North Lake Site Bought for Permanent Camp

Purchase of 191 acres of land on the northwest shore of North Lake by the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium for the establishment of a permanent Christmas Seal summer camp was consummated the past week. The property was bought of the Richard Webb estate, through Geo. M. Webb, who was in Detroit to complete the deal.

For several years the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium has maintained this camp at North Lake for underprivileged children with tuberculosis contacts, which is known as the Wayne County Christmas Seal Camp, and is financed by funds received from the annual sale of Christmas seals. Extensive improvements and additions were made the past summer. A small, well equipped hospital was constructed, two cabins, each to accommodate 14 children, were built, and an addition on the dining room of the main house enlarged the seating capacity to 140.

Children between the ages of 10 and 14 inclusive are taken, in most cases, from the open air schools of Detroit, several coming from surrounding villages, and some are taken on the recommendation of private physicians. A splendid work is being done in building up their resistance to infections by fresh air, good food and regular hours.

It is the aim of the camp to create within each child a feeling of personal responsibility and a spirit of self-control that will help him to meet everyday problems.

Dr. Burt R. Shurly, sanatorium president, hopes to have at least 400 children at the camp this summer, instead of 250 as in previous years.

FEED THE BIRDS!

The feeding of birds during this severely cold weather is a very humane act as they are unable to find sufficient food and many of them will starve unless they are given aid. Many people of the community have been providing food for the birds and it is hoped others will join in the act of protecting the birds that choose to brave the cold winters.

Local Veterans Will Receive Bonus Total of About $60,000.00

Applications of World War veterans for payment of their Adjusted Compensation Certificates are about one third complete, states Paul C. Maroney, Service Officer of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of The American Legion in Chelsea, who is in charge of handling the applications locally.

To date thirty-six applications have been filed here and it is very interesting to note what the payment of the so-called bonus will mean to the veterans of Chelsea. Not only will the payment of this obligation to the soldiers considerably benefit them but no small amount of business should develop as the result of the payment.

Of thirty-two local applications made to date it is found that three veterans have never borrowed the half which was authorized under Act of Congress in 1931. The largest of these three is in the amount of $1579.00, and the smallest $248.00, or an average of $1097.00.

Twenty-nine applications have been filed on which the veterans have applied for and received one-half of their original amount. The largest amount still due the veteran in this group amounts to $788.50 and the smallest $80.50, while the average for the twenty-nine is $643.24. It is estimated with approximately ninety ex-service men in and around this community that the above figures would indicate the amount to be paid by the government will be close to $60,000.00.

Numerous questions have been asked as to how the amount to be paid to the veterans was derived at. The calculation was rather a complicated matter as will be noted from the following explanation. The law regarding payment is herewith stated in part:

"The amount of adjusted service credit shall be computed by allowing the following sums for each day of active service, in excess of sixty days, in the military or naval forces of the United States after April 5, 1917, and before July 1, 1919, as shown by the service or other record of the veteran: $1.25 for each day of overseas service; and $1.00 for each day of home service."

Appreciation Dinner for Scout Leaders

Each Scoutmaster in the Washtenaw-Livingston Boy Scout Council will be a guest of honor at a Scout Leaders' Appreciation Dinner to be given at the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor on Monday evening, February 10, according to an announcement from Ernest Schapelle, superintendent of schools of Ypsilanti, and chairman of the committee arranging the dinner.

Other members of the committee are Emmett Gibb of Ann Arbor, Geo. I. Keal of Dexter, and Paul Kingsley of Brighton. An attendance of more than one hundred men is expected.

INJURED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Warren Eisenbeiser, 22, of North Lake, was taken to Chelsea Private hospital Saturday evening, suffering from injuries received about 7 o'clock when the automobile in which he was driving collided with a machine driven by Mrs. Stanley Miller, who was en route to her home at North Lake. The accident occurred between the Doll and Wirkner farms on the North Lake road. Eisenbeiser suffered a laceration of the scalp and his left eye and cheek were badly bruised. Mrs. Miller was accompanied by Miss Eleanor Gilbert of North Lake and they escaped with slight injuries. Both cars were considerably damaged.

HEALTH LECTURE THURSDAY

The State Board of Health, through the Child Study club, is urging all parents to attend the lecture to be given Thursday evening, February 13 at 8 o'clock at the public school auditorium. The topic of the lecture, "The Art of Living", will be of great interest and benefit to all who attend, and will be very ably presented by Miss Melitta Hutzel. Miss Hutzel is sent to Chelsea by the State Board of Health, and through the cooperation of the county nurse, Miss Pearl Haist, and the lecture is sponsored by the Child Study club. This lecture is free.

WILL PRACTICE LAW HERE

Market Sanelly; Advises Commissioner Thomson

East Lansing—Intelligent marketing is the sound, sane solution of Michigan's agricultural problems. The Michigan state department of agriculture is aiming its program at such a goal, declared James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, in an address Wednesday evening, February 6, before a mass meeting of farmers attending the twenty-first annual Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College.

Sister states have marketed carefully graded farm produce while Michigan agriculture in competition with these states has been somewhat lax in developing modern marketing methods, the state agricultural commissioner asserted. Because proper grades are used, products from other midwest states have flooded the largest Michigan markets. The remedy, Commissioner Thomson pointed out to the farmers assembled at East Lansing, apparently can be developed through the Michigan bonded farm produce plan.

"Michigan is the first state in the union to adopt a plan whereby farm products go to market carrying a state inspection label guaranteeing grade and quality," said Mr. Thomson.

"Thousands of bags of Michigan potatoes shipped into Chicago are carrying the bonded label, so far a proved success. After thorough investigation, we find that this label is worth 35 cents on each bag of potatoes, bringing premium prices for the first time in many years. Back of this bonded-label program is the entire inspection force of the state department of agriculture.

"Each inspector has been schooled in grading regulations. Adequate police powers have been given this field staff to cover enforcement of more than 90 laws under which the department operates, but the inspectors are carrying out their work on an educational rather than on a law enforcement basis."

National action must be stirred up to halt increasing importations of foreign agricultural products, the commissioner declared. He cited the increased importations in seeds, eggs, oats, corn, dried milk and butter, to show increases for 1935 over importations of 1934 of from 128 per cent for seeds to 3,100 per cent for dried milk and butter. Action must be taken, the speaker asserted, to assure the American farmer the return of domestic markets.

Final Auction Will Be Held Saturday

Final disposal of the remaining stock of the Hindelang Hardware Co. will be made on Saturday by Merkel Bros. and Chelsea Hardware Co. when they will hold another auction sale. A large crowd attended the auction last Saturday, but due to the enormous quantity of small items to be sold it was impossible to dispose of the entire stock.

The auction on Saturday, February 8 will start promptly at 10 o'clock so that all the remaining stock can be sold during the day. Merchandise yet to be disposed of includes the larger items such as furniture, stoves, farm implements, etc., and it is believed the auction will attract even larger crowds than attended last week.

AUXILIARY MEETS

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 31, held a regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Knickerbocker. A splendid paper entitled "Americanism and National Defense" had been written by Mrs. W. E. Riemenschneider, but because of her absence was read by Miss Lucille Heiny. A committee was appointed by the president to meet with the Kiwanis committee to discuss a recreational site for the community at the Waterloo Park Project. Plans were made by the sewing committee for members to meet and sew for the Otter Lake billet.

