Ambrose Liebeck Dies As Result of Burns

Ambrose Liebeck, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Liebeck of Sylvan township, died late Sunday evening, December 12, at South Side hospital from burns received a few hours earlier while working on his own car at Hart's Garage on US-12.

While cleaning a light switch, a short circuit ignited the gasoline he was using, and in attempting to remove the pail of gasoline from the car his clothing caught fire. By-standers extinguished the flames with water and he was removed by ambulance to the hospital, where he died at 11:05.

Mr. Liebeck was born August 14, 1914 in Sylvan township, the son of John F. and Nora (Miller) Liebeck, graduated from St. Mary's Parochial school, class of 1932, and was employed part time in the Hart Garage.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Ruth and Virginia, and two brothers, Herbert and Raymond, all living at home.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church, with Rev. Lawrence Dorr officiating. Burial took place in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Christmas Business Is Good In Chelsea

Many local merchants report that Christmas shopping is reaching proportions nearing the pre-depression days, and with more than a week left in which purchases may be made for Christmas it is predicted by some that sales may reach a total equal to any previous year.

Merchants in Chelsea have made ample preparations for the Christmas trade by enlarging their stocks of goods with merchandise adapted especially for gift purposes, both in the luxury and necessity lines.

More people seem to realize that they can save money, time and inconvenience by trading at home, which is attributed as a real factor in increasing sales locally. Another contributing factor to increased sales here is the fact that payrolls have increased during the past few months, and still another source of increased spending power is the larger income of the rural population.

People who have not done their Christmas shopping are urged to read the advertisements of merchants in this issue of The Standard and take advantage of the unusual opportunities for buying better merchandise at a cheaper price by trading at home!

ANNUAL GRADE SCHOOL PARTY

The Annual Grade School Christmas party will be held December 23 at 1:00 o'clock in the gymnasium. This party is to include kindergarten through the seventh grade. It will take much the same form as last year when the idea was newly initiated. Parents are invited to come, in fact urged to come. They are requested to sit in the balcony as every available foot of floor space will be needed to accommodate the children.

There will be singing of carols by the various groups of children, skipping around the tree, and last but not least Santa Claus will be there with his many surprises. Miss Boongaard is in charge of the arrangements.

LET SEWAGE PLANT CONTRACT

Construction bids for Chelsea's new sewage treatment works were opened by the village council last Friday night at a special meeting. Friday night it was recommended by the council that the contract be awarded to Carl D. Mitchell of Carey, Ohio, whose bid was lowest of the nine bids submitted. On Monday evening of this week the common council again met in special session and signed the contract, bonds and insurance. Mr. Mitchell's bid is for $52,885.00. Work on the plant will be started as soon as possible.

Kiddies' Party Will Be Given Monday By American Legion

Members of The American Legion of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 are again making elaborate plans for their Kiddies' Christmas Party, an annual affair, which will be held this year at the public school auditorium on Monday evening, December 19 and is scheduled to begin sharply at 7:00 o'clock.

Santa Claus will be on hand to greet the youngsters who attend the party and will give a gift to each child present. It is expected that at least 400 children under 12 years of age will be in attendance. The Legion party is not limited to children who are needy, the idea being that no child in the community shall go forgotten at the Christmas season. It is the desire of the Legion to impress upon the minds of the parents that all children are welcome to attend this event.

Entertainment of a type similar to that of previous years will be furnished for the amusement of the kiddies and parents are urged to accompany the children. Parents will occupy the seats in the balcony and at the rear of the auditorium.

The committee in charge of the party have arranged for suitable Christmas decorations and it is hoped that all children in and near Chelsea will be on hand to spend a very joyous evening, and that on the date mentioned the Legion may act as their host at this annual party.

Paper Early Next Week

In order that everyone will receive their paper early so that merchants may benefit from last minute Christmas advertising, The Standard will be published on Wednesday next week. This issue will also contain Christmas greeting advertisements from merchants and others who care to extend their well wishes to patrons and friends.

All copy for this edition, both news and advertising, must reach The Standard office not later than Tuesday noon. Correspondence and other items which are sent by mail from rural routes should be posted Monday morning to insure delivery to our office in time for publication.

