Property Optioned for Postoffice Site

Roy La Forge of Lansing, postal inspector and site agent for this district, was in Chelsea last Friday negotiating for the purchase by the federal government of a site for a new postoffice building here.

A thirty-day option was obtained on the property of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Notten, corner of South Main and South streets, and also on the A. W. Wilkinson property just south of the Notten lot.

According to Mr. La Forge, federal authorities in Washington would not approve the plan of building the postoffice on the Notten lot alone as they specify a larger lot, and it is believed that the purchase of the two lots will be approved in Washington.

Funds Allotted for Park Development

According to park administration officials, a definite allotment of more than $852,000 has been made for purchase and development of the Waterloo project in Jackson and Washtenaw counties by the national parks service.

Present plans provide for the use of $540,300 in the work of developing the area, with $312,000 for land acquisition. Approximately $200,000 of this latter amount is already committed for the purchase of lands which the government has definitely contracted to buy.

Under the plan now being followed, the total area of the park will be somewhat more than 10,000 acres.

There will be three distinct developments of the project, as follows:

1. A mass recreation enterprise centering at Mill Lake, Washtenaw county, with camping and picnic facilities, quarters for group camps, bathing beaches, etc.

2. A recreational and resort development centering at Little Pleasant Lake, in Grass Lake and Leoni townships, Jackson county.

3. A bathing beach, picnic ground, etc., along the south side of Big Portage lake in Waterloo township, Jackson county.

Large crowds of men will be kept busy throughout the winter in various phases of the project and about 145 are now employed. Of this number 35 are at Mill Lake, doing rough grading for camp buildings, and constructing a temporary field office. As far as possible, teams and trucks will be rented from occupants of land on the project.

Project officials state that they have authority to employ residents of land which is under option by the government, for work on the project. These people are the only ones who can be certified at the local office. Relief cases must go through regular channels of the Reemployment Service with offices in Ann Arbor and Jackson.

It is the desire of local park officials to fully cooperate with people of this community and they will aid in giving as much employment as possible to local men.

PUBLIC SUPPER

The ladies of the M. E. church will serve a cafeteria roast pork and sauerkraut supper on Thursday evening, December 12, beginning at 6:30, until all are served. Adv.

Christmas Business Is Good In Chelsea

Christmas business in Chelsea is expected to reach its peak during the next week. Many merchants report that their sales to date are far exceeding last year's business, and it is believed the total month's sales will be very gratifying.

Stocks of merchandise in local stores are larger than they have been in recent years, and early shoppers are finding selections very complete. Displays are neatly arranged, both inside the stores and in windows, and many articles are being specially priced for Christmas shoppers.

With the sixty Christmas trees which were placed along the streets by village authorities last week, gayly decorated with colored lights, the village presents a real Yuletide appearance, and a real Christmas spirit prevails in Chelsea.

Grimwade Is Now Sole Owner of Red & White

Effective on Monday of this week the partnership of Norman Grimwade and Robert Hall, owners of Red & White stores in Chelsea and Hudson, was dissolved and Mr. Grimwade became the sole owner and manager of the two stores.

Mr. Grimwade, who has managed the Hudson store since it was opened last spring, will now take active charge of the Chelsea store, and the Hudson store will be managed by Tom McNulty of that place, who has been in the grocery business there for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimwade and son are moving to the Dancer apartment on Jefferson street.

P. O. To Remain Open Saturday Afternoons

In order to aid in handling the increased business during the Christmas holidays the local postoffice will be open for business on Saturday afternoons, December 14 and 21, until the usual 6:30 closing hour.

The volume of both outgoing and incoming mail is increasing daily, according to Postmaster Withersell, and it is expected that the number of pieces handled will be greater than in any recent years.

Osteopathy in Chelsea

Some years ago, approximately thirty, Osteopathy was introduced to the citizens of Chelsea. Several Osteopathic Physicians during this time have made Chelsea their home and have practiced here; yet for one reason or another a comparatively few people know what Osteopathy REALLY is.

Because of the tendency to imitate any good thing, much confusion has resulted. Osteopathy has its imitators but it is recognized by the State as being the original method of spinal adjustment. The State also requires of the Osteopathic Profession a high standard of education. If the Medical Practice Act is referred to it will be found that the same requirements are exacted of the Osteopathic Physician as of the Medical Physician. As a result the Osteopathic Colleges have kept pace with other colleges of high standards and their graduates stand high among graduates from all schools of healing in their examinations before the State Medical Boards.

Regardless of the nature of the treatment the public is seeking relief from their ailments and as a result the public has come to recognize that the Osteopathic Physician has a treatment for acute conditions as well as chronic ones.

Any reader desiring information regarding Osteopathy may obtain such information, without obligation, by writing to Osteopathic Items, P. O. Box 331, Chelsea, Michigan.

Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness; not in chambering and wantonness; not in strife and envying. . . . Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13.

A Testimony In Verse, by Arthur Carlton

Since Jesus came into this heart of mine and turned my darkness to day The heavy load that crushed me down is lifted and rolled away;

That I once loved no longer desire, everything in new beauty I see, O Jesus my Saviour, I can't understand why you are so precious to me.

