Sen. Copeland Sends Boy Scouts Greetings

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, who was born at Dexter, was a teacher in the Red school south of Chelsea, and was mayor of Ann Arbor, has sent the following greeting to the Boy Scouts of Washtenaw and Livingston counties:

Dear Boys:

Walter MacPeck, who is leaving Washington to become Scout Executive of the Washtenaw-Livingston counties, has volunteered to carry this message of greeting from me to you Boy Scouts.

We in Washington are sorry to lose Mr. MacPeck, who as Educational Director of the District of Columbia has performed a wonderful service. But our loss is your gain.

When I was a boy at Dexter there was no Boy Scout organization in existence. It is a keen regret to me that I was unable to enjoy the privileges of membership in this group which means so much to American boys today. I have always had a deep interest in the Boy Scouts since they were organized in 1910. Particularly have I been interested in those of you who live in that part of Michigan where I lived as a boy.

As Boy Scouts you maintain high physical and moral standards that will distinguish you as you advance in years to take on the responsibilities of adult life. You have an opportunity now as members of this splendid organization to participate in all of its activities. Under the guidance of your new Scout Executive I foresee new activities and interests for you boys of Washtenaw and Livingston counties, activities that will bring even more pleasure and pride in being Boy Scouts.

To all of you and to Mr. MacPeck go my heartiest wishes for a happy new year and continued happy friendships throughout the years to come.

(Signed)

Senator Royal S. Copeland.
Mr. MacPeck, the new Scout Executive of the council which includes the Chelsea Boy Scout Troop No. 1, as well as the Chelsea Sea Scouts, will speak to the Chelsea Kiwanis club on Monday evening, January 28, and will visit local Scout leaders, committee men and others who are giving leadership to Scouting locally.

Football Squad Will Be Honored Tuesday

The Senior class of Chelsea high school will serve a football banquet on Tuesday evening, January 22 for the members of the squad of Chelsea High football team, Coaches Spaulding and Johnson, and residents of the community.

The banquet is sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club, each club member purchasing two tickets, one for himself and one for a member of the football squad.
Harry Kipke, University of Michigan coach, will be the speaker of the evening. The ticket sale is in charge of the Senior class, the price of the banquet being 50c. The meal will be served at 6:30.

ORGANIZE MISSIONARY CLUB

At a meeting held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wackenhut, the Missionary club of St. Paul's church was organized, with Mrs. Wackenhut as president and Mrs. Lizetta Widmayer as chairman and secretary. All members of the club are over 70 years of age and meetings will be held the second Thursday of each month. The club will work for Foreign Missions and they are now making bandages for a hospital in India. At the close of the meeting, lunch was served, and each guest drew a gift from a pie which centered the table.

GERMAN INN. CO. ELECTIONS

The annual meeting of the German Mutual Farmers' Fire Insurance Co. was held Monday afternoon at the court house, Ann Arbor. Officers were elected as follows:
President—George Haab, Freedom.
Vice Pres.—John Frey, Selo.
Secretary—George C. Haist, Lima.
Directors—John Widmayer, Saline; Carl Geiger, Selo; George J. Loeffler, Freedom.
Treasurer—Charles Alber, Bridgewater.

ADD NEW LOCAL FREIGHT

Freight business has picked up so much on the Michigan Central that on Tuesday they added another way freight. It has been some time since they have run a way freight each way every day. On Saturday 14 carloads of freight were shipped from the local yards. The shipment included flour, onions, and scrap iron.

Initial Purchase of 4,700 Acres Assured; 5,300 Additional Acres Under Option

Acquisition of land by the federal government for the establishment of a national park of upwards of 10,000 acres in Washtenaw and Jackson counties has definitely begun, and the purchase of the first block of 4,700 acres has received final approval in Washington. Options have been secured on 5,300 additional acres thus far, bringing the total area of the project up to 10,000 acres. The immediate program calls for an investment of between $150,000 and $200,000 by the federal government. For the present, the enterprise is known as the "Waterloo Land Use Adjustment Demonstration Project," but what its ultimate title will be has not been made known.