SCHOOL TO GIVE PROGRAM

At this season of the year, when the entire country is joined in the festivities and jollities of the holidays, the Junior and Senior high school glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Lucille Boongaard, join in presenting their annual Christmas program on Tuesday, Dec. 22, at 7:30 p. m., in the Chelsea high school auditorium.

That the school choirs have of late become really proficient in the interpretation of many of our finest Christmas carols points the way for a public performance of professional caliber.

The forthcoming event is calculated to appeal to the eye as well as to the ear, as both Junior and Senior high school groups will be attired in light gray serge robes trimmed with white collars and cuffs.

Featured on the program will be numbers by the girls' quintet: Eunice Hart, Peggy Bleeker, Joan Walworth, Barbara Schenk and Jean Luick; several selections by the boys' quartet: Harrie Bleeker, Jr., Harley Prudden, John Fletcher and Ted Brueckner; violin solos by Robert Hargreaves; and a vocal solo by Miss Lucille Boongaard, director.

BARN AND LIVESTOCK BURN

The 60 ft. barn on the farm three miles southwest of Chelsea, owned by C. D. Basore of Toledo and operated by Walter Mohrlock, was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock Saturday evening, together with about 100 goats and a span of horses which were in the building. The family was away when the fire broke out and its cause has not been determined. The Chelsea fire department was called when the fire was discovered but such headway had been gained by the blaze that they were unable to be of assistance in saving the building or livestock.

CELEBRATE 49th ANNIVERSARY

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lewick, with their families, gathered Sunday at their home on Lincoln St. for a surprise dinner in celebration of their 49th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Lewick were presented with several gifts in remembrance of the event. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Dyssinger and daughter Jeanne of Asala, Mrs. Reuben Sodi and daughters, Marjorie and Carol of Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schairer and children, Ronald and Marilyn of Solo and Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Parks and son Homer of Detroit.

CHRISTMAS BAKE SALE

Reception Held for Pastor at St. Mary's

As a welcome to their new pastor, Father Lawrence Dorr, St. Mary's parish entertained about 250 at a reception on Thursday evening at St. Mary's hall. The guests included members of the parish, visiting priests, pastors of the local Protestant churches, business men and other citizens of the community.

Greetings were given by Father Herman Fedewa of Howell, Father John Duffy of Bunker Hill, Father Doherty of Jackson, Rev. F. D. Munro of Chelsea and Rev. H. W. Lenz of Salem Grove M. E. church near Francisco, after which William G. Kolb, in behalf of the parish, presented Father Dorr with a leather lounge chair. Father Dorr responded with a fine address.

Free keno furnished amusement for an enjoyable evening. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The ice cream was donated by Miller Dairy Farms of Eaton Rapids.

C. D. Platt to Direct Recreational Survey

C. DeForest Platt, manager of the Waterloo Recreational Project since it was started two and one-half years ago, has been assigned by the National Park Service to carry on a recreational survey of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. In cooperation with the State Planning Commission and the Department of Conservation, although the Platt family will not move from Chelsea for several months, Mr. Platt will make his headquarters in Chicago.

The work assigned to Mr. Platt includes a survey of existing park facilities, as well as recommendations of potential park facilities throughout these states.

Frank Coburn, who has been assisting in the management of the Waterloo Project, has been appointed as acting manager.

Fishing Licenses To Expire On January 1

Lansing, Dec. 16—The department of conservation today reminded fishermen that their general fishing licenses expire on January 1, the date on which the new fishing licenses for 1937 go into effect.

All dealers and conservation officers in various parts of the state will be fully supplied with the new licenses before that date.

With hunting on the wane due to the expiration of legal open seasons, fishing through the ice will be one of the outdoor pastimes that will help sportsmen bridge the long winter months. Authorities expect that well over a half-million licenses will be sold in 1937.

There are no major changes in fishing regulations for the new year, fisheries men say. Regulations limiting the number of lines that may be used legally remain in effect. Not more than two single ice lines, with one hook to each line, is permitted each fisherman and these lines must be "held in the hand or under immediate control." In the case of smelt fishing any number of hooks may be used on a line.

