State Is Preparing for Highway Maintenance

Lansing—With the beginning of spring break-up on the highways expected at any time, the state highway department is making preparations to put trunkline highways in condition for summer traffic.

The department advertised this week for bids on 238,680 cubic yards of gravel for maintenance work up to July 1. The bids will be opened March 25. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said that most of the gravel ordered at this time will be used for resurfacing and patching gravel trunklines.

Contractors bidding on gravel requirements were asked to submit two bids. They will submit a price for the gravel at the pit and another price for the gravel in stock piles at the point where it will be used.

"Although gravel requirements are not larger than usual this spring, we expect the spring break-up this year will be unusually severe on many of the trunklines," Commissioner Van Wagoner said. "The lack of snow and alternate freezing and thawing typical of this season will complicate our problems when spring comes to stay."

The Commissioner said that outside of the western part of the Upper Peninsula snow plows had been used on only rare occasions. Barring unusual conditions during the remainder of the season, he indicated that winter maintenance costs for this year would be substantially lower than usual.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

A regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. Harold Guentert, and was attended by 31 members. It was decided to send under-children's books to the billet at Otter Lake. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames C. O. Bahnmiller, P. P. Belsner and H. E. Foster, and a social hour followed.

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER

Report Indicates No Action Will Be Taken on Highway

Information which has been received locally indicates that the State Highway Department is not planning any action on the matter of completing construction of US-12 highway past Chelsea, until 1989 at the earliest. A committee consisting of members of the Kiwanis club have made an effort to find out whether the Federal government or the State Highway Department is at fault for no action being taken to complete the highway and according to information coming from Washington the matter is completely up to the highway department of this state.

Correspondence with Representative Earl C. Michener resulted in receipt of a letter which was written Mr. Michener by T. H. MacDonald, Chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C. The letter, which explains the local matter completely, follows:

February 24, 1987.
Hon. Earl C. Michener,
House of Representatives.
My dear Mr. Michener:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of February 16 relating to the improvement of U. S. Highway No. 12 in Jackson and Washtenaw counties, Michigan, designated Projects Nos. 35 and 287.

Considerable progress has been made toward the improvement of the relocated portion of this highway between a point southwest of Chelsea and the city of Jackson. About $121,250 from the State's apportionment for the elimination of hazards to life at existing railroad grade crossings under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1985 was expended for constructing a grade separation project at the crossing of this new highway and the Michigan Central Railroad at a point about 2 miles southwest of Chelsea. In addition, approximately $845,800 of State and regular Federal funds apportioned to the State for the fiscal year 1987 has been expended for the construction of about 15.8 miles of concrete pavement 31 feet wide, extending in a general westerly direction from a point about 1 mile east of the above mentioned grade separation structure. Our records show that all of this work has been completed.

The complete programs of projects submitted by the State for the expenditure of its apportionment of regular Federal-aid funds for the fiscal year 1988 include an allotment of approximately $125,000 of State and Federal funds for undertaking improvements on this route just east of Jackson. However, this complete program does not list an allotment of funds for work on the section of this highway in the vicinity of Chelsea. As you know the State Highway Department is required under the existing legislation to initiate projects for construction with funds administered by this Bureau. No proposal has been received in this office from the State for undertaking work in the vicinity of Chelsea since the State indefinitely postponed action on the improvement of this part of U. S. Highway No. 12 because of protests and opposition by local citizens of Chelsea to a contemplated relocation about one mile south of the city.

Very truly yours,
Thos. H. MacDonald,
Chief of Bureau.

DEMOCRATIC TWP. CAUCUS

Notice is hereby given that a Democratic Township Caucus for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for Township Offices of the Township of Sylvan, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may properly come before it, will be held at Sylvan Town Hall, on Saturday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1987, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

By Order of Township Board.

Village Election Will Be Held Next Monday

Chelsea's annual election, which will be held next Monday, March 8, will be a very quiet affair, according to present indications. Only one ticket has been nominated, the incumbents being candidates for re-election with the exception of the three councilmen whose terms do not expire until next year, and the name of Charles J. Williams being placed on the ballot because of the withdrawal of H. B. Murphy, who does not seek re-election.

