Estimates Given On Local Sewage Plant

Carlton S. Finkbeiner, associate of Geo. Champe, consulting engineer, of Toledo, was present at the meeting of the village council on Monday evening and presented estimates for construction of a sewage treatment works which would meet the requirements of the village. The council passed a resolution authorizing J. J. Munro, clerk, to make application to the Federal Emergency Administration for a federal grant to aid in construction of the plant. The resolution, which will be sent to Washington this week, follows:

Be it resolved by the Village Council of Chelsea, Michigan:

Section 1. That James Munro, the Village Clerk, be and he is authorized to execute and file an application on behalf of the Village of Chelsea, Michigan, to the United States of America, for a loan and grant to aid in financing the construction of a sewage treatment works.

Section 2. That the Village Clerk, be and is hereby authorized and directed to furnish such information as the United States of America through the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works may reasonably request in connection with the application which is herein authorized to be filed.

If the grant is made by the federal government, a special election will be called, asking the voters to accept or reject the plan to bond the village for their share of the cost of constructing the plant. The government pays 45 per cent of the cost of construction on such projects which are approved.

It is planned to locate the sewage plant on Mill Creek about 1000 feet east of McKinley street. It would be necessary to purchase five acres of land from Martin Merkel to provide sufficient space for the plant.

The blueprint of the proposed plant is on file with Mr. Munro, and anyone interested in seeing the plans may call at his residence.

Farmers' Union Pres. Will Speak Saturday

An outstanding event in Chelsea will be the appearance of E. H. Everson, National President of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America, who will speak at St. Mary's hall on Saturday evening, August 10, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Everson, whose home is at St. Charles, North Dakota, is a farmer and knows through operation of his farm the actual conditions which confront farmers of the nation. He also knows what is going on in Washington, D. C., as he has been there almost continuously since he was elected president of the Farmers' Union, working on farm problems and legislation which would be a benefit to the farmers of the nation.

Officials of the Sylvan and Lima local of the Union feel very fortunate in being able to secure Mr. Everson for a speaking engagement here and urge farmers, as well as business people and others interested in better conditions for the rural populace, to attend the meeting Saturday evening.

E. N. FRENDSORF DIES

Edward N. Friendsorf, a Democratic leader in Michigan for nearly a quarter of a century, died Saturday morning, August 3, in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following a recent operation for intestinal trouble. His entire life had been spent in Hudson, where he was born 66 years ago.

For three terms he served as mayor of Hudson, and became prominent in state political affairs with his appointment to the board of control of the state prison in 1911. In 1918, as a member of the prison commission, he took control of the state prison as acting warden, following the enlistment of the warden in military service. Despite opposition, he continued in control during the wartime emergency, and proved that the prison could be operated at a profit. In 1924 he was the Democratic nominee for governor and in 1930 became his party's nominee for representative in congress. Mr. Friendsorf was a bachelor and is survived by three sisters. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational church, Hudson, with Rev. A. W. Kauffman officiating, and burial was in Hudson cemetery. Friends from Chelsea who attended the services were George W. Beckwith, John J. Sullivan and Conrad Lehman.

Homecoming and Carnival Starts Thursday, August 15

Three Days Of Enjoyable Entertainment
Promised By the American Legion,
Who Are Sponsoring the Event

Arrangements are nearing completion for Chelsea's big Homecoming and Carnival celebration which will open on Thursday evening of next week and continue through Friday and Saturday. Three nights and two days of real enjoyment is promised by the committees who are working hard to arrange a program which will please the thousands who are expected to attend.

The celebration will open Thursday evening with a concert by the Chelsea Band under the direction of Fred Fuller. The regular Wednesday evening concert will be eliminated next week. The merry-go-round, ferris wheel and other concessions will be in full swing Thursday night to provide plenty of enjoyment for everyone.

On Friday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a number of sports events, including 100-yard dash for boys and girls under 16 years of age, and also for those under 12 years of age; boys' bicycle race; and a soap box derby for boys 12 years of age and under, using vehicles having not over 18-inch wheels.

Survey Being Made of Beaches On Project

Wm. J. Denman, of the Council of Social Agencies, Detroit, is making a two weeks' survey of the beach possibilities on the Waterloo project. Information which is obtained by Mr. Denman will be given to park officials as a guide in beach development within the project.

Mr. Denman states that the pioneer work which will be done by the CCC men on Portage and Mill lakes will serve as examples of what can be done with marl bottom lakes in developing sand beaches.

Approval for this survey has been obtained from P. J. Hoffmaster of the State Conservation Department, who plans to use information and results obtained on the Waterloo project in the development of good beaches in many of the state parks.

According to C. D. Platt, project manager, it is expected that an advance contingent of 25 men will be stationed at each of the CCC camps in the near future and that soon thereafter the full quotas will occupy the camps. The first contingents will aid in getting the sites ready for occupancy. Delay in bringing the men to the camps has been caused by the lack of water supply, as the wells which are being drilled have not been completed.

County Will Improve West Middle Street

A letter was received on Monday by J. J. Munro, village clerk, from K. L. Hallenbeck, superintendent and manager of the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners, stating that in all probability work of improving West Middle street will be started the last of this week.

Mr. Hallenbeck stated that due to weather conditions their projects throughout the county had been delayed, which made the delay in the local work unavoidable.

The street will be stabilized with a coating of chloride, clay, silt, sand and gravel, which will make a dustless surface. The work will be done by the county at cost, the expense to be paid by the village from the gas and weight tax refunds from the state.

