Auto Crash Fatal To Mrs. John Walz

An automobile accident Sunday afternoon near Rives Junction, 10 miles north of Jackson, resulted in the death of Mrs. John Walz of Sylvan township and the injury to her husband and three other persons. The Walz car, in which Mr. and Mrs. Walz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harvey of R. F. D. Mrs. Walz, formerly Mabel Harvey, was born May 19, 1873 in Leon township, the daughter of George and Elizabeth (Louden) Harvey. In 1895 she was married to Mr. Walz and for 33 years they had been residents of this community.

Besides the husband she is survived by three sons; Floyd, Clare and Howard of Chelsea; six brothers, William Harvey of Rives, Homer and George of Leon, Frank of Jackson, Herbert of Grass Lake, and Reuben of Tecumseh; a sister, Mrs. Anna Math of Henrietta; and five grandchildren.

Meaning of "Hotel" in England
The meaning of "hotel" is a bit puzzling. Because there is no exact meaning at least in England, says Answers Magazine. Apparently, anyone who has a room or two to rent is entitled to put up the sign "Hotel" over his door. An hotel may be anything from a small private boarding house to a large luxury hotel, replete with every "gadget" for the comfort of its guests. Other countries have already defined the word legally. Even in Scotland an inn or hotel must have at least four apartments reserved exclusively as sleeping accommodations for travelers.

Athenian Sacrifice
In classical Athenian days an ox was annually sacrificed before the large statue of Zeus, and the sacrifice completed, a trial would be immediately held to discover the animal's murderer. Each man in turn professed himself guiltless, until finally the ax and the knife were found guilty and solemnly condemned. This curious ceremony is believed a survival from most primitive days, when the bull was regarded as an incarnation of the divine life-force, annually slain and yearly incarnated afresh in a young and vigorous body.

Fish Don't Bite When Weather Isn't Right

When the weather isn't "right" there's just no use going fishing, many old-timers declare. It's a tradition of the angling sport and seems to be borne out to a certain extent by the data obtained from 3,594 fishermen on Pige Lake in Grand Traverse county during the season of 1935.

The Institute for Fisheries Research, which compiled the reports, believes a correlation between the fish caught and weather conditions is indicated, and declares that fish, in general, were best caught on this lake when the weather was mild, when there was a light wind and when the sky was clear. These three factors seemed to predominate in the reports.

Weather conditions under which each species seemed to bite best were:

Large-mouthed bass—Mild, light wind; rain.

Small-mouthed bass—Cold, little preference with respect to wind and cloudiness.

Rock bass—Mild, calm, clear. Bit very poorly in cold weather.

Bluegill—Mild, windy, clear. Bit least in rainy weather.

Sunfish—Warm, light wind, clear. Bit least in cold, weather.

Perch—Mild, light wind, rain. Poorly when cold and when calm.

Wall-eyes—Mild or warm, calm, clear.

Northern pike—Cold. Number taken were too few to show other preferences.

Bullhead—No apparent preferences. Number too few to permit other preferences.

More Rats Than People

A single rat does far less harm in a year than one of the larger mammals, such as a lion, tiger or wolf; but the larger mammals of prey are comparatively few in number, while rats are exceedingly abundant. North America, or any other continent, has probably as many rats as people—possibly two or three times as many. The destruction wrought by this vast horde of rodents is far greater than that wrought by lions, tigers, wolves and all other noxious mammals together.

Overcoming Faults

It is not so much being free from faults and imperfections as overcoming them that is an advantage to us; it being with follies and weaknesses and errors, as with the weeds of a field, which, if destroyed on the soil where they grow, enrich and improve it, more than if they had never sprung up there.

Toledo for Antiques

Only one-tenth the size of its American namesake, Toledo in Spain is nevertheless one of the greatest cities in the world for antiques. For more than a thousand years Goths, Moors, Jews and Spaniards have enriched the city with priceless objects.

