Christmas Seal Sale Shows Improvement

Reflecting better times throughout Michigan, receipts from the thirtieth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals are turning upward this year. Officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and affiliated organizations in the state declared this week. Early returns on the Thanksgiving-to-Christmas sale clearly indicate, they believe, that the people of the state are ready and anxious to contribute again to the relief of human needs—a practice that many were forced to abandon during the depression years.

While returns during the early days of the sale were good, day-to-day receipts this week have been slightly less, it was pointed out. The necessity for maintaining the early pace if an increase over the 1935 mark is to be realized, was stressed by the anti-tuberculosis forces.

At Lansing, Theodore J. Worle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, stated it would be necessary to send a follow-up message to the several thousand in the state who have not yet contributed, a procedure involving considerable added expense.

"We realize," said Mr. Worle, "that many of those from whom we have not yet heard intend to give later on, but we have no way of knowing who they are. So much more would be available for the campaign against tuberculosis if it did not become necessary to make a second contact in so many instances. We are sure that if people realized how much is saved through early returns, they would not delay their contributions."

"This year there is a special need for a substantial increase over the 1935 receipts. We are within striking distance now of the goal that will be won largely through money. Medical science has done its part in providing the modern weapons against tuberculosis. The task that remains is to bring those modern weapons to people who otherwise would never know their benefits. It is that work that will be made possible through Christmas seals. The 2,044 deaths from tuberculosis in Michigan last year are proof sufficient that a vigorous campaign in 1937 is a prime need."

The Christmas seal sale in Chelsea is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club under the direction of Paul F. Niehaus. Mr. Niehaus reports that contributions are coming in at a very satisfactory rate, and that those who have not received seals through the mail may secure them at the Chelsea State Bank.

The Chelsea Chapter of F. F. A. will sponsor a Father and Son Banquet on Tuesday, December 15, at 7:00 o'clock p. m. in the Chelsea public school gymnasium.

A menu composed of the finest foods will be prepared under the direction of Mrs. McKernan, with the assistance of Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Bristle, Mrs. Aiber, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Stoffer, Mrs. Prinzing, Mrs. Niehaus, Mrs. Robbins, and others. Chelsea Is Gayly Decorated for The Christmas Season

The business district of Chelsea has taken on a real yuletide appearance this week as the result of the placing of sixty-five Christmas trees in front of business places. The trees were purchased by village authorities and were placed on Tuesday and Wednesday. They are larger and nicer trees than the ones used for holiday decorating last year and present a very nice appearance.

Special wiring has been placed by the Electric and Water Department so that lights may be easily strung on the trees, and business men are expected to cooperate in the Christmas decoration scheme by furnishing lights for the trees.

It was unfortunate last year that so many bulbs were stolen from the strings of lights on the trees, many of the trees being practically stripped of bulbs. It is hoped that either children or adults who were so inclined last year will be more considerate this year and leave the lights intact as they are placed for the purpose of beautifying the village throughout the yuletide season and vandalism will not add to anyone's peace of mind, especially at this holiday season. Village authorities and merchants ask the cooperation of everyone in preventing a recurrence of these actions.

While the street decorating was being accomplished merchants have been busily engaged in decoration of their windows and stores and arranging their unusually large stocks of merchandise for the Christmas trade. Many report that gift purchases are being made much earlier than last year and that they expect the best Christmas business in years. Special preparation has been made by the merchants for this business and it is hoped they will be rewarded for their efforts. Readers of The Standard are urged to peruse the advertisements in this issue and patronize the merchants in Chelsea who are catering to their every need.

School Choirs to Give Christmas Program

Traditional Christmas Carols, sympathetically rendered by a large choir, the flowing melodies of a vocal solo, the exquisite strains of a violin, and a surprise package of lighter numbers inspired with brightness and gaiety—all these delectable gifts, prepared by the Junior and Senior High School Choirs, repose in Santa's huge bag and will be placed under Chelsea's Christmas tree on December 22 for free distribution that night.

At promptly 7:30 p. m. the distribution will begin, and Santa has voiced sentiments to the effect that he will deem it gross ingratitude if any citizen of Chelsea be not there to receive his own gift.

The program to be rendered will be as follows:

Processional—The dignified Adeste Fideles.
O Come All Ye Faithful.
Three numbers by combined Junior and Senior Choirs: "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen"; "O Little Town of Bethlehem"; "Silent Night".
Two songs by the boys' quartet: "Here We Come A-Caroling"; "Beautiful Saviour".
Vocal solo—Cecilia Birch.
Two violin selections—Mr. Hargreaves.

Vocal solo—Miss Boongaard.
Group by girls' quintet: "Coventry Carol"; "Angels We Have Heard on High"; "Lullaby, Lullaby, Lu".
Entire group: "Deck the Halls"; "Up on the House Top"; "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas".

