Spring Election Will Be Held Next Monday

Candidates, both local and state, who are seeking election at the polls next Monday, April 5 are campaigning vigorously during the present week. The election apparently is attracting considerable interest in Sylvan township and most of the candidates are working hard during the last few days of the campaign. Complete tickets have been nominated by both Democrats and Republicans.

Because of the fact that the majority of votes cast for Secretary of State at the last election were Democratic that ticket will occupy the first column on the ballot this year, the first time in several years.

In addition to voting for township officers at the election next Monday, there are a number of state offices to be filled, as follows: Justices of the Supreme Court; Regents of the University of Michigan; Superintendent of Public Instruction; State Highway Commissioner; member of the State Board of Education; members of the State Board of Agriculture.

The Waterloo Project

By Frank R. Coburn
Acting Project Manager
National Park Service

Among our most priceless possessions in the future, when the congestion of the ever increasing population has changed everything, will be the State Park, the National Park, and the Organized Camp. The State Parks may be regarded as parks owned and administered by the several states. A National Park is any county or regional park or general recreational area that state authorities have agreed to develop with the cooperation of the National Park Service whether or not state funds are contributed to such park projects. Organized camps such as Mill Lake Camp and Cassidy Lake Camps, which are being developed are in themselves corporate entities and assume full responsibility for the camp. The Waterloo Project is to be eventually a combination of all three phases of park development.

Since organized camps are something new and many readers may not know what they are all about, an endeavor will be made to give a brief explanation of their significance and meaning. Each camp is made up of groups of permanent buildings. These groups consist of an administrative building comprising an administration building, mess hall, kitchen, laundry, infirmary, craft shop, museum and latrine. Groups of cabins with a latrine and wash house are grouped about the administration center to provide sleeping and living quarters for the persons who may occupy the camp. These cabin groups may be composed of from four to six cabins, housing four to ten people each.

The main purpose of an organized camp is to educate children to live comfortably and interestingly out of doors. With increased use of parks and camps as recreational areas, we are thus developing in the children an appreciation for the proper use of parks and developing a better class of park users for tomorrow. Because of the low cost per camper they offer, organized camps make it possible for

Unfinished Portion of US-12 To Be Relocated

During the past week two right-of-way men from the State Highway Department have been in this vicinity, going over the route of the proposed relocation of US-12 highway. This route is for the unfinished portion of the road past Chelsea. According to information revealed to farmers along the route of relocation it is planned by the department to start buying right-of-way property in the near future and that grading work will be done this year.

Residents of Chelsea, as well as many of the farmers through whose land the new highway would pass, have fought to keep the highway in its present location. However, if the purchase of right-of-way for the relocation is being contemplated for the near future it is taken for granted that the State Highway Department has definitely decided to establish the new route.

To the Voters of Sylvan Township!

We are taking this method of asking the voters of Sylvan township for their support of the Democratic ticket at the April 5th State and Township election.

We feel that the personnel on this ticket is such that it is deserving of your support and if your support elects them to office they will administer a clean-cut and efficient service to the benefit of the community they are serving.

We are going so far again as to ask you to vote a straight Democratic ticket and feel that you too have performed a service to your community.

(Signed)
Sylvan Township Democratic Committee.

Annual Report of the Chelsea Public Library

The Library Board of the Chelsea Public Library is happy to report a very successful year.

During the past year the library has been open 151 two-hour periods, and has loaned 10,808 books to registered patrons—6,761 to adults and 4,044 to children. This number, compared with libraries of similar standing is unusually large. The total number of books loaned since the library was organized five years ago, February 24, 1932, is 51,524.

In order to simplify library management and to handle the added work a librarian has been engaged to be present at all library periods. It is necessary to have two workers in the library at all periods. Consequently a group of volunteers work at scheduled times. Those who have worked in this capacity the past year are: Mrs. A. Wilkinson, Mrs. W. Daniels, Mrs. A. Palmer, Mrs. C. Platt, Mrs. S. Schenk, Mrs. D. Riker, Mrs. E. Eaton, Mrs. K. Walworth, Mrs. J. Miller.

