Firearms, explosives, airguns, sling shots, traps, snares and nets are prohibited within the areas except upon written permission of the project manager. The project manager may, in his discretion, permit the carrying of firearms by employees under his administrative jurisdiction when such possession is deemed necessary in the performance of official duties.

Visitors entering or traveling through the recreational demonstration areas to places beyond shall, at entrance, report and, if required to do so, surrender all such objects in their possession to the project manager, or his representative, and, in proper cases, may obtain his written permission to carry them through the area sealed. Failure to obtain such written permission shall be deemed a violation of this regulation. The Government assumes no responsibility for the loss of, or damage to, any such objects so surrendered to any project manager, nor are project managers authorized to accept the responsibility or custody of any other property for the convenience of the visitors.

NYA Camp Project Explained by Speaker

Donald Miller, Cassidy Lake NYA school project supervisor, addressed the Kiwanis club Monday evening, telling of the work which is being done at this camp school for boys who are unable to take advantage of training offered by other educational systems because of the fact that they do not seem to fit into these systems.

At the present time there are 16 boys in the camp and it is planned to have an ultimate capacity for 128 boys. The boys have been living in quarters in a barn on the camp property until Monday when they moved to four new cabins which have been completed. Construction work at the camp was started Aug. 1, 1936.

This is the only camp of its kind in the country and was established through the cooperation of the National Youth Administration, the National Park Service and the Ann Arbor Rotary club, the sponsors. There are 240 acres of land in the camp property, which is on the Waterloo Project area.

Boys of the ages 18, 19 and 20 are accepted at the camp, where they are given employment on the project four hours a day, 15 days a month so they may earn sufficient money to pay their way through the school. There are more than 30 courses taught, from 7th grade English to college mathematics and business administration. Correspondence courses from the University of Michigan and University of Nebraska are used.

Wood-working, machine shop, welding, plumbing equipment, etc. has been or will be installed at the camp school in order to permit the boys to adapt themselves to the work which they like and which may be valuable training for them if they choose to learn any of the various trades.

An extensive recreational program is carried on at the camp, and with the physical labor, play and study periods the camp is an interesting as well as instructive place for these boys and it is the hope of those who have made this experimental project possible that many boys will be better fitted to take their place in the society of their respective communities.

Christmas Seal Camp Will Open on June 30

The Wayne County Christmas Seal Camp at North Lake, sponsored by the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium and Board of Education, will open on Wednesday, June 30, taking about 150 boys for the first month to Wednesday, July 28, and 175 girls for the second month to Wednesday, August 25.

A $43,000 addition to the camp is being erected at the present time, under the supervision of George W. Arch Co., Detroit contractors, and Frank Dow of Lima, engineer. This must be completed by July 15 and a portion will be finished at an earlier date. The addition includes a large dining room and kitchen with all modern equipment, two new cabins and a cottage for the camp director. A complete sewage and water system will be installed, with sanitary toilets and wash rooms connected with a large septic tank.

Children taken by the camp are selected largely from open air schools, various institutions and recommendations from doctors and health departments from the cities in Wayne county. Practically all of them are contact cases to tuberculosis or have a childhood type. Last year an average of a little over four pounds was gained by these children during the month's stay at camp.

Activities at the camp will consist of swimming, handwork, athletics and social activities, in all of which special thought and planning is given to health, and all sports will be supervised by trained leaders. The camp is for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 14, inclusive.

Hot Weather Brings
Codling Moth Hatches

Fruit growers in this county and in other sections of Michigan's apple and peach producing area are warned that hot weather has brought out hatches of codling moth and curculio two weeks ahead of time and that the first arsenical spray should be applied now.

Millions of dollars in quality fruit is involved, says Ray Hutson, entomologist at Michigan State College. If the first hatches are permitted to build up they will do extensive damage later in the summer.

Apples are affected by both the codling moth and the curculio, but the same spray can be used for protection. Three pounds of arsenate of lead is recommended in each 100 gallons of spray. Spraying should be thorough, for the eggs are laid on both leaves and small fruit.

Peach protection is different, for only the curculio is the active pest of the two now hatching. The curculio if left uncurbed will be found in ripe peaches as a little white footless worm. For 100 gallons of spray Hutson recommends two pounds of lead arsenate plus some corrective to prevent burning of young wood.

Later as the second brood hatches at different dates in different sections of the fruit belt, the college extension staff plans to issue its usual timely warnings to fruit growers as the proper spraying dates arrive.

