NYA Camp at Cassidy Lake Given Approval

At a meeting of officials of the National Park Service held in the regional office at Indianapolis last week plans for the establishment of a National Youth Administration camp at Cassidy Lake on the Waterloo Project were approved. The approved site is about four miles northwest of Chelsea.

Instructions have been given local project officials to have plans drawn and submitted within the next ten days and it is hoped that these plans will be approved and work started at the camp within thirty days.

Materials for construction work at the camp will be furnished by NYA and the Resettlement Administration will supply most of the labor and supervision. A group of 30 NYA boys from Jackson will be brought to the camp each week and will assist in some of the construction work, under proper supervision.

This camp is being established by NYA for "misfit" young men between the ages of 16 and 20 years, who have quit school and are floating on criminal borderlines. The camp will accommodate 130 men, including the staff. The boys will work four hours daily on the project property, the remainder of their time being spent under supervision in an apprentice or craft school and in recreation. The camp will be operated during the entire year and boys will be enrolled for six-month periods. They will be selected by youth councils throughout the state.

Buildings for the new NYA camp will be similar to those being constructed at the Mill Lake camp, including dining hall, recreation building, craft shop, 8-boat barracks, etc. The site selected is on the northeast shore of the lake.

Orders have been received at the local project administration office to have the Mill Lake camp ready for occupancy by June 15, when about 100 underprivileged children from the Detroit area will be sent there for the summer months. The buildings will be occupied by WPA laborers next winter. Footings for a number of the buildings have been completed and lumber for further construction will arrive this week.

During the past week 90 non-relief laborers were discharged from the project payroll because of the fact that the quota for this class of work had been exceeded. Employment of non-relief labor is limited to 10 per cent, including clerical help, truck drivers, etc., and an additional 5 per cent for farmers whose land has been optioned but who have not received payment. During the past two months this class of workmen had been about 25 per cent of the total employment, which necessitated the replacement of the 30 men with relief labor. According to project officials, they had received complaints from farmers that they were unable to procure help, and men discharged were those who had previously worked on farms or those who have farms to cultivate.

Provisions of SCP Will Be Explained

Wm. C. Pritchard was in Lansing on Friday where he attended a meeting held for the purpose of acquainting local committees with provisions of the 1936 Soil Conservation Program of the Federal Government. Two men from Washington were present at the meeting to explain the new set-up which replaces the outlawed AAA.

In addition to Mr. Pritchard other members of the Washtenaw county delegation who attended the meeting were Clarence Carr of Saline, Gottlieb Jacobs of Manchester and H. S. Oster, county agricultural agent. These men are acting as a temporary county committee on the project, and a permanent committee will be appointed in the near future.

A series of meetings will be held throughout the county, starting within the next week or ten days, at which members of the committee will explain the program which has been created in such a way that every farmer may easily adjust his crop plans so as to receive benefits, according to Mr. Pritchard. The committee will set the dates for the meetings, which will no doubt be announced next week.

The SCP in a nutshell is as follows:

First—For soil conserving payments a farmer must have 20 per cent or more of his 1935 crop acres in soil conserving and soil building crops in 1936.

For each 1935 acre of crop depleting crops reduced and transferred to crop building crops in 1936, he is eligible to receive a sum equal to about $10.00 per acre up to 15 per cent of his crop depleting acres.

Second—Soil building payment is based on all soil conserving crops planted in 1936 and carrying out soil building practices on land already seeded to soil conserving crops and also rotating pastures. A sum not to exceed $1.00 per acre for all crop land used in 1936 for crop conserving and building purposes.

Township Road System Absorbed By Counties

Michigan's township road system passed out of existence this week after reaching the ripe old age of 85.

The 88 counties of the state completed the job Wednesday, April 1, of taking over the remaining township road mileage in the state. Out of 82,200 miles of township roads originally certified in 1931 to the State Highway Commissioner, 10,428 miles were left to be absorbed by the counties this week.

Abolition of the township road system finished an evolution in highway administration that started in 1931 when the legislature enacted the McNitt township road law. The act provided that the counties take over the township road mileage at the rate of 20 per cent a year. A first-year appropriation of $2,000,000 was allocated to the counties to help them shoulder this burden. This amount was increased by $500,000 annually until the present annual appropriation is $4,000,000.