The candidates, all on the Independent ticket, are as follows:
President—Roy Harris.
Clerk—James Munro.
Treasurer—Ed. Miller.
Trustees—J. E. Weber, E. Adam, Charles J. Williams.
Assessor—Ed. Keusch.
The polls will open at 7 o'clock and close at 6 o'clock at the election on Monday.

New Auto Title Forms Are Planned By Case

Complete revision of the form of automobile titles and the mechanics of recording liens on all motor vehicles, is being studied by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, and other officials of the Department of State. A bill for presentation to the current session of the Legislature is being prepared.

The plan under consideration would completely eliminate the recording of chattel mortgages on automobiles with registers of deeds, and cause every such mortgage to be recorded only with the Secretary of State. The object of the proposed plan would be to further protect all persons owning or dealing in motor vehicles.

At present, it is pointed out, there is no formal method by which the discharge of a lien on an automobile at time of purchase, may later be recorded on the original title. A new title can be issued, but almost no automobile owners avail themselves of this possibility. Further, persons claiming to have lost their titles may at present secure new ones without original liens noted on them.

Under the proposed plan, no automobile lien would be considered valid until recorded with the Secretary of State, and no discharge of a lien would have legal standing without similar recording.

The form of motor vehicle titles would be changed so as to accommodate easily noted records of title transfers, liens and lien discharges, across the face thereof. All recordings of such data would be filed in the Department of State in the form of photostatic copies of titles.

ACKNOWLEDGE FLOOD AID

Mrs. A. L. Steger, chairman of the local Red Cross, has received the following letter from Louis E. Ayres, Chapter chairman:

"Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross gratefully acknowledges the aid of thousands of men, women and children, whose spontaneous outpourings of money, food, clothing and personal service have enabled Washtenaw County to so generously over-subscribe its quota on behalf of the flood sufferers along the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers."

Mrs. Steger reports that the Chelsea chapter sent in $705.76 in cash and five truck loads of clothing and food were collected. The total amount of cash raised in the county was $15,547.97 and 27 truck loads of clothing and bedding were sent to the sufferers.

QUAKE FELT HERE

The earthquake which was felt in five states at 9:48 Tuesday morning and which is believed to have originated at a distance of approximately 200 miles, was distinctly felt by many local residents. The tremor was especially noticeable to those occupying the upper floors of buildings. Although not nearly as severe, this quake is believed to have been similar in origin to that which was felt the morning of November 1, 1935. No damage resulting from the quake has been reported.

OBSERVE LADIES' NIGHT

Tuesday evening was observed as "Ladies' Night" by Olive Lodge, No. 156, P. & A. M., when about 65 were entertained at a pot luck supper at 6:45. Following this the new adjourned to the lodge room for their regular meeting, while cards furnished diversion for the ladies. A feature of the entertainment was a talk on "South Sea Islands" by Fred Benz of Ann Arbor, which was illustrated with moving pictures.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MILAN—"Babe", a pet spikehorn deer at the Peter Gamble place near St. Ignace comes to the house when he is hungry and looks in the window. Gamble says he always tries to have something ready for him for if he doesn't "Babe" will rap on the window with his horns or chew the window sash. The deer acts insulted if any kind of browse, favored by wild deer as food is offered him; he wants grain or clover and won't drink water unless it has milk in it.—Leader.

NORTHVILLE—A $20,000 surplus in the Northville township treasury may keep taxpayers from having to pay township taxes during the coming year. "If I am re-elected supervisor," said Willard A. Ely today, "I'll ask no money for township taxes. Last year they were $3.50 a thousand." Explaining his statement, Mr. Ely said that during the past six years the township had been paying its debts as it went along, and at the same time, saving approximately $20,000. The State, County and school tax will be levied as usual.—Record.

HOWELL—Selling a new car to a customer in Port Huron, Wm. Morden of the Morden Graham Sales company received $11 silver dollars. This customer had a safety box in a hole in his basement floor where he deposited all the silver dollars he received.—Republican-Press.

WILLIAMSTON—Beginning with next week's issue, The Williamston Review will be merged with The Williamston Enterprise, under the name of the latter publication, according to the announcement today by Wayne R. Beatty and Theo. A. Thompson, editors of the two papers respectively. This announcement follows negotiations which have been in progress for the past week and which culminated Wednesday in a final agreement. Mr. Beatty will be associate editor and advertising manager and Mr. Thompson, editor and manager.—Enterprise.

