Contract Awarded for Chelsea Post Office

By Paul May
Washington, D. C., July 24.—The contract to construct the new Chelsea, Mich. post office building was today awarded a Saginaw, Mich. firm of contractors; it was learned at the treasury's procurement division.

Lowest of six bidders for the construction contract, the Spence Brothers, 201-4 Brewer Arcade, Saginaw, will be paid $49,680.00 for doing the work, according to procurement division officials.

Under the terms of the construction contract, the Spence Brothers will have 270 calendar days time in which to complete the Chelsea post-office building after they have been given the order to proceed.

The order to proceed will be given as soon as the Saginaw contracting concern posts payment and performance bonds with the procurement division, officials stated.

Each bond will be for a sum equal to fifty per cent of the total contract amount, $49,680.00, said the procurement division officials.

The payment bond is for the guaranty of the labor and materials men, while the performance bond serves as protection for the government.

Signed plans of the Chelsea project must also be furnished the procurement division. The signed drawings show the contractor knew the requirements of the project before starting construction, according to procurement division officials.

Band Concert Will Be Given Wednesday

Funds have been raised by popular subscription to finance these concerts, and the first appearance of the band will be next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock. ## Village Will Be Bonded to Build Disposal Plant

At the special election held on Monday taxpayers of Chelsea voted to issue general obligation bonds to the amount of $29,700.00 to aid in the construction of a sewage treatment works. The estimated total cost of construction has been set at $54,000.00 and the amount of $24,300 will be paid by the federal government in the form of an outright grant.

A total of 194 votes were cast at the Monday election, with 118 for and 76 against the bonding proposition. In order to carry the election for the issuance of bonds it was necessary to have a three-fifths vote in favor of assuming the obligation, and the count was two votes over the required number.

Although there is considerable comment both in favor and against the result of the election, very little interest was taken as can be seen from the small number of votes polled.

Procedure which will now be necessary before construction of the disposal plant can be started will be very complicated, according to village officials, and it will no doubt be several months before the work can be started. The grant must be obtained from the government before asking for construction bids, and before the issuance of bonds for the project.

George Champe and Associates of Toledo, Ohio have been retained by the village as engineers for the project, and proposed plans for the plant are on file in the office of Jas. Munro, village clerk.

Parade Will Feature Legion Convention

Lansing, July 29.—The annual parade, one of the most colorful events of the program at the state convention of the American Legion, will be held here on the afternoon of August 17, according to the program for the convention, just issued. The convention is to be held here August 16, 17 and 18.

The first event on the program will be the annual family dinner for state officers of the Legion, which will be held Saturday evening, and will be followed by a dance.

On Sunday there will be a memorial service, which will be followed by preliminaries in the drum and bugle contest and zone caucuses. In the evening the finals in the drum and bugle corps contest will be held.

The high spots in the Tuesday program will be the election of officers and addresses by distinguished guests whose names have not been announced.

The housing problem is being solved in a very satisfactory manner, according to Joseph L. Heath, president of the convention corporation. A large number of delegates will be accommodated in the city's hotels, others will be quartered in public buildings, where cots will be set up, others will be quartered in private homes, and still others, it is expected, will use several camps which will be established for house trailers. There will be complete sanitary arrangements at these trailer camps, which will be located close to the convention area.

The entire city is cooperating to make the convention one of the most successful ever held. Merchants are signing up for decorations, the city government will decorate the streets, and the local Legion corporation will provide other decorations.

Fire Destroys Barns on Jos. Sibley Farm

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed two large barns and a shed Friday night on the Joseph Sibley farm northwest of Chelsea. The local fire department responded to the call at 11:30 and succeeded in saving a third barn.

Twenty-seven head of cattle and five horses were safely removed from the building, and only one cow and one steer were burned. One hundred bushels of oats, 200 bushels of rye and a large quantity of hay also were consumed, as were two large stacks of wheat near the barns.