Coastlines

Michigan has a total of 1,715 miles of coastline on the Great Lakes, 905 miles in the Upper Peninsula and 810 miles in the Lower Peninsula. The U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey lists only seacoast, Florida, with a coast of 399 miles on the Atlantic and 798 miles on the Gulf of Mexico, a total of 1,197 miles, leads California with 913 miles and Louisiana with 397 miles. In tidal shore line (including islands), Florida has 2,276 miles to California's 1,190 miles. According to the methods used by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Maine has only 228 miles of coast (not including islands); if all the indentations are measured, it would have about 3,000 miles.

of any fire away from designated places, such fires shall not be kindled near trees, dead wood, moss, dry leaves, forest mold, or other vegetable refuse, but in some open space on rocks or mineral soil. Should camp be made in a locality where no such open space exists, the dead wood, moss, dry leaves, etc. shall be scraped away to the rock or mineral soil of an area considerably larger than that required for the fire.

If fires are found, put them out if possible and report your action to the nearest Government officer, or immediately notify the nearest Government officer of the location of the fire.

The use of fireworks or firecrackers in the areas is prohibited except with the written permission of the project manager.

Permission to burn on any cleanup operation within the recreational demonstration areas must first be obtained in writing from the office of the project manager, and in such cases as it is deemed advisable such burning will be under Government supervision. All costs of suppression and all damage caused by reason of loss of control of such burning operations shall be paid by the person or persons to whom such permit has been granted.

(Sanitation)

Garbage, papers, or refuse of any kind shall not be thrown or left on or along roads, in camping or picnic areas, or any other place.

All comfort stations shall be used in a clean and sanitary manner. Contamination of watersheds, of water supplies, or of any water used for drinking purposes is strictly prohibited.

(Gambling)

Gambling in any form, or the operation of gambling devices, whether for merchandise or otherwise, is prohibited. Possession of any implement or device commonly used or intended to be used for gambling purposes within any recreational demonstration area is prohibited.

(Disorderly Conduct)

Persons who render themselves obnoxious by disorderly conduct or bad behavior shall be subject to the punishment hereinafter prescribed for violation of these regulations, and may be summarily removed from the recreational demonstration area by the project manager.

(Radios)

The use of radios in public camps, hotels, or other buildings, or in automobiles, is prohibited when audible beyond the immediate vicinity of the radio set. Radios shall not be operated to the annoyance of other persons not so as to disturb the quiet of camps or other public places.

(Cameras)

Before still pictures may be taken for commercial purposes and before a motion or sound picture requiring the use of artificial or special settings, or special equipment, or involving the performance of a professional cast, may be filmed in any of the recreational demonstration areas, authority must first be obtained in writing from the Secretary of the Interior. Still and motion picture cameras may be freely used by amateurs in the recreational demonstration areas for general scenic purposes.

Project managers may issue permits to take still and motion pictures in the recreational demonstration areas under their supervision without such previous authorization by the Secretary of the Interior, in the following circumstances, and on condition that the permittees shall refrain from offering any gratuity of whatsoever nature to any employee of the Government in connection with the exercise of the privilege herein authorized to be granted:

1. Professional photographers and motion picture cameramen desiring to take scenes of, or events in, the recreational demonstration areas as representatives of news concerns and for bona fide news publication;
2. Professional photographers and motion picture cameramen desiring to take scenes of, or events in, the recreational demonstration areas not for sale or for exhibition when paid admissions are charged, but for the purpose of stimulating the use of recreational demonstration areas;

4. Professional photographers desiring to take park scenes for general artistic purposes.

(Lost Articles)

(Abandonment of Property)

The abandonment of any personal property in the recreational demonstration areas is prohibited.

(Dogs and Cats)

Dogs and cats are prohibited in the areas; provided, however, that employees and others may be authorized by the project manager to keep dogs for official purposes, subject to further conditions as may be determined by the project manager.

Day visitors with the permission of the project manager may bring dogs into the areas, provided they are kept on leash. Stray dogs or cats running at large in the recreational demonstration areas may be killed to prevent molestation of the wildlife therein.

(Travel on Trails)

Persons traveling on the trails of the recreational demonstration areas on saddle animals shall not make short cuts but shall confine themselves to the main trails. Any or all roads and trails in the recreational demonstration areas may be closed to public use by order of the project manager when, in his judgment, conditions make travel thereon hazardous or dangerous, or when such action is necessary to protect the recreational demonstration areas.

Motorcycles shall not be operated upon trails.

(Restricted Areas)

All persons are prohibited from entering restricted areas posted as being closed to the public, except upon written permission from the project manager.

Bamboos True Grasses
Bamboos are true grasses with hollow stems which are closed at the joints.

You cannot blame the drunken driver for the majority of the traffic accidents last year. He was involved in only approximately six per cent of them.

You cannot lay the record of 88,000 motor vehicle fatalities at the door of the physically unfit.

You cannot blame bad weather when four out of five accidents occur when it is clear and dry.