The land is in Sylvan and Lyndon townships of Washtenaw county and the adjoining Waterloo, Grass Lake and Leoni townships of Jackson county. A large part of this area is in poor or deserted farms. Nine lakes are included as well as considerable marsh. Lakes which have been optioned in whole or in part by the government include Mill, Crooked, Cedar, Sugar Loaf, Mud, Cassidy, Merkel, Leake and Big Portage (Jackson county), as well as some 15 small ponds. About 135 persons are now residing on the property.

Selection of the Jackson-Washtenaw location was made because of the quality of the soils, and the Waterloo section, surrounded by one of the best farming districts in southern Michigan, is close to the metropolitan areas of the state which require the recreational facilities the project will offer in the future.

Included in the region are lands which are submarginal in character but which have been farmed since early settlement days. These will be returned to forest and game cover. Within the outside boundary lines of the proposed park are large areas of good agricultural land which will not be disturbed in the creation of the new recreational reserve.

A considerable portion of the optioned land comprises marsh and swamps. For generations this has been one of the chief concentration points for a wide variety of waterfowl. It is likely that the government will set aside a part of the marsh land as a refuge for ducks, geese and other migratory fowl.

Whether any part will be set aside for public hunting grounds has not been determined, but that course is believed probable.

Approximately 60 per cent of the area follows a beautiful range of hills. Although the primary purpose of the federal program is to retire such land from agricultural use, this particular project will be dedicated dominantly to recreational purposes. In addition to building up the fishing in lakes and streams, one tract of marsh will be reflooded by damming of the Portage river and its tributaries. All standard park and camp facilities will be provided and bathing beaches and picnic grounds will be built.

With the government now actually making purchases in the area, it is probable that persons living on the property will be given the alternatives of selling for cash and moving from the project; using rehabilitation machinery to relocate elsewhere; or to obtain life leases of home sites to stay on and work neighboring lands. Small isolated spots of good land will remain in production as subsistence farms for project workers.

Provisions have been made for using the project as a field experimental laboratory for the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and the State Conservation Department. It is expected that through the practice of a sound land utilization program in the area, the project will eventually become self-supporting.

The new location of highway US-12, to be graded and paved this year, skirts the southern boundaries of the reservation, touching them at several points.

Starting near the eastern Jackson city limits, the route of the new thoroughfare eastward will pass between Gillett and Brill lakes, touching the edge of Goose lake, about three miles north of Leoni; passing about two miles north of Grass Lake, it joins the present US-12 about three miles west of Chelsea, and preliminary surveys will take the road south of the present highway past Chelsea, thence to Ann Arbor. Work on this new highway will start about February 1.

According to federal estimates, 3,073,715 people reside within a radius of 50 miles of the Waterloo project, and its development will attract hundreds of thousands to this vicinity.

HEAVEN

To the Grampas and Grampas of
The Standard family, by Arthur
Carlton.Life changes all our thoughts of Heaven.At first we think of streets of gold,
Of gates of pearl and dazzling light,
Of shining wings and robes,
And things of white, all strange to mortal sight.But in the afterword of years,
It is a more familiar place,
A home unhurt by sighs or tears,
Where waiteth many a well known face.With passing months it comes more near,It grows more real day by day,
Not strange or cold, but very dear—
The glad home land not far away,
Where none are sick, or poor, or lone,
The place where we shall find our own.And as we think of all we knew,
Who there have met to part no more,
Our longing hearts desire home too,
With all the strife and trouble over.

