Gas Co. Announces Reduction In Rates

In a letter to the Chelsea council under date of June 17, Chas. R. Henderson, Vice President and General Manager of the Washtenaw Gas Co., announces a substantial reduction in gas rates to domestic customers in the village, effective on July 1st. The rate on the first 2000 feet remains the same, with the rate over that amount being reduced from $1.30 to 70c. The letter to the council follows:

June 17, 1935.
Village Council,
Chelsea, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

It gives us great pleasure to inform your body that effective July 1, 1935, there will be offered to our domestic customers an optional gas rate which will be applied to those customers applying for the same. This optional rate will be available to domestic customers who use gas for automatic storage hot water service or for refrigeration purposes or both in addition to that used for cooking.

The new net rate for this class of service will be as follows:
First 300 cu. ft. per mo. .... $ .50
Next 1700 cu. ft. per mo. .... $ .70
Over 2000 cu. ft. per mo. .... $ .70

This reduction will apply as already mentioned to domestic customers already using gas for automatic storage hot water heating and refrigeration in addition to gas for cooking.

This special rate for automatic hot water service and refrigeration is designed to make this service very cheap in order that all of our customers may be able to avail themselves of the convenience of this class of service which is surpassed by no other type of fuel.

The announcement of this optional rate is another indication that the cost of gas service is on the downward trend, which is contrary to other necessities used in the home in spite of the fact that the cost of materials entering into our production have increased.

Also it still keeps Dexter and Chelsea out in the front as having the lowest gas rate in the State of any community its size, and is also better than many communities much larger than Dexter or Chelsea.

We offer this optional rate in the spirit of helpfulness to the users of our gas service in the Village and we are sure many homes will see fit to take advantage of it.

Very truly yours,
Washtenaw Gas Company,
C. R. Henderson,
Vice President and General Manager.

Postoffice Will Be Moved To Kempf Block August 1st

The Chelsea postoffice, which has been located in the Schneider building on Main street for 35 years, will be moved to the building occupied by the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank prior to the local bank consolidation on March 1, 1936. Definite decision in the matter was sent to Postmaster H. D. Witherell last Friday by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General. Negotiations for the change in location of the postoffice have been under way for several weeks. Government engineers inspected the property under consideration several times and submitted plans for remodeling to O. D. Schneider, who now owns the building, asking his approval. The plans were approved by Mr. Schneider several weeks ago.

A force of workmen employed by Mr. Schneider started the remodeling work on Tuesday and it is planned to have the building ready for occupancy by August 1st. The exterior of the building will not be altered. The partitions on the interior, as well as the vault and vestibule, will be removed. The screens and counters used by the bank will be retained and placed according to stipulated plans.

The floor space in the new location is somewhat larger than in the present postoffice. A spacious lobby is provided in the remodeling plans, and postal employees will be provided with more pleasant working quarters than is possible in the present location.

With the establishment of the postoffice in the new location Chelsea will enjoy one of the finest postal buildings in this part of the state. The building is one of the best in the village, with beautiful interior finish and equally as good looking from the exterior.

Vote for Purchase of Thompson Property

Taxpayers of School District No. 3, Er, Sylvan and Lima, voted Tuesday evening to authorize the Board of Education to purchase the Thompson property adjoining the school grounds. A total of 54 votes were cast at the special election, with only 5 against the proposition.

The Board has secured an option on the property and will consummate the purchase as soon as possible. It is planned to dispose of the house which is on the lot, and have the work on the playground extension completed before the beginning of the school year next fall.

Acquisition of the Thompson property, which is located on Harrison street, will extend the school grounds by about 4x8 rods. The front section of the grounds has been seeded and otherwise beautified with shrubbery, and it is the desire of school officials to extend the playgrounds for the children as they will not be allowed to play on the front lawn.

Freshman College Program Thursday

A special program will be presented at the public school auditorium on Thursday evening, June 27, when certificates will be awarded students who have completed the full term work in the Chelsea Freshman College. The 10-month term ends on that date.

Prof. Maurice C. Latta of Olivet College will speak, and a complete program is being arranged. The public is invited to attend the exercises, which will start at 8:00 o'clock.

The Freshman College has been maintained as an FERA project, under the supervision of Prof. Horace Wilson of Eastern State Normal College, and Supt. H. L. Blecker of the Chelsea public schools. Professors Merrill Case, J. J. Engstrand and Wm. H. McClure have been the instructors during the 10-month period. Classes have been conducted in the high school building.

Enrollment in the college has averaged 25 for the term, the average expense to the students being only about $10 for the full term, for books and supplies. This compares with an average cost of approximately $500 for a like period in a college, according to those in charge of the local project.

Students who complete the full term work here will receive credits equal to those received in any Normal College in the freshman year, which will be accepted by colleges if the student desires to continue his or her educational training.

Approve Budget and Set Tax Rate at $6.00

At their regular meeting Monday evening the common council approved the budget as recommended by the finance committee for the fiscal year 1935-36, which calls for expenditures of $49,700.00, divided as follows:

Compensation Insurance	600.00
	$49,700.00

The tax rate was set at $6.00 per thousand, the same as last year, which with receipts from the municipal electric and water plant and other income will practically balance the budget for the year beginning March 1, 1935 and ending March 1, 1936. Taxes will be due and payable July 1.

McLaughlin Opens New Service Station

McLaughlin moved to his new location on the property formerly occupied by the Ann Arbor Dairy, corner of Main and Orchard streets. Mr. McLaughlin will sell Texaco gasoline and motor oils, and will carry a full line of tires and accessories. He will have an auto laundry, and will be equipped to render complete service to motorists. He will wholesale and retail the Texaco products, serving locally as well as in the Dexter and Saline territories, where he and his son Clarendon operate service stations.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORY

The Bed That Was Not Occupied

SOME years ago Lemuel B. Boyce, an officer on the St. Louis police force, was murdered while trying to arrest a burglar.

