Large Gathering Hears Farmers' Union Pres.

Approximately 250 people heard Edward H. Everson, president of the National Farmers' Union, who spoke at the Union's meeting held Saturday evening at the Congregational church. Chairman of the event was Chester Graham, State Secretary of the Farmers' Union, who introduced the first speaker, John Lenz, State President of the organization.

Mr. Lenz opened with a statement expressing pride in the Union's progress in Michigan. He stated that people in all walks of life throughout the State are coming to realize that the Union means something; that everybody knows there is something wrong with the country and all agree that the Union's program is sound and constructive.

As an example of what the Farmers' Union seeks to alter, Mr. Lenz cited the case of a man, wife and nine children ousted from their farm north of Detroit. The man had paid $7,200 on the farm, and still owed only $2,800, yet he was foreclosed upon and ousted, though his crops were all planted. "Is there any justice in that? I claim there is not," said Mr. Lenz. "Who made such laws?" he continued. "I claim they should be changed, and it is the purpose of this Union to work toward their change, to the end that the farmer and cropper shall share in the foreclosures, each according to his interest."

After denouncing President Roosevelt for having failed to live up to his campaign program in regard to the farmer, he closed with a plea for increased organization, stating that in organization lies the farmer's only means to end his problems.

Chairman Graham then introduced David Leep of Shelbyville, Michigan, who told what that local of the Union has accomplished.

The chairman then introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Mr. Everson.

Opening with the statement, "The farm problem is the real problem of the Nation today," Mr. Everson plunged into the crux of the problem by stating that the farmer is at a disadvantage.

Chelsea's Homecoming and Carnival, sponsored by the American Legion, will open tonight with a concert by the Chelsea Band, commencing at 8 o'clock. This band, under the direction of Fred Fuller, will play for two hours to entertain the crowd which is expected to attend the first night of the big celebration. All concessions will be open this evening, as will all the rides, including the merry-go-round, Ferris wheel and chairplane.

Van Wagoner Promises Improvement Of M-92

Geo. W. Beckwith and Theo. Bahnmiller went to Stockbridge last Thursday and presented petitions to Murray D. Van Wagoner, State Highway Commissioner, asking the relocation and construction of a new M-92 highway north of Chelsea. The petitions were signed by village and township officials. Mr. Van Wagoner, who was in attendance at the centennial celebration in Stockbridge, promised to give the matter his attention as soon as funds are available for such a project.

The fact that the Federal government is developing the Waterloo park project will no doubt speed action in the matter, as the improved M-92 highway would pass through the park, making it easily accessible from either the north or south. Mr. Van Wagoner mentioned the fact that the contemplated Montreal-Chicago highway will pass in or near Chelsea, and that a new highway from the north would give the village improved highways in all directions.

Funds Appropriated for Postal Building Here

Conrad Lehman received a telephone message on Wednesday from Federal authorities stating that funds had been appropriated and the order signed by President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James Farley, for the construction of a new postoffice building in Chelsea. The information as to where the building will be constructed was not divulged in the telephone conversation.

