Compare Our Prices

This organization has never advertised prices—that is in accordance with the ethical code of our profession and a traditional policy of our firm. Possibly this places us at a disadvantage. It is very easy to quote "bargain" prices for funerals to the public, thus giving the impression that the price advertised is the final price of the service. To those who want to know what constitutes real value in a funeral service, we make this suggestion: Compare our average prices, obtainable on request, with those advertised by other firms. It will soon be seen that we offer the greatest return for every dollar spent, not only in quality merchandise, but in sincere, unselfish personal service.

Scouts Will Be Guests At M. S. C. on Sept. 28

Scout authorities have received word here that the 12th Annual Boy Scout Day of the Michigan State College will be held at East Lansing on Saturday, September 28.

The announcement reads: "The Athletic Association of the Michigan State College cordially invites the Boy Scouts of the State of Michigan to attend the Twelfth Annual Boy Scout Day at Michigan State College on Saturday, September 28, 1935."

All scouts, executives, scoutmasters and drivers of cars will be admitted free to the Grinnell College - Michigan State College football game at the stadium at 2:00 p. m. Seats will be reserved in the east stands for all scouts.

All scouts and leaders will be expected to participate in the annual scout parade between halves of the football game. All scouts should be in uniform. Each city should have a banner. Troops should take their American and troop flags. Where a council expects to be represented by a musical unit, either band or drum and bugle corps it will be necessary to notify the college authorities.

Some troops or councils may wish to make this an overnight camping trip. For those going Friday night or Saturday morning there has been set aside a place adjacent to the freshman football field on which to pitch tents and cook meals. Saturday morning may be devoted to sightseeing trips around the campus. These trips will start from the gymnasium with a guide in charge of each group. Last year 3,280 scouts from 68 cities were in attendance.

For further information scouts are requested to write Ralph H. Young, Director of Athletics, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

Local Farmers Grow Soy Beans for Ford

Wm. C. Delchard brought some stalks of soy beans to the Standard office on Monday, one of the stalks being four feet in height and containing 164 pods. Mr. Delchard has six acres of the beans, the crop being grown for sale to the Ford Motor Company. Many other farmers in this vicinity also have considerable acreage in this crop.

Mr. Ford uses the beans for the manufacture of paint, it being necessary to use the oil from two bushels of beans to paint one car. The pulp is used in the manufacture of steering wheels, horn buttons, timing gears, etc., and the straw is utilized in the making of floor boards, insulation, etc.

The beans, which will ripen in about two weeks, usually yield from 20 to 25 bushels to the acre and are ordinarily worth about $1.00 per bushel. Seed is furnished the farmers by Mr. Ford, and after deduction of the seed from the crop he pays them market price for the remainder.

If all automobile manufacturers start the use of soy beans in the manufacture of paints it will mean that this crop must be grown extensively, which should be a real benefit to agricultural districts of the country.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Holmes entertained at dinner at Sylvan Estates on Wednesday evening. The guests were Senator and Mrs. Royal S. Copeland of Suffern, N. Y., Fredrick A. Peters, Miss Dorothy McKethley of Sydney, Australia, Miss Cornelia Copeland of Dexter, Miss May Peters of Scio, Misses Jane and Josephine Walker, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wurster, Miss Nina Crowell, Miss Nina Belle Wurster, and Howard and Dudley Holmes.

STREET WIDENING COMPLETED

The work of widening Harrison and East streets adjoining the public school grounds has been completed, and the streets have been graveled. Concrete walks leading from the curb to the sidewalk have been built. The work of finishing the terrace between the curb and sidewalk will be done by the school district. The street and curbing work was done by the school district and village.

ALL RELIEF MEN EMPLOYED

Work on the viaduct at the M. C. R. R. and US-12 four miles west of Chelsea is progressing satisfactorily, and about 100 Chelsea men are employed on the job. All relief workers are now employed and it is expected that if more men are needed that non-relief labor will be used. About 20 Chelsea men are employed on the US-12 paving job east of Lima Center.

ROY MOHRLOCK DROWNS

Word was received here Wednesday of the drowning near Cheboygan of Roy Mohrlock of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mohrlock of Chelsea and a former resident here. The body was brought to Chelsea late last evening and funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Major Says Camp Will Be Occupied

Information to the effect that the Mill Lake CCG Camp will be occupied within the next six months has been received at the local Waterloo project administration offices, according to C. D. Platt, project manager.

