A large crowd attended the baccalaureate services held at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. The sermon was delivered by Rev. F. D. Mumby, whose subject was "The Key Upon His Shoulder."

The Class Day program was held Wednesday evening in the school auditorium when the student orations and other numbers were given. ## Summer Session for C. P. S. Musicians

Tentative plans for the summer session to be held by the instrumental music department of the Chelsea public school from June 14 to July 16 include the following schedule:

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday:
8:30 a. m.—Beginning stringed instruments.
9:00 a. m.—Beginning brass and wood-wind instruments.
9:30 a. m.—Advanced stringed instruments.

Most of the text books necessary are already in use by the school music classes, hence will be available without cost.

No previous musical experience is required for admittance to the beginning classes, and it is hoped that all parents having children in school beyond the second grade will take advantage of the unusual opportunities offered for a beginning of musical experience.

Enrollment may be made beginning at 8:30 a. m. Monday, June 14, in the H. S. gymnasium, or before that time by contacting Mr. Hargreaves, supervisor of instrumental music in the schools.

Beauty Marks Junior Reception for Seniors

The public school gymnasium presented a scene of impressive beauty for the Junior reception for the Seniors on Friday evening. Representing the Vineyard Night club, the walls and ceiling, latticed in white, were decorated with green leaves and purple balloons representing clusters of grapes.

Individual tables were arranged on either side and the program was interspersed with dancing. The banquet was served by the members of the Sophomore class. Raymond Ives presided as toastmaster of the evening, introducing the following numbers:

The Waterloo Project

By Frank R. Coburn
Project Manager
National Park Service

Rules, Regulations, and Enforcement of the Law

In order to properly administer and control an area as large as the Waterloo area which is being constructed and organized for the use of the general public, certain laws must be enforced and rules and regulations must be set up in order that the greatest benefit may accrue to the public without subjecting them to infractions of such rules and laws by the minority. The United States Department of the Interior has therefore published and made official certain rules and regulations effective the nineteenth day of April, 1937, and to continue in force and effect until otherwise directed by the Secretary of the Interior.

Under this act and in accordance with instructions, the Project Manager has been appointed a deputy United States marshal with full power to make arrests without warrant for any infraction of rules and regulations or any violations of the law; such as trespass of stock and destruction of property upon government-owned lands. In order that the general public may have some conception of the necessary rules and regulations, we are publishing herewith the general and detail provisions covering the use of the Waterloo recreational area as follows:

Federal Register
Department of the Interior
National Park Service
(Rules and Regulations)
Made, published, and approved by the Secretary of the Interior on the 19th day of April, 1937, and to continue in force and effect until otherwise directed by the said Secretary.
(General Provisions)

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Secretary of the Interior by the Act of August 25, 1916 (ch. 408, Sec. 3, 39 Stat. 635), as amended, and pursuant to the authority vested in the President until title II, sec. 202 and 209 of the National Industrial Recovery Act (48 Stat. 200, 202, 206), and by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 (49 Stat. 115, 118), and delegated to the Secretary of the Interior by Executive Order No. 7498, November 14, 1936, the following regulations are hereby made and published for the proper use, management, government, and protection of, and maintenance of good order in, all of the Recreational Demonstration Areas which are, or hereafter may be, under the administrative jurisdiction of the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior, except those areas acquired or to be acquired

Miss Beatrice Keusch was hostess on Saturday at a bridge-luncheon, with covers for 12, honoring Miss Catherine Canfield, who will be a June bride. Prizes were won by Miss Florence Yager and Miss Katherine Wheeler. Miss Canfield was presented with a shower of kitchen utensils. Mrs. John Moran of Jackson and Miss Norma Bentley of Ann Arbor were out of town guests.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. O. B. McLaughlin, Mrs. Russell McLaughlin and Miss Eunice Jane Guile attended a bridge luncheon last week, given by Mrs. W. G. Reeves of Stockbridge, at which announcement was made of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Barbara Reeves, to Glenard McLaughlin of Chelsea.

Impressive Ceremonies Held Decoration Day

With weather conditions ideal and typical of this season of the year, local townspeople witnessed one of the finest Decoration Day services ever held in Chelsea.