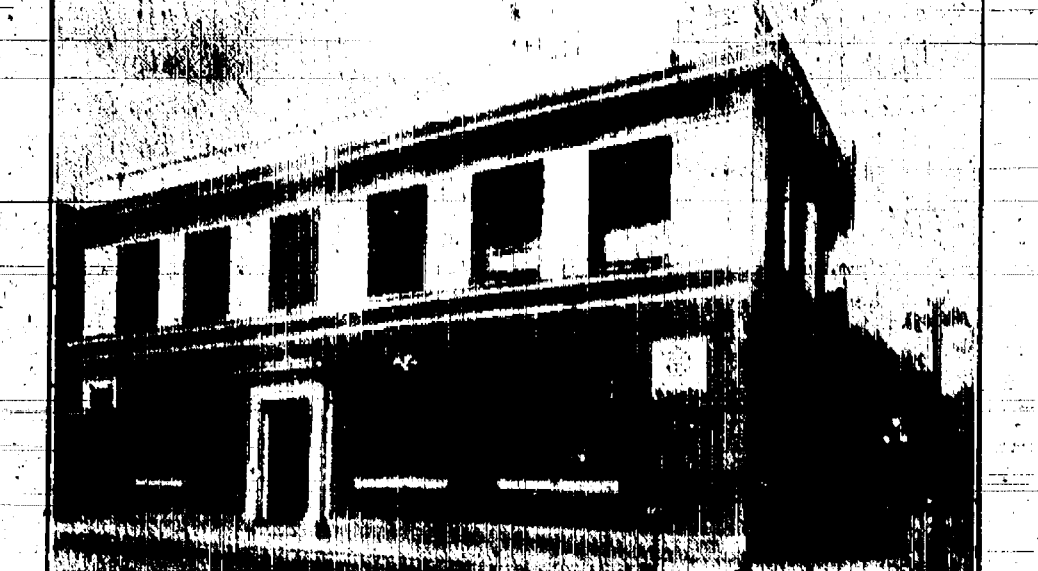

Chelsea Postoffice Moved To New Location On Sunday

The Chelsea postoffice was moved on Sunday from the O. D. Schneider building on South Main street, where it had been located for many years, to the building formerly occupied by the Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank, corner of Main and Middle streets, which was recently purchased by Mr. Schneider.

With its establishment in the new location, Chelsea has one of the finest postoffices for a town of this size in the state. No expense was spared by Mr. Schneider in making the building one of which Chelsea residents can be justly proud. Extensive alterations were made to the interior of the building, all partitions and the vault dow in the center, parcel post and general delivery at the south, nearest to the lobby entrance. A brass door with grill work above leads from the lobby to the workroom. The lock boxes are located at the south and west of the lobby, near the entrance. Sorting and work tables are located at the rear of the boxes and the carriers' sorting and work tables are at the extreme south end of the building. All outgoing and incoming mail is taken through the lobby entrance at the south end of the building.

The floor space in the new location is only about eight square feet greater than in the building formerly occupied, but the arrangement is more being removed, and with complete redecoration presents a very attractive appearance.

The floor in the building is ceramic tile, with mosaic construction, all woodwork is mahogany finish, and the lobby is faced with dark base and lighter marble up to the windows. The brass grillwork used by the bank was rearranged and used for the division between the lobby and workroom of the postoffice. The sidewalks are painted a light green, with cream coloring, and new light fixtures have been installed.

There are three service windows, the money order window being at the north end of the lobby, stamp window in the center, parcel post and general delivery at the south, nearest to the lobby entrance. A brass door with grill work above leads from the lobby to the workroom. The lock boxes are located at the south and west of the lobby, near the entrance. Sorting and work tables are located at the rear of the boxes and the carriers' sorting and work tables are at the extreme south end of the building. All outgoing and incoming mail is taken through the lobby entrance at the south end of the building.

The floor space in the new location is only about eight square feet greater than in the building formerly occupied, but the arrangement is more convenient, and the building is better lighted, which makes more pleasant working conditions for employees.

There will be no window service at the postoffice on Saturday afternoons, although the lobby will be open, and there will be a clerk there to distribute incoming mail and dispatch outgoing first-class mail. The lobby will be closed at 6:30 each evening.

J. V. Hurv has the distinction of mailing the first letter at the new location, having delivered his letter while they were moving on Sunday, the letter being the first one through the cancelling machine Monday morning.

Mrs. Harriet Dunn Holser of Ann Arbor mailed the second letter.

Interpersing the Friday and Saturday programs, the Oakshosh German Rube Cornet Concert Band will provide novelty musical numbers and feature stunts which will no doubt be one of the best numbers on the entire program.

The balloon ascensions by Wm. Henderson will be thrilling entertainment. Mr. Henderson, who makes regular ascensions at Newport Bathing Beach, is well known to many residents of this vicinity. He will swing on a

The plane is powered with a 210 horsepower engine, cruises at 183 miles per hour and has a top speed of 150 miles per hour. Readers of The Plymouth Mail will recall that numerous times in the past there have been news reports of successful air tours made by the younger Mr. Hough in the interests of the Daisy business. In fact, he has found it to his advantage to use air travel to a very great extent, the saving in time frequently meaning much in the promotion of the business.—Mail.

The Symbol of an Ideal

The history of American industry affords no example of lasting success that came by chance. Instead, it shows that enduring institutions are products of an honest policy applied intelligently and faithfully over a period of years.

