Democrats Will Hold Victory Dinner Mar. 4

Hon. George J. Burke, chairman of the Ann Arbor Victory Dinner, to be held at the Michigan Union, Ann Arbor, on the evening of March 4th, under the auspices of the Democratic National Committee, has made public the names of the members of his committee who are cooperating with him in an effort to make this the most successful gathering of its kind in the history of Ann Arbor. James Hendley and Ezra Tisch of Chelsea are members of the ticket committee, and local people desiring to attend the affair may secure tickets from them.

William L. Wals, chairman of the program committee, has received the acceptance of Hon. Thomas F. MacAllister of Grand Rapids, a candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, who will be the main speaker of the evening.

This is one of a large number of such dinners being held simultaneously in every section of the country in honor of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice-President John N. Garner, to commemorate the completion of their first four years as the nation's leaders and to raise sufficient money to pay off the deficit left over by the recent campaign.

Hon. Paul H. Todd, director of the Victory Dinners in Michigan issued the following statement through Mr. Burke: "Every true Democrat and friend of President Roosevelt should join wholeheartedly in this nationwide party rally. Not only is it honoring two very great Americans, but it is solidifying the ranks of the party and at the same time raising money for a purpose which should be dear to every Democrat rejoicing over the tremendous victory of last November."

It is planned to have President Roosevelt's address, which will be brought to every dinner by means of a nation-wide hook-up of all major radio chains, from the $100 per plate dinner at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, broadcast at 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Dinner tickets have been priced at $5.00 and $1.25 per plate, of which $1.00 will defray the actual cost of the dinner, the balance to be forwarded to the Democratic National Committee as individual contributions toward the Victory Dinner fund.

HIGHWAY WARNING ISSUED

Lansing—The state highway department this week asked truckers and contractors to move all heavy equipment before spring "break-up" begins on the highways.

In a letter addressed to truckers and contractors operating in Michigan, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner pointed out that special spring loading restrictions go into effect during March. He emphasized that no permits for overweight loads would be issued during the period of spring break-up.

E. E. Blomgren, maintenance engineer for the department, said: "This advanced warning is being sent out at this time because we cannot set a definite date after which no permits will be issued for overweight loads. The law authorizes the state highway commissioner to put the special spring restrictions in effect at his discretion during March, April and May. We are guided entirely by the condition of the roads."

Loads exceeding weight restrictions set up by law for other seasons of the year may be moved by special permit from the state highway commissioner.

Village Receives Federal Check for Sewage Plant Work

Jas. Munro, village clerk, received a check for $14,463.75 from the Federal government on Saturday for the first installment of the portion the government will pay on the local sewage treatment works. The total amount the government will contribute for this construction work will be $26,016.75.

Work on the sewage plant has been progressing as rapidly as possible, but weather conditions have made rapid progress impossible. A small force of men are being employed and the water main extension from Elm street to the plant has been completed.

It is expected that the influent and outflow sewer will be completed next week, and excavation work for the control building will be started within a few days.

According to those in charge of inspection and construction work everything will be in readiness so that real progress will be made as soon as weather conditions in the spring will permit.

Carl D. Mitchell of Carey, Ohio is the construction contractor, and Chas. Meserva is employed by the village as inspector on the project.

Michigan Births and Deaths Increase in 1936

With the highest birth rate in five years, Michigan temporarily showed into the background in 1936 the statistician's fear of a stationary population, according to figures released today by Dr. C. C. Slemmons, state health commissioner.

Provisional statistics indicate an increase of 1,054 births during the past year when the natural population growth of most other states was declining. A total of 88,467 births gave this state a rate of 17.41 births per 1,000 population, the highest since 1931. A one per cent increase was indicated over the 1935 birth rate of 17.21 when 87,403 births were reported.

This increase gave Michigan an excess of 38,680 births over deaths despite the highest death rate recorded here in seven years, according to Dr. Slemmons. Reports show that 3,726 more persons died last year than in 1935.

A total of 54,777 deaths was reported with a rate of 10.78 deaths per 1,000 population, the highest since 1929. The 1936 rate is a seven per cent increase over the 1935 rate of 10.05 when 51,051 deaths were reported. This increase is typical of the general six per cent mortality rise experienced throughout the nation last year.

Deaths of infants under one year of age also increased in 1936, 4,490 deaths being recorded, compared with 4,170 in 1935. The infant mortality rate of 60.76 deaths per 1,000 live births is an increase of 6.4 per cent over 1935 rates.

Birth and death rates for 1936 are estimated on the basis of a population of 5,080,000 for the state as indicated by school census figures and other available data.

UNION LENTEN SERVICES

The third Union Lenten service was held last evening at the Congregational church, Rev. Henry W. Lenz of the Salem Grove M. E. church preaching the sermon.

The fourth service will be at St. Paul's Evangelical church on Wednesday evening, March 3. Rev. H. A. Leeson will be the preacher. All services begin at 7:30.

These union services are being conducted as a Gospel Mission by the congregations, pastors, choirs and Sunday schools of this community. All services connected therewith are gladly donated and no offerings are taken. Everyone is urged to attend the Wednesday evening union services.

Will Discuss Huron Valley Improvement

A conference on the general subject "The Improvement of the Huron River Valley" will be held at the Michigan Union, Ann Arbor, on Friday, March 5. This meeting is sponsored by the Huron River Improvement Commission and the Washtenaw County Road Commission in cooperation with the Extension Service of the University of Michigan.