CHAPTER MEETS

Mayflower chapter of the Congregational church held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Kent Walworth on Thursday afternoon. Fifty-five members and guests were present. After a short business meeting the program was opened with devotionals led by Mrs. F. E. Storms and Mrs. C. F. Wolf. The main feature of the afternoon was a most interesting and instructive paper given by Mrs. Brady on The Origin and the Making of Hooked Rugs. Two ways of making hooked rugs were demonstrated by Mrs. Brady and Mrs. C. D. Platt. At the conclusion of the program tea was served, with Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. Storms presiding at the table. Mrs. Walworth was assisted by Mrs. Ross Munro, Mrs. A. R. Lundahl, Mrs. D. W. Otis and Mrs. Leon Chapman.

YES, we've made some proud statements about the great-powered valve-in-head straight-eight engine that gives Buick its standout performance. But if you've merely listened to us—you haven't heard anything yet! Wait until you've heard the verdict of your own keen senses—once you've put foot to the gas treadle and piloted this car awhile for yourself! Wait until you've heard this beauty's reassuring murmur as you head it up a tough grade, or listened to its soft, unlabored purr as it crawls along through traffic. Wait until you've felt the surging lift that's always there, at any speed—when you want to go swinging past some slowpoke that blocks the way ahead of you. Then you'll hear the most important piece of news in the world of automobiles as you send this road-king into action and see how its performance out-proves all our promises! There was a time when better-than-average smoothness, mobility and power-flow in a car belonged only to those of better-than-average wealth. But our prices are so close to those of the lowest-priced field there's no real reason why you shouldn't have performance that's fit for a king. Drop around—let us show you how easy-to-take our terms are—and how hard to overpraise is this sparkling Buick's performance.

TOUGH GUY"
ISO-VIS "D"
HAS YET TO MEET ANOTHER MOTOR OIL THAT CAN OUTLAST HIM!
Standard's premium-quality motor oil keeps your oil level UP and your oil costs DOWN
Endurance—that's the thing you notice first and foremost about this motor oil. No weakening under the punishment of long, steady summer-time driving. No wilting away in the face of searing engine heat.
And the reason is, Standard makes ISO-VIS "D" by a special process that removes those sludge-forming, carbon-forming impurities which cut down the resistance-to-wear of a motor oil.
Every drop of ISO-VIS "D" is clean, smooth, all oil... long-lasting... plenty "tough" in the long run it's an engine-saver and a money-saver.

ISO-VIS "D" IS THE LARGEST SELLING PREMIUM-QUALITY MOTOR OIL IN MIDDLE WEST
Only 25¢ a quart
Plus Michigan General Sales Tax 1¢ a qt. plus Federal Tax 1¢ a qt.— total 27¢ a quart.
It's on sale wherever you see that familiar red-white-and-blue sign of Standard Service. A special chart at each station shows exactly what grade you should use in your car for the most economical safe driving.
It will pay you to let the Standard Dealer drain your old oil, flush out the crankcase, and start you out with a fresh filling of ISO-VIS "D". Then, so far as the oil itself is concerned, you wouldn't need to drain for an indefinite length of time. ISO-VIS "D" won't wear out.
But it isn't just that. It's a good motor oil—it's a divi! Road dust and other gritty foreign material gradually sifts into the best-protected engine. So, for safety, drain and change your motor oil every 1,000 miles.
CHECK YOUR CAR FOR SAFE DRIVING AND LUBRICATE EVERY 1,000 MILES!

TOUGH GUY"
ISO-VIS "D"
HAS YET TO MEET ANOTHER MOTOR OIL THAT CAN OUTLAST HIM!
Standard's premium-quality motor oil keeps your oil level UP and your oil costs DOWN
Endurance—that's the thing you notice first and foremost about this motor oil. No weakening under the punishment of long, steady summer-time driving. No wilting away in the face of searing engine heat.
And the reason is, Standard makes ISO-VIS "D" by a special process that removes those sludge-forming, carbon-forming impurities which cut down the resistance-to-wear of a motor oil.
Every drop of ISO-VIS "D" is clean, smooth, all oil... long-lasting... plenty "tough" in the long run it's an engine-saver and a money-saver.

Free pick-up and delivery on less than carload shipments was scheduled to start on Monday. The Interstate Commerce commission ordered that the service be suspended until the entire question can be taken up at a formal hearing.