Following adjournment of the business meeting cards were enjoyed, prizes being won by Mrs. J. A. Dumouchel and Mrs. Albert Cooper. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held on March 3 at Legion hall, with Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, Mrs. Edward Miller and Mrs. A. L. Brock as hostesses. It is planned at this time to hold a dish shower for the Legion hall.

With all our severe winter weather so far the sleighing has been pretty good and the roads have not been blocked to any extent.

John Schieferstein has sold his farm in Dexter township to R. Gause of Sarline.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everett are making arrangements to move from their farm in Sharon to Chelsea and will occupy the H. Gorton residence on Summit street.

John Wise has sold his residence on Adams street to Otto Schanz of Lima.

Howard Holmes entertained 30 of his friends at a supper given at the Boyd house on Wednesday evening. The gathering was in honor of his approaching marriage to Miss Mabel White of Findlay, Ohio, which will take place on Thursday, February 15.

George Runciman had the misfortune to lose his right hand in a corn husker last Friday.

Mrs. William Morris of Lima died on Sunday, February 2, 1902.

OUR NEIGHBORS

PINCKNEY—The fact that Hell (Hi-Land Lake) froze over seems to have been generally broadcast. We have received a copy of the Cincinnati Enquirer from Will Devereaux and Sioux City paper from Ed Kearney, in both of which the article on Hell was given a prominent place. We also received a Berkeley, Calif. paper containing the Hell item. Tuesday the local postoffice received a letter from a stamp collector from Lisbon Falls, Maine. It was addressed to Hell, Mich. and stated he saw the item in the Portland Press-Herald. He wanted a Hell, Mich. postmark. The letter went to Howell first and was forwarded here with remark by Postmaster Bird Hight that Pinckney was closer to Hell than Howell. Hell (Hi-Land Lake) is located 3 miles southwest of Pinckney. Dispatch, Chelsea has the distinction of lying between Hell and Jerusalem.

WAYNE—An increasing number of noted personages who have adopted flying as a hobby are doing their hobnobbing in Stinson planes. The list includes the famous radio team of Amos 'n' Andy and Wayne King, who with his orchestra, appeared in Detroit last week. Andy's plane set a near-record approaching marriage to Miss Mabel White of Findlay, Ohio, which will take place on Thursday, February 15.

SLIM FREITRAG was at the controls. It was brought to the factory for a checkup and preparation for warm weather flying. The radio comedian is going to Palm Springs, Calif., for a couple of months and expects to do a lot of flying at that time. Incidentally Freitag, who manages the flying activities of Amos 'n' Andy, and their wives, formerly used to play a trombone in Wayne King's orchestra.—County Review.

HOWELL—Two large basement barns were destroyed by fire early Tuesday evening on property owned by Henry Ford on the General Motors road near Milford. Loss was estimated at more than $4,000. The barns were filled with hay and farm implements belonging to community farmers. A 12-year-old boy discovered the fire in a pile of corn stalks when he entered the building.—Republican-Press.

MILAN—Those who get paid on Saturday will get the "break of the Century" this year. Imagine—Five pay days in the shortest month of the year. Next Saturday will be the first day of February and with twenty-nine days in the month this year, the 29th also falls on Saturday. This happens only four times in the century—1908, 1936 and not again until 1964 and again in 1992 will there be five pay days in the shortest month of the year.—Leader.

JACKSON—Sub-zero temperature added excitement to life in Michigan Center one morning the past week. A compressed air tank at the Sparten refrigerator plant, normally carrying a 100-pound pressure, exploded. The low temperature is thought to have affected the steel structure. Windows throughout the village were shattered or shaken. First thought was that an earthquake was responsible and police and sheriff's departments answered innumerable phone calls.—Evening Star.

PLYMOUTH—It became known yesterday that officials of the Consumers Power company are making an investigation about this locality into the alleged thefts of gas from the company. During recent weeks there have been persistent reports of cases where some customers have piped around the meters in such a way that only a small portion of the gas used passes through the meters. The losses are reported to have become so great that the inquiry is going to be continued for some time. Already several arrests have been made in Ferris and Royal Oak. It is reported by officials.—Mail.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you please answer what are the groups of months that constitute Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter respectively? Your reply will settle a dispute. Thank you.

Ans.—The seasons are classed as follows: Spring—March, April and May; Summer—June, July and August; Autumn—September, October and November; Winter—December, January and February. Each season lasts about 91 days, beginning about the 21st day of the month in their respective class. Technically Winter begins the last of December and carries over until the last of March, and as a result January, February and March are commonly known as the Winter months, but not technically correct. The same course applies to the other three groups.

Ques.—In playing a game of checkers can a player jump with a single man into the king-row and at the same time jump back over another man if there is such an opportunity?

Ans.—No. After jumping into the king-row the player must allow his man to rest there until after his opponent has made a move and the man crowned as a king. However, a king may jump into the king-row over a man and then jump back again in the same operation if he has such a play.

Ques.—What is the Townsend Plan for old-age pensions which I hear so much talk about?

Ans.—We have not the available space to make this clear to you. In substance it is a plan to give all qualified citizens over 60 years of age $200 a month for life, all of which is to be put back into circulation within the month—that is, it must be spent. For further information see your local Townsend Club or write to headquarters in Washington, D. C., or Los Angeles, Calif.

Ques.—Are there any hyenas running wild in the United States or Canada? If not, where did they originate and what are their habits?

Ans.—There are no hyenas running wild on this hemisphere. They are native to Asia and Africa, and are nocturnal in their habits. They go into seclusion in the daytime, coming out at night and gathering in packs in quest of their food.

Ques.—What is the religion of President Roosevelt and his wife?

Ans.—President Roosevelt and his wife are members of the Episcopal church.

Ques.—I would like to ask you how artificial ice is made?

Ans.—To be brief the process involves lowering the temperature below the freezing point by permitting pure ammonia liquid to expand within iron pipes that are coiled in tanks that are filled with salt brine, from which the heat is drawn by the ammonia in evaporating.

Ques.—I am told that President Johnson, who was elected Vice-President with Abraham Lincoln, could neither read nor write. Is that true?

Ans.—No. It is true that Johnson had no knowledge of the elements of arithmetic or could not write until after he became eighteen years of age. At the time he married Eliza McCordle, who taught him how to write and figure in mathematics. His remarkable natural talent, tact and ambition to learn enabled him to make material advancement, which took him from a journeyman tailor to the Presidency of the United States.

Ques.—Will you please tell me if Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind girl, is still living? If so, how old is she?

Ans.—Yes, Helen Keller is alive and well. She is 55 years old, being born at Tuscomb, Ala. on June 27, 1880.

Ques.—What was Libby Prison, and why was it so named?

Ans.—Libby Prison was a military institution under control of the Southern Confederacy during the Civil War. Previously it was a tobacco warehouse owned by Mr. Libby at Richmond, Va., and was temporarily converted into a prison in which were kept captured Union soldiers.

Ques.—What is the difference between an idiot and a lunatic?

Ans.—An idiot is a person born with unsoundness of mind, while a lunatic is a person born sane, but has, for some cause, fallen into temporary or permanent aberration of intellect.

Ques.—Who was Alexander Kelly McClure?

Ans.—He was a celebrated journalist in Pennsylvania, born January 9, 1828, and died June 6, 1909, aged 81 years.

OTHER SKIES THAN THESE

Clouds are drifting gaunt and gray, Desolation haunts the way; But this thought my spirit frees— I have other skies than these.

Rain is falling, sleet and snow, Hearts are lonely, spirits low; Then comes blessed memories When I had other skies than these.