He was very popular among his associates, and there was an almost universal desire to find the man who had committed the deed and to give him the full penalty of the law.

But the difficulty was to get a clue upon which to hinge their investigations.

It was learned that a number of colored men had been seen in the vicinity of the hotel where the officer was shot, but there was nothing to connect them with the crime.

Chief of Police Smith determined to comb the city in order to locate the known colored criminals.

This job was well done, but it did not bring very practical results. Just about that time the chief learned that one of the men who had been seen loitering in the vicinity of Cardinal street on the night of the murder had been sent to the Missouri reformatory a week later on some minor charge.

He called upon the mother of the suspect and questioned her regarding his movements for the previous month.

She admitted that he was wayward, but was positive that he could not have been the murderer of Policeman Boyce.

She was cross-examined, and as a result of that it was found that Frank White for that was his name had not slept at home on the night of March 31.

This was extremely important because that was the night the officer was shot.

In addition to ascertaining this bit of information, the chief of police also came away with a bunch of paw tickets.

One of them called for a revolver.

The officer called on the pawnbroker and obtained the weapon.

It was taken to headquarters, and it was found to be the caliber revolver with which Policeman Boyce had been shot.

The proof of this was discovered by means of the bullet that had been taken from the wound.

Thus armed, the chief of police was in a position to confront the suspected man.

He took the train for Reonville and arrived at the reformatory late at night.

In order to make doubly sure he took the mother of White with him.

The superintendent was perfectly willing to have White interviewed, but thought it might be postponed until the next morning. Chief Smith did not agree with him.

On the contrary, he said there were several reasons why the meeting should take place that night.

One of them was that the suspect would be confronted unexpectedly and without opportunity of manufacturing an alibi.

He was roused from a solid slumber and brought into the waiting room.

By previous arrangement, the mother had been placed in an adjoining room.

White was surprised when confronted by the detective—but he was also defiant.

He positively denied all knowledge of the Boyce murder and said that he was sleepy and wanted to go back to bed.

"Where did you spend the night of March 31?" asked Chief Smith suddenly.

"At home in my bed—just where I should have spent it."

"But you did not sleep at home that night," replied the detective in his most positive manner.

"How do you know that?" he asked, half tauntingly.

"For reply his inquisitor opened a little window in the room and pointed to an adjoining apartment, where sat the mother of the accused man.

Her unexpected presence shook his nerve.

"What had she, told the police?"

"How much of the truth had she revealed?"

"He was troubled and in the end admitted that his bed had not been occupied that night."

A minute later, when confronted by the revolver which had been retrieved from the pawnshop, he broke down and confessed that he had killed Officer Boyce.

WNO service.

Deaf-Mutes' Language

Deaf-mutes select like the deaf and dumb alphabet, except when communicating names and dates that must be spelled, writes J. F. Hogan, Lawrence, Mass., in Collier's Weekly. They employ an indicative sign or symbol language which is faster than speech and generally understood in many countries, hence mutes of different nationalities can sometimes converse without any knowledge of each other's written language.

Invented the Parachute

The parachute has been known for centuries. In 1783 Sebastian Lenormand practically demonstrated the efficiency of a parachute by descending from the tower of Montpelier observatory. To J. P. Blanchard (1758-1800) is due the idea of using it as an adjunct to the balloon.

The seat-jack type of parachute used by the army was developed by the army in 1818 and 1819.

Water Tower Big Attraction

Los Remedios, which is less than an easy automobile run from Mexico City, is not only famous as an historic shrine, and a spot where the Indians require a week of fiesta every September to properly honor the patron Madonna, but before the warm beauty of its colonial water tower every amateur photographer finds a willing knee.

In the days of the conquest some of the most substantial buildings of the period went into water systems. Mexico City, for instance, is served by a colonial aqueduct which pipes the water in from the ridges high above the valley, on the road southward to Cuernavaca.

Ostrich Runs in Circle

Although the ostrich is credited by some authorities as being the fastest runner in the animal kingdom, its remarkable speed never seems to take it very far. For it always runs in a circle, with the result that a less speedy pursuer can easily overtake this powerful bird "by cutting across lots."

Ice-Boring Flower From Alps Is Brought to U. S.

The blue mugwort, a beautiful spring flower from the high Swiss Alps, has the remarkable power of boring its way through a thick sheet of ice, hawking and going to seed before the ice has barely begun to melt, writes Robert Shontek, in the Washington Post.

The appearance of the crocus flowers as they push their way through the snow is ever a source of joy and wonder to the flower lover, but the ability of a plant to drill a passage in the air and sunshine through nearly a foot of ice is just short of a miracle.

In the autumn the mugwort develops thick leathery leaves, well stocked with fuel for the coming drilling operation. These blades lie flat on the ground all through the winter until the first trickle from the melting snows on top trickles down and arouses the dormant roots. Internal combustion of the starches fuel produces sufficient heat in the sprouting stalk to melt away some ice about three uprisings flower stems. As the ice gives way to nature's unusual heat drill, the mugwort stem gradually pushes its way to the surface.

The pure mountain air and warm rays of the sun. The opening flowers are indifferent to the howling night winds, since the plant is able to surround itself with a blanket of its own heat, very much as a domestic animal protects itself from the winter cold.

Use of Wigs in France

In the latter half of the sixteenth century the fashion of wearing wigs became much in vogue in France, Italy and England. In 1500 no lady appeared in the French court without a blond wig. Louis XIII set the fashion, wearing a wig of long curls, being himself bald, and the courtiers naturally followed. During the reign of Louis IV the wigs assumed monumental proportions, and about 1600 even ecclesiastics began to wear them. Toward the end of the eighteenth century they began to be superseded by the queue with hair powder.

Fishing Season Will Open Next Tuesday

Lansing—As tens of thousands of Michigan fishermen busy themselves with plans for opening of the inland lakes to bass, sunfish and bluegill fishing Tuesday, June 25, the Department of Conservation takes occasion to make a timely suggestion: Don't forget to buy a fishing license.

