Legion Presents Gifts to Community Kiddies

"For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to promote peace and good will on earth; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 91 of The American Legion of Chelsea, in carrying out its Americanism program again demonstrated a part of this unselfish constitution of The American Legion at the Kiddies' Christmas Party held in the public school auditorium last Friday evening when they were the host to four hundred children of this community. Through the efforts of the local Legionnaires four hundred little hearts were gladdened in this annual event. More than two hundred parents also were in attendance to witness the party.

A suitable gift was given to each child under twelve years of age and entertainment lasting nearly two hours were the high lights of the evening, to say nothing of the actual appearance of Santa Claus in person.

Mr. Schaumann, an accordionist of Ann Arbor ably entertained the children with musical selections as did The Strolling Guitarists, a local group of musicians. Through the courtesy of The Michigan Bakeries, "The Sunshine Girls" showed movies to the youngsters and later gave each child a delicious cinnamon roll.

The auditorium was beautiful with Legion decorations overhead, while at either side on the stage was a lighted Christmas tree. Across and in front of the stage were juniper boughs entwined with Christmas tree lights which gave a very pleasing effect.

The Legionnaires have expressed the hope that at this season of the year they did their part "to promote peace and good will on earth."

ADAM KALMBACH

Adam Kalmbach, life-long resident of Sylvan township, died at 7:30 Sunday morning, December 22, after a brief illness.

He was born February 8, 1859, in Chelsea, the son of Adam and Caroline Kalmbach.

He is survived by the widow, Helen Ellanboth; a brother, John Kalmbach of Chelsea, and four sisters, Miss Ricka Kalmbach, Mrs. Fred W. Notten and Mrs. Tena Riemenschneider of Sylvan township, and Mrs. Rudolph Kewzag of Syracuse, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church, with Rev. F. D. Mumby officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

WILL HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Altar Society Christmas party is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Burg on Friday night, December 27. Pot luck supper at 6:30. Bring table service and a 10c gift. The men are invited.

CHELSEA PRETTILY DECORATED

Chelsea has been a place of beauty during this glorious Christmas season!

The homes with their beautiful outdoor lighting, the lovely tree on the school lawn, and the decorated trees in the business section, surpassing any decoration of previous years, have all contributed toward making the village a very attractive place.

Large crowds of shoppers have visited the stores and holiday purchases will show a decided gain as compared with recent years.

A number of Christmas baskets were distributed by the Red Cross, fraternal and church organizations, and it is believed that everyone in the community had a very merry Christmas.

CELEBRATE 63rd ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Jenks of Lima township quietly celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary on Wednesday, entertaining as dinner guests, Mrs. Viola Peatt and cousin, Chauncey Goodrich of Dexter. Mr. Jenks was born March 4, 1851, on the farm where for 84 years he has made his home, while Mrs. Jenks, formerly Harriet Tallman, was born in Sharon township September 9, 1850. They were married December 25, 1872. Both are in good health and Mr. Jenks is still active about his farm.

SING CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The Girl Scouts, instead of having their regular meeting on Monday evening, donned their snow suits, mittens and mufflers, and with their captain sang Christmas carols in different sections of the village, trying in particular to remember the shut-ins. They were treated royally with Christmas goodies. Before they went home Captain Gertrude Hindelang and Lieut. Ruth Fletcher treated them to hot chocolate and wafers. The singing of Christmas carols has become a custom with the Girl Scouts and to hear their clear, sweet voices makes the Christmas season one to be remembered.

KIWANIS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Kiwanians entertained their wives at a Christmas party in their club rooms on Monday evening. A bounteous pot luck supper was served at tables decorated in red and green, with balsam twigs and silver coated Christmas trees. Candles placed along the center of the tables furnished the illumination. Paul F. Niehaus led in the singing of Christmas carols, with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano, after which President E. W. Eaton introduced the speaker of the evening, Vice-Pres. F. D. Mumby, who gave an interesting talk on the "Spirit of Christmas." President-elect Bruce I. Plankell responded with greetings, and a sleigh-ride party for Kiwanians and their wives in the near future was discussed. Mrs. J. L. Fletcher was chairman of the menu committee, assisted by Mrs. Warren Daniels, Mrs. E. W. Eaton and Mrs. B. I. Plankell.

TO OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Boyce will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 29th. They will hold open house from 4 a. m. to 6 p. m. and will be glad to have friends and relatives call.

New Highway Planned for Washtenaw County

Under the Federal Works Relief program, approval of $8,500,000 has been given by the state in their planning for a unified system of scenic and national tourist highways. Although there is no definite assurance of early construction, the projects gaining approval include a great new link in the proposed Chicago-to-Port Huron highway, calling for 27 miles of new road running diagonally through Washtenaw county. Leaving the present Jackson road a mile east of Lima Center, the new route, already surveyed, cuts northeasterly across the northern half of the county to the county line near the corner of Livingston and Oakland counties, south of South Lyon.

Under plans announced by the state highway department, 1,156 men would be employed for a year on the relocation in this county, with an expenditure of $1,022,417. When the new pavement was laid this year on US-12, a concrete spur for the proposed Port Huron road was included at its intersection with the Dancer road in Lima township. As planned, the right-of-way will cross the Huron river a little to the east of Dexter and intersect US-23 north of Ann Arbor, near the present junction with North-Territorial road.

Short Circuit Puts Chelsea In Darkness

With the exception of the street lights Chelsea was in darkness for more than four hours Monday night when a short circuit cut off the current. The lights were out before 7:00 o'clock and the trouble was not located until after 11:00 o'clock. It was finally discovered that the trouble was caused by a short circuit in one of the lightning arrestors and when they were all disconnected the lighting system functioned perfectly. It is believed by workmen from the municipal light plant that the defective arrester is in the vicinity of the Methodist Old People's Home.

Considerable inconvenience resulted from the unavoidable disruption in electric service, as all stores were open that evening and those not equipped with emergency gas lights used candles in order to provide light to carry on their business. All automatic heating plants, both oil burners and stokers, were of course out of commission and caused much discomfort because of the severely cold weather. The Christmas program at the Congregational church was presented under difficulties caused by the lack of heat and lights.

NOTICE TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE CHELSEA STATE BANK

Please plan to attend the annual stockholders' meeting to be held in January, 1936. It will be to your interest not to send in your proxies but to attend the meeting in person. This is your bank. Things of importance will be brought up at this meeting.