Although the adoption of township road mileage is now complete, the McNitt Act provides that the counties in 1937 take over streets and alleys in recorded plats outside of incorporated cities and villages. No provision is made to reimburse the counties for these additions to their road systems. This clause will work a hardship on industrial counties of lower Michigan where there are many subdivisions outside of city limits.

The law leaves the township highway commissioner, formerly among the most important to local officers, with an empty honor. The office is a constitutional one and a former attorney general has ruled that the election must be held but that no salary can be paid the township road commissioner.

As the township roads faded into oblivion, Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out that problems arising from the enactment of the McNitt law will be one of the studies in the highway planning survey now in progress. He expressed the opinion that a number of recommendations for amendments to the law probably will be submitted to the legislature.

The history of township roads in Michigan dates back to 1851 when the legislature enacted a law authorizing any township to borrow or levy taxes up to $10,000 for roads. The McNitt Act has relieved local property owners of the tax burden.

THE SONGS ID LIKE TO SING

Fluence Hawthorne

I'd like to write of humble things—
The common joys and cares of every day.
I'd like to tell a tale that brings
A brighter smile, or drives a tear away.
I'd like to paint a little scene
Of good old-fashioned comradeship and fun,
Where life is wholesome and serene,
And restful sleep is found when day is done.

I'd like to sing the simple songs,
That children might forsake their play to hear.
I'd like to talk to weary throngs
And have them hushed by my words of cheer.
I'd like to voice the happiness
That only humble folks can truly know;
And search for language to express
The beauty of contentment's kindly glow.

I'd like to chant love's tender lays,
And laud the charm of Nature everywhere.
I'd like to sing of childhood days,
Of home, and of a mother's faithful care.
I'd like to touch the wistful chords
Of memory, and somehow play again
That gentle music which affords
Unending pleasure to the hearts of men.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES AWARDED VAIL MEDALS

Three Michigan telephone employees, two men employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and a woman employee of the Tri-County Telephone Company, have been cited for the award of the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze, for meritorious acts of public service performed during 1935. In each case the act for which the medal is awarded resulted in the saving of a human life.

Announcement of the awards, by George M. Welch, president of the Michigan Bell Company and chairman of the Michigan Committee of Vail Medal Awards, has been received here by W. M. Schroder, Michigan Bell manager in this area.

Four other employees of the Michigan Bell Company, one a Detroit, one from Lansing and two from Lake Odessa, have been cited for honorable mention for outstanding acts of service. The acts for which the Vail medal has been awarded are set forth in Mr. Welch's announcement as follows:

Mrs. Nina P. Tait, night operator at South Haven, while employed at her switchboard during the early morning hours of March 3, 1935, answered a switchboard signal which she recognized as coming from a local department store. She received no reply to her query but detected sounds of moaning and heavy breathing, and notified the store owner and the police department immediately. At the store the officers found the watchman, beaten and wounded and in a critical condition from loss of blood. Mrs. Tait then summoned a physician and an ambulance at the request of the police. When the watchman regained consciousness four days later he was able to identify his assailant, who later was convicted and sentenced.

Joseph Kooyers, Michigan Bell cable splicer at Grand Rapids, and Harry Meade, his helper, rescued and revived by artificial respiration an employee of the Pere Marquette Railway who had come into contact with a 7,000-volt transformer last August 30.

Kooyers and Meade, while working on a telephone repair job, were attracted to the scene of the accident by shouts of fellow-workers of the victim. Removing the unconscious man from the transformer after causing the power to be turned off, they applied artificial respiration and rendered other first aid, knowledge of which they had gained in Michigan Bell Company's first aid courses. The victim then was removed to a hospital where he recovered.

