Local Rural Routes Will Be Consolidated

Postmaster H. D. Witherell received an order from the 2nd Assistant Postmaster General last week to consolidate the three Chelsea rural routes into two routes, effective March 16. Route No. 3 will be eliminated, and Route No. 1, served by Floyd Allhouse, will be increased in length from 39.95 to 57.75 miles, and Route No. 2, Clarence Dietle carrier, will be 64.25 miles in length, increased from 43.13. The order carried the provision that the carriers must leave the local postoffice at 8:30 a. m.

When rural carrier service was put in effect from the Chelsea postoffice there were five routes, being reduced to four and then three in number. Bert Taylor, veteran carrier on Route 5, died several weeks ago, and the patrons on this route have been served by Roy Ives, who will continue in this capacity until the route is absorbed on March 16 by the other carriers.

Judge Pray Talks On Juvenile Delinquency

Probate Judge Jay G. Pray addressed the Kiwanis club Monday evening, discussing the problem of juvenile delinquency in this county. Mr. Pray stated that there are now between 600 and 700 children in Washtenaw county under the jurisdiction of the probate court and that they are divided as follows: Dependent, neglected, and delinquent.

In Mr. Pray's opinion the most serious problem confronting the nation today is the vast number of young people between the ages of 17 and 25 who are out of school and are unable to find employment. He stated that there are approximately 5,000,000 in this class throughout the nation, and he praised the national administration for the effort which is being made to aid them.

The speaker deplored the fact that the repealers of prohibition had not kept their promises in regard to the conduct of the liquor traffic, in that they had promised that there would be no open saloons, but that intoxicating beverages would be dispensed only by the bottle for home consumption. He stated that in one township in Washtenaw county which had three saloons in pre-prohibition days, there are now 23 places where intoxicants are sold, and that in many of these places the young people are allowed to go the limit so far as behavior is concerned. He attributes the downfall of many of the younger generation to the prevalence of the numerous wide open "hell-holes" which are operating throughout the nation under the present liquor system.

Mr. Pray stated that if a real crisis is to be averted municipalities must counteract this condition with appropriate recreational facilities and other worthwhile projects which will occupy the minds of youth and keep them from inhabiting undesirable places.

WARNER WAVE ARRIVES

The residents of Chelsea and vicinity were glad to have relief from the extreme cold weather which lasted nearly 40 days. Saturday morning the thermometer again registered anywhere from 8 to 19 degrees below zero. A bright sunny morning forced the thermometer up to 20 by noon and the snow began to melt. Mild temperatures and sunshine have made the snow rapidly disappear in town and the streets were covered with slush and water.

Employees of the Light and Water Department are being kept busy thawing out water pipes that are frozen in the yards.

Wednesday morning the temperature was in the low thirties and it snowed hard.

WILL DETERMINE WAGE SCALES

In an effort to ascertain the prevailing wage scales for all classes of labor in this vicinity, the Department of Labor will hold a hearing at Chelsea State Bank on Saturday, February 29, at 9 a. m., when all interested parties may appear and present testimony with respect to the prevailing local wages for laborers and mechanics on building construction. It is necessary that the Department of Labor secure this information before a contract for construction of the new local postoffice building can be awarded, as the contract will specify the minimum wages to be paid.

Heart Attack Fatal to Wm. Rademacher

William Rademacher, 43, died suddenly Wednesday forenoon, February 26, of a heart attack at the local office of the Waterloo Project administration, where he was employed. He was taken ill last Friday and had since been confined to his home. This was his first appearance at the office since that time and the effort of climbing the stairs brought on the attack soon after his arrival.

Mr. Rademacher was born in Detroit, January 28, 1893, the son of William and Anna (Barthel) Rademacher. He enlisted for service in the World War, being stationed at Grayling. For several years he was employed in the real estate office of Kennedy Bros. of Detroit, before coming to Chelsea about four years ago. Here he had worked for the Washtenaw County Welfare Relief Commission, and recently with the Waterloo Project administration. He was adjutant of Herbert J. McKuna Post No. 31, American Legion, and a member of Holy Name Society of St. Mary church.

He is survived by the widow, formerly Anne Carney of Hancock; two sons, William and Thomas, at home; and a brother, Inno Rademacher of Detroit.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon at St. Mary church, and interment will be in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Oil Now Being Forced Through New Pipeline

The first crude oil pumped from Central Michigan across the Ohio border, through the new Alma-Toledo pipeline, arrived in Toledo last Thursday. Six days were required to fill the 140-mile eight-inch pipeline with 45,000 gallons of oil before it began to appear at Toledo. The first oil was pumped in at Alma the preceding Saturday. Oil is forced through the long welded tube by two huge motors at the pumping station.

The new pipeline, which passes Chelsea about two miles to the west, is jointly owned by the Sinclair Pipeline Co. of Mt. Pleasant and the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio. It is expected to enable the central Michigan oil fields to compete profitably in the Ohio market. Heretofore, crude oil shipments have had to be made by either railroad or boat out of Bay City. Construction of the pipeline offered many engineering problems. The right of way crosses eight rivers, 11 railroads and innumerable trunkline highways, but the biggest problems offered workers were the swamp lands which had to be crossed.

Frozen ground, drifted highways and sub-zero temperatures also had to be fought during the last 15 days of construction. As many as 500 men were employed on the job at one time, with an average crew of 250 men.

ATTENDS SALES MEETING

Dale Claire was in Detroit on Tuesday, where he attended a sales meeting of the Kelvinator dealers, held at the Detroit Leland Hotel. There were 150 dealers present from the thirteen counties in this district. 1936 models of Kelvinator merchandise were on display. This included both electric and gas ranges in addition to commercial and domestic refrigeration.

Start Remodeling of St. Paul's Church

Work on the remodeling and redecorating of St. Paul's church was started this week. The principal change to the interior of the church will be the building of a platform across the entire front or north end of the church, with a niche for the altar. The raised choir loft and the new organ will be at the left, with the pulpit at the right of the platform. A beautiful picture will be placed above the altar.

The ceiling of white will be shaded gradually to a buff for the side walls. All the lighting will be indirect. The chimney will be moved to the east side, a new roof will be placed on the church and new doors will replace the old ones. Installation of a new Hammond electric organ will be an important feature.

