(Vehicles)

The recreational demonstration areas are open to automobiles operated for pleasure but they may not be operated outside the roads provided for them, and may be parked only in designated areas.

Motorcycles are admitted to the recreational demonstration areas under the same conditions as automobiles and are subject to the same regulations, so far as they are applicable.

Trucking over roads in the recreational demonstration areas which are officially posted indicating no trucking is allowed, shall be a violation of these regulations.

House car trailers are admitted to the recreational demonstration areas under the same conditions as automobiles and they may be parked for camping purposes only in areas designated for that purpose. All drainage or dumping refuse directly from trailers is prohibited.

Automobiles, trucks, and other vehicles permitted in the recreational demonstration areas may enter and leave by such entrances and between such hours as shall be determined by the project manager with the approval of the Director of the National Park Service, and indicated by official signs posted for that purpose. All vehicles shall come to full stop at entrance stations.

There shall not be operated, or moved upon any road within the boundaries of any recreational demonstration area any vehicle of any kind the face of wheels or tracks of which are fitted with flanges, ribs, slams, sleats, lugs, spikes, or any device which may tend to injure the roadway. This regulation applies to all rings or flanges upon guiding or steering wheels on any such vehicle, but it shall not be construed as preventing the use of ordinary detachable tire or skid chains.

The project manager may, with the approval of the Director of the National Park Service, establish the hours during which any of the roads within the recreational demonstration areas shall be open to the public and the direction of travel thereon. Information regarding such hours and direction of travel may be had upon application at the office of the project manager.

Celebrate Remodeling With Two-Day Sale

With remodeling operations practically completed at their store, Grove Brothers 5c to $1.00 store-announcement in an advertisement in this issue of The Standard a "Grand Opening Sale" for Friday and Saturday of this week.

Greatest of the improvements which have been made at the Grove Bros. store was the installation of a modern front, which gives them a more attractive window display space, and greatly improves the exterior appearance. Double swinging doors were installed, which allows easier entrance and exit.

The interior of the store has been completely redecorated and many improvements have been made, including the paneling of the south wall space, removing the shelves on that side and placing of display racks. About three feet of space is added to the interior of the store as the result of the different construction of the front, and the candy case will be moved forward and enlarged to take care of the rapidly growing business in that department.

With the modernization of their store, Grove Bros. have one of the most attractive business places in this part of the state, and, through their advertisement in this issue, they invite the public to call and inspect their improvements.

MEN INJURED IN FALL

While Arthur Keelan and Clarence Ulrich were at work shingling the barn at the Keelan farm in Sylvan township Tuesday forenoon, the scaffold on which they were standing gave way and they fell about 20 feet, striking on some cobblestones. An ambulance took them to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where X-rays showed Mr. Keelan to have suffered a fractured vertebra and broken hip and Mr. Ulrich a broken right arm near the shoulder.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETING

The Western Washtenaw Farmers' club will meet Friday evening, June 18, at County Park, Clear Lake. Picnic supper at 6:30. Come early! A good time is assured.

Andros Gulde, Jr., with a party of students from the University of Michigan, is enjoying a two weeks' canoe trip in northern Michigan.

New Post Office Will Be Occupied Soon

Many inquiries are being received at the local post office daily as to when they will move to the new post office building which from exterior appearance is completed.

According to Postmaster H. D. Witherell it is hoped the move will be made the last Sunday in June, which will be the 27th, but it is doubtful if this can be accomplished as there are many minor details in the new building which have not been completed.

Light fixtures, which have been ordered for some time, have not arrived, there is some interior painting to be done, and the office fixtures must be installed.

Possession of the building will not be turned over to the postmaster until the building passes final inspection, and practically all work must be completed before this inspection can be made.

Annual Drive Started to Raise Scout Funds

In an effort to raise sufficient funds to defray expenses of local Boy Scouts for the current year the Chelsea Kiwanis club is making a drive locally for the next ten days. An intensive solicitation campaign will be carried on during this period and it is believed this worthy cause will receive the liberal support of those who will be approached.