The spirit of truth which the Father hath sent, enchaineth faith's vision to me.

While views which are taken through Calvary's love by Beulah's clear light I now see;

This blessed salvation no power can give, save Christ, the Redeemer from sin. No modern-made the orgy of Science, so called, can give such assurance within.

Soon—soon I shall come to the River's bleak shore, where body and spirit must part;

Will it be with a glad rejoicing I go, or like taking a leap in the dark. O star of the morning, blest Saviour of men, my allegiance is sealed with thy blood;

I have the assurance today in my heart, and I rest in the bosom of Love.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."—John 3:16.

Plant Life in Animals' Hair

Rarely if ever do the various kinds of plant life that thrive in the hair of animals serve their host. One exception, however, is a green alga which lives in the cracks of the hair of the sloth and gives this tree-hanging mammal a mantle of invisibility that protects it from enemies.—Collier's Weekly.

YOU

CAN GIVE YOUR PHOTOGRAPH

In your lesser moments, you may not think so much of yourself, but there are some people who think the world of you... give them this Christmas—something that they want... it's you they're interested in, so give them your photograph. And it's you we're interested in, too. We, in the studio, spend the greater part of our lives helping people feel free and easy about having a photograph taken, so that when it's all done, the picture is perfectly natural. People say we're good at it, and that our pictures and our no-fuss-no-bother way of taking them, are pretty nearly perfect. We'd like very much to help you get the kind of gift photographs that will be "you all over!"

EDITED BY THE PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Michigan Centennial

Michigan is celebrating its centennial of Statehood from January 26, 1835, to January 26, 1935, by the official date designated by the Governor's proclamation. Why celebrate for two years? Why, because of the struggle for admission into the Union. On May 11, 1835, a convention met in Detroit, then the State Capital, to frame the Constitution. The Great Seal of Michigan was adopted at this convention. In October the constitution was adopted by a popular vote. When a petition was made for admission of our State into the Union it renewed the old boundary line dispute with Ohio (the now called "Toledo War") and thus delayed our admission until January 26, 1837.

The Centennial celebration is sponsored by an official body composed of the Michigan Historical Commission and the officers and trustees of the Michigan State Historical Society known as the "Michigan Centennial Joint Committee."

Recognizing the importance of a Centennial celebration, not only as a matter of sentiment and historical commemoration, but as adding to the State's income from tourist and resort business, the State Administrative Board at the close of 1934, appropriated money for the celebration in order that it might be gotten under way before January 26, 1935.

There were more than one hundred local celebrations this year (1935). At these celebrations historical features were presented in pageantry, parades and floats, and in local collections of relics, antiques, documents, old newspapers and books, tools and agricultural implements, and rare novelties of truly historical value. These exhibits were usually placed in store windows.

Our school is planning to have a celebration some time next spring. Mr. Waskiewicz's ninth grade Civics classes have started two projects. They are making Michigan history booklets and are collecting relics and antiques. The Relic and Antique Committee has been chosen.

Several of the teachers are helping to make this centennial a success. Miss Gibson will correct the articles written by the ninth grade for the Michigan history booklets. Miss George will see to the typing and mimeographing of these articles. Mr. Lyons is in charge of the Agricultural part of this celebration. There will probably be more projects started by other classes in the near future.

We sincerely wish the cooperation of the parents of this community in giving information on the History of Michigan, and relics and antiques, to that this celebration will be a big success.

"We Want Justice"

Putting on the swift wings of fancy, let us pay a visit to the port of missing articles, whence go the souls of those small commodities when their bodies are lost or stolen. The procedure at that port much resembles the order of events followed in court. On a chair sits the chief magistrate, listening with sympathetic ear to the tales of woe unfolded by the plaintiffs. At one side sits the clerk busily recording their every word. Upon scanning his records we find such headings as these:

"Mr. Lead E. Pencil vs. the knave who took him from his owner's desk while that person went to the library."

"John C. Pocketbook and Dollar A. Bill vs. the person who extorted them from their owner's locker by breaking the lock."

"Mr. Pocket B. Comb vs. the pilferer who neatly slipped him from his owner's hip pocket while his owner was descending the stairs."

"Mr. F. E. Eraser vs. the youth who borrowed him from his owner and 'accidentally' forgot to return him."

"Mr. Parker M. Penn, who wore his owner's name, vs. the rascal who picked him up from the floor but secretly took him home instead of returning him to his owner."

All these articles demand a justice by which they will be returned to their rightful owners, a justice that will prevent similar occurrences.

Pupils of Chelsea public schools, it is your responsibility to administer this justice. Do it!

Jackson Defeats Chelsea

Last Friday night Jackson Technical school defeated the Chelsea public school by a score of 18-10. Chelsea failed to score in the second quarter, thus placing the Jackson team in the lead at the half 10-4. One foul shot was made in the third quarter by the Jackson team and the last quarter scoring consisted of five points by the Jacksonians and six points by the gold and blue. Final score 18-10.

Editorial

"Oh where, oh where have our little lost Seniors gone?"

That is the big question that is being asked and wondered about so much during the last three weeks.