It is hoped that the church will be ready for occupancy by Easter Sunday. In the meantime services will be held in the public school auditorium.

Saturday Is Last Day for Old License Use

With but two days remaining in which motorists of Michigan may buy and install their 1936 automobile license plates or stickers, if they plan to continue driving, Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, points out: "If there aren't enough hours remaining in which the late-comers can be served, it will merely mean that some people are going to be deprived of the use of their cars until they can get plates—there can be no extension of the deadline after midnight next Saturday, by me or by anyone else."

Asked if he might canvass members of the legislature to determine their attitude toward an "unofficial extension" of the deadline, Atwood said that no such course would even be considered by him.

The State Department head said that the record-breaking severity of the winter weather had made it inconvenient, if not impossible, for many residents of rural areas to reach branch offices to buy their plates during the past two or three weeks, but that such conditions did not prevail in other sections of the state. "In any event," he said, "I have extended the time to the last date permitted by law. If some motorists have to put their cars up for a day or so while all late-comers are accommodated with plates, the responsibility rests with those who delayed their purchases when they might have bought them conveniently and without delay any time since early in the winter season."

Auto owners unable to purchase full year license plates, may purchase a sticker good until July 31st at half the full year rate.

TEACHING SEWING CLASSES

Under the National Youth Guidance Administration, Mrs. Kate Hawley has organized four sewing classes, which she is conducting weekly at her home on East Summit St. The members consist of girls from the ninth and 10th grades of the public school, the eighth grade, sixth and seventh grades, and second to fourth grades of the public and parochial schools. Everything in the line of sewing is taught. Meetings are held in the evening and extra assistance is given the girls any afternoon after school. The pupils are very much interested in their work and are said to be progressing very satisfactorily.

WAYNE ROSSBACH HERE

Wayne Rossbach of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, arrived in Chelsea on Tuesday morning for several weeks' visit with his parents. Wayne, who was purchased from the Lincoln, Neb. baseball club last year by the St. Louis Cardinals, will report at Springfield, Mo. on April 1st, and will play with the Springfield or Cedar Rapids, Iowa "farm" teams of the Cardinals during the coming season. He had a very successful year with the Lincoln team last season and believes he will have more of a chance for success this year with the better teams.

FIRE DAMAGES HOUSE

The local fire department was called Saturday forenoon to extinguish a blaze at the tenant house of H. S. Holmes, east of the mill on North St. The fire started around the chimney and burned the roof and most of the second story. The building is occupied by Walter Joseph, Mr. Howard and their families. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

ZACCHAEUS

To write a verse of compliment,
Of compliment and praise,
Of one who dared confess his sin
And sound his Saviour's praise,
Is pleasure for an Angel heart,
Or Angel hearted man,
In sounding loud a note of joy,
In filling up God's plan.
A little man named Zacchaeus,
Who lived in former days,
A chief among the Publicans,
And Publicans' queer ways.
He scarce were more than four feet high,
Yet tax collections tilted,
And by unjust extortions schemes
His purse was kept well filled.
He also lived on earth in days
When Jesus walked with men,
And listening to the truth He preached
Was dreadfully condemned.
Because he had unjustly taken
By taxes gathered in,
Far more than law allowed him,
Which condemned him of great sin.
A Sycamore tree he climbed one day,
To see his Lord pass by;
"I'm out of sight," thought Zacchaeus,
Yet Jesus caught his eye.
Come down! Come down! friend
Zacchaeus.
A load is on your heart,
I came this way to lighten it
And bid your grief depart.
A homely invitation then
Was given him to dine,
Resulting in confession with
Great joy and peace of mind.
With tearful eye acknowledging,
Behold dear Lord I give
One half my goods to feed the poor,
I gladly--gladly give.
If I have taken anything
From any man for naught,
I'll gladly give him back four fold,
I truly feel I ought.
Methinks I hear my Saviour say
Just then, my brother man,
Today you're born again, you are
A Son of Abraham.
I've tried to make this story plain,
I'll gotten wealth is dross,
And Zacchaeus found how Jesus came
To seek and save the lost.

—By Arthur Carlton.

Hens In Contest Cackle At Cold

Hens in the Michigan Egg Laying contest at Michigan State College, East Lansing, are cackling their delight at the cold spell as they set new record highs for winter production.
Temperatures as cold as 10 degrees below zero hold no fears for these 680 competing birds. They laid more and bigger eggs to attain a January average production of 58.4 per cent, as compared to the estimated laying average of about 35 per cent throughout the state.
These facts are revealed in a summary of the Michigan Egg Laying contest results for January prepared by C. G. Card, professor of poultry husbandry at the college. The hens remain at the college for the duration of the competition which lasts until October 23, 1936, and are housed in ordinary chicken coops.
"The secret of our success in egg production in January lies in the feeding," Professor Card says. "Cold weather does not hurt if fluctuations in temperature are at a minimum as they have been this year. We have long noticed that birds in the Upper Peninsula have high winter production because their weather, although cold, is usually more stable than down here.
"We have kept high records because we use about 25 pounds of feed, divided equally between mash and grain, per hundred birds daily. Most farmers do not keep up feeding and as a result have exceptionally low production this winter. The estimated average for poultry farmers in the state this winter has been about 35 per cent."
The record production for January was made by the New Hampshire breed with an average of 64.7 per cent, Professor Card stated.

Snow Removal Costs Mount In Michigan

Lansing—Michigan's recent blizzards, the most severe in the history of modern transportation, meant a $242,642 bill to the state highway department.
A compilation announced by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, estimated snow-removal expenditures on the trunkline system at that amount for the first two weeks in February. This was the period in which Michigan experienced three successive blizzards which brought temperatures of zero to 25 below, winds as high as 60 miles an hour, 18 inches of snow on the level, and drifts as high as 15 to 20 feet.
The estimated expenditures represented an increase of $111,857, or an average of $1,341.65 for every county in the state, over the snow removal outlay on the trunkline system at the same time last year. Commissioner Van Wagoner said 1935 winter weather conditions were regarded as normal for Michigan.
The recent blizzards boosted maintenance figures in all but 13 counties of the state. While lower Michigan was fighting its worst snow drifts in history, the Upper Peninsula burden was almost normal. The maintenance bill for that section of the state represented a total reduction of $48.
Expenditures in the Cadillac state highway district increased the most. The average boost was $2,512 in this district comprising Antrim, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Charlevoix, Clare, Kalkaska, Lake, Leelanau, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, Osceola, and Westford. In the Kalamazoo (southwestern Michigan) district the average increase was $1,966 per county while in the Grand Rapids (western Michigan) district the average boost was $1,928.
Mason county's expenditures were increased the most of any in the state as a result of the blizzards. The maintenance bill there climbed from $508 for the first 15 days in February, 1935 to $4,500 for the same period this year.
Maintenance in Washtenaw county increased from $2,539 in 1935 to $3,600 in 1936.