Since the first of the year approximately 500 persons have been taken into custody by conservation officers and justice courts, and assessed fines and costs that amounted to many times more than the cost of a 50-cent resident fishing license. Failure to purchase a license might easily spoil a fishing trip.

Opening of bass, sunfish and bluegill fishing season Tuesday means that more than 5,000 inland lakes of the state will be accessible again to the anglers instead of the 300 designated pike and trout lakes to which they have been restricted since May 1 for their spring lake fishing.

A resident fishing license costing 50 cents is required of all Michigan fishermen over 18 years of age, but a man and wife, who are residents of the state may fish under one license, the license identification for the wife being issued without additional cost.

The non-resident annual fishing license fee is $2 and required of all non-residents over 18 years of age for fishing in the inland waters. The wife of a non-resident fisherman may obtain a similar license for 50 cents.

In addition to the annual non-resident license there is available to non-residents at reduced charge a special 10-day license at a fee of $1, the wife being able to obtain a similar license for 50 cents. The special 10-day license is distributed especially for accommodation of transient fishermen who visit Michigan from other states.

Falkland Islands Lonely

British Empire Outpost

Among the lonely outposts of the British empire, the Falkland Islands are among the most southerly; situated about three hundred miles off the east coast of South America. The stormy waters which wash around Cape Horn, beat against the southern shores, and few indeed are the mariners who visit these islands.

Two large islands, known as East and West Falkland, and a cluster of about one hundred smaller ones, make up the group. They were discovered in 1822 by John Davis. A French colony was settled there in 1783, and the islands were later held by the English and then the Spanish. They have been held by Britain since 1833.

The British population is comparatively small, and the colony's chief contribution to the British empire is the service it renders as a coaling station for the British warships of the South Atlantic squadron.

The chief city is Stanley, which is situated on East Falkland island; and the seat of government is located there. Attached to the colony are the South Shetland Islands, the South Orkneys, the Sandwich group and Grahams land.

Antares, Largest Star,

Most Noted in Scorpion

Antares, or Alpha, called also "Cor Scorpionis," or "Le Coeur du Scorpion" (the Heart of the Scorpion), besides being the largest known star, is the most noted in the Scorpion, the eighth sign and ninth constellation of the zodiac, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News. It is 800,000,000 miles in diameter and about 861 light-years from the earth. It is bright red and no doubt, was discovered in prehistoric times. It was one of the four royal stars of the ancient Persians, and the oldest of the Greek temples was dedicated to it. The ancient Greeks called it "Antares," literally, "the rival of Ares" (Mars), in reference to its red color. It lies south of the celestial equator in a long and curving row of bright stars which mark the body and reverting sting of the Scorpion. It is a magnificent binary, having an emerald green companion star, which forms a strong contrast to the flaming red of the larger star. It has two small stars, Sigma and Tau, which stand like guardians on either side.

The North Star is 18,000,000 miles in diameter and about 424 light-years from the earth.

Considered "Devil's Food"

When first found by the early New England settlers, cranberries were considered a food fit only for the devil himself. When eaten raw they are bitter and puckering. It was only after they saw how eagerly the Indians gathered the berries each fall, and cooked them with meat cakes to make one of their most prized dishes, that the settlers tried cooking the berries. The result, served with roast wild turkey, caused a gastronomical delight. Since that time the popularity and variety in the uses of cranberries has steadily increased. Besides the common cranberry sauce, there is now jelly, cocktails and cranberry pie. Many are canned so that the flavoring is available the whole year round.

Wigs Triumphant

From the days of the Stuarts to the age of Johnson and Goldsmith the wigmaker's craft was one of the busiest in London, but it now owes its survival to the lawyers, the full-bottomed wigs of judges and the bobbed wig of the barristers being still made of the old-fashioned horsehair. The theatrical wigs, which make old men young on the stage, and turn a pretty young actress into a grandmother, are not designed for long wear; but both kinds are made entirely by hand, no machinery being able to supersede the skilled craftsman.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Gun Operated by Sun

A time gun operated by the sun, and which has been out of use for a number of years was recently brought into action in Paris. The famous little bronze cannon in the gardens of the Palais Royal, which had been silent for years, was fired to inaugurate a Paris charity fête. The cannon is fired by the rays of the sun which, on reaching the meridian, ignite the black powder on the touchhole and so explode the charge. Up to a few years ago the cannon was fired every day on the stroke of noon.

Tree Space

The plots of ground, rectangular in shape, which line the curbs of some city streets are referred to as tree spaces whether there be trees in them or not. When, instead of a series of such rectangular plots, there is an unbroken space along the curb it is called continuous tree space.

Largest Group of Flags

The various flags of the British empire make the largest individual group of flags that any nation in history ever possessed. Also, the regulations which govern their use are the most complete flag regulations that have ever existed.

Started Adhesive Postage Stamps Great Britain since 1830 has clung to her stamp design. She then produced the world's first postal adhesive and has made but three major changes in design.

BUICK SALES INCREASE HERE

That business is better in Chelsea is indicated in the announcement of the Buick Motor Company that W. R. Daniels has sold more Buick cars in the first five months of this year than were sold in this locality in all of 1934.

Reports received at the factory show that dealers in 240 towns and cities throughout the United States already have surpassed their total 1934 volume, according to the announcement, while many other dealers are rapidly approaching the 100 per cent mark.

"Many of the towns showing heavy increase sales over last year are those serving rural areas," said W. F. Hufstader, Buick general sales manager. "This indicates a greater purchasing power on the part of the farmer and the merchant and a return of a measure of that prosperity that has been around the corner for so many years."

In a letter congratulating W. R. Daniels, Mr. Hufstader said: "Already you are on the honor roll of Buick dealers whose sales so far this year have exceeded their total volume in 1934. That's a good job well done, and I want you to know that you have my sincere appreciation and my hearty thanks. This achievement is too fine to keep in the family. Your fellow citizens should know about it, too."

Special posters and advertising are being used by Mr. Daniels to mark the sales record.