Starless skies and ghastly gloom, Defeat, disaster, doubt and doom; Then blows a soft-wind through the trees, From other stars and skies than these.

Singing Summers, Falls that blaze, Dawns, and noons, and sunlit days; Hope and laughter, if you please, Come back from other skies than these.

Memories of other days, Flash forth along the wistful ways, Of gloom, and press me to my knees, In thanks for other skies than these.

When anyone says he is nervous he may mean that he has one or more of a great variety of symptoms.

A thorough physical examination is usually necessary and if the cause is not found laboratory tests may be necessary.

"Nervousness" is very often due to worry and overwork. Food and rest give the body energy but if we use more energy than is produced it is not long before our reserve energy is gone.

The Osteopathic Physician does not use stimulants or tonics in these cases, but through Osteopathic methods will improve the circulation and rid the body of the toxins.

PALMER SCHOOL NEWS

The month of January closed with an attendance of 90.2 per cent. Pupils who had a perfect attendance are: Robert Umstead, Virginia Umstead, and Clare Wahl.

On the evening of January 18, several pupils of this school went to Munnith and contributed two numbers to the program which was held in connection with the Farm Bureau Fair.

School was dismissed on Monday, January 13, to allow our teacher to attend the Jackson County Teachers' Institute held at Michigan Center.

Our schoolroom is decorated with snowflakes, snowmen and other winter pictures.

At the present time the children's thoughts have turned to Valentine Day. Everyone has been busy making Valentines during Art period on Friday afternoons.

The second grade has completed four books in reading so far this year and have started on the fifth.

The first grade have a very good start in their first readers.

Virginia Wahl received the most red letter days in Arithmetic during January. This contest was carried on in the first, second and third grades.

Each time a child received one hundred in Arithmetic he was allowed to mark the date of that day on the calendar with red pencil.

The seventh grade has started their study of Civil Government. In connection with this they have made a booklet in which they paste clippings of interesting news events which happen throughout the nation.

We have three pupils in our school who have birthdays in February. We wish a Happy Birthday to Virginia Wahl, February 8; Wesley Umstead, February 10; and Clarence Selley, February 16.

The first and second grades have completed the study of the Eskimos. They are now making booklets illustrating the life in the far north.

The third grade has mastered the multiplication tables from one through five.

Attend Farm Debt Adjustment Conference

Fred Kennedy of Chelsea, Raymond K. Klaasen of Ann Arbor, J. A. Cosner of Milan and R. C. Morithew of Manchester recently attended a conference of Rural Rehabilitation and Farm Debt Adjustment Committees at Ann Arbor.

The Federal Land Bank sent C. L. Rose to discuss its policies and position as an independent loaning agency. The men above mentioned constitute the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee for Washtenaw county.

Occasionally one will drive over a cattle guard which is built to prevent cattle from crossing from one range to another.

At times I see cattle grazing and sometimes sheep and goats. Nothing is more dumfounding than to see cattle eating on a "choya" cactus with spines or needles two inches long.

The people here are mostly Mexicans, a rather crude living lot. They live mostly in dirty hovels. I never realized what that word mining town meant until I came here.

Roy has been looking out for me. He has introduced me to most of his friends and I never met people who were nicer or more friendly.

Am feeling fine. Can think of no more to write so will close until next time.

HUBERT IVES WRITES

Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Ives received a letter from their son, Hubert, who is spending some time with his brother, Roy, at Tucson, Arizona, and working for a department store at Tucson and Copper Creek.

The country here at Copper Creek is very rugged. In fact you can look neither north, south, east nor west without seeing mountains.

The oaks are nothing like the oaks at home, being much harder and having small leaves. I can also see Sombrotero Butte, which is a sight to behold, especially at sunset.

One cannot realize the magnificence and all embracing size of this country, and truly appreciate the beauty of huge, craggy mountains of different colored rocks unless one can see it and live in it.

There is something about this mountain air that gets into one's blood and gives him that magnificent feeling of perfect health and bubbling energy which one so seldom feels at home.

The air is clear as a bell and we have very few cloudy days. When cloudy it is a little cold. One can see for miles and miles. Distance is very deceiving.

To Lincoln

By ROSE BARLOW WEINMAN in Detroit News

YOU were the Mind that planned To stem the tide Of menace to the land;

You were the Voice to pray, "O men! to arms! It is the only way."

You were the Hand whose pen Scrubbed off the chains From the dark limbs of men;

You were the Life that gave Union to all, But to yourself, the grave.

You were the Love to see Freedom and Joy For this humanity.

One Mind, one Voice, one true Vast Life and Love Lincoln, found home in you.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL in WASHINGTON

Statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial Building.

THE memorial to Abraham Lincoln in the National Capital is composed of four features—a statue of the man, a memorial of his Gettysburg address, a memorial of his second inaugural address and a symbol of the Union of the United States.

From the memorial to the west reaches a bridge, linking the nation's tribute to its Civil War President with the home of Gen. Robert E. Lee, military leader of the Confederacy.

The bridge, spanning the Potomac river, natural and historic barrier between the North and South, links, more than in symbol, the two sections of the United States.

Henry Bacon, who died in 1924, was the architect who designed the Lincoln memorial and who said it should contain the four features.

Daniel Chester French, famed American sculptor, produced the statue. This represents Lincoln as the great war President, the man who brought the nation through its titanic struggle.

Above and behind the massive head of Lincoln is inscribed in the wall: IN THIS TEMPLE AS IN THE HEARTS OF THE PEOPLE FOR WHOM HE SAVED THE UNION THE MEMORY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN IS ENHANCED FOREVER

The Gettysburg address and the second inaugural speech occupy the north and south walls with the decorations. Simplicity is the keynote of the memorial.

To the east front of the Lincoln memorial is the 2,000 feet long reflecting basin in which are to be seen reflections of both the Washington monument and the memorial.

The basin is bordered by trees and walks and, with the memorial, is one of the world's most impressive sights.

Arlington Memorial bridge follows in simple dignity the idea of the memorial; linking the monument of one great leader to the lost home of the leader of a lost cause.

At the foot of the slope of Arlington, the roadway from the bridge ends and, ultimately, there will be roads and walks radiating from the classic road ending to the Arlington Manor house, to the Tomb of the Unknown and to other points in the cemetery.

London Bridge Situated at Head of Navigation

London bridge is the first or farthest down of the bridges across the Thames at London. It is situated at the head of navigation, about a half mile above the Tower of London.

But the present London bridge is not the one celebrated in the nursery song, nor in the proverb to the effect that "London bridge was made for wise men to pass over and fools to pass under."

That famous old bridge, which stood for more than 600 years, was finally demolished more than a century ago.

The site has probably been the location of a bridge from very early times in London's history, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The earliest bridge in this location is not mentioned until the Eleventh century. It was a wooden structure which was destroyed by a storm and high tide November 16, 1091.

The first stone bridge, the famous bridge spoken of above, was built between 1170 and 1200 on a wooden foundation. It consisted of 20 arches. The roadway was 920 feet long, 60 feet above the water and 40 feet wide.

Houses were built upon the bridge, and in the course of time it became a continuous street with three openings on each side of the river.

The buildings on the bridge were repeatedly devastated by fire, most notably in the great fire of 1666. The eleventh span from the Southwark end formed a drawbridge flanked by a tower built in 1428, and on top of which were stuck the heads of persons executed for treason.

All the superstructures were removed in 1757. In 1832 the old bridge itself was torn down, the new London bridge having been opened the year before.