The reflection of the burning buildings was seen as far as East Lansing and Williamston and parties from these places came to the scene of the fire, as did hundreds of people from Chelsea and nearby territory. For five miles persons could see their shadow by the light caused by the blaze.

Loss on the buildings and contents is partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sweet reside on the farm with Mr. Sibley.

Larger Territory to Be Opened for Hunters

Lansing—Every county in Michigan north of a line drawn from Muskegon to Saginaw bay except Leelanau county, will be open to legal deer hunting next fall.

Seeing no emergency which would warrant an official order to continue the closed season in Lake, Newaygo, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, Clare and Wexford counties, which have been closed during the past five years by Legislative Act, the Commission decided to let legal deer shooting come into effect automatically this fall in those counties.

Leelanau county, which has comparatively few deer, is to be closed by Commission action to deer hunting again this fall. The Commission is authorized to do this under the Discretionary Power Act passed by the Legislature, it was pointed out by Director P. J. Hoffmaster.

The commission decided to permit a longer hunting season in the lower peninsula, by one day, on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse and pheasants, setting the open season from October 15 to October 28, inclusive. The season in the upper Peninsula is the same as before and, being set by the Legislature, cannot be extended by the Commission. No changes were made in any of the bag limits on big game or small game.

WILL ATTEND GAME

More than thirty local baseball fans will leave at 12:45 this afternoon to attend the baseball game at Navin Field between the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees. The local aggregation will go on the special train which will carry about 1500 Jackson fans to the game. Train fare and baseball tickets have been received by Wesley Smith and all persons having identification tickets must exchange them at the depot before boarding the train.

BREAKS ANKLE

While descending the stairs last Thursday evening at her home on Park St. Mrs. F. D. Munby missed the bottom step and fell, breaking the outer bone of her left ankle and spraining her left wrist. The bones were X-rayed at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

FIRE THREATENS CAMP

The local fire department was called Tuesday afternoon when a grass fire threatened the buildings at the Christmas Seal Camp at North Lake. Although the fire spread over a large area it was subdued before it reached any of the camp buildings.

Clemens, Ann Arbor and Chelsea. A social afternoon followed the pot luck dinner and business meeting. Officers elected for the coming year are: President—Edward J. Parker. Vice Pres.—George W. Parker. Secretary—Miss Grace Parker. Treasurer—Mrs. Eugene Willis.

Geo. W. Parker, 84, was the oldest member attending and Shirley Jane Parker, 9 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parker, was the youngest. The next reunion will be held at the same place the last Sunday in July, 1937.

YELLOW PAINT HAS MEANING

Yellow paint on pavements has apparently become one of the important traffic enforcement problems on Michigan highways today.

Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of the Michigan state police, informed State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner this week "there still appears to be wholesale violations of driving restrictions established by yellow markings." Olander said he had received a few queries asking the meaning of the markings.

For years the state highway department has used a yellow marking on hills and curves. This marking is uniform among the states. On three-lane highways, the state highway department has painted yellow markings on hills directing the traffic to the outside lane.

"While some motorists may not understand the meaning of these yellow markings," Commissioner Van Wagoner said, "there is ample evidence that most of the violations are premeditated."

"By and large, I believe that motorists realize that the left side of the yellow paint on a hill or curve is a no man's land of death. However, there is no question that many drivers are disregarding these markings."

Commissioner Olander has expressed the need to increase his trooper patrol personnel by 200 men. "This additional number will be necessary if we hope to do a thorough job," the commissioner said.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MILAN—Although the vote was lighter than had been expected from the keen interest taken in the registration for the special election last Monday, the people of Milan very definitely decided the question of whether beer and light wine should be sold on Sunday. And the people by a vote of more than two to one emphatically indicated to the village council that the beer parlors should not be open on Sunday. There will be no change in the present law which prohibits the sale on Sunday.—Leader.

