Trees Purchased for Street Decorations

Streets of Chelsea will take on a real holiday appearance Saturday night of this week when electric current will be turned on to light the sixty Christmas trees which will be in place at that time.

The trees, which are approximately eight feet in height, have been purchased by the council and were delivered here yesterday. They will be placed along the sidewalks throughout the business district, and occupants of property along the streets have agreed to place colored lights on the tree in front of their business places.

According to Roy Harris, president, the village will make the decorative scheme complete by lighting the trees in front of vacant property and where there are no business places.

Placing of trees along the streets replaces the former procedure of the village in erecting and lighting one large tree at the flagpole, and will no doubt "dress up" the town to give the streets more of a Christmas atmosphere.

To help along the appearance of Christmas time in the village merchants are busily preparing their stores and arranging display windows in preparation for what is believed will be the best business month in several years. Some merchants are displaying larger stocks of merchandise than they have carried for some time, and at prices which are sure to attract Christmas shoppers during the next three weeks.

South Street Will Be Used for Coasting

In an effort to provide safety for children who like the sport of coasting, village authorities have decided that, as an experiment for a few days they will close South street west of the Congdon street intersection. This street provides good coasting, and as many children congregate there for the sport that street has been selected for the experiment.

The street will be closed every day from 8:30 to 10 o'clock p. m., starting this afternoon, and children in the village are asked to use this place for coasting, rather than on other streets. Although the street will be closed to through traffic, people who reside there will be permitted to drive on the street. Grand street will be closed at the West Middle street intersection so through traffic cannot go to South street in that way.

This action by authorities should prove to be a real successful experiment as the lives of many children are now in danger every day while coasting on streets of the village. If the plan is a success it will be continued during the winter months when there is good coasting.

Banquet for Football Squad on December 16

Honoring the 1935 football squad of Chelsea high school, a public banquet, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, will be held at the public school auditorium on Monday evening, December 16.

Walter Weber, assistant coach at the University of Michigan, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Moritz Brueckner, captain of the 1935 team, will speak, and Harold Spaulding, coach of the local team, will present letters.

The squad of 30 boys will be guests of the Kiwanis club, and tickets will be available to the public at 50c each. The seniors will have charge of ticket sales and will serve the banquet.

BAGS LARGE DEER

Oscar Ulrich of Freedom is feeling pretty "chesty" over the fact that while hunting near Shingleton in the Upper Peninsula he killed a buck that weighed 240 pounds—a 9 pointer. Oscar believes this to be the largest buck brought back here. If this is not true we will be glad to hear from anyone who killed a larger one. Next!

Waterloo Project Work Under Way With 78 Employed

Development of the Waterloo park project is now a reality, with 78 men employed at the present time at Portage Lake, Jackson county. They are working under the WPA, and are engaged in road work, and other improvements for a campsite there.

It is expected that from 25 to 50 men will be employed next week at the Mill Lake campsite. Their first assignment will be to construct a field house and shelter for workmen, after which they will be employed in beach improvement and construction of permanent buildings for the children's camp which will be located there.

Lumber taken from farm buildings which are being wrecked on property which has been paid for by the government is now being hauled to the Mill Lake site and will be used in construction work.

According to project officials an effort is being made to secure as many men as possible from Chelsea and territory in the vicinity of the camp as they do not have to furnish transportation for men living within a five-mile radius of the project on which they are working.

To secure employment on the project applications must be filed with the Reemployment Service in Ann Arbor or Jackson. This office in Ann Arbor is located in the postoffice building and Mr. Spangler is manager. Applicants are asked to work through these channels as the local office has nothing to do with the hiring of men and according to project administration officials it is very annoying to have applications coming to their office.

Christmas Party for Kiddies December 20

The annual Christmas party for the kiddies of Chelsea and surrounding community, sponsored by the American Legion, will be held at the public school auditorium on Friday evening, December 20.

Committees have been appointed by Commander Clarence Bahmiller to make arrangements for the event, and it is planned to again show the youngsters of the community a real good time at the party.

As usual at these parties, Santa Claus will appear in person, and he will be heavily laden with lots of good things for each of the kiddies. A program is being prepared which will entertain the children for some time while they are awaiting the arrival of Santa.

