Yes, There Is a Santa Claus!

MANY YEARS AGO a little girl wrote to the editor of a great newspaper, saying: "Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says 'If you see it in the Sun, it's so.' Please tell me the truth: Is there a Santa Claus?"

So the busy editor wrote an editorial to restore the childish faith of this little girl and that editorial has become one of the most famous pieces of writing in the English language.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," he wrote. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

Your Home Town Newspaper believes, even as that famous editor believed, that there is a Santa Claus. It so believes because it serves a community in which "love and generosity and devotion exist" in the form of neighborliness, of friendly interest in each other's welfare, of sharing in each other's joys and sorrows, of close kinship in ideals and aspirations to make our community a better place in which to live.

And so at this season of the year, when love and generosity and devotion "abound and give to life its highest beauty and joy," we reaffirm our faith in our community and extend to each and every one in it our heartiest holiday greetings.

U. of M. Coach Speaks At Football Banquet

About 125 people, including 27 members of the Chelsea High football squad of 1935, attended the football banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis club and held at the public school auditorium Monday evening. The banquet was served at 6:30 by the Senior class.

E. W. Eaton, president of the Kiwanis club, presided as toastmaster at the program following the banquet, and introduced Moritz Brueckner, captain of the 1935 squad, who gave a short talk. This was followed by a few remarks by George Prinzing, captain-elect of the 1936 squad. Letters were then presented by Coach Harold Spaulding to 21 members of the 1935 squad.

The principal address of the evening was given by Walter Weber, assistant coach at the University of Michigan. Mr. Weber's talk was very inspiring, and he stressed five essentials for the success of any football team: Stamina, Speed, Smartness, Spirit and Skill.

Letters were presented the following players: Moritz Brueckner, Olin Hart, Dudley Foster, George Woods, Maurice Lyons, Alton Koenig, George Prinzing, Charles Bycraft, Harold Harrison, Harrie Blecker, Jr., Theodore Brueckner, Charles Bahnmiller, Lawrence Tisch, Donald Koebbe, Frederick Beiser, John Fletcher, Jr., David Strleter, James Birch, Roland Spaulding, Philip Novess, Lawrence Niehaus.

The following boys received honorable mention: Norman Niehaus, John Alber, Rollin White, James Daniels, Roy Ives and Bud Myers.

REPORT RIGHT WARD!

People of Chelsea are asked by Fire Chief Howard Brooks to show more care in reporting the correct ward when turning in a fire alarm. In a great many cases the wrong ward is reported to the telephone operator and consequent confusion results in trying to locate the fire. Mr. Brooks points out that the telephone operator has no time to hesitate and determine the ward when the call comes, and that the person calling should report correctly.

KIDDIES' PARTY FRIDAY

The annual American Legion Kiddies' Christmas Party will be held Friday night of this week at the public school auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock. All children in Chelsea and surrounding territory, 12 years of age and under, are invited to attend the party. Santa Claus will be there with a present for each child, and the children will be enjoyably entertained until he arrives.

US-12 WILL BE RELOCATED

Representatives from the state highway department are in this vicinity this week getting options on the land for the relocation of US-12, which will leave the present highway near M. L. Burkhardt's residence east of Chelsea and will return to the highway about three miles west of Chelsea.

PAPER LATER NEXT WEEK

Because of the Christmas holiday next Wednesday, The Standard will be published one day late, and will be in the mail Friday morning. We will appreciate the cooperation of our patrons in getting as much copy as possible, both news and advertising, to us on Tuesday.

Christmas Cheer --

Chelsea Scouts Hosts to Western District

Chelsea Boy Scouts were hosts to the other troops of the western district for a "Court of Honor" and "Scout-O-Roll" last Thursday evening at the public school gymnasium. About 65 Scouts, Scoutmasters, and troop committees were present, representing Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester and Bridgewater.

The program, under the direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Albert Johnson, consisted of the formal opening, the Scout-O-Roll, with events for the Scouts, such as knot-tying, first aid, etc., singing in charge of L. H. Azdell and yells led by Rollin White.