DOGS KILL SHEEP

Sheep-killing dogs went on a rampage in Lima township Friday, killing 11 sheep and injuring 15 on the Wm. Beach farm Friday afternoon and killing 8 and injuring 18 on the C. J. Koch farm Friday night. The dogs were seen by Mr. Beach and traced to the owner, who must make restitution for the losses or the dogs will be killed, according to sheriff's officers who were called to investigate. Justice Fred Barth was called to adjust the losses.

GRANGE PICNIC

The Washtenaw Pomona Grange will hold a picnic at Dexter Huron Park on Tuesday, August 13. All Granges are invited. Pot luck dinner at noon. All members should bring their own dishes, sandwiches, and some other dish to pass. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished for all by free will collection taken at picnic.

NOTICE TO BALL PLAYERS

All boys under 14 years of age who desire to play ball in the game with the Lehman Camp boys during the Homecoming please report to, Ed. Miller at his residence on Monday evening at 6:30.

SPACE AVAILABLE

A limited amount of space is available for concessions at the Homecoming next week. Anyone interested is asked to get in touch with the concessions committee.

PLYMOUTH—Former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck this week in a statement to The Plymouth Mail, declared that victory to the Republican party in the next presidential election could easily be won by the nomination of Henry Ford for president. Mr. Ford, who has carried the brunt of the battle against Wall Street and the wild-eyed ideas put forth by Washington brain-trusters, has done more to end the depression than any one other man in America—Mail.

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly -- Safely

Gain Physical Vigor—YOUTHFULNESS with Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes
That Sparkle with Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling—it lasts 4 weeks.
But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Purge's Corner Drug Store, or any drugstore in the world.

Boy Scouts Celebrate
Silver Anniversary

Celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America and a quarter century of valuable service to the American boyhood, a Grand National Jamboree will be held in the latter part of August of this year in Washington, D. C. 30,000 picked Scouts from all parts of the country will converge on the nation's capitol for a ten-day exposition of Scouting. To understand some of the reasons for holding this Jamboree, the origin of Scouting is hereby given:

Early in the twentieth century a number of independent organizations sprang up designated to put the leisure time of youth to some constructive use. Prominent among the sponsors of these were Ernest Thompson Seton, the nature writer, and Daniel Carter Beard. They were successful in a limited way but lack of national unity prevented them from becoming nation-wide in scope as they would have to be if they were to show marked accomplishments.

Meanwhile in England, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, being interested in this same sort of program conducted in 1907 an experimental Boy's Camp.
Favorably impressed with the results of this camp he organized in 1908, the British Boy Scout Association, and soon after their first handbook,
"Scouting for Boys" was published.
The movement gained strength rapidly.

In 1909 William D. Boyce, Chicago publisher, visiting England, became interested in the idea as the result of a "good turn" done him by an unknown British Scout. He inquired into the matter and as a prominent American man aided in forming a similar American organization.

Thus on February 8, 1910 the Boy Scouts of America were incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia as a non-militaristic, non-sectarian, character-building youth organization. James E. West was selected Chief Scout Executive and other men prominent in public affairs including President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Clifford Pinchot, Daniel Carter Beard, Ernest Thompson Seton, Colin H. Livingston and others accepted positions in the organization.

The organization grew rapidly at first and received the support of all groups in America.

Soon after, troops were started in Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, and now after twenty-five years of growth there are over 50 troops in Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

THE INNER CHAMBER

Do you keep the inner chamber
Of your heart free from alarm?
Are you leaving every moment
On your Saviour's strong right arm?

Does the Spirit whisper to you,
"Child, I understand your care,
I will never leave you;
Trust me, never once despair."

Have a stated time to meet me,
When my spirit you may hear,
I will never leave you;
This I've promised, do you hear?

Precious - Gentle - Holy Jesus,
Blessed bridegroom of my heart,
In thy Secret Inner Chamber
Thou wilt whisper that thou art.

A Testimony
On the very early morning of July 25th, I was awakened with the above gem of inspiration, which so impres-sioned me, and fearing I might lose it I hastened to my writing desk and gave it to you as it was given to me.
Please read 2nd Peter, 1:10-20.

—Arthur Carlton.

METHODIST HOME

Wednesday, July 31 the members of the Chelsea Woman's Home Missionary Society held their annual meeting at the Home. Mrs. Edwin Koebbe presided at the regular business meeting, and Mrs. H. A. Leeson had charge of the program. Devotions were led by Mrs. H. P. Bennett, and were followed by an exercise called the Fleet Review, conducted by Mrs.
Leeson, and participated in by Mrs.
McGregor, Mrs. Cook, Miss Harris,
Mrs. Pool, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Lansing,
Mrs. John Fletcher sang two pleasing songs, with Miss Wolf at the piano; two piano duets were delightfully rendered by Miss Johanna Bruckner and Miss Elsie Loeffler, and the program closed with an interesting playlet entitled "The Victorious Circle," given by Misses Kathleen Hulbert, Sophia
Jurecki, Edna Wenk and Gwyneth Jones. Refreshments were served to the 50 women in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gorline and daughter of Williamston visited Rev.
N. Norton Clark, Tuesday.

Miss Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway, cousin of Miss Abbey Carey, visited Miss Carey from Thursday to Sunday.

