Golden Wedding Is Observed By Mr. and Mrs. Hummel

A family dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hummel on McKinley street celebrated the fiftieth wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hummel.

A yellow and white wedding cake surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, centered the table for the anniversary dinner, with yellow tapers on either side. The favors were gold nut cups with tiny bells.

Covers were laid for 25, including Sister M. William, Sister Margaret Cecile and Miss Carrie Rutowsky of St. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Denomy and family of St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steels and daughters of Detroit, Rev. Fr. Lawrence Dorr and Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber of Chelsea.

Several gifts were presented the honor guests and telegrams and greetings were received from distant friends.

Mr. Hummel is a native of Cook county, Illinois, where he was born July 9, 1858, coming to Michigan with his parents in 1863. In 1876 they purchased a farm in Lyndon township and Mr. Hummel worked on a farm until 1880 when he attended the Chelsea public school for one year. For five years he conducted a dairy farm in Dexter, and in 1887 he engaged in the drug business with H. H. Fenn, continuing for 2 1/2 years, when he sold out and formed a partnership with the late C. E. Whitaker in the hardware business.

In 1892 he sold out to his partner and turned his attention to farming and dairying, in which he is still engaged. His farm is near the corporation limits of Chelsea, and the house is within the boundary lines.

In politics a staunch Republican, Mr. Hummel has filled a number of offices with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituents. He has served as highway commissioner, member of the board of review, two terms as supervisor of Sylvan township, has been both township and village treasurer, village assessor, justice of the peace and has served for 16 years on the village council.

Mrs. Hummel, formerly Julia Weber, was born in 1858 in Sylvan township, Mr. and Mrs. Hummel have been the parents of six children. A daughter, Genevieve, died several years ago and another child died in infancy.

They are members of St. Mary church, Chelsea.

Licenses Are Issued In Less Time Now

Material shortening of the time required to secure operator's licenses has been announced by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State. The process requires in issuance of the license within two days after the application reaches the capitol, and not more than five days will be required as a rule, for the license to reach the applicant, after the time the application was originally made in any part of the state.

While Case ordered the quickening of the process as an added service to motorists, it has been pointed out that in cases where vacation and business trips by motor might be deferred pending receipt of an operator's license, the accommodation will be valuable.

No part of the checking process prior to issuance of licenses has been eliminated, and every application is being checked against the state's central violations file. No additional cost to the taxpayers is involved, accumulated applications being currently handled with the aid of night crews of departmental employees.

WILL GIVE CARD PARTY TONIGHT FOR RED CROSS

There will be a card party at St. Mary's hall Thursday night, January 28, at 8 o'clock for benefit of the Red Cross, proceeds going to flood sufferers. Refreshments will be served. Everyone invited and urged to help this worthy cause.

M. E. HOME COMES THRU!

Residents of the Methodist Old People's Home have hung up a real mark for the people of Chelsea and vicinity to shoot at in regard to contributions for flood sufferers. Rev. H. A. Leeson, superintendent of the Home, reported on Tuesday that his "boys and girls" had responded with a total of $70.00 which was given to the local Red Cross chapter to be sent to flood sufferers. This contribution from the old people at the Home is real evidence that each and every one of them realize their responsibility to their fellow men who are in distress.

FIRE DOES SLIGHT DAMAGE

Fire which started from a gasoline stove did slight damage to the residence of Mrs. T. W. Chriswell on Washington St. Sunday forenoon, burning a few boards in the side of the kitchen. The blaze was quickly extinguished by the fire department.

Funds Being Collected for Flood Sufferers

The officers of the local Red Cross chapter on Saturday received an appeal for funds to help the sufferers in the flood area of the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys. The local churches gave out the notices on Sunday morning and by Wednesday noon Chelsea and vicinity had raised a total of $235.35.

The first quota for the county received in Ann Arbor at Washtenaw County Red Cross headquarters was for $400. This was doubled to $800 on Monday and will undoubtedly be raised as the National Red Cross are asking for $10,000,000. On Tuesday evening at the annual meeting of the County Chapter it was reported that $3000.00 had been raised.

The Red Cross is also asking for good warm, serviceable clothing and bedding, and food. Collection of these articles was originally sponsored locally by the Kiwanis club. All such contributions should be taken at once to Palmer Motor Sales. Ford dealers throughout the state are acting as receiving stations for the donations. The Ford Motor Co. exhibit building at Highland Park has been turned over to the Red Cross for flood relief depot, where articles are sorted and sent to the flood area every night in caeloid lots. This service will be continued until the flood crisis passes.

Palmer Motor Sales will send a truck every night to the Highland Park depot where the contributions collected here. If it is impossible for anyone to deliver their articles of clothing, bedding or food to the garage, call phone 77 and a truck will be sent to collect the articles. This service will continue each evening until 9:00 o'clock.

Contributions of money may be left at the Chelsea State Bank.

Everyone should make an effort to contribute something for the aid of the thousands who are suffering because of the terrible conditions existing in the flood area. It is a worthy cause and the Red Cross needs funds to carry on their work in the stricken territory.

Come on Chelsea! Let's loosen our pursestrings and help those who are suffering untold horrors in the flood districts.

Grade Operetta Will Be Presented Feb. 18

(By High School Scribe)
Once again Chelsea public school promises to uphold its deserved reputation for the production of outstanding operettas, when on Feb. 18 the 7th and 8th grades present a musical drama entitled "The Galloping Ghost."

The care devoted to the choice of a suitable vehicle for the abundant talent of the cast and chorus has been well rewarded by the discovery of "The Galloping Ghost" so rich in possibilities that a capable cast and brilliant director indeed will be required to display them to the fullest advantage.

Careful deliberation has been displayed not alone in choosing the play, but also in selecting the members of the cast, and particularly in assigning to each part the student most eminently suited to portray that character.

Thorough training, universally recognized to be the most important element in producing a competent chorus is not being neglected, nor is the cast receiving a superficial preparation for the coming event.

The musical director, Miss Lucille Boongaard, has amply demonstrated her skill and splendid direction in former productions of a similar nature, while Miss Hannigan, assistant to Miss Boongaard and dramatic director, is expected to exhibit unusual ability in sustaining her portion of the enterprise.

Rehearsals, now well under way, point toward the maintenance of the high standards set in music and drama by past operettas.

BIRTHDAY BALL SATURDAY

Tickets for the Birthday Ball for the President, to be held in Ann Arbor Saturday night, January 30, may be secured at Burg's Drug Store or of Ezra Tisch. The tickets are good for either the party at Michigan Union or Michigan League. It is expected that a number of Chelsea people will purchase tickets for this worthy cause. Proceeds are divided, leaving 70 per cent in the local community for charitable purposes, the remaining 30 per cent going to the Warm Springs Foundation.

WAYNE—Twenty-five million automobiles is quite a large number of horseless carriages. That, however, is the number of machines that have been produced by the Ford Motor Company in the past 33 years—the 25,000,000th car was run off the assembly line Monday. This total represents more cars than are registered for operation in all of the United States today.—County Review.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Why is bluegrass so called when we know that all grass is green? Where does bluegrass grow?

Ans.—Bluegrass was thus named because the culms (the joints of the stems) are a bluish-green. This grass is found in all climates, but is particularly abundant in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Ques.—How many members comprise the Radio Commission? And what are the duties of the Commission?