The Court of Honor was conducted by Walter MacPeck, Scout Executive of the Washtenaw-Livingston council. He presented ribbons for attendance, Chelsea receiving the red, denoting 75 per cent, and the other troops white, denoting 50 per cent. Second class cards in Scouting were presented James Daniels, John Fletcher, Jr., Rollin White, Archie Wilkinson, Jr., Victor Hindelang, and David Eaton. Tenderfoot cards were given Andy Policht and Ted Combs.

After the Court of Honor, a demonstration of Sea Scout marching and facings was given, under the direction of second mate Leo H. Azdell.

The Colosseum in Rome had been called the Flavian amphitheater, but came to be known as the Colosseum from the colossal statue of the Emperor Nero, which was near it. The statue of gilded bronze, was 117 feet in height.

PLYMOUTH—Cass S. Hough, of the Daisy Manufacturing company of Plymouth was last Friday elected president of the Toy Manufacturers of the United States, Inc., at the annual meeting of the organization held in New York city. The organization, consisting of a group of more than 300 prominent toy manufacturers of the United States with an output from their factories valued at more than $150,000,000, is the largest of its kind in the world. The election of Cass Hough to the presidency of such an important organization is itself an unusual honor, but coupled with this distinction is the fact that he is by far the youngest man ever elevated to the executive chair of the toy manufacturers of the country.—Mail.

DUNDEE—Monroe county is to have a new state police post, an answer to numerous local requests that additional state police protection be afforded this important gateway to the state. State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander announced plans for the new post today, which he said has been tentatively located on Telegraph road adjacent to the state road intersection at the Lakeside road intersection.—Reporter.

MASON—Mayor Arthur W. Jewett raises flowers and trees and has a very beautiful scenery. He could no longer stand the sight of the scrawny swamp spruce in the court yard so last week took a shovel and dug up two Norway spruce from his own forest and planted them in the court yard. The trees flank the walk at the main entrance to the county building. His children helped with the planting. It was just 10 years ago that the Kiwanis club and the Mason Women's club planted two spruce in the court yard. One soon sickened and died. The other, unfortunately, sickened but did not die and remained as an eyesore.—County News.

BROOKLYN—Barrack buildings of the CCC camp on the east line of the state park at Wampers Lake are being taken down and moved this week to a new location near a small lake called Mill Lake in the Waterloo area now being developed as a national park and recreational place. Thirty men and a dozen trucks are assigned to the task of removal. The buildings included barracks for 200 men, a mess hall and small headquarters building of fair wooden construction.—Exponent.

JACKSON—With 1,618 loads handled on the Michigan division in the course of 24 hours, last Thursday, freight business on the Michigan Central approached that of the peak production times in 1928 and 1929. Addition of two Lansing turn arounds, freight trains which run from Jackson to Lansing and return, daily, brings the facilities on the Jackson-Day City branch up to those of pre-depression days and makes a total of five trains each way between here and the capital city each day. Increased production schedules in the automobile plants of Lansing account for considerable of the increase in the freight office, it is said, although the improvement is general on all the Michigan branches. Passenger traffic increase is reported along with that of the freight business.—Evening Star.

Mrs. A. E. Wilson was hostess to the Women's Relief Corps on Wednesday evening, when the members entertained their husbands and friends at an enjoyable Christmas party. At 8:30 a delicious pot luck supper was served to about 50 guests at individual tables centered with American flags.

Singing of America and Auld Lang Syne opened the evening program, after which games and a guessing contest in charge of Mrs. J. Vincent Burg furnished amusement. Greetings of the season were followed by the Christmas carol "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." A reading, "The Night Before Christmas," revised, was given by Mrs. J. Nelson Dancer, and "The Night After Christmas," by Mrs. S. P. Foster. "Jingle Bells" was sung by the assembly and gifts were distributed. Singing of "Silent Night" concluded the program.

The S. P. I. held their weekly meeting and Christmas party on Monday evening at the home of Miss Lillie Wackenhut. Christmas carols were sung and roll call was answered by "Christmas experiences when I was a child." A piano solo was rendered by Mrs. Olga Strlester. Each member gave an article pertaining to Christmas, and "The Night Before Christmas" was recited in unison. Red, green and white balloons were given the members, in which were concealed rhymes telling where their gifts were to be found. Lunch was served at a table decorated with a Christmas house, Christmas trees and candles.