You cannot blame poor roads when four out of five accidents occur on our best highways.

No, there is no use trying to pass the buck on this traffic accident proposition. It's the driver himself—the careless and thoughtless things he does—that sends the accident rate soaring.

It's smart to be careful.

Mrs. L. L. Glover died at her home on McKinley street on Tuesday, June 10, 1913.

James P. Wood, a former well known Chelsea resident, died at his home in Detroit, Saturday, June 7. Funeral services were held in the local M. E. church and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

George Rowe of Lyndon died on Wednesday, June 11, 1913.

Miss Elma Schenk and Justin McDevitt of Chattanooga, Tenn. were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schenk on Tuesday, June 10, 1913. They will make their home in Chattanooga.

The frosts of Sunday and Monday did considerable damage to the growing crops in this vicinity.

Mrs. J. M. Lehman died at her home on South Main street on Sunday, June 8, 1913.

Ernest L. Dowd of Francisco died on Saturday, June 7, 1913.

There seems to be a large crop of mosquitoes this season.

C. J. Lehman, the first of the week received word from Chief of Police Downey of Detroit that his watch which was stolen from his residence last August had been located in a pawn shop in that city where it had been left as security. The Elk's tooth watch chain which was stolen at the same time was not left with the watch. Mr. Lehman was in Detroit on Wednesday to identify his watch.

Cutty Stool

A cutty stool was a low stool, the symbol of repentance formerly set apart in Presbyterian churches in Scotland. Upon it sinners were required to sit before the whole congregation during the entire service, and then to submit to the minister's rebuke, before they were readmitted to church privileges. The expression is often found in stories of Scotland of the Reformation period.

THAT HEAVENLY CITY

I am bound for that heavenly City,
Where the saints of all ages shall dwell;
Blessed City of bliss eternal;
Every soul there is happy and well.
I am journeying now to that country,
That will be my eternal home;
There forever to stand with the angels
Singing "Glory" around the Throne.

I am bound for that heavenly City,
Where there's no more of sorrow or sin;
Neither sighing, or discord, or weeping,
Nothing there that's a curse or unclean.
Ne'er a thorn there of pain or of dying,
Nor of darkness or dreary night;
But the faithful shall reign forever,
Where the glory of God is the light.

I am bound for that heavenly City,
Where the streets are all paved with pure gold,
Where the servants are angels and cherubs,
And the people shall never grow old.

There's the river that sparkles like crystal,
With the tree of life so near by;
All the dwellings are lovely mansions,
In that beautiful land on high.

There we'll walk with the saints of all ages—
Enoch, Abraham, Moses and Paul,
Daniel, Joseph, and Job, and Elijah;
Sons of God will be there, one and all.

But there's One altogether so lovely,
Whom we love most of all to see;
We'll behold in His kingly splendor,
Him who died for us on the tree.

Are you bound for that heavenly City?

Have you bidden all evils adieu?

Do you know all your sins are forgiven?

Have you purposed indeed to go thru?

Are you following Christ every moment?

Are you walking in heaven's light?

Have you turned from the world forever?

Are you sure that your heart is right?

—Chas. M. Kelly.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Can you inform me through your valuable paper what newspapers (daily or weekly) are published in Lane County, Oregon? Thank you.

Ans.—There is only one newspaper published in Lane County, which is "The Sentinel", a weekly paper published at Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Ques.—Why is the Great Salt Lake salty while all other lakes are fresh water?

Ans.—Ordinarily all lakes overflow into rivers or the sea. This keeps them fresh. But in the case of the Great Salt Lake there is too little rain for the lake to overflow. Hence every time there is a little shower the water washes a little salt out of the soil and carries this salt down to the lake. The water evaporates, but the salt stays in the lake. There is no way for the salt to get out. This is why the lake is salty.

Ques.—How are dynamite blasts set off in quarries, etc.?

Ans.—This used to be done by a fuse, when a man would light the fuse and then run away rapidly while the fuse was burning. Nowadays it is done by electricity. Inside the dynamite cap is a little device with two metal points which are close together, but do not quite touch. Wires run from these to a small dynamo or battery. When the blast is ready to be fired the wires are connected to the battery or start the dynamo. This makes an electric spark between the two metal points and sets off the dynamite cap.

Ques.—Is the elephant the largest living animal in this age?

Ans.—The elephant is the largest land animal, and the sulphur-bottom whale is the largest sea animal. This species of whale is a great deal heavier than the largest elephants. The weight of an average-sized sulphur-bottom whale is about 125,000 lbs.

Ques.—Why does wood decay?

Ans.—Wood decays because bacteria and certain microscopic plants called fungi grow in the wood and destroy its structure.

Ques.—How can fish breathe under water?