At the first of the year the Seniors outdid themselves and would go around with satisfied smiles on their faces for you see, they had given some mighty successful dances and other business enterprises. You could see they had not been hiding!

But in the last few weeks everything has been quiet and everybody is waiting for the holidays to be over. Then just watch our smoke after January first and put on your asbestos suits for we are going to have one big and fiery time.

Before closing this article we wish to tell you about the football banquet which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club with cooperation of the Seniors, on December 16. We are planning to give you all a good time and a good meal. But proof of cooking is in the eating so come to the banquet for we are going to cook up one of the finest meals ever eaten in Chelsea high school.

"So come all ye merry!"

Elementary News

Kindergarten

Last week several people were absent. We are very glad to have most of them back. We hope the others are soon well too.

We are making Christmas decorations and Christmas trees. We are singing Christmas songs, too.

First Grade

We made a fireplace.
Paul G. loaned us a big Santa Claus. We made him come down the chimney.

Jack Merkel made a play fire.
Bob D. brought a candle.
Frances Hale brought a stocking to hang up.

We have some rugs on the floor.
We have some chairs near the fireplace.

Last week we took some water. We put it over the fire. The water boiled. It all disappeared. It went into the air.

Steam keeps us warm. It makes the train go. It cooks our food.

Second Grade

Christmas is surely coming to our grade. We have so many lovely pictures up. And our fireplace. We have a lovely fire in it and stockings are hung up for the Christmas toys.

We are having our reading lessons in front of the fireplace and it is fun! I'll say!

Philip Collings was out with a cold last week but is back this morning. Everyone is present.

Last week we made and mounted candles. If you see one in a home window you'll know a Second Grader lives there and is expecting Santa Claus.

We were quite happy over our report cards last week. They showed that we have been working hard.

Fourth Grade

We have a new pupil. Dorothy Hale moved to Chelsea from Roylton, Kentucky. We have forty in our room now.

Mrs. Four and Mrs. Riemenschneider visited our room this week.

We have had several pets at school. Eugene Aldrich and Felix Hotbrook brought their dogs.

We are going to join the Junior Red Cross. Each child must be a good citizen and must have earned his money before his name is written on the honor roll.

Our room is all decorated for Christmas. A committee was appointed for the windows and another for the room. Doris Collins and Joe Hale have made our south board look very attractive.

In our Health Club Esther Riemenschneider's office of president was given to Elaine Schmidt. Elean Harris is vice president and Elean Harris was elected to be our new secretary.

We are reading Dickens' "Christmas Carol" in reading and next week we are going to dramatize it.

Last Friday we went in Mrs. Stein's room and our people who were talented in music combined with hers in producing an enjoyable hour's entertainment. We are hoping to have more of these and hope that the mothers can be invited some time.

Fifth Grade

We have a real Santa work shop in our room.

The boys contributed and repaired will be given to the Red Cross Santa Claus to be delivered on Christmas Eve. We wish to thank Mr. Heber for his part in the work.

Donna May McKim has finished her booklet which will be used as a model for other booklets to be made by other girls.

We thank Miss Kern for the lovely story "A King is Born", which we all enjoyed so much. We are using this as a history lesson also.

Everyone helped decorate the room for Christmas. The greetings were special work of Doris Parsons and Janette May.

We all enjoyed the chapel exercises on Friday in our room, when the Fourth Grade joined us and contributed so much to the program. We have discovered that we have some real musicians.

Christmas Carols command all our attention in music these days.

No home work from now until after Christmas as everyone is busy with programs and other outside work. That means we'll have to work extra hard in school.

Question And Answer Dept.

Question—How can I find out about the financial condition of the Detroit Milk Distributors?
Ans.—Address The Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Detroit, Mich., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Question—What eastern publication gives price quotations of milk between producers and consumers in New York state?
Ans.—The Dairyman's League News, 120 West Forty-Second St., New York City, will probably give you the desired information.

Question—I would like to ask you why an omelette swells up when it is cooked?
Ans.—An omelette swells up when it is cooked because the many thousands of little bubbles of air which you beat into the eggs before you cook them swell up. The swelling is what makes the inside of the omelette spongy.

Question—Why is it that when a person cuts himself, the bleeding will stop in a few minutes, while with others it is almost impossible to stop the bleeding?
Ans.—That is because of more or less fibrin in the blood. Fibrin causes the blood to clot as soon as the blood gets out of its proper channels in the veins and arteries. The clot sops up the holes where the blood vessels were cut and prevents further loss of blood. When fibrin is scarce in the blood the bleeding will continue much longer unless tightly bandaged. A few people have no fibrin in their blood at all. These people are what doctors call "bleeders," and they must be very careful not to cut themselves, for even a tiny cut might make them bleed to death.

Question—I would like to know what causes some people to be afraid in the dark. Can you answer my curiosity soon?
Ans.—To be afraid in the dark is one of the common unconscious tendencies in the human mind, and there is little doubt that it is inherited from far back in pre-historic times, millions of years ago. At that time our cave-dwelling ancestors did not dare to go outside of the cave when it was dark. There was too much danger from wild beasts. This ancient fear made so deep an impression on the developing human mind that it still persists as an unconscious tendency in many of us. Scientists assert that if this development keeps up for another million years unabated, fear in the dark will have been entirely forgotten. As Ripley would say: "Just wait and see."