SOUTH LYON—We have often heard of long-lost property finally coming to light again after it has been practically forgotten by the owner. W. A. Kalmbach had such a thing happen last week, when he came again into possession of a ring. Mrs. Kalmbach had given him for a Christmas present years ago. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Kalmbach lost the treasure "somewhere around the barn or garden lot" at his present home—he wasn't exactly sure where. It was a heavy band ring made in 1900 by the late G. D. Hamilton, one-time jeweler in South Lyon. Last week while cultivating his potatoes in the Kalmbach garden lot, Roy Dean saw something shiny down in the dirt and picked up the long-lost possession. The garden has been worked nearly every year since the ring's disappearance. Although very dirty when found, it was bright and shiny when the dirt was rubbed off.—Herald.

STOCKBRIDGE—Doubtless many local people will be surprised to learn that the village now has a huge aviation signpost, and although hidden from the sight of "landlubbers" is visible for a distance of nine miles at an altitude of two thousand feet—that is, with the aid of the "glass" or telescope carried by the pilots. The sign is atop the Guy J. Ramsdell Ford agency, and runs the entire length of the large building. The sign was painted on the roof about two weeks ago, and three painters were busy all one day at the job of painting "Stockbridge" in huge letters. Mr. Ramsdell also states that there are rumors of a local landing field for the village.—Brief-Sun.

JACKSON—Requirements by the state highway department that grade separation at the Michigan Central crossing be planned, either over or over the tracks, before any consideration will be given the project, practically puts it in the discard. The first method is impossible; the second impracticable; for in ending one hazard, it creates two others, fraught with more threat than prevails now. The experience of automobile drivers with last winter's icy hills justifies an active opposition to adding like dangers in a traffic as heavy as that on Michigan avenue. Let a car get out of control on the approaches to a bridge, going temperamental as it were, the prudent driver would run to Ganson street to escape the risk. By far it is better to endure the dangers we now have than fly to those impending under the new conditions.—Evening Star.

BROOKLYN—S. K. French of St. Petersburg, Fla., sends a copy of the Independent of that city marked "Come down here and cool off." The newspaper of July 14 gives high temperature of 88 and low of 73, following a rainfall record of 2 1/2 inches. The newspaper gave its entire edition away on that date because the sun didn't shine, a novel stunt it has practiced for several years. The last time it gave away an edition was February 6, and it averages about five free editions a year.—Exponent.

24 YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 1, 1912

The Chelsea merchants, meeting last Thursday noon, perfected arrangements for their second annual basket picnic which will be held at Vandercreek Lake, on Thursday, August 16.

Mrs. Jacob F. Koch of Sylvan township died on Saturday, July 27. Many of our citizens saw the balloon Kansas City No. 2 which started from Kansas City on Saturday and which passed over Chelsea on Sunday afternoon. It descended at 5:00 o'clock near Belleville.

It is estimated that 35 automobiles have been sold to parties who reside in Chelsea and vicinity so far this season.

Reuben Riemenschneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Riemenschneider of Waterloo died on Monday, July 29.

Sunday evening Chelsea and vicinity was visited with the worst electrical and rain storm of the season. Lightning entered the Chelsea substation of the Au Sable Power Co. and put out of commission one of the large transformers. A number of corn and oat fields were quite badly damaged by the wind. The barn on the farm of John Young of Lyndon was badly damaged by lightning.

34 YEARS AGO

Orange Pekoe:
The word "pekoe" is an Anglicized form of a Chinese phrase meaning "white hair" or down. There is such a down on parts of the tea plant in the early spring. Pekoe tea is composed of young leaves, picked while the down is still on them, and roasted at a low temperature.

Feather Beds Prohibited
Feather beds are prohibited by law in the Province of Quebec's hotels and lodging houses. Single beds must have two pillows; double beds, four.

AN OLD HYMN

I found an old hymnal shattered and worn, but turning its pages through, ran across an old hymn which appealed to my heart, and I'm passing it on to you.—Arthur Carlton.

When times of temptation bring sadness and gloom,
The last of earth's treasures born out to the tomb.