OUR NEIGHBORS

JACKSON—Snow and ice have combined to make Jackson conscious of local winter sports possibilities. For more than a month sub-freezing temperatures made skating and coasting in the parks possible. This was fine for the children living in proximity to those parks, not so fine for the others. The American Legion fixed up a skating rink on West Trail street near its home. Mayor Wright suggested flooding the race track at the fairgrounds. This was considered highly sensible as children in that section are farthest from parks. Flooding of the mound in Sharp Park for sledding was also advocated. Finally the greatest suggestion of all came from Capt. William Sparks. It was more than a suggestion. Capt. Sparks announced that he was starting to build a 700-foot toboggan slide in Sparks Foundation, with a half-mile runway through the park. It was to be ready within two weeks.

No sooner had all these noble suggestions been made to turn Jackson into a winter playground than the mercury that had been hovering for weeks at 25 degrees or less, promptly shot upward to 40. A thaw set in that postponed most of the program.—Evening Star.

WAYNE—As supervisor of the Old Age Pension Bureau in Wayne County it is Bryson Loughbridge's duty to check the ages of all applicants to determine whether they are more than 70 years of age. It usually is a difficult thing to do, he says, but the other day a woman applied who claimed that she was 104 years old. The best way she knew to prove her age was to have Mr. Loughbridge check her records and see that her son was already on the pension list, and he was 76.—County Review.

NORTHVILLE—The Ford valve factory in Northville will add 40 men to its payroll tomorrow in order to step up production to 48,000 units a day, the amount necessary to keep pace with the production schedule of the new car. Including 20 men already hired more than a week ago, the plant will have taken on 80 men this month, increasing the payroll $2,000 per week and bringing the total number of men employed there to 300. This figure is equal to the number who worked in the factory from January to June in 1934.—Record.

GRASS LAKE—Approximately $100 worth of merchandise was taken by thieves who burglarized the Snyder and Fuller store last Thursday night or Friday morning. Entrance was gained by using a jimmy on the lock of the front door and discovery of the theft was not made until the store was opened in the morning. While it is impossible to make a complete check of all the merchandise stolen all of the cigars and cigars in one case were taken as well as a quantity of smoking tobacco, also three slabs of bacon, a full box of yeast cakes, rubber footwear, candy, shoes and possibly some dry goods. Apparently the marauders were frightened away while they were at work for much merchandise had been removed from the shelves and placed in boxes preparatory to removal. On the floor back of a counter were several full boxes of cigars which had been left in a hasty exit. Both the state police and sheriff's department investigated and it was found by comparing the marks of the jimmy that the job was apparently the work of the same gang which has been operating extensively in Jackson and outlying towns.—News.

SALINE—Henry Ford has exercised his option on the Joe Schmid property, the latter, as we understand it, reserving the home and a small strip of land back of Dan Nissly's. Eight men were put at work in the mill Tuesday morning, getting it in readiness for whatever purpose Mr. Ford intends to use it, and that is about all of the information available on the project at this writing. It is sure to mean much to Saline, of that all seem to be agreed.—Observer.

PLYMOUTH—The fire alarm which was sounded Sunday afternoon about 2:00 o'clock is the first one the Plymouth fire department has had since October 23, 1934. This is an all time record for recent years as far as can be determined by any members of the fire department. There were absolutely no calls during the months of November and December.—Mail.

Protect Penguins.
During a bronchitis epidemic in London, throats of penguins in the London zoo were wrapped in mufflers.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I notice that almost all dummy clocks and watches in front of jewelry stores the hands are pointing at 8:18 o'clock. In making inquiries about this, many told me that the hands were set that way because it was the exact time Lincoln was shot. But they could give me no proof. I would like to know the truth through your Questions and Answers.

Ans.—The fixing of the hands on dummy clocks and watches has nothing to do with the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The President was shot shortly after 10 o'clock instead of at 8:18. Originally the placing of the hands at 8:18 was done because that position was most symmetrical—more pleasing to the eye. The custom has been followed almost invariably ever since.

Ques.—When a horse works all day and then stands up all night, in his stall, when does he sleep? Only a few times have I ever found one lying down—and they weren't asleep.