DUNDEE—Persons unknown broke into the office of the Denver Alfalfa Milling and Products Company late Saturday night or Sunday morning and removed office furnishings valued at $500. State police are investigating the theft. Among the furnishings stolen were a check protector, Burroughs Adding Machine and a Monroe Calculator. The typewriter was undisturbed and the money in the cash drawer untouched.—Reporter.

TECUMSEH—Ralph Young, 32, of Milan, suffered painful cuts and bruises when the milk truck he was driving was struck by a westbound Wabash passenger train at the south railroad crossing in Britton, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Young was removed to Bixby hospital, Adrian, where it was reported he is resting comfortably. It is believed that Young's truck was hit squarely by the speeding train and the machine was completely demolished. Milk and cans were strewn for scores of feet along the right-of-way but Young, except for a "mass of bruises" is believed to have escaped serious injury. X-ray examinations were being made, however, to determine possible bone fractures.—Herald.

BRIGHTON—Wednesday two men entered the store of Mr. and Mrs. Agner, near Lakeland and purchased a quarter's worth of oil, offering a ten dollar bill in payment. Mrs. Agner was unable to change it. From there they went across to the restaurant of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Imus. Here again they presented a ten dollar bill in payment for a small purchase. Mrs. Imus was about to accept the bill when Mr. Imus, noticing it, shook his head at her. Mr. Imus took the license number of the car and called the sheriff. The sheriff apprehended them at a store a little later and took them into custody. The bills were counterfeit.—Argus.

Very often we read about accidents that are caused by faulty brakes. We give the matter very little attention at the time and usually pass on to something else. Upon careful analysis of these accidents, you will find that nothing can be further from the truth.

Brakes do not get faulty all of a sudden. It is the process of wear and tear, hard and often unfair usage that makes them weak. The fault is not with the brakes, but with the driver.

There is usually plenty of warning when brakes begin to weaken, and when they do it is necessary to see that they are repaired or replaced at once.

After they have been tightened or relined, as the case may be, be sure that they are so adjusted that they will not burn or lock. Attend to those brakes in time!

SLIDING PARTY

Last Wednesday night found the Seniors getting out all their snow toys and sleds, eager to accept the invitation offered by Harold Harrison to come out to his house. We left school about 8:00. Upon reaching our destination we immediately put the snow into good use with sleds and sleds. Then journeying back to the house we played games after which a delicious lunch was served by our hostess, Mrs. Faulkner. We wish to thank Mrs. Faulkner for the lovely time we had this year.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Do you remember George Washington? The man that made the British run, Who had to halt at Valley Forge, Which was just as bad as a blizzard swept gorge.

Well I bet my red tie you do, And your brothers and sisters too, Yes, he was our Country's Father, But not without a lot of bother.

He led his men down many a hill, Pushing the redcoats back until They grabbed a couple handful of sky Or took the consequences and had to die.

He galloped on his big white horse, His hair a-streaming like a wild woolly Norse, And while his leaders fell left and right, He kept on going and sitting tight.

He was the first President of our land For which I have to give him my hand 'Cause his cabinet would argue and fight, While he had to listen and just sit tight.

Yes George is sure a wonderful man, With all his stripes and many a gold band, But he came from the rich so fine and nice, Brought up on rich foods instead of milk and rice.

Now he was our first President, And the first White House resident, But he refused a third term so fine, For he wished others there—wasn't he kind?

But today is the day we arrive To mark his birth date number two hundred and five, So give a cheer for good old George, The rich man hero of Valley Forge.

NOON E. B.

Spartans ..... 10
Wolverines ..... 8
All Stars ..... 7
F. F. A. ..... 6

This week's games are as follows: Monday noon: Wolverines vs. All Stars. F. F. A. vs. Spartans. Wednesday noon: Spartans vs. All Stars. F. F. A. vs. Wolverines. Friday: Wolverines vs. Spartans; F. F. A. vs. All Stars.

These games will continue every noon until the weather permits the boys to get outside and play baseball, which is not far away. The two losing teams will have to give the two winning teams a party.

WHO?

Who is the Soph basketball star Peg B. has been seeing a lot lately? Barbara S. seems to be making high bowling scores.

Who are the group of boys who have been spreading little white lies because a couple of girls threw them over?

Who's the handsome blonde who has been coming from Monroe to see our one and only M. F.?