Gold and War
Gold and the Mexican war making California a part of the United States. Not long after the declaration of war on Mexico, American forces in California hoisted the United States flag and the area was formally ceded to this country on February 2, 1848, under the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. The territory that now includes Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, and part of Colorado, receiving in return a cash payment of $10,000,000.

Japanese Renaissance
Perhaps the world's most astonishing revolution began in 1868, when Japan began recasting her Middle Ages feudal empire into a modern nation. Englishmen were brought in to create a navy and build railways and light houses; Frenchmen to recast the laws and train the army; Americans to organize education and the postal service; Germans to train medical men and organize local government.

The year 1935 is now history. No wish of yours or ours could possibly change it. However, let us hope for you and yours a better, more prosperous 1936, bringing you health and happiness to the fullest extent.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MASON—Between 600 and 700 feet of county road in Section 8 of Bunkerhill township disappeared last week. It dropped from 25 to 40 feet to what is believed to be the bed of an ancient lake. It is estimated that at least 35,000 cubic yards of filling dirt will be needed to repair the damage. The dropping of the highway and the placing of filling dirt has caused the muck pasture land on each side of the road to rise between five and six feet. Soundings taken in the middle of the sink hole show that what was a highway a few days ago is now 40 feet below the surface. About 200 feet in the center of the stretch of highway went to the bottom. Another 250 feet on each end has settled gradually and can still be traveled safely.—County News.

HOWELL—A Milford grocer last week received a big cheese—305 lbs.—made especially for him by the Armour Company. It required two husky men to lift it.—Republican Press.

STOCKBRIDGE—Some twenty or twenty-five dollars worth of muskrats have disappeared from legally set traps in the vicinity of the village since the season opened a few weeks ago. Traps have also been broken by the thieves.—Brief-Sun.

PINCKNEY—The Detroit Edison has most of the poles up on the line they are building west of Pinckney on M-36 to Anderson and beyond, and soon expect to have most of the houses connected up for lights and power.—Dispatch.

DEXTER—Four contracts for the addition to the Dexter schools were awarded, subject to Government approval, by the Board of Education last Friday afternoon. The lowest bid for an auditorium was $25,000.00, and the contract figures leave but $8,000.00, which will practically eliminate this part of the work unless added grants can be obtained. The general contract was awarded to W. Knapp, of Monroe, with a bid of $92,031.18. The contract was awarded for the plumbing to Hutzel & Co. of Ann Arbor for $4,825.00 and Eames & Brown of Pontiac were the successful bidders on the heating plant at $18,304.00. L. C. Rice of Ann Arbor was awarded the electrical contract for $2,412.00. The four contracts total $57,162.18.—Leader.

GRASS LANE—The federal road commission has recently placed six traffic signs at the east and west outskirts of the village limiting speed to 35 miles while four with a 20 mile limit are located nearer the business section.—News.

MANCHESTER—Last Tuesday, December 10 examinations were held for applicants for the position of postmaster of Manchester. There were five applicants, Carl Wuerthner, Geo. Merriman, Charles Walts, Bert Lowery and Royal Davitder, present for the quiz. The present postmaster's term expires February 1, 1936 and it has been announced that successful candidate will be announced in January.—Enterprise.

GRANDPA'S MEMORIAL CHRISTMAS
Christmas Cheer is here again my dear,
The cards of greeting gleam with Pictured scenes of long ago.
They bring a pleasant memory Of ice and snow, the jingle bells, The Tallyho with coach and four That galloped over hill and moon and past our door—
We had a counterpart with them when we were young,
Before the setting sun had cast its shadow
These antique pictured scenes were real.
How changed—but memories of those days remain a charm so strong,
We almost listen in our dream to hear The Christmas jingle bells of long ago.
—Arthur Carlton, M. E. Home.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—I notice in the Ethiopian news that the word "ras" is used very frequently with reference to men of that country. Can you explain what that means?
Ans.—"Ras" is a title in the Ethiopian language, meaning head, high, leader, commander, etc.
Ques.—What is the meaning of "delta"?
Ans.—There is more than one meaning to "delta." Therefore, you should be a little more explicit as to the sense in which the word is used. First, "delta" is the fourth letter of the Greek alphabet, corresponding to the Roman "D"; second, "delta" is the alluvial tract of land at the mouth of a river and frequently covering a considerable area. For instance, the delta of the Mississippi covers 12,000 square miles. Deltas are alluvial deposits formed on open coasts, more commonly in bays and lakes, and occasionally where one river joins another; third, the pharynx, the mouth passage and the nasal passage taken collectively, is known as a delta; fourth, a delta is the closed figure produced by connecting three coils or circuits of electricity, successively, and for end, as in a three-phase system.
Ques.—I wish to ask if there is such an organization, fraternal society, etc. known as the "Red Star"?
Ans.—Yes. The Red Star is an international organization for the betterment of animals. It originated in Switzerland and has engaged in campaigning against the neglect and abuse of live stock, and against bull-fighting, cruel methods of trapping, etc.
Ques.—I was born on February 4, 1898. What day of the week was that? And was it an unlucky day?
Ans.—You were born on Saturday, that being the day of the week of Feb. 4, 1898. The lucky or unlucky angle is a matter of superstition.
Ques.—When there is a huge rainbow seen arched in the sky does that rainbow go clear around the earth?
Ans.—No. A rainbow is formed by the refraction and reflection of the sun's rays in drops of rain. Rainbows are localized and not seen at any great distance from the area where the refraction and reflection takes place. As the raindrops cease to fall through the sun's rays the rainbow will fade out.
Ques.—I am told that if a cannon is fired there is no sound if there are no ears to hear it. Can you explain?
Ans.—If there are no ears to hear

What is Osteopathy?
It happens quite often that an Osteopathic Physician will treat patients that are afflicted with lumbago, a stiff neck or a sprained ankle and strange as it may seem it does happen many times that these same patients think that the Osteopathic Physician is limited to the treatment of these conditions. If the patient has this impression it is because he is new to Osteopathy. He evidently never had the subject explained to him and he assumes that since an Osteopathic Physician is an anatomy expert he only treats those conditions that involve joints.
There is a good reason for this idea. The Osteopathic Physician has had outstanding results in many cases of long-standing after other kinds of doctors have failed to give relief. People have left their usual doctors and because the Osteopathic Physician has given them relief, they get the notion that an Osteopathic Physician treats nothing else. So, it must be understood that an Osteopathic Physician in addition to his training in anatomy is taught all subjects covered in any school of medicine. The adjustment of anatomical abnormalities occupies a prominent part in his training because these maladjustments affect the organs and other parts of the body through their interference with the nerve, blood and lymph supply to those parts.
Any reader desiring information regarding Osteopathy may obtain such information, without obligation, by writing to Osteopathic Items, P. O. Box 331, Chelsea, Michigan.