Mrs. Monroe visited her sister in Detroit from Tuesday until Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Flint and her daughter, a nurse at the Woman's hospital, Flint, visited Miss Margaret Smith, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown and their daughter, Mrs. Kronmeyer, and her sons, Jack and Robert and daughter Charlotte, returned from their eastern trip, which included Washington, D. C. Wednesday. On the return trip they visited Ford's Greenfield Village. Mrs. Kronmeyer and family returned to their home at Peoria, Ill.
on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hechtel and sons, Charles and Philip, and daughter Grace of Niagara Falls, arrived at the Home on Thursday to visit Mrs.
Hechtel's aunt, Mrs. Eliza Andrews.
They left Friday for Mr. Clemens.
Mrs. Andrews will celebrate her 92nd birthday on August 15.

The double birthday of Rev. N. N.
Clark and Miss Lida Osterander was observed on August 8, with cake and candles, and congratulations.

Tuesday, Mr. Osborn and friend,
Miss Sumner of Detroit visited Mrs.
Bliss, and also visited Miss Emmons, who is a great aunt of Miss Sumner.

Mrs. Chapin returned to the Home on Sunday, from several weeks' visit at her son's, M. B. Chapin, at Flint.
You will be interested to know Mrs.
Chapin called on our former nurse,
Miss Harman, now Mrs. Fred Cummings, and found her in a nice home and very happy. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings are planning to visit the Home in the near future.

Saturday evening, Mrs. Bennett entertained her daughter and husband,
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zink, and her son, Francis Bennett.

Mrs. Rowe spent Sunday with Miss Everett at Chelsea.

Dr. Leeson, Supt. of the Home, preached Sunday morning, August 4,
at Flat Rock.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lankton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lankton and three children of Detroit visited Miss Osterander. They enjoyed very much eating their supper at the table on the back lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porfin and daughter Ellen of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sample of Ypsilanti visited Mrs. Koebbe on Sunday, and brought her gifts of jelly and fruit.

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Georg of Ypsilanti visited Miss Jennie Allen on Sunday. They spent a part of the day at Cavanaugh Lake.

Dr. Leeson will attend the meeting of the Home Board on Tuesday in Detroit.

Mrs. Louise Lewis of Palmyra and Mrs. Lynn Judson of Adrian called on Miss Esther Fish, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Binkelman and Miss Cuff and Dr. Bloom of Detroit visited Elmer Washer on Sunday.

Sunday, Mrs. Alvira Walpole received a visit from her two nieces, Mrs. Mary Glass and Miss Lillian Pearl, and also Mr. and Mrs. Solpe, all of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Raylor Haussler of Manchester visited the Home, Sunday.
Rev. and Mrs. Marsh of Ridgeway visited Miss Abbey Carey and Mrs.
Gardner on Sunday.

Miss Lillian Leeson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leeson, Supt. of the Home, with her friend, Miss Minnie Struthers, are visiting Dr. and Mrs.

Leeson. They came Saturday from New York City to Detroit by airplane, where Dr. and Mrs. Leeson met them.
Miss Leeson is the educational director at Mt. Sinai hospital, New York City. Miss Struthers, formerly of West Virginia, is now assistant superintendent of nurses at Mt. Sinai hospital.

Monday, Dr. Leeson was in Flint to officiate at the funeral of Graham Somers, who was killed in an automobile accident on Saturday.

Mrs. A. Bennett and daughter Olive of Pittsburgh, Pa. are visiting Mrs. H.
P. Bennett, matron of the Home.
Their husbands were brothers.

Miss Clara Dyer and Miss Graves of Detroit visited Miss Elsie Gerrard on Saturday.

DEXTER—The school board has called a special election to be held on August 15 to decide the proposition of issuing bonds for their share in erecting an addition to the school building.
The Dexter school has been dropped from the University list owing to the inadequate facilities of their school.

Drive Side-Wheeler Up Stream
When the New Orleans, the first steamboat on the Ohio river, reached Chillicothe from Pittsburgh in 1811, several prominent persons boarded the vessel and told the captain, Nicholas J. Trounvelt, "Your boat may go down to New Orleans, but it is absurd to think that it can ever come up the river, moving against the current."
To show the futility of speculation what his side-wheeler could do, Captain Trounvelt ran the boat up the river for several miles, and then continued on his journey to New Orleans.

Have New Contracts for Wheat Growers

Michigan wheat growers will be offered crop control contracts covering the crops for 1935 and three succeeding years, according to Chester C. Davis, administrator of the AAA. The contracts will be ready for signatures soon and will be handled through the county control committees chosen by the farmers themselves.

Mr. Davis says that recent court decisions on some phases of the AAA will not affect the government making benefit payments to farmers who fulfill the new wheat contracts. He states, "Even if an adverse decision by the Supreme Court should nullify the contract at some future time, the contract in its present form is admirably devised to protect both the farmers and the government."

"The government would have both a moral and a legal obligation to compensate farmers fully for performance up to the date of such a decision. The government, in fairness and honesty, would pay, and legally would be bound to pay in full for their compliance up to that time, but not beyond that time."

The contract will call for a reduction in wheat planting of 15 per cent from the grower's base acreage, which is already established. The contract signer can not plant more than 85 per cent of his base acreage nor less than 64 per cent of the base. Plantings for years following 1935 may be varied up or down within a 25 per cent maximum, as demanded by conditions.

The contract period is for four years, beginning with 1935, but the grower can terminate the contract at the end of two years. The secretary of agriculture can terminate the contract at the end of a marketing year or for non-compliance with contract terms within a crop year.

County control committees, elected by the growers, will have additional duties and greater responsibilities under the new contracts than with the contracts in force in the past. Such duties may include minor adjustments in wheat acreages among contract signers in line with sound farming practices.

Adjustment payments will be made in two installments and will be in such amounts as will give the contract signer parity prices upon their allotments. The allotment will be 64 per cent of the adjusted average base production.