Other volunteer workers are: Filing and typing: Mrs. Geo. Sidwell, Mrs. M. Longworth; cataloging: Mrs. M. McGaffigan, Mrs. P. Boehm; Mrs. B. Plankell, Mrs. L. Palmer; purchasing books: Mrs. E. Eaton; record keeping: Mrs. G. Walworth, Mrs. P. Schaible; loaning of state books and all other correspondence: Mrs. Geo. Walworth.

Because our library is small in comparison with most libraries it is practically impossible to invest in reference material to satisfy the many demands of its patrons. Such requests are fulfilled by sending to the state library at Lansing. The material may be obtained for a period of two weeks for the payment of postage by the recipient. Requests also are made for material from the Bureau of Publications at Washington, D. C. This service has been greatly increased during the past year and requires considerable time outside of the library periods.

Through the cooperation of the WPA it has been possible to engage Mrs. Susie Hulce to mend books and help with library housekeeping. By means of this service more than 500 books have been mended.

Due to the generosity of the Chelsea State Bank no expenditures have been necessary for building and maintenance which is usually the largest item of expense for most libraries. Until this year work has been spent for permanent up-to-date equipment. This included seven sectional book shelves, a round reading table, twelve chairs for children, a storage cupboard, a card index cabinet, and material and labor for refinishing floors.

The library has been able to purchase 325 new books. There have been 106 donated by patrons and friends. The total number of books now on the shelves is 2,506.

The complete financial statement for the year Mar. 1, 1936 to Mar. 1, 1937 is as follows:

Receipts—
Bal. Mar. 1, 1936	$146.44
From Library	70.00
From Village of Chelsea	300.00
From Sylvan Township	75.00
	$591.44

Expenses—
Books	$254.74
Salary for Librarian	100.00
Equipment and repairs	111.34
Stationery supplies	15.83
Book repairs	48.75
Account charges	1.02
	$526.68

The library officials and patrons sincerely thank the Village Council, Township Board, and Board of Directors of Chelsea State Bank for their participation in making the Chelsea Public Library an established institution and enlist their cooperation and support in making 1937 an even better year.

—Library Board.

them to enjoy the privileges which otherwise would be denied them.
These camps are leased by organizations, which provide reduced rates by paying the cost of maintaining the facilities and making them available at costs many children can afford. The various organizations who are interested in leasing organized camps include Insurance Societies, Schools, City Recreation Departments, Kiwanis Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Church Organizations and so forth.The location of the camp as a whole is controlled by many very important factors. Privacy and isolation rank first; next to privacy they require safe and adequate water and sanitary facilities. A lake or pond is almost as necessary as the above fundamental services. Other desirabilities are good views, interesting topography, varied nature study facilities, and accessibility to good roads. The administration group is located so as to be about in the center of the camp and easily accessible from all parts of the grounds. It is to be screened by plantings of shrubs and trees to increase the privacy of the group. Due consideration is given, however, to the fact that sunlight and air drainage
are necessary for sanitary and esthetic purposes.The definite locations of any camps
developed on the Waterloo Project have been decided upon only after much study and consideration of all the principles involved in camp layout design. Some of the principles have been mentioned above, such as privacy, isolation, accessibility to roads and so forth, but other things to take into consideration are weather conditions over several seasons, insect pests, poisonous plants and reptiles, proximity of swamp lands and drainage conditions.In some cases it may be desirable to change the location of a road to insure privacy and yet have accessibility to a certain camp. In laying out a road of this type or an entrance road to a camp or public use area several important factors must be considered. The topography here, as in locating state highways, plays an important part. The views must be interesting, the curves smooth and flowing and the fills and cuts must be minimized. After the road is built by the engineering department the landscape architect steps in to see that the cuts and fills blend and disappear into the surrounding landscape. The roadside is then ready for planting.The natural type of planting found on our small country roads is the best to imitate. This style consists of masses of native trees, shrubs, flowers and grasses arranged to look as if they had naturally grown there. This is the style of planting advocated by the National Park Service and carried on throughout the area. After planting several thousand trees and shrubs people have made the statement that they cannot see what we have done along the landscape line. We consider this a compliment for then we feel that we have successfully imitated nature.More detailed information concerning the work of the Waterloo Project will appear in future articles.PERSONALSM. J. Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. L.

