Congregationalists Fete New Minister

A church full of people gathered to honor Rev. Ray W. Barber, the new pastor of the First Congregational church, and his family, at the recognition service and reception held last Thursday evening.

The program of the evening was in two parts. The recognition service was arranged by the local church in conjunction with the Jackson Association of Congregational churches. This was a formal church rite, inducting the minister into office, and charging both the pastor and the church with their official obligations. A deeply spiritual tone characterized the services, which was divided into three sections, the worship, words of welcome from the church officers and the local churches, and the induction rites performed by the visiting clergymen.

After the religious program, an informal reception was held in the church parlors in order that all present might greet the new minister and his family, which consists of four at present, the two older children being at the University of Illinois. After the handshaking and well-wishing, the group moved to the church dining room, where refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the Women's Guild.

Visiting ministers included Rev. Percy Dawe, Conference Missionary, who preached the sermon of the occasion on the subject, "The Faithfulness of the Cross." Rev. Wm. H. Skentlebury, pastor at Clinton, gave the charge to the church; Rev. Jesse E. Sables, minister at Moroni, presented the charge to the new pastor; and Rev. Harvey C. Colburn, for many years minister at Ypsilanti, gave the right hand of fellowship and offered the fellowship prayer. Other visiting ministers having part in the service were Rev. Arden S. Johnson of Dexter, Moderator of the Association and of the recognition service, Rev. Lucia M. Stroh of Salem, Rev. Hubert N. Dukas of Jackson, and Rev. Fred D. Mumby, pastor of the local Methodist church. Nearly all the ministers were accompanied by their wives. Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Grabowski also honored the occasion with their presence.

Those of the local church taking part were: D. E. Beach, Frank E. Storms, Mrs. Otto Luck, Mrs. Edwin Eaton, Henry C. Schneider, and Janet Haselswerdt, speaking words of welcome from the Trustees, Deacons, Women's Guild, Church school, men of the church, and the Pilgrim Fellowship of young people.

Music was furnished by Wallace Whiting of Ypsilanti, soloist of the occasion, and the Chelsea high school quintet, singing two numbers under the direction of Miss Lucile Boongaard. Miss Nina Belle Wurster was at the organ, and the regular choir of the church led the worship.

High School Band Will Play at Festival

With plans for uniforming moving rapidly forward, the Chelsea high school band is preparing for its part in the festival to be held in Belleville next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The program for the day includes rehearsal in the afternoon, followed by a parade of the massed bands, and topped in the evening by a concert featuring both select and massed bands. The concert will be composed of a widely varied group of band selections in addition to special work by smaller ensembles.

People of Chelsea and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the evening performance, which begins at 8:00 o'clock, and for which no admission will be charged.

Anyone having uniforms used by the former Chelsea band, and wishing to aid the present band by selling the capes and caps, should contact Mr. Harper, Mr. Burg or Mr. Hargreaves immediately. Members of the Band and Orchestra Parents' Association who have not reported on those uniforms which they were to secure are asked to do so at once.

Further details will be announced next week with regard to the home concert of the Chelsea high school band and orchestra, which will be held in the gymnasium on Tuesday, May 11.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PARTY

The Epworth League of the Methodist church held a party Saturday night, April 24 in the church dining room. The entertainment was under the direction of the new fourth vice-president, Stanley Osterland, after which lunch was served by the committee, Marian Allen acting as chairman and E. Jane Alexander as assistant chairman. Mildred Ousley of Detroit was an out of town guest. An enjoyable time was had by those who attended.

SELECT VALEDICTORIAN

Paul Pielmeier has been named Valedictorian, and Marian Ashraf will be Salutatorian of the Class of '37, Chelsea high school, at the graduation exercises to be held in June.

