Golden Wedding Is Observed By Fosters

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Foster of Grass Lake, formerly of Chelsea, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday. In the morning they attended 10 o'clock services at St. Mary's church, Chelsea, sitting in the pew occupied by them for 50 years, and were especially honored by the celebration of mass by Rev. Henry van Dyke, who also extended congratulations.

In the afternoon a family party, arranged by their children, was given at their Grass Lake home, where dinner was served at 1 o'clock, with covers for 30 guests. The rooms were attractively decorated with bowls of yellow roses and chrysanthemums. The bride's table bearing a centerpiece of roses, and illuminated with yellow tapers.

Hubert Foster of Jackson preceded the dinner by extending a toast to his father and mother, to which Mr. Foster graciously responded. "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" was sung by the children, with Mrs. Zita Stewart at the piano, and a poem written for the occasion by Edgar Guest, was read by their granddaughter, Caroline Foster. Congratulatory messages were received from distant friends and many beautiful gifts were presented the honor guests. Among these was a gold tea set from their sons and daughters and 50 yellow roses from the employees of the E. J. Foster Co.

Among the guests were two members of the bridal party of 1885, Mrs. Henry Fenn, sister of the bride, who served as bridesmaid, and Martin Merkel, who officiated as best man. Miss Ida Klein, who attended as maid of honor, was unable to be present.

The immediate family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Foster and Miss Ruth Foster of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Surbrook and son of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Foster of Grass Lake. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Corey Taylor of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Foster of Owosso; Mr. and Mrs. George P. Staffan, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKune and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fenn and Mrs. Martin Merkel of Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Foster of Grass Lake, and Miss Eva Foster of Chicago.

In the afternoon a reception was held, and many neighbors and friends called to extend congratulations and good wishes. Refreshments were served.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Foster were residents of this vicinity before their marriage. The former is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Foster, and was born in Sylvan township, while Mrs. Foster, formerly Amelia Staffan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staffan, early settlers of Chelsea. They were married October 14, 1885 in St. Mary's church, and for about one and one-half years made their home in Sylvan, after which they took up their residence in Grass Lake, where Mr. Foster established a hardware business and funeral home. He now operates the E. J. Foster Furniture Co., also conducting a home appliance store in Jackson. For 36 years he has been president of the Farmers' State Bank, and has served several terms as president and trustee of the village. He is a graduate of the American Institute of Banking and a member of the Detroit Bankers' club. Mrs. Foster is a member of the executive board of Jackson County Chapter of the American Red Cross, where she has served for six years.

If any organization wins the cup three years in succession it becomes their permanent possession.

KILLS TWO FOXES

While hunting on the Simon Weber farm Tuesday morning Joseph Honeck killed two red foxes and was proudly displaying them about town in the afternoon. The fox is rarely seen in this vicinity, but Honeck had the good fortune to bag the two animals only a few minutes apart. Although the fur is of little or no value at this time of year Honeck stated that he expects to sell the animals for mounting purposes.

Van Wagoner Visits Chelsea To Discuss Relocation of US-12

Murray D. Van Wagoner, State Highway Commissioner, was in Chelsea on Wednesday afternoon and met about fifteen business men and farmers at the home of Conrad Lehman, where the matter of the relocation of the new US-12 super highway was discussed.

Mr. Van Wagoner made it very clear in his statements that he is not considering the people of Chelsea in his decision to relocate the new highway. His contention is that if the highway is straightened between Lima Center and Sylvan Center it will shorten the distance approximately one-half mile between these two points. His argument was that the shortening of the route would mean a "huge" saving to the motoring public over a long period of years.

Although Mr. Van Wagoner admitted that the expense of relocating the highway would be much greater than following the old route, he stated that expense means nothing to the state (no argument on that point). All right-of-way expense must be paid by the state, although the federal government builds the road.

The commissioner's argument of the safety feature made possible by relocation and straightening the road was picked to pieces by the local delegation, as it was pointed out to him that curves between Ann Arbor and Lima Center are being straightened very little and that curves encountered in following the present route past Chelsea would be no more dangerous than the ones they are now following.