Bathtubs Once Banned
About a century ago a nation-wide fight was raging in the United States over bathtubs. Ohio, Pennsylvania and some other states had passed laws forbidding the installation of a bathtub in any home because they were considered a menace to health. Physicians warned the people against the intemperate habit of bathing once a week and exposing themselves to pneumonia. In spite of all this opposition, it was estimated 1,000 bathtubs were in use in the United States in 1835.—Capper's Weekly

Cheer Up

There's A New Year Starting For All Of Us
There's something about the start of a New Year which fills all of us with cheerfulness and a determination to do every job just a little bit better than in the year gone by . . . to avoid the mistakes made in the past . . . to work hard and industriously to make this the best year of all.
There's a lot of meaning in those two little words, "Cheer Up" . . . if we'll think of them every day, and try our best to keep cheerful all of the time around our friends and business associates, we'll certainly do our share towards making the year 1936 a happy and successful one.

After the program Santa Claus came and distributed candy and oranges to the children and other gifts to the children and parents.

The teacher was well remembered with a great many lovely and useful gifts from her pupils and friends.

SAVAGE SCHOOL NOTES

Savage school student very capably entertained approximately 60 neighbors, friends and relatives with their Christmas program December 20 at 8 o'clock.

The delightful program was announced by Ruth Bauer, a fifth grade student. The program was as follows: "A Welcome," by Ruth Bauer; "A Christmas Poem," Jean Bauer; "If I Were Santa's Little Boy," Robert Venner; "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," by school; "Christmas At Our House," Phyllis Weber; "Upon the Roof" (duet) by Richard and Robert Venner; "The Christmas Toyshop," a play in which each student was represented; "Long, Long Ago," Richard Venner; "Christmas Thoughts," Paul Bauer; "The First Noel," by school; "O' Coway They Would," Thomas Franklin; "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," Edward Visel; "Jingle Bells," as interpreted by the Beginners; Richard Butcher, Paul Bollinger and Thomas Franklin; "Christ-Carol," Ruth Bauer; "The Night Before Christmas," Mary Kathryn Weber; "The Christmas Stockings," an Indian play characterized by Ruth Bauer, Richard and Robert Venner; duet by the Venner twins; "Christmas," Mary Kathryn Weber; solo, by Paul Bollinger, accompanied by Rosemary Bollinger at the organ; "Christmas Story As Told in Bible," read by Richard Venner; "A Christmas Poem," Robert Venner; "The Largest Stocking," Paul Bollinger; "It Will Be Queer," Jean Bauer; "Cradle Hymn," sung by Jean Bauer, Ruth Bauer, Mary Kathryn Weber, and Phyllis Weber; "A Modest Wish," Richard Butcher; "Christmas Letters," by school; "I Have to Push This Baby Cart," playlet by Robert Venner; "A Don't," Leroy Bauer; "Silent Night," by school and audience, and the good-night, spoken by Richard Butcher.

By a request from some of the parents a group of five boys sang a few action songs, namely, "Come On, School Folks," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," and "It Isn't Any Trouble."

Santa Claus was joyfully received after the program, and cleverly distributed the enormous number of gifts from the Christmas tree. Lewis Schneider characterized this part excellently.

While the gifts were distributed, popcorn and candy were served to the guests.

Later in the evening the audience requested more action songs and duets, and these were presented by the school, and the duets by the Venners.

The program, which was presented under the guidance and leadership of the teacher, Miss Lonetta Gale, was extremely successful and immensely enjoyed by the audience.

Christmas Tree Cutting No Cause for Worry

As a deforestation factor in Michigan, the cutting of Christmas trees annually during the pre-holiday season is negligible, believes E. C. Mandenberg, in charge of orchard and nursery inspection for Michigan Department of Agriculture.

"As a rough, but I believe fair estimate, I would say that somewhere between 700,000 and 1,000,000 Christmas trees are cut in Michigan each winter," Mandenberg said. "Probably no more than a half-million trees actually are used within the state, the surplus of several hundred thousand being burned or thrown away."

"Many persons doubtless will disagree with these estimates as the matter unquestionably is debatable. Any estimate, at best, can be only a guess."

Mandenberg does not think that the cutting of spruce, balsam, pine or cedar trees for Christmas tree purposes is of so great a consequence as people generally believe. An especially regrettable feature, however, is the destructive manner in which the trees are frequently cut, he says.

"All of the trees annually cut in Michigan could be grown on a good-size southern Michigan farm. There are Christmas tree plantations in the state that are growing 4,800 trees to the acre."

At one time Mandenberg administered the law which required shippers in Michigan to have their trees inspected. This law has been repealed. Thousands of Christmas trees are shipped into the state each holiday season from Canada, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Idaho, Washington and California.

JERUSALEM SCHOOL NEWS

The school month of December closed for the Jerusalem school Friday, December 20, 1935. The Christmas program was held at the school Monday evening, December 23.

The following pupils have been neither absent nor tardy during the month of December: Joyce Hoffman, Arlene and Wilma Koengeter, Arthur and Marian Schiller, Robert, Doris and Clara Trinkle, and Billy Stierle.

The room is decorated appropriately for the holiday season. There are wreaths in the windows.

The sandbox has two scenes in it. One is of Eskimos, about which the children have been studying. They also made a booklet of poems, clippings and stories of Eskimos. The other scene in the sandbox is the scene of the first Christmas.

The school has a new piano, which is very much enjoyed by all.

A new picture "Sistine Madonna" has been added to the picture study book.

The children sold $1.65 worth of Christmas Seals.

The children have been busy making gifts for their parents, practicing for the program and making invitations.

We have our colonial picture book up now.

There are a few more stars shining on the Golden Star Book Club chart.

"Beauty Chemistry" Old Trick to the Egyptians

Grand ladies of the world's oldest civilization painted their faces green before attending the court functions. L. E. Warren, United States Department of Agriculture chemist, told a gathering of the American Chemical society.

