to be even more beautiful than the last one held in October. When we say "beautiful" we mean just that! Anyone who would like to spend a delightful evening, whether they are sixteen or sixty, should make it a point to be there. Let's all go and be royally entertained. The Trojans know how! —Trojan Scribe.

TRI-COUNTY DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REPORT Stockbridge, Dec. 23 — Herman Schmidt owns high herd for the month. Walter Breininger has high cow. A new member, Herman Schmidt of Munnich, has the highest producing herd for the month according to Jack Whitman, tester for the Tri-County D. H. I. A. His 11 pure bred Holsteins (2 dry) averaged 1045 pounds of milk, and 36.11 pounds of fat. A 4 year old Guernsey owned by Walter Breininger of Dexter won high honors with an unusual record, producing 1317 pounds of milk and 101.4 pounds of fat. This makes the second cow in Breininger's herd producing 100 pounds of fat in one month period. Second high cow in butterfat production and first in milk production goes to Herman Schmidt. J. B. Livermore of Gregory takes second place in herd average in the medium group (7-15 cows) with 1053 pounds of milk and 94.57 pounds of fat. The large herd group, 16 or more cows, is led by C. Malchelle's Jersey herd with 613 pounds of milk, and 34.38 pounds of fat. Below the class leaders and butterfat production records of the high cows in each class: 2 year old class—Herman Schmidt, pure bred Holstein, 1401 pounds milk, 46.2 pounds fat; Walter Breininger, grade Guernsey, 334 lbs. milk, 30.1 lbs. fat; J. B. Livermore, grade Holstein, 1038 lbs. milk, 37.3 lbs. fat; Herman Schmidt, pure bred Holstein, 1080 lbs. milk, 36.7 lbs. fat. 3 year old class: Clair Barnum, grade Jersey, 993 lbs. milk, 61.5 lbs. fat; Herman Schmidt, pure bred Holstein, 1078 lbs. milk, 49.1 lbs. fat. Carl Mast, grade Holstein, 1020 lbs. milk, 35.7 lbs. fat. Max Kalmbach, grade Jersey, 976 lbs. milk, 35.1 lbs. fat. 4 year old class: Walter Breininger, grade Guernsey, 1317 lbs. milk, 101.4 lbs. fat. Herman Schmidt, pure bred Holstein, 1800 lbs. milk, 64.8 lbs. fat. George Hafley, grade Holstein, 1066 lbs. milk, 50.1 lbs. fat. George Hafley, grade Holstein, 1323 lbs. milk, 43.6 lbs. fat. 5 year old and over: J. B. Livermore, grade Holstein, 1898 lbs. milk, 55.2 lbs. fat. Walter Breininger, grade Jersey, 922 lbs. milk, 51.6 lbs. fat. Ed Cooper, grade Holstein, 1222 lbs. milk, 48.1 lbs. fat.

Big Heads, Receding Chins The old ideas still exist that a big head indicates great intellect and a receding chin a weak character. Both of these distinctive features have to do with the bony framework of the body and bear no innate relation whatever to mentality or disposition, says a writer in How to Live. It is possible, however, that these features affect the attitude of parents, friends and associates and react upon a child, causing him sooner or later to adopt the same point of view. The psychology involved tends to operate to the advantage of the big-heads and to build up an inferiority complex in those with the receding chins. Early mental influences play a great part in the future of every individual.

Ball Lightning Ball lightning is a rare form of lightning which appears as a slow moving ball. It makes a spluttering, crackling noise in transit and upon coming into contact with a solid object, explodes without doing much damage, and leaves a sulphurous odor behind. These balls as a rule are not large and vary from a brilliant white to red in color. According to the weather bureau, there are apparently two types of ball lightning, one which floats freely through the air and the other rolls along some object such as a wire or fence as if attached to it. Its source is not known but experts suggest that it may be a form of rocket lightning in which the force is spent by the end of the discharge.

House Built With Wine A Hungarian trade paper has published a remarkable story of a new use for wine. In a provincial town of northern Hungary houses were being built in a vineyard on rocky soil. Water is scarce and precious in that district and is carried in barrels to the hills. There was not enough water for mixing the mortar, so the vine grower, for whom the house was built, and whose cellars were full of un-used and unsaleable wines unentered the situation by putting a few casks of wine at the mason's disposal to substitution for water. Thus for the first time a Hungarian house was built with wine.

Octopus Is Fleecy The octopus, or "devil fish" is quite a fierce fellow, with enormous power in its arms, which are equipped with two rows of suckers. The largest specimen ever taken, however, measured only 28 feet from stem to stem, including the tentacles. There are over 150 species of octopi, most of which are quite small. The majority of them spend their lives at the bottom of shallow water, although a few swim freely and some have been netted as deep as 18,000 feet. In many parts of the world the small octopus is used for human food.