In conclusion there will be community singing by the entire audience. Worthy of special mention is the fact that the members of the choir will be decked out in formal robes.

It is sincerely hoped that the foregoing Christmas Sing will provide a breathing-space, a period of quiet meditation in the midst of the feverish haste of Christmas preparation, and that this pause may prove a true refreshment to all who observe it.

The place known as the Henry Pierce farm in Sylvan was sold to H. B. Waltrous last Saturday. Warren Daniels of North Lake left Monday for Ypsilanti, where he will attend the Cleary Business College. Broesamle; Lecturer, Mrs. C. E. Foster; Steward, Chas. Young; Asst. Steward, Lamont Franklin; Chaplain, Mrs. J. E. Wals; Treasurer, C. E. Foster; Secretary, N. W. Laird; Ceres, Mrs. N. W. 34 YEARS AGO

Thursday, December 11, 1902

On Wednesday, President Roosevelt sent to the senate the name of Orrin T. Hoover as postmaster at Chelsea, Mich. Jacob Hummel's dray team caused considerable excitement Wednesday afternoon by running away. They were standing near the M. C. freight house and evidently thought that it was time there was something doing. They went up through Main street at a record-breaking clip. The damage was slight. (Must be history repeats itself every 34 years.) Rev. Wank, who has preached for six years in the German Lutheran church at Waterloo, has accepted a call to preach at Toledo. Officers elected on Tuesday evening at Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M. are: W. M., R. B. Waltrous; S. W., O. T. Hoover; J. W., H. Lighthall; Treasurer, J. A. Palmer; Secretary, C. W. Maroney; S. D., L. T. Freeman; J. D., L. P. Vogel; Stewards, B. B. Turnbull, A. L. Steger; Tyler, W. B. Sumner. Chelsea Lodge, K. of P., elected the following officers at the annual meeting Wednesday evening: C. O., G. A. BeGole; V. C., H. D. Witherell; P., T. G. Speer; M. of W., D. E. Beach; K. of R. & S., W. D. Arnold; M. of J., R. D. Walker; M. of E., E. A. Williams; M. of A., Arlington Guerin; L. G., Otto Lulick; O. G., G. P. Smith; Representative to Grand Lodge, H. Lighthall; alternate, C. W. Maroney; Trustees, H. S. Holmes, J. L. Gilbert, J. A. Palmer.

TO A FAITHFUL WIFE

If this my pen could utter words Which can neither write nor speak, It would not be a Latin phrase, Nor epitaph in French, nor Greek. But in some quiet shaded nook On summer eve by babbling brook, Where zephyrs fan the birds to sleep, It's there—it's there I'll meet with you, And whisper words you know are true. Down through the years, almost two score, You've been a wife with an allure, To every interest of your home, Full wide awake you've bravely come Through disappointment, sickness, care, Firmly you've stood, yea, stood four square, Appreciated? Yea, I'll say, far more Than I express today. A husband's bond I here impart, With retrospective loving heart.

—Arthur Carlton.

OUR NEIGHBORS

DEXTER.—Frank Hayworth, 67, roomer in a house on C St., used for furniture and clothing storage, died Wednesday morning in St. Joseph's hospital from burns received in a fire which damaged the building last Friday night. Firemen believed that the blaze originated from a lighted cigarette tossed into some rubbish near Hayworth's bed. The building located next to the Claude Devine residence, has been used chiefly for storage purposes. Water damaged the contents.—Leader.

SOUTH LYON.—A crash awakened Mr. and Mrs. R. C. VanWise shortly after 2:00 Saturday morning. When they looked out into their dooryard they saw flames leaping skyward, some to heights as high as the house. It developed that high tension wires of the Edison Company were causing the flames. The crash, heard by the VanWises, was caused by an auto colliding with an Edison pole in front of the VanWise home. The pole was broken off and the wires fell to the ground, many of them in the VanWise yard, burning deeply into the ground. Some of the live wires fell across telephone wires with the result that 30 phones in and around South Lyon were put out of order by the electrical disturbance. The car that was the cause of all this was driven by a Detroit. Neither he nor his three companions were hurt, although the machine was badly damaged. The VanWise telephone being cut, it was necessary that someone walk to town to give the alarm. A volunteer climbed a fence into a field to reach town rather than take the chance of stepping on a high tension wire which may have fallen on the highway. Repair work was not completed until Monday.—Herald.

Basketball News

After several weeks of practice, which included scrimmaging, drill in fundamentals, etc., Coach Johnson started his basketball crew in a non-league encounter with Michigan Center on Tuesday night. The score of that game can be found somewhere in this edition. Also the Chelsea Girls' team and the Reserves played on Tuesday evening with the Michigan Center Girls' squad and the Center Reserves, respectively.

On Friday night, Dec. 11 the entire basketball teams again play. Their opponents are the husky lads and ladies of dear ol' Manchester. Remember!