Walter L. Nicholas, Lansing house service man and one of the four awarded honorable mention, rescued two small children from their burning home. His case is being referred to the Carnegie Foundation for possible further recognition. Kenneth Freeman, Detroit installer, cited for similar commendation, received the Vail Medal last year for saving the life of a woman overcome by gas fumes. During 1935 he administered first aid to a man who had been partially overcome by gas. The others receiving commendation for outstanding acts during 1935 are William Pinnow and Clara E. Matthey, employees at Lake Odessa, who rendered service in extinguishing a residential fire.

The Theodore N. Vail Medal is awarded under the terms of the Vail Memorial Fund, established fifteen years ago by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. Since that time, 61 medals have been awarded to Michigan telephone men and women.

WAYNE—It was reported from a reliable source this week that drillers in Canton township struck oil at a depth of about 2000 feet. The oil appeared only in small quantities, it was said, but this served as an indication that the mineral actually exists in the vicinity. It is reported to be the first oil found in Wayne county. Detailed information in the matter is not available but it is said that the oil was found in the southwest corner of Section 6 of the township, just at the Washtenaw county line. Drilling operations are in progress at a number of points in the township.—County Review.

IF CHRISTMAS is the greatest day in the year for children, Easter holds a similar position for the adult members of the race. The world prepares to welcome it with hymns, psalms and spiritual songs, wherever the light of Christianity has penetrated. It is a festival of far greater antiquity than Christmas, and at one time marked the dawn of a new year. The vernal equinox occurs about the 21st of March, when winter ends and spring introduces the coming summer.

The oldest records of history tell that Easter was always a religious festival, though far more ancient than Christianity. Bonfires were kindled in Rome and the sacred fire in the temple of Vesta was renewed on the 1st of March each year. Similar customs prevailed in Germany and England. These customs lingered in certain parts of the British Isles into the Nineteenth century. In Scotland they were called the Need Fires, which were produced by the friction of two pieces of wood, which created the flame. This was quite a religious ceremony, and was accompanied by singing, dancing and the Beltane games. The Beltane games were precursors of Easter games, a survival of which is still with us in hot cross buns.

The music of Easter is generally of a more advanced character than that of Christmas. Carols predominate at the Christmas festival, but there are few carols at Easter, where the music is more in keeping with the Resurrection and Ascension of Christ.

Easter has probably had greater influence in the development of music than any other period of the year. The Council of Trent assembled at this season in 1562, when the great reformation in church music took place. Composers of this time had introduced profane melodies as the principal theme in the masses, and all kinds of ornamentation of an unsuitable character. The council swept the whole system from the church, and commissioned Palestrina to write suitable music for service. He did this, and has since often been referred to as the savior of church music.

It was the story of the Resurrection of Christ that inspired Schmitt to write the first oratorio on that subject. He wrote "The Passion," according to the four Evangelists, and "The Seven Last Words," and history accords to him the title of "The Father of Oratorio."

What would Handel have done without Easter? "The Messiah" stands out as his greatest effort, and there is no composition, even today, which has as great an influence on the people as this oratorio.

The Resurrection of Christ has inspired more lofty thoughts and aspirations in poets, painters and composers than any other subject, and has produced greater works. After the long, cold winter days we are waiting to welcome the Easter sun, so we may join in greeting as we sing,

"Christ the Lord is risen today, Alleluia."

Reinforcements from Michigan

Flood waters rage . . . dams break . . . water stands ten feet deep in the business section of a great city.

Local telephone circuits are flooded and temporarily damaged. The Bell System mobilizes. From neighboring companies—including Michigan—come squads of trained and tested telephone men. The Bell expeditionary forces land—and in a short time they are able to echo that famed message of the Marines: "The situation is well in hand."

Only one thing made this possible. That is the fact that Bell System practices and equipment are standard the country over. Consequently, when the Bell System mobilizes in an emergency, it is not necessary for reinforcements from other companies to ask: "What kind of equipment is it?" They merely say: "Where is it?" and go quietly and efficiently to work on familiar ground. This is true in Pittsburgh today where the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is contributing part of the emergency force. It was true in Michigan—in 1922 and 1929—when reinforcements from other Bell System companies came here to aid in the work of restoring communications temporarily destroyed by the sleet storms of those years. Without a nation-wide force of systematically trained men, without standard equipment in every associated company, some of the things which Bell men have accomplished swiftly as part of their routine duties would have caused confusion and endless delay.

