Large Crowd Attends St. Paul's Anniversary

A good attendance was present at the three services held Sunday at St. Paul's church, celebrating the 25th anniversary of the organization of the Beginners' class of the Sunday school.

During the Sunday school hour, the class entertained their parents with a program and an organ solo was rendered by Mrs. J. N. Strieter. The class also celebrated the fourth birthday of Barbara Luick which occurred January 27.

Green and potted plants decorated the schoolhouse and sand table, which were lighted with colored tapers.

For the afternoon and evening meetings, the church was illuminated with 25 white candles, in silver and gold candelabra. A replica of the little white school centered the altar and the background consisted of the word "Beginners", 1909-1934 in silver letters.

Christian and American flags were placed at intervals, as were also potted plants.

Rev. Albert A. Schoen of Dexter gave the evening address. Rev. P. H. Grabowski congratulated the class and presented a gift to Miss Lillie Wackenhut, who has been superintendent since its organization.

Basketball Carnival To Be Held Saturday

One hundred teams, from 25 schools, will participate in the event. Chelsea public school will enter four squads, with a total of 43 boys. Fifty games will be played on Saturday and practically all the available gymnasiums in Ann Arbor will be in use in the various contests of the day.

This is the first event of the kind ever staged in Washtenaw county and a great deal of interest is anticipated. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners of the different events.

June 16, 1917 he enlisted for service in the World war, receiving his discharge December 28, 1918. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1921. He was a quarterback of the Varsity football eleven and has been an official in football for 11 years. ## Problems Of CWA Told By Chairman Of Administration

In an interesting talk before the local Kiwanis club at their regular meeting held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Schablie, Everett DeRyke, publisher of the Milan Leader and chairman of the Washtenaw County Relief and CWA committee told of the accomplishments and costs of direct relief and CWA projects in this county.

According to Mr. DeRyke, a total of 2,227 men are now employed on CWA projects in the county, working on a 15-hour week at the present time. A total of $229,000.00 has been spent in the county to date. He ventured the opinion that the CWA work would be continued after February 15 with new funds to be appropriated by the Congress now in session, and if the work is continued he said the men would again be placed on a 30-hour week schedule. He also predicted a revision in hourly pay schedules to a somewhat lower bracket.

Of the CWA funds to be spent in the county up to February 15, the Chelsea projects call for an expenditure of $17,465.00. Local projects are the grading of West Middle street and repair work on the public school buildings.

Mr. DeRyke suggested that local projects be planned and funds applied for if the community is to receive their just share of the funds which he anticipates will be available after February 15.

The matter of direct or welfare relief in the county is also supervised by the committee of which Mr. DeRyke is chairman. During the four months from Sept. 1 to Jan. 1 a total of $147,604.64 was spent in this county.

The peak expenditures were reached in October but as the result of CWA work absorbing many laborers who were receiving direct relief, the monthly expenditures were reduced from the October high point of $43,000.00 to $26,000.00 in December. These figures are contrary to the opinion of many that the CWA has not reduced the amount spent for welfare relief.

Proceeding the talk by Mr. DeRyke the Kiwanis club enjoyed a delicious sauer kraut supper with all the "trimmings" through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Schablie.

CWA Will Provide Private Sanitation

The State Department of Health and the United States Public Health Service are sponsoring a program whereby sanitary outside toilets can be built on private property. It is understood in this case that individuals will pay for all the materials and that CWA labor will be furnished to build these toilets. A sanitary toilet has certain requirements over that of an ordinary one.

Some may question the use of CWA labor on private property but this is explained by the fact that attempts are being made to eradicate dangerous sources for the spread of disease which makes it a public health problem. In eliminating such unsanitary structures it is necessary that they be replaced by ones of sanitary type.

The cost of the complete toilet is approximately $23.00. The separate parts cost approximately $3.35 for the pit, $5.00 for the floor and riser, $9.15 for the building and $5.50 for the roof.

Old lumber from the existing structure will be utilized wherever practicable and thereby cut down the above costs. The places where the most work of this type can be accomplished is that of resort districts, small unsewered towns or villages and in the outlying unsewered sections of larger cities.