I will tell it to Jesus my Lord;
When out on the hilltops, away from all sin,

When joyous and happy the sunshine within,
I will tell it to Jesus my Lord;

When weary with toiling and ready to faint,
He never refuses to hear my complaint,

I will tell it to Jesus my Lord;
When darkness is dimming my path to the sky,

When helpers shall fail me, and comforts shall fly,
I will tell it to Jesus my Lord.

Though blurred my life's pages by sin and its wages,
He's yesterday, now, and forever the same,

I'll not be forsaken, though my life should be taken,
I will tell it to Jesus my Lord.

Limp, Once English Fad

Many women in England walked with the "Alexandra Limp" for several years after 1863 when Princess Alexandra of Denmark, who was lame, was married to the prince of Wales, later King Edward VII. Eventually, the nationwide fad was laughed out of existence, writes Allen E. Shonne, New York city, in Collier's Weekly.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Can you tell me the title of some of the books written by Hall Caine? And about his parents and where he lived, etc.

Ans.—Hall Caine, the novelist and dramatist, was born in Runcorn, Eng., May 14, 1853. Little is known of his parentage, other than that they were of mixed Manx and Cumberland. He attended the schools of the Isle of Man and Liverpool, and learned the trade of an architect. When his parents died he made his home with Dante G. Rosetti, the poet. He came to Canada and the United States in 1885. He wrote a great many novels and dramas, outstanding among which were "Recollections of Rosetti", "The Shadow of a Crime", "The Manxman", "The Prodigal Son", "The Christian", "The Deemster", "The Scapgoat", "The Bondman", "The Son of Hagar", and "The Eternal City." It was while he was a writer on the Liverpool Mercury that he attracted attention, and his fame became world-wide.

Ques.—Do Americans have as much money invested in European countries as they have invested in South America or in Canada?

Ans.—American investments in all foreign countries total approximately 15 billion dollars. About 8 billion dollars are in Europe; about 5 billion dollars are in Canadian enterprises, and about one and three-quarter billion in South America, with about a quarter billion scattered throughout Asia and Africa.

Ques.—Do all the different tribes of Indians have the same language? If not, how did they talk to each other?

Ans.—The various Indian tribes have different dialects. Some of them are so vastly different that the dialect of one tribe cannot be understood by the members of other tribes. The North American Indians had a universal sign language which made it possible for all tribes to converse with each other, no matter how much their spoken language differed. The sign language contained about 10,000 words, which was sufficient to cover their parts of speech, and was elastic enough to cover any period of time.

Ques.—Can you explain why a gun kicks?

Ans.—The force that starts the shot forward—that is, the force of the explosion—exerts an equal force backward. This is one of the famous laws of motion discovered by Sir Isaac Newton—the law that for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction.

Ques.—I would like to know how ancient surgeons put their patients to "sleep" while they performed major operations?

Ans.—Among the ancient surgeons alcohol and the juices of opium were largely used. The ancient Egyptian surgeons, most of whom were very skillful, had a way of hitting the patient on the head in just the proper place and then operating while he was unconscious from the blow.

Ques.—What makes a person catch cold?

Ans.—We catch cold from germs which grow in the tissues of the nose and throat so that these tissues get inflamed and swollen. These germs are always lurking about on the moist surfaces of the mouth and nose, but when we are in good health they cannot get a foothold in the tissues. When our vitality lowers temporarily it gives the germ a chance to enter and get a start.

Ques.—If a ship sinks in an ocean that is a mile or more deep, will it go clear to the bottom or will it go down until the water pressure will hold it up?

Ans.—If the ship sinks below the surface at all it will go all the way down to the bottom of the ocean, no matter how deep it is.

Ques.—Can you answer how a submarine keeps from turning over while under water—or when going down?

Ans.—This is because the top part of the submarine is much lighter than the bottom part. It floats with this lighter part upward. They also have ballast tanks which can be filled with water to make the bottom part of the submarine still heavier.

Ques.—What is the difference between safety matches and ordinary matches which will strike anywhere?

