State Rye Growers

East Lansing.—Elmer Lundberg, Dimondale, Eaton county wheat and rye grower, was Michigan's representative at the Washington, D. C. conference where plans were made for controlling the production of the U. S. rye crop, according to R. J. Baldwin, administrator for the AAA in Michigan.

Members from all the leading rye producing states attended the meeting at which future plans for the rye crop were made. Michigan is one of the leaders in the production of this grain, the average harvest during the years 1928 to 1930 being 2,010,000 bushels. The 1935 Michigan crop was much smaller, yielding only 1,812,000 bushels.

Reports from the Washington meeting indicate that the rye program will be very similar to the plan used for controlling wheat production. Provision will be made for the planting of enough acres of rye to supply all domestic needs and for any export business which may develop, but the acres planted will be limited so that an unmarketable surplus of rye will not be produced and stored to depress the price of the whole crop.

The danger of too great plantings of rye is proved by the prospects for the 1935 harvest for which a U. S. harvest of 44,031,000 bushels is predicted by government crop reporters. This is 27,991,000 bushels more than was harvested last year during a bad season and is nearly 6,000,000 bushels more than the average production during the past five years.

The annual domestic consumption of rye in the U. S. is about 82,000,000 bushels; so the 1935 crop will be much greater than ordinarily is demanded by consumers. Secretary Wallace announces that rye growers who sign crops control contracts will receive rental payments. The amount of such contracts will be announced when the contracts are ready for signatures, probably before next seeding time.

FORD RETAIL SALES SHOW
LARGE INCREASE FOR YEAR

Dearborn, Mich.—Approximately 49 percent of all motor vehicles, passenger and truck, sold in Wayne county in June were Ford V-8s, according to official registration figures announced this week.

Ford sales in Wayne county for 1935 thus far remain well ahead of sales for the same period last year. Up to July 1, 26,692 V-8 passenger cars had been purchased, as compared to 19,079 in the first six months of 1934. Purchase of 8,711 V-8 passenger cars was reported for last month, while sales totaled 3,853 for June a year ago.

This slight decrease in June Ford sales was paralleled in aggregate figures for all motor vehicle sales for the month in Wayne county. The totals show 7,678 passenger car sales in June, 1935, and 7,917 in June of last year. Total passenger car sales for the county thus far this year are 52,013, as compared to 48,492 in the same period last year. Ford passenger car sales for the first half of last year totaled 19,079, or nearly half of the aggregate for all makes.

Ford passenger car sales represented more than 49 percent of the aggregate for the county in June and 51 percent of the total of all sales for 1935 to date.

Truck units of all makes sold in the county in June totaled 527, of which 308 were Ford V-8s, approximately 58 percent. Total truck sales for the first half of this year were 3,542. Of this number, 2,015, or nearly 57 percent, were Ford V-8s. Ford truck sales declined from 991 in June of last year to 308 in the same month this year, while truck sales of all makes fell from 582 last June to 527 for this June. Total truck sales in the first six months of last year in Wayne county were 3,338, and Ford sales for that period were 1,610. Truck sales for all makes show an increase of 204 units for the first six months of this year, although Ford sales the first half of 1935 were greater by 405 units than in the same period of the preceding year.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—To decide an argument will you kindly state what was the longest baseball game ever played by the amateur or professional clubs?

Ans.—The longest baseball game in official records was played by clubs representing the Pierce and Bennett schools respectively in Boston, Mass., on Saturday, June 8, 1907. Twenty-eight innings were required to decide the contest, Pierce winning by a score of 4 to 3.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer what "The Decameron" is? Thank you.

Ans.—"The Decameron" is a collection of romances by Giovanni Boccaccio. It derives its name from its framework. Seven gentlemen and three ladies retire from Florence, Italy, during the plague, to a pleasant garden retreat, where they beguile the time by narrating various stories of love adventure.

Ques.—What is the highest altitude a balloon has ever been known to go to?

Ans.—The highest ascent of a balloon occurred on July 31, 1901, when Dr. Suring and Karl Berson, both of Berlin, Germany, ascended 36,000 feet with a balloon bag filled with 300,000 cubic feet of gas. Dr. Suring became unconscious, but his companion retained sufficient strength to pull the valve and cause the balloon to descend. At the highest altitude both aeronauts used stored oxygen for breathing purposes.