A cooking machine as exact as the engineer's watch on the 20th century limited
The engineer's watch which controls the operation of a limited train must be accurate to the second, for upon it depends the convenience and well-being of the passengers entrusted to his care.
The controls of an Electric Range are as accurate as a fine watch, and rightly so, for they must conduct the cooking operation alone, without the guiding hand of an "engineer."
Two scientifically exact instruments do this—the electric clock and the electric thermostat. The clock gives you automatic control of the time for starting the meal and the period during which it cooks. The thermostat assures an absolutely fixed heat by means of accurately regulated temperature at all times. These two vigilant watchmen insure perfect results.

There Is No Other Way
In supplying telephone service to Michigan, this Company's first concern is with the present. Above all else, the service must be good today. But to serve the present, we must be constantly preparing for the future.
To illustrate: In Detroit stands Michigan's largest long distance switchboard. It represents invested money, skilled labor and thorough engineering study. The need for this switchboard did not exist at the time plans were made for it. But a careful survey of the future had plainly indicated that such a need was coming. And when it came, this Company was perfectly equipped to handle the heavy traffic of long distance calls that flowed in and out of Michigan's great industrial areas.
The intricate mechanism behind your telephone cannot be assembled overnight, nor thrown together to meet a sudden need. It must be "built ahead." To do this intelligently—and economically—requires an intensive engineering survey of such factors as shifts in population, industrial developments and trends in real estate. The neglect of these preparations could be as wasteful as building a bridge accommodating a single lane of traffic, only to find later that additional lanes are imperative.
It is not a mere academic theory that this policy of building for the future is the only way to provide high-grade telephone service. Experience has repeatedly demonstrated that there is no other way.

Auto Tag Deadline Delay Is Widespread

Michigan, rather than being alone with an extended final date for purchase of 1936 automobile license plates, joined many other states when the deadline was recently extended to February 29 by Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state.

Not many states have extended their dates so late as the one effective in Michigan; in some states the normal deadline is earlier than the one provided by law in this state.

While adjoining Indiana granted no extension from its December 31 date, so far as official notification in Lansing is concerned, Ohio's legislature recently moved the final date for plate purchases to April 1. Illinois granted a 30 day extension.

The bordering Canadian province of Ontario extended its deadline 30 days, with Feb. 1 the final date, according to latest official information from there. Several states extended their final plate purchase dates 45 days.

Among states granting periods of grace are Iowa, Kansas and Wisconsin. Louisiana extended its date from Dec. 1 to Feb. 5, a 65 day added period; Maine gave its car owners an actual Christmas present by extending the time from Dec. 25 to March 1.

Minnesota moved its deadline back 90 days, from Dec. 31 to April 1. North Dakota led the parade by extending its deadline from Dec. 31 to May 16, a deferment of about 139 days as compared with Michigan's 60 days. The three Pacific Coast states made no concessions to their car owners, but delays are spotted throughout the nation's map. Wyoming with 60 days and Oklahoma with 90 days are among those where delays were secured.

Michigan residents are warned by Mr. Atwood not to drive outside of the state without their 1936 license plates as it is possible they might encounter some difficulty with the authorities of the other states.

LAFAYETTE GRANGE MEETS
Meeting for the first time in their permanent meeting place, Lafayette Grange held a real old fashioned get-together at the Community hall, Lima Center, on Thursday evening, January 30. Old friends met, new friends were made and a warm blanket of friendliness shut out the zero weather. After partaking of the sumptuous repast, the following program was presented:

Welcome songs for the following new members: Mr. and Mrs. William Beach, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Weber, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bradbury. Also for the visiting members of Pittsfield and Pleasant Lake Granges.

A. H. Kuhl and W. Lindemann gave a report on the Masters conference which they had just attended. Mrs. Kuhl, Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Lindemann then gave their version of the Lecturers' conference which was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Braun, Pomona lecturer. A. B. Skinner entertained with songs rendered in the amusing Skinner fashion. George T. English, Walter J. Beutler and Lewis Grossman gave short talks for the good of the order.

The balance of the evening was devoted to playing buncos, Mrs. E. Pierce winning the ladies' prize and S. J. Weber the men's prize.

Pittsfield Grange extended an invitation to all to attend a debate at Pittsfield Grange hall on February 12. Lafayette Grange will next convene for business on February 13.

COLD WEATHER CONTINUES
The old saying "When the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen" is certainly true this year. From the 15th of January, Chelsea and vicinity has experienced real winter. Sunday, which was Ground-Hog day, was one of the brightest days we have had this year so we are prepared for six weeks more of winter.

Monday afternoon and evening the thermometer began to climb and the rise in temperature brought snow, sleet and rain that night. Tuesday morning the temperature was 36 degrees above zero, but a strong northwest wind soon forced the mercury back and Wednesday morning sub-zero weather had returned.

Some of the rural schools are closed. The roads are again drifted with road crews working day and night to keep them open. The rural mail carriers are unable to cover all their routes. The fire sirens is frozen and several residences have been without city water owing to the pipes being frozen from the street into the houses.

However, residents of this vicinity are fortunate that the storm was not any worse here after reading reports from around the state.

When LINCOLN
"Coached"
GRANT

BEHIND one of the most dramatic and important moments in the annals of the American people, in which Abraham Lincoln and General Grant were the chief actors, there is an appealing human story that to this day remains virtually unknown. It is revealed in obscure and priceless original documents, says a writer in the Washington Post.

The event to which the following manuscripts relate is the appointment of Grant as lieutenant general in command of all the Union forces in the Civil war, an epochal step taken by President Lincoln more than 70 years ago.

Lincoln had watched with increasing satisfaction the military record of the stocky and taciturn Grant. With the victories at Vicksburg and Chattanooga the President reached the decision to place him in command of all the Union armies. To this resolve Lincoln held despite extreme pressure from numerous disaffected elements.

Grant was called to the White House and told of the President's intention. Lincoln called Grant aside and told him he understood the general's "dread of public speaking," and in order to make things a bit easier on that score, he, the President, had written out "the few lines" he intended to say to Grant on the occasion of the formal delivery of the appointment.

With characteristic breadth of vision, Lincoln urged Grant to say something in reply which not only "would be an encouragement to the North," but which also "would soothe the feelings of jealousy among other officers of the army."

Thereupon, Lincoln handed over to Grant the firmly inscribed manuscript of the remarks he had prepared.

In the following words, President Lincoln turned the course of history:

Gen. Grant:
The Nation's appreciation of what you have done and its reliance upon you for what remains to do in the existing great struggle, are now presented with this commission constituting you lieutenant general in the Army of the United States.

With this high honor devolves upon you also a corresponding responsibility. As the country herein trusts you, so, under God, it will sustain you. I earnestly need to add that with what I here speak for the Nation goes my own hearty concurrence.

Prepared as he had been by an "advantage" of President Lincoln's remarks, General Grant replied:

Mr. President:
I accept this commission with gratitude for the high honor conferred. With the aid of the noble armies that have fought on so many fields for our common country, it will be my earnest endeavor not to disappoint your expectations. I feel the full weight of the responsibility now devolving upon me, and I know that if they are met it will be due to those armies, and above all to the favor of that Providence which leads both nations and man.

The assisting hostesses were Mrs. James Munro, Mrs. D. L. Rogers and Mrs. A. E. Wilson.

The first robin of the season to be reported here was seen by Harvey Heining on one of the coldest days recently. The bird was near the M. C. freight house, and Harvey provided some food for it to prevent its suffering from hunger—it is hoped the birdie found shelter as present indications are that spring weather will not arrive for some time.

