M. E. Church Organ Will Be Rededicated

An organ recital and rededication service will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening at 7:30. All lovers of good music are invited to the reopening service next Sunday evening when Miss Mary E. Porter of Ann Arbor, a pupil of Palmer Christian, will present a wonderful program of organ music.

The Kimball pipe organ in the church has been modernized this summer. A new election action has been installed, replacing the old pneumatic action which had outlived its usefulness. A Kimball electric console has been installed outside the altar railing, the organ has been tuned and voiced by experts, and a new system of stops and swell makes this fine instrument more flexible and responsive than formerly, bringing the organ up to date and giving to this church and community a musical instrument of which everyone may be proud.

The cost of these improvements has been partly defrayed by the Little E. Wood Memorial Fund of $1000.00 and a bronze memorial has been affixed to the organ. The remaining sum of $150.00 will be secured by gifts from members and friends of the church.

Miss Porter will present the following program Sunday evening:

Piece Heroique—Frank.
"I Call to Thee, Lord Jesus Christ"—Bach.
Chorus—Grieg-Lindquist.
Italian Hymn—McKinley.
Intermission.

"Wind in the Pines," "Canyon Walls"—Closky.
"Scherzo"—Dunham.
"Prayer," "Locusts"—Hosmann.
During the intermission a brief program will be inserted, as follows:
Solo, by George Atkinson—Selected.
"A Legend of Service," by Henry Van Dyke, will be read by Miss Vyda L. Mumby.

Dedication exercises by pastor and congregation.

Offering and dedicatory prayer.

Fletcher and Durfee Chosen Scout Heads

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Western District—western half of Washtenaw county—held Friday evening in Manchester, Scout committee men chose John Fletcher of Chelsea as chairman, and Dr. Max Durfee of Dexter as their vice-chairman.

The meeting was attended by John Fletcher, A. G. Hindelang, Ed. Miller, Philip J. Olin of Chelsea; H. S. Rague, Paul Rague, Frank Lesson, Lawrence Wurster, LeRoy Marx, Walter Vogt and Gottlieb Jacobs of Manchester; John Monaghan of Bridgewater, and Scout Executive Walter MacFarr.

The recently formed Western District has 80 troop Scouts and 19 Sea Scouts in its membership of four Scout units. Leaders of the district hope to extend the use of the Scout program in the district in order that this membership may at least be doubled.

A new troop is already being formed in Bridgewater and will be officially installed on October 4th, and the numerous applications of Chelsea boys wanting to be Scouts make necessary a second troop here.

A survey is being made of all rural schools, looking toward the extension of Scouting to other centers.

WINANS-PARK WEDDING

Attended only by the immediate families and a few intimate friends, the ceremony uniting Miss Alberta Ethlyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Winans of Chelsea, and Howard Harold Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Park of Potoskey, was performed at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on Park St., Rev. F. D. Mumby officiated, using the ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a navy blue wool traveling suit, with matching hat and veil, and she wore a corsage of gardenias. Miss Jennie Volk of Ann Arbor, as maid of honor, wore a dress of brown crepe and a corsage of tallian roses. Alton Cowan, also of Ann Arbor, officiated as best man. Garden flowers decorated the house and the bridal table, from which the buffet lunch was served, was centered with a beautiful wedding cake, with decorations of grape leaves and fruit, all in white.

Mr. and Mrs. Park left on a motor trip to Norway in northern Michigan, after which they will visit at the home of his parents in Potoskey.

The bride, a graduate of Chelsea high school, class of 1928, and the Nurses' Training school of University hospital, Ann Arbor, has since been employed as assistant head nurse of the Gormatolgy clinic at U. of M. hospital. The groom is a graduate of Potoskey high school and the University School of Music.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Park, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cowan and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hargis of Ann Arbor, Miss Ruth MacMillan of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Winans of Chelsea, grandparents of the bride.

Postoffice Sites are Investigated This Week by Inspector

Roy La Forge of Lansing, Postoffice Inspector and Site Agent, was in Chelsea on Monday and Tuesday, investigating the bids which had been presented to Postmaster Witherell last week by local owners who desire to sell their property to the Federal government for a postoffice site.

Mr. La Forge inspected all the properties which are offered for sale, as well as some others which had not been offered. He also investigated real estate values in the village in order to ascertain what price should be paid for a site, and interviewed many local residents to obtain their desires in the matter of having a postoffice constructed here.

According to Mr. La Forge he will submit his findings and recommendations to the Procurement Division, Public Works Branch, Washington, D. C., within the next few days, and it will not doubt be some time before definite information in the matter will be forthcoming.

The following resolution, asking Mr. La Forge to carefully consider Chelsea's needs for the construction of a postoffice building here, was presented by the American Legion to the government agent on Monday:

September 9, 1935.