The vital place which the telephone occupies in modern life did not result from accident. It was won—and is held—by supplying the public with a service of genuine and steadily increasing value.

To better that value is the abiding principle of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's policy. Even during the recent years of sharply reduced revenues, years in which all values were subjected to bitter tests, this company did not relax in its obligation to achieve further improvements in its service.

As a direct result of this policy, the people of Michigan are receiving a higher grade telephone service than ever before. This statement is not made lightly. The improvement is revealed by carefully compiled records of daily performance. They show a greater speed and accuracy in handling local calls; a continued decrease in "out-of-order" reports; more prompt repair service; and a greater proportion of out-of-town messages completed while the subscriber holds the line.

These records, though undramatic in themselves, are important as milestones of progress toward complete satisfaction for the users of this vital public service. The improvements they signify were not won by chance—they did not "just happen."

They were achieved by this company's rigid adherence to a policy having as its basic ideal the best possible service for the least possible cost that will maintain the present standards and assure the improvements of the future.

Radium Salts for Healing
Strange to say, it is not the pure elemental radium that is sold and bought. This, a white, glistening solid, visible in the dark, was first prepared only after the greatest difficulty in 1910 by Madame Curie. Fortunately it is not radium metal that is necessary for cancer treatments. In hospitals, it is a grayish salt of radium, which looks like dirty table salt, which is used; radium bromide, perhaps, which contains chemically combined about 84 per cent of radium, or it may be radium sulphate. From the radium, speedily penetrating rays, more penetrating than X-rays, destroying morbid cancer cells, fibroid tumors, and birthmarks.

Twilight League News

Playing the fifth inning by the light of the moon, Mayer Electric defeated Spaulding Chevrolet by the score of 5 to 3 on Thursday evening and early night.

Only four of Spaulding's regulars were present, so with no little difficulty he finally garnered a non-descript assembly of nine and entered the field. Because of this, the Electric rather floated on their three-point lead which they had made in the first two innings. However, in the fourth, W. Alexander walked, took second on an overthrow at first, and scored on Goll's hit over second base. And in the fifth, the Chevys added two more runs to tie the score when Fahrner's single through shortstop scored Gilbert and Fowler, both of whom had been safe on errors.

This turn of events perked up the Electric considerably so that when they came to bat in the last of the fifth they exhibited a good bit of zest and anxiety. They weren't long in doubt though, for Parsons singled and Hulce was hit by a pitched ball. Stanley then drove both runners home with a hit through third base, breaking the tie and ending the game.

The batteries were Hulce and Parsons for the Electric, and Fowler and C. Schneider for the Chevys. Hulce allowed only three hits and fanned 6. Fowler allowed 7 hits and fanned 6.

Joe Lyons leaped high in the air and made a beautiful Charley Gehring catch of Hoffman's very hard liner to end Tuesday evening's five-inning game, and give the Trojans a 2 to 0 victory over Mayer Electric.

The batteries were Kern and Dvorak for the Trojans, and Stanley and Parsons for the Electric. There were three hits off each pitcher. Kern fanned five and Stanley nine.

For three innings neither side could come even close to scoring. Finally in the fourth, Lixey slipped a hard grounder down first base line into right field for a double. Instead of stopping, however, he raced for third, rounded it, and scored when the ball was thrown over third base. Bing Howe, next up, batted a single into left-center field, stole second, started to third on Wallace's grounder to the pitcher, arrived safe at third when Gibson bobbled, and scored when a play at second got Wallace out.

Schedule
The regular playing season is scheduled to end Thursday evening of this week. However, this game, between the Congregationals and Spaulding Chevrolet will be postponed until Friday evening of next week, because of the Homecoming celebration. Other postponed games for next week are as follows: Monday, Congregationals vs. Sea Scouts; Tuesday, Congregationals vs. St. Pauls, second series tie game; Thursday, Congregationals vs. Trojans, third series tie.