That's the town where football is the shining sport of the village. '35 score, 20-13; '36 score, 14-7. However, football is not a sport similar to basketball and we are counting on a good game. The students, we know, will be there 100 per cent and we also would appreciate your support. Come and see Chelsea play! Three exciting games are a true value for your admission price. Don't say that this speech reminds you of a Barker. Why not? 'Cause everything is on the level!

Editorial

How many times have you heard different students say: "Oh, she always gets chosen for everything. Why don't the teachers give someone else a chance?" Or, "I wonder how he got such good marks. He must be a teacher's pet."

Well, your questions are answered. Students are marked and chosen by their ability to do things. The students at the head of classes are those that treat problems as challenges and overcome their weaknesses.

Many students lack the aggressive will to learn. They fuss and fume and stare out of the window and gossip and look at the clock—everything but concentrating on the job. Then they complain that they have too much to do.

Following are a few pointers on the art of learning: Make a definite effort to get things straight. Be thoughtful. Do not be merely receptive, ask questions and be responsive. Raise points. Comment. Suggest criticisms, not for the sake of being critical but for the sake of understanding more perfectly.

Practice makes perfect and if applied to problems it is very true. Therefore when you make one success, don't give up. Learn a little more, grow a little more sure and more intelligent about yourself.

"L M N ts of Love"

There goes 8 bells again. Once more everyone hurries to the assembly. This time to be entertained by the Seniors. I suppose you know or have heard that we are having chapters once a week, which are being sponsored by each class.

The Seniors entertained us with a short play. The name of the play was "L M N ts of Love," the speeches of which were carried on by only the alphabet letters. The characters successfully portrayed by Seniors were: Mother—Jane McGaffigan. Father—Edwin Schenk. Daughter—Doris Rogers. Englishman—Harley Prudden. The other young man—George Goodell.

Best Man—Charles Bycraft. Maid of Honor—Monica McKernan. Preacher—George Prizing. Miss Boomgaard led the students in a number of songs, after which we returned to our classes.

A man's word may be the law in his home, but his wife is the supreme court.

Some girls don't mind going out with strong silent men, as long as they let their money do the talking.

A most remarkably intelligent Junior who was asked to write an essay of 250 words on the bicycle, wrote the following: "My auntie has a bicycle. One day she went out for a ride. When she got about a mile from home her dress caught in the wheel and threw her off and broke the wheel. I guess this is about 50 words, and my aunt used the other 200 while carrying the bicycle home."

The Freshman class of Chelsea high school was host to the Sophomore class last Friday, December 4, at a party in the gymnasium.

There were relays for boys' teams and girls' teams, and mixed teams. After the relays were run off, there was a program of solos by Cecilia Birch and a violin solo by Adolph Duerr, accompanied by Paul Piesmeyer. Refreshments were sandwiches and cookies with grape juice. After lunch was served, there was dancing.

The Sophomores wish to thank the Freshmen for a very enjoyable and delightful evening.

Elementary News

Kindergarten

We have been very busy making presents for our mothers.

Next week we are going to take a trip to the Chelsea Greenhouse.

Miss Boomgaard has been reading us the Christmas story.

We've been bringing pennies to buy a Christmas tree. We are going to make some decorations for it. Others we'll bring from home. We think it will add much to our room.

Last week Thursday Miss Boomgaard put up our fireplace. We are anxiously looking forward to Christmas.

First Grade

Merle Leach brought us a deer foot and David Longworth brought a deer head. We have enjoyed stories and poems about the deer.

We have made pretty pictures of Santa and his reindeer.

Our post office will be finished in a couple of weeks.

We are making our own decorations for our Christmas tree. We have painted chestnuts and pine cones many pretty colors.

We will shop for our tree as soon as all our people have brought their pennies.

We have a large fireplace in front of which we shall set up our tree and decorate it. We also have drawn names to exchange gifts at our Christmas party.

Marilyn Schenk has returned to us after having been ill the past month.

Second Grade

This Monday morning every one in Second Grade is present. We now number 28. Dorothy Van de Graen from Harbor Springs school came last week.

Bradon Barlow, who was absent all last week, having the flu, is back today. We are so glad to see him.

Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Merrill came visiting one day last week. They found us busy workers.

We are learning a new art—finger painting. Instead of a brush we use our fingers and hand to rub our paint on the paper. Sooh we are going to make Christmas trees with candles on them.

Our fireplace is already for Santa Claus. We are learning lovely songs to sing for him. In some we use the jingle bells. Bobby Daniels brought them and they help us to make our songs sound happy.

We are collecting Christmas pictures to send to the children at the hospital. If you have any pretty ones let us know and we will come after them.

For Christmas we are exchanging gifts. Friday, we drew names and we are keeping it secret whose name we pulled from the box.