Quicksands on Flat Shores Quicksands usually occur on flat shores underlain by stiff clay or other impervious materials.

Golden Plover Fastest Flyer in Crossing Sea

The routes of the different migratory birds are as varied as the birds themselves. Some fly down the Atlantic coast to Florida where they stop awhile in the tropics before continuing their over-water hops to South America. Others fly down the Mississippi valley and continue southward across the Gulf of Mexico. This route is, in fact, one of the most important, it being reported to the biological survey that during nearly eight months of the year, literally night after night, the air is filled with countless thousands of the migrating hordes, bound for their unseen destinations.

Wood Used for Papermaking Two-thirds of our pulp, used in making paper, comes from spruce, fir and hemlock. These three species supply nearly all the raw material from which the coarse paper used for newspapers is made. Pastelboard and coarse wrapping paper are made from pine. Most of the finer grades of paper used for magazines and books are from poplar and hardwood trees.

Herring Grow Large There are fishes belonging to the herring-like group ranging in weight up to 500 pounds that commonly prey upon their smaller cousins as well as upon other varieties of small fishes. The largest of these is probably the tarpon, which furnishes so much sport for Florida fishermen, but one of the most interesting of the larger herring species is known as the wolf herring.

Wood Used for Papermaking Two-thirds of our pulp, used in making paper, comes from spruce, fir and hemlock. These three species supply nearly all the raw material from which the coarse paper used for newspapers is made. Pastelboard and coarse wrapping paper are made from pine. Most of the finer grades of paper used for magazines and books are from poplar and hardwood trees.

Herring Grow Large There are fishes belonging to the herring-like group ranging in weight up to 500 pounds that commonly prey upon their smaller cousins as well as upon other varieties of small fishes. The largest of these is probably the tarpon, which furnishes so much sport for Florida fishermen, but one of the most interesting of the larger herring species is known as the wolf herring.

Names Are Author's Bane In Choosing Characters

The difficulty of inventing the name for a character in a story which does not belong to at least one person out of the 122 millions in the United States is almost insuperable.

There is hardly any combination of appellations so seemingly grotesque or preposterous that it has not a lawful owner who is almost certain to protest if his name has been taken in vain.

Usually the author must blame his own lack of experience for suggesting certain names to be unusual. I remember thinking "Swackhammer" a highly individual appellation and used it as such, only to discover presently that the United States is composed largely of "Swackhammers."

All spiders have poison. Glands; not all poison glands. The primary purpose is to kill the prey on which they feed.

Weapons Once Method to Scare Away Hallstorns

Arrows, spears and javelins were the weapons by which primitive humanity sought to scare away hallstorns. In the Middle Ages various noise-making processes were employed for the same purpose.

Years ago the ball rod vied in popularity with the hall cannon as a means of safeguarding European vineyards from hallstorns. It was merely an overgrown lightning rod, set up on steeples, tall steel towers and the like.

Wooden Indian Now Rare

The wooden Indian for years has been a sentinel in front of cigar stores. The reason is the redskin was the first grower of tobacco in this country.

The old wooden Indians have become rare, one selling here recently for $350, says a writer in the Kansas City Star.

SLATS' DIARY

Friday—Mrs. Fletch had to cancel the order she had given the auto dealer for the automobile which she intended buying with her husband's money.

Saturday—pa was a saying tonight that the race tracks had cut the price of admission, he said the way it used to be the poor winking men couldn't afford to go to the races to see the horses loose which they had bet on.

Sunday—I guess it's a good idea to learn 'em thing every day. Well I learn 'em thing today all right. I learnt that the best way to open up a Milk bottle is not to push the cap in from the top, a specially if you got on your top, I hope that accident didn't happen on Sunday.

Tuesday—Unkel Hon says the truth is that the younger generation today is that they go and get married to a sum girl before they are old enough to have some snuff not to get married. I guess maybe he is right, if you could understand what he meant.

Wednesday—ma told pa this morning to leave his gray pants home and she would fix the hole in the left pant pocket. I think pa kinda wonders how she saw that there was a hole in his pants pocket.

Thursday—The teacher told us to write a composition and to write about just what we feel the most, so I wrote down and wrote a nice long composition about itchy underwear.