The Waterloo Project

By Frank R. Coburn
Acting Project Manager
National Park Service
Geology

Previous articles have dealt with the general, landscape, architectural, and engineering phases. This one will give a brief discussion of the geological aspects of the area. Geologically the Waterloo Project is very interesting. It is located in Jackson and Washtenaw Counties. Within this area is the junction of the Kalamazoo and Mississinewa moraine systems formed by the Saginaw lobe of the late Wisconsin glacier. As we all know, the glacier gave to Michigan the interesting topography which makes it so attractive for the tourist and nature student. Waterloo area is in a zone of moraines and outwash plains and the topography alternates between rolling moraines and pitted outwash plains. Lakes, swamps, and marshes are seen everywhere.

The ice sheet which covered this area melted and receded northward. This fact is proven by the bearing of the series of hills lying in an east and west direction throughout this section of the state. When the ice melted, it freed the sand, gravel, etc., which it held and this debris was carried out in the water at the edge of the ice and deposited. Sometimes the ice receded slowly and uniformly leaving even deposits or outwash plains. At other times the ice stayed stationary, that is, it melted as rapidly as it came down leaving concentrated deposits forming hills. Some of the hills are formed by the resistant nature of the rock forming the hill. If the hill is composed of rock or heavy clay, it was not moved bodily by the ice as sand might be but given a streamlined appearance by passing under the hand of the sculptor, ice. Again the ice sheet might have pushed the soil before it and then receded rapidly, leaving a ridge which was washed out in certain places, leaving hills and knolls.

The predominating types of soil found here are: Rife sand on the immediate shore line of Sugarloaf, Mill, Cedar, and Portage lakes and lying back of a border of Bellefontaine sandy loam about Cavanaugh Lake. Fox sandy loam and Bellefontaine sandy loam is deposited over the larger part of the uplands. Interspersed with small deposits of Grogan wood peat. Houghton muck composes all of the shore line of Mud Lake (west of Portage) and much of the north shore of Portage. The public use area at Portage Lake is located on a deposit of coloma loamy sand. Silver Anniversary Celebrated Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stapish entertained a company of friends at their home Saturday evening in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. Progressive euchre was played, Mrs. J. C. Dreyer and Rha Alexander holding high score, Mary Stapish and Charles Williams, low. J. C. Dreyer received the consolation prize.

A delicious lunch was served by Mary and Margaret Stapish, twin daughters of the host and hostess. Dancing and singing contributed to the amusement and a closing feature was a mock wedding in which Mrs. Dreyer was the bride, Mr. Alexander the groom, Mrs. Emil Regner, maid of honor, and Carl Swickarath, best man. J. P. Cook officiated as clergyman, the bridal party entering to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus, played by Mrs. Cook. "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" was sung by Mrs. C. Williams. Mary and Margaret Stapish were flower girls and Mrs. Patrick Lingane was ring bearer. The guests departed, wishing their host and hostess many more happy years together.

GOODSELL-WINANS WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Marian Lorraine Goodsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Goodsell, and Robert O. Winans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Winans, both of Chelsea, took place Saturday, April 24 at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. Opie, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, LaGrange, Ind.

Following their graduation from Chelsea high school, classes of 1932 and 1933, both Mr. and Mrs. Winans were students at the Ypsilanti State Normal. They have begun house-keeping in the Kelley apartments, 122 Orchard St.

Prenuptial showers were given for Miss Goodsell the past week, with Mrs. Harold Brooks entertaining at her home on Monday evening, assisted by her fellow employees at the Hoover Steel Ball Co. The evening was spent playing keno and lunch was served, with covers for eight. Gifts were presented the honor guest.

Vincent Swickarath Is New Scout Leader

Announcement is made by the local Boy Scout Council that Vincent Swickarath has accepted the position of Scoutmaster for the local troop, and that Robert Foster will assume the duties of Assistant Scoutmaster. Albert Johnson will continue as an Assistant Scoutmaster, and Harvey Knickerbocker will be Senior Patrol Leader.

There are about 80 boys in the local Scout troop, and meetings are held every Monday evening on the second floor of the Steinbach building, West Middle St.