This information came from Major Stark at Camp Custer, who recently ordered temporary abandonment of the camp after it had been occupied only two days by an advance detail of 25 men from the Black Lake camp near Rogers City. The reason for that order was because of the army's inability to recruit a full company of veterans for the camp at this time.

Although it is not known what the age limits for men who will ultimately occupy the camp will be, there is a possibility that plans will be altered and that it will be a junior camp. This of course depends on the success in enrolling veterans.

Plans for construction of barracks and other buildings were not disclosed by Major Stark in his latest information concerning the future of the camp.

Reception Given for Public School Faculty

One of the most enjoyable events on the calendar of the local Kiwanis club was the ladies' night reception Monday evening, when the members entertained their wives, the faculty of the Chelsea public school and members of the Board of Education, with their wives, at a 6:30 dinner at Sylvan Estates Country club. Summer flowers decorated the tables, where covers were laid for 48, and the favors were colored balloons.

As the guests arrived they were tagged with fictitious names of popular people, by means of which partners were chosen for the dinner. Later, each responded to roll call with a saying of the person whom they represented.

A welcome to the teachers was given by President E. W. Eaton and group singing was led by Paul F. Niehaus. Questionnaires were answered with names of the faculty and school board, and prizes were awarded Mrs. E. W. Eaton, Miss Josephine Gibson and Rev. F. D. Mumby. The door prize was won by Mrs. Paul G. Schaible. Cards furnished diversion for the remainder of the evening.

Little World's Series To Be Played Sunday

In order to get the jump (as it were), on the Big World's Series between the Tigers (we hope) and opponents unknown, and in order to consummate a long unfinished season, the Chelsea Twilight League is staging a Little World's Series at Wilkinson field on Sunday, September 22, at 1:30 p. m. This series will be played to decide which team will be the grand champion of the 1935 season.

The contestants will be the Trojans and Mayer Electric. The former won two of the sub-series, and the latter one.

The team which wins two out of three seven-inning games will receive the medals—one for each player. So in any event, two games will be played. Should a third game prove necessary, it will be played on the following Sunday at the same field.

To prophesy which team will be victorious is quite impossible. It may be stated as a dope-sheet fact, however, that the Trojans have defeated Mayer Electric twice out of three games during the season, one of which was to decide the championship of the first sub-series.

Hurlers on whom the Trojans will depend are Lixey and Karm. Mayer Electric will probably rely mainly on Stanley and Hoffman to bring them victory.

Despite the fact that there were small crowds at this year's games, and an evident lack of interest in them, there were some very good and very exciting contests during the season, and considering the trophies at stake and the natural desire of each team to win, Sunday's games should well repay in entertainment any time spent in witnessing the contests.

Farmers' Union Will Convene In Owosso

Florets depicting foreign agricultural importations, objectionable to the farmers' best interests, numerous local units showing the meteoric rise of the Farm Union movement in Michigan, now exceeding 28,000 members, holding aloft inscribed banners, enlivened by a score of bands, marching feet of earnest tillers of the soil bent on improving their material welfare, a galaxy of national and state officers, congressmen and legislators, 1,000 delegates, and a multitude of farmers and their ladies will wend its way down the main streets of Owosso on Wednesday, September 25, in what will prove the first test of strength and demonstration of Farmers' Education and Cooperative Union movement in this state.

It will be their second annual convention and Owosso, the agricultural center of the state, will do honor to the expected thousands who will attend and is making elaborate plans for their comfort and their entertainment.

The program will open Tuesday with a talk by President John Lentz, of Maybese, who will introduce the National President, Mr. Everson, and other national officers in attendance.

Every local has selected delegates from their membership, but hundreds will accompany the official delegates.

Congressman William Lemke of Dakota and Father Charles Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, Father James Fitzpatrick of Harbor Beach, have signified their intention of being present. Sixteen congressmen and numerous state legislators have been invited.

Convention headquarters will be at the Hotel Owosso. The Chamber of Commerce at Owosso has offered its services for the event. The convention will be held at the Armory.

Several members of the local Union will attend the event.

ASK ACTION ON US-12

A delegation of local citizens attended the council meeting Monday evening, asking that some official action be taken on the matter of making an effort to have the new US-12 pavement routed in its present location past Chelsea. The entire council will act as a committee to work with the township board, and it is hoped they will be able to influence State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner in the matter.