Ans.—Ordinary matches contain all the chemicals in the same mixture in the head. In safety matches one of the chemicals is left out of the head. This one is put on the side of the box. Rubbing the match on the box brings all the necessary chemicals together and enables the match to explode. A very small amount of the chemicals on the side of the box is found in some kinds of glass and other substances. Sometimes the friction of these will cause the match to ignite, but the operation is far from being satisfactory.

Ques.—Will you please answer in your valuable paper just what causes automobiles to smoke?

Ans.—Smoke is caused by incomplete burning of the gasoline or oil in the cylinders. There is carbon in gasoline and all motor oils. Some particles of carbon may be left unburned after the explosion in the cylinders and are thrown out as smoke. Also there may be too little air in the mixture, or perhaps too much oil is getting into the cylinders.

inders and are thrown out as smoke. Also there may be too little air in the mixture, or perhaps too much oil is getting into the cylinders.

Ques.—Is a nerve impulse to the brain instantaneous? If not, how fast does it travel?

Ans.—The nerve impulse in the human body travels 125 meters (404 feet) per second. If you burn your finger the nerve message to that effect reaches your brain in about eight one-thousandths of a second.

Pointers to Aid Work Horse in Hot Weather

Nineteen brief pointers that can save horseflesh and veterinary bills for owners of work horses have been compiled by Professor R. S. Hudson of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College. The pointers indicate the proper feed and care. The information contained can be obtained by writing the Animal Husbandry Department at the college at East Lansing, or by contacting the county agricultural agent.

"Feed regularly," advises Hudson. "But do not feed grain when the horse is tired and hot. Fresh hay in the manger is sufficient until the animal has had a half hour to cool off. Water often, at least four or five times daily, but do not let an animal drink more than a pailful of 10 to 12 quarts when the horse first comes in from work if he is tired and very warm."

"Avoid sudden changes in feed from old to new grain or hay. Bulky, dusty or moldy feed causes colic and heaves. In general, feed one and one tenth pounds of grain and one and one fifth pounds of hay daily for each 100 pounds of weight if moderate work is in schedule. A 1400 pound horse should have 15 pounds of grain and 17 pounds of hay."

"Horses should have salt available to lick at all times in barn or pasture. Collars and harness should fit well and be kept clean to avoid sore shoulders. Lift the collar frequently when the horse is working and wipe off the shoulders with the palm of the hand."

"As work decreases, the use of pasture may be increased. This will contribute to the health of the animal and reduce the cost of keeping him. Exercise is important, but if there is no place to turn out an animal, feed one pound of bran and six pounds of carrots or potatoes to help keep the horse in condition."

Cats Yowl Battle Cry

A cat, when fighting, usually lets out blood-curdling yowls. They are not cries for help. These so-called yowls are the battle cry which help their morale along. A beaten cat never cries though it will split in retreat.

I Crossed the Continent on a Cupful o' RED CROWN!

"It's something of a hobby with me—crossing the continent is. But, old experienced continent-crosser that I am, do I have my eyes opened this Spring? I do! 'Always before, I make the trip by foot, figuring I'm money ahead if other folks buy the gasoline. This time, though, I get reckless. I decide to forget expense and go in my own car. 'But, Kermit,' I say to myself, 'don't go completely nuts all at once. Take it easy and gradual,' I say. 'That's sensible, so I start it off with just one tea-cupful of gasoline in the tank. And right there is where I get my eye-opener: It happens to be Red Crown gasoline that I buy. And do I have to make another single stop for gas the whole way across? I do not! That one cupful takes me coast to coast, and I even have trouble stopping the car when I get to the Golden Gate!'

We don't believe Kermit could really have been serious about this matter. In fact, we don't believe there is any such person. It is a fact, though, that many motorists do have false or exaggerated ideas about gasoline mileage. That's why Standard Oil is conducting a great public road test this summer, in which thousands of motorists are taking part.