Ans.—Horses, like elephants and several other kind of animals, have the power to sleep while standing. The muscles of their legs are peculiar to a locking mechanism just before sleep comes over them. When a horse lies down, he does so to rest, and not primarily to sleep. A horse can sleep while lying, but he prefers the standing position.

Ques.—Please may I ask you what is "coral"?

Ans.—Corals are the skeletons of small sea animals.

Ques.—A certain person in this vicinity was referred to as a "sword-swallower", and he said I was the same. When I asked him what he meant by that, he just laughed. Can you tell me what he probably meant?

Ans.—A "sword-swallower" is a person who performs the trick of running a sword into his mouth and down his throat into his stomach. This, of course, is an optical illusion. In etiquette, "sword-swallower" is an epithet applied derisively to a person who feeds himself with a knife when he should use his fork. Probably this is what he meant.

Ques.—Will you kindly explain in your Question Department what "single tax" means?

Ans.—Single tax is a plan to discard all other forms of taxation for national, state, county or municipal revenues. Taxation would be on land only, and taxes would not be increased on any improvement that would enhance the valuation of the real estate.

Ques.—Does the District of Columbia have auto license tags? If so, what are the colors for 1935?

Ans.—Yes. The District of Columbia's plates for 1935 are green figures on a white background. This same color combination is exactly the same for New Hampshire.

Ques.—I wish you would answer why some war strongholds are called fortresses instead of forts?

Ans.—We do not know. But we would guess it is because they are harder to silence.

Ques.—What was the day and date that William Penn made his treaty with the Indians?

Ans.—William Penn's historical treaty with the Indians was made on Wednesday, June 23, 1683.

Ques.—You will settle a dispute if you will please answer whether or not Christopher Columbus was the discoverer of America?

Ans.—Columbus is officially credited with discovering America, although he did not know it, he thought he landed on the islands that were a part of the East Indies. But the fact that he had landed on the western hemisphere gives him proper credit. Cabot, who sailed from England five years later than Columbus, was the first to land on the American continent.

Ques.—Did Jesus Christ speak the language of the Romans or was it the language of the Jews?

Ans.—Jesus spoke Aramaic. This is one of a group of Semitic languages and dialects that spread among the Semitic peoples of Arabia, Euphrates Valley, Mesopotamia and Palestine. Aramaic is of extreme antiquity.

Ques.—What is a pomato?

Ans.—Pomato is a combination of potato and tomato. It is a fragrant, succulent, tomato-like fruit produced by grafting tomato scions on potato plants. It is eaten raw as a salad, or may be cooked.

Ques.—Why do some people have straight hair while others have curly hair?

Ans.—Straight hair is perfectly round and will not curl, naturally. Curly hair is slightly flattened, although not perceptible to the naked eye. Because of its slightly flattened condition, it has a tendency to curl.

Someone from Home

by Lawrence Hawthorne

She welcomed me with trembling hands,
And eyes that smiled through tears—
I was the first old friend from home
She'd seen in twenty years!
"Someone from home," she said, and sighed;
"Oh, you could never know
How good it is to have you here!
I miss my old friends so!"

We talked about our yesterday—
About the folks we knew
Long years ago; we talked about
The things we used to do.
Her heart still clung to memories
Of days when life was glad;
But oh, how lonely she had grown,
How desolate and sad!

The time for parting came too soon;
She plead with me to stay;
Someone from home gave her more joy
Than words could ever say...
And I shall cherish through the years
The brave and wistful smile
With which she thanked me—just because I talked with her awhile.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

Two Michigan State prison inmates, Earl Reno, 23, and Fred Naracow, 26, walked away from a probation guard in a woodlot near Portage lake last week Wednesday afternoon. They were missed by the guards at about 1 p. m. but officials were not notified until 2:45, as one of the guards was forced to take the gang of 20 men for some distance before he could locate a telephone. Naracow hid in the basement of a Waterloo church and was captured Thursday morning. Guards scoured the country in search of Reno, who is believed to have stolen a car found abandoned Thursday morning in Ann Arbor. Naracow, sentenced from Grand Rapids for unlawfully driving away an automobile, had been a trusty since January 24, 1934, and his minimum sentence would have expired Sept. 2, 1935. Reno, described as weighing 182 pounds, five feet, nine inches tall, with light ash-brown hair and light complexion, was sentenced in 1930 for breaking and entering. He had been a trusty since May, 1933, and would have been eligible for parole Jan. 17, 1936.