C. S. seems to think he is quite popular. How long will it last?

Who is the cowhand Ruth W. has been dating?

Who said to B. L.: I love you because you're different?

F. F. A. BASKETBALL GAME

Thursday, Feb. 25 the Chelsea Chapter of F. F. A. went to Plymouth and met the F. F. A. there and played basketball in a belligerent style. The second team lost 8-6, the first team won 10-2.

Off the Record

Mr. Wallis (seeing cows in field): How much are those cows? Farmer: $80 a head. Mr. Wallis: How much would a whole cow be?

R. R. and H. G. seem quite absorbed in each other. Anyhow they didn't even seem to see Mr. Johnson the other night.

Paul P. must be slipping, or is it a girl? Anyway he has to stay after school every night to get his studies.

One fifth of the girls' quintet certainly has a bad case of "lovenotus" on one fourth of the boys' quartet.

Elsa B. certainly is pitching. By the way who was the farmer boy? Oh yes, the same one.

It seems that Dingle was alone after the basketball game. Oh, where, oh where was Betty F.

LET'S APPRECIATE TEACHERS! Do we appreciate our teachers? We certainly should. The time to show that you appreciate them is in class. Act courteous to them. When they ask "Pick up the paper," pick it up—don't kick it under someone else's desk. Try to get our assignments when the teacher assigns them. Don't say "Oh, I forgot," because, after all, that is a hindrance to the teacher as well as yourself. So from now on let's all work very hard and show our appreciation to our teachers.

SENIORS THANK YOU

The Seniors wish to thank each and every one that helped to make the bake sale a success.

THE SAVIOUR WITH ME

I must have the Saviour with me
For I dare not walk alone,
I must feel His presence with me,
And His arms around me thrown.

I must have the Saviour with me,
For my faith at best is weak,
He can whisper words of comfort
That no other voice can speak.

I must have the Saviour with me,
In the onward march of life,
Through the tempest and the sunshine
Through the battle and the strife.

I must have the Saviour with me,
And His eye the way must guide,
Till I reach the vale of Jordan,
Till I cross the rolling tide.

Then my soul shall feel no ill,
Let Him lead me where He will,
I will go without a murmur,
And His footsteps follow still.

—An after Easter meditation, arranged by Arthur Carlton.

Mild Winter Aids Farm Bug Pests

Wise farmers are brushing up equipment and knowledge of materials and methods to prepare for a strenuous season's battle against insect crop pests. Mild winter weather is credited with aiding the bugs to bed down comfortably in preparation for their spring and summer riddling, hibernating and chewing.

Muck farmers were warned recently by Ray Huston, entomologist at Michigan State College, that cutworms, onion maggots and onion thrips likely would be as numerous or more numerous than they were in 1936.

Orchards and general crops will find that the weather which has been kind toward muck crop pests also has aided the winter life of other insects as well, says Huston.

Flowing under debris, burning weeds and other materials badly infested with insects and making conditions as uncomfortable as possible are recommendations.

Cutworm combat, useful to home gardeners as well as truck crop and muck crop operators, is going to be an especially profitable preparation for spring planting, says Professor Huston.

Illustrations of common pests and descriptions of the bugs and their specific control treatments are found in Special Bulletin 163, "Common Pests of Field and Garden Crops," available by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Shortest Old Testament Book
Obadiah is the shortest book in the Old Testament. It means "servant of Jehova."

Veneration of the Crystal
The veneration of Crystal is very ancient. It was once called petrified ice. Ancient doctors used it as a "burning glass" to relieve pain. It reduced swellings and caused skin eruptions to disappear. In powdered form, states a writer in Pearson's London Weekly, it was mixed with water and given to cows to increase their flow of milk. Water into which crystals were dipped would cure insanity if the head were bathed in the liquid. The ancient Mexicans believed that the souls of the "dead" were imprisoned in crystals. The Indians use it in magic rites.

Kona in Hawaii
Kona is an obscure district on the southern end of the island of Hawaii. It is dominated by two immense volcanoes, Mauna Loa and Hualalai. The air is sweet with the fragrance of ripe guavas and coffee trees in bloom. Kona, the land of hanging rain and of the setting sun, was loved by the chiefs of old. In Kona people are gayer and kinder, breadfruit grows to greater sizes, flowers are brighter. At night, can be heard landshells singing in the forests and gods rustling through the coffee.