Health Items

Health Restored By Osteopathy

In 1874 Osteopathy, by demonstrating that most diseases have their origin within the body itself, made an important contribution to the science of disease prevention. It is now well known that a good circulation of blood is necessary to healthy tissue, and since the blood itself is the best germicide known, disease germs are powerless to do injury if the blood supply is normal.

It is the duty of the Osteopathic Physician as well as the Medical Physician to teach patients the laws of health but in addition the Osteopathic Physician removes the cause of the defective circulation of blood and lymph. He also removes any interference of nerve impulse in the body. The spinal area of the back contains most of these interferences. The discovery and development of this important field is claimed by the Osteopathic Profession.

The object of Osteopathic treatment is to correct structural defects, thus aiding the body to regain normal function. The method or manner of treatment depends upon the condition to be treated. Thus it should be understood that all curable diseases can be treated successfully by Osteopathic methods. There are many Osteopathic Specialists: Osteopathic Surgeons, Osteopathic Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, Heart and Lung Specialists, Specialists in Nerve and Mental Diseases and Specialists in women's and rectal diseases. There are also Specialists for many other conditions. There are Osteopathic Hospitals and Sanatoriums of all kinds.

Osteopathy is a complete system of healing.

Any reader having questions regarding Osteopathy may have them answered by addressing, Osteopathic Items, P. O. Box 881, Chelsea, Mich.

Christmas in Shanghai

WHEN Christmas comes to Shanghai, a cross-section of the world makes holiday. The average Chinaman falls to get the meaning of it, but such a fun-loving people can do well with one more celebration. So the Chinaman himself adds to the day with firecrackers and gift-giving, parties and the making of calls.

There is a distinct western touch to the observance of the season by this most cosmopolitan city. Shanghai's "social registries" start plans for dinners and dances as early as the middle of November; immediately reservations are checked off on the calendars of ballrooms and restaurants. The exact form of observance varies with the nationality divisions of the city. In the Russian section, the day is observed as it is on the steppes or in Moscow. The French greet Santa Claus in their own way, even though the wax dolls have to be brought far from the Champs Elysees. The Japanese prefer to make merry by drinking sake. The English must have their plum pudding and holly.

At the mission schools, where boys and girls are taught in separate classes, Christmas carols around the tree give modest school girls a chance not only of singing hymns but of "seeing him."

In interior China, however, most of the people prefer to celebrate their own Dragon-boat, Mid-Autumn, and New Year holidays rather than this "imported" one. They do not even try to understand these queer foreigners. To them December 25 is just another day—Frances Grimland.

Made Best of Worst of Christmas-Time Mishap

THE snow began nearly a week before Christmas and when the great day arrived, folks were trying to remember the time when it didn't snow in Morton City. Barnes, the only merchant, had put off getting his shopping supply so there were no gifts in town to be bought for love or money. But when news got about that the train down on the railroad siding was snowed down in Morton City, old and young sort of forgot about the lack of gifts.

Too, the president of the road with his party had a special car on the rear of the snowbound passenger, and wasn't that a great honor indeed? Folks got over the novelty of their visitors in time for the organization of a huge choir of carol singers that went down to the train and the porters and, of course, all the train men. They had remembered to take along a tree decorated with the makeshift ornaments they had on hand from previous years. But somehow, they made a great hit with all the strangers who joined heartily in the fun.

The passengers dove into their baggage and brought up boxes, boxes of candy, candy bars, tins, fancy soaps and bath salts, highly perfumed, beautiful towels and even lovely baby clothing, wearing apparel and jewelry. In fact, not a soul in the little settlement was without one of the impromptu gifts. The passengers received old-fashioned roasted fowls and all trimmings of a generous feast. What one hath not the other had, seemed the most terse explanation of the happy condition—Lucella B. Lyons.

May the Joys of the Yuletide

Be With You and Yours Throughout 1936

Nothing contributes more to the joy of living than the friendly greetings of fellow beings. The hand clasp, the smile, the cheery word of encouragement are the richest blessings and endure forever. That is the real reason for so much joy and happiness at Christmas time -- the time of good will and friendliness -- of fellowship and greetings and good wishes -- so why not extend this practice into the other days of the year -- and make every day as joyous and happy as Christmas day? That's our sincere wish for you and yours as we send you these Yuletide greetings.