The local Boy Scout and Cub Scout organizations are carrying on various activities and it is necessary that they have funds to defray the expenses of their work and to contribute their portion to the Washtenaw-Livingston Council headquarters which is an essential part of Scouting in order that they may receive their full share of guidance in their activities.

Vincent Swickerath is Scoutmaster, with Robert Foster as assistant, and Albert C. Johnson is Cub leader. Members of the local Scout committee are John O'Hara, Ed. Miller, A. C. Johnson, J. L. Fletcher, W. R. Daniels and E. W. Eaton.

"Vacation in Michigan"

Starting this week a series of advertisements of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. starts in The Standard which calls to the attention of residents of the community the many advantages of vacationing in Michigan and inviting friends from other states to spend their vacation period in this state. This series of advertisements are being published simultaneously in 250 papers of the state.

This is the tenth season the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has used this type of advertising to call attention to the advantages of Michigan as a state in which to live, work and play. This company has always taken an interest in the development of the tourist and resort business in the state, realizing the benefit that comes to every business as the result of the popularity of Michigan as a resort center.

The advertisements contain particular reference to some of the agencies that have helped develop and conserve Michigan's scenic beauties, and to enable the public to reach them safely and enjoyably.

A real service is being rendered by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in boosting the recreational advantages of the state and they have unquestionably been responsible to a great degree for the steady increase in the resort and tourist business.

Follow the advice and "Vacation in Michigan."

Lansing—Dizzy and agog after a hectic labor "holiday" that paralyzed the state capital city and a power strike that put an industrial center into inky idle darkness, Michigan employers and employees alike are wondering this week what the state legislature is going to do.

Adjournment will be midnight Friday, June 25—or until solons finish their tasks while the clocks are turned back.

The labor relations bill, drastically revised by the House, is before the upper chamber. While organized labor has come out in opposition to a clause giving the governor power to cope with "extraordinary situations," like the Saginaw power shutdown, employers are pointing out that the revised bill would permit unauthorized strikes as well as authorized strikes without advance notice and without requirement of reasonable efforts at mediation.

Gone from the governor's original bill were such anti-strike features as the clause forbidding employees "to declare or engage in any concerted activity in the nature of a strike in relation to any demand, grievance, or other matter (1) without first having exhausted every method of voluntary agreement and negotiation provided by this act, and then giving... days written notice to the employer and the board of the demand, grievance, or other matter in dispute, or (2) during a period not exceeding... days while the matter in dispute is pending before the board or a special board of mediation as herein provided for."

U. S. Mediation Act
Employees would have retained the right to strike, but this privilege would have been available only after they had made reasonable efforts to mediate differences with the management.

In 1934 the Roosevelt administration created by act of congress a National Mediation Board for the railroad industry. The railroad labor act, under which the board functions, requires advance notice of an employees' strike, giving the mediation board a limited period of time in which to settle the disagreement. Result: No railroad walkouts—no lost wages.

At Washington came a demand by Senator Royal Copeland, New York Democrat, that the Senate conduct a sweeping investigation of labor

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Can you explain scientifically why people standing in a moving street car tend to fall forward when the car stops suddenly?

Ans.—This is just another instance of one of Newton's famous laws of motion. It is the reaction of inertia.

The standing people were moving with the car, and they tend to keep on moving when the car stops. The law of inertia is that matter at rest tends to remain at rest, and matter in motion tends to remain in motion until some opposite force is applied to it.

Ques.—We say a swarm of bees, a herd of cattle, a pack of wolves, etc. Now what do they call a considerable number of fish?

Ans.—An indefinite number of the finny tribe swimming together is called a "school of fish."

Ques.—Is it true that there was once a president elected by the people of the United States and did not take office? If so, who was it?

Ans.—Yes. In 1876 Samuel J. Tilden was elected president by the people by a very close election. But a hostile Congress so soon after the Civil War found cause to throw out a certain Southern State which gave Tilden's opponent a slight plurality in the electoral college. This declared Rutherford B. Hayes president of the United States.