The Egyptian chemists appear to have mastered "beauty chemistry." The girls declared the speaker, used ground malachite, a green copper ore, mixed with hippopotamus fat, to give their cheeks a "fresh grass" look. They also painted their eyebrows black with a mixture of mercury sulphide and antimony sulphide. This mixture is poisonous.

Egyptian priests, Warren said, possessed a stock of more than 800 different drugs for use as medicines and poisons, forty of which, 3,500 years later, are stocked by modern drug stores.

Sumo Wrestling Old Sport

The first Japanese Sumo-wrestling match took place in 23 B. C. and the winner was Sukune, who has ever since been regarded as the titular deity of Japanese wrestlers. Sumo is the national sport of Japan and for nearly 2,000 years Japanese wrestlers have been carefully bred. The daughter of a wrestler is allowed to marry none but a wrestler and a wrestler is allowed to marry none but the daughter of a wrestler. This has resulted in a breed of very large and powerful, though fat, men. Sumo wrestlers of 5 feet 3 inches in height often scale upward of 900 pounds. It is considered a great advantage in this type of wrestling to be so large around that the opponent cannot get his arms completely around one.

Copenhagen, the City of Spiree

There are so many spires and towers in Copenhagen, Denmark, that the capital of the Dunes has been called the "City of Spiree." The tallest spire surmounts the city hall. The Broserovike is also famous for this feature, which has a curious spiral design. Then there is the notable Round tower, originally intended as an observatory, which is ascended by a very wide spiral road, up which a horse and carriage can be easily driven.

The Evil Eye

The evil eye superstition has been found in all parts of the world and in all races.

Franco-British Peace Plan Collapses and Hoare Resigns—Benes Elected President of Czechoslovakia—Christmas Pay for WPA Workers.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

Western Newspaper Union

IT really was intended to bring about peace between Italy and Ethiopia, the plan proposed by British Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare and Premier Laval of France turned out a dismal failure. The storm of opposition to the scheme which would give Mussolini two-thirds of the African country as a reward for stopping an attack that was denounced by the League of Nations, brought the British and French governments to the point of collapse. To save the Baldwin cabinet, Hoare resigned on the eve of a parliamentary battle in the house of commons and it was believed the government thus would be able to win a vote of confidence. Hoare was made the goat for the entire ministry shared the responsibility of the peace plan.

In Paris Edouard Herriot, member of the cabinet without portfolio, resigned as president of the powerful Radical-Socialist party—winning support is needed by Laval to maintain his majority in the parliament. Herriot's action, in the opinion of some observers, presaged Laval's early downfall. Hoare's position became untenable when he learned that the peace plan was about to be buried at Geneva. Capt. Anthony Eden, probably never enthusiastic for it, publicly repudiated the scheme in a public meeting of the league council. Laval also spoke, more reservedly, declaring that even if the plan were rejected, the council must continue to seek conciliation. After the session, however, he admitted to French newspaper men that the plan, for the time being at least, is dead.

The council received from Addis Ababa a note in which Emperor Haile Selassie bluntly accused Great Britain and France of having violated the league covenant by seeking to impose upon Ethiopia a prearranged control by Italy with the certain aim of entrusting to Italy the administration of the capital and a large part of the territory. The League of Nations in consenting to lend itself to such a discussion would violate Article 10 of the covenant.

In view of all the opposition, and of Mussolini's hint that he would reject the proposals, the league council killed the plan entirely, softening its action by formally thanking Great Britain and France for their "prudent and earnest efforts" toward peace. A permanent committee of 13 councilors—all but the Italian member—was named to study the Italo-Ethiopian crisis. Dispatches from the front said a great battle was in progress in the Takkaze river sector and that the Italians, after repulsing a strong attack by the Ethiopians, were retreating with a vigorous counter movement. A large force of natives was reported to be ambushed in a mountain pass, and the Italian officers declared few would escape. Losses on both sides were heavy.

WHEN Thomas Masaryk, founder of Czechoslovakia and president of the republic since its creation, resigned because he was eighty six years old and wearied by his labors, he recommended that the parliament elect as his successor Edvard Benes, who was Masaryk's co-worker for establishment of the republic and has been its only minister of foreign affairs. This advice was followed, Benes being chosen by a vote of 340 out of 440 votes. There were 24 votes for Prof. Bohumil Nemec, leader of the pro-Fascists, and 76 abstentions. The Sokols, organization of sportsmen, and the war veterans, supported Benes unanimously, and his victory was hailed as a triumph for democracy. A general reorganization of Czechoslovakia's diplomatic representation abroad will follow the election of the new president. Jan Masaryk, son of the former president, will be recalled from London to act as chief of Benes' chancellery. The minister in Washington, Dr. F. Veveřka, is scheduled to move on to London.

Benes, who is fifty one years old, has had a brilliant diplomatic career. One of the ablest statesmen was the creation of the little entente, whereby Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania stand together in central Europe. He also achieved an alliance with France.

UNLESS Eugene Talmadge, the fiery governor of Georgia, changes his mind, the Democratic national convention isn't going to be the mere Roosevelt renomination love-feast that administration supporters had intended. It should be. Talmadge went to Washington and there boldly announced that he would be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. He declared the Democrats would lose the election if they put Roosevelt at the head of their tick parade, and denounced the President as an "insurer" in the party. The governor also announced that a convention of the "southern Jeffersonian Democracy" would be held in Atlanta the last week in January for the purpose of formulating a program to battle the New Deal and President Roosevelt.

He added: "The southern and border states have 400 votes in the Democratic national convention. It takes but 307 votes to block the nomination of a President. We are going to bring a lot of delegates to that convention."

CHRYSLER is the place and June 1 is the date selected for the Republican national convention of 1936. The national committee heard arguments on behalf of Chicago, Kansas City and Cleveland, and then decided on the Ohio city, largely for political reasons. Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas and Col. Frank Knox of Chicago both being potential candidates for the nomination. It was thought wise to hold the convention in neutral territory. Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, vice chairman of the committee, was made chairman of the committee on arrangements. Delegates to the convention will number 1,007, or 187 fewer than in 1932.

The national committee concluded its session with an invitation to conservative Democrats to join with the Republicans in the effort to oust the Roosevelt administration.