A meeting of the Scout Council will be held Friday evening of this week at Kolb's hall, when plans for the summer activities of the troop will be discussed, and arrangements made for the Court of Honor which will be held in the public school gymnasium on Wednesday evening, May 12. It is expected that Scout Executive Walter MacFie will be present at the meeting on Friday evening.

The local Boy Scout troop is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, and it is anticipated that the boys will have a very successful year under their new leadership, with a continuation of the worthwhile objectives which were practiced under the former capable leadership, and the addition of new activities to their work in Scouting.

Cooking School Will Be Held Here Next Week

Hundreds of women from Chelsea and vicinity are expected to attend the two-day cooking school which will be held at the public school auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, May 5 and 6. The event is being sponsored by the Washtenaw Gas Co.

Mrs. Ruth Bush, Home Service Director for the Gas Co., will prepare oven meals and demonstrate the cooking of vegetables by the modern waterless method. There will be new ideas in cake making and yeast rolls, preparation of broiled meats, grills, refrigerator salads and desserts, and the making of meringues and pies.

These classes are free and will be held at 9 o'clock p.m. on each of the above dates. If anyone has any cooking problems they may ask questions at the school and Mrs. Bush will gladly answer them.

There will be many attractive prizes awarded, including a modern gas range. Chelsea merchants cooperating with the Washtenaw Gas Co. are the Chelsea Milling Co., Merkel Bros. Hardware, Loeffler & Son, and Schneider & Kusterer.

Post Office Will Be Completed June 1st

Chelsea's new post office is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy about June 1. The building, which is located at the corner of Main and South streets, facing east, is 60x70 feet and is constructed entirely of brick. The roof is of steel construction, with wood sheathing. As you enter the vestibule, which is five by nine feet, a door on either side opens into the lobby which extends across the front from the left to the postmaster's office in the northeast corner, and half way down the south side of the building.

The lobby is about 20 feet wide, with tile floor and tile wainscoting. The delivery windows are at the front, and the boxes on the left wing of the lobby.

The work room extends to the rear of the building, with a swing room for carriers in the northwest corner, and a mailing platform at the back. The work room has a four foot foot wainscoting of wood and the rest of the walls and ceilings are plaster. The work room has maple floors, while the floors of the offices are of oak. Casings and doors are of red birch.

FAHRNER HOME BURNS

The farm home of Christian Fahrner on Sylvan road, four miles west of Chelsea, was destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock Monday forenoon, together with the entire contents. Mrs. Fahrner first noticed smoke coming from the front room on the main floor and as soon as the doors were opened the whole building burst into flames. The cause of the fire has not been determined. The loss, estimated at $3,000, is partly covered by insurance.

NORTH SYLVAN GRANGE

North Sylvan Grange will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle on Monday evening, May 3. The program that was to be given at the last meeting will be given at this meeting, and each member please be prepared to give a one-minute talk on some current topic.

The Waterloo Project

while on the opposite side is a large area of Plainfield loamy sand.

The highest point on the area is Prospect Hill, or Murder Mountain, measuring 1164 feet above sea level.

It is located on the southeast shore of Clear Lake on the Fauser Estate, about two miles west of the Project headquarters at Sylvan Estates, Sack-rider Hill, elevation 1130 feet, Sugar-loaf Hill 1108 feet, and Riley Hill are found within or close to the Project boundaries.

The lake levels present an interesting study in hydrography. Crooked Lake gauges 984 feet above sea level while Cavanaugh, one-half mile to the east, is ten feet lower or 974 feet, and Mill Lake, less than a mile east, is 20 feet lower than Crooked or 964 feet above sea level.

Sugarloaf Lake is 35 feet lower than Crooked which is a trifle more than two miles to the south. These two lakes are separated by a high ridge. Portage Lake, a little over six miles west of Crooked Lake, has an elevation of 913 feet or 71 feet lower than Crooked Lake. These large differences in lake elevations may be explained by the fact that many ridges separate the various lakes and hold water collected from springs and surface runoff. About the shores of most lakes found here are flat plains showing where the waters had been in ages past. In a few cases it is the intention to build dykes or levees to restore the former level. Cassidy Lake, at the start of operations on this area, was at an elevation of 968 feet. In May of 1936 a dyke was placed at the south end. At the present writing the water has risen to 968.75 feet. It is estimated that at the end of three years it will be at its former elevation of 970 feet. Rather than draining the swamps we are trying to bring the water back into them and make lakes and ponds similar to what existed here a century or so ago before man drained these areas to make farming land.