Ans.—Fish breathe the water. There is oxygen dissolved in water, and the gills of the fish take up this oxygen, just as our lungs take up the oxygen of the air.

Ques.—What was the nationality of Madam Melba, the famous operatic singer of nearly a half century ago?

Ans.—Madam Melba, whose real name was Nellie Mitchell, was English descent and born in Melbourne, Australia. She assumed the name of Melba in honor of the city of her birth—Melbourne.

Ques.—Briefly will you please state what the Monroe Doctrine is?

Ans.—The Monroe Doctrine is a policy, announced by President Monroe in a message to Congress in 1823. It commits the United States to a doctrine that any interference of European powers in the political affairs of North and South America will be an unfriendly act to the countries of the new world. This doctrine has kept European nations from wars of conquest on the western hemisphere.

Ques.—What is the population of Los Angeles, Calif.?

Ans.—The 1930 United States census gives Los Angeles, Calif., a population of 1,238,048. At the present time the population is estimated at approximately two million.

Ques.—Is the moon round like the earth?

Ans.—No. The moon is shaped like a football. The end is always pointed toward the earth, and that is the reason it appears to be round. We never see the lengthwise side of the moon.

Ques.—Will meat keep indefinitely if frozen?

Ans.—Yes. Germs, which are the only things that decay meat, cannot live in a very cold temperature. Thus meat will keep indefinitely. In 1900 a carcass of one of the long-extinct mammoths was found frozen in the ice in Siberia. The meat was found to be good, notwithstanding the carcass was estimated to be from thirty thousand to forty thousand years old.

Lansing—How to yield to home district pressure for additional state aid and at the same time to balance the budget without additional taxes is the A-1 legislative program this week at the state capitol.

The state legislature, entering its final lap of a six-month session, is in a generous mood, all in all.

State institutions have been granted increased appropriations to meet rising costs and to place operations on a post-depression basis. Financial experts are now warning legislators that present appropriations will top the $100,000,000 mark, and that further spending of public funds without tapping new sources of revenue will put Governor Murphy in the same budgetary position as President Roosevelt—operating government, at a deficit.

Deficit of $16,000,000

Here is the financial puzzle: The senate has approved a bill to grant $47,000,000 state aid to Michigan public schools. This amount is sought by Dr. Eugene Elliott, newly re-elected state superintendent of public instruction, and the Michigan Education association. Republicans held a caucus preceding the vote, but examination of the roll call shows that balloting was not on party lines. Yet the only active opposition came from three democrats—Sen. William Palmer, floor leader; Sen. J. Neil Lamoreaux, finance committee member, and Sen. Earnest C. Brooks. Wayne county democrats voted for it.

The senate has approved an additional appropriation of $5,000,000 so that the state highway department can match more state funds for federal aid in road construction. The department will receive approximately $50,000,000 from automobile weight and gasoline taxes, of which $26,000,000 will be returned to the counties. In its original form the measure would have appropriated $11,000,000 from sales tax receipts—half going to county road commissioners and the remainder going to the state. The $5,000,000 bill is a substitute, leaving the county road commissioners to row their boat alone.

Libraries, Snow Removal

Also favored by home districts are the following measures which threaten to throw the budget out of balance unless new taxes are imposed:

Library state aid of $1,250,000. Likely to pass.

Eradiation of coyotes, $75,000.

Teachers' retirement fund, $530,000.

Snow removal in upper peninsula, $600,000.

Elimination of bange disease in cattle, $250,000.

For old age pensions, now available to persons at 65 instead of 70, the sum of $10,000,000 has been voted instead of $4,000,000 heretofore.

The philosophical attitude of Rep. M. Clyde Stout (D), chairman of the ways and means committee, tells the story of what you may expect: "Increased governmental activity means increased cost—a boost in expenditures cannot be avoided."

Income Tax Unlikely

Spending tax money is one thing. Imposing new taxes is a horse of a different color.

A movement for a state income tax had a short life several days ago after rural legislators had tentatively approved a bill exempting from taxation the first $2,000 of valuation on every home. This relief to home owners would have deprived governments of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 annually and would have made necessary the adoption of a new tax raising plan—probably a state income tax.

Urban representatives, led by able Rep. John Hamilton (D) of Detroit, went into action and the bill was stopped, but only after demagogic retorted to hold a caucus and to hear doleful warnings of a disastrous deficit.

"Revolution"

According to Detroit commercial leaders, the recent automobile sit-down strikes have caused manufacturers to reconsider plans to open new plants in Michigan.

The so-called "revolution in Michigan," given wide publicity by national magazines, may react unfavorably to increase unemployment, it is pointed out, unless investors can be reassured that Michigan is still safe and sound for both labor and capital.

The answer will be written this month before adjournment at Lansing June 18 or 25.