This conference will deal with fishing, beautification, pollution, engineering, residence areas, and other problems pertaining to the Huron river valley project. Invitations have been mailed to officials of towns in the valley, including Chelsea, to state officers concerned with such problems, to members of the senate and house of representatives from the five counties in the Huron river district, and to a selected list of interested persons. It is hoped that the conference may result in a movement that will realize some of the splendid possibilities of this beautiful valley.

The program, which starts at 9:00 o'clock a. m., will be as follows:

The Huron Valley—Alexander G. Ruthven, President, U. of M.

Opportunities on Michigan Rivers—Arthur W. Stace, Editor, Ann Arbor Daily News

Clearing the Pollution from the River—Prof. Wm. C. Hoad.

Discussion—Milton P. Adams, Executive Secretary, Stream Control Commission of Michigan, presiding.

Intermission.

Engineering Problems of the River—Prof. Henry E. Riggs.

Discussion—Prof. Lewis M. Gram, presiding.

Appointment of Committee on Resolutions.

Luncheon—12 o'clock.

A Water Law—Prof. H. M. Bates.

Discussion—Prof. George W. Pack.

What Washtenaw is Doing—Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Supt., Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Some Fundamental Objectives—Henry S. Curtis, in charge of Huron Valley Recreation Survey.

Discussion—George C. Handy, Editor, Ypsilanti Press.

The Creation of a Valley Authority—Harold D. Smith.

Report of Resolutions Committee.

Discussion.

TRINKLE SUES VILLAGE

Wilbert Trinkle of Lima township started suit in circuit court last week in which he seeks $500 from the village of Chelsea for expenses which he claims resulted when his horses became ill with "swamp fever" from drinking water in Mill Creek. He claims the village unlawfully empties its sewage into this creek. Mr. Trinkle presented his bill for damages to the common council about a year ago but the council took no action; stating they believed his claim to be without merit. Frank E. DeVine of Ann Arbor is attorney for Mr. Trinkle and Attorney John P. Keusch will represent the village when the suit comes to trial, the date for which has not been set.

NORTH SYLVAN GRANGE

North Sylvan Grange will meet on Monday evening, March 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weinberg. The following program will be given:

Song—Grange.

Roll call—My hobby.

What interested me at Lansing Farmers' Week—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brettschneider.

Song—Inez Lesser and Alma Kalmbach.

The use of rubber-tired machinery on the farm—Emerson Lesser and Roy Kalmbach.

Song—Grange.

Discussion—The packing of the Supreme Court—Led by N. W. Laird.

OLIVE LODGE LADIES' NIGHT

Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M. will entertain the ladies at their regular meeting March 2. A scrub lunch supper will be served at 6:30. For entertainment Fred Bens of Ann Arbor will give a travel talk of his South Sea Island trip showing life in New Zealand, Australia, Thursday Island, Java, Siam and Bali. This talk is illustrated by moving pictures.

SATURDAY IS TAX DEADLINE

Saturday of this week is the last day for paying taxes, according to M. J. Baxter, Sylvan township treasurer. Collections so far are just fair, but Mr. Baxter anticipates a rush of taxpayers before the roll is returned to the county treasurer.

KROGER SALES INCREASE

Cincinnati—Despite flood conditions in the Ohio Valley, sales in stores operated by the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company jumped 11 per cent during the first four-week period of 1937, ending January 30, compared to the identical period of 1936, according to the preliminary business report issued by the company here.

Total sales for the first four weeks of 1937 reached $18,700,086, compared to $16,813,302 for the first four weeks of 1936.

Five branches of the company showed gains of more than 25 per cent, one branch showing a total increase of 50 per cent over last year. Many stores in which business was demoralized by the flood are being quickly rehabilitated.

The company had 4,214 stores in operation at the end of the 1937 period, compared to 4,278 a year ago, a decrease of 64 units.

Narcotin Narcotin is one of the organic bases or alkaloids occurring in opium, in the proportion of 6 to 8 per cent.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—How many stars are there in the heavens?

Ans.—It is not known, and never will be known. Space is infinite and there are untold billions of stars and suns in the universe that are not visible to the most powerful telescopes made. There are between 30 million and 40 million that are visible.

Ques.—What childhood disease is considered the most contagious?

Ans.—Measles, with whooping cough a close second.

Ques.—Can you answer me what is "good times"?

Ans.—Well, some people think "good times" are those in which debts are run up so high they have cause to worry in bad times.

Ques.—I would like to know what I can do to prevent the metal tips of my shoestrings from coming off. Can you tell me?

Ans.—Nothing that we know of. However, if they come off, try dipping the end of the string in mastic or glue and then roll the end between the fingers and allow to dry. They will then last until the strings are worn out.

Ques.—How many people are represented by each representative in the United States House of Representatives?

Ans.—Approximately 280,000 for each representative. It varies slightly. However, if you divide the total population of the State by 279,712 the product will be the number of representatives the State is entitled to.

Ques.—How did wedding anniversaries originate? And what are the first nine? I know the tenth is tin.

Ans.—The observance of wedding anniversaries originated in Germany. It became the custom to present a wife with a silver wreath upon the completion of 25 years of matrimony. The custom spread to other dates for observance, and the dates for the first nine are as follows: First year, paper; 2nd, cotton; 3rd, nutmeg; 4th, silk; 5th, wood; 6th, iron; 7th, copper; 8th, bronze; 9th, pottery.

Ques.—How and when did Great Britain gain control over Palestine?

Ans.—The Turks were the rulers over Palestine since the year 1244 A. D. When the Turkish empire was broken up by the British in the latter part of 1917 during the World War, the peace treaty signed gave Great Britain a mandate over the Holy Land. This was done because Great Britain was the sole conqueror of the Turks.

Ques.—Are transients allowed to vote anywhere in the United States for President?

