Contracts Awarded for Re-location of US-12

Low bids have been determined by the State Highway Department on Lower Peninsula highway construction projects, including US-12 in Jackson and Washtenaw counties, as follows:

7.3 miles of grading and drainage structure on US-12, Jackson east, to Louis & Frisinger Company, Ann Arbor, $92,328.18; 6.1 miles of grading and drainage structure on US-12, Jackson county, east county line west, R. D. Baker, Royal Oak, $74,781.66; 3.6 miles grading and drainage structures, US-12, Washtenaw county, west county line east, E. B. Schwaderer, Cass City, $69,206.29.

The foregoing three grading and drainage projects make up approximately 14 miles of new improvements on the re-location of US-12, from Jackson east and northeast. This is the main Detroit to Chicago thoroughfare. The new road is to be laid out for modern speed and heavy traffic with modern super-elevation on curves and long easy grades. Approximately 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth are to be removed. Work is to be started about February 1 and should furnish employment for 300 men for several months.

Corporation Figures Show Business Gains

Figures thus far compiled for January from the records of the Corporation Division, Secretary of State's office, continue the trend of the past few months, foreign corporations were filing in increasing numbers, as compared with the same periods a year previous. In 1933, foreign corporations filing in this state, totaled 133; in 1934, the total was 215.

Fewer domestic corporations are dissolving. Many Michigan firms have reorganized, providing new capital in anticipation of increased business. What is believed the "biggest" day in this division, for many years, was Jan. 7, when 30 new Michigan corporations were placed on file.

As January was ending, nearly 50 percent of the approximately 2,500 corporations delinquent Aug. 31, 1934, in filing their reports and paying their corporation privilege fee, had complied with the law. It is believed that when the next filing deadline is reached, next Aug. 31, only a few delinquents will be listed.

An annual gain of from $250,000 to $500,000 in corporation privilege fees, will be gained by the state as the result of the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court that the Michigan corporation tax law is constitutional. The decision sustained a ruling of the state supreme court in the Detroit International Bridge case, in which efforts had been made to establish immunity from the tax. The Bridge company claimed it was engaged in foreign commerce.

Mrs. Alice E. Alexander, director of the corporation division, represented the state before the Tax Appeal Board and the two supreme courts. The decision, settling definitely the contentious question, means that other corporations, including tunnel, warehouse and dock firms not engaged in commerce, but owning properties used in commerce, will be liable for the tax. Mrs. Alexander successfully contended that the Bridge company was not engaged in commerce, and that it collected tolls for the use of the bridge.

Copies of the new 1934 school laws, including all statutes pertaining to schools, are now ready for free distribution to anyone who writes the Secretary of State for them.

Local Football Squad Honored At Banquet

Honoring Chelsea High's 1934 football squad of almost thirty boys, 150 people attended a banquet at the public school auditorium Tuesday evening, sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club. The banquet was served at 7:00 o'clock by the Senior class of the high school.

Rev. F. D. Mumby gave the invocation and during the dinner hour P. F. Niehaus led in group singing, with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano. The program opened with the introduction of H. L. Bleecker as toastmaster, by Ed. Eaton, president of the Kiwanis club. Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg rendered two vocal duets, "Pat of My Dreams" and "Little Tin Soldier." Junior Seitz, captain of the 1934 football squad, gave a short talk in which he stressed the point that the splendid cooperation of his team mates made possible the winning of five out of nine games played during the past season, and expressed regret that nine of the players were graduating this year.

Miss Virginia Barrus then rendered a piano solo, "Manhattan Serenade," which was followed by an announcement by the toastmaster that the 1935 football squad had selected Moritz Brueckner as captain. Moritz responded with a brief talk.

Harold Spaulding, coach of the team, gave a short talk in which he praised the work of the 1934 squad, and presented 15 boys of the team with letters. Those honored are: Maurice Howe, Loren Benter, Dudley Foster, Leo Allhouse, Robert Williams, George Frinzing, Robert Niehaus, Norman Wenk, Richard Sowers, Max Youngs, Olen Hart, Lynn Dancer, Moritz Brueckner, Philip Novess and Junior Seitz. Richard Sowers then presented Mr. Spaulding with a gift from the squad as a token of the appreciation of the team which he coached during the past season.

Harry Kipke, head coach at the University of Michigan, gave an inspirational address, urging parents to give their boys encouragement in their football career, pointing out the rigid rules under which athletes must live during the playing season, which in his estimation is invaluable to the boys in later life. Mr. Kipke's talk was interspersed with humorous incidents which he has observed during his playing and coaching career.

FARMERS CLUB MEETS

The Western Washtenaw Farmers club was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Dancer. Dinner was served at 6:30, with covers for 60, after which the program opened with a song, "Home on the Range," by the club, followed by the invocation by Rev. F. D. Mumby.

Miscellaneous quotations were given in response to roll call and readings were given by P. H. Riemen-schneider and H. L. Bleecker. The orchestra rendered several selections and "Blue Bells of Scotland" was sung by the assembly.

A social time was enjoyed, after which the men closed the program by singing "Good-night, Ladies."

Thieves Enter School Building Saturday

After a lull of several months, bandits whose thoughts turn to local safes were again active here Saturday night when an attempt was made to break open the safe in the superintendent's office at the public school building.

The would-be burglars entered the building by prying open the door of the furnace room. They succeeded in breaking the combination dial off and driving the mechanism into the safe but were unsuccessful in their attempt to open the safe. Discovery of the attempted burglary was made by Ed. Gentner, school janitor, when he entered the building Sunday morning. It is believed the burglary was attempted by local talent who knew there was a show staged in the building Saturday night, and who thought the proceeds would be placed in the safe. However, they would have been disappointed in this respect as the money was not left there.

Participation In Scout Jubilee Urged By Yost

"We urge that each Boy Scout troop in the Washtenaw-Livingston Council will plan to celebrate Boy Scout Week February 8-14 in the most thorough way possible," Fielding H. Yost, Commissioner of the Washtenaw-Livingston Boy Scout Council said today in discussing the approaching 25th Anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

Individual troops, or groups of troops when several of them desire to celebrate together are requested to consider various possibilities of celebrating this Silver Anniversary of Scouting.

On Anniversary Day, Friday, February 8, in some localities bells will be rung and whistles blown at 8 p. m. At 8:15 p. m. every Scout and former Scout in America is asked to reaffirm his Scout Oath: "On my honor I will do my best: To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Where radio reception can be arranged for, Scout groups will tune in on the national broadcast being prepared.