A very fine Memorial service was held in the morning at the Congregational church, all Protestant churches of the village entering into a joint service. The sermon was delivered by Rev. P. H. Grabowski of St. Paul's Evangelical church.

In the afternoon the largest crowd ever gathered for the purpose of honoring the war dead in this community filled the public school auditorium to capacity. Conrad Lehman, a Spanish-American War veteran, acting as the introductory speaker, called on Ransom Armstrong to read Logan's Orders; Mrs. J. V. Burg very ably rendered a vocal solo; the school band demonstrated their ability as musicians with a band number; and the usual custom of the reciting of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and "In Flanders Fields" and the Response were given by Paul Plelemier, William Rademacher and Charles Bahnmiller.

A very impressive address was given by Rev. Fr. Lawrence Dorr, pastor of St. Mary church. Father Dorr pointed out our duty to carry on in honoring the deceased war veterans.

Following the ceremony in the auditorium the several patriotic organizations, including the Women's Relief Corps, the veterans of the World War, American Legion Auxiliary, Sea Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and school children formed a parade, and led by the Washtenaw County American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps proceeded to the cemetery. This was the first public appearance of the Drum Corps and they may well be proud of the many hours they have spent in rehearsing for public demonstrations for the coming summer months. Surely no more fitting assembly could be found to help carry out the program for the day.

Services at the cemetery consisted of the usual prayer, selection by the band, salute to the dead and taps, after which the entire line of march returned to the business section of the village where they were dismissed for the day.

The program was under the supervision of the local Herbert J. McKune Post of The American Legion. Dr. Faye Palmer was marshal of the day.

Alumni Banquet To Be Held Friday Evening

The forty-second annual banquet of the Chelsea High School Alumni Association will be held at the public school auditorium on Friday evening, June 4. The banquet will be served at 7:00 o'clock by the ladies of the Congregational church, with the following menu: Tomato cocktail, salted wafers, Mack chicken patties, tuna fish patties, potato chips, molded vegetable salad, celery, olives, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cup cakes.

The program will be as follows:
Piano solo (Selected)—Miss Jessie Neil.
Vocal solo (Selected)—Katharine Fletcher Barden, 1930. Mrs. Bruce Plankell, accompanist.

Greetings to Senior Class—Dean Hall, 1913.
Response—Edwin Schenk, 1937.
Piano solo (Selected)—Miss Jessie Neil.

Address—Orla B. Taylor of Detroit.

Music for dancing following the program will be furnished by Jerry Beissel, 1933, and his orchestra.

Officers of the association are: President, Howard S. Holmes, Jr., 1931; Vice President, Rowena Waltrous Miller, 1921; Secretary, Helen Lounsberry Weiss, 1932; Treasurer, Carl Fletcher, 1924.

VILLAGE LONES IN SUIT

Wilbert Trinkle of Lima was granted a judgment for $350.00 against the Village of Chelsea by a circuit court jury on Wednesday of last week. It was claimed by Trinkle that several of his horses contracted swamp fever in 1935 as a result of drinking water from Mill Creek which he claimed was polluted with sewage dumped into the creek by the village. The bill for damages was first presented to the village council but payment was refused and the case was taken to circuit court.

A Million Dollars

That's a heap of money but it represents the value of NEW POLICIES written for farmers of Michigan on their properties during the month of March just passed. The care and discretion exercised by this company in writing risks is continually observed. The more of such business that this company writes redounds to the benefit of all our policy holders. "In union there is strength."

No insurance company could write such a large volume of new business in a single month unless that company has an established reputation for reliability, dependability and economy. It will pay YOU to insure your farm property in such a company.

For further information see representative or write Home Office.