Mr. Roy La Forge,
Postoffice Inspector,
Dear Sir:

At their meeting, September 5th, the American Legion, Post No. 81 of Chelsea, Michigan, unanimously voted to present the following resolution to your attention:

Whereas, we are vitally interested and actively occupied in the welfare of our village; and

Whereas, the location of our village makes a desirable place from which government functions can be directed in this section; and

Whereas, a Federal Building and Postoffice would provide space for such government offices that could conveniently be located here; and

Whereas, such a government building would greatly improve our mail service and beautify our village; Resolved by the American Legion, Post No. 81 of Chelsea, Michigan, that we make our desire for a Federal Building and Postoffice known to our Government through you, its agent, and respectfully request you carefully to consider our needs.

Herbert J. McKune, Post No. 81, American Legion, Chelsea, Mich.
Clarence O. Bahnmiller,
Post Commander.

Wm. Rademacher,
Post Adjutant.

N. P. S. Official Says Park Program Assured

Paul V. Brown of Indianapolis, Regional Officer for the National Park Service, was in Chelsea on Monday and gave assurance that the Waterion project is a part of the assured program of the Federal government. He spent some time in deciding on development plans in regard to beaches, camp ground locations, etc., for the area.

According to C. D. Platt, project manager, present plans call for the definite purchase of 15,400 acres of land for the entire Waterion project. Additional land is being placed under option almost daily, and checks in payment of accepted property are being sent here as rapidly as possible.

Further information received from army officers in regard to the abandonment of the Mill Lake CCC Camp last week gives as the reason for this action the fact that not enough veterans could be recruited for a full company. It is not planned, however, to permanently abandon the camp, as it is hoped that enrollment will increase. Furthermore, there is the possibility that the camp may be used as a junior camp rather than one composed only of veterans.

Most of the development within the project as now outlined will be in the Washtenaw county portion, centering around Mill, Sugar Loaf, Cavanaugh and other lakes in this vicinity. In event the Mill Lake CCC Camp is not occupied this fall it is expected that the work will be carried on as a WPA project, according to park officials, which will give employment to many men of this community.

Personal letters, expressing greetings and best wishes for a successful club year were read by the secretary, from Gov. Frank Fitzgerald, Mrs. M. R. Bapp, State President of the Child Study association and Mrs. E. R. McLaughlin, State President of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs. The business meeting followed, plans being made to send delegates to the federation meeting of the Michigan State Child Study Club association to be held in Alma in October. Early Name for Cincinnati
When Cincinnati was first laid out, early in 1790, around Fort Washington, it was called Xenoville, a hybrid word signifying the city opposite the mouth of the Licking. Early in the next year it was named Cincinnati, in honor of Gen. St. Clair, the governor of the Northwest territory, then president of the Pennsylvania society of the Order of Cincinnati.

Question And Answer Dept.

Horoscope, Sept. 8-14. Those born at this time have a great deal of natural power and splendid qualities of execution. They are usually high-tempered, yet sorry in a short time for what they have said or done. Think clearly and come to definite decisions. Marry between 25 and 30.
Ques.—What is the pressure of the water at the bottom of the sea?
Ans.—It depends upon the depth of the sea. The pressure per one square inch of water increases four-ninths of a pound for each foot that you go down. The average pressure for the seas of the earth, therefore, is a little over seven-tens to the square inch.
Ques.—Why is it that the cylinders of my car knock when I am taking passengers, and don't knock when I am driving my car alone? Can you answer me that?
Ans.—It isn't the cylinders knocking which you think you hear. Probably you are a reckless driver, and you hear the knock of your passengers knocking.
Ques.—Will you please answer my paper who it was that said: "Don't give up the ship."
Ans.—Those were the words of Capt. James Lawrence of the U. S. Frigate Chesapeake as he lay on the deck of his ship mortally wounded, during the battle with the British Frigate Shannon on June 1, 1818, off the coast of Boston. The words became the battle slogan of the United States navy, and a group of ladies sewed them on a flag for Commodore Perry's flagship.
Ques.—Why do the Turkish people dress so differently from other European nations—such as women wearing black dresses and their faces covered and men wearing fezes and short baggy red trousers, etc.?
Ans.—Such styles were the custom of the Turks for many centuries before the nation became a republic in 1923. At that time a social revolution began. In the peaceful reconstruction following the republican form of government the imperialistic custom of dress was abolished. Now they wear clothes just the same as other European wear. Fezes and veils were abolished, and the women, with one another in being the most smartly dressed in the Parisian styles.
Ques.—To settle an argument please state in your question department which state in the United States has the greatest number of railroads? Is it New York, Pennsylvania or Illinois?
Ans.—In the number of railroads Illinois leads with sixty-two; Pennsylvania is second, with fifty-seven, and New York is third with fifty-six.
Ques.—Does the state of Michigan border on any other Great Lakes besides Lake Michigan and Lake Huron?
Ans.—Yes. The state of Michigan borders on four of the Great Lakes—Lake Michigan, Lake Superior, Lake Huron and Lake Erie. Michigan also borders on Lake St. Clair, but this is not classed as one of the five Great Lakes.
Ques.—Can you tell me what is the average cost for building warships?
Ans.—The approximate cost for building warships of the average size is: Destroyers and submarines, $4,000,000; Cruisers, $10,000,000; battleships, $25,000,000.
Ques.—Will you please give me the personnel of the first United States Supreme Court, and when did the court convene for the first time?
Ans.—When the United States Constitution was adopted it provided for a Supreme Court, and the first justices for that court were appointed by George Washington in 1789. The personnel was as follows: Chief Justice—John Jay of New York; Associate Justices—John Rutledge of South Carolina, William Cushing of Massachusetts, James Wilson of Pennsylvania, John Blair of Virginia, and Robert H. Harrison of Maryland.
Ques.—How did the expression "simon pure" first come into use?
Ans.—This phrase, which means "genuine", owes its origin to a play entitled "A Bold Stroke for a Wife." One of the characters impersonates Simon Pure, a Quaker preacher. In order to secure a guardian's consent to marry a rich heiress, the Quaker preacher then appears and reveals himself as the real "Simon Pure."