Anniversary week plans of some troops will include the mobilization not only of Scouts but of parents and friends of Scouts and of Alumni. Scout Sunday will be observed on February 10 and Scouts are asked to attend the Sunday school and church of their faith. On this Sunday many clergymen will make special reference to Scouting's contribution to America.

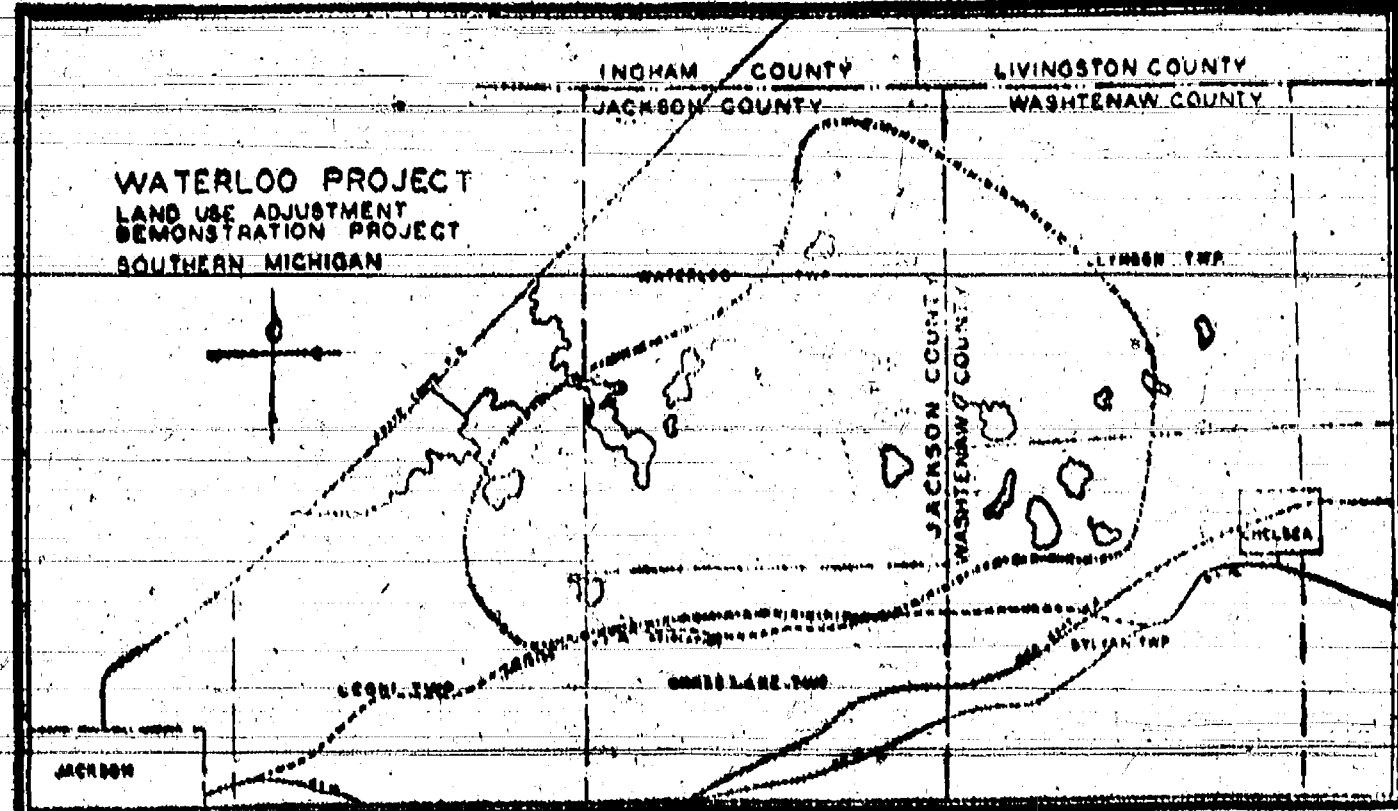

ATTEND RELIGIOUS MEET

About 20 members of the Methodist, Congregational and Salem Sunday schools were in Dexter on Wednesday evening to attend the annual meeting of the Northwest District of Washtenaw County Council of Religious Education, which was held in the Methodist church. A delicious pot-luck supper was served at seven o'clock. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Chappell, superintendent of the public schools in Ypsilanti.

MROWCA CONFESSES

John Mrowca, 18 years old, of Dearborn, pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery armed and was remanded to jail for sentence later, on Saturday afternoon. Mrowca admitted that he aided his brother, Joe, sentenced to prison for robbery armed, in holding up Frank Leach at his farm home in Lima last September. A third member of the gang is still being sought.

Map of Waterloo Federal Playground Project

The above map shows the location of the national park in the Waterloo area. The government has made an initial purchase of 4,700 acres, with an additional 5,300 acres under option. This map also shows the re-location of the US-12 highway between Jackson and a point about three miles west of Chelsea where it intersects the present highway. The new highway will pass under the Michigan Central railway near the Oscar Kalmbach farm in Sylvan township.

PARMA—Commemorating the founding of the Parma Baptist church one hundred years ago, local Baptists conducted an interesting service at the United church Sunday evening, with over 200 persons in attendance.—News.

CHARLOTTE—H. T. McGrath, who is spending the winter in Florida, sends the following clippings: "Tourists are finding a greatly increased budget is required this year. Rents have advanced sharply and entirely out of reason, while living expenses have climbed proportionately. Another objectionable feature is the state gasoline tax of seven cents. Positively vicious in Florida, which has the automobile and tourist from the north to thank for its developments. Eggs—52 cents the dozen; strawberries 30 cents quart; milk 17 cents quart; 5 cent ice cream cones have shrunk alarmingly in content and hotel pie slices are narrowed almost to the point where they don't stay upright on your plate.—Republican-Tribune.

MASON—Jim Manning of Alameda has beaten Florida and Georgia farmers to market with a crop of 1935 potatoes. Mr. Manning started to dig his potatoes this week. They are in good condition and show no signs of frost. Cold weather prevented Mr. Manning from digging all his potatoes last fall. Then the snow came and Mr. Manning thought the rest of his crop was gone. But the rains and warm weather of last week melted the snow and brought out the frost. Mr. Manning inspected his potato patch Monday. He found the potatoes to be in good condition. So on Tuesday he finished digging and added a bushel of No. 1 potatoes to his winter store.—County News.