Ans.—The Radio Commission comprises five members, assisted by a secretary, general counsel and a chief engineer. Its duties are the regulation of all phases of wireless communication, including broadcasting, ship and amateur stations within the jurisdiction of the United States; it assigns wavelengths, grants licenses, etc. It keeps constant check on all commercial and amateur stations for infractions of the radio regulations.

Ques.—What is the correct pronunciation of the word "Caribbean"? I heard it pronounced over the radio differently from that which I was taught at school.

Ans.—"Caribbean" as you have it, is misspelled, and is now properly pronounced "Car-i-be-an", with accent on the third syllable. Formerly it was pronounced with accent on the second syllable as "Car-i-be-an", but this pronunciation is now obsolete. The word is derived from the native Indians of Brazil—the Caribs.

Ques.—At club or organization meetings why are the records of the meetings called "minutes"?

Ans.—In the remote past, the proceedings of such a meeting were taken down by the secretary or clerk in small, sketch-like form, after which they were corrected and approved. Thus they were regarded as minute characters, and later, for short, they were called "minutes". After the minutes were approved they were rewritten in large or gross letters and words into the permanent records. In other words, the minutes were known as the small, quick, short way of getting the gist of the meeting.

Ques.—Is there any difference between a meteor and a meteorite?

Ans.—They are the same, with the exception that a meteorite is a meteor flying through outer space and was picked up by the earth. A meteor continues to fly through space until it is picked up by another planet of the Solar System by gravitation. But those that are picked up by the earth are called meteorites. Their velocity is faster than a rifle shot and cannot be seen striking the earth, and where they are buried hundreds of feet.

Ques.—Can you answer in your valuable paper why old-time bridges were all covered?

Ans.—The Bureau of Public Roads says that bridges in the early days were built with a roof and sides to protect the floor of the bridge from inclement weather. It is erroneously believed that bridges were covered to offer shelter to slow-moving travelers in case of storms.

Ques.—I would like to know why an Englishman is called "John Bull." Can you answer me that?

Ans.—John Arbuthnot, a Scotch humorist, published a book in 1712 which was a satire on the Duke of Marlborough, entitled "The History of John Bull." The Duke of Marlborough was supposed to be John Bull, a good-natured, portly and bullheaded fellow. It made such a hit that it since has come to typify an individual Englishman or Great Britain as a nation.

Ques.—Is there any other body in the universe outside of the earth that life exists?

Ans.—As yet this theory has not been proved. Scientists claim there is as much space as infinite. They claim the Milky Way alone has millions of suns that are larger than our own Solar System, and that if that is not sufficiently possible, we can go still farther out among the known cosmic bodies where distances are measured by millions of light years and find it impossible to doubt but that somewhere earthly conditions for generating life have been matched.

Ques.—Will you please tell me who calls a newly-elected House of Representatives to order?

Ans.—The new House of Representatives is called to order by the old Clerk, who presides until such time as the Speaker and other officers shall be elected and assume office. He then turns the duties over to the new Clerk and steps down. This is a rule governing the House of Representatives Clerk until his successor has been chosen.

Tapir in United States
In prehistoric days the tapir in much his same form roamed most of the continents of the North Temperate zone. His bones have been uncovered in the United States, Europe and Asia. A tapir almost identical with the South American variety still exists in the Malay peninsula, proof that the family was scattered all over the world. The tapir failed to develop in the face of competition, however, and today is confined to localities most peculiarly adapted to his survival.

ARE YOU HOMELY?

I have seen a lot of people who were homely, in a way, Some were thin and some were portly, Some, you couldn't hardly say, There was something wrong about them.

As so frequently appears— In the way their noses tilted, In the angle of their ears, But you suddenly forget it, Whether fat or whether thin— For no face was ever homely, when it started with a grin.

For a fellow is a failure with the features of a Greek, If he hasn't any sunshine in his system, so to speak; I have seen a lot of people who were homely in a way, And the world forgot about it, when they passed the time of day, And I've seen a lot of features who were wrong about a mile, But I never saw a fellow who was homely with a smile.

Though they may not have the beauty of "Adonia" and the rest, They'd another sort of beauty That was brotherhood expressed, For a lighthouse may be builded, Builded nobly, builded right, But to make that house a lighthouse, It will have to show its light. Not a walking photograph, They may talk about your beauty, But they want to see you laugh.

—Arthur Carlton.

Safetygrams logo featuring a man's face and the text 'SAFETYGRAMS BY FRED W. BRAUN The Safety Man'.

Imagine driving your car with all the windows covered with heavy canvas! You probably would never attempt it. Neither would I.

Yet, a great many drivers do this very thing during a blinding snow storm. It doesn't take very long for snow to interfere with the efficiency of the ordinary windshield wiper and also to cover the side windows of the car. Winter is here and snowstorms are upon us. Be sure that your windshield wiper is in good condition and that the wiper functions properly. Sometimes the rubber becomes worn and a new wiper is necessary. A small cost, but it can save you considerable annoyance and inconvenience. It is also a good safety measure to see that this equipment is in order.

Instead of stopping a minute for emergency cleaning of the windshield, many drivers will continue on their way, trusting to luck that they won't run into anything or anybody. Do not depend on luck.

SLATS' DIARY

Sunday—At church today Ma & Pa including me set away up in front and after the collection—plate past us Pa sed to Ma. They must be a stranger in the congregashun today. Ma sed why so. Pa answered and replied. Well I seen a $ Bill in the plate as it went by.

Wednesday—Pa sent home a bunch of flours for Ma today and when she seen them she begun to cry. Ant Emmy ast her what was the matter and Ma sed, I bet he thinks I am dead.

Thursday—Tonite when Pa cum home Ma ast him she sed Do you want toast and coffee or bolony and rye bread. Pa sed I dont want neather. I. All rite Ma sed then suppers over.

Friday—I gess Ant Emmy never studied much about Jogerly the way she tawks sum times when we are all tawking here at home. The other nite Mrs. Potters was here a telling us all about her trip over to Europe and sum of the foren countrys. She sed she went up to Switserland to see the Alps. Ant Emmy spoke up and sed, O Mrs. Potters diddnt you get to bring a Alp home with you or was you afraid they would charge you to mutch Duty on it.

Saturday—I was asting Pa what they ment when they spoke of a man and sed he is a man of few words. Pa sed they was most generally all ways referring to a married man he gess.

Limit of Telescopes
While there is scarcely a limit to the distance reached by the most powerful astronomical telescopes, the limits of vision on the earth's surface are much smaller, because of the curvature of the earth. A Guidebook to Colorado by Eugene Parsons mentions that from the top of Pikes Peak, on a clear day, the Spanish Peaks are visible to the south and Long's Peak to the north, more than 100 miles away. In India, Mount Everest can be seen from Darjeeling, at least 120 miles away. Such a thing as seeing that peak from the United States is beyond the range of possibility.

OUR NEIGHBORS

JACKSON—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McLaren were in Washington to attend the presidential inauguration.—Evening Star.

PINCKNEY—Fred Howlett, former Gregory banker and brother of the late Rep. Henry T. Howlett, has been appointed to the job of steward or business manager of the Michigan State Sanitarium near Howell. He held this same position for two years under former Governor Comstock. Floyd Weeks, who succeeded him and whom he will replace, has been transferred to the stewardship of the new tuberculosis sanitarium now being built at Gaylord, Mich., through a federal appropriation. Although this will not be open for patients until July 1, Mr. Weeks will assume his duties in April.—Dispatch.