Any private individual in the county, including especially rural people, should get in touch with the local CWA if they desire to have one built. Orders for these toilets will be taken care of according to the time that the requests for them are made at the CWA office.

Mohrlock, Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, Refreshment Committee.

Contest Winner To Be Announced Later

On January 4th The Standard published an announcement of a contest which was state-wide, asking local residents to write an editorial on the subject "Why a Community Newspaper." Adrian Van Koeveering, publisher of the Zeeland Record offered prizes for the two best entries in the contest, a first prize of $25.00 and second prize of $10.00.

Several manuscripts were entered in the contest locally and they were presented by the publisher of The Standard to the contest judges at the annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association held in East Lansing last week. However, more than five hundred editorials were entered in the contest and on Friday afternoon the chairman of the board of judges announced that it would be impossible for them to select with proper care the best editorials in time to announce the winners before the close of the convention.

In order that they would have sufficient time to do their duty properly the judges asked for one month's time in which to carefully select the winners and this extension of time was granted. The winners will be announced as soon as a decision can be reached by the judges.

Some of the editorials entered in the contest by local residents were real classics on the subject and it is to be hoped the judges will select at least one of the local entries as the winner. Following announcement of the winners, some of the best editorials will be published in this paper, as well as a few of the best local entries.

Plans for this dinner were formulated at a meeting of Republicans held recently at the Masonic Temple in the city of Ypsilanti under the auspices of the Ypsilanti Republican organization. Approximately 150 Republicans were in attendance at this meeting and plans have been formulated for an active campaign in all of the coming elections.

Tickets for the dinner will be 50c each and can be obtained here of O. D. Luick, who is in charge of local sales.

CELEBRATE 54th ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Leigh Luick entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of the 54th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Gross, and the birthday anniversary of Mr. Luick. Two cakes, decorated in pink and white, centered the table. Covers were laid for twenty guests. "The Old Rugged Cross" was played and sung over CKLW in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gross.

"If you want your money to go 30% farther, here's my advice—"

"Break in new tires at this time because cool roads toughen rubber—cold cure it. Thus tires put on now will run about 30% farther than the same tires started off new on hot summer roads. That means you get 30% more mileage plus immediate non-skid safety. At today's low prices, isn't that worth thinking about?"

Lansing, Mich.—Reduction of the automobile weight tax and amendment of the state sales tax were called for in resolutions adopted by the State Association of Supervisors at the final session of the meeting in Lansing last week.

Officers of the association for the coming year include Charles P. Isom of Jackson, president; Hon. John D. Karel of Grand Rapids, first vice president; Melville B. McPherson of Howell, member of the state tax commission, second vice president; Jacob E. Schepers of East Lansing, secretary; and Miss Lucy Little of Kalamazoo, treasurer.

Seven important resolutions were adopted. The first asked the legislature to provide property tax relief while the second asked for an amendment of the sales tax law to provide exemption of farm implements and stock feeds from the provisions of the law. The third resolution asked the legislature to return weight tax receipts to county treasurers directly from the Department of State branch offices while the sixth called for reduction of license plate costs without in any manner hindering the retirement of covert road law bills. The other resolutions asked laws permitting local governmental agencies to raise funds to match federal money for relief purposes; an amendment to liberalize the present constitutional provision limiting property taxes for all purposes to 15 mills; and asked that all local assessing officers be furnished with sets of the 1929 Compiled Laws.

The decision of Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald to publish the Public Acts of the Special Session of 1933 at the same time the Public Acts of the coming 1934 Special Session are printed and in the same volume will effect a saving of $10,000.

This saving will be accomplished almost entirely in costs of binding. In order that officials may have access to the new laws passed at the 1933 special session, these acts are to be published in pamphlet form with a paper cover under the title of "Immediate effect acts of 1933 (special session)". The state law prescribes definitely the manner in which official public acts shall be bound.

The pilot was very attentive to them and when they landed he said: "These two young ladies have behaved very nicely."