Ques.—Why does a snow-flake fall more slowly than a rain-drop?

Ans.—Because the resistance of the air is greater. The snow-flake is lighter and much less compact than the rain-drop. It is just the same as a feather will fall slower than a pellet of lead, iron, etc.

Ques.—Will you please answer what supports an airplane in the air?

Ans.—The wings. They really glide along the air, much as a card or straw hat will "sail" along if thrown edgewise. The propeller of the airplane pulls it along through the air. It keeps the plane "sailing" and so long as it is moving through space its wings hold it up.

Ques.—Why is it necessary to stir ice cream while it is being frozen?

Ans.—This is necessary to make the ice cream "smooth." The millions of little crystals of ice which are formed all through the ice cream must be kept small by stirring. When this is not done, the ice cream is more or less coarse.

Ques.—Who was Samuel Maverick?

Ans.—Samuel Maverick was a wealthy cattle owner of Texas who did not brand his cattle because he had his ranch on an island in the Rio Grande where he was safe from cattle thieves.

Ques.—What is a kindergarten? And why is it so called?

Ans.—A kindergarten is a school for young children conducted on the theory that education should be begun by gratifying and cultivating the normal aptitude for exercise, play, observation, imitation and construction. It was named "kindergarten" by Friedrich Froebel, a German educator—kinder (plural of child in German) and garten (German for garden). Hence "kindergarten", or children garden in English.

Ques.—At what period of history did the inquisition exist, and when was it abolished?

Ans.—The origin of the inquisition was about A. D. 1200, and was confined principally to Spain, Portugal, Italy and France. It was abolished in Spain, Portugal and Italy in 1834. The inquisition was a tribunal for the discovery, examination and punishment of heretics.

Ques.—What nationality was Paderewski? And what was the day and date of his birth?

Ans.—Ignace Paderewski, the noted pianist, was born in Poland of Polish parents on Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1860. At that time Poland was owned by Russia, and Paderewski was therefore a Russian subject.

Ques.—What is a racketeer?

Ans.—It is one who operates a racket. In this sense a racket is a scheme for extorting money.

Folly of Hasty Action

Illustration of how temper can cause an unnecessary labor strike was seen in the C. I. O. power shut-down at Saginaw. John Lewis, C. I. O. chieftain, declared that the whole thing was a "mistake". Governor Murphy's calm peaceful disposition was even ruffled slightly, declaring "such a strike should never have been called."

Even the Lansing C. I. O. "holiday" earlier in the week brought an admission from Homer Martin, U. A. W. leader, that it, too, was a "mistake".

The Lewis and Martin statements were interpreted as a tacit confession that the C. I. O. had overplayed its cards at Lansing and Saginaw with respect to public opinion.

In the meanwhile, other strike clouds are gathering in industrial centers in Michigan. More strikes appear to be inevitable.

Taxes Again

Under terms of an unemployment compensation passed by the senate and sent to the house, employers of less than eight persons would be exempted from a Michigan tax. The present law grants $6,000 exemption to all employers. The senate set-up conforms with the federal requirement.

Of tax interest also was a declaration by Governor Murphy that the legislature should keep within the $104,000,000 budget and pare down appropriations that threaten a $20,000,000 deficit unless additional taxes are imposed.

Senator George McCollum suggested a straight income tax with no exceptions—a constitutional way to raise more money that the state apparently is going to spend.

One Week More

One more week remains before the weary legislature, in session nearly six months, votes to adjourn sine die.

Organized pressure groups, represented by well-functioning lobbyists, are frantically at work day and night hurrying pet measures towards enactment and smothering inimical ones in committees. It is a time when bad legislation is slipped through; good bills are forgotten.

The 1937 legislature has been confronted with many, many grave problems," observed one veteran lawmaker. "If we can solve only a few of them, our record will be worth all the effort."

Wearing Hats in Congress

In the early days of the federal government it was customary for representatives to wear their hats during the sessions of the house. When speaking the representative held his hat in his hand, placed it on a bench or let another member hold it. The custom of wearing hats in the house was borrowed from the British house of commons, and it was not until after the close of President Jackson's administration in 1837 that the practice was discontinued. Senators never copied the custom.