ENTERTAIN KIWANIS
Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Schable entertained the members of the Kiwanis club at their home on Orchard street Monday evening. A delicious sauerkraut dinner, with all the trimmings, was served at 6:30 in the recreation room in the basement, following which games and cards were enjoyed.

Three Smallest Independent Countries

LINCOLN'S PARENTS
ABRAHAM LINCOLN's mother and father were married June 13, 1800, in Washington county, Kentucky, by Rev. Jesse Head, a Methodist preacher, who was also a justice of the peace.

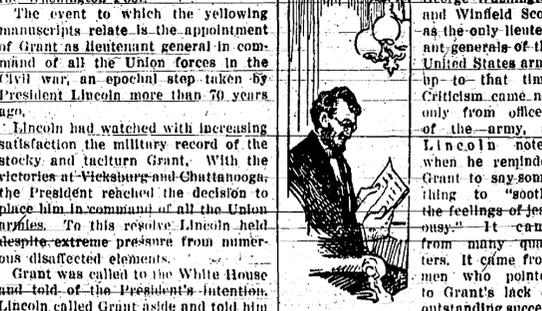

is clear and the ink as strong and black as though written yesterday; that of the Grant acceptance is quite faded, barely legible.

This, incidentally, is among the relatively few pieces of Grantiana and Lincolniana still kept in the Grant family here.

It is not unlikely that eventually these priceless relics of a great event also will find their way into the archives of the federal government which was held intact by the statesmanship of Lincoln and the military genius of Grant.

Lincoln had to bear the brunt of heavy criticism in his appointment of Grant to succeed

George Washington and Winfield Scott as the only lieutenant generals of the United States army up to that time. Criticism came not only from officers of the army, as Lincoln noted, when he reminded Grant to say something to "soothe the feelings of jealousy." It came from many quarters. It came from men who pointed to Grant's lack of outstanding success at West Point, to his resignation from the army and return to private life in 1854, to his financial difficulties as farmer, storekeeper, and real estate salesman. And it came from others who struck hotter-than-thou attitudes.

But Lincoln was not interested in Grant's past nor in his personal habits. As the Chief Executive, Lincoln was interested in just one thing—the winning of the war to preserve the federal union. Lincoln had tried many leaders to gain that end—beginning with McClellan and running the gamut of the Burnside and the Hookers and others almost too numerous to mention.

Grant gave the dispirited North its first thrill when he captured Fort Donelson, and when his answer to the Confederate General Buckner became public, he was known to every urchin as "Unconditional Surrender" Grant. He wrote to Buckner:

"No terms except unconditional and immediate surrender can be accepted. I propose to move immediately upon your works."

Grant's successes in the West were in striking contrast to the decidedly poor showing made by the commanders in the East. Lincoln watched Grant all through the years of 1862 and 1863. Knowing full well the criticism which would be leveled at him, within the army and out, despite the remarkable record achieved by Grant, Lincoln nevertheless made his decision and went through with it.

So it was that the man who had acknowledged himself to be a failure before 1861, received the highest military command within the power of the nation to bestow. He received it at the hands of an unerring judge of human kind who felt he finally had found the leader he had been seeking for three long and bitter years.

And Grant had answered "It will be my earnest endeavor not to disappoint your expectations."

Urged Freeing of Slaves
As early as March 6, 1862, Lincoln urged congress in a special message to co-operate with any state for the gradual emancipation of its slaves, with compensation from the government.

S. P. I. TOPIC "THE PRESIDENTS"
"The Presidents" was the topic for consideration at the weekly meeting of the S. P. I. held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Katherine Kusterer.

Sayings of presidents were given in response to roll call, after which a piano duet, "Drums and Trumpets", was rendered by Mrs. Olga Strieter and Mrs. Kusterer. Articles on the presidents were given as follows:

Thomas Jefferson—Gladys Breitenwischer.
Theo. Roosevelt's children — Olga Strieter.
Calvin Coolidge—Louise Winans.
Millard Fillmore—Mary Schneider.
Theodore Roosevelt — Katherine Kusterer.
Herbert Hoover—Amanda Koch.
Andrew Johnson—Lillie Wackenhut.

A President's guessing game closed the program.

Formation of Pearls
A pearl is formed by a secretion that becomes pearly nacre. The identical substance forming the inner lining of the shell, around some foreign substance which has found its way into the shell but has not been absorbed. The intruder, be it a grain of sand or a piece of shell, causes irritation and, as a means of self-protection, a film of secretion is laid upon it. In the case of round pearls, a "pearl sac" usually grows around the intruder and the inner surface of the sac secretes the fluid which gradually hardens and becomes a layer of pearl. As succeeding layers form the pearl increases in size and value.

Prepared as he had been by an "advantage" of President Lincoln's remarks, General Grant replied:

Mr. President:
I accept this commission with gratitude for the high honor conferred. With the aid of the noble armies that have fought on so many fields for our common country, it will be my earnest endeavor not to disappoint your expectations. I feel the full weight of the responsibility now devolving upon me, and I know that if they are met it will be due to those armies, and above all to the favor of that Providence which leads both nations and man.

Mr. Johnson—Robert Waldon—Mrs. Smith's brother.

Miss Hazard—Mrs. John Smith—Who loves her husband no matter where he lives.

Miss Fowler—Miss Smith—A lady in waiting.

Miss George—Mrs. Billetdoux—Mrs. Smith's aunt.

Miss Yager—Rose Walton—Robert's bride of a day.

Miss Bollore—Julia—Touchingly clever.

Miss Gibson—Lavinia Day—Who is a lady and knows it.

Why did Smith leave home? If you are interested in finding out, we suggest you come and see "Why Smith Left Home", Feb. 17 and 18.

BIG DANCE RETURNS

Whose interested in a good time?

How's this for one? M. M. R. H. C. S. . . .

Jane and Mutt? How come, Jean? Tish and Mary Jane—present.

Eileen—Minus Harry—slipping?

Dud—giving the girls the same old line. The little cut-up.

Talk about being fickle, that blond Senior boy from Rogers—Corners certainly takes the cake.

Why does Harry attend Sunday afternoon matinees? Is it so that he can spend the evenings on East Middle?

Eileen and Oz? What is this? Guess.

Morris and La Rue, as usual. And why not?

How come Bernie H. was at the dance minus Ken Niehaus?

Why does Jane make up so quickly after her tiffs with Birch?

Why did Jane and Mutt leave so early Friday night?

We missed Doris. Where was she? Chet K., after firing of Sophomores and Juniors, each in turn, has finally picked on a beautiful Senior. Who is she? Well, who do you think?

Angeline and Dave were present, and Ang looked extra swell in a new dress.

Flash! Leslie Bycraft, hitch-hiked all the way from Detroit to escort Eunice H. to the dance.

Harley certainly missed a certain brunette Junior girl during her two week's absence. However, Harley says absence maketh the heart grow fonder. He should know.

We noticed that Jane B. attended the dance with Harold. Well, what's so strange about that?

What silent admirer keeps sending tokens of his devotion to Ang?

Estelle and Fritz are doing okay—dances and all.

What Junior girl departed from the dance Friday night wearing the ring of a certain alumni of '35?

With no hard feelings and apologies to all—

Yours truly—The Snoop.

Exams - Phooey!

What a relief!

Why?

Well you'd be relieved, too, if you had just finished your first semester finals, including government, economics, and algebra. And were they hard—gee, I nearly died.