PLYMOUTH—Mrs. Mattie McLaren of Penniman avenue and Mrs. Robert Lee of W. Ann Arbor street are leaving Monday, by motor, for Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. Lee, who has been in ill health for some time, will remain there for the rest of the winter. Mrs. McLaren will spend most of the time with friends and relatives in Los Angeles and Santa Barbara. Both expect to return to Plymouth sometime in May.—Mail. Mrs. McLaren resided in Chelsea for some time.

MILAN—Every effort is being made by the management of the American Furnace & Foundry Company and the American Boiler & Foundry Company to open the plants to full production on or about February 4th. The announcement was made Wednesday morning by P. E. Ross, president of the companies. The action came as the result of the settlement of labor difficulties which was the cause of the strike that has been in effect since November 7th.—Leader.

PINCKNEY—Large quantities of lumber are being drawn to the Grand Trunk yards here from the sawmill which is in operation in the woods of Mrs. Alma Harris, south of town. The railroad gets the ties but the oak lumber is consigned to the Briggs Body Co. of Detroit.—Dispatch.

TECUMSEH—The Cyclone Fence Company's factory here, a branch of the U. S. Steel Corp., is again in production after several months shut-down and Wednesday some 42 men and women were on the payroll. The factory manufactures screen cloth and it is understood that recently several large orders were received. The Tecumseh Products Company is speeding up production both in its automotive and refrigeration divisions and R. W. Herrick, president, said Wednesday that the payroll numbered 150 employees. This number, he believed, would be increased to 200 by mid-February.—Herald.

HOWELL—Miss Wanda Bowdish of Gregory through membership in the Woman's Club at Chautauque, New York, where she attended summer school the past season, as Michigan's scholarship girl sent by the King's Daughters of this state, has an invitation to attend a meeting and luncheon given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House, Monday, Jan. 21. Miss Bowdish has just completed a course in commercial dress designing at the Vogue School of Fashion Art in Chicago.—Republican-Press.

UP the HILL
by Lawrence Hawthorne

Life is pretty much a struggle up the hill.
And at times the going seems extremely slow.
Difficulties block the path ahead until
We don't know just what to do or where to go.
Yes, the way is often hard, but this is true:
We cannot afford to falter or to stop!
And men soon forget the hardships when they view
All the glories that await them at the top.

Life is pretty much a struggle up the hill.
But we seldom are compelled to climb alone;
There are cheerful hearts and friendly hands that will Help us meet our problems as they meet their own.
So men learn cooperation! So they find
That their greatest satisfaction comes when they Render service that is generous and kind—
When they help each other on the upward way!

Trustworthiness

LOYALTY has always been highly regarded as a virtue, whether it has been applied to family life, social organization, or religion. One of the most familiar exhortations to loyalty is given in the fifth commandment: "Honour thy father and thy mother." John the Baptist entertained and practiced a fine sense of spiritual loyalty when he said of Christ Jesus: "He that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear."

Men and women in various stages of growth and progress have pledged their loyalty to their country and their faith, to religious causes, and to manifold systems of medicine and religion. All this has been splendid and inspiring. But there is rightly only one true allegiance—that which we owe to God, divine Principle; and eventually everyone will acknowledge this loyalty to Him, and obey without equivocation the first and most important of the Commandments.

In the beloved literature of the Bible there is a clear moral in the fine story told of Ruth. A grand illustration of loyalty is the book of Ruth. Who that has been lonely, has met with reverses, or has experienced trouble in one way or another, such as error always is attempting to make us accept as real, has not longed and prayed for steadfast loyalty and affection such as was expressed in Ruth's words to Naomi: "Whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

From a casual reading of the book of Ruth one might suppose that Ruth's loyalty was that of one near relative to another. The earnest student, however, studying the book profoundly to glean its spiritual meaning and take to heart its moral, will discern Ruth's unmistakable loyalty to God, divine Principle. She appears to have had to a remarkable degree a sense of trustfulness, confidence in God, which in turn made her trustworthy. This trustworthiness unfolded in rare fruitage. She was guided and protected every step of her way. She was protected from sin and from sinful gossip. Her loyalty to God prompted her loyalty first to her husband; then to Naomi, her mother-in-law; and afterwards to Boaz, the next of kin who, according to the Israelite custom, married her. Clearly her loyalty to good brought to her solace, comforting companionship, supply, contentment, and happiness.

Mary Baker Eddy presents a clarified definition of loyalty when she writes, "Retrospection and Introspection, p. 50": "Right loyalty in students I mean this—allegiance to God, subordination of the human to the divine, steadfast justice, and strict adherence to divine Truth and Love." "Mortals may be far from having demonstrated perfect obedience to the first two Commandments, but it must be admitted that through the earnest and conscientious endeavor to obey them, so far as he sees the light, the individual will demonstrate ever increasing loyalty to divine Principle. The reasoning is logical that loyalty to God means loyalty to His kingdom and to His ideas—the sons and daughters of God. Loyalty to Principle precludes disloyalty to honesty, goodness, purity, mercy, justice, and the like.

Subordination of the human to the divine at times may seem difficult, for the reason that it is predicated upon the willingness of the individual to surrender dependence upon persons, upon selfish desire, human ambition, man-made plans. Mortals are often reluctant to part with the material things which, as they believe and have been taught for centuries, are essential to happiness. Recently Mrs. Eddy puts it, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 218), "When we subordinate the false testimony of the corporeal senses to the facts of Science, we shall see this true likeness and reflection everywhere."
Justice and adherence to Truth and Love—proof of one's loyalty—follow naturally and necessarily upon loving and obeying the Commandments. And the rewards of such obedience, allegiance, loyalty, are manifold and of inestimable worth.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Revival of Railroad Purchases is Necessary to National Recovery

The railroads are not only sellers of transportation; they are billion-dollar buyers of equipment and supplies. In 1929, their purchases meant jobs for 2,000,000 workers.

Today the railroads are not buying. Their revenues have been so curtailed by unfair, unregulated competition that their buying power is sharply restricted.

The railroads want to buy. They will buy when and if their purchasing power is restored.

To increase railway purchases railway earnings must be increased.

Legislative fair play for the railways will mean railway recovery.

* Railway recovery will mean increased railway buying and jobs, again, for millions.

Our State Legislature and National Congress, now convened, should eliminate the unfairness in the competition between the railways and other agencies of transportation.

Feed Iodine To Get Healthy Lamb Crop

Addition of a few cents worth of potassium iodide to the salt furnished to the flock of breeding ewes will save many Michigan lambs next spring, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

Two ounces of the iodine compound are added to 100 pounds of salt, which is then placed where the ewes have ready access to it. The iodine prevents the development of goitre in lambs. Lambs affected by goitre sometimes show no swelling of the neck but usually die when only a few days old.