We are Grateful to Everyone in This Community

For the Splendid Patronage We Have Received and Shall Strive Earnestly and Sincerely to Improve Our Service to Our Patrons and Our Community During the Coming Year!

To her surprise, she discovers, through a vision of the first Christmas, that he speaks the truth, for like the inn-keeper, she too has failed to find room in her Christmas plans for Jesus. She has missed the very Heart of Christmas. She finds this can only be accomplished by serving others.

Following is the cast:
Inn-keeper—Maynard Oesterle.
Modern young woman—Arlene Martin.

S. S. class officers—Helen Lehman, Billy Stierle, Edna Steinway.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I am writing to ask you what would happen if Italy conquers Ethiopia before the League of Nations pressure begins to function?
Ans.—This is problematical. But it is not a wild conjecture if not a probability that Italy would dethrone the present emperor, establish Haile Selassie Gugsa, the Ethiopian traitor, on the throne, and establish a protectorate over the empire, taking for their war indemnity a huge slice of the richest part of the country.

Ques.—What body of water does the Colorado River empty into?
Ans.—There are two separate and distinct "Colorado rivers" in the United States. One rises in Dawson County, Texas and empties into the Gulf of Mexico. The other rises near Boulder County, Colorado, and empties into the Gulf of California.

Ques.—Where are the Grampian Mountains?
Ans.—The Grampian Mountains are in north-central Scotland, the range running practically east and west.

Ques.—I was born April 7, 1895. What day of the week was that?
Ans.—April 7, 1895, was on Sunday.

Ques.—What do bacteria look like and are they useful at all?
Ans.—Bacteria are very small, translucent single-celled creatures usually with spherical or rod-like bodies. They are visible only with very powerful microscopes. They are very important in the destruction of waste matter; they are necessary in agricultural soils; they are essential in milk and food, and they assist greatly in digestion; many industrial operations, like tanning and tobacco curing, depend on them.

Ques.—Can you tell me what puts the shell on an egg?
Ans.—The shell of a hen's egg is a chemical product somewhat similar to bone. It grows around the egg inside the body of the hen before the egg is laid. Its purpose, of course, is to protect the egg when it is in the process of hatching.

Ques.—Where does the heat come from in an electric iron.
Ans.—An electric current is a stream of electrons rushing through a wire. The electrons jostle the molecules of the wire about more or less and this makes the wire hot. Inside an electric iron there is a coil or wire made out of a metal composition which can stand heat. The current goes through this coil and heats it. Then the hot coil of wire heats the iron.

Ques.—Where is Wales, with reference to England? Is it the counties of Devon and Cornwall?
Ans.—Wales comprises nine counties on the extreme western coast of England. The counties are: Anglesey, Carmarvon, Denbigh, Merioneth, Montgomery, Cardigan, Brecknock, Carmarthen and Pembroke.

Ques.—While walking on the street with two ladies isn't it proper to walk between them in order not to show any partiality? Your reply will settle a dispute. Thank you.
Ans.—No. The gentleman should always walk on the outside next to the curb. This act is merely a gesture for protection to the ladies.

Ques.—Why do dentists use gold mostly for filling teeth?
Ans.—They use gold for two reasons. First, gold will stick together by mere pressure, while most other metals have to be heated and welded. Second, gold never corrodes.

Ques.—Will you please tell me how poisons kill?
Ans.—Poisons work in many different ways. Some, like cyanide, destroy the power of the blood to carry oxygen. Others permeate the whole body and kill off the individual cells in some vital part of it. Nicholas, for instance, stops the working of the kidneys. Other poisons, like morphine and strychnine, attack the nervous system. There are two or three poisons, including snake venoms, that change the blood so that it clogs in the veins or so that the red corpuscles disintegrate.

His First Christmas

by
Earle Hooker Eaton

RING up the Pole and telephone
Without a moment's pause,
Or by the wireless make it known
To dear old Santa Claus,
That Papa's Boy and Mama's Joy,
And Sister's Precious Mite,
While glad bells clang will gaily hang
His stocking up tonight!

"Tingling, tingling, Hello, hello!
Is that you Santa, dear?
Is that you reindeer, dear, your 'Hoos!
If you are passing here,
What's that? You'll come and bring a drum—
A jumping-jack and ball,
And other toys for little boys?
Dear Santa, you're best of all!"