Authorities construe the "tip-up", an ice-fishing device, as a single line and rule it is legal so long as the operator remains within reasonable sight distance.

BULB THIEF ARRESTED

A local young man was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Wm. Atkinson on Monday and charged with the stealing of bulbs from Christmas trees in the business district. He was arraigned before Justice Howard Brooks who sentenced him to serve 60 days in the Washtenaw county jail, but the sentence was later suspended for one year. The young man paid costs of $3.75.

OBSEVE LADIES' NIGHT

Ladies' night was observed by the Kiwanis club on Monday evening, when a Christmas party was enjoyed at Kolb's hall. A delicious chicken dinner was served by Kolb's Restaurant, following which Paul F. Niehaus led in the singing of Christmas carols. Several violin solos were played by Robert Hargreaves, with Miss Lucille Boongaard at the piano, following which Santa Claus arrived to distribute the gifts which were brought by the group. These toys, about fifty in number, were taken on Wednesday to the crippled children's ward at the U. of M. hospital, Ann Arbor.

34 YEARS AGO

Thursday, December 18, 1902

Philip Feldkamp has purchased the David Schneider farm in Freedom.

Iceboating was indulged in at Cavanaugh Lake, but the snow this week has interfered with the sport.

The last few days have seen many a good man fall and all because of the slippery condition of the walks.

About 5 o'clock Wednesday evening fire broke out in the south show window of the store of W. P. Schenk & Company and within a few minutes had caused about $2,000 damage. There was a Christmas display in the window and in a moment the whole thing was a mass of flames.

Try Standard Liners—Only 25c

Some drivers feel that their ability to get out of a tight spot is a demonstration of skill.

Reckless driving is not a demonstration of skill. A driver may get a thrill from getting out of a tight spot by quick and expert handling of his car. He should not boast about it or get "cocky" from this experience.

A good driver never gets in a tight spot. He is always careful on the approach to intersections, schools, crossroads, and other places where there may be a possibility of meeting other drivers.

The anticipation of an accident at these possible spots makes for careful driving. It's smart to be careful.

Season for Hunting Rabbits Ends Jan. 1

Lansing, Dec. 16—The legal open season for hunting rabbits in southern Michigan counties comes to an end New Year's day.

January 1 is the last day on which rabbits may be hunted south of the north line of Town 16 north and east of Saginaw bay, including all of the Thumb district, conservation authorities announce. North of that line and west of Saginaw bay, including all of the upper peninsula, the rabbit hunting season continues open to and including January 31.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS
and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success.

Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

Win One - Lose One

Tuesday night the Michigan Center basketball team won over the Chelsea girls' team with a score of 24-12. The Chelsea girls fought hard and strenuously only to be out-scored by their opponents. Revenge by the girls will be sought Jan. 12 when Chelsea goes to Michigan Center.

After the first defeat of the season Chelsea girls came back strong Friday with an overwhelming victory over Manchester by the score of 28-6. The starting line-up for the girls' game were:

Forwards: E. Adam, C. Schenck; Centers: E. Boyce, B. Howe; Guards: M. Ashfal, W. Runelman. Substitutions for the games were: E. Umstead, M. Lehman, E. Slane, E. Lindemann, E. Palmer, P. Blecker. Wilma Runelman, guard, was chosen captain of the team by the members of the squad.

Have New B. B. Suits

On Friday, December 11 the Chelsea squad initiated their recently purchased suits in the non-league game with Manchester. The pants are royal purple of satin texture and the jerseys are also purple with gold numerals on front and back. The sweat shirts are gold with "Chelsea" written in purple on the back. The squad wishes to thank the school board for the purchase of the uniforms and also the entire school wishes to give a word of thanks to the Board for adding to the appearance of the squad.

SENIORS THANK YOU

We, the Seniors, wish to thank the people who helped to make our bake sale a success; the Chelsea Hardware for letting us conduct our sale in their store, and the mothers that donated the baked goods.

Junior Assembly

Last week was the Juniors' turn for Assembly. Fifth hour found us rushing to study hall, in order to get any seat not already taken.