Experiment With Camels

Did Not Last Long Here
In 1855, when Jefferson Davis was secretary of war at Washington—later to become president of the Southern Confederacy—in the war between the states—congress appropriated $30,000 for the purchase of camels to be used in military operations in the dry regions of the Southwest territory. Lieut. David D. Porter, afterward to become famous as admiral of the navy, was designated to command a vessel to go to Egypt and buy the camels. The ship returned with thirty-three camels and several native drivers. The animals cost $250 each. Next year another shipload, forty-one camels, arrived. Both lots were concentrated at Camp Verde, Texas, and a permanent camp was established to breed the animals and experiment in their use.
During 1857, according to the Kansas City Times, camels were used occasionally in short scouting expeditions and in building a wagon road from Ft. Defiance, N. M., to the eastern frontier of California. Lieutenant Beale, in charge, was so enthusiastic about their usefulness that Secretary of War John B. Floyd, who had succeeded Jefferson Davis, recommended the purchase of 1,000 camels, but congress took no action on this proposal.
The outbreak of the Civil war put an end to the exploring expeditions with the camels. In March, 1869, all of them had been sold, mostly to circuses.

Resistance of Glass to Crushing Is Very Great

Although glass has been known a long time and is even found in nature as obsidian, a black opaque glass, it has remained for the scientist to show what man can do. "As brittle as glass" is an old saying which cannot be said to be truthful any more. In fact, glass will maintain its shape under pressure which will make metals bend like putty," says Popular Mechanics Magazine.
This is hard to believe but tests at a glass factory, where every kind of glass from bottle glass to that used in the largest telescope made, show that this is true. The resistance of glass to crushing is extremely great. It would take about eight loaded freight cars weighing about 850 tons, or 700,000 pounds, to crush a two-inch cube of hard glass. Even cast iron will yield before this hard glass.
There are three main kinds of glass. There is the soda-lime variety which goes to make up bottles and window panes. Sand, lime and carbonate of soda, the ordinary washing soda, go into such uses. Lead glass contains lead salts instead of lime. The cut glass, so popular years ago, was lead glass which has great brilliance and can be given a high polish. Glass can be made with so much lead in it that its weight will be equal to that of gray cast iron. Such glass can be used to protect X-ray technicians against the dangerous effect of these rays.

Twilight League News

The Trojans defeated the Congregationalists on Thursday evening by a score of 10 to 7. On the mound for the Trojans was Dale Kern. George Baxter pitched 5 innings and Donald Rank one inning for the Congregationalists.

The Congregationalists started off with two runs in the first inning when Crocker's hit drove in R. Munro who had walked and Ted Heselschwerdt who got to first on an error.

The Trojans took the lead in the first half of the second when they scored four runs on two errors, a walk, a single by Bob Winans and a double by Kern. But in their half of the second the Congregationalists tallied twice to tie the score.

Each team scored a run in the third frame, maintaining the tie.

In the Trojans' fourth an error, a single by Lixey and a double by Wallace netted two runs and in their fifth, singles by Foster, Lyons and Canine gave them three runs—their margin over the Congregationalists who could score only two runs in their short-lived rally of the fifth inning.

On Friday evening the Trojans played one of their two remaining games of the first series, against St. Paul's, and defeated them 5 to 1.

This game was outstanding in many respects. In the first place, each team made but one error; there was not a run scored for three and one-half innings. Only 10 men faced Barbour, and in four innings, but 15 Lutherans faced Lixey, and the total number of hits off both hurlers amounted to only eight in six and one-half innings.

All these factors tended to make this one of the most interesting and best played games of the season. As on Thursday night, the Trojans won the game in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth Lixey walked; went to third when the St. Paul error let Wallace to first; and scored on a wild pitch. Wallace scored when B. Dvorak bunted safe down the first base line. In the fifth Allen singled, and scored when the Lutherans tried to catch him off third base. Winans, next up, was hit by a pitched ball, and scored on Kern's single. Kern was sent home on a long single by Wallace, who was tagged out at second, retiring the side.

Mayer Electric defeated the Sea Scouts in a very scratchy encounter, replete with errors, hits and runs, on Monday evening. The score at the end of five innings was 13 to 7, at which point darkness prevented further playing.

The Electricians carried the game throughout and were never without a sizeable lead except in the first inning when they were held scoreless, and N. Panarites scored for the Scouts after having been hit by a pitched ball.

Most of their scoring was done by the Electricians in the third and fourth frames. In the third, Fahner doubled to left field, and scored when Panarites threw the ball over third base in an attempt to catch Fahner stealing. Crocker arrived at first on an error; Parsons walked; Stanley singled, scoring Crocker; Parsons scored on a wild pitch; Hoffman singled, scoring Stanley; Johnson, the eighth man to bat, struck out, retiring the side. The fourth inning was a duplicate, at least as to style, and netted four runs on two walks, three errors, and two hits.

Tuesday evening's game between the Spaulding Chevrolets and Trojans was postponed because of rain.

On Friday evening, the Trojans and Mayer Electric, both having won three games and lost one, will play the postponed game which will decide the championship of the first series. To prevent having the game called because of darkness before the seven innings are completed, this game will start promptly at 6:30.

A collection will be taken to defray League expenses and to unfray the ragged edges of the financial situation of the Club.

Schedule
Thursday, June 20—St. Paul vs. Congregationalists.
Friday, June 21—Mayer Electric vs. Trojans (postponed game).
Monday, June 24—Sea Scouts vs. Trojans.
Tuesday, June 25—St. Paul vs. Spaulding Chevrolet.
Thursday, June 27—Mayer Electric vs. Congregationalists.

Final standings for the first series will be published next week, as will standings for the second series to date.

Protein in Soy Beans
Soy beans contain the only complete protein found in the vegetable kingdom and are usually listed along with eggs, milk and meat as a source of this necessary food principle. Says Miss Gertrude E. Conant, nutritionist of the University of Arkansas. Millions of people in the Orient, particularly the Japanese, utilize soy beans more than any other food, substituting them for bread, meat, and potatoes. Soy beans are rich in fat, contain a high percentage of calcium, and also are extremely good sources of pellagra preventive vitamin.