There are twenty-seven lakes within the present boundaries of the Project and they vary in size from five acres to 480 acres (Portage Lake). There are many small streams and creeks connecting the lakes and ponds, which combined with the hills and ridges, give this area a very interesting topography.

When the white man first settled in this area it was mostly covered with a forest growth. This woodland growth was comprised of red oak, white oak, black oak, hickory, beech, sugar maple, elm, ash, and basswood.

Walnut, sycamore, butternut, cottonwood, wild cherry, red cedar, and tulip trees were abundant in some localities. Other original plant growths consisted of aspen, tamarack, white birch, willow, spruce, red osier, dog-wood, winterberry, blueberry, choke-berry, leatherleaf, St. Johns wort, and sphagnum moss. The lakes and hills, and trees and flowers make this area very interesting for the nature stu-dent.

Next week the article will give a discussion of forestry and related subjects as carried out on the project.

Exterior

A young couple is seen in the vestibule. They are bidding each other a protracted and ardent good-night. After awhile, the man releases the girl, but immediately takes her in his arms again. Another long kiss, then he lets her go and comes down the steps. She stands in the doorway. The moment he reaches the sidewalk, he turns, runs up the steps again, and kisses her fervently once more. Again he comes down the steps, and turns toward the street, stops, and turns. They wait a tender kiss to each other. The man goes. The girl looks after him, dreamily, breathes an ecstatic sigh, and enters the house.

(Her idea of how he would propose): "When I look into your eyes, darling, a feeling of sublime ecstasy steals over me, benumbing my senses and consuming my very soul. Your glance is like a draught of delicious wine. The mellifluous words that flow from your lovely lips are to me as the gentle tinkle of a mountain brook. Your every gesture enchants me with its graceful perfection. Will you be mine, darling? Will you allow me forever to bask in the effulgent sunshine of your presence?"

(How he proposed): "Say, hon, you ain't so bad, I seen lots worse. How 'bout it kid?"

(His idea of what her reply would be): "Sir, though not insensible to the growing warmth of your feeling toward me, I feel it would ill match the emotions of gratitude I feel toward my parents were I not to ask that you consent them and ascertain their wishes before venturing any confession as to my own heart. But I will be unmanly enough to admit that I am not entirely indifferent to your presence."

(What she said): "Will I? Say, George, will a parrot eat sunflower seed?"

Spring and Stuff

Spring brings lots of things—showers, bugs, flowers and spring fever. And speaking of spring fever reminds me that the last six weeks has arrived hand in hand with the so-called spring malady.

One of our aims seems to be spruce up in appearance and slump in attitude when the first gentle breeze flutters by. But seeing as how school is nearing its end for this year I think—and as everyone should think, or pretend to think—that should overcome the little germ that robs us of ambition—after all it's only a bad case of laziness dressed up in fancy disguise.

Then all of us dear students could finish school with a bang plus a clear conscience—attitude counts you know.

Latin Trip

The members of the Latin II class went to Ann Arbor last week Wednesday, April 21, to visit the Museum of Classical Archaeology. Twenty-eight students left Chelsea public school at 2:00 for Ann Arbor and spent a very profitable hour under the guidance of Dr. Butler and her assistant, learning about the contents of the museum and customs of the Romans. Some of the things of greatest interest to the students were types of marble, the jewelry, the glassware, the toys—and of by no means least interest—the wine amphora.

Rome Dines

Plans for the Roman banquet which will be held six days before the Ides of May (May 10 to the uninitiated), are taking definite form.