MORENCI—Fire which broke out at the W. F. Prentice & Co. factory at Adrian Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock destroyed nearly half of the east end of the building, the loss amounting to $100,000. The fire was caused by a spark either from an electric cable or motor which set fire to a vat of varnish and spread rapidly to other parts of the building. Most of the wood-working machinery was damaged by fire and water. A large number of screen doors, ready for shipment, were destroyed by the flames. Work of rebuilding the damaged section of the building was begun at once and the damaged machinery is being replaced. It is expected that production will be resumed in about 10 days. About 75 men were temporarily thrown out of employment by the factory shutdown.—Observer.

NORTHVILLE—For the second time within the past month, death has claimed a village employe. Chief of Police William H. Safford, 67, died shortly after 9 p. m. Tuesday in the University hospital, Ann Arbor, just 20 days after Reinhold Kilken, village caretaker, died. Mr. Safford's death followed a heart attack suffered here late Saturday night.—Record.

HOLLY—Harold Cole, Holly deputy sheriff, is telling one about a fellow who was fined for speeding on a bicycle. Harold didn't do the arresting, however; it happened 45 years ago. Upon making application for a driver's license on Wednesday of this week, a man hesitatingly admitted that he had really once been convicted of violating traffic laws—he had been arrested in Detroit 45 years ago on the charge of speeding on a bicycle.—Record.

TO IMPROVE SECONDARY ROADS
Lansing—Indications point to an expenditure of more than $1,500,000 on secondary roads in Michigan this year upon the initiative of the Federal government.
Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, has been notified of the approval by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads of a Federal allocation of $778,706 for this purpose in Michigan. The money must be matched, dollar for dollar, before it is made available.
Commissioner Van Wagoner is awaiting regulations covering this farm-to-market-road program before drafting individual projects.
"It is now unknown how this money is to be matched," the commissioner said. "It has not been decided whether the state highway department will match the funds or the counties, or both.
"It is also unknown whether the funds will apply to secondary state trunklines exclusively or also include roads that are off the trunkline system. It would appear logical that if both types of improvements are undertaken, the state should match the funds to be expended on the trunklines and the counties the money that is to be used to improve county roads."
The program is a part of a nationwide program for the construction of farm-to-market roads.
Must Display Official Flag
Displaying the national flag is not enough to meet official requirements in Nanking. National colors shown on holidays must be of standard size and material, and purchased from official flag makers.

The Hi-Light

EDITED BY THE PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Score Double Victory

On Friday night at the C. H. S. gym, Chelsea won a double-bill from Saline High. This victory of the first squad is the second of the season. The first squad contest was nip and tuck the entire game and ended with Chelsea only three points in the lead. Koebe scored 9 points to top the scoring honors for Chelsea.

The Chelsea five showed a decided edge throughout the game. The squad handled the ball rather sloppily the first part of the game but improved steadily as the game increased. The type of basketball played by Saline was more like football but it also improved. The second squad defeated the Saline Reserves 22-9. Dingle and Naves taking scoring honors with 5 points each. Blecker and Myers played on the Reserves as Daniels and Fletcher were promoted to the first string. On personal fouls Volz had 1, Hartman 2, and Ward 3. Fitch 3, Niehaus 1, Koebe 1.

Chelsea plays Milan on Friday, the last game away. Then follows four home games.

Latin I Assembly

Another assembly program was presented Tuesday, January 19, this time by the Latin I class. It consisted of a play in which history was turned around, the Latin students in America today being supposedly the English students in Italy in or around 50 B. C.

In their study they (like many Latin students of today) wondered why they had to study the "dead" English language.

All in all this was a very interesting and amusing program.

The Latin I class wishes to thank Miss Allen for preparing and supervising this entertainment.

THANK YOU

The Seniors wish to extend their appreciation to the Kiwanians for the part that they took in the football banquet. We also want to thank the mothers who were kind enough to help us make the banquet be successful.

B. B. Standings

W	L
Wolverines	2-0
All Stars	1-1
Spartans	1-1
F. F. A.	0-2

Results of last week's games: Wednesday, Wolverines beat the All Stars, Spartans beat the F. F. A.

Friday—Wolverines beat the Spartans, All Stars beat the F. F. A.

The most exciting thing that happened during the week was when Harley Frudden made a one handed shot at the basket in the west end of the gym. The ball hit the top of the back board and rolled across the top and hit the post on the other side, turned around and rolled back and through the basket.

Many of the teams are handicapped because of the boys that are absent or recovering from influenza.

Games this week: Wednesday, Wolverines vs. Spartans, Wolverines vs. All Stars. Friday: F. F. A. vs. All Stars, Spartans vs. F. F. A.

Chelsea Girls Lose

Last Tuesday night Chelsea's Six were defeated by their opponents, Michigan Center, 14-24. This is the second defeat that the Chelsea girls have taken this season, both being with Michigan Center. Two court basketball was played and Chelsea put up a good fight and took their defeat in a sportsmanlike way.

The starting line-up for Chelsea was as follows: Forwards: Adam, Schenk, Howe; guards: Runcliman, Ashfal, Stone; Subs: Palmer, Lehman, Umstead, Boyce.

Next week Tuesday, Chelsea girls go to Manchester. It's a more matter of a few miles so the girls will be expecting some loyal supporters—over there.

Calendar of Events

Jan. 20—Chelsea at Milan.
Feb. 5—Lincoln at Chelsea.
Feb. 12—Toconish at Chelsea.
Feb. 18—Olivet.
Feb. 19—Dundee at Chelsea.

Snow Again

Well, the snow has come. Of course not much, but some; then to help came the ice. Which covers the sidewalks and streets so nice.

Ice skating is sure to pick up, and also people helped up. While kids are falling and not caring. The oldsters go careful and in fear.

A fall to a kid is just an obstruction. While to the old it means bruises and pain.

So the younger generation wants this weather. And the older generation does not.

But it has come so what can we do, just grin and try to keep from falling. Or sit at home and smoke or sew, and let the other fellow take the risk.

Now we people are not mean, but we'd rather have young persons fall, and we say it hurts us more than them.

For we are old and they are young.

—Charles Winans.

Elementary News

First Grade

We have loaned our rabbits, Flopsy and Mopsy, to the kindergarten for two weeks and we hope that they will enjoy them.

We are working on our post office. We will paint it this week. We hope to have it ready for Valentine's Day. We are having lots of fun learning to write. We can write little stories now. We haven't had any contagious diseases in our class yet.

We hope Mary Margaret Paul will soon be with us again.

Second Grade

Betty Scripser treated our grade to a lovely birthday party on Tuesday the 19th. We played games, then Betty served cookies and candy. Such a nice time!

Paul G. came back Wednesday morning after being out of school for over two weeks. We were all glad to see him.

Harry Wellhoff came from the Red school house on the Manchester road to join our second grade. We now number 29.

Our report cards were given us on Wednesday noon. Most of us were very proud to take them home.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. Weber gave a matinee for the picture, "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream." Most of the second grade attended. We liked it. We've been making some posters—they're pretty good.

On Wednesday noon many of us listened over the radio to President Roosevelt when he took the path of office for another term.

Saturday being Frances Hale's birthday we celebrated on Friday in school. We sang "Happy Birthday" to her.

Hurray for the feet! It's good for sliding and we are having lots of fun.

Fourth Grade

In our class we have been cutting patterns from linoleum. We are going to make covers for our papers.