Canadian Naturalization Law
The Canadian naturalization law, so far as it applies to Americans, is not much different from ours. A person of American birth may petition for Canadian citizenship on proof of five years' legal residence in the Dominion. No previous declaration of intention—or "first papers"—is necessary.

The pond has been cleaned of all stumps and debris, the dam reconstructed of concrete and cut stone, the river banks lined with stone and a modern water wheel installed. No announcement has been made as to what kind of machinery will be installed, but it is generally thought that it will be some kind of bean grinding equipment as most of the adjoining land purchased by Mr. Ford has been planted to soy beans.

Useful Orchids

Orchids are not only beautiful but they are also useful, Stamant Magazine, London, says. Many of them have distinctly practical uses and several are used for medicinal purposes. "Vanilla" is one of these. Sir Joseph Hooker, collector of the orchid flora of the Himalayas, says: "The well-known and valuable vanilla is an orchid. A Paris physician claims to have discovered that the essential oils distilled from certain orchid flowers have proved a valuable remedy in cases of many diseases of less palatable quality could not claim so much practical service to mankind."

Magnetism

Faraday demonstrated in 1815 that all substances, even the gases, are either attracted or repelled by a sufficiently powerful magnetic pole. Practically, however, the metals responsive to magnetism are the three which,
with their alloys, comprise the ferromagnetic group. These are iron, nickel and cobalt. Certain other combinations of metals will respond to the magnet. Thus there was discovered in 1893 an alloy—Heusler's alloy—which is composed of copper, aluminum and manganese, and which is said to be not greatly inferior to iron in its capacity for being magnetized.

Primitive Fishermen

The Turkana are a nomadic native
race occupying the eastern shore of Lake Tanganyika on the Kenya-Uganda border, and ever ready to take advantage of a winter's tide. The "Kibwa" African tribes have their work cut out to keep them from the water.

The Turkana are indifferent to clothing, but they are well formed, intelligent, and agile race, many of them engaging in a primitive but effective method of fishing. A hand will advance into the water, each carrying a clearing net-like basket. These they hold under water in contact, and the whole line advances towards the shore driving the fish before them.
Another method is spearing, at which they are very dexterous. The moment the bigmouth enters a fish, the long wooden shaft parts from the behind head, which is then thrust in by means of an attached cord. The Bris

Kentucky Blue Grass

It has been determined by observation that practically all of the blue grass in Kentucky and West Virginia is principally of Kentucky blue grass.
Considering only the available pasture, there are in Kentucky about five and one-half million acres, and in West Virginia only one and one-quarter million acres. This kind of pasture provides the safest comparison because it is more completely made up of Kentucky blue grass than other pastures.
The finest blue grass is grown in northwestern Missouri. The region around Lexington, Ky., is, of course, the most famous blue grass region.

The Window Shutter

The evolution of the shutter makes a colorful, romantic story. For two hundred or more years they had been put up because the architect believed them decorative or because the homeowner believed they would afford added protection against the gales of winter and protection for the carpets and furniture against the color-destroying glare of the summer sun. The original shutters had a more practical purpose. In England, where it is believed they originated, the householders built them for protection against the arrows of Robin Hood gangs or the rocks of other marauding bands. In New England they were equally effective in protecting the family against the depredation of the Redskins.

Avoided Word "Cirous"

The first American clowns were wiser than our early theaters in overcoming the old religious prejudice against them as a form of entertainment. They avoided the words "cir-ous" and "show" by using such a name as "Great Moral and Educational Exhibition." Realizing, too, that a plain atmosphere would help to silence their enemies, they forced their troupe to attend church, made their banners quote the Scriptures and painted their wagons with Biblical pictures. Collier's Weekly.

Trial by Judge Favored

Trial by judge instead of by jury is gaining rapidly in popularity in this country. Those states which permit defendants to waive jury trials find that more than three quarters of them prefer to do it because they believe a judge will give them a fairer trial than 12 inexperienced jurors who are likely to be unduly influenced by the prosecutor, the press and the prejudices which might arise from a defendant's religion, economic or social status. Collier's Weekly.

Early Massachusetts School Law

In 1647 a law was passed in Massachusetts requiring every town of 50 householders to maintain a master to teach reading and writing to their children. Every town of 100 householders had to maintain a grammar school, the householders paying for all expenses.

In the way of trying to straighten out the descriptions to property in Saline township, in which Mr. Robison is deeply interested. The work has been going on for a year or more, at county and city expense, and the end is not yet. Mr. Robison showed us a plat made in 1834, which is some curiosity at this late day. At the time it was made some sections were drawn to scale, some contained more and some less than 640 acres, and down through the years the discrepancies have never been completely corrected. Whether they will be while the present work is going on remains to be seen. —Observer.

WILLIAMSTON—Fire at the alfalfa mill operated by Asa Strait and Son on the banks of the Cedar river about half a block west of North Putnam street started about five o'clock Saturday afternoon. The fire was said to be caused by spontaneous combustion in the fine sittings. It proved a very hard fire to fight, the firemen working about four hours before it was entirely extinguished. A Lansing fire truck responded to the call for aid. No blaze broke through but when water was applied to the alfalfa dust sparks would fly, starting fire in another place. There were small holes burned in the partitions and grain bins. It was necessary to rip the steel roof off from the old shingles before the fire could be checked. The greatest loss was in the roof and the alfalfa meal that was stored in the mill. This mill is Williamston's oldest land mark. Mr. Strait and son have been running the mill but a few months. —Enterprise.

MILAN—The commencement exercises of the class of 1935 of Milan High School last Thursday night had a double significance to the people of the community. Not only was the class the next to the largest ever to graduate from the local school, but was the first to receive their diplomas from Milan high school. The first graduating class, numbering six members, received their diplomas in June, 1885 and each year with the exception of 1887 a class has graduated from the local school. The class this year numbered forty-one, one less than the Class of 1928, the largest class to receive their diplomas. —Leader.