Set Unit of Horsepower
The term horsepower was used in the early Eighteenth century when the mechanical force of expanding steam in engines was replacing the force of horses in hoisting and pumping in the British mines. The unit of horsepower was established by James Watt as the power of a strong London draught horse to do work during a short interval, and used by him to measure the power of his steam engines. The unit is 33,000 foot pounds per minute.

sic, has announced that during the summer of 1937, recitals will be given by Wilmet F. Pratt, University Car-

The Charles Baird Carillon is one of the three largest and most impor-

of fifty-three bells, the largest or Bourdon bell weighing more than 12 tons; and the smallest bell weighing only about 12 pounds. The Carillon is a gift of Charles Baird of the Law class of 1895 of the University of Michigan. It is housed in the Marion LeRoy Burton Memorial Tower, a monumental structure nearly two hundred feet high and about forty feet square, erected from funds contributed by alumni and friends of the University in memory of the late president of the University, whose name it bears.

Also during the summer the School of Music of the University of Michigan will provide concerts in Hill Auditorium by members of its faculty at consist of vocal, piano, violin, violon-cello and general ensemble numbers,

as well as programs on the "Frieze Memorial organ. No admission will be charged, but the public is requested to be seated on time, as the doors will be closed during numbers; and for obvious reasons, to refrain from bringing small children.

CHELSEA DEFEATS ANN ARBOR

The Chelsea baseball team won its first game of the season Sunday, defeating Ann Arbor, 12 to 10 at West Park, Ann Arbor. Barth hurled steady ball for the winners. Although allowing 18 hits and walking several, he struck out 8 batters. Errors again almost cost Chelsea a chance to win, but by tightening in the eighth and ninth innings they were able to halt two rallies by the Ann Arbor team. The locals seemed to have found their batting eyes in collecting 17 hits off two Ann Arbor pitchers.

Lose Hard One

In a League game at Pinckney on Monday Chelsea lost a close score ball game, 13 to 12. Instead of tightening in the eighth and ninth innings as they did at Ann Arbor on Sunday the boys had trouble handling the ball, which permitted 9 runs to score in the last two frames. Lindenberg, Chelsea starting pitcher, went along nicely, allowing but 4 runs and 4 hits in six innings but had to be taken out in the seventh after stopping a line drive with his leg. The Novess brothers battery finished the game, besides supplying six of the team's 12 hits.

Next Sunday Chelsea will play Saline, at Saline. On June 13 Pinckney comes here.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

The brothers and sisters of Clyde Faber assembled at his home on Sunday as a surprise in celebration of his 26th birthday. Ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Faber of Parma, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Prey of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Frey and family of Ypsilanti, George May of Stockbridge and Arthur Hornberger of Freedom.

HOLD MAY MEETING

The May meeting of the Women's Union was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oscar Lindauer, and was attended by 30 members and five guests. The devotionals were in charge of Rev. P. H. Grabowski and a report of the National convention at St. Louis, Mo. was given by Mrs. Otto Lucht. Lunch was served, with Mrs. William Luick assisting.

Moon Type Aids Blind

There are many people who have never heard of "moon type," but to the blind it is a godsend. Without it, most of those who lose their sight in middle or old age would be deprived of the joy of books. Moon type is Braille's younger brother. It was invented by the late Dr. William Moon, specifically for those who found difficulty in mastering the details of Braille, and consists of an alphabet in Roman letters, with hardly any variations or contractions. Elderly people have no trouble in learning it rapidly, whereas Braille is much more difficult to learn.

Resting Posts for Spirits

Natives of Timbuctu put resting posts on minarets to serve as resting places for returning spirits of dead relatives and friends.

"Sold Down the River"

The expression "sold down the river" originated in ante bellum days, and referred to the practice of slaveholders in disposing of refractory slaves by selling them at public auction down the river (usually the Mississippi) to the owners of large cotton plantations where they were reduced to comparative ease to conditions of the most abject description. In recent times, says Literary Digest, this expression has been revived to denote almost any demotion, or demotion to a condition of mere slavish routine or drudgery.

Insects Have Great Strength

The insect is small and able to escape many enemies, yet its mechanical strength is unbelievable. A man, to jump as far in proportion as some insects can jump, would have to broad jump a quarter of a mile. Insects have a most efficient respiratory system, can utilize more of the food resources of the world than any other group, and can adjust themselves to almost any sort of habitat. They reproduce with incredible rapidity, and to top off all their other advantages they have the power of flight.