Ans.—No. He must vote in the State, County or precinct of his lawful residence. States alone—not the Federal government—sets up their own voting requirements. A transient may apply for and use an absentee's ballot if he is qualified to vote in his own State.

Ques.—Please tell me how "sine die" is pronounced? And just what does it mean?

Ans.—When literally translated "sine die" means "without day." In a broader sense it means that Congress, legislature, club or meeting of any kind adjourn "without a date set for the next meeting." The word is pronounced "sign-nee dy-ee."

Ques.—I wish to ask you, how far the earth travels in a day in its trip around the sun. Thank you.

Ans.—As the earth travels 18 1/2 miles per second the mileage around the sun in one day is 1,598,000 miles.

Ques.—How does the weather bureau count snow in reckoning the annual rainfall?

Ans.—In a given area the weather bureau reduces the snow to water—that is, melts it. It takes about ten inches of snow to make one inch of water.

Ques.—What can I do about my coat collar which is so greasy that it soils my shirt collar within an hour?

Ans.—An excellent remedy is to sponge the collar with gasoline to which salt has been added to the proportion of about half-pint of gasoline to one teaspoonful of salt. Be careful not to use this solution near any fire or flame.

The more one studies accident statistics and records, the more puzzling they become.

Comparatively few accidents occur at points where dangers are easily recognized by the driver. This is true even though the danger may be unusually pronounced. For example, traveling over a narrow, winding, mountain road is as a rule comparatively safe for the motorist usually takes extraordinary precaution. On the other hand, a great many accidents may occur under safe conditions because the motorist, lulled by a sense of false security, lets down his guard for the time being and forgets all about safety.

A car inspected often means a hazard corrected.

SAVAGE SCHOOL NEWS

Savage school celebrated Lincoln's birthday, Frederick Weber's birthday, and Valentine day with a party and games February 12. Refreshments consisted of fruit jello, three kinds of heart shaped cookies, cheese sandwiches, and a variety of heart candles.

Mrs. Butcher furnished some prettily decorated cookies, and Mrs. Franklin furnished the sandwiches. The many pretty Valentines were distributed by the children. Phyllis Weber made our Valentine box.

Mrs. Robinson visited our school February 9. She heard our reading classes and listened to several reports by the children. She was very much interested in our "Three Bears' House", movies, graphs, charts, and geography unit.

The fifth grade are busy learning the festival songs. The smaller children enjoy the Folk dances.

Mary Kathryn and Phyllis Weber are leading in this month's health race.

We have completed a movie illustrating Lincoln's life by free hand drawings.

On our side blackboard we have pictures illustrative of this month. Raymond Radcliff drew pictures of children skating. Miss Gale drew a portrait picture of Lincoln for us. The board also has homes covered with a light snow. Each month we have a new set of free hand colored pictures drawn on the board.

We will have a birthday party the last of this month honoring Phyllis Weber who will be ten years old. She is in the fifth grade.

Visitors so far this month are Mrs. Bollinger, Mrs. Franklin, Winona Franklin, and Mrs. Robinson.

Our school newspaper, "The Savage Sparkler", will be made and distributed to the various families in school within the next two weeks. We publish the paper every three months.

We have a new sand table. It is orange and green.

Seniors Sharpen Saws for Work in Orchards

Orchard owners within a radius of 100 miles of Michigan State College already are sending in requests to the college for the services of advanced students in horticulture who can be depended on for doing a first class job of pruning, bridge grafting of girdled trees and other kinds of early spring work. Twenty students performed similar service a year ago.

V. R. Gardner, head of the department of horticulture, reports that requests are being received for similar aid this spring. Advanced junior, senior and graduate students will be available, especially during spring vacation which is March 26 to April 5. "These boys roll up their sleeves, work hard and do a good job," says Professor Gardner. "Only those are sent out who have had training and experience along the line that fit the request."

Members of the department accompany some of the students when the jobs are extensive, so that the first half day of a week's work in an orchard gets properly started. In 1936 some of the students also utilized week-ends after the spring vacation to continue working in orchards. The extra cash obtained by the students for their work helps keep them in school to complete their courses of study.

DISTRIBUTING HOME ALMANAC

Brimsful of useful facts and information and other material of human interest, the Ford Home Almanac for 1937 goes to the homes of the United States this week, distributed free by dealers of the Ford Motor Company.

Readers of the booklet will find that, in addition to the time of sunrise and set, adjusted to each latitude; moon phases, eclipses and the usual other information given in Almanacs, the Ford Home Almanac is replete with interesting reading material dealing with ancient and modern prophecies, some of which shaped the destiny of different countries; sea mysteries that generations of research have not solved, and other miscellany. There are also short articles dealing with the views of Henry Ford on various subjects, as well as an article showing in detail what he has done with the $13,000,000,000 which the public has paid for Ford cars and trucks since the Ford Motor Company began business in 1903. Most interesting are the facts that, of this vast sum, the Ford Motor Company retained for itself but 6.4 cents out of every dollar, spending the remainder, totaling nearly $12,500,000,000 for wages, taxes and materials.

While such information about one of the modern world's greatest industries will be found interesting by students, teachers and economists, the housewife and mother will also find the little book handy because of the reliable information it brings for first aid treatments in many different kinds of emergencies, hints for the kitchen and care of the garden and a well planned garden chart. The motorist planning a trip to any part of the United States will find in the Almanac a chart giving accurate mileages between important cities.

Fine Legislators Indiana will fine up to $1,000 a member of the legislature who intentionally absents himself to break a quorum.