TACHEZ OPENS SEASON

The Tachez club held their first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Loretta Doll. Four tables of 500 were in play. Honors were awarded to Mrs. Winifred Ulrich and Mrs. Gladys Pendergast. Refreshments were served.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MILAN—Less than two hundred tax payers seemed to be interested enough in the expenditure of $15,000 last Thursday to go to the polls and vote their opinion on the borrowing that sum on a bond issue. Those who did vote cast an overwhelming majority in favor of the bond issue. The vote was nearly eight to one in favor. The bonds will be issued for the expenditure of Milan's share of a PWA project which will give Milan a new bridge over the Saline river on Wash street. The Federal Government and the State Highway department will share the balance of the expense.

HOWELL—The Bruce Products Company of Howell, is just completing one of the largest buffing wheel orders ever given to one firm in the history of the industry. The order now nearing the final shipment called for approximately $30,000.00 worth of specially designed and constructed buffing wheels for the Chevrolet Motor Car Company, of Flint. The huge order was received about the 15th of August and the last shipment of the order will be made on the 15th of this month. Over 90,000 pounds of misprint percales and shirting material was used in the Chevrolet order, and sewed into some 30,000 buff sections to be assembled, glued and pressed into the buffing wheels of 16 inches in diameter and from 5 to 6 inches wide, grooved and sheared to given depth and shapes as specified. 90 people are employed at the plant.—Republican Press.

GRASS LAKE—Grass Lake received something of a delightful shock Monday morning when this village was chosen by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the point of leaving the train to spend a brief visit with her brother, G. Hall Roosevelt, who has a cottage at Brown's lake, south of Jackson. Her visit was unheralded and a small furore was created in the village when the presence of the distinguished visitor was discovered. She was accompanied by secret service men and the train was met by a detachment of state police who accompanied her and her brother, who met her at the depot, to Brown's lake. Mrs. Roosevelt was attractively dressed in a powder blue ensemble, swaggar length coat, matching hat, carried a knitting bag and wore bronze shoes. She left Brown's lake at noon for Detroit.—News.

MANCHESTER—Fire, believed to have been started by transients, destroyed the former Manchester Handle Co. building Monday evening. The blaze was first seen by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Widmayer as they drove up Railroad street, on their way home from Clinton about 8:15 o'clock and an alarm was sounded, but although the fire department made a fast run, the entire building was in flames by the time they arrived. Fortunately there was no wind so the fire was confined to that structure though it burned fiercely and was soon totally destroyed.—Enterprise.

DEXTER—Classroom work is well under way, but the teachers are greatly handicapped by the overcrowded condition of the school rooms. The School Board last week completed arrangements to transfer a part of the lower grades to the St. Joseph school, which was not re-opened this year, and work on the improvements there are being rushed to completion by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Charles T. Walsh. This will greatly relieve the congestion in the main building until the contemplated new units are finished. There are 336 pupils enrolled.

Question And Answer Dept.

Horoscope—Sept. 15 to 21. Those born at this time are deep thinkers, original and quiet. Have a good voice and are naturally persuasive. They have reflective minds, and a keen vision into the lives and motives of others. They usually prosper in a business dealing with the public.

Ques.—Why are nearly all baseball umpires so unpopular with the fans? I notice they boo and hoot, and scream with delight when he accidentally gets hit with the ball, or is otherwise hurt.

Ans.—This antagonism usually arises from close decisions. Nearly all umpires make decisions as they see them, and not as the baseball fan thinks. The umpire is within two or three feet of the play, and therefore is in much better position to see the actual result than the fan is. But it is only natural that the home fan wants the "breaks."

Ques.—When the vice-president of the United States becomes president who succeeds him as vice-president?

Ans.—When a vice-president succeeds to the presidency, the office of vice-president remains vacant. Since all vice-presidents preside over the Senate he automatically leaves this post when he becomes president. Therefore the president pro tempore of the Senate takes up the duties of the vice-president, but does not become vice-president. However, he receives a vice-president's salary. The office remains vacant until the next presidential election.

Ques.—I would like to ask you if Admiral Byrd's discoveries around the South Pole gives the United States ownership of Antarctica?