The prevalence of goitre is much greater in years following a drought than in years after a season with normal rainfall. Feeding of the salt containing potassium iodide should begin as soon as possible. A ewe will eat about one-half ounce of salt a day during the winter season.

The two ounces of potassium iodide can be mixed with 10 pounds of salt and then two and one-half pounds of this mixture thoroughly mixed with 25 pounds of salt. This is easier than trying to mix two ounces of the iodine compound evenly in 100 pounds of salt. The treated salt should not be exposed in too large quantities at one time because the iodine is volatile and loses some of its strength upon continued exposure to air.

If the flock of ewes is carried through the winter on non-leguminous roughage, the addition of bone meal to the salt ration will help insure a sturdy lamb crop. The bone meal can be used to replace equal amounts of salt. Finely ground limestone is a good addition to the mineral ration when the sheep are not getting clover or alfalfa hay or some other legume roughage.

Age of Earth Disputed

Despite the fact that there are forty different methods of estimating the age of the earth, scientists still know little about it. They now mention 1,832 million years. Yet there is much evidence that its actual age exceeds this figure by hundreds of millions of years.—Collier's Weekly.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—What did Jesus Christ do up to the time he was captured and crucified? How was he captured and what was the charge against him?

Ans.—Our information regarding the life and ministry of the founder of the Christian religion is derived from accounts written by the four evangelists—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. According to these, in substance, Jesus began public teaching when he was about 30 years of age. About three years later he was betrayed by Judas into the hands of the Roman soldiers, charged with sedition. Nothing is known what Jesus was doing up to the time he was 30 years of age, except the time when he was 12 he entered the temple for a few days where he was asking and answering questions.

Ques.—If you are good at mathematics I would like to know if a small pig will come to 6 cents a pound on foot what will a big hog come to?

Ans.—On foot the big hog will come to anything good-to-eat.

Ques.—Where was Libby Prison? What made it so famous? Also why is it called "Libby" Prison?

Ans.—Libby prison was a large building at Richmond, Va., which was used as a military prison by the Confederates during the Civil War. Prior to that time it served as a tobacco warehouse owned by Mr. Libby. When converted into a prison, it retained that name. It got publicity from the fact that it housed the first prisoners of the war—1,200 Federal soldiers that were captured at the first battle of Bull Run. Also from the fact that three years later 109 of those confined there dug a tunnel about fifty feet long under the wall and made their escape. More than half of them were recaptured before they could reach the Union lines. In 1888 it was removed to Chicago where it was set up exactly as it was in Richmond and served as a museum for several years, showing the tunnel just large enough for a man to crawl through.

Ques.—Do the Italians speak the Latin language? If not, where was it spoken, and where is it spoken at the present time?

Ans.—Latin was originally spoken in Latium and Italy. It found its way to ancient Rome. These people were of great antiquity—far back into pre-historic times. Ancient Rome was held as a colony by them, and of course it became their language. No reliable account of the early history of ancient Rome is in existence since the records were burned when the city was totally destroyed by the Gauls in 390 B. C. With this destruction Latin became a dead language and is not spoken anywhere now except by ecclesiastics of the Catholic church.

Ques.—Will you please answer if the word "cannot" is correct to use as one word?

Ans.—Subject to universal usage it is recognized as a proper word to use. However, it cannot be considered as such in parsing. The word "cannot" is a combination of a verb and an adverb, and must be considered as such.

Ques.—If France should cede to the United States some French colony in payment of their war debt would the people of that colony automatically become United States citizens?

Ans.—No. Unless there was a provision in the treaty of cession to that effect. In the absence of such a provision the people of the colony ceded would become only "nationals" of the United States. In other words, they would be under our jurisdiction without having the rights of citizenship.

Ques.—To settle a dispute please answer in your Questions what is the plural of "corps"; meaning a military body?

Ans.—The plural of "corps", referring to a body of troops, is pronounced as though it was spelled "kora". The spelling of the word "corps" is exactly the same in both singular and plural.

Ques.—When the British raided Washington and burned the capitol and library how was the original Declaration of Independence saved from the fire?

Ans.—According to historians the famous old document was safely hidden at Leesburg, Va., at the time the British raided Washington in 1814. It was kept there until the capitol was no longer in danger.

Ques.—Why did the United States buy the Virgin Islands? Who did they buy them from, and what was the amount paid?

Ans.—The United States bought the Virgin Islands so that it would have a strategic point or harbor for the defense of the Panama Canal in case we were attacked there by an enemy. They were purchased from Denmark for the sum of twenty-five million dollars. The islands were formerly known as the Danish West Indies.

A TRIBUTE

A dear old friend once bleat our lives,
Our home and children too;
This friend was just an old bay mare,
Faithful, kind and true.
Was almost human, so to speak,
Our language well she knew,
The gee and haw, giddy and whoa
Was natural for her son.

The extra hour or extra mile
She'd go with willing gait,
And gladly take the oats and hay,
Or even just a bait.
Never complaining, true as steel,
Would go where she was led,
With children plenty on her back,
And more around her head.

The cultivator, wagon, plow,
Or buggy, 'twas the same,
Pricked up her ears and started off
If you but spoke her name.

Almost a score of years went by
Before she took her rest,
And if there's heaven for horses, sure
I know its there she's blest.

Methinks sometimes by pastures green,
I may be wandering through;
By sparkling water, pebbly stream
I'll live this life anew.

And should I think a God of Love
Would do so much for me,
And leave the picture I have drawn
A blank eternally?

No, No! I cannot think it so,
And still more I would bain,
To put my arms around her neck
And love Old Lida again.

A Heaven without horses and dogs
Must be a poor heaven. We give so much of our hearts to them.—Donn
Byrne.

Those who love dogs and other animals will feel deep satisfaction in a compilation of names of some of the great men of history who have expressed their belief that human beings will meet them in the future life. Among such believers have been Luther, Wesley, Cowper, Southey, Shelley and Bishop Butler.—Post, Worcester, Mass.

JACKSON—In almost every serious railroad wreck of the past few years, at least partial blame was attached to the presence of one or more wooden boxcars. These latter are now considered to be obsolete and the various lines are not proud of the percentage of rolling stock built of lumber. This week, Michigan Central and allied lines hired 35 local men who will scrap 25 boxcars per day until 2,500 have been retired. The metal understructure of the cars will be salvaged as will ladders, steel beams, etc. Most of the wood will be burned.—Evening Star.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORY

by Vance Wynga

Clue of the Brass Check

IT WAS in September, 1916, that an enterprising contractor, Abraham Sagalowitz, determined to build a row of two-story houses at Hagemann avenue and Powell street, in New York.