Mrs. Phoebe French died here on Tuesday night, January 29, 1934. She had been sick about four weeks with various troubles but the first of the week pneumonia set in and was the cause of her death. In 1899 she was married to Mr. French, who died in 1909. She came to the Home July 20, 1927 and was a friend to all and very much thought of, and was patient to the end. Her funeral was held in the Home on Friday at nine a. m., with burial in Vassar cemetery.

RELIEF IN SIGHT

Relief from excessive motor taxes is demanded by the Automobile Club of Michigan which will soon begin circulation of petitions throughout the state to bring about a reduction in the weight tax of approximately one-third, and limit the state gasoline tax to two cents a gallon. Pointing out that automobile registrations have decreased annually since 1929, the Motor Club seeks to keep automobile taxes in accord with the times. It is pointed out that the state can operate with one-third less automobile tax monies and still maintain its present road system, build a liberal portion of new roads and make such alterations, widenings, etc., as are necessary.

Leon Shaver took a trip with the Standard Oil Co.'s rig Monday that was not down on the schedule. He had started for Stockbridge and was going down the Lusty hill about three miles northwest of this village, when the sleigh slid to the side of the road and down the embankment which is an exceedingly high one. Mr. Shaver escaped with a wrenched ankle and the horses were not seriously injured. It took considerable time and lots of hard work to get the outfit back to the road.

NEVER ASK WHY

Never ask the Why, of God, But I would ask His will to know, For when I see His beckoning hand I always know which way to go.

Sometimes a sharp curve in the road has for the moment hid from view; But if His face is hid from sight, His track I see and I'll pursue.

And often too, when through a mist, Or hazy shadows make it dark, A holy presence though unseen, Illuminates my path and heart.

And O' such peace as Jesus gives, Such peace I never know before, I'm sure my path will brighter grow As I shall learn to trust Him more.

Eastman Foresees Government Ownership and Operation of Railways—Progress of President's Money Bill—American Recognition for Mendieta.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S money bill went through the house with a rush, the vote being 380 to 40. Sixty-eight Republicans joined the obedient Democrats in supporting the measure. James H. Chalmers of Missouri and George B. Terrell of Texas were the only Democrats recorded in the negative.

The senate received the bill and referred it to the banking and currency committee, which held a hearing that was lively while it lasted. Prof. George Warren, author of the dollar depreciation and gold purchase program, explained to the committee the theory of commodity price regulation by manipulation of the currency. Then, taking up consideration of the measure, the committee heard the vigorous objections of Senators Glass, Gore and McCadoo to several features of the bill, notably the proposed seizure of the federal reserve bank gold and the granting of unlimited financial power to the secretary of the treasury.

It was confidently predicted by the administration leaders that the bill would be put through the senate unchanged, but stubborn fights over various proposed amendments were certain. The vote on a plan to limit the use of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund was expected to be close. Advocates of the reorganization of silver, who are fairly numerous in the senate, prepared a compromise silver plan to be offered as an amendment to the devaluation measure.

PLANS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

ask congress for more liberal treatment of veterans have stirred up a row in Washington. The Legion is urging enactment of a four-point program to cost $80,000,000 a year. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of the veterans' bureau, thought this figure was too low, estimating the cost at a considerably higher total. The Legion representatives declared the government estimates were erroneous and by inference accused General Hines of ulterior motives and lack of integrity.

In a letter to Edward A. Hayes, commander of the Legion, Hines denounced the criticism of his estimates as wholly uncalled for and said the Legion's own rehabilitation committee had admitted they were more nearly correct than its own estimates.

Meanwhile the President had announced new modifications of his executive regulations concerning payments to disabled war veterans, the changes adding more than $21,000,000 annually. There were intimations at the White House that Mr. Roosevelt would seek to persuade the Democrats in congress not to go beyond this liberalization.

GRAFT and favoritism have been rife in the use of OWA funds, according to the numerous complaints that have been received by President Roosevelt and Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, and audit of the books has been ordered in many localities. The unfortunate state of affairs was admitted by the President, who thus forestalled the revelation of the facts by congressional committees or Republican organizations. At the same time he made it plain that he was standing firmly behind Mr. Hopkins, the ousting of whom was tentatively planned by a group of house Democrats.