Ques.—As I am writing an epitaph for my grandmother's monument, will you kindly tell me on what day of the week she was born? The date was July 6, 1851.

Ans.—Certainly we will do that. July 6, 1851, was on Sunday, and, of course, was the day of the week on which your grandmother was born.

Ques.—If you can do so, please answer when the first labor strike occurred in America? Also where was it and who were the strikers?

Ans.—The first strike in America of which there is any record took place in New York City in 1741, when a number of journeymen bakers combined and refused to bake until their wages were raised. The next were the shoemakers in Philadelphia in 1796 and 1798.

Ques.—When a person is born at sea what country, if any, do they belong to?

Ans.—All ships carry the flag of their respective countries. Hence, when a person is born at sea he or she is native to the country to which that ship belongs.

Ques.—Who wrote the words and music of "Home, Sweet Home"? Or were they separate composers?

Ans.—John Howard Payne wrote the words of this beautiful melody to which it has been wedded. The music is of Italian origin, but was rearranged and harmonized by Henry Rowley Bishop.

Ques.—Will you please answer in your question department what is the origin of the phrase "I came, I saw, I conquered." Thanks.

Ans.—This laconic dispatch was penned by Julius Caesar immediately after his quick and crushing defeat of Pharnaces in Egypt. It was written in Latin thus: "Veni, vidi, vici."

Ques.—Is this expression correct: "He is a new beginner." Your answer will settle an argument.

Ans.—No. Leave off the word "new." Unless, of course, all are classed as beginners and someone is considered a fresh arrival. In this case only is he a new beginner.

Ques.—Where is Mount Sinai, where the Laws of Moses were received?

Ans.—The mount is located in the Sinaitic Peninsula, but its exact site is disputed. But the northwest cliffs of Jebel Musa seem to answer the required conditions better than any other mountain.

Ques.—Why and when was the great Chinese wall built, and how long is it?

Ans.—The Chinese wall was built in 214 B. C., to protect the ancient empire from the inroads of nomadic Tartars. It extends from the Shanghai Pass westward continuously for a distance of 1,500 miles to the heart of the continent, winding over mountains and valleys, and across rivers and ravines.

BROOKLYN.—The Short Way Bus Lines which have long carried mail between Jackson and Adrian, lost their contract on July 1 to George W. Taylor of Jackson who now carries all mail to and through Brooklyn. Taylor underbid the Short Way Lines and was awarded the contract for four years at $3988 per year. The official measurement of the route between Jackson and Adrian is 45.80 miles. Besides two round trips between Jackson and Adrian daily another round trip is carried between Jackson and Brooklyn.—Exponent.

AUTO INDUSTRY BOOSTED IN NEW S. O. AD CAMPAIGN

A significant new idea—one industry advertising another's products—is presented to the public and the business world in an intensive summer advertising campaign which Standard Oil Company is launching in daily and weekly newspapers throughout its territory, beginning July 16.

Appearing at regular intervals throughout the campaign are ads in which the oil company addresses owners of various makes of new cars representing approximately ninety per cent of the new car registrations this year, congratulating them on their choice. The ads are mainly composed of illustrations dramatizing meritorious features of the particular car under discussion.

However, gasoline is not neglected. It appears in copy which gives the results of an impartial certified survey showing the company's products to be used by a greater number of salesmen in demonstrating the make of car featured in the particular ad than any competitive products.

Concerning the new campaign, Allan Jackson, vice president in charge of marketing, states: "With this year's new car registrations exceeding those of any of the past five years it is apparent that the automotive industry is one of the main leaders toward business recovery. Through use of its large newspaper advertising circulation to promote its allied industry, Standard Oil believes it can contribute further impetus to the automotive industry's vigorous industrial leadership, with benefits to not only the automotive and oil industries but general industrial recovery as well."

Interpersed with the automobile ads are others giving factual information about the company's gasoline. The series also contains motor oil ads setting forth the requirements a good oil must satisfy in the heat of summer, and illustrating how Standard's oils meet these demands.

Anchors Aweigh
—in Michigan

The vacation you are planning is almost sure to include, as one of its attractive features, the flash of sunlight on water—a swimming pool, a stream that invites your rod and line, a lake for sailing or motor-boating.