Mr. Van Wagoner stated that he did not believe the federal road bureau would approve any plan for following the present route, although he admitted that he had not submitted such a plan as he had definitely decided to blaze a new trail.

Following the conference at the home of Mr. Lehman the local men accompanied Mr. Van Wagoner over the route from here to Ann Arbor, and stopped at intervals to inspect the project.

Although it is the opinion of practically all residents of the community who have been fighting to keep the highway in its present location that the fight is lost, the matter will not (Continued on Last Page)

Postoffice Site Bids Rejected By Gov't

Roy La Forge, of Lansing, postal inspector and site agent for this district, who was in Chelsea several weeks ago inspecting sites which were offered for sale to the federal government for the location of a new postoffice building in the village, was here again on Wednesday and informed The Standard that all proposals had been priced at a figure too high for acceptance by the government agency in charge of the procuring of sites.

Mr. La Forge, while here on Wednesday, inspected new sites which might be considered for the erection of a federal building. He stated that it is still possible for those who had submitted bids when they were called for some time ago to place new bids at a lower figure, and that new bids can be given to Postmaster Witherell or mailed direct to him in Lansing.

According to Mr. La Forge, the plan for construction of a postoffice building here will not be abandoned until it is definitely determined that a suitable site cannot be obtained at a reasonable price.

TOWNSEND SPEAKER COMING

VILLAGE WILL HAUL LEAVES

Residents of the village who live adjacent to paved or tarvia streets are requested by village authorities to rake their leaves into the street, and trucks will be provided to haul them away. It is injurious to the pavement or tarvia to burn leaves thereon, and residents are warned not to dispose of them in that way.

Farmers Will Vote On Corn-Hog Plan

Michigan farmers will be asked to vote October 20 on the question of whether an adjustment plan for the control of the production of corn and hogs shall be continued, according to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

Farmers in every state where corn and hogs are produced will be voting at the same time. The vote is not limited to producers who have signed contracts—non-signers can vote. The present corn-hog contracts expire November 30, 1935.

The vote by farmers of the United States will be taken to determine if crop adjustment plans are wanted in the future. The secretary of agriculture has often called attention to the fact that these programs are voluntary and are to be continued only so long as they are approved by the farmers.

Contracts calling for adjustments in the production of corn, hogs, or both are now held by 14,000 Michigan farmers. These producers reside in 71 counties, six of which are in the Upper Peninsula. Corn-hog contracts have been in effect for two years, but contracts were for one crop year and had to be renewed by the farmer for participation in the adjustment plan in 1935.

Secretary Wallace asks that farmers consider carefully whether they have benefited by the crop adjustment plan during the past two years, and, also, to consider the effect that the abandonment of crop adjustment plans will have upon agricultural conditions in the future. Farmers should vote as their judgment dictates. A negative vote by a producer does not prevent him from signing a crop contract afterward if such a plan is approved by a majority of producers, and a favorable vote does not obligate the voter to sign a contract.

Adjustment payments to Washtenaw county farmers made by the AAA on corn-hog contracts during the fiscal year July 1, 1934 to July 1, 1935 amounted to $114,094.00.

Adjustment payments are made to reimburse producers for their cooperation in growing the required amounts of food for all domestic purposes and for export each year and for aiding in preventing the occurrence of unmarketable surpluses which would reduce the market price of the whole amount produced. Farmers should vote on the adjustment plan according to the dictates of their best judgment. They have had two years' experience, have had a chance to see if the crop adjustment plan accomplished the things claimed for it, and now have the opportunity to say what shall be done in the future.

Chelsea Massacres

St. John's, Score 26-0

Chelsea avenged former defeats at the hands of St. John's of Jackson by soundly trouncing them, 26-0, on October 9. Phil Novess scored the winning touchdown by a brilliant display of open field running from the enemy thirty-four yard line.

The result of the affair was not long in doubt, for Chelsea had much the better of it from kickoff to final gun. After long gains by Brucekner and Hart, Novess took it over the last steps, thereby concluding an eighty-yard march to the goal line. Brucekner's try for extra point was good.