BROOKLYN—Marian Schultz, 45, well known Cambridge resident living two miles northwest of Onsted, was electrocuted on Tuesday at 11:30 while fighting a straw stack fire where his threshing rig was operating on the Wm. Ross farm a mile east of the Onsted school. A straw stack had been built up by the blower to near the height of the electric power lines when a short circuit flash fired the stack. The threshing crew was immediately joined by the Onsted fire engine and Marian Schultz led the hose line up a ladder to a point of vantage in turning it on the blaze. When the water spray made contact with the electric line Mr. Schultz was knocked from the ladder by the electric charge, others behind him handling the hose not being injured. The fire burned the stack but the buildings were saved.—Exponent.

"MY MISSION"

"My Mission" was a very popular Gospel song during Civil War days. At a mammoth Christian convention Abraham Lincoln was attending, Philip Phillips, author and publisher of the song was present. Mr. Lincoln asked Mr. Phillips to sing it, saying, "But please do not say I called for it." Does this not magnify the spirit of our beloved Lincoln?—Arthur Carlton.
If you cannot on the ocean sail
Among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet;
You can stand among the sailors,
Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lend a hand to help them
As they launch their boat away.
If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountains steep and high,
You can stand within the valley
While the multitudes go by;
You can chant in happy measure
As they slowly pass along,
Though they may forget the singer,
They will not forget the song.
If you have not gold and silver
Ever ready to command,
If you cannot toward the needy
Lend an over open hand,
You can visit the afflicted,
Over the erring you can weep,
You can be a true disciple
Sitting at the Saviour's feet.
If you cannot in the harvest
Garner up the richest sheaves,
Many a grain both ripe and golden
Will the careless reapers leave;
Go and glean among the briars,
Growing rank against the wall,
For it may be that their shadow
Hides the heaviest wheat of all.
If you cannot in the conflict
Prove yourself a soldier true,
If where fire and smoke are thick and There's no work for you to do;
When the battlefield is silent
You can move with careful tread,
You can bear away the wounded,
You can cover up the dead.
Do not then stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do;
Fortune is a lazy goddess,
She will never come to you—
Go and toll in any vineyard,
Do not fear to do or dare—
If you want a field of labor
You can find it anywhere.

Attention Farmers!

Due to the generally poor quality of the Michigan grown wheat the question of proper seed wheat becomes a real problem. If you have wheat with damaged berries, better not use it for seed -- get from your neighbor or write the Agricultural Department at Lansing for information as to where to get good seed wheat. If your wheat is light weight but not damaged sow an additional amount in order to insure a good stand.
If you wish to exchange wheat with us for seed purposes we will give you the best we have.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful... three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupe and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

DATA TO BE SOUGHT ON DRIVERS' CARDS

Owners of automobiles who apply for 1936 license plates, will be asked one question on the application blank which has never been asked in previous years. The question will be: "When does your operator's license expire?"

The decision to embody this question on the application blanks for 1936 license plates has been made by Louis R. Morony, Director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Department of State. The decision was endorsed by the executive committee of the Michigan Safety and Traffic Directors' Association, meeting recently in the East Lansing headquarters of the Michigan State Police.

The original proposal included recommendations that the giving of this information be made a condition of the issuance of the plate; Morony, however, chose to include the question merely as a device for reminding owners and operators that their operators' licenses have expiration dates on them, under the uniform operators' license act of 1931. Applicants for licenses will be asked to give this information merely as a matter of co-operation with the department.