Reports already indicate that many are learning valuable new facts about the economical operation of their cars—discovering how to use gasoline more efficiently—finding out which brand of motor fuel does the best and cheapest job for them. Even if you aren't entered in the World's Greatest Road Test, it will pay you to

HAVE YOUR STANDARD DEALER FILL YOUR TANK WITH STANDARD RED CROWN. Then note carefully how many miles you drive before you need gasoline again. Compare that mileage with any you've ever gotten before.

We know from our own tests that Standard Red Crown is good for fully as long a mileage as any regular priced gasoline on the market. But rather than make claims, we prefer to let Standard Red Crown speak for itself.

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT GASOLINE MILEAGE

BE SURE YOUR CAR IS SAFE TO DRIVE—THEN DRIVE SAFELY!

Sun Rays Scorch Evergreen Trees

Good and bad news for farmers and city folks who have been watching their evergreens turn brown under the dry heat is offered by W. Ira Bull, extension forester at Michigan State College. Brown needles on the upper side of spruce tree branches, most noticeable on the south and west sides of the trees, are evidence of heat damage.

A soil soaking and watering is the best treatment for young plantings or choice specimen trees used in landscaping, says Forester Bull. Some of the smallest trees have been killed with the heat. Mature trees, even when they show considerable damage, will not be as attractive but are not likely to die.

Forest trees planted within the last three years in lower Michigan have suffered losses from extreme heat and drought conditions. White pine and spruce plantings inspected recently by Mr. Bull indicated more serious effects than red and jack pine because the former species cannot endure the heat as well. Some of the small trees still retain a faint color in their needles, but they are dry and dead and cannot be saved.

Trees older than three years indicate fewer losses, although scorched needles on the south and west sides of the trees may show considerable brown. Schools, 4-H ranger clubs, community organizations and individuals finding damage in plantings are being advised to check up on losses and make plans for replanting in spring, trusting that the next growing season will be more favorable.

METHODIST HOME

Last Sunday, Mrs. Cynthia Allen was happily surprised by a party of nine friends from Dearborn, Flint and Lobbell Lake, who brought with them an abundant picnic dinner and supper.

Our matron, Mrs. Bennett, has returned from spending a few days in Detroit with her children and seems to have thoroughly enjoyed her trip. Miss Jennie Allen has the sympathy of the family in the sudden death of her cousin, Mrs. Nina Cronan of Grass Lake. The funeral service was held on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlton have very greatly enjoyed a few days' visit from Mrs. Carlton's sister, Mrs. Lana Powell, and Mrs. Powell's daughter, Miss Mabel, both of Lansing.

Mrs. Susan Baldwin was visited last Wednesday by Mrs. Watkins and daughter and Mrs. Dailey of Hillsdale, and by Mrs. Lucy Baldwin of Blissfield.

On Tuesday we had as dinner guest E. E. Calkins of Ann Arbor, who gave us an exceedingly interesting talk in regard to the late H. M. Slauson, whose recent death is such a great loss to the Home Board of Trustees and Managers. BE HAPPY TODAY

So often we look to a far distant day
For the joys that we think life should hold;
We want to be happy, contented and gay
But the world seems unfriendly and cold.
We hope that tomorrow our ship will come in,
That tomorrow success will arrive;
We dream of the time when our luck will begin
And we'll be mighty glad we're alive.

And yet, when we ponder, we soon understand
That our happiness all must be gained
From comforts and joys that are nearest at hand—
That contentment is never attained
Unless we are living each glorious day
To the full of its beauty and cheer.
The blessings we seek are not long years away
But are always abundantly here.

How Blackbird Got Its Color Is Ancient Myth

The blackbird, that shy handsome fellow with his glossy black coat and golden beak, was once upon a time, so the French fable tells us, pure white. One day in the woods he came upon a magpie, busily engaged in hiding his stolen treasure of jewels.