Ans.—International law recognizes discovery as the supreme test of a nation's ownership. Charles Wilkes, commander of an exploring expedition, and who was flying the United States flag, is credited with the first sight of land in what is now called "Little America," near the South Pole. Admiral Byrd, who also was flying the United States flag, adds strength to the claim of the United States. If this claim is disputed by any other nation the matter would have to be settled by international arbitration.

Ques.—Is it true that a drowning person will rise to the surface three times before going down for the last time?

Ans.—There is no foundation for the theory that a body will rise exactly three times before finally sinking. The body will continue to rise to the surface as long as there is air in the lungs. It just happens that it usually takes about three times going down before all the air is expelled from the lungs.

Ques.—To settle a little controversy will you please state, if you can, just how many men were mobilized for the World War and how many were lost and wounded by reason of combat, disease or sickness?

Ans.—The United States mobilized in the states and her possessions 44,355,000 men prepared for service abroad. Of this number more than four million were sent across to the battlefields. Out of the total mobilized, 350,800 deaths resulted from battle, died from wounds, died as prisoners of war, or died from disease, sickness or other causes before the Armistice was signed.

Ques.—I wish to ask you what is the gestation period of an elephant, and how large are the baby elephants at birth? Also what is a baby elephant called? I know a baby horse is called a colt, and a baby bear is called a cub, but I don't know what a baby elephant is. Is it a fact the babies have a heavy coat of hair at birth?

Ans.—The gestation period of an elephant is two years. At birth they are about three feet tall and weigh about 100 pounds. A baby elephant is called a calf, and at birth it has a heavy coat of hair which is very fine and looks like fur. This hair or fur is lost in the course of about five years.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer if the common field moles are blind?

Ans.—No. But the eyes of the common field or garden mole serve very little purpose; as they are underground almost constantly. The eyes are extremely small, sunken and almost completely hidden by the fur or skin.

MASON—Low prices on sauer kraut and the artificially high price of pork keeps newly installed packing machinery idle at the Mason plant of the Wilson Packing company. Kraut eaters usually want pork with their kraut and with pork prices sky high because of the government slaughter of hogs a year ago the demand for kraut has slackened and the surplus has weakened the market. It is expected that the canning equipment would be started a month ago but the price of kraut dropped and last year's kraut in storage is not being canned. Within two weeks the canning equipment may be used to start packing the new crop. A busy crew is at work at the Wilson plant. Cucumbers are still coming in and cabbage is being delivered. The frost Monday night damaged many cucumbers on low ground.—County News.

Citizens of Tomorrow

It is an obligation of good citizenship to pay taxes; it is an obligation of government to spend this tax money wisely. In common with many thousands of other citizens, Michigan Bell Telephone Company recognizes its obligation to pay a share in the support of the functions of government.

The Federal, State and other taxes paid this year by Michigan Bell averaged $7.28 for each telephone in use. In total this amounts to more than $3,225,000, of which $2,737,955.25 is in the form of payments to the State of Michigan. It is particularly pleasing to us that these State taxes go into the primary school fund for the purpose of educating our citizens of tomorrow.

The primary school fund helps support the State's elementary, grammar and high schools. It erects and maintains the buildings, buys supplies, helps pay the salaries of our 32,000 teachers. Into it go the State taxes paid by many of the utilities of Michigan, and of these Michigan Bell Telephone Company pays the largest individual tax. From 1921 to the present year the total taxes paid by us into the primary school fund amounted to $32,643,350.99.

Like all other citizens who have a genuine pride in the progress of Michigan, we appreciate the value and profound importance of an adequate school system.

And to the telephone users of our State it must be a great satisfaction to know that indirectly they make an important contribution to a school system entrusted with the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow.

The Michigan Central, during the past summer, has made many improvements on its main line. At the town of Kinnear, about a mile from Dexter, there formerly was a series of curves, the track when first laid out following the banks of the Huron river. At Kinnear the track almost formed a loop, but by the purchase of a large strip of land and by making a new bed for the river and changing its course the curves have been done away with and the track is absolutely straight.

BILLY GRIMES, THE DROVER

Tomorrow morn I'm sweet sixteen,
And Billy Grimes the drover
Has popped the question to me ma,
He wants to be my lover.
He says tomorrow morn mama,
He's coming here quite early
To take a pleasant walk with me,
Across the fields of barley.