First the announcer, Chet Kennedy, said a few words, and then the entire group sang "Oh Come All Ye Faithful."

Following this, Janet Haselwerdt read "The One Horse Shay," after which Cecilia Birch sang "Santa Claus Express," accompanied by Paul Fielemeyer.

The group sang again and Raymond Ives read "Silas Marner."

The assembly was closed by a very enthusiastic pep meeting.

Swamp Manchester

The Chelsea quintet prepared for its first league encounter with U. High by defeating the Manchester five, 32 to 11.

Niehaus, Koebe and Wheeler made eight points each to tie for high-scoring honors. Tisch and Alber at the guard posts also made an excellent showing. Chelsea led at the half by the minute margin of one basket, but outclassed her opponent in the third and fourth quarters to almost completely blank them by allowing Manchester to make but one point to their 21.

The Reserves also scored a victory over their opponents, 25-13. Charles Bahnmiller and John Fletcher, Jr. made a total of 23 points, Charlie leading the scoring parade with 12 points and Johnnie a close second with 11 points.

The Reserves led the entire game, the score at the half being 16-5 and at the end of the 1st and 3rd quarters 2-1 and 28-10 respectively.

First team subs were Myers, Goodell, Grove and Blecker.

We have a new primer book called Peter's Family, which we like very much. In the back it has Christmas stories which we hope to read soon.

Second Grade

Second Grade is very busy these days and we are not so newswy because we are keeping lots of secrets. Later we'll tell you all about them.

We wish you could see our fireplace. Quite a few of us brought our little rocking chairs and mornings we light our candles and sit about the fire listening to the story of "The Happy Forest." Such fun!

Marceline's mother and little sister came to see us last week. They enjoyed our room.

We are exchanging gifts again this year. Already some of us have ours wrapped nicely and we've brought them to school. We are putting them on the fireplace. They look quite mysterious.

Marceline Hinderer, George Leigh Palmer, Bobbie Daniels, Frances Hale and Ray Knickerbocker have been chosen from our room to sing with others at Mrs. Otto Hinderer's on Thursday afternoon.

Fourth Grade

Last week we had an oral spelling contest. The captains were Ileen L. and Mary K. Flo-Ann L. was the winner on Ileen's side and Phyllis H. was the winner of the contest.

At this time Marjorie G. and Nalda O. are ahead in coloring the Jack in the Box.

We are making a desert scene in our sand table. We are going to show a caravan crossing the Arabian desert.

Everyone had a chance to make original decorations for the room during art period on Friday.

Last week Rosella Burger left our room. We now have 86 pupils.

Our arithmetic contest ended last week with a tie; both Marjorie Gilson and Robert Novess are the winners.

Fifth Grade

Our visit to the Fibre Products factory last week proved very interesting.

Those who have given reports on the Choral Union concerts to date are: Esther Riemenschneider, Robert Eaton, Jane Christwell, and Joe Hale. Ruth Osterle will report on the Boston Symphony Orchestra, on Monday.

We were invited to the Fourth Grade room last Friday and enjoyed a play given by Miss Lindenschmidt's girls and boys on "Peace."

We hope all the girls and boys in the grades will have an opportunity to see this little playlet which points out the dangers of playing with toy guns and we think it would be fine for the mothers and fathers to cooperate with the Fourth Grade in trying to do away with guns as playthings.

We thank Miss Canfield for inviting us to the Sixth Grade to see their interesting talk which she gave us.

We think we shall be more interested in the many good qualities of this bird rather than his few bad ones from now on. We are glad we have learned so much about him.

Sixth Grade

Reporter—Helen G.

Assistant—James B.

We had a spelling test Thursday afternoon. Evelyn S., Gormely H. and Dickie S. were the only ones to have 100. Most of us had poor grades. We had better study our spelling, more especially on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Miss Canfield said that everyone is invited to see the hawk if they want to. The children will have to come before 8:30. If children do come, please do not stand in the hall. Mr. Blecker doesn't like it. We invited the other grades to see the red shouldered hawk. We hope they enjoy it. Mr. Genter put a new perch on the cage for our red shouldered hawk. He uses it very much. Now he won't have to sit in the cage.