We journeyed to the country of Switzerland. We want to find out if the people in this mountainous country live and work the same as the people whom we left in Norway. We are now hearing the story "When I was a Girl in Switzerland."

Our practice in Arithmetic for accuracy and speed—in multiplication brought William Carlson and Naida Olsen in the lead.

We are glad that Donna Burnam, Samuel Baxter, and Walter Freysinger are back with us again.

We wish to thank Mr. Weber for making it possible for us to see the show.

For our health class we have learned the poem "My Health House." Some of the boys and girls are making pictures of health houses.

Fifth Grade

On Wednesday morning (inaugural day) when Mrs. Steiner asked what important event was to take place today, Raymond Parsons said "We get our report cards." Well, we are glad they mean so much to Raymond—more than inauguration of a president.

We miss Mary Woods. We hope she will soon be back with us.

Doris Collins is our class artist this month and since we are interested in different types of castles built during the middle ages, Doris has drawn two different types for us to study. Virginia Miller has helped her.

In literature this week we have been studying Midsummer Night's Dream which is a part of our reading program in the fifth grade. We planned to dramatize this story this week but we have decided to see the performance at the theater before we do this. We intend to write our version of this play next week. Meanwhile, we are studying customs and costumes of those early times.

Sixth Grade

The boys' old ball was torn. Luther and Billy went to see if we could have it sewed. Instead of having it sewed Mr. Blecker gave us a new one. Thank you, Mr. Blecker.

We had a spell-down. Dorothy H. stood up the longest on K. R.'s side. Evelyn stood up the longest on Donald's side.

We got our report cards Wednesday, January 20, 1937. There was a matinee Thursday at 3:30, Jan. 21 and most of the lower grades went. There were some pupils of the higher grades there too. We hope they all liked it as well as we did. The name of it was Midsummer Night's Dream. It was written by W. Shakespeare.

Our hawk seems to like his new cage, for he is so quiet. The hawk ate three field mice. We found it the next morning.

James C., Daniel S. and Charles D. are making a door for the cage. It is just about done only the hinges have to be put on.

We are glad that the snow has come because we have a sleighing party promised us by the 7th grade.

Irvin S. and Helen G. are back to school after a 2 1/2 days illness. Douglas M. is back too after a week and day of illness. We are glad to have them back with us again.

Dolores and Doris brought a dipping of the four great rivers in Africa. We colored lakes belonging to the Rift Valley. We are all most through with Africa. Next we will study about British lands in Asia. The pupils have their rainfall maps almost finished.

We have been reading about the new King of England in our Weekly Reader No. 15.

We have a new boy in our room. His name is John Stone, from Indianapolis. He is 12 years old. We are all going to try to help him. We hope he will like it here. There will be 24 in our class now.

Mrs. Hargreaves furnished Miss Canfield his science book and material to use. She showed us why we have four different seasons a year.

Dick S. made a master copy of a diagram showing the way the sun shines on the world at the different seasons.

Seventh Grade

All of the boys who had an E on their report cards cannot play basketball this week. We hope they will not get an E on their weekly work. Next week Friday if the boys that had an E raise it up to a C they may play basketball.

Elva Flisk, Hattie Shinnaberry, George Freysinger and Pearl Alexander were absent this week. We hope they will be back soon.

Donald and Leonard made a chart on which we will put our marks for our daily four minute drills in arithmetic.

We have some new books which are called "The Riverside Literature Series" by Washington.

Peggy Almond found a model of a log cabin in the chemistry room and brought it to our room as a sample of the cabins we are to make.

On Saturday, Jan. 23 we gave a party for the sixth grade. In payment for our losing the contest we had for selling tickets for the Senior High Operetta.

Mouth-Breeding Fish

The Egyptian mouth breeder, which protects its young by carrying them in the mouth for several weeks, will, if caught, lock its jaws and never betray the fact that baby fish are concealed within. As the young grow slightly older, they are allowed to go out and play. But at the least sign of danger the baby fish rush back. This mouth nursery protects the young until they grow too big to be accommodated.

GET SOCIAL SECURITY GRANT

Cleveland, Ohio—Benedict Crowell, director of Region Five of the Social Security Board, today announced the Board had authorized certification to the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury for a grant of $168,818.25 to the State of Michigan to pay the administrative costs of that state's recently enacted Unemployment Compensation Law.

This grant is to pay the entire cost of administration of the Act which was passed by the Michigan legislature last month and shortly thereafter approved by the Social Security Board. Under the Social Security Act all costs of administration of State unemployment compensation laws, when approved by the Board, are paid from the U. S. Treasury.

In its estimate of the sum required for administration of its unemployment compensation act for the first quarter of 1937, Michigan submitted a budget of $181,905.25. This was reduced by $13,492 after study by the Board in Washington, the grant of $168,818.25 following.

VARIETY OF WEATHER HERE

Chelsea has had a variety of weather during the past week. On Wednesday of last week we had rain which froze on the sidewalks and in the evening there was a thunderstorm and a deluge of rain which took most of the ice from the walks and streets. Friday morning we had the first heavy snowfall of 1937 and as the children said, "It is the first time we have had a chance to have a good time this winter." Saturday morning temperatures of near zero, zero and below zero were reported. At bed time in the evening the thermometers stood close to zero and on Sunday morning the temperature had risen almost twenty degrees. In the afternoon it started to rain and the thermometers stood at 34 degrees. Monday morning the streets and sidewalks were covered with ice. The sun came out around noon and the ice on US-12 was practically gone. The streets and sidewalks in town, with few exceptions, were still icy, as well as country roads. This little story of the weather is for the benefit of our readers who are spending the winter in the sunny south and the warmth (?) of the west.

FARMERS' UNION NEWS

The directors' meeting of Sylvan and Lima Local, No. 254, was held Tuesday evening at the home of Alfred Lindauer. The meeting was called to order by the president, after which the usual procedure of business was conducted. A. H. Esse, representative of the Shores Company, was present and explained his products. E. G. Curtis presented his resignation as secretary of the Local, due to personal unforeseen conditions at the time of the annual meeting, but will continue to serve the Local in any other possible way. The next directors' meeting will be held at the home of William Horning, Tuesday evening, February 3. Sylvan and Lima Local is endeavoring to send a truck load of clothing and provisions to the flooded district. Anyone wishing to contribute, bring donations to the home of Joseph Merkel before Tuesday, Feb. 2. There will be a meeting of the First District at Kolb's hall Friday evening, January 29, with Ira Wilmoth, state president, and Leo Bettis, district director, present, at which time the amended petition which appeared in the last issue of the National Union Farmer, will be further discussed. Representatives of the Union Milk Co. will also be present and endeavor to get the attitude of the Local in regard to buying a milk station. Other matters also will be discussed. Refreshments will be served.

STUDY CLUB MEETING

The Child Study club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Maynard L. Knickerbocker, on West Middle St., with 16 members responding to roll call. Mrs. W. R. Daniels gave a very interesting report on the address of Dr. Pollock, head of the political science department of the University of Michigan, given at the Washtenaw County Federation meeting held in Ann Arbor, January 22. The members voted to give $5.00 to the Red Cross for relief of the flood sufferers. Following the business meeting, the program was in charge of Mrs. E. W. Eaton, who gave an interesting paper on "What to Include in Book Reviews." The following books were reviewed: "The Golden Wedding"—By Anne Parrish—Mrs. Geo. Walworth. "The Old Ashburn Place"—By Margaret Flint—Mrs. S. W. Schenk. "Yang and Yin"—By Alice Hobart—Mrs. C. D. Platt. "Street of the Fishing Cat"—By Julian Foldes; "A Prayer for My Son"—Hugh Walpole—Mrs. E. W. Eaton. These are new books for the Public Library. The hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. A. A. Palmer.