"Where can I get such a store?" asked the white bird. The magpie, being nervous of betrayal, told him to go to the palace of the King of Riches in the bowels of the earth, but warned him to touch nothing until he had received permission from the prince. He set out on his quest and flew through cavern after cavern, until he came to one formed entirely of gold, and gold dust lay thick on the floor. The adventurer could restrain himself no longer, but plunged his greedy bill into the gold dust, whereupon a horrible demon spring out of the ground, spewing forth soot and smoke. Although the bird escaped with his life, he had now a jet-black plumage and a gold-stained bill. And since then, every time the blackbird hears a sudden noise in the wood, he pushes out of the bushes with cries of alarm, for who knows what terrible demon may pursue him again?

Paste Stones Backed
Paste stones, set in rings and brooches, are generally backed by fragments of tinfoil, which reflects the light from their facets, thus producing artificial brilliancy. In jewelry containing genuine stones the back is invariably left open for the light to play upon their natural brilliancy.

Echoes as Alarm Clocks

MODERN Americans who have to invest in alarm clocks in order to be certain of waking up in time for work each morning may well envy the good fortune of Jim Bridger, famous frontiersman, who was able to draft Mother Nature into service for assurance of early rising.

Near Bridger's ranch in Wyoming were some obdurate cliffs. Frequently he heard the sharp crack of a rifle which puzzled him, because he knew there was no one within 147 miles of his home. Finally it dawned on him that these reports were the echoes of the rifle shots which he had fired the previous day when he was getting his daily supply of fresh meat. These obdurate cliffs had caught the report of his rifle, held it overnight and then sent it back to him each day to remind him that it was time to go out hunting again.

Next it occurred to Jim that he might just as well make use of the echoes in other ways. So every time he knew that he had to get up early the next morning, he would step out side the door, face the cliffs and shout: "Hey, Jim, it's time to get up!" And, sure enough, the next morning he would be awakened by the echo penetrating the walls of his cabin and shouting in his ear: "Hey, Jim, it's time to get up!"

Kiwanis Will Dedicate Monument Sunday, August 2nd

The above map shows location of and main roads to the Kiwanis Forest Monument to be dedicated August 2. The dedication of the stone structure commemorates the pine plantings of the Michigan Kiwanis Clubs.

A Kiwanis project representing ten years of effort devoted to the planting of pine in Michigan's north woods will be permanently memorialized August 2 at 2:30 p. m. with the dedication of the Kiwanis Forest Monument a half mile south of the Lumbermen's Memorial in the Huron National Forest.

Coming on a Sunday, the dedication ceremonies are expected to draw a large number of Kiwanians and visitors who are concentrated in the forest area for the Fourth Annual Tawas Bay Water Carnival and Regatta.

Constructed of stone, each of which bears a plaque or insignia, supplied by the various state Kiwanis clubs which have been instrumental in reforesting the 10,000 acres, the memorial is located fourteen miles from the Huron Forest headquarters at East Tawas. To the north stands its neighbor, the Lumbermen's Memorial, overlooking the broad waters of the Au Sable River.

The Kiwanis Forest was designed to stimulate interest in reforestation and conservation. In 1928 it was conceived by Harry Black, Flint attorney, and R. G. Schreck, East Tawas, then supervisor of the Huron Forest. 500 persons attended the first planting of the pine and five thousand acres were planted out with the combined labor efforts of the forest and the Kiwanians at a cost of $1.94 an acre, bringing the total plantation cost paid by the Kiwanians for the initial year to $9,700. In 1929 the same plantation program was carried out at the same cost and on the same labor arrangement.

At the first dedication a lunch was served, relates T. F. Marston, secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association, admission to which was by a stone, the thought behind the gesture being the present memorial.

At each of the two dedication ceremonies, a member of the United States Forestry Staff officiated and each person present planted a small tree along the highway. Kiwanian Harry Black is honored with a special stone block in the monument which is nine feet high and five by six feet at the base.

Lt. Governor Ralph M. Hunter will be master of ceremonies at the dedication. The memorial will be unveiled by Harry Black.

Principal speakers on the program are Governor Vern Chase and E. A. Sherman, Assistant Chief United States Forestry Service, Washington.