Whenever you lift a Bell Telephone receiver, tremendous resources in men, organization and equipment are at your command. And there are times when it is impossible to measure the value of telephone service except in terms of life and death.

BEEKEEPERS WARNED

Michigan beekeepers are warned against the danger of many dead colonies of bees known to exist throughout the state as a result of the extreme cold weather this past winter. Don P. Barrett, chief apilary inspector in the state department of agriculture, issued the following statement in regard to the situation:

"Beekeepers should realize this great danger and take steps immediately to plug up the hives of all dead colonies. A strip of wood tacked over the opening will be sufficient to keep both robbing bees out and to prevent mice from getting in. Some beekeepers have been so careless as to leave the covers off the hives or even the brood comb exposed while examining the colonies and found them to be dead. Others have shown such carelessness as to leave comb containing dead brood outside of the hives. The beekeepers have been insistent that the state and county offer some form of protection against the spread of foul brood. Now they should assume some of the responsibility themselves and practice good apilary methods in helping keep this disease in check."

The Patrol was led by John Fletcher, Jr., with Roland White serving as captain of the first aid squad. Other members of the Patrol were Charles Winans, David Strieter, Dick White and Harvey Knickerbocker.

SELL EASTER SEALS

Easter Seals for the benefit of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children are being sold in Chelsea this week by the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades. The sale is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, with P. F. Niehaus as chairman. Anyone who has not had the opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause of aiding crippled children, may purchase seals at Chelsea State Bank. Mr. Niehaus and H. L. Bleeker were in Ann Arbor last Thursday where they attended a meeting of the county officers of the Society.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my many relatives, friends and neighbors from far and near who visited me many of them often, during my long stay in St. Joseph's hospital, and since my return home; for the flowers, letters and especially for the shower of cards from the Chelsea ladies on my birthday and also on Christmas. I can't tell you how I appreciate all this kindness. I just felt I had a little "Heaven" on earth. Mrs. Geo. Nordman.

LENTEN SERVICES CLOSE

The Union Lenten service held at the Methodist church last evening was the last of the Wednesday night series. Rev. C. F. Wolf preached to a large and appreciative audience and the service was under the direction of Rev. P. H. Grabowski. St. Paul's choir furnished the music.

The Good Friday service, which has become an institution in Chelsea, will be held in the Congregational church on April 10, at 1:30 p. m. It is requested that all the choirs and congregations participate in this great closing service of the 1936 Lenten series. The sermon, "Nailed to the Cross," will be delivered by Rev. Frederick D. Mumby.

Closing song.

WHAT A SHOW!

People of Chelsea and vicinity who were in the business section on Saturday afternoon were treated to a free and unexpected street show. A group of girls belonging to a sorority arrived in town bringing two initiates. The young ladies were dressed in costume and their faces painted like clowns. Among the stunts they were forced to do were: Wash the steps to the bank with tooth brushes; get down on their hands and knees and push eggs with their noses for several feet. Needless to say the eggs were uncooked and that the girls received bruised and bleeding noses. They were also required to take an egg and get 25 names written on it. We wonder if the new laws placed on the fraternities and sororities in Ann Arbor during the initiating ceremonies was the cause of the demonstration in our town on Saturday afternoon.

Annual Report of Chelsea Public Library

The year 1935-1936 in the Chelsea Public Library was a most successful one. The Library has been able to expand both as to equipment and as to books. This has been possible because of the financial assistance given by the Village Council and by Sylvan township, and because of the generosity of the Board of Directors of the Chelsea State Bank who have given the Library the room, heat and light used, free of any charge.

In March, 1935, a book mending project was started to repair books too good to throw away but no longer fit to loan. During the year 274 books have been mended at an average cost of 10c per book. The women of the Child Study Club have been assisted in this work by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

As it became increasingly difficult for the Child Study Club members to give sufficient time to keep the Library open, the Library Committee employed Mrs. George Walworth as Librarian, beginning June 1, 1935.

The following is a statement of the Library's finances and circulation of books for the year ending March 1, 1936, in comparison with the previous year.