OPERAITA WAS SUCCESS

Last Friday evening the Chelsea public was treated to something new in the way of entertainment. The opera "And It Rained" was highly successful and provided its attentive audience with a variety of amusement. Around the well-constructed dramatic framework were skillfully woven the lilting songs, the graceful dancing, the colorful costumes and scenery—all combining to make it the hit play of the season. For several hours the audience forgot themselves and lived with the players. When they went home little snatches of the songs were on their lips. For such an achievement Miss Boongaard, Miss Gibson, La Rue Wolf, Betty Fletcher, the cast and chorus are all to be highly complimented.

The women of the Legion Unit were very much pleased with the results of this first attempt at a poster contest and wish to express their thanks to the teachers and judges, who did so much to make it a success. The forty pupils who entered posters in the contest will receive citations from the State Poppy committee for their work.

Dinner was served at 6:30, places being laid for 70. Each of the three tables was centered with a large birthday cake with lighted candles in pink and white, and decorated with bowls of spring flowers. The favors were gum drop floor lamps.

Contributions Asked for Boy Scout Work

Sponsored by the Kiwanis club, the annual drive for funds to aid in the support of Boy Scout activities in the city is now under way in Chelsea. The local quota has been set at $250 by the Washtenaw-Livingston Council, and it is hoped this amount can be raised within the next few days. Proceeds from this drive will be used for the repair and maintenance of Camp Newkirk, to which all Scouts have access. There are more than thirty active Boy Scouts in Chelsea and it is expected that most of them will spend some time at the camp during the coming summer months. Local Scout leaders are M. R. Longworth and Albert Johnson.

The contributions for a sustaining membership during the year is $2.00, which brings the contributor reports of the progress and problems of the Scouts in this community from time to time.

The Kiwanis club and other local organizations contribute for the carrying on of Scout activities in the community, but it is necessary to support the county and national organizations in order that full benefits may be derived from Scouting—thus the present drive for the local quota of $250.00.

Editorial

The other day I read an article stating the results of themes written by high school students on "The Qualities I Admire Most in My Parents." This gave me an idea that the teachers might like to know what qualities the students prefer in them. I then set out asking the opinions of the students here in school. Here are some of their opinions:

The quality stressed the oftentwice was understanding. Next came discipline, sometimes described as "strictness" or "firmness." Several said that "being cheerful and kind to all" was very important. Still others stressed being thrifty (with time) and sympathetic, etc.

The seniors seemed to stress understanding while the freshmen thought more about their need of strictness. The students all seem to hope that they and the teachers can get together and make the following year more interesting. And I sincerely hope these rules will help to do so.

Caesar Says

Greeting, my—our friends— This is the last issue of Caesar Says to be written by its originators. We apologize if we have offended any one and are happy if we have made someone else happy.

Caesar: What does Mr. Lyons call that thing on his lip?

Siezer: He doesn't, it's always there.

These jokes are our opinions of good 'last' laughs.

We estimate that in two years of progress or "joke makers" we have stolen 1001 new jokes from all the leading comedians in practice.

Umpire: Strike one!

Marsh: You're crazy, the ball hit my head.

Umpire: I heard it hit wood. Still strike one.

It's not a life of pleasure, being a joke writer. You can't be funny and smart at the same time.

Ending our career as gag men, we beg you to excuse us until we appear as professionals on the local or foreign stage.

Signed: Caesar and Siezer. So long!

First Grade

Mrs. Hopper made us train books. She put eight pictures in the books. The first picture is of all of us. The next picture is of all of us. The third picture is of Miss Yager. The fourth is the train coming. The fifth and sixth getting aboard. The seventh the conductor and the eighth we're on our way. Mrs. Hopper made one for each boy and girl in the room. Those of us that could brought 20 cents to help pay for the work.

Second Grade

Clara Miller has been out of school taking care of a lame knee. We hope she will be back very soon. Edward Koch is now attending the parochial school. Next week he will be back with us. We are finishing up our Arithmetic book and can soon take it home. We'll be glad to show them too, for we've done nice work. We've also completed our Japanese Art books and this week will take them home. We are proud of them too. Thursday was Marion Dietel's birthday. We wished him many more happy ones. We have a large family of pollywogs now. Some are developing the legs of a frog and some are very small yet.