State to Learn About the 1937 Soil Plan

Announcement of the 1937 national soil conservation program with phases similar to that used in 1936 but with changes which appear favorable to Michigan's farmers is to be followed by a series of sectional and county meetings arranged by county soil conservation committees.

According to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, the soil plan for next year pays more attention to the practices of handling range and grass lands and provides larger payments for growers of vegetables and fruits. Like the 1936 program, the 1937 outline again offers payments to those farmers who meet specified conditions for shifting land from soil depleting to soil conserving crops and for carrying out approved soil building practices.

Wallace has pointed out that "although Congress authorized payment of $500,000,000 in benefits annually, the actual appropriation remains to be made, so that the program is dependent upon the action of Congress."

Michigan remains in the area designated for administration of the soil conservation act as the North Central Region. This includes the other states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota.

The plan of establishing bases for soil depletion on farms is to be continued. These bases are considered the yardsticks by which diversion from soil depleting to soil conserving is measured. Crops again will be classified as to their effect upon conservation of fertility. Another continuation is the plan to pay county administrative costs out of the total payments allotted to farmers in the respective counties.

Any producer, no matter how small his farm, will have an opportunity to earn at least $20, twice as much as the limit in 1936. Michigan, with its large areas in hay and pasture lands, has many farmers who will be able to participate more generally in 1937 because of greater attention to be paid for soil building practices on such lands.

Rise and Fall of Styles

In Queen Anne's reign, at the beginning of the eighteenth century, it became fashionable for women to appear on London's streets in their nightgowns, a fashion which came to a quick end when a woman was executed in a garment of this description. Another example of negative prestige killing a new fashion was the sudden disappearance of "blooms" in 1851, when a London brewer dressed all their barmaids in this costume.

A Christmas Debt Paid

"GRANDFATHER, isn't that the most beautiful doll you ever saw?" The little hand tugged at the hand of the tall man. He looked down at the childish figure beside him. "I wish I had one like her," the child said in a low tone.

The man smiled with a tender smile. "It is very beautiful, dear, but I thought I heard you say that you had all of the dolls you could care for."

"Well, I did," came the faltering answer "but"—as though an inspiration had presented itself—"I could give some away if I chose."

The man's face brightened on the child's hand, and then he reminded her gently that they must hurry on if they were to be home in time for luncheon. Although there were many other interesting toys in the department of the great store, the child showed little interest in them, and managed to work their way back to the object of her affection, and stood enraptured before it until her grandfather again reminded her that they really must be on their way home.

As the child reluctantly followed, the man recalled another dark eyed Marcia standing before just such a doll and heard again almost the same words this Marcia had used today. "Isn't she had said, 'that doll in pink just beautiful? I wish I had one like it.' And he heard the man beside her reply, 'You have more dolls now than you know what to do with,' and he had added, 'That is too expensive anyway.' 'Oh is it?' the child had asked in surprise.

"Yes, every thing in this store is." He hadn't known whether it was or not, but he had led the child away. Later he asked himself many times why he hadn't given the doll to the child, and he resolved that never again would he be the cause of a hurt look such as he had seen in the little one's eyes that day. From then on, he determined to grant her every wish that he possibly could and so atone for the unnecessary suffering he had caused.

Christmas night John Grant sat alone before the fire, his head against the back of the chair, his eyes closed and a smile of content upon his face. The door opened and a young woman's voice called softly, "Father."

"Yes, my dear," he answered as he turned toward her.

"Mother wants to know if you aren't coming to bed," the young woman said as she came into the room.

"Tell your mother I'll be there in just a minute," the man replied with a laugh.

"Do you know, father, I think that you have made Marcia the happiest little girl in the world tonight," Marcia Field said as she went and sat on the arm of her father's chair.

Her father put his arm around her. "I'm glad if I did," he told her.

"Do you know that doll reminds me of one I wanted many years ago. I thought that I never would be happy if I didn't have that doll," Marcia laughed at the memory.

"And I wouldn't buy it for you," her father frowned.