FRANCIS C. WALKER, one of President Roosevelt's strongest supporters, has resigned as executive director of the national emergency council. He will retire to private life, but it is understood he will return to the service of the government as soon as his personal affairs permit. This is taken to mean that he will be appointed postmaster general when James A. Farley relinquishes that post to take over the President's re-election campaign, probably early in the new year.

Lyle C. Anderson, who has been solicitor for the SEC since last May, was named to succeed Walker and is already in charge of the council. In his letter of resignation to the President Walker said that he regretted that some of the men in business and industry were impatient with New Deal recovery programs but expressed himself certain the great mass of the country was wholeheartedly behind the President.

WORKS Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins issued an order that under happy conditions 1,000,000 workers under his unit. "I desire that every regular WPA pay check earned be in the hands of the worker by Dec. 24," Hopkins said in telegraphed instructions to state program directors. "The law does not permit advance payments, but no effort should be spared to deliver checks due by Christmas eve. "Overtime work by administrative employees handling pay rolls should be delayed where necessary and control service should be arranged if necessary to overcome transportation delays caused by congestion in the mails."

President Roosevelt entered on a new round of conferences on the relief program to be provided for in the budget for the fiscal year beginning next July. New Deal officials associated with relief were summoned to the White House to offer suggestions for keeping the relief program down so that the administration can point to budget balancing efforts in the 1936 campaign. Plans for organizing the Civilian Conservation Corps on a smaller but permanent basis were discussed with Robert Fechner, CCC director, and a group of cabinet officers.

CALEB J. MILNE IV of Philadelphia, a young heir to a textile fortune, who was abducted for ransom, was found bound and gagged five miles from Buckingham, Pa., where he had been thrown from an automobile. It was reported that relatives had paid $25,000 for his release. Milne was too weak from hunger and exposure to tell a connected story when found. Department of Justice agents were on the trail of the kidnappers and it was believed the gang would soon be rounded up.

POPE Pius conferred red hats on sixteen new cardinals in a public consistory at St. Peter's in Vatican City. Four others received their red hats at their managements. These twenty bring the sacred college to within two of its full numerical strength for the first time in many years.

DISPITE the riotous opposition of students and other youth of Peking, the Hoped-Chahar political council, supported by Japan, took over the affairs of the autonomous North China provinces, with Gen. Sung Chieh-yuan as its chairman. That gentleman in his first official announcement declared the opposition demonstrations were being promoted by communists, against whom he would take drastic action. General Sung said he would do his best to promote good relations with neighboring countries "which treat us with equality and reciprocity" (Japan and Manchukuo). He declared his intention to "revive China's traditional virtues, and to develop and spread oriental culture."

JAMES A. REED, former senator from Missouri and long one of the more prominent Democrats, is another who will not support Franklin D. Roosevelt for re-election. He said in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, that if the President were renominated he was prepared to vote for the Republican nominee provided the latter is pledged to stand by the Constitution and American fundamentals.

DICTATOR of Venezuela for twenty-seven years, during most of the time president of the country, Gen. Juan Vicente Gomez died in Caracas of an old malady at the age of seventy-eight years. The cabinet named Gen. Blas Lopez Contreras, minister of war, as provisional president to hold office until his successor is elected by congress. While Gomez was buried on the anniversary of his death, Gomez was buried on the anniversary of his death.

Gen. Gomez's assumption of power in 1909. On that day he executed a coup d'etat by which he seized the government while President Cipriano Castro was in Europe seeking health. During his regime there were many incidents of revolts but he crushed them all with an iron hand, and even when the presidential chair was occupied by others his control of the government was absolute.

Among Gomez's greatest contributions to Venezuela were the establishment of friendly relations with foreign nations and peace within the country, the building of a fine system of automobile highways, and development of natural resources. He made the most of the great petroleum deposits at Lake Maracaibo, granting many concessions to foreign oil companies, but placing an export tax on oil. The industry in Venezuela grew until it now holds third rank in the world.

MONTREAL university, the famous Montreal institution, under its new president, Arthur Eustace Morgan of England, is entering the youth movement. Twelve of its professors who are over sixty-five years of age have been notified that they must retire at the end of the present school year.

Resentment against the action was indicated. Prof. Stephen Leacock, head of the department of political economy, humorist, and writer, who was one of those affected by the retirement order, made this terse statement: "I have plenty to say about the governors of McGill putting me out of the university. But I have all eternity to say it in. I shall shout it down to the mud."

IN A special election in Michigan's Third Congressional district Vermer W. Main, Republican, was victorious over Howard Cavanagh, Democrat. Main is tentatively in favor of the Townsend plan but attributed his victory to opposition to the New Deal. The result was nothing much for the Republicans to crow over, for the district is normally heavily Republican.

THE eighth of the reciprocal trade agreements has been concluded with Honduras. It was signed at Tegucigalpa but must be ratified by the Honduran congress and confirmed by President Roosevelt. The agreement provides for duty reduction on 17 commodities exported by the United States to Honduras and assurance against increases on 20 others.

Among the concessions by Honduras on United States exports are reductions in duties on smoked hams, shoulders, bacon, and sausages, and on canned meats, except salted and corned beef, by from one-third to one-half; reduction of the rate on butter by two-thirds; lowering the rate on evaporated milk by one-half and those on condensed and dried skinned milk by one-third. Rates on dried fruit items are lowered by from one-third to three-fourths; on canned fruits, vegetables, and fish by from two-thirds to three-fourths. The rate on cotton shirts is cut 50 per cent and there are substantial reductions in rates on denim, cotton hosiery and other textile items.

PLUTARCO ELIAS CALLES, one-time "Iron Man" of Mexico, has returned there from his exile in California with the apparent intention of disputing the rule of the country with President Lazaro Cardenas. In order to prevent a military coup against the government, Cardenas dismissed Gen. Medina Yveta as chief of the military zone of the Valley of Mexico and Gen. Joaquin Amaro as director of the national military school. Both were among the supporters of Calles, as were five senators who were previously expelled on charges of rebellion and sedition activities. The administrator's next move was to oust four state governors.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Zeeland—By vote of 409 to 110, Zeeland approved a proposal to erect a municipal power plant, with Federal aid, and to issue $20,000 in bonds. Residents held a public celebration after the vote was announced.

Jackson—Paving the way for a possible Federal grant for recreational centers, a survey will be conducted here on juvenile delinquency, to determine the places where recreational facilities are most needed.