Question—What was the color of the first race of people on the earth?
Ans.—It is not known for sure. Scientists are generally agreed that originally the people of the earth were all black. The browns then split from the blacks, and from the browns came the yellow race, from which came the red race. Lastly the white race split from the red race.

Question—Will you please answer in your good paper why there is no air on the inside of an electric light bulb?
Ans.—This is to prevent it from burning out. If there were much air on the inside of the bulb the hot tungsten in the filament would combine with the oxygen of the air and burn up. That's why electric bulbs will eventually burn out. If the bulb was a perfect vacuum and there was no evaporation from the hot filament the bulb would last forever if it wasn't broken. But there is no such a thing as a perfect vacuum.

Question—Will you please tell our class what is meant by pasteurized milk? Thank you.
Ans.—Pasteurized milk is milk which has been heated 110 to 120 degrees and kept there for a half hour or so. This process kills most of the bacteria in the milk so that it will keep better, afterward. It is also less likely to contain disease germs. The discovery was made by Dr. Pasteur, a famous French scientist, and that's why it is called "pasteurized."

Question—On what day of the week was I born?
Ans.—We do not know. If you will kindly give us the date of your birth we think we can tell you the day of the week it happened.

Believe in Yuletide for Dead
 Kittuhel, Austria, is one of the few places in the world which believe that the dead should share in the Yuletide celebration. WRITES OF HUNTING TRIP

Rudolph Heller, formerly of Lima, who now resides at Orofino, Idaho, recently wrote an interesting letter to his sister, Mrs. Earl Lowry of Ann Arbor, telling of his experiences on a hunting trip in that state. The letter, in part, is as follows:

We left the Orofino airport at 2:30 in the afternoon, October 21, and landed at the Bear Creek field 58 minutes later—about 110 miles. We walked down to the ranch, one mile, but did not hunt any that day as it was dark by that time. The next day Wilcox went down to the mouth of Bear Creek fishing and came back soon after dinner with his basket full of 19 cutthroat and Dolly Varden trout. After eating a lunch he went over to the bridge about 100 feet from the cabin and caught five more. They were from 12 to 20 inches long. Megs, Dewalt, Renshaw and myself went over into Shearer Creek, three miles west of the ranch. I drove the creek bottom for them and Megs got a couple of shots at elk at about 400 yards, but missed. Both killed their deer that day and one coyote. I did not try for any game as I intended staying longer than they did. On Wednesday both caught their limit of trout and went back to Orofino on Thursday.

On Friday Alvin R. Wilcox and I went up Goat Creek toward Wyles Peak. Saw quite a number of deer and a few elk too far away to shoot at. I jumped a large bull and got one shot at him running through the timber down a steep hill and missed—the only elk I have ever missed. Was glad afterward as I did not care for the head and a cow or calf is much better eating. Saturday we were out of camp meat so we went out and I jumped a two year old mule deer buck and killed it before dinner. In the afternoon Wilcox and I caught a nice mess of trout. Sunday morning Wilcox, Alvin and I started out and went up Bear Creek to Cub Creek, up Cub Creek to Brushy Fork, about 12 miles from the ranch. Got there about noon, put up our tent, cut some wood, ate a lunch and started out for a few hours' hunt. I went up the left side of Cub Creek and had not gone over a mile from camp when I jumped a bunch of elk in some thick brush and windfalls. One cow stopped for an instant to look back and I caught her in the butt of the ear. She rolled down the hill about 100 feet and lodged against a tree. I whistled to Wilcox and Alvin—they were on the other side of the creek. We skinned her and quartered her, piled the quarters on a rock and covered them up with the hide. Alvin came up the next morning with two mules after them and a bear had been there during the night and chewed on one of the front quarters but did not damage it much. I went up there the next morning and found he had piled all the offal, head and legs, in a heap and covered it with sticks and leaves. It was snowing hard and I tracked him about a half mile but lost the track.

When I got back to the camp Wilcox had killed a large bull on Brushy Fork Creek with 130 feet of telephone wire around his horns. He had an extra fine set of horns. Wilcox is getting it mounted in Lewiston.

That evening it cleared up, the thermometer dropped to almost zero. We slept in our clothes that night, and Wilcox kept his cap on, pulled down over his ears. We had intended to hunt goats but had to pull out and go to the ranch as the goat country is one continual blizzard when the weather is unsettled. In the morning (Wednesday), Alvin and Bud Boller rounded up the stock. Wilcox washed the breakfast dishes, and I went back to see if Bruin had been there again. This time he had carried off part of his cache and I tracked him about two hours but had to leave him as the other fellows were breaking camp. In fact, when I got back they were leaving so I did not get him after all. Next day we went out and got our deer to take home. On Friday the plane came in after us and in an hour we were in Orofino.