...BUT I CAN TELEPHONE

This clipping from the St. Joseph Herald. Press shows there is no isolation where there is a telephone.

You hear it all over Michigan . . . as winter storms put a stop to many everyday activities or make them extremely difficult.

In numerous communities the physician cannot reach the bedside of his patient. But he can prescribe and diagnose by telephone.

A salesman is cut off from his customer by snow-clogged roads or uncertain rail transportation. But he can transact business over the telephone.

Delivery of the weekly letter to the folks back home may be delayed by winter's grip. But telephone wires carry the sound of loved voices instantaneously to anxious ears.

The telephone is so much a part of our day to day activity that we accept it as commonplace. But in time of widespread emergency, we see how far its value to all the people outweighs its cost.

BROOKLYN—The Hart & Howell Co. with 21 busy employees have lately added a few carpenters to rebuild and enlarge their corn dryers. They have more than doubled the capacity of the dryers. All of the popcorn, whether a case or a carload, is tested as to correct moisture content when it leaves the factory. This being one of the many reasons for the reliable and successful business of the company, any popcorn containing excess moisture receives just the right amount of treatment in the large dryers. The popcorn is stored in well ventilated cribs and most of it requires no other drying treatment, but the tests are accurately made and the dryers are capable of bringing immediate treatment to any corn not showing exact moisture condition. The drying is stopped at the right point, because the corn can be made too dry as well as too wet for good popping.—Exponent.

HOWELL—Dr. J. E. Cunningham, 74, Fowlerville physician, died Friday at the St. Lawrence hospital in Lansing, following a several weeks' illness. Funeral services were held from St. Agnes church, Fowlerville, Monday morning. Doctor Cunningham, who had been a practicing physician there for many years, is survived by one son and a daughter, Miss Geneva Cunningham, a teacher in New York city.—Republican Press.

MILAN—For the first time in several years the Lincoln Consolidated Rural school, operated in conjunction with the State Normal college, closed Friday because of weather conditions. Nearly all roads, with the exception of the trunk line highways, throughout the sixty-three square miles of territory served by the school are impassable because of deep drifts, and H. A. Tape, principal of the school, together with other school authorities, decided it would be unsafe to attempt to bring the children to the school on Friday.—Leader.

PINCKNEY—Chris Fitzsimmons informs us that he and his brother-in-law, Mike Hudson, have been using a yoke of oxen all winter to draw wood on his farm near North Lake. These animals are sure-footed than horses and are more able to get through the snow drifts. This is the same yoke which were in the Stockbridge Centennial parade.—Dispatch.

JACKSON—Tons of snow on the roof collapsed a huge building on the

W. H. Camp property, 700 Wildwood avenue, last Friday. The walls gave way and the building was demolished. The building was used to store boats and automobiles, there being 10 boats and one auto in it at the time.—Evening Star.

Backache
There is today a popular delusion that a backache is a sure sign of kidney disease. When and where this idea began is not clear. It is a good example of the power of suggestion over mind.

There is a story that runs something like this: Since the kidneys are located within the body close to the spinal column a clever advertising man saw a chance of increasing the sales of a kidney medicine if he could convince the public that there was a close connection between backache and kidney trouble.

It is now well known today among modern doctors that diseases of the kidneys very seldom indicate their condition with a backache. Many a person has died of Bright's disease who never had the least sign of a backache.

The only way to determine the condition of the kidneys is to have a urinary examination which any Osteopathic Physician will do for you.

There is one sure way of finding out what makes the backache and that is to consult an Osteopathic Physician. He may be regarded as a backbone Specialist. Let it be repeated that a backache is not a simple condition to correct. A single visit to an Osteopathic Physician may give immediate relief, however it is very seldom that results are obtained so quickly.

Anyone desiring information regarding Osteopathy may obtain such information by writing to Osteopathic Items, P. O. Box 331, Chelsea, Mich.

Ques.—What is the language of the Ethiopians? And do all of those people speak the same language?

Ans.—The official language of Ethiopia is correctly called "Geez." This language was introduced from Arabia about 2,000 years before Christ when it got its independence from Egypt. The modern nomadic tribes of the Sudan and Tigre speak a language a trifle different from the official language of the nation, but it is so closely allied to it that it can be understood. It is Semitic in construction and resembles the Hebrew, Aramaic and Arabic.

Ques.—To settle an argument please answer if Benjamin Franklin was or was not a native of Pennsylvania. If not, where was he born?

Ans.—Benjamin Franklin was a native of Massachusetts. He was born in Boston on Jan. 17, 1706. At the age of 17 he came to Pennsylvania and located at Philadelphia, where he lived continuously until he died on April 19, 1790. When he arrived in Philadelphia he had exactly $1.25. By prudent economy he saved enough to buy the Pennsylvania Gazette in 1727. Therefore he was a Pennsylvanian by adoption, but was a native of Massachusetts.

Ques.—I would like to know what is meant by "galvanic" battery. Also why was it so named?

Ans.—"Galvanic" battery is a combination of two metals—zinc and copper—in a liquid acting upon one to a greater extent than the other. It was called "Galvanic" because the discoverer of this experiment was Luigi Galvani, a famous physician who was born in Italy on Sept. 9, 1737, and died there on Dec. 4, 1798.

Ques.—Kindly answer in your paper if President Garfield was assassinated by an Anarchist. Also when and how was he killed?

Ans.—President Garfield was assassinated by Charles Jules Guiteau, a lawyer in Washington, D. C., who failed to secure a profitable practice. He sought a consular appointment from Garfield, and when he failed in this, he shot the President in the Baltimore and Potomac railway station on July 2, 1881, from which shot he died on Sept. 19, 1881.