Marking of Pheasants

Sex of the majority of young pheasants can be determined when they are less than six months old by differences in color or markings or by the presence of spurs on the males. However, both sexes of the eared pheasants have exactly the same markings and the males frequently fail to develop spurs.

Calls Dairy Key To Prosperity of State

City and rural areas alike have such a great reliance and investment in the dairy business in Michigan that efficient production and greater consumption of dairy products within the state can be called the key to Michigan prosperity.

This challenge is made by A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. Citing the fact that one third of the total farm income is derived from the milk pails used in this state, the College man seeks increased use of dairy products by farmers and by city workers in order to keep up the spending ability and bank balances of both.

Substitutes for dairy products annually total $90 million pounds in the United States. Their use is pointed out by Baltzer as evidence of lack of understanding of what could bring better markets for Michigan manufacturers produced by city workers by purchasing food products offered from Michigan farms.

Proof that farmers would be better able to purchase cars and other products is offered by a few figures. Remembering that the milk pail is the source of considerable Michigan income, Baltzer suggests these benefits from eating butter and cheese and drinking milk instead of substitutes:

Farmers alone would have 24 millions more to spend in cash if they would stop purchasing butterfat substitutes. Michigan's share would be $1,700,000.

Two cents would be added to the value of each of the 1,700,000 pounds of butter consumed annually in the United States.

Forty million dollars, or eight cents a hundredweight would be added to the value of whole milk.

Health of boys and girls and adults would be improved through greater use of dairy products.

Ale-Wives in England
Centuries ago, we read of Alreock, of Hordoland, choosing Geirhild as his wife on account of her skill in brewing "nappy" ale. Ale-wives held a monopoly in the beer trade in England 500 years ago, says Pearson's London Weekly Magazine, and so brisk was their trade that they were forbidden to sell ale on London bridge because they obstructed the traffic.

Chameleons

The change of color in chameleons and certain frogs is a very interesting phenomenon in nature. Many complicated factors enter into these color changes, but in general, they are caused by the expansion and contraction of the pigment cells in the superficial layers of the skin. The cells are linked up with the sympathetic and central nervous system by means of nerve fibers, and they all act in harmony as the result of a common stimulus, which may be due to moisture, light, or temperature conditions, cerebral excitement, food, or the creature's physiological condition; or the surroundings acting through its eyes.

Asher Frank, State-Safety Director of Florida, has this to say about automobile accidents:

"There is no such thing as an unavoidable accident. If somebody didn't do something wrong, there wouldn't be any accidents."

Mr. Frank is right. The traffic accident hasn't happened yet that could not have been avoided. Somewhere there was a defect—maybe in the road, possibly in the vehicle, or most likely in the driver.

To say that accidents are unavoidable is to close your eyes and mind to the truth.

All accidents are avoidable. Think that over.

Each Other—One Another
Each other refers to one pair of persons or things only; one another to any quantity. "Husband and wife loved each other dearly." "Helping one another over the high wall, six convicts escaped from the prison."

A Million Dollars

That's a heap of money but it represents the value of NEW POLICIES written for farmers of Michigan on their properties during the month of March just passed. The care and discretion exercised by this company in writing risks is continually observed. The more of such business that this company writes redounds to the benefit of all our policy holders. "In union there is strength."

No insurance company could write such a large volume of new business in a single month unless that company has an established reputation for reliability, dependability and economy. It will pay YOU to insure your farm property in such a company.

ALL STEEL and TWO YARDS WIDE

THERE's a lot more in this picture than meets the eye, though the eye has plenty to sparkle about in the stunning style of this spirited Buick car.

What you don't see here is the lift that's yours when you touch off the flashing power of Buick's valve-in-head straight-eight engine and go streaming off across the map.

What you don't see is the solid, steady feel of Buick—the firm stability that holds you on the line without weave or sway or wander on straightaways or on the curves.

What you don't see is the assurance you'll know once you step on Buick's tiptoe brakes and see how surely and safely they make you master of its power.