Receipts—1934-35
From Library $92.18
From Village 50.00

Other sources 11.23

Total $211.78

Receipts—1935-36

From Library $ 89.51
From Village 300.00
Sylvan Township 150.00
Mr. Weber 15.00
Other sources 10.38

Total $554.51

Expenses

Books $259.61

Miscellaneous 19.08
Book Mending 51.29
Salary 75.00

Total $469.88

Circulation

1934-5 1935-6
Adult 6,988 8,140
Children 1,928 4,238

Total 8,916 12,378

Average Monthly 743 1,038

Total circulation increased 39 per cent over last year and the circulation of children's books increased 59 per cent over last year. This increase is in part due to the larger number and more varied kinds of books available with a larger appropriation for books.

An encyclopedia and new Webster's dictionary were added among the books. All the old book shelves are being replaced by modern unit book cases. A desk and filing cabinet have been added.

A new chairman has been appointed for the Library Committee at the request of Mrs. E. W. Eaton, who gave up the work with regret. Mrs. George Walworth was appointed to take her place.

Respectfully submitted,
Jean L. Eaton, Chairman,
Library Committee.

Greetings my friends—
Mr. Lyons has been speaking to the Biology class about the use of cosmetics.

"The more experience I have with the use of lipstick," he said, "the more distasteful I find it."

Mr. Bleeker: "What is it that pervades all space which no wall or door can shut out?"

Ralph: "I know—the smell of onions."

Nurse: "It's triplets!"
Young Aviator: "The stork must have lost complete control."

Gilbert: "May I go home, I've got a funny feeling in my stomach."
Mr. Bleeker: "Just a second, and I'll give you a lift. I'm going to the game myself."

After telling his class the formula for water was H₂O, Mr. Bleeker received this answer to the question, "What is the formula for water?" on a recent test—H I J K L M N O.
H₂O—H to O.

Until we meet correspondingly let me say—So long.

Elementary News

Kindergarten
We wrote a story and learned to read it. It is called "Our Trip."

"We went for a walk,
We saw a red-winged black bird,
His body was black,
He had red wings,
His call was low."

A window was broken in our grocery store. Junior and David are repairing the window.

Marilyn Schenk is back with us. She feels much better and we hope to keep her the rest of the year.

Mrs. O'Hara brought us a big bunch of pussy willows. Thank you!

Last week was Allen Ray's birthday. He was six years old.

We are drawing pictures showing many signs of spring.

This week we will write a story about our grocery store. We will learn to read it.

Miss Boomgaard has a surprise she will give the kindergartners Friday.

First Grade
We are watching for signs of spring.

Our cactus has baby cacti on it.

We found that "Oscar," our alligator, likes to eat flies. Douglas and Clair caught many flies for him Friday.

Miss Boomgaard brought us a bunch of pussy willows. They were very large.

Second Grade

On Friday our entire group was present. We hope it will continue so.

We have turned into little Dutch girls and boys. We are making a Dutch book to take home, and are enjoying the book, "The Dutch Twins."

Fussy willows are out. That means that spring is around the corner and we are glad.

We have been bringing pictures about the flood to school. We know that the Red Cross is doing much to help.

Marion Dietle went with his parents to several lakes on Sunday. He saw many dead fish on the shore.

Fourth Grade

We are making bird books and studying birds. Mrs. Robinson, Supervisor of Rural Schools, brought us a case of birds and lessons for the corresponding birds. The case contained a blue jay, screech owl, tree sparrow, horned lark, snow bunting and downy woodpecker. We feel very fortunate in having had these mounted birds to study. The kindergartners, first, second, third, fifth, and sixth graders came to see our case of birds.

We have three people in the dust pan. We are sorry to have to report these as our dust pan was empty for several weeks.

Doris Collins and Joe Hale have drawn us an appropriate picture of chicks with umbrellas. Dorothy Knickerbocker has drawn one on our easel.

In our Science class last Friday we tried an experiment with ice torques. Icebergs are submerged in the water, causing much danger to ships. We learned some icebergs are seven times as large as the Empire State building.