Flies Use Legs for Nose According to an investigator of the Department of Agriculture, flies as well as certain other insects smell by means of their legs. This widespread area and number of olfactory organs certainly gives them the advantage over man who must be content with only one nose. This also explains why flies will be attracted to places where an odor is so slight as to pass undetected by human beings.
Catecall—Deceptive The catecall of the American catbird is classed as "the most realistic imitation in nature," says a writer in Science News Letter. However, he admits that the imitation is not deliberate, for he says that long before white men introduced cats into America, catbirds were probably using the familiar call "that sounds so much like the voice of a distressed kitten that it will fool even a cat."
The Dukhobors The Dukhobors are a religious sect which, some two centuries ago, revolted against the Russian Greek Catholic church. They practice baptism, along with vegetarianism, humanitarism, pacifism and a sort of primitive communism which has nothing in common with the Communist party of the Moscow Internationale.
Use of the Head Design The thumbprint is found on many Indian seals, and is used as a mark of ownership and in legal documents and pictographs.

Log Rulers Are Used by Spiders in Making Web Although the most symmetrical web ever made by a spider is not really perfect, according to human standards, scientists marvel at the accuracy with which angles and distances are "measured," observes a writer.
The spider starts her geometrical web with perimeter lines connecting objects around a space large enough for her purpose. From these lines she suspends a few threads which converge at the center of the future web. Now begins the process of spacing the radii.
She attaches the end of a new radius at the center and runs along a spoke already laid down, spinning out the silk for the new one as she goes. When she reaches the perimeter line, she takes a fixed number of steps along it and attaches the new thread. This process is repeated until all the desired radii are in place.
If the foundation lines should chance to form a wheel rim accurately elsewhere, the distances between spokes would be equal; but, since the perimeter is usually an irregular quadrangle and never a circle, the spacing varies somewhat.
The spiral turns of silk, which complete the web, are more accurately spaced than the radii, since the spider lays down each new turn with her foreleg touching the last one. Thus the length of the forelegs and the size of the spider determine these distances.
"Scout stepping" and use of the "leg ruler" are instinctive to spiders. Even when isolated from its kind from the moment of its birth, a spiderling will produce exactly the same web design as its mother and in exactly the same manner.
Chihuahua Breed of Dogs Loved by Queen Isabella To the very throne room of Queen Isabella of Spain, who was born in 1474 and died in 1574, we must go for the real beginning of the Chihuahua breed of dogs. Always a lover of animals, the queen surrounded herself, historians tell us, with a great number of pets and would allow no one to harm them, especially a breed of dogs which were small in size and pure white in color. These, perhaps, were the offspring of the Spanish pointer, which existed in Spain at that time. At any rate, when the queen popularized this breed it became very common in Spain and most every family had one or more.
Juan Cortes, who discovered Cuba and Mexico, and later Hernando Cortes, who in about 1498 landed in Mexico with several boat loads of soldiers and their families, brought many of these dogs from Spain. These were crossed with the dark or all-black Mexican dog, which was much smaller than the Spanish dog. This got, it is claimed, was one of the ancestors of the modern Chihuahua. The Spaniards upon their arrival in Mexico seemed to center about the country of Chihuahua in Mexico and made it their headquarters. From this the dogs got their name.
Meteors Small Planets Meteors are probably themselves small planets. They literally infest space, being almost infinite in number, and the variety and extent of their orbits around the sun is practically unlimited. It has been computed that 20,000,000 enter the atmosphere of the earth every day, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. They come from every conceivable direction and travel with speeds varying between seven and 70 miles per second. Traveling through the atmosphere at this velocity they quickly become incandescent and burn up, so here is the heat generated. The fragments that survive this fiery ordeal fall upon the earth as meteorites, where men may study them and subject them to chemical analysis in crucible and test tube.
Wedding Cake Lore The origin of wedding cake goes back hundreds of years. In ancient Rome marriage was effected by the simple process of the bride and bridegroom breaking a cake of bread and eating it together. This, in time, developed into the bride cake. The bride cut it because it was the duty of the woman to prepare food for the man. Everybody knows the superstition about sleeping on wedding cake. Girls, even in this age of cynicism, look forward to the weddings of their friends, so that they may get a piece of wedding cake, which, if placed under the pillow, some believe, has the power to produce in dreams the vision of a prospective husband.
Water Used Imperial Rome used some fifty gallons of water per capita daily. Medieval Paris used but one quart. Today, Naples uses about twenty gallons; Paris, Berlin, and London about forty-five, and larger American cities range from about forty-eight gallons daily at Fall River, to 450 gallons at Tacoma, averaging some 140 gallons. Scientific American.