Ionia—The Ionia County Clerk reports that property taxes in the county have been reduced 61 per cent since 1930 and that slightly more than 55 per cent of this reduction has come since the fifteen-mill limitation was established in 1932. The report shows the total county tax roll was $1,008,955 in 1930, compared with $394,494 in 1936.

Lansing—Governor Fitzgerald has ordered a campaign to uncover millions of dollars of taxable personal property from which the state now derives no revenue. He asked the state Tax Commission to examine Federal income tax reports, compare them with personal property declarations, and take steps to collect where discrepancies are found.

Potosky—Winter sports carnivals for various northern Michigan cities are announced as follows: Bay City, Jan. 15 to 19; Grayling and Alpena, Jan. 23 to 25; Cheboygan, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1; Harbor Springs, Feb. 1 and 2; Potosky, Feb. 6 to 15. The Potosky carnival will be featured by the national speed skating championship events, Feb. 7, 8 and 9.

Jackson—State WPA officials are in favor of a WPA appropriation for the removal of all street car tracks in Jackson and the repair or reconstruction of all streets on which the tracks are laid. Nearly 15 miles of streets would be affected. Overtures have been made by a number of bus companies for permission to operate here. One company is headed by present street car company employees.

Ontonagon—Clifford Gougou, 30 years old, employee of the Copper District Power Co., narrowly escaped death while feeding the company's tame deer. One of the large bucks charged Gougou, knocked him down and inflicted 12 or 15 wounds, mostly in his legs. Gougou managed to keep the deer from wounding him more seriously until Peter Tandlund, another employee, went to his rescue.

Ann Arbor—Troop 24 of the Washington-Livingston Boy Scout Council is said to be one of the most unusual in the United States. It helps boys who are patients at University Hospital to get their minds off their illness and to break the monotony of confinement. These boys go to Ann Arbor from all Michigan. He and away from home, they previously had little companionship outside their own wards.

Mason—Ingham County's drive for delinquent taxes has resulted in collection of over $1,000,000 and the reduction of the delinquent tax roll from $3,150,000 to approximately $1,000,000. "About $112,512.71 was paid under the Moore-Holbeck Act, as a one-tenth payment on over $1,125,000, placing that amount in good standing again. The total expense of this campaign to the county was only $4,900.54, or about a fifth of 1 per cent of the taxes affected.

Pontiac—Parking meters are in prospect here for a ninety-day trial. The meters, which force motorists to pay 5c for the privilege of parking for any length of time the City specifies, have proved successful in eliminating traffic congestion in Oklahoma City and Dallas, Tex. The average revenue from each meter in those cities is 40 to 50 cents a week. The meters become the property of the City after they have produced $58 each for the manufacturers.

Lansing—The Federal Public Works Administration has approved Lansing's $300,000 sewer construction program, according to information received from Mortimer E. Cooley, acting state director of the PWA. The funds will finance construction of a trunk sewer to serve the northeast section of the City and will furnish 140 jobs. The project is the first approved in Lansing under the Public Works program. Cost of the project is estimated at $289,214, of which $130,748 will be a direct Federal grant.

Lansing—The State's relief burden recently reached the lowest ebb since the SERRA took over the task of assisting Michigan's depression victims 30 months ago. Weekly reports for the period ended Dec. 6 revealed 89,780 resident relief cases on that date according to Dr. William Haber, State administrator for the SERRA. The preceding week's report recorded 116,000 cases on relief. Although the drop in the relief load is due, to some extent, to industrial re-employment, the result is chiefly attributed to the WPA.

East Lansing—A disease known as streptococcal mastitis annually costs Michigan farmers thousands of dollars. It is a local infection of the mammary gland of cows, contagious in herds and the cause of epidemic sore throat among persons consuming raw milk of infected cows. Dr. C. S. Brian, of the bacteriology staff at Michigan State College is endeavoring to find a curative agent for this disease. He estimated that 85 per cent of the dairy herds in Michigan and 27 per cent of all cows in the State are infected.

Marine City—The latest in smuggling is the bootlegging of raw wool. United States customs officers recently seized 1,000 pounds of scoured wool in a cottage at Broadbridge Beach, near Algonac. The wool, which can be bought for 15 cents a pound in Canada, sells on the Detroit market for 36 cents.

Mt. Clemens—A New Hampshire Red-pullet only eight months old, owned by Mrs. Florence M. Trowell, laid an egg weighing three and three-eighths ounces. The egg measured eight inches in circumference the long way and six inches around the center. The shell contained two perfectly formed normal eggs.

Ann Arbor—Bondholders controlling the house formerly occupied by Delta Chi fraternity have approved leasing the property to the Michigan Children's Institute. The State is to take immediate possession, and start remodeling. The State will occupy the property for two years and has an option to purchase effective after the first year.

Ann Arbor—Prof. Lewis M. Gram, chairman of the student employment relief committee of the National Youth Administration, has announced a reduction in working hours affecting more than 300 students. The monthly wage thereby will be cut from $15 to $12, he said, to enable the committee to extend relief to 50 of the 200 students now on the waiting list.

Lansing—Governor Fitzgerald has given his approval to the suggestion that Joseph Pils, of Chicago, be authorized to make a survey of the State Government looking forward to the inauguration of civil service. Findings will be relayed to the Commission, which will eventually submit a model civil service law to the Governor for action by the next Legislature.

Lansing—Governor Fitzgerald has granted the commutation recommended by Parole Commissioner Joseph C. Armstrong for Anson Best, who is serving a life term in Marquette Branch prison for the slaying, 15 years ago, of Vera Schneider, a Pontiac telephone operator. The life term is cut to a minimum of 25 years, and makes Best eligible for parole about August 1, 1936.

Lansing—Deputy Atty. Gen. James E. Shephard has ruled that prison-made goods may not be sold to county, municipal or township institutions or departments. Shephard's opinion said the new State law to take prison-made goods out of competition with the products of free labor was specific in declaring that prison manufactures can be sold only to State custodial institutions and departments.

Lansing—Michigan grown Christmas trees for home use this year was recommended by James F. Thompson, commissioner of agriculture. Thompson estimated that 600,000 trees were harvested in Michigan for the Christmas season, while another 250,000 were imported from New England or Canada. Imported trees are inspected for the presence of tree moths, a serious infection in New England but not prevalent in Michigan.