With some 200,000 operators of cars being unlicensed today, the expectation is that the majority of them, being forgetful rather than intentionally unlicensed, will thus be reminded of their delinquency. It is the belief that virtually no one will have the temerity to ask for a license plate while actually signing his name to a statement that his operator's license has expired.

NORTHVILLE—Gus Smith of Novi may be 77 years old. He may walk four miles to work every day. But when he gets there he has no difficulty at all in picking 27 bushels of plums out of Frank Hamilton's 12-foot trees between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Mr. Smith has been working for Mr. Hamilton many years, and the former Novi supervisor holds him up as "the best fruit picker in these parts." He picks twice as much as younger men, Mr. Hamilton said. The plums are from 25 to 30 years old, according to Mr. Hamilton, and average from 10 to 12 feet in height.—Record.

Senior Class News

The first meeting of the Senior class of 1936 was called Friday, September 6. The class officers were elected as follows: President, Frederick Strier; vice pres., Jean Dancer; secretary, Estelle Seitz; treasurer, Margaret Williams.

The class decided that they would have a dance and Sept. 20 was decided upon as the most suitable date. The orchestra has not yet been decided on but we can promise you it will be a good one and we hope to see you all there. Remember!—September 20.

Junior High News

The seventh and eighth grades have selected the name "Green Cheese" for their newly formed musical club. The officers elected are as follows: Richard Riemenschneider, president; Peggy Bleeker, vice-president; Jane Wilkinson, secretary and treasurer. Miss Boomgaard is their teacher. Their chief activity at present is an operetta and it bears the same name as the club. The date it will be given is indefinite.

Caesar Says

Mutz, coaching Max Hepburn in base running: "Hey, Max, don't run so long in one place!"

Clinton: "What's that white stuff in your hair?"

Hulce: "I had to whitewash the inside of a chicken house because the chickens were eating the grain out of the wood."

Foreman: "Were you and Jim calm and collected when that blast went off?"

Laborer: "I was calm but Jim was collected."

Mr. Lyons says he expects to harvest a nice crop of rubber bands from his rubber plant.

"That's a treacherous thing," said one of the freshmen as he took a chip out of his front tooth on the new fountain downstairs.

What They Did

Miss Boomgaard, our new kindergarten and music teacher, had a nice summer vacation in which we can imagine music played a large part.

Miss Yager, our first-grade teacher, spent her summer vacation in her old home town. Her daily sport was bicycle riding. Ask Miss Yager if she ever rode ten miles a day.

Mrs. Dancer, the second grade teacher, enjoyed her vacation attending summer school at the University of Michigan, where she met many nice people.

Miss Bollore, our third grade teacher, said the story of her vacation was a long one. She was in Alpena in time for the homecoming, June 27.

Until that time, what she did is nobody's business. Now, Miss Bollore! She went fishing on a fish tug, but she had to own up that she caught no fish. However, her summer vacation was quite ideal.

Miss Kern, the fourth grade teacher, worked, played, and had a grand time traveling extensively.

Mrs. Steiner, our fifth grade teacher, said briefly she spent the time cooking three meals a day for her family.

Miss Canfield, sixth grade teacher, was very studious in attending summer school at the University.

Miss Fauver, seventh grade teacher, passed away the summer days in Detroit, her home town. We all know there's plenty to do in that city.

Mr. Johnson spent his summer—yes, we knew you'd guess—playing baseball, of course. There was plenty of excitement in Terre Haute while he was there, with a strike which lasted a day and a half. Nothing could be bought except postage stamps! If you bought anything to eat, you rode about fifteen miles to the nearest town where a restaurant was available. The militia patrolled the streets for three days. Now, wasn't that some excitement?

Miss Gibson spent her summer vacation at home in Port Huron, but—being right on the lake she had a grand time. Her most outstanding sport was swimming.

Miss Georg had a good time the past three months with playing golf, swimming, and a trip to Buffalo.

Miss Fowles worked hard this summer at the University, doing her best to increase her store of knowledge. Likewise, she worked hard to improve her golf.

Mr. Lyons was another one of our studious teachers who attended summer school at the University. (We wonder if our teachers felt a need of more knowledge). He also took that trip, you know, to Houghton and Higgins Lakes.

Mr. Waskiewicz also attended summer school at the University. (How do you like the library, Mr. Waskiewicz?)—Oh, yes, he took a couple of trips to Cleveland. (We wonder why.) Also, he visited that historic spot on Lake Erie, Put-In-Bay.

Miss Hazard, our industrious principal, lived the sunshiny days in the halls of learning. She worked hard for "the learning" by reading scores of pages and writing lengthy papers. Oooh! aren't we glad we're not teachers?