We had a Stevenson program Friday and invited the third grade. Many poems had been learned during language class, others were read.

We have a new inspection chart. If we have perfect inspection during the week we will receive a gold star on Friday.

We also have a new spelling chart to show the number of words missed on Wednesday and Friday. Our graph is done in red on Wednesday and blue on Friday.

Our room is appropriately decorated with spring pictures. We also have new window decorations.

Virginia Spaulding brought us a pair of blue leather slippers which came from Jerusalem. These were brought because we were studying Bible lands in history. Thank you, Virginia.

Caroline Breitenwischer brought a balloon fish and a sea horse for us to see. They were sent from Florida.

Visitors during the week were Mrs. Lewis Haselwerdt, Miss Lillian Buss and Miss Vera Bleeker. We hope you enjoy visiting us. We are very glad to have you visit us.

Fifth Grade

We received a folder of Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, from Mrs. Palmer. We have just begun the study of parks in Geography and we are especially interested in this one.

Janette May brought an interesting collection of sea animals from the Florida coast.

Miss Vera Bleeker visited us on Friday.

Douglas Miller has new glasses. We are glad because Douglas has had to have a special helper all the year. Nearly everyone in the room has given some of their time as helper and now that he can see better we are all very happy.

Following are two poems written by fifth graders.

My Kitten

My kitten is so gay,
And all day she does play,
She is so sweet,
She walks so proudly up the street,
She is so shy,
And twinkles her eye when a dog comes by.

Going to Bed

Do you ever have to go to bed?
And cannot have a light?
Doesn't it kind of make you chink,
Not to have it bright?

To go away up the stairs alone,
And sometimes no one is at home,
I never liked the thought of that,
When all the night is dark and black,
And sometimes see shadows here and there,

On the way up the big long stair;
Then I get upstairs and go into my room so dark,
And sometimes hear a funny bark,
Which comes from someone's dog;
Then I jump into my bed
And I cover up my head,
And very soon I go to sleep,
And thus is this long day complete.

Sixth Grade

Lillian Allhouse had a cocoon to school. A butterfly hatched out. It is a black swallowtail butterfly.

Earl Grieb brought a hyacinth. It has a large blue flower. Thank you, Earl.

Marvin Wolf brought a bird book to school. The name of it is "Bird Neighbors," by Netty Blanchan. Thank you, Marvin.

We are looking forward to spring vacation. It will start April 8.

A moth hatched out of one of June Crawford's cocoons Friday morning. The moth is all white.

We are half way through the book

Virginia Barr brought us. It is very interesting. The name of it is "The Day of Young Washington." Thank you, Virginia.

We just received a new globe that had been promised us. We wish to thank the school board for giving it to us.

Tall Tales

As told to: ELMO WATSON
FRANK E. HAGAN

A Tip to Golfers

THE favorite fool of the Kansas species of the famous philly-lop bird is lost golf balls. So when a golfer drives a ball down the middle of the fairway and then isn't able to find it, he knows at once that a philly-lop bird has swooped down and gobbled it up. Since this strange bird is invisible of course, the golf ball becomes invisible also.

But W. M. Huff of the Chaffin (Kan.) Clarion has developed a plan for outwitting the philly-lop. He tells about it as follows:

"My method is to use specially-prepared balls as bait—You take some red and white striped stick candy and dissolve it in hot water, making striped paint. Paint the golf balls with this striped paint and when the philly-lop bird swallows the ball the paint will still be visible so you can locate the bird."

"The best way to hunt it is to cut out a section from the front of a tornado, where the air pressure is greatly reduced by the whirling motion. Armed with this section of flattened atmosphere you get as close as possible to the bird and throw the rare atmosphere all over him. Then the bird just flies to pieces and the ball drops at your feet. Simple, isn't it?"

Andorra, Tiny Republic

Andorra is a tiny republic in a valley of the Pyrenees mountains under the suzerainty of France and the Spanish bishop of Urgel. Only 191 square miles in extent, it has enjoyed undisturbed liberty since 1278 and was granted a constitution as a republic by Napoleon in 1808. The inhabitants of Andorra are mostly descended from refugees who fled from Spain a thousand years ago before the conquering armies of the Moors, that dark-skinned race, which overwhelmed Spain in the Ninth century.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Where did Shetland ponies originate?