Boy! Am I glad they're over with, or am I glad?

Goodness, I don't understand—yet how I ever got through. Why, I was positive that I had flunked every one. Imagine actually getting a passing mark! Why, I don't know how I did it! Mother always said that I had inherited my brains from her side of the family. Oh well, I knew I'd pass anyway. What's a little old final exam, anyway? Why, they're just a snap to me.

Please note: Seniors, and some Juniors, had first semester finals two weeks ago.

Chelsea High Wins First League Game

Chelsea continued her ninth inning rally as she defeated Clinton High last Friday, 21-19. The victory raises our percentage in the Huron Valley League to .187. The Clinton five led Chelsea at the half, 7-10. The high point man for Chelsea was Mr. Lyons, with ten points; for Clinton, Baird, with six points. The Clinton Varsity led the Chelsea squad at the half, 16-14.

The Chelsea Reserves defeated the Clinton Reserves, 19-15. The score at the half was 6-6. At the end of the third quarter Chelsea led 13-9. The high point man for Chelsea was Koebe, with ten points; for Clinton, Giebich, with seven points. Both of the teams were evenly matched and the result was a fast and exciting game.

Where is Bud Meyers? We all hope that we will see him tomorrow night when Chelsea plays Lincoln at Lincoln. Ineligibility is an important factor to be dealt with in all athletics. I hope, as does everyone else, that all players will keep themselves eligible.

The Chelsea girls' team was defeated by the Clinton Girls' team, 7-10. One of the reasons for the low scoring in the girls game is that only two of the six players are allowed to shoot baskets.

La Rue Wolf led the scoring for Chelsea, with five points. Miss Smith led the scoring for Clinton. The score at the half was 3-4 in favor of Clinton. Sprangle refereed all three games.

More Magazines?

DEAR SENIOR:

How would you like to sell some more magazines? I represent the Daily Blah, the Whizz and the Women's Plans for Matromony.

You would aid me by Blahing about the daily the Whizz and Women's Plans for Matromony. You can probably whizz thru—some sales. If you have plans for matromony that's O. K.—everyone has.

If you can sell 10 copies of these I'll give them to you as you're doing more than I can.

For every 5 copies sold the Nertz Publishing Co. will give you a choice between the rubber baby blanket and three tablets of strychnine as a grand prize.

We advise the strychnine as you can give it to your bridge partner when you lose the rubber.

We also have grand prizes for farther. You have three choices here—1st, a clock that runs three hours slow so he won't bawl you out for getting in late; 2nd, a good stout rope so you can put him out of his misery when you ask him to buy a magazine; 3rd, a new apron string to tie daughter to.

If you don't like these prizes write to me and I will send myself.

These magazines have been open for public sale since 1813. That's why they are fifty years out of date because every few years were dumb enough to buy one.

Your sales talk need not be very brilliant as most of these magazines are old enough to sell themselves.

Please send your request for magazines to me.

Disrespectfully yours,
Wilber (Poison) Heckenholme.

Caesar Says

Greetings, my friends:

The ground hog was seen sitting outside his home on February second even if the sun was shining. It seems his wife insisted on singing "The Music Goes Round and Round", so he chose the lesser of the two evils.

Six more weeks of winter means that Spring Fever is no excuse for not translating a Latin lesson.

Fritz—Does a giraffe get a cold when he gets his feet wet?

Estelle—Yes, but not until weeks after.

Mr. Lyons seems to be raising his cookie duster on the installment plan, a little 'down' each week.

Harry—This doesn't seem to be much of a steak for 45 cents.

Walter—No, but it will take you a long time to eat it.

Signing off this writer wishes to state that he found out a while ago that a slap in the face from a sincere friend means more than a slap on the back means from a fake friend.

Until further communications let me say—So long.

Editorial

We have an old saying that tells us how to reach the hearts of men, but men and maidens all rush for the hot lunches served so lavishly to us by the F. F. A. club. For one sniff of the fragrant aromas arising from the kitchen at lunch time makes us want to dash for the gym and get a surely seem to fit in these cold winter days and seem to whet the appetite and pep us up. The F. F. A. has a right to be proud for us that old saying goes—the proof of the pudding is in the eating of it and the number of students that take advantage of the hot lunches proves this saying.

Southerners Launch Talmadge's Presidential Boom—Kansas Offers Landon to Republicans—Bonus Bill Passed Over Roosevelt's Veto.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union

Gov. Talmadge

ONE THOUSAND or more "grass root" Democrats, representing 17 southern and border states—though most of them were Georgians—were assembled in Macon, Ga., and with wild yells launched the boom of Gov. Eugene Talmadge for the Democratic Presidential nomination. They adopted a motion asking him to run as a constitutional Democrat who is opposing what they called the "theorists, crack-pots, brain trusters and professors" of the New Deal. Talmadge, though highly elated, declined to comment or to make any announcement at the time.

The platform adopted by the meeting called for preservation of the Constitution, of state sovereignty and of the American form of government. It accused President Roosevelt of abandoning faith in the Constitution and the doctrine of Thomas Jefferson and of "repudiating, abandoning, and side-tracking" the platform on which he was elected in 1932. It said:

"We do not regard the occupant of the White House as a Democrat. He has broken the pledge of our party and violated the platform of 1932.

"We here today affirm our faith in that doctrine.

It is not easy yet to estimate the possible results of the Talmadge movement. The administration leaders refuse to take the Georgia governor seriously or to admit that he can imperil their control of any of the southern states.

The situation in the South is further complicated by the sudden death of Gov. O. K. Allen of Louisiana. He was the devoted and complacent adherent of Huey Long and had been selected to fill out the unexpired term of the late senator. Lieutenant Governor Nor succeeded to the governorship but who will now be the leader of the long forces was not immediately determined.

WHAT IS known as the Bankhead-Luna bill for soil conservation, the administration's substitute for the AAA, was given the hesitant approval of the senate agricultural committee by a vote of 15 to 2, although Chairman Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina said he "personally had some doubts" as to its constitutionality. The measure would enable the secretary of agriculture to remove 30,000,000 acres from cultivation and give him even wider powers than he had under the AAA. It was evidently headed for a hot debate on the senate floor.

Secretary Wallace let it be known that officials of the Agriculture, Forestry and Justice departments were cooperating in an effort to collect for the government the $200,000,000 ordered returned to processors by the Supreme court, but he gave no details of the plan. In referring to this court order in a radio talk, Mr. Wallace went further in criticism of the Supreme court than has any other official of the administration. He declared it was "the most gigantic legalized steal in history." Representative Allen F. Treadwell of Massachusetts asserted on the floor of the house that "any official who will make a statement of that nature about the Supreme court ought to be impeached." Mr. Wallace may not have heard the last of this.

The Harrison compromise bonus bill that went through the senate and house last week was vetoed by President Roosevelt. The house immediately and enthusiastically re-passed the measure. The senate was a little more deliberative, but within three days it too had overridden the disapproval of the Chief Executive, and the bill was made law. The vote in the senate was 76 to 19. In the house it had been 324 to 61.

It was a notable fact that all the senators—95 in number, for Huey Long's successor has not yet taken his seat—were present and voting. Notable, but not strange when one remembers this is an election year. Fifty-seven Democrats, 16 Republicans and 8 Independents—La Follette of Wisconsin, Shipstead and Benson of Minnesota—voted for the bill, while 12 Democrats and 7 Republicans voted against it.