More than 4,000,000 persons were given jobs by the CWA and Mr. Roosevelt is asking for an appropriation of $500,000,000 to carry on the work to May 1, but he insists that the CWA organization be abandoned on that date according to his previous plan. Protests against this course, in congress and all over the country, have been numerous and loud. It is now considered likely that after May 1, continued employment for more than 2,000,000 of the CWA workers will be found in seasonal employment, public works and a revival of industry.

Senators Nye and Borah, who have been attacking the NRA on the ground that its codes fostered monopolies and tended to ruin small business concerns, won a concession from Administrator Johnson. The general agreed to the establishment of a board of outstanding citizens to which small manufacturers and other business men can bring their complaints of ruinous operation of the codes.

All the code authorities have been summoned to meet in Washington February 15 to consider code revisions.

THAT recovery outlays can be ended

by June 30, 1935, is the belief of the President, and he gave expression to this when he announced his approval of the bill extending the life of the Reconstruction Finance corporation for another year. He enjoined Jesse Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., not to withdraw more than $500,000,000 from the treasury in the next fiscal year, except with prior Presidential approval.

WHEN the railroad problem of the United States is solved, it will be found that the solution is government ownership and operation, in the opinion of Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of railways.

The conclusion is set forth in his first report, made to the Interstate Commerce commission and transmitted to President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey. Mr. Eastman laments the fact that the solution would be inconsistent with our theory of government.

Explaining that when governments acquire private property they normally pay more than it is worth, Mr. Eastman reaches the conclusion that the remedy should not be applied to railroads now because the country is not "financially in a condition to stand the strain of an acquisition of these great properties."

The coordinator, having set up what he wishes to be the objective of future national railroad policy, then proceeds to make recommendations within the limits of existing laws. He is decidedly skeptical of the Price plan for consolidation of the roads, for his assistant, William B. Poland, has made studies that show the economies under this scheme would be less than one-third of the original estimates.

Most significant of the recommendations on consolidations is that proposals for compulsory consolidations should be given a trial, provided that the commission and the coordinator find the proposed mergers to be in the public interest. Mr. Eastman throws the weight of his approval behind a method of compulsory consolidation through exchange of securities without the use of cash. Execution of such a method, which the coordinator's legal assistant, Leslie Crayon, believes can be accomplished, would accelerate the merging of eastern railroads into the four systems previously agreed upon.

Mr. Eastman says that reorganization of railroads now bankrupt "should be effected as speedily as practicable, and in a manner which will result in a very material reduction in fixed charges." He calls attention to the fact that some of the most successful reorganizations in railroad history took place in the midst of financial depressions. Wall Street theory has been that reorganizations should be postponed as long as possible.

Many of the railroads' vital problems can be dealt with adequately by the carriers themselves, but "there is as yet insufficient organization and leadership in the industry for effective co-operation in such undertakings." It is quite possible, Mr. Eastman believes, that a study of these problems "will pave the way to a much larger use of motor vehicles as an adjunct to railroad service, and to a re-vamping and simplification of the freight-rate structure."

CARLOS MENDIETA is quite satisfactory to the United States as president of Cuba in view of the fact that he has the backing of a majority of the Cuban people and apparently is capable of restoring order in the island. So President Roosevelt informed the diplomatic envoys of the other Latin-American countries whom he had summoned to the White House. The President virtually invited the other nations to take the same course but made it clear that his mind was made up anyway.

Next day Jefferson Caffery, acting for the United States government, went to the state department in Havana and handed to Secretary of State Cordell Hull a document notifying the Cubans that the United States was ready to resume diplomatic relations.

The Cubans went wild with joy and the 21-gun salute from the American warship "Wyoming" in the harbor was answered by salutes from the forts.

Mr. Caffery will be our ambassador to Cuba, and Manuel Marquez Sterling will be the Cuban ambassador to Washington.

Recognition of the Mendieta regime came from practically all other nations.