My daughter dear, you shall not go,
So there's no use in talking.
You shall not go with Billy Grimes
Across the fields a walking.
To think of his presumption too,
The dirty, ugly drover.
I wonder where your pride has gone,
To think of such a lover.

Old Grimes is dead you know mama,
An' Billy is so lonely, beside, they say
Of Grimes' estate, that Billy is the
Only surviving heir to all that's left,
And that you know is nearly
A good ten thousand dollars ma,
About six hundred yearly.

My daughter dear, I did not hear
Your last remark quite clearly,
But Billy is a clever lad,
And no doubt loves you dearly.
Remember then tomorrow morn,
To be up bright and early,
To take a pleasant walk with him
Across the fields of barley.

—Arthur Carlton.

The Hi-Light

EDITED BY THE PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Senior Class News

The senior class has taken over the business of temporary saleman for the Crowell Publishing Co. The class is divided into two sections, one being called the navy football team, with Morris Brueckner as their captain, and the other the army football team, over which Jean Blecker acts as captain. The team that sells the most subscriptions is to be honored with a dinner given by the losing team. The duration of the contest is eight days. The proceeds will go into the class treasury to be used in the future.

All-High Party

Friday evening about 8:00 a veritable horde of boys, girls and teachers streamed into the high school gym for the first All-High party of this year's social season. When I arrived the different classes, both boys and girls, were participating in relay races under Mr. Johnson's direction.

Immediately following these games everyone made a dash for the kitchen to procure refreshments. The onrush crowd closely resembled a hungry pack of wolves. The repeat consisted of sweet older and doughnuts.

After this, dancing provided entertainment for the remainder of the evening. Miss Boongaard, La Rue Wolf and the radio furnished music. At 11 o'clock we were still all in one piece, so we hid ourselves to our homes or cars.

Our New Teachers

This year good old O. H. S. has added some new members to her staff. Miss Josephine Gibson hails from Port Huron. She is teaching ninth and tenth grade English and Speech.

Not only that, she is also coaching our debate team this year.

Miss Lucille Boongaard comes from Grand Haven. She is teaching our kindergarten class. And for the first time in several years is making music possible for us here in school.

Miss Jean Fauver arrived here from Detroit. Maybe you don't think that her seventh grade doesn't appreciate her. And listen girls, she's also our new basketball coach.

"The Green Cheese"

The operetta "The Green Cheese" will be given October 18 at the high school auditorium. The production will begin at 8:15 o'clock and is under the direction of Miss Boongaard.

"The Green Cheese" is a fast moving, light musical comedy. The setting is in Switzerland, the time at the present and the action takes place during the course of one day.

Actors in the play are as follows: Peggy Blecker, Lois Palmer, Donald Cook, George Winans, Paul Schneider, Maynard Osterle and Robert Schwartzmiller.

Second Grade
Robert Pate left our ranks this week. He is going to school in Detroit.

We are learning fall poems which we enjoy very much.

This is our creed:
"Hurt no living thing,
Laid bird or butterfly,
Nor moth with dainty wing,
Nor cricket chirping cheerily,
Nor grasshoppers as light of leap,
Nor dancing gnats, nor beetles flat,
Nor harmless worms that creep."

We have been learning some pretty songs. Some day we hope our mothers will come to listen in. We have missed Thora Hill.

Third Grade
We have three sets of new books—Arithmetic, Language Goals, and Munching Peter.

In connection with our word study, we are making original pictures of crouches.

We are making our own dictionaries in vocabulary study.

Ruth Paul is back with us again.

We are beginning to read books from our own library.

Rosena Frymuth has been ill. Her classmates have missed her.

For our Arithmetic football games this week Luther Kusterer and Robert Strieter were chosen captains. They were chosen by ballot. Luther's team won in the series of games on the school grounds. Our official captain is James Collings.

Sixth Grade
About 11:30 last Thursday, Marian Elise found a cloaca. It was still in its pupa-skin. It came out of the shell, then she brought it to school. We watched it grow wings and lose its beautiful salmon and light green colors. It turned brown. Marian chloroformed and pinned it.

Night Air Cleanest
The age-old belief that night air is unhealthful persists despite the fact science has proved it is the cleanest and purest to be had in the 24 hours. Not only does it contain less dust, smoke, humidity and organic gases but it possesses 50 per cent more radioactive matter than day air.—Collins Weekly.