Standings (Third Series)
Team	W	L	Pct.
Trojans	4	0	1.000
St. Pauls	4	1	.800
Mayer Electric	3	2	.600

Must Lay Many Eggs
Marine animals must lay eggs by the thousands, even millions. If the species is not to be exterminated, a cod lays about 5,000,000 eggs; a string mussel about 7,000,000; and a turbot usually more than 14,000,000. But out of this great production only a small proportion of the hatched young ever reach maturity. A lobster carries her eggs attached to the body in clusters and these clusters may contain anywhere from 3,000 to 75,000 eggs of which it is estimated that one out of 5,000 will mature. A single female oyster may spawn as many as 50,000,000 in one season but if her luck is good she raises one oyster to maturity out of each 10,000,000 eggs. — Pathfinder Magazine.

Habits of Chipmunks
The bureau of biological survey says that in chipmunks, as in most other small rodents, the male becomes troublesome and belligerent in the breeding season and while the young are being nursed. The female, therefore, is obliged to seclude herself and the young, drive away the male, and take full charge of the offspring until they are weaned. At this time they are able to care for themselves, and both male and female may then be seen in company with half-grown young.

The Black Carpet Beetle
The black carpet beetle is small, oval, black, as its name indicates, and about three-sixteenths of an inch in length. This insect thrives best in secluded environments where they are seldom disturbed, and are commonly found in floor cracks, under carpets, behind baseboards, in neglected trunks, cupboards, etc.

Old Domes
The inhabitants of England a couple of thousand years ago played domes, as was revealed at Dorchester with the discovery of carved bone pieces unearthed from a 2,500-year-old earthworks at Malden castle. The numbers of the domes ran from three to six, but there were no double sixes.

But to Prove It
Virginia law gives the court authority to order the execution of dogs found guilty of "habitual" chicken stealing.

Popular Gordon Setter

Always Gentleman's Dog
There is little question that the Gordon, like all setters, comes of very old stock, writes Frank P. Dole in the New York Herald-Tribune. His markings would seem to show that he was one of the early varieties in England. He is marked exactly like the black and tan terrier, and as some of the old setting spaniels from which setters were produced. As in the terrier, the markings of the Gordon are closely defined and there is no suggestion of a running over of colors.

The Gordon setter has always been a gentleman's dog. He takes his name from a British nobleman, who, although not the founder of the breed, had much to do with its early development. This was the duke of Gordon, who lived at the beginning of the Nineteenth century.

The Gordon is a heavier dog than the English or Irish setter, and makes up in strength what he may lack in speed. It is true that the Gordon does not work rapidly enough to do much in field trials. The English and Irish setters, being lighter dogs, cover the ground more rapidly and where speed counts and the number of coveys flushed means everything, the Gordon is forced to take second place.

As an all-around good hunting dog, a beautiful animal and a loyal pet, there is none that surpasses the black and tan Gordon setter.

Checker Game Believed

As Old as Civilization
When you play checkers you play a game which is probably very nearly as old as civilization itself. Checkers, like chess, is of so ancient and remote an origin that it is impossible to tell when it was first played, or, with any certainty, in what country it was devised. Checkers being the simpler game, it is perhaps even older than chess.

There are references to both games in some of the oldest literature of India, China, and other Oriental countries, so that an Oriental origin has been ascribed to them. But checkers may have been independently developed in various places. It has been found even among primitive and isolated tribes, as among the natives of the interior of New Zealand. There have been many varieties of the game, differing in the number of squares and men and in the nature of the moves, but all having the same fundamental principles.

The Word Generation
As applied to the body of individuals born about the same period, the word generation is reckoned historically as meaning 30 years of the century. For example, our parents, ourselves, and our offspring as the three generations in a hundred years. Although it has occasionally happened that a generation has lived in one's lifetime, it is unusual so the interval of time between the birth of parents, their children, and their grandchildren is commonly computed at thirty years. Literary Digest.

Only Independent Republic
The only independent republic that has existed within the present boundaries of the United States was Texas. Until 1836 it was part of Mexico, and in that year declared its independence as a republic, which existed until December 29, 1845, when it was formally annexed to the United States. An attempt by Gen. John C. Fremont and others to establish an independent Republican government in California in 1845 was not successful, and in 1848 it was officially made a territory of the United States.

Waste in War Equipment
Most of the arguments against war fail to mention the vast waste which occurs in the purchasing of war equipment and supplies. A classic example took place when American entered the World War. Although the army had only 80,000 horses, some imaginative individual placed orders for 945,000 saddles, 1,000,000 horse covers, 1,600,000 horse brushes, 2,000,000 feed bags and 2,800,000 halters. — Collier's Weekly.