President Roosevelt plans to do several favors to Cuba that should make Mendieta solid with his people. The warships in Cuban waters will be withdrawn. The Platt amendment to the Cuban constitution, permitting the United States to intervene in Cuban affairs to maintain law and order, will be junked. And congress will be asked to give Cuba a big preferential reduction in the island's sugar tariff. Sugar raising is the island's chief industry and for five years it has been in a severe slump, and the resulting depression has caused much of the political disturbance.

JOHN H. MCCOY, for almost a quarter of a century the big Tammany boss of Brooklyn, died of heart disease, and his demise probably means the end of Tammany's domination of the Democratic party in New York, at least for a time. It was expected that a leader satisfactory to the supporters of President Roosevelt would be selected to succeed McCoy.

Another once notable political leader passed away when Edward J. Brudage, of Chicago, committed suicide, presumably because of financial troubles. Highly respected as a lawyer and a man, he formerly was prominent in the Republican party in Illinois and had been attorney general of the state.

OSCAR DE PRIEST, the only

negro in congress, injected the race question into the house of representatives, to the great distress of Speaker Rainey and the other Democratic leaders. Louis Morris, secretary to Mr. De Priest, and his son were refused service in the grill of the house restaurant, the manager informing them that this was in accordance with his orders from Representative Lindsay C. Warren of North Carolina, Democrat, chairman of the committee on accounts which directs the affairs of the restaurant. Mr. De Priest, hearing of this, was exceedingly wrath and insisted on demanding a special investigation to determine by what authority the committee "controls and manages the conduct of the house restaurant, and by what authority said committee or any member thereof issued and enforced rules or instructions whereby any citizen of the United States is discriminated against on account of race, color, or creed."

CARL VINSON, chairman of the house naval affairs committee, announced that his committee was about to introduce a bill authorizing a $380,000,000 five-year ship construction program; and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Henry L. Roosevelt gave out word that the President would throw the full support of the administration behind legislation designed to bring the navy up to treaty strength.

The house appropriations committee recommended a fund of $370,000 for restoring the Great Lakes Naval station to its former status as the navy's major interior training post.

FURTHER information about the earthquake in India leads to the belief that it was the greatest disaster that country ever suffered. That the loss of life was appalling is shown by the statement of the rajah of Monghyr that the dead there alone numbered 25,000. An engineer was quoted as having declared after a survey that the names of both Monghyr and Muzaffarpur might as well be erased from the map.

DEVELOPMENTS in Japan indicate that the military clique is losing out and that Foreign Minister Koki Hirota will be able to carry out his plans to establish more friendly relations with the United States. Gen. Sadao Araki, who had been minister of war since December, 1931, and who conducted the campaign against China, has resigned ostensibly because of ill health, and has been succeeded by Gen. Senjuro Haya.

Last October Araki declared in an interview that "if people believe the foreign policy toward the United States will change, they are absolutely wrong." It was then predicted that there would be a split in the cabinet, and this appears to have come, with the less warlike ministers, led by Hirota, having the upper hand.

Hirota told the diet at its opening that Japan "fervently desires American friendship" and added that no question exists between Japan and the United States that is intrinsically difficult of solution.

SENATOR HUEY P. LONG of Louisiana

sustained another severe blow in the New Orleans Democratic mayoral primary, which is equivalent to an election. The "Kingfish" candidate, John Klorer, was soundly beaten by T. Semmes Walmsley, the present incumbent and now one of Long's bitterest foes. There was a third candidate and Walmsley did not obtain a clear majority, but Klorer announced that he would not force a runoff primary. His chief lie in the race was a drastic reduction in electric rates in New Orleans, and as the present city administration has promised to bring this about, Klorer said he would take it at its word.

The campaign for the nomination was exceedingly stormy with prospects of violence that did not develop when the day came. Walmsley and Long in their speeches denounced each other without reserve, and the mayor promised to follow the senator to Washington, if necessary, and give him a good thrashing. Having won the fight at the polls, he probably will abandon this project, though he and his organization have pledged themselves to "exterminate" Huey from public life.

Storks' Migration Urge Found to Be Inherited
Experiments recently tried with storks by the bird observatory at Rossitten, East Prussia, have apparently solved the mystery of their migration. Ornithologists had been divided between whether the phenomenon is an instinctive or an imitative trait. The results of the experiments favor the inherited urge as a solution, says a writer in the New York Times.