Invitation to a Dance

To all people, young or old, interested in dancing.

On Friday, September 20, 1935, in the gym a dance is to be given by the Seniors of Chelsea High. At Cowan's orchestra will provide dance music from 9 to 12.

All people who like dancing or those who are determined to find out what dancing is all about, why not drop around Friday night and spend an enjoyable evening? If a large crowd turns out you may be sure that many more dances will be held during the coming year. To prove to the Seniors that you want more dances, be there Friday.

Football News

The loss of eight letter men did not greatly impair Chelsea's chances in football this season. In the backfield the players will probably be O. Hart, P. Novess, M. Lyons and M. Brueckner. The regulars for the line will be determined this week. We all hope that a great number of townspeople will come out to the football games, which will be played at Vogel's field on M-92.

Our first game of the season will be played tomorrow with Jackson High. Jackson—High beat us two years ago and we hope that defeat will be avenged tomorrow. Last year a great many of you lent your support and this year we hope you will come again. The boys are always glad to have a great many supporters, so let's go out and root for the home team!

Caesar Says

"Boners" taken from tests issued by Miss Fowlkes to the English-Lit. classes:

"Then he spied Reoul and made a 'launge' for him."

"Epic poetry is a 'tail' in poetic form telling the deeds of some hero."

"After Christianity came into England many stories were written about strange dreams of angels and strange creatures."

"Scop is what the queen passed around to all the warriors with mead in it."

Explanation (A scop is a singer and mead is a drink).

"Reoul finally killed Grendel by 'tarring' one of his limbs off."

"Their subject matter was very limited, no humor, or no expression for the use of the word 'love'."

"He was the 'vulnerable' beds."

"The mead hall was the place where they got their wines."

"The scop was the thing they ate out of."

"Reoul finally swallowed Grendel."

"Oh, so you're letting your young son drive your car."

"Yes, he's still too young to be trusted as a pedestrian."

Miss Fowlkes (lecturing to a literature class on short story writing): "If you are serious about writing you must know in advance what you want to do. Now what do you want to write about?"

"Oh about 1000 words a day at five cents a word."

Sophs Initiate Fresh

An unusual freshman initiation party was given by the sophomores.

Wednesday morning each freshman was met on arrival by a sophomore ready to give him a good coating of green finger nail polish. The activities were continued in the evening, and every freshman was put through some breath-taking experiences.

The girls wore short dresses and stockings, and the boys wore overalls and bandanas.

Games suggested by Mr. Johnson were played later in the evening.

Unusual refreshments and dancing finished the evening.

Their Refuge

Life has crowded many bleasin's
Into years that we have known
Since the day my boyhood sweetheart
Said she'd be my very own!
Yes, we've had a heap o' sunshine,
Seasoned just a bit with tears—
But the best of all our bleasin's
Were those swiftly passin' years
When our children still were with us
An' the house was filled with noise—
Ringin' with the jokes an' laughter
Of those happy girls an' boys!

Days like that are swift in goin';
Soon our children went away,
Leavin' home an' hearts more lonely
Than the lips can ever say.
But we get a lot o' comfort
From the feelin' that they know,
Out there in the world o' business
Where they're givin' blow for blow,
That we're workin' and we're savin'
So, whatever may befall,
This old home is still their refuge
An' we'll hear 'em when they call!

THE STORY

CHAPTER I.—Kentucky Jones, veteran cowboy, attends the inquest into the death of John Mason, banker and financial manager of the district, which is held at the Bar Hook ranch, where the victim was killed. The inquest is held at the Bar Hook ranch, where the victim was killed. The inquest is held at the Bar Hook ranch, where the victim was killed.

CHAPTER II.—The verdict is accidental death. Sheriff Hopper, apparently dissatisfied, invites action. Jones has decided to do that on his own hook. He refuses to work with the sheriff. Bill Elliott, owner of the "88" ranch, adjoining the Bar Hook, apparently has seen the bullet to Jones, and starts an altercation. Jones knocks him out.

CHAPTER III.—Bob Elliott, with a shadow of legal light, drives his cattle on the Bar Hook range. Lee Bishop, who is the owner of the Bar Hook range, is killed. Bishop's ranch horse, exonerated by the sheriff, is killed. Bishop's ranch horse, exonerated by the sheriff, is killed.