"Red-Headed" Woodpecker
The name "red-headed" woodpecker belongs only to the one scientifically termed Melanerpes erythrocephalus, whose whole head and neck are bright red (brown in the female), the back, shoulders, wings and tail velvety black, the underparts and a large patch on wings and rump white. This bird is rare in the maritime provinces and New England, but is very common in Ontario and westward.

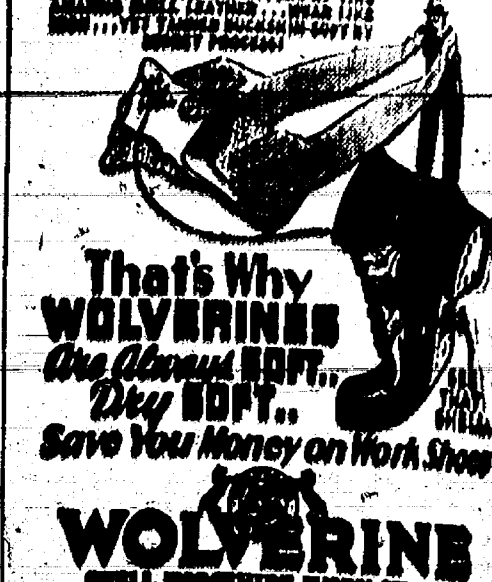

A City Dating From 1541
Santiago, capital of Chile, and fourth largest city in South America, was founded in 1541. Centuries-old bridges span the river which cuts the city in two. Santa Lucia hill, 400 feet high, stands at its heart, and streets, running straight as an arrow, were laid out four centuries ago by the adventurous Spaniards.

Below Sea Level
The sea of Galilee, a body of fresh water thirteen miles long by seven miles wide, is 200 feet below the level of the sea. The Jordan carries its overflow to the Dead sea, a body of salt water 1,300 feet below sea level, and from which there is no overflow. The distance between the two seas is about 200 miles.

Electric Fishes
There are several kinds of electric fishes, but the electric eel is the only one known to hurt with electricity, notes a writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. Upon nearing a fish it sends out a discharge which paralyzes its victim. If not swallowed the fish will recover in from ten to fifteen minutes. Electric eels were first described scientifically in 1729. Rubens, a quack to that time they have been objects of superstition in their native South America, and have been used for medicinal purposes. Pay attention! The experiments have been carried on with them because of the difficulty of bringing them to this country.

Jews Change Language
In the course of their history, the Jews have many times changed their language. In the days of Christ Aramaic was their daily language, the Hebrew of the Bible being already a written language only. Aramaic and Greek were retained up to the Seventh and Eighth centuries when largely replaced by Arabic.

Attention Farmers!

Adverse harvest weather has created a difficult problem for the farmer in properly conserving his wheat and other small grains. Unless wheat contains 15% of moisture or less it is impossible to bin it and have it keep. Accordingly, elevators and mills are either refusing such wheat or taking extremely high discounts to pay them for drying and other special handling.

It will pay you farmers to do this work on the farm and save for yourselves this heavy charge. The best way is to stack the wheat, either in a barn or out of doors. Do not thresh until grain is thoroughly dry. If you have threshed and the grain is high in moisture, spread it out on the barn floor and turn it frequently until safe to bin.

Your wheat is needed for flour purposes but it must first be in condition for milling.

A Thoughtful Legislature
has made an earnest effort to lighten your tax burden

EVER since the immortal Gettysburg Address, the accepted standard for American government has been "of the People, by the People, for the People."

This applies to the matter of taxation no less than to other functions of government.

So it is entirely natural that the Legislature of Michigan has had the People of this great state in mind when it has taken certain measures to lighten the tax-burden of our citizens.

It is now the part of good, loyal, co-operative citizenship for the tax-payers of Michigan to take fullest advantage of the provisions that have been passed for their benefit.

Not only has the Legislature made generous concessions in the matter of interest and penalties, but it has also provided a convenient plan whereby taxes for 1932 and prior years may be paid over a period of time. There are indeed few tax-payers who can not now protect their homes by paying their taxes.