Assyrian Love Stone
The agate (there are several kinds but they are all known as agate) protected wearers against the bite of insects. Worn as a necklace by cows it assured their owners of an abundance of milk. Buried in the corner of a field it increased the harvest. The Persians believed it made the warrior victorious. It gave an Assyrian favor with his lady. It was supposed to cure diseases of the eye.

Ruins of Paestum Rival of Both Rome, Pompeii
Sixty miles from Naples stand the splendid ruins of Paestum, once the desolate center of a great malarial region, but later the rival of Rome and Pompeii in the eyes of those who go to Italy to see the glories of ancient times.

Paestum, all authorities agree, has the finest Greek architecture outside of Athens. Founded 25 centuries ago by Sybaris and a colony of Greeks, it was dedicated to the sea god Poseidon, or Neptune.

Then 21 centuries ago the great Hannibal descended with his troops on Italy, bringing in the blood of his soldiers from Spain and Africa the germ of malaria. This first infected the mosquitoes of the region and was passed on by them to the Romans.

Slowly the infiltration of this disease brought about the decay of the people, great areas became malarial and were avoided for centuries by travelers as unhealthy.

Mosquitoes and Saracens combined drove most of the inhabitants of Paestum away 1000 years ago and during succeeding centuries the old temples, autumn-tinted with age were denuded by pillagers. It is possible to find some of the stones built into churches of the vicinity, especially at Salerno and Amalfi.

All of the great city of Neptune that exists consists of three temples; the small temple to Ceres, the goddess of the harvest; the large temple of Neptune and the Basilika, the oldest of the three.

Crown of Mary, Queen of Scots, Long Hidden

The crown which Mary, Queen of Scots, wore is one of the great attractions of Edinburgh castle. Now exhibited to the public, it was once believed lost along with the other regalia of Scotland and was at various times concealed in Dunnotar castle, buried in a garden, and then kept under lock and key for over a century.

When Cromwell was in power in England the Scots feared that the crown, believed to have been worn first by Robert the Bruce, and the regalia, consisting among other things of the sword of state and the mace of the Royal Treasurer, would be destroyed. They spirited the pieces away to Dunnotar castle and later when it was besieged, the wife of a parish minister buried the articles in her garden.

At last the regalia were returned to Edinburgh castle, but kept behind barred doors and windows in the Crown room because it was feared that the sight of the pieces might rouse a rebellion. For over a hundred years they lay in an oaken chest, unseen by anyone. In 1817, however, the novelist Sir Walter Scott persuaded the authorities to let him open the chest, and to the great rejoicing of the Scots, the regalia were found intact and later put on exhibition.

Influenza, Ancient Malady
The Italians invented the term influenza, meaning "influence," in the Seventeenth century, and attributed the disease to the influence of certain planets, according to a writer in the Literary Digest. The disease itself has been recognized as catastrophic since 1323, and a plague in 412 B.C., described by Hippocrates, is supposed to have been influenza. The disease has swept Europe, Asia, and Africa many times, and is thought to have reached America first in 1557. In President Jackson's day, his opponents called the disease, "Jackson's itch," and Tyler's opponents called it the "Tyler grippe." Russians call it Chinese catarrh; Germans call it the Russian pest; Italians refer to it as the German disease, and the French call it Italian fever or Spanish catarrh.

Leopard Fiercer Than Lion
The leopard is even fiercer and more bloodthirsty than the lion or tiger. Some leopards are black, others spotted. The same family may contain a spotted and black club at the same time. Leopards prey upon almost any animal and have a special liking for dogs. They frequently attack human beings in India, especially children and old women. The leopard is known as a treacherous beast, yet it has lived as a domestic pet.

Changed Color for Danger
A good Topaz is rare. The best ones came no doubt from the old rings and crosses of the Russians, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. The ancients believed that this stone had the power to free the mind from envious thoughts and from hatred; and to cure diseases of the liver and dropsy. It was also a birth charm said to secure painless labor. The Greeks said it changed color at the approach of danger.

Fordham University
Fordham university, New York City, began at St. John's college, being founded by Archbishop Hughes on the old Rose Hill farm at Fordham, and formally opened June 24, 1841. On April 10, 1846, the New York legislature passed an act of incorporation which granted the college the power to confer such literary honors, degrees or diplomas as are usually granted by any university, college or seminary of learning in the United States.