OUR NEIGHBORS

DEXTER—Gerald N. Allen has moved his family into the house at 118 Ann Arbor street. Mr. Allen is the new executive vice-president of the Dexter Savings Bank and was formerly cashier of the Farmer's State Bank of Webberville, Mich. Mr. Allen has had several years experience with the Capital National Bank and the City National Bank of Lansing, and also with the stock brokerage office of E. A. SOUTH LYON—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kalmbach returned to their home last Friday night after a fortnight's trip to Florida where they spent a week with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kalmbach, at St. Petersburg. Herman Kalmbach is critically ill. Enroute to and from the South, the Kalmbachs traveled past districts that still were flooded. They tell us that the flowers in Florida are a lovely sight at this time. Varieties in bloom include the poinsettia, Grapefruit and orange trees are loaded with ripened fruit.—Herald.

MASON—Glen Coon, manager of the Mason office of the Consumers Power company, and Elwin Wiley, Consumers employee, had narrow escapes from death and thousands of Consumers Power customers from Jackson to Croton Dam on the Muskegon were without electric power Saturday afternoon. The narrow escape from death and the interruption in power service was the result of a charge of dynamite touched off by George Griswold of Jackson, in the abandoned Sheltraw gravel pit south of the residential section of Mason. About one o'clock he set off a big charge under the turntable of a steam shovel. The explosion hurled iron in every direction. One piece weighing about 40 pounds was hurled over the high bank and 400 feet west to the high line of the Consumers on the old interurban right of way. The piece of iron severed the transmission line. Mr. Coon and Mr. Wiley were working on a telephone line at the Mason substation Saturday forenoon. Shortly after one o'clock the two men returned to the station and made final connections. Mr. Coon rang the dispatcher's office in Jackson. The dispatcher was busy so Mr. Coon replaced the receiver and stood by to call again within a few seconds. Then came the explosion caused by the severing of the transmission line. Upwards of 40,000 volts surged into the substation over the telephone line. The two men were dazed by the sound and flash which filled the station. Had Mr. Coon had hold of the telephone receiver it would have meant instant death. He missed it by a fraction of a second.—County News.

THE CLIMAX OF EASTER

How glad I am that Jesus lives, And understands our frame, How glad I am that we may pray The Father, in His name.

How glad I am His personality Abides with me, That being quickened by His grace, Love's glory lights I see.

Cease, cease, ye vain desponding fears When Christ our Lord from darkness springs, Death, the last foe was captive led And heaven with praise and wonder rings.

Among the clouds depart— The winds and waters cease— While sweetly o'er my gladdened heart, Expands the bow of peace.

Dundee Wins, 26-11

On Friday night the Dundee cagers swooped down on the Chelsea team with a grim intent to maintain its record of no defeats. The result was a 15-point lead. The Chelsea squad held them the first half, the score at the end of the second quarter being 8-6. However, clean-cut plays and quick passing piled up a huge score for the Dundee five. The Davis twins scored a total of 16 points. They played in the guard positions and the plays of the Dundee quintet operated so as to allow the guards to be in scoring position. Niehaus scored four points to top the scoring for Chelsea.

The C. H. S. Reserves lost a tough one, 22-23. The score at the half was 12-9 in favor of Chelsea. At the end of the fourth quarter the score was tied at 22 each. In the overtime, Burkholder of Dundee made a foul shot that gave Dundee the winning margin. Dingle, Chelsea, forward, scored eight points. Sutor and Helsar each scored eight points for Dundee.

Skating Party

The Freshmen held a skating party last Wednesday at Cassidy Lake. Most of the teachers in high school were invited and many of them turned out. The party began at 7:15 when the volunteer drivers loaded their cars. By 9:30 most of the students arrived at their respective residences. We are glad everyone enjoyed the party and we hope to have a sledding party soon.

Assembly

Second-hour Monday found the student body celebrating the birth of our first president, George Washington. The program consisted of a short talk on "Why I Like Washington" by Rev. Mumby. The Farm Crops, Animal Husbandry and Future Farmers of America groups related some of the experiences encountered on their recent trip to East Lansing to celebrate Farmers' Week. The program, conducted by Roland Spaulding, also included group singing led by Mr. Harveys. This entertaining and instructive program was enjoyed by all.

Editorial

QUIET, PLEASE
You may think the teachers are crabby but did you ever stop to think that perhaps it is your own fault if you have to stay after school two or three times a week?

Shooting paper wads, whispering about your new clothes or your date Friday night and interrupting them when they are reading announcements all tend to make the teachers irritable and you are bound to suffer. Let's all resolve, even though it is a little late for New Year's resolutions, to conduct ourselves properly or in other words "act our age" in study hall, classes, and home rooms.

Last B. B. Game!

This Friday will wind up the basketball season for Chelsea High for the year '36-'37. Three games with Clinton are the attraction—second team, girls and regulars. This will be the last game for some of our Senior boys. Let's all be there to give our support, and show our loyalty to our school, for this game Friday.

Junior Hi Operetta

Last Thursday evening at 8:00 p. m. the Junior High boys and girls presented an operetta entitled "The Galloping Ghost."

The cast was very excellently portrayed. The gowns were exquisite, and the dancing was very tricky. The music was under the capable direction of Miss Lucille Boongaard, and the dramatics were coached by Miss Dorothy Hannigan.

Beneath the Surface

What was the big parade of cars all about after "Drums of Doom" last Tuesday night? It seems that W. B. (driver), B. S. and L. M. and J. W. were leading it.

L. D. and R. M. are trying their wiles on the occupants of a 1937 "Chevie". I wonder why this could be? Better watch out, Fuzzy. The basketball game may have broken up a few players but their hearts were mended in the "two by four" booths at "John's".