Third Grade

We have decided on the presents we will make for our mothers. We are working on them this week. Our mothers will like them, we think.

In arithmetic we are horse racing. June's team is racing on a blue horse and Myra's team is on a red horse. It is a long race. We will finish December 24. Already the blue horse has run 588 miles and the red horse 542 miles. Some people will have to work harder to help the red horse along. He can catch up if he tries.

We all want some snow to play in. The third grade is making "Michigan Books". We are studying all about the early traders, missionaries, and settlers who came here. We are writing stories about 'he Indians who lived here too.

Fourth Grade

In arithmetic we are going to see who will be the first one to get his Jack in the Box colored. The one who gets the greatest number of perfect papers wins.

Three pupils who made safety posters for our Golden Health club were: Ruth Ann S., Mary K. and Jimmy G. Jimmy Gaken's was voted the best.

On Friday we invited the fifth grade and the third grade into our room to see our plays called "The Soldiers of Peace" and "The Tooth-maker."

Our next journey in geography has taken us to the desert lands in Arabia to visit Hira.

We like our badges that we earn by living up to the health rules. They help us to remember our duties day by day.

Sixth Grade

Reporter—Donald Knoll

Assistant—Helen Grabowski

We had a spell down. Dorothy Barry and Donald Knoll were captains. Dorothy's side stayed up the longest. Doris Parsons stayed up the longest.

Dorothy Barry second.

Dorothy Barry is back to school. She feels much better. She came back Wednesday afternoon and she is glad to be back.

Miss Canfield put up a poster in our room. It has pictures on it. The pictures are about the red-shouldered hawk, red-tailed hawk, bald eagle, sparrow hawk, short-eared hawk, long-eared owl, screech owl, and barred owl.

We are studying about a red-shouldered hawk in Nature Study period.

We have a stuffed osprey or fish hawk. It is a useful and harmless bird. The osprey is from Mr. Williams. Thank you, Mr. Williams.

In arithmetic we started a review of fractions. We like them.

We have been drawing pictures from our Elson reader poem. The poem is about "Christmas Eve", by Christopher Morley. East Holbrook put the pictures on the bulletin board.

We have a wool that gives us important information about the British Empire at a glance.

We are getting ready to hand our geography notebook about the British Isles.

We have changed the date of going to visit the Standard office until after Christmas.

We changed our Compton's Encyclopedia to the other side of the room to our reading table. We hope the students will like our new location.

We are going to have a Christmas party like last year, in the gymnasium. There we will give our gifts away.

Daniel S. brought a cocoon to school but it has already hatched so we could not use it.

We have a list of geography papers that we should have in our geography notebook. They are due as soon as we have had the test.

We are studying about a red-shouldered hawk in Nature Study period.

It is alive and belongs to Miss Canfield. She brought it last Monday. We like the hawk very much for we have been studying about it. Some of its wing feathers are clipped so it cannot fly. It eats mice, rats, frogs and snakes, but seldom eats chickens so it is a harmless bird to poultry.

Seventh Grade

Reporter—Bessie Shinnaberry

Assistant—Donald Walz

We have elected new officers for our room. They are as follows: President, Richard Schmidt; vice-president, Jack Miller; secretary, Peggy Almond.

Mr. Bleecker bought us some new History workbooks. They were made in Hillsdale. Thank you, Mr. Bleecker. We use a barometer and a thermometer to help us in making our weather charts.

Miss Hannigan sent to Washington for some weather charts. We use them in connection with our geography.

We have drawn names for our Christmas party.

Miss Hannigan is reading us a book called "With LaSalle the Explorer". It is a very interesting book.

We have been keeping a news chart. Some have not contributed to it at all during the past six weeks.

We had two debates in our room last week. We hope to have Miss Gibson's team come down and give us a debate soon.

State Department Aids Are Named

Two Detroit men have been appointed to important posts in the Department of State, effective January 1, 1937, by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State-elect. Both are well known.

Bernard J. Youngblood, Deputy Register of Deeds of Wayne county, takes the post of Deputy Secretary of State, succeeding Dr. Louis Webber, who was appointed to that office two years ago by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State.

Mr. Youngblood was born Jan. 21, 1898 in Detroit. He was educated in St. Anthony's parochial school and high school. For 12 years he was employed by the Detroit-Edison company in the steel department and in charge of truck dispatching.

During a year's leave of absence, he entered private business in 1929. He was in the ice and coal business when he entered the office of Wayne County Register of Deeds as a clerk, rising to his present post through promotion.

Hoyt Morris, who will succeed Lee C. Richardson as head of the Detroit branch office of the Department of State, has been in the real estate business in Detroit for the past 12 years, coming to Michigan from Illinois. His real estate operations were carried on in Florida for several years.