"Tis Christmas morn, and to his shop
Old Santa hopped and flew;
'Tis five o'clock, but open pop
'Tis baby's roguish eye.
He's dead for sleep, but out we creep,
And dress at once to get
What Santa kind, has left behind
For Tuddiekins, our pet.

From Pole to Pole there's surely not
A babe more pleased than he,
And how he crows, the happy too,
And gurgles in his glee.
The jumping-jack, the ducks that quack,
The drum, the horns, the ball,
The chicks that peep, the horse, the sheep,
He tries to eat them all!

On this his first glad Christmas morn,
The toys with blocks he pelts,
He makes old Noah with the Ark
And imitates somewhere else!
A soldier blue he breaks in two,
A puncture gives the drum,
He fills the air with legs and hair,
And then—he sucks his thumb!

The Sand-Man's surely come to town,
And soft is mummy's nap;
Clear up the wreck and smudge down,
'Tis time to take a nap.
Then rock-a-bye, close each blue eye,
Rest, my darling, rest!
(He's fast asleep, with baby sheep
Hugged tight against his breast!)

International Childishness

In February, 1934, at the first plen-ary meeting of the Inter-allied commis-sion and the Germans, a pretty farce was played out when the German chief insisted on opening the meeting in spite of the fact that the allies were imposing terms and the Germans ac-cepting them, a compromise on pro-cedure had to be made wherein the German and the allied delegations en-tered the council room simultaneously.

The brain is one of the fastest grow-ing parts of the human body. Under normal conditions, it has attained 90 per cent of its adult size at birth, 95 per cent at the end of two years, 98 per cent at the end of four years and its full growth at the end of six years.—Cottler's Weekly.

Moon Steadily Pulling on Crust of the Earth

If you grasp the middle of a rubber band drawn tightly between two fixed points and pull upward, the band will stretch and its length will be increased. Rubber is quite a different substance than solid rock, yet the latter is elastic to a certain degree and the moon is steadily pulling upward on that section of the earth's crust facing it, stretching it and increasing the distance between certain points on the earth's surface. This was revealed when discrepancies in astronomically checked time signals between Europe and America were noticed to have a relation to the moon's position. In-vestigations prove the distance be-tween the two continents varies as much as 31 feet, states a writer in Pathfinder Magazine. The attraction of the earth and the moon for each other, which causes this variation, also causes other phenomena. It is the force that causes ocean tides which in turn have acted as a brake on the moon's rotation until it spins on its axis only once a month, making us look always at its same side. Sci-entists tell us that eventually the same thing will happen to the earth and its day will become a month long. At a still later date this attraction will bring the moon crashing back into the earth whence, probably, it originally came.

Christmas is a bright, cheery holiday, but you can make it even brighter by illuminating. A gayly lighted Christmas tree by the door, and softly lighted wreaths in the window lend an air of welcome and geniality to your home. They seem to say, "There's a Merry Christmas within, stranger, won't you come in and help celebrate."

EDITED BY THE PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Basketball News

The Chelsea Reserves defeated the Milan Reserves, 24-19, Friday night. The game was the closest of all the games so far this season. The score at the half was tied at 11 all. The third quarter ended with the Milan squad in the lead by the barest of margins. The fourth quarter saw Chelsea back and forth, ending with Chelsea in the lead, 24-19. The high point man of the Chelsea squad was Laverne Niehaus. Capt. Meyers was second for the high point honors. This victory over Milan is the first of the Chelsea Reserves, after the two consecutive defeats at the hands of Michigan Center and Jackson Technical school.

The squad showed a vast improvement and are confident that this is just a starter. Here's hoping!

The Chelsea high regulars suffered their third defeat, by the Milan eagles, Friday night, 28-14. Bruckner, who played an important part in the defeat of the Chelsea football team last season, played a good game for the Milan team.

The Chelsea quintet has shown a tremendous improvement since the game with Michigan Center and are confident that they will win the Saline game, which will be played at Saline next Friday.

Milan led Chelsea at the half, 8-2. Chelsea failed to score but one point in each of the first two quarters of the game, scoring their remaining points in the last half. The failure of the Chelsea squad to score in the first half was an important factor in the victory by Milan. The high point man on the Chelsea squad was Hart.

Captain Lyons hopes, as do the rest of the squad, that they will be able to beat Saline. Good luck!