The work of excavation proceeded expeditiously, but the workmen had not gone very far when they discovered a skeleton.

A few minutes later a second skeleton was brought to the surface.

The authorities were notified and the remains were taken to the bureau of unidentified dead of the New York police department.

Life is supposed to be held cheap in the metropolis, and it would have been quite easy to have dismissed this gruesome find as an unexcused mystery.

But the police did not take that view of the matter.

They felt that a crime had been committed and they went about the solution with all of the ardor of detectives of fiction, but with a great deal more common sense.

By means of a brass check that was found on the first skeleton the remains were identified as those of Rosario Passarello, a laborer, who had been well known in the Italian colony in East New York.

The second skeleton was not so readily placed.

But it was discovered that Passarello had a friend named Dominic La Rosa, and that they were inseparable companions.

Also it came to light that Passarello and La Rosa had strangely disappeared at the same time.

Incidentally, it was suggested that the two men had been in bad odor with some of the wretched secret societies which had imported their bad habits from Italy.

In a word it was felt that the two dead men had been the victims of the dreaded Black Hand.

But before going after the murderers it was necessary to make sure that the second skeleton was that of La Rosa.

In order to demonstrate that the detectives of New York city performed a most remarkable piece of work.

They reconstructed the remains of the dead man.

Around the skeleton was built a face, some hair, and by the use of cosmetics these were made to appear natural.

Two gold teeth that had been found in the lot, and which undoubtedly belonged to the deceased, were placed in such way as to attract immediate attention.

His old felt hat was perched on his head.

A coffee can, covered with newspapers, served as a neck, and around this false form was draped the ragged coat of the man.

It was a ghastly reproduction of what had once been a human being.

Photographs of this exhibit were taken and shown to those who had known La Rosa in life.

The detectives presently located a blacksmith who lived near the lot where the skeletons had been found.

He said that it bore a striking likeness to a man whom he had seen very often in that locality.

While all of this was going on the police department had been busily engaged in rounding up suspects.

On a fixed day it was resolved to make a test by having the friends of La Rosa, and those suspected of the murder, file past the reconstructed body.

It was a gruesome scene, those sons and daughters of sunny Italy marching in that procession.

One, two, three, five and ten, they filed by without any sign of emotion beyond a natural repugnance over looking at such an abnormal corpse.

Presently a woman in the line wavered.

She was young, with an olive complexion, with great long black earrings, a large gilt brooch and dressed in bright red and yellow.

Her face paled and she uttered a scream.

"Santa Maria! It is the ghost of Dominic La Rosa!"

Almost at the same moment she turned on one of the suspects in the line and cried out in a wailing voice: "You devil! Why did you kill him?"

He was taken into custody, was this Giovanni Romano, and before nightfall another Italian, Victor Picciotto, living near the scene of the murder, was also arrested.

Both, charged with homicide, were held to await the action of the grand jury.

Test it be forgotten, attention should be called to the fact that the idea and the work of reconstructing the body was due to Lieut. Grant Williams, of the New York police, and Dr. Picciotto, of the city testing laboratory.

Attend Farmers Week And Forget Troubles

Anyone looking for a good chance to relax and forget some of the common varieties of troubles should visit Michigan State College, Farmers Week, Jan. 28 to Feb. 4, and spend five days enjoying the entertainment features provided to lighten the week's program.

Visitors might start with the exhibit in the Physics Building where an X-ray machine permits a person to watch his companion's heart beat. This is just a precaution to see if the machinery is in tip-top form to withstand the ensuing excitement. The engineering division will put on its annual exhibit of white-magic where the latest developments in electrical and other phenomena seem to flout all natural laws. The chemistry section also does some scientific tricks and then explains them in a series of lectures.

Those whose tastes prefer the arts can view the exhibit of drawings and paintings in the Library, Engineering Hall, and the Union Building. Band concerts are given at the afternoon and evening programs and the College men's glee club sings several numbers at one session. Finalists in the rural drama contest will be presenting their plays in competition for the major awards. The Grange choir singing contest will be held on Friday.

Hardy men from back of beyond will get a thrill out of the coon hunt which is a part of the Thursday evening stunts. One good feature of this hunt is that it can be seen and heard from a good seat instead of while floundering around in a swamp on a dark night. A quartette of members of the extension staff of the College takes the place of the coon hounds on Wednesday night. Those familiar with both say they can hardly be told apart in the dark.

Livestock of all the better classes will be shown in the big parade which is headed by a pair of Arabian horses. A troupe of trained colts will put on a show directed by their owner, Luke Pasco, College cavalry students stage a tug-of-war while mounted on horseback and if the survivors are numerous enough another act will be given. Paul Bunyan's descendants will be out both Wednesday and Thursday evenings to display skill in chopping and sawing.

A horsepulling contest will be held both Wednesday and Thursday nights. Both lightweight and heavyweight teams will pit their lugging power against the weights on the dynamometer. Some of the best teams in the country will be shown in action.

The banquet and luncheon programs during the week include entertainment features as well as the more sedate business angles. The local masters are supposed to have located a few new anecdotes which have not been told on the radio for at least a week preceding the banquet. No toastmaster can guarantee any more nowdays.

Most all visitors will enjoy the various shows held during the week. Fine displays of livestock, poultry, fruits, potatoes, grains and seeds will be on exhibit every day.

Complete programs for the week can be obtained by writing the Director of Short Courses, M. S. C., East Lansing.

Highlights of the Farmers Week programs will be broadcast over the College station WKAR throughout the week and talk by prominent people will be featured on the radio. WKAR operates on a frequency of 1040 kilocycles. The programs will start at 9:30 a. m. and continue through to 5:00 p. m. except during the noon hour.

STORES TO HOLD CONTEST

A marked increase in the buying power of Chelsea residents, which has been reflected particularly in grocery sales, is expected to benefit the manager of the local Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store in competition with the concern's establishments in other cities.

The drive, according to Paul Roekle, local manager, will be marked with accelerated advertising effort and greater values and each manager has been charged with the responsibility of choosing all items for this merchandising event and also has set the prices at which the items are selling.

Each manager knows best by personal contact what the average customer in his district desires and at what price it should be sold. The managers are expected to bring in the greatest six days volume of business of any period in the last three years.

FINDS BANKS WILLING, BORROWERS CAUTIOUS

Prominent Writer Refutes Statements Bankers Are Refusing Sound Loans—Describes Reasons for Reduced Volume of Credit.