Class Elections

Another school year has started. Along with the usual activities, class elections have taken place.

The Junior class officers are: President—Marian Ashfal. Vice Pres.—Harley Prudden. Secretary—Paul Pilemeyer. Treasurer—Ron Alger.

Class Adviser—Miss Fowles.

The ballots of the Sophomore class were cast as follows:

President—Roland Spaulding. Vice Pres.—Adolph Duerr. Secretary and Treasurer—Ruth Boyce.

Here's wishing the officers a successful year.

Elementary News

Kindergarten

This year there are 27 in our kindergarten. We have a sand table in our room. We make things out of clay. We have four new easels in our room. There is a piano in our room. We also have a doll corner and a doll house. With all of these things we also have a library table with many new books on it. We enjoy our kindergarten room a great deal.

Shirley O'Hara, Patricia Mohrlock, Beverly Hale and Earl Buku are out of school because of illness. We hope they will return very soon.

Second Grade

Eight girls and eighteen boys have enrolled in our class. Many of us have brought butterflies in our room. We have a crab.

Third Grade

When school opened we were all happy to be back. Our class consists of eighteen girls and thirteen boys.

Naida Olson read a third grade book last week. We have new spelling books called "My Word Book."

Earning our way down the fire escape is much fun. In order to do this we must know our combinations in Arithmetic. Only three of us have not earned our way down.

We started drawing leaves and coloring them. The best are hung on the bulletin board.

Fourth Grade

Thirty-seven pupils are enrolled in the fourth grade. We are all back ready for work and play after a fine vacation.

Our room is made attractive by beautiful fall bouquets. Miss Ackerson, the third and fourth grade teacher, made us a beautiful fall picture. Thank you, Miss Ackerson.

We have organized a health club which we call "Busy Bees Health Club." Our president is Mary Christwell; vice president, Esther Riemenschneider, and secretary, Elaine Schmidt. These officers are to hold office for six weeks. Chairmen were appointed as follows: Dusting, Eva Harris; Erasers, Ruth Cooper; Music Books, Ruth Lane and Virginia Spaulding; Boards, Richard Bahnmiller; Flowers, Joyce Foster; and Desks, Raymond Parsons.

We have begun reading books for our knowledge and enjoyment. Each of us have made a small book with a key on the cover. As soon as a book has been read the name and date are written inside. These small books are pasted on a poster having the name of "Our Knowledge Keys."

We are beginning our study of geography and like it very well.

For our spelling Miss Kern has made a class graph which shows the number of words missed each Wednesday and Friday.

We have new spelling books much different than those we used last year.

Fifth Grade

We have an enrollment of twenty-nine, eighteen boys, nine girls, and expect more.

Two football teams, one in Arithmetic and one on the schoolground, we now have organized. Both are equally enthusiastic. The wear and tear on clothes is greater on the playground; consequently, some of the players have donned overalls.

The Factor of SAFETY

is important enough in itself to justify the purchase of an ELECTRIC RANGE by any home!

What women want is more afternoons away from home -- time for shopping, bridge, golf, dining, parties, club work, or perhaps just good old-fashioned gossip calls. And now comes the electric range, permitting the housewife to prepare a delicious dinner while she is miles away. And we are helping you to have that electric range by giving the electric rates another cut.

With the lower electric rates now in effect, installation of an electric range is real economy.

Conservationists Ask Project Continuance

A resolution urging the Federal government to carry out the Waterloo project according to the original plan—as a wild life sanctuary as well as a recreational area—was passed by the Washtenaw County Conservation Association at its regular monthly meeting held in Ann Arbor on Tuesday evening, September 10.

The Association also announced its intention of trying out a modified form of the Williamson Plan of hunter-farmer cooperation in Washtenaw county during the coming hunting season. The plan of operation will be modeled after that which has been successfully employed in Kent county.

Action in regard to the Waterloo project was taken after the members of the Association had listened to an informal talk by C. D. Platt, project manager, who had been invited to attend the meeting and explain the present status of the Waterloo development.

Mr. Platt told the Washtenaw conservationists that in his opinion urgent representations from the conservation organizations of Jackson and Washtenaw counties would do more than anything else to induce the Federal government to carry out the original plan and to "bring the Biological Survey back into the picture."

"Last spring, the Biological Survey withdrew its support of the wild life side of the project," Mr. Platt said, "this action being largely the result of an unfavorable report sent to Washington after a survey of the marsh area included in the Waterloo district. I believe that this report was unfair to the general plan of development, because it was made from the point of view of the geographer and forester rather than from that of the biologist."

Mr. Platt told his hearers that the evidence of Washtenaw and Jackson county hunters, who have shot ducks in the Waterloo district for years and know how perfectly adapted the marsh lands of the section are for a wild fowl sanctuary, would carry much weight in Washington.