Preparations are being made by the Legion to accommodate a crowd of more than 400 kiddies.

WENK-LOEFFLER WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wenk in Freedom township was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Rubena Marietta, became the bride of Walter George Loeffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Loeffler, also of Freedom.

The day-window in the living room, decorated with palms and baskets of chrysanthemums, formed a pretty setting for the ceremony, which was performed at 3:30 by Rev. M. W. Brueckner, pastor of Zion church, Rogers Corners. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Miss Johanna Brueckner.

Miss Wenk chose for her wedding a dress of dark blue velvet, with rhinestone clips and buckle, and she carried a bouquet of tallman roses and white chrysanthemums. Her sister, Edna, as maid of honor, was gown in brown crepe and carried yellow mums, and her brother, Norman Wenk, officiated as best man.

The other attendants were Miss Elsa Loeffler, sister of the groom, and Ernest Wenk, brother of the bride. Miss Loeffler wore a rust crepe gown and carried bronze mums. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to 55 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Loeffler will make their home with the groom's parents in Freedom township.

KILL THREE BUCKS

Fred Kennedy and sons, Douglas and William, claim the family record for this locality in the matter of deer-killing. They hunted for four days last week near McGinn, southwest of Alpena, and each of the three killed his buck. Mr. Kennedy has promised us a nice chunk of the meat as evidence that the story is true, and will no doubt be showing pictures of the three musketeers with their prey in order to substantiate the story.

FAIR WAS A SUCCESS

The annual St. Mary Fair was by far the largest success of recent years and members of the parish wish to thank the community for their generous support. Their help and efforts were appreciated by all. Grand prizes were won by Mrs. Ben Staphish of Chelsea, who received the electric refrigerator, and Mrs. Anthony Koselka of Dearborn, who won the electric radio. A crowd estimated at 800 attended the final night.

AWFUL KIDNEY TORTURE ENDED

SAYS INDO-VIN QUICKLY RELIEVED BACK PAINS AND NIGHT RISING

MR. C. E. SAYLES, of 204 Fountain St., Grand Rapids, Mich., says: "For about 4 years I had been almost a wreck in health. My kidneys were so deranged that they got me up all night, and by morning I would feel as worn out as though I had never been to bed at all, and would be so stiff and sore across my kidneys that I could hardly stand it. I tried medicine after medicine without any relief, but finally I found Indo-Vin and it has worked the misery from my system. I can go to bed and sleep without getting up at all on account of my kidneys, and Indo-Vin drove all those sharp pains out of my back and put an end to the soreness and misery across my kidneys. I am 74 years old. Miss Florence Ward were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schaller of Selo. I live to be a hundred." Indo-Vin is now being sold here in Chelsea at Burg's Corner Drug Store. Also being sold by every good druggist throughout this section.

Christmas Hard Mix, lb.	10c

Christmas is a bright, cheery holiday, but you can make it even brighter by illuminating. A gayly lighted Christmas tree by the door, and softly lighted wreathes in the window lend an air of welcome and geniality to your home. They seem to say, "There's a Merry Christmas within, stranger, won't you come in and help celebrate?"

Give Thanks Program

Our student body was called together last Wednesday afternoon to celebrate the "Thanksgiving" holiday. Instead of being entertained by outside speakers, pupils from our Speech I class furnished the program. The following program was observed, with Moritz Brueckner as chairman:

President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Proclamation—Janet Haasler.

Solo—Miss Boongaard.

"Thanksgiving, An American Holiday"—Virginia Cooper.

"An Old Fashion Thanksgiving"—Gerald Cook.

Poem—Miss Gibson.

Three selections by Junior Choir.

Song by Junior Quartet.

"America the Beautiful"—By Assembly.

Get Together

Monday evening found a group of Juniors assembled in the high school gymnasium having a farewell party for Leslie Byerast. This social assemblage took the form of a hard times party and you should have seen those Juniors. Such costumes! Where did they find all those old clothes? The appointed judges for the evening awarded prizes (which were especially appropriate) to Marian Ashfall and Paul Pilemeier for the best costumes.