Port Huron—Construction of a belt line highway around Port Huron is being watched by Detroit and Thumb residents who commute in the summer months between their homes and summer residences. The seven-mile cut-off, two and one-half miles of it new construction with a steel and concrete bridge over Black River, will cut 20 to 30 minutes from the driving time between Detroit and the summer resorts and camps north of Port Huron.

Monroe—The first Catholic Church in Michigan, outside of Detroit, was St. Mary's established here Oct. 15, 1788. The bishop of Quebec confirmed the class in the tiny log building, making the trip up the Raisin River in a canoe with Indian pilots. Weapons were carried as protection against hostile Indians, and sturgeon, appeared in the Raisin, served as food. A part of the present church structure was erected in 1834, when much of Michigan was a wilderness.

Lansing—Increased strength in state banks of Michigan, reflecting the continued business recovery, have been reported by Rudolph E. Reichert, banking commissioner. Reichert said that the last bank call, showing conditions as of Nov. 1, indicate a steady increase in deposits, cash reserves, resources and loans as compared to the June 25 call. "Loans and discounts increased $6,000,000 in this period to a total of $35,000,000," he said. "This indicates further extension of credit."

Ann Arbor—A contract for the construction of a junior high school costing about $325,000 has been approved by the Ann Arbor Board of Education. The PWA, which is to furnish $130,000 toward cost of the building, has approved a change in plans by which a school was built with funds previously earmarked for an addition to Ann Arbor High School. The building will contain 14 classrooms, a gymnasium and an auditorium. It will be erected on the West Side of the city in Water Works Park.

Saginaw—Two long-sought projects—a grade separation on M-46 and a survey of water needs in the Saginaw Valley—is now near reality. A contract was signed between the State and Stream Control Commission and the Francis Engineering Co., of Saginaw, providing for an engineering survey of the Saginaw Valley and Saginaw Bay in search of a suitable water source for Saginaw, Bay City and Midland. The grade separation project is part of a project which envisages the development of M-46 from Saginaw to Port Huron.

A Lucky New Year's Error By LUELLA B. LYONS

IN ABOUT three hours it would be New Year's eve, but to Eve Blair that meant nothing but heartache, for she was packing to leave Stephen, and was going back to brother. Hadn't Steve said she had mislaid her elderly Aunt Ann, and had been selfish, and a lot of other harshly-said things. Her tears were watering the things she packed, but the phone shrilling out its call, forced her to swallow that ferocious lump in her throat.

"Eve!"

"Yes!"

"Listen, here at the New Year's committee headquarters we are swamped with calls for singers. I thought of you, so I wonder if you'd go out to the tuberman Home and sing a while for the old folks there. A few old hymns and a few old, sweet ballads, to last from 6:30 to eight bells—Can we depend on you, Eve?"

"You just bet you can. We'll be there," and the phone clicked as the other party hung up the receiver with a thankful sigh. "Must be that Steve offered our services on some other occasion and forgot to tell me about it. Wonder how she knew we used to tickle him? Oh, well, I'll postpone going home to mother till morning, no use in letting these folks down because of our inability to get along." Eve was already dighing out Steve's old accordion, her old guitar, some old song books and a hymnal.

It was while Steve and Eve were returning from the old people's home, where they had spent a very happy evening, that Steve fished a letter out of his pocket and held it toward Eve. "Let's burn this old farewell note to folks when we get home, honey. We can forget and forgive, can't we?"

Eve nodded happily as she snuggled against him as he drove. The trip of cheer had paid many kinds of interest for both the older folk and for Steve and Eve.

"Who could be calling at this time of night?" they wondered as they entered the apartment to hear the phone jangling, demandingly.

"Eve!"

"Yes, of course."

"Well, you see it was this way: I was to call Bud and Eve Hairsent and one of my helpers got you on the phone. It was a coincidence of course, especially after the way you took the request. Just a few minutes ago I discovered the mistake and phoned the Home only to be told that we had better never try to send them any other entertainers, but you two, so it seems you made a grand hit with them and are elected for the job again real soon, if you're willing..." and on went the effervescent and the explaining.

The little god of peacemaking, his job finished, left the scene content with his day's work. Eve held close in Steve's arms, all thoughts of a separation gone, perhaps, forever.

icular piece stirred within him! How they both had adored it! Then suddenly without explanation she had become engaged to another and Norman had been "out in the cold" over which, at precisely "ten bells" over which, Norman's eve the following announcement came over the air: "We are now to hear a fifteen-minute program of delightful "Bell" songs, appropriate for the occasion, by none other than our celebrated tenor, Norman Treadwell."

Norman had arranged his "Bell" songs in order, leaving "The Bells of Avalon" until last. He did not know why he had done this, but he had. Soon the rich tones of his lovely tenor voice were floating over the air in one glorious "Bell" song after another. Last of all he sang with tender, heart-rendering expression, "The Bells of Avalon." "I wonder if you hear the bells, my dear?" he sang directly to Charles. Then the deep-toned studio bell-accompaniment chimed joyously in a reminder of the midnight hour.

"The much enjoyed program was over and Norman heaved a deep sigh of relief. Still filled with the lovely view and presence of his lost sweetheart, he turned to leave the studio when a telegram was thrust into his trembling hand. He hardly dared open it when he did, he read: "I heard the 'Bells of Avalon,' Norm! Won't you spend New Year's with Charles?"

Mastiff Is Considered British Isles' Old

There may be older breeds of dog than the mastiff but not so large. British Isles for here this dog is considered the oldest of them all, its origin dating back to the Sixth Century B. C. At that time, writes Albert S. G. Jr. in the Detroit News, it was brought into Britain by the adventurous Phoenician traders and was adopted by the Britons for hunting and in warfare.

For years the breed was used to hunt the larger wild animals and is being hunted but as the centuries passed it was adopted as a guardian for property and as a canine companion for those who fancied the larger breed of dogs.

Mastiffs may be either fawn with a dark face or brindle. They weigh from 150 to 170 pounds and stand about 28 inches high at the shoulders. According to the American standard of perfection they should be large, massive and powerful with a well-built frame. The legs should be wide apart and squarely set. The coat is short and close-lying but not too close over the shoulders, neck and back.

Atwood Gives More Time for 1935 Tags

Extension of one month of the deadline for the purchase of 1936 automobile license plates has been granted by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State.