Communications from both the Jackson and Washtenaw county conservation bodies, urging the completion of the project according to the original scheme, will probably be sent to the Biological Survey headquarters in Washington this week.

Members of the Washtenaw County association, according to the plans completed at the Tuesday meeting, will wear conspicuous badges during the hunting season, these badges being a guarantee to the farmers on whose lands they are given permission to hunt that they will leave their ear in the yard while on the property, and exercise due care in closing gates, crossing fences, etc.

Decision to try out the plan in the county was made only after three directors of the association had reported results of conversations with some thirty or forty farmers in different parts of the county, all of whom had expressed approval of the plan, saying that "the farmer doesn't want the hunter to pay fees for the privilege of hunting on his farm; what he wants is some form of assurance that the hunter will respect the rights of the land owner and act with consideration."

The next meeting of the association will be held in the first instead of the second week of the month, so that there will be time to complete plans for carrying out the scheme before the opening of the hunting season on October 15.

Gobi Once a Sea

The Gobi and the deserts to the west of it, up to the present, the shores of Asia, are the bed of a vanished inland sea that once approached the size of the Mediterranean. Though generally mountainous, the region contains the Lukhian Depression, the lowest dry bottom on earth, 1,000 feet below the sea level.

MARTHA RIEMENSCHNEIDER
Miss Martha Riemschneider, lifelong resident of Sylvan township, died Sunday evening, September 8, at University hospital, Ann Arbor, following a recent operation. She was born in Sylvan, February 5, 1884, the daughter of Philip and Barbara Riemschneider, and she resided on the old homestead until 15 years ago, when she came to Chelsea. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Surviving are two brothers, Charles of Fresno, Calif., and Fred of Lima township, and a sister, Mrs. John H. Alber of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist church. Rev. F. D. Mumby officiated and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Slogan "54-40 or Fight"

The slogan "54-40 or Fight" adopted by the war party in the election of Polk in 1844, was first used in a speech in the senate by Senator William Allen in that year. Under the Washington-Astoria treaty of 1846, the northern boundary of the United States ended at the Rocky mountains on the 49th parallel and excluded Oregon. Polk and the Democrats declared for the whole of the territory on the line of 54 degrees 40 minutes.

"Though hostilities with Great Britain threatened, negotiations resulted in a pact, whereby the 49th parallel was made the boundary line west from the Rockies to the Pacific ocean."

"The old Port Boies is mentioned in the history of the Oregon country and the life of Dr. Marcus Whitman, missionary and pioneer. In 1839 Whitman's party with their wagons crossed the continent, stopping at Port Boies. Before reaching that post, at Port Hall, the baggage had been reduced as much as possible and repacked, and the wagon converted into a cart. Port Boies, two miles below the old Boies City, is mentioned as being 'so rude an inclosure that it would hardly pass for a cattle pen or mulchery.' It was decided to leave the cart there, until some one could come back and take it on to the established mission in Oregon; this was done later. In 1842 Whitman traveled overland to the East and returned the following year with a large party of emigrants, again stopping at Port Boies on the way. Whitman's efforts had much to do with the acquisition of the Oregon territory and the settlement of this boundary dispute."

George Washington Among Earliest Mule Breeders

The bureau of animal industry says that the earliest mule breeders in the United States were George Washington of Virginia, Henry Clay of Kentucky, and Young and Everett of Montgomery county, Kentucky. Prior to the importations made by General Washington, a few diminutive jacks had been imported from the West Indies, but these were found undesirable for breeding purposes. In the year 1787 the king of Spain presented General Washington with a jack and a jennet from the royal stud at Madrid. The jack was named the Royal Gift. At about the same time Marquis de Lafayette presented General Washington with a Maltese jack, Knight of Malta. The Spanish jack was of a gray color, 16 hands high, heavily made and of a sluggish disposition. The Maltese jack had "the form of a stag and the ferocity of a tiger." The latter was bred to the Catalonian jennet and the offspring known as Compound became a famous breeding jack, uniting the Catalonian and Maltese breeds. Both of these importations mentioned reached Mount Vernon in the year 1788.

Impeachment

Impeachment has been as sparingly used in England as in this country. The last great impeachment trial in England was that of Warren Hastings in 1787. It is still theoretically possible for the house of lords to impose any penalty on a convicted person, of official or otherwise. But under the American Constitution impeachment is reserved for civil officers of the government and the punishment is confined to removal and permanent disqualification. By a two-thirds vote the house or senate may expel a member without approval by the other body and the President may at any time remove one of his appointees in the executive branch. Impeachment provides the only means of forcibly removing a federal judge, and the senate's verdict is final.