What makes Goodell take these infrequent trips to Stockbridge? It couldn't be V. B. could it, George? B. B. has been very interested in a certain "Chevrolet" lately. Is it the car, the radio, or the driver? We wonder. Is Carole's hair really getting darker? Or can it be—

SENIOR BAKE SALE

Feb. 27—Senior bake sale.

F. F. A. Game

Thursday, February 18 the F. F. A. boys journeyed to Manchester to win the first basketball in the history of Chelsea Chapter. Two games were played, the second team winning 13-8. High point men on the second team were West, with 6 points, and Kastle with 4.
The first team filled the air with many fast passes which the Manchester boys could not stop. Beeman and Gilbert divided the scoring honor with 4 points each. Huber of Manchester made 6 points.

Lorraine W.: Why are you washing that spoon in your finger bowl?
Robert S.: So I won't get soup all over my pocket.

An Irish army officer called up a sergeant and spoke of the unsoldierly appearance of a recruit. He looks very slovenly, sergeant.

Yes, Sir.
Are you sure he washes?
Yes Sir.

Are you absolutely certain he washes?

Oh yes, sir, but he dries a bad color, sir.

Miss Gibson asked each of her pupils to give a sentence using the word "beans."
The first one said: My Dad raises beans.

The second one said: My mother cooks beans.
Don Cook replied: We are all human beans.

Then there was the time Miss Allen asked Fritz B. to use the word "unaware" in a sentence.
Fritz B.: Unaware is the last thing we take off before we put on our pajamas.

Miss Allen: What is a metaphor?
Ted B.: To keep cows in.

Elementary News

First Grade

Because Monday was George Washington's birthday we spent the day studying and reading about Washington.

Our weekly newspapers were in our post boxes on Monday. We found much about Washington in it.

We wish to thank Danny Maroney for the leaves and carrots which he brought for our rabbits. We hope Danny comes to see us again.

Third Grade

We have been watching for the return of the birds. Some of us have seen robins, bluebirds, and red-wing blackbirds. We have pictures of birds in our room and we have read stories about some birds.

We have been making Eskimo and Indian books. The cover design on our Eskimo books was a silhouette of an Eskimo child holding a spear.

Last week these people were perfect in spelling: June, George, Barbara, E., Myra, Thora, Barbara, D., Jane, Audrey, and Shirley. Shirley P. is a very good speller. She has won the spelling race several times.

We have been working very hard on our language.

Fourth Grade

We elected officers for our Golden Health club. Earl Van Riper was re-elected president; Reynolds Wals is vice-president, and Nancy Every is secretary.

Twelve stars now decorate our Class Conduct chart. We're glad we are improving.

Our spell-down last week ended with the girls as winners. Nancy Every, Flo-Anne Longworth, Eva Geddes, and Marjorie Gilson remained standing. James Gaunt was the last boy standing.

We like our new language papers. Our new language book will help us with our puppet show.

We are soon to have a radio test to determine our ability as announcers. In reading class we are learning about some dormant animals. Many new words are being added to our "hard words" list; such as dorm, which comes from a Latin word meaning sleep.

Fifth Grade

We learned the Virginia Reel as played in Washington's time, during music period on Friday. We enjoyed

DELLIS CRANE, working on the assembly line, has been on the Buick payroll for 20 years

SPEAKING for myself and 16,000 other Buick workmen—we're mighty glad to be back on the job! It's been tough to stand by, knowing how eager thousands of people were to get one of these great cars. And it's a grand feeling now to see the wheels turning and the line rolling, and to watch those big, handsome babies pouring out regular as clockwork! There's power in them, and style, and comfort—and when you see them made, like I do, you know they're packed with good, honest workmanship as well as top-notch engineering. We're proud of those Buicks, and the way you've taken to them, and we're going to get yours to you as quick as we can.

It's Buick again!

Honey Bees' Cells

Into small hexagonal wax cells the queen honey-bee deposits eggs which will develop into worker bees (partially developed females). Into slightly larger hexagonal cells go the eggs which will become drones (males). Yet a third type of cell is prepared for the incubation of queens; it is circular rather than hexagonal, observes a writer in the Literary Digest. The cells are made from beeswax, secreted in paired pockets on the under-side of the last four segments visible on the abdomen of the bee. Secreted wax hardens as it comes in contact with air, is used to form the marvelously precise hexagons of the comb which bee engineers ages ago developed as the strongest and least space-consuming structure known to geometicians.

Demosthenes' Orations

Some of Demosthenes' chief orations are the three "Philippics," three "Olynthiacs," "On the Peace," "On the Embassy," "On the Affairs of the Chersonese," and "On the Crown." The last is a defense of his career and by many is considered his masterpiece.

Y. M. STUDY CLUB MEETS

The Young Mothers' Child Study club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Luella Weinberg on Tuesday evening. Twelve members were present. Mrs. Alice Gilson gave a paper on "The Fun of Having Children" and Mrs. Mildred Hopper read a paper on "Living Together in the Family." A social hour followed the program and refreshments were served by the hostess. The next regular meeting of the club will be on Tuesday evening, March 23 at the home of Mrs. Jerry Morea.

CHILD STUDY CLUB

A meeting of the Child Study club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. G. Palmer. The program consisted of two interesting papers on "Play and Playthings," given by Mrs. W. R. Daniels and Mrs. L. G. Palmer. In connection with these papers, there was an exhibit of the hobbies of the members' children. The many diverse and unusual exhibits showed in what very different directions the interests of these children lie. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to members and friends who spent an informal hour in discussion of the papers and exhibits.