Supplementary to the experiments to solve the still-unsettled problem as to why storks migrate at the winter season, the birds were taken from the Danube south of Vienna for the winter west of the river near south-west, 150 young storks hatched in East Prussia were sent across Germany to Essen by train and liberated there a long time after the normal date for the winter flight to the south. Each was marked with a ring.

The first problem which the ornithologists set themselves was to establish the route taken. It was found that those which seek out the western district fly south over Spain and Gibraltar, while storks from the Eastern Provinces prefer a southeastern route by way of Istanbul. The ultimate destination of both groups is Central Africa.

Would the young storks from East Prussia do as their parents had done, and make for Istanbul, or would they, once they found themselves on the territory of the western group, follow the latter's practice? There were two schools of thought among scientists.

The reports of bird watchers who had been specially notified show that the inherited urge is a stronger factor than the local circumstances of wind or weather which dictated the direction taken by the western-stork family.

"Wee Kirk o' Heather," Recalls "Annie Laurie"
Perhaps not in all the English-speaking world is there a more popular or better beloved song than "Annie Laurie."

The romantic story of William Douglas, its composer, and his faithful wooing of its heroine, Annie Laurie, is beautifully portrayed and perpetuated in the residential town of Glendale, Calif. There, in the estate of Forest Lawn, nestled in a verdant garden valley, is to be found "The Wee Kirk o' the Heather"—a tiny bit of Scotland transplanted and glorified.

On the green, sweeping slopes surrounding this little church, are great patches of purple heather, transplanted also from its native Scotland, thus enhancing the charm of this "Wee Kirk," which is a replica of the original in which Annie Laurie worshipped in the "days of auld lang syne." In Glendale, Dumfriesshire, the original in Scotland is now a ruin, but it has been suitably perpetuated in this one so far away.

The story is plausibly told on a tablet in front of "The Wee Kirk o' the Heather" that Annie Laurie was born in 1682, the daughter of Sir Robert Laurie, the owner of Maxwellton castle. Her lover, Douglas, was a member of an opposing clan and, because of this, Sir Robert refused to sanction marriage between his daughter and Douglas. In his endeavors to keep the young lovers apart, Sir Robert, imprisoned his daughter in the castle.

The Word "Removed"
The word "removed" is defined as: "Separated, as by intervening space or relationship, or by difference in kind; as, a cousin twice removed." This denotes relationship by descent, a cousin's child being termed a first cousin once removed, but the term has been used somewhat differently in later times to designate much more distant relationships, as a cousin seven times removed. The term was used by Shakespeare in "A Winter's Tale," act 4, sc. 4, l. 802: "Those that are Germaline (Shakespeare used Germaline) to him (though removed fifty times) shall all come under the Hangman." This was written in 1611. Used figuratively, it may be found in "As You Like It," act 5, sc. 4, l. 71: "Upon a lye, seven times removed."—Literary Digest.

Cactus in Wet Climate
Despite the fact that most of us think of the cactus as a native of the desert Southwest, these curious jointed, fleshy plants occur in many other parts of the country, according to a veteran student of southern botany, who has found a number of species of cacti in Florida, and these have not limited themselves to the drier central areas of the state as might be expected. "The same species of cacti that flourish there may be found in the salt marshes along the seashore. Some of these apparently have an aversion to too much wetness, however, for they have taken to living on the limbs of trees."

Foretold Coming of Phonograph
Admirers of Theophile Gautier, the great French romanticist, point out that he foreshadowed the phonograph many years before it became a reality. In 1847 Gautier wrote: "One day it will be possible to make a polished plate receive and preserve the vibrations of sound, and thus conserve and perpetuate a melody by Mario, a tirade by Rachel, or a couplet by Frederic Lemaitre. Thus we shall be able to keep hanging on the wall the serenade of Don Pasquale, the lamentations of Camille, the love declarations of Ruy Blas—records of an evening when the artist is in good form."