PINCKNEY TO CELEBRATE ITS CENTENNIAL

The village of Pinckney, in Livingston county, will celebrate its centennial on July 4, 5, 6, 1935. This little village was platted and placed on the market by Prof. Wm. Kirkland, a teacher of Latin and Literature in Oneida University, New York who came to Michigan in 1834. The first settler in this section and in the county as well, was Col. Solomon Peterson who came here from New York state and took up land in 1828. Sanford Marble, a native of Connecticut, built the first house here in 1831.

The program for the 3 days' events includes a parade with floats the first day and a Miss Pinckney contest. On each day there will be races, athletic events and band concerts. A speaking program, featuring old timers and prominent men, will also be put on each afternoon. Each evening the John B. ## WHISPERINGS OF OLD SONGS

The mocking bird that sang so sweet
Above poor Hallie's grave,
Don't sing his little song no mo'
In summer evening's shade.

For many a year 'twas hard to sing,
My banjo lay unstrung,
Of Kitty Wells and Nellie Gray
My song was left unsung.

An' down beside the cornfield, seems
I heard dat mournful sound,
Same as the day they laid away
Ole Massa in da ground.

I see livin' in da cabin now,
I has some aches an' pains,
But tryin' to make it shelter me
From cold, from wind an' rain.

Fore long—fore long I see gwine to Join
My darling Nellie Gray,
An' sing with Kitty Wells again—
The songs of yesterday.

But now I'm here, an' sure will be Contented to remain,
An' send to you the echoes, from Log Cabin in da lane.

Scouts Prepare for Camporee at Newkirk

"Indications are that 200 Scouts representing forty patrols from Scout troops all over the county will participate in the inter-patrol camporee to be held at the Newkirk Scout Reservation at Dexter, on Friday afternoon and Saturday forenoon, June 21 and 22," Walter MacPeck, Scout Executive of the Washtenaw-Livingston Council said today.

The Camporee is a patrol's efforts to meet a standard of good camping, a project which is a lot of fun in itself and which has considerable "getting-ready" values. The Camporee is a public demonstration of camping activities by natural patrol groups. These patrols are made up of from 3 to 8 Scouts and they operate for the entire 20-hour period under the supervision of their natural leader.

The groups will arrive early Friday afternoon, clearing their space, pitching their tents, participating in a swim and preparing the evening meal. Each patrol will put on a stunt at the evening campfire.

The patrols that take part will be graded by a group of judges and will be rated on possible scores ranging from A to E. Those patrols which qualify for a B average on ten standards of good camping will be presented with the Camporee Patrol Emblem, a khaki insignia to be worn above the right shirt pocket. Items on which the patrols will be judged are: Inspection of packs, supper, teamwork in the patrol, care of equipment, breakfast, patrol layout, program planning, sanitation and condition in which grounds are left.

Big Bend Country of Texas.

The Big Bend refers to that portion of the Rio Grande which marks the characteristic wide "v" shaped curve in the first third of its course between Texas and Mexico. The curve includes Presidio and Brewster counties, Texas, opposite the Mexican states of Chihuahua and Coahuila. After leaving El Paso the Rio Grande passes through a series of picturesque canyons, some of them 1,750 feet in depth in the Big Bend.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer in your paper the correct pronunciation of "Nazi"? Your answer will settle a dispute.

Ans.—"Nazi" is correctly pronounced as though it were spelled "Not-zy", with accent on the first syllable.

Ques.—Why is a certain kind of coat or jacket called "Eton"?

Ans.—The Eton coat or Eton jacket was so named because it was a pattern originally worn by the students at Eton College in England.

Ques.—Is it true that parochial schools are banned in Mexico and Canada?

Ans.—It is true of Mexico, but not true in Canada. The Dominion of Canada government maintains separate public schools for Catholics and Protestants.

Ques.—What kind of a snake is a viper?

Ans.—There are several species of the viper. They differ slightly in color. In appearance they are similar to the American rattlesnake, but there are no rattles on the tail, and they have no teeth in the upper jaw aside from the two hollow poison fangs. All the vipers, except the Black Viper of North America, are native to Europe, Asia and Africa.

Ques.—When Queen Victoria became queen of England did she succeed her father? If not, what monarch preceded her?

Ans.—When Queen Victoria ascended the throne of England in 1837 she succeeded her uncle, William IV, who left no surviving children.

Ques.—Was Washington the first president to be inaugurated at Washington, D. C.? What was the date?

Ans.—Washington was inaugurated in New York on April 30, 1789. The capitol building in Washington, D. C. was not completed until the year 1800. Washington, however, laid the cornerstone of the Washington capitol building.

Ques.—Can you tell me in your question column what wampum is and what it is used for?

Ans.—Wampum is the name of beads formed from the inner parts of shells. Formerly they were strung on threads and used among the American Indians as money. The colonists of New England and the Middle States adopted wampum as money, where it ranked as legal tender from 1627 to 1661.

Ques.—What is the difference in Bridge and Whist?

Ans.—There is no difference except to bid for the trump in Bridge instead of the last card turned, as in Whist. The court, however, is entirely different.

Ques.—When and where was President James Buchanan born?

Ans.—James Buchanan was born on Saturday, April 23, 1791, at Cove Gap, Pa.

Ques.—To settle a little dispute you are requested to state if there were any Jewish governors elected besides Gov. Lehman of New York?

Ans.—Yes. There were five Jewish governors of the various States, in the November election of 1932. They were as follows: Herbert H. Lehman of New York; Henry Horner of Illinois; David Scholtz of Florida; Arthur Seligman of New Mexico; Julius L. Meier of Oregon.

Old Age Relief Bill Effective July 1st

The law just passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Fitzgerald to give relief to the aged residents of Michigan who are in need, is somewhat different from the Old Age Pension Law passed two years ago.