Midway in the second period Chelsea started another march. Brucekner received a punt on his forty. Brucekner to St. John's forty-eight. Five yard penalty against Chelsea. A pass, Brucekner to Novess picked up twenty yards. Lyons to the twelve yard line. Brucekner for eight and Novess for two. Then Hart marched through a big hole in the line for Chelsea's second touchdown. Brucekner again kicked good.

The half soon ended with the score 14-0 in favor of Chelsea.

In the third quarter Chelsea prepared for the final quarter and took the ball to St. John's five yard stripe as the third period ended.

On the first play Brucekner went through for his touchdown but the attempt for extra point by rushing failed.

Just before the game ended, Lyons took the ball over from the eight yard line for the final score, thus giving each backfield man a touchdown.

Next Friday, October 18, Dundee invades Chelsea territory for an important league game. Come out to Vogel's field on M-92 and see this surprising Chelsea eleven take another enemy into camp (we hope).

The starting line-ups: Chelsea: Byerast, LE, Griffin; Foster, LT, Wilson; Bahnmiller, LG, O'Rourke; Prizing, C, Kavanagh; T. Brucekner, RG, Hasbrueck; Woods, RT, Shumgnessy; Tisch, RE, Birney; M. Brucekner, c, QH, Duffy; Fletcher, LH, Fitzpatrick; Novess, RH, Etienne; Hart, FB, T. Cox.

A Rat's Eye View of "Green Cheese"

If you had a chance to go behind the scenes of the operetta Green Cheese, you'd be amazed at the emotion and excitement you'd encounter. Under the baton of Miss Bloomgaard, order is achieved out of apparent chaos. Her able direction and the cooperation of the other teachers, especially Miss Fowlkes and Miss Georg, are making the Green Cheese a sensational musical dramatic success.

With eyes glued on the director, La Rue Wolf nimbly accompanies at the piano. La Rue has displayed a splendid spirit of cooperation. Both director and cast are very grateful to her.

You'd see quaint little Swiss girls in a riot of gaily colored skirts, and boys garbed in typical Swiss outfits. Their costumes were made by a group of senior high girls, under the direction of Janette Cook who has worked long hard hours. Those girls are Florence Heim, chairman of the boys' costumes, and Ruth Ann Foster, chairman of the girls' costumes. Others are Virginia Liebeck, Jane McGaffigan, Marcelina Leitch, Elsa Barois, Margaret Lehman, Anna Freysinger and Wilma Runciman.

The milk-maid chorus we find standing in the wings, waiting for their cues. They have been coached by Betty Fletcher, who has done a nice job on the dance routines. The chorus consists of Mary Jane Bahnmiller, Barbara Jane Schenk, Joan Walworth and Betty Fletcher. We hope they don't spill the milk.

There's Paul Schneider bursting in to song, yodeling in true Swiss fashion. Chumsy Hans is falling over everything in sight and is pretty well bruised up. Of course the rest of the cast is milling about, going in and off the stage and hurrying to and from dressing rooms.

If everything goes as smoothly the night of the performance as it is now, it should be a huge success.

Caesar Says Ms. Bleecker—You can't sleep in my class. Alex—If you didn't talk so loud I could "I envy the man who sang the tenor solo." "Really? I thought he had a poor voice." "So did I, but think of his nerve."

"If you were I, would you accept Jack?" "If I were you, dear, I'd accept anyone."

First Hunter—Hey Bill. Second Hunter—Yeah. First Hunter—You all right. Second Hunter—Yeah. First Hunter—Then I've shot a bear.

Mrs. Smith (showing portrait of herself in her mother's arms)—This is how I looked twenty years ago. Guest—Wonderful! And who is the baby on your arm?