The galleries were filled and there was wild cheering when the vote was announced. Republican senators amused themselves and the spectators by twitting the Democrats on their failure to stand by their chief, the most volatile of the twitters being Senator Hastings of Delaware.

Informed of the vote, President Roosevelt at once ordered government departments to prepare for payment of the bonus certificates as quickly as they may permit. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said that the payment would be "the most difficult mechanical task the treasury had faced in its history. He said the treasury would need $2,500,000 and the veterans' administration $5,000,000 to increase the force to take care of the job. More than seven million interest calculations will be necessary.

It was believed in Washington that President Roosevelt would appoint as the new surgeon general Dr. Thomas H. Parran, Jr., state health commissioner of New York and assistant surgeon general on leave.

These words of Alfred R. Smith in his speech at the American Liberty league dinner in Washington were perhaps the most interesting and significant of his utterances on that occasion, for he professed to be speaking "the discipline of Jefferson, Jackson, and Cleveland" and concerning their action in the Democratic national convention next June when the delegates were asked to endorse the doing of the Roosevelt administration. There could be no misunderstanding Smith's meaning, and he must now be considered the leader of the conservative Democrats in their revolt against the policies of the New Dealers. The concern of the administration, Democrats in now as to how extensive will be the bolt; and whether the conservatives will put up their own ticket, support the Republican nominee or merely stay away from the polls. Of course in any case the Republican cause will be aided materially, unless the guesses of its leaders are all wrong.

New Deal Democrats were quite undismayed by the Smith speech, which they declared was weak and ineffective. They announced that Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of the senate would deliver the official reply in a radio address.

Mr. Smith in his Liberty league speech never once named President Roosevelt but he specifically put on that gentleman the full blame for repudiation of most of the planks in the Democratic platform of 1932, which he declared was the best ever put forth in this country.

Senator Robinson's reply to Al Smith's speech consisted in the main of quotations from previous utterances by Smith in which he advocated a course quite as radical as that pursued by the New Dealers in combating the depression. He jeered at the New Yorker for abandoning the streets of the west side for the palaces of Park avenue and trading his brown derby for a silk topper, and denounced him as a deserter in the face of the enemy.

ACTIVITIES of the Townsend old age pension advocates are proving most annoying to many congressmen, and it is likely they will be investigated. A resolution for such an inquiry was introduced by Representative Jasper Bull of Missouri, Democrat. It charged that for several years "Individuals and groups" have "conceived and promoted numerous schemes under the pretext of obtaining pensions for the aged and needy" and that now "several groups of fraudulent promoters are enriching themselves by working the so-called pension plan racket."

PLANS announced in St. Louis by leaders of world Jewry are carried out, there is to be another exodus, this time from Germany where the Jews are greatly oppressed by the Hitlerites. Sir Herbert Samuel, eminent British Jew, attending the national council of Jewish federations and welfare funds, said a definite method would be formulated soon to provide for the gradual emigration of at least 100,000 of the German reich's estimated 450,000 Jewish population. The undertaking will be financed by a fund of about $10,000,000 raised by English and American Jews.

WASHINGTON wants to know who ordered the United States Marine band to walk out at the women's patriotic conference on national defense.

The difficulty arose out of a speech before the women's conference by Balbridge Colby, a Democrat who said unkind things about the New Deal. Thereupon the band walked out, and certain navy officers refused to deliver scheduled speeches before the conference. The Republicans did not overlook the opportunities offered by the incident.

NOTWORTHY among recent deaths was that of George W. Wickersham of New York, who was attorney general of the United States in the Tamm administration and for many years one of the country's leading corporation lawyers. He was seventy-seven years old, and died of heart disease in a tuxedo.

Mr. Wickersham was chairman of the famous Hoover commission named to investigate prohibition and other law enforcement in 1929. The commission's report opposed repeal, but the document was accompanied by the members' individual statements in which a majority urged repeal or modification of the eighteenth amendment. The net result was confusing.

Much good work, overlooked by the public in the controversy over prohibition, nevertheless was done by the commission. Its exhaustive reports filed early in 1931, covered many phases of the crime problem and were regarded as important contributions in that field.

DR. HUGH S. CUSHING announced that on February 1 he would retire as surgeon general of the United States public health service, "because of long service and health that isn't too good." He has been in the service since 1894 and has had four terms as its head. His administration is credited with completion of the quarantine system; inauguration of preliminary examinations at American colleges; establishment of a national leprosy and national narcotic farms, and construction of eight marine hospitals.

It was believed in Washington that President Roosevelt would appoint as the new surgeon general Dr. Thomas H. Parran, Jr., state health commissioner of New York and assistant surgeon general on leave.

A JURY in the United States District court in New York returned verdicts of guilty against acting Capt. William F. Wams and three co-defendants in the criminal negligence trial resulting from the disastrous fire that swept the Morro Castle off Asbury Park, September 8, 1934, taking a toll of 134 lives.

Besides Wams, those convicted were Eben Starr Abbott, chief engineer of the burned ship; Henry B. Cabant executive vice president of the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship company, operators of the Ward Line, and the New York & Cuba company itself.

FRANCE'S new government, under Albert Sarraut as premier, is hoped will stand up until the spring elections. If it does, the results will not be happy for Italy for it will take a much stronger stand in support of the League of Nations than did that of Laval. The new foreign minister is Pierre-Etienne Flandin, noted for his British tendencies; and Joseph Paul-Boncour, no friend of Mussolini, is the minister of state concerned chiefly with league affairs. In other respects there is nothing especially notable about the Sarraut cabinet. Regular is retained as finance minister, and he is committed to the Laval policy of defending the franc.

Flandin went to London for the funeral of King George, and it is rumored in Paris that he would sound out British bankers on the subject of a loan of three billion francs which the French treasury sorely needs with Laval in the discard, the British might look on this suggestion with favor.

ADOLF HITLER has just completed three years as the ruler of Germany, and the anniversary was celebrated by the Nazis with triumphant rejoicing. Addressing 20,000 Nazi storm troop veterans, the reichsfuehrer declared:

"Whoever opposes us now does it not because we are Nazis, but because we restored military independence to Germany."

Ritter spoke 25 minutes, claiming the Nazi movement has brought unity to the nation and adding:

"We seek peace because we love it, but we insist on our honor because we do not live without it."

MAJOR reductions in naval tonnage are "out" so far as the London four-power conference is concerned, world affairs and the defection of Japan. However the parley made some progress toward an agreement on the sizes of ships and calibers of guns when the Americans, French, and Italians accepted a new British compromise plan as a basis for discussion. The plan proposes battleships with a maximum of 35,000 tons, the existing limit; 14 inch guns instead of the present 16 inch ones, which would be categorized; and an entirely separate category for destroyers, placing them in a classification with small cruisers.

Poland's Seaport

Gdynia is Poland's seaport, an outlet from the Polish Corridor which was set up after the World War. Prior to 1924 it was just a stretch of sand with a few fishermen's cottages scattered about. With independence achieved and a commercial existence, Poland undertook the construction of a merchant fleet and built up about Gdynia a community of 60,000 persons.

Mrs. Penn's Epitaph

After Mrs. Penn's death, her husband, the famous William, wrote an epitaph. In it he stated that "she was a Publick as well as a Private loss"; that she was an excellent mother, a constant friend, modest and humble, religious, without affectation, an "easy" mistress, and neighbor, especially to the poor, and other virtues. He ended it with the sentence, "Therefore our great Loss though her own Eternal gain."