SUNSHINE CHAPTER MEETS

Sunshine chapter of the Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. W. F. Kandlehner on Thursday afternoon. Thirty-three members and guests were present. The program was in charge of Miss Florence Ward and opened with the devotional service given by Mrs. H. R. Church. "How Mt. Vernon Got Its Name" was read by Mrs. George Goodell, and "The Children's Hour" by Longfellow, was read by Nina Belle Wurster. The program ended with a guessing contest. Refreshments were served. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. F. E. Storms and Mrs. B. Crocker.

PROVIDE CONSERVATION DATA

Because Michigan State Grange is actively interested in conservation, approximately 500 rural schools of the state now have a nucleus for a private conservation library.

Mrs. Mable Madison, chairman of the conservation committee of the Grange, has prepared a list of literature which is being furnished by the department of conservation to teachers in rural schools, who wish supplementary data for instructing their pupils. Nearly 500 packets of literature already have been distributed.

Any rural teacher desiring a packet needs only to request it through the Grange or the department of conservation, Lansing.

Boy Scout News

The 1937 Scout Camp at the Newkirk Reservation on the Huron River near Dexter will open on June 20. "Where dreams come true", is the description of Scout camp made by one of last year's campers.

The first four days of camp will make up a short period for which the fee will be $3.50. This short camp is provided so that an entire troop may come together, and those who so desire will stay longer.

Wherever possible the year-around Scoutmaster of the troop or a member of the troop committee will come to camp with the troop.

Several additional cabins and other improvements are being planned for this year.

A very attractive emblem bearing the wording "Standard Camper 1937 Camporee" has been provided for all Scouts who successfully participate in this year's camporees which will be held late in May and early in June.

Patrol teams will be graded on inspection of packs; supper preparation; team work in the patrol; care of equipment; breakfast preparation; patrol lay out; program planning; noon day meal preparation; sanitation; and conditions in which grounds are left.

If you and your patrol qualify in the Camporee, it is a pretty good sign that you are a good camper.

HOLD DISTRICT MEETING

A district meeting of the Knights of Pythias was held at K. of P. hall, Chelsea, on Monday evening, with Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Manchester and Chelsea lodges participating. Supper was served by the Pythian Sisters at 6:30 at the Congregational church, where covers were laid for 80.

At the evening session the Rank of Esquire was conferred by Chelsea Lodge. Interesting talks on "Pythianism" were given by Grand Outer Guard Ray Burrell and District Deputy James Hart, both of Ypsilanti, who highly complimented the local lodge on their exemplification of the work.

The next meeting of the K. of P. will be held Monday evening, March 1, when the Rank of Esquire will be conferred on two candidates.

LIMA TWP. CAUCUSES

The Lima township caucuses, for naming of candidates for the spring election to be held on Monday, April 5, and transaction of other necessary business, will be held at Lima town hall on Monday, March 1. Democrat caucus at 1:30 o'clock, and Republican caucus at 2:30 o'clock.
Dated: February 17, 1937. 30
By Order of Township Board.

GIVES FAREWELL PARTY

Mrs. Reuben Lesser of Sylvan township was hostess at a farewell dinner Sunday for her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Max Ziegler of Dexter, who are sailing March 10 on the steamship Bremen for a three months' trip to Germany and other points. Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Koengeter and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Koengeter and daughter of Lima, Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner and family of Rogers Corners, and Geo. C. Koengeter of Dexter. Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler will leave Dexter on March 8 to visit relatives in Philadelphia and New York until their date of sailing. Mr. Koengeter, who has been staying at the Ziegler home, will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Lesser.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

The children of Mrs. John Koch, with their families, honored her birthday on Sunday with a dinner at her home on Adams St. The mixed bouquet centering the table was a gift to Mrs. Koch and the birthday cake was decorated with yellow roses and lighted with yellow candles. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Koch, daughter Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Niehaus and son Robert of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barbour of Lima, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kuebler and daughters, Jean and Katherine of Manchester, Paul Barbour and Miss Magdalen Archer of Norwich, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bahnmiller, daughter Loretta, and Mrs. Maria Eppler of Chelsea.

ENTERTAINS WOMEN'S UNION

Mrs. E. E. Adam entertained the Women's Union of St. Paul's church at their monthly meeting on Thursday, with 28 members responding to roll call. Devotional service, led by Mrs. Arthur Schallert, opened the meeting, after which the topic, "The American Negro", was presented by Miss Cora Feldkamp. Negro spirituals were sung by Mrs. Otto Lucht and Mrs. Oscar Lindauer and a poem "Meditation" was read by Mrs. Lucht. The society voted $10.00 for flood relief. Lunch was served, with Mrs. Clarence Dietle assisting.

AT WHAT AGE IS A MAN NOT WORTH MARRYING?

So Steve has to sit gulping his beer and biting into his sandwiches alone, and he hates it, and feels that he has lost his pal.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THAT very few bachelors of thirty-five and over are worth marrying is the expressed view of Dr. Paul Popenoe, of the Los Angeles Institute of Family Relations. This is not the first time I have quoted the views of Dr. Popenoe, but I remember correctly on the last occasion I was in direct opposition to him. In this case it seems to me that he is at least partly right.

There isn't any question that young marriages, plus character and fineness and self-control and love, are the happiest marriages. Later marriages need more character, more fineness and self-control, and more love, and as a rule have less of all these elements. The field narrows, as the woman reaches the late twenties and the man the middle thirties, and the demands of each increase. The quality of young excitement and adventure goes out of the marriage, and new considerations come in. Both husband and wife have settled into spoiled little ways; both are fearful that the whole thing is a mistake. Curiously enough, trifles are extremely important to older brides and grooms; they go into despair and gloom over mole-hills, whereas the younger adventurers laugh at very mountains of trouble, make nothing of really serious problems.