FIGURES supplied by typical, well-managed banks in different parts of the country show that a high proportion of all applications for loans have been granted in the past year of two, says Albert W. Atwood in a recent article in The Saturday Evening Post on "The Idle Dollar." Excerpts from Mr. Atwood's article follow:

"Frequently banks state that as high as 90 per cent of all such applications are granted and for from 40 to 75 per cent of the amount asked for. Allowing that the bankers make these figures as favorable to their own case as possible, it seems strange that we are told again and again that banks are not lending at all."

"If we take into account the whole class of regular bank borrowers, the main fact is very few want to borrow yet. For the word 'borrow' is merely another name for the word 'debt', and we face a great world-wide drive to get out of debt."

"An experienced small-city banker, asked if banks were lending freely enough, wisely replied: 'The really good borrower does not wish to borrow now. In fact, I think our customers are making a remarkably fine showing in paying off their loans, especially loans of long standing.'"

The Shrinkage of Credit.
"Or if we think of business concerns rather than of individuals, it is conservative to say that those able to maintain high credit ratings have been mostly the ones able to maintain ample cash resources and, therefore, least in need of credit. As prices and costs fell, many concerns found themselves with plenty of cash because of the shrinkage in operations. Cash resources were still further swollen by reduced dividends, and smaller inventories made bank borrowings still less necessary."

"Expressed in another way, banks cannot expand credit; they cannot make loans, unless there is a demand for the same. Fundamentally, the business transaction makes the loan, the loan does not make the transaction. It is a mistake to try to force upon business organizations funds which they do not need. Under the circumstances the 'idle dollar' is a natural and proper enough phenomenon. A demand for credit is difficult to create artificially, and there is always danger in so doing."

"Banks must be liquid enough at all times to pay depositors. The idea of a commercial loan is that it represents a self-liquidating process in business. If the banker makes only those advances that are inherently sound, and selects his maturities wisely, he will have incoming funds to meet demands."

Government Lending.
"As everybody knows, the Government has vast lending agencies, for home owners, farmers, and the like. These have nothing to do with the subject of this article, except that all such Government operations would be impossible if the banks did not lend the Government money for the purpose."

"No one can set a time when borrowing will be resumed. But it will come when men once more feel that conditions are sufficiently settled to warrant them in taking chances, in entering upon deals, and in trying to make money."

Mr. Atwood says that it may be that the banks are overcautious now, just as they were overconfident in 1929, but calls attention to the fact that until a little more than a year ago banks were refusing "partly because they had loaned too freely, and were being criticized right and left for precisely that fault." He adds:

"Indeed, the banks which had been cautious in their lending policy came through the crisis safely. Under such conditions it is utterly useless to criticize banks for not making loans. After the experience they had for several years, especially in 1932 and 1933, it is only natural that they should relax their requirements very slowly and gradually."

"Unfortunately, many of the applications for loans are not from people who want temporary banking accommodation for three or six months and are quite able to meet their maturity dates, but are from those who really need permanent capital. They are busted and they want someone to stake them to a new start. What they really seek is a partner to furnish them with long-time capital. But depositors insist upon being paid on demand, and, therefore, it is a grave question whether banks should tie up their funds for any length of time."

HOW ONE FARMER HELPED HIMSELF

A farmer accustomed to keeping records found that it cost $18.50 to produce an acre of corn. His average yield was 33 bushels, selling for 80 cents per bushel. On this basis he was producing without either profit or loss.

A study of his costs indicated means by which the yields might be increased without proportional expenses. By making use of facts discovered at the Experiment Stations, the farmer secured an increased yield of four and one-half bushels per acre (37½ bushels, instead of 33). By increasing the yield and holding down expenses, this farmer was able to make a profit of six cents per bushel.

We regret that this letter has not been printed before but we are very proud to publish it at this time:

December 4, 1934.

Principal Miss Leah Hazard,
Chelsea High School,
Chelsea, Michigan.

My dear Miss Hazard:

It is my pleasure to inform you that one of your former graduates, Frances M. Kantlehner, has made an exceptionally high scholastic record during her attendance at Michigan State College. In recognition of this achievement she has been elected to membership in the national Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi. This society was established 35 years ago. It recognizes scholastic attainment in all branches of endeavor, including specialized technical courses as well as in the broader academic fields. Phi Kappa Phi is established in most of the state colleges and universities. Chapters exist in this state at Michigan State College and at the University of Michigan.

Your High School should be congratulated for the training which aided Miss Kantlehner in attaining such high scholastic achievements in college.

Sincerely yours,

J. W. Stack, Secretary.

Person's Service Bureau

Dear High Lighters:

Greetings, salutations and what not! Back once more due to the fact that those students who were keeping their New Year's resolutions pretty faithfully have finally given up and now once more back at the mad and merry pace. (If you don't think it's been mad and merry ask those three Junior girls who have had to discontinue it due to several days' absence from school.)

Now we'll get into the business of the meeting. Several people have evidently turned over new leaves and so we put for discussion following newly formed combinations: No. 1. One Junior boy is putting an awful cramp in our style by appearing different places and always different people. First it's LaRue and then it's the blond sophomore, and then again it's another blonde Junior. Would he please make up his mind or is it a game? We also add these combinations: (Found, Biology Club Play). Ruth Anne apparently's not wasting time with her classmate since Larry seems to fill the bill—and while we're speaking of sophomores—did you notice who Chester, Harley and Harrie had? (P. S.—Marion, Mariel and Eileen had a swell time). Oh yeah, and we noticed one of our former High Lighters (remember, he used to be on the football team?) seemed to think Wilma's all right.

Speaking of apples—here's a couple questions we have to answer—Yes, Helen Liebeck is wearing a senior's ring—it belongs to Nor—whoops! I nearly told you—but I won't you guess! And its true too that Shirley Carpenter does have interests in FERA. Now think—who is it brings the bread every day?

Somebody asked us if we thought that scene in the Biology club play between Peter A. and Angeline Burg had any background. We couldn't say for sure, but there's always a possibility.

Well, we must run along, but we'll be back. There's still more to tell you. Until another time—
For no good reason at all.

Personal Service Bureau.

Did You See the Show?

I'm sure that a number of you missed the play that the Biology Club presented here, "The Wrong Mr. Wright", Saturday night at the high school gym. We are sorry that we didn't attend because of the icy roads and bad weather. We are certain that you would have enjoyed it.

The characters played their parts like veterans and we wish to congratulate each one who had a part in the play, also Mr. Lyons, who was its director.