We can't picture here the security that's yours in a body of steel-fused-to-steel—with floor, roof, side panels, cowl all welded into one stout unit of protective metal.

And only time can tell you how big is your money's worth in Buick—all steel and two yards wide, a big package that's your one best bet of the field when you add the superb action that gives its metals life.

All we can do is show you how a Buick looks—and handsome as this gallant traveler is, remind you that its good looks are literally the least of what it has to offer. Go try a Buick now!

English Church Only One Having Bells on Ground A church in Suffolk at East Bergholt claims to be the only one in the world with its church bells on the ground, writes a London correspondent in the Chicago Tribune.

Cardinal Wolsey began to build the belfry, but his downfall interrupted its construction and, from that day the bells have been housed in a wooden bellcage among the paving stones. Their tongues point upward and a platform runs between them. The ringer grasps a wooden stick, sends it off against the metal, and catches it again as it swings to and fro in the pit. There are ropes, as well, but these are used only for chiming.

Only the treble is modern. The second, Gabriel, is in its original form as cast in 1450. The third, founded in 1601, carries in Latin the words: "My name is Mary. For my tone I am known as the rose of the world." The fourth shows coins of Charles I. on the face and the tenor, weighing 28 hundredweight, is dated 1727.

The ringers of this church have a great reputation for "singles," and are proud of their place in campanology.

The Great Leader "A great leader," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is a man who studies the direction a public movement will take and hurries so as to keep a little in advance of the crowd."

Original Gretas Green

To Americans, a Gretas Green is a town or city where marriages are made quick and easy for eloping couples. The name derives from a real Gretas Green, a community located in Dumfries county, Scotland, says Pathfinder Magazine. Gretas Green, Scotland, has been world famous for more than a century because of the runaway marriages performed in the village "blacksmith's shop."

Queen Elizabeth's Reign
Queen Elizabeth reigned for 40 years, from 1558 to 1603.

Unique Islamic Custom

For about 1,200 years, a unique Islamic custom has been practiced in Muna, Arabia. As enjoined in the Koran, every Mohammedan passing through the town on his way to Mecca, has stopped at the rock pile and thrown 49 stones at Satan. "Satan's Abode," indicated by a sign, says Collier's Weekly, is the official target and gentlemen who playfully hurl rocks in other directions are arrested.

MISTAKES - SINS

The mistakes of my life have been many,
The sins of my heart have been more,
And I scarce can see for weeping,
But I'll knock at the open door.
I am lowest of those who love him,
I am weakest of those who pray,
But I come as he has bidden,
And he will not say me nay.
My mistakes his free grace will cover,
My sins he will wash away—
And the feet that shrink and falter
Shall walk through the gates of day.
The mistakes of my life have been many,
And my spirit is sick with sin,
And I scarce can see for weeping,
But my Saviour will let me in.
I know I'm weak and sinful,
It comes to me more and more, but,
When the dear Saviour shall bid me,
I'll enter the open door.

College to Observe Farm Women's Week

Freedom from household chores and caring for the family for a week is in store for Michigan farm women attending Farm Women's week on the Michigan State College campus, July 25 to 30.

During this time the women will attend general meetings, receive instruction in phases of home economics which they may elect, participate in a "hobby series" of meetings, and take part in recreational facilities offered for summer session students.

After early morning daily devotionals, led by the Rev. N. A. McCune, pastor of the People's church, East Lansing, the women will attend a general meeting where a wide variety of subjects will be discussed by outside speakers. The speakers include Barbara Van Heulen of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C., discussing family financing problems; a member of the Michigan State Police on "What Fingerprints Tell"; the Rev. W. H. Aulenbach of the Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., talking on "Living as You Live"; and Mrs. E. B. Niles of Lansing, on "Seeing Mexico."

Staff members of Michigan State College will be in charge of most of the instructional program and recreational features.

The farm women will choose work in clothing, child development, home furnishings, home management, foods and nutrition and parliamentary law.