Famous Maine Shipping Center

With the exception of Bath, Searsport was the most famous shipping center on the Maine coast in the old days of sailing vessels. Seven shipyards operated in the town in the heyday of the American sailing marine, all building square-rigged vessels for the foreign trade. Some 250 wooden sailing vessels were launched in Searsport during the nineteenth century. In the year 1880 one-tenth of all the ship masts in square-rigged vessels under American registry hailed from this town.

GRAVEL TRUNKLINES TO BE GIVEN CHLORIDE TREATMENT

Lansing—Michigan's gravel trunklines will be given a $125,000 dust-laying treatment this week of calcium chloride.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced that gravel trunklines in the lower peninsula will be treated. The first application in the Upper Peninsula will follow about the first week in June.

Nearly 6,000 tons of the palliative will be used in the first application. Average cost of spreading the chloride approximate $22 a ton.

Commissioner Van Wagoner said that all gravel state roads will receive at least two additional treatments this year. In some cases, four or five treatments probably will be necessary, depending on the volume of traffic and the condition of the particular highway.

Three hundred of the 3,500 miles of gravel trunklines will be treated this year with processed-liquid brine, the commissioner said. Unprocessed well brine used last year by the department was found to be unsatisfactory.

Roads treated with calcium chloride require about 10 tons a year to lay the dust. The total cost of the calcium chloride program for the summer will approximate $600,000.

There is only one important element in the matter of accident prevention and safe driving on our highways. That is "brains."

There is nothing difficult or mysterious about safety. Neither is there anything to be ashamed of. It requires no extraordinary genius, college degree, or special training to be safety minded.

The application of a little horse sense will prevent most of the accidents that now occur on our highways. Safety is 99 per cent common sense; accidents are 99 per cent thoughtless hurry.

We cannot blame the automobile for the causes of our accidents, because senseless machines have never caused an accident. Let's apply some brains to our driving and watch the results. It's smart to be careful.

SLATS' DIARY

Sunday—Well, skool will soon be out. That is the skool whair you study readin and ritten and spellen and etc. But I reckon S. S. will never get out and it are the which one that interfeers the most with my affairs.

Tuesday—Blisters was out with Elsy last evning and she sed she are hungry for love he told me. But from the way she preformed in the ice cream store Blisters sed he thot she are just plane hungry.

Wednesday—Jake had a new girl last nite, the 1 witch has just arrived in town on a viset. Jake sed she at onct told him she are a girl of few words and he sed he had to believe it for all she sed to him were Stop, Dont and No.

Thursday—I'm partly even with Jane for what she sed about my hart. She sed I sum times acted gurlish and I up and sed Well why not. 1/2 of my parrence are men and 1/2 are wimmen. So that hushed her up.

Friday—I seen in the noosepaper that the U. S. army gets neerly a billion from the gov't not fiten I suppose. Enney how, it dont do as much ften as I and Jake and Blisters with them tuff kids down by the R. R. tracks.

Saturday—Ma was a talken about sum boddie with a babie 12 mos. old and it dont talk none. At all. Then its not a gurl, babie sed Pa and Ma lookt like she are about 1/2 sore.

ANOTHER FROM THE OLD ATTIC CHEST

A song which undoubtedly made some laugh, and others weep, was "Come Home, Father"; words and music by Henry C. Work. Published in 1864. Times, alas, have changed seemingly but little.

Father, dear Father come with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes one,
You said you were coming home from the shop.

As soon as your day's work was done,
The fire's gone out, our house is all dark.

And mother's been watching since tea,
With poor brother Benny so sick in her arms,
And no one to help her but me—
Come please, Father, dear Father—
Come home.

Father, dear Father come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes two,
The night has grown colder, and Benny is worse,
But he has been calling for you, indeed he is worse,
Ma says he will die, perhaps before morning will dawn.

And this is the message he sent me to bring,
Come quickly, before he is gone—
Come home, come home, please Father, dear Father, come home.

Father, dear Father come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes three,
The house is so lonely, the hours are long,
For poor weeping mother and me—
We now are alone, poor Benny is dead
And gone with the Angels of light,
—and these are the very last words which he said:

"I want to kiss papa good-night."
Come home, come home, please Father, dear Father, come home.