JACKSON—Robert Irving Latimer, whose parole from the state prison here last spring released a nauseating stream of sob stories, this week had his pharmacist's license restored by the state. He plans to go behind a drug counter again. It was 46 years ago that Latimer, a Jackson druggist, was sentenced to Jackson prison for murdering his mother.—Evening Star.

McLAREN SCHOOL NEWS

For Thanksgiving we had the Pilgrims, one log cabin, and the Mayflower in our sandtable. Our log cabin was made from cornstalks.

After trying very hard we have put two of our Citizenship rules in their boxes. We want to keep all the rules in their boxes.

We started to have hot lunch December second. Kathryn Lindauer furnished first.

The third, fourth, sixth, and seventh grades made book week posters. Those who were not absent or tardy for the month of November are: Carl Laier, Eddie Laier, Robert Burgett, Kathryn Lindauer, Lois Schlosser, and Jane Schlosser.

We have a new flag rope. Mr. Lindauer put it up for us. Our other rope broke.

We have learned three new games since we started to school this year. They are called "Nose, Toe, Tag," "Hopscotch," and "Lost Sheep."

We had two large cases from the University of Michigan. They showed how animals live in winter.

Signed: Jane Schlosser.

PALMER SCHOOL NEWS

The month of November closed with a percentage of attendance of 98. Children who were neither tardy nor absent are: Clarence Seller, Howard Smith, Virginia Umstead, Wesley Umstead, Betty Wahl, Clara Wahl, Virginia Wahl and Wilma Wilcox.

Our school was closed over the Thanksgiving holidays. Howard Smith won in the balloon-parachute arithmetic contest. His prize was a Mickey Mouse tooth brush holder and tooth brush.

Recent visitors to our school were Florence and Mary Belle Smith and Irene Wahl.

Plans are being made for the annual Christmas program which is to be given at the school on Saturday evening, December 21. A program will be presented and there will be a Christmas tree.

Wilma and Lois Wilcox have left our school and are now attending the Maute district.

The second grade has completed their Elson Basic Reader and have started on a supplementary book.

Alice Seller is helping us with our Christmas program this year. We appreciate her help very much.

The seventh grade has taken their first set of standard tests. They will have another set after Christmas.

Our Christmas Seal sale is under way. We hope to win a prize for the school.

Our teacher, Mrs. Lehman, attended a teachers' meeting at the Mount Hope school on November 20. The discussion that day was confined to arithmetic. The next meeting will be in January at the Pleasant Hill school.

OUR NEIGHBORS

TECUMSEH—Some weeks ago the village of Tecumseh, seeking projects to furnish employment to the unemployed, listed a tree-trimming program as a worthwhile endeavor. The federal government, at Washington, through the WPA gave its approval and $634 was allocated for the work. The village council, in session last Monday evening, was advised that in all probability, men would be here next week to begin the project, but it seems that an employee of the WPA is forbidden to climb a tree or a ladder and for that reason his usefulness as a tree-trimmer would be somewhat useless. Of course, the village might furnish men to do the work and allow the WPA workers to pile the brush, but such a program would increase the local street department budget and the council does not feel that such action at this time is warranted. The question confronting the council at this time is how to trim trees and stand on the ground.—Herald.

THE HOBO AND THE HAND-OUT

SOME thoughtless people entertain the idea that when a bank is approached for accommodation it should be prepared to extend the same irrespective of the merits of the case—just as a thoughtless hand-out is given to the casual hobo.

BUT before extending accommodation conservative banks desire a thorough acquaintance with the borrower. Such an acquaintance is best made through an account with the bank, whereby it becomes familiar with the business and financial habits of the future borrower.

Tabby Brought Kittens Into Christmas Manger

THE celebration with the Christmas tree that touched the ceiling, and had a manger beneath it, was over, and a row of little stockings were hanging from Santa Claus. Mother had just tucked the happy children into bed and by the soft glow of the nursery Christmas tree was singing Christmas carols to them.

Father was about to turn off the lights below and lock the door for the evening when he heard a faint "meow" from the cold darkness without. Upon opening the door he saw a forlorn, bedraggled tabby cat almost frozen in the Christmas snow.

"Why, you poor creature," spoke father tenderly, "come in this very minute!" For some moments father was busy making tabby comfortable. He found some milk which he warmed, and plenty of holiday food. He served kitty with generous portions of Christmas repast and then provided a soft bed in the corner, with a cushion from his own easy chair. Tabby showed her appreciation by purring and purring louder than father had ever heard a cat purr before.

Satisfied and delighted with his Christmas guest, father returned, and wondering what the family would say in the morning.

Christmas morning the happy family entered the living room—the children rushing ahead, bearing their bulging stockings and shouting with laughter. "Oh, look at the manger!" cried mother with surprise.

"Merry Christmas!" retorted father, trying to keep from bursting out laughing.

Tabby had selected the soft straw of the manger as a fitting birthplace for her litter of Christmas kittens—Alice B. Palmer.

Her Christmas Present Was a Lovely Daughter

MRS. BURKE wept a little as she trimmed the Christmas tree. "This will be the last time," she thought. "Next Christmas I'll be all alone in the world."