Ans.—The Shetland ponies are native to the Zetland islands, an archipelago off northern Scotland.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you please answer just where the Rocky Mountains begin and end?

Ans.—The Rocky Mountains by name begin in the extreme northwest part of Canada, near the mouth of the Mackenzie river, and extend southeasterly to the Rio Grande (the southern boundary of the United States). However, the range continues southeast through Mexico and Central America under the name of "Sierra Madre", and then into South America under the name of "The Andes."

Ques.—Is it a breach of table etiquette to lean one's knife or fork against their plate when not in use? If it is, what should they do with them?

Ans.—Yes, it is a breach of table etiquette unless there are extremely extenuating circumstances. The well-bred person on table manners will lay the knife and fork completely on the plate when not in use, and will leave them that way when he will have finished the meal. This breach is not so considered as "grass picnics," "grab lunches," or at informal hurried meals, but the elite practice it just the same lest they become indifferent to the laws of etiquette.

Ques.—Can you answer in your Questions and Answers column where Devil's Island is located, and what it is used for?

Ans.—Devil's Island is a small tract of land in San Francisco Bay. It is on this island that one of the Federal prisons is located—Alcatraz.

Ques.—Who is the father of the Townsend Plan of old-age pensions? What is his profession, and where does he live?

Ans.—Dr. Townsend, a physician, is the author of the Townsend Plan, and he lives in Los Angeles, Calif.

Ques.—What makes a cat jump up its back when about ready for a fight?

Ans.—This is simply one of a cat's instincts to make itself appear bigger and formidable when about to engage in combat.

Ques.—Is there any place in the United States where a man could call so loud that he could be heard in more than three States?

Ans.—Yes. At the intersection where four States converge—Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico. As the boundary lines of these four States cross at this convergence, a person standing in the middle of the intersection could be heard in the four States in an ordinary tone of conversation.

Ques.—When and where was asbestos first discovered? Does the United States lead in its production?

Ans.—Asbestos was first discovered in Italy about 1871. The Dominion of Canada leads the world in its production, with nearly 400,000 tons mined annually. Not much asbestos is found in the United States—about 3000 to 4000 tons mined annually.

Ques.—At what point does mercury in a thermometer freeze? And after it freezes how do they tell the temperature?

Ans.—Mercury in thermometers will freeze at 38.8 degrees below zero. Then alcohol is used. This will freeze at 248 degrees below zero. After this, gas is used to measure lower temperatures. Gas will not freeze at all.

Ques.—My wife says she can "read me like a book." What should I do?

Ans.—Fool her. Just turn over a new leaf.

Ques.—When was the longest, and when was the shortest session of Congress? What is the average length of them in number of days?

Ans.—The longest session of Congress was that of the 65th, which met during the World War period; it was in session 954 days. The shortest was the 27th Congress, which was in session 33 days. The average since the time of Washington down to Franklin Roosevelt, has been 215 days.

Ques.—Can you tell me the age of Father Coughlin? Also what is his native country, his height and weight?

Ans.—Father Coughlin, of radio fame, is a naturalized American citizen, coming to the United States from Canada. He is 46 years old, six feet tall and weighs about 180 pounds.

Ques.—Do Angora cats love mice?

Ans.—There is not very much love existing between Angora cats and mice. Cats, you know, will kill and eat the mice.

Ques.—Is there a lot more to Easter than just the religious story?

Ans.—Take Scotland, for instance. Lads and lassies there favor in an Easter spirit alleged to be typical of their country—at expense to none. They get hard-boiled, dyed eggs (once fresh, it is hoped) and playfully roll or throw them at each other. And when they are through with their rolling and throwing, they get the by-the-bye-dutiful, remains.

Ques.—What is the history of the Easter story?

Ans.—The Easter story is a very serious matter. It is a story of the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

Men engaged in work under water in a chamber where the pressure is three to four times that of the atmosphere suffer from various disturbances when they return to normal, or atmospheric, pressure.