Turtle Fishing In East Africa the natives fish for turtles with a large coil-like sucker-fish, from two to four feet long, putting an iron ring round the tail. The hold is enormously strong, and quite a small fish can support a bucket of water. They are difficult to detach even in death, although they can let go their hold voluntarily very quickly.
American Brides Excited Them According to an English writer, "nothing undermined England's primeval customs of noble society as much as the first invasion of American brides fifty years ago."
Cobra Numerous in India The abundance of the death-dealing cobra in India in the past is attributed to the superstitious regard in which this snake was held by the people.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—A magazine I take has a contest advertised in it which offers $1,000 as first prize and fifty other cash prizes for any person who can find the verse in the Bible that contains every letter of the alphabet. All that is required to do is to turn in three subscribers. This looks good, but it is a hard job to find that verse with all the letters of the alphabet. Can you help me?
Ans.—No doubt that this is a racket and you had better treat it as such. There is no verse in the Bible which contains every letter of the alphabet in the English language. The nearest to it is the 21st verse of chapter 7 of Ezra, which contains all the letters of the alphabet except the letter "J."
Ques.—What causes Limburger cheese to smell bad? Isn't it really unfit to eat when it smells so bad, and is probably rotten? How is it made? How did it get its name?
Ans.—Limburger cheese gets its pungent smell in the process of curing. It is not rotten, but on the other hand, it is palatable and very digestible. Originally Limburger cheese was made in Limburg, Belgium. Then it became widely manufactured in Germany, and other northern European countries and in some parts of the United States. It is made from freshly drawn and still warm cow's milk. The milk is heated to a temperature of 94-96 degrees, then curdled with rennet. The curd is cut, partly drained and dipped into forms and allowed to drain by gravity. The forms are then placed on shelves in the curing room, where they are reopened at a temperature of 58-64. During the ripening period they are rubbed and washed several times in salt water. When done, its texture is about the consistency of butter, and the worse it smells, the better the taste.
Ques.—In your question column you have spoken of "conscious" and "unconscious" minds. Will you please explain just what they are? Thank you.
Ans.—One of the modern theories of psychology is that our minds may contain ideas or mental tendencies of which we are not ordinarily conscious, but which, nevertheless influence what we do and think. For instance, when a person is walking, invariably their arms are swinging slightly more or less backward and forward. Not one in a thousand is cognizant that their arms are swinging or how much they are swinging. It aids in propelling the body, and it is the "unconscious" mind that is doing the work. Stand still and start swinging your arms in the same manner as you do when you are walking, and the instant you stop thinking about your swinging arms, they cease to swing, because the "conscious" mind was doing it.
Ques.—What causes a baseball to curve when thrown by a pitcher—especially a good pitcher—in a baseball game?
Ans.—The curve of a baseball is caused by the friction of the air. The pitcher gives the ball a spin. This spin causes more air friction on one side of the ball than on the other. Combined with more or less speed, the ball will fly in a curved line, according to the direction the ball is spinning. The different kinds of curves are obtained by varying the direction of the spin and its amount with relation to the speed of the ball.
Ques.—What is the population of New York at the present time?
Ans.—The school census for 1933 places the population of the city of New York at approximately 12,615,000.
Ques.—I wish to ask in your good paper when Latin ceased to be spoken by the Romans?
Ans.—Latin, like all other languages, is the outgrowth from another source. Latin was at its height about the time of Christ. From that time to the 12th century the Latin language had suffered the inevitable changes and finally died out. At that time scholars, most of whom were Catholic clergymen, revived Latin as it was originally spoken and written.
Ques.—Who was selected as queen of the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago, and where is her home? Also, what was the prize?
Ans.—Miss Lillian Anderson, a blonde beauty of Racine, Wis., was selected as queen of the Chicago Fair this year. She was the winner in competition with 1,235 other contestants, and her prize, besides the honor, was $5,000.
Ques.—Can you tell me how much salt there is in the sea?
Ans.—There are nearly five million cubic miles of salt in the sea. In other words, there is enough to cover the entire United States with a solid layer of salt over a mile and a half high.
Cobra Numerous in India The abundance of the death-dealing cobra in India in the past is attributed to the superstitious regard in which this snake was held by the people.

Advantages of U. S. Waterways

The United States has 5,000 miles of ocean coastline, 15,000 miles of navigable rivers, and 3,700 miles of shoreline on navigable lakes. Twenty-eight states are accessible to ocean-going vessels. A number of other states are so situated that they can transport freight to the seaboard by river steamers and barges.
Tibetans Dislike Cleanliness Tibetans, distinguished for their gentility and dirt, who never take their clothes off and replace the parts that rot off with patches, regard the white man as a curious-looking person, with features that are all wrong, and his clothes the funniest-looking things on earth.
Ancient Meaning of "Brawl" The word "brawl" is thus defined in an old dictionary: "The dance with which all bulls are begun, wherein the persons dance in a ring, or not forward, continually pulling and shaking one another."