"Why father, do you remember that?" the daughter asked in surprise.

"I have never forgotten it, and I resolved never to be the cause of hurting you or anyone as I had you that day."

"Why, you old dear," Marcia laughed as she hugged him. "I haven't thought of it for years."

And then she said suddenly as a light of understanding broke upon her, "That is why you always have done so much for me, and why you gave Marcia that doll today, isn't it?" John Grant's smile was the only answer he gave for a moment, and then he said: "If I have succeeded in making both of either of you happy, I shall be happy, too, for I shall feel that I have at least in part paid a Christmas debt long overdue."

"Dear, dear father," Marcia lovingly assured him, "you don't know how well you have succeeded."

"Then I am indeed content."

OUR NEIGHBORS

MASON—Mason's fire loss for the 12 months ending December 1 was only $575, one of the smallest totals in years. The annual report of the fire department was submitted to the council Monday night. It showed that the department answered 17 city alarms and 10 rural alarms during the year. The total amount of property endangered in the 17 city alarms was $20,250, it was estimated. The loss ratio on rural fires was higher. Rural fire losses amounted to $10,375. It was estimated that $18,200 was endangered in the 10 farm fires.—County News.

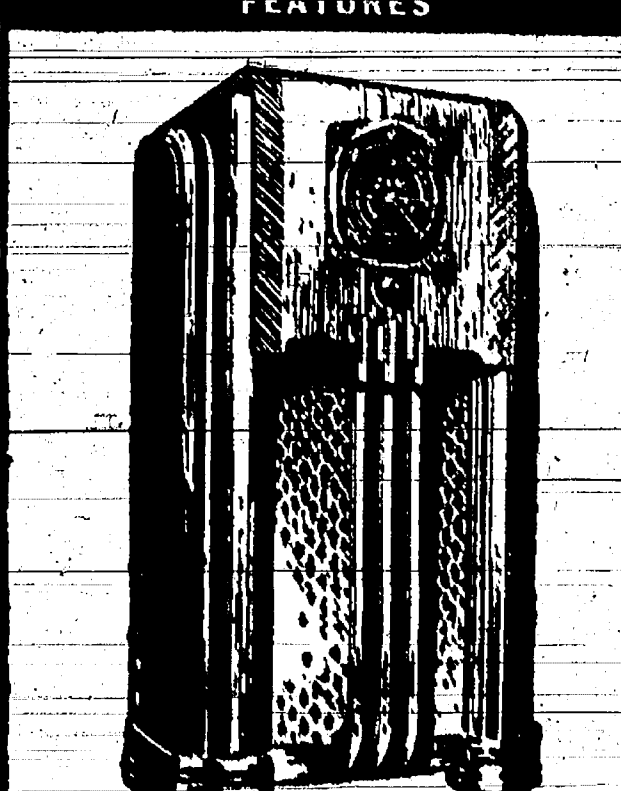

PLYMOUTH—Steam shovel operators who on Monday completed the excavation for the new Presbyterian church structure to be erected during the coming winter and spring, dug deep into the early days of Plymouth and possibly into the burial ground of a tribe of Indians that roamed this part of Michigan long before the coming of the white man to claim these beautiful lands. Excavators believe that possibly parts of 35 or 40 skeletons were dug up during the past week when the earth was removed for the church basement. Some of them, they believe, were Indian remains. The part that adjoins the church property was, in the early days, the Plymouth cemetery. Something like half a century ago it was supposed all of the bodies were removed and placed in the new cemetery when the town began to grow all around the old cemetery, but apparently a large number of graves were never found, as workmen this week declared they were sure that as many as 40 skeletons had been dug up with the earth as it was taken from the big church basement.—Mail.

Girls Barred From Early Schools—More than 150 years elapsed from the opening of the first public school in Massachusetts before one girl was admitted, and it was not until 1826 that girls were admitted with equal privileges.

Rachel's Christmas Light

Wonder if Harris would care? Shall I do it, then ask him afterward?" Rachel Stanton, the morning of Christmas Eve, looked admiringly at the brilliant tree in the pleasant living room, then hurried to brush snow from the back porch, panted: "I've cleaned the driveways to barns and road but will have to do it again today. What were you saying?" he was interrupted by Rachel.