You can now pay up this important obligation just as you pay for a home or an automobile or furniture; putting aside a little each week or month, and then making an annual payment equal to one-tenth of the amount of your delinquent tax. On the ten-year plan you pay only a small carrying charge for this privilege.

Get in touch with your County Treasurer right away. He is prepared to accept payment of your back taxes either in full or on the ten-year plan. Bring him your old tax bills or the legal description of your property. But don't wait until the last-minute! Act now and avoid the last-minute crowds.

BY ORDER OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD.

ARE YOU A SAFE DRIVER?

... ask yourself these questions

1. Which requires greater caution—a curve to the right or a curve to the left—and why?

2. What is the safest way to handle your car on a highway curve—when do you use the brakes—when do you throw out the clutch—when do you accelerate?

3. In rounding a curve at high speed, is it safer to hold the steering wheel steady or "jiggle" it?

4. In passing another car on the road, is it safer to make a short, quick swing around, or a longer, more gradual one—and why?

5. On a slippery or icy road, your rear wheels suddenly start skidding. What is the way to bring the car out of the skid?

6. When is it safe to pass another car on a hill?

Even the most experienced drivers seldom know the correct answers to these questions. And there are several additional safety questions that every driver should be able to answer. Get them all, and get the right answers, from the nearest Hudson and Terraplane dealer. Come in today.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of money secured by a mortgage dated the 20th day of April, A. D. 1928, executed by Oscar D. Luick, a single man, of the city of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, to The Ann Arbor Savings Bank, a Michigan Banking Corporation, which said mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washtenaw County, Michigan, in Liber 158 of mortgages on page 174 at 8:05 o'clock P. M. on May 7th, 1920.

And Whereas, said mortgage was assigned by David E. Besch, Administrator of the estate of John J. Wood, deceased, to L. May Luick by assignment of mortgage dated September 24th, 1929, and recorded September 25, 1929 at 2:10 o'clock P. M. in Liber 23 of assignments on page 588, Register of Deeds office, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

And Whereas, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage is the sum of $1200 principal and interest of $168.00, and the further sum of thirty-five dollars as provided by statute, and the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage is the sum of $1388.00, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, at public auction, to the highest bidder at the south front door of the courthouse in the city of Ann Arbor, in the County of Washtenaw, County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit:

"Beginning at a point in the east line of State Street, 180 feet south of the intersection of the east line of State Street; and the south-westerly line of Grove (now Packard) Street; thence south along the east line of State Street, 46 feet to a stake; thence east at right angles 60 and 5-100 feet to a stake in the line bisecting the angle formed by the east line of State Street and the south-westerly line of Packard Street; thence north-westerly along the said bisecting line 48 and 6-10 feet to a stake; thence west at right angles with State Street to the place of beginning, being a part of lot number 1 in Hill's Addition to the city of Ann Arbor.

Dozer, Delaware

Planned by William Penn in 1683, it was not until 1717 that Dover, Del., was laid out. Penn designed it to be the most important town of the County of Kent. In 1722 the state house, later the state capital and today the oldest edifice of its type in public use in the United States was built. In subsequent years Dover's "Green" came to be surrounded by handsome homes. Through the intervening decades these homes have slowly developed into museums of high standing, with their furniture, their fittings and their art.

Origin of Name "Scioto"

One version of the origin of the name "Scioto" says that it comes from the Indian word Seey-toh, meaning "great legs," says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. This because of its numerous branches. Like many other rivers in early times, it had an embarrassing plurality of Indian names. The Wyandot name was Scioto, probably from oshkano, the word for deer, which favorite game of the Indians made their home along the stream. It was, however, chiefly known as the Scioto, meaning deer river.

Ten Leaf Fortune Telling

Two ten stalks appear on the surface of a cup of tea they are to be placed on the back of the left hand and struck with the back of the right; if they remain unmoved on the left, or adhere to the right, then the one loved will remain true; but if one adheres and the other not she will be false.

Onion Trees

A tree, which smells exactly like green onions grows in Central America. The marian discovered it during their late occupation of Nicaragua. A low-flying plane skimmed the top of a tree and brought a torn branch back to Managua. Pulled from the twig fabric the twig gave off the powerful scent of green onions.—Washington Post.