Third Grade

We received a very nice letter from Jessie Huetzmann last week which we should like to share with all the friends she left in Chelsea. We hope to answer Jessie's letter this week. The letter: Dear Miss Ballors and third grade pupils: Here is the letter I promised to write. I am well and going to school every day. I like my school very much. My teacher's name is Miss Wilson. We saw in the Chelsea Standard that Kathleen Fisher has gone away. I guess all the girls will miss her; also we saw that Norman Krontz brought some words and frogs to school. We had two tiny turtles at our school and we called them Amos and Andy.

We are studying subtraction. I am doing quite well in my reading now. I got "A" all last week on my spelling. Have you had your puppet show yet? I am planning on going to St. Louis, Missouri this summer to visit, and I am going to spend some time at the zoo which is a very large one. I hope you will answer my letter real soon and tell all the boys and girls I often think of them.

Always your friend, Jessie Huesmann, 150 E. Chicago St., Tecumseh, Mich.

Donna Burman has gone to St. Mary's school for two weeks to receive instructions in catechism. She will take her first communion this Sunday.

We have loaned two sets of our reading books to the third grade at St. Mary's. We hope they enjoy the stories as much as we have.

James Gaunt had a birthday party Monday. He brought us a treat of candy and a large cake. Everyone had a nice time, especially Jimmie.

Marjorie Gilson is reading one of the Oz books to us: "The Enchanted Isle of Yew", by F. Baum. Phyllis Hopper finished reading "Dorothy and the Wizard of Oz" last Friday. We found it very exciting and entertaining.

Many of us have subscribed to the Playtime Weekly Newspapers for the summer. We will find many interesting articles of world happenings in these newspapers.

Fourth Grade

Shirley Nordman was a visitor in our room Thursday.

We are making covers for our bird books and putting in new stories and pictures.

The pupils in our room turned in over seven dollars from tickets sold for the operetta.

We were surprised to have three of our number take advantage of the spring weather and not return to school Friday afternoon. There are nice days when we would all like to be on a hike but we have our work in school to accomplish. As a punishment these boys are staying an hour every night after school to make up time and lessons.

Ruth Cooper and Miss Kern were the only ones in our room to go to the tulip festival. Miss Kern went on Saturday and saw the street scrubbing and the parade and Ruth went on Sunday. Ruth brought some stones from near Lake Michigan and Miss Kern brought some pictures of Holland. She also told us about her visit to the Kellogg Bird-Sanctuary near Battle Creek.

We have been studying fractions in Arithmetic. We can add and subtract them and this week we are going to learn to multiply them.

Miss Kern is reading "The Scarecrow of Oz" to us. We like it very much and are interested in getting other "Oz" books from the Public Library.

Doris Collins has drawn us another pretty blackboard sketch. It is a little boy near a stream, under some trees. He is holding a sailboat under his arm.

In our Study Reader we learned about sky scrapers. Later we made some very attractive ones from black paper with red tissue background making them look as if they were lighted.

Here are some poems Eleanor Harper made up. We liked them and thought perhaps you might:

Spring
The flowers are growing,
The winds are blowing,
Spring is here.
Trees are swaying,
Birds are saying,
Spring is here.

All Night Long
The flowers are growing,
The winds are blowing,
All night long.
Rain is falling,
Trees are calling,
All night long.

Fifth Grade
The May Queen's coronation ceremony will take place Friday, May 29 at 2:30. Richard Schenk will give the history of the May Pole Dance. Wilma Spiegelberg will give Alfred Lord Tennyson's poem "The May Queen." Helen Grabowski will have the honor of crowning the queen.

The girls who dance the May Pole Dance are: Caroline Breitenwischer, Rowena Frymuth, Margaret Knapp, Edith McDonald, Donna May McKane, Doris Parsons, Delores Schanz, Wilma Spiegelberg, Patricia Bycraft, Julia Buku.