The happiest wives I know are the women who have married young, for love, who have faced all the ups and downs of young business worries and young nursery cares, and who have entered into the sunshine of middle age sure of themselves, sure of their mates, standing firmly in the ranks of the successfully wed. These are the very foundation of all civilized societies; the real servants of the commonwealth, although they never get any recognition for it.

When a girl waits for her thirtieth birthday before making her choice of a mate, she is in a difficult position. For at least twelve years she has been her own mistress; the man has been doing things in his own way for longer than that. Worse, perhaps he has had a mother and sisters to spoil him, to determine that Davey is going to be so happy at home that he never will want a wife!

In such questions as their attitude toward intimate old friends, as to meal hours and reading lights and the acceptance of invitations lie countless pitfalls. The dreams they have dreamed for a score of years are ended in a rude awakening. Jane doesn't like late little cosy suppers, after all; she seemed to when they were engaged, indeed she used to cook them herself for Steve. But now she says: laughing, ly and pleasantly enough, but yet firmly, that personally she never will eat a bite of anything after dinner. It is the quickest way in the world to get fat! So Steve has to sit gulping his beer and biting into his sandwiches alone, and he hates it, and feels that he has lost his pal.

He brings his friends home for dinner. Jane is amiable enough. But she protests mildly that Bob and Dick and Joe don't "contribute" anything. They happen to have been his intimates since college days, Steve comments icily, who would she suggest in their places? And so into the late new marriage come fearful hours of despair, when the handsome popular unmarried man who was Steve, ringing the doorbell at Jane's apartment, coming in with a great box of roses, seems to disappear completely. And the clever bachelor maid who was Jane, always so trim and self-possessed and happy, always so much in demand, vanishes likewise. In their places are a silent, bewildered, deeply-pondering man whose possessive thought is wonder how he can get out of the tangle he has stepped into, and an embittered woman who tells her few intimate friends that it was all a dreadful mistake.

And yet, if the two will but weather this dark hour without a break, there may be great happiness ahead for them. For after all, the choice of twenty-eight is a more reasonable choice than that of eighteen.

ment of the adventure, and their common physical delight in marriage hold them together usually for a few years, perhaps even four or five, if children come long. Then comes the rub; they have to meet the wild impulse to separate; to get away from each other, to make a drastic change of some sort. At this point—unless circumstances stronger than this mood of rebellion hold them together until the fever subsides and the danger mark is past, they usually get a divorce. Two years later they often wish with all their sick and despairing hearts that they were together again, but that's another story.

With the older pair this disillusionment comes almost at once. The ignorant romantic dreams of the late teens and early twenties have long vanished, and the two hours and minds and bodies that have been free for so long struggle madly against the trap. The man forgets that he really admires and loves this woman, that for months he had dreamed of the joy of having her for his own, he only remembers that he is married, and that marriage is a damned sight easier to get into than get out of. The girl has always cherished the thought of a fine man coming home to her hungry and adoring and companionable, at the end of day, to sit by the fire and talk of books and praise her for keeping him so comfortable. It is a strange contrast, this new life of nerves and idleness and of being criticized.

But even while writing this I think of many instances of marriages made when the man was in the late thirties, and the woman past thirty, marriages that have been not only successful, but ideal. Marriages in which the wedding of older, wiser, wiser, more finished characters has resulted in such happiness as few younger couples know. The love of a fine man is a miracle of content to a lonely woman who has sacrificed all her young years, perhaps, to the need of an old parent, or the perfecting of herself in her profession, and what the tenderness and companionship of such a woman means to a man only that man—so long an outsider to domestic joys, could say. If parenthood comes to such a pair it is what parenthood always should be, and so rarely is, a sacred responsibility, a pride and delight beyond any other that life can offer, a miracle never to be placed beside the other commonplaces of every day.

In my library is the biography of a certain Englishman of letters, a man who was never famous in his own day, but whose rare volumes are coming more and more steadily into their own. He came home from college to a household of mother and sisters; the girls married one by one, in the rather difficult fashion of girls in English country-side a hundred years ago, the mother died. The man went to London for a year; came back to books, friends, dogs, old trees, old lanes, old neighbors. At forty-two he married his Annabelle, a quiet woman of thirty-three who was keeping house for a widowed brother, and being an angel-aunt to three small boys on a nearby estate.

The story of the wedded love of these two is one of the most romantic—one of the most breath-takingly passionate, of all the books I know. Juliet, leaning at delicious eager fourteen from her balcony to whisper her forbidden love, stretching herself on her tomb, never tasted the depths of it. The letters of this essayist to his wife, during their few short separations, could not have been penned by a hundred Romeos. They had two sons and a daughter; the boys they kept, the daughter left them in her fourth year; their letters and diaries tell the story, and it is one almost too exquisite for other eyes than theirs to see.

No fine men and women can marry at any age, and find happiness in their mutual love. And men and women who aren't fine, who don't mean to be patient and self-controlled, and try to draw success from the difficult situation of early married days, ought not to marry at all! But that late marriage is different from young marriage, and demands a slightly different handling, a very decided philosophy and constant doses of saving laughter, nobody in his senses dare deny.

Apple Ancestry
All of our apples, food historians say, probably developed from the sour crab-apple of Western Asia. The colonists found the wild crab growing here when they settled along the Atlantic seaboard. Rightly assuming that the climate was ideal for the development of orchards, they imported apple seeds from England and France. From that beginning the United States has become the most important apple producing country in the world.