OUR NEIGHBORS

JACKSON—Postmaster Joseph A. Peard, in announcing that the local postoffice will remain open Saturday afternoons until 5 o'clock, is going far to increase the usefulness of the institution. For seven years the windows have all shut up tight at noon on what was, potentially, the busiest day of the week. On numerous occasions, there have been long lines of patrons for the various clerks, especially at the money order department, when time came for closing. We have remarked in the past that it seemed a lack of common sense to deny these patrons the service they had stood in line to obtain and to which they were entitled. The decision to remain open alleviates this injustice, and it creates employment. Experience of last Saturday afternoon indicates the volume of business that normally may be expected. It was announced this week that extra clerks may have to be put on duty for the Saturday afternoon rush.—Evening Star.

DUNDEE—The work at the Ford mill in the village continues, mainly in the concrete section. The original building is receiving new oak floors this week as it rapidly nears completion. Construction work on the new addition scheduled at the west end of the present building has been halted for a brief time. New plans are being drawn, as the building will be considerably larger than originally planned. These plans have not yet been approved, and Mr. Ford is expected to visit Dundee very soon to go over the specifications. However, a group of men are grading for the new section. Approximately 100 men are being employed on the Dundee project. During the brief delay in the construction work a number of these men have been kept busy remodeling houses and working at the Pennington school at Mueon. Another group is working on the construction of the race bridge on US-23 at Milan.—Reporter.

GRASS LAKE—But for the barking of their Scotch terrier dog Mr. and Mrs. Win. J. Quigley might have burned to death in a fire which destroyed their farm home northwest of Grass Lake on Saturday morning at about 1:30, entailing a loss of about $4,000. The fire started in a wood house at the rear of the building and had gained considerable headway before the family was awakened by the frantic barking of the dog, which came to the bedroom on the first floor where Mr. and Mrs. Quigley were sleeping. The house was a massive building of 22 rooms, the water walls being four feet in thickness. The loss is partly covered by insurance.—News.

Attend Institute

The teachers of the Chelsea schools attended the Teachers' Institute held at Detroit October 10 and 11. These meetings serve as a source of stimulation and inspiration to all teachers of the state. A large part of the various section program is devoted to discussion of various pressing professional problems.

Here are some of the comments made about this meeting by a few of our teachers:

"Miss Hazard said that the outstanding feature of the Teachers' Institute was the talk given by Dr. James Pollock. The talk was about Ethiopia."

Ms. Johnson attended the Mathematical department of the Institute and found it to be the most interesting. He stated that there were two lectures given by professors. One professor represented the college and told of the fundamentals in solving formulas while the other told that the fundamentals couldn't be used after leaving college in such courses as engineering, etc.

The English section was attended by Miss Fowlkes, Miss Gibson and Mr. Waskiewicz. A speech was delivered by Rev. Aulondauch on the permanent values of teaching English. The discussion after the speech was carried on by Fred G. Walcott from the University of Michigan. The subjects of this discussion ranged from what to do with a shy pupil to remarks on how to increase reading ability, especially comprehension

"If I had more time I would join the Journalism Club."

"I'd take up singing."

"If I had more time I would join the Dramatics Club or go out for basketball."

How many times have you heard students in high school make similar remarks?

Well, to some extent we have a right to excuse ourselves. Days, weeks, and months do go by too fast. There is so much going on in school and out that it is an achievement to get good marks in studies and also find time for an occasional sport and for much-needed recreation.

The trouble with "when I get more time" is that none of us will ever get more time. We have as much time now as we'll ever get. The twenty-four hour day just can't be stretched.

So, if you're going to join that club, go in for a sport, or start some hobby. Begin now! Start at once to set aside a little time from your daily routine so that you may fulfill that particular desire of yours.

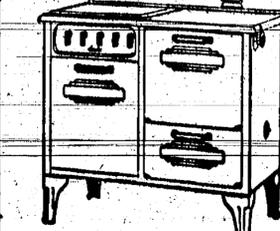

If you wait until the day when you think you will get more time you will only find your days growing shorter. Life is a never ending race with the hands of the clock. Time ever marches on.

Board of Supervisors Open October Session

The October session of the county board of supervisors opened Monday morning with hearing and acting on reports of department heads and other routine matters. A resolution of the state convention of superintendents of the poor for the abolition of the state welfare organization with the cessation of federal aid to unemployables was endorsed by the supervisors. In compliance with a request of the welfare department, Supervisors Mark Sugden, Edward E. Foster and George Alber were appointed as a committee to confer with the welfare directors.