Christmas Trees Are Plentiful In Michigan

All things remaining equal, northern Michigan can continue indefinitely to supply the entire state with Christmas trees without suffering serious or notable damage to its forest cover, believe forestry specialists of the department of conservation.

Much concern has been expressed by many persons over the heavy cutting of young spruce, balsam, pine and even cedar trees on northern wild lands each year, but foresters do not think that this removal of young trees is a very serious deforestation factor.

It has been variously estimated that a million or more young Christmas trees are cut annually and sold in all parts of the state, the largest markets being in the southern centers of heavy population; many trees are exported, as well as imported into Michigan from Canada and eastern states.

One authority has estimated that all of the trees cut for Christmas use on Michigan lands in one season could be produced on a good-size southern Michigan farm, growing 4,800 trees to the acre.

All cutting of Christmas trees must be confined to, privately-held wild areas, conservation authorities say. The department of conservation forbids by law any cutting on state-owned lands. Every potential Christmas tree in northern Michigan has an owner and it is up to the cutter to get proper authority before starting operations. Otherwise he is committing trespass and is subject to the penalty provided by law if apprehended.

Editor Urges New Kind of Religion

From out of the biggest little newspaper published in Michigan, in the biggest little town in the entire state, has come a bit of wisdom that carries with it more common sense than anything that has been published in all the great journals of America so far this year. Read what Swift Lathers, editor of the little Mears News, published up on the burned-over lands in the northern part of the state has to say about "Cellar Door Knob Religion":

"If I were a minister and were to deliver a sermon this coming Sabbath, I would take as my text the door knob of your cellar door. If you have saved $19 of your summer wages or your autumn salary, go not forth to buy yourself a second-hand shot gun and a box of duPont shells, but rather buy yourself 20 bushels of No. 2 potatoes, a couple of dozen cabbages, a bushel of onions and a barrel of apples. Fill up the bins and boxes and shelves in your cellar and get ready for winter. Full many a man wants to live off the wellfare, makes no provision for the winter, but spends his money on entertainment and baubles. But such people are a burden on society and far from being the salt of the earth."

"If you lived in Alaska or Labrador, or far up in Canada in the region of the big snows where you did not reach a trading post until spring you would have to get ready for winter or you would perish. How much more ought you living in a country of fertile gardens and abundant orchards to get your cellar ready for the season of the big snows. Forty dollars invested now will buy you two barrels of flour, a hundred pounds of sugar, 20 bushels of No. 2 potatoes, 50 cabbages, a bushel of onions, 10 pounds of coffee, 10 pounds of cocoa, 20 packages of gelatin, a bottle of vanilla, some evaporated milk and a bushel of rutabagas. You can get ready for winter if you want to so you will not have to be a community burden. Pauperism is largely a sin of mismanagement. Make the fullness of your cellar a part of your religion. Let these things come first."

"If there is nothing left for amusement you can still read 'free' books from the library and take walks in autumn woods and along the frozen shore. Simplify your mad desire for fast chariots and the fast things and you can live in self-reliance and independence and have 75 cents to buy a little undershirt for the baby."

"The calamity howlers, the indigents with outstretched hands that howl to the welfare office could get along and be the salt of the earth if they would practice in the autumn the grace the religion of the cellar door knob."

Our 8th grade pupil, Clara Trinkle, has left our school. She is now attending the Chelsea public school.

We have three new pupils. They are Genevieve, Stella and Lottie Valant from a Detroit school. Genevieve and Stella are in the fifth grade. Lottie is in the fourth grade.

The children are busy now, getting ready for Christmas and their Christmas program.

The children have made another Arithmetic Chart to record their marks. They have completed two so far.

They have been working on the festival songs, also on the folk dances. We have the records for music appreciation but have not started work on them as yet, but we will after Christmas.

The children have added stories, clippings and pictures to their "Pilgrim" book. They have a Pilgrim scene and an Indian scene in the sand-box.

The seventh grade, Arlene Koenig, Arthur Schiller and Jane Schlosser are preparing to take their test Friday, Dec. 4.

We are now working on the arrangement of our Health scrapbook. We have much material saved for it.

The second grade have added health stories to their notebook.

A new picture and stories have been added to the Picture Study Book. The fourth and fifth grade have added some clippings and pictures to their geography notebook. The fifth grade enjoyed getting additional information from the book "The Parade of the States."

We have bought several books to add to our library. They are mostly books for the lower grades.

Dr. A. L. Brock, in behalf of the American Legion, presented our school with a flag on Friday, Nov. 13. We appreciate it very much. We have bought a stand for it, and hope to have it put up soon.

Our teacher had a birthday this month and many of the children gave her cards and also gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—What causes dew? And why is there no dew on cloudy nights?