Football Boys Honored

On Tuesday, January 22, a banquet, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, was put on by the Seniors of Chelsea High in honor of our football boys, Coaches Spaulding and Johnson.

During the course of the evening a very fine talk was given by Harry Kipke, head coach of the U. of M. Following this speech letter awards were given to all the football boys and a speech was given by our football captain, Junior Seitz.

Girls' Basketball

The girls have been practicing very faithfully for the past week in the hope of beating Manchester Wednesday night. By the time you read this you will probably know how the game turned out. Last year Manchester furnished very good opposition and from all we hear will furnish just as good opposition this year. The team will likely line up as follows: Forwards, Helen Hindelang, Katherine Conlan, Ruth Maria Werner, Mary Stapish; guards, Jean Bleecker, Wilma Runelman and Helen Liebeck; centers, Leona Moeckel, Eileen Adams, Jane McGaffigan, Zilpha Shaver and LaRue Wolf. With cooperation on your part we hope to win the first victory of the season.

League Debate

At a league debate in the Chelsea high school auditorium on January 15, North Adams was declared the victor over the Chelsea debaters by a 2-1 verdict. The defeat suffered by the locals was their first in the three league debates in which they have participated.

The victorious North Adams team which defended the affirmative side of the question "Federal Aid to Education" was composed of Betty Brennan, Anetta Draper and Alice Shepherd. The Chelsea high school was represented by William High, Jean Bleecker and Richard Sowers, who defended the negative side.

Miss Hazard acted as chairman. The judges were Mr. Ayres, principal of Manchester high school, and Mr. Wolcott and Mr. Freed, both from University High, Ann Arbor.

A fair number of people were present but we hope to have many more at our next debate.

Win One, Lose One

Last week Tuesday the Chelsea Reserves defeated the Grass Lake Reserves, 20-16.

On Friday, Chelsea journeyed to Ann Arbor to play U. High. The Reserves lost this game by a score of 12-13. The game between the two teams was a very close battle. At the end of the third quarter the score was tied at 12 all. Neither team managed to make a field goal in the last quarter. U. High won when Whitney of U. High sunk a foul shot. High point men were, for U. High, Briggs with 5 points, for Chelsea, Wheeler, with 4 points.

Aunt Bella

Last week our second letter was misinterpreted. It was not meant for Ozzie Hart and Millie Goodell, so-o-o, take another guess. A. B.

Dear Aunt Bella:

I am a shy, country boy with blonde hair and blue eyes. Now, I have fallen in love with a dark-haired senior girl who wears glasses. How can I overcome my shyness when I am with her. Shrinking Violet. Dear Shrinking Violet. Tell her to take off her glasses and fight like a man. Also send for my booklet, "Courtin' Days."—Aunt (Sheik) Bella.

Dear Aunt Bella:

I am a blonde sophomore girl attached to a blonde junior (country) boy. He is being sent a lot with a short, vicious, blue-eyed senior girl from Waterloo. How can I prevent this?—Gouldie Locks.

Dear Gouldie Locks:

Perhaps your tactics are tarnishing. Send for the booklet, "Cleopatra Was Right"—Aunt (Lure) Bella.

Now if you have problems, send them in and we will answer them. They do not necessarily have to be love problems. Or if some one you know is in trouble, send it in. We'll promise to answer it. Send to Aunt Bella, Journalism Club, Chelsea High School, Room 24. Get busy and write!—Aunt Bella.

Caesar Says

"Do you believe kissing spreads germs?"

"I never been kissed."

"No, never been unhealthy."

Here's some advice to the fellows. If you go out with girls, try the girls' basketball squad, one at a time.

They're all right because they have P. E. (physical exams) and pretty eyes. That should win their favor.

If kissing spreads germs—I Oh well, girls make me sick.

Jan—I don't intend to marry until I'm thirty.

Estelle—I don't intend to be thirty until I marry.

Here's a pun for the Lit. class:

A miss in the motor isn't as bad as a Mrs. in the back seat.

Slide your eyes over this: Mr. Lyons says: "The closer you get to the ice the slipperier it gets." Famous last words.

A Time magazine was lost by Miss Hazard. She sent out the alarm in her American History class. Charles Hulen said he had seen it. While looking for it Maurey Lyons said, "If it's a Time" took in your watch pocket.

Let me excuse myself. Ahem!

Foreign Correspondence

You may recall that last year we printed parts from a few letters received from foreign countries. We thought that perhaps you would enjoy a trip by letter to more countries, so we have given you below a view of what is happening in Australia, which we hope will be of interest:

New South Wales, Australia,
December 16, 1934.

Dear Friend:

You have told me of your centenary celebration in Chelsea, so I will now tell you of ours. Yes, we have been—and still are—having celebrations in Australia, too. It is the centenary of the founding of Melbourne (the capital of Victoria) and of Victoria (our little southern state). The celebrations started a couple of months ago and are continuing into 1935. Prince Henry came out especially for the occasion, and he toured the other states too. He arrived in Sydney on Thursday, November 22, and all the city was bedecked with flags in his honor. Everything was very gay and lively, and when he left we were all sorry.

Thursday was proclaimed a public holiday and there were all sorts of displays for Prince Henry. In the afternoon at the Sydney Show Ground, among their displays, was one given by the sports girls. I went with other girls from college. All the sports were represented—hockey, basketball, cycling, baseball, cricket, and bowling. We all marched on in sports costume and formed the spokes of a wheel. We heard that it looked very effective. We were fortunate to see the prince coming in his car while we were waiting to go on. He is very tall and soldierly in appearance.

On Friday I went to school in the morning and then we walked to the Great Hall of the University where the prince was having the honorary degree of doctor of laws conferred upon him. We waited outside for about ten minutes and at last he came out, inspected the guard of honour drawn from the University regiment and then proceeded to make a short speech. He was wearing the red gown of the doctor of laws, and looked well in it. I was very lucky to see him so clearly and close twice, and to hear him speak.

Elementary News

The members of the various classes of the elementary grades are the actual authors of their news this week. Under the supervision of their teachers they present the following:

Kindergarten

This week we are learning to use coping saws and basswood. The animals we are making are to be used in the kindergarten. Jerome Burg was five years old last Wednesday. Happy birthday, Jerome! Our attendance has been fairly good in spite of the bad weather.

First Grade

We have called our town Linville. It was named after Charles Lindbergh. Gertrude Merkel built us a water tower. We are studying about water. All of us know why the water tower is up so high.