Tailless Dogs

The Schipperke poodle is the only dog that is naturally tailless. No trace of a tail occurs in the typical Schipperkes. These dogs were first bred in Holland and Belgium and are related to the Pomeranians, which they resemble except for their short hair. They are small, usually black in color, compactly built and have a foxlike head with erect ears. Most short-tailed dogs, such as the terriers commonly seen with stubby tails an inch or two long, are made so by cropping their tails when they are puppies. Some English sheep dogs are re- ferred to as bottailed and occa- sionally one is born without a tail, but as a rule they are born with tails and the tails are cut so short that the animals have the appear- ance of never having had tails at all.

Compensations

The best brains and best abili- ties do not spring from the apple cheeks and steel-tempered spines, but from physical, mental and nerv- ous disorders. Deaf persons make great writers owing to their powers of concentration. Myopes have a se- cret attraction for women because being near-sighted they listen to them more closely and flatter them thereby. Insomniacs, unable to sleep, have time for hobbies and self-thought which can make them famous. Vocal defectives can develop great personality power be- cause, hesitant to express them- selves hurriedly, they think twice, give life more consideration.

High-Priced Fuel

When Thomas Carlyle had com- pleted, after three years' work, the first volume of his classic history of the French Revolution, he sent it to John Stuart Mill to read. Mill's housekeeper, looking for waste pa- per with which to start a winter fire, picked up the manuscript and used it to get her blaze going. Car- lyle had no copy or notes, and had to do the entire job all over again.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

A sixteen year old boy was arrested yesterday for automobile banditry. This youngster's parents should stand trial in his place as they are primar- ily responsible for his crime.

The beginning of this young man's criminal career started years ago when his parents let the whip fall from their grasp. The boy soon picked it up and from that day for- ward never dropped it. His father and mother never realized that they had abdicated their authority and stepped down from their legitimate places as heads of the family. Con- sequently, the boy was never taught to respect authority or the rights of others and as a result soon violated both the federal and state laws.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. Herman Dancer. Vice Pres.—Mrs. Lula Bahnmiller. Secretary—Mrs. Fern Weiss. Treasurer—Mrs. Helen Kilmer.

SALINE DEFEATS CHELSEA

In the game at Saline on Sunday, which turned out to be a pitcher's battle all the way, Saline defeated Chelsea 5 to 4. Barth pitched the full game for Chelsea, allowing but seven hits, walking 2 and striking out 8, while Haffy, Saline hurler, allowed 12 hits, walked 2 and struck out 8.

Both teams played a good brand of baseball, considering the condition of the infield which was rather muddy from Saturday's rain.

In the last three games Chelsea has made 41 hits and 28 runs yet have only one win.

The Novess brothers and W. La- Savage took the hitting honors again, the latter getting four safeties in five times up. Playing with a revamped line-up Saline was able to halt the scoring with runners on base.

Next Sunday, the 13th, Chelsea plays Pinckney here, hoping to avenge a 13 to 12 defeat at Pinckney two weeks ago.

Handshake in Odd Forms Found in Strange Lands

The handshake is by no means universal. Inhabitants of bleak Tier- ra del Fuego, according to a writer in the New York World-Telegram, welcome the rare strangers who come there with a bear-hug and a back-patting, meanwhile jumping up and down. An African west coast Negro, on greeting a friend, may fling himself to his knees and kiss the ground three times. French- men kiss each other on both cheeks. Israelites of old bowed themselves to the ground seven times.

Andaman Islanders blow into one another's hands with a cooing sound. Indians on the Gulf of Mex- ico blow into each other's ears. Af- ricans of the French Colony of Da- homy twist their finger knuckles until they emit a loud crack. Eskimos rub noses. They are bewil- dered by the sight of handshaking, assuming it to signify that when your right hand grows tired your friends help you hold it.

A Chinese, to show how pleased he is to encounter you, shakes his own hands. In the Banks Islands of the Pacific, a man hooks the mid- dle finger of his right hand with yours and pulls it away with a crack. The strange white Ainu peo- ple of Japan make you welcome by rubbing their own palms together and stroking their beards. A Mo- hammedan, according to ancient custom, may shake hands with you with thumbs up, then touch his breast, forehead and lips with his hand to signify that you are cher- ished in his heart and thoughts, and are entitled to a bit of oscu- lation.