Shark Never Relaxes His Search for Food in Sea

No one has ever seen a shark asleep, although they may bask in the sun with a lazy fanning of fins, either on the surface or on the sandy bottom in shallow water. Omnivorous, fated to be ever-hungry, roving, relentless, the tiger of the sea apparently never relaxes his vigilance, never ceases his restless swimming through the sea in search of food, which is gulped down whole. From birth in the dim sea lanes, a shark has to keep that great, lunate, tail waving constantly, his ghostly eyes alert in an unrelenting search for prey.

Sharks are the greatest fish in the sea, says a writer in the Baltimore Sun. They glide silently up brackish river mouths, play in sunlit tropical waters, migrate by the millions along the coasts of our country, and even live at the 200-fathoms mark under the ice of Greenland's seas, where Eskimos have caught them for many decades. They have been undisputed rulers of their domain for millions of years. Yet mankind is only beginning to know the truth about them.

There is something undeniably sinister in the appearance of these sea monsters. The sight of a shark's ugly green fin slicing in zigzags along the surface, then disappearing with a swirl, leaves one with a sense of dread.

To Pay Through the Nose

This is an idiomatic phrase and means "to pay a fancy price" or "to be charged exorbitantly." The idiom dates from 1672 according to literary Digest, but its origin is unknown. Brewer, citing Grimm ("Deutsches Rechts Alterthum"), says that Odh had a poll-tax which in Sweden was called a "nose-tax." It was a penny per nose or poll (head). The Danes levied a tax, historically so-called, on fish houses in the Ninth century, and the name given to it is attributed to the fact that the penalty for the failure of payment of the tax was the slitting of the nose of the owner of the house. Weekly says, "to pay through the nose" seems to be a playful variation on "to bleed," in money sense, in which the metaphor was originally surgical.

New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide

In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort. All annoying sensations of discomfort, such as road jolts and bumps, have been eliminated. The upper photo shows the new Chevrolet coach with its long, sleek lines. Wind rush has been eliminated by the Fisher No Draft Ventilators and the new streamlined body. The lower photo shows the new Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" wheels enjoy the advantage of being completely enclosed in a weather-tight housing. The coil springs are attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle. By relieving the front springs of the task of carrying wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When the new Chevrolet strikes an irregularity in the road, both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the rear end of the car to leap into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the principle involved or the construction of the system. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" enjoys the advantage of being enclosed in a welded weather-tight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or motion. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past, because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheels and brakes in place. In independent springing, the wheels and spring mechanism are rigidly attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle. By relieving the front springs of the task of carrying wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When the new Chevrolet strikes an irregularity in the road, both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the rear end of the car to leap into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" has additional advantages all contributing to a comfort in riding never before thought possible in a motor car. There is a decided improvement in handling, steering, safety at high speeds and tire economy.

In design, the front spring is a neat, compact and efficient unit, as Mr. Miller points out in the above picture. The entire spring mechanism is attached rigidly to the frame. Even this enclosed unit, which springs vertically at the ends of strong, steel horizontal arms.

Veteran M. C. Engineer Retires

Over 200 Years' Service on Michigan Central Completed by Five Members of Wholihan Family

ENGINEER: TIM W. WHOLIHAN

With the completion of his run from Detroit to Jackson on the Michigan Central Wolverine January 29th, Engineer Tim W. Wholihan retired from active service, having reached his 70th birthday on January 14th, 1934.

Mr. Wholihan entered the service as a fireman in the fall of 1881, promoted to engineer in 1884, was extra passenger engineer from 1907 to 1910, assigned to a regular passenger run in 1910 and continued in that capacity until his retirement.

Tim Wholihan is one of a family of five brothers, all of whom devoted their lives to service on the M. C. Wolverine with an Atlantic-type locomotive. Only one of the family now remains, five cars, from Jackson to main in active service, he is Edward Michigan City, a distance of 157.43 J., dispatcher at Jackson. Another miles in 146 minutes, making stops en-brother, John, who was agent at Kalamazoo and Niles. This Tekonsha for many years and later record has never been equalled.

Lowerman at Albion is retired and lives in California. The two other brothers died while still in the employ of the Michigan Central. Dan was a parents at the age of six weeks. The dispatcher in Detroit and St. Louis, agent family first settled in Munsville, at Augusta for twenty-five years.