Ques.—I would like to know what is autumnal catarrh? Also what remedy is there for it?

Ans.—"Autumnal catarrh" is simply another name for hay fever. It is caused by some plant pollen or the dust arising from molding vegetation. We know of no simple remedy—see your doctor. However, most hay fever patients usually find it advisable to go to higher altitudes or a region that has a colder climate than the place of their residence about the period of attack, which may occur any time between July and October.

Ques.—Why do we speak of a certain period of time as "halcyon days"?

Ans.—"Halcyon" is the poetical name applied to the kingfisher from early historic times. According to Greek mythology, Halcyone and her husband, King Ceyx, were transformed into kingfishers; hence the name halcyon. The idea of the ancients was that these birds laid their eggs in nests floating on the surface of the sea in calm weather, before and after the shortest day of the year, when the gods were supposed to keep the water smooth and tranquil for their benefit. Hence "halcyon days" signifies a period of rest and untroubled felicity.

Ques.—You once printed a term by which a person could remember all the colors of the rainbow, but I have forgotten it. Will you please be kind enough to print it again?

Ans.—Each of the letters in the two words "by vigor" stands for a color in the rainbow. There are seven colors which may be remembered from those two words, as b is for blue, y for yellow, v is violet, i for indigo, g for green, o for orange and r for red. This spells "by vigor."

Ques.—Do gorillas eat raw meat like other ferocious wild animals?

Ans.—No. They live chiefly on fruits and vegetables which grow in tropical countries.

Ques.—Is it true that Robert G. Ingersoll was a minister before he became a lecturer and an opponent of the Bible and the Christian religion?

Ans.—No. Ingersoll was a lawyer of extraordinary ability, and was admitted to the bar in 1857 at Peoria, Ill.

What Is Money?

The economist gives us one answer... the philosopher another. It means one thing to the business man, something else to the soap-box orator. Yet to every individual, money is an acknowledged necessity in our present civilization.

It may take many forms. Currency or gold or copper or paper. Personal checks. Drafts. All are money, and all are instruments for the continuation of the necessarily complex system in which we live. Closely affiliated with this present-day economic necessity, your bank is your representative in this phase of commerce and industry. Use its facilities freely!

Profit Can be Made to Make More Profit

You merely turn on switch, set clock, and forget!

In more than a million homes that now employ modern economical electric cookery, the housewife has reduced her kitchen cares to a minimum. There is no need for her to work over a hot stove, burning hands and arms on hot oven doors and sides as she inspects and bastes the food. With the food in the oven, she merely selects the temperature for the meal, sets two dials on her control clock for starting and stopping the heat, turns the switch and goes on her way rejoicing—knowing that she will find a complete meal, perfectly cooked, ready to be served when she returns.

There is nothing to do in cooking electrically that you have not done for years. It is all so simple a child could do it, yet there is no possibility of failure, and your friends will marvel at your success.

HEADLINER... ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT!

IT COSTS LESS NOW TO BUY "ON TIME"

The new GMAC 6% TIME PAYMENT PLAN reduces the cost of financing a new car purchase. Use these savings to get a better car—a car that's a joy to own, a thrill to drive—a safe, smart, new Buick that packs pleasure in every mile. We'll gladly show you the exact figures and how much you save.

EXTRA special news it was—when Buick wrapped up 3500 pounds of live-wire power—thrill in sixteen feet of eye-stopping smartness—and named it the Special.

Extra special news it was—when buyers put foot to treadle on the open road, and found the Buick Special nimble, eager, steady, smooth—as no car ever was before at $765* list price at the factory.

Extra special news you'll find it, when you pile up the miles, roll the weeks into months, and see how meager are its demands for gas and oil—how stubbornly it resists the siren call of the repair shop.

It's newsworthy for style, for power, for comfort, for safety. It's a headliner for thrift, for prolonged resistance to wear, tear and abuse. It will write family history in the new sort of satisfaction it gives you and yours.

But highlight of the news is that you can buy the Buick Special for a mere two or three dollars a week more than the lowest-priced cars. The new GMAC 6% Time Payment Plan brings down the cost of buying "on time," makes payments easy, removes the last cause for waiting to "step-up" to a Buick.

We'd like to show you the phenomenal Special, let you drive it, figure out the arithmetic on it. It's worth your while just to find out how little it costs to get a car that's big in more ways than its inches! When may we see you?

*$765 to $1945 are the list prices of the new Buicks at Flint, Michigan, subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment.

ATTENDS INSURANCE MEET

H. W. Hayes was in Bloomington, Ill. the past week, where he attended the 1936 annual convention of the State Farm Mutual Insurance companies. Twelve hundred agents were in working sessions from February 18 to 20 inclusive. It was a remarkable gathering of typical American citizens, representatives of all sections of the country and the sub-zero weather did not dampen the enthusiasm of the convention delegates. Tuesday evening they attended a splendid rendition of the Passion Play, produced by Delmar D. Darrah. The regular session for the public performance of the play will not open until Palm Sunday, April 5, and the presentation for the agents was arranged by George J. Mecherie, president of the State Farm companies. The annual banquet on Wednesday night was an impressive sight, with more than 2,000 attending—all enthusiastic, feeling that another good year for insurance faced their 7,000 agents throughout the nation—agents of a company that has grown consistently every year of the depression.

JERUSALEM SCHOOL NEWS

The school month of February closed for the Jerusalem school—February 21. The per cent of attendance for February was 90.1. The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy: Doris, Robert and Clara Trinkle, Billy Stierle, Dan and Donald McLean, and Arlene and Wilma Koengeter.

During the month the children have been interested in studying about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. They have added much to their Washington and Lincoln scrapbooks, which now contain many interesting things. In the sandbox they illustrated many stories of both men. Also the picture "George Washington" by Gilbert Stuart has been studied and stories of the picture and artist have been added to the picture study book. During art periods children worked on materials in keeping with Lincoln and Washington.

There was no school on Valentine day because of the bad weather and roads, so the children had their Valentine-box the following Monday.

The Beginners expect to finish their book this week. Then they will be making rapid progress and before long will be first graders. They too have copied and reproduced many stories of Washington and Lincoln.

The seventh and eighth graders are very busy on reviews in preparation for their examination which will be March 4.