JOY

Joy is a flame which association alone can keep alive, and which goes out unless communicated.—Lamarine. Who partakes in another's joys is a more humane character than he who partakes in his griefs.—Lavater. True joy is a serene and sober emotion.—Seneca. Joy never tastes so high as when the first course is of misery.—Suckling. Joy is more divine than sorrow; for joy is bread, and sorrow is medicine.—Becher. All who joy would win must share it; happiness was born a twin.—Byron.

Factories Have Nurseries

Chinese factories employing more than 100 married women workers are required by law to provide nurseries where mothers may feed their offspring.

Rural Women To Hear Stylist from New York

Such important style hints as picking out a hat, arranging the hair to suit the hat and slenderizing the hips by wearing puffed sleeves are to be offered women who attend the 22nd annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, February 1 to 5. Miss Evelyn Tobey, New York stylist, is among the group of authorities obtained for the women's part of the program by the home economics division of the college. Miss Tobey is scheduled to talk at 9:30 and at 11 a. m., Tuesday, February 2, in the double program offered that morning in the Home Economics building. Others who will address the women during the week include Professor E. I. McDaniell, "Household Pests," Tuesday morning; Miss Mildred Horton, state leader of extension work in home economics in Texas, "Four Wishes," an address to be presented Tuesday evening, February 2, in the annual home economics banquet in the main dining room of the College Union. Wednesday and Thursday programs are filled with other subjects. "Personality and Health" is the subject to be presented by Fannie Brooks, health education specialist of the University of Illinois; "Changing Child Behavior," Dr. Esther McGinnis, head of the department of parent education of the University of Minnesota; "New Fashions in Foods," Miss Beatrice Grant and Miss Ruth Griswold, Michigan State College; and "Cost of Living," Dr. Irma Gross, Michigan State College.

Mice in Milady's Hair

Common Many Years Ago As a result of historical study of the Eighteenth century, a writer in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts says that during that period in England women wore most elaborate head-dresses. A head generally lasted three weeks before it was "opened" and nine weeks was as long as it could safely go in summer. One went to bed in a nightcap of the extinguisher variety, made of stiffened linen or pasteboard, or, at any rate, in a strong net affair. According to contemporary art, a lady sleeping in all this artificiality of coiffure could still look delightful. An advertisement of 1777 shows, however, that it provided fresh work for the ingenuity of the silversmiths and jewelers: "The many melancholy accidents," it reads, "which have lately happened in consequence of mice getting into ladies' hair in the night time induced the Society of Art, at their last meeting, to offer a premium to the person who should invent the neatest and most useful bedside mousetrap. A silver trap is now invented by Mr. Moses Martingo, in New Bond street, price 3 guineas. He also sells nightcaps made of silver wire, as flexible as gauze and yet so strong that no mouse or even rat can gnaw through them."

NORTH LAKE

Mrs. Maud Watta and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Watta of Lansing were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Watta, Sunday. Mrs. Wm. Fox and Mrs. John Messer were visitors in Detroit over the week-end. Mrs. George Webb and Mrs. Lyle Engle were Detroit visitors Sunday. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Phillips on January 14, at an Ann Arbor hospital. Mrs. F. G. Widmayer is spending several days at the L. E. Noah and H. Stofer homes. Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Watta and Geo. Webb attended a dinner in Unadilla which was served by the men of the Presbyterian church on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stofer celebrated their Silver Wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 24, with a family dinner at which seventy relatives were present from Monroe, Detroit, Howell, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Chelsea. Mr. and Mrs. Stofer were remembered with several gifts of silver. Remember the E. L. banquet at Dexter on Friday night, Jan. 28. Let's give them our support.

SAVAGE SCHOOL NEWS

We have our new slate blackboards and enjoy writing on them. Thomas Franklin won our health race for this month. It is the second time that he has won this year.

On our reading chart Mary Kathryn Weber is still leading with the longest list of books read so far. She has read sixteen books.

The fifth grade geography class is busy making a unit illustrating the New England states. They are making illustrative homes, fields, and other scenery. They are also making a scrap book of newspaper clippings and pictures describing the flood district.

In reading our second graders are making movies of their favorite stories. Richard Butcher chose "The Camel and the Pig" as his favorite story. Paul Bollinger's movie is about "Little Wild Duck."

Thomas Franklin is making his movie illustrating "The Three Legged Stool." Mary Kathryn Weber and Phyllis Weber are keeping a vocabulary list. Each day they keep a record of new words and their meanings.

On our side blackboard we have a January scene. It consists of people skating, snow covered homes and trees, and also a drawing of Benjamin Franklin. Raymond Radcliff drew and colored the scene.

The fifth grade are having fractions in their arithmetic work. Each child is going to have a new individual graph to keep his scores on.

In Art class last week we carved animals from soap. It was fun.

PALMER SCHOOL NEWS

The month of January closed with a percentage of attendance of 91. Those who were not absent during the month are: Isaac Hibbs, Howard Smith, Betty, Clara and Virginia Wahl.

Our school district exhibited canned goods and samples of farm crops at the Month fair held on January 8th and 9th. Mrs. Clarence Wahl won first prize on drop cookies and second prize on pumpkin pie.

Mrs. Nelson Peterson won second prize on an apple pie. Mrs. Herbert Harvey won second prize on canned pork. Five pupils of the school presented a play, "Pulling Sam's Tooth," as part of the entertainment held at the fair on the evening of January 9th.

The handicraft club members have started at their work and are progressing nicely. Most every member has his board squared and some have their bench hooks finished.

The first, second, third and fourth grades have been studying about the Eskimos. In connection with this study the girls made a large poster and the boys have been making igloos and Eskimos out of wood with coping saws. These figures will be painted and arranged on the table to form an Eskimo village.

The third graders have almost completed their third reading book of the year.

Our first grader, Elsie Peterson, is making an A B C book illustrating all the letters with pictures. Elsie also has learned to write the numbers as far as fifty.

The county club leader called at the school and explained to the 4-H club members just what they are expected to accomplish before achievement day which is to be held on April 16 and 17.

McLAREN SCHOOL NEWS

The pupils who were neither absent nor tardy were Carl Laier, Elizabeth Zahn, Leroy, Paul, Ruth and Jean Bauer, and Kathryn Lindauer. Our percentage of attendance for this month was 95.8.

The visitors this month were the women who repaired some of our library books, and Helen Laier.

In Civic Health club our new officers are: Ruth Bauer, president; Virginia Barth, secretary-treasurer; and Kathryn Lindauer, vice-president.

We have a new set of hygiene charts.

We have a new teakettle, dishpan, towel, and a tank to heat water on top of the furnace. We also have a new window in the entry.

IMPROVING MICHIGAN ROADSIDES III. A SURVEY FINDINGS

Many interesting facts were disclosed during a recent study of Michigan roadside conditions. Michigan makes no effort, no attempt to control the use of highways for advertising purposes by means of signs erected on adjacent property. No state permit is required for such signs. No set back from the highway is demanded. And this contrary to the recommendations previously stated, by one of the highest highway authorities, "absolute control of the highway right-of-way and all its appurtenances should be vested in the highway authority." That is only common sense.