Lights "Duck" when the toaster is turned on as a result of "hooking" outlets onto the circuits for floor lamps, radios, refrigerators and other electrical appliances. Yesterday's wiring is obviously inadequate for today's needs!

The more lights and appliances being operated from the same line, the less current each light or appliance receives. The longer the wire, the greater is the loss due to friction. These facts are easily proved, of having the lights grow dimmer when the refrigerator starts to operate or when a heating appliance is turned on.

Stop, Thief!

Vanishing Seasons

Vanishing seasons! Like time and tide they wait for no man. The wheels of life roll on, gathering speed and making strides that bring progress. One day is a pointer to another—months add to years—and changes become the important flash before us. We awaken to new activities and—time rolls on. Soon the past will hold the silent (?) classes of '37, and '38 and '39 will fit into the conglomerated picture, racing by and leaving their noise in a trail of forgotten realism.

Description

I'm thinking of a boy with light brown hair, brown sparkling eyes. In the fall he participated in football, and is on his way to stardom there. He is a good-old Sophomore, and is very active in class activities. He adds a lot of mischief and fun to his classes. This person is quite intelligent and isn't afraid to take his card home to mother. He rides home from school with a friend who also is a Sophomore. Can you guess who this is? Look for the answer next week.

—The Bee.

Off the Record

Howard H.: I heard you stayed home alone last night. Did anything happen?

John F.: Not until about 12 o'clock when a ghost came through the wall as if there was no wall there.

Howard: What did you do?

John: I went through the other wall the same way.

Paserby (to small Negro boy painting fence): I say, why don't you use a wider brush? You could do twice as much work if you did.

Negro boy: 'Cause I ain't got twice as much work to do, das why.

Chet was busily engaged with a spade in the mud beside his car when Ted hailed him. "Stuck in the mud?" he asked. "Oh no," replied Chet cheerily, "my engine died here and I'm digging a grave for it."

While two students were eating lunch the first helped himself to the larger banana.

"Fine manners you have," said the second. "I had reached first I would have taken the smaller one."

"Well," replied the first, "you got it, didn't you?"

Advice to Lovelorn

Dear Aunt Hilaria Cleopatra Solomon:

What will I do? My boy friend is an old arab and he insists on spending so much money on me one night that he hasn't any left for the next. I like him but sometimes I'd like to knock his block off. Will you please tell me how to do it without getting the worst end of the deal. Should I make him crawl or what?

—Hard Hearted Hattie.

Dear Hattie:

We suggest that you get a fill-in on the nights when he runs out of money. (Two-time him). Then too, you might have him give you the money, when you start out, so you can spend it as you see fit. He might as well get used to this, latter plan first as last.

Lovingly,
Aunt Hilaria Solomon.

In our Citizenship class on Wednesday some of the qualities of good citizenship were again discussed for some time, after which a vote, by ballot, was taken to decide who scored highest in each quality discussed. This resulted in Esther Riemenschneider receiving highest score for fair-play; Elaine Schmidt for honesty and truthfulness; William Langowski for effort and Robert Eaton, Eleanor Harper and Elaine Schmidt all received the same number of votes for courtesy.

Our chart on Self Control will soon be finished. Joyce Foster is doing the work. We are all anxious to see who holds highest place—and fearful lest we are.

Douglas' tomato larvae turned into a chrysalis and then turned into a moth. The place where it was kept was dry and it should have been damp so the wings are crippled.

Feared Halley's Comet.
The fear which Halley's comet inspired in 1066, as being connected with the Norman conquest, has never died. Its subsequent appearance in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries struck terror into all the nations of Europe, and in 1219 it presaged disaster for the Titanic, which was then on the stocks. Or so said the superstitious—after the event.—Answers Magazine.

Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness; not in chambering and wantonness; not in strife and envying. . . . Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13.