Mrs. Robinson visited our school one afternoon this month and observed some Arithmetic classes and a Civics Health club meeting with which she was much pleased. The beginners took their tests. They all did very well. Wilma Koengeter rated 100 per cent, Donald Koch 99 per cent, Donald Barth 98 per cent, and Doris Trinkle 94 per cent. Other visitors that afternoon were Mrs. Clarence Koengeter, Mrs. Oscar Stierle and Mrs. Arthur Barth.

Several interesting clippings have been found to add to the Nature book. The sixth grade have finished their History book and are now reading "The Story of Our Country."

She was born in the city of Leeds, England, Nov. 2, 1857. Her family came to this country in 1881 and settled in Bay City, where two years later she was married to Edward W. Brown, for many years engaged in lumbering, building and manufacturing until the time of his death in 1925. Mrs. Brown entered the Home—September 21, 1935 from the Madison Ave. church in Bay City from which she had been almost a life-long member. Her only remaining relatives are a sister, Mrs. Jennie Melrose of Prescott, Mich., and two nieces, Mrs. Arley Osborne of Prescott and Mrs. Elson Anderson of Bay City. After a preliminary service at the Home her body was taken to Bay City where funeral services were held in her old home and by her former pastor, Rev. Kilpatrick, and where she was interred beside her husband.

Clearing of Roads In County Real Problem

The most unusual winter weather conditions in the history of the state, if not the middle west, has caused the radical change of well laid plans of all highway authorities.

Usual or ordinary snows could have been disposed of in Washtenaw county by the use of the 27 snow plows now owned by the Washtenaw County Road Commission. However, well equipped as this county is, the completely frozen condition and constant drifting of the snow has meant that even by using the largest tractor snow plows, roads became impassable and the only alternative has been to shovel by hand ahead of the plows.

Realizing and appreciating the very serious problems confronting the county road commission, several rural localities of the county have banded together to form shoveling battalions, which labor though furnished gratis is in fact a service to themselves and their neighbors and has meant that where a snow plow would have had to retrace its tracks and thereby leave a road unopened, by the help of some labor the plow could actually proceed and accomplish miles of road clearing.

Announcement is made by the county road commission that where local labor is available and willing to furnish their services gratis for snow shoveling that a county plow will be dispatched as soon as possible after notice has been received, to that locality and will remain there as long as the labor is furnished.

A serious financial condition faces the Washtenaw County Road Commission due to the fact that only $64.31 per mile per year is made available by law for the maintenance of the so-called township roads totaling 1040 miles. This revenue is derived from a small portion of the gasoline tax and already a large share of the 1936 allotment has been expended for snow removal, which leaves only a small balance for the next ten months.

WILL HOLD HEALTH CLASSES
The Michigan Department of Health will conduct a series of eight health classes for women in Washtenaw county, under the sponsorship of the Chelsea Child Study club. There will be eight meetings with talks on: 1—Common Emergencies and How to Meet Them; 2—The Body and How it Functions; 3—Special Health Problems of the Adolescent and the Woman; 4—The Beginning of Life; 5—Care and Training of Babies and Young Children; 6—Preventing Acute Infectious Diseases; 7—Food in Relation to Health and Disease; 8—First Aid Demonstrations.

These talks are free and will be of interest to all women and it is hoped that every woman in Chelsea and vicinity will avail themselves of the unusual opportunity of hearing Dr. Ruth Stocking.

The talks will begin on Wednesday, March 11 and will be held for eight weeks and will be in the kindergarten room at the public school, at 3:30 p. m.

Kindergarten

Monday was Charles Every's birthday. His mother brought a lovely cake with six green candles. We all sang "Happy Birthday" for Charles. We are sorry Marilyn Schenk has been ill for so long. We hope Jimmie Miller and Marcela Popovich are soon coming back too. We have added two new instruments to our Rhythm Band—the bells and triangle. This week we will add the tambourine.

First Grade

There are two new girls in the first grade. They are Gloria Turner and Alice Cushman. That makes thirty-one boys and girls in the first grade. Glen Cutler is moving away. We are sorry to see Glen go. Helen Hochrein is back. She says the mumps are not fun. Jack Winans has the mumps.

Second Grade

Mumps—and yet more mumps. Audrey White, Myra Lou Townsend, Clara Miller, Philip Collins, Arthur Paul and Bobby Robbins are busy entertaining them. We hope they soon be back with us. Thora Hill and her mother came to see us on Friday afternoon. Thora is recovering nicely from her accident and hopes to soon get back to school. We'll be glad to have her with us again.

Edward Koch was not in school on Tuesday and Wednesday. The snow drifts were so high it took them all day to tunnel through so that they could get out to the pavement. Doris Nagy is our new little girl. She comes from Indiana. Being weighed again. Has the cold weather made us lose or gain?

Fourth Grade

We have had our dust pan empty for several days. Every one seems more particular in keeping his desk clean. Perhaps it is warm weather and spring cleaning. We have taken all February pictures down and are decorating our room with Dutch pictures mounted on orange paper.

Elaine, Esther and Doris are back again. We hope most of our sickness is over and that we will have a better attendance with this warmer weather. We are making our Washington booklets. Some very interesting material was brought and some very good stories were written.

We were sorry to hear that Dorothy Hale's had the misfortune of having a fire in their home. We hope you will soon be with us Dorothy. Our Dutch scene is completed in the sand table. We think it is very good. We are having geography tests over the Netherlands.

We are making a blackboard border of windmills and little Dutch boys and girls. In Arithmetic we are completing our unfinished problems, including some long division. Mary Chriswell, Doris Collins, Eleanor Harper and Barbara White have completed their work books to page 104. Others have theirs nearly completed.

We changed all of our books so that the numbers corresponded with those of alphabetical order. Miss Kern is reading "Hans Brinker" and we are all very much interested in it. Raff Brinker, the father, has recovered his senses now and we are anxious to know if he will remember where his money is.

Fifth Grade

We enjoyed the Washington story which Delores Schanz read to us on Friday and we danced the Minuet from Don Juan as it was danced in Washington's time, or at least we tried to do so, in celebration of Washington's birthday.

We are very much interested in our Weekly Readers which Mr. Blecker ordered for us. The items discussed in them are only the worth while events of national and international interest. During Art period this week we will make folios in which to keep them. After they have been read and discussed they then become the property of each pupil.