Altogether these five brothers have run a total service record of 218 in the Wholihan family grew old years, an average of over 43 1/2 years enough they took up railroading, four each, all with the Michigan Central, of them learning telegraphy at the old None of them ever worked for any other railroad. For some years it was possible for Engineer Tim Wholihan to drive a locomotive over the Middle Division, with brother Ed giving him orders from the dispatcher's office in Jackson and with brother John at Albion and brother Steve at Augusta, conveying these orders to him, all within one hour's running time.

Mr. Wholihan and his wife, Margaret, live at 121 West Wilkins St., Jackson. He has two sons, John W. a doctor at Michigan Center and Don of Detroit, a daughter, Mrs. Philip Schmansky, also lives in Detroit. Miss Julia Wholihan of 121 West Wilkins St., Jackson is his sister.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Why doesn't it hurt when our hair or finger nails are cut?
Ans.—Pain is caused only when a nerve is cut or injured. Neither hair nor finger nails have any nerves.

Ques.—Why is a certain kind of fish called "electric fish"?
Ans.—Because they can discharge electricity as a mode of defense when attacked or frightened. The fish has in its body millions of microscopic living cells which are really little electric batteries, and from them they can discharge a current strong enough to knock a man down.

Ques.—Can you answer in your question column why we forget our dreams so soon after we wake up?
Ans.—Because much of what we dream about is stuff that usually stays in the subconscious mind. As soon as we are fully awake the dream will begin to recede into the unconscious part again, and thus there is a tendency to forget it or make it seem vague.

Ques.—I am curious to know why a blow on the head sometimes will make a person see stars. Can you answer?
Ans.—Because the optic nerve is usually jarred with a blow or bump, and this stimulates it. The brain is in the habit of receiving from the optic nerve stimuli which it recognizes as light. Accordingly the stimulus caused by a jar of the nerves also impresses the brain as being a "light" stimulus and we think we see a flashing light, or a lot of them, like moving stars.

Ques.—You seem to be good at answering questions. Will you please tell me what I should take for my cold?
Ans.—We are not doctors, but would suggest that you take anything you can get for it, and say good-bye to it.

Ques.—May I ask in your good paper if all snakes will bite, and if they are poisonous?
Ans.—Yes. All snakes can and will bite in their defense. But in this country there are only six varieties that inject venom with their bite. They are: Rattlesnake, water moccasin, copperhead, harlequin, coral, massasauga. The cottonmouth belongs to the family of water moccasins and are not related to the common water snake which is harmless. All other snakes of this country are also harmless while their bite, nevertheless is painful but not poisonous.

Ques.—Can you tell me how much bread can be made from a bushel of wheat?
Ans.—As one bushel of wheat will produce slightly more than 42 pounds of flour, it will make about 62 one-pound loaves of bread.

Ques.—Are there any mountains in the United States that are covered with snow the year round?
Ans.—Some portions of Pike's Peak and Mt. Ranier are covered with snow, and all of Mt. Whitney has snow the whole year.

Ques.—Who was the man that socked Senator Huey Long?
Ans.—We don't know; probably Billy Patterson.

Ques.—I desire to ask in your question department if there is a penitentiary in the District of Columbia?
Ans.—The District of Columbia has no prison. It has a jail, and for short-term prisoners it uses in a few instances some of the State prisons. But for long-term prisoners the Federal prisons at Atlanta and Leavenworth are used.

Ques.—I am told that there is going to be an organization started to be known as "The Survivors of the War of the Depression." Is this true?
Ans.—We think not, because they may not get any members to start with.

The Sable

The term sable belonged originally to the tree-climbing weasel that inhabited, and still inhabits in far less numbers, northeastern Russia and Siberia. It is represented in western Europe by an essentially similar animal known since ancient times as the marten. When English colonists came first to what is now New England they found in its woods a marten so like the European that they naturally applied the same name. In fact, the pine marten is practically the same creature as that in northern Europe, and the same name, Hudson buy sable, is properly borne by it. As to color this weasel is variable.