Monkey-Wrench
It is supposed that the word monkey in monkey-wrench is a corruption of the proper name Moncke (pronounced Mun-ke). There is a tradition that wrenches with moving jaws adjustable by a screw were first made by a London blacksmith named Charles Moncke and that the implements were originally called Moncke wrenches. Owing to popular uncertainty as to the origin of the word, it was naturally corrupted into "monkey," which was pronounced nearly the same.

Rice in Japan
Japan produces about 4,000 different kinds of rice. The best rice in the world is raised in Peru, but it is so expensive native Peruvians cannot afford to eat it. Instead, they import Chinese rice, which is cheaper. In parts of China, rice cakes are used as soap.

Fine Time Now To Start Garden Plans

Most any time this winter is a good time to do a little extra gardening for the sake of the 1937 crop of flowers or vegetables.

It might seem there is nothing that could be done now that would help, but extension specialists in horticulture at Michigan State College merely ask, "Do you remember some of the troubles of previous years with insects, diseases and dry weather?"

If snow does not cover the garden plot, here are a few things that are in order. Good gardeners may have taken care of some of them last fall after the first frosts.

Tops of the dead annuals should be cleaned up and burned or better still if the ground permits, roots and tops as well should go into the garden bonfire. That might be a good time to burn up the discarded Christmas tree if it is still getting kicked around the yard.

Weeds, of course, are good bonfire material, as they may be harboring insects as well as carrying part of their 1936 seed crop ready to make hoeing more of a job this year.

Other jobs that will add to the productivity, whether flowers or eatables, include the addition of organic matter to the soil. Many garden plots in Michigan are yawning for a top-dressing of manure. Plant food is added when it is plowed under, and the soil is better able to breathe if it is heavy, or to hold moisture if it is inclined to be a light soil.

And if it is snowing, or evening comes before the garden is well started for the year, then there are the seed catalogs. If they aren't lying around the house by now, seed houses have them for distribution.

When One Is Drowning
The belief that a drowning person rises to the surface three times before dying is very widely held. Even Shakespeare apparently accepted it (Twelfth Night, I., v., 130). Accounts of witnesses, however, reveal the fact that some people, when drowning, have risen to the surface many times before finally disappearing while other persons have drowned by one submersion, and never came to the surface at all. No rule can be made regarding the number of times a body may or may not come to the surface.

WHY DO WE LET THEM GET AWAY WITH IT?

I can imagine the boy swagging about with a bitter smile on his young face as his awed mates praise him for his courage in saying what he believes.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
COLLEGE boy of twenty had an article published in a magazine the other day. Probably a good many of his elders read it with concern, troubled, helpless before its youthful bitterness, as middle-age so often is before the challenges of youth. The article caused no especial sensation, because it only said what we all know that the rising generation is saying, or rather shouting and babbling and screaming at us all the time.

Reading it, I wondered if the old days of fogging youngsters had been wholly mistaken, after all. Not that there is any answer in a fogging. Martyrs have been fogged, and their causes have lived on. But these boys and girls of ours who chatter so glibly of communism and socialism, who are so sure that every other country in the world is smarter than their own, who attack their Constitution, their national ideals, their parents and society in general so mercilessly have no cause. They are simply undisciplined children who weren't properly trained in their nursery days, who weren't told to keep their young mouths shut, and mind their manners, and obey their elders, and do their duty.

Life has been made too smooth for them; learning has been substituted for character development; their absurdities have been permitted to develop until their most ridiculous opinion is received with respect. No magazine ought ever to have published this article. The magazine, to be sure, explains that this is to show us elders what the youngsters are thinking. But as a matter of fact the youngsters aren't thinking that way at all, or any way at all. They are restless adolescents, as we were thirty years ago; they love the sound of their own voices, and it excites them to find fault with their world.

"We of my age were born in the darkest hour of so-called civilization," says the boy who wrote the article, sternly and darkly. "We have been cheated of the birthright of intelligent human beings and we know it. From those who went before us from the stupid, time-serving, fanatic flag-wavers whose hallucinations formed our first ideas, we will some day take our bitter toll. Graft, corruption, greed, cupidity, the glorification of might and the repression of man's rights, these are all we see about us. We are given no standards, no clues in the darkness of the world's decay."