CHAPTER IV.—Reporting Elliott's turning his cattle onto the Bar Hook range, Bishop and Jones are attacked by Ragland's indifference. Bishop strikes Kentucky. Jones, seeing that the girl is, for some reason, under a severe strain, offers sympathy. He tells her Elliott knows she perjured the bullet at the inquest, which Jones has got rid of. He tells her that the Bar Hook will defend its rights, but Elliott makes light of the threat.

CHAPTER V.—Sheriff Hopper, investigating Sanders' death, announces his knowledge that Mason also was murdered. Circumstances would seem to involve Kentucky Jones in the crime. Jean Ragland shows evidence of the attack she made on the sheriff, but increasing affection for each other, she hesitates to give Kentucky her confidence.

CHAPTER VI.—Ragland continues his refusal to let her go, and his ship. Jones seeks to trace the ownership of a gun found on Zack Sanders, which he is confident has a bearing on the mystery. Jean tells him her share in the Bar Hook ranch, thus giving him a free hand in any controversy with Elliott. He warns Elliott that the Bar Hook will defend its rights, but Elliott makes light of the threat.

CHAPTER VII.—Jones finds proof that Jean has concealed direct evidence connected with her death, and his faith in her is shaken. A gunsmith whom he has engaged to trace Sanders' gun says he sold the weapon to a Bar Hook cowboy. Joe St. Marie, a Bar Hook cowboy, has left the ranch, saying he was Elliott's friend. Feeling himself on the right trail at last, Kentucky sets out in pursuit, and overtakes St. Marie.

CHAPTER VIII.—That's my gun, said St. Marie. "Or anyway, it was my gun once." "I know that," said Kentucky. "I found that out from the gunsmith in Waterman. Now I want to know exactly when and why you shoved that gun into the hand of Zack Sanders."

"I never did give it to Zack Sanders," said St. Marie. Kentucky Jones lost patience. "Get yourself ready to walk," he said. "I got no time to listen to you lie!"

"Tell me just this one thing," St. Marie pleaded. "Where did you get track of this gun?"

"The gun were talking about," Kentucky said. "Was in Zack Sanders' hand as he lay dead near the Bar Hook pump house."

"The bronc rider swore softly. 'If you're trying to hook me into something by way of that,' he said, 'you're lying wrong enough. I lost that gun in a crap game in Waterman four months back. I can name you every man that was in that crap game, and they'll swear to what I say; and Ted Baylor will tell you that gun is the one he won from me that night.'"

"Ted Baylor in a crap game with a bunch of saddle bumps? That's a hot one!"

"He was drunk, and he just stopped for one pass as he went through," Joe St. Marie insisted. "The lucky stiff got my gun on that one pass."

"If that's so," Kentucky said, "that can be checked up later. For the time being I'm taking you back."

"If you aim to take me back, I can just as well kiss myself good-by right now. I ain't got Chinaman's chance of living to get trial—and well you know it. I thought you swung with Campo Ragland. I even thought you were thick with Ragland's girl. You sure had me fooled."

"He's gone gunning after Bill McCord." "Gunning after—" Kentucky turned on Jean. "Why didn't you tell me this as soon as I came in?"

"I didn't know it," she said, the light of her voice changed. Billy Peterson said, "Lee told me not to say anything about it until he was long gone. I wouldn't say anything now; except I sure don't like this business, Kentucky—I thought maybe you'd want to go and side him, or something."

"Dear G—d!" Kentucky exploded. "I'll hunt you down! How long has he been gone?"

"About two hours." "Was he going straight to the 88?" "No; I don't guess he was going to the 88 at all. He figured he'd go over in the West Cuts. He figures Bill McCord has been over working in there. Naturally, he was hoping for a chance to get McCord alone."

"And I'm supposed to be able to go over and pick him up in the West Cuts," Kentucky raved. "Well, he didn't ask no one to pick him up."

"Next thing will be tying him on a pack mule," Kentucky growled, and went out like a long-horn bull on the prowl.

Going through the kitchen Kentucky Jones caught up his sheep-lined coat with one hand, and a handful of cold french fried potatoes in the other, for he was wolf-hungry yet, and didn't know when he would get a chance to eat again. Out at the corral he picked out a blocky sabre dard horse, dropped his rope on it and swung his saddle aboard. Two minutes later he was riding westward at a light trot.