For pleasures of this kind, no part of the globe is more bountifully equipped than your native State of Michigan. Here are some of the finest fishing streams in America; here are lakes of unsurpassed variety—five thousand lakes of every shape and size.

You can set up your camp on a pine-shaded bank and swim in a lake no larger than a private pool. Or you can weigh anchor in one like an inland sea, letting your sail or outboard motor carry you away from the workaday world—out into a vast expanse of flashing silver and running white-caps.

In addition to water-sports, Michigan provides almost everything the pleasure-bent vacationist can desire: Hundreds of miles of highways that increase the joys of touring by automobile; varied scenery; invigorating climate; an endless choice of golf courses.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Urge its excellent advantages upon your vacationing friends in neighboring states. By doing so you will increase the pleasure of their holiday. In addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

It is for the purpose of doing our share in this promotion that this series of advertisements is being published by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a Michigan organization that prospers only as the citizens of Michigan prosper.

Home Talent Music Farmers Day Feature

East Lansing—Plenty of musical entertainment will be offered to Farmers Day visitors at Michigan State College on Friday, July 26, by a band of high school musical stars and by the Manton Corn Crackers, a group of high school students who play all melodies.

The high school band will have 50 members, all boys who belong to the organization Future Farmers of America. Students of 19 high schools have been chosen as members of the band for Farmers Day. Visitors from all sections of the State will have a chance to cheer for local boys as the towns represented are scattered all the way from Centerville to Mesick.

The band will be directed by Virgil K. Rowland, high school teacher at Barryton. The largest group of young musicians in the band will be from the Morley school which will furnish eight members. The band members will gather for enough rehearsals before Farmers Day to assure a fine musical program.

The Manton Corn Crackers are another group of high school agricultural students. Vocal selections accompanied by stringed instruments are their particular choice for entertaining. They use a fine group of old time melodies in their program.

Most of the musical entertainment will be given during the afternoon. A famous editor, Wheeler McMillen, of Country Home, will be introduced by V. R. Gardner, director of the experimental station at the College. Dean E. L. Anthony will be chairman.

Inspection of the college buildings, farm, and livestock will be made in the forenoon. A plowing contest between tractors made by Michigan farmers from automobile and tractor parts will be staged starting at 9:00 a. m. Plowing and seed bed fitting by commercial tractors will also be shown before noon.

A Greek Comic Pool

Alexis was a Greek comic poet of the Middle Ages, who was born at Thuri and later taken to Athens, where he became a citizen. He wrote during the latter half of the fourth century and perhaps the early part of the fifth. Plutarch says that he lived to the age of one hundred and six and that he died on the stage while being crowned.

MY-NOOK AND CORNER

At a quiet nook and corner near the west end of the street, Paved, and graded turnpike meet. Stands a humble little cottage. Unobtrusive, unassuming. There a silent memory clusters. For 'twas here that I was born.

Mother's bosom, there my pillow, Her's the lullaby, the song, Her's the soothing, quiet whispers, Righting every grief or wrong, Rigorous days of stern achievement Brand the years along the way. So this little nook and corner Bring the thoughts I have today.

Little house looks rather shaky, Mother gone, and daddy, old, Many, many birthday clusters Bring the thoughts which here unfold, Goodbye little nook and corner, We are going, so are you, But we hope love's coronation Meet again—Adieu, Adieu.

Twilight League News

In a five inning game played Thursday at eventide, the Congregationalists defeated Spaulding Chevrolet, 5 to 2.

One big inning—the second—accounted for the Congregationalists' victory when they swatted four singles and a double off George Hart, and scored five times.

Except in this inning the Congregationalists did not get a single man on base in their four times at bat, which means good pitching in any league.

Besides this fine showing, Hart's strike-out average was two Congregationalists per inning. So much for the losing pitcher.

The winning hurler, Dahlstrom, also pitched a creditable game. He allowed the Chevys only one hit, and fanned five of them. However, he slipped up a bit on his control, and walked eight men in his four innings. G. Baxter relieved him in the fifth, allowed one hit, and struck out three.