The poem "The May Queen," which is sent to the mother of the queen on the night before the ceremony is given below:

You must wake and call me early,
Call me early, Mother dear,
Tomorrow will be the happiest time
Of all the glad new year,
Of all the glad new year, mother,
The gladdest merriest day,
For I'm to be Queen o' the May,
Mother,

I'm to be Queen o' the May,
I sleep so sound all night Mother,
That I shall never wake
If you do not call me loud
When the day begins to break.
But I must gather knots of flowers,
And buds and garlands gay,
For I'm to be Queen o' the May,
Mother,

I'm to be Queen o' the May,
So you must wake and call me early
Call me early, Mother Dear,
Tomorrow'll be the happiest time
Of all the glad new year.
Tomorrow will be of all the year
The gladdest merriest day,
For I'm to be Queen of the May,
I'm to be Queen of the May.

Sixth Grade
The A class has just finished a study of three North Sea countries called Denmark, Belgium and Netherlands, and now we are studying the Dutch East Indies.

June Crawford is spreading a polyphemus that emerged Friday, May 15. She has learned to spread and pin moths very nicely.

Edwin Gaunt brought his stamp book to school last week. It was very interesting.

We have now received the Ruby Throated Humming Bird to add to our bird book.

Two cocoons have emerged. One is Earl Grieb's and one is Donnie Waltz's. Jack Miller has a moth that molted over the week-end. Also we discovered a tiny wood snail on the wing. The snail came from the dirt that our squash vine is planted in.

We wish to thank Margaret R. and Margaret S. for letting us have some pollywogs.

One of the pupils of the sixth grade found a polyphemus moth on the sidewalk. We had it chloroformed and pinned.

The sixth grade have two new spreading boards made for the room by the Chelsea Lumber Co.

We have had no marks by our names for about a month on our department chart, for not being good citizens. We hope we can keep it up.

Winfield Schenk bought an alligator last week. It came through the mail Friday. He named it Dynamite. Winfield says that it is quite stubborn and won't open its mouth to eat unless you hit the side of its head.

We transplanted the geranium which Charles Lane accidentally broke off this spring. It is coming along very nicely and will soon blossom. Jeanne Meserva brought a Philippine Independence stamp to school. The picture shows a group of American and Philippine women shaking hands.

Seventh Grade
Lois Palmer and Betty Fletcher danced in the operetta "And It Rained." Betty had charge of the dancing and as a result received a box of candy from the cast. We had our picnic and enjoyed it very much although it was cold. We wish to thank Miss Fauver, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Ashfar and Mrs. Fletcher for providing transportation for us.

The Tippler Pigeon
The tippler pigeon is by far the most intelligent of the fancy varieties. They have competed in races of from 100 to 150 miles, and homed in exceptionally good time. They are similar to homing pigeons, in the respect that they can be sold to fanciers living in distant cities and towns, and after a few months as prisoners in the lots of their new owners, they are given their freedom in the hope that they will like their new home and decide to settle and fly there. Many of them do like their new surroundings well enough to settle there, but some never can reconcile themselves to a new lot, and return as soon as they are liberated to their former dwellings.—Rural New-Yorker.

The Ginger Plant
The flowers and leaves of the ginger plant are borne on separate stems.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE SIGHTS IN Michigan?

TO MANY PEOPLE, the ideal vacation is one devoted to sightseeing. In order to enjoy themselves fully, such vacationists require three things: Sights worth seeing; something to travel in; and good roads to get there.

Very few parts of the Union offer as much in these respects as the State of Michigan. Here are many spots well worth visiting — historic buildings and grounds, interesting cities, and open country of unsurpassed scenic beauty. The journey itself becomes a separate pleasure, a real addition to the joys of vacation. Splendid highways, fine lake liners, trains, buses, planes—all these means of transportation, comfortable and economical, stand at the service of those who are planning to see the sights.

Have you considered Michigan for your own sightseeing? Have you told your out-of-State friends of the exceptional advantages here? If so, you have done them a favor — and promoted good will for the Wolverine State.

As our part in such promotion, this series of advertisements is being published throughout the State of Michigan by an organization that can prosper only as the other citizens of Michigan prosper.

SHADOWS

(Dedicated to Mrs. Frances Robtoy, who has been confined to her bed for several years at the M. E. Home. Your patient spirit and appreciated cheerfulness is bearing fruit.)