Maurice Lyons was elected captain of the team for the remainder of the year, at a meeting held last Friday.

Debate News

Due, no doubt, to the unlucky date on which it occurred, the Chelsea debaters lost on Friday the 13th a preliminary debate to Spring Arbor by a 2 to 1 decision. The Chelsea team, which supported the affirmative side of the question, Resolved: That the several nations should make a government monopoly of the manufacture and sale of all combat instruments of war, was made up of Eileen Adam, Fritz Strieter and Jean Blecker, accompanied by Miss Georg and Miss Gibson.

This was the first league debate in which the Chelsea team had participated for the first debate was won by a forfeit. The next debate will be held the first week after Christmas vacation. This time the Chelsea team will uphold the negative side of the question.

Win Contest

The final presentation of the Shakespearean declamation contest was given Friday afternoon and Jane Belser and Vincent Ives were the lucky ones to be chosen. Jane Belser gave Launcelot Gobbo's speech from "The Merchant of Venice." Vincent Ives gave Shylock's speech, also from "The Merchant of Venice." It was very hard to judge the winners for all contestants were excellent and each gave their speech with all the vigor and enthusiasm possible. The judges were Miss Hazard, Mr. Waskiewicz and Miss Gibson. The winners will have their names engraved on a plaque to be hung in study hall.

Annual Tea

The Journalism club's annual tea was held Thursday, December 12, at four o'clock, in the kindergarten.

The faculty of the high school and grade school honored us with their presence.

Our charming hostess was Jeanette Cook. After the luncheon there was much dancing.

To Mrs. Fletcher, for her lovely tea service, to Miss Boongaard and La Rue Wolf for furnishing the rhythm, the Journalism club gives a vote of appreciation.

Christmas Party

On Friday, December 20, at one o'clock, the kindergarten, through the sixth grade, are having a Christmas program in the gym. All mothers are invited to come and sit in the balcony.

Different grades will be singing special carols. Also songs will be sung together by all the grades.

There will be dancing around the Christmas tree. Later, presents will be given out.

Elementary News

Kindergarten

In one corner of our room we have a fireplace built. Our windows are decorated with leaves. On our bulletin board we have hung many Christmas posters.

Later, we have sung many Christmas songs. Last week we drew names for Christmas.

First Grade

We are going to buy a Christmas tree today. We will put a standard on it. We will put lights and trimmings on it too.

We drew names last week. We will put our presents under the tree.

Second Grade

This has been a busy and happy week. Every one has been present. Our work has been just fun.

We have been bringing toys to put with the Fifth Grade children's for the Red Cross. We like to do our bit.

Mrs. Dancer is reading us such a splendid Christmas story, "The Happy Forest." It tells all about the Christmas animals in the forest had.

We are looking forward to Santa's visit on Friday. We are going to sing our songs and frolic about the Christmas tree. Our mothers are invited to come and watch us.

Third Grade

We have three people receiving four perfect scores: Eva Geddes, Margery Umstead, and Phyllis Hopper. They were given blue stars.

Now we are busy decorating for Christmas. We would like to have all our mothers come to the program Friday afternoon.

Fourth Grade

We are all looking forward to our Christmas party Friday afternoon in the gymnasium. We are hoping our mothers will be there.

We are having a Christmas tree for our room. Eugene Aldrich is bringing one for us.

In our spelling last week we had twenty-five perfect scores and missed twenty-nine words. This was the best record we have had this semester.

We are sorry we are losing a friend and schoolmate, Ronald Gentner, who is moving to a new home in the country after Christmas.

We have a new flag in our room. Thirty people have brought their money for the Red Cross.

Joe Hale, Philip Vogel and Felix Holbrook made a Christmas scene in the sand table. They have wise men, shepherds, angels, Joseph, Mary, the baby and the inn and stable. We think they did well.

The following have had perfect morning inspection: Ruth Cooper, Dorothy Knickerbocker, Jean Christwell, Virginia Spaulding, Joyce Foster, Mary Koch, Jane Christwell, Doris Collins, Eva Harris, Barbara White, Elaine Schmidt, Eleanor Harper and Mary Christwell.

Fifth Grade

The workshop has been a busy place these days. All the toys are finished and ready for delivery.