The Congregationalists' triumphant inning was started by Dahlstrom's single, followed by Smith's hard drive to center field which scored Dahlstrom from first base. C. Panarites hit to left field, Smith scoring. O. Hart singled, driving in Panarites. J. Munro was then safe on an error, and R. Munro doubled, scoring Hart. J. Munro scored when Downs got to first on an error. Downs was caught off first on the hidden ball trick, and Baxter grounded out, ending the inning.

Again on Friday evening Spaulding Chevrolet were on the losing end, in a postponed encounter with the Trojans. This game continued for six innings, as darkness intervened, and the score was 6 to 5.

The Chevys took an early lead by scoring once in the first inning and twice in the second off three hits and a couple of Trojan errors. The score was tied in the third when Kern jammed the ball over the center fielder's head for the first home run of the season, scoring Canine and Wallace ahead of him. It was a fine hit, but in fairness it should be mentioned that the Chevys fielders couldn't find the ball.

Both sides tallied once in the fourth, and neither scored in the fifth, so that the sixth inning was entered with the score tied at four runs.

In the sixth, the Chevys scored once when Gilbert walked; went to third on Fowler's single, and scored on a wild pitch. The Trojans won the game when Wallace's single drove in Dvorak who had tripled, tying the score, and Kern singled to left field, winning his own ball game when he scored on an overthrow at third base.

St. Pauls and Mayer Electric inaugurated the third and final series of the Twilight League games on Monday evening when those teams played a 7-inning game in which the final score was 3 to 1 in favor of St. Pauls.

On the mound for St. Pauls was G. Novess. Hulce hurled two innings, and Hoffman five for the Electric.

There were only six safe hits in the entire game, each side getting three. Of St. Pauls' three hits, only one resulted in a run.

The Lutherans scored one run in each of the first, third and fourth frames. In the first, P. Novess singled, stole second and third, and scored on G. Novess' grounder to third, which was thrown over first. In the third, P. Novess scored again when he was safe on an error, and scored on a wild pitch. In the fourth, L. Niehaus was forced home when three men were walked behind him after he had been hit by a pitched ball.

In their third game this week, Spaulding Chevrolet finally came out on top in a conquest with the Sea Scouts on Tuesday evening. Six innings were played, and the score was 7 to 6.

The Chevys came from behind to snatch the game out of the fire in the fifth inning after they had trailed the Scouts by four runs for three innings. The Scouts had scored five times in the second, and once in the third, as against the Chevys' two runs in the first.

In the fifth inning, Spaulding's new and loquacious catcher started off the inning by getting a hit, and then was caught off first. Fowler, next up, was safe on an error. Acker walked. Fowler scored when Schiller got on through an error. Spaulding then singled, Acker and Schiller scoring. Grossman singled to center field, and Alexander was safe on an error. Baxter grounded out, Spaulding scoring on the play at first base. Grossman scored just before Buehler grounded out, ending the inning.

Fowler was the winning pitcher. N. Panarites hurled five innings for the Scouts, and O. Hart one inning, in which he struck out, in succession, the first three men to bat.

A GOOD NAME

Oh, Lord of men, teach me to know
Just what "a good name" signifies!
Help me to understand its worth,
And let me never cease to prize
Above all else that life affords—
Yes, better far than wealth or fame—
The reputation that is won
Alone by him of worthy name.

A sturdy strength of character,
The will to do some useful deed.
The vision that conceives a way
To satisfy another's need—
On such as these a man's good name
Is built; his leadership depends
On service to his fellow-men,
And loyalty to humble friends.

Turn All Statues Toward Easter Islanders' Graves

In some long-ago era of bustling energy, Easter Islanders turned out statuary by the ton. Using volcanic craters on the island as quarries, the people carved out heads and torsos—little fellows 3 feet high, big fellows 20 feet, even one giant 70 feet tall. Both men and women were portrayed, writes Emily C. Davis, in the Washington Star.

They had a pattern for their art, and they stuck to it. The stone faces had to have long noses, disdainful mouths, jutting eyebrows.

In another quarry, workers ran a stone lat factory, hewing out a red-tinted stone for top hats to adorn the heads of gray stone giants. A red hat for a 90-foot giant would weigh full three tons.

When an image was finished, the workers slid it down the hillside, and then somehow pulled or pushed the statue—some weighed as much as 40 tons—to an appropriate site. All the faces were made to turn inland, toward the graves of Easter Island's dead.