Ans.—Dew is formed when the ground and many other objects absorb considerable heat during the day when the sun is shining. After night-fall the warm air rises from the ground and other heated substances and comes in contact with the colder air above the earth, causing the moisture to condense. On cloudy nights dew does not form because the clouds act as a blanket around the earth, and tends to keep the colder air from coming in contact with the warmer air.

Ques.—How do polar bears stand the extreme cold of the Arctic regions?

Ans.—The polar bear's thick hide and fur keeps them very comfortable when almost all other animal life would freeze. The cold temperature cannot get in, nor the warmth of the body cannot get out.

Ques.—Why does the Boston American League baseball club and the Cincinnati Nationals have the same nickname?

Ans.—These two clubs do not have the same nickname. The Boston Americans are known as the Red Sox and the Cincinnati Nationals have the name of Reds. When baseball was in its infancy they were named Red Stockings, but in recent years they became known simply as "Reds."

Ques.—To settle an argument, will you please answer whether a frog is an animal, fish or what?

Ans.—In a broad sense a frog is an animal. But in a closer definition a frog is classed as an amphibian reptile.

Ques.—How is "coupon" pronounced? I cannot find the word in my dictionary.

Ans.—Coupon is pronounced "koo-poon" with accent on the first syllable. Many erroneously pronounce it "cue-poon."

Ques.—I would like to know where the power comes from in one's muscles. And why are men stronger than women?

Ans.—This is because each muscle is made up of thousands of little fibers laid together side by side like the fibers in a rope. Each of these little fibers can contract in much the same way as a stretched rubber band when you let go of it. Just why the muscle fibers are able to contract is totally unknown. Men are stronger than women because their muscles contain, on the average, about four times as many of the fibers than are in the muscles of women.

Ques.—Why are quicksands dangerous or treacherous?

Ans.—Quicksands are not dangerous except in rare instances. For instance, if a deep bed of quicksand on the seashore or in a river bed is completely saturated with water, and probably a spring of water seeping upward through it, the sand is likely to be loose and soupy, so that a person getting into it will sink. This sort of a quicksand is far less common in fact than it is in fiction.

Ques.—What is horse power?

Ans.—Horse power is a way of expressing how fast energy is being used. A horse power originally was intended to be the rate at which an average could do work, but horses differ so much that the horse power is now defined scientifically, usually as a certain quantity of electricity. One-horse power equals 746 watts of electricity.

Ques.—Can you answer as to how the Pyramids of Egypt were built?

Ans.—The great blocks of stone for the pyramids were hauled up on inclined embankments built of earth, the motive power being gangs of men hauling on ropes. These gangs numbered into the thousands. After the stones were in place, the earth embankments were dug away, making it seem as though the stones had been lifted up directly.

Ques.—What was the first metal used by man?

Ans.—It is not known definitely. But it is generally agreed that it was gold. Metallic gold was found in abundance in the beds of streams. It did not have to be extracted from ore. The first metal put to practical use, however, was copper, which began to be used for knives and other implements at least six thousand years ago.

Ques.—Is Niagara Falls the largest natural falls in the world?

Ans.—No. Victoria Falls in South Africa is about 150 feet wider than Niagara, the fall of the water about 343 feet, as compared with 167 feet for Niagara Falls.

SAVAGE SCHOOL NEWS

The children at Savage school celebrated Thanksgiving Wednesday with a party. Holiday games were played and refreshments consisted of fruit jello, chocolate and vanilla wafers, cake, apples, and mixed candies. Mrs. Young furnished a prettily decorated Thanksgiving cake, and apples for the occasion. A comical turkey song was sung by the children as part of the entertainment. The party was a double event honoring Alta Young, who has a birthday this week.

With Christmas only a few weeks away, the children are busy preparing a program and making attractive gifts for their parents. The program will be December 24th, and eight o'clock. Parents, friends and neighbors are invited. The admission will be pop corn or candy which will be served to all following the program.

Our school room is decorated with red and green trimmings. Miss Gale brought an artificial spruce Christmas tree which we have in one corner of the room.

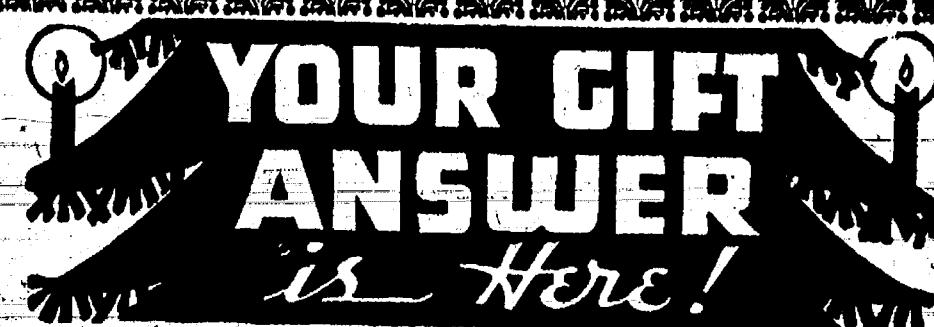

"Our Savage Sparkler" is a newspaper which we publish three times during the school year. We have distributed a copy of the first edition to each family. The paper consists of general school news, progress of the children, poems written by the fifth grade, and jokes. In addition, each child has numerous outstanding papers in his individual newspaper, following the general news. On the first page we have a brown sparkler with a yellow flame. This picture is symbolic of the name given our newspaper.