Mr. Johnson took charge of the entertainment for the evening and many thanks are voted to him for his success in his undertaking. As all parties go refreshments were served. Then, in behalf of the Junior class a present was presented to Leslie. After an enjoyable evening together we called it a day.

Mr. Forsythe Speaks

On Wednesday, November 27, the pupils of Chelsea public school were addressed by Warren E. Forsythe, M. D., who is head of the Health Service at the University of Michigan. He told us briefly the indications of a healthy body. After he had discussed other phases of health an open forum was held. Several students asked questions which were answered by Doctor Forsythe. In a pamphlet which I procured the following quotation was given:

"The importance of good health cannot be overemphasized. Your health may determine the success of your career. The majority of distinguished men arrived at their success after a long healthy life."

"Nor love, nor honor, wealth or power can give the heart a cheerful hour when health is lost."

Thank you, Dr. Forsythe.

Basketball News

Chelsea opened the basketball season here by sending two teams against Michigan Center, Tuesday night.

Numerous candidates were given a chance to show their talent in these two games. The line-up for the season has not been definitely decided because there is strong competition for all positions. This first game showed that Chelsea, from all indications, will probably have two first teams, giving more boys a chance for action than in previous years.

Friday night Chelsea will put two teams against those of Jackson Tech. It promises to be a good game because all boys will still be fighting for first string positions. From these two practice games Coach Johnson plans to pick a team to start against Milan on December 13.

Announce Winners

A general assembly was held Wednesday, November 27, in which were announced the names of the persons who were chosen from the Seniors partaking in the Shakespearean contest. The night who were chosen will again give their speeches in general assembly some day this week for the last time. Those chosen are: Alton Koengeter, Ralph Clinton, Vincent Ives, and Lowell Scripser. The girls are: Jane Belser, Jean Bluecker, Angeline Burg and La Rue Wolf. The best boy and girl who will be chosen will receive the honor of having their names engraved on a plaque which will be hung in study hall. This contest is to be carried on each year by the Senior English Lit. classes. Every time the winners having their names put on the plaque.

Editorial

Here are a few opinions of teachers, mothers, and students on the use of work books which are being used so widely in our schools of today.

Teachers' opinions:

1. The students who use these work books fill in the blank spaces and think that that is the end of it. It is not remembered or learned.
2. If the teacher is skilled in the use of work books and the work books are arranged so the students can understand them, they are very helpful to the pupils; but if the work books are not properly arranged and the teacher is inclined to be lazy work books are of no value to the students.
3. Work books are very good. They make the students do a little thinking. They also serve as an excellent guide to an understanding of what is being presented.

4. Work books are very helpful. They give good drills on a few essential things which are difficult in obtaining other ways.

Mothers' opinions:

1. A work book is all right for one subject or so but when there is a work book for every subject it is too much because the pupils cannot learn and accomplish as much as they could if they just used their text books.
2. Another mother wonders if the children will ever be able to make a complete sentence without the help of a work book.
3. It gives the children too much of a chance to copy from each other instead of looking it up for themselves and learning it.
4. Work books are fine if the students remember what they write down.
5. Work books are rather expensive for the good you get from them.

Students' opinions:

1. Work books are a lot of junk.
2. They are O. K. as long as the teacher doesn't look at them.
3. They are easier than a text book. We don't have to study so much.
4. Sometimes the text books are easy and sometimes the work books are easy. It doesn't make much difference.

5. It gives the children too much of a chance to copy from each other instead of looking it up for themselves and learning it.

6. Work books are fine if the students remember what they write down.

7. Work books are rather expensive for the good you get from them.

8. Sometimes the text books are easy and sometimes the work books are easy. It doesn't make much difference.

Caesar Says

Miss Fowlkes was reading a comic interlude in Shakespeare and she said that a wall was portrayed by a man all plastered and that the literature class could produce it and Alton K. asked if he could be the man who got plastered.

When a stocking gets a run it's on its last leg.

Teacher: Can any boy or girl in the class tell me the meaning of "hence"?

Isaac: Sure, teacher! It means chickens, already.

His friends call it madness but he calls it bridge.

"It's going to be a real battle of wits, I tell you," said a sophomore.