The Hi-Light Idiotorial

Etiquette of Graduation

Strains of a jazzy march float out to us as they pass through the door. Each person should be out of step with this partner, and if your partner leads with the right then start with the left and you'll hold the ace. Then the steps start, to begin, to commence, stomp heavily up them and it is best to trip and fall with a resounding crash on the top one. If you need a swig to revive you just pull out your handy flask and drink to your heart's content. Pick yourself up and take any seat on the stage that your heart desires. If you feel like flitting by all means don't restrain yourself. During the speech if you have a tendency to somnolence, yawn with wide open jaws and don't bother to smother it. When it is your turn to receive your diploma skip up and grab it. Jump off the stage and run home yelling in a joyous voice, "school's out."

PINCKNEY—The people of this section were shocked Sunday morning to hear of the sudden death of Dr. Claude L. Sigler from a heart attack at 3:00 a. m. Sunday. He had not been in good health for some time and had a severe attack of the flu this past winter from which he failed to entirely recover. However he resumed the practice of his profession and was making calls and attending patients at his private hospital Saturday. In the evening he complained of not feeling well and took some bicarbonate of soda. Failing to improve, Mrs. Sigler became alarmed and called his son, Dr. Hollis Sigler of Howell, who came over. His father was sinking when he arrived and passed away a short time afterward.—Dispatch.

A Story Full of Interest

UP AROUND Spooner, Wis., it is natural, of course, that spoon fishing should be popular not only with the natives but with the 26,444 visitors who inhabit the region every summer. At least, that is the assertion of Fred Record, of Barrington, Ill.

"One of my friends fished a lake in the Spooner region fifteen years ago, but with indifferent success," says Record. "This man used a spoon, but for some reason the lure of its whirling failed to attract the specimens with which the lake abounded.

"My friend was quitting in disgust and lunched over the side of his boat. A $10 gold piece—for in those days the possession of gold was no misdemeanor—fell from his pocket, spun in the water and was seized and swallowed by a fish, which darted away.

"Five years ago, this friend and I returned to the same lake. Again, my companion's luck was poor. But just at sundown he landed an enormous pickerel which we took to camp for our dinner. You can imagine the delight of my friend, on cleaning the fish, to discover a $10 gold piece in its belly.

"The treasure was slightly tarnished, it is true. But to offset this, my friend also removed three $2 bills from the fish. The $6, we figured out later, represented 6 per cent interest on the gold piece for ten years. It pleased us to learn that the amount was exactly correct."

Letter "C" in Music

The letter C, which is often used for four-four time, does not stand for the word common, as many people think. It is really a relic of the earliest days of printed music. In the Middle Ages, triple time was considered the only perfect rhythm, as the monks considered it represented the Trinity. It was written "C," and was called Perfection. When a different time was admitted, it was called Imperfection, and the circle was broken. This has come to be called "C," representing imperfect or common time, but it did not originally stand for the word common.

Oil Pumping
An oil pumping station is merely a link in the long chain through which oil must pass from field to refinery. First, the oil is pumped from the ground and stored in tanks. When the tanks are full, a workman called a "gauger" opens a valve at the bottom of the tank and the oil flows into a pipe line. In the line, a small pump, usually run by a steam boiler, "boosts" the oil along to a big pumping station where it is again released into the line. Through a series of pumping stations the oil finally arrives at the refinery.
Contents of the Air
At an altitude of 70 miles the air consists of about two-thirds nitrogen and one-third hydrogen, together with smaller proportions of oxygen and helium. At altitudes of over 100 miles it has been estimated that the air contains over 99 per cent of hydrogen, with the remainder largely helium.

Phrenology Dates Back

to Times of Aristotle

Phrenology in its essentials goes back to Aristotle, who thought that the comparatively great volume of man's brain was the reason for his mental superiority over the other creatures. Aristotle even attempted to locate cranial centers of common sense, imagination, judgment, reflection and memory. observes a writer in the Detroit Free Press.

After the Greeks, men continued to study these theories. In the sixteenth century a Venetian named Lodovico Dolce worked out a brain map—similar to those so popular 300 years later—in which he professed to locate centers of nine human characteristics.