There are certain highways of the state which offer illustrations of the effort to combine beauty and utility. The highway from Saginaw to Bay City along the Saginaw river and the new Duane highway from Benton Harbor to South Haven are examples.

Those two highways serve to illustrate nuisances which follow the road, mainly advertising signs taking a stronger hold than many realize. As you go north from South Haven motorists find their attention begins to slip away from safe driving and scenery for signs begin appearing at the rate of six to the mile between South Haven and Douglas and 14 to the mile between Saugatuck and Holland. This means passing a sign on the average of every six seconds. No scenery can hope to cope with such distraction.

High Average Per Mile Go on farther north where the distance between signs is greater and on the 40 miles of rural roads between Whitehall and Ludington the signs average nine to the mile. From Traverse City to Charlevoix the average drops to four but from Charlevoix to Petoskey the average is eight signs to the mile.

There is an average of 10 signs per mile from Petoskey north to Harbor Springs and on the longer distance from Petoskey to Mackinaw the average is eight.

Holland with its attractive south entrance along the shores of Black Lake is clouded with 27 signs on two miles. Manistee has nearly achieved an attractive entrance on the south with its park and woods and glimpses of blue water but allows a bunch of poster-panels and a string of small signs to spoil it.

Petoskey's south approach along the waters of Little Traverse Bay is lined with 42 on the last two miles. As you cross the city line you see for three tenths of a mile what the approach might be for a well kept county fair grounds on one side and a cemetery on the other give an orderly appearance. But just beyond the posters take possession again, five of them hiding the lake. The first mile north of Petoskey welcomes you with 42 signs, within 85 seconds.

The South approach to Traverse City flaunts 25 billboards on two miles. The north approach was equally bad with 23 signs on two miles. The approaches to Kalamazoo are exceptionally infested with signs, for eight miles on the West, signs average 40 to the mile, one half mile being flanked by 18 billboards. A two mile approach by US-131 showed 17 boards, to the mile, one every five seconds.

Lansing An Offender Jackson for five miles on S. R. 50, averaged 9 signs a mile, for three miles on US-12, 23 to the mile. Approaching on US-127 Jackson has a pleasing entrance but the moment Ella Sharp park is passed 14 signs show up in a half mile.

Entering Lansing from Holt on the South 56 signs in three miles can be seen. The approach from the East on US-16 is being handicapped by the highway department but on two and a half miles through rural territory, 74 signs glare their messages.

From Grand Rapids to Muskegon Heights there are 10 signs to the mile, from Battle Creek to Marshall on US-12 16; from Marshall to Albion, 9; from Albion to Jackson, 12; from Coldwater to Somerset, 12; with 67 on the first three miles east of Coldwater. From a survey to Benton Harbor the average is eight signs per mile.

Signs on places of business are not included. Such conditions will grow worse and offset all efforts to improve Michigan roadsides. What responsible national organizations think is to follow.

Tall Tales

Champion of the Oil Fields
ASK any Texas or Oklahoma oil-driller who's the best in his business and he's pretty certain to answer "Why, Kemp Morgan, of course!"

For instance there was the time Kemp took his best drill. He was working in soft ground but he noticed that the drill kept going slower and slower the farther it went down. Pretty soon it stopped completely. When Kemp tried to pull it out, it was stuck fast. Come to find out that he had hit an alum mine and the hole had shrunk up around the drill so tight that even Kemp couldn't budge it.

Then there was the time a Texas "outlier" swooped down on Kemp's rig. But it didn't stop him—no sirree! He just kept on drilling and brought in a 22-inch gusher. It was so cold that the oil froze as it spurted upward so there was a solid column of frigid oil. Kemp just took out his knife, hucked it off to three-foot lengths and shipped it to the refinery on flat cars.

That was in Texas but Kemp had a funny experience once in Oklahoma. He drilled a well—so deep that it tapped a rubber mine way down in Brazil. She began to gush pure rubber. So Kemp just blew his hot breath on it to make it gush, cut it off in 11-foot lengths and shipped it to that place in Ohio where they make soft shoes for trucks.

When the average drifter brings in a "duster," he moves his rig away from there pronto. But not Kemp Morgan! He knew what a tough time the Kansas farmers had digging postholes in the summer when the ground was baked hard. So whenever he'd strike a dry hole, he'd just take his two hands, pull it up four feet and two inches at a time and saw it off. Then he'd slip a carload of these lengths across the state line where they always found a market.

WHO ARE YOU? The Romance of Your Name

By RUBY HASKINS ELLIS

A Gilpin?

THE vicious-looking wild bear on the shield above owes the perpetuation of his beauty to the first known ancestor of the Gilpin family, who put an end to his devastating plagues in the counties of Cumberland and Westmoreland, England. For this feat of daring Richard de Gilpin was granted the right to use the bear on his coat of arms.

Richard was of Norman-French birth, as the "de" in his name signifies. He was secretary and adviser to the baron of Kendal, one of the barons who forced the tyrannical King John to sign that immortal English document, the Magna Charta, on the field of Runnymede. It was the baron of Kendal who granted to Richard de Gilpin the estate of Kentmere, in Westmoreland county. Kentmere hall, the ancestral home, still stands.

Thomas Gilpin, of Warborough, father of the founder of the American family, was a colonel on the Republican side in the battle of Worcester during the time of Cromwell.

Joseph Gilpin, the founder of the name in America, came to this country with William Penn and settled in New Castle, Del. His wife was Hannah Glover. Their family of sixteen children is evidence of a great number of descendants living in various states today. Many of them are in Kentucky. George Gilpin, a descendant of Joseph, who lived in Alexandria, Va., was a close personal friend of George Washington and served as colonel of militia in the Revolution. Washington mentioned George Gilpin in his diary a number of times.

Henry D. Gilpin, of Philadelphia, was an eminent representative of the Pennsylvania branch. A profound scholar, he held many important posts, being attorney general of the United States under President Van Buren in 1840.

Edward W. Gilpin was chief justice of Delaware in 1857. This family is characterized by its longevity and large families. Within the period of Daniel Boone's excursions into the wilds of Kentucky many of the Gilpin men were found among those sturdy pioneers.

The coat of arms shown is ascribed to the Westmoreland branch of the family.

Carrie A. Marksman, Plaintiff vs. George W. Noyes, David E. Lord, George C. Lord, Ann Janette Lord, Charles E. Lord, Sophia L. Lord, Harvey Austin, also known as Harvey Austin, Abraham C. Voorhis, also known as Abraham Voorhis, Eliza Garrett or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, Defendants.

Order For Publication. At a session of said court held in the Courthouse in the City of Ann Arbor, on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1937. Present: Honorable George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

It is satisfactorily appearing to this Court by the Bill of Complaint now on file in this cause, that the defendants, George W. Noyes, David E. Lord, George C. Lord, Ann Janette Lord, Charles E. Lord, Sophia L. Lord, Harvey Austin, also known as Harvey Austin, Abraham C. Voorhis, also known as Abraham Voorhis, Eliza Garrett or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be personally served with process within three months from the date hereof, by reason of their being unnamed or that they are dead or their whereabouts are unknown to said plaintiff and that after diligent search and inquiry she has been unable to ascertain their whereabouts, and that the defendants are all persons who are or may become entitled to claim under the particular provision, limitation, restriction, stipulation, charge, agreement or uncertainty as set forth in the bill of complaint filed herein.