Her son, wholed as he shaved. "Getting doped up," his mother thought. "All for that girl!" She held a bright bulb aloft as though she must dash it to the floor, thought better of it, and hung it on the tree.

"Ready, mother? I'll drop you at church on the way over to Dorothy's." "In just a minute, son." "Oh, my son, my son, why must you leave me? Your first Christmas seems only yesterday."

The beautiful old anthem filled the church. "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son." The text: "More blessed to give than to receive." Sacrifice. I must give up my son. His happiness means more than mine.

They were waiting for her in front of the church, young and happy. "Say, mother, Dorothy!"

"I couldn't have you spending Christmas alone, Mrs. Burke. We're all going out and celebrating. You see—my brother got married last summer, and I know just how we felt; that we were losing him, and so forth. But I really gained a dear sister, and so I want you to be just my other mother, and think of us both as your children."

Joy swept back into Mrs. Burke's heart.

"Such a wonderful Christmas present!" she cried. "A daughter!"

TOYS CHILDREN LIKE

A COMPREHENSIVE survey leads to the conclusion that building blocks are the favorite toy for children up to the age of seven. Drawing and painting materials rank high. With little girls, dolls and housekeeping equipment are favorites. Sand and clay for modeling retain the interest of most children. Mechanical toys on the other hand, are soon discarded. Adults usually enjoy the mechanical toys more than the children for whom they are purchased.

Career's Language

Few people are aware that such a pleasant Yuletide task as carving has a language of its own, which has nothing to do with exasperation. Forgetting for a moment the ubiquitous turkey, which apparently is only "carved," an expert cites the following terms as appropriate to the occasion: Alay a pleasant, "Chine a salmon, Mince a plover, Harb a lobster, Lift a swan, Spall a hen, Unbrace a duck, Disfigure a peacock, Dismember a heron, Thigh a woodcock, and Tame a crab. In the Middle Ages, when most of these picturesque terms were evolved, herons, being as common as sparrows today, were a favorite Christmas dish amongst the poor; while the rich granted of the peacock the place of honor at their banquets.—London Tit-Bits Magazine.

Blooms at Christmas Time

According to tradition the famous thorn at Glastonbury Cathedral was brought and planted there by Joseph of Arimathea and was part of the crown of thorns which was pressed upon the brow of Christ. According to tradition it blooms at Christmas time and the possession of a piece is said to insure good fortune through the year.

Joan's Unexpected Guest Was Her Yuletide Love

NINA had gone with her Donald to Chicago; Vera to her Granby's house to meet her fiancé and Dora, who had gone up to Lowell for Bob's fraternity dance. Joan wondered if any girl had ever had such a lonely Christmas holiday in prospect.

"Gee, there's that little cripple boy down there in that rooming house on the corner that might relish some nice food. I've waved at him every morning for the last six weeks. I guess we know each other well enough and they do say his mother takes that early bus into town to scrub floors, every day in the week," she told herself as she was about to drop off to sleep, Christmas eve.

It was scarcely daylight when Joan had gone to the little corner rooming house, slipped a little note of invitation under the door of the cripple boy's door, and was on her way to the store for a supply of everything that belongs in a traditional Christmas feast, plus a few gifts for the lad.

There was merely time to exchange her house dress for a street frock so she might run down to the corner to push the youngster's wheel chair to her house, as she had promised. But at the very moment she stepped forth into the hall, she met not only her guest-but a splendid, handsome young man.

"You see, miss, I got the invitation—the note was tucked under my door, but I gathered at once who you meant it for so I delivered it to Jimmy and made friends with him—we've been together the past two hours, taking a short ride and now I'm turning him over to you, Miss—Miss—"

"Joan Burke, and you are—"

"Larry King, Miss Burke, and this is Jimmy Jordan. With your permission, then, I'll return for my charge later in the day. What hour do you say, fellow?"

Joan interrupted, "If I may be so bold as to ask—running along to where?"

"To the lunch wagon, if you must know," Larry acknowledged.

"You are not. If you don't stay to have Christmas dinner with us, I'm going right out into the street and hail the first stranger I see. You see I don't want any turkey left over for turkey hash, tomorrow."

Three partook of Joan's royal feast, but the fourth guest, though unseen, was present, too. Love was there, uninvited. But that fourth remained forever and a day, upon invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Larry King who never forgot to include little Jimmy Jordan at their special occasion, celebrating the year around.—Lucella R. Lyons.

Why Christmas Day Comes on the 25th of December

CHRISTMAS, which seems to have been first officially instituted as a church feast day by a decree of Pope Telesphorus, between 112 A. D. and 134 A. D., was a movable feast. Indeed, it was the most movable of all the Christian festivals. It was usually celebrated by the eastern branches of the Christian church in April or May while in the western part of Europe days in January or other months were observed as Christmas.

In A. D. 337 St. Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, obtained from Pope Julius I authority to appoint a commission to determine, if possible, the precise day of Christ's nativity. From the chronologic archives of the Roman calendar, establishing the times of occurrence of certain events of the same period of the Roman government of Palestine, the theologians of the eastern and western divisions of the Christian church agreed upon December 25 as the date of the birth of Jesus, and thereupon this became the officially decreed and generally accepted Christmas day.