The resources of many of the aged which represented savings for their care during old age, have been depleted due to the present financial depression which has also affected the employment of the aged so that many who heretofore have been able to maintain themselves by their own labor are now compelled to ask for public aid. So-called "Pension Laws" are not truly pensions as the word is generally considered, but are rather Old Age Assistance Laws to assist those who, due to age, are no longer able to care for themselves. This new Act, therefore, is called an Old Age Assistance Law. Relief under this Act is not given as something, to which a person is entitled merely because of age, but is a form of public aid to be paid from the General Fund of the State in order that those who are eligible may continue to live in their present surroundings rather than to be placed in public institutions.

This Act does not become effective until July 1, 1935, after which date new assistance certificates will be issued as promptly as possible to those who qualify. Many persons, misunderstanding the intention of the previous Old Age Pension Law, have filed applications although they are not entitled to relief. All applications must be investigated, which of course takes time and therefore all who are eligible cannot expect to receive aid immediately. Those who have filed applications under the previous law need not re-apply unless requested to do so by the Old Age Assistance Bureau. Applicants are requested to write regarding their applications, as the handling of this additional correspondence merely slows up the process of issuing any assistance grants. Those eligible for assistance under this Act must meet with the following requirements:

1. Must have attained the age of seventy years or upward (after January first, 1940, this age limit will be reduced to 65 years).
  2. Must be a citizen of the United States.
  3. Must be a resident of the State of Michigan for ten years immediately preceding date of application.
- In addition to these qualifications, the applicant must, above all, be in need and have no child or other person responsible under the laws of the State who is able to support him.
- Any person having an income of $30 per month, or real estate which together with that of husband or wife is valued at $1,000 or more, is ineligible for assistance under this Act.

The maximum amount which can be allowed is $30 per month. This does not mean that a person who is eligible is entitled to receive $30 per month; as the amount of relief which is given will depend upon the individual and the conditions found in each case.

Arrangements will be made to assist applicants in making out the necessary application blank, and it is not necessary that they employ an attorney or any other person to assist them in receiving this aid.

The Director of the State Welfare Department is in charge of the administration of this law; applications for assistance should be filed with the County Welfare Agent of the county in which the applicant lives. At the present time approximately 5,000 people are receiving assistance under the Pension Law. It is estimated that 20,000 are eligible to receive aid under the new Old Age Assistance Law.

How Nome Got Its Name

The earliest maps of Alaska drawn up by United States government cartographers didn't have names for all the bays, capes and inlets. Among the spots that were nameless was a cape which jutted far out into the Bering sea. Some early officials, who disliked to see a map without the proper label, penciled across this cape the word, "Nome?" A copyist, transcribing this map a little later, misread it and labeled the cape Nome. Nome, it has been ever since, and when a city sprang up there it, too, became Nome.

Always Behind

People are always a generation or two behind the most advanced of their leaders because each new advance in religion, morals and government must be worked into the very warp and woof of the entire social organism before we can go on to the next advance.

The Roman Index

The Roman Index contains both the Index Librorum Prohibitorum and the Index Expurgatorius. The former contains a list of books forbidden, while the latter contains books forbidden until certain parts are omitted or amended.

Guests Are Invited To Inspect College

Michigan State College invites everyone to attend Summer Farmers Day on Friday, July 26 for the purpose of receiving an accounting of the work done by the institution and to enjoy the program of entertainment and speaking which will be given.

The College is a tax supported institution and depends upon the money contributed by taxpayers for its continuation, but the accomplishments of the College depends upon the familiarity of Michigan's citizens with the facilities here and the readiness of the staff to help with any problem submitted to them. The best way to know Michigan State College is to visit the campus and to inspect the work being done.

Summer Farmers Day is planned primarily for farmers and their families but there will be entertainment features which will appeal to everyone. The theme for this Farmers Day is "New Uses for Farm Products" and one of the more prominent of the uses is the utilization of farm products in manufactured articles.

Members of the College staff attended the meeting in Dearborn called by Henry Ford, where the discussion of the ways of using soybeans occupied an important place on the program. Soy beans can be successfully grown in Michigan and the College has done years of experimental work which will be valuable if soy beans develop into a more important rank in the crop rotations of the State.

The experimental work on the College plots is carried on continuously and may be inspected at any time. On Farmers Day, members of department staffs will be stationed at all points where tests are being made to explain just what is being done, and how the results from the experiments can be used by farmers in field practice.

The work done is not confined to crop growing; all phases of livestock production, forestry, soil management, and insect and disease control receive their share of attention. All departments of the College participate in the Day's program and will have members in the department offices to answer visitors' questions.

Inspection of the College and of the experimental work will occupy the forenoon. Music and talks will follow lunch. Entertainment features will be provided for both morning and afternoon.

Washington Monument Permanent Government and commercial engineers estimate that Washington monument will last as long as the Pyramids of Egypt, which are thousands of years old. The monument was finished in 1885.

Finland Independent Nation
After the first Russian revolution had brought about the abdication of the czar, representative government was restored to Finland by the provisional government of Russia. The parliament or diet which Finland elected decided on July 17, 1919, for the establishment of an independent republic. Negotiations were undertaken and October 14, 1920, a treaty was adopted, whereby Russia recognized Finland as a sovereign state. Its territory is about as large as New England, New York and New Jersey combined, and the population, estimated on December 31, 1930, was 3,007,007, a figure which includes a good many Swedes and some Russians.

Canning Industry in U. S.

The canning industry in the United States was established by Ezra Daggett in 1819. He had learned the trade before emigrating to this country, and packed salmon, lobsters and oysters in New York. The records show that William Underwood packed preserves and other commodities in glass as early as 1821 in Boston. Records also show that he shipped his goods to South America in 1821. In 1837 Isaac Winslow began experimenting with the canning of corn in Portland, Me. There is probably no earlier record of canning in this country than the work of Isaac Winslow. Maine was the home of corn canning.