On Motion of E. Katherine Kilpatrick, attorney for the plaintiff, IT IS ORDERED that the appearance of the said defendants and each and all of them be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and that in case of their appearance they cause their answer to the bill of complaint, to be filed and a copy thereof served on the attorney for the plaintiff within fifteen days after service upon them or their attorneys of a copy of the said bill of complaint, and that in default thereof said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by each of the said defendants.

And it is further ordered that the said plaintiff shall cause a copy of this order to be published within forty days from this date in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Washtenaw, and that such publication be continued therein once in each week for at least six successive weeks, or that the said plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be personally served upon said defendants and upon each of them, at least twenty days before the time prescribed for their appearance.

Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge. Countersigned: Luella M. Smith, Deputy Clerk.

To the above named defendants: Take notice that the above entitled cause involves the title of the following described premises situated and being in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, and is brought for the purpose of quieting title to the said described premises, to-wit:

Land in the City of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, described as follows: Commencing at a point on the west line of Fifth Avenue one hundred eighteen feet and six inches north of the southeast corner of block five south, range five east; thence north on the west line of Fifth Avenue to land now or formerly owned by George Walker; thence west to the west line of lot fourteen in said block; thence south on the west line of lot fourteen to a point one hundred twenty-seven feet and ten inches north of the north line of Madison Street; thence east to the place of beginning, being part of lot fourteen in block five south of Huron Street, range five east, according to the recorded plat of Maynard and Morgan's Addition to the City of Ann Arbor.

Order To Show Cause. At a session of said Court held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 11th day of January, 1937.

Present: Hon. George W. Sample, Circuit Judge. On reading and filing the petition of First National Bank and Trust Company of Ann Arbor, trustee, praying for the allowance of its final account as trustee of the above mentioned trust, acceptance of its resignation as such trustee, appointment of a successor trustee, and for the administration of said trust, by and under the direction and supervision of this Court pursuant to the provisions of Sec. 12,991 and 12,993 of the Compiled Laws of 1929, and for other relief; and the said petitioner having filed herein a supplemental final account showing transactions since the date of the last accounting, and having also filed herein a new list of the holders of the certificates of beneficial interest in the property which is the subject of said trust, corrected to the date of this order; and the said petitioner having requested an order to show cause why the relief prayed for in its said petition should not be granted; and Lewis G. Christman, of the City of Ann Arbor, having been nominated by one of the holders of said certificates of beneficial interest as the successor to the office of trustee of the said trust; and this Court being fully advised in the premises and it appearing that an order to show cause should issue as prayed; Now, therefore,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that each and every holder of any of said bonds, and of the said certificates of beneficial interest in the property which is the subject of the said trust, appear before this Court on Monday, the 8th day of February, 1937, at the opening of said Court, or as soon thereafter as this matter may be heard, and show cause, if any there be, why the final account of the said trustee should not be allowed, why the resignation of said trustee should not be accepted and said trustee discharged, and why the said Lewis G. Christman should not be appointed as the successor to the office of trustee of said trust, and why the administration of said trust should not be hereafter continued by and under the direction and supervision of this Court.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that a copy of this order be served upon each and every known holder of certificates of beneficial interest by registered mail, and also that a copy of this order also be published in the Chelsea Standard once each week for three weeks, and that proof of such service and publication be filed in this matter on or before the return day hereof.

Natural Icebox in New Mexico's Lava Deposits A lava bed whose surface is unpleasantly warm to the touch does not seem a likely setting for a deposit of perpetual ice. Yet in just such a locality, where the brazen New Mexican sun beats down upon a surface, which once was molten stone, a deposit of perpetual ice does exist, says Natural History.

Signboards lead the traveler to a volcanic sink, an abrupt depression of an estimated depth of seventy-five feet. This was produced when a natural tunnel in the lava bed caved in. The tunnel was caused by the flowing away of molten lava from the lower part of the bed after the upper surface had cooled and hardened.

Its presence so near the hot surface of the ground depends primarily upon the fact that lava is among Nature's most efficient temperature insulators. The lava contains an infinite number of minute pores and cavities, and the dead air in them hinders the transmission of heat through the stone from the sun.

Noble, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, Defendants.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION At a session of said Court held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 13th day of January, A. D. 1937. Present: Honorable George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in said cause, and the affidavit of Shirley W. Smith attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and:

It further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead; whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, and legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry;

On motion of Burke and Burke, attorneys for plaintiff, it is ordered that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns. It is further ordered that within twenty days plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, such publication to be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.

Big Shot for a Day

By MARTIE RAMSON. YOU MANN had a very peculiar way of making his selections. The bookies called it a phony system. Born on the fifth day of the fifth month, in the year nineteen hundred and five, he sold himself on the theory that five was his lucky number. Each night he would study the entries in the evening paper and make a list of the names of the fifth horse in each race. He never consulted "dope sheets," nor did he care to know anything about the horse's sire or mammy, the weight it was totting, the distance or past performances.

Personally, I say that if you have a hunch, ride it to the sky. Now, Lou had what a horse player calls a criminal habit. He would tout himself away from his own selections, and quite often his number five horse would win, while his second choice—and incidentally, the horse he put his money on—would run out of the money.

No one had ever seen Lou do a real day's work. He had but one ambition in life, and that was to have his own office and make his own book. He always figured a bookie could not lose. He has too great a percentage in his favor. If he could only "get over" for a couple of hundred dollars, that would be his next move. He had the location in mind; knew he could get "the service," and all that kept him from opening up was that couple of hundred. If he would only quit touting himself away from his number five's, he was sure of "bitting it right."

May the fifth, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, is his birthday. Today, he told himself, would be his lucky day. It had to be, for wasn't it the fifth day of the fifth month, nineteen thirty-five? Determined to stand or fall by his system, he framed a two-dollar parlay on Sister Zoe in the fifth race and Pacifist in the sixth race, both to win. Each horse was number five down the line of entries. Sister Zoe, at a price of three to one, on the line, looks like the outstanding horse in the race. Pacifist is five to one, running against Irish Miss, a two to one favorite.

After Sister Zoe had won, Lou was undecided whether to draw off his winnings or let the parlay stand. After much deliberation he decided to let it ride, hoping that number five would realize that today is his birthday. Well, according to the fellow at the megaphone, Pacifist is running third at the quarter, Spud is second, and Irish Miss leading by two lengths. At the half Spud is leading by a neck, Irish Miss is second, with Pacifist trailing half by half a length. There's no call at the three-quarter, and during that interval, I think Lou would have sold out for his original two dollars. Then, the megaphone says, "They're in the stretch. Spud, a neck; Pacifist, a length; and Top Hat is third. Here comes the winner, boys." Another slight hesitation, during which Lou was having palpitation of the heart. Again, the megaphone says, "The winner, Pacifist, by a length—" Second or third didn't matter with Lou. When the price came in on Pacifist, Lou collected fifty-six dollars and eighty cents. Not bad for a two-dollar parlay, is it?

In the last race, the fifth horse down the line is Last Chance. Lou had a lot of confidence in his number five by this time. Besides, there was something suggestive here. Last Chance, in the last race, horse number five, on his birthday. For a moment, he was tempted to bet the whole thing on Last Chance. No, he told himself. What if the horse lost? Tomorrow was another day. He'd leave himself with a few dollars. Just in case—

He did something that he had never done before. He bet ten dollars across the board, on Last Chance. He wanted to make a stake or no sale. Last Chance was an eight to one shot. Lou didn't want to hear the race come in, so he went out for a cup of coffee. By the time he returned, the race was over, the prices were in and Lou left there with two hundred and seventy-four dollars and some change.