We send greetings to our fifth graders who have mumps—James Collins, Donna May McKune and Wilma Spiegelberg. We miss you. Our new boy from near Manchester is Eugene Turner. We now have 33 pupils enrolled.

Sixth Grade

We memorized selections about Washington on February 21, in honor of his birthday. We have noticed that the birds have quit coming to our feeding tray. It must be they have starved. We wish that all the people of Chelsea would help by throwing out things birds can eat, and fine gravel to digest their food.

Some of the boys and girls of the sixth grade have joined the Audubon Bird club. The ones who have joined are going to paint the picture of the canvas back duck. We are glad that Mr. Gentner has our new bulletin board finished. Miss Canfield has started a new flower bulb for our room.

We are going to have soap carving about Washington. Most of us expect to meet at Angel Hall in Ann Arbor, about 8 o'clock.

Saturday evening to look through the telescopes.

Others who are interested and can help secure their transportation please see Miss Canfield. Thursday we went to the gym and heard a very interesting speech about Lincoln, which was given by Mr. Bendell. He also gave the Gettysburg Address and impersonated Lincoln. We thank Mr. Blecker for letting us go down into the gym with the high school.

The A class in Geography has started to study another British possession. It is Australia.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade won a two dollar prize for selling the most tickets for the faculty play. They sold twenty dollars worth of tickets.

Eighth Grade

Some of the eighth graders are making posters for the Michigan Centennial.

Chelsea High Joins Forensic Association

Chelsea high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Forensic Association and will compete in the state-wide contests in oratory, declamation, and extemporaneous speaking to be conducted by the Association, it was announced last week by Dr. William L. Halstead, manager, and member of the Speech Department of the University of Michigan. Miss Josephine Gibson of the high school faculty will train the local contestants.

Three hundred and fifty-two Michigan high schools throughout the state have joined the Association this year. This is the largest number ever to be enrolled. A total of two hundred and eighty-nine schools enrolled last year. This growth is an indication of the constantly increasing interest in public speaking and the training it affords for later business and professional life. This is also evidenced by the large number of students taking public speaking courses in high schools, colleges, and universities, and the large enrollments in the courses in public speaking for adults offered by the Extension Division of the University of Michigan.

The Forensic Association is sponsored by the Extension Division of the University of Michigan in cooperation with an advisory council representing the Michigan Conference of City Superintendents, the Michigan High School Principals Association, and the Michigan Association of Teachers of Speech.

Participation in declamation is limited to students enrolled in the ninth and tenth grades. Students in the eleventh and twelfth grades may compete in the contest in oratory. Any high school student may take part in the contest in extemporaneous speaking.

Each school participating in oratory, declamation, and extemporaneous speaking will conduct a local contest to select a winner in each activity to represent the school in the district contest. The winner in each event in each of the fifty-five districts will be awarded a Webster's Collegiate Dictionary with the name of the contestant in gold on the cover. These winners will enter the district contests.

The dictionary awards are presented through the courtesy of the Detroit News. Each school having a winning contestant in a district contest will receive a wall banner award, suitably inscribed from the Extension Division of the University of Michigan. The district contests terminate these activities in speech.

Over 13,000 high school students participated in public speaking contests conducted through the Association last year. The contests were heard by audiences aggregating over 112,000 persons. It is hoped that these totals will be even greater this year.

Basketball News

Chelsea Wins from Tecumseh
The Chelsea quintet closed the 1935 basketball season with a 15-12 victory over Tecumseh last Friday.

During the past several years the Tecumseh five have beaten the Chelsea Varsity, but last Friday Chelsea took revenge. This victory is the fifth consecutive one for Chelsea. Due to a bad start, the Chelsea squad has won four and lost five in the League.

All these contests were extremely close, one being an overtime game. The first victory, over Jackson Technical school, began the winning streak of Chelsea, which lasted five games. Chelsea's Victory over U. High last week was highly instrumental in the failure of U. High to win the Huron League championship. Chelsea is tied for fourth place after being in the cellar berth for half the season.

The other teams tied with Chelsea are Lincoln and Tecumseh. The following games are scheduled for the coming week: Chelsea Varsity vs. Alumni, tomorrow night. A preliminary game between two groups of the Reserves. A contest between the U. H. S. girls and the alumni girls.

The Chelsea Reserves also defeated the Tecumseh Reserves, 18-14, in an overtime game. The score by quarters:

TRUE DETECTIVE STORY

by Vance Wynn
© Public Ledger

"So Perish All Traitors"

THE two young men who registered at the Southern hotel, in St. Louis, many years ago, were well dressed and looked prosperous. Also they seemed to be devoted friends.

Charles A. Preller and Walter L. Maxwell were the names they inscribed on the book, and it later developed that they were Englishmen, having come from Liverpool to Boston and thence to St. Louis.

At all events they were inseparable companions, and their mutual devotion attracted the attention of the other guests of the house.

Maxwell left the hotel first, saying that his friend intended staying a few days longer.

Also he suggested that he had some work to do in his room and did not want to be disturbed.

That was all very well, but when Preller failed to make his appearance after two days the management of the house thought it was time to investigate.

There was no response to the knock on his room door and it had to be forced.

There was a trunk in the corner of the apartment.

It was opened and in it was found the dead body of Charles A. Preller.

His baggage had been removed, probably to change his appearance, and on his clothing was pinned a sheet of paper on which was written:

"So perish all traitors to the great cause."

The first and most natural move on the part of the detectives was to try and find the former companion of the dead man.

There was no special reason for suspecting that he had killed the friend to whom he seemed so devoted, but there was every reason for supposing that he might throw some light on the tragedy.

Did the two men belong to some secret society? Were they being pursued by avengers?

It was not easy to get on the track of Maxwell, but it was eventually learned that he had gone to San Francisco.

The chief of police of that city worked in unison with the chief of police of St. Louis.