Name "Alamo" Is Derived From an Ancient Mission

The Mission San Antonio de Va- lero stood on the east bank of the San Antonio river just across the stream from the town of San An- tonio, in 1836 a settlement of about 7,000 inhabitants. The mission, which was founded in 1718, was in a grove of cottonwood (alamo) trees, hence the name "Alamo." It had been first a refuge of the Fran- ciscan order, then a military post. The Mexican general Cos had abandoned it in 1835, and it had stood in a bad state of repair until February of the following year, when the Americans at San Anto- nio occupied it as a defense on the approach of the Mexican dic- tator Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna with three regiments of horse and fourteen battalions of foot, an army estimated at between 7,500 and 8,500 men by Capt. R. M. Potter, U. S. A., observes a correspondent. The old mission stood within the limits of a small village. To the east and west of it ran irrigating ditches, and around it, was a grove of cottonwoods.

The strongest part of the de- fenses was the old chapel, standing at the southeastern corner of the mission premises. This chapel was 75 feet long, 62 feet wide, and 22½ feet high. Its walls were four feet thick and of solid masonry. Most of its interior was open to the sky in 1836, only a portion of the west end and the north pro- jection having the covering of a roof. In the east end of the chapel was a platform of earth. Three guns were mounted in the chapel.

TRUE SUCCESS

By Lawrence Hawthorne

What is this thing men call Success?
How is it gained? What does it cost?
Can it bring lasting happiness?
Or is it often quickly lost?

So many times, these thoughts return
To one who searches day by day
For lessons that will help him learn
To gather joys along life's way.

No doubt, there is a true Success
That brings contentment, peace and cheer;
There must be benefits that bless
The lives of those who persevere!

But greater far than wealth or might,
Or all the honors fame extends,
Are the faithful, trusting smiles that light
The faces of a few old friends.

Integrity

ACCORDING to the dictionary, integrity may be defined as "uprightness, rectitude, honesty, faithfulness." In Scriptural record we find the Psalmist praying for integrity—the wise man—praising it as a combination of justice, faithfulness, and wisdom, and Job fervently valuing its possession.

In the twelfth chapter of II Kings we have a refreshing example of practical integrity. We read there that the temple in Jerusalem was in need of repairs, and Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, ordered that the money which it came into any man's hand to contribute for this purpose, be used to repair the breaches of the temple wherever they were found. When this work was finally taken in hand, we read (II Kings 12:15), "They reckoned not with the men, into whose hand they delivered the money to be bestowed on workmen; for they dealt faithfully."

What a lesson for posterity to profit from! The recognized integrity of the men entrusted with the funds, dedicated to put the Lord's house in order, obviated the need for guarding against misappropriation, and excluded unwelcome thoughts of suspicion and mistrust. The requisite accounts had been kept with a willing heart, and they were disbursed in the same way. A suitable, harmonious condition this, for restoring the house of the Lord, and for accomplishing His work, while preserving the sanctity of the temple.

Actually, is not every day the Lord's day, and every place His habitation? All men, therefore, may work happily in God-bestowed integrity, since God, good, is omnipotent, and maker of their workshop and sanctuary. They may also enjoy the accompanying reward, which Isaiah prophesied in the name of God, in these words (Isaiah 52:13): "Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and exalted, and be very high." These Scriptural words apply to all who are obedient to divine Principle, no matter what their occupation, since "the earth is the Lord's."

The servants of the Most High have always been blessed in the knowledge of their uprightness—in the consciousness of being faithful administrators in their Master's service. The conviction of his earnest endeavors to do the will of God furnished Job with the courage to exclaim: "Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity."

Faithfulness and honesty alone are satisfying, in civil as in political life. Can an unfaithful, careless, dishonest worker be truly self-respecting and happy about his achievements? The answer must always be, No. In his innermost heart he knows his actions to be unworthy.

In an address on the subject of "Godlikeness" Mary Baker Eddy, the revered and beloved Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, said in her Message to The Mother Church for 1902 (p. 17): "Examples of consistency in being and in doing good; only what God gives, and what we give ourselves and others through His tenure, confers happiness; conscious worth satisfies the hungry heart, and nothing else can."

No maladministration can possibly be proud and happy over his monetary gains. He, too, knows his actions to be unworthy, and must sooner or later suffer from self-reproach and secret condemnation. Self-examination is an invaluable aid in determining whether one is upright, honest, faithful; whether one justly and conscientiously applies these God-given qualities. If this test results negatively, our need is to improve. We also read in the same message: "Consult thy every-day life; take its analysis to thy aims, motives, fondest purposes, and this oracle of years will put to flight all care for the world's soft flattery or its frown."

What a delightful condition of government by divine Principle we should have in all departments of life, if persons would cease to value irregular financial gains, or uncertain worldly honors! Mrs. Eddy, who valued only that which would pass the test of divine approval, gave to her followers, the members of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, which she founded, "A Rule for Motives and Acts" (Manual of The Mother Church, Art. VIII, Sect. 1), which begins with the following: "Neither almost nor more personal attachment should impel the motives or acts of the members of The Mother Church. In Science, divine Love alone governs man. Should not obedience to these words ensure soundness of action, true integrity?"