"The radio announces that the snow plow from Warren has stuck at the corner and will have to be dynamited out. No one can get through highways farther than the crossroads' corner," Rachel hurried to the telephone's jingling.

"It was Martha calling. She and Gene and the children started here but are blocked in at a home of kind strangers. I wish we could get food to the Harrison family in the Bottoms. They have no telephone, no near neighbors, and would freeze if they tried to get here through high drifts. Such a winter! It looks as though our Christmas will be 'we two,' she sighed at the color-lighted tree.

"Well, I see I'll have to shovel out the driveways again," Harris announced, pulling on jacket and gloves.

Later when he went inside to warm his fingers he heard Martha humming and was thankful that she was cheerful over the disappointment of Christmas Eve without her relatives. Odors of savory food and the attractive table with Christmas colors, were inviting as she stamped in after evening chores were finished.

"Tonight will be the worst so far this winter. The wind is rising and snow blowing. A terrible night. Surely no one would venture on the highways—why where is the tree? Did you do it outside because your company didn't come?" he asked, to be sure Rachel was sane.

"The radio pointed toward the west," "That Light-Guided Us."

At the empty corner where the tree had stood.

"The radio announced the temperatures will be lowest of season so far."

"The tree, Rachel! Did you throw it out?"

"That's exactly what I did—only I sent Harris a shout from outside," she said quickly to the door.

"Come in from the terrible blizzard, your poor frozen—how did you get here?" Rachel helped Harris unwrap five shivering visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and children.

"Oh, it's been terrible getting here. But it was either to freeze and starve at home or risk getting here," Mr. Harrison wheezed.

"But, how did you?" Harris began.

"Outside—see the dogs. We lured them to the sled. The blizzards crept up over us over gusts which are now frozen."

Steaming food was soon on plates and faithful dogs were lapping milk and broth near the kitchen range.

"How did you find the direction—the way in blinding snow?" Harris looked puzzled.

"Well, we got to the top of King's Ridge in the pasture, and came toward the light. The light near your grove, back there," the visitor pointed toward the west. "That light guided us."

"What light?" Harris stammered.

"Harris, dear, will you please carry our Christmas tree back into the house?" I carried it outside to the place to the grove and put it on it for birds, wild ducks and any other wild animals that need food and shelter. Then, tonight, I found that large lantern with the strong light on top the tree to guide us."

"Snow may be drifted high outside. But kindness inside of me needs never be blocked so it can not be scattered and be a guide to others," Rachel mused after the happy Christmas of the worst winter.

Spirit of Christmas

By Katherine Edelman

SURRENDER yourself to the Spirit of Christmas! Let its joy thrill you—let its peace steal softly across your heart! Open your ears to the magic of its message—open your eyes to the miracles it accomplishes!

Read again Dickens' Christmas Carol, the best known and most inspiring of all the Christmas stories. And don't feel ashamed, if at the end, as Tiny Tim whispers, "God bless us, every one, you find your own eyes wet with tears."

Open the Book of Books, and let Luke tell you about that first Christmas—the long journey to Bethlehem, of the birth in the humble manger, of the shepherds keeping watch over their flocks. Listen to the heavenly music that was heard upon the hills, in the thrilling words of the angel. Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. Bow your head and give thanks for the Prince of Peace who came, saying with the angels, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Let Matthew tell you of the coming of the Wise Men from the East, with their gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh, which they presented to the Christ Child.

Then, with the Spirit of Christmas in your heart, go forth and help make Christmas a brighter and a happier day for others!

Editorial

I wonder if every person who attends high school realizes the benefits that may be derived if he studies diligently. Does he realize that the cost would be $2 an hour—if he paid for it himself? Yet most pupils spend their valuable time shooting paper wads, paper airplanes, whistling and causing a general disturbance. Does he consider this fair to the pupils surrounding him who do have aspirations toward an education, and respect for the teachers? The pupils who cause these disturbances evidently do not desire an education and should not be in school. We ask you to consider these things before you shoot or talk.