Wrong Mr. Wright

The Biology club assisted by the Agriculture department of Chelsea High are to give a three act comedy, "The Wrong Mr. Wright", under the direction of Owen Lyons, at the high school gym, Saturday evening, January 19, at 8:00 o'clock, with the following cast:

Seymour Sites—Who assumes the name of Mr. Wright—Thomas Taylor.
Wayland Clingstone—One of the boys long ago—Leslie Bycraft.
Frederick Bondo—Sites' nephew—Lynn Dancer.
Lord Brazenface—From the old country—Ben Alger.
Front, who runs the hotel—Charlie Winans.
David Clewa—A fearless detective—Tom Alexander.
Julia Bonds—Sites' niece—Angeline Burg.
Tillie Bird—Miss Bond's maid—Janet Dancer.
Anabella Clingstone—An unapproprated angel—Jeanette Cook.
Hemietta Oliver—A fin de siècle detective—Mildred Goodell.
Pollemon—Gerard Cook and Robert Gilbert.

This is not a play of great action, however, it does have a very interesting plot and much subtle humor. It takes place at Old Point Comfort, a fashionable summer resort. The characters are brought together at this delightful spot by a fifty thousand dollar forgery. There will be musical entertainment between acts.

Reserve Game

Last week Friday Chelsea played St. Mary's of Adrian, winning both games. The Reserves won by a score of 20-6. The Chelsea Reserves took the lead at the start and held it all the way through. At the end of the first quarter the score was 12 to 4 in favor of Chelsea. During the second half Coach Johnson put in his substitute material and gave them a chance to show what they could do. The high point men in this game were Howe, Cook and Novess, Howe making 7 points, Cook 6, and Novess 5.

Tomorrow night Chelsea journeys to Ann Arbor to engage in a court battle with U. High. It is expected to be a close battle because Chelsea and U. High are tied for first place in the Huron Valley League. It will be well worth your time to attend this game because the team that wins will be the Huron League leaders and will have a good chance to become League champions. There will be a preliminary game at 7:15 between the Reserves of the two schools. Let's see large percent of home rooters there!

"Dear Aunt Bella"

Dear Aunt Bella:

How can I regain a lost boy friend. He is a grade behind me. I can't imagine what I've done to displease him. Please help me.

A Blond Junior.

Wait until he gets to be a Junior like you.

Aunt (smart girl) Bella.

Dear Aunt Bella:

I am a Senior and I've lost my heart to a Sophomore. He has curly hair and plays on the saxophone. I adore both of those instruments. How can I catch him.

Blue Eyed Senior.

Yours is a tough problem. But maybe you're using the wrong kind of bait on your hook—instead you use grasshoppers instead of worms.

Aunt (worms) Bella.

Dear Aunt Bella:

I am a very chubby girl of 40 odd years. Mother thinks I'm too young to marry. I only have one lonely little boy friend. He is blind and I have courted him for three years. How can I get more?

Chubby Girl.

Don't forget that there are still dead and dumb people in this world.

Aunt (dead) Bella.

Miscellaneous

(Or Something)

Today we decided to be columnists. Students find "The Sugar Bowl" a popular place to spend their evening. Most any night you'll find the boys sitting in booths on congested around slot machines. The girls drift in by twos and threes and inhabit the booths. It is amusing to watch some make eyes over the sides of the booths at one of the boys aimlessly talking to some of the group.

A favorite tipsy story: A man, after having a little too much moonshine, came weaving home about 2 a. m. He entered the hall and tipped over the gold fish bowl. His wife sleepily asked, "Who is it?" The man mumbled, "I'll touch those darn gold fish to snup at me!"