A little bird flew by our window, Where a sunbeam glistened in, On the wall we saw his shadow As he lighted on a limb.

Did not see the little stranger, Did not even hear him sing, But the beauty of his shadow Sent a thrill of joy within.

That some little bird-like shadow Hover near your window too, Wish the incense of his presence Bring a thrill of joy to you.

But lest we might be forgetful Thru life's shadows, care, or pain, We could never have the rainbow If we did not have the rain.

—Arthur Carlton.

"Alphabet" From Greek Letters Alpha and Beta

The word "alphabet" is derived from the Greek letters alpha and beta, corresponding to our a and b. The Greek alphabet is one of the oldest in the world and all modern European alphabets are derived from or founded on it. The English alphabet is practically the same as the Roman, which was derived from the Greek.

The earliest Greek alphabet contained only 19 letters, having no f and ending with the letter t. The letter i, and the six letters following t, viz, u, v, w, x, y, z, came by a process of evolution at long intervals. There was no u in the Greek alphabet until the Ninth century B. C. and for more than 1,000 years after u and v were different forms of the same letter, one being used at the beginning and the other in the middle of a word.

It is not until the Tenth century A. D. that a writer in the Indianapolis News, that the two letters were differentiated into u as a vowel and v as a consonant. There was no separate letter w until the Eleventh century A. D. Prior to that the sound was expressed by u or v, but during the two u's were linked together, making double u.

Some other letters got into the alphabet by a curious process of evolution. The letter s, for example, comes from the Latin through the Greek. This letter was introduced into the English alphabet in the Fifteenth century. It was the sixth letter in the Greek alphabet. It used to be pronounced zed or isard, and is sometimes so written and printed in England.

Tributaries of the Nile

The Nile system has three principal divisions: (1) the main stream running in a northward direction and having its sources in the great lakes of East Central Africa; (2) the equatorial tributary rivers draining the country northeast of the Congo basin; (3) the Ethiopian affluents. These and their numerous tributaries form the Nile river, notes a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The tributaries of the Nile having their sources in Ethiopia are: The Sobat and its northern branch, the Baro; the Blue Nile (the most important of the tributaries), which is fed by the Dinder and the Bahar, the Didesse, the Dabus and the Bolosana, the Hawash and the Takazeze rivers. The country between the Hawash and the Takazeze river basins is drained by the Beshilo, Jamma and Muger rivers. The last tributary rising in Ethiopia which joins the Nile is the Atbara river, which is formed on the tableland north of Lake Tsana by the junction of the Angere, the Salaam, the Aradeh, the Goang and other mountain streams.

Hardening Metal

Modern metallurgists and chemists know how to harden zinc, copper and other soft metals. The popular idea that ancient peoples like the Egyptians had a method of hardening such metals that is now lost is incorrect. Samples of ancient copper tools have been analyzed and found to be alloys of copper with other metals, made just as we make such alloys. Similarly, zinc may be alloyed with other metals to make it harder. Steel tools are much better than any tools that could be made from hardened copper, zinc or other metals.

Springtide Renewal

TO THOSE who love to watch the changing seasons, the dawning of springtime in the fields and woods and even along the city streets, is ever new. Each yearly return one witnesses signs of spring's awakening—the bursting leaf buds, joyous and the delicate birds, joyful in the first wild flowers, unfolding the ever-recurring miracle of spring has some significance of permanent value to those who love to watch it.

Once a woman sat by her kitchen window burdened with the languor and weariness which the winter months associate with the season. Outside, in her little spring garden, a young sparrow perched on a garden, and the air was filled with its cheery song. Lilies were in bud and delicate shoots of grass were springing up. Suddenly she remembered the words of the Psalmist (Psalm 104:30): "Thou renewest the face of the earth." "Thou renewest," she thought, as she watched the signs of life here around her. Then she realized that she herself needed spiritual renewal, and that in order to experience that renewal, she only needed to turn to God, who is the source of all life. She only needed to realize that she was dependent upon Him, and that the words of the prophet Isaiah (40:31): "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," came to her with a deeper significance, and she found herself suddenly rejoicing in her freedom from pain and weariness.