In that country of canyon-elated rimrock no part of West-Bench could be called unbroken; but to the stranger the branching and forking canyons of the West Cuts presented a disconcerting maze. The abrupt walls of the canyons, dropping sheer hundreds of feet from the levels of the bench, offered a series of appalling barriers, repeatedly demanding detours of unknown length. Riders long in the saddle learned a thousand ways to get into those canyons and out of them again; but to the rider who did not know them it too often appeared that there were no ways at all.

Kentucky Jones was anything but familiar with the intricacies of the West Cuts. But he knew the general lay of the land and the typical tricks of canyons; and he knew what men were likely to do who were working stock. He estimated that he had more chance in ten of coming upon either Lee Bishop or the men Lee Bishop sought.

The Five-Mile Act

The five-mile act was an act known as the Clarendon or Oxford act passed by parliament in 1085. It prohibited any clergyman ejected from his living in 1082 by the enactment of the act of uniformity from approaching nearer than five miles to any town, city, or parish where he had formerly preached. The penalty for disobedience was 40 pounds. It was a severe blow to the Puritans.

SLATS' DIARY

Friday—Pa was nating Joe Hix about the truck drivers dance which was held at the old Pollas hall late before last and Joe said it must have been a very nice party because he can't remember a single thing about the party.

Saturday—Ant Emmy got about a sore today because she skinned her nose when she was down town. She told her to go to the library and exchange a book and to bring home lamb's tales. Ant Emmy went to the meat market and the butcher told her he didn't keep no lamb's tales, only legs and ect.

Sunday—Teacher kinda had a muddled today when she saw me wear people which was bad when they died. I mite of answered any other kinda question, all most, but Jorg-graffy has all ways been my poorest study in school.

Monday—Les Brink is sorry he let his wife have the car this afternoon because she got a Fiat car in front of the hospital and while the maknakin was a fixing the flat tire she disided she want go in and have a Operashun of some kind or another. She finly disided on Aida noise.

Tuesday—Bruce MacFarlin is a going to take a trip to Washington and while he is there he says he is a going to take a 14 day and look for that 4 Glen Washington throwed across the Potomac river.

Wednesday—Pa and ma went to a wedding lunche between a old neighbor of there and a fella she had met during her Vacation this summer. When the preacher said. Who gives this bride away she turned and looked very very mean at the audience and nobody diddnt say a word.

Thursday—Sun buddy told Ant Emmy she could keep Ant off the table if she would tie a piece of penny royal around each leg. But Ant Emmy diddnt try it because she said the pecky little crotchiers woodnt hold still long enuff.

Shadows

Every shadow has its light, every night has its morning, every pang of pain has its thrill of pleasure, every salt tear has its crystal beauty, every weakness has its element of strength, every loss has its gain. So all through life these balanceless run.

Sport of Middle Ages

Falconry was the sport of the Middle Ages. Eagles and hawks were trained by both men and women to rest on their owner's wrists until a quarry was sighted. Then the owner lifted a hood from the falcon's head. The bird flew to the kill, then returned to its owner's wrist.

The C. and O. Canal

The Chesapeake and Ohio canal originated in a project formed by George Washington as early as 1774, to make the Potomac navigable from tide water to Cumberland, and to connect it by common roads and portages with the Ohio. The War of the Revolution postponed the scheme, but it was taken up again in 1781, and the company was incorporated. Of this company Washington was president until his election as President of the United States. The project encountered many obstacles, and in 1820 was abandoned as impracticable. A new company was later organized, which constructed the Chesapeake and Ohio canal from Georgetown to Cumberland, completing it in 1850.

When East Is West

Columbus was ridiculed by the ignorant when he proposed sailing west to reach the East yet his apparently crazy idea was eventually proved sound. A similar paradox is found at the Isthmus of Panama where it is necessary to move east (by traveling southeast) in order to reach the West or vice versa. In traveling from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean the exit of the Panama Canal near the city of Panama is virtually 80 miles south and 25 east of the entrance near Colon. Pathfinder Magazine.

Chaucer and English Language
Lounsbury says of Chaucer's influence: "No really national language could exist until a literature had been created which would be admired and studied by all who could read, and taken as a model by all who could write. It was only a man of genius that could lift up one of these dialects into a pre-eminence over the rest; or could ever give to the scattered forces existing in any one of them, the unity and vigor of life. This was the work that Chaucer did."