Hiccoughs Easy to Cure
According to physicians, 80 per cent of hiccough cases are easy to cure. The phrenic nerve, doctors say, is the key to relief in acute hiccough because it normally controls the movement of the diaphragm. Therefore, abnormality of this nerve is a chief cause of hiccoughs in prolonged cases.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

DON'T FORGET Burg's Big Anniversary and 1c SALE this week Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. You will get twice as much for your money!

A regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters will be held Tuesday evening, June 25 at 7:30 o'clock. A pot-luck supper will be served at 8:30. This will be the last meeting of the season.

Use of Radio Beams
Radio beams were first devised to help aviators follow a straight course in bad weather when they cannot see the ground. The "on course" radio signal or radio beam is a steady hum in the radio receiver, which breaks after a few seconds, when the call letter of the sending station is repeated in dots and dashes. Then comes the steady hum again, followed by the dots and dashes. The radio beam "on course" signal is a dot and dash, or a dash and dot, depending upon which side the pilot is off his regular course.

Home of the Dove
Doves breed chiefly in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and southern Nova Scotia, and throughout the United States and Mexico and locally in lower California and Guatemala; they winter in southern Oregon, southern Colorado, the Ohio valley, and from North Carolina to Panama. The dove is casual in winter in the Middle States.

Early Telephone Switchboards
The first intercommunication of telephone lines by means of a switchboard occurred at Boston in 1877. In 1879 the first commercial switchboard was installed in New Haven, Conn., with 21 switchboards.

CHAMPIONS REPEAT

Claire Rowe and Raymond Dancer pulled through the Chelsea tennis tournament and defeated H. Holmes and D. Holmes in three straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-3. The Chelsea net champions were winners of the North Lake tournament last summer. The matches were played without one default. The promoters wish to thank all participants for the fine cooperation given them in making the tournament a success. It is hoped that in the near future a second tournament will be held. Following is a list of matches played and scores:

Saturday, June 15—
O. Hart and J. Bloecker defeated A. Guide, Jr. and B. Howe, 6-4, 6-3.
H. Holmes and D. Holmes defeated C. Hunter and T. Alexander, 7-5, 6-3.
C. Rowe and R. Dancer defeated D. Foster and L. Foster, 6-3, 6-1.
M. Richards and C. Rogers defeated E. Steiner and J. Allen, 6-3, 6-0.
Sunday, June 16—
H. Holmes and D. Holmes defeated O. Hart and J. Bloecker, 7-5, 6-2.
C. Rowe and R. Dancer defeated M. Richards and C. Rogers, 6-2, 6-1.
Monday, June 17—
C. Rowe and R. Dancer defeated D. Holmes and H. Holmes in three straight sets to win the final, 8-6, 6-3, and 6-3.
The promoters also wish to thank T. Pong of Ann Arbor for the donation of the prizes. Each winner received a duo bill for $8.00 in merchandise at Mr. Pong's tennis equipment store.

Tularemia in Rabbits
The descriptions of diseases and parasites which afflict rabbits would fill a large book, but none of them endangered the health of man until Tularemia was discovered among rabbits near Tulare, Calif. As yet Tularemia has not been found in animals other than wild rabbits and a few small rodents, but experiments have developed that tame rabbits and live stock, as well as man, are susceptible. The disease is carried from infected rabbits to healthy stock by the wood tick, the rabbit tick, the deer fly, and the rabbit louse. It is transmitted to man by the wood tick, the deer fly, and by handling and dressing of infected rabbit carcasses. An animal dead of the disease will show numerous spots on the liver and spleen. Missouri Farmer.

Make-Up of Northern Ireland
Six of the nine counties of Ulster constitute northern Ireland, together with the parliamentary boroughs of Belfast and Londonderry. The counties are Antrim, Armagh, Down, Londonderry, Fermanagh and Tyrone.

St. John's Bread
The "musk" eaten by the prodigal son in the Bible parable are identified in a Mediterranean legume with a sweet edible pulp, which is called St. John's bread, says Lewis Williams, botanist of the Field Museum.

Can Have Four Nationalities
A baby can have four nationalities. This unique situation arises when it has a Turkish mother and a French father and is born on a British commercial ship while in American territorial waters, says J. N. McConaha, San Francisco, Calif., in Collier's Weekly.

Palestinian Agriculture
Agricultural settlement forms the essential part of all Jewish life in Palestine. Only farming is well in the foreground. Oranges, grapes, bananas and other fruit have proved the most profitable branch of Palestinian agriculture.

Girls Advertised Wealth
Egyptian girls of long, long ago, set their upper lips with sparkling stones to acquit the world with the status of their wealth and social position.

Otter, a Destroyer
That the otter is a destroyer of fish life has been proved many times, says the Detroit News. Even as far back as the days of Isaac Walton the otter was considered a menace to fish life. In Walton's "Angler" we find this bit of delightful discourse: "Piscator: 'I pray honest huntsman, let me ask you a pleasant question?' Huntsman: 'Sir, it is not in my power to resolve you, but I have heard the question hath been debated among a great many clerks, and they seem to differ about it; yet most agree that her tail is fish; and if her body be fish too then I may say that a fish will walk upon land for an otter does so sometimes five or six or ten miles in a night, to catch for her young or glut herself with fish, but sir I am sure the otter devours much more fish and kills and spoils much more than she eats.'"

Memory Unreliable
Memory is unreliable when recalling things seen and heard during great excitement. Once a professor surprised and frightened his class of 23 students with a faked riot, writes Lenora Davis, Emory University, Georgia, in Collier's Weekly. Four persons rushed into the classroom, fought one another and smashed furniture for 30 seconds and then rushed out. When questioned, only three of the 23 witnesses even knew how many persons had entered the room.

Beginning of a Century
The Twentieth century began with January 1, 1901. A century begins with the beginning of the first day of its first year, and does not end until the close of the last day of its one hundredth year. The first century consisted of the year one to one hundred, inclusive; the second century began with the year 101 and ended with the last day of the year 200.