It is related of the prophet Isaiah (40:31): "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," came to her with a deeper significance, and she found herself suddenly rejoicing in her freedom from pain and weariness. It is related of the prophet Isaiah (40:31): "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," came to her with a deeper significance, and she found herself suddenly rejoicing in her freedom from pain and weariness.

Mr. Edy also writes (ibid., p. 46): "Let us then shape our views of existence into love, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight. Are we sorrowfully looking forward to 'age and blight,' or are we expecting every day a renewal of 'loveliness, freshness, and continuity?' Are we companioning with these latter thoughts, or are we fearing the dark shadows of age and decay?"

If our work seems burdensome and the day drags wearily, it is well to remind ourselves of the divine promise that "they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint." This promise is available now, at the present moment. We can avail ourselves now of the ever-presence of divine life—Truth and Love. If the need is for more energy, that need is supplied through the understanding that God, divine Mind, is the source of all strength and activity. If to human sense the need is for rest, there are "green pastures" prepared for those who have used of such refreshment, and Love, the divine Shepherd, leads the discouraged and weary pilgrim beside "the still waters" where he may renew his spirit. Refreshment and drink deeply of that which will satisfy and sustain him.—The Christian Science Monitor.

WHO ARE YOU? The Romance of Your Name

By RUBY MASKINS ELLIS

A Pendleton? This name, so distinguished in America, originated in England and is derived from the two Gaelic words pendle and dun, meaning summit and hill. It is easy to imagine that the old town in Lancashire of this name, only three miles from Manchester, which graced the crest of a hill banded the name down to the Pendleton family, which lived there.

Over the door of one of the inns in this town swings the coat of arms of the Pendleton family, exactly the same as brought to this country by the emigrant, Philip Pendleton.

Pendleton

Some little distance away is the manor house, still owned by Pendletons. In this old family seat are found the records of glowing achievement of different members of the family and that of the ancestor whose bravery in the Crusades won him the right to place upon his shield the Scollip shells, which are a distinctive feature of the arms.

The Pendletons belonged, no doubt, to the English gentry, in many instances a purer and prouder heritage than many of those of titled fame, whose name and title have changed many times as they came down through the ages.

Philip Pendleton established the southern family of this name in America, in New Kent county, Virginia. This family has produced a great many prominent sons and daughters. Among those of whom the state of Virginia is just proud was Judge Edmund Pendleton, an important influence during Revolutionary days.

Banana Tree is Valuable to the People of Uganda

The Brazilian milk tree and the bamboo are not as useful as the banana tree of Uganda. It was introduced to that country about 250 years ago, and the natives use it for practically everything, observes a writer in Pearson's Weekly.

The fiber from the outer sheath of the stem is made into mats, string, rope, belts, etc., and the sheaths themselves take the place of strong paper for many purposes.

The leaves are made into sun-hats, or put over the back as a protection for the spine. When smoked they become water-tight and are used for blinding up wounds, and for covering such things as require preserving from both water and air, such as we should use oiled silk. When dried they make stuffing for mattresses and pillows, mats to sit on, or carpets for the house.

The hollow stems do duty as pots and utensils, and after the tree has been cut down the old stems are used for manure.

At the end of the bunch of bananas is a purple flower which makes a doll for the children, and in certain religious ceremonies the juice from this is taken as a sacred liquid to be smeared on the bodies of witch doctors before burial.

The banana is the staple food of the natives, and is not often left to rot or decay. But even the rotting banana is not thrown away. It is mixed with sand and used as a floor cleaner.

Cryptography is Old

Cryptography is of the greatest antiquity. Plutarch and Gellius tell of a method employed in Sparta for communicating with their generals abroad. The earliest system was the winding of a strip of parchment spirally upon a staff with the edges meeting. The message was then written along the line of juncture. The broken lines could only be read afterward by rolling the parchment upon a duplicate staff in the possession of one who knew the precise size. There are a great many other cryptograms. The Jews made one of them. See Jeremiah 36. Julius Caesar and Augustus made frequent use of them.

Origination of Earthquakes