Why does Bryce Richards now add a D. B. after his name? Can it be that up and coming Sophomore Doris Rogers is affecting his everyday life?

Sand Patch Spreads

A 30-foot square patch of sand has spread into a small desert of several hundred acres at Freeport, Maine, during the last 40 years.

Caesar Says

What are you happy about, Jane? I'm happy because I just killed Ozzie the saxophone player. What will you get?

Did you hear about the lady aviator who set an endurance record? No, how long did she talk?

Jane—When you asked Normie to dance did he accept the idea with alacrity?

Helen—Yes, he was on my feet in an instant.

When a Scotchman leaves a night club, it's always mourning.

I had to quit dancing last night. Corn?

Nogge, rye!

And did you hear of the stenog who didn't mail the circular letters because she couldn't find any round envelopes?

The magician's wife knew he was up to his old tricks when she found a hare (hat) on his shoulder.

Elementary News

Kindergarten

All of us want to thank the First Grade for the furniture that they made for us.

Upon our return from vacation we made new curtains for our room.

Our number recognition games that we have been busy making, are helping us greatly in learning the numbers.

First Grade

We are going to make a town. A big picture of our town we have drawn on the blackboard. Each one of us are going to make a building for our town. Charles Slape is making a mill. Robert Breitenwischer is making a school. John Walz is making a gas station. Barbara Eaton is making a church. Anne Lambertson is making an ice cream store. Thora Hill is making an ice cream store. The rest of us haven't started ours yet.

Second Grade

We were glad to hear the school bell ring again and are busily at work once more.

Robert and June Novess are absent because of the chicken pox. We will all be glad when this epidemic has run its course.

Hobby Schenk has spent several days at home with the flu. Too bad. Bobby, you are missing some good times.

Wednesday afternoon was "Dolly Day" for the girls in the Second Grade. Such an array of lovely dolls! Most of them were Christmas gifts.

David Potts came and gave us a splendid talk on his school work in Grand Rapids. We are always glad to see David.

Fourth Grade

We are all glad to be back again! Miss Kern went to an auto show and brought back three pictures drawn by Larry Strody.

Two groups were divided into, taking the names of winter birds.

Fifth Grade

During conversation period Monday evening found that nearly every one in the room had a sled for Christmas. No wonder, it was so slippery during vacation.

Mrs. Dietle visited us during Arithmetic and Geography periods on Monday. Lawrence has returned to school for part-time work.

Sixth Grade

Leonard Spiegelberg gave us an interesting report on the Belgian Congo taken from the address given by Mrs. Longfield who recently returned from Africa. He and Edwin Gaunt represented our room at the lecture. In the fourth grade the Belgian Congo was one of our units of work. Leonard, with the help of Edwin, illustrated his talk with many interesting drawings.

The Third Grade entertained us on Friday morning with a group of songs, sung very nicely with Robert Eaton accompanying on his new ukulele.

We visited the furnace room to watch the working of the new stoker and Mr. Gentner very kindly explained the mechanism and the operation of this new stoker.

We send greetings to June Crawford. We miss you, June.

Donald Walz brought a pigeon to school.

Most of us went to Mrs. Longfield's lecture about Belgian Congo. We enjoyed it.

We are studying about the use of fire. First, early man started his fire by lighting burning trees. Its uses we have been studying down to the automatic control. Jan. 5 Mr. Beecker took us on a little trip to see the school's stoker.

Defeat St. Mary's

Chelsea swamped St. Mary's of Adrian last Friday night on the local court. The Chelsea lads completely outclassed their rivals in all departments of the game.

The Chelsea boys had an easy time winning as they pleased but were handicapped by the visitors' rough play. St. Mary's played the roughest game ever presented by a high school team on the local floor and lost many opportunities to score by general poor floor work. This was Chelsea's fourth victory of the season.