Stork Welcomes Bird

Throughout Europe the stork is considered a harbinger of good luck as well as of babies, and nearly every household hopes that a family of storks will build a nest on its chimney top when they return from Africa each spring.

Some householders, living in districts no longer inhabited by these birds, even set up artificial nests and install wooden birds in them. Collier's Weekly.

Shoot From Right Shoulder

Most shotgun fans shoot from the right shoulder, and in most instances the right eye is the "master eye." However, observes a writer in the Kansas City Star, in many cases the left eye is the dominating optic and, when this condition exists with a right handed shooter, difficulty in correct gun pointing is experienced.

Such an individual, if shooting with both eyes open, is quite liable to "cross fire" without knowing it, for although he believes he is pointing with the right eye it is the left eye which is registering the guidance. Such a shooter should close his left eye or learn to shoot from the left shoulder.

Question And Answer Dept.

Quen.—Some people advocate socialism—just what do they mean?

Ans.—Socialism is a political and economic theory of social reorganization, the essential feature of which is governmental control of economic activities. Its chief aim is to replace competition with cooperation so that the opportunities of life and the rewards of labor may be justly shared. (Not necessarily equally, as is sometimes erroneously believed.) Socialism in regard to agriculture would include cooperation of farmers, under governmental supervision, in producing and marketing their products. An essential feature is social and economic planning. The AAA might be termed a measure of socialism.

Quen.—In a game of baseball the batsman hits a ball in front of the plate, but the ball bounces up and hits the batter just as he starts to run to first. The ball then rolls foul. What is the decision of the umpire?

Ans.—The batter is out on the rule of being hit by a batted ball regardless of where the ball goes afterward. If the batter is hit after the ball has gone foul, it is a foul strike.

Quen.—What is a giraffe's weapon of defense?

Ans.—A giraffe's weapon of defense is its speed on foot. It is not a pugnacious animal and will not fight its enemies. It is the speediest creature in the animal kingdom and relies upon this entirely to elude its enemies or the hunters.

Quen.—At what period of time did the stone age exist? Was it before the bronze age?

Ans.—There were two stone ages—a New Stone age and an Old Stone age. The latter is the oldest age known, which, it is believed, occurred about 475,000 years B. C., and the Bronze age about 4,000 B. C.

Quen.—Did Queen Victoria of England reign longer than any of the other monarchs in Europe?

Ans.—No. Louis XIV of France was the longest reigning monarch in Europe. Louis XIV reigned 74 years, while Queen Victoria ruled 64 years.

Quen.—I was born on August 3, 1902. What day of the week was that? Also what day of the week was June 18, 1815?

Ans.—Both dates were Sundays.

Quen.—When and where did Alexander the Great die? Was he killed in battle?

Ans.—Alexander the Great, after decisively conquering the Persians, settled in Babylon in 323 B. C., and began to make plans to rule the world, with intent to use Babylon as his capital for one combined kingdom of Asia and Europe. These plans were cut short by his sudden death from fever in Babylon in the summer of 323 B. C.

Quen.—Will you explain what is meant by a "writ of habeas corpus" in law?

Ans.—This is a Latin term and literally means "that you have the body." It is any of several common-law writs for inquiring into the lawfulness of the restraint of a person who is imprisoned or detained in another's custody. The habeas corpus law was established as the supreme remedy for enforcing the law of personal liberty.

Quen.—Is there any age limit at which a man may be elected President of the United States?

Ans.—There is no maximum age limit. Strictly speaking a man may be elected President of the United States while at any age, but according to law he must be 35 years of age or over before he can take the office as President of the United States.

Quen.—I wish to know if it is true that earthworms turn into lightning bugs?

Ans.—No. This is a common myth. However, there is a glowworm, which is an entirely different species from the common earthworm.

Quen.—Can you tell me who were the "three wise men of the east," and what nationality they were?

Ans.—The names of the three wise men of the east, and their number and nationality are not given in the Bible. History of them is obscure. Early churchmen fixed the number at "three" because the Biblical account mentions three gifts—gold, frankincense and myrrh. A legend which refers to the relocation and construction of M-99, connecting US-12 and extending north through the Village to the North Turtorial road.

Telephone Aids Drive Against Underworld

Grand Rapids, Aug. 8.—The protection made possible by the telephone in summoning police assistance, and through the quick dispatching of help by radio, is being stressed in Grand Rapids' newest fight against the underworld, designed to make the city one of the safest in America and to minimize the cost of the detection and prevention of crime.

To call these aids to the attention of the public for the purpose of gaining fullest possible cooperation in the crime war, the city's police department has enlisted the aid of the press, broadcasting stations, public utilities, and other business and industrial concerns, which are employing direct mail, window displays, newspaper advertising, and bulletin announcements in an educational campaign that covers the metropolitan area. The cooperation of all of the municipal organizations in the surrounding area also has been requested.

"When you want a policeman, telephone, and help will be dispatched immediately," police officials advise.

"Do not delay matters by trying to find a policeman on the street or by running to a police call box—telephone. If you see persons acting suspiciously, or witness a crime, notify the police department by telephone."

That is the message that is being given the Grand Rapids public in a campaign that is to be continuous. Upon the receipt of calls for help, radio-equipped police cars or motorcycle officers are dispatched instantaneously, and the result has been a material lessening of the activities of the criminal element.

The city of Grand Rapids has 28 radio-equipped cars and five radio-equipped motorcycles in its police and fire departments. In addition there are 25 radio-equipped police cars and two radio-equipped motorcycles in the metropolitan area and utility cars of the gas company, the water and light departments, and the merchant police have been made available to the authorities in their crime war.