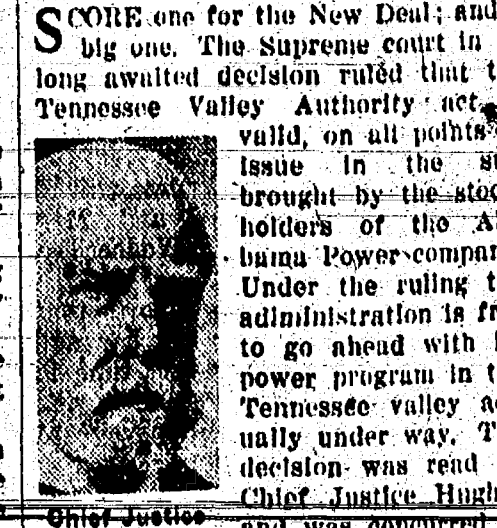

In a few days he was able to report that a man who looked very much like the description of Maxwell had been seen in the smoking room of the Palace hotel.

New Deal Wins in Tennessee Valley Case—Picking Delegates for National Conventions—Substitute Farm Bill Pushed to Passage.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

Chief Justice Hughes

and was concerned in by all the associate justices except Justice McReynolds. He read a dissenting opinion.

Because of circumscribed limits the decision was much narrower than most of the New Deal findings of the Supreme court. It was limited strictly to the terms of the contract on which the suit was brought, namely, acquisition by TVA of a transmission line to convey power from the Wilson dam.

Certain phrases are still open for possible legal contest in the future, and only Wilson dam, not Norris dam, or any other dam constructed or projected on the Tennessee river was involved in the court's finding.

The legal right of the federal government to acquire and own transmission lines to a market for surplus energy never before directly passed upon by the United States Supreme court was ruled upon in the affirmative. Unanswered is the question of what constitutes surplus power.

Among the chief points in the majority opinion were these: The government had full authority to build Wilson dam—keystone of TVA.

Congress has indisputable power to order disposal of electricity developed at the dam.

The government acted legally in building or obtaining through purchase from private companies certain transmission lines to transport power to a wider market.

The government has the same right to dispose of surplus power as it would have to dispose of copper, gold, and minerals on public lands.

Justice McReynolds in answer to this said:

"If under the thin mask of disposition of property the United States can enter the business of generating, transmitting and selling power, as when and wherever, some bond may specify, with the definite design to accomplish ends wholly beyond the sphere marked out for them by the Constitution, an easy way has been found for breaking down the limitations heretofore supposed to restrain protection against aggression."

BOTH house and senate passed the resolution extending for one year the existing embargo on arms, ammunition, and implements of war, and prohibiting loans and credits to belligerents.

Senator Nye was out of the city when the senate assembled, an hour earlier than usual, to act on the measure. Hearing what was going on, he flew from Minneapolis through a storm and arrived six minutes before the senate vote.

Any of his proposed amendments. One amendment that was adopted provides that after the President shall have issued his proclamation of the existence of war between or among two or more foreign countries, it shall be unlawful thereafter to sell or purchase in this country bonds or other obligations of any belligerent. The President is authorized to exempt ordinary commercial credits and short time obligations.

SELECTIONS of delegates to the national conventions, already being made in some states, are interesting, especially in the case of New York. Representative Hamilton Fish, supporting Borah for the Republican Presidential nomination, led a hot fight to displace some of the "old guard" and lost. The state committee naming these delegates at large:

Charles D. Tillis and Mrs. Ruth Pratt, members of the national committee; Mrs. Robert Low Bacon, vice chairman of the state committee; Representative Bertrand B. Shell, minority leader of the house; Representative James W. Wadsworth, former United States senator; Edward H. Butler, publisher of the Buffalo Evening News; John W. Crowe, Brooklyn leader; Charles H. Griffiths, Westchester county chairman.

Adoo, with representation for the other two groups.

UNLESS Governor Hoffman of New Jersey grants him another reprieve, Bruno Richard Hauptmann will be executed during the week of March 30 for the kidnapping and killing of the Lindbergh baby. Sentence on the German carpenter has been again pronounced. For several days Samuel Liebowitz, noted New York criminal lawyer, tried to get Hauptmann to tell another story and reveal his accomplices in the crime, but the condemned man flatly refused and Liebowitz withdrew from the case, saying he believed Bruno to be guilty.

TEN days of hot debate in the senate culminated in the passage of the administration's substitute farm bill by a vote of 50 to 20, and it was hurried over to the house with the prospect of quick approval by that body.

Attacked by Republicans as a substitute to get around the Supreme court AAA decision, and frankly conceded by Democrats to be a measure indirectly confining control of farm production, the soil erosion bill would accomplish its objective as follows:

The secretary of agriculture would be empowered to make benefit payments to farmers who voluntarily cooperate with the government's suggestions on retiring certain land from production to conserve its fertility. Payments would be determined on four factors:

1. Acreage of crop land.
2. Acreage of soil improving crops.
3. Changes in farming practices.
4. Percentage of normal farm production which equals that percentage of normal national production of farm commodities required for domestic consumption.

This arrangement would be limited to two years. It would be replaced by a system of 48 individual state AAA's to regulate production, with the federal government apportioning funds to the states, instead of to farmers. The senate bill provides the state systems may be set up at any time during the next two years.

DELAYED disputes from the Italian field quarters in northern Ethiopia tell of a six-day battle, the fiercest and most important of the war so far in which the forces of General Badoglio, about 70,000 in number, defeated and routed 80,000 Ethiopians, including 10,000 of the emperor's guard under Ras Muligeta; war minister, and 70,000 warriors under Ras Kassa and Ras Seyoum. The Italians were left in full possession of the fertile and strategic Enderburi region and in control of the passes to the Gambella region.

After six days of encircling operations, during which torrential rains bogged the field of battle and heavy clouds enabled the Ethiopians to make invisible movements, the March 23 division of blackshirts planted the Italian flag on the mist-cloaked high summit of Aradem, completing that particular operation. They then made a clear path to Amba Alage, 18 miles further south, and it was presumed that the taking of that mountain would mark the cessation of activities because of the coming March rains.

It was estimated that in this battle more than 6,000 Ethiopians had been killed and many times that number wounded. The Italian casualties were not announced but they undoubtedly participated in the fighting.

CONSIDERABLE interest was aroused in Europe by the publication in a home newspaper of a "secret" report issued by a British commission appointed in the spring of 1935 "to study British interests in Ethiopia."

The commission reported that it found no outstanding British interests in Ethiopia "of sufficient importance to justify his majesty's government in retaining Italian conquest in Ethiopia." It declared, however, that steps should be taken to safeguard British interests in Lake Tana, source of the Blue Nile.