The request of Miss Dorothy McDonald for an appropriation on behalf of the Starr Commonwealth for Boys was referred to the finance committee. Drain Commissioner C. W. Tuomy reported that all interest charges had been paid on refunded drain bonds and the outlook is the most favorable in several years. The supervisors voted to send George P. Smith, county sealer of weights and measures, to the state convention in Flint in November, with expenses paid.

William H. Faust was appointed to serve as supervisor from the sixth ward, Ann Arbor, for the remainder of the term, succeeding Harold D. Smith, whose resignation was accepted by the board. County Treasurer C. E. Crittenden reported that collection of county taxes during the past year had been almost double that anticipated and that the general fund amounted to about $70,000 as compared with a deficit of $30,000 a year ago.

PLAY WELL ATTENDED

"Dotty and Daff", the home talent farce given at Chelsea high school auditorium last Friday night by the Young People's League of St. Paul's church, was well attended and the characters were well portrayed.

Some of the highlights were the way Anna Schneider, as the impetuous widow, obtained a rich husband, and the entanglements this involved; her suitor, Don Adam, and his son, Stawart Dingle; the Irish brogue of the cook, Thelma Vail; the disguise as ten and twelve year old daughters of Eileen Adam and Estelle Seitz and the pranks of the thirteen year old twin sons, Eldine Hawley and Frederick Strieter; Aunt Hester, who hated men, by Margaret Lehman; Hilda, the Swedish maid, by Lucille Hawley; the flirtatious butler, Willis Mayer, and the rich uncle, Earl Lehman.

Between acts, guitar and vocal selections were given by the Wurzburg-Wooden Shoe Trio, by Roy Koch, Raymond Koch and Paul Barbour.

Growers Ask Change In Law On Potatoes

Evidence presented at the public hearing in Washington on the 1935 Potato Act resulted in the approval of the Act by representatives of growers; but, with the approval, was a request that the Act be amended at the next session of Congress, according to R. J. Baldwin, administrator of the AAA in Michigan.

Funds to finance the Potato Act were to be provided for by a bill which failed to pass Congress in the final days of the last session. Application was then made to the Comptroller to provide the money from other funds which might be available. No funds have been provided to the present time.

The committee at Washington recommended the enforcement of the Act for the allotment year which begins December 1, 1935.

The changes in the Act recommended for presentation to Congress as soon as it reconvenes included making the law affect only growers who produced for sale more than 50 bushels of potatoes, the requirement of an approval by vote from the growers for the continuation of the Act after the marketing year which would end November 30, 1936, and to exclude the consumer from any penalties arising from the sale of potatoes in unstamped packages.

The Potato Act does not in any way affect either the consumption nor the sale of potatoes at the present time. Sales allotments must be made for growers before any restrictions are placed on sales. Every person interested in potatoes will be given ample notice of the establishment of such allotments.

"Ravenously Hungry" The word ravenously is derived from the verb raven which means: "To eat voraciously; prey upon; tear, as a beast of prey." These meanings do not necessarily involve hunger; they denote rather manner of appeasing greed. It is quite permissible, therefore, to employ the expression "ravenously hungry," indicating a hunger so intense that one would satisfy it by eating voraciously.—Literary Digest.

Blenheim Spaniels

The Blenheim spaniels were always popular in the south of England, particularly in and around Oxfordshire, in which Blenheim castle was constructed as a testimonial of gratitude to the duke from the English people after the battle of Blenheim. This popularity was confined largely to the hunting people, who liked a small dog for hunting woodcock and other feathered game—in the more or less open country of that section.

Commissioner Explains New Egg Regulations

Lansing, Oct. 16.—With hundreds of people writing for information regarding the new egg regulations which become effective Nov. 1, Commissioner of Agriculture James F. Thomson explained today that eggs may be sold by the dozen as usual but that all retail packages must carry the net weight and grade in letters not less than one-half inch in height. Thomson established four grades for eggs.