General chairman, Dolores Kent, reports that the decorations are planned and some of the work underway. The dinner committee, under the capable direction of Doris Heeselschwerdt will meet this afternoon to plan the menu and solicit members of the club.

The general theme will be a dinner at the home of a well-to-do Roman with slaves, entertainment, food, decorations all following this trend.

Chelsea vs. Dundee

Chelsea lost their third ball game in as many starts last Friday afternoon. They were defeated by the League football and basketball champions, Dundee. Chelsea was allowed 7 hits, but it seemed as if the boys were trying for the strike-out record. "Onie" was ahead until a pinch-hitter went in. Benham, Dundee's ace pitcher, fanned 13 of the local boys. Ted Brueckner was the only star of the day, banging out a double and a triple. Next week Chelsea will try for their first win (we hope) against Roosevelt.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Freshman class and Mr. Wallis for the flowers I received during my illness.

Thankfully—Jean Barkley.

Elementary News

Kindergarten
Friday we started building a grocery store. We are making part of it out of orange crates.

Thank you second grade for loaning us your "Let's Play Books". We are enjoying them so very much. So far we have read together three of them: "Let's Play Store", "Let's Play Postman" and "Let's Play Train". Tomorrow we are going to read "Let's Play Fireman."

Miss Bollers loaned us their Social Science Readers which we are enjoying also. Thank you First Grade.

Second Grade

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Barlow and Sue came to school with us. We all enjoyed it.

Mrs. Hoppe, Douglas' mother, visited school. Douglas brought us a splendid bird's nest and also a cocoon.

Thursday, Dr. DeCamp from Lansing came to inspect our teeth. He found that most of us needed to go to a dentist. Now that we are growing up we need to part with our baby teeth and some of us are sadly in need of a tooth brush. Will our mothers help us out?

Report cards came out Wednesday. Most of us have improved our work and will be glad to see them.

Dorothy Van de Greyn brought to school a piece of a bedspread, the wool of which came from sheep on her great great grandmother's farm. It was dyed and woven by hand and has been in the family for many years.

Doris Ahling has been out all the week with tonsillitis. We'll be glad to see her back.

Paul Schaible, Robert Sidwell, Ray Knickerbocker, Thelma Hill, Marceline Hinderer, Frances Hale, Douglas Hoppe, Alice Cushman and Dale Collins have neither been absent or tardy in this seven week period.

Third Grade

We are studying measures in Arithmetic. When we measured ourselves we found Marion the tallest and he weighs the most. Barbara D. is the shortest and she weighs the least.

On our fifty-word spelling test for this period these people had perfect papers: Myra, Shirley P., Edward and Shirley S.

Some of us are going to join the "Loki Club" and order Weekly Readers for the summer. We are going to write to the "Loki Club", telling them what we would like to read about in our Readers this summer. Shirley P. finally overcame Myra in the last spell-down.

Fourth Grade

Jimmy Gaken washed the Dutch pictures off the windows. These people are going to paint spring flowers on the windows: Earl Van R., Nancy E., Robert N., Marjorie G., and Robert R.

We began our Honor Point system in Citizenship, Monday morning. We hope to have an excellent record during the next six weeks.

We were weighed last Thursday. Most of us have gained in weight. Melva Myers drew a picture of a nest of birds on the blackboard.

Fifth Grade

In Art everyone is interested in making our Weekly Reader booklets. In these we will keep our Weekly Readers to take home at the end of the year. One half of them, however, belong to the Sixth Grade. These Weekly Readers have kept us informed on worth-while events of the world of today and we have enjoyed them very much.

Eva Harris, the girl who was elected as the best all round girl and who, therefore, has the honor of being May Queen this year, has chosen for her maid of honor, Joyce Foster.

Our English tests are nearly finished. We believe we have learned a very great deal in the use of correct English.

Everybody was pretty brave last week and came to school even though their arms did hurt because of vaccination, but Friday several had to stay at home. Never mind, girls and boys, it will soon be over.

Virginia Spaulding was the only one in our room who attended "Juniors on Parade" in Ann Arbor. She gave us a very interesting report. Everyone enjoyed it.