Horse Shoes and Nails at Rent
Each year the city of London pays quit rent to the crown for a piece of waste ground known as the Moors in Shropshire, and a tenement called the Forge in the parish of St. Clement Danes. The city has long since lost trace of both these properties, but it still pays quit rent. The Moors is paid for in bundles of faggots, which the city solicitor bills with a new faggot and a new bill hook. For the Forge he pays six horseshoes and six nails. The ceremony takes place in the law courts and payment is received by the king's remembrancer with the words "Good service" and "Good number."

Fresh Air Easiest to Heat
Fresh air heats more quickly than stale air because the former contains a large percentage of oxygen. Fresh air also has a higher thermal conductivity than carbon dioxide, which forms a large proportion of stale air.

Local Veterans Will Receive Bonus Total of About $60,000.00

—but the amount of credit of a veteran who performed no overseas service shall not exceed $500.00, and the amount of the credit of a veteran who performed any overseas service shall not exceed $625.00.

"The Administrator of the Veterans Administration, upon certification from the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, is hereby directed to issue, without cost to the veteran designated therein a non-participating adjusted certificate of a face value equal to the amount in dollars of a 20 year endowment insurance that the amount of his adjusted service credit increased by 25 per centum would purchase, at his age on his birthday nearest the date of the certificate, if applied as a single premium, calculated in accordance with accepted actuarial principles and based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at 4 per centum per annum, compounded annually."

Inasmuch as Congress in 1918 provided for payment of $60.00 to veterans, except those dying in service, a deduction of $60.00 or 60 days was made in computation of adjusted service credit of all veterans, including those who died in the service. In case the adjusted service credit amounted to $50.00 or less the veteran was paid in cash about March 1, 1925 providing he had filed his application. No service credit was allowed to any commissioned officer above the grade of captain in the Army or Marine Corps, lieutenant in the Navy, first lieutenant or first lieutenant of engineers in the Coast Guard, any civilian officer or employee of any branch of the military or naval forces, cadet of the United States Military Academy, midshipman, or cadet of the Coast Guard, member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps or member of the Students Army Training Corps.

From the above explanation it can be readily seen that the largest sum a veteran would receive would be $625.00, to which was added 25 per cent or $156.25, making a total of $781.25 to be used as a single premium for a 20 year endowment insurance at the age of the applicant's nearest birthday, with interest computed annually at four per centum, or for example: a veteran who served four months in a training camp in this country and fourteen months in overseas service and who at the time of his application for the adjusted service certificate prior to January 1, 1925 was 31 years of age (this being approximately eight years after the war closed) would receive after interest had been computed, the sum of $1577.

No certificates were issued prior to January 1, 1925, and it is this fact that prompted the various service organizations to request Congress to enact laws providing for the payment of the certificates this year.

Application for the adjusted service certificates may be made by any veteran, or in case the veteran is deceased, by his next of kin, any time up to January 1, 1940.

Due to the immensity of the task in checking the applications for payment of the Adjusted Compensation Certificates veterans are urged to file their claims as early as possible as it is estimated that payment cannot be made before July 1 of this year.

Righteousness
Righteousness is at once a personal and a social idea. Robinson Crusoe alone on his island had not room for all the commandments; but the arrival of his man "Friday" inevitably introduced the sphere of law and justice and his place.

Shared Napoleon's Exile
Four important personages shared Napoleon's exile—Bertrand, Montholon, Luc Cassin, and Gourgaud. In lesser capacities, Marchand, Cuprignan, and Sautin were also with Napoleon. The household of Bonaparte consisted of 61 persons, of whom nine, including four children, formed the suite of the emperor, the others being servants. Sir Hudson Lowe was the emperor's guardian on the island.

The "Bouquet" on a Building
"Putting the bouquet" on a building is a phrase that translates the name for a European festival in which the architects, contractors and workmen celebrate the laying of the final stone—symbolic of the completion of all the rough work—by putting above the finished roof a whole fir tree.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORY by Vance Wynn Public Ledger

The Little Wooden Cube

The prefect of Prague was taking a stroll one day when he was set upon by three men and badly beaten. There is no doubt that the men intended to murder him, but he was a strong and courageous person and he gave them such a battle that they finally took to their heels and ran away. The prefect not only lived, but he determined to find his assailants and see that they were punished. If it required the remainder of his natural life.

The men had come at him so suddenly and he was forced to fight with all his might and get a good look at any one of the trio. But there were two little clues that gave the detectives something to work upon. One was the odor of musk. The other was a gray glove that lay on the sidewalk.

The prefect of police called all of his men together and showed them the glove. He directed them to visit every glove factory in the country and also every establishment where gloves were likely to be sold in the hope of finding the man who had made that gray glove.

For three days he remained away from his duties. At the end of the five days, thinking that the quest was clear, he returned. But the minute he went into his room an officer was at the door demanding admittance.

"Your place is completely surrounded and I call on you to surrender," all right," he replied in a pleasant voice. "If you will give me a minute I'll do as you wish."

The officer walked with all-concentrated attentiveness, and just when he was about to pound on the door again he was startled by the loud report of a pistol.

On the floor lay the dead body of Emil Dressler, holding a smoking pistol in his right hand. The prefect of police was summoned and he made a careful search of the premises.

In a bureau drawer he located the missing glove, the mate to the one that had been found on the sidewalk on the day he was assaulted.

It was evident that the members of the organization threw lots when it came time to assassinate a ruler, and that the little cube was the notification that had been sent to Dressler.

That same day a man was arrested while in the act of assaulting a man and a woman. He had about him the odor of musk, and in his pocket was found one of the little wooden cubes with the letter "A" upon it.

He was given the third degree and made a confession implicating a number of other men in the city. They were vowed to overthrow the government and to set up a red republic.

All of the papers and paraphernalia were found and a trap set for the ring-leaders. That night nineteen of them were arrested. Some were executed and others imprisoned for life, but the net result was to nip in the bud the movement for the red republic.

Singing Sand Is Found Along England's Coast Everybody has heard of sinking sand, but some seaside places in England possess singing sand.

At Studland, on the Dorset coast, a stretch of singing sand was discovered some years ago—sand which when rubbed together gives out a more or less musical note.

On a number of beaches round the British coast there are patches of sand which, when dry, makes a strange tinkling sound when allowed to fall to the ground.

Certain conditions of wind and tide are necessary to produce sounds from some of these sands. When examined under a microscope the musical sand is found to consist of grains that are clean, free from fine matter, smooth and polished, rounded and all of similar size.

Musical sands were first discovered in Great Britain on the west coast of Scotland.

Other countries possess them as well. A beach where each footstep brings forth a mysterious piping sound was discovered some years ago by an Englishman near the site of the ancient Phoenician port of Gerra.

The native of South America has a different way of referring to these sands that sing. He calls them "the devil's drum," although the sound is not like that of a drum.

Completing the Suez Canal Men dreamed of severing the connecting isthmus between Africa and Asia long centuries ago, but until the middle Nineteenth century the project remained a dream. Then, in 1854, a Frenchman, DeLesseps, obtained a concession from the Khedive of Egypt, and began the actual digging, financing the work by public sale of stock. In 1869, having encountered numerous obstacles and spent more than twice the estimated sum, the engineers completed the Suez canal.

Old War Pictures Probably the largest collection of war pictures in the world is owned by the United States government. This library, in the custody of the War Department, was started in 1863 by Matthew B. Brady, who obtained President Lincoln's permission to follow the armies and take pictures. The collection contains 7,000 pictures made by Brady, for which he received the then insignificant sum of $25,000.