CHRISTMAS SMOKES

Alice—They say a woman can't select Christmas cigars.
May—Nonsense, I have been soundly smoking my husband and he says he likes light cigars. All you have to do is to match the shade.

Mistletoe, a Tree Parasite

Despite its popularity as a Christmas green, there is little worry about conserving the country's supply of mistletoe. For this attractive plant, with its shiny, dark leaves and waxy white berries, grows as a parasite high on the branches of trees and does considerable damage to its host trees. Science has revealed that the mistletoe seeds are carried from tree to tree by birds.

Christmas Warning

"Do selfish men," said Uncle Eben, "mustn't be surprised if he only way he can be sure of a 'Merry Christmas' is by talkin' it into a phonograph record."

ON HIS WAY

Green—Going away this Christmas?
Wise—No, but I guess I'll go away right after Christmas.
Green—Where to?
Wise—To jail as a bad debtor.

Popcorn Presents

Apples, jelly or canned fruit, and even big cherry hominid wreaths done up "Christmas" make practical presents; but the gayest and most welcome of the on-the-farm-and-on-the-city presents seem to be popcorn and hickory nuts. With a basket of popcorn and a bag of hickory nuts all kinds of Christmas boxes are suitable for every one from grandfather and grandmother who lived on a farm and picked up chestnuts when they were young, all the way down to the littlest boy cousin, who's inordinately fond of candy.

Holiday Garnish for Salads

Cranberry jelly sliced and cut into fancy shapes with a cookie cutter or a knife makes an attractive and unusual garnish for salads and desserts during the holiday season.

SANTA CLAUS

There is a Santa Claus. His real name is Spirit of Charity. He is the symbol of benevolence, compassion and altruism. He is the ideal of that small legion of really human humans who pave unselfishly numerous paths to happiness with kindness, sympathy and charity.

He Was a Dutch Boy

Christmas was celebrated long before Santa Claus was ever thought of. His prototype was the Dutch boy known as St. Nicholas, who on December 5 used to go round punishing little children who did not say their prayers and rewarding those who did

"Come, Let Us Adore Him," Happy Christmas Thought

There is a magical pause, a mysterious something in the air, an awakening of man's best and sweetest nature in the Yuletide carols ring out the hallowed words: "Peace on earth, good will toward men." A pause when the most solemn, forbidding, hard-hearted person feels an urge of the most willing, to join in the merry festival of Christmas.

Then, too, there is magic in red holly berries, gray green branches of bewitching mistletoe, and the perfume of scented evergreens, melting wax and the turning log—How mysteriously they recall sweet thoughts of long ago to the oldest! How they fill the hearts of playful children with joyous delight!

Christmas is the significance of childhood, for almost two thousand years ago the Christ Child brought the redeeming message of love to the world. Love that keeps the little flame of hope burning; love that gives patience and courage to endure the problems of life; love that prompts the giving and receiving of gifts.

When little John of the East, men of profound learning, saw a brilliant star and followed it, they found this little messenger of love in his rude and humble resting place, and they laid their most precious gifts before him.

These gifts were highly symbolic, gold to a King, the King of Love and Humanity, frankincense to a Ruler, the God of human needs, myrrh for a man, and for the sorrow that redounds, thus they recognized in a little Child, the King—the Christ—the Man.

As we commemorate Christ's birth each Yuletide, there is a radiant warmth and spirit of love in the giving and receiving of gifts; we pay homage and reverence to our King; our God and our Redeemer.—Anna Myers

Martha Found a Way to Raise Christmas Funds

CHRISTMAS was drawing nearer and nearer, but Martha Woods seemed no nearer a solution of her problem. The giving of gifts at the Yuletide season had been a tradition with Martha as long as she could remember. This year, however, she saw no way to keep up the cherished custom.

During the past month her income had shriveled to where it would buy only the necessities for herself and Emma, her faithful servant. Through her scrimping or saving could even the modest gifts be sent to those whom she wished to remember.

Now, as she watched the whirling wheels of snow, she thought how lovely it would be to see the big room full of gaily tied packages, waiting to be sent on their various ways. Regretfully she pictured the disappointment of relatives and friends who would think she had forgotten they would never dream she had grown too poor to buy Christmas gifts; they all loved her too dearly.

With a heavy sigh she looked around the beautiful living room. The furnishings were luxurious; many of them had been in the family for generations. Suddenly a cry came from her lips; she had thought of a quick way to fulfill her desires. She would sell a few of the lovely old pieces. She would send for the proprietor of the antique shop without a moment's delay! Her Christmas gifts would be on their way tomorrow.

MANY TYPES OF HOLLY

HOLLY, so popular as a Christmas decoration, is most abundant along the bottom lands of eastern Texas and southern Arkansas. There are about 175 species of holly found throughout the world, the largest being the American holly which attains a height of 60 feet. The red-barked holly is most common, although some species bear yellow berries and others black.

Ancient German Christmas Ballad

Germany of ancient times believed that embryos of bread made at Christmas, and which fell on the ground, would grow into little star flowers with miraculous healing powers.