PINCKNEY—Fred L. Woodworth of Pinckney has been appointed state welfare director by Gov. Fitzgerald to succeed Grover Dillman, who has resigned to accept the presidency of the College of Mines at Houghton.

During his tenure of the office of internal revenue collector Mr. Woodworth purchased the Norman Reason farm on the Howell road near the House school and spends considerable time there.

MANCHESTER—Light and power service in the west end of town was cut off for several hours last Saturday afternoon, when three young children, Howard Wheeler, four, and Donald and Helen Hanewald, aged six and four years, took a ride in the Wheeler automobile which was parked in the driveway of the Burtless home. The three children were playing in the machine when one of them released the brake and the fun began. The car backed out of the driveway and started down the street but came to grief when it jumped the curb near Dr. Kent's residence and struck a boulevard light standard, breaking it off and putting the lights out of commission. The car was slightly damaged, and aside from being badly frightened, the children were unhurt.—Enterprise.

Longfellow's Evangeline
Result of Story to Poet
Evangeline of the poem was written as the result of a story communicated to Longfellow long after the actual events occurred and one cannot be very definite on the facts behind it, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

In Philadelphia there is a tradition that Evangeline wandered about New England all her lifetime and in her old age joined a sisterhood which cared for the sick. In the Philadelphia almshouse she found her lover on his deathbed and the shock of his death killed her; both are believed to be buried in the cemetery of Holy Trinity Catholic church there. The other tradition is that Evangeline (whose real name was Emmeline Lahche) was exiled with other Acadians to Maryland, where they remained for three years and then made their way into Louisiana. Soon after she landed she met her former lover, who had plighted his troth to another. A few months later she died of a broken heart and was buried near the "Evangeline" oak at St. Martinville, La. A statue of her at that place was dedicated in April, 1931.

Longfellow, in a letter to a Philadelphia journalist, mentions how he came to select the Philadelphia poorhouse and old Catholic graveyard for the final scenes of his poem. This is published in the preface to Evangeline in Longfellow's complete poems.

Twilight League News
On Thursday evening Mayer Electric gained their first victory from the Congregationalists, and then only by the very narrow margin of 2 to 1. The meet continued for 4½ innings—just long enough to make it official—when it was called on account of darkness.

The victors employed two hurlers—Hulce and Stanley. Hulce pitched two innings, during which he allowed two hits and two walks, and fanned five. Stanley, in his three innings, allowed only one man to reach first base—by a hit. He fanned seven batters.

Though Fahrner was the losing pitcher, the defeat cannot be attributed to him. He allowed only two hits neither of which resulted in a run, walked three men and fanned five in the four innings.

In the first inning, N. Mayer walked, took third when Hulce grounded out, and scored on a wild pitch to give the Electric their first run.

The Congregationalists tied the score in the second, when C. Panarites singled, stole second and third, and scored when Downs was safe on an error.

The winning run was made in the third frame as the result of a fumble by the Congregational first baseman, Hoffman, thus safe on the error, stole second, took third when N. Mayer grounded out, and scored on a passed ball.

Friday evening's important game was postponed on account of wet grounds, and will be played this Friday evening.

With an attack consisting solely of one of the biggest innings of the season, the Trojans vanquished St. Pauls by a score of 7 to 2 in Monday's seven-inning encounter.

Lixey and Winans comprised the Trojan battery. G. Novess and C. Schneider made up the St. Paul battery for five innings; C. Schneider made his debut on the mound by pitching the sixth frame.

Lixey struck out six batters in a row in the last two innings, and had a strike-out total of nine. He allowed only three hits, only one of which resulted in a score. The only weakness in his pitching was his control—he walked six men.

The victory inning was the second, and the seven runs piled up during it occurred as follows: Lyons singled; Clark singled, scoring Lyons; Bill Howe hit to right field; J. Howe filled the bases when he was safe on R. Niehaus' error at first base; Dvorak was safe on P. Novess' bad throw, scoring Clark; Lixey doubled over the center fielder's head, scoring both Howes; Winans walked, again filling the bases; Wallace doubled, cleaning up the bases; Lyons, the 11th man to bat in the inning, then flied out, retiring the side.

The Tuesday evening game was postponed because of wet grounds.

The True Horse "Swapper"
There are several characteristics of the true horse "swapper." He slowly looks over the animal and in his own mind picks out the good and bad points. He examines the teeth of the animal and the mouth to ascertain the age of the horse or mule. If he is interested he may ask the owner to unhitch the animal and let him test him out as to stamina or ability as a runner or work animal. If he is interested he will condemn the animal in an effort to make the owner feel the beast is not as good as he had supposed. If the other trader, however, is well versed in this practice, the tricks of the trade mean little to him. Of course, among the traders it is not uncommon to resort to tricks to "ginger" up a "plug" horse and make it appear to be a high class animal, which, when the "pop" is gone reveals to just a common horse and possibly a worthless animal.—Kansas City Star.

Groundhog Great Benefactor
The groundhog, or woodchuck, throughout the year, is a great benefactor of the skunks, rabbits, ground squirrels, field rats, etc. notes a writer in the Indianapolis News. He tunnels the earth everywhere, and is a much better digger than they. His abandoned dens make homes for other creatures, less able to dig than he. These are a time when wolves and wildcats make life hazardous for the groundhog. The fox, dog, and man are about his only enemies now. He will run to his den, or dig in, when danger threatens; but he will fight viciously if cornered, and his sharp front teeth are good weapons.