Fiddlers' Green

Fiddler's green is the imagined Elysian field of sailors and vegetable craftsmen, where credit is good and there is always a lass, a glass, and a song.

Troopers Are Mailing New Safety Manual

Distribution is being made this week by the Michigan State Police of a new edition of "Creating Safer Communities", outlining a model program of traffic safety activities.

The 48-page manual describes a four-point attack on automobile accidents. Outside of a chapter on rural traffic, it is identical with an edition published last year by the Michigan State Safety Council. The new manual is published under the imprint of the Michigan State Police.

Information on setting up a community traffic safety organization and data on procedures for reducing accidents by removing their causes is included in the text. Commissioner Oscar G. Olander declared the program was based on accident control techniques tested in cities with outstanding safety records.

"This program," Commissioner Olander said, "is devised not only as a guide for accident reduction but it presents methods of relieving congestion and otherwise obtaining a greater degree of traffic control. The four basic features we have treated in this manual include preparation and use of accident facts, the extension of child and adult education, improved enforcement of traffic laws and better engineering for traffic safety."

Copies of the book are being mailed to local officials and to others connected with organizations interested in traffic accident prevention. It is illustrated with photographs, drawings and diagrams, and contains a special reference section and a blue print organization chart.

Publication of the manual was made possible, it was stated, through the cooperation of the Michigan State Police and the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. The latter is a non-profit rating organization for leading stock casualty insurance companies and has gained nationwide recognition for its work in traffic safety.

Remember YOUR MOTHER

Surely, she would appreciate nothing more than an ELECTRIC STOVE to save labor and bring her pleasure.

Electric heat is as clean and pure as sunshine, and leaves no sooty, grimy deposits on utensils.

Old-fashioned flame-cooking requires much air for fuel combustion and fuel ovens must have large quantities of air which pass off, carrying the fume-laden, grease-freighted air that is deposited on your walls and draperies.

On an Electric Range the heating element takes no air and is completely enclosed in the oven, so that nothing is carried off. Not only is your home kept clean; the range itself has no soot, greasy burners. It is as easy to keep spotless as a China dish!

METHODIST HOME
On Monday of last week Mrs. Monroe was visited by her sister, Mrs. L. Gorton of Waterloo. On Thursday her callers were Henry Dancer of Lima and Mrs. Robert Dancer of Chelsea.
On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Williamson received a call from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curtis of Detroit who were returning from Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis are members of the Preston M. E. church, which was Mrs. Williamson's home church.
Last Friday, Miss Anna Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuman of Detroit came to the Home to help their father celebrate his 92nd birthday. Mr. Gibson's appearance does not indicate that he needs any help about anything, but he certainly enjoyed their visit and the gifts brought him. Another member of the Home family has laid down all weariness and weakness. Rev. N. Norton Clark passed away Saturday morning, lacking less than four months of being 96 years old. Until his last sickness he was in comfortable health and enjoyment of life. A brief service was held in the Home assembly room Tuesday morning at 9:30, and another service was in the M. E. church in Petersburg at 1:30 p. m. Interment was in the family lot in Blissfield cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Robtoy was made glad Sunday afternoon by a visit from her old friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Earle and son and Miss Mary Green, all of Ypsilanti.
Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chapman, with Mr. Chapman's mother and brother, all of Flint, surprised

Miss Holman and took her to Jackson for dinner. She returned in time to receive an evening call from Miss Emma John of Wayne.
On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Danson of Detroit took their grandmother, Mrs. Susan Danson, for an auto ride and also on a shopping expedition through the Chelsea stores. It rained, but that was nothing to Mrs. Danson when she could go shopping.
Mrs. Fay Wolfe of Albion was the dinner guest of her mother, Mrs. Welles, on Sunday.
On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith of Dearborn visited their cousin, Miss Margaret Smith. The Home family will remember that Miss Smith was visited last fall by her brother, Fred H. Smith from Oregon. All will now sympathize with her sorrow, for on April 19th her brother died in the Veterans' hospital in Portland, Ore. Interment was in their cemetery.
On Sunday, Miss Horton was visited by her sister, Mrs. D. W. Ryan of Gregory, with Mrs. Ryan's son, Paul Ryan and daughter, Mrs. Joyce Comstock, both of Detroit.