Atwood warned that further extension after January 31 is not contemplated, calling attention to the fact that 1936 plates were placed on sale this year far earlier than in previous years.

Stickers, or half-year permits, may of course be purchased for half the price of plates, which would defer until August 1 the necessity for payment of the other half of the plate cost.

One of the Bible classes from Central church, Detroit, sent out a nice collection of select clippings and other reading matter tastefully arranged in packages for each individual, which were distributed by the superintendent and matron on Monday evening.

A pleasing Christmas program was presented Monday evening in the assembly room. The usual lights were off and the hall was lighted with old fashioned candles, which gave it a touch of novelty not altogether displeasing.

Miss Kathleen Hubbard recited "The Christmas is Coming," by Paul Lawrence Dunbar, and Miss Sophia Jurecki read "The Downfall of Santa Claus," a humorous monologue.

Mrs. A. A. Palmer was also present and sang several numbers in a very pleasing manner.

Miss Andrews is spending Christmas with Mrs. Wm. Switzer of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Allen's callers this week were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eng of Dearborn.

WATERLOO

Rev. and Mrs. Clark Adams of Highland visited relatives here last week Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stanfield spent Sunday at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Arthur.

Common House Fly Lays Egg That Hatches Maggot The house fly undergoes a complete change of form in its development from the egg to the perfect fly.

The house fly undergoes a complete change of form in its development from the egg to the perfect fly. The larvae of the house fly are popularly known as "maggots."

A single fly is capable of depositing from 100 to 150 eggs at one time, and five or six such patches of eggs may be deposited during the fly's life.

The eggs are oval in shape, one end being slightly broader than the other towards which the egg tapers slightly. They are nearly white in color. In warm weather these eggs hatch in from 8 to 24 hours after being laid.

Winter Camp Will Be Held for Husky Scouts

While no age requirement has been set for Scouts who will attend the three-day Winter Camp at the Scout Camp near Dexter on January 2, 3 and 4, they must at least be "husky" in spirit, Scout Executive Walter MacPeck said this week.

"We are going to try to make Winter Camp a training camp so that the Scouts will go back to their various troops better equipped to serve as Patrol Leaders, Scribes, Senior Patrol Leaders and in other troop responsibilities."

"Of course we're going to have a good time and good eats—but still this is a 'purpose' camp," he said.

Enrollments are limited to 40 Scouts and must be filed not later than December 30th.

World's Biggest Bells Are Property of Moscow

Moscow's monster bell, known as the "Tsar Kolokol," emperor of bells, weighs as much as 200 dry horses and is of such tremendous proportions that it is actually used as a chapel.

There is also a story to the effect that it was originally hung on beams which later were destroyed by fire, causing the bell to fall and crack.

The second largest bell in the world, and the largest in actual use, is said to be the one that hangs in the cathedral at Moscow and which is estimated to weigh about 125 tons.

The "Great Bell of China," in Peking, weighs about 60 tons, and there is a bell in the Monastery at Chi-On, in Kioto, Japan, which is said to weigh between 80 and 90 tons.

Origin of Chocolate Is Credited to Old Mexico

Do you know the difference between chocolate, cacao and cocoa? The tropical tree which is the source of chocolate is called the cacao, states a writer in the Detroit Free Press.

In its leathery, greenish fruit are cacao pods which contain cacao beans. But when the beans are roasted and ground and much of the fat is pressed out the remaining brown substance, ground to a dry powder, is cocoa.

The natives made a drink called "chocolatl" or "cacaohuatl," from which have come the names "chocolate" and "cocoa." Frothing pitchers of chocolate were served by Montezuma when he entertained Cortez.

The bulldog, long considered a symbol of pluck and tenacity, originally was one of the most sporting of animals because of his feats of baiting bulls and even lions and tigers.

Canine authorities say that the influence of the bulldog on his race has been very marked. Even in its most diluted form the blood of the bulldog is said to be capable of transmitting its best qualities to every descendant.

Training in Social Work The first school for training in social work was established in the United States in 1898, as the New York School of Philanthropy.

In 1901 two other professional schools were started, the Boston School of Social Work (under Simmons college) and the Chicago school, which was at first an extension institute of the University of Chicago.

Lord Byron's Epitaph to Dog Lord Byron's Newfoundland dog, which contracted rabies, is buried in the ruins of the old church at Newstead abbey, the pedestal marking the grave bearing the following inscription: "Near this spot are deposited the remains of one who possessed beauty without vanity, strength without insolence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of man without his vices."

Troy in Turkey Ancient Troy was situated to the south of the Dardanelles in western Turkey. Almost the complete wall may be traced. This was the scene of the world's greatest epic, the Iliad, by Homer.

Life in Bolivia The Aymaras of Bolivia live on the roof of the Andes. They feast on barley, potatoes, quinoa and corn, and use llamas and sheep for meat. Potatoes are made into "chuno" by soaking and freezing; quinoa provides leaves for flavoring the soup, and seeds from which they shape their bread.

The Bat's Wings The surface of a bat's wing is furnished with a multitude of nerve-ends of almost incredible delicacy, by which, it is believed, the animal perceives the presence of something unseen, but to be avoided, by the varying of the air caused by its flight and reflected back. This theory explains the ability of bats to live and fly about in pitch dark caves, or when experimentally blindfolded in a room containing tangled wires that remain untouched.

Clever Reynard The name Reynard came from a German book of animal stories published hundreds of years ago. In that book the fox was called Regin-hart, meaning "strong in counsel," because of the clever way in which he mastered the other animals. Ever since the book came to this country we have spoken of Reynard the fox—Reynard being our form of the German Regin-hart.—Pearson's Weekly.

State Has Only One Town Bloomsburg, Pa., one hundred thirty-three-year-old urban community, the seat of Columbia county, is the only town in Pennsylvania. The commonwealth has 46 cities and 937 boroughs but, by a special act of incorporation passed by the 1870 legislature, Bloomsburg alone is designated as a town.

Poison Aids Mountain Climbing Peasants of Gras, Austria, thrive on a diet of arsenic, by-product of iron mines and deadly poison. By starting off with small doses, they gradually accustom their systems to it, so that it has no harmful effect. They even feed it to their horses, for it is supposed to make the coat sleek and to improve ability for pulling on mountainous slopes. The peasants themselves eat arsenic to improve their complexions, stimulate their appetites and aid them in climbing, as it helps breathing.