FOWLER-GIER WEDDING

On Wednesday evening, July 24, at 8:30 the marriage of Clarence Fowler and Edith Gier was solemnized, Rev. Randall of the Greenwood Avenue Methodist church of Jackson, officiating. The ceremony took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Fowler, 535 St. Clair Ave., Jackson.

The bride was attended by Mildred Beaman and Norman Beaman performed the duties of best man, both of Waterloo.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white organza, and Miss Beaman wore a floor length gown of yellow, silk crepe with organza ruffles. Both wore white hats, gloves, and slippers, and each carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses to match their dresses, and tied with streamers of the same shades.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 35 guests, and ice cream and cake served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler enjoyed a week's motor trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, and are at home at the residence of Elmer Weinberg, near Chelsea.

Founder of St. Bridget Order
St. Bridget, called "the most famous daughter of the north," was the founder of the St. Bridget Order and built the first convent of the order in 1379 in the picturesque little city of Vadstena at Lake Vattern in central Sweden. When she died in Rome in 1373 her body was carried on foot all the way to the convent church in Vadstena, where it is still interred.

The other occupants of the car were Mary Kirk of Manchester, who received a fractured skull, Charles Lee of Detroit, a fracture of several ribs, and Mrs. Lee, cuts about the face. All are reported as recovering.

Funeral services for Mr. Egan, held Monday forenoon in Manchester, were attended by the following from the vicinity: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber, Mrs. Sylvester Weber, Mrs. Herman Weber, Mrs. J. E. Alber, Mrs. Ida Damon, Mrs. Reuben Grieb, John J. Sullivan, Miss Monica Merkel, Mrs. Akthony Jurecki and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jakubiec. Interment was in Manchester.

Start Collection of Delinquent Taxes

Payments of delinquent property taxes have already started to roll into the County Treasurer's office in the first week of the State's "big push" to reduce the back tax burden under which state, county and local governments are staggering.

Gov. Fitzgerald started off the campaign with the request that every Michigan taxpayer take part in the effort to put governmental finances back on a sound footing.

"The Legislature has provided the means; the State is doing its utmost to present the facts. The rest is up to the taxpayer," Fitzgerald declared. "He can save his home, and save from 27 to more than 45 per cent in interest and penalties. Most important of all he can get a fresh start in new security freed from the devilish worry over debt and the fear of losing his home."

Three reminders to taxpayers are being stressed in the campaign:

1. All penalties and interest on taxes for 1932 and prior years will be waived provided the original amount of the tax shall be paid on or before September 1, 1935.
2. Taxes for 1932 and prior years can be paid in annual installments over a period of up to ten years, starting September 1, 1935, with only a four per cent interest charge on deferred balances.
3. Regular taxes for 1933 and 1934 may be paid without interest or penalties before November 1, 1935, a four per cent collection charge being added.

The provisions apply to state, county, municipal, village, township and school taxes, as well as most city taxes. Delinquent taxes for all years except 1934 not paid in accordance with these provisions must be offered for sale in May, 1936, by the Auditor General.

The drive is being directed by Auditor General John J. O'Hara, who has arranged to have County Treasurers send him weekly reports on the results of the drive in every county.

Public schools here will be aided by payment of back taxes, according to Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. "About one quarter of the taxes collected will go to public schools," Elliott said. "Some of the money will be available for current expense but the larger share will go to meet defaulted debt service charges, unpaid teachers' salaries and other unpaid bills accumulated during the depression. Efforts of school boards to meet these unpaid obligations have been a constant threat against adequate provision for schools."

"Better educational opportunities for children will be the natural result if boards meet their outstanding debt through the medium of delinquent tax collections. I urge every taxpayer interested in the welfare of his children to make every effort to pay overdue taxes now."

Do Not Need Summer Time

The northern counsels of Europe such as Sweden, Norway and Scotland do not adopt summer time, as daylight extends well toward midnight and starts again several hours later. Near the Arctic circle daylight is practically continuous throughout the summer time.

Largest Chameleons Are Produced in Madagascar

Madagascar is the home of zoological curiosities, but it contains nothing more remarkable than its chameleons. Of the fifty odd species known to science about twenty are natives of that island, and most of them are notable either for their great size or for the fantastic excrescences that adorn the heads of many of them. The biggest of them measures twenty inches in length, which is truly gigantic when compared with a South African species, the pigmy of the family, less than five inches in length.

Their color-changing ability appears to be quite equal to that of the smaller species, says the curator of reptiles in the London zoo, reporting upon specimens of chameleons received alive from Madagascar. When they were unpacked, and were cold, their bodies were cream-colored, with irregular patches of yellow; under the warmth and light of electric lamps they quickly darkened to a mottled brown, which changed to maroon with green patches when cockroaches induced an excitable frame of mind. The greatest interest attaches to one specimen which was perched among dark twigs above a mass of green leaves; under these conditions its back became grayish brown and the flanks and under-surface green.

Poodle an International Dog; Ancestors English

The Poodle is the dandy of the dog world, but although many people recognize his decorative qualities, few realize that he can hunt or retrieve to the gun as skillfully as many of the "sporting" breeds. His intelligence is of so high an order and his memory and reasoning so remarkable that he is capable of acquiring instruction to almost any degree. In spite of his elegant appearance, writes Maj. Mitford Brice in Answers Magazine, the Poodle is a sturdy, strong outdoor dog with well-developed sporting instincts.

Although he probably traces his origin to the Old English Water-Dog, the Poodle owes his development to continental breeders, particularly those of France and Germany; though the expression French Poodle or Russian Poodle refers to nothing more than temporary residence.