It remained, however, for Francis Joseph Gall, a native of Tiengen, Germany, and later a physician in Vienna, to bring phrenology to its flower. Gall was born in 1758, the son of a mayor of Tiengen.

He was apparently a natural phrenologist. "At the age of nine," relates his disciple, George Combe, Esq., of Edinburgh, "the first noticed a connection between prominent eyes and verbal memory. With the cause of that prominence he was then unacquainted, but afterwards ascertained it to be the predominant size of a certain cerebral convolution which, by pressing on the posterior part of the superior orbital plate, pushed the eye outwards. This was the first observation which led the youthful philosopher to seek for external signs of the mental faculties.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you please state how much blood there is in the human body?

Ans.—There is no set amount. It all depends upon the size of the individual. However, the amount will average about two gallons per person.

Ques.—In a race downhill between two sleds will the heavier sled go faster or slower than the lighter one? Or will they go at the same rate if all other conditions are equal?

Ans.—With all other conditions equal the heavier sled will go faster. The force that moves the sled is the force of gravity. Hence, the heavier the sled, the stronger is this force of gravity.

Ques.—Why will water stay in a pail when a person whirls it around and around?

Ans.—This is what is called centrifugal force. Water tends to fly off in a straight line, according to the laws of physics. The whirling motion keeps it from doing so. Therefore, as long as a person keeps whirling the pail, water will stay in it. The principle is the same as that of a bicycle which will not tip over until the force that propels it completely subsides.

Ques.—If a bomb is dropped from an airplane while it is in the air will the bomb gain speed in its descent to the earth?

Ans.—Yes. When a bomb is dropped from an airplane it will travel 16 feet the first second. During each second thereafter the bomb will travel 32.16 feet faster than each preceding second.

Ques.—Outside of the solar system how far away is the nearest star to the earth? How can it be picked out?

Ans.—Not including any planet in the solar system the nearest star is known as Alpha Centauri. Its distance from the earth is twenty-six trillion miles. Alpha Centauri may be identified as the only bright yellow star in the constellation Centaur. It is very easily detected through a telescope.

Ques.—What causes the action of erupting geysers in Yellowstone National Park?

Ans.—A geyser is a kind of hot spring. There is a long tube or tunnel that reaches down into the rock. Water accumulates in this tube or tunnel and steam pressure begins to develop at its lower end. Finally this steam pressure gets high enough to blow out all the water. This makes the geyser spout. Then the water begins to accumulate once more and we have the same thing all over again.

Ques.—Can you answer what causes lightning?

Ans.—Lightning is simply a very large and powerful electric spark. During storms sometimes a great many electrons accumulate on the clouds. The crowding of electrons there becomes terrific. Finally the electrons jump to the earth or to another cloud and get away.

Ques.—How can a person walk and talk in their sleep when they know nothing about that they are walking or talking?

Ans.—This is a form of multiple personality except that it is temporary and does not indicate any actual mental abnormality. The movements of the sleeper are under the control temporarily of his subconscious mind. The human has two minds, conscious and subconscious. Both are always functioning. When you are not walking you are conscious and you do not know what you are doing. If you are going to the post office or any other definite place your subconscious mind has nothing to do with it.

Ques.—Why is it that no President has ever received a third term by the electorate? Is there a law against it?

Ans.—There is no written law against a President being elected three terms. It is a matter of custom founded when Washington refused to be a candidate for the third term. This rule has been followed by all presidential candidates since Washington's time.

Hustings, a Court
Hustings is the name of a court of limited jurisdiction which at one time sat in London. Before the English ballot act of 1872, this court was the place where members of Parliament were usually nominated; the method of nomination being by a speech made from the platform of the court. From this custom the term hustings came to be applied to any stump or organized canvassing for votes in a political campaign.

Turquoise, Turkish Stone
The turquoise, known in Asia as the Turkish stone, is believed by Arabs to be very lucky. They wear this stone in rings, ear-rings, amulets and ornaments. It is supposed to have certain medicinal qualities, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. Its wearers do not suffer from intestinal troubles or stomach disorders. It is the stone associated with Buddha.