MANY BANKS LONG LIVED
In the United States—
168 Banks over 100 years old.
2,172 Banks over 50 years old.
10,391 Banks over 25 years old.

There are in the United States 168 banks that have been in continuous existence for more than one hundred years. There are 2,172 banks over fifty years old, while 64% of all the banks in this country, or 10,391, are twenty-five years old or older.

In other words, practically two-thirds of the banks in this country have come through several successive periods of depression and panic, including 1907, 1914, 1920 and 1929-30.

The Oldest Bank
The oldest bank in the country, which is in Boston, was chartered February 17, 1784.

In the 64% of banks that are twenty-five years old or older is lodged a major portion of the banking resources of the nation. In commenting recently upon the stability of a great majority of the banks in the United States, Dr. Harold Storer, Educational Director of the American Bankers Association, said:

"The fact that we have so many banks that have been in existence a long period of years is an eloquent tribute to the genius of American managerial ability, for no other country has experienced such wild gambling eras and resultant periods of business stagnation as those through which our country has passed at frequent intervals during the past century."

NEW WEALTH FROM SOIL

Now, wealth which comes from the soil is of special interest to those to whom falls the responsibility of maintaining our credit structure.

Unless agriculture is successful farm borrowers cannot ultimately succeed, neither can the banks they serve. Foreclosure sales are not a sound basis for good farming or good banking. Bankers, therefore, are as much interested in the permanent success of the agricultural industry as are the farmers, whether the deposits come directly from farm patrons, or indirectly through the ordinary channels of business.—D. H. Otis, Director of Agriculture, American Bankers Association.

"We Do Our Part"

MUCH effort is being put forth on every hand to restore what the human mind calls normal times, and many plans are being tried in the endeavor to accomplish this purpose. Wide appeal has been made in the United States for cooperation, and some show their willingness to cooperate by agreeing to certain codes; such are permitted to display a card on which is printed an emblem bearing the words, "We Do Our Part." Those who are permitted to advertise that they are doing their part must closely watch to see that they live up to their declaration.

In considering true cooperative effort in the highest—the spiritual—sense, we must discover where it is we begin to do our part. All the material codes we may subscribe to, this way to measure the amount of work we do by what we get? Or are we cheerfully striving to bring out the highest sense of service by putting forth our best efforts to give and do the very best we can, happy in the thought that we are loyally and lovingly cooperating with those with whom we live, for whom we are working, realizing our opportunities and the privilege it is to do our part in the great work of helping mankind?

Are we as employers holding the thought that business is a means of getting without giving? Do we feel we have the right to get as much as we can from our employees through long hours and low wages? Are we disregarding the conditions under which they are working, constantly finding fault with their work, and holding them in bondage to fear of losing their positions? Are we thinking that these policies will make more profits for ourselves and more dividends for the stockholders?

Or are we striving to bring out the highest concept of an employer, and realizing that loving consideration of all is the first step toward producing harmonious cooperation? Honest and just compensation is not only essential, but mandatory; for did not the master Christian tell us that "the laborer is worthy of his hire"? Are we as considerate of the one doing the most menial work as we are of the highest-salaried executive, knowing that, according to God's plan, each idea, being in its right place and expressing right activity, is entitled to the same loving consideration? Are we practicing the Golden Rule and loving our neighbors as ourselves?

This is a great work and, in order to accomplish it, it is necessary that we be constantly on guard against the enemy who, through aggressive suggestion, would divert us from our high purpose. Who is this enemy? Thoughts of disobedience, dishonesty, deception, disloyalty, selfishness, greed, envy, jealousy, resentment, and the like are the enemies of our ability to do our part. The Bible records an occasion when a great work of restoration was going on, and the enemy conspired against it, and we read, "Nevertheless we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night; because of them." And when the enemy found they had been discovered, they tried through subtle suggestions to stop the work. But Nehemiah always on guard, states further, "And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you? We must follow Nehemiah's example and set a watch day and night. We must not come down to the level of erroneous thoughts and leave the work we have set ourselves to do.