He is an international dog, starting life with English ancestors and acquiring slight changes of type in the different countries that, from time to time, have adopted him.

His light and free actions are characteristic as is his upstanding bearing. A dandy he may be; drooping he can be; but a sportsman he is.

"Potter's Field"

According to St. Matthew 27, the story of the origin of the term "potter's field" is as follows: At the time of the betrayal of Christ by Judas Iscariot, after his repentance he went to the chief priests and elders and implored them to take back the thirty pieces of silver which he had accepted from them as payment for his betrayal of his Master. This they refused to do, and in despair Judas cast the money down in the temple, and went away and hanged himself. The chief priests took the money, and since it was not lawful to put it in the treasury, because it represented the price of blood, they bought a potter's field to use as a burying ground for strangers in Jerusalem. The burial grounds for paupers of today bear the same name.

Highway Construction Program Under Way

Michigan's $20,700,000 highway program advanced to the construction stage this week.

At the request of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen, three contractors started construction activity Friday, just one week after they had been awarded contracts on three projects in Kent, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

Meanwhile the program advanced in another direction when low bids were accepted for seven lower peninsula projects totaling $760,532. Bids were also opened at Escanaba on six projects in the Upper Peninsula estimated to cost $800,000.

The three contractors who moved their equipment to location Friday were State Road Builders, Grand Rapids; W. H. Knapp Company, Monroe; and Lewis-Frisinger, Ann Arbor. Commissioner Van Wageningen, after placing his formal signature on their contracts, commended the contractors for the speed with which they proceeded with construction.

The three projects that were the first in the state to get under way were: 8,508 miles of 11-foot and 4-foot concrete pavement widening on US-23 from Monroe north to US-25; 5,519 miles of 31-foot concrete pavement on US-12 from Lima Center east in Washtenaw county; and 0.298 mile of 42-foot concrete pavement on US-16 from East Grand Rapids to M-21. The three projects are part of the first contract letting of $1,700,000 on July 26, when opening bids were taken on the Federal Aid program and the unexpended balance of the old Hayden-Cartwright program.

Save your home - Save interest - Save worry - Pay Your Taxes Now!

THIS month the eyes of America are on Michigan, and its drive for taxes. Involved in its success are the security and happiness of many homes, and the financial integrity of various units of government. Aided by a considerate legislature, the State of Michigan now asks its delinquent tax-payers to meet their important obligation without further delay.

For those who are prepared to pay in full, taxes for 1932 and prior years may be taken care of without any interest or penalties. This means a saving of 27% to 45% — and even more.

For those who aren't able to pay taxes for 1932 and prior years in full, there has been provided a 10-year plan, with the same substantial savings, but with a small added carrying charge.

Those who owe 1933 and 1934 taxes, may also save all interest and penalty, by paying a 4% collection fee. (For these taxes there is no deferred payment plan.)

Regardless of how you plan to take care of the obligation the important thing is that you do so without further delay. The immediate cash saving is an important item for anyone; but no less important is the saving of worry, doubt, and bother.

Acting under the Law, the Auditor-General must soon offer most of the delinquent taxes at public sale. This difficult task will be considerably lightened if the individual property-owners take the situation promptly to heart and proceed to pay their taxes.

See your County Treasurer at once. Show him your tax bills; or at any rate, give him the legal description of your property.

Then he will tell you the exact amount of your back taxes, and accept your payments. If you are not familiar with the details of the tax laws he will give you a descriptive folder that describes in simple terms just what you must do to save your home. See your County Treasurer at once.

BY ORDER OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD.

Ears of Elephants Serve

as Aid in Cooling Body

"One of the most interesting forms of all temperature-control devices is the elephant's ear," says an authority in the New York Herald Tribune. "That great flapping area of tissue on either side of the elephant's head is associated with the elephant's organ of hearing and he probably uses it to advantage in intensifying sounds, but its most important function is to cool the animal's blood."

"The elephant possesses great bulk of body and its surface area a pound of weight is very small compared to that of smaller animals. Therefore, it has very limited facilities for cooling itself through radiation of heat from the body surface. Its ears, however, have a very large surface for their weight. The ears are constructed with a very generous supply of blood vessels. If the animal becomes too warm it activates its ears by fanning them vigorously. This brings the blood coursing through the ear blood vessels very close to the surface where it gives off its excess heat."

"Birds, compared with the elephant, have an enormous body area a pound of weight. Their normal temperature is much higher and they have great use of their feathered covering for heat insulation to protect their bodies against the outside lower temperatures. The normal temperature of birds' bodies would be a dangerous fever heat for men. The humming bird is among the warmest of creatures. Its normal temperature is about 115 degrees."

Finch Comes From Africa

Bird Goes by Two Names

One of the commonest and most attractive of the ornamental finches which comes to us from Africa goes by two names, "ribbon finch," and "cut-throat finch," says Helen C. Loomis, in the Detroit News. Though the first mentioned name may be much more pleasing to the ear, it cannot be denied that the more fearful sounding one is the most appropriate. For the outstanding marking of the male is a broad band of crimson extending from the ear covers over the back of the cheeks and across the throat. Otherwise the chief colorings of the upper plumage of this bird are a dull golden brown and gray, relieved and accentuated by having many of the feathers barred with black or white. The feathers round the eye and the front of the cheeks are also white. The breast is fawn colored, mottled with white and barred with black. Back and legs are flesh colored, and iris, brown. The hen is much less distinguished appearing than the male, chiefly because she lacks the white cheek feathers and the tell-tale band of crimson beneath her chin.