Well, he reflected, he had "bit his stride." He wouldn't at last, realize his ambition. He took a nice little office out on Fifty-fourth street, a busy little community. He knew that there were plenty of men employed in the various stores and banks who would like to make a bet now and then. He wasn't looking for too big a play, as his bank-roll wouldn't stand it. After fixing up the place, his two seventy-five had dwindled to one hundred and sixty dollars.

TREASURES NEW AND OLD FOR DIMES AND QUARTERS

I have never passed a second-hand bookstore unless entering it was absolutely out of the question.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
DON'T overlook, as one of the legitimate joys of increasing years, the charms of the second-hand bookstores. Some of the happiest moments of my life have been spent in them; among the few possessions I should really hate to lose are the treasures I have found there.

Yet the possibilities are even now so little appreciated by some women that only a few days ago a friend could seriously say to me, as I paused at one of the long street tables engagingly marked "35c each—three for a dollar," and say reproachfully "Oh, come now. You can afford to buy new books!"

By which remark she betrayed the dreadful truth that she didn't know anything about the backwash of all the volumes that ever have been written are continually churning about, bringing to the surface now a battered old volume of one of "The Duchess" novels, now Stirling's long-lost study of Curliose, or "Our Mutual Friend" with Cruikshank illustrations and Dickens' own signature in it.

My own early impression of second-hand bookstores was that they were shops, usually dirty, disorderly and filled with cheap socialist pamphlets to which one went when one positively couldn't afford a new book, or even a magazine. It was a great San Francisco lawyer who presently introduced me to the delights of them. He met me in lower Broadway one sunny morning, when I was idly walking and he browsing over the inexhaustible stalls. He said he always wished that he had a lifetime for the old bookstores. For the first time I heard the words "Elaviv" and "collector's item." Won to a surprised interest I bought the life of Elizabeth Prentice for 35 cents, because I had batted on her "Stepping Heavenward" as a young girl. I also bought for 15 cents a book about the Martinique volcano. This volume, incidentally, is now listed at $240, and is unprocurable.

That was the beginning. Since then I never have passed a second-hand bookstore unless entering it was absolutely out of the question. The children of the family have been nourished upon rows of shabby old books; they have found favorites of my own childhood (at which to laugh and wonder, "Dotty Dimple," "The Lamp-lighter," "The Wide, Wide World").

In my own special biography library there are more than two thousand volumes; four-fifths of them have come from the old bookstores of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Washington, New York, Boston, London. There are blocks of Charing Cross Road, where it departs at a tangent from the busy Strand, that are lined with tables, with book-enclosed doorways, with enchantment and rapture for lovers of books. East Fifty-ninth Street is another haunt where you can buy "Othello" for ten cents or for hundreds of dollars.

A woman's simple story of her escape from Gwalior started me into the long list of the Sepoy Mutiny books; soldiers' stories, women's stories, good and bad, rare and ordinary, there must have been a flood of them in the Eighteen-Fifties, all out of print now, but all wonderful reading.

Then there are the missionary biographies. They sound so dull; they are so thrilling! Just the diaries of the quiet good women who went forth from New England homes into the unknown jungles of Africa, frightened, homesick, seasick, suffered from pestilence and savage uprisings and heat and insects; mixed difficult childbearing, the terror of tom-toms and jungle swarms in with the teaching of the Word, and presently came home older and wiser and tired to write "Our Years in Sarawak" and sell the volume for thirty-five cents to pay for the carpet in some New Hampshire church. One woman came home seven children, although she had born seven children in ten years among the savages. "The little flowers all faded along our hard, hot road," she explains patiently. In wattle huts upon festering rivers, with the yells of head-hunters or the growl of beasts in their ears, they remembered the quiet elm-shaded streets of home, the big clean kitchens where bread and pies were baked, the peaceful ringing of churchbells and the meadows where black-eyed Susans starred the green grass.

Perhaps two hundred of my books tell the story of the great women who helped to build the younger America; Lucretia Mott, Harriet Beecher Stowe, the Grimke sisters, Julia Ward Howe, Frances Willard, Susan B. Anthony, Sarah J. Hale. The life of a great Englishwoman, Elizabeth Fry, was suddenly under my hands one day, in two great filing volumes. This gentle Quaker managed to bear thirteen children—her youngest daughter was born on the same day and in the same room as her oldest grandson—and yet to do such marvelous work for women in the dreadful prisons of the day, that all prison laws have been changed since.

Hundreds of women's stories; some thrilling, some painting a picture of long dead days; some infinitely touching. Shoulder to shoulder with "C. Aulton's" delicious picture of a child's life in America in a crowded household whose mistress "could remember General Washington" is Mrs. Tait's own story of the loss, in a single week, of eight of her precious ten children—she being the wife of England's great archbishop. And beside them, perhaps, is the extraordinary recital of Opal, the seven-year-old who lay on her stomach under a bed and wrote down thousands and thousands of words at a stretch, on crumpled old bags and odds and ends of wrapping paper.

One day, to read on the long train trip west, I hastily bought two thick volumes called "The Worst Journey in the World" because I saw the name "Cherry" on them, and supposed them to be by a woman. Whether the worst journey was in the Himalayas or the jungle I didn't know; I was rather daunted upon beginning the book to discover that it was written by an Englishman whose full name is Apsley Cherry-Garrard, and that it described Scott's attempt to reach the South Pole.

To say it is a great book is an exaggeration, for it is amateurishly written, in spots, and makes no pretensions toward style. But it is a simple fact that I never have enjoyed any book more.

It was the pioneer in a long row of Polar travel books, most of them long out of print, and only to be found on the upper shelves of certain old bookstores. Neither Amundsen nor Peary, who actually reached the poles, nor Cook, who said he did, have contributed anything of special interest to this collection, but there are other and older explorers whose pages are simply breath-taking. De Long's journal, Melville's diary on the ice, Tyson's diary, and above all the elegant and articulate Mikkelsen's "Lost in the Arctic" and Nansen's exquisite, half-practical, half-occult story of "Farthest North" are all "tops"; there are others with bits and scraps and passages one never forgets. Greeley, rescued at last with some seven or eight of his starved, enfeebled, despairing men, in a collapsed tent on Cape Sabine, Greeley tugging at his glove before extending his emaciated blackened hand toward his preserver, presents a perfectly typical picture of arctic courage. "Here we are, dying like men. I'm glad to see you!"

Habits can ride us cruelly in the course of our lives. But the second-hand bookstore habit is not an expensive one, not disagreeable to anyone in any way, and will eventually afford a tremendous occupation and distraction to the woman who feels some of the younger currents of amusement and excitement running dry.

To build hobbies into our lives is one of the ways of cheating the years. Gardens, cats, etchings, it doesn't matter what it is as long as it interests us wholly. Middle-age, as every woman who lives to reach it discovers for herself, is rather like a bank. Unless you have put something into it you cannot draw anything out. Women who have been taking rather than giving for forty years find a blank wall ahead of them when they reach the time that ought to be the happiest of all. And yet autumn has charms of which spring and summer know nothing for those women who have a harvest to bring in.