When fairness, faithfulness, honesty, prudence, actuated by love for God and men, accompany every human undertaking, in the home, in business, in educational institutions, in politics; when each individual strives for the ability to pray with confidence, "Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity," we shall be well on the way toward a demonstration of God's kingdom on earth.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Tall Tales

As told to: FRANK E. HAGAN and ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Blondy by a Tongue!

WAY back in 1892—said the Old turfman—I owned as beautiful a racing mare as ever was foaled. Her name was Blondy because of her color.

My other possession was a farm in the Blue Grass country on which was hung a "plaster" of $15,000.

Bad luck cut between me and the purses although Nigger Jim, my trainer, would get her cream-colored body in the pink before every race.

We taught Blondy a lot of tricks, between losing races. One was to make a face. Nigger Jim or I would hold an apple or carrot so she had to stretch her neck and put out her tongue for it. And she got so she would do this whenever we told her "make a face."

We entered the mare in a claiming race at Churchill Downs the spring of '02. It was May 15, to be exact. The mortgage on the farm was due May 10. Nigger Jim had Blondy in great form for the 1 1/4 mile race. But the bookies were laying 20 to 1 against our nag. I managed to scare up exactly one thousand berries and placed the whole roll at 20 to 1. It was win the race or lose the farm.

The horses were away evenly but 100 yards from the start Blondy stumbled and lost stride. We groaned but heartened as she winged away, regaining lost ground at every jump. Then a horse cut in front of her. It was Dixie Dede, and she had to be pulled. Down the back stretch and around the turn they came. Blondy was moving up on the outside. When they hit the stretch she and Dixie Dede were running head and head.

It looked like a certain dead heat but at the last jump or two Nigger Jim, hanging on the rail, yelled "Make a face, Yo' Blondy! Make a face!" Thank God! Blondy heard, straightened her neck, shot out her tongue across the finish line and won the race.

Garret, Widows' Stone

The Italians call the garnet the pietra della vedovanza, the widows' stone, because at one time in Italy widows wore hair ornaments studded with garnets. The stone represents resignation and faithfulness. It guards against loss, and its wearers are said to find lost property.

Nerve-Racking, Nerve-Wracking The correct spelling is racking. The meaning is derived from the pain inflicted by torture on a rack. Definition 1 of the verb rack reads: "to stretch or strain on a rack. Hence to cause prolonged suffering or anguish, to distress or pain greatly." So nerve-racking torture or pain is related to the Anglo-Saxon raxan, "to stretch," and not to the Anglo-Saxon wrecan, "to drive out."—Literary Digest.

Balboa Was a Deckhand

on His Trip to Dairen

Few persons think of Vasco Nunez de Balboa as a common seaman, but this is exactly what he was on the voyage which led to his discovery of the Pacific ocean. To get to city of Darien, on the Isthmus of Panama, he left Santo Domingo as a deckhand to do anything and everything so as to get to Panama. He labored so willingly and so well that he was soon the most popular man aboard the ship. Upon reaching Darien he was chosen as leader of the settlement. While on a short expedition of exploration he crossed the isthmus and discovered the Pacific ocean, claiming all the lands that touched upon it for the King of Spain. This was in 1513.

The narrowness of the isthmus between the Caribbean and the Pacific led to the laying out of a trail across it. It also led to the founding of the settlement of Panama six years later in 1519, the town originally being a fishing village, the name "Panama" signifying "fishermen."

The ruins of the old city are only five miles distant from the new. The trail of the early sixteenth century is a fine roadway. Originally it was called "Camino de Oro," meaning "the Road of Gold." The wealth of Western Mexico and of Peru once poured over it. This all led Panama to become very wealthy. It was the starting place for the caravans of mules drawing loads of yellow metal to the Caribbean side, where ships waited to convey it to Spain. Pirates frequently staged successful holdups at Panama.

Fuel Too Cold to Burn

in Sections of Siberia

In a few sections of Siberia the temperature sometimes drops as low as 40 degrees below zero, and occasionally lower than that. While this is extremely cold in comparison to the general temperature of the country, says the Rocky Mountain Herald, it is not cold enough to cause the strange things to happen which occur when the mercury drops to 50 degrees or more below zero, Fahrenheit. In parts of Siberia, where the record temperature is 91 degrees below zero, many things happen which would seem very strange to us.

For example, the people who inhabit this region have some difficulty in finding means of furnishing light during the cold spells. A flashlight, if they had one, would be of little use, since at temperatures under 50 degrees below the battery will freeze up in a short time, rendering the flashlight useless. The candle is subject to similar difficulties. In this extreme cold the wax or fat used in making the candle becomes so hard that the heat from the small blaze is insufficient to melt it and so the flame is short-lived. Even the old standby, the lantern, behaves badly.