Santa Claus as Usual

"Santa Claus is coming around as usual in December," said Uncle Eben, "arguing to bring along enough good cheer to beat de tax collector."

Non-Christians and Christmas

Non-Christians frequently join in the social observance of the day. To them, it simply has no religious significance.

Christmas Cards Old Custom

The sending of Christmas cards by way of friendly greeting and remembrance has grown up since about 1800.

Christmas Puddings Made Round

Christmas puddings are made round so that they may go round.

Mr. Gandy Good Shopper, but Forgot Own Present

IT WAS simply out of the question for Mrs. Gandy to go to Bayville that morning. The day before Christmas and a thousand things to do, but Mr. Gandy was going. Of course he could do many errands, yet hardly the one she wished most to have done—a gift for himself. Bayville was the nearest shopping place to the tiny village where the Gandys lived, a good fifteen miles over the mountain, by a rickety bus which ran once a day.

Mrs. Gandy was struck with an idea. She hurried to a neighbor's house and begged her to come home with her. "Just ask Mr. Gandy if he will buy for you a pair of gloves, for your husband, give a large size. He'll never guess."

The neighbor obligingly consented. Mrs. Gandy felt well pleased with her bit of a scheme to get her husband to buy his own gift (unknowingly for himself), but she was a trifle dismayed when, at five o'clock, Mr. Gandy came home, tired, hungry and furnished an awful lot of packages on the kitchen table.

"You got the size for the dressing?" she asked. "The red toy truck for Tommy? The blue mittens for Sarah? The nuts and raisins, and the white wool for grandma?"

Mr. Gandy nodded and inquired how soon supper would be ready. "And," asked his wife casually, "the gloves for Andrew, his wife wanted?" Mr. Gandy stilled. "I clean forgot about them until the bus was ready to start! So I just hopped into a place and grabbed the first pair I saw. Good enough for old Andrew, I thought, but they aren't much." He grinned a little shamefacedly, like a boy.

Mrs. Gandy plunged down in a chair. "Bill Gandy, that serves you just right. Those gloves are a Christmas present from me to you. You are served with your own wares!" And she laughed so loud that Bill Gandy had to join her at his own expense.—Martha B. Thomas

Mothers' Night, Ancient English Christmas Name

THE oldest English name for Christmas is Mother's Night, or Mothers' Night. In the early days, when our Saxon forefathers had just settled down in the country that was to be England, the day of December 25th was given up to games and feasting, but the night was dedicated to the special honor of mothers. They occupied the seats of honor, and every child brought their gifts—sons and daughters who had gone out into the world, striving to be at home on that one night in the year.

A little later the name Yule was given to Christmas, and the celebrations of the day were prolonged into night, when their song and told stories sitting round the cheerful blaze of the Yule log.

The old custom of Mothers' Night gradually died out, though they still survive in a few parts of the country. Its place has been taken to some extent by Mothering Sunday in the North of England. On that day everyone who can do so still makes a pilgrimage homeward, and the mother receives the homage of her family.—London Times Magazine.

THE DAYS BEFORE

"What nice manners the polite little Thompson boys have!"
"Yes. They are always like that just before Christmas."

Proper Size for Toy Blocks

Four inches long by two inches square is a good size for children's building blocks, according to educational experts. These can be made at home by cutting them from a 2 by 2 planed joint, sandpapering the edges and corners to a slight roundness, and painting them in bright colors. Old worn blocks can be given a new lease on life by enameling them in gay hues.

Shakespeare and Christmas

Christmas is mentioned but twice by Shakespeare and then incidentally. Yuletide was, however, an important time in his life, because it was then that his plays were produced by command at the courts of Queen Elizabeth and James I. with Shakespeare in the cast.

Toys Should Please the Child

Select Christmas toys to please the child, not to amuse the adults in the family.

Will Purchase Farms for Resettlement

According to information recently received, the Resettlement Administration is considering the purchase of a limited number of farms in this locality for resettlement purposes. While it is not the intention to buy out established farmers it is proposed that every owner wishing to sell may have equal opportunity in offering his or her property for sale. Selection will be on a basis of appraisal and offering price.

R. G. Carr, State Director of Rural Resettlement, is in charge of this work for Michigan. He states that while offers to sell will be taken on a considerable number of farms, only a limited number will be purchased. This will give the government an opportunity to select suitable farms at a reasonable price. Where lands are found to be unsuitable to the program, because of price or other reasons, it will be impossible to give them consideration.

For these reasons, anyone wishing to sell their farm should decide what is the lowest price they would be willing to accept. This decision should be made before signing the offer of sale. No attempt will be made by the government to "dicker" or "jockey" on land value.

While offers will be accepted up to and including December 31, 1935, it is likely that owners wishing to offer their farms for sale would do well by not delaying too long before contacting the County Rehabilitation Supervisor and County Agricultural Agent for full particulars and the filing of their description and price.

Within a few days Gordon Brevoort, 312 Wolverine Building, Ann Arbor, and H. S. Osler, Court House, Ann Arbor, will have the forms on hand for acceptance of offers of sale on farms in this region.