A Testimony In Verse, by Arthur Carlton

Since Jesus came into this heart of mine and turned my darkness to day
The heavy load that crushed me down
Is lifted and rolled away;

That I once loved no longer desire,
everything in new beauty I see,
O Jesus my Saviour, I can't understand
why you are so precious to me.

The spirit of truth which the Father hath sent, enchaineth faith's vision
to me,

While views which are taken through Calvary's love by Beulah's clear light I now see;

This blessed salvation no power can give, save Christ, the Redeemer
from sin.

No modern made theory of Science,
so called, can give such assurance within.

Soon—soon—I shall come to the River's Meek shore, where body and spirit must part;

Will it be with a glad rejoicing I go,
or like taking a leap in the dark.

O star of the morning, blest Saviour of men, my allegiance is sealed with thy blood;

MASON—Ernest I. Dail, president and general manager of the Dall Steel Products company of Lansing, has purchased the old J. B. Thorburn Hogsback farm which for years was one of the show places of Ingham county. The old house stood on the north end of the Hogsback between Holt and Mason and commanded a view of the countryside. The house was destroyed by fire several years ago. A new house was built but that will be moved to another location and a big house erected on the original home-site by the owner. East of the Hogsback the Thorburn acres include some of the best land in Delhi township. In early days the Thorburn farm was one of the biggest stock farms in the county and the buildings were among the finest. The big barns still stand.—County News.

FRANCISCO

Word was received here last week of the death of Herman Kalmbach of Dearborn, following an illness of seven months.

Mr. Kalmbach was born in Francisco, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kalmbach, Mrs. Kalmbach being Miss Bertha Benter before her marriage.

His early manhood was spent in Francisco, and was for several years a most congenial merchant. About 35 years ago he sold his business and moved with his wife, who was Miss Ida Kaiser, to Dearborn where he shortly became associated with Henry Ford in the banking business. When Mr. Ford resigned as president of the bank, Mr. Kalmbach succeeded as president, which office he held until the bank became a branch of the Manufacturers' State bank, at which time Mr. Kalmbach became bank president. This responsible office he held until poor health forced him to resign. His wife, Ida, died in 1919. In 1923 he was united in marriage with Miss Annette Lardie, who survives. Other survivors are his brothers, Fred of North Baltimore, Ohio; John of Castle Rock, Oregon; William of South Lyon, Mich.; Louis of Detroit, Irving and Walter of Francisco, Max of Lyon; one sister, Mrs. Oscar Kalmbach of Sylvan; and his aged mother, Mrs. Emma Kalmbach, who 63 years ago became the wife of Michael Kalmbach, to mother and rear with motherly love and devotion five boys who had been bereft of a mother by death.

Had Mr. Kalmbach lived until May, he would have been 71 years of age. The funeral was held Friday at his home in Dearborn, with burial in Grand Lawn cemetery there.

About noon Friday fire destroyed the fine tenant house on Edmund Robinson's farm. It is thought sparks on the roof were the cause. The fire department responded and at one time it was thought the fire was under control, but a fresh gust of flames broke out and the structure was a complete loss. Part of the household goods of Mr. and Mrs. Young, who occupied the place, were saved.

Reuben Keeler remains in about the same condition. Mr. and Mrs. John Helle are much improved in health, and are able to be about again. Mrs. Roy Wyckoff of Jackson is still with them, however. Mrs. Carrie Benter and family spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Esch of Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Frey and children of Detroit were callers Friday at the Cadwells, on their way to Parma to spend the weekend. They also called Sunday to spend a few hours on their return to Detroit.

The high school pupils attending from here are enjoying a week of vacation. A fine Easter program was given at Salem M. E. church Sunday morning by the pupils of the Sunday school, and in the evening the members of the W. F. M. S. gave an Easter play "The Power and the Glory," which was well rendered and much appreciated by the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gardner entertained their brother, Kinless Gardner and their sister, Mrs. C. L. Reeves and husband of Toledo, Ohio, Sunday. Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sager were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weber, Mrs. Wm. Cummings, Ralph Weber, Dora Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sager of Jackson.

Brought Own Table Teah. Gentlemen in Anglo-Saxon days brought their own knives with them to table.