Restoration of work begins with the realization that God's creation is already perfect and complete. Nothing can ever change this one perfect creation, for we read in Genesis, "God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good." It is a false concept of creation, a fabrication of the human mind, which produces limitation, poverty, depression, and world-wide discordant conditions.

On page 340 of "Science and Spirituality" by Key to the Scriptures, the textbook of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy tells us in the following words how the true understanding of God restores harmony: "One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor thyself'; unifies pagan and Christian industry; whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed."—The Christian Science Monitor.

The Secret of the Walnut Closet

MADAME DE POLVERE, member of the French nobility, was in great dread—she felt instinctively that the sword of death was hanging over her head.

In her anxiety she communicated with Fouché, the French minister of police, asking that he send one of his representatives to her in order that she might give him a startling piece of information.

She laid stress on the fact that she did not want Fouché himself but one of his subordinates.

With characteristic perversity Fouché went himself—but in disguise. His own brother would not have known him any more than did the butler at the handsome ancestral mansion on the Rue des Fosse-Saint-Victor, although the famous detective had attended more than one reception there.

These were two Madame de Polveres in the house—the young woman and the dowager of the same name. He asked for the younger one, and presently was greeted by a ravishingly beautiful woman.

After some hesitation, she told the detective that she was in deadly fear of being poisoned by her mother-in-law.

She said she was the third wife of the nobleman and that the other two had died very mysteriously.

The elder Madame de Polveres was fearful that the family name might become extinct.

When it became certain that the first two wives would bring no heirs to the nobleman they had languished and died.

The narrator told the minister of police that she had been married two years now, and it was impossible that she would have any children.

The mother-in-law had commented on this and thrown out ugly hints.

She had gone to the country and invited young Madame de Polveres to follow her.

She was afraid to do so and in her terror had sent for the detective.

Fouché listened to this amazing story and agreed to stay in the house and see the adventure through.

That night the countess returned home and was furious at the disobedience of her daughter-in-law.

She went to her room and gave orders that she was not to be disturbed under any circumstances.

Fouché felt that the solution of the mystery would come before morning.

He managed to get a room opposite to that of the elderly one and he watched the door like a hawk.

An arrest could not be made on suspicion. He must have facts.

They came in the most unexpected and convincing manner.

The countess had the great misfortune to herself to be a sleepwalker.

About midnight the door of her room opened and the countess came out, clothed only in her nightdress and slippers and carrying an unlighted candle.

The police minister, who was in the hall, crept against the side of the wall.

The woman passed without seeing him.

She walked up the staircase until she came to the third floor, which contained the servants' quarters.

Presently she reached a dingy passage which led to an unfrequented chamber.

She stealthily crossed the room, brushed aside a great tapestry, revealing a walnut panel.

She touched a secret spring and the door of a closet flew open, displaying a row of bottles containing poison.

Selecting one of these, she placed it in her nightdress and returned to her room.

The next morning she was placed under arrest and made an abject confession.

The police minister reported the case to the emperor, who declared that such a monstrous crime should not be permitted to go unpunished.

But he wished very much to save the honor of the noble house.

How could justice be done without causing lasting shame on an honored name?

"Leave it to me, sire," said the resourceful Fouché, "and I will guarantee that justice will be done."

He arrested the countess for an alleged political crime.

She was cast into prison for life. Her husband and son pleaded for her, but when they learned the nature of her crime they broken-hearted left her to her fate.

The fate she chose for herself—she made the punishment fit the crime by taking a dose of poison and dying in great agony.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce
Although the United States Chamber of Commerce was formed at a conference called at Washington in 1912 by President Taft, it is not a government organization, writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. It is instead, a federation of local chambers of commerce, boards of trade, national trade associations and similar bodies. Its purpose is to co-ordinate and express the views of the various groups that constitute it, to supply information on economic conditions, and to serve the whole nation in much the same manner as local chambers of commerce serve their communities.