Sunday night Mrs. Allen returned from a two-weeks visit in Dearborn. She was accompanied home by her daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eng and their dog Bobbie.
On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Brewer had a very pleasant call from Mrs. Lester Clark of Ypsilanti. Later in the day she enjoyed a call from Mrs. O'Brien, Miss Emma John and Will John, old friends from Wayne.
Mrs. Andrews was visited on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodison of Rochester, with his mother, Mrs. Emma Goodison, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hudson, all of Ann Arbor. Mr. Goodison was a pupil of Mrs. Andrews when she was teaching in Rochester and has never lost his affection for her or his appreciation of her work.
On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Burnett of Saginaw called on Mrs. Draper and they had lunch together. Maurice Leeman of Sharon called on his aunt, Miss Emma Leeman, on Monday afternoon.

(Last week's items)
Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Owen of Milford called on their mother, Mrs. Mary Owen, and took her and Miss Gage for a very pleasant ride.

Question And Answer Dept.
Ques.—Why is it easier to swim in salt water than it is to swim in fresh water?
Ans.—This is because salt water is heavier than fresh water. Therefore the buoyancy of salt water more easily keeps you afloat.
Ques.—Is it true that a boomerang returns to a person when it is thrown?
Ans.—Practically, yes. It acts on the same principle that a spinning ball will curve when thrown. The way the boomerang is twisted causes a special set of air-friction forces to develop and act on it. These air-friction forces drives the boomerang back toward you.
Ques.—If a balloon can ascend for a mile high in the air what is there to stop it from going higher and higher forever?
Ans.—A balloon rises because it is lighter than air. But the air gets thinner and lighter as one goes up. The balloon will rise only until it is just as heavy as the amount of air it displaces.
Ques.—What is a yak?
Ans.—A yak is an animal belonging to the bovine family. Its habits are similar to that of a cow, is a ruminant, and is about the same size of the average full-grown cow. The yak is a native to Central Asia, and is chiefly found in Tibet. They live mostly in a wild state, but are extensively domesticated for their milk and hair.

Ques.—Will you please answer what was the whisky insurrection?
Ans.—This was a revolt in the United States, due to an enactment of a Federal excise law. It took place in the western part of Pennsylvania in 1794, when the authorities undertook to enforce the collection of taxes upon whisky. Opposition to the law was formed in North Carolina, Virginia and Pennsylvania, where many people were engaged in distillation and whisky was used as a medium of exchange. President Washington sent a force of 15,000 men to quiet the revolt in October, 1794. Several of the leaders were arrested and found guilty of treason, but Washington pardoned them.
Ques.—Why are the handles of oven doors made of coiled wire?
Ans.—This is done to prevent them from becoming too hot to the touch. The heat moves out along the wire from the hot door by conduction.

Much of this heat is lost into the air, so that the wire handle remains comparatively cool—cool enough to touch with the bare hands.
Ques.—Can you tell me how old Queen Victoria of England was when she died?
Ans.—Queen Victoria was 81 years old at her death. She was born May 24, 1819, and died Jan. 22, 1901.
Ques.—Why are automobile tires more likely to blow out on a hot day than they are on a cool day?
Ans.—Heat increases pressure. If a tire gets hot, the air pressure inside it goes up. If the pressure rises too high or the tire is weak anywhere, it may blow out.
Ques.—What is the difference between wind and air?
Ans.—None, except that wind is a current of air moving in the atmosphere, which is caused by variations of temperature in different latitudes or in various portions of the same latitude.