Arrangements are being made to house the women in various college dormitories and in East Lansing homes. Information on the 1937 Farm Women's week may be obtained by writing the short course office, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Indians Married on Trial
Indians usually married on a trial basis. The man was expected to provide the home and provisions while the squaw was to cook and raise the maize and vegetables. If each performed his duties well, the marriage became permanent, but if one or the other fell down on the job, well, they just separated. For example, if the wife failed to have the meals ready when hubby came in from a hunting trip, all he had to do was to walk out, and in so doing he was a free man again. And vice versa.

THREE NEW CABINS READY FOR SCOUT CAMP OPENING

When 60 enthusiastic Scouts from various corners of Washtenaw and Livingston counties arrive at the Newkirk Scout Camp near Dexter on Sunday afternoon, June 20, they will be delighted to find three new cabins, in addition to various other camp improvements that have been made possible by friends of Scouting.

The new cabins are the gifts of three different Rotary clubs—Ypsilanti, Milan, and Ann Arbor. The cost of materials was supplied from club funds and members of the various clubs have taken off their coats, rolled their sleeves and driven the nails. It is possible that two other cabins may be built within the next ten days.

Scout camp will accommodate 60 different boys at a time and has a staff of twelve men.

The first week will have the added attraction of having one of the Jamboree troops—preparing for their trip to Washington—encamped there. The Green Troop, which is made up mostly of Scouts from Ypsilanti and Howell, will spend June 21 to 23 in camp and the Blue Troop, made up mostly of Scouts from Milan, Ann Arbor, and Hartland, will spend June 24 to 26 in camp.

Additional enrollments for Scout camp are being received every day.

YPSILANTI LEGION POST TO SPONSOR CELEBRATION

Ypsilanti—The American Legion will again sponsor entertainment for Washtenaw county and adjoining communities on Independence Day.

Five years ago at the suggestion of other organizations the Legion assumed responsibility of providing Independence Day entertainment and with marked success have carried out an enjoyable program each year. Drum and Bugle Corps contests will be featured this year as heretofore with the addition of junior corps which are coming to the aid of the veterans in keeping up the musical enthusiasm of the organization.

There will be the usual parade. Floats already provided indicate that it will be approximately two miles long. The parade is open to the entire county and adjoining vicinity so that anyone wishing to enter a float and compete for the prizes may do so.

The celebration will open July 1 and will continue through Monday, July 5, with the exception of Sunday. The amusements will be closed on that day.

SCIENTIST WAS BORN IN SLAVERY

HIS master traded a broken-down race horse, worth about $300, for George Washington Carver when he was a little pickaninny just before the Civil war. Today, he is the pride of the negro race. A worn-out speller was the only education available to him until he was ten years old, when he attended a small school in Neesho, Mo. He slept in a barn there and did odd jobs to earn a living while learning. The young negro boy's thirst for knowledge grew, and he went on to finish his elementary school education in Fort Scott, Kan., where he worked as a hotel cook, a dishwasher, and a housekeeper. Later he bent over wash tubs night after night doing laundry for people, to pay his way through high school. He worked as a hotel clerk for awhile and then entered Simpson college at Indianola, Iowa, where he earned his tuition by doing odd jobs.

Three years later, George Washington Carver went on to Iowa State university, graduating with a degree in agriculture. In two more years he won his Master of Science degree, and was made a member of the faculty, so impressive were his accomplishments in agricultural chemistry. In 1897, he took charge of the agricultural department at Tuskegee institute, Alabama, leading negro university.

The contributions George Washington Carver has made to agriculture of the South are outstanding. He was among the first to advocate crop rotation for worn-out soil and he has developed hundreds of commercially useful articles from the principal agricultural products of Southern states. From the peanut alone Carver made 285 products and from the sweet potato 118. Thomas A. Edison once invited him to work with him, but he preferred to concentrate on problems of southern agriculture.

In addition to his prominence in science, George Washington Carver is an accomplished enough musician to have toured the Middle West as a concert pianist. He has won laurels as an artist in many exhibitions, and one of his paintings is to hang in the Luxembourg galleries of Paris.