Cold-Water Cure

Medical men the world over are returning to the cold-water cure as the quickest and most permanent means of relief for a number of ailments. The first man to use cold-water scientifically was Vincent Preissnitz, who was born a humble peasant in the Silesian mountains. He watched wild animals cure themselves with cold water and applied the treatment to human beings with wonderful success. Intensely persecuted by the orthodox medical profession, he persisted in curing by cold water where they had failed—broken bones, aches, and skin complaints—and ultimately his fame came to the ears of the emperor, who made him a doctor. Preissnitz founded the first hydro; placing his belief in nature rather than in drugs.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Shot 'Em on the Run

Several centuries ago, the ruling prince of the province of Coorg, India, often had a condemned criminal brought to his palace for a sporting proposition. The prince would offer the man his freedom if he were able to run the full length of the courtyard without being shot by the prince as he fired from a balcony window. Thus the state saved the cost of an execution and the prince caught up with his shooting. Collier's Weekly.

Souvenir Spoon

Special designs of souvenir spoons characteristic of places in Europe have long been known. It was in 1897 that N. W. Galt of Washington, D. C., while traveling abroad, conceived the idea of introducing such spoons in this country. Upon his return he offered the first Washington spoon showing the head of the Father of His Country. The venture was an instant success, and a year later Daniel Low of Salem, Mass., put out his first witch spoon.

Dark and Light of Moon

The expressions dark and light of the moon, are without scientific meaning. In some parts of the country the people say the light of the moon is during the time the moon is waxing from new moon to full moon and the dark of the moon is from full moon to new moon. In other parts of the country the light of the moon is when the moon is visible and the dark of the moon is when it is not visible.

Habits of Geese

When wild geese fly above, honking and inviting barnyard fowls to go along northward to mate and brood, they become very excited. But time and lack of flight has lost for them the ability to fly any great distance; so they make the best of the bird farm. Sometimes these domestics call down a wild wild brother to their own life.

TRUE
DETECTIVE
STORYby Vance Wyman
Public Leader

The Modern Jekyll and Hyde Mystery

THERE is nothing particularly sensational in a single robbery in one section of a city but when a dozen occur in as many nights and they all show evidence of having been committed by the same person, it is time to sit up and take notice.

That was the feeling of the Brooklyn police not long ago when indignant householders came, one after another, to enter complaints about a strange man who was terrorizing the peaceful city of Churches.

Detective Krummel was detailed to make an investigation, and he did it with the thoroughness with which the modern detective is compelled to work when he matches his wits against the expert criminal.

One of the victims was the minister of a prominent Methodist Episcopal church. Krummel first obtained a description of all the stolen goods, and then with the assistance of the police bureau, he made inquiry in all the pawnbroking establishments of the city.

One of the articles that had been purloined was a handsome watch, which happened to have certain marks upon it by which it could readily be identified.

After the lapse of some days this watch was found in a Brooklyn pawnshop.

The proprietor said the bit of jewelry had been pawned by a young woman.

It required time and ingenuity to trace this person but she was found eventually, and when questioned said that the watch had been given to her by another woman.

This second woman was located and she said that it had been given to her by one James Hefey.

It was not difficult to find the residence of this man, but when the detective went there he was confronted by an unusual state of affairs.

The wife of James Hefey was at home, and she proved to be a woman of culture and refinement. The home also was every evidence of being that of persons in good, if not affluent circumstances.

When she learned of the charge that was made against her husband she was amazed and indignant.

Mrs. Hefey said that she had been married for some years and that her husband was employed by the United States government at a salary of something like $100 a week.

His working hours, she said, were from four in the afternoon until shortly after midnight.

He was a model husband in every way, and was extremely generous to her.

She was unable to state the exact nature of his employment, but said that he spent all excepting his working hours with her.

Together they visited the art galleries and places of amusement, and altogether had an ideal and happy existence.

It was a perplexing situation, because if the suspicions of the police were true, this man must be a regular thief. If not a modern counterpart of the celebrated Jekyll and Hyde.

One of the victims of the robberies was a merchant who complained of the loss of a quantity of jewelry belonging to his wife.

A watch was set upon the odd Mr. Hefey, and this particular victim was stationed in a place where he could see the suspect without being seen.

After the test had been made he said: "I have no doubt about it. This man is the same person whom I saw coming down the driveway of my home on the evening that the robbery took place."

This was important, but it was not quite sufficient for legal evidence.

The detective managed to get into the house of Hefey at a time when he was not at home, and he made a thorough search of the premises.

In a room that was kept locked he found a quantity of goods that scarcely belonged to the couple.

The find included seven suitcases filled with jewelry, furs, silver, cut glass and numerous articles of women's wear.

One of the detectives said at the time: "Judging from the number of things that have been identified by the owners Hefey must have committed something like thirty burglaries between the first of January and the middle of April."

He was taken into custody amid the tears and protestations of his wife. Personally he was silent but the magistrate before whom he was taken held him in $10,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

The Cherokee Alphabet

The Cherokee alphabet was invented by Sequoyia, a member of the Cherokee tribe, observes a writer in the Washington Star. The importance of the art of writing and printing as instruments and weapons of civilization began to impress him in 1809, and he studied undismayed by the discouragement and ridicule of his fellows, to elaborate a system of writing suitable to the Cherokee language. In 1821 he submitted his syllabary to the chief men of the nation, and on their approval the Cherokee of all ages set about to learn it with such zeal that after a few months thousands were able to read and write their language.