Thomas Franklin, Phyllis Weber, and Raymond Radcliff have a perfect attendance record for November.

From proceeds made at our box social which was held early in November we are purchasing the following: Curtains for the windows, oil for the floor, school scales, paper cups and container, and two new slate blackboards. We expect to have a new sandtable, also. Over $40 was cleared at the social, and over 75 people enjoyed the fun.

HOLLAND'S SANTA

CHILDREN of Holland believe that St. Nicholas was a kind-hearted Spanish bishop who had heard about their land of dikes, windmills and tulips and decided to pay it a visit, says Johan Hart in "Picture Tales from Holland." He arrived there long years ago on December 6, and began giving children presents. Since then he has always returned on that night to fill the wooden shoes of Dutch children with gifts. The children in turn leave out some carrots or hay for his horse.

Safetygrams

Winter weather is with us. With it comes fog, ice, sleet, snow, and slippery roads. What are you doing to prepare for it?

Every driver should see that his car is properly conditioned for winter driving. Windshield wipers should be reconditioned. The elimination of fog, sleet, ice, and snow from the windshield is very important, and many very good devices are on the market for this purpose. Equip your car with a device that will give you clear and good vision during such weather.

Control your speed on slippery roads. Go slow - go easy - be careful.

"NOEL" is the French name of the Christmas feast and of the old carols formerly sung in the French country churches at this season. Its derivation is from the Latin "natalis," meaning "born," and the word was originally shouted or sung to express joy over the birth of Christ. With the spelling "Nowel" it is found in Chaucer and other early writers.

The Consumers Power Co. of Jackson gave a picture on "Eyes and Light," which was very interesting.

Mr. Kuhl fixed some seats in the school room which we appreciate very much.

But Once A Year

"THANK goodness," said Martha Goodwin, bustling about her kitchen, "Christmas comes but once a year." She wiped back a loose wisp of graying hair with a weary gesture. "But it will be fine seeing you again, Led," she murmured, thinking of her distant son. "Now, let's see. Those star cookies you're so fond of—" She glanced at the hurrying clock.

Loud shrieks of laughter under her window interrupted her thoughts. Those near neighbor children again. If they were dirty, they were freshly swept. She strode grimly to the porch. There was a path in the snow from their yard, around here, and back again to their own, where all four of them had apparently trudged, pushing a snow ball, across her walk in two places. A tussel started suddenly, and they were all tumbling about in the snow, shrieking at the top of their voices.

Martha scolded shrilly at them, and they stood up, an abashed little line of stair steps. "The idea!

On-Christmas, too!" Martha chided. "Whatever is the matter with you, that she lets you make such a racket?"

"She's sick," answered the oldest girl.

"Sick! Then all the more reason why you should keep still. Shame on you." The little group stood like statues.

Martha tucked in the wisp of hair. "You children come in here and sit still while I work, and I'll tell you a story," she invited. "Mind you wipe your feet."

"I suppose it should be a Christmas story," Martha began. "Do you know about the shepherds and the wise men?"

"Yes," they chorused. "We go to Sunday school," added the oldest girl.

"Then," Martha asked her, "shall I tell you about Santa Claus?"

Her face clouded a little. "Mother told us that," she answered soberly.

"Oh," said Martha. She dusted the flour from her hand, and turned to baste the turkey. Four pairs of eager eyes watched her every move. The doorknob rang. "Laddie! Good heavens," cried Martha, slipping off her apron, and rushed to the door.

But instead it was a telegram: "AWFULLY SORRY. DARRLING BUT I JUST CAN'T GET AWAY STOP DO TRY TO HAVE A MERRY CHRISTMAS STOP GO ON A SPREE AND I'LL FOOT THE BILL STOP EXPECT TO BE ABLE TO GET DOWN FOR NEW YEAR'S AND WILL EXPLAIN EVERYTHING THEN LOVE LADDIE."

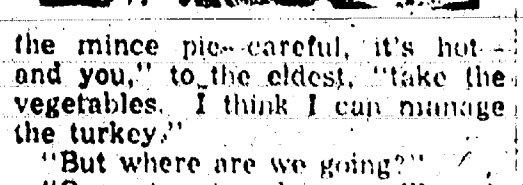

Martha Goodwin read it twice. Then she smoothed the straying wisp of hair and went back to the kitchen.