REPORT OF ANNUAL MEETING, FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST

Boston, Mass., June 7 — Progress of Christian Science expressed in the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies; in sales increases of 66 per cent for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy; Discovery and Founder of Christian Science; and in an increasingly friendly public thought as reflected by legislative bodies when handling measures involving medical and religious freedom; and in much good healing work; featured reports today by church officers at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The election of Judge Clifford P. Smith of Newton, Mass., as Church President for the coming year, and of Edward L. Ripley of Brookline as Treasurer; and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield as Clerk, was announced. The President is elected by The Christian Science Board of Directors to serve for one year. His duty is to be presiding officer at the annual meeting.

Clifford P. Smith, C. S. B., LL.B., became interested in Christian Science at Mason City, Iowa in 1896, where he practiced law before becoming judge of the District Court of Iowa, the superior court of that state.

The fact that the Christian Science denomination has 2781 branches was cited and Miss M. Rosamond Wright, manager of the Department of Branches and Practitioners, reported further for the year, "Good growth in our movement is shown through the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies as branches of The Mother Church, and six new university organizations. Twenty-five of these branches are in Europe, thirty in North America, two in Australia, one in Africa, and one in South America."

Judge Frederick C. Hill, chairman of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, reported 3216 lectures had been delivered during the year ended April 30. Of these lectures, 53 were given in Africa, 54 Australia, seven in Hawaii, China, Japan and Manila, one in the City of Mexico, eight in Bermuda, Canal Zone and West Indies, 242 in Great Britain and Ireland, 129 in Continental Europe and Scandinavia, and 2722 in Canada.

Much Heat Required to Raise Water Temperature

Water is the great heat reservoir of the earth. It takes more heat to raise the temperature of water by a given amount than is required for almost any other substance. In addition, it takes about 80 calories to melt a gram of ice and about 600 to evaporate an equal amount of water. The same quantities of heat released when the reverse changes, the freezing of water and the condensation of water vapor, take place, according to Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune. Water spontaneously evaporates, absorbing the necessary heat from its surroundings, until its vapor has reached a certain pressure above which it cannot go. When the water vapor has reached this pressure in air, evaporation stops and the air is said to be saturated. The vapor pressure of water is proportional to the amount of water held by saturated air and increases strongly with rising temperature. Thus the pressure of water vapor in saturated air is about .2 inch at 32 degrees and increases to 1.2 inches at 85 degrees.

Our atmosphere is very rarely saturated, however. Normally it holds about 70 per cent of the amount theoretically possible. This fraction of saturation is known as the degree of humidity. When it is high very little evaporation takes place, and when it is low the reverse is true.

Crocodiles and Alligators

A crocodile can't stick out its tongue. It can only move it up and down. People once thought crocs were just big, lazy lizards, but we know they are not even closely related to lizards. Except for alligators their nearest kin died out millions of years ago, says a writer in the Washington Post. The chief difference between a croc and alligator is that the latter's snout is shaped like a shovel while the former's resembles a trowel or arrow head. Most crocs, unlike alligators, are very vicious. Sea crocs are invariably man-eaters. So are African, or Nile crocs. There is but one animal able to conquer the African croc—the orang-utan. This Samson of the jungle is strong enough to hold a croc's jaws open while he tears out its tongue. Yet crocs do not hesitate to attack orang-utans.

Eagles Do Little Harm

The eagle is a bird of prey but bird lovers believe it does more good than harm. It is particularly fond of dead fish and keeps streams and watercourses clean, observes a writer in the Washington Post. The birds were formerly so numerous their depredations were serious. They carried off chickens, pigs, lambs and even dogs, so farmers and hunters started gunning for them. Their numbers are so reduced they do little or no harm. Favorite trick of the bald eagle is to rob a fish hawk of his catch. The crafty eagle plummets on the hawk with a "blood-curdling" scream. Startled, the hawk drops his catch and the eagle grabs it before it reaches the ground.

The "China Apple" Originally called the "China apple," oranges came from the Orient. Spanish explorers took them to South America, and missionaries carried them to California and Florida. It is claimed the United States produces more oranges than any other country. An orange tree is about 30 feet high and sometimes lives and bears for centuries, although the usual age is about 80 years. The wood is highly esteemed by cabinet makers. It takes a high polish. Besides being used as food, perfumes are manufactured from the orange peelings. In southern Italy, orange growers cultivate a variety exclusively for making Eau de Cologne.

Mineral Springs in U. S. The Saratoga springs, New York, were known as early as 1787; Berkeley springs, West Virginia, as early as 1777, and White Sulphur springs, West Virginia, as far back as 1770.