Ques.—What is the significance of the large bronze winged lion that is erected in Venice, Italy?
Ans.—The winged lion is an emblem of Saint Mark, the patron saint of Venice. When Napoleon captured Venice in 1797 he carried the winged lion to Paris, but it was restored to Venice in 1815, after the defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo.
Ques.—Why was America so named?
Ans.—America was so named in honor of Vesputi Amerigo, an astronomer and navigator who was first to explore the mainland of this continent or hemisphere. That was five years after Columbus had landed in the West Indies.
Ques.—What day of the week was I born? The date was October 29, 1898.
Ans.—You were born on Saturday.

Has Supernatural Vision
In Malaya a supernatural vision is attached to the little lemur, or monkeylike animal, called the slow loris. During the day, says a writer in Collier's Weekly, this nocturnal creature frequently has to protect his large, hypersensitive eyes, for a few minutes at a time, by covering them with his hands. Consequently the natives think he is constantly seeing ghosts.

Lansing—Despite the recent freak blizzard, spring fever is in the air and Michigan legislators are getting restless. Adjournment of the present session is scheduled from May 14 to June 1.

There is much work to be done, and it seems inevitable that the publicized "speed-up" of the automobile industry will have to be applied soon to Lansing's law-making assembly.

The 800 proposed laws include civil service, labor relations, tax revision, general appropriations to state institutions, liquor law changes, and a flock of state aid measures to benefit schools, libraries, junior colleges, township roads, and so on.

Long sessions are in sight.

Generous state aid for Michigan's public schools is sought by the Michigan Education Association, sponsoring bills to increase the present annual grant from $98,000,000 to $45,000,000.

An inkling to the attitude of the house of representatives was given recently by Rep. M. Clyde Stout (D) of Ionia, chairman of the ways and means committee. Stout declared that the state lacked funds to provide $7,000,000 more for schools, while also providing needed facilities for state hospitals and other depression-neglected institutions.

Governor Murphy's "Little New Deal" for Michigan has experienced rough riding. First it ran into a blockade of sit-down strikes in automobile factories. Peaceful settlements ended costly warfare in which labor obtained a moral victory of union recognition to bargain collectively for members of the union—exactly what Knudsen and Chrysler had said they were willing to do at the beginning.

With the strikes out of the way, Murphy was just getting his breath when the United States supreme court upheld the right of a state government to fix minimum wages, maximum hours, commodity prices and otherwise regulate business and industry, and the right of the federal government to enforce collective bargaining in business engaged in interstate commerce. Like an injection of adrenalin, the court decision put new life into Murphy's "New Deal."

Michigan manufacturers have endorsed minimum wage laws for women and children. A bill by Rep. Charles W. Snow, Jr. of Jackson would empower the state labor department to determine fair living wages and minimum standards for women and children. Affected by such legislation would be beer, garment, furniture and night club hostesses. A similar bill by Senator Joseph Roosevelt (D) of Detroit has been approved by the Michigan Manufacturers' association.

The question of sex equality has been raised in Washington, D. C. where employers announce that men will be employed instead of women if minimum wages are equalized by statute for both men and women.

Governor Murphy's attitude on state regulation of industry through a local "NRA" is revealed in press interviews in which he says that the legislature will be asked to enact laws:

1. Setting minimum wages for both men and women.
2. Requiring collective bargaining.
3. Eliminating espionage, discrimination and company unions.
4. Liberalizing occupational disease compensation.

Bills are to be drawn by Prof. E. Blythe Stason, University of Michigan, and Edward G. Kemp, the governor's legal adviser.

Susquehanna Indians were a tribe of the Iroquoian stock, living in 1608 on the lower portion of the Susquehanna river and its affluents. As a separate body they were driven out of their former home about 1676 by the Iroquois, and they merged with other tribes, principally with the Meherrins.

The Widow's Stone In the Greek language the word amethyst meant not drunken. The Greeks believed that this gem protected them against drunkenness. Any man who placed an amethyst under his tongue might drink any amount of wine with impunity, they said. Placed under the head of a sleeping person it produced pleasant dreams. It restored lost memory and turned away wrath.—Pearson's London Weekly.