The Camel Family
Although furnishing man with milk, meat and clothing, the camel is best known for plodding tirelessly across sandy wastes. Heavy natural padding protects its feet; it doesn't object to lying, unshaded, beneath the burning sun. Whether it be the one-humped Arabian or two-humped Bactrian, says the Washington Post, it will go until it drops or its master tires. Yet it won't lift a load willingly; is hard to start. The ugliest, worst-tempered and most stupid of beasts, it must be trained for four years as a burden bearer. Even then it attacks humans.

Concerts Spirituals

Concerts spirituals originated in France in 1725. These recitals were given on the 24 religious holidays during the year. They were discontinued in 1791, at the time of the French Revolution. In 1805 they were resumed, with programs made up entirely of sacred music and presented only during holy week.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

The sixteen year old boy who was arrested last week for automobile banditry today confessed his guilt in court.

At the conclusion of the trial Judge drew the father and mother aside and said: "In the past you have been too lenient with your son. You have pleaded where you should have commanded. You coaxed and cajoled this child when your own experiences in life should have directed the course for him to follow. As a result, he frankly admits that he followed out his own wishes. Now the state is forced to step in and take over the responsibilities which you as parents neglected to enforce."

The Cranberry in Early Times
The cranberry which is native to the northeastern United States was first cultivated at North Duxbury, Mass., between 1810 and 1820, but it was not until about 1850 that enough experience was accumulated to grow this crop commercially.

THERE'S A MICHIGAN TRAIL A-WINDING...

Tenting tonight on the old camp ground.

The open roads are calling now

The superb highways of Michigan are something more than efficient arteries of traffic. In the hands of the State Highway Department they have become truly roads of romance... pleasantly winding trails that add tremendously to Michigan's prestige as a great vacation State.

A major phase of the Department's work is the development of highways along our Great Lakes coast-line to give motorists the finest views of lake, shore and forest. Another phase is dedicated to roadside beauty and convenience... the care of trees, landscape projects, rustic drives, parking areas, springs, pools and cascades.

Resident or visitor, we can all gratefully salute a Highway Department that has made motor touring in Michigan a refreshing adventure in convenience and scenic delight.

Posed for His Statue;

Sure to Be Remembered
The life-size statue of a modern Elijah who had it placed beside his grave so future generations could see what he looked like is to be seen in a rural cemetery near Maple Rapids, writes a Maple Rapids, Mich., correspondent in the Detroit Free Press.

The statue is that of Elijah Elsworth, who died in 1906 at the age of seventy-seven. He was the last of his family and, according to local legend, conceived the idea of the statue so that his friends and those who came after them would not forget his appearance.

The name of the sculptor has been forgotten but it is said that Elsworth either sold his forty-acre farm or willed it to the artist to pay for the monument.
Elsworth sat for the designing of the strange figure, which depicts him, clothed in flowing robes like those which his Biblical namesake might have worn. His feet are bare and in his left hand he holds a palm branch, adding a final touch to the Biblical allusion.

Emancipation Monument
The Emancipation monument in Boston has never received a full measure of approval from art critics, but it has had an interesting history. The statue is a copy of the Freedmen's memorial in Washington, which was paid for by subscription among former slaves of the South, a subscription reaching about $18,000. Thomas Ball was the sculptor of the piece. He conceived the idea in Munich when he heard the news of Lincoln's assassination and set to work immediately on his return to Florence where he maintained his studio. An odd incident in connection with the modeling is that the sculptor could not obtain models for the figures and therefore became his own model, kneeling in front of a mirror in order to carve the figure of the slaves. This statue was bought by the former slaves and erected in Washington with great ceremonies, including an oration by the negro orator, Frederick Douglass.—Boston Globe.

Fields Nature-Fertilized
In Jugo-Slavia the peasants near Lake Carnica have their fields manured with fresh silt every year by natural means. The lake, ten square miles in area and sixty feet deep, empties every spring, and crops are grown on its rich, loamy bed. After the harvest the waters roll in again and prepare the soil for another year.