Bottle Holds Fortune
Golden sovereigns amounting to $1,050 were found by a farmerhand in an old pickle bottle turned up by his plow near Cattail, New South Wales, Australia. He had never seen coins like them before and he took the bottle to the farmer who employed him. "Look at these queer yellow things; what do you suppose they are?" he asked.

VILLAGE ELECTION
Notice is hereby given to the Qualified Electors of the Village of Chelsea, State of Michigan, that the next regular Village Election will be held at Sylvan Town Hall, within said Village, on

MORTGAGE SALE

Whereas, Walter J. Sutherland and Mary Sutherland, his wife, of the City of Ypsilanti, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage bearing date the fourteenth day of August, A. D. 1930, to Clark S. Wortley of the same place, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw, Michigan, on the third day of September, A. D. 1930, at 2:50 o'clock in the afternoon and recorded in Liber 191 of Mortgages on Page 296; and

Whereas, the Detroit Trust Company, acting as administrator with will annexed of the Estate of Clark S. Wortley, deceased, did make and execute an assignment of said mortgage, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, in Liber 191 of Mortgages on Page 296, bearing date the seventeenth day of February, A. D. 1932, to Mary C. Wortley McGough, Ellen C. Wortley Jones and Clark Cabray Wortley, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the twenty-fifth day of May, A. D. 1932, at four o'clock p. m., and recorded in Liber 25 of Assignments of Mortgages on Page 16; and

Whereas, the said Clark Cabray Wortley did make and execute an assignment of said mortgage, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, in Liber 191 of Mortgages on Page 296, and the assignment to the said Clark Cabray Wortley being recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, in Liber 25 of Assignments of Mortgages on Page 15, to Mary C. Wortley McGough and Ellen C. Wortley Jones, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the twenty-fifth day of May, A. D. 1932, at four o'clock p. m., and recorded in Liber 25 of Assignments on Page 576; and

Whereas, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage on the date of this notice is the sum of $4,343.00 and no suit or proceeding has been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured thereby nor any part thereof; and

Whereas default has been made in the payment of the money secured by said mortgages whereby the power of sale contained therein has become operative;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public vendue to the highest bidder at the east front door of the court house in the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, said court house being the place of holding the circuit court within the said county, on the twenty-fourth day of May, A. D. 1937, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; the description of said premises contained in said mortgage is as follows:

"All that certain piece or parcel of land, situate and being in the City of Ypsilanti, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, described as follows, to wit: Lot numbered One Hundred Thirty, Ainsworth Park Subdivision, City of Ypsilanti, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan."

The Perfect Accident

By ROBERT LEVITRE

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service.

MAXWELL JUDD raised his rifle slowly and the eye that sighted along its barrel had the cold ruthlessness of a stalking tiger's. For four days he had waited for this, and now the setting was perfect. He had heard Masters shooting over across the ravine two minutes ago. Then he saw the big buck, wounded, charging up through the sparse aspens. It was following the top of the ridge. When it fell dead its body was out of sight. Only its head showed.

That was the beautiful part, Judd saw grimly. Its head had become propped in the brush as it fell. From where he stood it appeared still alive. It seemed just a cautious deer, from its listening immobility before it ventured over the ridge. Its four-point horns were wide and unmistakable against the sky. A natural shot for a hunter, he became still as the stone he lay behind as he heard Jim Masters making his way up the far side of the ridge, coming up to his kill.

As the time for action neared Maxwell Judd felt cold drops of perspiration on his temples, knew that his determination was ebbing. Desperately he called to his mind a picture of Gloria Masters. He dwelt upon the intoxicating glamour of her, upon her physical beauty that made her so desirable. He lived again the times she had met him clandestinely, seemed to feel her once more trembling in his arms. There was only one way, Jim Masters must be put out of the picture!

It had been her idea, too, he told himself. He had to do it for her sake. "Jim will never give me a divorce," she had said, that last night he saw her. "And anyway, dear, we need his insurance money. Maybe fate is just sending you on this hunting trip. There are so many hunting accidents, you know. It would be so easy to mistake him for a deer."

Five of them from the insurance office had come down here to the Salt Creek Range for a week's hunting. Since their arrival Judd had waited patiently for this chance.

He felt himself trembling again as the head of Jim Masters appeared behind the big horns. He cradled his left hand more firmly on the stone, steadied the gun barrel. The sights settled between the spread of horns, found the hunter who stood there. Then his finger tightened; the gun barked. There must be no bungling. He worked the bolt, shot again and again.

It was such an obvious accident. Hours later, almost overcome with grief, he explained it to the other members of the party. Told them over and over how it happened. He insisted that they come with him and stand where he had been. They had to realize that it was not his fault. They looked—and understood. The deer had not been moved. They pictured the drama and realized that doubtless they would have made the same shot. Knowing this, they sympathized with him the more deeply. In their hearts they could not even accuse him of carelessness.

At late evening the sorrowing party brought their dead comrade into camp. Maxwell Judd walked behind the improvised stretcher, solemn-faced, his handkerchief constantly in his hand. Secretly he was exultant. His innocence was established beyond any doubt.

Present: Hon. George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

In this cause it appearing from the bill of complaint filed therein that the whereabouts of the said defendants and their and each of their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns are unknown, and that a summons could not be served upon any of them.

Therefore, on motion of Carl H. Stuhberg, Attorney for plaintiff, it is ordered that the appearance of the above named defendants and their and each of their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order; that in case of their appearance they cause their answer to be filed and a copy thereof served upon the Attorney for the plaintiff within fifteen days after service upon them of a copy of the bill of complaint, and in default of their appearance that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants and their and each of their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.

And it is further ordered, that the said plaintiff cause this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County; and that said publication be commenced within forty days from the date of this order and be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.

Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge.