ONE of the most spectacular and dynamic figures in American life died today, passed with the death of Brig. Gen. William Mitchell in a New York hospital. He succumbed to a heart attack and influenza at the age of fifty-seven years. "Billy," as he was known to alumni, was commander in chief of the American air forces in France during the World war and was decorated by six governments. Afterward, while criticized the government's air prelate and "suspended. Immediately resigning, he devoted himself to lecturing and writing to further his demands for a separate department of aviation in the cabinet, combining both army and navy air defense.

Some idea of the immense size of the palace is had by a few figures. There are about 900 offices and other rooms, 1,700 doors, and the same number of windows. There are 21 elevators, either for passengers or for goods.

SENATOR HUGO L. BLACK of Alabama and his lobby investigation committee are creating a flood of resentment among American citizens who believe that it is likely to do harm more than good to the New Deal. Quite without concealment Black is naming the committee in a way that thousands of people do not like. He sent out a questionnaire to individuals and organizations known to be opposed to the New Deal, demanding information on their relations with all organizations and their corporation and other investments.

Many refused to answer the questions, and they are supported in this position by the American Liberty league, which has challenged the right of Black's committee to compel answer out of the queries. In effect, the league dares Black to cite for contempt of the senate those who refuse to reply to the questionnaire.

Senator Black's only reply to date was that it was "a little difficult to believe that the league would attempt to intimidate or coerce its own members to keep their mouths shut until the du Ponts say they can talk."

THE War department bill, appropriating approximately $45 million dollars for "national defense," was passed by the house. For purely military purposes the sum of $375,806,338 is allotted. The remainder, $108,809,835, goes for rivers and harbors projects, generally classed as "pork."

An attempt to put back into the bill a $28,000,000 appropriation for carrying on such projects as the Passamaquoddy tidal power experiment in Maine and the Florida ship canal was suppressed. Not until congress has authorized these projects will more funds be provided them, the leaders ruled.

The military budget provided by the bill will be sufficient to maintain an average army of 147,000 men during the coming year. By 1939, according to the War department, the maximum of 165,000 permitted by congress should be reached.

The most important amendment added to the bill was one providing for the employment each year of 1,000 reserve officers on active duty for a 12-month period, of whom 50 will be annually commissioned in the regular army.

ACTING on behalf of the senate finance committee, Senator Byrnes consulted the executive department and then introduced an amendment to the independent offices appropriation bill to provide $1,740,000,000 to cash the veterans' bonus. He predicted that it would require no new taxes. The sum mentioned will be sufficient, Byrnes said, together with the 254 million dollars now in the adjusted service certificate fund, to pay in full every outstanding bonus certificate.

In addition to appropriating the cash, the Byrnes amendment would transfer $677 million dollars in bonds to the United States government life insurance fund to repay loans on bonus certificates.

WITH four members voting in the negative, the house ordered an investigation of the money-raising methods of the Townsend old age pension plan advocates. During the debate Dr. Francis E. Townsend was described variously as a "quack," "charlatan," "knave," and "fool." He and his program were defended by the small Townsend bloc.

Attempts by several congressmen to broaden the scope of the inquiry to include such organizations as the Liberty league and the Crusaders were futile.

LEFTISTS won the general election in Spain, and their leader, Manuel Azana, was made premier and formed a new cabinet to supplant that of Valledra. Azana is a veteran statesman, having been the first premier of the present Spanish republic. One of his first acts was the granting of amnesty to thousands of political prisoners who had been in jail since the revolt of October, 1934.

REVOLUTIONARIES, mostly military and led by Colonel Smith and Hecalde, veterans of the Spanish war, took possession of the government of Paraguay after some fighting in the streets of Asuncion, the capital. The government forces surrendered to the rebels and President Ayala took refuge on a gunboat. It was announced a new government had been formed with Col. Rafael Franco as its head. He was in exile in Buenos Aires.

WITHOUT a special ceremony the League of Nations moved into its magnificent new home, the white stone palace built for it on the shore of Lake Zeman just outside the city of Geneva. The structure is not yet completed for there were delays caused by disputes among the architects of various nations. The large central assembly room will not be ready before September and the library, to which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., donated $1,000,000, cannot be occupied for several weeks.

The palace is really composed of several buildings. One long wing contains the secretariat, another the council hall, a third the library, and a fourth the assembly hall.

Tung Oil Brought in Junk
Tung oil for paint, that is exported from China, must be brought down the Yangtze river in junk. These native boats must come through rocky gorges and shoot rapid after rapid. It is estimated that one out of every ten boats is lost on the trip to the mouth of the river. Consequently, when a junk makes a successful journey, the crew celebrates with fireworks as a tribute to the images of river gods which are carved on the stones on the banks.

Whistler in a Hurry
Whistler, the famous artist, once had to move hurriedly from London to Paris, and in the haste forgot to pay his back rent. The agent for the estate lamented his loss, complaining to a friend that all artists were that way, and that all he could find in the empty house were a few pictures, and what value were they? These pictures, forgotten by Whistler, were among his very best and worth a hundred times the forgotten rent.

The Colorado River
The Colorado river is one of the mightiest and most intractable streams on the earth's surface. Two thousand miles in length, it drains an enormous territory, has a fall of some 6,000 feet in its descent from its headwaters in the Rocky mountains to its mouth at the Gulf of California, and it has an average discharge of 17,000,000 acre feet of water. For a large part of its course it rushes swiftly through a deep canyon, so violent in its movement that few attempts to navigate it have been successful.

Man of Progress
Leaders of men have ever been precedent speakers. Timid people, no matter how able, never make leaders. Fearlessness and originality are characteristic of all men of progress. They have no reverence for the old simply because it is old; with them it is always a question of pushing forward, of improving on the past, instead of slavishly copying it.

Sought American Customs
One of the main things the Chinese wanted in their republican revolution of 1911 was to become Westernized, and to introduce American and European institutions in a day. They thought it could be done by wearing the caps of the Western world!

Ship Funnels

The old—and mysterious—presence for a ship with three or even four funnels still lingers in the minds of many travelers. Probably it dates from the time when a ship big enough to have more than one smokestack was a novelty, and each additional funnel was held to indicate increased size, speed and safety. With this in mind, perhaps, designers have frequently given liners dummy funnels.