Our class is learning to write. Just ask us to write "cat" and "can." Second Grade

Nine of our class are absent. The take away process which we are learning is very interesting. In spite of all the bumps we are very happy over the icy spell. Monday morning we review the alphabet which we learned last year.

Third Grade

We are studying textiles. We started with wool. Philip Vogel brought the wool which we washed last Friday. It washed white as snow. Clifford M.'s grandfather has two lambs which we would like to see. Does anyone own a spinning wheel? We could use after we finish carding our wool?

We are reading the story of Pinocchio, the Puppet. We hope to collect enough wood to carve wooden puppets.

We wish to thank Mr. Bleecker for the new set of Elson's Book III he gave us.

Fourth Grade

Our Red Cross pins, calendar, poster and membership roll came Friday. We made some new curtains for our small windows. They are made of green and white crepe paper. On the center window we have green strips with ivy twining around.

Monday morning we got some new reading books. The first group have Holton Curry, and the second group have Tree and Treadwell. We just finished our Olson Readers.

Bobby Stricker went to the basketball game at Grass Lake and saw the eighth grade of Chelsea play the eighth grade of Grass Lake.

Luther Kusterer attended the U. High and Chelsea basketball game at the U. High gymnasium, Friday night.

Last week the arithmetic class was divided into two groups, Hudsons and LaSalle's. Wilma Spiegelberg and Margaret Knapp were captains.

The Hudsons won, score being 115-100. The LaSalle's furnished refreshments for a party.

Monday we worked on our tables of seven. We intend to finish our tables of eight this week.

Fifth Grade

By Jeanne Meservy

Most everyone of us took a spill Thursday, did you? Some of the boys had great sport Thursday, using their sleds for ice boats and upturned coats for sails. What a wind!

Our spellheads are going very rapidly on the spelling of the states and capitals. Some of us are going to score our second point in a few days. David Potts of Grand Rapids visited us nearly all day Monday. He told us much about his work, especially his Industrial Art and the Physical Education.

Sixth Grade

We are studying "Communication". Each now has a report about one of the many ways of communication—telegraph cable, the telephone wire—less message. Donald Walz brought a piece of cable to school. We went to the postoffice. Each of us took a letter to be mailed. We saw how it was prepared to be sent. We were studying about mail and we thought it would be interesting to make a postal mark booklet. Some of the grade has a fine collection of postal marks for the booklet.

We are sorry there are several out because of sickness. We hope they will be back soon. Some of the interesting facts we heard Mrs. Longfield tell are given in this composition by Ralph Dingle: Trophies That Mrs. Longfield Brought From the African Congo

Mrs. Longfield was a missionary of the African Congo, and has brought some trophies from there. She has brought elephants' tusks, hippos' tusks, baskets, axes, and native money.

The elephants' tusks are usually carved into designs, then skinned. The color is a tannish white. The hippo tusks are whiter, and look much prettier after they have been treated the same as the elephant tusks. These tusks are also carved into knives.

The baskets which she brought are woven into designs. They use some of them for decoration and some to carry things.

She also brought a few axes in her collection. There was the battle axe which was used in the time of war. It has snake skin around the handle which probably means danger. Then she has an axe which they use just once in a while to chop wood.

Most important of all is the cross which the natives use as money in the Congo. Each blade of the cross is about six inches long, one inch wide, and about one-fourth inch thick; that is in the center. The men use this money mostly to buy themselves wives, and very often men have quite a few wives.

Dramatics Club News

The Dramatics Club of the Senior High School is well underway in its first attempt at giving a play. Soon they will present before the entire school, a one act comedy, Booth-Tarkington's "Trying Place." So watch for us. We'll be with you in just a week or two with our first production, acted, directed, and staged by members of the Dramatics Club under Miss Fowkes' supervision.

NATIONAL SAVINGS MARK INCREASES

NEW YORK.—The annual savings compilation of the American Bankers Association for the year ending June 30, 1934, shows that for the first time since 1930 total savings in all American banks recorded an annual increase. A statement by W. E. E. A. B. Dep. of the American Bankers Association in charge of its Savings Division, in the organization's monthly magazine "Banking," says that savings deposited in banks as of June 30, 1934, gained 3.5 per cent as compared with a year earlier.

"The aggregate is an increase over last year of $745,132,000, the first since the year which closed June 30, 1930," he says. "This is a notable achievement, for the decline since 1930 had been precipitate and all-embracing. In that year savings had reached the all-time high of $28,478,633,000. A year ago the amount was $21,136,634,000, a loss in three years of $7,342,000. This year the figure stands at $21,867,666,000."

"Depositors, too, have gained in number, going from 39,202,442 on June 30, 1933, to 39,562,174 on June 30 this year. A gain of 299,732. Four years ago there were 32,720,432 depositors, or one depositor for each 2.3 persons in the country. Now there is one account for each 2.3 persons."

Morale of British Victorians

The great mass of the British Victorians were from childhood taught that certain moral and social standards are in the highest sense valid. These inbred convictions enabled the Victorians to make their social adjustments easily and without thought of hypocrisy. They developed a code of social conventions based on mutual consideration, and the code was so closely interwoven with their moral standards that it enabled them to practically utilize their morals without need of discussing them.

Copper Roof Beckons

Great Lakes Mariners

GLANTING in the sunlight, the copper roofed bellry, copper covered spire and weather vane of the Old Mission Church, Mackinac Island, Michigan, has beckoned mariners and visitors into the ancient harbor of the historic lake for more than a century.

The Old Mission Church was built almost exclusively by the villagers in 1823 under the direction of Rev. William F. Perry of the United Foreign Mission Society. It founded an Indian mission on the island in 1822. John Jacob Astor, head of the American Fur Company and founder of the Astor, Lenox and Tilden foundations, contributed $500.

Copper for the roof of the bellry, spire and weather vane was selected for its durability. Expensive to paint, the copper roof and weather vane for 100 years this roof and metal has stood the test of time. It is in perfect state of preservation and will withstand the elements for generations to come. Restored to a beautiful picture, the copper roofed bellry for miles and into Lake Huron and across the Straits to Mackinac.

Lester Ware Known to Associates
Lester Ware is an ancient pottery, yet its rediscovery in England was not until late in the eighteenth century.

Dear Shed Horns
Dear shed their horns once a year, soon after the breeding season. The horns begin as single points on the young deer during the second season and generally increase in size and number of points with each renewal. But the increase in size and number of points is not strictly progressive. It is not possible, as popularly supposed, to tell the age of a deer by the number of points on its antlers. There is a tendency for the horns to become smaller with fewer points as the deer grows old.