"Squaring the Circle"

"Squaring the circle" is a famous mathematical problem which scientists of today believe to be impossible. The problem is to find a square equal in area to a given circle; the area of the circle equal to that of the rectilinear triangle whose base has the same length and whose altitude equals the radius. The squaring of the circle thus becomes the problem of finding the ratio of the circumference to the diameter. In 1882 Lindemann proved that this ratio, known as pi, is a transcendental number and hence, since it is not the root of any algebraic equation, cannot be constructed to an assumed unit by the extraction of the square root, that is by using straight edge and compasses.—Washington Star

"Good Paint Costs Nothing"

—because it saves more than it costs

THAT'S what the thrifty Dutch discovered about paint a long time ago. A few dollars invested in good paint will save hundreds for you by saving costly repairs, replacements and rapid depreciation. Notice that the Dutch say "Good Paint." There's no economy in cheap paint used on any surface.

Minnesota PAINTS

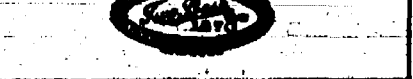

are good paints. For over 60 years they have been proving that fact to thousands of users. Pure linseed oil, made only from Northwestern Flax, is used exclusively in the manufacture of Minnesota Paints. Linseed oil has been the standard by which paint is judged since the 12th century. A substitute for it has never been found. Northwest-Flax makes the finest grade of linseed oil obtainable for making paint or varnish.

After the Storm

There's a flood of blessed sunshine
Follows every pouring rain,
An' we know they both're needed
If we're goin' to harvest grain!
Underneath the winter's snowdrift,
Flowers wait 'till the spring;
It's when daylight drives out darkness
That the birds begin to sing.

So it is with life, I reckon;
All the trouble that we know
An' the hardships we're facin'
Come our way 'till help us grow.
When you've had a share o' heartache,
Or when luck's been bad, I guess
It's a mighty safe prediction
Of a spell o' happiness!

Over three hours of thrilling entertainment is promised those who attend the second annual Drum and Bugle Corps contest at the Jackson
high school stadium next Sunday, according to Wm. Sparks, who is in charge of the organization.

Over $500 in cash prizes will be won as the result of excellence in music, uniforms, and drilling. Among organizations that will compete are the Harding-Olk-Craig Post, Bay City; Red Arrow Post, Detroit;
Thomas A. Edison Post, Detroit; Henry Bushway Post, Hamtramck; David M. Vincent Post, Highland Park; Paterson-Dawson Post, Owasco; Cook-Nelson Post, Pontiac; Ypsilanti Post,
Ypsilanti, and numerous others.

There will be a colorful parade over a mile long just before the contest starts, which will march from the new postoffice to Withington stadium.

The contest will be climaxed by an exhibition drill by the world famous American Legion Zouaves.

The purpose of the Drum and Bugle Corps contest is to raise money to send the American Legion Zouaves to the National American Legion Convention in St. Louis which opens September 23.

Although the Illuminated Cascades have been announced as closed this year, Wm. Sparks made arrangements to operate them next Sunday night because of the many visitors that are expected in Jackson. This is the last time they will be seen in operation
this year.

Odor Description System

Has Never Been Provided

Man has an important sense—the sense of smell—but not one word to describe any of the sensations which that organ conveys to his mind, says
the New York Herald-Tribune. He can describe his reaction to the sensation, but there are no words for describing the vast array of odors of which we become conscious, declared
Dr. Ernest C. Crocker, of the Arthur
H. Hallett Laboratories, Boston. "Terms such as pleasant, unpleasant, nauseating, repulsive, etc., are purely relative,
are subjective, and dependent upon one's experience and convey nothing of the actual sensation to others."
"Some system of odor description is required that is independent of a person's experience and background and that will create the same impression in the mind of the receiver as in that of the describer," Doctor Crocker says.

"Smelling and tasting are very much alike, and in what we call flavor actually work together. They are both enough alike so that smelling may be called 'tasting at a distance.' Actually both are chemical senses in that by means of them we respond to the presence of small amounts of substances to nerves with special sensitivity endings or detectors. Smelling is a million times more delicate than tasting as far as the amount of material goes that is required to produce a sensation."

"Macaroni" Is Cab Horse

Name Popular in Naples

"Macaroni" in Naples means a cab horse and not food. When a visitor to Italy tips his cab driver the fellow smiles brightly and says, "For Macaroni!" This Italian nickname for a cab horse came to America early, notes
a writer in the Chicago Daily News,
for when Yankee Doodle rode to town
he followed the old custom of sticking a feather in his horse's hat, and called him macaroni.

Italian steeds are decked out with brilliantly colored artificial flowers,
roses and colored ribbons of paper,
so that the city often assumes a carnival appearance. The crowning effect, however, is a long pheasant feather taught at the top of the horse's bridle.
To obtain the American version of macaroni in Naples one calls for "macaroni." This famous food has almost as many shapes as there are cities in Italy, for most towns have their favorite ways of preparing it. At Bologna it is ribbon shaped, in Rome it comes in strips. That of Sicily is the most intricate of all, skillfully rolled around knitting needles to make it a tiny spiral.