"Well," the older girl was explaining, "it's sort of like a check-on, I guess, only ever so much bigger." The four children looked up as Martha entered. "Why, what's the matter, Mrs. Goodwin?"

"My son—I was expecting him—he isn't coming."

"Gee," came a sympathetic chorus. "And you'd fixed everything so nice and—and Christmas."

"I'm not going to have it spoiled," Martha decided. "Here," she said, and draped the holly wreath over the youngest's arm. "You," she said to the next one, "carry the potatoes, and you take the mince pie—careful, it's hot—and you," to the eldest, "take the vegetables. I think I can manage the turkey."

"But where are we going?"

"Over to your house. Weren't you about to miss out on Christmas dinner?"

"Dinner first, then presents," she suggested, and when, having eaten all they could hold, they gathered about the holly, she found a crudely wrapped present for herself. It was a picture scrapbook, somewhat smudged.

Were those tears in Martha Goodwin's eyes? Surely not, for she was smiling.

"Why, thank you," she exclaimed. "Such a lovely surprise. My," she added, "I do wish Christmas came more than once a year."

Tis the season to be jolly,
"Fa, la la—"

"SAY, Jen, where's the star for the top?"
Dick Dartmouth smiled down at the girl who stood at the foot of the ladder. "How does it look?" he asked.

"Fine, Dick. It's almost like being home," she exclaimed, and then her face sobered.
"Here!" said Dick, and descended. "Don't you dare let me down. It's a darn shame that the whole school piled off for the holidays and left you behind with me, but still, if you hadn't stayed, what would I have done?"

"And if you hadn't stayed, what would I? I couldn't nearly afford the trip home."

"But at least, Jen, you have a home," he said wistfully.

"I know. I'd been thinking of that." She straightened. "Come on, let's get through. What shall we do with the mistletoe?"

"I'll take it." He began twining it around a lamp fixture. "Do you know, Jen," he said musingly, "I'm surprised some of the other girls didn't invite you to visit them."

She was silent for a moment. "They did, Dick. But I preferred to stay here with you."

"Honestly, darling?" He laughed happily. "And I turned down three chances just to stay with you."

And quite naturally he discovered what to do with the mistletoe. —Western Newspaper Union.

Each in His Own Way

by Frances Grinstead

EVERY family has its own way of celebrating Christmas. Do you have the tree on Christmas eve or Christmas morning? It seems all wrong to me to take off its gifts at any other time than the dark early morning of Christmas itself. Yet I have a friend who considers that Santa Claus can only arrive in the candle-lit twilight, so that visions of sugar plums, already seen, as well as those to be found in the stockings at dawn, may dance through the heads of the young ones.

Among my Christmas memories are years when our household could not afford trimming a tree, and there was no mantelpiece for hanging stockings. Some people might think that a combination to knock merriment into a cocked hat! They should have seen our excitement at hanging a stocking from the back of each chair, and the delighted squeals when we discovered in the morning that Santa had filled the hosiery with appropriate gifts. If they were cheap and the tinsel and holly conspicuously lacking, only the grown-ups knew it.

There was always a box of dominoes in somebody's stocking, since my father liked to play. We usually spent Christmas morning in a family game, and I have just this moment suspected it wasn't the children who started it! I've another friend whose father insists on making popcorn balls—Christmas morning, and her mother must always fry sausage. So, Merry Christmas, each in your own way! —Western Newspaper Union.

FAIR WARNING

Wife—Christmas demands have been very heavy, hubby. I'll have to buy you something cheap.

Christmas and December
Christmas is not nearly as old as the month in which it falls. December was the last month of that old ten-month calendar of ancient Rome. The name comes from the Latin word, "decem," meaning "ten." In the beginning the month was known as Decembris, but during the many centuries that followed the name changed so that it now comes to us in its present form. The old Saxons, recognizing December as the beginning of winter, called it Winter-Monath (winter month). They also called it Heilig-Monath (holy month) because of the fact that Christmas fell on one of its days. —Pathfinder Magazine.

KEEPING TREE FRESH
If a Christmas tree is set in water when it first comes in while it is part of the Christmas decoration, it will remain fresh and green for at least a week longer. Water should be replaced as it evaporates. If the base of a Christmas tree is trimmed with a sharp knife just before it is mounted, the pores will be left open, allowing water to rise in the stem to the living cells which are still trying to provide the tree with food and moisture. Spruce and fir retain their needles longer than most other Christmas trees.

Popcorn Ball Decorations
Popcorn balls, wrapped in red and green tissue paper, silver paper or glistening cellophane, and piled in a decorated basket, make attractive centerpieces for Christmas dinner or party tables. A small favor may be placed in each ball, to add interest at a party. Hung on the Christmas tree, these balls make pretty ornaments for the strong lower branches that always seem to be neglected when the tree is decorated.