We... we... There is a great deal of it. I've printed pages. And I can imagine the boy, for I know such boys, swagging about with a bitter smile on his young face as his awed mates praise him for his courage in saying what he believes.

His mother, alarmed but admiring, sent me the article, with a despairing letter. She said "I used to be a schoolmarm years ago, and I know something of her prosperous life in an eastern city, and of the boy's background."

"How have we failed the children?" she writes, on her handsome monogrammed paper with its ultra-smart address. "For the awful part of this is that boys and girls seem to be feeling it everywhere! And one feels that they must be right."

Well, DOES one feel that they must be right? I, for one, not only feel that they must be and are entirely wrong, but I feel that we, their elders, are somehow entirely wrong, too, in letting them get so far as to express this sort of adolescent folly.

Three years of intensive study of America, with travel trips and films and radio programs and books and poems and programs to illustrate the glorious, the unique, the significant history of this country. Then two years of study of other countries, and especially of the corresponding years to their own in other countries. Two years in which they might see just what the problems of youth are in some of the revolutionary centers they so fondly—and yet so abstractly—admire, would be my five-year plan for America's youth.

The boy who wrote the article, for example, his grandfather was a master plumber, the ambitious oldest son of a laborer. He got into the beginning of the motor car industry about thirty-five years ago, and presently established a little factory for the making of one small detail among the many that go to the completion of cars. He prospered, and his son, this boy's father, inherited the factory, and is rich. The boy has had country summers, medical care, has had his teeth straightened, was sent to fine schools, finally found himself at this fine college. His people, note, were typical American people up to this point. His mother's father was a country doctor; her grandfather, an auctioneer. They all loved the flag under which they had lived happy and protected lives; the men fighting duty in 1775 and 1895, 1898 and 1917 to protect that flag; the women protesting, swearing that there should not be more wars, falling in line to help when the hungry and the wounded needed them.

Where did the boy get the half-cooked poisonous virus that has saturated his poor little half-cooked mind now? Who TOLD him that Russia had a better theory of social and political action than he could have under that unparalleled, that astounding and revolutionary and magnificent document we call our Declaration of Independence? Where does he see youth happier, freer, more favored than his own youth? What boys have more privilege than he? Don't the words political, social, religious freedom, freedom of speech, freedom of movement and thought, mean ANYTHING to him? Does he, for all his enthusiasms, know so little of Russia, of communist and socialist organization in general, as to suppose he will find greater liberty anywhere on the earth?

Human race is faulty race. Great governments make great mistakes. Corruption WILL creep in, no matter how honest a great proportion of our public servants. America and her mother country, England, are freer from it than any of the other great powers; and yet their records show that even the greatest of their rulers had their weaknesses, fell into serious errors. That doesn't dim the glory.

That doesn't mean that ANY name in all the list of great names of all time has yet come even within the shadow of our great names: Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln. Do we live up to their ideals, are we worthy of them? We do not, we are not. We don't live up to our personal ideals, much less our national ones. We've NEVER, calling ourselves a Christian civilization, for one single day remembered the simple commands of the Sermon on the Mount. No country, as a country, has ever forgiven its enemies, or attempted to do good to them that hated it, or loved them that despitely used it. Never, not even in the comparatively simple medieval days, did any great Christian ruler say: "Let us forgive them. Let us give them twice the domains they demand of us. Let us remind them of the one divine rule; that it is by brotherly love we are to be known as His disciples."

Never! The whole history of the world would be changed if they had. They fought, tortured, imprisoned, hated; they burned cities and murdered babies. It is only by slow and painful degrees that the world grows kinder, begins to see that Law is policy as well as goodness. The boy who wrote the essay apparently feels sure that if other men, with other ideas, were to be violently put into power, all our ills would be cured. What makes him think that they would be different from all the men who have ever held reins, all the men who have ever abused authority, enriched themselves, substituted new abuses for old?

If our boy would resolve to be silent for a year, and in that year to consider the tremendous opportunities given him under his own Constitution, if he would turn to the service, rather than the abuse of his country, if he would fit himself for honest public service, in politics or social work, it would be the beginning of a new America, as wonderful as was that other beginning under our first great American.

A Way We Know Not

We are led on like little children by a way that we know not. It is a vain thought to flee from the work that God appoints us, for the sake of finding a greater blessing to our souls; as if we could choose for ourselves where we shall find the fullness of the Divine presence; instead of seeking it where alone it is to be found, in loving obedience.—George Eliot.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Will you please answer what country owns the islands of Sumatra, Java and Borneo?
Ans.—These islands are owned by The Netherlands.