In Geography we are especially interested in the States as groups. We have to learn them as groups as a foundation for the work which follows.

Robert Strieter was the first one to accomplish this; Luther Kusterer was second. We will publish other names next week.

Sixth Grade

We brought the surface map of Africa from the third grade building.

The first six grades are going to have a Christmas party Friday afternoon in the gym.

We wish to thank Mrs. Walworth for the Christmas pictures on our bulletin board.

The fast moving group are studying the British Lands from Cape Town to the Suez Canal.

The sixth grade are learning quotations to recite in the morning.

We are going to keep our spelling books at our desks. We think we can follow the directions correctly.

We are glad Miss Canfield is back. We have mailed up some suet, on the tree by our windows for the birds this winter. Some of the boys are going to make feeding boxes for them to feed out of.

We have a new library table with two chairs.

Our department chart is erased, and we hope we can keep it erased.

Joanne Meserva and Virginia Barr are making a new spelling chart for the room after Christmas vacation. We thank Miss Kern for the old spelling chart.

(Last week's news)

Our new monitors are as follows: Windows, Lillian; doors, Norman;

helper, Margaret Reed; bulletin board, Leonard Spiegelberg.

We are very glad Elva Flisk is back with us again.

Miss Boongaard is teaching us some new Christmas carols.

We are writing letters to each other in Language.

The Sixth grade had a very interesting story about United States mail. Lillian Allhouse told us about stamps. Lawrence Dietz was the postmaster and he told us about letters, packages, and how to address them—Lillian, Winifred, Robert and Edwin brought stamp books to school. We also had a page of Washington Memorial stamps. We have learned to address our mail so it will not be lost during the Christmas rush.

Boys and girls have been bringing pictures for our bulletin board.

We read a story about the West Wind Clipper Ship and now we are comparing it with the China Clipper. People in early days thought the West Wind Clipper went very fast. If those people were living now I'm sure they would think differently.

Editorial

How many times have you heard this phrase in the last few weeks of school: "One person to the library at a time. Will one of you please take your seat?" How exasperating it must be for our teachers to have to make this request day after day. Also our school library is not a visiting place although at times this is what we find it to be. It seems as though these personal affairs or visits could wait until a more convenient time, for it is quite disappointing for some who are waiting to obtain material for their class work to be delayed for such a long time.

Don't you think it would be more courteous to our student body, librarian and teachers if we would make our time there as brief as possible? Let us not unthinkingly use this privilege to a disadvantage for if it were gone it would be, by many, greatly missed.

Egg Regulations Go Into Effect Jan. 1st

Egg grading regulations which will assure quality products to the consuming public will go into effect in Michigan January 1, Commissioner of Agriculture, James F. Thomson, announced this week.

The regulations call for four grades of eggs, Fancy, and Grades A, B and C. The regulations are similar to those issued some time ago but later rescinded, except that the license fee feature has been eliminated under the new plan. Permits to deal in eggs will be issued free of charge by the department of agriculture.

"Michigan is the forty-first state in the union to adopt egg grading regulations," Thomson declared. "It is an advanced step and will tend to stop the traffic in inedible eggs. Grades are set up strictly on a quality basis. The sale of eggs by weight is not required under the new regulations, but is advocated to a certain extent."

At the same time Commissioner Thomson has issued additional egg grading regulations under which eggs can be sold under the Michigan Bonded Farm Produce Plan. Only the two highest grades can qualify for sale under this program, which was set up some time ago by the department of agriculture. The bonded program applies to Michigan eggs only, and will carry a bonded label supplied by the department of agriculture, which assures the consuming public that the eggs are of two grades. Under the bonded plan fancy grade eggs must be of uniform size and the weight not less than 22 oz. to a dozen.

With surrounding states having egg grading regulations Michigan has become the dumping ground for all eggs that have failed to meet the requirements in these states, the Commissioner pointed out. The new regulations in Michigan will prevent this practice, the commissioner pointed out. The new regulations in Michigan will prevent this practice, the commissioner pointed out. The new regulations in Michigan will prevent this practice, the commissioner pointed out.

"There is no reason why a consumer should not be able to go into a store in Michigan and buy eggs that are known to be up to grade. The department of agriculture is going further than this, in showing the public that they can get the highest quality eggs all of a uniform size with the distributor bonded with the state."