The ruling provides that all eggs sold to the consumer after Nov. 1 shall be sold by grade, producers exempted, and marked either "Grade" or "Quality" in letters not less than one-half inch in height. Eggs which have been burned to death in a fire which destroyed their farm home northwest of Grass Lake on Saturday morning at about 1:30, entailing a loss of about $4,000. The fire started in a wood house at the rear of the building and

Ford V-8 Streamlining Steps Ahead

THE IMPROVED streamlining of the front end of the Ford V-8 for 1936 is well illustrated by this camera shot. Note the horn set into the fender apron behind a chromium grille and the way the graceful contour of the fender is carried to the edge of the new radiator grille. A glimpse of the new hood louvers is caught behind the headlamp. The V-8 insignia on the hood of the car is of new design.

Van Wagoner Visits Chelsea To Discuss Relocation of US-12

(Continued from First Page) be dropped now, especially by the farmers whose property would be ruined by the new location of the road. The proposition will be kept alive and the battle will continue until construction work is started.

A local committee interested in keeping the highway in its present location recently drafted a number of reasons outlining the advantages thereof, which were submitted to the commission, and are as follows:

The present US-12 is located at the edge of town. Therefore village traffic does not in any way conflict with through traffic. Such being the case why should US-12 be relocated one mile south of the present right of way?

The relocation will cause a great reduction of transient and tourist visitors to Chelsea, resulting in a great material loss to all business enterprises.

Citizens of Chelsea will have to travel two miles of very poor road either going to Ann Arbor or Jackson. US-12 is the front door to Chelsea, over which 75 per cent of all traffic entering or leaving town passes.

Chelsea is the natural gateway to thousands of tourists, and visitors to the many lakes in this locality, and with the development of the Waterloo Federal Park should see a large increase in people passing through town, provided US-12 is left in its present location.

And whereas the village of Chelsea with its 2000 citizens and the 1000 or more farmers in the surrounding territory, together with the hundreds of other citizens of Michigan who have business and pleasure calls to make in Chelsea, should be considered in the proposition of relocating US-12.

Instead of allowing the transient and through traffic to be given all the consideration. Cost of maintenance of two highways, where only one is required and the eventual necessity of rebuilding the three miles of road abandoned by the state.

The state highway department originally gave the citizens of Chelsea and Washtenaw county the impression that the reason it would be necessary to relocate US-12 between Lima Center and Sylvan Center was that they proposed to build a straight road. And whereas that after letting contracts for the new highway, between Ann Arbor and Lima Center, Jackson and Sylvan Center, it now appears that the highway department is not building a straight road, but is merely widening the road from Ann Arbor to Lima Center, and is using the old right of way which is as crooked and dangerous as the Chelsea section which we have under consideration.

The farms through which the proposed relocation passes comprise some of the most valuable farming land in Michigan. The division of these farms by a high speed super-highway will cause damages into thousands of dollars to these farms, and untold damages that cannot be estimated in dollars.

A continued source of danger and trouble to the owners of these farms caused by the necessity of driving cattle and farming equipment across this road, and the possibility of public liability or property claims as a result of collision.

Traffic hazards caused by the necessity of farmers driving their cattle and equipment across the new right of way which divides their farms in two parts.

Whereas at present there is one intersection on US-12 for traffic to and from Chelsea, with the proposed cut-off there will be three dangerous intersections, which more than offsets any possible safety gained by the proposed change of location.

The state highway department claims that the section of road which they propose to abandon to the county is very crooked and dangerous. This being the case why should it not be improved and made safe, and not left in its unsafe condition as a hazard to the lives of the 2500 to 3000 citizens of Chelsea and the surrounding territory who will have to use this unsafe road if US-12 is relocated.

There is approximately $60,000 to $70,000 invested in business property on the present right of way serving the motoring public in various ways, this investment in some cases representing the life savings of certain individuals. This property will be depreciated to a value of next to zero, caused by the relocation of US-12. Should not these citizens and their investment be considered a little in this proposition?