Ques.—I once read about a pitcher in a game of baseball who struck out four men in one inning. How was that possible?
Ans.—It could happen this way: The third man to strike out reaches first base on an error (probably by the catcher or first baseman). Then the fourth man strikes out, making three out. The scoring will show the pitcher credited with four strikeouts.

Ques.—What is the meaning of the word "Kismet"?
Ans.—Kismet is an Arabic word meaning "fate." Mohammed used the word in preaching the Koran, the Mohammedan "Bible," and who propounded the doctrine that a man's every action was predestined (fate).

Ques.—What are the nicknames of Pennsylvania and Oklahoma?
Ans.—Pennsylvania is the "Keystone State," and Oklahoma "Sooner State."

Ques.—What became of the Germans "Big Bertha" gun which was used in the World War? Also why was it so named?
Ans.—There were three "big Bertha" guns used by the Germans, and they were withdrawn when the German army began its final retreat. When the armistice was signed, all three were dismantled and destroyed. The base at Essen was destroyed under the direction of the Allied military control commission in 1925. Big Bertha was named after Bertha Krupp who owned the gun works at Essen, Germany, where the three big guns were built. Incidentally they were built and used to shell Paris, having a range of seventy-five miles.

Ques.—Can you answer in your good paper just how many a "few" is?
Ans.—It has long been a matter of dispute as to the exact number covered by the indefinite word "few." The quantity of "few" and "many" should be measured by comparison. For instance, it may be many miles from New York to Los Angeles, Cal., 3,000 miles; but from New York to Philadelphia is only a few miles (by comparison), being only 90 miles.

Ques.—What are the seven wonders of the ancient world?
Ans.—The seven wonders of the ancient world are: Pyramids of Egypt, Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Temple of Diana, Statue of Zeus, Tomb of Mausolus, Pharos (light-house), and the Colossus of Rhodes. These are most generally recognized, but they are disputed by some historians.

Ques.—Does the President of the United States pay taxes?
Ans.—Yes. He pays taxes on personal and real property, as well as on all incomes except on the income as President of the United States. This alone is exempt from taxes.

Ques.—Does grain that appears in a perfect state of preservation and found in ancient tombs ever grow?
Ans.—No. This belief owes its origin to the fact that tourists and antique collectors would eagerly buy them when told they would grow. The fact is, the life in seeds, grains, etc., slowly die. None has ever been known to germinate after 35 years.

Ques.—Is it possible that an Indian could become President of the United States?
Ans.—This circumstance has never been tested, and would probably have to be decided by the courts. Most Indians were made citizens by act of Congress, and the Constitution provides that the President "must be an American-born citizen." Therefore Indian children born of citizen Indian parents would be eligible to become a candidate for president.

Ques.—Is it a fact that there are a million Odd Fellows in the world?
Ans.—Yes—and then some. While late statistics are not available, it is safe to say that at the present time there are 2,500,000 Odd Fellows in the world.

Ques.—I wish to ask you what is sneeze?
Ans.—"Sneeze" is the English name for what is known as cottage cheese. This name is derived from the German schmierkase—schmier (gruase) and kase (cheese).

Barbados, "Little England"
Barbados frequently is termed "Little England" by the white population, but the colored people, locally known as "Bimbas," call it "Bimshawland." So much does the native love his country that every day he prays that when he dies heaven will be another Bimshawland.

Castile of Ancient Spain
Castile was a kingdom of ancient Spain. Castilian, the language of Castile, is the literary language of modern Spain and, with modifications, of Spanish America. The province comprising Castile are New Castile, Aragon, Estremadura and Leon in Spain.

PRIME ELECTRIC FENCE

—offers such an enormous saving in fencing and is so utterly satisfactory that our owners' list reads like "Who's Who in Farming."
These owners will agree that no intelligent operator of a farm can ignore this device if they are in the business for profit. To get along without this device is as inefficient as trying to cut wheat with a jack-knife!
Our new models are absolutely safe and are endorsed by the Michigan State College and by your power company. They will function perfectly in driest weather or on frozen ground. The power line is not required. They are powerful enough to fence any animal, including sheep. Will handle 15 miles of fence.