"How brave of you," said his roommate, "to go unarmed."

There are three great menaces to safe driving in America today: Hic, hie and hug.

It was washing day, and John had been kept from school to look after the baby but before long cries of disturbance were heard.

"John, what's the matter," asked mother.

"Oh, he's dug a hole and he wants to bring it in the house," answered John.

Some of us were thankful for the following: Many nice days, God's care, beautiful flowers, love given us, mother and father, and for sun and rain.

Great Stock Show

Youthful shepherds and herdsmen are going to show their elders some real blue ribbon cattle and sheep at the sixth annual Junior Livestock Show in Detroit, December 10, 11, 12.

Sixty-five boys and girls will exhibit cattle and there will be 114 fat sheep for the judges to score for prizes. The show is sponsored by 4-H club department at Michigan State College and the livestock commission firms in Detroit. At the end of the show, the stock will be sold at auction by Col. J. E. Ruppert Perry.

Last year the champion steer, shown by Ernest Fick, Swartz Creek, sold for 80 cents a pound and brought its owner $760. The best lamb last year brought $2.50 a pound and weighed 105 pounds, its owner was Harry Crandall, Jr. of Caro.

All exhibitors are members of 4-H livestock clubs and the animals have been raised, fed, and prepared for the show as part of the work each livestock member agrees to do. Boys have no monopoly on membership in the livestock clubs; three sisters from Concord are showing cattle at Detroit this year, and many other girls will show animals in the cattle and sheep classes.

The annual livestock banquet will be held December 11 at the Hotel Statler, with C. V. Ballard, M. S. C., as toastmaster. Mayor Frank Couzens, Detroit, and James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, are the speakers.

METHODIST HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Church and little daughter, Elaine, and Mrs. Helen Bennett, all of Adrian were callers this week of Miss Boering.

Thanksgiving evening, Mrs. J. C. Leeman, her son John Jr., and granddaughter, Valerie called on Miss Emma Leeman.

Francis Bennett of Detroit was a visitor at the Home for a day or two during Thanksgiving week.

Mr. Parks spent Thanksgiving day in Leslie and the week-end with his grandson, Durwood Moore and family in Marshall.

Mrs. Fay Wolfe of Albion spent Friday and Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Wells.

Mrs. McManus and Mrs. D. Reed of Port Huron called on Mrs. Smith, Miss Emmans and Mrs. Randall one day last week.

The members of the Home enjoyed a quiet but very pleasant Thanksgiving occasion this year as usual. A beautiful menu card of the bounteous chicken dinner was furnished at every place at the table and on the trays of those confined to their rooms. At the dinner Dr. Leeson made a few appropriate remarks, and read the following poem prepared especially for the occasion by Miss Emma Leeman:

We thank thee Lord for home and friends,
For daily food when harvest ends;
Some measure small of strength and health,
For little means, if not for wealth.

A good record and conscience clear,
For singing heart and goodly cheer,
For time to think and work to do,
And books to read and papers too.

For flowers bright, the joys they bring,
And feathered friends that gladly sing,
For Christian grace that we may stand,
For what is good in our fair land.

Through the kind cooperation of the State Conservation Department Supt. Leeson was able to secure a deer from the north woods this season, which was delightfully served to the Home and visiting guests on Friday of last week. The following guests were present, among others: Rev. John M. Springer and wife of Jodaville, Belgian Congo, Africa, Rev. and Mrs. D. Mumby and daughter, Vyda of Chelsea, and Rev. V. D. Longfield and sons, Paul and Mark of Dexter. During the afternoon Rev. Springer and Mrs. Springer entertained the Home people with a very interesting description of their work and experiences in the missionary field of Africa.

Mrs. Geo. Gillespie of Jackson, and Mrs. Harlin Osborne and daughter of Prescott, Mich. were callers Monday of Mrs. E. W. Brown.

Last week Wednesday, Miss Rena Burrell, for the past eight years a member of the Home, passed to her reward. She was born in Denton, February 29, 1860, a member of a large and highly respected pioneer family of that locality. She was taken back to Denton for interment.

Rev. Kilpatrick and wife of Dearborn were callers Monday of Mrs. E. W. Brown and others at the Home.