The Algonquin Indians

The Algonquin Indian tribe lived, when discovered in the Seventeenth century, in two wholly separated portions, one on Cumberland river in Tennessee and Kentucky, the other on Savannah river in South Carolina.
Like their relatives the Shaw, Fox and Kickapoo, they were restless and inclined to wander. Toward the end of the Seventeenth century the eastern division moved north into Pennsylvania, and early in the eighteenth the other began to drift northwestward across the Ohio. The two divisions united for the first time in the historic period, about 1750, in eastern Ohio.
They fought the British or Americans until 1793, then variously joined the Cherokee or Creek or withdrew to Indiana and even Missouri. These Indians were again defeated at Tinpacoma in 1811. Portions of the tribe lived for a time in Texas and Kansas, and they are now gathered in fishehouses, though in several districts.

Tree Rhin Distillery

In Paraguay, the Guaraní Indians cultivate the Akuri palm tree, thought to be the only complete liquor-producing plant in existence. Its sap is made to drop into little cups in which it soon ferments into a highly intoxicating beverage.

shire. In 1769 having become a mate on a commercial ship he joined the Royal navy. After four years' service he was appointed master of the ship
"Grampus." From 1770 to 1771 Cook surveyed the St. Lawrence and the coast of Newfoundland, relates the Philadelphia Record.

In 1768 he was sent to the Pacific with an expedition to observe the transit of Venus. Having observed the transit from Tahiti, he voyaged westward, completing the first circumnavigation of New Zealand, charting the coast. Passing on to Australia, he surveyed the east coast northwards and sailing through the strait separating it from New Guinea, showed that those two lands were not connected.

The following year (1772) Cook received command of an expedition which was sent out to determine the extent of the reported southern continent. Sailing again to the south and east, in January, 1774, Cook's second voyage covered more than 20,000
leagues, and was the first circum-
navigation of the globe eastward.

Upon his return he was made a member of the Royal society and received the Copley medal.
In 1779 he started on his third and last voyage in an attempt to find the northwest passage. However, he was going for sail from the Pacific to the Atlantic, not from east to west as had the others. Of course he did not accomplish this, but on turning back from Alaska, he discovered the Indian Islands. Cook was slain by the natives there, on February 14, 1779.

Cat Is Most Independent

Pet; Obedience Not Known

It is impossible to understand cats
on the strength of superficial acquaintance, writes Michael Joseph in Harper's Magazine. They are shy, unob-trusive creatures who prefer solitude to inconspicuous company. Unlike dogs, they are not anxious to make a good impression. In the cat's personality there is aloofness, pride and a profound dignity. Even the most ordinary cat has a touch of the aristocrat.

The cat does not ask to be understood. The bluntness of other more sociable animals are not in his line. If human beings are so foolish as to regard him as the social interior of the dog, as a convenient mouse trap and nothing else, the cat's philosophy is proof against such injustice. He goes his own way, blindly indifferent to human folly. It is not his business to correct it.

Above all, the cat is independent. If he chooses he will follow you around,
play with you, demonstrate his affection; but try to exact obedience from a cat and you will immediately find it is not forthcoming.

This reluctance to obey—call it per-versity if you will—is responsible for the common lack of appreciation of the cat.

Animal Prophets

A pithorse at Markham colliery proved wiser than the man who drove it, says Tit-Bits Magazine. Suddenly,
for no apparent reason, the horse, which had worked underground for seven years, halted and refused to return. When its driver returned alone, the foot fell on him almost immediately. Animals often sense danger and the authorities in England know, for instance, that pithorses are aware of danger long before the miners. Not long ago, a New Forest dog pulled his master from under the fall of an old quy, which crashed a few moments after he touched safety. In Burma, where elephants carry logs, one of these beasts refused to cross a certain bridge until its load. Eventually the logs were loaded on carts and dragged by bullocks, but the bridge collapsed when they were halfway across.

"Sweating" of Glass

Glass is not porous in any appreciable extent and the "sweat" does not come from the inside of the glass, vessel or pipe. The water vapor contained in the air condenses when it comes in contact with the cooler pipe or other vessel. The observation that pipes and walls tend to sweat more in warm weather is explained by the fact that warm air can absorb much more moisture than cold air. When this air is cooled by contact with cold water pipes, it cannot retain all the moisture held in suspension, and some is deposited.

Existence of Platinum

The existence of platinum was first made known in Europe by Antonio de Ulloa in 1763. It is usually found in granulites, but sometimes is found in masses the size of a pigeon's egg.
Pieces weighing 10 or more pounds
have been found occasionally.
